So Far He Has Indorsed No Plan to Bar Cheap Goods After the War.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary Redfield of the Commerce Department yesterday made public some observations as to the policy to be pursued after the war if the manufacturing countries of Europe proceeded to dump their goods on the American market at prices lower than the cost of production here. The fear of this condition is based on estimates at variance with those of many economists, who predict that after the war wages will go up in all the European countries and the cost of production will advance so that our fears of competition will be met with conditions of more or less advantage. President Wilson is believed to have some such idea of the possibilities, for today's denial was given to statements in connection with Mr. Redfield's announcement yesterday.

It was said that the Secretary of Commerce's views had "been favorably received" by the President and that Mr. Wilson was friendly to the enactment of a law against dumping which should be supplementary to the Clayton act. At the White House, Secretary Tumulty commented on the alleged statements of Secretary Redfield, and said that the President had not yet reached any conclusions on the matter and still had an open mind. Thus far Mr. Wilson has simply listened to what others have been saying. It was said that there was little doubt that the President would recommend action by Congress, but he had no particular plan in mind now and he desired to hear all sides before attempting to form a conclusive opinion.

There is a disposition in some quarters to revert to the Underwood Anti-Dumping clause, which was placed in the present tariff act by the House, but taken out in the Senate. By many authorities the whole matter is poohpoohed as a nightmare. War conditions and consequences, they urge, will settle the whole matter.

PICK SCIENCE DELEGATES.

Argentina and Peru Name Representatives to Washington Congress.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—It was announced at the State Department today that the delegates from Argentina to the Second Pan-American Scientific Congress, to be held in Washington from Dec. 27 to Jan. 8, were Rear Admiral Juan A. Martin, Augustin Merceau, Cristobal Hicken, Juan B. Ambrosseti, Colonel Benjamin Garcia Aparicio, Emilio E. Dagassan, and Secretaries Ricardo Sarmiento Laspiur and Thomas S. Varela. The delegates from Peru, it was also announced, would be Dr. Jose Lavalle y Garcia, Engineer Ticardo Tizon y Bueno, Dr. Pedro Oliveira, and Dr. Francisco Grana.

From acceptances received it is indicated that there will be upward of 150 delegates present, the largest Pan-American gathering ever held. Congress has appropriated $50,000 for the conference, and a committee has been named to take charge of all arrangements.

Of this committee, William Phillips, Third Assistant Secretary of State, is Chairman; Dr. James Brown Scott, of the Carnegie Peace Endowment, Vice Chairman; William H. Welch, President of the National Academy of Sciences, Honorary Vice Chairman; John Barrett, Director General of the Pan-American Union, Secretary, and Professor G. L. Swiggett, of the University of Tennessee, Assistant Secretary.

The Congress has been divided into the following sections: Anthropology; astronomy, meteorology, and seismology; conservation of natural resources, agriculture, irrigation, and forestry; education; engineering; international law, public law, and jurisprudence; mining and metallurgy, economic geology, and applied chemistry; public health and medical science; transportation, commerce, finance, and taxation.

SAYS DARDANELLES WRECKED CABINET

Joffre Always Opposed to Sending French Troops, Asserts Captain Fortescue.

CALLS GALLIPOLI HOPELESS

War Writer Declares Ashmead Bartlett's Letter to Asquith on Campaign Was Confiscated.

Captain Granville Fortescue, who was in the United States Army during the Spanish-American war, and is a writer on military subjects, returned last night on the White Star liner Adriatic from Europe, after having spent seven months in the war zone. He said that he had been with the Turkish Army in the Dardanelles, and also had visited Bulgaria, Austria, France, and England.

"The fall of the French Cabinet, I feel confident, was due to the sending of French troops to the Dardanelles, as General Joffre was dead against the project from the very first," said the Captain. "Serbia will be left to her fate and will carry on a guerrilla warfare against her foes for the rest of the war. Germany made a mistake in sending troops into Serbia to help the Bulgarians under the belief that British and French armies would be sent from France to help the Serbs.

"The Allies have made one mistake at Gallipoli and they know it to their cost, but they will not repeat the blunder at Saloniki. The Bulgarians have the best army in the Balkans and are not likely to go back on Germany now, as the Germans have supplied them with ammunition and spent money like water in the country before the war commenced.

Says Allies Should Leave Straits.

"The Allies' campaign on the Gallipoli Peninsula is a failure and the best thing they can do is to withdraw now before the Winter storms come on, which will render the retreat of the troops more difficult.

"If the land forces had co-operated with the navy at first, as it should have been arranged, there might have been a chance to get through, but now there is none. Ashmead Bartlett, the English war correspondent, told me in Paris on his way back that he had written a personal letter to Premier Asquith informing him of the real conditions existing on the Gallipoli peninsula and dispatched it to London. It was opened and read by the military authorities in the War Department, who confiscated the letter, and it never reached the Premier, Bartlett said.

"I do not think the British have even as many as 15,000 men landed in Greece to aid Serbia, and I believe that they will withdraw nearly all their troops from the peninsula to rush them around to join the armies in the west. The British would be unwise to abandon Sed-el-Bahr, as it commands the Aegean Sea, and I hear that the new military commander is building barracks there to accommodate the troops in Winter, and will start a permanent siege.

"The Turks are fighting very well, indeed, and are commanded by their own officers. As a matter of fact there are not near as many German officers in Constantinople as there are supposed to be. This is shown by the returns of prisoners by the Allies on the Gallipoli Peninsula since the end of April, which does not contain the name of a single German officer. The plans for attack are drawn up by the Germans and shown to the Turkish officers, who usually adopt them. The big guns in the forts are manned by German artillerymen and non-commissioned officers.

Was Treated Well by the Turks.

"I was treated very well by the Turks at Kum-Kali and Chenak, as well as Constantinople through the influence of Prince Reuss, whom I had met in Cuba during the Spanish-American war and done some slight favor, which he had not forgotten.

"Just before leaving England I learned from Turkish sources that recent storms have destroyed several landing stages at Suvla Bay used by the Allies to supply ammunition, stores and water to the troops, and the hardships to be suffered later on will be very great, as there is no water to be had there. The Turks are fighting in their own country and can go without eating, drinking, or even smoking, for twenty-four hours without feeling any weakness. It will cost the Allies a loss of 40 per cent. of their forces to retreat now, but even that is better than remaining in a hopeless campaign and losing them all in the end.

"So far as I could learn in England the Cabinet is doomed, and the only hope for the success of the land forces is to replace Lord Kitchener by General Sir Douglas Haig, as the War Secretary is too old to stand the continuous strain physically.

"The French know war now better than the Germans, and their morale is greater."

Says Bomb from Air Slew 145.

Eric Wilson, an English marine engineer who arrived from the Dardanelles by the Adriatic, via Liverpool, to join the S. S. Cretic in New York, said that a great deal of damage had been done in Suvla Bay by the German Taubes.

"Six weeks ago I was there on the Suevic, which had been transport A-29, and was afterward hospital ship Z-53. We saw a Taube drop a bomb on a light cruiser, which went clean through three decks and killed 145 officers and men," said Mr. Wilson. "When the first landing was made 1,500 troops were killed by shrapnel from the guns in the forest, and the stretcher bearers were also killed when they went to pick up the wounded. A Turkish woman was caught sniping by the Australians and shot at once."

He added that the troops became very savage when they discovered the bodies of their comrades who had been crucified by the Turks.

Robert Mountsier, another passenger on the Adriatic, who said he left Constantinople on Oct. 1, said that several fights had occurred in that city between Germans and Turks, resulting from arguments over the war. He saw a fight with swords in a big office building in the Grande Rue de Pera between a German officer and a Turkish officer, in which the latter was slain. He was arrested as an accessory and had some difficulty in regaining his liberty.

Officers of the Adriatic said that the Olympic, Aquitania, and Mauretania were operating a three weeks' service between Liverpool and Suvla Bay at an average speed of 23 knots. They carried about 7,000 troops out on each trip and brought home wounded. The demand for fast transports to the Dardanelles on the Admiralty was so great that it was reported the White Star liner Britannic was being hurried up at Harlan & Wolff's shipyard at Belfast for the service.

SHELL KILLS CAPT. L. H. CURRY

Son of Foundry Company's President Dies in Trench.

The New York agency of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, in the Equitable Building, was informed yesterday of the death of Captain Leon H. Curry, son of Nathaniel Curry, President of the company. Captain Curry, who was 30 years old, was a member of the Forty-second Montreal Highlanders. He enlisted last Spring and was sent with his regiment to the training grounds in England.

His regiment went to the front in France in the early part of this month. On Oct. 19, three days after reaching the battle line, Captain Curry was killed by a German shell which exploded over his trench. Until his enlistment Captain Curry was asistant manager of the Canadian Steel Foundry Company. His brother, Captain G. V. Curry of the Fourteenth Royal Montreal, is now in this city, having been invalided home. The Canadian Car and Foundry Company is one of the largest manufacturers of shells for the use of the Allies.

CHAMBERLAIN WANTS WAR DRILL IN SCHOOLS

Senator Has Bill for Universal Military Training—Indorses Defense Program.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Senator Chamberlain, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, who has been uniformly in sympathy with the views of Secretary Garrison as to military preparedness and the increase of the army, told President Wilson today that he was in full accord with the national defense program. Chairman Chamberlain expressed the opinion that the majority of his committee also would favor it.

Several of the proposed increases in the military establishments as urged by Secretary Garrison a year ago received careful consideration in the Senate Military Committee and were reported favorably. These measures no doubt will be again taken up with strong prospect of favorable action. As to some matters of detail, Senator Chamberlain said there possibly would be difficulties of opinion, but in the main there had been no essential change in the views of the committee since the last session.

The question that may provoke the most discussion will be a measure Mr. Chamberlain will introduce early in the coming session providing for closer co-operation between the Federal and State authorities in military affairs. One feature of this bill will be the requirement for military instruction in all the public schools of the country. The aim is to use text books adapted to the various grades that will teach the military art, and instruction will be compulsory.

Comment on the conference between the President and Senator Chamberlain indicated entire harmony upon the general question of national defense.

A GERMAN RABBIT CENSUS.

Number of Tame Animals and Their Ages Being Recorded.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERNE, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—The Germans, despite their military and political preoccupations, are actually finding time, not only to wage war on foreign words as if they were so many allen enemies, but also to take a census of the number of tame rabbits in the different provinces, and even to classify the rabbits according to their age.

TAKE CABLES FOR COPPER.

Germans Said to be Seizing Street Railway Equipment.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Abandonment of little-used cable on street car lines, so that the copper may be obtained for war purposes, has been ordered by the municipality of Kiel, Germany, according to a Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen, which says that the work of tearing up three streets for this purpose has begun, and that about 3,000 yards of cable, weighing approximately seven tons, will thus be available.

Other lines are expected to be similarly treated in Kiel and other German cities, the dispatch adds.

TURKS REPORT VICTORIES.

Say They Drove Back Enemy at Dardanelles and in Caucasia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 28, (via London.)—The following official statement has been issued by the Turkish War Office:

Supply columns of the enemy sighted near the landing station at Ari Burnu were dispersed by our artillery.

On the Caucasus front the enemy was forced to retreat on his right wing after an engagement with our patrols.

INDORSE SMITH AND SWANN.

William Jay Schieffelin Writes Letter to Candidate for Sheriff.

Dudley Field Malone, Collector of the Port, issued a statement last night advocating the election of Judge Swann and Alfred E. Smith, the Tammany candidates, respectively, for District Attorney and Sheriff.

William Jay Schieffelin, Chairman of the Citizens' Union, wrote Mr. Smith indorsing his candidacy, and said:

"As to your qualifications for this office there can be no question. Some time ago we recognized the value of your services in the last Assembly by a published statement. The service to the State rendered by you in the Constitutional Convention this year entitles your candidacy to special consideration by the voters."

Indorsements have also come from Lawrence Veiller of the Charity Organization Society, Owen R. Lovejoy of the National Child Labor Society, Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor; Henry Moskowitz of the Committee of Safety and President of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, Thomas J. Carroll of the Allied Printing Trades Council, and James P. Holland, President of the New York State Federation of Labor.

FLED FROM WIFE'S DAGGER.

Humason, Charged with Desertion, Satisfies Court with Excuse.

When William W. Humason deserted his wife in the Summer of 1912 he fled from their Summer home at Keansburg in the night, clad in a nightshirt, pursued by Mrs. Humason with a dagger, so he testified yesterday in proceedings brought by his wife for desertion in Jersey City.

Humason is President of the Chelsea Transportation Company of 44 Pine Street, this city, and lives at 63 West 106th Street. He operates a line of jitney buses in Newark. He gave his wife, he said, the use of the house in Jersey City in which she lives.

George Ladew testified that he had received Humason into his house at Keansburg in the night in the Summer of 1912, when Humason wore only a nightgown. Judge Sullivan discharged Humason.

ZELINKA JURY DISAGREES.

Government May Drop Passport Fraud Charges.

In spite of the fact that in selecting the jury to try Harry Max Zelinka in the Federal District Court on the charge of participating in an alleged passport fraud on behalf of Alfred Bondy, the Government had used all its challenges in order to obtain a jury of native-born American citizens, no verdict was reached in the trial. After being out all night the jurors reported they could not agree, and were discharged, and when Judge Foster learned that they had stood 7 to 5 for acquittal he reduced Zelinka's bail from $6,500 to $5,000.

It is not likely that the Government will try the case again. Zelinka in his own defense, denied most of the story told by the witnesses for the Government, and insisted that when he had identified Harold Green in applying for the passport, the true name of the man was Green and was not Bondy as the Government maintained.

$5,000 for Polish Relief Fund.

The National American Committee of the Polish Victims' Relief Fund is in receipt of the gift of $5,000 as a result of the speech of Ignace J. Paderewski on "Poland, Past and Present," at Carnegie Hall, Saturday afternoon. The check was sent to Mme. Paderewski with a letter, saying that the donor wished her name withheld—the gift being "in memory of a dear sister who died some time ago."

FLED FROM BELGIUM IN PEASANT'S DRESS

Mrs. Malcolm Carter Escaped in the Disguise of Cheese Buyer's Assistant.

BISSING THOUGHT HER A SPY

Tore Up American Passport, Given by Page, When She Went to Visit Belgian Father.

Mrs. Malcolm Carter, a British subject of Belgian birth, who arrived last night from Liverpool on the White Star liner Adriatic, told an interesting story of her escape from Belgium into Holland disguised as a peasant woman after her passport had been torn up by orders of General von Bissing, the German Military Governor. She wore a decoration consisting of a gold crown with the initial "B" in diamonds and the Belgian colors which had been given to her by King Albert for her services to his army.

Mrs. Carter says that she is the Assistant Secretary to the Asiles des Soldats Invalides Belges, an institution recently established in England and Belgium to aid disabled soldiers.

In an interview with a TIMES reporter, while the Adriatic was coming up the harbor, Mrs. Carter said she went to Brussels early in the Summer to see her father, who was suffering from cancer and was held by the Germans in that city. She got into Belgium with an American passport, obtained through the Embassy in London as a special messenger to the United States Legation in Brussels. When she visited her father there just before he was to undergo an operation, her passport was taken away and torn up.

"Because of my Belgian birth," Mrs. Carter went on to say, "and my being married to an Englishman, I was suspected of being a spy and was detained three months in Brussels by the German authorities. Through the influence of relatives I managed to obtain a passport to leave Belgium for Holland from General von der Goltz, but that was declared to be of no use and was torn up like the first one.

"Finally I became nervous at being shadowed everywhere I went, and decided that the only way to escape was to disguise myself as a Flemish peasant. I was acquainted with a traveling cheese buyer, who was starting from Antwerp with his cart toward Salvliet, where I knew there were some Dutch smugglers always to be found who would see me to the frontier.

"The cheese merchant gave me a seat beside him in his cart and I passed as his daughter when we were stopped by the German sentries at the different posts along the road. My friend had to stop fives miles from Salvliet and I walked the rest of the distance with an old basket over my arm half filled with straw to disarm suspicion. On arriving at the small town through which was my only way into Holland I met some of the Dutch smugglers, who were very kind, and hid me in a stable until it was dark, and then we started to tramp to Oosenbrecht, the first town in Holland, which I reached in eleven hours, thoroughly worn out.

"I shall never forget that experience as long as I live. Sometimes we had to crawl on all fours through the damp, long grass like Indians, and at others wade through swamps full of reeds, where the water and mud came knee deep. At last, when I was almost exhausted, we reached the barbed wire entanglements, and that was the most difficult of all, as the smugglers could not cut the wires. By the aid of stout poles they managed to twist them wide enough apart to drag me through. When I reached Ossenbrecht and realized that I was safe at last, I had some bread and milk and slept for twenty hours."

Mrs. Carter said that she could never have escaped from Belgium if she had not been able to speak Flemish fluently; it was the only thing that enabled her to pass the German sentries.

"The Germans," she said, "have undermined the Palace of Justice and the North, South, and Luxembourg railway stations in Brussels, and the majority of the hotels and restaurants formerly patronized by Americans are closed."

Mrs. Carter will remain for some time in this city at the Waldorf-Astoria.

TANKER BALAKANI SUNK.

Captain, in Letter, Reports British Ship Torpedoed by Germans.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 28.—News of the sinking of the British tank steamer Balakani, from Port Arthur, Texas, for Dartmouth, England, was received here today in a letter from the Captain, F. A. White, to F. P. Hornblein, manager of the Newport News Ship Watching Company. Captain White wrote:

"I have another scar to rub off with the Germans; they torpedoed us, killing six men. Everything was lost."

The date, time, or other details of the sinking were not given.

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—The steamer Donaconna foundered in mid-Atlantic and was not torpedoed by a German submarine, as first reported, according to advices received today. The crew took to the boats and were saved. The Donaconna, which was owned by the Canada Steamship Company, had been carrying iron ore between Sydney, N. S., and English ports.

YACHT GERMANIA A PRIZE.

British Condemn Craft That Won the Kaiser's Cup at Cowes.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The racing yacht Germania, which on two occasions won Emperor William's cup at Cowes, was condemned in prize court today as a prize of war. The Germania, which was captured at Cowes at the outbreak of the war, was the property of Lieutenant Dr. Gustav von Bohlen und Halbach, head of the Krupp works.

Three other German yachts captured at Cowes—the Lasca II., Stella Maris, and Paula III.—were also condemned.

JEWS' PROBLEM NOW BITTER

Dr. Pool Says That the War Has Intensified Conditions.

Addressing a gathering of students of the Menorah Society yesterday, Dr. De Sola Pool, rabbi of the Portuguese Synagogue, Seventieth Street and Central Park West, described conditions of the Jews in Palestine as affected by the European war, and also referred to the alleged Turkish atrocities. While saying that in many cases these had been exaggerated, he held that lack of organization among the Armenians was responsible for most of the trouble with that race, and said that this had been to a large extent obviated by the strength of the Zionists in the case of the Jewish population in the Levant.

"The war," said Dr. Pool, "has intensified conditions among the Jews in Europe. Such conditions are bound to exist as long as the Jews are in a minority, refusing to be assimilated. War has made the Jewish problem more bitter."

SOLDIERS TIRED OF WAR.

Statement of Miss Doty in Address to Woman's Peace Party.

Miss Madeleine Doty, who recently returned from abroad, told the members of the Woman's Peace Party last night some of the impressions she had gathered while in England, France, and Germany. She was the principal speaker at a meeting of the party held at the Studio Club, 35 East Sixty-second Street.

Miss Doty prefaced her talk by saying that she was going to give a view of the situation from the standpoint of a woman's feelings. The German delegates to The Hague were for peace, she said, but by peace they meant German victory. She said the Social Democratic women in Germany were earnestly working for peace, and she declared that these women, braving prison, journeyed to the Reichstag and shouted to the delegates their desire that the war end.

"England appears to be normal except when there are Zeppelin raids," she said. "These raids are the worst thing that Germany can do, for they wake England up and after every raid there are greater enlistments."

Miss Doty told of the split in the Suffragette organization led by Mrs. Pankhurst. When that leader recently marched with other women to petition Parliament to let women make war munitions, Miss Doty said, circulars were distributed stating that all women did not stand for what Mrs. Pankhurst was standing for.

In France, Miss Doty said, there was no peace party, but men and women all felt with deadly earnestness that the first duty of France was to drive the invader out of the country. She noted that the soldiers hoped for peace. They no longer felt glory in war, she said, and she quoted an officer decorated for bravery as declaring that he was glad he had no sons to suffer and see the terrible things that he had seen.

She concluded with an earnest plea for peace and suggested that the neutral countries be asked to get together and discuss possible peace plans for submission to the now exhausted countries of Europe.

Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, who has just returned from Italy, told why, in her opinion, that country went to war. Her husband spoke on the uselessness of preparedness for war.

GAFFNEY IS COMING HOME.

Americans Favoring Germany Present Address to Him.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERNE, Oct. 26, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—An American, just arrived from Munich, says that T. St. John Gaffney, recently American Consul General, leaves Munich for America in November and the pro-German Americans in Munich are presenting him with an address to be signed by the so-called English colony, which consists of Mrs. Sylvia Welch, British born, who is Mr. Gaffney's Secretary, and at the outset of the war signed a protest against England's intervention, and a handful of women, born in England of German descent and married to Germans.

This American also said that all true Americans were very thankful that Mr. Gaffney was departing. Sir Roger Casement is said to be accompanying Mr. Gaffney to America in a Dutch boat for a lecture tour.

"POLISH DAY" ON NOV. 6.

Sembrich Outlines Plans to Raise Funds for Stricken Land.

Mme. Marcella Sembrich, speaking last night in the Horace Mann Auditorium of the Teachers College, at a public meeting of the Round Table Club of the College, announced that a systematic collection of funds for the relief of the suffering peasants of her native land had been arranged for "Polish Day," Nov. 6.

Mme. Sembrich said that the appeal of Poland to the world at large came under different circumstances from that of the Belgians, who, fellow-sufferers though they were, could make their calls for help heard through their King and Court. Poland, a divided nation, swept back and forth by the tides of conquest, without a King, or representatives in foreign countries, made its appeal, she said, only through scant reports which reach the outer world.

Permission had been received from the Mayor, she said, to appoint bands of two or three to ask for help for the Polish Relief Fund in the streets of New York on Nov. 6. The help of Barnard students had been promised for the work.

Mme. Sembrich's speech was preceded by a statement by Mme. Arian Arctowska of the historical claims which Poland has upon the sympathy of the world, in which she said that Poland, eleven years before the Magna Charta was obtained in England, had won for itself a representative Government. The debt which Europe owes to Poland as the country of Copernicus and Chopin, and which this country owes her as the home of Kosciusko, should not be forgotten, concluded Mme. Arctowska.

Mme. Sembrich and Mme. Arctowska will repeat their speeches this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the same place.

WON'T SEIZE KAISER'S BONDS

Asquith Does Not Approve Plan to Retaliate for Zeppelin Raids.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The suggestion advanced in a question in the House of Commons today, that the Government might take steps to trace and sequestrate private securities in England of the German Emperor and rulers of German States and hold them as security for present and possible future damage caused by Zeppelin raids, does not meet with the approval of Premier Asquith.

The Premier informed the House through David Lloyd George, the Minister of Munitions, that he did not consider that the scheme offered "a practical method of deterring the enemy from further violations of international law."

CHURCHILL DELAYS REPLY.

Will Explain His Letter Attacking the Government on Tuesday.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Friday, Oct. 29.—The Daily News lobby correspondent says:

"Mr. Churchill, (Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster,) who failed to reply to Mr. Molteno's question on Wednesday asking for an explanation of his recently published letter, has intimated that he will give a reply in the House on Tuesday.

"Mr. Churchill's letter, it will be remembered, accused the Government of long delays in the Balkans. There is a strong feeling in the House of Commons that Mr. Churchill ought either to withdraw this letter or resign office in the Government."

B. Altman & Co.

To-day and to-morrow (Saturday) will hold another

Extraordinary Sale of Imported Black Chiffon Velvet

(39 inches wide)

at . . . per yard $2.85

B. Altman & Co.

desire to emphasize that the late Autumn and early Winter creations in

Fashionable Attire for Women and Misses are now ready for inspection.

Extraordinary preparations have been completed to present to patrons the most exclusive apparel that it is possible to produce.

The correctness of the styles is absolutely unquestioned.

Rare Furs, Rich Dinner Gowns, Exclusive Wraps, Chic French Hats, Exquisite Tea Gowns in an array which forms a precedent in richness of apparel.

Silks, Dress Goods, Laces and Trimmings in large and interesting assortments; also Neckwear, Hosiery, Shoes, Gloves, and all the smart accessories of dress; Riding Habits and Motor Clothes.

Frequent changes are made in the merchandise on display, creating thereby a

PERMANENT EXHIBITION OF FASHIONS.

Fifth Avenue - Madison Avenue

34th and 35th Streets New York

Saks & Company

Broadway at 34th Street. 'Phone Greeley 2626.

Saks Suits for Men

$20 - $23 - $25

You can find the selfsame prices in many shops, but they don't mean just what they mean at Saks'

¶ Practically all novels are published at the same price, but that doesn't make all novels alike.

¶ You can get orchestra seats for any play in town at $4 a pair, but they're not all worth it.

¶ All of which is to show that it's a good thing to look for your information beyond the price ticket.

¶ The tailoring we have put into these popular-priced models is out of all competitive reckoning.

¶ Nobody else does it—no other clothes made show anything like such art in the making.

¶ Soft roll English effects, fitting close to the waistline; with vests seamed at the waist and finished with soft roll lapels and flapped lower pockets.

¶ Conservative styles, cut on broader, practical American lines, but not so conservative but that we have smuggled a lot of style past the Customs!

And then there's the fabrics

¶ Rich, colorful, new to the minute, and a crowd of them, from solids to stripes, from plaids to checks, offering a range of choice never hitherto shown in suits of the popular-priced variety.

That's the story!

A very special offering of

Men's Genuine Austrian Velour Hats at $4.95

were $6, $7, $8 and $9

Made by J. Hückle's Sohne, Austria.

Austria has far outclassed all other countries in the making of Velour Hats, and the Hückle firm has forged to the forefront among its competitors.

There are very few genuine Austrian Velour Hats in this country on sale today, and they are held at a very high price.

BLACK GREEN BROWN SLATE

Some extra large sizes suitable for Women and Misses.

SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN TO END IN A WHIRL

Meetings with Continuous Speaking for 24 Hours Begin Late Tonight.

RALLY IN CARNEGIE HALL

Last Great Demonstration for Votes for Women in Madison Square Park Tomorrow Evening.

The final "drive" in the campaign for Votes for Women in this State begins today. Until the dawn of Election Day everything possible, or at least everything the women can think of, will be done to insure victory on Tuesday. Complete preparedness was reported yesterday in the headquarters of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, the New York State Woman Suffrage Association, the Empire State Campaign Committee, organized especially for this fight; the Woman Suffrage Party, the Women's Political Union, the Equal Franchise Society, and the Political Equality Association.

The rally to be held in Carnegie Hall this evening is to be advertised today by suffrage sandwich girls, who will march through the streets from 2 to 7:30 led by a bugler. They will wear big posters advertising the "Monster Victory Rally," and giving the names of the speakers—Congressman Edward F. Keating of Colorado, John W. Keller, Rabbi Stephen Wise, Mrs. Philip Snowden of England, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, who will preside. The boxes in the hall have all been taken. On the platform will be Borough President Marcus M. Marks, Mrs. H. Holman, wife of the Australian Premier; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adamson, Judge and Mrs. Charles L. Guy, Robert Underwood Johnson, Owen B. Lovejoy, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Untermyer, and others.

One thousand tickets have been sold for the centennial luncheon on Saturday in the Grand Ball Room of the Hotel Astor in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and 300 tickets have been issued for the boxes for those who wish to go for the speeches. There will be many prominent speakers and guests. To facilitate the seating of the guests there will be young women ushers from the Women's Political Union, with Miss Josephine Beiderhase as chief usher.

To Auction Ballots.

The luncheon will be connected with the suffrage campaign of the present day by an auction of envelopes containing sample ballots to be sent to the registered voters of the city. These are all ready for sending, but the money for postage is needed. The envelopes will be put up in large and small groups for Assembly or election districts, and the buyer will supply the money for the postage. As the envelopes are sold the districts taken will be painted off a big map which will occupy a prominent place in the room.

The Women's Political Union is to have a continuous meeting with speaking for twenty-four hours at Forty-seventh Street and Broadway, Longacre Square. It will begin at midnight tonight and end about 12 o'clock tomorrow night. The meeting will be opened by Grant Stone of Columbia University, speaking from 12 to 12:30, followed by three other Columbia men. The women will start with Mrs. Grace Cotterill and Mrs. Mary E. Howe, both of Seattle, Wash., who will speak at 2 and 3 o'clock A. M. Mrs. John Rogers, Jr., will speak at 3:30 A. M.

The Woman Suffrage Party's hours of continuous speaking will be done at Columbus Circle, and will commence at 10:30 tonight. The women will be in divisions, including the Matinée Squad and the Hiker's Squad, which will be headed by "General" Rosalie Jones of the Hiker's Army. Lou Rogers, the cartoonist, will be a division by herself with her clever cartoons and connecting address. There will be a Midnight Squad which will have a chaperone, Mrs. Augusta C. Hughston, and a suffrage sentry, James Quinn, who is the parade expert and banner caretaker of the party. He will see that the women speakers are protected. There will be many prominent speakers, including the leaders of the party.

Tompkins Square Rally.

Tompkins Square will have a suffrage rally, beginning at 7:30 o'clock tonight, under the auspices of the Henry Street Settlement Equal Suffrage Club. The music will be provided by a Polish band, under the direction of Bandmaster August Hebernict. Miss Dora de Vera of the Boston Opera Company will sing. There will be many Jewish and Polish songs which appeal to the people of the neighborhood. President Henry Moskowitz of the Civil Service Commission, Mrs. Florence Kelly, Miss Mary Dreier, George Creel, and Meyer London will furnish the English part of the program. M. Twoncasz will speak in Polish, and S. Epstein in Yiddish. Miss Lillian Wald, head of the Henry Street Settlement, is on the Committee of Arrangements.

The importance of the mother and her work in her family will be emphasized in three mothers' suffrage meetings today from 4 to 6 P. M. Suffrage mothers will make speeches for other mothers at Thirty-fourth Street and Fifth Avenue, Forty-second Street and Second Avenue, and Thirty-fourth Street and Third Avenue. The children's kewpie-decorated truck will accompany the automobiles of speakers and carry souvenirs to be presented to children. These will be suffrage horns, whirlers, drinking cups, balloons, pins, pennants, and carnival paper. Mrs. Harvey Wiley Corbett, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, Mrs. Frederick Gillette, and Mrs. Lillian Albertson Levy will be among the mother speakers.

Last Big Meeting.

Although suffragists by the score will speak in the churches on Sunday and hold open-air meetings on Monday as long as their voices hold out, the last big demonstration for the vote will be made in Madison Square Park tomorrow night. There will be a symphony orchestra of 100 pieces, and Robert Maitland and Miss Carolyn Ortman will sing. Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw will preside and Borough President Marks will welcome the suffragists. Other speakers will be J. Stitt Wilson of California, ex-Mayor of Berkeley; Raymond Robins of Chicago, and Commissioner Katharine B. Davis.

Tomorrow, too, the suffragists will invade the subway. They were barred from its advertising spaces, and the Public Service Commission decided it had no power to force the acceptance of their advertising. Accordingly many well-known women, under the direction of Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, will travel on the underground trains and display big cards, so that other passengers may read. Needless to say, all the cards will urge a vote for woman suffrage.

The last suffrage torchlight parade before election was held last evening by the women of six of the lower west side districts of the city, assisted by the suffrage leaders. It formed at Hudson Park, on the corner of Hudson and Clarkson Streets, at 7:30 o'clock, marched up Eighth Avenue to Fifty-ninth Street, and around the Circle, where its automobiles separated. The different speakers took their places and there were continuous meetings until midnight.

There were many banners and a good band, and the women had learned how to march. The column was headed by the white and gold "Victory" banner. Four large United States flags came next, and then a standard with the word "Manhattan" across it in large letters. There was a big flag carried flat. Poor Miss New York was in the line, an innocent creature in white, bound to Ignorance, Prejudice, and Vice, and there were transparencies in numbers with suffrage texts.

There was a large proportion of automobiles, and these dropped off at different streets below the Circle and started meetings. At Forty-ninth Street and Eighth Avenue Lou Rogers, the cartoonist, fixed her easel and, wearing a little white cap and gown, set to work. Her first picture was of the "greatest trust in the world," which she sketched as a man with a large cigar in his mouth and labeled "The Ballot Trust."

"I have bet 2 cents to a nickel that there never was a bigger trust than that," said Miss Rogers, "and no one has ever taken me up."

Of the leaders there were in line Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, Mrs. John Blair, and Mrs. Ogden Mills Reid. Arranging the parade and carrying it through were the leaders of the districts, Mrs. J. Shoenberg, Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Mrs. J. Zimmerman, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss Alice O'Reilly, and Miss Eleanor Erving.

The Federal suffrage amendment, on which the women must depend if they lose next Tuesday's engagement, is to be introduced in the next Congress by Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado and Congressman Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming. To the suffragists it will be known as the Susan B. Anthony amendment, as the Bristow-Mondell bill is now known. The resolution will be presented also by Senator-elect Thompson of Kansas, Senator Sutherland of Utah, and Congressman London of this city.

ROOSEVELT SUFFRAGE LETTER

Ex-President Says Vote Will Not Take Women from Home.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt in a letter read at a rally in behalf of woman suffrage here tonight, reiterated his belief in the extension of suffrage to women and answered some of the arguments of those opposing it. The letter says in part:

"The opponents of woman suffrage say that it will take women away from the home. If this were so I should certainly not favor it, just as if giving man the suffrage took him away from his business I should not favor it, for making and keeping the home must always be the chief work for both man and woman. There is, however, in my opinion, nothing whatever in this objection. Undoubtedly some foolish women may believe that getting the vote will excuse them from the performance of home duties just as in every democratic extension of the suffrage some foolish men have believed that getting the vote somehow entitles them to live without working. But it is no more possible to base action on an argument of this kind in one case than in the other."

Colonel Roosevelt declared that although men and women could not be expected to follow the same occupations, this fact should not interfere with their equality of right.

BETTING AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

2 to 1 and 3 to 1 Offered, with Practically No Takers.

Odds of 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 against the suffrage amendment were offered freely about New York yesterday, and there were practically no takers.

Fred Schumm placed the only large bet made. A Brooklyn business man, who is an ardent suffragist, commissioned him to bet $2,000 to $4,000 on suffrage, and he had no difficulty in placing the money. Betting on the amendment is very light.

"There is less money being bet on the suffrage question than on any other election since I remember," Schumm said yesterday, "and there does not seem to be any suffrage money in sight. There is a little betting on the number of votes that the amendment will be beaten by, and there seems to be even money it will lose by 50,000 votes."

At the offices of a prominent anti-suffragist it was said that 3 to 1 against suffrage was a good bet. Suffrage ought to be defeated by 150,000 votes, according to him. At the offices of James Lees Laidlaw, head of the Men's League for Women Suffrage, it was said that no bets of any kind had been heard of and that it was thought that there had been no betting.

REPUBLICANS NEUTRAL, TOO.

Will Take No Action on Suffrage—Promise a Fair Count.

The Republican County Committee does not intened to take any action on the woman's suffrage question this year. The matter is to be left to the various Assembly district leaders to deal with as they see fit. It is to be simply a matter of individual opinion. When Chairman Samuel S. Koenig was asked yesterday as to the attitude of the organization he said:

"The leaders of the organization met at the beginning of the campaign and determined to take no part one way or the other on the question of woman's right to vote, but to leave this issue to be determined by the voters without so-called organization interference.

"To that position we shall strictly adhere, and in addition, we will undertake to insure an absolutely fair count of the votes as cast."

Want Express Station.

On the petition of Bloomingdale Brothers and other property owners and merchants of Fifty-ninth Street and Third Avenue, the Public Service Commission will hold a public meeting on Thursday afternoon on the proposal to make the Fifty-ninth Street stops on the Third Avenue elevated and the Lexington Avenue subway express stations. They are planned to be local stations. Those who support this change show that the number of tickets sold on the elevated lines at Fifty-ninth Street is increasing.

BATTLE IN DARK BY LIGHT OF SHOTS

Continued from Page 1.

and the reserves searched every house in the block, but got no trace of the fugitive.

McCarron's prisoner was taken to the Mulberry Street Station, where he said he was Otto Kruger, a stationary engineer, 29 years old and without a home. He said he had been out of Napanoch Prison only eight days, after having served a sentence for violation of parole. He said he was arrested first in 1907, when, as an employe of Keith & Proctor's Theatre in 125th Street, he had found $40 and failed to deliver it to the office. For this, he said, Judge Rosalsky, in General Sessions, sent him to the Elmira Reformatory, and afterward he was sent to prison from Buffalo.

Dr. Pallen was called from St. Vincent's Hospital, and dressed his wounds, also patching up McCarron where Kruger's two bullets had touched him. According to the police, Kruger admitted that the robbery of the cigar store had been planned for some days, the plot being laid in a saloon in Eighth Avenue, the location of which, the police say, Kruger told them. He, with two companions, essayed the robbery last night and, leaving one man on guard, Kruger and the other entered the side door of the store, choosing their time when they saw Benner busy at the telephone.

Got Away With $250.

Sam Levy, a clerk living at 49 Forsyth Street, was alone in the store when they entered and he laughed, thinking it a joke and the weapons glass pistols, when they told him to throw up his hands. But when Kruger shoved an automatic pistol against his head and a heavy revolver against his stomach he threw up his hands and Kruger's companion emptied the till of $250. It was then the passerby glanced in and saw the hold-up. The robbers heard his yell to Benner and rushed from the store.

Kruger got none of the money in their hasty departure, and all he had when he was captured was $5. Harry Brandy, chief clerk of the cigar store, saw Kruger and, according to the police, identified him as a man whom he had seen frequently in the store in the last few days when, apparently, Kruger was learning the lie of the land.

The police refused to say that Kruger had disclosed the names of his two companions, but immediately after his arrest half a dozen detectives hurried from Police Headquarters and started uptown for the neighborhood of the saloon, where the plot was laid.

PREDICT MONROE LOST TO SUFFRAGE

Amendment's Advocates Admit That Defeat Is Likely in the Big Western County.

HOPE FOR RURAL DISTRICTS

Rochester's Main Street Counted in Anti Column—Republican Machine Hostile, Suffrage Workers Think.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Predictions from both suffragists and anti-suffragists here place Monroe County in the anti-suffrage column. The antis assert that woman suffrage will sustain a crushing defeat here. The leaders in the movement for the enfranchisement of women in their statement admit that they have not the means to gauge in advance the size of the adverse majority.

In the rural counties in this part of the State their propaganda, according to the suffragists, has made good headway. Mrs. Alice Cramer Clement, head of the forces in the Seventh Campaign District of the Empire State Campaign Committee, which includes Monroe, Livingston, Ontario, Yates, Seneca, Wayne, and Steuben Counties, told the correspondent for THE NEW YORK TIMES this afternoon that she would be very much surprised if the suffrage amendment was not ratified in most of these counties.

"In one county—Ontario—we have made a complete canvass of all the voters in the towns and villages," said Mrs. Clement. "Taking both the men and women of adult age, we found 90 per cent. of the total in favor of woman suffrage. Taking the voters alone, we found in the communities we canvassed that there were a sufficient number of voters who expressed themselves in favor of woman suffrage and who said they would vote for the amendment to assure of a good majority."

According to Mrs. Clement, the suffragist workers have not encountered the hostility and indifference among the farmers in the counties which constitute her field that their suffrage sisters further west admit that they found.

"Two of our workers spent two days driving through the farming districts of Wayne County," Mrs. Clement said. "They came back and reported that 90 per cent. of the men were for us. This is in territory truly rural in character. There wasn't a town or a village in it. The biggest place was Four Corners.

"At the Yates County Agricultural Fair we had workers who made a canvass. They reported that in their whole day's work the men who had told them they would vote against the woman suffrage amendment could be counted on the fingers of one hand."

In Livingston County, where the Wadsworths have established something akin to a political hierarchy, Mrs. Clement predicted a suffrage victory, although she admitted that it had been an uphill work there. "Many of the farmers," she said, "are tenants of the Wadsworths, who control the Republican machine and are old-fashioned and anti-suffrage, but I think we will carry Livingston, too."

"What about Monroe County?" Mrs. Clement was asked.

"We are not at all hopeful regarding Monroe," was her reply. "The odds are heavily against us here, although we have worked hard and had good audiences. I fear Monroe is gone and our only hope is that the majority against us will not be too heavy."

Republican Machine Hostile.

Chief of the obstacles preventing a suffrage victory in Monroe, according to Mrs. Clement, is the attitude of the Republican machine under George W. Aldrich. While the Republican County Committee has taken no open stand against woman suffrage, the leaders in the suffrage movement have been unable to feel the hostility from that quarter in a number of ways. One was the pointblank refusal to permit the suffragists to swing banners across the business streets in this city.

There are other elements militating against a suffrage victory in this county. Practically all the big business men and manufacturers here came out some three weeks ago in a signed manifesto against woman suffrage. Bishop Hickey of the Roman Catholic Church and practically all the clergy of his diocese, according to the suffrage leaders, have openly opposed the suffrage movement. One-sixth of the vote in Rochester is a German vote and this, the suffragists fear, will be recorded against the amendment on Election Day.

"They are afraid," said one of the suffrage leaders, "that a woman suffrage victory will mean prohibition or local option a year from now, which of course it won't, and it does not seem to do any good to tell them differently. Then, the other foreign vote, which here in Rochester amounts to two-fifths of the entire vote, we fear either will be cast against the amendment or else not cast at all on the question of woman suffrage."

Mrs. Henry F. Burton, whose husband is a professor at the University of Rochester, is President of the Rochester Anti-Suffrage Society. This is an offshoot of the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. Unlike similar organizations in cities visited by the correspondent of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the Anti-Suffrage Society has not established a campaign headquarters.

"We conduct the fight from our homes," said Mrs. Buroth. "We find we can do it just as effectively, and the absence of a headquarters should not be taken as an indication that we are not active."

Mrs. Burton herself is an anti orator whose services have been much in demand in other States. She appeared on the anti platform in the New Jersey fight, and has campaigned in Pennsylvania.

"Woman suffrage will be overwhelmingly defeated on Tuesday; that is all I care to say about it," said Mrs. Burton.

Laughs at Suffrage Claims.

When informed that the suffragists claimed victory in many counties of the seventh campaign district, Mrs. Burton laughed.

"I am afraid that they will be sorely disappointed after the votes have been counted," said the anti leader. "We know what the sentiment is among the men in those counties. It is not in favor of woman suffrage. The farmers are more generally opposed to dragging woman into politics than are the voters in the cities. The suffragists have done great work—work worthier of a better cause—I will give them full credit for that. But they will find the vote in the country districts against them. They will not carry Wayne, they will not carry Livingston, they will not carry Steuben, and I doubt whether they will carry any of the counties they claim. We have sent our literature into all these counties. In New Jersey, the only county the suffragists carried was Ocean, and they would not have carried that if we had been able to get our literature to the voters there. It was the only county in New Jersey where we did not have an effective organization to look after that."

James L. Hotchkiss, Chairman of the Republican County Committee, has made no canvass for the purpose of ascertaining the exact strength of the suffragists. Some stray votes were taken early in the campaign, and they indicated the overwhelming defeat of woman suffrage in Monroe County. According to Mr. Hotchkiss, the Republican organization is doing nothing to oppose the suffragists in the campaign conducted by the candidates for municipal offices and for the Assembly woman suffrage is taboo as a campaign topic.

The suffragists will in all probability get a greater number of Democratic votes for their amendment than Republican. The old Democratic machine here, of which Thomas E. Finucane was the boss, has been destroyed. The new Democratic organization is now in the hands of a more progressive set of leaders. The active leader is Milton E. Gibbs, a Rochester lawyer. The power behind the throne is Louis H. Antisdale, the pioneer in the anti-Tammany movement in Monroe County. Mr. Gibbs is an ardent believer in votes for women. Mr. Antisdale is violently opposed, and his local newspaper, The Rochester Herald, is the despair of the suffragists here. Charles E. Sunderlin, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, is an anti. Henry L. Danforth, who represents the Monroe district in the House of Representatives, has announced that he will vote for woman suffrage.

Mr. Gibbs said today that the suffragists had conducted a splendid campaign and that the vote might be close in Rochester.

Main Street With the Antis.

"Do you think there is any likelihood that a majority of the voters in Monroe will come out in favor of woman suffrage?" Mr. Gibbs was asked.

"If I were to make a bet," Mr. Gibbs replied, "I would place it on the antis. It has been my experience that the ticket which has the support of Main Street wins. Main Street is with the antis."

Main Street is lined with office buildings where the big business and manufacturing concerns of Rochester have their headquarters.

There is one element in the situation that is puzzling the politicians here. The registration in this city is larger this year than it was even in the last Presidential year. It was the same story in Buffalo, but there the increased vote was accounted for by the bitterly fought campaign for the election of four Councilmen to inaugurate Buffalo's new commission government.

Here there is also a municipal campaign, but the politicians do not believe that this brought the unprecedented outpouring of voters to the registration places. Some of the political leaders believe that interest on either side of the suffrage question or a desire on the part of the voters to be in line for a vote at the Presidential primaries next year is responsible for the heavy registration.

The prohibition vote and the Socialist vote, which it is conceded will go almost solid for woman suffrage, aggregated only 2,967 last year out of a total vote of more than 51,000 in Monroe County.

MME. WADDINGTON APPEALS

Writes as Mary King for Aid for French Peasants.

Mayor Mitchel received yesterday a letter from Mary King Waddington, now living at 28 Rue la Tremoille, Paris, telling of the condition of the peasants in the north of France and asking for help. This is her letter:

—28 Rue la Tremoille,
Paris, 9 October.

My Dear Mr. Mitchel: I have never had the pleasure of meeting you, but my name is perhaps known to you, and it is as Mary King, born in New York, that I am writing to ask for a little help.

We are living such dark days. The misery is appalling. How to feed and clothe the unfortunate peasants in the north of France is a problem. No one who hasn't seen it can imagine the utter desolation of the ruined villages and the hundreds of women and children left without food, clothes, or shelter.

I thought perhaps as a daughter of New York, where all the men of my family have been associated with the fortunes of the city, that some of the business men would contribute something to my ouvroir. I am at the head of an ouvroir where we give work to women, about 50 or 60 in Paris, 20 in the country, in my own village, which was completely sacked by the Germans. We furnish the material and pay the women for making garments for soldiers and refugees. Our funds are giving out, and we may be obliged to shut the ouvroirs, which would be a disaster.

Can you help me? I don't apologize for coming as a mendicant to a stranger—the misery speaks for itself. I would be more than grateful for anything you will do for me. Yours sincerely,

MARY KING WADDINGTON.

The Mayor referred the letter to William Greenough, the representative in this country of the Secours Nationale. The writer of the letter is Mme. William Henry Waddington, formerly Mary Alsop King, daughter of Charles King, President of Columbia College from 1849 to 1864. Mme. Waddington comes from one of the oldest families in this country. She was educated in this country, but, in 1871, after the death of her father, went with her mother and sisters to live in France. Three years later she became the wife of M. William Henry Waddington.

M. Waddington was the first plenipotentiary of France to the Congress of Berlin in 1878. On Feb. 4, 1879, he became the President of the Council of France. He retired from this office in the following December. In May, 1883, he was sent as Ambassador to represent France at the coronation of the Czar Alexander III. at Moscow, and, upon his return from Russia, he was appointed Ambassador to the Court of St. James's. He held this post until 1893, and died in the following year.

Mme. Waddington was her husband's companion throughout his long diplomatic life. She accompanied him to Russia and England and was thus able to see these countries advantageously. In addition she traveled much in France and Italy and obtained a rare knowledge of these lands. She is the author of the "Letters of a Diplomat's Wife" and several volumes descriptive of life and manners in France and Italy.

Alliance May Switch Candidates.

A split among the members of the Jeffersonial Alliance is expected to come this afternoon when the organization meets at the Reform Club, No. 9 South William Street, to reconsider action regarding the indorsement of District Attorney Perkins. A few weeks ago the City Committee of the organization, of which Bert Hanson is Chairman, met and indorsed Mr. Perkins. Several members who were not present and who are for Judge Swann, the Tammany candidate for District Attorney, submitted a petition to Mr. Hanson asking that another meeting be held. Among the signers of the petition were Paul Fuller, Cornelius A. Baldwin, Emil Altman, and Bernard Naumberg. They will insist at today's meeting that the alliance, which is composed of Independent Democrats, come out for Judge Swann.

BAY STATE LIKELY TO BEAT SUFFRAGE

Political Leaders Predict Amendment's Defeat "Unless There Is an Upheaval."

NEW JERSEY IS A FACTOR

Caused Apathy in the Ranks of the Suffragists, While Antis Took on More Vim.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—The indications, four days before the election, are that the woman suffrage amendment will be defeated decisively in Massachusetts. This statement is based on a careful canvass, during which political leaders of all parties, many of whom are in favor of the adoption of the amendment, were questioned with the purpose of obtaining information as to what they believed. There were few, aside from those at the suffrage headquarters, who felt that suffrage would win. There were many, and some of them suffrage workers, who felt that the women who want the vote in Massachusetts were doomed to disappointment this year at least.

The leaders of the Republican and Democratic Parties were unwilling to express their views for publication, but there was no mistaking how they felt. Several of them told THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent frankly what they thought on the understanding that they were not to be quoted by name. They all said that woman suffrage was beaten, "unless there is an upheaval," of which there were no present indications. This didn't mean, they said, that they were opposed to suffrage, and, in fact, a majority of the men who expressed these views will vote "Yes" on election day.

Many things have led to this feeling. There seems to be a general impression, for one thing, that Massachusetts would better wait a while before it takes the plunge. Then the suffrage defeat in New Jersey has hurt the suffrage work here. Two suffrage advocates, one of them W. H. McMasters, a leading figure at the headquarters of the State suffrage organization, admitted that. Mr. McMasters added quickly that "it was only for a day that the blow hurt," and that afterward the backward slide was more than overcome. The other suffragist didn't make any qualifying remarks. He said that the cause had been hurt.

The defeat in New Jersey, from what could be learned, had a double effect, as it served to dampen the ardor of some of the suffragists who felt that with New Jersey for suffrage Massachusetts voters might follow suit, and at the same time put vim in the anti-suffrage campaign. The antis squared their shoulders and adopted a slogan something like this: "New Jersey has defeated suffrage, and now we have an opportunity to deal such a blow that the hopes of the suffragists will be killed not only for this year but for years to come."

There is another point. There has been friction among the suffragists themselves, and both men and women have withdrawn from the older organizations and formed new ones. It was said on very excellent authority that the discontented ones who formed new organizations felt some mistakes had been made in conducting the campaign which had cost many votes.

Heavy Vote Predicted.

Massachusetts, unlike New York and Pennsylvania, this Fall has a Gubernatorial fight on its hands, with Governor Walsh (Democrat) and Samuel W. McCall (Republican) the leading candidates. This has resulted in a record registration of 114,000 in Boston, and promises a heavy vote. This, the anti-suffragists say, is in their favor. The one thing they feared, they said, was a light vote.

In both the Gubernatorial and suffrage fights Boston is the real centre of activity, and the work in other parts of the State is directed from the headquarters here.

The headquarters of the Massachusetts Women Suffrage Association is on Boylston Street, in the Back Bay district. It is a hive of industry, with half a hundred typists working from morning to night and a stream of earnest, hard-working, and enthusiastic women who look as if they knew their business pouring in and out and always ready to do something for the cause. Today, for instance, the task of sending to every part of the State no less than 630,000 circulars was one of the undertakings.

Mr. McMasters, who was the spokesman at headquarters, said that he had no doubt of a suffrage victory, and the first thing he called attention to was the new circular. It asserted in bold face type that every candidate for Governor had promised to vote "Yes" on the suffrage amendment. That is true, and Nelson B. Clark and Walter S. Hutchins, respectively the candidates of the Progressive and Socialist Parties, are preaching the suffrage doctrine from the platform. Governor Walsh and Mr. McCall are not. Mr. McCall has been an ardent believer in suffrage for years, and Governor Walsh has said that he believed that women should have the vote, but both have said that this was purely their own opinion and had nothing to do with their parties as organizations.

The suffragists, however, assert that the utterances of these men, even though not followed by campaign speeches for the cause, will have a telling effect. Mr. McMasters said that it didn't make much difference who was elected Governor as far as the success or downfall of the suffrage cause was concerned, as all candidates were favorable to the amendment.

The suffrage workers also are using the name of President Wilson at every opportunity. Some have seen fit to offer the belief of W. J. Bryan as of value, but there is not a unanimity of opinion on that point.

Press Supports Suffrage.

As another big factor in their favor, Mr. McMasters said that every big newspaper in Boston was "rooting for the cause," and that many columns of valuable publicity had been obtained. Quite frequently, he said, more space was devoted to the suffrage campaign than to the Gubernatorial fight, and that there was more interest in the suffrage vote than in the vote on Governor.

The suffragists say they will receive the labor vote. The State Branch of the American Federation of Labor is in favor of suffrage, and the suffragists had the bill calling for a referendum on an amendment to the Constitution introduced in the Legislature by a representative of the labor interests. The labor vote is an important factor in Massachusetts and the Legislature passed the bill by very large majorities in both houses. The Campaign Committee has also seen to it that labor leaders have spoken for the cause as one in which labor was interested. President Hunt of the State Branch was one of these speakers.

Here, as in New Jersey, the suffragists assert that the saloon interests are working against them and supplying money freely to back up the campaign of the antis, but they are not so bitter as were the New Jersey suffragists. There can be no doubt about the vast amount of earnest, sincere effort that the suffragists are putting into their work and there can be no doubt that many of them are convinced that they will win.

The Headquarters of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage is also on Boylston Street, a short block from the centre of suffrage activities, but the atmosphere is so different that it might well be many miles away. There wasn't even the sound of a typewriter. The main room with a little alteration might have been turned into a very comfortable drawing room.

Mrs. John Balch, the President of the association, said at the start that the anti-suffragists were not going at their task along the lines pursued by the suffragists. This wasn't a political headquarters, she said. The antis didn't believe in the "woman politician."

As to the State's situation, she said:

"We are perfectly confident that the amendment will be defeated. Yes, I think that the suffragists have built up quite an organization, but that does not mean that they will get the votes of the majority of the men. There are many prominent men who are in full sympathy with our determination to defeat the amendment, among them Senators Weeks and Lodge, Senator Crane, August Gardner, and I could mention many others.

"We are sure that the defeat in New Jersey has helped us immensely, and we don't think what Mr. Wilson said or what Mr. Bryan said will make any votes for the suffrage cause here. We expect that our victory will be a very decisive one. That is the opinion we hear from the 36,000 women who have voluntarily enrolled in our association, and who are quietly at work all over the State. The suffragists have not succeeded in convincing the men that they ought to have the vote."

The antis are holding meetings and conducting a window and mail campaign, but on no such scale as the suffrage workers. Mrs. Balch said that the association did not have the funds to work on a large scale, but they were satisfied with what they had accomplished.

While there is much interest in the suffrage feature of the campaign, there did not seem to be evidence to prove the statement made at suffrage headquarters, that it was overshadowing the Gubernatorial contest. Indications are that the fight over the Governorship will be closed, with the odds about 10 to 9 on the re-election of Governor Walsh, who is making a hard, effective campaign. There were no such odds to be obtained on the success of the suffragists. In fact, most of the talk in the hotels was about the Governorship. Mayor Curley, a Democrat, is out in the open for the suffrage cause and, unlike Governor Walsh and Mr. McCall, is taking part in the suffrage campaign. But, unlike Walsh and McCall, he is not running for office and has nothing to lose, at this election at least.

The suffrage leaders claim most, if not all, of the Progressive party vote, but the antis take quite another view. Robert N. Turner, counsel for the anti association, said that polls taken in Worcester County, Progressive territory, showed the fallacy of these claims. One poll of twenty-seven men, he said, showed that twenty-four were against suffrage. Of that number twelve said they were Progressives, ten Republicans, and two Democrats. Mr. Turner predicted the defeat of the amendment by 100,000. He was the only one who offered figures, and he admitted that his prediction sounded extravagant.

It is probably true that the Republican and Democratic organizations are not, as organizations, doing any work for or against suffrage. There is a feeling, however, that the suffrage amendment is not popular with the Republican organization. There seems to be sentiment in the Democratic organization more in favor of suffrage. The leaders decline to talk for publication. They feel that to take a stand either for or against suffrage would alienate party members. It is probably a fact that no orders of any kind have gone out to district leaders.

This story is told to show how carefully the organizations are keeping their hands off: Mr. McCall, the Republican candidate, was expected by the suffragists to take an active part in the campaign in their behalf, because of his well-known beliefs. He gave his opinion as an individual at the opening of the campaign. Once after that he introduced a woman suffrage speaker to an audience. But right there his activities stopped short, and it was said that the organization leaders were so strongly opposed to even that small show of favoritism that Mr. McCall gave way to their counsel.

The suffragists assert that all of the organizations, old and new, in the State are working together and will be represented at the final demonstration on the Common on Saturday night.

PLEASE NOTICE

We recall some instances in recent years where the completion dates we have promised on certain operations in this city have been roundly condemned as extravagant and impossible of fulfilment.

On the other hand, we have yet to recall a single instance where the final results have failed to substantiate our promises and to dispel the doubts of the skeptics.

Will owners please notice.

THOMPSON-STARRETT COMPANY
Building Construction

CARPET CLEANSING

We clean, repair, relay, moth proof or store RUGS, CARPETS, and all FLOOR COVERINGS. Old carpets woven into rugs. 45 years' experience.

THE THOS. J. STEWART CO.
1554 Broadway, at 46th St., New York.
Phone—Bryant 8896.

Does It Happen to You?

After your mind's made up to spend a certain price for a suit, did you ever walk out of a store, kicking yourself for spending $10 more because the salesman was a slick talker? You sure did!

Spend $20 with us for any Suit or Overcoat in the house. Then you've got SOMETHING well-made and styled with a dash of "Tobasco" that puts an edge on your appearance.

CHOICE OF THE HOUSE
SUIT OR OVERCOAT $30 to $45 VALUES
To Your Order $20
NO EXTRAS

We've been right in this spot for 15 years. Systematized working methods—bigger buying power because of specializing—and close to wholesale cost are some reasons for our one-price $20 policy.

Samples? Sure! Lots of Them—Free

SUIT OR OVERCOAT ONLY ONE PRICE $20

SANFORD & CO., Tailors
40-41 Park Row, New York City, Opposite City Hall Park

ADVERTISEMENT. | ADVERTISEMENT.

27 Bodies of Children Taken from Massachusetts School Fire Ruins.

Peabody, Mass., Pays the Price of False Economy.

The school building was erected a few years ago at a cost of about $100,000. It was square shaped, with wood fittings lining the interior of the brick frame. There were 16 classrooms on the three floors.—N. Y. Evening Mail, October 28, 1915.

Insurance writers recognize the value of steel doors—why do not owners and trustees?

A small saving in first cost is the only reason for using wood doors in buildings.

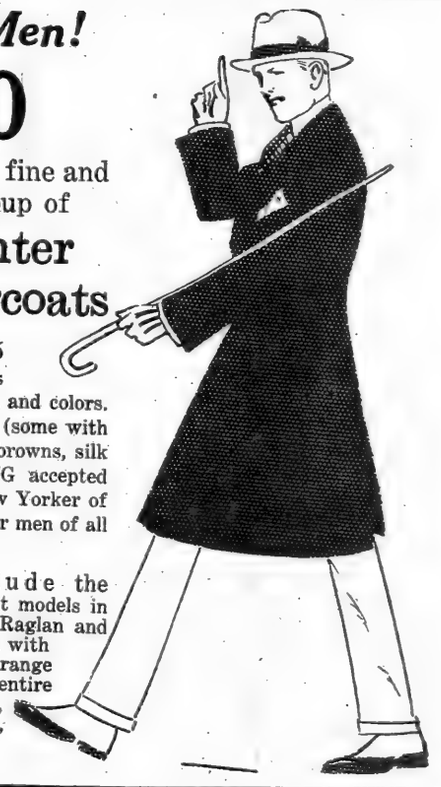
Economy First, or Safety First?

EMPIRE ART METAL CO., INC.,
Manufacturers of Steel Doors and Interior Trim.
College Point, New York City.

GIMBELS
Broadway and 33d Street

Attention! Men!

$19.50



The price of an especially fine and expressly selected group of

Fall and Winter Suits and Overcoats

The Suits are here in 15 different models and 75 different patterns, weaves, and colors. Plain blues, blacks, Oxford greys (some with bound edge), stripe effects, dark browns, silk mixtures—in fact, EVERYTHING accepted as correct by the well-dressed New Yorker of today, in all sizes from 33 to 50, for men of all proportions and any stature.

The Overcoats include the newest models in Chesterfield, "Slip-on," imported Raglan and other styles. Most are fully lined with Skinner's guaranteed silk. The range of fabrics and colors covers the entire field, and the latest ideas in cuffs, lapels, gussets, belts, collars, etc., are featured in endless variety.

Fourth Floor

Men's Stetson Hats at GIMBELS
$3.50, $4 and $5

A NEW and very large shipment of these splendid Hats has just arrived. More and more men every day come to GIMBELS for their Stetson, because we have shown them that we stock MORE Stetson Hats, in MORE styles and colors, than does any other retailer in New York. Also, we have SIX absolutely exclusive and very smart models, made for us ONLY, by Stetson.

Fourth Floor

CHARGE PURCHASES MADE BETWEEN NOW AND NOV. 1st BILLED DEC. 1st

J. M. Gidding & Co.
564-566 and 568 Fifth Avenue, 46th and 47th Sts.

Charming Paris Blouses

Including many importations exclusive with this House—Hand made Effects of real lace Georgette crepe trimmed with lace silk & chiffon combinations & other styles, suitable to complete the tailleur costume, or for semi-dress occasions.

Exclusive Millinery

for formal & informal occasions. Original french designs duplicates and exclusive designs—new every day by our own French & American Artists

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

LETTER TO ELIHU ROOT BY GEO. W. PERKINS

GIVING HIS SPECIFIC REASONS FOR VOTING AGAINST THE PROPOSED CONSTITUTION

New York, October 27th, 1915.

Hon. Elihu Root, New York City, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—In answer to your telegram of September 9th, asking me to become a member of a Committee of Citizens to advocate the adoption of the new Constitution, I said that I was not at that time sufficiently familiar with the Constitution to know whether or not I would be in favor of its adoption; furthermore, that I did not, at that time, know in what form it was to be submitted, whether in section or as a whole. Since that time the Constitution has been submitted substantially as a whole, and I have tried, as a layman, to make as careful a study of it as possible.

My conclusion is that it should not be adopted. My reasons are specific, and are as follows:

I am wholly opposed to the demand made on the people by the Convention that the Constitution be adopted practically in whole or not at all. Sixteen of the eighteen sections are submitted in one vote and these sixteen questions are the all-important part of the Constitution. I can think of but two reasons for the Convention having taken this course: First, that it had so little respect for the intelligence of the voters of this State that it did not believe them capable of wisely discriminating between the sixteen different sections; or, Second, that it feared the intelligence of the voters and realized that they would discriminate and that many of the proposed amendments, if submitted separately, would unquestionably be rejected. Neither reason is creditable to the Convention. Whichever of these reasons existed, the fact is that the voters have been deprived of their unquestioned right to select and reject as they might deem proper. This right was granted the voters of Ohio in voting on their recently revised Constitution, where 42 propositions were submitted, 34 of which were adopted and 8 rejected. It was granted to the people of New Hampshire, where 4 propositions were adopted and 6 rejected. In the State of Connecticut the Constitution was submitted in bulk twice, and each time was rejected. In this State in 1867 a new Constitution was submitted in bulk, with the exception of the Judiciary article, which was submitted separately. The Judiciary article was accepted and the Constitution rejected.

It seems clear to me that there is no answer to the serious objection to the manner of submitting the new Constitution. It is a fundamental weakness in the whole scheme. I appreciate that in a great document like a State Constitution there has to be a certain amount of give and take and that half a loaf is sometimes better than no loaf at all, granted always that the half loaf be not poisoned. Why should a man who objects to the Conservation article, for example, but who favors the Short Ballot article, be forced to take the Conservation article in order to get the Short Ballot article? This illustration applies to many of the articles.

In a statement issued by the "Committee For the Adoption of the Constitution," printed in Monday morning's papers, this procedure of submitting the Constitution in bulk was sought to be excused, and the Committee, among other things, said: "This might have been the appropriate method if the Convention had done nothing but suggest scattered changes on unrelated subjects. However, each important reform supplements and supports some other reform."

OBVIOUSLY DISINGENUOUS.

I can understand how it might possibly be claimed that it was necessary to submit together the Executive and Budget articles, and possibly, even the Short Ballot with them. But what has this group of articles to do with Judiciary, Conservation and printing legislative debates? The attempted justification by the Committee is obviously disingenuous.

The new Constitution provides for an increase in the salaries of the Legislature. You will remember, of course, that this was submitted to the people in the form of a separate amendment in 1911 and defeated by a vote of 267,000 in favor and 352,000 against, despite the strenuous efforts of the bipartisan machine to pass it. Is it not vicious, therefore, to submit it to the people so soon again in such manner that they cannot defeat it without also defeating other proposals, some of which they might favor? In the discussions that are now going on even the strongest advocates of the proposed Constitution admit that there are certain things in it that might be objectionable but that we should adopt it because, on the whole, they claim it is an improvement on the existing Constitution. To my mind the reverse is true. It should have been submitted section by section, in which event the people could have taken what they approved and rejected what they did not approve.

The two propositions submitted, separately, are the Taxation article and the Apportionment sections.

As to the Apportionment proposition, separately submitted, it is simply a delusion and a snare. It makes no particular difference in the apportionment which way the people vote on it, for if it is adopted things remain as they are, and if it is defeated things remain practically the same, but it should be remembered that tied up with this Apportionment submission is the provision abolishing under certain conditions the State Enumeration of its inhabitants and authorizing apportionment to be made on the basis of a Federal census. The State Enumeration has been one of our large and unnecessary expenses, for the Federal Census is all that is necessary, and if the amendment abolishing State Enumeration were submitted separately to the people it would unquestionably pass. By tying it up with the Apportionment amendment, however, the voters will be put in the position, if they vote for the proposition, of apparently approving the present apportionment, and if they vote against it, of apparently approving the continuance of the present unnecessary and extravagant State Census.

In support of what I have said above on this subject, I quote the following from the debate when the question of submitting this article separately was before the Convention:

> By Mr. Brackett: "I ask the Chairman of the Committee (Mr. Parsons) what possible process of reasoning requires or suggests that the amendment should be submitted separately, when if it is rejected it leaves the Apportionment article precisely as it is? In other words, it is utterly insignificant as far as the result goes whether the present amendment pending is adopted or rejected. If it is adopted it adopts precisely the same method as in the existing Constitution, and if it is rejected of course it leaves the present one standing. Now, of all the sections of the whole instrument from beginning to end, I should think that was the poorest one to submit separately, inasmuch as it does not make the slightest difference which way the vote is."
>
> Mr. Parsons (Chairman of the Committee): "The result of the vote is correctly stated by Mr. Brackett."

The Convention went through the farce of submitting this Apportionment article separately and of attempting to make the people think that it was so important that they should give their especial thought and attention to it and vote on it separately, when, as a matter of fact, it does not make a rap's difference in the apportionment which way they vote. While this farcical question is being submitted separately, the people are denied the right, unquestionably theirs, to vote separately and independently on the great articles covering changes in reorganization of the Judiciary, Conservation, Powers of the Governor, Home Rule for Cities, Re-arrangement of all the Departments of the State, and other important questions, where the result of their vote would be of real importance to them.

This sort of treatment of the voters is an outrage that ought to be resented by the people at the polls.

SHORT BALLOT

I personally regard this as such a long short ballot as to be inefficient. It does nothing except in a very slight way recognize the theory of a short ballot. The only real short ballot recognized by the Convention is in the method of submitting the Constitution to the voters. That is a short ballot with a vengeance! There is no compromise about that.

JUDICIARY

There are so many changes in the Judiciary article, and they are of such far-reaching effect, that, in my judgment, it is impossible for the people to comprehend the importance of these changes in the very short time they have been given in which to consider them. Briefly, my objection to the article is that it puts the Judiciary more into the practical politics of the State than it has ever been before, while progress should be made in exactly the opposite direction. To give judges the power to appoint subordinate judges, in my judgment, is all wrong. To give them, as the new Constitution proposes, power without limit to appoint as many judges as they desire under the name of "Supreme Court Commissioners" is conferring on them a patronage that is bad in principle and sure to bring the court into politics. If the appointive principle is to be established in our Constitution, it would be much safer to leave it with the Governor than with the judges.

POWER OF THE GOVERNOR AND BUDGET

In the matter of giving the Governor more and broader power, I believe there are mistakes of such a serious character that the proposal in this respect will prove more harmful than beneficial. I believe thoroughly in a proper budget system, but under our plan of electing a Governor for two years, granted that there is a change every two years, we would get an independent responsible budget system but every other year. For, if the Governor were to be elected this year and take office on the 1st of January, the budget for him would be made up by the department heads that were going out with the outgoing Governor. The next year the new Governor and his department heads could make up their own budget, but the following year he in turn would make up the budget for the next incoming Governor. This certainly provides a beautiful opportunity for outgoing Governors of different political parties to play politics with the efficiency of the State departments at the expense of incoming Governors, and vice versa.

No large business concern could obtain anything like reasonable efficiency under this method of doing business, and, in my judgment, no State with such vast administrative interests as ours can do so either.

The plan by which the Governor makes up his budget and sends it in is not by any means free from legislative influence, because the Legislature has the right after it passes on the Governor's recommendations to initiate its own bills and pass them for submission to the Governor. This opens up a vast field of dicker and trade between the Legislature and the Governor, and between the "invisible government" and both. In this connection, the restoration to the Governor of the power to appoint members of the Legislature to any office within his gift is vicious to the last degree and thoroughly reactionary. The Governor of this State had this power one hundred years ago, and it was taken away by the Constitution in 1821 because of its great abuse. In the discussion on this subject in the convention of 1821 that adopted the section which is now sought to be repealed, Mr. Williams, a delegate, said:

> "On the examination of the subject, it will be found that nineteen out of twenty of these offices have been filled out of the Legislature from year to year. It has been continued until the people have expressed their disapprobation from one part of the State to the other, and although they have selected in many instances fit and suitable candidates for office, yet, inasmuch as they were taken from the Legislature, they have been considered improper selections. An idea is entertained that the Legislature has been rendered subservient to the appointment power for the promotion of political views and the advancement of individuals in that body."

Another delegate, Mr. Bacon, said:

> "When we see, as we have done at no remote period, more than one-third of the Legislative body returning home with their commissions in their pockets, the people will inevitably draw from it some unkind inferences."

(Mr. Bacon was evidently a very polite gentleman.)

POWER TO APPOINT MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE TO OFFICE.

In this connection, it is extremely important to note that the proposed Constitution not only restores to the Governor the power to appoint members of the Legislature to office, but there is in the proposed new Constitution nothing whatever to prevent an Assemblyman or a Senator being appointed by the Governor as head of one of the State Departments and still remaining a member of the Legislature, sitting in that body which will adopt a budget for his own department. I consider giving the Governor such power as this tantamount to manufacturing a new and valuable currency with which the Governor can buy members of the Legislature for any purpose he desires. On the one hand it legalizes bribery by the Governor; on the other hand it enables influential members of the Legislature to browbeat the Governor into appointing them to important offices in order to put through his measures; on all hands it

REINFORCES "INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT" IN THE MOST SINISTER POSSIBLE FORM.

This provision is so vicious that if it were submitted to the people by itself it would not have the ghost of a show being adopted, and the attempt is clearly being made to force its adoption by coupling it up with other measures that claim respectability.

Can the voters of the State afford to pay such a price as this, even to obtain the advantages which the advocates of the new Constitution claim for it?

STATE PRINTING

The Constitution provides that everything said in all the debates of the Legislature shall hereafter be printed each day in pamphlet form similar to the Congressional Record at Washington. This will cost many thousands of dollars a year. On its face, it looks like an innocent provision. Some people might think it a good thing; it has to be considered, however, in connection with its relation to other things, and one of these things is that the practice of the State Board of Printing has been to confine State printing to Albany County printing firms. The legislative investigation of two or three years ago and the Roosevelt-Barnes libel suit clearly showed that the State printing is so conducted as to be a valuable perquisite for the Albany bi-partisan printing ring. The scandals already developed in connection with State printing have long cried out for the establishment of a State Printing Department, and under such conditions to multiply the amount of State printing without the establishment of a State Printing Department would seem to be a grave mistake.

If this question of printing the daily speeches of members of the Legislature had been submitted as a separate question to voters, does anyone think they would adopt it?

STATE DEPARTMENTS

The idea of consolidating a great number of departments into a few large departments I thoroughly believe in, but the manner in which it has been done is open to grave criticism. This is a matter of such vast and far-reaching importance that before adoption it should be studied by a committee of experts and recommended to the people as a carefully thought out, practical and efficient scheme of administering the State's affairs. The plan, as submitted, is intended to be made copper-fastened for twenty years. The proposed Constitution specifically takes away from the Legislature the power to create a single other department, for it specifically says: "No new department shall be created hereafter. Any bureau, board, commission or office hereafter created shall be placed in one of the departments enumerated in this article."

ABOLISHES MARKET DEPARTMENT.

Therefore in the mater of a Department of Markets the proposed Constitution not only abolishes the recently created Department of Markets, but prohibits the Legislature from creating a new one. As a Department of Markets is not created as one of the seventeen departments or even indirectly referred to, the only possible way in the future to have anything that would resemble a Department of Markets would be to have it created as a bureau of one of the seventeen existing departments. This means that it would be a very subordinate affair,—in the hands of an assistant without direct responsibility, publicity or control, without any opportunity to obtain recognition for his work in behalf of the people if it were good, or criticism from the people if it were poor,—

THE PRECISE POSITION IN WHICH MANY DEALERS IN FOODSTUFFS DESIRE TO HAVE THE MARKETS PLACED.

It so happens that last year Mayor Mitchel appointed a Committee on Food Supply for New York City, of which committee I have been chairman. A great deal of study has been given to the question of food supply and markets by this committee, and it was found that the high cost of food supplies in New York City does not arise from lack of supply in the country, for, as most farmers up the State know, vast quantities of produce are raised by them every year for which they are not able to find a market at a sufficiently high price to pay for gathering.

THE HIGH PRICE OF FOODSTUFFS TO THE PEOPLE OF OUR CITY IS AN INCREASINGLY SERIOUS PROBLEM.

It is largely occasioned because the supplies are controlled directly or indirectly by traders in New York who bring them into the city and distribute them. In running this matter down last Winter and in urging a market commission that would have a central head and be responsible to the public, a commission that could attempt to equalize the small prices obtained by the farmer up State and the high prices paid by the consumer in the city,

THE PROPOSITION WAS MADE TO ME,

as Chairman of the Food Supply Committee, that if we would give up the idea of a Market Department with a centralized and responsible head the market people would favor a sub-department under one of the present existing departments of government in the City of New York in charge of a Bureau Chief or an assistant.

The proposition was rejected, of course, as it would have played right into the hands of the very men who made the suggestion, and directly against the interests of the farmers of the State and the consumers of the cities.

These men want an obscure department, in charge of a small calibre man, with small power and away from the limelight, with whom they can deal; they are unalterably opposed to a man of sufficient calibre and occupying a position with sufficient power and publicity to enable him to serve the public as he should.

Knowing this situation as intimately as I do from personal contact, I am amazed and disturbed to see that the proposed Constitution fits right into the scheme of these very men as they outlined it to me.

THE PROPOSED CONSTITUTION TAKES AWAY FROM THE LEGISLATURE THE POWER EVER TO CREATE A GREAT, ALL-POWERFUL DEPARTMENT OF MARKETS that could be of inestimable value to producer and consumer alike; all that the Legislature could do would be to place our great marketing problem in the hands of a subordinate of some other department.

The proposed Constitution is careful to perpetuate the Public Service Commission, created to regulate the transportation affairs of the people; yet only about 10 per cent. of the average man's income goes for transportation. The proposed Constitution not only abolishes what we now have in the way of a State Market Department, but actually prohibits the establishment of such a department in the future; yet about 40 per cent. of the average man's income goes for food.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Perhaps the most burning question of the day, particularly in this great City of New York, is the high cost of living. We will never get anywhere in the solution of it until we have a Market Department in this State that is recognized as such and that is given the dignity of a department with all the power necessary to serve the producers on our farms and the consumers in our cities. In view of my experience in this matter, I regard the omission to create a Department of Markets and the provision prohibiting the Legislature from hereafter creating one as so detrimental to the people of the State that I would vote against the adoption of the Constitution for this if for no other reason.

CONSERVATION.

I regard the entire scheme of conservation as outlined in the proposed Constitution as pernicious and thoroughly objectionable. We have until recently had a three-headed commission, and, in my judgment, one of the very best things Governor Whitman has done and for which he deserves great credit is the establishment of the Conservation Department in the hands of one Commissioner and the securing of Mr. Pratt, of Brooklyn, as the Commissioner. Here we have centralized power, responsibility and a business man who is willing to perform public service,—precisely the programme of administration which all the advocates of the proposed Constitution claim is the objective of the entire Constitutional scheme; yet in this matter of conservation, exactly the opposite course has been taken. A commission of nine men is to be set up, selected by the Governor, one from each of the nine Judicial districts of the State. They are to receive no compensation, but are to employ a superintendent on a salary to conduct the affairs of the department. These nine men, living as they will in nine different parts of the State, will have very slight opportunity to get together often enough or for sufficiently long periods at a time to understand the vast problem of conservation in this State. The result will be, as it always has been in such cases, that the hired man will actually do the work. Who will know who this man is? He will have no pride of place, no responsibility to the people, and will be far removed from them. Does anyone suppose, for instance, that a man like Mr. Pratt would accept the position of superintendent? If the Commission does anything to which the people object, which one of the nine is going to be responsible?

In short, in place of centralizing power and placing it where the people can put their finger on it, the new Constitution broadly scatters it and places such executive power as there is in the hands of a superintendent.

One provision prohibits the Commission from selling any wood that it may cut in its forestry work. I happen to be fairly familiar with forestry work and know that much of the wood that is properly cut has a marketable value. If this nine-headed Commission can be so greatly trusted, as we are told it can be, why not give it the power to sell any wood that can properly be sold and turn the money into the State Treasury? Under the present provision they are prevented from selling it, but they are not prevented from giving it away. If they are dishonest and therefore should not be entrusted with the power to sell, why should they be entrusted with the power to give it away?

CURTAILS FISH SUPPLY.

Among the other serious objections to the Conservation programme is the exception of "migratory fish of the sea" from the jurisdiction of the Commission. This of course means to a large extent the sea fish in and about the waters of the City of New York. This again brings up my own experience of the past year on the Mayor's Food Supply Committee, where it was found that the lack of supervision and control of this industry causes great destruction of perfectly good sea food and to a considerable extent accounts for the high price of such sea food as we get. To deny to the Conservation Commission this extremely important function is, in my judgment, not only a great mistake, but an insurmountable impediment to any reforms necessary to provide New York City with a suitable supply of sea food at proper prices.

The exception was avowedly placed in the proposed article at the instance of the Long Island fish interests, for Mr. Pelletreau, a delegate from Suffolk County, said during the debate on a motion to strike out the exception:

> "This is a matter of grave importance to the people of my locality. Aside from viewing it in a broad and State sense, viewing it from my own personal comfort, if down in my county, Suffolk, it is learned that the salt water fisheries had been by constitutional provision placed under the Conservation Department, why, I will have the entire salt water fish industry after me with a sharp stick. I won't dare to go home."

There are various defects in the proposed Constitution. I doubt if a layman could find them all, for there is so much vagueness about so many provisions, and one is put to the necessity not only of studying the new Constitution, but the old Constitution, the laws of the State and the practices of the Legislature in order to reach anything resembling an intelligent understanding of the matter. In my judgment the reasons stated above are ample to convince any thoughtful voter that it is his duty to vote against the adoption of the Constitution as submitted.

If this proposed Constitution is rejected, then automatically under the old Constitution a new Convention may be elected to assemble in 1917. Broadly speaking, if the proposed revision fails of adoption the time and money spent on it will not have been in vain, for it has aroused a State-wide discussion that has been of great educational value, and we will approach the whole subject another year better equipped to deal with the great problem of really representative and efficient government which is facing us for solution. In view of the discussion since the Constitutional Convention adjourned another Convention at least would not dare to submit a Constitution in block. Public opinion would compel its submission article by article.

Very truly yours,

GEO. W. PERKINS.

21 CHILDREN DIE IN SCHOOL FIRE

Flames Sweep Through Peabody, Mass., Building, Turning Fire Drill Into Panic.

PUPILS HEAPED AT DOOR

Little Cripple Trips and Comrades Fall Over Her—Nearly All the Victims Are Girls.

HEROIC WORK BY SISTERS

Drop Their Charges Into Life Nets —Nearly 600 Saved—No Fire Escapes on Building.

PEABODY, Mass., Oct. 28.—Twenty-one children, most of them girls, ranging in age from 7 to 17 years, lost their lives today in a fire which destroyed St. John's Parochial School. Many other children were injured. The building, which was three stories high, was without fire-escapes.

The 600 children in the building had hardly seated themselves for the morning session when the fire was discovered, and although most of them were guided to safety by Sisters of the Order of Notre Dame, who were their teachers, panic seized some as they neared the front door, and in their rush to escape they lost their footing and their bodies blocked the exit. It was in the front vestibule that nearly all the bodies were found.

Examination of the remains of the front doors of the school today showed that they swung outward. There had been a report that the doors swung into the hallway and that the crush against them, when they were partly opened, made it impossible for the children to get out

Of the victims there had been identified tonight all more or less positively:

The Identified Dead.

BEAUCHAMP, MABEL, 11 years.
BURNS, NELLIE, 7 years.
BOURKE, FLORENCE, 12 years.
BRESNAHAN, HELEN, 17 years.
BOLESKY, ANNIE, 14 years.
CHEBATOR, PATRONI, 6 years.
COMEAU, ELIZABETH, 10 years.
DOHERTY, FLORENCE, 11 years.
ESSIAMBRE, IDA, 6 years.
FAY, MILDRED, 13 years.
HAYES, MARION.
KEEFE, HELEN H., 11 years.
McCALTHY, MARY, 8 years.
MEAD, MARY, 16 years.
NOLAN, ELIZABETH, 17 years.
O'BRIEN, ANNIF M., 11 years.
SULLIVAN, MARY, 16 years.

All of the sisters escaped, but Mother Superior Marie Carmelita was seriously burned. At the convent house tonight it was said that her injuries probably were not fatal.

How the fire started may never be known. An early theory that a boiler explosion caused it having been dismissed, the State police officials tonight were of the opinion that a store room in the basement, where a gas meter was located, was its source, but investigation of the theory was difficult, as the place where the store room had been was entirely burned.

Tardy Pupil Smelled Smoke.

The first word of the fire is believed to have come from a tardy pupil, who smelled smoke and reported it to the Mother Superior. The children had just finished morning prayer, when the gong sounded for fire drill. Mother Marie hurried to tell the sisters of the actual danger, and the movements of the fire drill were quickly started.

A few days ago in a practice drill the building was emptied within two minutes. It would have been cleared in almost the same time today, in the opinion of the Rev. Nicholas J. Murphy, pastor of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, but for the falling of a child, believed to be a cripple, in the front vestibule. Over her body child after child, fearful of the flames and pressed on by the crowd behind, stumbled and fell. The opening was choked and further escape was in this way stopped.

Trouble at the rear door, which became jammed for a time, also impeded the movement of the children through the building. This exit was re-opened however, and many children escaped through it.

The classes of pupils, marshalled by the Sisters in the rooms and halls, had filed through the corridors and started down the stairs and were in orderly procession, notwithstanding curling plumes of smoke, until the blockade occurred at the doors. Then, with cries from those below in their ears, the children in the rear of the lines scattered to the rooms on all three floors of the building.

Coats Used as Life Nets.

Those on the lower floor dropped safely to the ground. From the second floor most of the children, supervised by the Sisters, jumped into the coats of firemen and bystanders which were held out to catch them. Many of those who went to the windows of the upper story were warned against risking the long jump, and made their escape from windows below.

Some of the braver and more resourceful slimmed down water spouts, among them Morris Harris, a boy of 14 years, who assisted his friend, Tom Shea, with only one leg, over a shaking spout. Two girls, who were dropped to the ground, sustained serious injuries, one, Marion Hayes, dying at a hospital tonight.

The teachers controlled the situation until the mishap at the front door. The Mother Superior herself sought out possible loiterers on the upper floors, and made certain that all the children left these floors before she did. Nobody was found above the first floor.

Sister Aldegon, who assisted the Mother Superior in clearing the second floor, dropped more than a score of children into the arms of men waiting to catch them. Other Sisters assisted in the same way, while heads of classes remained with their charges and, so far as was possible, directed them to safety.

Through the undertaker's shop, where in a back room were laid out the bodies taken from the fire, filed hundreds of persons tonight, both the morbidly curious and those who were looking for their dead. The bodies were badly charred so that the work of identification proceeded slowly.

Fire Laws Complied With.

Criticisms by citizens of the lack of fire escapes on the school building were met by statements from State and town officials that every requirement of law had been met. Deputy Chief George C. Neal of the State Police said that the loss of life "apparently was not due to any lack of fire precautions, but simply to the unfortunate place in which the fire started, almost under the front steps, and the accident which blocked the front door." He said that the school house could have been better protected against fire by fireproof doors and ceilings, but he regarded the building as it stood as complying with all laws.

The building was a brick structure of eleven rooms, nine of which were used as classrooms. Within it was finished entirely of wood, and the flames ran entirely through it, so that tonight only the outer walls were standing.

The fire spread with extreme rapidity. It swept through the three stories in less than five minutes. Angus McDonald of the State Police early advanced the theory that it originated in a closet near the stairway and was caused by a hot air explosion. Michael Dunn, who lives near the school, said he heard a muffled explosion in the school building just before it was enveloped in flames.

When the ruins had cooled sufficiently officials made their way for a few feet into the basement. They found that the steam boiler, which was reported to have exploded, was intact. Joseph Donahue, the engineer of the building, declared that the blaze could not have originated from the boiler. He said he banked his fire before he left it at 8 o'clock this morning.

Rushed for Wrong Exit.

Wide stairways at either end of the interior led down to the exits. Under fire-drill discipline the little ones were marched through constantly thickening clouds of smoke to the ground floor, where the leaders lost their heads. Instead of passing out at the rear exit, according to rule, and as they had been trained, they made a dash for the front door and became jammed in the vestibule. Meantime the fire had eaten its way upward from directly under the front entrance, and the vestibule, crowded with pupils, presently was enveloped in flames.

Catherine M. O'Connell, 13, was among the first to escape, but when she got outside and found that her two little brothers were missing she broke away from the crowd and ran back into the building. The brothers were afterward reported safe, but no trace of Catherine could be found after the fire had burned itself out.

Genevieve Phillips, one of those who escaped, said:

"There was no confusion, and everything went smoothly until we came to a point about half way down the stairs between the first and second floors. Looking down over the heads of the children we saw a terrible scene. The younger children from the first floor were piled up in front of the doorway. The Sisters were doing their best to get the children through the doorway.

"Many of the little ones were terror-stricken and crying at the top of their lungs. Some had fainted and were being dragged along in the crush. A few had fallen to the floor. Some of the children, most of them under seven years, were struggling to keep their schoolmates on their feet. The Sisters were working frantically to rescue those who had fallen, but the task was almost hopeless.

"A small cloud of smoke was drifting through the doorway over the heads of the struggling, hysterical children, and it seemed that the smoke was coming from the basement doorway. Many of us were able to go around the side of the throng at the doorway and into the school room at the side of the first floor hallway. From the window of this school room we jumped to the ground."

Distracted Parents Rush Police.

A large percentage of the pupils were children of foreign parentage. In the number were many of Irish or Italian descent. The first alarm brought a hundred distracted mothers to the school yard, where soon they were joined by other relatives of the pupils, until the building was surrounded by a great crowd of hysterical men and women, who rushed the police lines in a wild effort to reach their own. The police were powerless to stop the rush, but what they failed to do was accomplished presently by the flames, which, shooting from the windows of the building, held back the unhappy throng. The local firemen, unable to control the blaze, summoned aid from Salem, Danvers, and Marblehead, but this came too late.

Police and firemen bent their energies chiefly to pulling children from doors and windows. The Mother Superior dropped twenty-five of her charges from a window on the second floor, and they were caught in overcoats and blankets improvised as fire nets.

The building was erected a few years ago at a cost of about $100,000. In teaching the Mother Superior was assisted by fifteen other sisters.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—When the absence of fire-escapes from St. John Parochial School at Peabody was called to the attention of the State Police, one of the officials said there was no law requiring the State authorities to order such equipment. The enforcement, it was said, lay entirely with the local authorities, and the only duty of the State Police was to see that the equipment, if ordered, was safe and adequate.

Ruins of Peabody School, Where 21 Children Perished.

The photographers give the front and rear view of the building, respectively. There were no fire escapes on the school. It was at the front door that the loss of life principally occurred. While the doors opened outward, the children, panic-stricken, piled up in the entrance, and the flames swept over them before all could be extricated.

LIKE COLLINGWOOD DISASTER.

Fire in Ohio School in 1908 Took 164 Lives—Doors Opened Inside.

The Lake View School at Collingwood, a suburb of Cleveland, Ohio, which on March 4, 1908, causing the death of 162 pupils and 2 teachers, is recalled by the disaster at Peabody, Mass. The Collingwood fire, as shown by a Coroner's investigation, was probably caused by a defect in the heating system.

Smoke in the basement was discovered by three little girls, who gave the alarm, and the janitor sounded the fire gong. A large number of children on the first floor, thinking it was the usual fire drill, filed out safely. The children on the second and top floors of the three-story structure became panic-stricken before their teachers could get them under control. They rushed down the stairway to the front doors, which opened inward and blocked their exit. Many were killed in the crush, and others were burned, while parents of the children, attracted from their homes by the smoke and flames, looked on in agony. Hospitals within a radius of two miles were filled with injured and dying.

DIVORCE CONUNDRUM.

Grows Out of the Marital Career of One Mr. Corbin.

In 1883 the Widow Blakeslee married Bachelor Corbin, and for fifteen years they lived happily together. Two children were the result of the union. Mr. Corbin failed to prosper in worldly affairs, and in 1908 Mrs. Corbin obtained a Connecticut divorce from him on the ground of desertion.

Two years later, in November, 1910, Mr. Corbin's father died and left his son the interest on $75,000 and an additional $75,000 if he married again. In 1912 he did marry again, but did not marry his divorcee. She is keeping a boarding house and objurgating her luck, and incidentally she is suing her former husband to have the divorce she obtained in 1908 set aside on the ground that no alimony was pecified in the decree.

Should she succeed, what will be the legal status of the second Mrs. Corbin?—Los Angeles Times.

FIRE IN SHIP AT A PIER.

Crew and Longshoremen Fight Blaze in Harrovian's Coal.

Fire was discovered yesterday afternoon among the soft coal on the British freighter Harrovian, commanded by Captain Jones, which is under charter to the French Line for Havre and is lying at Pier 84, at the foot of West Forty-fourth Street. The officials on duty last night said the fire was still smoldering in the hold of the ship, but they did not think it was of incendiary origin.

Men who came from the Harrovian appeared to have been warned not to talk, and the reporters were not allowed to go on the steamer with the aid of longshoremen from the pier tought the blaze and no alarm was turned in to the Fire Department up to midnight.

BOMB IN A TENEMENT.

Policeman Plucks Lighted Fuse—Fourth Attempt in Neighborhood.

Mrs. Catherine Cahill, janitress of the six-story tenement house at 697 First Avenue, heard something crackling in the hallway of the ground floor entrance late last night when she was making a tour of the house to put out the lights.

After opening the front door and seeing sparks flying from a large object in the hall, she ran screaming into the street. Policeman John Curtin of the West Thirty-fifth Street Station heard her and ran to the doorway, to which she breathlessly pointed.

There he found the spark of a lighted fuse burning very close to a large cylinder of metal. He plucked out the fuse when it had only a few seconds more to burn before it would have reached the top of the cylinder.

Inspector Owen Egan of the Bureau of Combustibles opened the cylinder at the West Thirty-fifth Street Station and said it contained a combination of chemicals which probably would cause a powerful explosion, but that an analysis would have to be made before the exact nature of the bomb could be ascertained.

This was the second bomb which has been placed in the building and the fourth found in the neighborhood within a year. The earlier one at the same house failed to explode. Six months ago a bomb exploded in the hallway of the adjoining building at 695 First Avenue, wrecking the entrance. Three weeks ago an unexploded dynamite bomb was found at 749 East Fortieth Street, which also adjoins the building where the bomb was placed last night.

TAURUS FORCED TO QUIT.

Fishermen's Ship Cannot Comply with the Seaman's Act.

Characterizing the La Follette seamen's act as a piece of vicious legislation, Frederick A. Bishop, President of the Iron Steamboat Company of 17 Battery Place, announced last night that the excursion steamer Taurus, which has been carrying fishermen to the Fishing Banks since 1903, would go out of commission for the season on Nov. 3.

According to Mr. Bishop, the United States Steamboat Inspection Service at Washington ruled that the Taurus was a merchant vessel carrying passengers in the coastwise trade, and as such was subject to the provisions of the seamen's act.

"We steamboat men were told on March 29 last by Assistant Secretary Sweet in his office at Washington," said Mr. Bishop, "that a liberal construction would be put on the act. The Taurus, with fifteen watertight compartments, has to go out of commission because it is utterly impossible to place enough lifeboats aboard to make a license capacity sufficient to operate her at a profit, while motor boats without lifeboat equipment of any kind continue to carry paid passengers to the Fishing Banks. Since 1903 the Taurus has carried an average of 65,000 passengers a year, or a total of 780,000, without a single accident."

B. & O. WAREHOUSE BURNED.

Big Blaze in Baltimore Destroys Property Valued at $500,000.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—The United States bonded warehouse on Piers 34 and 35 of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, at Locust Point, was destroyed by fire tonight. Records were destroyed, and estimates of the value of the contents of the warehouse varied between $300,000 and $400,000. The building and piers were valued at $150,000.

By hard work the firemen kept the flames from two grain elevators 200 feet away, which contained 2,000,000 bushels of grain. Most of the contents of the warehouse had come recently from London and Liverpool.

The fire is thought to have started from crossed wires in the warehouse.

Dinner to Warden Osborne.

Thomas Mott Osborne, Warden of Sing Sing Prison, was the guest of honor at a dinner given last evening by Judge William H. Wadhams of the Court of General Sessions at his home, 126 East Eightieth Street. Several Judges were guests.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 28.—Percy Richard Buttenheim of Haworth, a lawyer, with offices at 165 Broadway, New York, today instituted a suit in the Hackensack District Court to collect $53.33 from the New York Central Railroad. The plaintiff, who is his own counsel, says that on the night of Sept. 9 last, at about 10:15 o'clock, he asked the agent at the Cortlandt Street ferry what time the next boat left for Haworth, and was told "12 o'clock midnight." The lawyer took this boat, but found the train had gone fifteen minutes earlier. Auto. toll gate fee and telephone calls amounted to $5.33.

1% Per MONTH ON PLEDGE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

THE PROVIDENT LOAN SOCIETY OF NEW YORK

MANHATTAN
Fourth Avenue, cor. 25th Street.
Eldridge St., cor. Rivington St.
Seventh Av., bet. 48th & 49th Sts.
Lexington Av., cor. 124th St.
Grand St., cor. Clinton St.
E. 72d St., bet. Lexington & 3d Avs.
East Houston St., cor. Essex St.

BRONX
Courtlandt Av., cor. 148th St.

BROOKLYN
Smith St., cor. Livingston St.
Graham Av., cor. Debevoise St.
Pitkin Av., cor. Rockaway Av.

1/2 PER CENT. CHARGED ON LOANS REPAID WITHIN TWO WEEKS FROM DATE.

No man can afford to pass up this sale. NOW—buy your suit and overcoat for this Winter. The time, the place and the price!

The Greatest Tailoring Sale in New York's History!

We didn't gamble in Wall Street, but we played the woolen market. Woolens are also a war stock and have gone sky-high.

We have purchased for the past three months every desirable piece of goods that was offered to us by any manufacturer of reliability. Now we have 33,000 yards at prices that are easily 20 to 25 per cent. lower than these very same goods can be repurchased at this time.

Every yard of these fabrics is full Winter weight and standard dyed, so that you can positively be sure of their color, which is more than we or anyone else can guarantee for goods that will be made within the next six months.

Clemons
The Tailor

Known for the past seventeen years for making high-class, perfect-fitting, custom-tailored clothes for New York's most critical dressers.

Three Big Stores — Broadway and 39th Street; 6th Ave. and 24th Street; 507 & 509 Sixth Ave., near 31st Street

This is the First National Woolen Stock Clearance Sale

$25 SUITS & OVERCOATS to Order $15

These Suits and Overcoats are tailored on the premises in our own workrooms under our personal supervision. They are fashioned to your order, to fit you perfectly, any model you want. They are clothes worthy of any man.

Don't fool yourself that this advertisement will appear every Friday or Saturday for the next few weeks. This is not that kind of a sale and we are not that kind of merchants. This is the sort of sale every man has dreamed about getting in on, but has never been able to find. Well, here it is at last. Now it's up to you. Come on, you men who live in Jersey, the Bronx, Westchester, Long Island, Staten Island, Brooklyn, and Manhattan.

$35 & $30 Suits and Overcoats To Order $19.50

Just simply wonderful—that's all. Nothing like them ever seen anywhere else for less than $35. Not even in good ready-made shops, and certainly not in reliable made-to-order places.

$45 & $40 Suits and Overcoats To Order $24.50

These are without a doubt the best clothes any man can make for any money. There is nothing like them at all in the ready-made market, and the high class Fifth Avenue tailors that you hear talked about will charge you their price of $75 and $80 for the same thing. That's how good THESE are.

Get Samples of These Goods in any one of our three big stores, compare them with any clothes offered in this town and we will prove a saving to you of at least $10 on your suit or overcoat.

Some sale this will be, but that does not mean that we won't be able to give every man the kind of personal attention he needs in a tailor shop. You will not be left at the mercy of any salesman or cutter. Every order will have our own best personal, individual attention. Your clothes will be tailored so that in style and appearance they will be the equal to anything at double their price.

Above all we guarantee you an absolutely perfect fit.

Mail Orders Promptly Filled

and given the same personal attention that you get when you come in person. Just write in and ask us to send you the fashion book and measuring form. There is such a tremendous number of patterns and so many kinds of material that we ask you to be sure to let us know about the style and kind of cloth you want. Otherwise we might send you 250 styles of brown when you might want 250 styles of blue. If you want checks, let us know. If you want stripes, please say so. If you want plain material, say so. Do this and you will help yourself and us as well.

$25 Ready-to-Wear Overcoats $15

THIS MEANS YOUR OVERCOAT AT WHOLESALE PRICE. Made in our own workrooms by our own custom tailors, just to keep the full force going all Summer during the hot weather. These coats are tailored from high-class custom fabrics and satin-lined. All models, all sizes; lots of them exclusive in design and style, box coats and fitted coats, identical with the same coats you buy anywhere else for $25. Here $15.

Stores open Saturday and Monday mornings at 7:30 to accommodate business men who want to drop in before going to their offices. Open Saturday evening until 11, Friday evening and Monday evening until 9 P. M.

Clemons
The Tailor

Three Big Stores — Broadway and 39th Street; 6th Avenue and 24th Street; 507 & 509 6th Ave., near 31st St.

MANY New Yorkers want rubber heels already put on new shoes.

You can now get any of our men's and women's shoes, including the latest Fall styles, with O'Sullivan's Heels of new live rubber attached.

O'Sullivan's always give the best satisfaction.

O'Sullivan's Heels absorb the shocks from continually pounding on hard walks and pavements and prevent nervous breakdowns.

WALKOVER SHOES

Eleven Stores around New York

NEW YORK: 179 Broadway, 1175 Broadway, 1439 Broadway, 144 Bowery, 252 West 125th St., 557 Melrose Ave.
BROOKLYN: 565 Fulton St., 1355 Broadway.
YONKERS: 9 N. Broadway.
NEWARK: 795 Broad Street.
PATERSON: 181 Market St.

O'GORMAN OPPOSES NEW CONSTITUTION

New York Senator Will Vote For Woman Suffrage as a State Question.

NOT A NATIONAL PROBLEM

Says New Organic Law Is a Partisan Instrument, Undemocratic and Autocratic.

United States Senator James A. O'Gorman yesterday declared against the proposed Constitution and in favor of woman suffrage. He said he opposed the Constitution because of its denial of fair representation to the voters of New York City, and he compared the complaint of the metropolis to that of the women in their plea for the right of equality of citizenship.

The Senator also attacked the proposed Constitution as a partisan measure and a document framed in denial of the principles of democratic government, calling it an experiment in despotism. He said:

"I am opposed to the proposed Constitution and hope to see it defeated. I shall vote against it chiefly because of the injustice inflicted upon New York City in denying it fair and equal representation in the State Legislature. A large part of our citizens are practically disfranchised and this utterly indefensible discrimination should not be tolerated by a people who believe in the equality of citizenship.

"We hear much of excessive taxation these days, but most of it is due to mandatory laws enacted by the Legislature at Albany, where New York City is unable to make an effectual protest. It is said that the Constitution makes ample provision for home rule, but the very charter that the citizens of New York may adopt can be rejected by the Legislature, which will be dominated by members who have no immediate concern with the city, are ignorant of its needs or conditions and bear none of its burdens.

"Partisan," Senator Cries.

"The proposed Constitution is a partisan instrument. Notwithstanding the former protestations of non-partisanship, appeals are now being made openly to the passion and prejudice of partisanship to save it from the repudiation that awaits it next Tuesday. In such a situation all citizens who place the public welfare above partisanship should unite in securing its defeat. It is not enough to say that the Constitution contains some good provisions. All of its provisions should be good. The people of a great State should not be asked to adopt a Constitution that is confessedly bad in spots. We should not be required to balance its virtues against its vices. A Constitution freed from partisan impulses would have imposed no such difficulty upon the electorate.

"Moreover, the entire revision betrays a want of confidence in the principle of representative government as heretofore applied in the State and in the Nation. It is undemocratic. It is autocratic. The executive and the legislative branches of the government are no longer to be independent of each other. The executive is now to become supreme. The Legislature is to become dependent. Its powers are to be emasculated. Its functions in part are to be transferred to the Executive. It is clear that the legislative branch of our State Government has incurred the distrust of those whose influence in the convention was potential.

"A despotism if benevolent may have its advantages, but it is a mistake to experiment with such a system in this country. The people will have none of it, who have made great progress under our present form of government, and their advance will not be checked if they reject the new system which offers so little for commendation and so much for condemnation. I shall not repeat in detail the objections which have been presented to the public so frequently.

Apportionment Gravest Fault.

"To me its gravest fault is in the plan of apportionment. I shall never vote for a Constitution whose framers deliberately provide for the disfranchisement of citizens of the State. That strikes at the very root of free government, and I believe that a great majority of the fair-minded and patriotic citizens of the State, without partisan bias, or local interest, will condemn at the polls the work of a convention that for political reasons lends itself to the subversion of the fundamental principles of representative government.

"Smarting under the sense of injustice inflicted by the Constitutional Convention in the disfranchisement of citizens in this city, my sympathies go out to the women of the State who are complaining of the same denial of justice. Both complaints are based upon the violation of the principle of equality of citizenship upon which our fundamental structure rests, and without which representative government cannot endure.

"While adhering to my views, previously expressed, that woman suffrage is a state and not a national problem—that it is a question that each State must settle for itself—I shall vote for the woman suffrage amendment."

SEABURY FEARS THE SOURCE.

Judge Says Corporation Lawyers Made Constitution.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise wrote to Justice Samuel Seabury of the Court of Appeals for his opinion of the proposed Constitution. In his reply the Judge said that he regarded the Constitution as detrimental to the rights of the citizens of the State. He described the judiciary article as the "work of a little coterie of corporation lawyers."

"The source from which this proposed Constitution emanates does not inspire confidence," said Judge Seabury. 'While this does not justify one in voting against it if the Constitution itself was meritorious, it overcomes any presumption that might otherwise be indulged in in its favor. The convention was controlled by a small coterie of corporation lawyers from both the great political parties. They did their work under the leadership of Elihu Root. The ability of the gentlemen who controlled its action is unquestioned, but personally I feel that they represent reaction rather than progress."

Rabbi Wise yesterday issued a statement on the Constitution in which he said:

"I protest against this stealing of the Commonwealth. It is infinitely more important than the stealing of a little money from the State Treasury. It must be prevented, just as the theft of the money would be.

"The new Constitution is undemocratic. Mr. Root doesn't know what democracy is. If he does, he is afraid of it. Why has the cause of good government made such slow and halting progress in the last generation in American cities? Because the people rightly distrust the men who profess to stand in the foreground of the so-called battle for good government."

PRAISES JUDICIARY ARTICLE.

Job E. Hedges Says It Is a Direct Answer to Critics.

Job E. Hedges yesterday told why he will vote for the proposed Constitution next Tuesday.

"The most direct answer that the proposed Constitution makes to previous criticisms of State affairs is the judiciary article," he said. "For the first time in many years it will be possible for the average citizen, learned or unlearned, rich or poor, to define just where he stands in the enforcement of a right. The reason for this will be that court procedure will be practically entirely in the hands of the Courts and the Legislature must keep its hands off for five years at least."

"Argument for the budget has been made so frequently and so clearly and has had so little objection made to it as a specific article that nothing more need be said in its favor except that it will save enough in the avoidance of unnecessary interest charges to pay probably a third of the administrative expenses of the State. In other words, it would save enough to more than meet the direct tax provided by the last Legislature.

"The provision for printing the records of the Legislature will go far toward resting the vocal cords of many of the members of the Legislature and prevent the exposure to their constituents of mental conditions that were not made apparent at the time of election.

"The concentrating of authority in the hands of the Governor will prevent an executive from trying to make a burnt offering of others to excuse his own incompetency and to cover up his own mental and moral lack of stamina.

"Much of the opposition to the proposed Constitution comes from men who have not read it and from men who have voted for most of its provisions.

"The proposition of the short ballot has been advocated by both parties. That proposition is now opposed by the Democrats who voted for it. There is no reason why the Governor should not preside in the office to which he is elected and be the leader of his own party, without destroying the efficiency of that party as a militant organization. The best the Constitution can do, or the statutes, is to limit the power for evil of the man without morals, give an extra chance to the man with morals and mentality, and trust to the grinding effect of human experience to turn out desirable officials."

REPUBLICANS FEAR TAMMANY.

See Plan to Defeat Constitution and Hold New Convention.

The Republican State Committee issued a statement last night explaining just why Tammany wants the proposed Constitution defeated. If it is defeated this year, Tammany expects the people to vote next year on the proposition of holding another convention in 1917, the statement says. The reasons Tammany expects to profit by another convention are set forth as follows:

First—In order to force personal registration upon the rural voters, as she tried to do in 1913, when she controlled the Legislature and passed an act for that purpose which the courts held unconstitutional. The present revised Constitution continues the protection of the rural voter against personal registration. She wishes to change it.

Second—In order to apportion the State according to population instead of citizenship. Our present apportionment is based upon citizenship. New York City contains hundreds of thousands of aliens, who are not naturalized. Tammany's representatives in the convention last Summer urged that the apportionment should be changed so as to rest upon population. This would go far toward giving New York City control of the Legislature. The convention last Summer defeated her effort. That is another reason why she wants another change.

Third—In order to establish Assembly districts without regard to county lines. Her representatives urged this last Summer in the convention. They were defeated. Her orators clamored for it last Friday. If she succeeds, she will break down county lines throughout the State, and New York City would soon absolutely dominate the Assembly.

Fourth—In order to wipe out the present provisions of the Constitution, which provide that New York, Bronx, and Kings Counties shall not elect more than half the Senate. She tried for this last Summer. She was beaten. She clamors for it now. Do the voters up-State wish the Senate to be controlled by those counties? If so, the surest way to accomplish it is to defeat the new Constitution which protects them against it.

The statement adds that the Republican State Committee believes that the up-State voters, without regard to party, are strongly opposed to having Questions 1 and 2 struck out of the Constitution.

"The voter," the statement adds, "should vote 'Yes' on these two questions in any event. To vote 'No' on those questions is to vote against the Constitution, and to thus imperil all the provisions which protect this State from complete Tammany domination."

TROOPS DUE TODAY ON ARIZONA BORDER

Funston Told to Use All the Forces He Needs to Protect American Territory.

VILLA PROTEST REPORTED

Passage of Carranza Troops Through the United States Its Subject—Douglas Awaits Mexican Battle.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Seventh and Twentieth Infantry from El Paso and Batteries C and D of the Sixth Field Artillery from Nogales should arrive at Douglas, Ariz., tomorrow morning. A squadron of the Tenth Cavalry from Fort Huachuca has been ordered to Naco for the purpose of watching the western flank of Douglas to prevent any passage over on this side of the line.

Major General Frederick Funston, commanding the American Army forces on the border, has carte blanche to distribute troops along the border, and Secretary Garrison will send any additional troops he may need. Unless a call is made no more troops will be sent to the border. The position of Secretary Garrison is that General Funston is the best advised official of the Federal Government as to the army requirements there and that no additional troops should be sent unless sought by General Funston, who understands that he will be supplied with all the forces he needs.

Arrangements have been completed for the passage of Carranza de facto Government troops from Piedras Negras and Nuevo Laredo to Agua Prieta through American territory. Troops are going through under an American guard. Information was received by the War Department today that General Villa intended to attack Agua Prieta.

Unofficial advices reached here today that the Villa Governor of Sonora had telegraphed a protest to the Washington Government against the passage of Carranza troops across American soil. No protest had been received tonight, but officials said one would cause no surprise. Since the recognition of the Carranza party as the de facto Government of Mexico, however, the Villa forces are viewed only as outlaws against that Government, and such a complaint would be vain.

The State Department was informed today that the Villa Governor of Sonora had stated that he and Prefect Legaspi of Cananea would continue to exert every effort to protect American lives.

The department's latest advices with reference to Mexico City indicate that train service with Vera Cruz is uninterrupted and that efforts are being made to extend train service from Mexico City in various directions. The department has a report stating that the press of Vera Cruz a few days ago stated that many Conventionist officers and troops had surrendered to the de facto Government and asked amnesty.

Secretary Lansing was advised that on account of the impossibility of receiving railway shipments of fuel, the American copper mines at Cananea had ceased operations, and that practically all Americans, as well as many Mexicans, were leaving Cananea for Arizona. According to reports from the border, conditions at Nogales are unsettled.

RECOGNIZED BY SALVADOR.

Carranza Can Now Have Cargo of Arms Interned There.

Special to The New York Times.

TORREON, Oct. 28.—The Republic of Salvador has recognized General Carranza.

This means the return of a shipload of arms and ammunition now at Acajutla, Salvador. The ship was seized at Salina Cruz by Federals under Huerta, and taken to Salvador, where the Government ordered the ship interned until the end of the revolution in Mexico.

COLLEGE VOTERS ACCUSED.

Fifty-one Registration Summonses at St. John's Under New Law.

Fifty-one summonses were handed to the Rev. John C. Moore, rector of St. John's Roman Catholic College at Willoughby and Lewis Avenues, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon, requiring Father Moore himself, other members of the Faculty, employes of the college, and students who are preparing for the priesthood to appear before Magistrate Reynolds in the Gates Avenue Police Court to answer charges of violating the registration law of 1915.

This is the most extensive effort which has been made here to apply the new law affecting all students who dwell in buildings belonging to institutions of learning which they attend. Michael Stern, a deputy of the office of the State Attorney General, said that, in asking for the summonses for the fifty-one men registered from St. John's College he had taken a list of names furnished to him by the Superintendent of Elections. They were gathered by one of a large number of deputies employed in this city to investigate cases where a large number of names appear registered from the same address.

Mr. Stern said he did not know that the names on the list included those of the rector, other members of the Faculty, and priests, but that no mistake had been made in serving those summonses, as the new law required that men in their positions should file affidavits showing that the institution where they were employed was also their home.

The charge against the fifty-one names in the summonses is a violation of Section 168 of the election laws of 1915, which holds, among other things, that legal residence is not gained or lost in the case of students who take up temporary residence in seminaries while studying. Mr. Stern said that this would apply to students living on property belonging to the institution which they attended, but not to students who lived in private rooms or homes. Under this construction of the new law, many students of Columbia and other universities and colleges who live in school buildings and have been challenged unsuccessfully in the past, may be challenged this year on stronger grounds.

PINCHOT OPPOSES IT.

Says Constitution Would Let Interests Control Forest Reserves.

Gifford Pinchot, former Chief of the Federal Bureau of Forestry, was asked by the Committee Opposed to the Adoption of the Constitution for his opinion on the conservation article of the proposed Constitution. In his reply, made public yesterday, Mr. Pinchot said that the article in question was bad.

"The proposed reorganization of the Conservation Commission into a board of nine unpaid members, one from each judicial district, is thoroughly bad," he said. "Nine unpaid men will be very apt to represent nine special interests which can afford to pay them, or else to neglect their work. The provision which gives the impression that it will keep representatives of the lumber and water-power interests off the commission will, in fact, do nothing of the kind. The proposed selection of one man from each of the nine judicial districts of the State is ideally suited to political manipulation and ideally unsuited to the effective handling of the conservation interests of the State. It amounts to forcing the conservation interests of the State into politics. The new Constitution leaves the larger part of the Adirondack and Catskill forests open to indiscriminate destruction, because it contains no provisions for regulating cutting on private lands."

TARIFF OUT OF POLITICS.

Goal of the Administration, McAdoo Tells His Montana Hosts.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 28.—Efforts of the Administration at Washington to prevent certain fundamental questions, such as the tariff, from being battledore and shuttlecock of party politics were discussed here today by William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, at a breakfast tendered him by State officials and other citizens of Montana.

"We are trying," said Mr. McAdoo, "to take certain fundamental questions out of politics so that they may not be party questions in the future as they have been in the past. Among them is the tariff.

"Politicians have gone up and down the country," he continued, "telling us that their particular party could bring prosperity. First, it was the Republicans, then the Democrats. The politicians have been playing this game of see-saw to get offices, but their predictions and promises are all bunk. We have not had any real prosperity in the United States for ten years, because our business outgrew the clumsy financial system, which we had been talking about correcting for thirty years, but which we did not get to until President Wilson insisted on Congress taking it up as soon as the tariff bill was out of the way."

The infallible test of the value of the measure to the general public, he said, was to have it called "socialistic" by some special interest.

LABOR INDORSES PERKINS.

Union Men Speak at Cooper Union Mass Meeting.

A non-partisan mass-meeting of members of trade and labor unions to indorse Charles A. Perkins for District Attorney was held in Cooper Union last night. The auditorium was not filled. William Stokes presided and the speakers were William Bramble of the Machinists' Union, Hiram Green and George Lane of the Waiters' Union.

"We working men have indorsed Mr. Perkins because he has made good; because he has proved himself the District Attorney of all the people," said Mr. Stokes, "the poor man and the working man as well as the rich and those without occupation. Mr. Moss had the chance to come out and declare himself but he failed to do so, and we working men are going to take matters into our own hands and support Mr. Perkins, who represents us all fair, justly and well, without regard to labor or political leaders. We shall support him, no matter what our particular political party may be.

A resolution was adopted indorsing Mr. Perkins.

Two men in the audience interrupted the meeting to speak against Mr. Perkins. When they had finished Mr. Stokes said:

"Good. You have done exactly what I thought you would do—hung yourselves. What you say only confirms our confidence in Mr. Perkins."

HOW TO LIMIT HEIGHT EXPLAINED BY SURGEON

Dr. Harvey Cushing Would Regulate Growth by Cutting Pituitary Gland.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Large clinics were held today in the leading hospitals here in connection with the annual meeting of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons.

A system by which he asserted the height of persons could be controlled by an operation on the pituitary body, a little gland situated in the very centre of the head, was shown at the Peter Brent Brigham Hospital by Dr. Harvey Cushing, who told the surgeons that over-activity of this gland was the cause of gigantism and that its partial removal would prevent the continuance of this disease.

At the Massachusetts General Hospital Dr. R. H. Miller demonstrated an improved treatment for lockjaw, which had reduced the mortality from that disease nearly 9 per cent. Dr. Miller used a combination of tetanus serum, epsom salts and carbolic acid.

A bloodless operation in the correction of club foot by Dr. E. W. Fiske at the same hospital was attended with great interest.

At the regular meeting today in the Copley Plaza Dr. Edward Reynolds reported for the Committee on Cancer, speaking, in fact, for the American Society for the Control of Cancer. He said that the public was now thoroughly awake to the dire results of cancer, and that the society which he represented would continue to keep the public informed.

The question of "hospital efficiency" was the subject of reports and addresses by Dr. E. A. Codman of Boston, Dr. J. A. Hornsby of Chicago, and others:

"We are trying to have hospitals agree on a standard based upon end-results," said Dr. Codman. "The Massachusetts General Hospital, for instance, has progressed so far in this direction that not only is a careful record kept of the sequence of an operation, but the operating surgeon records his opinion of the diagnosis and after-care as well as the operation, and if he made what he considers mistakes, he says so. This plan makes everything open and above-board, and leads to efficiency."

Dr. Hornsby condemned the one-man hospital.

On motion of Dr. John W. Long of Greensboro, N. C., the congress adopted a resolution on first aid to the injured, providing for the appointment of a committee of five members to investigate conditions through sub-committees and report to the Committee on Standardization in Washington.

The following officers were elected: President, Fred B. Lund, Boston; First Vice President, Jasper Halpenny, Winnipeg; Second Vice President, S. M. D. Clark, New Orleans; General Secretary, Franklin H. Martin, Chicago; Treasurer, Allen B. Kanavel, Chicago; General Manager, A. D. Ballou.

Next year's congress will be held at Philadelphia.

BLOOMINGDALE'S.

Variety in FOX FURS

The variety of our Fox Furs is second in interest only to the wonderful beauty of the Furs.

There are Blue Fox (natural blue or dyed blue), Red Fox, Taupe Fox, Black, Cross, White and the new Poiree-Brown Fox.

Red Fox fur sets are from $19.75 to $52.50; separate scarfs from $6.95 to $42.50.

Prices are Bloomingdale prices—the lowest for real worth.

Have you yet thought of the convenience of a Charge Account with us?

Bloomingdale's
59th St. to 60th St. Lex. to 3d Av.

Monroe Clothes are profit-sharing clothes—and you share at once. We sell in our Upstairs Shops—Guaranteed $25 Clothes at $15—and agree to refund your money if you decide you haven't saved $10—Fair enough?

Monroe Clothes
2d Floor
42d St. & Broadway
Fulton St. & Broadway
10 Court St., Brooklyn
TAKE ELEVATOR AND SAVE $10.

ADVERTISEMENT.

TENDER SENSITIVE SKINS

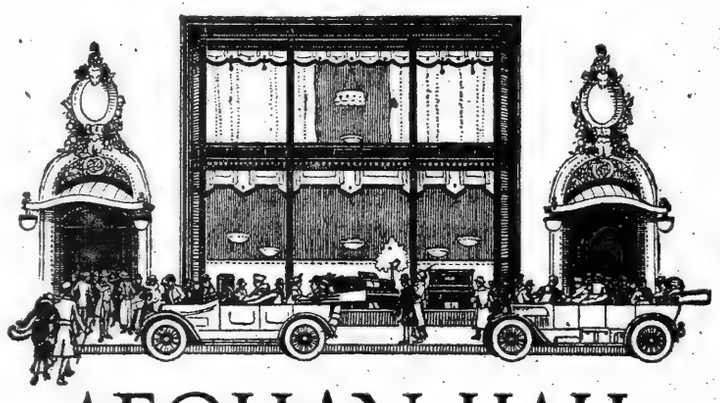
Quickly Soothed by Cuticura. Nothing Better. Trial Free.

Especially when preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap. Many comforting things these fragrant super-creamy emollients may do for the skin.

Sample of each free by mail. Address postcard, Cuticura, Dept. 5, Boston. Sold throughout the world.

WAR RECORD IN PICTURES.

Beautifully printed pictures on fine paper in The New York Times Mid-Week Pictorial. Illustrated record of the great war. 10 cents a copy—$5.00 a year. Bound volume of 10 copies by mail for one dollar. Times Square, New York. —Advt.



AEOLIAN HALL
29 West Forty-second Street
THE BEST PLACE TO BUY YOUR PIANO

Famous pianos of highest musical excellence, perfect in every quality the musician demands.

Very liberal charge terms to all purchasers. A first payment as low as eight dollars secures delivery of an instrument.

You are cordially invited to see and try these great pianos, on display here in great variety of models

WEBER
STECK
STROUD
Prices from $285.00

Copyright, 1915, The Aeolian Co.

GREENHUT'S "THE BIG STORE" Meet me at the Fountain
BOTH SIDES SIXTH AVE. 18TH TO 19TH STREET

50 S&H Green Trading Stamps FREE Today with Purchases of $1 or more. Present Coupon.

THIS COUPON GOOD TODAY

Cut out this coupon. It is good for 50 (FIFTY) S&H Green Trading Stamps FREE with purchases of $1 or more Today, Friday, Oct. 29.
These 50 FREE Stamps are of the same kind as those which you would ordinarily obtain with your purchases.
N. Y. T., 10-29-15. Greenhut's. 93

TODAY'S THE DAY!

$10

IS THE PRICE
on Fine Suits, Overcoats and Raincoats

A Collection of Garments Such As Has Never Been Shown for a $10 Bill—

Priced Originally to $20, These Are Values That Are Unapproachable

THE SUITS come in every size for men and youths. They embrace every pattern and every fabric popular this season. There are BLUE SERGES, FANCY MIXTURES, STRIPES, CHECKS AND PLAIDS INCLUDED. All are smartly cut and all in the height of the present style.

THE OVERCOATS comprise: SEMI-FORM FITTING STYLES, LOOSE BACK OVERCOATS, SINGLE BREASTED OVERCOATS, "BAL-MA-RUE" OVERCOATS in both swagger and staple styles. Plain grays, plain blues, fancy mixed materials; browns, grays and blues.

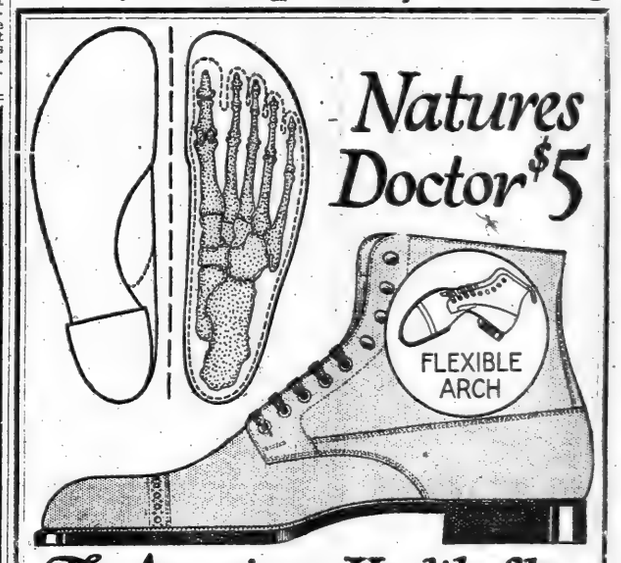
THE RAINCOATS are in double texture guaranteed materials; all are guaranteed for reliable and satisfactory wear and are made of guaranteed materials. To buy these Raincoats even at wholesale today, you would have to pay more than we ask at retail. All sizes.

KINGLY TROUSERS; sizes 28 to 56.... at $2.95 Trousers for business and dress wear are included in scores of good patterns. Every pair sewn with Belding Bros. cable cord silk; guaranteed not to rip.

Notice to Charge Customers
All charge purchases made today and Saturday will be entered on bills rendered December first.

Double S&H Green Trading Stamps Forenoons—Single Stamps Afternoons

REGAL
60 Styles at $4—16 Specials at $5



Natures Doctor $5

The American Health Shoe

A STYLISH, muscle action health boot built on approved anatomical lines that give tired feet, twisted bones and five toes a chance to live, breathe and grow as Nature intended.

Heel. The last is designed to maintain proper balance and throw weight of body on the bony structure on the outside of the foot. Snug heel seat prevents throwing undue weight forward on transverse arch.

Flexible Shank. (No steel stiffening.) Allows the foot all the spring and resilience of action Nature intended to strengthen the muscles that support the arch.

Corset Grip Instep Support. The last is whittled out under the arch while the insole and outsole are cut in deeply at the shank and the uppers are fitted with "right and left" patterns so the shoe hugs tightly on the instep and a corset grip is produced. When laced over the instep it acts like a bandage for the weak arch, assists in proper distribution of weight and affords a support until the muscles acquire normal strength.

Toe Freedom. Secured by a last built on straight lines on inside from toe to heel. Comfortable swing on outside to allow toes to expand under pressure.

Embodying every essential feature specified by leading surgeons to maintain normal feet and cure incipient cases of fallen arch.

FOOT COMFORT WEEK

You are cordially invited to visit our Foot Comfort Service Department. This week there will be an expert foot specialist in attendance at all Regal Stores to make free examination and give expert advice on any annoyance, discomfort or pain of the feet. There will be absolutely no charge and this inaugurates the opening of Foot Comfort service in all Regal Stores.

REGAL SHOE COMPANY
Twenty Stores in Greater New York

MANHATTAN		BROOKLYN
*175 Broadway	40 W. 34th St.	*301 Broadway	357 Fulton St.
Broadway at Duane	Nassau at Ann	1049 Broadway	512 Fulton St.
Broadway at Spring	*6th Ave. at 21st St.	*1375 Broadway	465 Fifth Ave.
*Broadway at 10th	*14th St. at 3rd Ave.	NEWARK, N. J.	JERSEY CITY
*Broadway at 27th	125th St. at 7th Ave.	825 Broad St.	108 Newark Ave.
*Broadway at 47th	2929 3rd Ave.

*Shows stores selling women's shoes. Shows stores selling both women's and children's shoes.
All stores sell men's shoes.

$1,600,000 WAS GIVEN TO THE RED CROSS

New York County Chapter, in Annual Meeting, Hears of Year's Work.

DR. R. P. STRONG SPEAKS

Tells of Typhus in Serbia—Country Still in Great Need of Medical Men.

The annual meeting of the New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross was held in the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday afternoon. The hall was packed, and those who spoke were Dr. Richard P. Strong of the Medical Faculty of Harvard University, who was head of the American Sanitary Commission that freed Serbia of the typhus scourge, and whose speech yesterday was his first since his return to the United States two weeks ago. Mrs. William Kinnicutt Draper, the Secretary of the Chapter; Miss Jane Delano of the national organization, and Jacob H. Schiff, the Treasurer of the New York Chapter, also spoke. Robert W. de Forest, Chairman of the organization in this county, presided.

In his speech Dr. Strong paid a tribute to Lady Ralph Paget, who was herself a typhus victim, and who, according to cabled reports, was taken prisoner by the Bulgars a few days ago. He gave in brief detail the main points that he will cover in his report concerning the terrible conditions that he and those associated with him had to overcome during the weeks that they were battling with typhus and other diseases in the unhappy little Balkan country. Mrs. Draper's talk was the story of the activities of the New York Chapter since the outbreak of the European war, while Miss Delano, who is the national head of the nursing division of the Red Cross, told in part the story of the work done in European military hospitals by the American Red Cross nurses. Mr. Schiff's speech was a brief report dealing with the financial affairs of the Chapter.

$1,600,000 to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Draper said the war contributions to the American Red Cross have totaled, since the fund was started in September, 1914, about $1,600,00, and that of this amount $332,370.89 was contributed through the New York Chapter. All supplies have been handled and shipped from New York, she said.

"We wish," said Mrs. Draper, "it were possible to speak in detail of what is being accomplished by the chapters of the Red Cross and the many committees and individuals who are shipping through the Red Cross; but it would seem ungracious to mention special contributions, considering what is being done all over the country. The donated supplies—consisting of all kinds of medical and surgical supplies, as well as hospital garments, bedding, surgical dressings, knitted socks, mufflers, &c., are so beautifully made and of such splendid quality that they reflect great credit on the donors, and make us proud of the work for relief being done by Americans. Here one sees beside these donated stores large quantities of supplies—such as absorbent cotton, surgical gauze, bandages, &c., purchased by the American Red Cross with the money donated to the war relief fund.

"Since Sept. 7, 1914, there have been 140 shipments, representing a value of $850,922.81. One shipment has been made to the Armenians in Russia valued at $1,001.55; fourteen were made to Austria, $91,089.84; thirteen to Belgium, $61,079.50; one to Bulgaria, $3,391.40; nineteen to England, $106,968.28; thirty-four to France to $116,260.96; twelve to Germany, $120,195.57; five to Holland, $39,084.50; five to Italy, $19,679.07; three to Montenegro, $15,525.85; one to Poland, $7,200; eleven to Russia, $99,347.51; eighteen to Serbia, $154,931.16, and three to Turkey, $14,489.92.

"The combined weight of these shipments has exceeded 3,500,000 pounds.

Miles of Surgical Gauze.

"Among the larger items of these shipments stand out strikingly the following:

Anaesthetics, 49,789 pounds.
Antiseptic tablets, 1,150,000.
Bandages, 221,423 pounds, or 2,162,689 bandages.
Cigarettes, 10,375,750.
Clothing for refugees, 821,804 pieces.
Cotton, 922,677 pounds.
Hospital garments, 341,531.
Hospital linen, 61,848 pieces.
Motor trucks and ambulances, 38.
Supplies for Sanitary Commission, 5,506 cases, including 358,983 pounds sulphur.
Surgical dressings, 7,798,941.
Surgical gauze, 1,701,705 yards, (967 miles.)

"Through a member of our Executive Committee, W. W. Jefferies, practically all of the steamship lines give free transportation for our supplies. These supplies are all consigned to the American Consul at the port of delivery, and through these Consuls safe transshipment of these supplies is secured."

Mrs. Draper referred in detail to the personnel sent to Europe, the activities of friends of the Red Cross in New York and elsewhere, among them Mrs. Mitchel, wife of the Mayor; Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Leonard Wood, and Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, and of the need of greatly increased membership in this city.

"The Chapter," Mrs. Draper said in conclusion, "also desires to sound the note of 'preparedness'—preparedness for the responsibilities which the Red Cross will be called upon to assume if our country is ever called upon for war. The American Red Cross is the only volunteer society now authorized by our Government to render aid to its land and naval forces in time of war. Any other society desiring to render similar assistance can do so only through the American Red Cross.

Preparedness at Home.

"A detailed program of activity for the Red Cross was prepared by the Surgeon General of the War Department in 1912, which is known as Circular 8. For those who desire to work for home preparedness a full opportunity will be given. A complete list of hospital supplies and garments, as authorized by the War Department, has been prepared, and other plans will be carried out as directed by the national office."

Dr. Strong in his speech described the typhus epidemic that raged for so many months in Serbia as the worst of modern times and estimated the number of deaths in Serbia, due to that disease, at about 150,000. The disease was brought into the country, he said, by the Austrian prisoners and by them communicated to the Serbian population. The country weakened by war, was not prepared to cope with the disease and for a time, he said, the disease "raged almost at will," among its victims being a majority of the physicians of the country. In April, he added, the number of new cases averaged a daily toll of about 9,000 persons.

Such was the situation when the American Red Cross Sanitary Commission, of which Dr. Strong was the head, arrived in Serbia late last Spring. The American found the country in a complete state of demoralization as a result of the disease. So many efficient officials had succumbed, he added, that the survivors became discouraged and at times "remained gloomily at home rather than go to their offices."

The first thing done on arrival in Serbia was the internationalization of the sanitary work, the internation commission being made up of British, French, Russian, and American members. The country was divided into fourteen districts, the French, Russian, and British taking charge of seven and the Americans the other seven. Then began the battle that ended in the complete eradication of the disease, an achievement that sanitary experts have pronounced one of the most remarkable in the history of sanitation.

Told of Cleaning Up Serbia.

Dr. Strong told the story in detail of the "clean-up" of the country from end to end, and when the typhus was under control the doctors took advantage of the opportunity to vaccinate the people against cholera, which was prevalent in various parts of the country. Vaccination against cholera was made compulsory by the Government of Serbia.

"On one occasion," said Dr. Strong "one of our vaccinating parties under Dr. Mendelssohn was fired upon while vaccinating the people along the Bulgarian frontier."

The co-operation between the British, French, Russians, and Americans, said Dr. Strong, was complete and cordial throughout the campaign. Of the British he said he desired to especially mention Lady Paget, Sir Ralph Paget, her husband, and Sir Thomas Lipton. The only hospital in Serbia that can compare with that organized and supervised by Lady Paget, he said, was the American Red Cross Hospital at Belgrade under Dr. Ryan.

In conclusion, Dr. Strong said:

"Serbia is still in great need of medical men, and if fighting is resumed she will not have a sufficient number of physicians, surgeons, and nurses to care properly for her wounded alone. As relapsing fever and typhus are endemic in the Balkan States, the situation must be watched, and any outbreak of these diseases must be met by prompt and efficient measures to prevent another epidemic. Therefore physicians will find plenty of relief work to do in Serbia this Winter. Those going, however, should be aware of the fact that there are no comforts or luxuries in Serbia and should go with the missionary spirit."

Czar Visited Americans.

Miss Delano told of the work of the American nurses and among other incidents told of the visit of the Czar to the Americans on duty at Kieff. Kind and courteous and generous was the description the American nurses wrote home concerning the ruler of the Russians. She told also of how Dr. Ryan had gone out from Belgrade following its first evacuation and told the Austrians that the only people left in the city were the sick and wounded under the care of the American Red Cross units. Thereupon, she said, the Austrians entered the city peacefully and conducted themselves in a way that would have done credit to the soldiers of any nation.

FIGHT THE MOON BILL.

Railroads Say It Gives Too Much Power to Postmaster General.

The Committee on Railway Mail Pay, representing railroads operating 90 per cent. of the mileage of this country, yesterday announced that these 264 railroads, with a total of 218,000 miles, have joined in a protest to Congress and to the public against renewal of the efforts to effect the passage of the Moon Railway Mail Pay bill.

This measure was introduced in the last Congress and failed to pass, and the Postmaster General has announced that it will be reintroduced when Congress opens in December. Under the Moon plan the Postmaster General would be authorized to establish the "Space Plan" of payment, whereby a railroad would be paid no more for hauling a whole carload of mail than for a partial carload. In their protest the railroads say that the Moon bill would empower the Postmaster General to make the rates for carrying the mails, with the only limitation that he could not exceed certain sums. On the other hand, he could reduce the rates with no restraint but his personal discretion.

Further, the Moon bill would compel every railroad to carry the mails at the rates made by the Postmaster General, under penalty of a daily fine of $5,000 for each refusal. The railroads contend that the highest rates permitted by the bill would be unjustly low, because they would be less than the receipts from passenger carrying, which the Interstate Commerce Commission has decided are unremunerative. They also say that the Moon bill delegates legislative power to the Postmaster General, and would bring the railway mail pay problem into politics. They say that the problem ought to be settled on a business basis, and direct attention to the fact that Chairman Moon of the Post Office Committee of the House of Representatives in asking support for his bill declared it to be a proposal of the Post Office Department.

SWEAR OFF 98 PER CENT.

Tentative Assessment of $38,899,600 Shrinks to $693,350.

Commissioners in the Manhattan Tax office yesterday made 420 personal property examinations on a total tentative assessment of $38,899,600. Of the total examined, only seventy-four were held for a final assessment of $693,350. Twenty-four of those examined were exempted owing to non-residence and two were reported dead.

Since the books were opened 5,159 persons have been examined on a tentative personal assessment of $435,507,700. Of the number, 859 were held for a final assessment of $6,259,941.

Davenport Defends Constitution.

Frederick M. Davenport, Republican State Senator under Governor Hughes and Progressive candidate for Governor in 1914, issued a statement last night defending the proposed Constitution. One of the most important steps taken by the convention in the direction of substantial improvement, said Mr. Davenport, is the plan for a shortened ballot.

ENO LEFT $2,930,000 IN PUBLIC BEQUESTS

Mechanics and Tradesmen Society Gets $1,800,000; Two Museums, $250,000 Each.

HEIRS MUST STAY CITIZENS

Minor Kinsman Forfeits $1,500,000 If He Makes Home Abroad—One Exception Made.

The will of Amos F. Eno, realty owner and philanthropist, disposing of an estate in excess of $7,600,000, was filed for probate yesterday. There are bequests to relatives aggregating more than $4,600,000, while the bequests to charitable and educational institutions total more than $2,930,000.

The largest bequest was to the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York, which is to receive, after all other legacies are paid, $1,800,000. There are bequests of $250,000 each to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Museum of Natural History, the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, and New York University. The New York Public Library receives $50,000, and all books, prints, and engravings relating to New York, which are in the testator's home, 32 Fifth Avenue, and in his office, 13 South William Street. Columbia University receives a trust fund of $80,000, and the residuary estate, if there be any residue.

Referring to the bequest to the Mechanics and Tradesmen Society, the will states that $1,800,000 is bequeathed "from the residue or so much of that sum as my estate will suffice to pay to be applied to the uses and purposes of the society. It is my desire that a portion of said fund be used for elementary instruction, and that such instruction be made available, not only for those who are able to take extended courses, but also for relatively short courses of instruction for those whose circumstances so require."

The instrument makes the specific direction that not more than $25,000 be disbursed for funeral expenses.

$1,500,000 to Young Great-Nephew.

The largest bequest to a relative is $1,500,000 to Amos R. Eno, a great-nephew, who is the son of Henry Lane Eno. The bequest is left in the form of a trust fund, the accumulated income of which goes to young Eno when he reaches 21; and from that time until he is 30 he receives the income from the entire property annually. At 30, provided he has been a resident of the United States for that period, he receives the sum outright, and also all the testator's realty at Simsbury, Conn. The $80,000 bequest to Columbia is to be used for the care of this Simsbury estate until the younger Eno takes title and possession in full.

The same provisions are made concerning the following trust bequests of $250,000 each: To Gifford Pinchot, 2d, great-nephew, son of Amos R. E. Pinchot; Rosamond Pinchot, great-niece, a daughter of Amos R. E. Pinchot; the Misses Alice and Leontine Graves, great nieces, daughters of Florence Graves; Miss Alice Eno, great niece, daughter of Henry Lane Eno.

A similar bequest to Harcourt Johnstone, great nephew, a son of Lady Johnstone of London, England, is made an exception in that it does not require the boy's residence in the United States. There is the blanket provision that if any of these beneficiaries die or fail in the residence requirement as provided, they shall cease to have any interest in their respective bequests.

The will explains the residence restriction by adding that it "shall not be construed to refer to ordinary travel or temporary sojourn out of the United States, but only to a change of legal residence."

The following outright bequests of $250,000 each are made: William P. Eno of Saugatuck, Conn., brother of the testator; Gifford Pinchot of Milford, Penn., nephew; Amos R. E. Pinchot of 22 West Fifty-second Street, nephew; Lady Johnstone of London, England, niece; Florence C. Graves and Mary P. Eno of Simsbury, Conn., nieces. There are outright bequests of $50,000 each to Henry Lane Eno, a nephew, and Mrs. Antoinette E. Wood of Simsbury, a sister of the testator. Bequests of $50,000 each to William Mitchell of Yonkers and Lucius H. Beers of Suffolk County, N. Y., the executors and trustees, stand in lieu of commissions.

Bequests to Servants.

There are bequests of $5,000 each to Helen Desperins, Mr. Eno's housekeeper, and Edmond Bigaut, his valet; Della Nolan, his cook, receives $3,000, and there are $1,000 bequests to six other servants. There are $5,000 bequests to thirteen friends of Mr. Eno, and $10,000 each to Lewis G. Eno and John E. Phelps.

A provision is made that in the event of the personal estate falling below the financial sums of the bequests, the legacies shall be a charge upon the testator's real estate, of which he held large and valuable parcels in and around New York City. It is not possible to place an adequate valuation on these holdings at this time, the petition accompanying the will recites.

The instrument is dated June 18, 1915. Mr. Eno died at his home, 32 Fifth Avenue, on Oct. 21.

DONALD EDGAR'S WILL FILED.

Bequeaths More Than a Million to His Brother and Sister-in-Law.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Oct. 28.—The will of Donald Edgar, formerly of Manhattan and more recently of Greenport, where he died recently, was filed for probate here today. The estate is said to be worth more than $1,000,000.

To Newbold Edgar, a brother, of Manhattan and Southampton, are given the furniture, horses, carriages, and jewelry. Bessie McNally of Greenport gets an annuity of $400. To Miss H. E. Root of St. Augustine, Fla., is given $2,000. Trinity Church Corporation receives $2,000 to keep the family vault in repair.

Newbold Edgar and his wife, Agnes W. Edgar, are made executors. To them the estate is left in trust to be divided into two equal parts, the income of one for the husband and of the other for the wife. At their deaths their principals are to be divided among their three daughters, Caroline S. Sanford of 127 Park Avenue, Manhattan; Julie L. Williams of Mendham, N. J., and Agnes L. Edgar Davis of New York. The will was executed July 21, 1908.

Will of Mrs. Charles Pinkerton.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The will of Mrs. Ellen Arthur Pinkerton, wife of Charles Pinkerton, a wealthy resident of Mount Kisco, disposing of an estate worth about $175,000, was offered for probate here today. The husband inherits a life estate of $110,000, while Chester A. Arthur of Colorado Springs, a brother of the decedent, and his son get $2,500 each.

SEEKS TO STOP USE OF NAME

American Art Association Sues American Art Galleries.

The American Art Association of 6 East Twenty-third street applied yesterday to Justice Philbin of the Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the American Art Galleries of Thirteenth Street and University Place from continuing to use their present name. The plaintiffs are Thomas E. and Gustavus T. Kirby and James F. Sutton, and the defendants are Arthur Kritzer and Maurice and David Gerstner.

The plaintiffs said their association was organized in 1883 to sell paintings, objects of art and bric-a-brac. During the period of their existence they have sold $32,000,000 worth of such property, and in 1914-15 spent $60,000 for advertising. In all they had spent several millions advertising their business. They complained that the defendants were organized on Sept. 20 last, with only $5,000 capital, of which only $3,000 was paid in, and that the purpose of choosing their business name was to trade on the name and reputation of the plaintiffs.

A. Joceiyn H. Magrath, the complaint said, called on the defendants on Oct. 7 on the pretense that he believed them to be connected with the plaintiffs. He said that the defendants made no effort to correct this impression and asserted that they were a branch of the American Art Association and had been in business for twenty years. The application will be argued today.

TO HOLD PIRATE EXHIBITION.

Books and Pictures of Freebooters at Groller Club.

There will be an exhibition of books and prints relating to pirates, freebooters, buccaneers and highwaymen at the first meeting of the Groller Club for the season at the club house at 29 East Thirty-second Street next Thursday at 8:30 o'clock. Don C. Seitz will make an address on pirates.

At the exhibition there will be two copies of the original account of Esquemeling or Exquemelin. The book which was inspired by the pirate, was originally published at Amsterdam in 1678 and went through numerous translations and editions in the next century and a half. There will be at the exhibition a collection of literature and engravings concerning all notable pirates and highwaymen since the time of Esquemeling.

Cured of 13-Year-Old Injury.

Ex-Fire Captain Robert Oswald, one of the aids of former Fire Chief Croker, left the Washington Heights Hospital yesterday cured of an injury he got while fighting a fire in Brooklyn thirteen years ago, and which forced him to retire from the department. Until a few weeks ago, when Dr. C. C. Sichel, visiting physician at the Washington Heights Hospital, found by three X-ray examinations of Oswald's head that he had a depressed fracture six inches long, the fire Captain didn't know the cause of the headaches he had suffered many years. Eight days ago the physician performed an operation on Oswald, and he was able to return to his home yesterday, at 312 West 112th Street.

Boy Killed by Automobile.

James O'Loughlin, 11 years old, of 749 Washington Street, jumped from the rear of a truck at Grove and Hudson Streets last night directly in front of an automobile owned and operated by Isreal Straus of 116 West Fifty-ninth Street. The automobile struck the boy and hurled him several feet, although Straus made frantic efforts to swerve to one side. He took the child to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he died a few minutes later of internal injuries. The police of the Charles Street Station exonerated Mr. Straus from any blame.

BANKER GIVES $5,000 AT POINT OF PISTOL

George Bancroft Says He Was Lured to Hotel Room and Forced to Sign Drafts.

WENT TO SEE STOCK BUYER

One Alleged Holdup Man Held—Victim's Father Robbed in 1911 in Safe Deposit Vault.

Don Collins, 29 years old, of 300 West Forty-ninth Street, a salesman, was arrested at his home yesterday by Detectives Haskins and Kelly and held by Magistrate House in the West Side Court in $15,000 bail on a charge of extortion.

The arrest was made on the complaint of George Bancroft of the banking firm of George Bancroft & Co. of 16 Beaver Street, who said that Collins and two other men forced him at the point of a revolver on Oct. 10 in the University Hotel, at Forty-seventh Street and Sixth Avenue, to sign two sight drafts for $2,500 each, one of which was collected on the following morning at the Bancroft offices before the banker himself arrived.

According to Bancroft, Collins called at his offices more than a month ago and said that he had clients who wanted to invest in war stocks, but did not dare to go in person to Wall Street, and wanted a reliable banker to call on them. This story, Bancroft said, induced him to go on Oct. 10 with Collins to the University Hotel, where he was taken to a room for an interview with the prospective clients. There he was trapped, according to Bancroft, and forced with the revolver and threats of an attack on his reputation to sign the two drafts. One of the men in the conspiracy with Collins, he said, posed as a policeman, and aided in forcing him to sign the papers.

Bancroft said he consulted his lawyer immediately after the affair, and then put the matter before the District Attorney and the police. It was planned at first to trap Collins or one of the other alleged extortioners when they should present the second note. For some reason, however, no attempt was made to cash the second note, so Collins was arrested yesterday at his home.

The police say that a picture of Collins was found in the Rogues' Gallery and that he was sent to Elmira several years ago for an assault on a policeman. Detectives Haskins and Kelly yesterday refused to tell what they had learned about the details of the case. Magistrate House set the examination of Collins for tomorrow.

Bancroft is a son of Aaron Bancroft, the aged banker, who was robbed in March, 1911, of securities worth $85,000 after being attacked in a corridor leading to the vaults of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit and Storage Company. Later the return of a part of the stolen securities was negotiated by Daniel O'Reilly, one of Thaw's counsel, who was later in 1911 convicted of receiving stolen goods and sentenced to five months in the penitentiary.

MAY JAIL ROLT-WHEELER.

Minister Expects to be Arrested Because Unable to Pay Alimony.

The Rev. Francis Rolt-Wheeler, who was ordered by Supreme Court Justice Philbin to pay his wife, Christine, $15 a week pending the trial of her suit for separation, called at the Sheriff's office yesterday because he heard that an order had been issued for his arrest for failing to pay. He was told that the order had not been turned over to the Sheriff.

"Then I will call again tomorrow," he said.

He said he could not pay the arrears of alimony, which amount to $285, and that he would have to go to jail. If he stays in jail for three months he will be free of the claim. He is an Episcopal clergyman, lecturer, and poet. His wife accused him of many acts of cruelty. She said that from June to September, 1914, the defendant, "knowing the plaintiff was in an overwrought, dangerous, nervous state when suggestions from a stronger mind would have full measure of influence, repeatedly urged plaintiff to end his misery and the care of her by committing suicide."

Mrs. Rolt-Wheeler also said in her complaint that her husband, "to add to the influence of this suggestion and to give greater weight to his advice, told her she was doomed to madness anyway and that he could not afford to care for an insane wife."

SMOKER WINS NOVEL TEST.

Arrested, He Proves Factory Has No Signs Barring the Weed.

When Samuel Green of 17 East Fifty-fourth Street, a cloak and suit worker, who came here from Chicago two weeks ago, was arraigned in Essex Market Court yesterday, charged with smoking in a factory, he testified that no signs prohibiting smoking were displayed in the factory. This was contradicted by Inspector Hamitt.

Magistrate Handy of Staten Island, who has been sitting in Essex Market for the last two days, asked Green whether he was willing to serve thirty days in the workhouse if an investigation proved signs were there, providing he should be discharged if there were none. This was more than double the ordinary sentence for similar offenses, but the Chicago man accepted the terms at once.

Green, with Chief Inspector Hyde and Detective Lemmon, went to the factory of Samuel Schwartz, at 438 East Houston Street, where Green was employed. An hour later they reported to the Magistrate that there were no signs. Magistrate Handy discharged Green and issued a summons for Schwartz.

SUES GATES ESTATES FOR CORNER IN CORN

R. H. Thorburn Asks Damages of $2,130,000 Under Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

BOARD SUSPENDED HIS FIRM

Plaintiff Seeks Order on Widow in Move to Have C. G. Gates's Will Probated Here.

That the estates of John W. Gates and his son, Charles G., have been sued for $2,130,000 damages by Robert H. Thorburn of 64 West Fifty-third Street was discovered yesterday. Mr. Thorburn was formerly a member of the Chicago Board of Trade and a member of Waite, Thorburn & Co., grain merchants. The action grows out of the alleged Gates corner in corn in 1908, according to papers filed in the suit of the United States District Court here.

When Mr. Thurburn's lawyer, John S. Wise, Jr., of 20 Broad Street, yesterday filed an application in the Surrogates' Court asking for an order directing Mrs. Dellora R. Gates of the Hotel Plaza, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Florence Hopwood Gates of Minneapolis, widow of Charles G. Gates, and all others beneficially interested in the estates, to appear in court and show cause why the will of Charles G. Gates, probated in Jefferson County, Texas, on Jan. 26, 1914, should not be probated here.

The elder Mrs. Gates is executrix under the wills of her husband and son, and the courts have held that she cannot be served in an action against the estates, if she is administering their affairs in another jurisdiction, such as Texas.

The proceedings in the Surrogates' Court have been started as the result of a recent decision by Judge Learned Hand in the United States District Court, who granted an application by Mrs. Gates to vacate the service of a summons in the suit against the estates. The papers filed in the Federal Court show that Mrs. Gates was served personally with a summons in the suit at the offices of the Gates estates, at 17 Battery Place, on May 18.

In her application Mrs. Gates sets forth that she is informed that the claim is based on the alleged violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law, and she takes the stand that if there was any cause of action it died with her husband and son, and cannot now be raised against their estates. She maintains that such an act on would be a violation of the Federal Constitution's provision relating to the taking of property without due process of law.

Mrs. Gates recites further in her application to Judge Hand that in January, 1915, long after the deaths of her husband and son, she received a written communication from Mr. Thorburn in which he said that he intended to sue her under the Sherman act. Mr. Thorburn asserted in his letter, the widow says, that in July, 1902, Charles G. Gates and his partners in the brokerage firm of Harris, Gates & Co manipulated the market for July corn on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Mr. Thorpburn notified Mrs. Gates, she says, that his firm, Waite, Thorburn & Co., had sold corn for July delivery, and, owing to the alleged corner, there was no corn to be had except from Harris, Gates & Co. He further alleged that his firm was forced to buy a sufficient amount from the Gates firm to make deliveries, and was compelled to pay "unreasonable and monopolistic prices." Subsequently, the Gates firm, the papers recite, sued the Thorburn firm for an amount due on the corn, and when the latter firm failed to pay, complaint was made to the Board of Trade and the Thorburn firm was suspended.

Should Mr. Thorburn be successful in his effort to have the will probated here he may serve Mrs. Gates and proceed anew, according to his lawyer.

Mr. Thorburn, and his partner, Charles Waite of Chicago, have brought suit here against James A. Patten and some of the latter's associates for $300,000 damages for alleged violation of the Sherman law, on the ground that the defendants manipulated a corner on corn on the Chicago Board of Trade in July, 1902, the month in which the Gates firm engineered the alleged corner in corn.

MAHER ACCUSED OF FRAUDS.

Witnesses Say They Registered Falsely on His Instructions.

Examination of witnesses against John F. Maher, chief of Bronx County Detectives, charged with registration frauds, occupied nearly the entire session of the Morrisania Court before Magistrate Murphy yesterday. Francis J. Pogsted of 167 Morningside Avenue and James J. Flanagan of 253 West 126th Street testified that, although they lived in Manhattan, Maher induced them to register at the polling place at 307 East 180th Street, Bronx, and to swear that they had lived at Maher's house at 2,098 Tiebout Avenue, Bronx, for the last nine months. They did as he told them, they said.

Israel Goldsmith of 1,592 Washington Avenue, Deputy State Superintendent of Elections, and Marcus Rosenthal of 464 East 186th Street, the Bronx, Deputy Attorney General in charge of the Bronx office, testified they had gone to Maher's home on Oct. 19 to investigate the cases of Flanagan and Pogsted and two others who have disappeared. Maher told them, the witnesses said, that the four men had roomed in his house for the last nine months.

Pogsted, called back to the stand, said he had a signed petition for appointment as a process server at Maher's suggestion, giving Maher's home as his address, and that Maher signed the document as a Notary.

The hearing was adjourned until 2 o'clock Monday, when the defense will be put in. Bail of $1,000 for Maher was continued.

Founded 1859

The fundamental principles involved in the making of our clothes for chauffeurs' use is summarized in worthy fabrics, proper designs and dependable tailoring.

Everything chauffeurs wear, produced under a standard of detailed exactness which insures lasting service and car-comfort.

Chauffeurs' Overcoats—

Rugged Frieze, dark Oxford, and black, heavy wool lining, slip-easy shoulders and sleeves, $28.

Black Box-cloth and Oxford wind-proof worsted. Heavy plaid linings, slip-easy shoulders and sleeves, $40.

BROKAW BROTHERS
Astor Place & Fourth Avenue
Subway Station at Door

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices

Macy's
Herald Square B'way, 34th to 35th St.

Heavy Frieze Cloth Chauffeurs Overcoats
$19.75

FROM the standpoint of service, comfort and correctness this coat is just what you'd demand if you were having it made to your order.

Made of heavy oxford frieze cloth and lined from top to bottom with hard wearing woolen worsted. Venetian yoke and sleeve lining to make slipping on and off easy.

Two models—one a military belted back model as illustrated and the other a double-breasted convertible collar model. Both have wind cuff in sleeves.

Just about the best coat you can buy in New York for $19.75.

Other overcoats, $14.75, $22.50, $24.75, $29.75 & $34.75

Macy's—Fifth Floor, 34th Street.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices

Daylight clothes store. Entire Broadway front—Fifth Floor.

Macy's
Herald Square, Broadway, 34th to 35th St.

Handy Entrance and Elevators just off Broadway, at 35th St.

Cyril Stripes

Suits advertised nationally at $22 in this striking new effect are included in our specialized suits at $19.75. A typical example of this store's ability to give more.

What Do You Expect At $19.75?

Put your expectations high when you come to see the suits and overcoats we specialize at $19.75.

Expect silk linings in many of the models or, just as good, expect quality mohair linings.

Expect genuine English style—yes, expect faultless reproductions of the master clothes designs of the season.

Expect custom finish, if you know what that means. We mean, hidden goodness, hand-made buttonholes, hand-tailored lapels and collars, hand-fashioned garments in every sense.

Expect dignified models that make you think of high-priced clothes; or expect the smartest new effects brought out this year by the exclusive tailors who set the pace.

Expect woolens that are sold in the bolt to the best custom tailors to be made into "expensive" clothes.

Above all, expect a Macy reception, which means genuine service when you buy and money back cheerfully if you're not pleased.

These clothes at $19.75 must make good with you! We have said it! We do not say "Guaranteed" in the perfunctory sense. We mean "your satisfaction regardless." And we've made these clothes at $19.75 on that basis.

Men's and Young Men's Suits and Overcoats at $14.75

We have not been able to match these anywhere, and we doubt if you can. In fact, we've seen clothes at $20 that you wouldn't think better. Well-made of attractive new weaves in all the good shades and effects. Dignified styles or a bit dashing—as you prefer.

Other suits and overcoats for men and young men, proportionately attractive at $22.50 to $38.50.

WELL MADE SHOES

Vogel's name on a shoe means that you are getting the best shoe made for the money—the result of 35 years' experience.

$5 to $8

E. VOGEL, Inc.
64 Nassau St., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA

Lackawanna Railroad

ROUND TRIP $94.30

Information at Ticket Offices, Broadway, cor. Wall St., Park Place, 25th St., 42d St.

INSTRUCTION.

WOMAN'S LAW CLASS OF NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
Lectureship endowed by the Women's Legal Education Society
A course of forty-five lectures on law for business women and those interested in the management of property. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 11:30 A. M., or 8:00 P. M., at the University Building, Washington Square, Manhattan. First Lecture, November 10th. Limited number of scholarships available. For bulletin address M. E. LOOMIS, Registrar.
NEW YORK UNIVERSITY WASHINGTON SQUARE, N. Y. CITY

THE BROWN SCHOOL OF TUTORING
Boys' School & Office, 241 West 75th Street. Girls' School, 239 West 75th Street. Phone Col. 8894.
Founded 1906. Positively only one at a time with a teacher; children brilliant, handicapped, and average to do at least 2 years' work in one. All advantages, and more, of class schools, but none of the disadvantages. Pupils taught how to study. Study supervision. "A School With an Atmosphere of Work."

LEARN TO CONCENTRATE
Our records give indisputable proof that through our method of teaching concentration our pupils have done four years' work in one year.
The Groff-Clark School
239 W. 75th St. Tel. 744 Columbus.

FOUNDED 1861 CONCORDIA EVENING CLASSES
SCHOOL OF ACCOUNTANCY
WE PREPARE YOU FOR EXPERT ACCOUNTING POSITIONS and C.P.A. EXAMINATIONS.
SCHOOL OF COMMERCE
WE TEACH BOOKKEEPING, CORPORATION FINANCE, ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS ORGANIZATION FOR MATURE STUDENTS.
32 BROADWAY N.Y.C. PHONE 5639 BROAD

The Barnard School of HOUSEHOLD ARTS Tel. 9869 Schuyler.
Household Accounts: Discussion of Values. Appointment of Income; Comparative Study of monthly budgets, Bank Accounts. Practical courses in Cooking, Dressmaking, Decorative Arts, Conversational French, English, including Dramatic Art, Millinery. Part time courses.
Catalog. 226 West 79th Street

COME TO SEE
Riverdale Country School
Boarding and Day School for Boys.
Telephone for Directions—Kingsbridge 123.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES, Spanish, French, Russian, German, Italian. Native Teachers; easy, quick, conversational method. West Side Y. M. C. A., 302 West 57th St. Phone Col. 7920.

SPEND THE FALL AT LENOX, MASS., where your children may keep up with their classes in the city—AT TRINITY SCHOOL.

N.Y. Engineering College Gen'l Engineering 6 W. 125th.

KOHUT SCHOOL FOR BOYS
Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y. Tel. 357 Kingsbridge.

INSTRUCTION—Musical.

WEIGESTER
STUDIOS OF VOCAL MUSIC.
Robert G. Weigester, Director.
A Complete Education for the Singer.
Superior instruction at moderate rates. Pupils assisted in securing positions. Write for booklet T.
CARNEGIE HALL, N. Y.

On All News Stands Today

"THE ENEMY"

A splendid romantic drawing, 12½ x 20 inches, on heavy paper, suitable for framing, is given as a separate supplement with each copy of this week's

Mid-Week Pictorial
of The New York Times
10c a Copy—$5 a Year

Unusual pictures, stirring text, and bright examples of foreign wit and humor fill the pages of this magazine.

Pictures That Stand Out:
A Captive War Balloon
Siege Guns Shelling Belgrade
French Bomb Proofs
In the Trenches
Crossing the San Under Fire
The Italian Red Cross at Work
British Nobles in the Trenches
and
The Zeppelin Detector

Articles by
Dr. David Starr Jordan
Dr. Joseph H. Odell and an extract from the German War and Catholicism are features of the text.
Cartoons from overseas periodicals and bits of humor from the warring nations help to lighten the pages.

Mid-Week Pictorial
Times Square New York
Binder for The Mid-Week Pictorial, to hold complete file for one year, sent postpaid. Full cloth, $1.25; half leather, gold-trimmed, $2.
Ten desirable numbers of The New York Times Mid-Week Pictorial, bound in book form, $1.

NOW DENIES PART IN NICHOLS MURDER

Rich Widow's Servant Says Detectives with "Third Degree" Forced Him to Confess.

TELLS OF POLICE TORTURE

Testifies He Was Kept Awake for Hours and Beaten and Kicked Till Out of His Wits.

Onnie Tallas, on trial for murder, took the stand before Judge Malone in General Sessions yesterday and repudiated, word for word, the confession he made to the police concerning his complicity in the robbing and killing of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Nichols, the wealthy widow of James Nichols, on the night of Sept. 8, last. Tallas, who was the pantry boy and one of four indicted for the murder, the other three being still at large, insisted that he was kicked and blackjacked by detectives for twelve hours into a confession that incriminated him as well as the men whom he admitted to the Nichols home on the night of the crime.

When Arthur Waltonen, formerly a butler in the Nichols home, "Eddie" Lehto and an unknown Italian came to the door, Tallas, according to his testimony yesterday, let them in because they said they had come to pay a social visit to the maid, Edith Langfeld. He said the servants were accustomed to meet their friends in the butler's room on the first floor of the Nichols home at 4 East Seventy-ninth Street and talk and play and listen to his performance on the zither. He thought the three men had come to participate in such an entertainment. But as soon as they got into the hallway, Arthur Waltonen, turned to the pantry boy and said:

"We're going to do this job."

"What job?" asked Tallas.

"We're going to steal Mrs. Nichols' rings."

Robbery Had Been Broached.

Tallas said he became frightened and tried to push them out of the hall, but they drew their revolvers and tied his hands behind him and told him they would shoot him if he dared follow them or make any outcry. He remained pinned against the wall, he said, paralyzed by fear and anticipating that something "funny was going to take place." Some months before, Arthur Waltonen had told him it would be a good idea to rob Mrs. Nichols some night, and on that occasion Tallas thought he was "crazy to think of such a thing."

"But when I saw them go up the stairs," declared the boy on the witness stand yesterday, "I knew it was not a joke. I told Arthur not to do it. I begged him not to do it, but they only laughed at me, and I was afraid to move."

While the burglars were upstairs Tallas heard two rings of the servants' bell. One was decisive and the other was very feeble. He thought it must be Mrs. Nichols ringing for help, but he did not stir. He was too frightened, he said, to move or to give any alarm. At this point in his recital yesterday the boy broke down. Tears came into his eyes and his voice faltered so that he could not respond to questions put to him by his counsel, former Assistant District Attorney La Barbier.

"Come, talk up, talk up," exclaimed Mr. Le Barbier. "This is no time for criminal stroke. You are on trial for your life and you must tell the jury what you know about this affair."

Decided to Lie to Detectives.

After the burglars left the house and Edith Langfeld, the maid, told him that "the poor woman was dead." Tallas said he realized that he would be in serious trouble if the police found out that he knew both Waltonen and Lehto. And so when half a dozen detectives locked him up in a "yellow room" next to the one in which Mrs. Nichols was strangled Tallas thought his only hope lay in denying all acquaintance with the murderers. He decided to lie to the detectives, and he said the more they beat him and kicked him and cursed him the more he lied in an effort to save himself. He said the detectives were angry because he would not admit that he had planned the job with the rest and had agreed with them to divide the loot. First, according to Tallas, who is frail of body, Detective Enright punched him in the face; then another detective poked him in the stomach, while a third grabbed his arm and twisted it around his back and hit him with a blackjack until he screamed with pain.

"They kept at me that way all night—until the next morning," Tallas testified. "I wanted to go to sleep but they wouldn't let me. First one detective would get at me and then another one and then another one. I told them to leave me alone, that I didn't have anything to do with the burglary, but they said I did, and each time I said 'no, I didn't,' then they would give me another punch and another kick."

On the following morning, twelve hours after the detectives began to work on him, he was ready to say anything they wished, he said. Bruised, exhausted, and frightened out of his wits, he said, he was taken to the Third Branch Detective Bureau, where he made the confession which was presented to the jury by Detective Enright on Wednesday. Tallas denied yesterday that he had ever said anything about joining a plot to rob Mrs. Nichols, or that he had ever agreed to accept any of the booty.

Admits Subsequent Confession.

Under cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Brothers, Tallas admitted that he subsequently made the same confession to Deputy Assistant District Attorney Deacon Murphy, though there was no special reason to fear Murphy. Tallas's memory was not sure as to this second confession, and he denied outright that he made many of the statements credited to him by Mr. Murphy.

"Isn't it a fact that you denied that you knew either Waltonen or Lehto until you were sure they had ample opportunity to make their getaway," asked Mr. Brothers.

"No," replied Tallas, "I was afraid of telling them I knew Arthur. I told them the truth only after I was too tired to fight them any longer."

Before calling Tallas to the stand in his own defense, Mr. Le Barbier in his opening to the jury declared that the prosecution had failed to prove a case of murder against the defendant.

"I don't propose," said Mr. Le Barbier, "to have this boy offered up as a sacrifice to police inefficiency, simply because they have failed to capture the other three men who were really guilty of the crime."

The case will go to the jury today.

BOTHA DEFENDS HIS NAME.

Sues a Politician for Slander Regarding Boer War Finances.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Oct. 28, (via London.)—The last days of the South African Republic figured in a trial that opened here today. Premier Botha is proceeding against Mannik, a Nationalist candidate for Parliament, charging that during the recent political campaign Mannik slandered him by asking the Premier what he had done with 134 bars of gold, valued at £750,000, ($3,750,000,) left in possession of Botha and two others on the departure of Paul Kruger, late President of the Transvaal, and never accounted for.

General Botha pointed out that he became Commandant General in 1900 and had nothing to do with administrative affairs. The defendant, he said, had many opportunities to ask about the bars, but the Premier had never before heard any statement concerning him. There were rumors that the gold was hidden in the veldt, but Botha had always stated openly since the gold came into the hands of the Republican Government that nothing was missing.

Judge F. W. Reitz, who was Secretary of State under the republic, testified that so far as he knew Mannik's statement was untrue.

The trial has been adjourned.

GIVE THANKS, SAYS WHITMAN

Governor, in Proclamation, Reminds People of Year's Blessings.

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—Governor Whitman issued today the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

"For a year replete with manifestations of God's goodness, for the peace and tranquillity which our country is enjoying through His Divine mercy, and for the blessings so bountifully bestowed upon our people, inspiring us with hope and confidence for the future, we should be grateful.

"I, therefore, Charles S. Whitman, Governor of the State of New York, in accordance with custom long observed, do hereby designate Thursday, the 25th day of November, 1915, as a day of thanksgiving.

"Let the spirit of the day include expressions of gratitude and acts of kindness and let us show our profound appreciation of the many benefits which we have derived from a just and wise God."

PERUVIAN STEAMER SUNK.

The Pachitea Lost, but Passengers and Crew Believed Safe.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CALLAO, Peru, Oct. 28.—The Peruvian Line steamer Pachitea sank this morning off Chala, about 350 miles southeast of this port. All the crew and the fifty passengers are believed to have been saved.

The Pachitea was a steel, twin-screw vessel of 2,429 tons, built in Rouen, France, in 1911. She was commanded by Captain Wilson, and her last appearance in an American port was recorded on July 21, when she left Baltimore for Callao, where she arrived on Aug. 21. Since then the Pachitea had been in the coasting trade along the Western coast of South America, being reported as leaving Balboa on Oct. 17.

FRESH AIR CARS IN CHICAGO.

Elevated Road to Run Windowless and Unheated Trains All Winter.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Fresh air cars, windowless and unheated, are to be operated all Winter on Chicago's elevated railway for the benefit of passengers who are out-of-doors devotees. The cars, it was announced today, will probably be run on half-hour schedules. Only one coach to a train will be open and unheated. It will be marked "Fresh Air Car."

Churchmen Elect Officers.

Special to The New York Times.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Oct. 28.—The Women's Home Missionary Union of the New Jersey Conference of Congregational Churches here today elected these officrs: President, Mrs. Paul Douglas, Upper Montclair; Northern Vice President, Mrs. W. H. Lum, Chatham; Southern Vice President, Mrs. John Frizzelle, Washington, D. C.; Recording Secretary, Mrs. F. A. Coombs, East Orange; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Martha F. Waterman, Glen Ridge; Field Secretary, Mrs. George Donaldson, Grantwood; Secretary Young People's Work, Mrs. Harold W. Armstrong, Montclair. Next year's meeting will be held at Montclair.

Women's Peace Party Meetings.

Before the opening of Congress the Woman's Peace Party will hold a series of public meetings here for the study and general discussion of the problems involved in the proposed national defense measures and the foreign policy of the nation. Speakers at the afternoon lectures will include Norman Angell and Edward B. Krehbiel, on Nov. 5 and Nov. 21. Night meetings will be held in Cooper Union on Nov. 9, 12, 14, 16, and 21, and among the speakers will be Commissioner of Immigration F. C. Howe, Congressman C. H. Tavenner, Dr. Toyokichi Iyenaga, Dr. David Starr Jordan, Max Eastman, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Dr. Lyman Abbot, Dr. Percy L. Grant, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, and Gertrude Atherton. At the close of the principal address each evening the audience will be invited to participate in a general debate.

Girl Wins Suit for False Arrest.

Catherine Rice, a saleslgirl who was employed in a 5-and-10-cent store at 11 Main Street, Flushing, conducted by Herman Streiff, yesterday got a verdict of $500 against him for false arrest. Streiff had her arrested on the charge of stealing 50 cents and she was discharged by Magistrate Leach. Miss Rice sued for $10,000.

SUBMIT OBJECTIONS TO THE TAX BUDGET

Stewart Browne Asks Board of Estimate to Drop the Unemployment Bureau.

$1,500 SALARY CUT REVOKED

Research Bureau Wants Civilians to Operate Police Telephones—City Rentals Criticised.

The Board of Estimate for three hours yesterday heard objections to the tentative tax budget for 1916. The only person to object to appropriations for departments was Stewart Browne of the United Real Estate Owners' Association. He said the Department of Licenses should do away with the Unemployment Bureau on the ground that the State was doing the same work. Scant encouragement was given to his suggestion.

"Administrations come and go, but the same old band of wolves is on the job," said William Campbell of Queens when he objected to the apportionment for that borough, which had been reduced $40,000.

"This man ceased to be one of the wolves two years ago, when he was removed from the Highway Department," said Commissioner Dayton, who was acting for Borough President Connolly.

When the Police Department schedules came up, representatives of the Bureau of Municipal Research urged the retention of civilian operators for the department telephone service, instead of using patrolmen. It was stated that a saving of nearly $30,000 could be made by this system. The change was suggested last year, but it did not work out satisfactorily to the Commissioner of Police.

"The point in question," said Commissioner Woods, "is the knowledge of conditions, where to get a policeman or an ambulance quickly. That is in the mind of every policeman, and the only way to get civilian operators who will know all this is to put the operators in the training school and on the sidewalk for a time."

The Police Commissioner asked for a hearing for Chief Clerk Kipp and the chief bookkeeper of the Police Department, whose salaries had been reduced, the former's from $5,000 to $3,500 and the latter's from $4,000 to $2,400. Colonel Kipp protested against his reduction. He said he had been in the department forty-two years and that his salary had been fixed in 1886. Since then it had not been increased or diminished. At that time the police force numbered 2,000 members, and now it is over 11,000.

Chief Bookkeeper Gott said he had been thirty-four years in the service, beginning at a salary of $900, which was increased gradually to $4,000. He was charge of all department funds, and said that he did not think a reduction of $1,000 was fair. The main Budget Committee reconsidered the reduction in Mr. Kipp's salary and allowed it to remain at $5,000.

When the Fire Department schedules came up Mr. Browne suggested that the Fire Prevention Bureau be transferred to the Building Department. Mayor Mitchell told him it could not be done.

Regarding the Department of Finance, Mr. Browne wanted to know why the collection of water taxes could not be done by the Finance Department. The Controller said he had no authority in law.

When the Law Department was called upon, John P. McNamara, an assistant in the Bureau of Street Openings who had been dropped, said he had saved the city many thousands of dollars and cited the Myrtle Avenue, Brooklyn, sewer claims, on which he had saved $26,000. The Mayor told him he would take up the matter with him before Jan. 1, as he considered it an administrative and not a budget matter.

Mr. Browne thought an investigation should be made of the city rentals. The rent appropriation for 1916 is $851,306. Before the Municipal Building was in operation it amount to $1,100,000. The Controller said he would be willing to have a responsible agency outside of the City Government pass on the leases now in effect. When State taxes were raised Mr. Browne said:

"We are applying for an injunction in this matter. I don't know whether we will get it or not. We believe the direct State tax is unconstitutional, and if we win it will be a great relief to us," said the Mayor.

The hearing was then adjourned until today.

Controler Prendergast and members of the Board of Estimate were served late last night with copies of an affidavit made by Stewart Browne and a notice to appear before Supreme Court Justice Philbin in Special Term at 10 o'clock today to show cause why two injunctions should not be issued against them.

The first affidavit, petitioning that an injunction be issued, seeks to enjoin the members of the Board of Estimate from embodying in the Budget appropriations for the direct State tax, which Browne asserts is unconstitutional.

In the second affidavit Browne seeks to enjoin the members from permitting higher salaries than specified in the charter to be paid some employes of the Fire, Health, and Police Departments and Board of Assessors. He also seeks to restrain them from paying salaries for positions which they assert are needless. These positions complained of are not specified.

Following several hours of executive session, members of the Board of Estimate Budget Committee, last night approved a tentative budget for the department of Education next year.

Controller Prendergast, after the meeting said:

"At a meeting of the Budget Committee, which was attended by the Mayor and Borough President Marks, it was decided unanimously to include in the tentative budget an allowance for the Department of Education for the year 1916, amounting to $39,865,081.55 this being the same figure as that allowed to the Department for this year, the allowance to be made in a lump sum.

"The meeting tonight followed an all afternoon meeting between the Board of Education Committee and the Board of Estimate. The opinion expressed by President Churchill and other prominent members of the Board of Education favored the appropriation of a lump sum. This will enable the board to apply the moneys as its judgment suggests, and also open the way for such reorganization as may be possible."

For 1916, the Board of Education first requested $43,896,078.21, but later revised this figure to a total of $42,396,078.21. This latest estimate was cut $2,530,116.68.

The Citizens' Union wrote to the Board of Estimate yesterday protesting against the proposed reduction in the appropriation for free public lectures. The letter in part read:

"These free lectures are a part of our system of education. They have been established for years, and are in no sense an experiment. Their merit, usefulness, and educational value are thoroughly established. They cover an exceedingly wide range of useful and practical knowledge—historical, geographical, scientific, and literary—which is conveyed to a class of our people who are otherwise outside the reach of our educational system."

HAS CITY ECONOMY PLAN.

County Clerk Schneider Would Save on Municipal Buildings.

County Clerk Schneider said yesterday the municipal authorities could save millions a great deal easier and with far more justice than they could save thousands by cutting the salaries of city employes.

"Take the proposed court house," he said. "First $12,000,000 worth of land and improvements were condemned. We take out of the area of the valuable downtown property that is taxable a big slice on which no taxes can ever again be collected. Then the city must sell bonds, and these bonds bear, let us say, 4½ per cent. interest, and 1 per cent. more must be set aside each year for amortization. That means that on the $12,000,000, $600,000 a year must be paid each year for many years.

"Then it will cost $412,500 each year to carry the $7,500,000 that the building will cost. Of course the building will have to be furnished. In this cost, nothing is said about the cost to the city in the upkeep and the ripping up of streets. The city appears to have gone mad on the subject of monumental structures. Take as other examples the public library on Fifth Avenue and our new Municipal Building. Think of the millions these structures cost.

What corporation would think of tearing down a building like the old County Court House? It does everything demanded of it and is a splendid building. Its rooming capacity could be easily increased and any improvements necessary could be made easily. If the ventilation is poor, improve it.

"There isn't a day in the year when more than two of the nearly three score rooms in the building are filled with people. The remainder of the time the courtrooms are practically empty. That is a waste of space that could be corrected with small expense. The courtrooms could be increased in number, if more were needed, which I doubt."

RULE ON OIL SEPARATORS.

Garages and Fire Department Take Issue Into Court.

With the application by the Bronx Garage Company to the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel the Fire Commissioner to grant a permit for its place of business, the long controversy between the automobile dealers and garage owners in this city and the Fire Department over the question of oil separators has been brought to a head. When the case comes up for argument today Charles Thaddeus Terry will appear as counsel for the garage company, which is being supported in this test action by the Automobile Dealers' Association of New York, the New York Garage Owners' Association, the Brooklyn Motor Vehicle Dealers' Association, and the Brooklyn Garage Owners' Board of Trade.

Affidavits submitted by the garage company set forth that it has a fireproof building constructed in accordance with plans approved by the Fire Department, on which a garage permit was promptly issued and renewed until a little over a year ago, when renewal was refused on the ground that an oil separator was not used. A few weeks ago the Fire Department brought the garage company into court on the charge of conducting its business without a permit.

It is the contention of the Fire Department that garages should be provided with a device to separate oil and gasoline from the water used in washing cars so that the oils may not reach the sewers, in which, the department alleges, they have been responsible for explosions. The automobile dealers and garage men on the other hand contend that the oil separators are unnecessary, that they do not separate, that sewer explosions cannot be traced to the by-products of car washing, and that to insist upon the installation of separators will mean an expense of several million dollars for devices which they hold to be both impracticable and needless.

'DINNER' ROBBERS GET $7,000

Adjoining Houses Visited While Families Are at Table.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 28.—While the families of Louis C. Mertz and W. Howard Buchanan of Westchester Avenue were at dinner last night, thieves ransacked the upper rooms of their homes, which adjoin, and stole jewelry and cash amounting to $7,000.

Entrance to both places was effected by climbing the porch and going through windows. About $5,000 of the haul was from the Buchanan house, a diamond dinner ring of eighteen stones set in platinum valued at $2,000 being among the plunder.

A pet dog in the Buchanan house barked vigorously while the family was at dinner, and was so annoying that it was taken to the cellar. It is believed that the dog heard the thieves.

Customs Men Entertain Tonight.

The Customs Inspectors of the Port of New York will hold their third annual reception and vaudeville entertainment at Terrace Garden, Fifty-eighth Street and Lexington Avenue, tonight. Well-known performers will take part in the program, and the proceeds will go to the benefit fund of the organization. There will be dancing after the vaudeville show.

MRS. J. E. ROOSEVELT SEEKS SEPARATION

Wife of Col. Roosevelt's Cousin Charges "Cruel and Inhuman Treatment."

WERE MARRIED IN 1914

Wedding at Church of the Ascension Was a Big Social Event.

John Ellis Roosevelt, a first cousin of Theodore Roosevelt and a brother of Robert B. Roosevelt, has been sued for a separation in the Supreme Court by his wife, Edith. The complaint charges "cruel and inhuman treatment." Neither Phoenix Ingraham, counsel for Mrs. Roosevelt, or C. Walter Randall, who represents Mr. Roosevelt, would discuss the case. Both the complaint and the answer to it will be subject to public inspection when they are filed.

Mr. Roosevelt and his wife have lived together at 818 Madison Avenue. Inquiry there last night elicited the information that Mrs. Roosevelt was not there any longer and that Mr. Roosevelt was not at home.

The plaintiff is Mr. Roosevelt's second wife. His first wife was Mrs. Nannie M. Vance Roosevelt. She died at their country home at Sayville, L. I., on Sept. 26, 1913. By this wife he had two daughters. The eldest, Gladys, was married to Fairman Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evans R. Dick and a brother of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, in November, 1913. The youngest daughter is Jean Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt married his present wife at the home of his brother, Robert, at 200 Massachusetts Avenue, Washington, D. C., on Jan. 6, 1914. Her maiden name was Hammersley and she is a sister of Mrs. Robert B. Roosevelt. Both of the sisters were born in this city. The plaintiff had been married before to a man named Biscoe. The wedding of the plaintiff and defendant attracted much attention in social circles. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Callender, of the Church of the Ascension. The best man was the bride's brother, Lewis R. Hammersley, of this city. The honeymoon was spent in Europe.

Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the law firm of Roosevelt & Kobbe, of 44 Wall Street. He has always led a quiet and unostentatious life. He is a member of the Metropolitan, Automobile, Riding, and Down Town clubs. He is a director of the Broadway Improvement Company, capitalized at $750,000, and controlled by the Roosevelt family.

The sister of his first wife, Mrs. Constant A. Andrews, was declared incompetent in 1907 and Mr. Andrews and Mr. Roosevelt were made a committee of her person and estate. There was friction over the conduct of the estate and Mr. Roosevelt was removed by Supreme Court Justice Dayton in September, 1907. Mrs. Roosevelt sought to have the order removing her husband rescinded. In denying the application Justice Dayton said that the disagreement on the part of the committee had cost the estate of Mrs. Andrews $10,000 and he rebuked Mr. Roosevelt for the manner in which he had managed the property.

LIQUOR FOR HERRESHOFF.

Sanitarium Doctors Investigating Rumor That Nurse Supplied Patient.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Oct. 28.—Physicians at the Gladwyn, Penn., Sanitarium, where "Freddie" Herreshoff, a noted golf player, is confined by court order, are investigating a report that the patient is being secretly supplied with intoxicants, the use of which is alleged to have accentuated the nervous breakdown that caused his father, J. B. Francis Herreshoff of New York, to take legal steps to restrain him.

Soon after being taken to the sanitarium, Herreshoff showed signs of improvement, and it was planned to take him into court last Friday on the writ of habeas corpus, by which he seeks his release. He suffered a sudden relapse, however, and his counsel was forced to postpone the hearing. Rumors were circulated that a nurse was supplying alcoholic drinks to the patient. The names of several nurses were mentioned; all denied the charge.

NO JOB FOR A CRACKSMAN.

Warden Osborne Tells Real Story of the Sing Sing Safe.

Warden Osborne of Sing Sing yesterday denied the story which appeared in newspapers recently about one of the convicts opening a safe in the prison by hand without the combination, when it had defied the efforts of the Welfare League, who wished to utilize it as a repository for token money.

"The story probably came from some guard with an imagination," he said. "Why, there was no need to get the combination. The safe was a very old one, it was opened already, and we had mechanics among the inmates take the doors off the hinges in order that it might be moved with more facility. I suppose the fact that we took off the door started the rumor that we had to have the lock picked, but that is not true."

WHY SPECULATE?

The greater the promise of large gains, the greater the risk.

We do not promise large profits, but we do GUARANTEE the return of your principal and a good rate of interest on your money.

Our Guaranteed First Mortgage investment may be had in amounts as low as $100 up and yield 5% net.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST GUARANTEED

Write for booklet, "The Ideal Investment."

New York Mortgage & Security Company
(Under supervision of New York State Banking Department.)
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, $2,500,000
135 Broadway, New York. 203 Montague St., Brooklyn.

SILVER
Sterling & Plate

Silver-Plated Compotiers
In Many Beautiful Designs

The artistic piece illustrated is 5¼ inches high and the diameter at the top is 9¼ inches. Made of Nickel Silver, heavily plated, in a richly cut-out pattern, making a most effective gift, as well as providing a desirable selection for the purchaser's own table.

This Compotier is just one representative example among scores of beautiful new and classic designs shown at the INTERNATIONAL Store. An equally broad variety of Compotiers in Sterling Silver also on display.

Whether it is an artistic gift, simple or elaborate, or practical pieces of Silver for the home, the International Silver Company's stocks are always broadest and most interesting.

You are invited to visit the store at your convenience, to look over the exhibition, regardless of whether you have a purchase to make at the time or not.

International Silver Company
Succeeding The MERIDEN Co. Established 1852
49-51 West 34th Street
through to 68-70 West 35th Street, New York

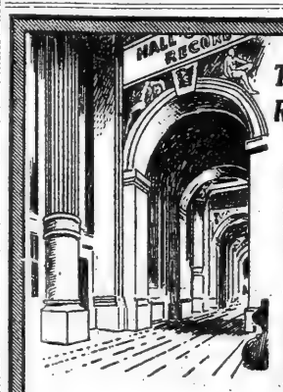
PHONE MAIN 6900 Our 36th Year

37 to 53 Flatbush Avenue
Largest in New York
MOVING, STORAGE, SHIPPING
Rug and Carpet Cleaning

WET CELLARS MADE DRY
FROM INSIDE WITH SMOOTH-ON IRON CEMENT No. 7
Write for catalogue
SMOOTH-ON MFG. CO. Jersey City, N. J.

FLAT ROLL DESKS
Office Furniture
in great variety of style and price

T. G. SELLEW 111 FULTON STREET New York.



The City Has a "Hall of Records"—What Have You?

What steps have you taken to prevent the loss of valuable duplicates, business records, documents, etc., through fire, mismanagement, confiscation or forgetfulness?

Lawyers, bankers, brokers—in fact, all business men, know that the loss of a single document may cost them a fortune in cash and may mean the failure of their entire business.

Do these men know that for as little as $5 per month they may have the use of specially fitted rooms in our fireproof warehouses (the largest and most modern in New York) in which to store these important papers safely? Accessible 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

OUR 36TH YEAR

Write or phone to The Nevins St. Subway Station —7 minutes from Wall St.— is at our door.

PIONEER FIREPROOF STORAGE WAREHOUSES
37 TO 53 FLATBUSH AVE.
PHONE MAIN 6900

SAFETY FIRST!

Watch the Five A's Grow! They Spell Protection for You

A-A-A-A-A

ÆTNA
ACME
ACCUMULATED
ACCIDENT
A——?

ÆTNA

Almost any sacrifice is worth making if it enables you and your family to see the two Great Fairs in California now.

Farmers especially should go now, because great agricultural shows and meetings will be held in San Francisco this month and next. The fairs are at their best, the summer rush is over, the weather is fine, so that you can travel in greatest comfort.

The Panama-Pacific Exposition, greatest of all world's fairs, will close December 4.

UNION PACIFIC
SALT LAKE ROUTE

is the logical way west. Using this line gives you the chance to see much of the finest scenery in the world—the Colorado Rockies, the Sierra Nevada, San Bernardino, Wasatch, Laramie and other imposing mountains, and the splendid canyons of the Rainbow, Mojave, Echo, Weber and Ogden Rivers. Also see the inter-mountain irrigated valleys and the orange country of Southern California.

This is the only through-train line from Chicago through Salt Lake City to Los Angeles, the Gateway to Both Expositions.

Excursion Fares End Nov. 30th

—the lowest rate in years—made especially to accommodate exposition travel. Two fine trains leave Chicago daily: Los Angeles Limited at 10:00 p. m. from C. & N. W. Terminal; Pacific Limited at 10:45 a. m. from Union Depot, via C. M. & St. P. Remember—reduced fare tickets on sale until November 30 only. Return limit December 31, 1915.

J. B. DeFriest, G. E. Agt., Union Pacific R. R., Woolworth Building, 236 Broadway, New York
M. deBrabant, G. Agt., Salt Lake Route, 233 Broadway, New York

Visit Old Faithful Inn, Yellowstone National Park Exhibit, Panama-Pacific Exposition

(120)

NEW HAVEN CO. PAID 'BLIND BOSS' $10,000

Government Shows Activity of Railroad at Rhode Island Legislature.

QUIET PASS FOR A SENATOR

Defense Wins Point in Exclusion of Evidence Bearing on Fight Against Trolleys.

The activities of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in shaping legislation occupied the attention of Judge Hunt and the jury in the trial in the Federal District Court yesterday of William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass Ledyard and the nine other ex-directors of the New Haven indicted on a charge of conspiring to monopolize the transportation facilities of New England. The Government sought to show that it was active in hindering the development of any trolley lines which might parallel and compete with it and was not very particular as to its methods.

Thus that name of General Charles R. Brayton, the "Blind Boss of Rhode Island," was mentioned as the company's legislative agent at Providence, and several letters setting forth the New Haven's needs written to him by James M. Hall, Vice President of the company, were placed in evidence. Another showing that he received $10,000 for his services was, however, excluded on the protest of R. V. Lindabury of counsel for the defense.

Such evidence as the Government produced on this line referred in many cases to street railway projects which the New Haven succeeded in defeating, and which had not been mentioned in the indictment. This brought from the defense strenuous protests at the length to which it threatened to extend the trial and the injustice of bringing charges which had not been mentioned in the indictment. The court upheld the objections, and to effect a further saving in time it was decided that there should be no session Monday, which, with Tuesday election day, would give the Government two clear days at the beginning of the week to go over its evidence.

Scorned Trolleys at First.

The situation with which the evidence put in yesterday by the Government dealt arose upon the first appearance of trolley lines. Later on the New Haven is found purchasing them at such extravagant prices that its action has supplied one of the chief charges in the indictment, but when they were first used the railroad did not see that they could be of any advantage to it. But later it learned of plans for the consolidation of several local trolley lines into trunk systems which it feared might compete with it in its own territory. So it took an attitude of hostility to the trolley roads, and in the middle of the '90s did what it could to hinder their development, either by throwing legislative obstacles in the way of their construction or by buying them up. The defense took the position that there was nothing in what the company did which could be considered unlawful and that it was merely properly protecting its interests, but the Government insisted on putting in its evidence as illustrating the New Haven's desire to monopolize traffic facilities.

As soon as Judge Hunt took his seat on the bench Mr. Swacker put in a few more letters dealing with the Goldsmith suit against the New York & New England Railroad, which led to the loss of independence by that line. One of them showed that there was a difference of interest between the New England and the New Haven and that Mr. Mellen found that he could not advise the General Freight Agent of the New England to refrain from taking action that would injure the New Haven. It appeared also that William Rockefeller as the guarantor of the costs of the Goldsmith suit, which had been taken over by the New Haven from Austin Corbin, had been annoyed by certain claims made on him. Writing of these John M. Hall, Vice President of the New Haven, said to him on March 1, 1899:

"The claim of these parties is simply a blackmailing scheme got up after Mr. Corbin's death to secure money from Mr. Corbin's estate, and incidentally from us to such extent as we guaranteed Mr. Corbin for disbursements and services in the old suit of Goldsmith against the New England Railroad Company."

Mr. Hall said the New Haven was well able to take care of whatever payments were made, and that whatever was paid would be justified on account of the benefits secured by the Goldsmith suit.

Begins Trolley Fight.

The trolley question was introduced by a letter from Charles P. Clark, President of the New Haven, to Henry C. Hartford concerning the company's opposition to the grant of a trolley charter for a road from New Britain to Hartford. At first it seemed the New Haven had not objected to the new line, and had even shown itself complaisant concerning the right to bridge its tracks, but the situation had changed. Mr. Clark wrote:

"Judge Hall and I have told him that the electrical energy seems to have developed in the last few weeks to the extent of seeking to parallel and to combine parallel railroads, all the way from Springfield to New York, and that the time has come for us to put up our heels and to stop it where the obvious intent of the electric people is to steal away our business. When it is a development from local centres and to bring people into the city of Hartford or New Haven or any other city, provided the electric roads do not cross at grade, we have not hitherto made any objection."

The defense began to make a vigorous argument against the introduction of this line of evidence. These trolley lines, they argued, were purely local railroads concerned only with intrastate business, while the indictment referred to interstate commerce. Consequently, according to a long exception filed with the court, nothing the New Haven did to hamper them could have violated the Sherman Law. The court, however, listened to Mr. Batts, who argued that as the lines in question were of great strategic value, their capture led up to the larger attempt to monopolize, which the Government was attacking.

J. G. Milburn renewed the objection from a new angle, pointing out that the indictment had been particular in mentioning the means by which the defendants were alleged to have conspired and the names of the companies which had been concerned in their conspiracy.

"If these limits are disregarded," he argued, "we shall embark on a sea where it seems to me we have been travelling to some extent for the last few days, and simply putting before the jury the entire history of the New Haven Railroad and everything it did for a period of over twenty-five years, in the greatest detail whether it bears on this charge or not."

Mr. Batts, for the Government, urged that it had the right to prove not only what had been done, but what had been intended to be done to accomplish the general plan, and the Court after considering the indictment, ruled that it was broad enough to cover the evidence that was being offered.

Fight Paralleling Plans.

Mr. Stephenson then put in a portion of a letter from President Clark to Mr. Robinson in which he discussed the fighting of trolleys and said:

"In general this is extremely distasteful to me but it is very difficult to draw the line between what is our duty and what is not our duty. I do not care whether the people of any given road are our friends or our enemies. We must manage our road in the interests of the stockholders, not on the basis of personal friendship or enmity."

Mr. Lindabury put in the remark that at this period it was entirely lawful for a railroad in self-defense to fight the paralleling of its line, and then the Government showed that on Feb. 8, 1895, the Directors of the New Haven heard they could purchase the Stamford Street Railway for about $150,000, and that a month later the standing committee decided to advance to William E. Barnett the funds to make the purchase.

A letter from John M. Hall of F. D. Bedford of 128 Pearl Street showed what the New Haven feared. After saying that the electrical lines were affecting the company's traffic receipts and it intended to fight all paralleling schemes, he went on:

"Most of these schemes are projected not by Connecticut people, but by syndicates from Boston, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and elsewhere for the apparent purpose of ultimately paralleling our entire line from Boston to New York. The people, however, seem to be insane on the subject, and are made to believe that their property will be enhanced in value greatly by the building of these lines, and they are generally willing to allow their public highways to be occupied and largely destroyed for pleasure driving or use by these machines."

It was decided to fight the trolley lines before the local Legislature, and this led to a keen debate between the lawyers concerning the employment of Legislative agents by the company.

Mr. Lindabury said he objected to the cumbering of the record with letters to show practices which were perfectly legitimate, but he was brought to a quick pause as Mr. Stephenson proceeded to announce he was going to put in a letter to Gen. Charles R. Brayton.

"Who was the General?" he asked Mr. Mellen.

"A very prominent gentleman in Rhode Island, a man of great influence and force of character, blind," he said.

"Are we to go into the character of every person not named as a defendant to whom anyone wrote?" asked Mr. Lindabury. Mr. Stephenson persisted in his inquiries, and Mr. Mellen said:

"I think he was Post Master of Providence once. I have heard him called the blind boss of Rhode Island."

"Maybe he was a politician?" Mr. Nicoll guessed.

"I don't know what a politician is," replied Mr. Mellen solemnly.

Appeals to "Blind Boss."

To the "blind boss" John M. Hall wrote on April 16, 1895, mentioning a bill for the charter of a trolley line from Pawtucket to Attleboro with the right to carry express matter.

"Please do not let any more of that kind go through, and if possible would like to get that express clause struck out, whether by general law or in some other way, as it seriously interferes with our revenue from the Adams Express Company."

Then there was another bill pending for a trolley line from East Greenwich through the Pawtucket Valley with freight rights. Of this Mr. Hall said:

"Please nip this project in the bud, if possible, and kill it. Our interests are utterly opposed to granting any electric railroad company power to parallel our lines and especially opposed to granting them the privilege of carrying freight or express matter."

Another freight railroad was planned for Warwick and of this Mr. Hall wrote to the "Blind Boss":

"We want this scheme blocked and killed if it can be done. I understand Vincent is opposing us in this matter, but he ought not to be influential with the committee. Please kill this matter in some way."

Two letters were put in to show that the New Haven fought the request of the Stamford Street Railway Company for a charter and Mr. Stephenson explained to the court that these were introduced to bear out the charge of harassing litigation contained in the indictment. But when counsel wished to put in a letter to General Brayton containing $10,000 as a compensation for his assistance in legislative matters a vehement and lengthy legal argument was precipitated.

The General's $10,000.

Mr. Lindabury said that there was nothing illegal in the employment of a legislative agent, and if there were, every railroad in the United States could be convicted. The laws recognized the employment of such agents, and it was legitimate to pay them if they did not do anything wrong, he said.

The court, however, pointed out that a man might do an act perfectly legitimate in itself for the accomplishment of an illegitimate end. It added that the Government should limit itself to evidence concerning the large number of railroad companies which were named in the indictment.

Mr. Batts contended that as the Government was studying its case it continually found additional evidence to support its contention of conspiracy, and it should be permitted to include it, but Mr. Lindabury objected strongly to any enlargement of the indictment, especially by taking into consideration the efforts of the New Haven against trolley companies which it prevented from coming into existence.

The court sustained the objection of the defense and instructed the Government to keep to matters mentioned in the indictment.

In further demonstration of the trolley policy of the New Haven the Government put in letters to show how Mr. Hall wanted the Stamford Street Railroad Company to build a strip of two miles to head off the Norwalk Tramway Company. The Stamford Company was at that time the property of the New Haven, but had not yet been taken over publicly by it. As Mr. Hall wrote to General E. S. Greeley:

"I suppose if some one should assert that the Stamford Street Railroad Company was owned by the New Haven Company, you would promptly deny it, which might mislead the public, but which you and I both know would be true."

Boston & Maine's Troubles.

The Boston & Maine was meeting with the same difficulty with the trolleys as the New Haven and writing to Lucius Tuttle, its President, on Aug. 14, 1895, Mr. Hall had this to say:

"We succeeded this Winter in the Legislature in defeating almost everything that was attempted by the electric people, but I confess it was rather uphill work for us, as the people seem to be crazy on this subject, and in the end it looks as if they would succeed in building an electric railroad about wherever they desire. The passage of the grade-crossing act was quite a blow to them, but helps us out considerably; but I have come to the conclusion that about the only way to stop the complete paralleling of the line from Springfield to New York is to step in and buy an electric road somewhere on the way and run it in connection with some of our branches."

Another railroad proposal which caused the New Haven anxiety was the project known as the Montville Street Railway Company which in April, 1896, proposed to parallel the New London & Northern Railroad. Mr. Hall wrote to call it to the attention of J. T. Odell, Second Vice President of the New England, and suggesting that Mr. Robbins be posted in the matter, "as he is quite fertile in devising obstructive schemes for the benefit of electric roads."

A good many other letters showing the policy of the New Haven toward the new form of traction were put in, and in one to Mr. Robbins, dated Jan. 21, 1897, Mr. Hall wrote:

"I think I should give Senator Lounsbury a pass quietly, without reference to the violation of the statute. I do not think it will make any difference, and it is very desirable that you should keep on the right side of him."

The letter dealt with details of the legislative situation, and concluded: "If you have any special means of reaching people on the inside on any of these questions, it seems to me that it would be well to be getting ready to take care of them, as I observe they are pushing things to hearings in a very lively manner."

Road Drafts a Bill.

As an illustration of the methods of the New Haven, the Government put in a letter from John M. Hall to Charles F. Brooker, one of the defendants, dated Jan. 22, 1897. It began:

"I inclose herewith a bill for a public act which I wish you would quietly hand to Representative Tucker of your place with a request that he offer the bill quietly, and see if you can enlist his influence and put the bill through the Legislature. We would make it all right with Mr. Tucker if that is necessary. * * *"

Mr. Tucker must assume the responsibility of the bill as a matter of justice, and it must be a bill of his own invention. In other words, he must be the father of the bill and nurse it through the committee and in the Legislature."

After other evidence of Legislative activity on the part of the New Haven the Government showed that it bought the Meriden Street Railway Company and adopted as a policy a refusal to sell either that or the Stamford Company to any one.

Judge Hunt announced to the jury that, as Tuesday was Election Day and the Government thought it could spend Monday to advantage in going through its evidence, when the Court rose this afternoon, it would adjourn until Wednesday morning. The trial will continue this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

CITY JOBS CUT $2,000,000.

Mayor Reports at Harlem Celebration of Willis Avenue Bridge.

The Harlem Board of Commerce celebrated the linking together of Harlem and the Bronx by the extension across the Willis Avenue bridge at a dinner last night at Pabst's on West 125th Street. The speakers were Mayor Mitchell, Borough President Marks of Manhattan, and Borough President Mathewson of the Bronx. More than 600 attended, including many ladies.

In the midst of the festivities a street was wheeled into the room, and a young woman stepped out of the top. She was "Miss Bronx." "Mr. Harlem" was in the balcony, and they sang a paraphrase of "Hello, Frisco," beginning "Hello, Harlem."

Mayor Mitchell came from a Board of Estimate meeting to tell the Board of Commerce about the budget.

"The Board of Estimate realized," he said, "that many of the salaries were out of proportion to the amount of services rendered. I think you will find, however, that lower grade of salaries has been increased, as an offset to the lowering of the larger salaries. About $2,000,000 in salaries has been dropped from the payrolls, representing dispensible positions."

Borough President Marks commended the Board of Commerce for its interest in civic affairs.

"One of the weak spots of our Government," he said, "had been the absence of general co-operation on the part of business and professional men. It is sometimes forgotten that our Government is democratic, that the people rule. If business men become so absorbed in their vocations that they take no time for civic affairs, they are not good citizens."

Borough President Mathewson brought the greetings of the Bronx.

District Attorney Perkins arrived at the dinner at about 11:30 after a speechmaking tour, and was called on to speak, but declined. Judge Edward Swann, the Democratic candidate for District Attorney, had left the dinner half an hour before Mr. Perkins's arrival.

CITY OFFICIALS ATTACKED.

De Ford Is Scornful at Night High School Mass Meeting.

With bitter attacks on Mayor Mitchel and Controller Prendergast, speakers at a big mass meeting of evening high school students in the New Amsterdam Theatre last night denounced the proposal to suspend evening instruction because of lack of money. Shortly after the meeting was opened ex-Assistant District Attorney William A. De Ford made the cheering announcement that the fight to keep the night schools open had already been won and that the discovery of $87,000 available for night school purposes would result in favorable action by the Board of Estimate today.

Before Mr. De Ford had finished he called Mayor Mitchel "the filmed hero of Plattsburg." Mr. Bruere the "sanctified wet nurse of City Hall," and Mr Prendergast "the Petronius of Fusion, whom he would rather see "driven from the delights of his silver and porcelain bathtub high up in the Municipal Building and compelled to perform his daily ablutions in the public bath off the Battery than to see a single person driven from the high schools."

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Silverman of Temple Emanu-El, who followed Mr. De Ford, protested against injecting any tone of abuse or politics into the meeting.

"I came here believing there was but one subject before the meeting," declared Dr. Silverman. "That subject is whether the evening high schools ought to be kept open. I don't want to be a party to any attacks that may have been made tonight against the city administration or against any public officials."

Other speakers were John Temple Graves, ex-Judge Leon Sanders, Charles A. Towne, Julius Guttag, President of the Evening High Schools Alumni Association, and Dr. Christian F. Reisner, pastor of Grace M. E. Church.

DID BUSINESS ON "TRUST."

Head of Building Firm Held for Dating Checks Ahead.

Charles Cooper, head of the iron and steel construction firm of Cooper & Poliak, 18-20 Jackson Street, was held in $2,000 bail for the Grand Jury by Magistrate Harris in the Yorkville Court yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. Cooper was accused of passing two checks, one for $75 and one for $25, by Morris Gewietz, a café owner of 123 Broome Street.

Cooper, who lives at 544 Fox Street, the Bronx, said on the witness stand that he has been doing business for the last ten years with a dozen saloon keepers on the east side by cashing with them checks bearing future dates. He paid them from $3 to $5 bonus on each check, he said, although the face value of the checks at times amounted to thousands of dollars. Several saloon keepers were in court and introduced into evidence checks totaling $3,500, which Cooper admitted giving to them, but maintaining that they were fully aware that he did not have a dollar in the bank at the time he signed them. Cooper told the court he was unable to either read or write, with the exception of being ablue to sign his name.

His firm is in bankruptcy.

The right article at the right price

The right article at the right price plus judicious advertising will make its own market, and that is what the Equitable Building is doing right along—selling to the shrewdest, hardest-headed buyers in the U. S. A., solely upon the superiority of its merits and the sanity of its rental cost.

Equitable Building Corporation
120 Broadway

The Real America-in Fiction

They have come!.....For years Americans have been crying for a group of young novelists who should express America as it is to-day—as Wells and Bennett have expressed England. They have come! Booth Tarkington in "The Turmoil," Ernest Poole in "The Harbor" have made America real, and fascinating, and now they are joined by

Sinclair Lewis
IN
The Trail of the Hawk

Note—and note carefully—how the critics hail it as the sort of book we have so eagerly awaited:

"'The Trail of the Hawk' puts a big chunk of modern America before you. It gathers up and expresses the story of today here in America. . . . The people are as real to you as though they lived on your block and called you by your first name. . . . Books like this will go far to make one feel that novel-writing in America is beginning to mean something worth while."—New York Times.

"Mr. Lewis knows the scenes of which he writes, and has succeeded in giving a true picture of our puzzling United States. The sane-eyed realism, combined with the book's genuineness of tone and its sparkling rapidity of movement, should win for it a multitude of interested readers."—New York Evening Post.

"Although THE TRAIL OF THE HAWK is primarily a story, it nevertheless emphatically awakens the reader to a realization of the message and the mission of America."—E. F. Edgett, in The Boston Evening Transcript.

"We have been making a shelf of what we consider the best fiction produced by contemporary American writers, and we have just put Sinclair Lewis's THE TRAIL OF THE HAWK on that shelf alongside Poole's 'The Harbor,' Churchill's 'The Far Country,' and a few others. THE TRAIL OF THE HAWK plays upon the same chord of human life, but the tone is sweeter, happier, more optimistic. . . . It is genuine philanthropy toward our readers to commend so youthful, so spirited, so inspiring a work of fiction as Mr. Lewis has produced. We can't remember having ever read anything in published fiction quite so beautiful in purpose and unconventional in spirit as Mr. Lewis's chapters on the playmate comradeship of 'The Hawk' and Ruth."—Stuart Law in Columbus State Journal.

"Both in promise and performance Mr. Lewis is the foremost member of the younger group of American novelists."—New York Evening World.

$1.35 net

HARPER & BROTHERS, New York
Write for Holiday Catalogue—Sent Free.

Real Motor Truck Adaptability

This is the age of specialization.

When you have a real serious situation calling for medicine or surgery, you call in a specialist.

The trucking end of your business is important enough to warrant the attention of specialists in that line.

We are not only specialists in that we are able to diagnose your trucking needs, but we build trucks especially adapted for any purpose.

Our unusually complete line, combined with absolute dependability and efficiency, has made Garford Trucks dominant throughout the East. Hundreds are daily operated in widely different lines of trade.

The versatility of Garford service through the use of one or more of our seven models is aptly shown by the illustration above. These eight Garfords—four 3-ton and four 1½-ton types—are in constant use at the Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

In four years of use the Greenwood Garfords have proved highly efficient and readily adaptable to all kinds of trucking, according to W. C. Grassau, the cemetery superintendent.

The heavier vehicles are invaluable in road repair, carrying stone and gravel over the heavy grades in the cemetery grounds and handling a wide variety of heavy-duty operations.

The more mobile 1½-ton trucks are used continuously for carrying flowers and sand and making quick trips with lighter loads.

Careful selection of the type and style of trucks has given the Greenwood cemetery real trucking efficiency.

And careful selection on your part will bring you the same result.

No matter what your business—whether it is large or small—if you have a delivery or transfer system, there is a Garford that will exactly fill the bill.

R. E. Taylor Corporation
Eastern Distributors, Garford Motor Trucks

NEW YORK CITY, Show Rooms, 427 W. 42d St. | NEWARK, N. J., Show Rooms, 330 Central Ave. | BROOKLYN, N. Y., Show Rooms, 1264 Bedford Ave. | BOSTON, MASS., Show Rooms, 72 Brookline Ave.
LONG ISLAND—Mineola, L. I.

The Garford Motor Truck Company, Lima, Ohio
Manufacturers of Trucks of ¾, 1, 1½, 2, 3, 5 and 6 ton capacity

NEW YORK CITY, Service Station, 427 W. 42d St. | NEWARK, N. J., Service Station, 330 Central Ave. | BROOKLYN, N. Y., Service Station, 1386 Atlantic Ave. | BOSTON, MASS., Service Station, 72 Brookline Ave.

Sunshine Biscuits

Sunshine Saltines: Just a crunch of salty brightness—a soda biscuit toasted to a golden crispness and dusted with salt.

Serve with fruit salad or delicate dessert. Better and fresher than others. —10c.

Afternoon Tea Biscuit—10c
Half sweet—very short. Two kinds in a package, chocolate and vanilla.

You are invited to visit the Sunshine Bakery. To see the Bakery to the best advantage come at 10 A.M. or 2 P.M. any day but Saturday.

10c
Sunshine Musicale Biscuit
A dessert wafer for fruits or ices. Easy to handle and serve. Suggests a home-baked cookie.

Remember—every day is baking day at the Wonder Bakery—the Bakery of a thousand tastes.

Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company
Bakers of Sunshine Biscuits NEW YORK

We offer

Brass Sheets, Strips, Cups or Discs---for delivery 1916-1917---

The Sign of Quality

AT THE RATE OF
100,000 lbs. Daily

Stamford Rolling Mills Co., Inc.
Sales Office: No. 25 Broad St., New York.

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
B. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address: THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...42d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....7 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....203 West 125th Street
Bronx.....2,960 Third Avenue
Brooklyn....Room 605, 367 Fulton Street
Staten Island..98 Stuyv. Pl., N. Brighton
Queens...817 Fulton Street; Jamaica, L. I.
Jersey City.....536 Jersey Avenue
Hoboken.....61 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....50 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Riggs Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,202 Tribune Building
BOSTON.....7 Water Street, Room 316
DR. LOUIS.....409 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....626 Ford Building
SAN FRANCISCO.....742 Market Street
LONDON.....Marconi House, Strand, W. C.
PARIS.....32 Rue Louis le Grand
ONE CENT New York, Jersey City, Newark.
Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

	1 Yr.	1 Mo.
DAILY AND SUNDAY	$8.50	$0.75
DAILY, without Sunday	6.00	.50
SUNDAY, with Picture and Magazine Sections and Review of Books	2.50	.25
Binder for Picture Section, $1.75. Binder for Magazine Section and Review of Books, $1.25.
Canada, Sunday only	5.50	.45
Other countries, postpaid:
Daily and Sunday	24.00	2.00
Daily, without Sunday	15.60	1.30
Sunday only	8.40	.70

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per year, $4; Canada, $4.50; other countries, $5. Binder for 26 issues, (one vol.,) $1.25.

THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, (Weekly,) per year, $1; Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL, (Thursdays,) three months, $1.25; six months, $2.50; one year, $5. Canada, $6; other countries, $6.50. Binder for 52 issues, $1.25. Bound volumes, ten numbers. Cloth, $1.

THE NEW YORK TIMES CURRENT HISTORY, Illustrated Monthly Magazine, three months, 75c.; six months, $1.50; one year, $3. Per copy, 25c. Bound volumes, 6 monthly issues. Cloth, $2.

NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per copy, $2; per year, $8.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, OCT. 29, 1915.

THE NAKEDNESS OF WAR.

If there were nothing else to be said for Bulgaria, the fact that she had cited import and export statistics to justify her conduct in this war would deserve to be remembered. It confers upon her a kind of unexpected distinction. Bulgaria is not for Kultur, at least not in business hours. Neither is she hostile to Civilization. Those things do not interest her. But, as her manifesto reads:

> The figures show that our trade, our interests, and our economic life are inseparably linked with Turkey, Germany, and Austria-Hungary.

There is candor. It may be bad judgment, but that is not the question. It is business; it is selfishness so acknowledged, without any moral sputtering or make believe. It is very well for Russia to call herself "mother of Bulgaria" and to weep over the waywardness of her offspring; but Bulgaria is yet Bulgaria, and, again as her manifesto reads:

> If now Constantinople is conquered by Russia, it will introduce there its autonomous protective tariff, and will make impossible the present exports of Bulgarian products to Constantinople. Even as Bulgaria cannot now export anything to Russia, so it will be unable to export anything to a Russian Constantinople.

That would be almost as if New England captured Manhattan Island, and then, for the benefit of her own trade, put up a tariff wall against the farmers of New York State. It is not a matter of Kultur at all. It is a matter of geese, pigs, cattle, cheese, kashkawal, and flour. What else?

One prefers to think of war romantically. There is romance in it. War requires heroism, chivalry, self-sacrifice, devotion, and faith. If that were not so, men could not regard it but with loathing and disgust. It would sicken them. But, alas! it is probable that all of these fine things come into war after the fact and spring from the necessity of man to idealize and romanticize his acts, irrespective of the motives compelling them, and he especially seeks by his imagination to beautify those acts which refer to the physical conditions of existence. He is at least an imaginative animal, with the power to deceive himself and a vision of beauty which has almost infinite adaptability.

Therefore, though war may be full of a great number of other things, its material basis is not to be denied. People, after all, must exist before they can enjoy either Kultur or Civilization, or choose between them, and ideals of economic necessity very probably, almost inevitably, precede ideals of higher human conduct.

One is thrilled at the thought of England and France rushing to the aid of Serbia, having undertaken to save her from national destruction. The message from Serbia, "We can last five days," and the reply from the Allies, "We are making haste," give one a great thump inside, and one does not wish to remember that if England's diplomacy in the Balkans had been as material, or, if you like, as sordid and commercial as Germany's, Bulgaria might not have gone over to the Teutonic side, trade being something you can give and take, and in that case the Austro-German forces would not now be smashing their way through Serbia. The English are beginning to cast away the make believe that their interest in the Balkans is emotional or self-sacrificing. It never was when it might have been, and there is no reason to suppose it now is. The matter is one of business. The London Daily Telegraph, commenting on the offer by England of Cyprus to Greece, said:

> There is no sentiment in the matter upon our side, and it would be idle to try to give it any such appearance. The sooner we all recognize that purely chivalrous motives are not predominant in Balkan politics today the better.

That is the beginning of Bulgarian candor elsewhere. On that saying, Greece was perfectly free to be scornful of what England offered, to treat it as a price beneath her, as she did. Why should Greece go to war romantically? If you say she was bound to go to Serbia's assistance, she says she wasn't and you are mistaken; and people have been known not only to justify but to glorify the scrapping of a treaty. Italy did, for reasons she believed in. One of her reasons was Serbia. And yet Italy really is no friend of Serbia's. Serbia's ambition to have a window on the Adriatic Sea conflicts with Italy's resolve to dominate that piece of water, and Serbia's window, as it happens, would have to be cut through at a place very awkward for Italy. Nor is Italy friendly with Greece. Both are ambitious to dominate the Mediterranean. Italy has been picking up islands round about, several of which, added to Cyprus, might tempt Greece to come in on the Allies' side. But Italy's interest in the war also is unromantic when it comes to making a sacrifice of her future welfare or the ideal of it on the altar of allied Civilization. Nations, like persons, are, first of all, ego-centric. Self-preservation, for which the Allies are obviously fighting against German designs of conquest and dominance, is, by its terms, in the interest of self. The sense of socialness comes secondly. The selfish interests of each nation are paramount in its own consideration. And but for this herd instinct man perhaps would be a savage still, a lonely figure in the jungle.

THE FRENCH CABINET.

The reorganization of the French Cabinet as foreshadowed in the Paris dispatches will strengthen it. BRIAND, the new Premier, is a man of greater force than VIVIANI, who took office as a result of the compromises following the struggle over the term of general compulsory service in the army. JULES CAMBON will bring to the new Ministry a good deal of ability and experience; RIBOT, the Minister of Finance, is well equipped for his post; DE FREYCINET, who is to be Vice President of the Cabinet, has had much political and administrative experience, and GALLIENI, Minister of War, the present Military Governor of Paris, will have the confidence of the people of the Republic.

These changes have been brought about not by a Ministerial crisis of the ordinary kind, but by the very evident feeling that the Cabinet needed the strongest men that could be got to accept office. Of course there has been deep disappointment over the course of events in the Balkans—that was indicated by the resignation of DELCASSE. But that misfortune falls with even greater weight on England, and in both nations it ought to be clearly seen that with a German King on the throne of Bulgaria and a Germanized King in Athens the Allies were at a terrible disadvantage. The reconstruction of the Cabinet indicates disapproval of the war policy only as it has failed in some of its objects. It plainly reflects a resolute purpose to carry on the war with every means at command until the victory shall be won which is essential to the life of the nation itself.

OPPONENTS OF THE AMENDED CONSTITUTION.

The opposition to the amended Constitution is conglomerate. Its parts are many and unlike. We can detect no bond of union between them. No theory of government, no body of principles, no interest common to them all can be discerned in their arguments. That curious organization, the Civil Service Forum, apparently made up of professional agitators in the interest of certain employés of the State and of the City Government, sets up the ground of objection that the revision "will tend to throw civil service into politics." There is nothing these persons desire so much as that the civil service shall be kept in politics, to the end that votes may be bartered for high and always higher salaries. We can understand the objections of the employés now drawing salaries in the innumerable unnecessary places that the new Constitution, by simplifying the State Government, will abolish. But nobody can understand why the taxpayers should sympathize with their protest.

The professional labor leaders have put themselves on record as opposing ratification, but there is no evidence that many wage earners have been deluded by their shallow and foolish arguments. There is opposition from some representative radicals of a socialistic turn. They see in the amendments "obstacles to democ-"racy, to social and industrial leg-"islation." Obstacles of that nature were removed by the convention, it created no impediments to sound legislation. Apparently the visionaries who dream of the time when seven half-penny loaves shall be sold for a penny and the three-hooped pot shall have seven hoops are dissatisfied because they were not allowed to make a Constitution after their own hearts.

There are opponents like Mr. GEORGE W. PERKINS, but the grounds of opposition they set up are not impressive. They tell us that the various amendments or classes of amendments should have been submitted separately, so that the voters might exercise a free choice of acceptance or rejection. They forget that a Constitution is not made up of unrelated parts. The purpose of the convention was to provide better government, more economical, more responsive to the people. That purpose would be in large measure defeated and the harmony of the instrument impaired by exposing it to the risk of piecemeal acceptance.

The Democrats as a party have no standing to oppose the revision, for a majority of the Democratic delegates to the convention voted for the Constitution as it goes to the voters, and representative Democrats like Mr. STETSON, Judge O'BRIEN, and ALTON B. PARKER give it their support. Our neighbor The World criticises ELIHU ROOT for urging the Republicans to vote for the Constitution, as if that made it a partisan document. If it is a Republican Constitution, why did the Democrats in the convention vote for it? That argument is without merit or force. The Constitution was made for the people, not for a party. We judge that the Republicans will give it a fairly united support and that it will have the approving votes also of Democrats who are not affected by an interest in radical theories or in maintaining an immense number of needless offices for the benefit of taxeaters.

QUESTION NO. 3.

Two ballots, in addition to the ballot for candidates, will be handed to each voter next Tuesday. One will be marked "Revised Constitution Ballot" and the other "Questions Submitted Ballot." Each will contain three questions, on which the voter is expected to make his decision.

Question No. 3 on the "Revised Constitution Ballot" reads: "Shall "the new Article X. submitted by the "Constitutional Convention relating "to taxation be approved?" This article is to be voted upon separately, apart from the rest of the Constitution. Its purposes are two—to abolish indiscriminate and permanent exemptions from taxation and to equalize and harmonize assessments.

As the law now stands, it is believed that an exemption once granted becomes permanent. If, for instance, a person owning a bond secured by property outside the State obtains an exemption, it is questionable if that exemption, instead of being only for the fiscal year, may not be for the life of the bond. To put an end to the doubt the Constitutional Convention provides in Article X. that "the "power of taxation shall never be "surrendered, suspended, or con-"tracted away, except as to the se-"curities of the State or a civil divis-"ion thereof."

In short, the Legislature is deprived of the power to exempt any class of property forever. It is evident that if it could permanently exempt one class of property it could permanently exempt all classes.

Article X. also deals with the subject of general exemptions. The number of corporations demanding exemption on the ground that they are benevolent, religious, charitable, or educational has increased enormously, and the amount now lost to the State runs up into the hundreds of millions. These demands for exemption can now be granted by a majority of the members who happen to be present in the Legislature on the day the vote is taken. Article X. provides that future exemptions can be granted only by a two-thirds majority of all the members elected to each house.

Finally, Article X. provides that the Legislature may decide how taxation shall be imposed and appoint assessors. The Legislature is to establish, outside the City of New York, tax districts, none of which shall be larger than a county, and in each of these districts one system of taxation shall be established. At present, for example, a railroad or other public service corporation pays its taxes in one town according to a system devised by the local authorities, and in another town under a quite different system. Under Article X. there would be more uniformity. The Legislature is to classify the subjects of taxation and to designate the assessors, except that local assessors will assess real property. The changes made by Article X. are fair and in the public interest, and the answer to Question No. 3 should be "Yes."

DEBATABLE PROGRESS.

The Board of Estimate will be called upon a week from today to answer yes or no to the application of the New York City Railways Company's application for a franchise to extend the tracks of its Eighty-sixth Street line westward, through two blocks of a street which has been built up and beautified with the understanding that it would be preserved permanently as a residence street and kept free from railway traffic. Eastsiders, through the medium of the Yorkville Association, complain that when they ride westward on Eighty-sixth Street they are dumped out at the Park entrance, and if they want to go as far westward as Columbus or Amsterdam Avenue or Broadway they must walk. The railway company, therefore, wants permission to build tracks through West Eighty-sixth Street as far as Broadway. It is only natural that the owners of property on those blocks should protest. The proposed extension would completely change the character of the street. Whether or not it would eventually decrease real estate values is an open question, but it would destroy the charm, the comparative quiet and uncommon attractiveness of a street which is now lined with private houses and apartment buildings of the expensive sort.

Against the protest the argument is made that "the personal views of a few "persons should not interfere with the "traveling public's necessities." But the answer is that the needs of that "traveling public" know no end. It will never be contented, if the line is continued to Broadway, to let it stop there. Beyond the Alps lies Italy and west of Broadway are West End Avenue and Riverside Park. Tracks of an old street railway, long since abandoned, still disfigure the roadway in that part of Eighty-sixth Street. If the project is not stifled in its inception the railway soon will be carried through to Riverside, in response to "an imperative popular demand," West Eighty-sixth Street will be lined with haberdashery and millinery shops and the palatial offices of real estate agents, with here and there a tea room or a café or two in the upper Broadway style of architecture. The children of the property owners may in time get back the money their fathers lose through the depreciation of the property, but the west side will lose a fine residence street and gain as a substitute for it only the kind of thoroughfare of which there are countless examples all over town.

Can the people of West Eighty-sixth Street, with the assistance of some of the eminent citizens in other neighborhoods who are habitually eloquent on the subject of the City Beautiful, contrive to avert the disaster and preserve their homes, or will they, too, be forced to leave Manhattan Island? For there is nothing to be gained by going further northward on the island. Perhaps a compromise may be effected. The cars might run westward on Eighty-fifth Street and eastward on Eighty-seventh, with switches to the Broadway tracks. In that case the temptation to the railway company to march further westward might be removed. All citizens who feel an intelligent interest in the preservation of attractive neighborhoods will surely sympathize with the perplexed residents of West Eighty-sixth Street.

THE SETBACK OF PERFECTION IN CALIFORNIA.

For nearly five years the Hon. HIRAM WINKELRIED JOHNSON has bestridden California like a Colossus. He has been the State, not merely its Governor and sovereign. It has been a paradise of dainty devices of Johnsonian reform and improvement. If taxes have mounted, so have blessings. Even the stolid East looked enviously on that Happy Valley of Innovations. Alas, the Serpent was hidden in the grass. His hiss was heard the other day when the wicked SCHMITZ, sometime Mayor of San Francisco, got 36,000 votes, the women, according to reactionary accounts, here mentioned merely to expose their intrinsic unveracity, being attracted by his romantic past.

California had woman suffrage. California had copious taxes. Recalls and referendums rained upon her. One thing only was wanting to her perfection. Political parties, a coarse survival of the outworn doctrine of democratic representative self-government, were still permitted to exist. As Governor JOHNSON says, "Non-partisan-"ship would have completed popular "rule in California." Of course "popular" is a synonym of "Johnsoniana."

The boon was offered. All State offices were to be "non-partisan." No party symbol or designation was to appear on the official ballot. The Johnson Administration, the Johnson machine, beautifully organized, fat with patronage, would be the one party left. At least that was the way in which the unworthy voters looked at the "non-partisanship" scheme submitted to them on Tuesday. They rejected it by a majority of some 20,000. This in spite of the fact that it had a sacred character from its origin, that it was defended on the stump by Governor JOHNSON with his wonted energy and fire. Down with it went a batch of nine constitutional amendments, likewise urged by the same great authority. The vote was light. Evidently the electorate has been surfeited with novelty and virtue. It longs for rest. Its flagging powers are unequal to the task of living up to JOHNSON.

The terrible approach of HIRAM JOHNSON to the Republican National Convention of 1916 has been sounded early, long, and hard. He is to cow the reactionaries. He is to warn; to threaten and command, to take charge. Apparently he will first have to collect the disject members of his sovereignty. California has lapsed, backslidden from the way of perfection. If she is "behind" at present, it seems to be for purposes of attack, not devotion.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Divergent Theories of Disaster.

Between the report of the Naval Board of Inquiry on the loss of the submarine F-4, near Honolulu, and the defensive reply of the company that made the unfortunate little vessel, the non-expert reader of the two finds his mind in much confusion as to the cause of the disaster.

The board in effect charges that the F-4 went down and could not be raised because of faulty construction, involving not only her batteries, but her tanks and rudders or vanes, and from a multitude of indications as to what the men in her did before they died, it deduces that in their last hours or minutes they bravely and energetically utilized the imperfect facilities at their command for bringing the boat back to the surface. The company's official, on the other hand, while disclaiming all intention to reflect on the competence of the crew, insists that if certain tank valves which should have been closed had not been left open, the imperfections mentioned, even if real, would not have been fatal.

In what may be called the Government's, or navy's, argument as presented in the board's report there is the seemingly weak link that it leaves unexplained why it was that a boat as badly built and equipped as this one is said to have been was ever accepted from the contractors, and why, if its condition was as bad as now stated, men were allowed or ordered to risk their lives in her. And even if, as the building company more than intimates, the boat was not properly handled on its last voyage, that, too, puts responsibility on the higher naval authorities for not having seen to it that the members of the crew were properly instructed and trained.

However the varying assertions are interpreted, the fact remains that the submarine carried down to a dreadful death her whole company, and did it, not while they were taking, as brave men will and must, the desperate chances of war, but when merely performing "evolutions" in time of peace as preparation for meeting remote contingencies. We know fairly well, now, how these men died, but why they died is a problem still unsolved. And it needs solution.

Confession Against Confession.

What seemed at first the equally surprising and injudicious readiness of the man FAY, or FRY, to tell the police all about himself and his plots to blow up ships, takes a different aspect now that his first achievement in autobiography has been so soon followed by another and quite different exposition of the same subject.

That his first story was the whole truth would have remained wide open to question, of course, even if he had stuck to it. Now that he has told a second, there is more than excuse for suspecting that, whether the truth is in him or not, it will not come out of him voluntarily, and that he is by no means the simple fellow that was indicated by his prompt surrender to whatever "degree" of inquisitory pressure the police applied to make him talk.

To say something, when a confession is urgently demanded, has the advantage of bringing at least temporary relief from irksome questionings, and if, when the interrogation is renewed, a wholly new confession be made, then the two beautifully balance each other, and the effect is much the same as if one had said nothing at all. The expedient is one which has often been used by persons under accusation, most often, perhaps, without any clear mental appreciation of its efficacy, but it is rather probable that this man, who, though he purposed the commission of crimes, does not belong to the criminal class in the ordinary sense of that term, is intelligent enough to have intended from the first thus to destroy his value as a witness for the prosecution.

At any rate he has in large measure succeeded, for now no story that can be extorted from him will have any weight. None will, that is, so long as he is subjected only to the ordinary methods of interrogation. The police are ready enough in such cases to resort to the mitigated forms of torture which, to their regret, are all that are left to them in these milder days. They have not learned to use the devices of the "new psychology," by which, if they and the courts only knew it, testimony can be tested in ways that prove its truth or falsity with next to mathematical certainty. We prefer, as yet, to trust the judgment of the intellectual giants whom we select for jurors.

Doings of Poisoned Policemen.

According to the police surgeon who examined the detective by whom young MANNING was so violently assaulted, the officer was not drunk, though he had been drinking. The distinction is real enough, and law as well as custom recognizes it, but science humbly admits its inability to draw any definite line between the two conditions indicated by these two expressions. Moreover, science proves as well as declares that the man who has only "been drinking" is not himself, not in full possession of all his powers of action and judgment.

He is "intoxicated," that is, as the word means, "poisoned," no matter how small the quantity of alcohol he has taken. He may be able to walk a crack unswervingly, to talk with a close approach to the accuracy he attains when quite sober, to meet all of the tests a police surgeon is expected to apply, but, to a degree proportioned to his personal susceptibility to the narcotic, both his mind and his body will be uncontrolled by his superior ego.

That being demonstrably true, it might well be for "the good of the service" if policemen were held to the total and permanent abstinence from alcohol which is now demanded from and enforced upon so many other men bearing responsibilities such as theirs. In the performance of their highly important duties they are likely at any moment to need all the intelligence, strength, and skill they have. The man who "has been drinking" cannot do that, and while he might still pass for a good policeman, he wouldn't be one as good as he might and ought to be.

Long Since, Perhaps.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I would not accuse the gifted poetess, Ella A. Fanning, of plagiarism, but in her poem appearing in your issue of this morning, "Washington—and After," she has evidently been reading "Our Folks," which runs:

'Tis long since I was there,
I and a bullet from Fair Oaks,
But in my throat there's something chokes,
Because you see I thought so long
To count her in among our folks.

The lines of Miss Fanning are:

Just as I did at Seven Oaks,
Somethin' right here kind o' chokes.

JOHN LEGGETT.

New York, Oct. 4, 1915.

FLACCUS IN BROADWAY.

(Visus ante Saltum.)

The look may well precede the leap;
The sages teach, the wise folk know it.
What harvest from your seed you'll reap,
Consider ere you sow it.

Your blunders best are rectified
Before you've been and gone and made 'em:
'Tis easier to forego your slide
Than revocare gradum.

The hasty word is best unsaid
Before its syllables you utter;
'Tis easier for to butter bread
Than later to unbutter.

A second's slip may well suffice
The fragile vase in shards to shatter;
But to rebuild it just as nice—
Well, that's a different matter.

One man may kiss a maid who charms—
If she consent, he scarce can miss her;
But forty thousand men-at-arms
Combined, cannot—unkiss her!

Then let Discretion's words be weighed—
Each rash Today has its Tomorrow.
Who dares at times to be afraid
May shun black sorrow.

VICTOR KILSPINDIE.

MR. PERKINS'S VIEWS.

They Are Not Preconceived and Dwell Only Upon What Is.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

THE TIMES certainly is a great newspaper. Every one knows you are in favor of the adoption of the proposed Constitution, yet you gave a great deal of space this morning to my letter to Mr. Root, outlining my reasons for voting against the Constitution. For years I have noticed this sort of fair play on the part of THE TIMES and it has made me a very great admirer of your policy. You print the news, and the people believe that is what a newspaper is for.

May I ask space for the following reply to your editorial of this morning, commenting on my letter to Mr. Root?

One of my strong objections to the proposed Constitution is the fact that it abolishes the present State Market Department and forbids the creation of a new one. This means that we cannot in the future have a State Market Department except in the shape of a bureau in some other department. This is precisely what the market people of New York City tried to get me to agree to last Winter, but failed. Is it any wonder, therefore, that I take alarm when I find they have succeeded in carrying out their design through the proposed Constitution? What these men want is an "invisible" market department, and if the proposed Constitution is adopted they will get it.

The marketing conditions of this State are such that farmers up-State are obliged to let hundreds of thousands of dollars of good food rot and go to waste each year because they cannot get it to the congested centres of population, and the people in the congested centres, because of this waste, are obliged to go on paying more and more each year for the food they buy and are denied the relief that would come through the establishment of an efficient Market Department. If we need a Conservation Department and a Public Service Department, then by all means we need a Market Department. To destroy the one we now have and prevent the creation of another one I regard as playing directly into the hands of the men who so largely control the market situation in this State now. I cannot speak too strongly on this matter, for I know whereof I speak as a result of the time and work I have given to investigating this subject during the past year.

Your news article regarding my letter says—inadvertently, I am sure—that I am against the creation of a State Printing Department at Albany. In my letter to Mr. Root I took exactly the opposite position. I think there should be a State Printing Department and that no further perquisites in the way of printing should be granted to the Albany printing ring.

You suggest in the closing paragraph of your editorial that perhaps I am opposed to the Constitution because it does not meet some of my preconceived views. I have preconceived views—strong ones—as to what the people of this State ought to have in the way of an up-to-date Constitution that will enable them to have a more efficient and economical Government, but for that very reason I purposely refrained from touching on what the Constitution omits that it ought to contain, and made no reference to my feeling that the convention failed to measure up to its great opportunity to give us a forward-looking and constructive Constitution. I simply confined myself to commenting on the Constitution as submitted.

GEORGE W. PERKINS.

New York, Oct. 28, 1915.

Representation.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Permit me to correct an error in your editorial of today headed "Question No. 2," wherein you say that "under the existing Constitution New York City can never have more than one-half of the State Senators, no matter how large its population may exceed that of up-State." That is incorrect. There is no such limitation. There are circumstances under which New York City, if it has more than half the population of the State, can have more than half the State Senators. The limitation which you have in mind is in Section 4 of Article 3 of the Constitution, and reads thus:

> No two counties or the territory thereof as organized on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, which are adjoining counties or which are separated only by public waters, shall have more than one-half of all the Senators.

It, therefore, only applies to two adjoining counties as they were on Jan. 1, 1895. The counties which it had in mind were New York and Kings. The population of Queens does not count in the limitation, nor does that of Richmond; nor, although the Bronx was then a part of New York County, does that part of the Bronx count which was the annexed district, for it was joined to old New York County after Jan. 1, 1895. Under the State Constitution Senators are apportioned according to citizen population. The citizen population of Kings, New York, and the Bronx is 3,432,484, according to the census taken this year. The total citizen population of the State is 8,151,692; therefore Kings, New York, and the Bronx have less than 42 per cent. of the population, and that is even including in the Bronx the annexed district. This limitation never has applied, and so far as figures teach anything, never will apply. Even though this phantom limitation will continue, if the vote on Question No. 2 is no, it was submitted separately because the convention had already had a taste of the amount of ignorance, misstatement and buncombe political talk that it gives rise to. The people of the City of New York should bear in mind that the Constitutional Convention voted down a proposition to extend this limitation to the whole City of New York, which would have been a real limitation.

HERBERT PARSONS.

New York, Oct. 28, 1915.

Old Names for New Battleships.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The battle cruisers which it is proposed to add to our navy will be ships of remarkable tonnage, speed and armament, and, therefore, should be given names recalling and perpetuating our best naval traditions. The present system of naming battleships after States, cruisers after cities, and destroyers after officers, preserves a logical proportion between the size of every ship and the associations connected with its name. As obsolete craft are condemned and relegated to the scrap heap, the names that they have helped to make famous are often perpetuated by transfer to new vessels, some of our present ships being the third or fourth of the line. It is greatly to be regretted that our most remarkable frigates, which carried the flag of the new nation to Turkey, Barbary, China, and Japan, and showed their superiority to everything of their class and day, should have had as yet no namesakes. Secretary Daniels would do well to remember the Constitution, Constellation, United States, President, Congress, and others when considering appropriate designations for the battle cruisers.

ALBERT I. STYLES.

New York, Oct. 25, 1915.

Muzzles on Their Necks.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

When S. Dana Hubbard of the Health Department says that the department muzzles dogs so they cannot bite, what does he mean, so they cannot bite off their own muzzles? They can bite anything else if they want to. I have seen them chewing their muzzles, which is possible, because many dog owners merely hang the muzzles around the neck of their dog. If there ever was a legally enacted joke it is the present muzzling ordinance. That is one reason we have so little hydrophobia; the dogs simply can't get mad about it.

W. J. L.

New York, Oct. 25, 1915.

Attention of Mrs. Catt.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Mrs. Catt's protest in this morning's TIMES would indicate that she desires another disclaimer. We repeat that we disclaim altogether the implication she makes from the leaflet referred to. It was never intended to imply anything of the sort. We know very well that many of the women who desire the vote are noble women whose purposes are entirely honorable. We have never asserted anything to the contrary.

EVERETT P. WHEELER,
Chairman Man-Suffrage Association.

New York, Oct. 28, 1915.

A WIDER THRESHOLD FOR IMMIGRANTS.

The United States Supreme Court Denies Ellis Island the Authority to Exclude Them on Economic Suppositions.

By MAX J. KOHLER.

New York, Oct. 27, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The United States Supreme Court has decided, in the case of Ali Geglow and another (Russian Ossetes from the Caucasus region) against Uhl, Acting Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island, that our immigration authorities are not authorized to take into account alleged industrial conditions in the place to which the immigrant is destined, in their supposed relations to immigrants becoming a public charge, thus reversing a recent practice of the immigration authorities, sustained in a decision of the United States District Court, (Judge Lacombe writing,) and of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, (Judges Coxe and Rogers, with Judge Ward dissenting,) and admitted these immigrants into the United States.

The immigrants in question arrived at Ellis Island in January, 1914, and were young men, farm laborers, of fine physique, having $25 and $40, respectively, in cash. They had paid their own passage money and had railroad tickets to Portland, Ore., where the one had an uncle and the other a friend desirous of helping them to get employment and of aiding them meantime. On the basis of alleged recent newspaper reports, unproduced and unidentified, the immigration authorities assumed that many people were out of work at Portland, and that this would make it improbable that these immigrants, farm laborers, could get work, and, accordingly, that they were likely to become public charges; said assumptions were not called to the attention of the immigrants before their exclusion, and they were thus deprived of an opportunity to controvert the same by analysis or proof.

On behalf of the immigrants, it was argued in the United States Supreme Court by Morris Jablow and myself (with Messrs. Abram I. Elkus and Ralph Barnett joining us in the briefs) that Congress had not intended to grant authority to consider such alleged industrial conditions to the immigration officials, and that there was no machinery for gathering such information in reliable form or promptly, nor were the $1,800 a year inspectors competent to decide such difficult economic questions. It was furthermore pointed out that the constant use of the phrase "likely to become a public charge," in the immigration laws for many years, repeatedly re-enacted, as authoritatively construed by the executive officers and the courts, was fatal to such assumption of power by the immigration authorities. It was also urged that immigrants are themselves disposed to depart from the place to which they are originally destined, if economic conditions are bad there, and that such course is aided by the Government's own Information Division, and private charities, like the Industrial Removal Office, so that conditions in the place to which they were originally destined, where their relatives and friends reside, are not very material, especially as conditions vary so much in different industries, even at the same time and place, and are so largely dependent on the willingness and ability of the immigrant to undertake particular work, as illustrated by the recent New York Subway building incident. It was furthermore pointed out that such considerations are really unnecessary, as immigration is largely automatically responsive to industrial conditions, falling off in bad times, like our panic of 1907-08, and then even resulting in heavily increased emigration of aliens already residing here. Moreover, in the case in question, due process of determining these issues was denied the immigrants. These views were adopted by the United States Supreme Court in an able opinion by Mr. Justice Holmes. In the course of the opinion it is said:

> • • • It would be an amazing argument for immigration officials to refuse admission to the United States because the labor market in the United States was overburdened, and yet that would be more reasonable than refusal to admit because of reported conditions in one city.

The controversy involved has been ripe for several years, the right to take such matters into account being one of several new doctrines injected into the immigration law administration by ex-Commissioner Williams's fiat at Ellis Island in 1909, and which has led to oppressive illegal exclusions in particular cases occasionally since. Though Congress had refused to establish a $25 cash qualification for immigrants, Mr. Williams ruled that absence of this would generally make the alien inadmissible, and applied the rule retroactively to persons who had left Europe before its promulgation.

In December, 1913, Inspectors spread upon their records such alleged industrial conditions as their ground for excluding some Russian immigrants at Seattle, and Judge Neterer admitted the immigrants in habeas corpus proceedings on Jan. 27, 1914, for the reason that this was no authorized ground for exclusion, in ex parte Gregory, 210 Federal Reporter, 680, but his decision was reversed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting in California, in May, 1914, on the ground that the act restricting judicial review prevented the courts from inquiring "into the sufficiency of probative facts, or consider the reasons for conclusions reached by the officers."

Meantime the present case arose, and Judge Lacombe dismissed the writ of habeas corpus on the ground that Inspectors may exclude immigrants on mere inspection, and that, even though the record failed to contain any adverse medical certificate, or any notation of anything unfavorable in the appearance of the immigrant, the courts could not hold that exclusion was not based on such ground (211 Fed. Rep., 238.) This decision was affirmed in the Circuit Court of Appeals by a vote of two to one, (215 Fed. Rep., 578,) partly on this ground, and partly on the ground that the immigration authorities were not restricted to sworn testimony in considering such economic conditions even though courts of law could not assume them without proof.

The majority of that court further intimated that unfamiliarity with languages generally spoken here was an affirmative disability, though this is the condition of millions of immigrants residing here, and also ignored the proffers of aid from resident relatives and friends, on Mr. Williams's theory that they were not legally obligated to support the immigrants. The United States Supreme Court issued a certiorari to review this decision, and now has reversed the lower courts and the immigration authorities on these important questions.

MAX J. KOHLER.

THE OFFENDING DITCH.

Mr. Landon, Member for Dutchess County, Denounces the Canal.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Will you in all fairness allow me to put before the people, through your paper, the following figures as to this canal referendum, so little understood? These figures are from the departments of the State:

Canal referendum of 1903	$101,000,000
Canal referendum of 1909	7,000,000
Canal referendum for terminals, 1911	19,800,000
Appropriated by the Legislature of 1915 to complete outstanding contracts	3,500,000
For new bridges, &c., not upkeep, appropriated out of the general fund, over	3,000,000
Improvements started about 1897	9,000,000
	$170,800,000
	[$143,300,000]

And will this amount complete it? That no man can answer, but, following former appropriations, I would state almost as a certainty that $200,000,000 will be expended before the present work is completed.

And again, There is on file in Albany claims against the canal amounting to over $59,000,000. It is not for one moment thought that this full amount will be paid, but the question naturally arises, how many more claims will be filed before the work is finished? That is also a question no man can answer.

A generation ago no debt. Today the largest of any State in the Union. Why? For two causes, the canals and good roads. But the difference in these two propositions is vast. Every one uses the roads; but a limited few the canals. On the roads a toll, called a license, is collected, while collecting tolls on the canals is prohibited by the Constitution. The debt contracted for good roads is for the benefit of every citizen of the State, and the time is coming when the licenses will maintain the entire cost of good roads. The debt contracted for the canals is a pure and simple subsidy, paid to one carrier to the distinct detriment of another, unfair as it is unjust. Is it possible that the people will vote away more millions for this project, likened to Dr. Jerkyl [sic] and Mr. Hyde, believed by some to have been and to be the most wonderful and beneficial project of many generations, known to be by others the ditch in which many great ambitions and much graft lies buried.

FRANCIS G. LANDON.

Member of Assembly, Dutchess County.

New York, Oct. 26, 1915.

Hear an Average Woman!

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In THE TIMES I read that the suffrage parade yesterday was "interrupted by traffic." Why not say that traffic was interrupted by the parade? I tried for more than half an hour before I was able to cross Fifth Avenue to do a necessary errand, and gave up in despair when I tried to get back to the subway. Taxicabs were stalled on Forty-second Street, unable to take their passengers to trains at Grand Central, and all drivers greatly inconvenienced.

Why not have the line of march for parades up Riverside Drive, where there is no traffic to disturb or be disturbed?

AN AVERAGE WOMAN.

New York, Oct. 24, 1915.

What Yellow Means.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your delightful editorial on the suffrage parade you speak of yellow, the chosen suffrage color, as the badge of mourning, also of hope. But perhaps you will find a better illustration in the old English rhyme:

Green is forsaken,
And yellow forsworn!
But blue is the sweetest
Color that's worn.

Chappaqua, N. Y., Oct. 24, 1915. S. L.

A REPLY TO DR. HORNADAY.

The Advantage of Giving a Commission Jurisdiction Over Wild Life.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have read with surprise Dr. William T. Hornaday's letter to you of the 23th inst. It shows so much feeling on the subject of the conservation article in the new Constitution that we cannot expect him to be entirely reasonable. He makes two definite statements only:

First, the proposed new nine-headed Conservation Commission, covering the taking, possession, sale and transportation of New York's fish game, &c., is revolutionary.

Second, it is a scheme full of danger to the wild life of the State.

He gives no reason for these statements. But the proposed nine-headed commission is not revolutionary. The plan proposed is to give the commission of nine powers of initiation to enact regulations, subject to the veto of the Governor and modification by the Legislature.

Essentially, this is the same system which is in existence, except that the Legislature now has the power of initiation. The Legislature now gives to the Conservation Commission the power to make rules and regulations and the Conservation Commission has made rules and regulations. If the Legislature is not satisfied with the rules and regulations which the Conservation Commission has made, it has power to modify them by passage of new acts, and these acts are subject to executive veto.

This interference of the Legislature with the acts of the commission caused a widespread demand on the part of the sportsmen of the State to have the power of initial regulation placed in a body better qualified than the Legislature to consider the subject.

Such a plan was proposed to the convention by Arthur J. Baldwin, but the convention amended it by giving the Governor the power to veto

MISS CECILE THAYER WEDS IN COUNTRY

The Bride of Douglas Gibbons at Her Parents' Home at Lawrence, L. I.

HER SISTERS ATTENDANTS

Ceremony Held in Drawing Room Decorated with Chrysanthemums and Autumnal Foliage.

The wedding of Miss Cecile Tesson Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thayer of 46 East Seventy-ninth Street, and Douglas Gibbons, son of Mrs. John F. Gibbons of 341 Madison Avenue, was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the country home of the bride's parents, at Lawrence, L. I.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert P. Darrell in the drawing room, which was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and autumnal foliage.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a gown of ivory satin, with a Court train depending from the shoulders, the gown being veiled in tulle. Her veil of tulle was edged with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses, and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sisters, the Misses Marie R. Thayer, a débutante of last season, and Alice R. Thayer, who has not yet been presented to society. They wore frocks similar in design, of yellow tulle trimmed with gold lace, and hats of gold lace, topped with bows of yellow chiffon. They each carried an armful of yellow roses.

There were no ushers. L. Wallis Gibbons acted as best man for his brother. A large reception followed the ceremony. A special train carried the guests from town.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons left later on an extended honeymoon, and on their return they will live at 4 West Fifty-third Street.

Their engagement was announced last July. Mr. Gibbons is a graduate of Yale University, class of '06, and is one of the Governors of the Yale Club.

FETE FOR FRENCH WOUNDED

Society Attends Fashion Revue at the Ritz—Prominent Artists Aid.

Society was well represented last night at the opening of the Charity Fashion Fête and Bazar at the Ritz-Carlton, given for the benefit of the wounded French soldiers. The fête is being held under the auspices of the French Wounded Emergency Fund, and was arranged under the direction of Miss Anne Morgan, who is the Chairman of the Vacation War Relief Committee, and Mrs. Ethelbert Nevin, Chairman of the French War Emergency Fund.

Many dinners preceded the affair, which started at 9 o'clock with a fashion revue of costumes and gowns donated by well-known importers and dressmakers, and was followed by a musical program. Between the numbers there was general dancing. The artists who appeared were Miss Elsie Janis, Miss Betty Lee, Maurice Farkoa, and Melville Ellis.

Articles were for sale at the various booths in the foyer. There was an exhibition of toys and fancy articles made by French artists, and recently brought to this country by Harry B. Lachman; dolls dressed by the young women of the Washington Irving and Wadleigh High Schools were on sale at another booth, and garments made by the unemployed girls of this city for the needy abroad were also on sale.

The young society girls and debutantes who sold programs, flowers, and novelties were the Misses May Moulton, Mary Stevens Chapin, Elsie Stevens, Isabella B. Taylor, Edith Mackaye, Louise Hoadley, Marion Tiffany, Elizabeth Harrison, Doris Nevin, Marion Hall, Constance Peabody, Blanche Tyng, Dorothy Haight, and Frances M. Ward.

Dancing and supper followed the revue and entertainments.

Among the patronesses, many of whom were present, were: Mrs. Henry Lloyd Aspinwall, Mrs. Joseph S. Auerbach, Mrs. Francis McNeil Bacon, Jr., Mrs. Rogers H. Bacon, Mrs. Donn Barber, Mrs. Walter Phelps Dodge, Miss Grace Bigelow, Mrs. Wilbur A. Bloodgood, Mrs. William H. Bliss, Mrs. James Byrne, Mrs. Frederick Y. Dalziel, Mrs. Walter Damrosch, Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, Mrs. Charles Henry Coster, Mrs. Paul D. Cravath, Duchesse de Chaulnes, Mrs. Walter B. James, Mrs. F. Gray Griswold, Mrs. Henry Phipps, Mrs. John Ellis Roosevelt, Mrs. Charles A. Post, Mrs. Charles H. Ditson, Mrs. John R. Drexel, Mrs. Lyttleton Fox, Mrs. R. Horace Gallatin, Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, Mrs. Edwin Gould, Mrs. William R. Hamilton, Mrs. Otto Kahn, Mrs. Havemeyer, Mrs. Francis Burrall Hoffman, Mrs. Edward S. Harkness, Mrs. Charles R. Huntington, Mrs. Joseph P. Knapp, Mrs. Daniel S. Lamont, the Countess Jean de la Greze, Mrs. Lewis Cass Ledyard, Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. Robert S. Minturn, Miss Elizabeth Marbury, Mrs. Casimir de Rham Moore, Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan, Mrs. Frederic Neilson, Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs, Mrs. Frederick Pearson, Mrs. Benjamin Nicoll, Mrs. Richard A. Peabody, Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. Norrie Sellar, Mrs. W. Watts Sherman, Mrs. Charles Steele, Mrs. Thomas L. Talmage, and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt.

The second and last session of the fête will be held this evening.

MISS HURRY A BRIDE.

Weds Robert Beaver Smith in Church of the Epiphany.

The wedding of Robert Beaver Smith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Smith of Brooklyn, and Miss Dorothy Whiteside Hurry, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hurry, was celebrated at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Epiphany, Lexington Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street, by the Rev. William Crocker, the rector of the church. Vases of white chrysanthemums and tree palms decorated the altar and chancel sides.

The bride walked with her father, and he gave her in marriage. She wore a white satin frock made with a straight, full skirt and wide folded girdle from which bretelles formed of satin folds went over the shoulders, and on each shoulder was placed a flat double bow of satin, from under which started the white tulle elbow sleeves edged with pearls. Point lace and chiffon formed the rest of the corsage, which was cut square and there was a satin train over which fell a full tulle veil and over this in turn fell an old point lace veil also worn by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Hurry, when she married Lawrence Swift and by her mother. It was held with orange blossoms. Her flowers were white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss May P. Atkinson of Atlanta, Ga., was the maid of honor and wore a pale pink velvet and tulle frock, the velvet used in panel effect in both corsage and skirt in the centre back and front. Flounces of pink tulle, edged with velvet, finished the sides, and the low corsage was of tulle bound with velvet, and the cap sleeves of tulle were finished with double tulle ruffles, bound with velvet, that came to the elbows. Her silver lace hat was wreathed with pink buds and roses, made of satin, and her flowers were a large bouquet of pink roses.

Little Miss Mary Lawrence Swift, 4 years old, a niece of the bride and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swift, was the flower girl. She wore a white frock topped by a shirred pink velvet hat trimmed with ermine tails and carried a tray laden with roses, suspended by ribbons from her shoulders.

Mr. Smith had his brother, Thomas B. Smith, as his best man, and the ushers were Lawrence Haines, Roger Bamber, John A. Hartford, and Lawrence Swift.

A small reception followed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hurry, 242 Lexington Avenue. Mrs. Hurry, who received, wore a purple velvet and chiffon frock topped by a purple hat, and Mrs. Lawrence Swift, who also received, wore a silvery blue taffeta opening over a petticoat of silver lace and topped by a black velvet hat. Mr. Smith and his bride have gone South on their honeymoon and on their return after Dec. 1 will live at 118 East Fifty-fourth Street.

WEDDING SURPRISES ANNIVERSARY GUESTS

Marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Connor's Adopted Daughter Told at Golden Celebration.

While Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Connor of 448 Riverside Drive were preparing for the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, which took place at the Hotel Astor last night, their adopted daughter, Miss Elizabeth Louise Follmer, was preparing for an event of similar nature which should come as a surprise to the older couple. And so when the Rev. Father Dooley finished pronouncing his benedict on for Mr. and Mrs. Connor he turned to the guests and announced that Miss Follmer had just been married to Frederick Augustus Bryden, a Chicago artist, in the Little Church Around the Corner.

The Connors and their guests stood amazed at the news, for it was not expected that Miss Follmer would wed Mr. Bryden until Thanksgiving Eve, and as they stood there in walked the new bride and her husband to receive the congratulations of everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. Connor were married fifty years ago in Springfield by the Rev. Dr. Zabell, and it was hoped that he would be present last night to perform another ceremony, but the old clergyman was not considered strong enough to make the trip from Springfield, and so a telegram from him to the Connors was read.

WEDDED BY QUAKER RITUAL.

L. H. Wood Marries Miss Underhill in Old Meeting House in Jericho.

For the first time in fifty years the old Quaker Meeting House in Jericho, L. I., was the scene of a wedding yesterday afternoon when Miss Helen Underhill, daughter of S. J. Underhill, became the bride of L. Hollingsworth Wood. The ceremony was a simple one, and the old Quaker ritual was used. According to the custom there were no bridal attendants, and the bride wore a frock of white satin, with no veil, and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Ex-Congressman William W. Cocks of Old Westbury, L. I., took part in the ceremony, and Rufus Jones of Haverford, Penn., and Joseph A. Baker, a member of the British Parliament, delivered addresses. More than 150 guests signed the register as witnesses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride in Jericho, and the couple left later on their honeymoon. Mr. Wood is a lawyer in Mount Kisco, N. Y., and is the Secretary of the League for the Limitation of Armament and is President of the Howard Orphanage.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Wood will make their home in Mount Kisco.

Miss Walling to Wed Lieut. Spore.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Grace Walling, daughter of Commander Burns Tracy Walling, United States Navy, retired, and Mrs. Walling of 423 Lincoln Avenue, Orange, N. J., to Lieut. Sutherland Spore, United States Navy, who is attached to the Arkansas, now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Lieut. Spore is a graduate from the Naval Academy, Class of 1900. Miss Walling is a graduate of the Bradley Heights Seminary, and is granddaughter of the late Capt. Robert Boyd, United States Navy.

AUTO INJURES POLICEMAN.

Hits Him as He Leads His Horse Along Pelham Parkway.

Mounted Policeman Henry Murphy of the Westchester Station was struck by an automobile early today on Pelham Parkway, near Eastchester Road. The car was driven by Charles A. Aboudouin, 21 years old, a chemist, said to be the son of a wealthy resident of Quaker Ridge Avenue, New Rochelle. Aboudouin took Murphy to the police station and was locked up on a charge of reckless driving until bailed out by his father.

Murphy was found to be suffering from bruises, contusions, and possible internal injuries, and was taken to Fordham Hospital. The car driven by Aboudouin also contained Ruth and Marian Leon of New Rochelle, and a man whose name the police did not learn. They said they had been at the Woodmanston Inn and were on the way home.

The patrolman was leading his horse when he was struck by the automobile. The horse bolted, but did not run far.

EXAMINE F-4 RELICS.

Navy Bureau Chiefs Study Board of Inquiry's Report.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary Daniels has referred to his Advisory Council the report of the Naval Board of Inquiry as to the loss of the submarine F-4 near the entrance to Honolulu Harbor last Spring.

The report was accompanied by fragments of the wreck of the F-4, which are being examined by the Bureau Chiefs of the Navy Department, to whom the Board of Inquiry's report has been referred. Secretary Daniels will obtain the views of these Bureau Chiefs before taking any action other than withdrawing the other F-type submarines from active service.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Governor Whitman was a member of a box party that saw the performance of "The House of Glass" at the Candler Theatre last night.

Donald MacDonald has been added to the cast that will appear in E. A. Weil's production of the musical play, "A Bare Idea."

When "Experience" is presented at the Standard next week William Elliott will assume again the character of Youth, which he created when the play was first acted last season.

The Harvard football squad and the students who will go to Princeton for the game next week from tomorrow will see Ned Wayburn's "Town Topics" Saturday night at the Century on their way back to Cambridge.

Shirley Kellogg, an American actress who has been appearing in the revues at the London Hippodrome for several years, has arranged a benefit to be held in that playhouse Nov. 9 as a memorial to Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse who was shot as a spy in Belgium. The names of the King and Queen and of Rudyard Kipling are included in the list of patrons.

The name of the new B. S. Moss Theatre, in course of construction in Bayridge, Brooklyn, has been changed from the Washington to the Park. It will have a seating capacity of 2,000 and will play vaudeville and feature pictures.

The chorus of "Hip, Hip, Hooray" will take part in the Sunday night concert at the Hippodrome. The soloists with Sousa's Band will be Sidonia Spero, soprano; Orville Harrold and Belle Storey.

So many women have expressed a desire to have their husbands see the Twilight Sleep pictures that the 9:30 o'clock showings at the Park tonight, tomorrow, and Sunday will be exclusively for men.

Another Douglas Fairbanks picture will be shown next week at the Knickerbocker. It is a film version of Herbert Quick's novel, "Double Trouble."

Mrs. J. W. Alexander, assisted by Miss Helen Cooper, will direct the fashion show on ice to be held Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the St. Nicholas Rink. There will be a series of six of these shows, each being devoted to a particular type of outing apparel.

To and From Europe.

Some of those booked to sail today for Glasgow via Liverpool on the Tuscania are:

J. A. Cameron, A. W. Cliffe, C. L. Clifford, H. Haley, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hughes, J. Humphreys, H. S. Montgomery, W. F. C. Miles, Miss E. M. Nicholls, Richard Phillips, William Reed, E. T. Stebbing, F. E. Staffo d, and J. Taylor.

Among the passengers who arrived yesterday from Liverpool on the Adriatic were:

J. R. Allan, Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Allison, D. Boyle, Mrs. Malcolm Carter, J. De Chamblain, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Drennan, L. G. Futh, W. A. Goode, Sir Henry and Lady Hawey, Sydney Mansfield, R. S. Sievier, Miss M. H. M. Sievier, W. Curtis Thomson, E. Wilson, W. Wiseman, Alexander C. Wood, Captain and Mrs. Granville Fortescue.

JAPANESE SOPRANO SINGS BUTTERFLY

Tiny Tamaki Miura Makes Her New York Debut with Boston Opera Company.

HER PERSONALITY CHARMS

But Her Voice in the Lower Ranges Is Seldom Good—Is She an Artist or a Curiosity?

The first appearance of Tamaki Miura, the Japanese soprano of the Boston Opera Company, which occurred last night at the Manhattan Opera House, her vehicle being the title rôle of Puccini's "Madama Butterfly," apparently provoked something like the public interest that had been expected, for the house was well filled and the audience showed many signs of being in good humor over the production.

Mme. Miura is a tiny woman, but she brought with her on the stage as an invisible burden some great issues, at least for the person who likes to fancy he has a serious turn of mind. Here was a large opera company, with all modern accessories, turned over for the evening to the uses of one woman just because she happened to have been born in the country where an Italian librettist and an Italian composer had set a story. Mixed up with the question was the matter of an Oriental singing in an alien tongue, appearing in a European opera, even though the two schools are as different as the earth and Mars, and as a basis for it all was the primary question: Is Mme. Miura an artist or merely a curiosity? One might be tempted to throw in for good measure, What is art? in order to round out nicely an evening of abstract speculation.

The brief interval between the close of an opera performance and the time when a newspaper goes to press allows for no more than an incomplete statement of these issues, let alone a solution of them. So some statements of fact will have to suffice.

In the first place, and most important, Mme. Miura is a personality. She is a mite of a woman and she has the grace and form necessary for a combination which would win any audience's heart, irrespective of its brain. Then she showed herself an actress of real gift. Her Butterfly is in the first act a child delighted with the prospect of a new game to play; she succeeds in showing the pathos of a woman whose faith is questioning but still firm in the second act, and the victim of disillusion in the last. These things are done interestingly, appealingly, and expertly, according to our standards, but they succeed because Mme. Miura is different, not because she is a great actress.

On the vocal side of the facts are that if an American or European sang the music as she sang it the singer would not be considered a satisfactory artist. Mme. Miura's voice in the lower ranges is seldom good and often unpleasant. Her high tones are good, but they get some of their value by contrast with the others. In the latter half of the opera her voice improved.

All these considerations, however, are swept aside by the fact that the little Japanese woman excited the preliminary interest of curiosity, that she had a charm of personality sufficient to capture her audience's sympathy, and that she was artist enough to justify the interest. One cannot think of her singing another operatic rôle, nor does it seem likely one would care to hear her repeatedly, but the first hearing was an interesting and out-of-the-way experience.

The real hero of the performance last night was Agide Jacchia, the conductor. It was his task to subdue the orchestra to the measure of the chief singer's voice, to prompt her musically, and to supply the purely musical interest that she could not. He not only triumphed over these difficulties, but provided a performance that was intrinsically of real merit, testifies to his ability.

The singing of the other members of the cast was of the best order. Riccardo Martin, who has been heard as Pinkerton in the part of Pinkerton at the Metropolitan, made his first appearance with the company as the American officer. Both vocally and as an actor he seemed to excel his previous efforts in this part and made it stand out. The Sharpless of Thomas Chalmers was unusually fine piece of work. Apparently this young baritone is justifying the promise his appearances with the Century Company made for him.

The Suzuki of Elvira Leveroni was excellent, and Paolo Ananian, lately of the Metropolitan, where he had done principally "character" parts that concealed the fact that he had a bass voice of some quality and volume, which has been discovered during the past week, made a worthy contribution as the Bonze.

After the opera, Mlle. Pavlowa, Alexandre Volinine, and the ballet gave a performance of "Snow Flakes," from Tschaikowsky's "Nut Cracker" ballet that was greatly admired. Adolph Schmid again conducted this capably.

WEDDED AT HOTEL BILTMORE.

Dr. Abraham Hyman Marries Miss Belle Davis—The Attendants.

The marriage of Miss Belle Davis of Erie, Penn., and Dr. Abraham Hyman of 40 East Forty-first Street took place last evening at 6 o'clock at the Hotel Biltmore. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Max Currick of Erie, and was followed by a dinner.

Mrs. David Feifer was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Marion Ullman of New Haven, Conn., and Melba Chon of Chicago. Little Desiree Feifer was the flower girl.

Louis Hyman was best man. Harold Davis of Erie and Phil Hyman of this city acted as ushers.

Later the couple left for California on their honeymoon, and will reside in New York on their return. Dr. Hyman is connected with the surgical staffs of Mount Sinai and Lebanon Hospitals.

The Haslett Wedding.

The approaching marriage of Miss Chaunces Depew Haslett, the second daughter of C. W. Haslett, Democratic nominee for Mayor, and Mrs. Haslett, and John Earl Christman of Coalton was made known Monday. Mr. Haslett's invitations read as follows:

"You are cordially invited to be present on the evening of Sept. 1, 1915, at the celebration of the culmination of my dreams, to grow two blades of grass where one formerly grew, and the completion of my ideas of a sanitary dairy barn. After a long siege of three years in construction, it is now ready for your inspection.

"Immediately thereafter the marriage of my daughter, Chaunces, to Earl Christman of Coalton will take place on the front steps."—Welleston (Ohio) Telegram.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mrs. Joseph Clendenin of Ardsley-on-Hudson has been obliged to recall the invitations for the reception and dance which she was to have given tomorrow at her home for her débutante daughter, Miss Genevieve Clendenin, owing to a death in the family.

Mrs. Harold Brown is giving a ball on the night of Jan. 6 for her niece, Miss Audrey Hoffman, daughter by a former marriage of Mrs. Norrie Sellar. Miss Hoffman is a granddaughter of the late W. Watts Sherman.

Miss Edith Deacon, who has been at the Ritz-Carlton with Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Amory of Boston, has gone to Hicksville, L. I., to stay with Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Pope.

Mr. and Mrs. Connor Lawrence, (Miss Diantha Fitch,) who were married on Wednesday, are at the Vanderbilt, and will go later to the Virginia Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Gunther, who have been at their camp in Maine, have returned to their home, 375 Park Avenue.

The annual autumnal ball is to be given tonight at the Tuxedo Clubhouse, at which many of the débutantes of the coming season will be seen. Many dinners are being given preceding the ball.

MISS MAY PETERSON SINGS.

Young American Soprano Gives a Recital in Aeolian Hall.

The name of Miss May Peterson is not well known to New York, even though it is that of an American and has recently belonged to the roster of the sopranos of the Opéra Comique of Paris. At her recital in Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon she was listened to as a newcomer, who immediately created a predisposition in her favor by a charming appearance and manner, and confirmed it in increasing measure as her recital proceeded by the disclosure of a voice and style of unusual beauty and a truly artistic nature. Miss Peterson is young and her voice has youthful freshness and brilliancy. Its texture is well equalized throughout its range. Its timbre is often of great inherent beauty and sympathetic quality, and she possesses the means of expressing varied emotions and sentiment by felicitous variation of its color. It can hardly be said that her vocal technique is of the highest finish or perfection; occasional departures from the pitch in her singing are doubtless attributable to certain unprofitable ways of approaching her tones, and in certain florid passages of the aria, "Ah, che Assisa a ciel felice," from Mozart's "Il Seraglio," she showed that there is still something to be improved in this branch of her art. But she has skill in many ways, taste, intelligence, and appreciation of style. In music of the older period she sang an "Alleluja," by Mozart, with brilliancy and élan, and Handel's aria, "Care Selve," from the opera of "Atalanta," with breadth of phrase and sustained power.

She was even more successful in music of the modern types, and she was highly successful in capturing and expressing a wide range of mood and spirit in German Lieder and modern French and American songs. She was most so in a beautiful song, "In einem Garten," by the unfortunate Erich Wolff, full of a sombre rapture; music not indeed wholly original on account of its reminiscence of the prelude to the third act of "Tristan," but of searching poignancy which Miss Peterson fully realized in her interpretation, and she was called upon to repeat it. She sang it, too, with an equal success the right expression for her group of French songs, and there was a great charm in her singing of Rhéné-Baton's "Il faut des pétales de fleurs" and Koechlin's "Aux temps des Fées," both of which she sang again. In all these her finished diction and her admirable phrasing were in evidence. Victor Harris played her accompaniments in an artistic and sympathetic manner.

WILDE PLAYED IN GERMAN.

"An Ideal Husband" Ably Presented at the Irving Place.

A skillful and highly enjoyable performance of "Ein idealer Gatte"—"Komödie in 4 Akten von Oskar Wilde"—was given last evening by the competent stock company resident at the Deutsches Theatre in Irving Place. It was the first Wilde play to be presented at that theatre since the days of Conried.

"An Ideal Husband," which has not been played in New York for many seasons and has been infrequently revived for the London stage, would probably be named by most critics as third or fourth best of the four comedies by Oscar Wilde, although, it is interesting to note, a distinguished if somewhat too Teutonic commentator on the English drama recently gave it first place.

In the present revival the leading rôle, that of the supremely urbane Lord Goring, falls to Arnold Korff, the gifted recruit who has lately come to Irving Place from Milwaukee—by way of Vienna. He plays with intelligence, gayety, and distinction, although the vigor of his performance in the exceedingly dramatic third act ruffles considerably the serenity, the impeccable composure, which belongs by right to the Lord Goring of Wilde's imagination. Unfortunately, Jennie Valliere plays Mrs. Chevely as the conventional, melodramatic adventuress of the "Great Scene" type, but Annie Rub-Foerster makes much of Lady Chiltern by touching that thankless rôle with a childlike naïvete.

The German translation takes liberties with the English text only in trifles, and, while there have been overlooked several opportunities to remove signs of age accumulated in twenty years, there is one point in the first act where a facetious reference by Wilde to German music is neatly turned into a pretty and unintended compliment.

TENOR AND BASSO IN ROW.

De Primo is Summoned to Court for an Assault Upon Ananian.

Zanco de Primo, a tenor with the Boston Grand Opera Company, now playing at the Manhattan Opera House, was served at his hotel last night, in company with his secretary, with a summons for an action for assault on Paolo Ananian, a basso of the same company. The case will be heard in the Yorkville Court this morning at an hour which caused consternation last night among the attaches of the opera company who have been called as witnesses.

The assault out of which the action comes occurred last Monday afternoon in the office of Max Rabinoff, Managing Director of the company, in the Metropolitan Opera House Studio Building. Ananian complains that de Primo is erratic, and that when he made an inoffensive, innocent remark the tenor did not like, the latter threatened him with a walking stick, causing his precipitate retreat into another room.

Those in the office at the time say that Ananian did not stay in the inner office long, and when he emerged made another remark, which de Primo did not consider inoffensive. Thereupon, it is said, both de Primo and his secretary attacked the basso, inflicting several blows. The combatants were parted by Max Hirsch, the company manager of the concern, and departed separately, vowing vengeance.

WHITE RATS TO EXPAND.

Plans for Extending Scope to be Announced at Mass Meeting.

The White Rats have issued 4,000 invitations to actors for a mass meeting to be held at the clubhouse next week at which the plans for extending the scope and enlarging the membership of the organization will be announced. Following the meeting Harry Mountford will start on a tour of the country on which he will visit the largest cities and address the players. It is estimated there are 45,000 legitimate, film, and vaudeville players eligible to membership in the organization since the membership qualifications were changed to include all branches of the profession.

It has been decided to reinstate former members delinquent in their dues upon payment of six months' dues. All other obligations will then be canceled.

Frederic Martin's Recital.

Frederic Martin, bass, who has been heard in New York and admired as an oratorio singer most accomplished in the traditions of that style, gave a song recital last evening in Aeolian Hall. His program included "old classics," in which it was something of a strain to include Verdi and Gounod, classical and modern German Lieder, modern songs in English, among which were several by Americans; and songs in French. Mr. Martin's voice is not of remarkable richness, smoothness, or beauty of quality, but he has an unusual freedom and spontaneity of delivery, and a clearness of diction, especially in English, that makes a reference to the book of words almost superfluous. In his English group was Sir Edward Elgar's stirring song, "The Pipes of Pan," which Mr. Martin sang with great spirit and gusto. He was efficiently accompanied on the piano by Charles Gilbert Spross.

Miss Gertrude Newcombe Engaged.

Charles M. Newcombe of 225 West Eighty-sixth Street, announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Gertrude Manby Newcombe, to Francis F. Steers, formerly of Detroit. No date has been set for the wedding. Mr. Newcombe is the Treasurer of the New York Stock Exchange.

THE SHOP OF A THOUSAND BLOUSES—SAMPLE SUITS, COATS & DRESSES SPECIALLY PRICED for women of limited income. Fur trimmed Models: Sizes 16, 36 and 38. Startling Values. MAISON DE LUXE. Broadway & 22d St

NEW SEASON OPENED BY PHILHARMONIC

Mr. Stransky Again Directs the Orchestra in an Admirable Performance.

TWO NOVELTIES ON PROGRAM

McDowell's Poem, "Launcelot and Elaine," and Max Reger's Variations on Mozart Theme.

The Philharmonic Society began its seventy-fifth season last evening in Carnegie Hall. The orchestra shows a few new faces among its members, but it is the same orchestra and its playing had all the qualities that have been heard in the last seasons under Mr. Stansky's direction; it is a fine body of players and is capable of admirable work. The orchestra alone was heard in the first concert, and there was no soloist, as was fitting and proper. But there were two pieces on the program that were heard for the first time in New York: Edward MacDowell's symphonic poem, "Launcelot and Elaine," Op. 25, and Max Reger's Variations and Fugue on a theme by Mozart, op. 132.

MacDowell's symphonic poem was suggested by the episode in the Arthurian legends, best known through Tennyson's account in "The Idylls of the King." One of the analysts sees in it a portrayal of a number of "crucial incidents," which are enumerated; but the composer himself is known to have been averse to narrating details in music and affixing labels to them, and was disposed to wish his titles to be only a general suggestion to his listeners as to which way their fancy should turn. For this he has been reproved as only a half-hearted program-musician, but the uninstructed would find it difficult to recognize the crucial incidents in the music of "Launcelot and Elaine" as it is played. The music is characteristic of MacDowell in its general texture, in its turn of phrase and harmonic color, but it is by no means MacDowell at his strongest and best. The music is not vividly imaginative or strongly emotional in its quality; nor is its quality enhanced or intensified by a potent orchestral expression. The piece as it was played last evening is in a revised version of the orchestration, which is agreeable and finished in its style, but hardly stirring. It was heard with interest as one of the larger productions of its composer, hitherto unknown to most of its listeners, but it is not of a sort to enhance his reputation.

Max Reger's variations are one of the latest works which have in recent years flowed so copiously from his pen. The theme is one of the most familiar and one of the loveliest of Mozart's melodies, from his sonata in A, on which he himself wrote variations. Reger is most successful when he sticks closest to the theme, but several of the six variations he does stick quite closely. They are, in fact, not notable for the display of free and vigorous imagination, as, for instance, Reger himself shows in his earlier orchestral variations on a theme by J. A. Hiller. There are ingenious touches in the manipulation of the theme; they are hardly "marvelous," nor can the fugure in reason be called "colossal." It is in fact a somewhat pedestrian performance, built on a stiffly moving theme and not the supple and spontaneous utterance which is given double composition as the breath of life. There are some effective orchestral climaxes in it, and at the end the Mozartean theme is intoned in the midst of the fugal working, where it has a welcome sound. The fugue cannot bear comparison with the really "colossal" one that forms the finale of the Hiller variations.

The performance of both MacDowell's symphonic poem and Reger's variations was of excellent finish and sonority and carefully wrought in nuance. There was considerably less of these excellencies in the playing of the "Romeo et Juliette" music, where they are indispensable. The concert closed with Tschaikowsky's fourth symphony, one in which Mr. Stransky has often produced some of his most imposing effects.

TELLS SHERIFF OF GRAFT.

Grifenhagen and Citizens' Union Keep Up Correspondence.

Sheriff Max S. Grifenhagen received yesterday from William Jay Schieffelin, Chairman of the Citizens' Union, a letter replying to the Sheriff's previous request for information which would justify what the Sheriff terms the criticism of his office made by the Citizens' Union in connection with its indorsement of Alfred E. Smith. Chairman Schieffelin named two cases of alleged graft and extortion on the part of Deputy Sheriffs, and refers to another case where it is charged that there was undue delay in the execution of an order calling for the arrest of a judgment debtor.

Sheriff Grifenhagen sent a reply last night to Mr. Schieffelin, in which he denied that there has been any graft or other misconduct permitted under his administration, and called upon the Citizens' Union to be more specific in its charges.

Charles Walter Hand.

Charles Walter Hand, President of the Davis Oil Company of Brooklyn, and Vice President of the Underwood Typewriter Company, died yesterday of acute indigestion at his home, 457 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn. Mr. Hand was 59 years old and had been ill only an hour. He was born and educated in Honesdale, Penn. He studied law and was admitted to the bar at Scranton, Penn., and 1880 came to Brooklyn, where he became Manager of the Davis Oil Company. Mr. Hand was prominent in church work during his residence in Brooklyn. He was for twenty-five years Treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, a former President of the Board of Church Extension of the Presbtery of Brooklyn, and an elder of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Hand was also a Director of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities, a Trustee of McKenzie College, Sao Paulo, Brazil; President of the Point o' Woods Association of Great South Beach, L. I., and a member of the Lawyers' Club and the Downtown Association of Manhattan. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Anthony, wife of the Rev. Robert W. Anthony, Charlotte, Julia, and Dorothy Hand.

Col. Robert Hamilton McLean.

LAS ANIMAS, Col., Oct. 28.—Colonel Robert Hamilton McLean, former Commander of the Army of the Republic of Hawaii, who kept Queen Liliuokalani prisoner after the annexation, died today in the United States Naval Hospital.

He was born in Newark, N. J., and was in his sixty-eighth year. Colonel McLean was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1872 and served on the frigate New Jersey during the trouble with the Turks at Smyrna. After twenty years' service he resigned, and in 1895 was appointed by President Cleveland to reorganize the army of the newly-formed Republic of Hawaii. He received the rank of Colonel in the United States Army and succeded in his appointed task.

Drink and Be Sober
by VANCE THOMPSON author of
Eat and Grow Thin
AT ALL BOOKSTORES, $1.00 NET.

SIR THOMAS F. BUXTON DIES.

Ex-Governor of South Australia and Head of Anti-Slavery Society.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton, President of the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society and formerly Governor of South Australia, died today. He was born in 1837.

Sir Thomas was the third Baronet and was a Knight of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George. He was also Deputy Lieutenant and Justice of the Peace of Norfolk and Essex. Sir Thomas was educated at Eton and Harrow and at Trinity College, Cambridge. He was Member of Parliament from King's Lynn during 1865-68, Coonel of the Second Tower Hamlets Volunteers during 1864-83, and then became Honorary Colonel until 1903. He was also Verderer of Epping Forest. From 1895 until 1898 he was Governor of South Australia.

Sir Thomas was a member of the Athenaeum Club. He is survived by his wife, five daughters, and five sons, of whom the Hon. Thomas Fowell Victor Buxton is his heir.

CHAS. R. HUNTINGTON DEAD.

Retired Merchant Was a Member of Prominent Societies.

Charles Richards Huntington, a retired commission merchant, of 51 East Ninety-sixth Street, died yesterday in the Flower Hospital, in his sixty-ninth year.

He was born in Brooklyn, and was a son of the late Daniel Huntington, the artist, and Mrs. Harriet Sophia Richards Huntington. Mr. Huntington was educated at the school of Dr. Joshua Huntington in Brooklyn, later attending the Kensington Park Grammar School in London, England. From there he went to the Charterhouse or Blue Coat School. Mr. Huntington was in business for several years in London. On his return to this city he went into business with William H. Purdy and retired twenty years ago.

He was a member of the New York Historical Society, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Society of Colonial Wars, and the Sons of the American Revolution. Mr. Huntington was also a member of the Century Club and The Players. His wife, who was Miss Mary Tenant Irving, four daughters and a son survive him.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Sanderson.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Sanderson, a retired Presbyterian minister, editor and author, died of pneumonia on Wednesday at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. John G. Warwick, 360 Adelphi Street, Brooklyn, in his ninety-third year. Dr. Sanderson was born in Ballybay, County Monaghan, Ireland, and was graduated from the Royal College in Belfast, in 1845. He then came to this country and studied at the University of Columbia, at Kitanning, Penn., and later at the University of Omaha, from which he was graduated with the degree of LL. D. For three years he was pastor of the Providence (R. I.) Presbyterian Church and then came to New York to become pastor of the Stanton Street Presbyterian Church and the Lexington Avenue Presbyterian Church in Manhattan. Dr. Sanderson became editor of the Pulpit Treasury in 1876 and held this post until 1895, when he was elected Secretary of the Church Extension Committee of New York.

Obituary Notes.

ALBERT E. WOOD, Vice President of the Association of American Wood Engravers and for many years an engraver with Harper & Brothers, died yesterday at his home in Westboro, Mass., in his fifty-seventh year.

Mrs. CATHERINE McDONALD, widow of Congressman Edward F. McDonald and mother of Gerald F. McDonald, candidate for Congress at the last election, died yesterday at her home, Harrison, N. J., on her sixty-third birthday.

MOSES GOLDSMITH, a brother of the late Charles N. Goldsmith, head of the liquor industry in Cincinnati, Ohio, died recently at the Home for Incurables, Fordham.

JOHN LIPP FINDLAY, advertising manager of The American Cloak and Suit Review, died on Wednesday at his home, 9 West Sixty-fifth Street.

JOHN M. HURD, a real estate dealer, died on Wednesday at his home in Mount Vernon. He was born in Warsaw, N. Y., and went to Mount Vernon thirty-six years ago.

JEAN ORTEIG, father of Raymond Orteig, proprietor of the Lafayette and Brevoort Hotels, died recently at Louvie Juzon, France, in his seventy-fifth year. He was honorary President of the Club des Jeunes of this city and visited there three years ago.

JOSEPH M. KELLY, former Postmaster of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and proprietor of the Worden Hotel there, died on Wednesday, in his fifty-sixth year.

GUSTAVE JAEGG, an old resident of the east side, where he was widely known for his charities, died recently at his home, 20 Stanton Street, in his sixty-second year.

MARTIN MULLEN, for many years associated with the late Senator Mark A. Hanna, died on Wednesday in his apartments in the Ellington Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio, in his sixty-fourth year. He formerly managed the largest coal business on the Great Lakes.

Mrs. CHARLOTTE PAYNE WINSTON, widow of J. H. Winston, died on Wednesday at her home in Bristol, Tenn., in her eighty-sixth year. She was a cousin of Mrs. Norman Galt, the fiancee of President Wilson, and grandniece of the wife of President Madison.

DELAFIELD S. ALCOTT, a retired merchant, died yesterday at his home, 20 East Sixtieth Street, in his forty-fifth year. He was born

HARVARD AND PRINCETON STUDENTS ASK YALE TO REINSTATE FIVE DEBARRED ATHLETES

APPEAL TO YALE TO LIFT ATHLETES' BAN

Harvard and Princeton Undergraduates Seek Reinstatement of Debarred Men.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28.—The path is opened for Yale to reinstate the five athletes who were disqualified last week. Letters have been received from Harvard and Princeton requesting that the athletes who have been retired be again declared eligible and be allowed to again represent Yale in intercollegiate athletics.

It became known last week that Harvard, acting through Dean Briggs, had sent such a request, and tonight it was announced from the offices of the Yale Athletic Association that Princeton had sent such a request through Dean McClenahan. The statement said that it was the wish of not only the Harvard and Princeton players but of the undergraduates in general that the five disqualified men be allowed to compete against Harvard and Princeton this Fall.

The letters were received by Professor Robert Corwin, Chairman of the Yale Athletic Committee, he was out of town tonight and could not be interviewed, and no statement could be obtained of the probable action of the Yale Eligibility Committee, which consists of Professor Corwin, John Field, and John Kilpatrick, all former Yale athletic stars, but nobody could be found at Yale who would admit that the five men should not be restored to full athletic standing.

Captain Lou Middlebrook of the Yale nine last Spring, and Assistant Coach Bernie Tommers in a signed statement last Monday assumed responsibility for the negotiations at Quogue last Summer, in which five members of the nine, Legore, Easton, Milburn, Rhett, and Pumpelly, received their board free for two weeks, believing they were personal guests of one of the directors of the Quogue nine. As soon as the Yale Athletic Committee received notice of the fact that the players had received their board free they declared the five players ineligible to again represent Yale in athletics. Legore has been playing on the Yale ineligibles eleven since his disqualification, and Easton has been assisting Billy Marting to coach the freshmen.

This is the first instance on record of a university urging a rival to restore to eligibility an athlete who for some reason has been disqualified. It is believed that whatever action is taken by the Yale Athletic Association will not occur until next week. This will prevent Legore, easily the star of the Yale eleven, from playing in Saturday's game against Colgate.

N. Y. U. STUDENTS ACT.

Strongly Oppose Playing of Brickley of Trinity in Election Day Game.

The attitude of the undergraduate body of New York University in the case of George Brickley, who, as a member of the Trinity eleven, was protested on the ground of professionalism, crystallized yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Student Organization in the form of a petition presented to the Faculty by a committee appointed for this purpose. Although the final word in the matter has not yet been received from Trinity, students of the university have anticipated the probability of Brickley's playing in the game on Tuesday, and have expressed a sentiment which was strongly opposed to professionalism.

The resolution drawn up by the student committee is as follows:

Resolved, That Trinity College, so far as we have been able to ascertain, intends to play a man who has been recognized by other colleges as a professional in the football game between Trinity and New York University on Election Day. Trinity College has as yet sent no definite reply as to whether the player referred to will represent it on Tuesday, and the committee has issued no statement of their side of the case, nor have they, so far as we have been able to learn, issued a statement declaring the innocence of George Brickley, accused of professionalism.

In view of these facts, we, the student body of New York University, wish to go on record as very strongly opposed to the playing of any professional in any collegiate contest. In view of the fact that our undergraduate and Faculty athletic committees strictly enforce the rule regarding professional players, we would not be meeting the Trinity team on equal terms if Brickley is permitted to play.

Even in the case of men who only technically have lost their amateur standing, and also in the rule requiring one year's residence in the case of men changing from one college to another is rigidly enforced, there are at present men of excellent football ability who are barred from playing because of this reason.

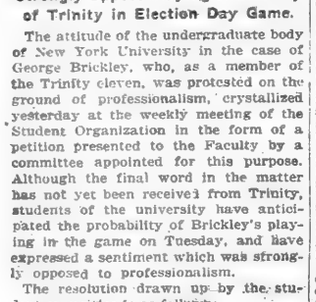
At the same time, if Brickley is permitted to play, the amateur standing of the men on our team would be affected, making those who competed in the game ineligible to compete in future intercollegiate athletic contests. As two members of our eleven are possible point winners in track meets, there is a grave question before us at present. Should Trinity decide to positively decide to play Brickley, with all these facts on hand, she will be attacking the ethics of true sport; she will be interfering with the principles of fair competition; she will disgrace herself and render a staggering blow to amateur sport.

If George Brickley plays on Tuesday against the New York University football team, the student body unanimously recommends to the Faculty Committee on Student Organizations that athletic relations between the two institutions be immediately severed.

WILLIAM H. DUPPER,
Chairman of Student Committee.

Easy Drill for N. Y. U. Eleven.

Coach Reilley gave the New York University football team a workout that was easier than usual yesterday, but devoted most of his attention to the work of the second eleven, which scrimmaged for a greater part of the period against the Stuyvesant High School team. The afternoon's work began with a punting drill for the 'Varsity line men, who were kept busy running down the field under Cann's spirals, and also included further work in passing the ball and in handling long forwards. While the scrub players were lined up against the High School boys the 'Varsity men took advantage of the opportunity to lay off for a brief respite after the hard work of Wednesday against the Fordham eleven. Coach Reilley is priming a second aggregation to send to Pawling on Saturday against the Pawling School, since the Violet has no game on that day.



Too tired to think or read because of over-work, want of rest and excessive concentration. Take Wincarnis.

Sample bottle for 10 cents to pay for packing and delivery. Booklet Free.
Edward Lassere, Inc., U. S. Agents
400 West 23rd St., New York

WINCARNIS
The Famous Tonic and Restorative

FORDHAM TEAMS IN BATTLE.

Prep in Smashing Scrimmage with 'Varsity, Which Barely Wins.

Refreshed by a rest of several days, the Fordham football team played against the husky "Prep" team yesterday in the hardest scrimmage between the two Maroon teams in years. Starting with the kick-off, the 'Varsity immediately started bothering the Prep line, and, finding that its forward passes were going astray, the college team kept up its plunging until Butler broke through for the first touchdown. It took just eight charges for the college team to bring across its first score after a march from the 70-yard mark. Every one of Dunn's runs averaged over 10 yards, while Butler and Yule both accounted for a couple of first downs.

After a lecture by Coach Duncan O'Brien, the Prep went back into the struggle, and from then on it was all the 'Varsity collegians could do to make a fair gain at all. With the ball in its possession, the high school team ripped big holes in the 'Varsity defense, Joe Williams proving a regular siege gun in the way he battered the Maroon linemen about. The Prep also made several big gains as a result of Frisch's facility at getting through the smallest openings.

Both teams resorted to straight, hard football, and it was not long before several men were battered up.

Butler and Cantwell of the 'Varsity back field were both put out of commission for a while. Tom Walsh, the fighting little right end on the Prep, also was forced to leave the scrimmage. Late in the drill Coach Vaughn asked the Prep to drive every conceivable play through the newly arranged Fordham central defense, and long before it was over Treanor, Mulcahy, and Benson were so groggy that it was all they could do to keep in action. Besides Butler's score, Golden and Yule also carried the ball over for the collegians, while Williams and Frisch accounted for 14 points for the Prep. Golden's touchdown, which followed an intercepted forward pass, was all that saved the 'Varsity from being tied. Hall and McGuire were on the Maroon flanks again in place of Conklin and Corriden.

ALUMNI BACKS FOOTBALL.

Columbia "Grads" Thoroughly Aroused Over Return of Game.

The attitude of Columbia's alumni toward the return of football to the university was forcibly expressed at the recent annual meeting of the College Alumni Association held at the Automobile Club of America. The presence of Coach Metcalf of the 'Varsity eleven and Coach Bishop of the Freshman team, in addition to several members of the present team and a few old-time "stars" gave a genuine football atmosphere to the meeting and after short speeches by the two coaches the members adopted a resolution of enthusiastic support for football.

The memories of the past and the expectations for the future were well expressed by Francis S. Bangs, a Trustee of the university, and Charles Halstead Mapes, Chairman of the Athletic Association. Mr. Bangs, who has always been an ardent supporter of athletics at Columbia, said that he was glad to pay so high a personal tribute to the team developed from green material this season. While he felt that in its first game with St. Lawrence University it had "soft food," Mr. Bangs saw that the real push and spirit of the game was there.

Mr. Mapes aroused cheers by referring to that historic day "when Columbia beat Yale." His graphic description of that memorable contest in 1890, when Columbia possessed such sterling players as Morley and Weeks, aroused more athletic enthusiasm than has been seen in an alumni gathering since the last boat victory at Poughkeepsie.

"What we did then I believe we can do again," said Mr. Mapes. "It will doubtless take time and we mustn't expect too much at once or be depressed at a defeat from a team which has had more years of practice. But I honestly believe that our present team has the real football stuff in it and the concerted team work it showed in its first game is worthy tribute to the ability of Coach Metcalf."

Both of the coaches spoke of the increased athletic spirit which has been engendered at Columbia by the return of football. No other sport ever arouses the same interest as football, said Mr. Metcalf, and as an illustration of its effect upon the students on the campus he cited the fact that in a recent practice game on South Field over 1,500 students sat in the bleachers and cheered good plays until the call of time.

Judging from the sentiment of the Columbia alumni, football in the university is going to be supported and encouraged until another team is built up the equal of Yale or that of any other big college in the country.

Secret Practice at Columbia.

Columbia had secret football practice yesterday afternoon while several new plays and combinations were attempted. Captain Simonds was tried at quarter back in place of Miller, and, although strange in his new position, the Blue and White leader showed considerable promise. The brilliant playing of Wadleton at left half back in the Lafayette game last Saturday has put the coaching staff in a quandary because Captain Simonds was slated for this position, but had not been at practice for the previous ten days owing to illness. Littauer seems to be the regular man for full back, and Donoho and Mansbach are playing stellar games, alternating at right half. Wadleton was also tried out at centre. Calder, left end, and Healey, left tackle, were absent from practice and Reeder and Donaldson substituted.

Dartmouth Ready for Amherst.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 28.—The Dartmouth squad of twenty-six men will leave tomorrow at 2 o'clock for Amherst. They will arrive in Northampton at 6 o'clock and will stop at the Plymouth Inn until the game. Whether the team will be too greatly weakened by the absence of Captain McAuliffe, Baxter, and McDonough remains to be seen. Regardless of the way the score goes, none of the injured men will go into the game. The probable line-up will be: Dusosoit, left end; Fishback, left tackle; Merrill, left guard; Gile, centre; Spears, right guard; Cotton, right tackle; Emery, right end; Worthington, quarter back; Gerrish, left half back; Durhamel, right half back; Thielscher, full back. Today's practice was light. Much time was spent on coaching backs in handling punts.

Rutgers Game at Newark.

George Foster Sanford's big Rutgers eleven tomorrow afternoon will play the strong team from the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Harrison Oval, the Newark Federal League baseball grounds, less than fifteen minutes from downtown New York, via the Hudson tubes. Springfield offers the first annual comparison between "Sandy's team" and Yale. Yale beat Springfield, 16 to 0, early in the Fall, and Rutgers is out to double that score. But Springfield is a lot better now than when it played Yale, for, only last Saturday, the boys downed the husky eleven from Vermont State University by a score of 54 to 0. Tomorrow's Rutgers-Springfield clash furnishes Newark with its annual big game, and the shift to Harrison Oval is calculated to add a large delegation from New York to the big Northern Jersey crowd that always turns out for the New Brunswick boys.

Cornell Plays Well on Defense.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Playing in the best form they have shown on the defense this season, the Cornell 'Varsity smothered practically every attempt of the scrub team, who tried out a rapid fire wide open style of attack on Schoellkopf Field this afternoon. The second team played well too, but the superior game put up by the 'Varsity made their hard efforts go for naught. On the whole the practice was highly satisfactory.

It has been pointed out by some that the Cornellians have been weak against the forward pass this year, because several of the smaller elevens have succeeded in scoring touchdowns by this method. This was probably caused by the team's temporary neglect in order to achieve more important things.

Shiverick, playing at defense outside half was a tower of defense against the attempted aerial gains of the second team. Three times he crowded the ball and twice broke through on the same play and sprinted more than sixty yards, both times for touchdowns.

COLGATE PLAYS FAIL AGAINST YALE

Elis Break Up Tandem Line Attack and Passes Tried by Ineligibles.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 28.—Yale's preparation for the Colgate game practically closed today, when another short scrimmage was ordered for the 'Varsity eleven. They faced the ineligibles for a fifteen minute playing period on the defense. The ineligibles had been drilled in the Colgate tandem line attack and forward passes shown by Colgate this Fall. None of the Colgate plays gained ground.

Playing on the offense the 'Varsity, in four minutes of scrimmaging, made the only touchdown of the afternoon. Scovil worked his way around the end for twenty yards and Captain Wilson took the ball over through centre. Harry Legore was on the side lines in uniform but did not play. Waite did the punting and the improvement he has shown under the tutelage of Dr. Bull the last week points to him as Yale's selection for the final games.

Of the injured players Von Holt and Baldridge had light work and will be sent into part of Saturday's game. Captain Wilson has decided not to play Black before next week. Savage may displace Captain Wilson for one of the periods on Saturday.

Conroy and Way, during their two days' trial as tackles, have qualified for a trial on Caturday. Carl Wiedeman was again at right end and will begin the Colgate game there.

Yale's line-up has been entirely reorganized since last Saturday's defeat by Washington and Jefferson and five players have since been shifted, including both tackles, Guard Kent, and Half Backs Waite and Higginbotham. Today's practice was open but the gallery was small.

Jim Rodgers and Frank Butterworth joined the visiting coaching staff.

Evening signal practice has been begun and the players spent nearly two hours tonight in the baseball cage rehearsing signals by electric light.

It is felt that Saturday's game will at least lift a cloud of uncertainty from the football situation. More graduate coaches have been at the field the last week than any since the season began, including Fritz Kilpatrick, Rodgers, and Butterworth as visitors and ex-Captain Talbott and Nate Wheeler of the resident staff.

Hard Scrimmage for Colgate.

HAMILTON, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The Colgate football team will have its last practice tomorrow before leaving for New Haven for the Yale game. There will be another hard scrimmage and a regular game with eight-minute quarters between the scrubs and 'Varsity.

The stiffest drill and scrimmage so far this season was today's program on Whitmall Field. Failing on the ball, kicking and covering, forward passing, and tackling took up the first part of the afternoon. Two teams were chosen, and, after a twenty-minute signal drill, a long scrimmage was held. Neither side scored, but the 'Varsity held the ball in the scrubs' territory the greater portion of the time.

Hubbell is back in the game again and, if no further injury prevents, will play on Saturday. Spencer, who played half back against the army, has been shifted to substitute quarter, and will be available if injury comes to Anderson. Roberts and Watkins are both being used in the vacant half back position, and either one will capably fill it. The ends are improving in their work. Castellanos, the Erasmus Hall star man of last year, has taken a regular place at right end. He has developed greatly in the last two weeks and is the best defensive end on the squad.

Lafayette Uses Penn Formations.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Oct. 28.—Lafayette again scrimmaged this afternoon with the scrub team, using Pennsylvania defense formations. The 'Varsity confined its work to forward passing and kick plays. Scott and Lake both worked incessantly and successfully with the drop kick. The open attack of the Lafayette team against the Quaker formations appeared to be very effective. The 'Varsity line was again good in spite of the fact that Maxfield was out most of the time, and it now appears possible that the big fellow will not start in the game against Pennsylvania. His ankle is not strong and he has suffered by being out of the game so long. Mummert, Gaynor and Ryon are clamoring for the place and are showing cause why it should be granted to them. A scrimmage this afternoon between Williams, the brother of the Pennsylvania player, made several spectacular plays for the scrubs.

A Navy Scrub Makes Long Run.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 28.—A seventy-five-yard run to a touchdown by Rogers, a back on the scrub, was the feature of football practice at the Naval Academy this afternoon. It came when substitutes had been put in for most of the regulars, and Rogers intercepted a forward pass and dodged several opponents, putting the ball behind the goal line. Previous to this line-up the regulars and the scrubs had a spirited scrimmage, during which the forward pass was used by the regulars for good gains, and Martin and Westphal also had considerable success with line plays. For the first time this season at a practice a big contingent of Midshipmen were on the stand for the purpose of encouraging the team with yells and songs. A victory over the North Carolina Aggies on Saturday would do much toward cheering up the team and its friends.

Indians All in Fine Fettle.

Special to The New York Times.

CARLISLE, Penn., Oct. 28.—Redskin Coaches Kelly and Welch put the Carlisle Indian football 'Varsity squad through its final practice on Indian Field this afternoon before leaving for Wheeling, W. Va., where on Saturday the aborigines will play the strong West Virginia Wesleyan eleven. The entire afternoon was devoted to signals. For the first time since the beginning of the season the redskins will enter Saturday's game with all the players in good physical condition. The line-up will be: Left end, Lookaround; left tackle, Williams; left guard, Lassa; centre, Morrin; right guard, Mayo; right tackle, Martel; right end, Burd; quarter back, Crane; left half back, Broker; right half back, Wofford; full back, Captain Calac.

Army Distributing Tickets.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Distribution of the Army's share of the tickets for the football game to be played with the Navy in New York on Nov. 27 is under way, it was announced here today, and no more letters containing applications will receive attention until after the distribution has ended. Tickets will be mailed on or about Nov. 5.

TIGER HOPES BRIGHTER.

'Varsity Shows More Ginger and Power—Dickerman Reports.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—There was a brighter aspect to football matters at Princeton today. In the daily scrimmage with the scrubs the 'Varsity showed more ginger and power than has been in evidence since the Dartmouth game, notwithstanding that three of the regulars, McLean, Tibbott, and Eddy, did not report for practice.

One of the encouraging features of the practice was the appearance in the 'Varsity line-up of Charlie Dickerman for the first time this season. Dickerman yesterday passed the examination that stood between him and football this season. He appeared to have fully recovered his old strength and plunged through the line in great style. Although Dickerman's belated appearance and the reasonable supposition that he is not yet in the perfect physical form demanded by a championship game makes it practically certain that he will be used only as a substitute this year, yet he will be useful in that capacity.

Billy Moore appeared in the Tiger back field again in the workout of today. He showed that he can still run with the ball from his old position, but just where he will play is problematical.

It seems now that his injury in the first part of the season has rendered it impossible for him to be anything but a substitute either at end or half back. The change today was characterized as only temporary. Lamberton again played well at the end position and will get a chance to show his worth at that place in the Williams game. Amen today ran the team through the greater part of the scrimmage, Glick taking his place later.

ARMY'S DEFENSE WEAK.

Coaches Dissatisfied with Work of Linemen—Backfield Slow.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Forty-five minutes of the hardest kind of work was the task for the Army football men today, Coach Daly giving the team its final "rough" workout before the game with Villanova on Saturday. The riding hall, with its treacherous footing, was the scene of the second session for the footballists. Although the coaches had the men for the early hour practice on the plains gridiron there was no scrimmage, the 'varsity playing the scrubs but little improvement. The coaches were especially dissatisfied with the defensive work of the linemen and several times stopped the play to give instructions to the 'Varsity as to the best method to break up the new plays with which the scrubs were armed today. The backfield men were also censured for allowing several forward passes to be completed.

The scrubs, with Berry, Schwarzkopf, and Bringham as backs, frequently pierced the big team's defense and more than once the 'Varsity's secondary defense was called upon to stop the plays.

Shifts in the forward section are again becoming frequent. O'Hare played at guard only a part of the time today, Jones, Engeldinger, and Holmes all getting a chance in the position. The latter is being used there frequently of late. Oliphant was also used during the scrimmage today, although he got into the signal drill and did considerable kicking. Hoge, Walker, and Ford made up the back field with Murrill again at quarter back. Mitchell's injured knee kept him idle. McEwan is back once more in the line-up and was all over the field today, tackling and getting into the interference.

Last Practice for Princeton Game.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 28.—In the last practice before the Princeton game, Coach Daly put the Williams 'Varsity football squad through a signal drill and scrimmage this afternoon on Weston Field. Daly directed the practice chiefly to rudimentary drilling for the backs and linesmen. Later the 'Varsity lined up against the scrubs in a scrimmage lasting half an hour. Practice was concluded with a secret drill in the baseball cage. The squad will leave Williamstown shortly after noon tomorrow for Princeton. On Saturday the Purple will line up against the Tigers as follows: Blodgett, left end; Rubbell, left tackle; Weeks, left guard; Welch, centre; Kaveer, right guard; Parmelee, right tackle; Laplante, right end; Molthan, quarter back; Overton, left half back; H. W. Wright, full back; Pollard, right half back.

Lehigh Rehearses Football 'Primer.'

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Oct. 28.—Lest the men forget during these days of strenuousity in the learning of advanced football tactics, Resident Coach Keady today sprung a surprise by going back to first principles in all forms, principally the tackling dummy, charging strap, and blocking apparatus. When the men had enough of this style of practice and demonstrated, and further, that they had not lost their ability, a long signal drill was ordered, but no scrimmage took place as too many men were banged up yesterday. Tomlinson, Kennedy, and Owen being unable to come out today. As has been the rule this week, the forward pass received much attention today. Cahill is now skillfully turning the lateral pass and the receiving men are missing few of the throws. Grumbach took Pons's place at right guard, the latter having been slightly hurt yesterday, and Halsted got back into his full-back position. Halsted may start in the Gettysburg game Saturday.

Sophs Lead in N. Y. U. Fall Games.

The sophomore class of New York University established a substantial lead over the freshmen in the annual Fall track and field meet, held yesterday on Ohio Field, by scoring a total of 32 points to their opponents' 13. In the five events the second class athletes captured every first place, except in the broad jump, in which Gibbs won the only first place which the freshmen secured. In the mile run Houghton of the 'Varsity track team won for the "sophs," while Hegeman and Tiger, who followed in the second and third positions at the finish, registered the other points of this event for the same class. The events were not completed yesterday, and the remainder of the meet was postponed until next week.

Rice Makes Change in Crew.

Coach Jim Rice of the Columbia crews made one change in the 'Varsity boat at yesterday's practice. R. K. Munroe, who had been at No. 3 but who was relegated to the junior boat last week, was brought back to the bow position and Sengstacken sent back to the second crew. O'Loughlin was still at No. 3. Fine weather and water gave Coach Rice the opportunity for having a long practice. Several times during the sprints Captain Norm Bratton, at stroke, increased the speed to thirty-nine strokes to the minute.

All-Americans Win, 5 to 4.

NORTH PLATTE Neb., Oct. 28.—The All-American baseball team, touring the West with the All-National team, scored another victory here this afternoon by the score of 5 to 4.

HARVARD ELEVEN SHOWS GOOD FORM

Better Now Than When It Played Penn State a Year Ago—Week of Hard Work.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 28.—If hard work helps Harvard will go into the Penn State game Saturday many points better than it was against Cornell last week. The members of the team not only have learned that they now have a 'varsity rating, but the drill this week has been the hardest of the season. Yesterday's drive was followed by fifty minutes of almost equally hard play today, the 'Varsity going against the substitutes. That there was no scoring was due to the management of the coaches, but when the teams did settle down to a real fight the regulars forced the substitutes back to their two-yard line, and then lost the ball on downs.

During Gilman's continued absence from the line-up Bigelow played right tackle, instead of Caner. Bigelow started well this year, but his work fell off and since being dropped as a tackle he has put in a lot of time playing guard. His return to tackle has been attended by a little improvement, but not enough to make the coaches feel sate that he could fill the position satisfactorily in an important game. The rushline has improved greatly this week. The centre combination has a lot more speed than when Cowen was at guard. With Gilman in trim again the coaches will be willing to admit that they see a very good line in sight for the big games, but they also realize that the substitutes are far from being on a par with the regulars.

Robinson ran the team for a time today, and then Wilcox took hold. His chances for being the general for the Princeton game are now better than are Watson's. Enwright was worked to the limit both yesterday and today. He has been assigned a regular place with, Kline and Mahan. McKinlock still being unable to do any hard running. Weatherhead, Harvard's huskiest end, has a twisted ankle, in addition to his broken hand and injured hip, and his services as a substitute no longer are counted on. The team will be stronger than was the 1914 team, when it played Penn State, and the Crimson has slight fears that it will not be able to win on saturday, and decisively.

SOCCER MEN SUSPENDED.

New Jersey Association Officers and Several Players Violated Rules.

Summary action has been taken by the Emergency Committee of the United States Football Association, the governing body of soccer in this country, in the matter of the playing of a number of professionals in the games of the new Manufacturers' League of New Jersey, in spite of the fact that they were signed with clubs in the New Jersey State Football Association. The New Jersey association has been notified by the national body, through Thomas W. Cahill, its Secretary, but no steps were taken to correct the infraction of the rules which had been the subject of complaint. Accordingly, a number of suspensions have been ordered by the U. S. F. A. Emergency Committee, including the officers of the New Jersey association, as follows: John Lone, President; Thomas Bagnall, Vice President; James Marshall, Secretary and Treasurer; W. McBain, Recording Secretary, and Patrick Hughes, Robert McCreadie, and Malcolm McCallum, delegates at large.

Cahill stated yesterday that these suspensions would hold until the next meeting of the National Council of this association, at which final action will be taken. The suspension deprives the parties affected of the right to participate in soccer in any capacity under the auspices of the United States Football Association. John Lone is also President of the National Football League, while Thomas Bagnall, the Vice President, is the President of the New York State Football League.

The following, registered as professionals with the New Jersey association, have been suspended indefinitely: Robert Lennox and David Muir of the West Hudson A. A., George Brierley of the Alley Boys F. C., and J. McAllister of the Jersey A. C.

Gaffney Denies Peace Rumor, Too.

There wasn't any dove of peace flying around this city yesterday trying to settle the baseball war. Perhaps Ban Johnson killed the bird before it could get out of Chicago. There was only one rumor to mar the calm of baseball, and that connected James E. Gaffney with the statement that there was to be a settlement, but the owner of the Braves denied this strenuously. The Braves, he said, were not for sale. There was not even an option, he added, and, furthermore, he hadn't been any "live one" around with money. Another denial came from President Hempstead of the Giants, this being to the effect that the Giants were not going to be sold to Charles Ebbets. The club, he thought, was quite comfortable under the present ownership. A few days ago nearly every club in the National League and a number in the American were for sale, but the gossips had it, the trend is going the other way, and before long all the clubs that were for sale will settle down for the Winter with the same old owners in control.

Yanks Sign Tallest Pitcher.

No matter what the Yankees may do next season, they at least will hold the distinction of having the tallest and thinnest pitcher in either of the major leagues, and the rest of the country might be included without robbing them of the honor. Edward H. ("Slim") Love has signed his contract with the Yanks, and Slim stands 6 feet 7½ inches in height, so that Carl Weilman of the Browns, Slim Sallee of the Cardinals, and one or two others who have prided themselves on being the leaders in this respect will have to give place to a Yankee recruit. Love is rated as quite a pitcher. Slim comes from the Los Angeles club. He had a record during the last season of 21 victories and 13 defeats. The teams which opposed him were at bat 1,194 times and secured 292 hits. Scout Davis discovered Love, who is a left-hander, 24 years old, and he was secured in the draft.

Eastern League Merger Probable.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—The New England Baseball League tonight appointed a committee to consider a merger by which the New England would absorb the clubs of the Eastern Association which were formerly placed at Springfield, Hartford, and New Haven. Discussion among the members of the league, according to President Timothy H. Murnane, favored retaining five of the clubs of the New England League as at present constituted. Which five clubs would be kept was not announced, but provision would be made it was said, for compensation to the clubs that would lose franchises.

CITY COLLEGE FALL SPORTS.

Sophomore Class Wins Chief Honors, with Juniors Close Second.

The Sophomores of the College of the City of New York won the annual interclass track and field games in the Stadium yesterday. This was the first meet held in the Stadium and all the marks made will stand as Stadium records. The track was very soft, and this in several instances caused slow time. The sophomores' point score was 37½, the juniors were second with 34 points, the freshmen third with 22¼ points, and the seniors took the last position by scoring one first place.

The best contest was in the two-mile run. J. Scarlat of the cross-country team led S. Cohen by about a half a yard all the way. In the last lap the senior started a fast sprint and won by three yards. The time for the distance was 10:45 3-5.

The mile run was almost the same kind of a race. E. Landis led all the way. On the last lap he opened a gap of five yards. Weberpals, however, came back strong and just failed to beat the leader out at the finish. In the quarter mile race Schattman was passed in the last 200 yards by Farola, but came back strong and just caught his class mate at the tape. G. Vriens led all the way in the half mile and made good time without being pushed. He won by twenty yards. The summaries:

100-Yard Dash.—Won by L. Wettels, 1919; S. Horowitz, 1917, second; A. Suffin, 1918, third; I. Liebowitz, 1918, fourth. Time—0:14 3-5.

220-Yard Dash.—Won by A. Murray, 1919; S. Friedman, 1917, second; J. Macdonald, 1917, third; J. Mendelsohn, 1918, fourth. Time—0:25 2-5.

Two-Mile Run.—Won by J. Scarlata, 1916; S. Cohen, 1918, second; H. Greenberg, 1919, third; N. Soos, 1917, fourth. Time—10.45 3-5.

440-Yard Run.—Won by M. Schattman, 1917; A. L. Farola, 1917, second; A. Skelding, 1917, third; L. Jones, 1918, fourth. Time—0:59.

880-Yard Run.—Won by G. Vriens, 1918; L. Corrigan, 1917, second; H. Emerson, 1918, third; E. Morris, 1918, fourth. Time—2:12 2-5.

One-Mile Run.—Won by E. Landis, 1918; F. Weberpals, 1917, second; L. Siegel, 1918, third; W. Magrath, 1918, fourth. Time—5:03 3-5.

High Jump.—Won by Engelman, 1919; E. Harney, 1919, second; S. Seidelm, 1919, and P. Schwartz, 1918, tied for third. Height—5 feet 6 inches.

Sixteen-Pound Shot Put.—Won by V. Napolielio, 1917; J. Rudnick, 1918, second; L. Schwartz, 1917, third; S. Lumney, 1914, fourth. Distance—35 feet 2 inches.

Broad Jump.—Won by D. Bosworth, 1918; P. Barrett, 1918, second; D. Kasanoff, 1917, third; A. Warner, 1918, fourth. Distance—17 feet 7 inches.

Point score: 1918, 37½; 1917, 34; 1919, 22¼; 1916, 5.

No Prospect for Catholic League.

With the death of the Rev. Francis Sullivan, President and organizer of the Catholic Athletic League, it is likely that the organization, which has been inactive for more than a year, will go out of existence, unless some one comes to its rescue in the near future. Many of the clubs which were affiliated with the Catholic League have announced their intention of joining the Church Athletic League, an organization now on a solid basis, as was evidenced by the reports at its annual meeting last week. Thus far the Loughlin Lyceum has been the only club to avail itself of the special offer of membership of Catholic club which desires to compete in the coming cross-country handicap run of the Church League on Nov. 13 at Van Cortlandt Park. Secretary-Treasurer Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., of the Church League yesterday stated that the Paulist Athletic Club, Annunciation Athletic Association, and Presentation Club expect to join the Church League in time to enter teams in the hill-and-dale run of three miles. The Church League is now arranging pool and billiard tournaments, and entries for their basket ball tournament will close on Dec. 11.

Erasmus Hall Wins Dual Run.

John Van Delft of Commercial High School finished first in the dual cross-country run between the Commercial and Erasmus Hall High Schools yesterday afternoon over the three-mile course in Prospect Park. It was a close, hard-fought race from the start, and Van Delft crossed the finish line about ten yards ahead of W. Wicks of Erasmus Hall, who finished second. The first ten students to finish completed the distance within a minute of each other, Van Delft's time was 19:20. A field of forty-five started the run. Erasmus Hall won the point-score honors with 27 points, while Commercial had 28 points. The first fifteen men to finish were: John Van Delft, Commercial, 19:20; W. Wicks, Erasmus Hall, 19:25; H. Broome, Commercial, 19:28; Tolonik, Erasmus Hall, 19:29; Lauben, Erasmus Hall, 19:45; Greney, Commercial, 19:49; Wright, Erasmus Hall, 19:50; Gobludsky, Commercial, 19:58; McMulkin, Erasmus Hall, 19:59; Kohonsen, Commercial, 20:00; Chan, Erasmus Hall, 20:28; Rogers, Erasmus Hall, 20:36; Ford, Commercial, 20:37; McDonigle, Erasmus Hall, 20:38.

New York Boys in Brown Athletics.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 29.—Paul H. Keough of New York City, a graduate of the Morris High School, has been elected Second Vice President of the Junior Class in Brown University, and Robert N. Foote, also of New York City, who prepared for college at Perkiomen Seminary, has been elected Secretary of the class. Keough made the 'Varsity track team last year, and is the only man in his class to wear the B for track as yet. He is one of the most promising members of the cross-country squad. Foote came to Brown at the beginning of last year, and has played on his class basketball team. Another Morris High graduate, Henry C. Huggenvig, is a member of the Glee Club. Huggenvig was prominent in football at Morris High, and made good immediately on the gridiron at Brown. H. Hansen, who graduated from Stuyvesant High last June, is also on the Glee Club. He is in the freshman football squad.

Western Trotting Man Dies.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 28.—George D. Connor, Secretary of the Detroit Driving Club and a member of the Rules Committee of the National Trotting Association, died at his home here today after a long illness. He was born in Elba, N. Y., and was 58 years old.

STALLION BALLOT SOLD FOR $15,600

Winner of More Than $150,000 for James R. Keene Bought by T. C. McDowell.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 28.—Ballot, son of Voter, and reputed one of the greatest thoroughbred race horses of modern times, today brought $15,600 at the sale of stallions, brood mares, and yearlings belonging to the estate of the late James B. Haggin, and quartered at the Elmendorf farm. Ballot, which won more than $150,000 for the late James R. Keene, was purchased by Major Thomas C. McDowell of the Ashland stud of this city.

Second in importance at the sale today was the disposal of Hessian, another stallion with an enviable record as a sire. He was purchased by A. G. Leonard of this city for $3,500, while Imp Sain, the other stallion to be sold at this sale, brought $2,900 and was bid in by George J. Long, the Louisville, Ky., turfman.

Of the mares, Blush Rose was purchased by J. E. Madden of New York and Lexington for $2,100. Imp Colonial, a winner of the English turf a number of years ago, but lately used in the stud of the Haggin estate, brought $2,500. She was purchased by W. O. Parmer of Nashville, Tenn. A bay coldt by Imp Sain was bought in by G. A. Cochran of New York for $2,200.

The sale was held in the paddock at Elmendorf and was attended by almost every thoroughbred breeder and owner of note in the West as well as by a number of prominent Eastern horsemen.

Discipline, 9, by Greenan-The Task, went to A. B. Hancock of Paris, Ky., for $2,300, and her weanling colt by Ballot was bought by James P. Ross, Lexington, Ky., for $2,500. Other sales of $2,000 or more follow:

Enterprise, 12, by Eathampton-Gorgo, to T. McC. Mc[illegible]	$2,000
Gold, 11, by Golden Garter-Miss Maxim, to S. K. Nichols of Paris, Ky.	2,000
Imp. La Venganza, 12, by Abercorn-Colonial, to J. W. Schorr, Memphis, Tenn.	2,100
Muriel, 7, by Watercress-Mrs. Delaney, to L. E. Combs, Lexington	2,100
Picturesque, 7, by Watercress-Islac, to New York	2,200
School Mistress, 14, by Hamburg-The Task, to T. C. McDowell	2,700

Salem-Crescent Games Tonight.

The long Winter season of indoor athletics will be inaugurated this evening with the staging of the board-floor games of the Salem-Crescent Athletic Club in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. Six open events are on the program, and include 60-yard handicap, 220-yard handicap, 880-yard handicap, one-mile handicap, and half-mile relay. Roy Morse, the colored boy who won the furlong championship in San Francisco, will come from Albany to compete in a 60-yard special race, in which he will be opposed to some of the best local sprinters. Morse has not competed here since he became a national title holder.

Sullivan Outdoor Meet Canceled.

Owing to the lateness of the outdoor season and an apparent lack of enthusiasm among the athletes who are now preparing for their board-floor campaign, the track and field meet scheduled for Nov. 7 at Federal League Park, the proceeds of which were to go to the James E. Sullivan Memorial Fund, have been called off. A meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements was held in Newark last night, with Chairman John J. O'Hara presiding, and it was there decided to cancel the games. It is considered likely that a big meet will be held in some New York armory during the Winter in the interests of the memorial fund.

NOTES FOR THE BOXERS.

The Senior Club, the oldest subsidiary of the Boys' Club, will hold its thirteenth annual ball and reception at Terrace Garden tomorrow evening. J. O'Brien, the Athletic Manager and President of the club, has arranged an attractive program, and among the athletes and boxers who have promised to attend are Ben Bradshaw, Johnny Hein, Joseph Gordon, Willie Chandler and K. O. Brown.

When Charlie Weinert signed articles to box Jack Dillon on Monday evening at Madison Square Garden he had in mind the defeat he experienced in his final bout with Dillon at Philadelphia. In telling about it yesterday, Weinert said: "I was very young when I boxed Dillon. I was full of confidence and fight, but I realized afterward that I must have foolishly gone in and exchanged punches with one of the most dangerous fighters in the world. I was winning, when suddenly the lights went out, and when I came to my seconds told me that Dillon had beaten me to one of my points, that is all. I am sure I can whip Dillon. If I wasn't I would

ATLANTIC CITY AND LAKEWOOD GOLF

ATLANTIC CITY GOLF GETS UNDER WAY

Maxwell R. Marston Wins Medal After Beating R. M. Lewis in Tie Playoff.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 28.—After a playoff of a tie, Maxwell R. Marston of Baltusrol, New Jersey's golf champion, won the medal in the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the open tournament on the links of the Country Club of Atlantic City today. There would not have been need for a playoff had Marston not missed an easy putt on the home green. The Jersey title holder and Reginald M. Lewis of Wykagil finished on even terms, with 75 each. Later on Marston won, 77 to 80 for his opponent.

It was the best turnout this club has known in years, both as to quality and number of players, and for once weather conditions were ideal. Contestants qualified in five sixteens, but with few exceptions the favorites finished in the main division. Next to the leaders came Maurice Risley, a local star, with 76, closely followed by M. P. Jones, a Frankford leader, with 77. Hugh Willoughby, the Philadelphia champion, got a 78, while Pierre A. Proal of Deal made the circuit in 81. James C. Parrish, Jr., the Shinnecock golfer, who won here in the Spring, had to be content with an 83, because of playing a couple of holes badly. This was a stroke better than the effort of Harold A. Steiner, the former Inwood champion.

When Lewis worked in consecutive two at the seventh and eighth holes in the playoff it made Marston's success doubtful. Lewis reached the turn in 37 to 39 for the Baltusrol man. Coming back, however, Lewis grew wild off the tees, while a number of his approach shots left him too much to do. Going to the home hole he was only a stroke to the bad, but he lost all chances there by messing up his short game and taking six strokes. The scores of the first two sixteens follow:

First Sixteen.—Max R. Marston, Baltusrol, 75; R. M. Lewis, Wykagyl, 75; Maurice Risley, Atlantic City, 76; M. P. Jones, Frankford, 77; Hugh Willoughby, Philadelphia Country, 78; Pierre Proal, Deal, 81; H. L. Grinnell, Princeton, 81; T. B. Wootten, Atlantic City, 81; P. S. P. Randolph, Jr., Lakewood, 83; T. P. Endicott, Atlantic City, 83; J. C. Parrish, National Links, 83; H. A. Steiner, Inwood, 84; Dr. F. H. McCall, Atlantic City, 84; H. W. Wood, Old York Road, 84; R. C. Maxwell, Trenton, 84; R. W. Smedley, Merion, 84.

Second Sixteen.—W. J. Craig, Merchantville, 85; A. S. Brand, St. Andrews, 86; Samuel Allison, Midland, 86; A. H. Huston, St. Davids, 86; A. W. Westney, Atlantic City, 86; Harold Palmer, Ben Air, 86; Dr. Theodore Senseman, Atlantic City, 87; F. W. Bennett, Atlantic City, 88; E. E. Jones, Wyoming Valley, 88; W. P. Wood, Virginia C. C., 89; Dr. C. J. Yotell, Frankford, 89; W. J. McCharian, Atlantic City, 89; J. F. Higgins, Stenton, 89; H. B. Newton, Frankford, 89; F. S. Becking, Aronimink, 90; E. S. Davis, Frankford, 90.

LAKEWOOD GOLF RECORD.

Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow Plays the Course in 86 Strokes.

Establishing a woman's record for the links of the Country Club of Lakewood, Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of the Merion Cricket Club won the medal in the qualifying round of the invitation golf tournament for women at Lakewood, with a score of 86. The best previous competitive mark was the 88 made a year ago by Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton of Plainfield.

Mrs. Barlow's fine score was brought about through her remarkable inward journey. She played the last nine holes in 39 strokes and on only two holes did she need more than par figures. These were on the tenth and the sixteenth. On the tenth she took an extra putt and had to be content with four instead of three, while on the sixteenth her approach overran the green into a sand trap and she needed six for a par five hole. Mrs. Barlow is a rather short driver and the Lakewood traps are not easy to get out of, so that the first nine the former Eastern champion had to be content with 47. She was bunkered on several occasions. However, it seemed impossible for her to miss a putt and she went along steadily enough.

Mrs. Barlow practically outclassed the field, for the only other score less than a hundred was the 97 of Mrs. Stockton. Match play will be in order today, the draw in the principal division being as follows: Mrs. Barlow vs. Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Potts vs. Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Randall vs. Miss G. Pickhardt, and Mrs. Fraser vs. Mrs. Stockton. The scores:

First Eight.—Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, Merion, 86; Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, Plainfield, 97; Mrs. J. S. Irving, Scarsdale, 100; Mrs. C. J. S. Fraser, Baltusrol, 103; Mrs. Frederick A. Potts, Lakewood, 108; Miss Gertrude Pickhardt, Englewood, 110; Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, Jr., Plainfield, 110; Miss Madelaide I. Randall, Fox Hills, 110;

Second Eight.—Mrs. W. I. Seaman, Richmond County, 111; Miss Elsa Pickhardt, Englewood, 113; Miss Grace Farrelly, Englewood, 115; Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner, Essex County, 116; Mrs. Florian Krug, Shawnee, 116; Mrs. George D. Boschen, Spring Lake, 120; Mrs. G. Julius Mager, Essex County, 120; Miss Isabel Ferris, Lakewood, 123.

Third Eight.—Mrs. Albert McDonald, Plainfield, 124; Mrs. R. W. Swan, Tatnuk, 129; Miss Mabel Guilford, Dunwoodie, 131; Mrs. Glessner B. Childs, Scarsdale, 136; Mrs. C. M. Brett, Braeburn, 162.

Van Cortlandt Greens Ready.

After making a careful inspection of the golf greens at Van Cortlandt Park, Commissioner Whittle has announced that the "soap-and-water" treatment for the worm pest has been entirely successful, and the regular greens will be opened for play in time to accommodate tomorrow's crowd. This will still the voice of many complainants, but other regular players are suggesting that since the greens have been attended to, it might be a good idea to look after the fairway, which in many places is in poor condition. It is discouraging to find that after a 200-yard drive has been made the ball is found lying in an unplayable position, yet this is frequently the case, and the grass is so long that it is difficult to find the ball at all. It is known and appreciated by the majority of the golfers that Commissioner Whittle is doing his best with the limited funds at his command, but some solution for the poor condition of the links is desired.

Outdoor Basket Ball at Glencoe A.C.

The Glencoe Athletic Club has begun work on an outdoor basket ball court at Glencoe Oval. The ground for the court is being specially prepared, and an improvement will be that of the running track. The club holds an invitation run every Sunday. A novice team is now being developed. Among the candidates are James Foy, J. A. Cook, John Sheridan, James Mason, Emil Rieser, Bud Wallace, E. Higgins, Tom Hagerney, and Jim Kennedy.

Long Jaunt for Walkers.

The next jaunt of the Walkers' Club of America will be held on Sunday from Van Cortlandt Park to West Point. The start will be made at 7 A. M. Two extra squads will also walk, one to Hastings and return and the other to Tarrytown. Members and those interested in walking are invited to join one of the squads. The pathfinders and Committee on Walks are planning journeys through the most attractive parts of the vicinity of New York.

English Racing Hurt, Says Sievier.

Among the passengers on the steamship Adriatic, which arrived in port yesterday, was Robert S. Sievier, Chairman of the Race Horse Breeders and Owners Association and editor and proprietor of The Winning Post, one of the London weeklies devoted to racing and the thoroughbred.

Asked about racing conditions in England, Mr. Sievier said: "Racing has received a severe setback, but it has by no means stopped. We are still holding short meetings over there, but they are somewhat restricted."

TO CHANGE YACHT RULES.

Long Island Association Had Excellent Season—Prize Winners.

The active season of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound was brought to a close last night with the annual meeting of the association at the Hotel Astor, when the winning yachts of the competitive year were announced, and suggestions offered for the improvement of racing in 1916. Ten of the twenty-five clubs were represented, with Stuyvesant Wainwright of the American Yacht Club, President of the association, in the chair. Following the announcement of the winners, recommendations were offered for changes in the rules which will aid the Regatta Committee. These, which were mainly technical, will be presented to the Executive Committee for action at the election of officers next March.

Notwithstanding unfavorable conditions due to the war, the season of 1915 was a successful one, and more yachts competed than in 1914. The following delegates were appointed a Nominating Committee to select a ticket for the annual election: Oscar Schellborg, Knickerbocker Y. C.; Harry Anderson, New York A. C.; George C. Molloy, New Rochelle Y. C.; H. C. Perrin, Larchmont Y. C., and Richard A. Monks, Indian Harbor Y. C.

The championship of the Sound in Class B went to R. B. Budd's Amoret. J. Hahlstedt's Okee was biggest point winner in the 30-foot class. Wild Thyme, owned by A. H. Morris, was first in the Larchmont interclub series. R. W. Fraser's Cat's Eye captured the Jewel Trophy, and W. H. Childs's Joyette easily led in the R class. Among the smaller boats Little Dipper, owned by G. A. Corry, headed the list in the Star class. Tautog, the property of Captain G. G. Fry, captured the dory average, and Joseph Bister's Teal took the Orienta One-Design Cup. The awards were made on the point system.

The following delegates were present: Stuyvesant Wainwright, American Y. C.; W. A. Walters, City Island Y. C.; O. H. Schellborg and Harry Stephenson, Knickerbocker Y. C.; F. B. Jones and Richard A. Monkys, Indian Harbor Y. C.; H. C. Perrin, Larchmont Y. C.; E. A. Serick and J. W. Alker, Manhasset Bay Y. C.; G. P. Granberry and G. C. Molloy, New Rochelle Y. C.; H. A. Jackson and A. B. Fry, New York A. C.; G. G. Fry, Orienta Y. C., and Harry I. North, Sea Cliff Y. C.

SQUASH TENNIS CHANGES.

New Method of Scoring to be Tried During Columbia Tournament.

Squash tennis players are much interested in the new method of scoring which will be tried during the tournament which starts at the Columbia University Club on Saturday, Nov. 6, in which teams from the Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Columbia, Squash, and Heights Casino Clubs will compete. The new method was introduced at the last meeting of the National Squash Association by J. O. Low, and is expected to do much toward popularizing the game. Should the plan find favor with the players it will be formally adopted by the national association.

The feature of the new rules is the fact that a player will score what points he earns in the match, and not what he earns during his service only. The present method of scoring does not permit the addition of a point when the server loses his hand, although the point is scored by the receiver. This method of scoring places the advantage with the server as against the receiver, while the proposed change places the two contestants on an apparently even basis. This brings the method of scoring more like that of lawn tennis.

Another important point is the change from 15 to 21 points. This is another radical departure from the present style of scoring, which makes the game 15 points, with three aces set in the event of the player reaching 13-all or 14-all. The suggested change is 21 flat, with no set aces. Two games out of three at present decide a match, but it is proposed to change this to three in five, thereby making conditions on a more even basis. It gives the slow starter a better chance to recover, makes the game faster, and enables the contestants to score more points than at present, while it slightly handicaps the best player.

DOG SHOW SUPERINTENDENT

George Gall Appointed to Succeed James Mortimer in Kennel Club.

The Directors of the Westminster Kennel Club at their recent meeting selected George Gall as Superintendent of the annual dog show, which has been the leading exhibition of the sort in the United States since 1877. It is the oldest of American dog shows and the only one in this country at which the classes are as large and as many breeds reprsented as in the Crystal Palace and Cruft's shows at London, England, until the latter were suspended on account of the war.

Gall will take the place held by the late James Mortimer, dean of the dog shows for many years. There were many applications considered for the place from a number of dog show managers, but the final choice was largely influenced by the intimate knowledge of the duties gained by Gall as first aid to Mortimer in the Superintendency since 1886.

The new Superintendent is well known in dog show and hunt club circles, as he has held a similar position, or that of assistant, at many dog shows for the last fifteen years. Gall is now Assistant Secretary of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, and since 1907 has been clerk of the course at the race meetings of the Meadow Brook, Rockaway Hunting Club, and the United Hunts at Belmont Terminal since the inception of these meetings.

Steinway Civic A. A. Games.

The recently organized Steinway Civic and Athletic Association, composed of employes of Steinway & Sons and residents of the Steinway district of Long Island City, will hold their first set of games, closed to members, on Sunday at the Astoria Athletic Field. A program of eight track and field events has been arranged. The features will be a four-man relay team race open to one team from each factory of Steinway & Sons, and one team to be selected from those not employed by the firm, but who are members of the association. Other events will be sixty-yard dash for boys under 13 years, 100-yard dash, open; 300-yard dash, open; 1,000-yard run, open; running high jump, open; running broad jump, open; putting twelve-pound shot, open. A. A. U. officials will conduct the meeting.

Another Wrestling Tournament.

Another international Graeco-Roman wrestling tournament has been arranged by Samuel Rachmann, and will start on Nov. 8 at Manhattan Opera House, where the tourney in June was contested. Alexander Aberg, the Esthonian giant, who recently successfully defended the world's championship against Waldek Zbyszko, will be among the contestants. Zbyszko will also enter. It was these two men who struggled almost four hours without reaching a conclusion in the final bout of the last tournament. Rachmann will introduce several new wrestlers to the followers of this sport, and all those who were favorites in the June meet will compete again.

Winners with the Cue.

A handicap of five points accounted for the defeat of George Spear last night in his game with Claude R. Lewis in the amateur handicap 18.2 balk-line billiard tournament at the Knickerbocker Academy in Brooklyn, which the latter won by the score of 185 to 185. Lewis played from the 185-point mark, and had only to score this number of points, while Spear required 190 points to win.

J. Cosgrove was unable to overcome a handicap of four points which he had conceded to C. Garfinkle last night in the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom tournament at the Audubon Academy, and the final score favored the latter by 37 to 36. Cosgrove was playing for 40 points, while Garfinkle had only to score 37 to win.

In last night's game of the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom tournament at the Morningside Academy, 125th Street and Lenox Avenue, H. Lewis defeated E. Conway by the score of 15 to 9 in forty innings.

DE PALMA'S CAR TRIED ON SPEEDWAY

High-Power Racing Mercedes Driven Several Laps at Rate of 106 Miles an Hour.

Ralph DePalma and his high-power, yellow Mercedes car, dashed over the Sheepshead Bay Speedway yesterday afternoon at 106 miles an hour. It was the first time that the big Mercedes has had a tryout on the two-mile wooden course, and De Palma had no trouble in reeling off lap after lap at terrific speed. John Aitken was bowling over the saucer in his Peugeot, and Aitken and De Palma furnished thrills for the small crowd of spectators in a ten-mile brush, both cars spinning along at about 105 miles an hour.

De Palma skimmed along a few feet behind Aitken for about six miles, and then he let out his big racer, and it fairly streaked its way around the track and left the Peugeot several yards behind at the finish of the ten-mile whirl. De Palma says that his racer is now in good condition, and he has no doubt that the world's records for both fifty and 100 miles will be lowered by his machine in the special invitation race to be held at the speedway on Election Day, next Tuesday. De Palma's best time for the two-mile circuit was 1:08, while Aitken's fastest lap was made in 1:08 3-5.

Prince Paul Troubetzkov and his wife were at the track yesterday, and, while her husband went chugging around the course at about fifty miles an hour in an old-fashioned Mercedes, the Princess went around the track at 102 miles an hour with Johnny Aitken in his Peugeot.

When the Princess was climbing into Aitken's racer, Johnny asked: "How fast do you want to go?"

"I don't care," answered the wife of the royal Russian sculptor and Aitken took her at her word and circled the track at terrific speed.

"Very exhilarating," was the way the Princess spoke of her speedy trip.

Another amateur speed pilot, James L. Watt, Jr., of 503 Fifth Avenue, made his appearance at the track yesterday. Young Watt sat behind the wheel of a Singer Special which he had designed, and which was especially constructed for him. This was Watt's first experience at fast driving and he circled the track at about seventy-five miles an hour. Something cracked in the engine as he was coming down the home stretch on one of his trips and the machine was towed away to a garage for repairs.

Jean Porporato in an F. R. P. came out on the track late in the afternoon, but his racer was not in good running order. After several speedy trips around the track, the machine was taken back to the garage for further overhauling. Bob Burman in the Blitzen Benz did not make his appearance yesterday, but Burman and the famous racer will probably be out this afternoon. Burman is expected to climb high on the banks in his Benz today and shatter all records for the new track.

CHARMION LEADER'S TITLE.

Wins New Jersey Championship in Beagle Trials at Roseland.

Charmion Leader, owned by Frank Horn and George C. Hooley, won the championship of New Jersey in the beagle trials, held under the auspices of the New Jersey Beagle Club at Roseland, N. J., in the competitions for beagles, fifteen inches, all ages, all dogs. After the four-hour run, in which it killed three rabbits, Charmion Leader finished first and strong. Charmion Ben took second place. There were seventeen entries, and some of the dogs dropped out exhausted after they had run two hours.

The championship in this event carries the State title, a silver cup and a cash prize of $75. Second place wins a cash prize of $25. Charmion Ringer, a kennel mate of Charmion Leader and Charmion Ben, won the Empire State Championship at Salem, N. Y., about a week ago.

Sinnock Banjo, owned by W. J. Sinnock of Newark, won the silver cup offered by George Flanner, President of the New Jersey Beagle Club, for the best handled dog during the trials. Banjo was bred by Mr. Flanner, the donor of the cup, and was sold to its present owner several weeks ago.

Three Rounds in Columbia Tennis.

The first and second rounds in the doubles in the annual Fall tennis tournament at Columbia were completed yesterday. Owing to the number of "byes" in the first round, only four matches were played, and the same number in the second round. Winners in the singles yesterday now pass into the fourth round. One of the most interesting matches was between Cunningham, a former Yale 'Varsity tennis Captain and now in the Columbia graduate schools, and von Bernuth, a member of last year's 'Varsity at Columbia. Cunningham won in three sets. The scores:

Singles.—Third Round—George King defeated H. P. Guiler, 6—3, 7—5; E. T. Dana defeated F. Conger, 6—1, 3—6, 6—3; J. C. Hegeman defeated W. M. Chester, 6—3, 7—5; W. D. Cunningham defeated A. F. von Bernuth, 2—6, 8—6, 6—4; H. Lamb defeated R. B. Haines, 4—6, 6—3, 6—4.

Doubles.—First Round—Conger and Bogle defeated Bradley and Schede, 6—1, 6—2; Cooper and Parsons defeated Hunter and Chester, 6—4, 6—3; Carnell and von Bernuth defeated Seigle and Davis, 6—2, 6—0; Feldsteiner and Weinstein defeated Kempner and Jones, 6—3, 6—1.

Second Round—Conger and Bogle defeated Hollander and von Raalte, 6—2, 6—3; Cooper and Parons defeated Cunningham and Haines, 4—6, 7—5, 6—4; Carnell and von Bernuth defeated Valentine and Grafton by default; Harper and Jarnet defeated King and Dowdell, 6—2, 6—3; Lamb and Tunis defeated Collins and Smith, 6—1, 6—2.

FISH AND GAME NOTES.

Anthony Lewis of Middletown, N. Y., sends word that James Scott, President of the Fallsburg Fishing Club, and J. J. Hallihan of New York City, on a recent hunting and fishing trip to the club's private preserves at Fallsburg, N. Y., caught twenty large-mouth bass, thirty pickerel, and bagged the limit of woodcock and partridge each day. They also got thirty rabbits.

William Dennison of Peconic, L. I., fishing Thursday at Otter Pond, Sag Harbor, landed a striped bass that weighed five pounds. There is some fine fishing for striped bass to be had at present along the Hudson River, near Tarrytown. George Maitland was up that way on Thursday and caught eleven, ranging in weight from a pound to three and a half pounds. Good results are also being had about a half mile north of the Spuyten Duyvil Creek.

Clarence L. Thorn, James Blair, P. McAvoy, and Charles Hall landed twenty-six fine weakfish on a trip to Sandy Hook a couple of days ago.

Roland McIntyre reports shooting a deer at Hope, N. J., last Wednesday that weighed 150 pounds.

A bushel of perch, fourteen black bass, as well as a number of catfish, was the result of a week's trip made recently by Thomas Curry to Green Pond, N. J.

Robert Barth sends word from Barnegat Bay that last week he spent three days fishing there, and during that time caught fifty weakfish.

On the Alert recently from Wreck Lead Captain Jay Carman secured the biggest blackfish catch of the season. Two men in particular had over a hundred fish between them, while every one had all he could carry home.

H. G. Wells made a trip to Greenwood Lake, N. J., the forepart of the week and fished at the upper end of the lake, where he caught a number of pickerel, two Oswego bass, and a small-mouth bass that weighed three pounds.

SAYS RUSSIA FIGHTS TO END MILITARISM

Needs Her Men for Industrial Development, Declares Czar's Minister at Athens.

CONFIDENT OF FINAL VICTORY

Prince Demidof Feels Sure Allies Will Put a Stop to "German Nightmare."

ATHENS, Oct. 1, (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—That Russia is warring quite as much against militarism in Russia itself as in Germany is the declaration of Prince Demidof, the Duke of San Donato, who is Imperial Russian Minister to Greece. In a summary of the present situation in Russia, Prince Demidof told The Associated Press correspondent that he could not see upon what the German claims to victory over Russia were based, and he developed a view of his own of the situation which left the Central Empires in a perilous, rather than a satisfactory position, following their successful drive on the Imperial forces of Russia.

Prince Demindof's family is popularly supposed to be the richest in Russia, its foundations having been laid in the time of Peter the Great by Nikita Demidof, who opened up some immensely productive mines at Nevianskiy, in the Ekaterinenburg district in 1630.

"From every standpoint," said Prince Demidof, "the German drive on Russia seems to have been as much of a failure as the German drive on Paris a year ago. It had two definite objects—to crush the Russian army in a great pincers, and to force Russia to sue for a separate peace.

"The first has patently failed. The Germans have given it up. They are digging themselves in, as they did in France, and are preparing to transfer part of their troops elsewhere. It was a mad thing to attempt, anyhow—you might as well call it a drive on Irkutsk as anything else, for all the definite object it may be said to have had. Pounding at an immense Russian force, withdrawing with admirable order across the Russian steppes, is like chasing a will o' the wisp through a swamp—the farther you go the worse it gets, and the less chance you have to get out safe and sound. Russia is like a pillow—you can make a hollow in it by punching it with your fist, but when you take your fist away, slowly, inevitably, it comes back.

"The second purpose of the German drive shows how the Germans have wholly misunderstood the Russian character, as they wholly misunderstood both the French and the English. They thought the French were a degenerate people, who had no fight left in them. Since the battle of the Marne they have abandoned that theory. They thought that Great Britain was sadly divided, on the verge of civil war. Instead, the entire British Empire is in the struggle heart and soul. And instead of forcing Russia to a separate peace, the Germans by their very drive on Russia have unified the Russian people as they have never been unified before. You have today a spectacle in Russia which is truly grandiose; 175,000,000 people absolutely united, with but one thought, their Emperor in person at their head, determined to purge Russia of the invader forever, if it take a generation. There is, as a matter of fact, more unity of understanding and confidence among the Allies at this moment than there is among the Germans themselves.

"The Central Empires have failed in both their attempts. Where, then, is their victory over the Russians? Though lacking sufficient munitions to undertake an offensive all along the line, we can still harry the Germans, at the very least. Every day we contribute our part to the process of subtraction which is the secret of the final victory. And this method is really more effective toward the final desideratum of the war than a mere technical triumph. For the purpose of the war is to finish with militarism for good and all. To do that the victory of the Allies must be absolute; we cannot parley with the military crowd in Germany; they have got to be got rid of. As the war is being fought, victory may be a long way off yet, but every day some of the military crowd in Germany and Austria are being got rid of. The longer the process goes on, the more surely is militarism done with. And that's what we want."

"Even in Russia?"

"Most of all in Russia. Russia needs peace for a colossal internal industrial development which is scarcely compatible with an immense military establishment forced upon us by the truculence of our neighbors. We need our men to dig in our mines, to plow our fields, to lay our railroads, to work in our factories. The living hell of militarism that one single military power in a group of peaceful nations can force all the rest to become military powers, whether they will or not. Well, we have all been chased by that German military nightmare too long; we are going to stop it.

"You remember what happened in mathematics when you subtracted from a given subtrahend the sum of geometric progression? Well, that is what is happening in Europe now. As for Russia—you may say that Russia is absolutely united and absolutely sure."

TURKISH SPIES IN HOTEL.

Glared at an Armenian, but House Detective Chased Them Away.

A search for Turkish spies was begun in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel yesterday noon by House Detective John Dillon when it was reported to him that four suspicious looking persons more than once passed a table where Vahan Cardashain, until recently Turkish Commissioner to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, was dining with several friends. Mr. Cardashain, an Armenian subject of Turkey, ceased to be Commissioner soon after a letter he wrote to William Jennings Bryan in confirmation of Armenian atrocities was turned over to Ambassador von Bernstorff.

The ex-Commissioner was a little tardy at luncheon, and his friends grew anxious. When he finally arrived, they confided to him their fears, bu tthey merely caused smiles on the part of Mr. Cardashain. However, when the four strangers several times passed the Cardashain table with ominous glances, the house detective was called. As soon as he appeared, the suspects departed toward Fifth Avenue. Mr. Cardashain took a train for Washington.

HOSE STREAM STOPS PISTOL

Water Squirted Into Shooter's Face Holds Him Till Police Come.

In a duel between John Zuba, 38 years old, of 1,033 Cauldwell Avenue, the Bronx, armed with a revolver, and Otto Bang, armed with a hose spurting water, in Bang's livery stable at 50 East 164th Street, yesterday, the police say, the revolver was defeated.

Zuba, a stableman discharged on Wednesday by Bang, returned yesterday to get wages due him. There was a dispute and Zuba, according to Bang's complaint, threatened to kill him and drew a revolver.

Bang aimed his hose at Zuba and played it in his face until the arrival of Patrolman Walsh, who found Zuba helpless with the revolver in his hand and the water still playing in his face.

Zuba was held in $2,000 bail by Magistrate Murphy on charges of felonious assault, carrying a dangerous weapon and intoxication.

PERKINS WARNS VOTERS.

Says If Murphy's Candidate Wins the Lid Will Fly Off.

District Attorney Charles A. Perkins spoke at five meetings last night, attacking Tammany Hall vigorously at all of them. The largest was at the Star Casino, 107th Street and Park Avenue. Other spekers there were Frank K. Bowers, Republican candidate for Sheriff; Chauncey M. Depew, Job E. Hedges, Samuel S. Koenig, Louis Marshall, Representative William M. Chadler, Representative Isaac Siegel, and James R. Sheffield, President of the Republican lub. Mr. Perkins said in part:

"The people of New York County will have the opportunity on next Tuesday to decide whether or not they desire Charles F. Murphy to run the District Attorney's office. They are facing a serious situation. If Murphy's candidate should, by any chance win, the lid which we have successfully clamped down on disorder in New York would fly off with a resounding bang."

BOTH QUOTE NIETZSCHE.

Dr. Bohme Says Suffragists and Antis Call Him Teacher.

Dr. Traugott Bohme, German Exchange Professor at Columbia University, said yesterday in a lecture before the Columbia University Institute of Arts and Sciences that in Nietzsche's works both the suffragists and antis can find justification for their views. Dr. Bohme's lecture was on "Nietzsche and His Influence on the German Mind."

"Just as formerly everybody was anxious to repudiate any mental affinity with Nietzsche, so now everybody regards it as a fine support for his own argument," he said. "The suffragists hold that Nietzsche's plea for the evolution of the individual clearly applied also to women, while the antis, with better justification, prove that Nietzsche always considered women as inferior to men."

Inauguration of the Hotel Claridge Afternoon Tea Concerts

Monday, November First, in the Dining Room

Music by Ernest Hussar and his Orchestra

With Bela Nyary as Cymbalum-Soloist

Rector's

"America's Leading Restaurant"

Special Dinner at $1.50 a Cover

All the skill and experience of Rector's unsurpassed cuisine is fully expressed in this special dinner at $1.50 a cover. Served in the Ballroom de Luxe, from 6 to 9. Faultless service. Pleasant surroundings. High Class Entertainment. Music. Dancing.

Dancing on Two Uncrowded Floors

Two Superb Orchestras

BROADWAY, 48TH ST. AND 7TH AVENUE.

THE delicious Dinner is what made Bustanoby's wonderful reputation among the "gourmets" and "bon vivants."

Mlle. MIGNON

Who created a furor in Paris with her distinctive dancing, performs every night at

Bustanoby's

39TH ST. (opp. Maxine Elliott's Theatre) 39TH ST.

After Nov. 10—After theatre—gentlemen will wear evening dress on the dancing floor.

Dinner $1.50. A la Carte Specialties.

REISENWEBER'S 58th Street and Columbus Circle. 'Phone, 9640—Columbus.

A tuneful CABARET "FULL OF SPEED" Presented by SAM SHANNON

WITH AN EXCEPTIONAL BEAUTY CHORUS, SNAPPY MUSIC AND DELIGHTFUL DANCERS.

A most gorgeous and spectacular entertainment PRESENTED NIGHTLY AT 7:30 AND 12.

Afternoon Tea Dances 4-7. Beefsteak Dinner, $1.25.

An Exceptional Table d'Hote Dinner $1.00

A la Carte Portions Cooked to Your Order.

SERVED EVERY EVENING 6 to 10 AND SUNDAYS NOON to 10 P. M.

Assorted Relishes. Blue Points, Cherry Stone or Little Neck Clams. Canape Anchovies. Spiced Anchovies, Russian Sardines, Canape Smoked Salmon, Deep-Sea Caviar, Saucisson Hongroise.

Soups (Choice). Vegetable Soup, Cream of Corn, Consomme Celestine.

Entrees (Choice). Broiled Bluefish, Fried Kingfish, Salmon Solid, Breaded Veal Cutlet, Spring Chicken Saute, Broiled Lamb Chops, Ragout a la Deutsch.

Roasts to Order (Choice) Roast Shoulder of Pork, Half Fried Chicken, Broiled English Mutton Chop, Wiener Schnitzel, Roast Stuffed Chicken, Small Beefsteak, Hamburger Steak, Entree of Turkey.

Cold. Half Chicken, Sliced Chicken, Smoked Beef Tenderloin, Salad Macedoine, Bismarck or Marinierter Herring, Roast Beef, Sliced Star Ham, Salami, Smoked Salmon in Oil, Roast Sirloin of Beef, Sliced Virginia Ham.

Combination Cold Cuts, Sardines de Riga, Normanna Mackerel Roe.

Salads (Choice). Green Salads en Saison, Cress, Beets, Mixed.

Dessert or Cheese. (Choice). Rice Pudding, Fruit Sauce, Coffee or Chocolate Ice Cream, Bakin Cake, American Macaroons, Lady Fingers, Cream Swiss, Plum Tartelette, Lemon Water Ice, Coffee Cake, Neufchatel, Demi-Tasse.

DINE AT THE HOLLAND HOUSE Fifth Avenue at 30th St. (J. Charlton Rivers, Prop.)

TABLE D'HOTE DINNER $1.50

FINE ORCHESTRA MUSIC UNEXCELLED SERVICE

Hotel Bretton Hall BROADWAY 85TH TO 86TH ST.

Offers All the Advantages of the Best New York City Hotels at Much Lower Prices.

EXCEPTIONAL APARTMENTS OF ALL SIZES, FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED. FOR LONG OR SHORT PERIODS. Transient Rates, $2.50 per Day Up. No Extra Charge When Rooms are Occupied by Two Persons.

CASTLES IN THE AIR AND ICE PALACE ATOP 44TH ST. THEA. After the Theatre Adm. $1. Nightly 10:30 (Ex. Sun.) SUPPER AND DANCING. Tea 4 to 6. Wed. & Sat. World Champion Ice Skaters Adm. free to table d'hote dinner, $1.50, and a la carte, 6 to 9. Skating at Tea, Dinner and Supper.

HOTEL MAJESTIC Central Park West at 72d St. SUNDAY DINNER $1.50 12 Noon to 8:30 P. M. RUSSIAN COURT ORCHESTRA Reserve Tables Now Telephone Columbus 1900

Tuchow's 14th Street, near Fourth Ave.

Strand Roof Garden B'way & 47th Cafeteria Lunch 11:30 AM. to 3 PM. Afternoon Tea 4:30 to 8:30. Evenings 8 P. M. to 12 P. M. Tonight "Lucky Number Contest."

Hallowe'en Celebration At the Famous HOFBRAU HAUS BROADWAY AND 30TH ST. 30TH ST. Finest Table d'Hote in New York, $1 Beautiful Favors. Dancing Wonderful Music—3 Bands.

Johnson wants to see you

Carlton Terrace Broadway at 100th St.

CHURCHILL'S Broadway at 49th Street

Dinner $1.25 Luncheon 75c MATINEE Arthur 5 EAST 45TH STREET Cuisine Francaise No Cabaret CLOSED SUNDAYS.

Breakfast .....35c-50c Luncheon .....50c Tea with Waffles....30c Club Dinner .....75c & $1 Open Sundays & Holidays. The Fernery Miss Tucker, 33 East 33d Street. The Oldest Tea Room in New York. Bet. 5th & Mad. Aves. Smoking in the Conservatory.

LOUIS H. CHALIF Graduate Russian Imperial Ballet School, Personally teaches interpretive, esthetic, racial, ballroom dancing. Amateurs' private classes. 9 courses for teachers. Brochure, 7 West 42d St., N. Y.

LILLIAN LANG ST. JOHN DANSE STUDIO ALL MODERN DANCES TAUGHT. 30 E. 34th St. Mur. Hill 2010. Mansfield Studios, 33 West 44th.—All dances taught, absolute privacy. Terms reasonable.

The New York Society Teachers of Dancing—Standardized Dances. John A. Rose. Miss Mabelle C. Joyce. Studio closed for the summer.

23 Years at This Address Means Something. MODERN DANCES ONE FULL HOUR'S PRIVATE LESSON..... $1 NINE LESSONS..... $5 Open daily from 10 A. M. until 10 P. M. Expert lady and gentleman teachers. All Ball Room Dances guaranteed for $5: 4 class lessons, $1. 3½ Hours' Dancing, 25c. Afternoon and Evenings The Remey SCHOOL FOR DANCING. 917 8th Av., (at 54th St.) Tel. 4557 Col. Send for FREE illustrated booklet.

SHANLEY'S IN YONKERS

On Broadway, 15 Minutes from Van Cortlandt Park.

Old-Fashioned Halloween Party

Saturday Evening, October 30.

Surprise Souvenirs for Everybody.

Unique Decorations. Dancing.

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Phone Yonkers 1507 for Reservations.

WATCH FOR THE WITCHES!

HOTEL WALLICK

BROADWAY AND FORTY-THIRD STREET.

Positively the Best Location and Values in New York.

Rooms, with Bath, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00

Also Attractive Suites at Very Reasonable Rates.

All the leading theatres within 5 minutes' walk.

And a Restaurant That's Known from Coast to Coast for Quality at Moderate Prices.

Dancing in the Pierrot Room—Afternoon and Evening

Prince George Hotel Fifth Ave. and 28th Street. One of the most beautifully appointed hotels in New York. 300 Rooms with Bath. Rates, $2 and up.

HOTEL BOSSERT A transient-residential hotel of charm and comfort on aristocratic Brooklyn Heights, overlooking New York Harbor. Montague-Hicks-Remsen Sts., Brooklyn.

NEW ROCK ISLAND FIGHT IS STARTED

Call by the Peabody Committee for the Deposit of Bonds Stirs Opposition.

PROTEST FROM N. L. AMSTER

He Declares the Attack on the Company's Credit Was Ill-Advised and Wholly Unnecessary.

The call for deposits of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway refunding 4 per cent. bonds, the largest issue of bonds which the Rock Island system has and one of the largest bond issues ever floated, has precipitated another fight of opposing interests in Rock Island affairs. The call was issued by the protective committee formed last June by Harris, Forbes & Co. and headed by Charles A. Peabody, President of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. A brief statement of this committee was to the effect that it considered the deposit of the bonds necessary in view of conditions facing the bondholders.

N. L. Amster of Boston, a Director of the Rock Island, issued a statement yesterday in which he referred to the Peabody committee's action as ill-advised and unnecessary. He could see no reason for any expectation of a coming default, he said.

"I made every effort to persuade the committee to postpone this call and not attack the company's credit or embarrass the Directors before their first meeting next week," said Mr. Amster. "Why a committee that was organized last June and did not call for the deposit of bonds at that time should decide now, just after the semi-annual interest has been paid, to send out a call for deposit is beyond my comprehension. The new board just elected is composed of men well known in the business and banking community. They have decided views for the immediate rehabilitation of the company's affairs and the raising of the necessary funds with which to take the property out of the receivership and put it on a solid business basis.

"Some of the members of our stockholders' protective committee look upon this movement as an unfriendly act toward the stockholders—inspired, they assert, by the old management, but my own opinion is that the committee has been badly advised. There certainly can be no reason why any bondholder should deposit and tie up his bonds at this time and incur unnecessary expenses for legal and committee fees. These bonds have always earned and promptly paid their interest and should continue so to do down to their maturity in 1934."

The view was expressed in the financial district yesterday that the real reason for the call of deposit of the refunding bonds was because of the approaching announcement of the report made on the Rock Island property by an expert, Mr. Kendrick. It is feared that this report would be very depressing, and that it would warrant concerted protection for the refunding bonds. While no one in authority will admit having seen the Kendrick report it is admitted it calls for raising a great amount of money. The amount has been estimated at $30,000,000 to $64,000,000.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads reporting so far for the third week of October show these aggregate changes in gross earnings, those showing gains and those showing losses being stated separately:

Eighteen roads	$12,150,242+	$2,030,110
Two roads	656,725—	45,076
Total (20 roads)	12,806,967+	1,985,034

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA for September—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Gross	1,003,760	975,442	1,248,458
Net after Tax.	329,936	154,436	333,179
8 mos. gross	2 881,584	3,173 317	3,278 486
Net aft. tax..	684 902	581.301	540.937

COLORADO & SOUTHERN for September—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Mileage	1,838	1,886	1,871
Gross	1,319,158	1,218,588	1,354,854
Net aft. tax...	421,976	335,611	331,916
8 mos. gross..	8,885,113	8,545 421	8,910,844
Net aft. tax...	965,648	838,879	982,789

QUEBEC CENTRAL for the year ended June 30—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Gross	1,345,729	1,553,174	1,520,741
Expenses	928 247	1,078,617	1,066,540
Net	417,482	474,557	463,201
Other inc.	8,818	11,461	30,527
Total inc.	427,098	486 018	493,728
Charges	257,561	257 560	259 897
*Surplus	168,537	228,458	223,831
Prev. surp.	75,771	78,578	74,979
Total surp.	244,308	304,036	298 810
Sp. approp.	25,000	83,000	87 967
Divs.	135,264	135,264	135 264
P. & L. surp.	84,043	75,771	75,578

THIRD AVENUE for September—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Gross	$946,706	$935,136	$924,592
Net aft. tax.	333,859	279,412	317,572
Other inc.	7,417	7,598	4,511
Total inc.	344,276	287,010	321,883
Sur. aft. chg.	128,702	74 812	110,777
8 mos. gross.	2,863,934	2,804,846	2,806 444
Net aft. tax.	942,212	952 801	987,057
Other inc.	21,610	21,706	13,416
Total inc.	963,822	974 507	1,001,073
Sur. aft. chg.	326,015	335,749	361,757

TOLEDO, ST. LOUIS & WESTER for the year ended June 30—

Gross	4,597,743	4,388,129	4,235,167
Exp. & tax.	4,252,520	3,842,982	3,679,702
Net	345,174	1,245,138	1,255,405
Other inc.	149,125	31,583	105,499
Total inc.	544,299	1,213,345	1,149,905
Charges	1,092,204	1,095,238	1,086,143
Deficit	547,905	*118,306	*63,762
*Surplus.

Miscellaneous Earnings.

SOUTHERN UTILITIES CO. for the three months ended Sept. 30—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
3 mos. gross	$201,467	$205,930	*$4,464
Net aft. tax..	95,325	90,165	4,710
Underly'g chgs.	841	848	*7
Bond interest..	22,500	13,875	8,625
Other int., skg. fds., renewals & amortiz...	15,856	8,874	6,982
Pfd divs.	26,600	26,425	175
Surplus	29,528	40,596	*11,068
12 mos. gross..	1,065,958	1,053,841	12,116
Net aft. tax..	304,972	261,837	43,135
Underly'g chgs.	8,374	4,052	*677
Bond interest..	64,125	52,237	11,887
Other int., skg. fds., renews., disc. & amort.	64,250	30,798	33,457
pref. divs.	105,875	104,737	1,137
Surplus	67,348	70,017	*2,669

PHILADELPHIA & READING for September—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Receipts	4,941,726	4,291,141	170,585
Expenses	2,705,911	2,847,252	*141,340
Profit in oper.	1,755,815	1,443,889	311,925
Rent, int., taxes, &c., (estim'd).	770,250	709,666	588
Surplus	985,565	674,222	311,342
From July 1:
Receipts	12,775,177	12,242,336	532,841
Expenses	8,252,636	8,434,720	*182,083
Profit	4,522,541	3,807,616	714,924
Charges	2,310,750	2,309,000	1,750
Surplus	2,211,791	1,498,616	713,174
*Decrease.

PHILADELPHIA & READING COAL & IRON CO. for September—

	1915.	1914.	Decrease.
Receipts	2,125,287	2,797,880	672,092
Expenses	2,149,196	2,589,438	440,242
Profit in oper.	*23,958	207,892	231,851
Int. and taxes, (estimated)	8,000	8,000	.....
Surplus	*31,958	199,892	231,851
From July 1:
Receipts	5,916,450	7,097,675	1,181,225
Expenses	6,145,412	7,007,874	862,462
Surplus	*228,962	89,800	318,763
Charges	24,000	24,000	.....
Surplus	*252,962	65,800	318,763
*Deficit.

READING CO. for September—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Receipts	568,011	566,724	1,286
Expenses	5,735	5,200	468
Profit	562,276	561,457	817
Int. taxes, (estimated)	457,606	468,000	*5,333
Surplus	104,609	98,457	6,151
From July 1:
Receipts	1,702,798	1,685,021	17,777
Expenses	15,680	16,141	.....
Profit	1,687,161	1,668,880	18,281
Charges	1,373,000	1,389,000	*16,000
Surplus	314,161	279,880	34,281

COMMODITIES MARKETS.

WHEAT.

The dominant factor in the wheat market yesterday was the pronounced firmness in the spot position at Winnipeg, notwithstanding the very heavy receipts there. Political developments abroad were rather disconcerting, and after nervous price changes within a range of 1⅞c to 1⅞c the market closed steady at ½c to ⅝c net advance. Receipts at primary points were again large, and during the last four days have exceeded last week's movement by about 2,000,000 bushels. In the local cash market No. 1 Durum wheat was quoted at $1.12¼, free on board, New York; No. 1 Northern Duluth, $1.04¼, and No. 1 Northern Manitoba, $1.04¾, cost, insurance, and freight, Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Year.
December	....	....	1.07½	1.08⅜	....

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Year.
December	1.00⅜	98½	1.00½	99½	1.13⅝
May	1.02⅝	1.01	1.02¼	1.01⅝	1.19½

CORN.

The corn market was heavy during most of the day owing to continued favorable weather over the West and favorable husking returns. Late in the day there was a partial rally and final quotations were ⅛c higher to ⅜c lower. Liverpool was firm, and reports from abroad said that a cargo of new corn had been purchased in America, via Galveston, for November shipment. Export sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bushels. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at 75½c, prompt shipment.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Year.
October	62⅛	62⅛	62⅞	62⅝	....
December	58	57½	57⅝	56½	68¼
May	60½	59	59¾	59⅜	70⅝

OATS.

The oats market was only moderately active, but prices were steady, closing at net unchanged to ⅛c higher. Export orders were in evidence and sales were estimated at about 400,000 bushels. The local cash market was steady; No. 3 white quoted at 41@41½c; No. 4 white, 40@40½c; ordinary to fancy clipped, 40@44c, all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Year.
December	38½	38	38⅝	....	40
May	39⅝	39¼	39⅝	39⅜	52¼

PROVISIONS.

Reports of hog cholera in the West, as well as a better cash demand for hog products, had a bullish influence on the provision market, and prices were firm and higher, with active covering. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 18,000, estimated for Friday 14,000; Kansas City received 2,000, and Omaha 3,200.

CHICAGO PRICES.

Lard—	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Year.
January	9.10	8.87	9.05	8.97	10.62
May	9.30	9.10	9.30	9.20	9.87
Ribs—
December	....	....	....	....	10.20
January	9.05	8.87	9.02	8.95	9.82
Pork—
December	14.12	13.50	14.12	13.50	18.85
January	16.55	15.95	16.45	16.07	19.07

COTTONSEED OIL.

The market for cottonseed oil was nervous, with a downward tendency. Closing prices were 9 to 11 points net lower.

Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	..	..	7.70@7.85	7.80
Nov.	..	..	7.73@7.85	7.80
Dec.	7.76	7.70	7.70@7.75	7.80
Jan.	7.80	7.70	7.71@7.73	7.82
Feb.	..	..	7.76@7.80	7.89
Mar.	7.87	7.81	7.81@7.85	7.92
Apr.	..	..	7.92@7.96	8.00
May	8.04	7.99	8.01@8.02	8.10

COFFEE.

Trading in the coffee market was again active and the total day's business of 104,250 bags was the largest single day's operation since the Exchange resumed business on Nov. 30 last year. Wall Street and cotton houses were again active buyers, and at the close of the day values were 14 to 27 points above final for Wednesday. Local spot prices were firm, with Rio 7s quoted at 7½c and Santos 4s at 9¾c.

Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	..	..	6.62@6.83	6.55
November	..	..	6.81@6.82	6.55
December	6.81	6.65	6.81@6.82	6.60
January	..	..	6.81@6.82	6.61
February	..	..	6.81@6.82	6.62
March	6.84	6.74	6.82@6.83	6.64
April	..	..	6.87@6.88	6.70
May	6.93	6.84	6.92@6.93	6.78
June	..	..	6.97@6.98	6.81
July	7.04	6.92	7.02@7.03	6.86
August	..	..	7.08@7.07	6.91
September	7.15	7.05	7.11@7.12	6.97

SUGAR.

Futures opened quiet and unsettled, 1 point higher to 8 points lower, with sales on the call of 350 tons. Final prices were 4 points lower to 2 points higher. Total sales for the day were 550 tons.

Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	..	..	3.25@3.28	3.25
November	3.21	3.20	3.25@3.28	3.25
December	..	..	3.13@3.15	3.12
January	3.07	3.07	3.06@3.07	3.07
February	..	..	2.95@2.98	2.99
March	..	..	2.99@3.01	3.02
April	..	..	3.04@3.06	3.06
May	3.10	3.10	3.10@3.12	3.10
June	..	..	3.14@3.16	3.14
July	3.20	3.20	3.18@3.20	3.18
August	..	..	3.20@3.22	3.20
September	..	..	3.22@3.24	3.22

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts yesterday, 7,809 packages. While the weather is a little cooler, it is still too warm to give much life to trade. General business today was very moderate, and while the market for most grades of creamery remains unchanged, there was a little easier feeling in some quarters. Renovated slow. Ladles, quiet, slightly favoring buyers. Packing stock well sustained. Creamery, extras, (92 score,) 28¾@29c; higher, scoring 29½@30c; firsts, 27½@28¼c; seconds, 26½@27c; thirds, 25@26c; State dairy, finest, 28¼c; good to prime, 26@28c; common to fair, 23@25½c; renovated, extras, 24½@25c; firsts, 23½@24c; lower grades, 22@23c; imitation creamery, firsts, 23@24c; ladles, current make, firsts, 22@22½c; seconds, 21@21½c; fine grades, 19½@20c; packing stock, June make, fine, 21c; current make, fine, 20½@21c; No. 2, 20c; lower grades, 18@19¼c.

EGGS.—Receipts yesterday, 7,870 cases. Market generally firm, with unchanged conditions. Receipts light. High qualities of fresh are scarce and promptly salable. Good medium and lower grades irregular in value, but accumulations have been considerably reduced. Storage eggs meeting rather more demand and the tone is steady. Near-by white eggs in very small supply; fancy new-laid qualities sell promptly at extreme prices; mixed and irregular lots show wide range in values. Fresh gathered, extra fine, per dozen, 37@38c; extra firsts, 35@36c; firsts, 30@34c; seconds, 27@28c; thirds and poorer, 23@26c; dirties, No. 1, 22½@23c; No. 2 and poorer, 19@22c; checks, good to choice dry, 21@21½c; culls and inferior, 16@20½c; refrigerator, special marks, fancy, 26c; firsts, 24½@25½c; seconds, 23@24c; thirds or poorer, 20@22½c; dirties, 18@21c; State, Pennsylvania, and near by, henmery whites, fine to fancy, 33@35c; ordinary to good, 33@32c; gathered whites, ordinary to fine, 33@32c; Western, gathered whites, 35@42c; State, Pennsylvania, and nearby, henmery browns, 40@42c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 30@38c; near by, refrigerator whites, 27@30c.

Weather in Cotton and Grain States.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Forecast:

N. and S. Car.—Fair Fri and Sat.; light variable winds.

Ga.—Fair Fri. and probably Sat.; light variable winds.

Fla.—Rain Fri., except fair in n. w. Sat., partly cloudy; moderate variable winds, mostly n. e.

Ala., Miss., and La.—Fair Fri. and Sat.; light variable winds.

Mont.—Fair Fri. and Sat.; light s. winds on the coast.

West Tex.—Okla., Ark., Tenn., and Ky.—Fair Fri. and Sat.

Ohio and Ind.—Cloudy and cooler Fri. Sat., fair; moderate w. to n. w. winds.

Lower Mich.—Fair and cooler Fri. Sat., cloudy; moderate w. to n. w. winds.

Upper Mich.—Cloudy Fri. and Sat.; moderate n. w. winds.

Ill. and Mo.—Fair Fri. and Sat.

Wis.—Fair Fri. and Sat.; warmer in w. Fri., cooler Sat.

Minn.—Fair Fri. and Sat.; warmer Fri., cooler Sat.

Iowa—Fair Fri. and Sat.; warmer in n. Fri., cooler Sat.

N. and S. Dak.—Fair Fri. and Sat.; cooler in w. Fri.

Neb. and Kan.—Fair Fri. and Sat.

British Bank Statement.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

	Decrease.
Total reserve	£2,876,000
Circulation	*222,000
Bullion	2,654,861
Other securities	2,053,000
Other deposits	*1,289,000
Public deposits	6,243,000
Notes, reserve	2,881,000
*Increase

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 30 per cent.; last week it was 30.97 per cent. Rate of discount 5 per cent.

STEEL CASE CARRIED TO SUPREME COURT

Department of Justice Embraces 23 Assignments of Error in Its Appeal.

"GARY DINNERS" ATTACKED

Cites Refusal to Enjoin Any Renewal of Attempt to Maintain Prices.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 28.—The Government, through the Department of Justice at Washington, today carried to the United States Supreme Court, on appeal, the decree of the Federal District Court refusing to order the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation as a trust existing in violation of the Sherman law.

The appeal, embracing twenty-three assignments of error, was filed here today by Henry E. Colton, special assistant to United States Attorney General Gregory, in the prosecution of the case. The papers were signed both by Colton and by G. Carroll Todd, an assistant to Mr. Gregory.

It is contended by the Government that the corporation was organized in 1901 to stifle competition, and that it is an illegal monopoly in restraint of trade. The appeal traces the several combinations that culminated in the formation of the corporation, beginning with the consolidations effected in 1898 by the American Tin Plate Company of New Jersey and the Federal Steel Company of New Jersey.

Not only does the Department of Justice allege that the district court erred in not finding the corporation illegal, but also charges that the mergers preceding and following the formation of the main corporation were violations of the anti-trust act and insists that their dissolution should have been directed.

The opinion of the District Court with respect to the so-called Gary dinners is attacked in the appeal. In the trial court's decree, it was said that while the dinners might have been illegal in their character, they had been done away with long before the Government sued and did not cause grounds for dissolution of the corporation. The appeal submits that the "Gary dinner movement" was continued until the United States began investigating the company's methods in 1911, just prior to institution of the suit. The assignment now says the dinners ought to have been grounds for dissolution or an injunction.

As ground for reversal, the Department of Justice points to the failure of the trial court to declare the American Tin Plate Company of New Jersey a combination in restraint of trade because of bringing competing concerns under its control in the period around 1898. A like charge is made in the case of the American Sheet Steel Company of New Jersey, which, it is averred, monopolized the sheet steel industry in 1900 by combining competing plants.

It is further amended that the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company of New Jersey created illegal restraint in 1903 by acquiring the plants previously merged by the American Tin Plate Company and the American Sheet Steel Company. Similar charges are made against the American Steel and Wire Company of New Jersey, the American Steel Hoop Company, the National Steel Company of New Jersey, and the Carnegie Company of New Jersey.

Other assignments of error refer to the merging of iron and steel plants generally in 1898 by the Federal Steel Company of New Jersey, to the forming of a monopoly by the National Tube Company in 1899 and to the action of the American Bridge Company in 1900 in establishing restraint of trade in heavy fabricated steel.

The Government holds that the District Court erred in not finding that the United States Steel Corporation created an illegal monopoly by the exchange of its stocks and bonds for stocks and bonds of the various other companies.

Among the concluding errors charged against the trial court is its refusal to enjoin any renewed attempt on the part of the defendants to maintain prices.

The order allowing the appeal was signed in Philadelphia today by Judge McPherson. Within a few days it will be signed by Judge Buffington at Pittsburgh, by Judge Woolley at Wilmington, Del., and by Judge Hunt, who is sitting in the New Haven case in New York. These four Judges sat in the trial of the case.

GOVERNOR REVIEWS 22D.

Will Appoint Two Men to Boxing Commission Soon.

Governor Whitman last night reviewed the Twenty-second Corps of Engineers of the New York National Guard at its armory. With the Governor was his entire military staff and visiting officers from Governors Island and other regular army stations.

Today Governor Whitman will inspect the model for the statue of General Sheridan in the studio of Sculptor French. Governor Whitman is an ex-officio member of the New York State Monuments Commission. With him on this commission for the Sheridan statue, which is to be erected in Albany, are General Nelson A. Miles and Horace Porter. The Governor will return to Albany at noon.

The Governor announced that he would be in New York again on Monday, at which time his daughter will christen the first aeroplane belonging to New York State. This event will take place on the Granite State, the ship of the New York Naval Militia.

The Governor said that he would make additions to the State Boxing Commission within a few days. He declined to be quoted on the question of decisions in boxing bouts, saying he would leave the matter entirely to the Boxing Commission. It is believed from what the Governor said that he will appoint to the Boxing Commission an Albany man named John Franey and a Brooklyn man, a brother of Borough President Douglas Mathewson of the Bronx.

UNVEIL BATTLE MONUMENT.

Governor Whitman Speaks at White Plains Celebration.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Governor and Mrs. Whitman were the guests of honor this afternoon at the celebration in connection with the 139th anniversary of the Battle of White Plains, fought Oct. 28, 1776. The Governor made a patriotic speech at the unveiling of a monument.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the Governor and Mrs. Whitman and invited guests were entertained at a reception in the White Plains Club.

The village took on a holiday appearance and stores closed down during the afternoon, as did the schools. The homes and buildings of the residents were decorated with bunting. The parade, which was over a mile in length, was made up of military, civic societies, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, members of the Old Guard, veterans of the civil war, and 2,000 school children.

The exercises were held under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. J. P. Lockwood is Regent of the White Plains Chapter. The invocation was by the Rev. Francis S. Hunnewell, and then followed the unveiling of the gun monument. The gun was taken from the sunken Maine. The monument was accepted on behalf of the village by John J. Brown, President of the village. Major Ralph M. Glover of the Tenth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., was Marshal of the parade.

WARNS AGAINST USURY.

National Banks Again Violating the Law, Controller Williams Finds.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The complaint is again made that national banks are practicing usury. As a year ago, the Controller of the Currency, John Skelton Williams, has sent a circular to the national banks calling attention to evidence of the violation of the law. He bases his charge on an analysis of the sworn statements of the condition of the national banks.

In his circular Controller Williams calls attention to the section of the National Bank act which provides that national banks may take interest on loans and discounts "at the rate allowed by the laws of the State, Territory, or District where the bank is located, and no more." He declares that the statements of "a great many national banks show that Section 5,197 of the United States Revised Statutes against usury has been grossly violated by these banks."

The Controller requests national bank officials to obey the law, to read his letter at the next meeting of the Board of Directors, and to have it inscribed on the minutes. He also asks that a copy be sent to every member of the board absent from the meeting, with a request that he acknowledge receipt. Bank officials also are asked to send to the Controller within thirty days, and not later than Dec. 20, such letters of acknowledgment, with a certified extract from the minutes of the bank showing that the circular letter was read, and giving the names of the Directors present at the time.

$285 FOR LINCOLN RIFLE.

More Relics of the President Bought at the Burton Sale.

Relics of Abraham Lincoln brought the highest prices in the sale of the library of John E. Burton of Milwaukee, Wis., at the Anderson Galleries yesterday.

George D. Smith paid $285 for a rifle owned by Lincoln and Henry Brooner during their residence in Spencer County, Ind. They walked to Vincennes and bought the rifle in partnership for $15. It was used by them in deer hunting until 1830, when Lincoln moved to Illinois. He sold his share to Henry Brooner, who presented the rifle to his adopted son, Samuel, in 1880. It was afterward sold to J. T. Hobson, author of "Footprints of Abraham Lincoln." It was originally a flint lock, but was later fitted for percussion caps.

Mr. Smith also gave $395 for the "Political Debates Between Hon. Abraham Lincoln and Hon. Stephen A. Douglas in the Celebrated Campaign of 1858 in Illinois," &c., published at Columbus in 1860. It contains two inscriptions in Lincoln's handwriting, referring to J. H. Littlefield, who was a student in the Lincoln & Herndon law firm. Mr. Smith sold this book to Mr. Burton for about $170.

One of Lincoln's law books, Thomas M. Cooley's "Compiled Laws of the State of Michigan," also went to Mr. Smith for $95. It has Lincoln's autograph on the flyleaf. Mr. Smith also purchased, for $50, a wooden ink stand from Lincoln's law office in Springfield, Ill., a gold ring with a cameo stone, engraved on the inside as follows: "F. T. L., A. Lincoln," went to Henry Malkan for $36.

Brentano paid $71 for a lock of Lincoln's hair in a small stamped leather case. It was cut from his head by the embalmers, Drs. Brown and Alexander, and was presented by them to Justus Choller, one of the guard in attendance at the White House. The hair was cut from around the wound to afford access for dressing it for the funeral ceremonies. A piece of the black broadcloth coat worn by Lincoln the night he was assassinated brought $2.

The total for the day was $2,145.60. The total to date is $6,969. The sale will be concluded today.

STOWAWAY ALMOST LANDS.

Caught Leaving Adriatic's Pier After Trip from Liverpool.

After hiding for eight days in the firemen's fo'csle of the White Star liner Adriatic, from Liverpool to New York, Hugh Mulvaney, 16 years old, was caught by a pier detective as he was sneaking out of the gate at the foot of West Nineteenth Street, after the ship had docked. If Mulvaney had managed to get ten paces more without detection he would have been free in New York instead of having to go to Ellis Island today as a stowaway and an alien. He said he was a native of Greenwich, Conn., but he will have to prove it to the immigration authorities before he is allowed to land. When asked last night by Purser Richards how he managed to get on board the Adriatic in Liverpool, he said he did it while no one was looking, and the firemen took pity on him afterward, and he shared their meals.

He said his father took him to Dublin on the Lusitania Tuscania, where he lived with an aunt until he got homesick and felt he must come back to America.

"One day about two weeks ago," he said, "when I had 2 and 6 left out of a dollar that one of my sisters here had sent me, I took a small steamer from the Dublin docks and went to Liverpool. I walked around for several days and slept out nights until I heard that the Adriatic was coming to New York. When they weren't looking I stole up board and sneaked down into the fireroom."

Mulvaney had only twenty cents, but he said that he could have walked to Greenwich after he had ridden as far out of New York as his money would carry him. The boy had blacked his face with cinders as if he was one of the junior members of the stoke hole crew.

JEWELRY SALESMAN ROBBED

Samuel Brown Beaten Walking with Girls and $650 in Gems Taken.

Samuel Brown, a jewelry salesman of 245 Seventh Street, was walking along Tenth Street, between Avenues A and B, at 6:30 o'clock last night with Miss Sallie Silfen of 3 Clinton Street and Fannie Scharf of 730 East Ninth Street. They came to a place where the sidewalk was being repaired, and it was necessary for them to walk in single file. The girls took the lead.

When they turned around to rejoin Brown after passing the obstructions they saw him lying on the ground half dazed. They helped him to his feet and all repaired to the Fifth Street Police Station. There Brown found he had been robbed of $650 in gems and lavalliers. A diamond stickpin, his watch, and $152 in cash were not taken. He said som eone had struck him on the head and felled him.

Dr. Dodson of Bellevue Hospital examined Brown and found a cut in his head that required two stitches.

SUES ON 33-YEAR-OLD FIRE.

Damages Claimed Here on Alleged Incendiary Blaze in Kansas.

Justice Kelly in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, yesterday signed an order to take the testimony of Benjamin Wood in Muskogee, Okla., in an action by Clement S. Jacobs against William H. Colgate of Utica, to recover $200,000. Wood is 72 years old, and is said to be feeble.

Jacobs sues as the assignee of claims held by Wood and Charles A. Bliss, who is now deceased. The application to Justice Kelly yesterday for a commission to take Wood's testimony brought out a story of an incendiary fire thirty-three years ago which destroyed a factory at Winfield, Kans., owned by Wood and Bliss.

Allegation is made in the papers that Colgate, a bookkeeper in the factory, on Aug. 18, 1882, "wantonly and unlawfully set fire to the factory and destroyed it." No motive for the alleged incendiarism was given in the papers.

DIVORCES RAILROAD FROM COAL COMPANY

Court Decides That Jersey Central's Ownership of Interests Is in Restraint of Trade.

MUST SUBMIT PLAN TO COURT

Railroad Has Ninety Days to Decide How It Will Dispose of Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Co.'s Stock.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—The Federal District Court today decreed that the ownership of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company by the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey was a combination in restraint of trade, and that the railroad must dispose of its interest in that concern.

The decree filed today is on the decision of the court last June in the Government's anti-trust suit against the Reading Company, Jersey Central and others. The court at that time suggested that the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company be divorced from the Jersey Central.

As the subject of this separation was not argued when the case was heard, the court in its decision last June suggested it for consideration of counsel when the scope of the decree came to be determined. There was a difference of opinion as to what the form of the decree should be and the court today decided that the union of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, through the instrumentality of the Reading Company, is a combination in restraint of trade and violates the anti-trust act of 1890. The Reading Company, a holding corporation, owns all the stock and majority of the stock of the Jersey Central of the coal and iron company and a material, the last named in turn owning a majority of the stock of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company.

The court decreed that after ninety days the defendants must submit a plan for the disposal by the Jersey Central of all the stock and other securities of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company now owned by it, unless an appeal is taken to the United States Supreme Court. If the defendants fail to present a plan, the court will take such further steps, by receivership or otherwise, as may then seem necessary.

Pending the disposal of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company's stock, the Jersey Central, the Reading Company, and all other corporations controlling any stock are enjoined from voting it.

All clauses or covenants in leases of coal lands owned by the Reading Coal and Iron Company or by the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company, or by any company subsidiary to them, that require the lessee to ship coal over any particular railroad or route as may be designated by any railroad, are declared to be in violation of the anti-trust law.

The court's decree in other matters left undecided in the complicated case when its decision was handed down in June declares:

That the lease of the Lehigh & Susquehanna Railroad made by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company and the Jersey Central is in violation of the anti-trust act, is not sustained, and the petition in this respect is dismissed.

In respect to other charges against the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, the Lehigh & New England Railroad Company, and the Lehigh & Hudson Railroad Company, the petition is dismissed without prejudice.

The charge that the Jersey Central is violating the commodities clause of the Hepburn act is dismissed without prejudice.

The decree was signed by Judges Buffington, McPherson, and Hunt.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Although officials of the Department of Justice were pleased with today's decree of the Federal court in Philadelphia, it was said tonight on good authority that the case would be taken to the Supreme Court by the Government in an effort to compel separation of the Philadelphia & Reading and the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Officials were gratified that the court ordered the Central to give up its control of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, as they had not expected such a decree in view of the recent decision of the same court in this case. In the separation of the railroad from the coal company the Department of Justice will seek to have control of the coal company pass entirely from the hands of parties connected in any way with the railroad.

L. I. TRAINS UNDERMANNED.

Both P. S. Commissions Will Meet to Discuss the Matter.

A joint session of the Public Service Commissions of the First and Second Districts is to be held on Nov. 11 at the office of the local commission in the Tribune Building upon the number of trainmen employed by the Long Island Railroad on its electrically operated trains. On April 5, 1910, the local commission ordered the company to provide a man at each opening between the cars. To this the company objected, because many of its trains ran into the districts of the Second Commission, which did not make this requirement. So the local Commissioners insisted on its order only on trains entirely within its own jurisdiction.

Since then there have been many complaints concerning the insufficient number of men carried by the Long Island trains, and so both commissions will sit together to take the matter up.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—Twenty-six corporations were chartered today with aggregate capital stocks of $868,500. They included:

Skee Ball Operating Co., realty, amusements, games, $100,000; R. Walford, C. Captell, H. Wheeler, 1,495 Broadway.

Routin & Lauder, Rochester, knit, crochet goods, $50,000; W. N. Boller, J. Lauder, F. A. Boutin, Syracuse.

Kingsboro Amusement Corpn, B'klyn., realty, motion pictures, $25,000; J. G. Brown, S. H. Aarons, J. Manheimer, 1,507 52d St., B'klyn.

United Yeast Co., B'klyn, realty, yeast, $20,000; C. Retzky, J. Yesely, M. Doerner, 218 New Jersey Av., B'klyn.

Scadrons, Incorporated, Greenfield, optical goods, $20,000; J. L. H. and J. Scadron, 403 Grand St.

Mowbray & Hecker, contractors, electrical engineers, machinery, $12,500; J. Hecker, A. A. and S. J. Mowbray, 416 Fort Washington Av.

Sterling Syndicate, motion pictures, $12,000; B. Levy, M. A. Goldsmith, J. S. Edelman, 33 West 42d St.

Flexolite Co., building, construction, $50,000; A. Hanau, T. Kuchler, J. A. Cantor, 25 Broad St.

Brender Millinery Co., $10,000; A. Albert, H. Harris, A. Maillard, 42 Northern Av.

Atlas Auto Garage, B'klyn, $9,000; A. R. and W. A. Merritt, A. M. Cochran, 113 Macon St., B'klyn.

Vim Films, motion pictures, $10,000; M. and L. Burstein, W. Dougherty, 319 West 52d St.

The Northeastern Supply Co., coal, iron, metal, trucks, cement; $5,000. E. R. Walsh, M. I. and G. J. Atwell, 103 Park Av.

Kendar Engineering and Construction Co., Buffalo, land, foresters, lumbering, garage, theatrical; $5,000. E. M. Hughes, D. A. Ryan, F. J. Kinney, Hotel Lafayette, Buffalo.

Auditore & Somma, construction, advertising, realty; $5,000. A. Somma, J. and C. Auditore, 306 Union St., Brooklyn.

Abe & Mawruss Co., motion pictures, theatrical; $5,000. R. I. Kohn, M. Herman, A. H. Woods, 236 West 42d St.

N. Adams Outfitting Co., dry goods, furs, haberdashery; $5,000.

EXEMPT FROM FEDERAL INCOME TAX

State of California 4s

Interest Payable Jan. 3 and July 3
Due July 3, 1943-53-55

Legal for Savings Banks in New York, Mass. and Conn.

Prices to yield 4.25%

Circular upon request

N.W. Halsey & Co.
49 Wall Street, New York
Philadelphia Chicago San Francisco
Boston Baltimore St. Louis

You can obtain real diversity in a single investment by buying the 6% Bonds of a successful Public Utility Company supplying the stable commodities of gas, electric light and power to 331 growing communities with a total population in excess of 900,000 in twelve states.

Write for our Circular TM describing these Bonds

A.H. Bickmore & Co.
111 BROADWAY, N.Y.

The Moderate Cost of Some of the Best Investments should induce those who have available funds to place at least part of their money in one or more of the sound securities which are free of speculative influences and are giving especially attractive income returns.

Write for a description of the securities we recommend. Ask for Investment Offering No. 186

William P. Bonbright & Co.
Incorporated
14 Wall Street, New York
Philadelphia Boston Detroit
London Paris
William P. Bonbright & Co. Bonbright & Co.

Enviable Record

Did you note recently in "The Wall Street Journal" the remarkable record made by electric light and power companies during the first year of the European war? The record as set forth therein is clearly an evidence of the strength underlying conservative public utility investments. With such securities at your command, to yield approximately 5% to 5½%, why should you hesitate to benefit by these liberal returns? We shall be glad to send you Pamphlet No. 1554, containing a reprint of the above article, and to bring to your attention several desirable issues of public utility bonds.

Spencer Trask & Co.
Investment Securities
25 Broad Street, New York
ALBANY BOSTON CHICAGO

The Investment Situation

If you are interested in reading a concise, unbiased summary of business conditions every month, you will ask us to send our circular, "THE INVESTMENT SITUATION," together with our list of bonds that we recommend.

Address Dept. D-10.

Knauth, Nachod & Kuhne
15 William St., New York

Municipal Bonds

Free From Income Tax

To Net 4.25% to 5.50%

List "T" sent on request

Sidney Spitzer & Co.
115 Broadway, New York

MEGARGEL & CO.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Investment Securities
15 Congress St., Boston — 35 Pine Street, New York

FINANCIAL MARKETS

War Stocks Lose Ground on Peace Talk, While Other Stocks Advance.

A violent rally in the last few minutes of trading was all that saved the face of a number of the active industrials yesterday after a decline, extending throughout most of the day, which carried prices back over a considerable part of their recent advances. The weakness was due almost entirely to a realization on the part of traders of the unhealthy position into which many issues had been carried by the unrestrained fever of speculation, and their quick seizure of the rumors of peace for the purpose of effecting a readjustment in prices. The advance in the issues like Crucible, Baldwin, Studebaker, and Industrial Alcohol had been due to war business and the expectation of more orders; therefore, a report that peace might be brought about at an early date through the mediation of neutrals was sufficient, in the opinion of sellers, to justify a relapse.

It was an unusual market, for while points were being clipped from many of the industrials, giving the list an appearance of great weakness, a large number of other stocks were steadily advancing, in several cases to new high levels for the year. The railroad issues led in this advance, with Erie and Kansas City Southern conspicuous for their gains. The traders singled out those stocks which they thought would lose most in attractiveness by the ending of the war, and the list was extremely irregular as a result. Steel showed a loss from Wednesday's price until almost 3 o'clock, when it gained strength on what appeared to be general short covering and ended the session with a small gain. Baldwin Locomotive, at one time down to 123½, closed at 128 with a net loss of 4¼ points; Industrial Alcohol, at one time off eight points, closed with a loss of but one; Maxwell common, after selling down to 74, closed at 77½; while Studebaker, after touching 158 on its return movement, closed at 161 with a net loss for the session of 18½ points. There were no transactions in Bethlehem Steel until a few minutes before 3 o'clock, when sales were made at 525 and 559, the last figure unchanged, but the bearish feeling around the Street was encouraged by frequent reports from the floor of the Exchange that 425 was the best bid for this issue.

In so far as yesterday's reactions were based on rumors of peace, leading bankers were of the opinion that they were unwarranted, but the accession of strength by the railroad shares at the expense of the war industrials was hailed as a sign of a saner market. It had been clear for some time that the enthusiasm over newly discovered possibilities of automobile and steel companies as makers of munitions was carrying prices ahead too rapidly to permit the stocks to become settled and with profits of from 20 to 100 points showing on the early purchases of many of such war issues, it was inevitable that relatively few realizing sales would suffice to start a downward movement. If, as is devoutly to be hoped, European politics are shaping themselves so that peace proposals can be entertained at an early date, it will be better for the country if prices are readjusted in part on premature reports of such a settlement.

Exchange rates rallied yesterday, although, as on the occasions of the recent declines, they seemed to be influenced by the amount of the day's offerings rather than by considerations of credit arrangements or the balance of trade.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

RESERVE BANKS DISCOUNT RATES.

	Days.
	10 or Less.	Over 10 up to 30.	Over 30 up to 60.	Over 60 up to 90.	Over 90.
Boston	3	4	4	4	5
New York	3	4	4	4	5
Phila.	3	4	4	4½	5
Cleveland	3½	4	4	4½	5
Richmond	4	4	4	4½	5
Atlanta	4	4	4	4½	5
Chicago	4	4	4	4½	5
St. Louis	3	4	4	4	5
Minneap	4	4	4	4½	5
Kan. City	4	4	4	4½	5
Dallas	4	4	4	4½	5
San Fran.	3	3½	4	4½	5

*Notes maturing in not more than 90 days secured by cotton or other staples, warehoused and insured, or in course of shipment, are discountable at the special rate of 3 per cent.

BANK ACCEPTANCES.

Sixty days	2½@2¼
Ninety days	2½@2¼

COLLATERAL LOANS.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Renewal Rate.
On call	2	1¾	1¾	1¾
ON TIME
30 days	2¼@2½	5 months	2¾@3
90 days	2¼@2½	6 months	2¾@3
4 months	2¾@3

COMMERCIAL PAPER.
Best Known Names.

4 months	3 @3¼	6 months	3 @3¼
60 to 90 days			3

Other Names.

4 months	3¼@3½	6 months	3¼@3½

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.
Range of Sterling.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Chge.
Demand	$4.65	$4.62¾	$4.64½	+ .02½
Cables	4.65⅝	4.63½	4.65⅜	+ .02⅜

Closing Rates.

	Demand, (or check.)	Cable
London	$4.64½	$4.65⅛
Paris	5.92½	5.93⅛
Switzerland	5.35	5.34
Scandinavia	26.00	26.10
Berlin	.81⅛	.81⅛
China—
Hongkong	43.35	49.50
Shanghai	58.00	..
Singapore	57.50	..
Greece	5.17	5.18
Holland	.41¼	.41⅝
India—
Bombay	38.00	..
Calcutta	38.75	..
Italy	6.45	6.44
Japan—
Kobe	49.37	49.46
Yokohama	49.12½	..
Philippine Islands—
Manila	49.62	49.75
South America—
Buenos Aires	.41⅛	.41¼
Rio	.23¼	.23⅜
Spain	..	19.00
Austria	14.70	14.80
Russia	..	33.25

TIME BILLS ON LONDON.

Bankers.		Commercial.
60 Days.	90 Days.	60 Days.	90 Days.
$4.60¼	$4.58¼	$4.58⅜	$4.56⅜

Clearing House Figures.

New York Clearing House exchanges, $497,166,676; balance, $26,603,832; Sub-Treasury credit balance, $651,061.

The local banks have gained $8,631,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations since Friday.

Domestic Exchange.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, 5c discount; St. Louis, par; San Francisco, 35c premium; Montreal, 15⅝c premium.

Bar Silver.

London, 24d, up 1-16d; New York, 49¼c, up ⅝c.

METAL MARKET REPORTS.

These prices were quoted on the local Metal Exchange yesterday:

	Thursday. Bid.	Asked.	Wednesday. Bid.	Asked.
Tin	34.00	34.50	33.62½	33.87½
Lead	4.70	4.75	..	4.75
Spelter	*14.75	..	*14.25	..
Antimony	34.00	35.00	34.00	35.00
Quicksilver	$35.00	..	$35.00	$36.00
Aluminium	†53.00	56.00	†53.00	56.00
Iron, No. 2 X foundry	16.25	16.75	16.25	16.75

*Sales. †Nominal.

Electrolytic copper 30 days, was quoted at 18⅛@18¼c per pound, in the open market.

London quotations were:

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Copper, spot	72	2	6	72	5	0
Copper, futures	72	12	6	72	15	0
Tin, spot	156	5	0	154	10	0
Tin, futures	156	0	0	154	15	0
Spelter	70	10	0	68	10	0
Lead	24	2	6	24	5	0

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

THURSDAY, OCT. 28, 1915.

Stocks, (Shares.)

Total sales	1,823,477
Same day last year	Exch. closed
Year to date	140,086,271
Same period last year	45,989,158
Average price and change 50 stocks	91.62 — .31
Same day last year	*Exch. closed

	High.		Low.
Year's range to date	94.13	Oct. 22	58.99	Feb. 24
Range year 1914	73.30	Jan. 31	57.41	July 30
Range year 1913	79.10	Jan. 9	63.09	June 10

*Closing average July 30, 57.77.

Closing, Bid.	Closing, Ask.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Chge.
32½	32¾	13,900	Alaska Gold Mines	32¾	33½	32	32½	—1
12½	12⅝	2,500	Alaska Juneau	12⅝	13	12½	12⅝	..
41½	41⅝	11,000	Allis-Chalmers Mfg	42	42	40⅝	41½	— ⅛
72½	73	2,800	Allis-Chal. Mfg. pf	73½	73½	72	72½	— ½
71	71⅛	1,400	Am. Agricul. Chem	70½	71⅝	70¾	71⅝	— ⅛
65	65¼	1,500	Am. Beet Sugar	64½	65	64½	65	+ ¾
101	105	100	Am. B. S. & F. pf	103	103	103	103	..
207	209	450	Am. B. S. & F.pf.f.r.	219	219¾	206	206	—13
61	61¼	17,800	Am. Can	61⅜	61¾	59¾	61	— ½
106¼	107	700	Am. Can pf	106⅝	106⅞	106¼	106¼	— ⅛
85	85⅜	24,900	Am. Car & Fdry	86	86	83½	85¾	—1⅜
150	151½	1,200	Am. Coal Products	153½	153½	150	150	—2¼
116½	117½	100	Am. Coal Prod. pf	117½	117½	117½	117½	+2½
60	61	1,100	Am. Cotton Oil	61	61½	59¾	60¾	— ⅞
107	115	100	Am. Express	110	110	110	110	+ 1
12¾	12¾	1,300	Am. H. & Leather	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾	— ⅛
56	56½	3,400	Am. H. & Leath.pf	57¾	57¾	56	56¾	—1¼
24	25	000	Am. Ice Securities	24½	24½	24	24½	+ ½
28⅜	28¾	7,700	Am. Linseed	27½	27½	25¾	28⅝	— ⅝
45¼	46	1,200	Am. Linseed pf	46¼	46¼	45	46	..
68¾	69⅜	12,600	Am. Locomotive	69½	70⅜	67¾	68⅝	— ⅛
11½	12	9,100	Am. Malt	10½	13⅛	10½	11⅞	+1⅝
33½	34⅛	1,100	Am. Malt pf	36	37	34	34	+ ½
93	93¼	11,300	Am. Smelt. & Ref	92	93	90	93	+ ½
86	87	200	Am. Smelt. S. pf. A	86⅜	86⅜	86⅜	86⅜	— ⅛
86	87	320	Do., s. 10 f	85½	85½	85½	85½	..
67½	68	7,800	Am. Steel Fdries	69	69½	65¼	68	— ½
111¼	111⅜	1,000	Am. Sugar Ref	111½	111⅝	111¼	111⅜	— ⅛
115	116	100	Am. Sugar Ref. pf	115½	115½	115½	115⅜	..
124	124½	1,400	Am. Teleph. & Tel	124½	124½	124	124	— ½
227½	230	900	Am. Tobacco	227½	230	228	228	—1⅝
108	110¼	200	Am. Tobacco pf	100	100	108¾	106¾	—1¾
54½	54⅞	10,500	Am. Woolen	56	56	53½	54½	+ ⅞
52	54	700	Am. Woolen t. r	53	53	52	53	+ ⅞
97½	98	600	Am. Woolen pf	97½	98	97¼	97¾	+ ⅛
96	96⅜	600	Am. Woolen pf. t.r	97¼	98	96½	98	+ ⅛
79⅝	79⅞	88,600	Anaconda Cop. Co	79	79⅝	78¾	79½	+1⅜
10	..	100	Assets Realisation	12	12	10	10	—1½
107½	107⅝	7,000	Atch., Top. & S. F	106⅝	107⅛	106¼	107⅛	+ ⅜
111⅛	113	100	Atlantic Coast Line	111	111	111	111	—1
128	128½	51,450	Baldwin Loco	130	132	123¼	128	—4¼
93⅜	93¼	6,400	Baltimore & Ohio	93¼	93⅝	92¼	93½	+ ½
75½	75⅝	400	Baltimore & O. pf	75¼	75¼	75¼	75½	+ ½
1¼	1½	100	Batopilas Mining	1½	1½	1½	1½	..
559	560	1,000	Bethlehem Steel	525	559	525	559	..
169	170	600	Bethlehem Steel pf	170¼	171	168	168	—12
169	170	70	Do., odd lot	167½	167½	167½	167½	..
86	87	800	Bklyn Rapid Tran	86¼	86⅝	86	86	..
131	134	100	Bklyn Union Gas	132	132	132	132	—2
86	91	20	Brown Shoe pf	89	89	89	89	..
85	89	100	Burns Brothers	86	86	86	86	—1
64⅜	65	3,400	Butte & Superior	65	66	63	65	..
17⅜	18½	600	California Petrol	18	18	18	18	— ⅛
41½	42	200	California Pack	41⅝	41⅝	41⅛	41½	..
175½	176	7,800	Canadian Pacific	173½	176	173¼	176	+2¼
57¼	57½	4,700	Central Leather Co	57½	57⅝	56½	57¼	— ⅛
107½	108	100	Central Leather pf	107½	107¼	107½	107¼	— ⅛
56¼	56⅝	5,000	Chesapeake & Ohio	57⅜	57⅝	56⅝	56⅝	+ ⅛
13¾	14	1,300	Chi. Great Western	13½	14	13½	14	+ ⅛
35	35¼	2,100	Chi. Gt. West. pf	34½	35¼	34	35¼	+ ⅛
93	93¼	1,400	Chi., Mil. & St. P	92	92	92	92½	+ ⅛
128¼	128⅝	300	Chi., M. & St. P. pf	128⅜	128⅝	128⅜	128⅝	+ ⅛
130½	130¾	200	Chi. & Northwest	130	130	129½	129½	—1½
19¼	19¼	12,800	Chi., Rock Isl. & P	17½	19¼	17⅜	19¼	+1⅛
50¾	51	7,300	Chino Copper	51	51¾	49½	50¾	+ ⅜
72	73	100	Cin., G., C. & St. L. pf	75	75	75	75	+1½
67¼	67⅝	300	Cl'nati, Peabody & Co	69	69	69	69	..
56¾	57	14,900	Col. Fuel & Iron	57⅝	57⅝	54⅝	56⅝	— ⅝
139½	140	8,800	Consolidated Gas	144	144⅝	137⅝	139¾	—3½
96	96⅞	3,400	Continental Can	96¾	96¾	95½	96	—4
19⅜	19½	3,855	Corn Products Ref	19½	19⅝	19½	19½	— ⅜
88½	90	400	Corn Prod. Ref. pf	89	89	88½	89	..
84	84¼	21,600	Crucible Steel	86	86	81	84	—2
105	107	200	Crucible Steel pf	106¾	106	106	106	—2⅝
95	96	200	Decre & Co. pf	94	95	94	95	—2
147½	148	400	Delaware & Hud	147½	148	147½	148	— ⅛
10½	18¼	100	Den. & Rio Gr. pf	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾	— ¼
151	133	100	Detroit Edison Co	131	132¼	131	131	..
46	46¾	22,200	Distillers' Secur	46½	47⅜	42¾	46¾	..
24⅜	24⅞	3,100	Dome Mines	25	25	24	24⅞	— ⅛
9	11	200	Dul., S. S. & A. pf	10	10	10	10	..
70	72	500	Elec. Storage Bat	71	71	70½	70½	— ½
43	43⅝	66,200	Erie	39¼	43¾	39	43⅝	+1⅝
57⅝	57⅞	13,500	Erie 1st pf	56	57⅞	55½	57⅝	+1⅝
48¼	48½	4,200	Erie 2d pf	47	48¼	46	48¼	+1½
48	50	200	Federal M. & S. pf	49	50	49	50	— ½
176	178	3,200	General Electric	177	178	175½	176	..
350	358	400	General Motors	362	362	355	355	—11
112⅞	113¼	200	General Motors pf	113	113	113	113	..
75⅞	76½	13,225	Goodrich (B.F.)	77	77¼	74½	75¾	—2½
123¼	123½	1,050	Great Northern pf	121⅞	123⅝	121½	123⅝	+1¾
49⅞	50	11,200	G. N. certs. of e prop	49⅞	50	48⅞	50	..
38⅞	39	1,400	Greene-Cananea	39	40	38⅝	38⅝	+ ⅛
67⅜	68	1,600	Guggenheim Explor	67½	67⅞	67¼	67¾	+ ⅛
44¾	45	34,700	Inspiration Copper	45½	45¾	44⅞	44⅞	..
22	22½	100	Inter.-Met. pf	22	22	22	22	..
..	..	100	Inter.-Met. pf	81½	81½	81½	81½	—1½
21¾	22	3,000	Interboro Consol	22	22¼	21¾	22	— ⅛
78½	79	1,800	Interboro Con. pf	78	78½	77¾	78½	+ ⅛
22	23	200	Int. Agricultural	21¼	22⅛	21¼	22⅛	—1⅛
53½	54	700	Int. Agricultural pf	52¼	54	52½	54	+ ¾
..	..	700	Int. Harvester, N.J	103½	103½	103	103½	+ ¼
102	105	400	Int. Nickel v. t. c'ts	102	102	102	102	— ½
10⅜	11	1,900	Int. Paper	11¼	11¼	10⅝	10⅝	+ ⅛
41½	42½	1,800	Int. Paper pf	43	43¼	41½	42	+ ½
32⅜	32½	27,800	Kansas City South	29¼	32⅝	29¼	32½	+1⅝
63	63¾	2,400	Kan. City South. pf	62	63⅞	62	63⅝	+1⅛
83	86	100	Kayser (J.) & Co	84	84	84	84	— ⅛
77¾	80	6,700	Lackawanna Steel	80¼	81	77¾	80	+1¼
102¼	103½	100	Laclede Gas	103	103	103	103	—1
11¾	12¼	700	Lake Erie & West	12	12	11	11	—1
78⅞	80	7,200	Lehigh Valley	78	80	77¼	80	+2¼
24	24	400	Liggett & Myers	248	248	248	248	+1
..	..	700	Long Island	25¾	26	25¾	26	+1¼
27	27	100	Loose-Wiles Biscuit	27	27	27	27	..
93½	95	100	Loose-W. Bis.1st pf	95	95	95	95	..
180	181	300	Lorillard (P.) Co	181	181	181	181	—1⅞
128	130	1,200	Louis. & Nash	125½	128	125½	128	+1
65	65	600	Mackay Cos. pf	65	65	64¾	64¾	—1
78	78	20,550	Maxwell Motors	80	81¾	74	77½	—4½
99⅜	99¾	1,800	Maxwell M. 1st pf	100	100⅜	99	99	—⅞
59½	59⅞	10,800	Maxwell M. 2d pf	61	62	57	59¾	—2¼
53	53	100	May Dept. Stores	51	51	51	51	—2
88¾	88¾	7,600	Mexican Petrol	88½	88½	87	88¼	— ⅛
85	86	400	Mexican Petrol. pf	85¾	85¾	85¾	85¾	— ⅛
34½	34⅝	6,100	Miami Copper	35¼	35¼	34¼	34½	— ⅜
13¾	14	200	Minn. & St. Louis	13⅜	13⅞	13⅜	13⅞	+ ⅛
120	121	200	M., S. P. & S. S. M.	120	121¼	121	121½	+ ⅞
120	121	50	Do. odd lots	121⅜	121⅞	121⅜	121⅞	..
..	..	300	Mo., Kan. & T	5¾	5¾	5¾	5½	— ⅜
13½	15	500	Mo., K. & T. pf	14	14	13⅝	13⅞	— ⅛
..	..	1,900	Mo. Pacific	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	..
59½	60	300	Montana Power	59½	59½	59½	59½	..
107	108	100	Mont. Power pf	107	107	107	107	+ ⅛
108	110	100	Nat. C. & S. pf	109¼	109¼	108¾	108¾	— ⅛
3,800	32½	3,800	Nat. E. & S. Co	33¾	33¾	31	32	—1½
3,200	65¼	3,200	Nat. Lead Co	65¾	65¾	64½	65	— ⅜
100	9	100	Nat. R. of M. 2d pf	9¼	9¼	9¼	9¼	+1½
3,000	15¼	3,000	Nev. Con. Copper	15	15¼	14⅞	15¼	+ ⅛
1,200	144	1,200	N. Y. Air Brake	147½	147½	144	144	—3
6,100	101½	6,100	N. Y. Central	100¾	101½	100¾	101½	+1¼
8,400	82½	8,400	N. Y., N. H. & H	81½	82½	80	82½	+1½
300	31	300	N. Y. O. & W	30	30⅞	30	30⅞	+1¼
1,300	116¾	1,300	Norfolk & West	115¾	116	115¾	116	+ ⅞
100	72½	100	North American	71¾	71¾	71¾	71½	+ ⅛
7,200	113¾	7,200	Northern Pacific	111⅝	113⅝	111½	113⅝	+ ⅜
100	..	100	Pacific Mail	30¼	30¼	30¼	30¼	— ⅛
500	..	500	Pac. T. & T. pf	43	43¼	42	42	—1¼
8,800	..	8,800	Penn. Railroad	50	50½	50	50½	+ ⅛
300	..	300	Peo. Gas Chicago	120½	120½	119½	119½	— ⅜
100	..	100	P. M. & Co., 1st pf	96	96	96	96	—2
400	..	400	Philadelphia Co	44¾	45¼	45¼	45¼	— ½
7,000	..	7,000	Pittsburgh Co	36⅝	37¾	36	36¾	—1¼
500	..	500	Pitts. Coal pf	106	106	105	105½	— ⅜
7,900	..	7,900	Pressed S. C	73¼	73⅝	69⅝	72¾	— ⅜
200	..	200	Pressed S. C. pf	108	108	108	108	..
1,100	..	1,100	Pullman Co	165⅜	167	165	166	— ⅜
2,000	..	2,000	Railway S. S.	48¾	48¾	48	48¾	— ⅛
400	..	400	Railway S. S. pf	97	97	97	97	+ ⅛
9,600	..	9,600	Ray Con. Copper	25¾	26	25¾	25¾	..
54,400	..	54,400	Reading	79½	82	78¾	82	+2½
700	..	700	Reading 2d pf	42¾	43	42¾	43	+ ½
7,000	..	7,000	Repub. I. & S.	52¾	53½	51¾	52¾	..
700	..	700	Repub. I. & S. pf	103¾	103¾	102	103	— ⅛
100	..	100	Rock Island Co. pf	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞	— ⅛
1,000	..	1,000	Rumely (M.) Co	5	5¼	4⅞	5¼	— ¼
100	..	100	St. Louis & San F	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	..
40	..	40	St. L. & S F. 1st pf	10	10	10	10	..
100	..	100	St. L. South. pf	33¾	33¾	33¼	33½	— ⅜
3,500	..	3,500	Seaboard A. L	17¾	18⅜	17½	18⅜	+1
1,000	..	1,000	Seaboard A. L. pf	40	40¾	39	40¾	+1
700	..	700	Sears, R. & Co	156⅞	156⅞	156⅞	156⅞	—1
18	..	18	Sec. of Int. s. 50f	156	156	156	156	..
2,800	..	2,800	S.-S. S. & I. Co	59½	60¼	58¾	59	..
11,000	..	11,000	Southern Pac	98¼	99⅛	97½	99¼	+ ⅞
100	..	100	South P. R. Sugar	130	130	130	130	—5½
26,020	..	26,020	Southern Railway	23⅜	24⅝	23½	24⅜	+1½
4,300	..	4,300	South. Ry. pf	62	63¼	62	63	+1½
100	..	100	Standard Milling	79	79	79	79	— ⅞
100	..	100	Stand. Milling pf	81	81	81	81	..
33,950	..	33,950	Studebaker	176	176⅝	158	161	—18½
755	..	755	Studebaker Co. pf	117	117	116½	116½	— ½
4,400	..	4,400	Tenn. Copper	63	62	61⅝	62⅜	—1⅛
900	..	900	Texas Co	165	167	165	166	+ ⅝
600	..	600	Texas & Pacific	13½	14⅛	13½	14	+ ⅛
1,820	..	1,820	Third Avenue	60¾	61	60¾	61	..
100	..	100	Third Ave. pf	90¾	90¾	90¾	90¾	..
100	..	100	Tob. B. & W. pf	10	10	10	10	— ⅛
100	..	100	Underwood T	90½	90½	90½	90½	— ½
400	..	400	Union B. & P. Co	7	7¾	7	7	..
700	..	700	U. B. & P. Co. pf	26	26	26	26	..
10,200	..	10,200	Union Pacific	135¾	136	134¾	136	+ ⅞
700	..	700	Union Pac. pf	82¾	82¾	82½	82¾	+ ½
2,000	..	2,000	United C. M	63¾	63¾	62	63¾	+ ½
5,800	..	5,800	United C. S	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾	..
100	..	100	United C. S. pf	11⅝	11⅝	11⅝	11⅝	+ ⅛
1,100	..	1,100	United Rys. Invest	25	25	24½	24¾	+ ⅛
700	..	700	United R. I. pf	43¼	43¼	42	42	—1
2,800	..	2,800	U. S. C. I. P. & F	29	29¾	27¾	28¾	— ¾
800	..	800	U.S.C.I.P.& F.pf	50¾	50¾	50	50	—1
5,300	..	5,300	U. S. Indust. A	117	117	110	117	—1
100	..	100	U. S. Indust. A. pf	105	105	105	105	..
4,100	..	4,100	United States Rub	56	56¾	54¾	55½	+ ⅝
208,400	..	208,400	U. S. Steel	84½	88¼	83⅝	85½	+1½
3,400	..	3,400	U. S. Steel pf	115¾	116	115¾	116	+ ⅜
11,000	..	11,000	Utah Copper	71¾	71¾	70¾	71¼	+ ⅛
4,400	..	4,400	Va.-Car. Chem	49¼	49¾	48	48½	—1
400	..	400	Va. I. C. & C	71¾	71¾	70	70	..
12,500	..	12,500	Wabash w. i	14¼	15	14¼	14¾	+ ⅜
10,100	..	10,100	Wabash pf. B w. i	46¾	47¾	46¼	47¼	+ ⅜
26,600	..	26,600	Wabash pf. B w. i	28¾	29⅞	28½	29⅝	+1⅜
2,700	..	2,700

Your Investment in

Pacific Gas & Electric Co.

General & Refunding 5s of 1942, and the First Preferred 6% Stock will probably grow in value, because:

1. The Company has no floating debt.
2. Its property is owned in fee.
3. Its territory is equivalent to 75% of the area of New York State.
4. It serves 380,000 consumers.
5. It sells electricity, gas or water to 175 cities and towns.
6. The net earnings have increased at an average rate of $100,000 a month for many months, and its gross earnings have doubled since 1906.
7. The California Railroad Commission has approved these securities.

These investments are so safeguarded that they deserve your prompt investigation.

Our Descriptions A. and 10. outline fully their intrinsic value and their possibilities. Send for them today.

John Nickerson, Jr.
60 Broadway, New York.
300 N. Broadway, St. Louis.

Aetna Explosives
American Brass
American Cigar
Babcock & Wilcox
Crocker—Wheeler
Du Pont Powder
E. W. Bliss
Ford Co., of Canada
Ingersoll-Rand
J. S. Young
Lima Locomotive
Mac Andrews & Forbes
New Jersey Zinc
Niles-Bement-Pond
Porto Rican Am. Tobacco
Remington Typewriter
Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
Scovill Manufacturing
Winchester Arms

BOUGHT & SOLD

JENKS, GWYNNE & CO
TEL. MANOVER 7474
MEMBERS N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

ESTABLISHED 1873

WE SELL:—

any part of 100 Shares

SINGER Manufacturing Co.

TOBEY & KIRK

Members N. Y. Stock Exchange

INVEST YOUR PROFITS
In Municipal Bonds
Exempt from Taxes in New York State

New York State 4½s
City of Utica, N. Y., 4½s
Village of Ilion, N. Y., 4½s
Village of Solvay, N. Y., 5s
Village of Fredonia, N. Y., 4.60s
Oswego County, N. Y., 4½s

Descriptions upon request.

Farson, Son & Co
Members New York Stock Exchange.
115 Broadway, New York City.

Preferred Stocks
To Yield
5% to 8%
Ask for Investment Suggestion No. 820.

Harvey Fisk & Sons
62 Cedar Street New York

W. C. Langley & Co.
Investments
115 Broadway, New York City

W. N. Coler & Co.
INVESTMENTS
43 Cedar Street, N. Y.
New York City and Other Municipal Bonds

COTTON DECLINES ON FRENCH CRISIS

When January Option Sells at 11.85 the Sold-Out Bulls Buy, Rallying the Market.

NET LOSS 25 TO 28 POINTS

Trading on the Curb After the Close Causes a Brisk Advance in All Active Months.

Cotton again broke sharply yesterday with the January option touching 11.85, which apparently was the level anticipated by the leading bull interests who sold out their cotton a week or so ago. At any rate, the market developed resistance at that level, and the official closing was about 6 points up from the bottom. This does not tell the whole story, however, as trading in the unofficial market on the "curb" after the closing recorded a sharp advance, with prices for all active options 10 points higher than the official closing.

It became known late in the afternoon that E. G. Scales, the Texas operator, who took profits on his cotton early in October, had again taken a favorable view of the market, and not only advised his friends to buy, but bought freely himself. Mr. Scales is reported to be very bullish on the market, and his market generalship, as well as his large following, means a good deal to the bull side.

The announcement of the French Cabinet crisis was the news development which was taken as an excuse for further selling. This, together with the weakness in the stock market, caused liberal offerings throughout the session.

The news from Southern spot markets was encouraging. Very little cotton is offered in the interior, and spot holders seem to be showing unexpected strength. The weather is generally favorable, although it is turning colder in the Western belt.

Southern spot markets, as officially reported, were quiet, 18 to 30 points decline. The local market for spot cotton was quiet, 30 points decline, middling 11.35. Futures closed easy.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Dec.	12.00	11.70	11.79@11.81	12.04@12.05
Jan.	12.16	11.85	11.91@11.94	12.15@12.20
March	12.38	12.06	12.12@12.14	12.40@12.41
May	12.47	12.20	12.24@12.26	12.32@12.33
July	12.50	12.25	12.29@12.30	12.37@12.38

Total port receipts, 51,456 bales. Last year, 36,486 bales.

RECEIPTS.

	Yesterday.	Last Week.	Last Year.
New Orleans	8,619	10,317	5,443
Galveston	12,236	13,078	13,200
Mobile	690	224	603
Charleston	1,664	3,049	2,037
Savannah	4,021	4,334	6,090
Wilmington	1,116	2,658	704
Norfolk	3,037	2,682	2,444

INTERIOR RECEIPTS.

	Yesterday.	Last Week.	Last Year.
Augusta	...	4,224	2,972
Memphis	5,545	6,618	8,935
St. Louis	...	372	1,852
Houston	10,007	12,083	14,729

Exports, 41,411 bales; total thus far this season, 1,260,737 bales; total last season, 521,900 bales.

SOUTHERN SPOTS AND STOCKS.

Sales.	Spots.	Stocks.	Last Y'r.
150 Galveston	11.75	297,752	234,681
920 New Orleans	11.75	220,855	108,135
—— Mobile	11.88	11,614	25,571
102 Savannah	11.314	193,159	112,733
—— Charleston	12c.	80,354	48,982
—— Wilmington	Nominal	28,540	23,124
2,284 Norfolk	11.50	60,487	27,326
—— Augusta	11.50	...	107,000
425 Memphis	11.88	152,237	147,845
—— St. Louis	12¼	...	18,843
1,095 Houston	11.75	166,719	107,219

The Liverpool market opened quiet. There was a good demand business in spot cotton, with middling two points advance at 7.10. Sales, 12,600 bales. Receipts, 12,000 bales, including 2,000 American. Market closed easy.

RE-ELECT NEW HAVEN BOARD

Dissatisfied Stockholders Make a Small Showing in Total Vote, Cast.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28.—The present board of fifteen Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company was formally declared elected today at the stockholders' meeting, which had recessed from last night because the tellers had not completed their count of the stock vote. Each Director got practically 919,925 votes, with none against.

The acts of the Directors were approved by a vote of 948,910, with 14,774 votes cast in approval without the last paragraph in the annual report, which stated that the Directors had deemed it unwise to bring restitution suits against a former management.

A resolution, offered by Asa P. French of Boston, to direct the board to bring restitution suits was rejected, 14,533 to 925,124, and the resolution of Hugh W. Ogden of Boston to order the Directors to stop their opposition to the suit of minority stockholders against former Directors was defeated by the same stock vote.

At the meeting President Hadley of Yale and Eli Whitney were the only Directors present. Stockholders present numbered less than ten.

STATE'S BANK RESOURCES

Totaled $671,142,322 on Sept. 25—Deposits Were $576,253,070.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—The resources of the two hundred banks in the State of New York on Sept. 25 last were $671,142,322, according to reports submitted to the State Superintendent of Banks Eugene Lamb Richards. The total deposits on the same day were $576,253,070.

On June 23 last the date of the last previous call, 201 banks reported total resources of $702,518,475 and total deposits of $605,977,618.

The decrease in these two items is due to the fact that the Security Bank of New York and the Century Bank of the City of New York, with total deposits of over $25,000,000, were merged with the Chatham & Phenix National Bank.

RAILWAY EQUIPMENT BONDS.

The following are quoted on a percentage basis:

Name.	Maturity.	Rate.	Bid.	Ask.
Atl. Coast Line	1916-'23	4 @4½	4.50	4.38
Balt. & Ohio	1916-'23	4½	4.45	4.35
Buff., Roch. & P.	1916-'30	4½@5	4.55	4.38
Can. Pacific	1916-'28	4½	4.80	4.60
Car., Clinc. & O.	1916-'24	6	5.12	4.88
Ches. & Ohio	1916-'24	4½	4.75	4.50
Chicago & N. W.	1916-'23	4½	4.45	4.25
Chi., Ind. & Louis.	1916-'23	4½	5.00	4.63
C., St. L. & N. O.	1916-'24	5	4.80	4.40
C., G., G. & St. L.	1916-'29	5	4.95	4.75
Del. & Hudson	1916-'23	4½	4.45	4.35
Erie Railroad	1916-'23	4½@5	4.90	4.70
Hocking Valley	1916-'23	4 @5	4.75	4.50
Illinois Central	1916-'23	4½@5	4.50	4.35
Louis. & Nash.	1916-'23	5	4.45	4.30
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	1916-'23	5	6.12	5.25
Missouri Pacific	1916-'22	5	7.00	5.50
N. Y. Central L.	1916-'28	4½@5	4.50	4.60
Norfolk & West.	1916-'24	4½	4.45	4.25
N. Y., N. H. & H.	1916-'28	6	4.75	4.50
Penn. Gen. Freight	1916-'23	4 @4½	4.35	4.15
St. L., I. M. & S.	1916-'24	5	6.00	5.00
Seaboard Air Line	1916-'23	5	4.88	4.62
Southern Ry.	1916-'24	4½@5	4.85	4.53
Southern Pacific	1916-'24	4½	4.50	4.38
Virginian Ry.	1916-'19	5	4.70	4.40

French Bank Statement.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes:

	Decrease. Francs.
Gold in hand	*37,805,000
Silver in hand	46,000
Notes in circulation	*35,560,000
Treasury deposits	44,143,000
General deposits	28,164,000
Bills discounted	*11,944,000
Advances	7,541,000

*Increase.

ALLIES CALL FOR $72,000,000

Depositories Holding Proceeds of Loan to Send 15% to City Bank.

Banks throughout the United States which are acting as depositaries for the proceeds of the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan have been notified that 15 per cent. of the total amount, or $72,000,000 must be paid into the National City Bank by Nov. 15. The money will be left with the National City Bank, where the Governments of Great Britain and France have a joint account, for disbursement on the order of their special representatives. It is said that about one thousand banks are affected by the call.

Under the terms of the loan agreement, banks subscribing to the syndicate were allowed to keep the amount of their subscriptions as a special deposit, paying 2 per cent therefor, until the money was desired by the borrowers. None of the proceeds of the loan has been expended, and it has accordingly exercised only a sentimental influence on exchange rates.

Sir Paul Harvey, formerly financial adviser to the Egyptian Government but since 1912 chief auditor for the British Government under the National Health Insurance act, has been designated to come to the United States to act as a special commissioner. He arrived last night. He will co-operate with Basil P. Blackett for a few weeks, and will then take his place, as Mr. Blackett has been ordered home. Checks against the Anglo-French balance at the National City Bank will be drawn by Messrs. Blackett and Harvey for Great Britain, and by Octave Homberg and M. Cassanave, President of the Bank of Hayti, for France.

Negotiations by France, Great Britain and Russia for separate credits are proceeding, though in the case of France and Great Britain they are being held up pending action on the report carried home by the Anglo-French Commission. France is to get $15,000,000 through 90-day acceptances, for which she will pay a discount rate of 5 per cent., and ½ per cent. for acceptance or commission. These bills will be renewable for a year, making the total commissions paid, 2 per cent., and the return to the banking syndicate which will advance the money, 7 per cent. Russia has obtained $5,000,000 from the Guaranty Trust Company on 90-day bills, which are renewable five times, making their possible life a year and a half. Officials of the Guaranty Trust Company would not talk about the operation, but it was understood in financial circles that this money cost the Russian Government well over 7 per cent.

This money is advanced on the credit of Petrograd banks, and is further secured by a guarantee on the part of the Russian Government.

It is the understanding in the financial district that Pierre Bark, Russian Minister of Finance, is not willing to have that country's trade obligations financed from hand to mouth, and that he favors one big loan to provide for all needs. Bankers who were asked about this said that such a loan, if decided upon, would be for $100,000,000 at the minimum, and as much more than that as the market would take. Bond dealers are of the opinion that when the Anglo-French loan is distributed the investment market will take a large amount of Russian bonds on a good interest basis.

Sir Henry Paul Harvey is the Auditor of the National Insurance Fund in Great Britain, which was instituted by Lloyd George, and said there was no truth in the reports that it had not proved a financial success.

"Nothing can be said definitely," Sir Henry continued, "until the first accounting has been made, which will not be done for another year."

When asked what would happen if the premiums paid in did not meet the liabilities of the National Insurance Fund, Sir Henry replied that it would be necessary to make another adjustment to meet the deficiency.

WOOLEN CHARTER IN DOUBT.

American Company to Take Definite Action Before Nov. 14.

The committee of American Woolen Company Directors in charge of the rechartering of the concern in Massachusetts decided yesterday to declare the plan operative Nov. 14, or submit a substitute agreement to shareholders for their approval.

The company called for deposits of stock some time ago to be exchanged for certificates of deposit. Both stock and certificates are traded in on the Stock Exchange, but the old stock has been selling considerably higher than the certificates. Holders of the certificates have been concerned over the apparent depreciation of their investment as compared with the stock, and this caused the committee to act.

OUT-OF-TOWN MARKETS

BOSTON.

MINING.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
10	Adventure	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
7,035	Alaska	33	33¼	31⅞	32½
205	Algomah	2	2⅛	1⅞	2
230	Allouez	55	55	54	54½
6,855	Am. Zinc	68¼	68½	66⅝	67½
1,320	Anaconda	78¾	79¼	78¼	79½
765	Ariz. Com.	8	8¼	8	8
2,945	Butte & Sup.	65¼	65½	63½	64½
610	Cal. & Ariz.	64¾	64⅞	64	64¼
82	Cal. & Hecla	545	550	540	540
110	Chino	51½	51½	50	50
129	Copper Range	57	57½	56½	57
610	East Butte	13	13¾	13	13½
7	Franklin	9	9	9	9
451	Granby	85	85¾	84½	85
1,558	Greene Can.	38½	40½	38½	38⅝
130	Hedley	28	28	28	28
550	Inspiration	45⅝	45⅞	44½	44⅞
85	Island Creek	43½	44	43½	44
10	Island Cr. pf.	88	88	88	88
130	Isle Royale	29	29½	28½	29½
5	Kerr Lake	3½	3½	3½	3½
50	Lake	13½	13¾	13¼	13¾
145	Mass. Con.	11¼	11¼	11	11¼
50	Miami	34⅞	34⅝	34¼	34¼
710	Mohawk	81	81⅝	79⅜	81
10	Nev. Con.	15	15	15	15
60	New Arcadian	10½	10¾	10	10
470	North Butte	30⅝	30¾	30¼	30¼
120	North Lake	1⅝	1⅝	1½	1½
65	Old Dominion	54	54	54	54
45	Osceola	84	84½	82	84
470	Pond Creek	16¾	16¾	16	16⅛
210	Ray Con.	26	26	25½	25⅝
2,705	Santa Fe	4⅜	4⅝	4¼	4⅜
53	Shannon	7¼	7½	7¼	7¼
2,690	Shattuck	29½	30½	29¼	29⅜
50	South Lake	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	5½
300	South Utah	30c.	30c.	30c.	30c.
75	St. Mary's Ld.	58	58¼	56	56¼
75	Sup. & Bos.	2⅝	2¾	2⅝	2⅞
285	Superior Cop.	27½	28	27½	27½
20	Tamarack	51	51	51	51
335	Trinity	8½	9	8½	8½
599	Tuolumne	42c.	42c.	40c.	40c.
970	U. S. Smelting	42¾	42¾	42¼	42¼
90	U. S. Sm. pf.	47	47½	47	47½
820	Utah Apex	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
30	Utah Con.	12¼	12¼	12¼	12¼
265	Utah Copper	71¼	71¼	70⅝	70⅝
50	Winona	3	3	3	3
90	Wolverine	59	59	58¾	58⅝

RAILROADS.

38	Bos. & Albany	189	189	189	189
40	Boston El.	85½	85½	85	85
165	Bos. & Maine	33	33½	32⅝	32¾
2	Bos. & Prov.	230	230	230	230
8	Chi. Jct. & S. Y. pf.	104	104	104	104
20	Maine Central	100	100	100	100
10	Mass. Elec. pf.	41⅝	41⅝	41⅝	41⅝
375	N.Y., N.H. & H.	81¼	83¼	80¼	82¼
11	Old Colony	148	148	148	148
9	West End	St. 63	64	63	64

MISCELLANEOUS.

110	Am. Agr. Ch. pf.	98	98	97½	98
200	Am. Pneu. Ser.	2⅝	3	2⅝	2⅝
10	Am. P. S., pf.	16	16	16	16
90	Am. Sugar	112	112	110¾	110¾
39	Am. Sugar pf.	115½	115½	115	115¾
544	Am. T. & T.	124⅝	124⅝	124	124⅞
235	Am. Woolen	54½	54½	53	54½
291	Am. Wool. pf.	97	97¾	97	97½
610	A. G. & W. I.	23	23	21⅝	22
730	A.G.& W. I. pf.	37	38⅞	36½	38⅞
25	Cumberl'd Pr.	43	48¼	43	43¼
9	Edison	238	238	238	238
20	Ga.Ry.& E. pf.	87	87	87	87
39	Gen. Electric	177	177	176	176
70	Mass Gas	89	89	89	89
40	Mass. Gas pf.	87	87	87	87
40	McElwaine pf.	97½	97½	97½	97¼
304	N. E. Tel.	132	132	131	131
26	Pullman	165	165	164	165
13	Swift	119	119	118⅝	118⅝
142	Torrington	35	35	34⅜	34⅜
522	United Fruit	133½	133½	132	132¼
1,105	Uni. S. Mach.	49	49¼	49	49¼
960	Uni. S. M. pf.	28¾	28¾	28½	28½
2,791	U. S. Steel	84½	85¼	83	83
57	U. S. Steel pf.	115½	115½	115¼	115½
900	Ventura Oil	11⅜	11⅜	11½	11½
75	West, Union	80	80	80	80

BONDS.

$1,500	Am. Agr. Ch. 5s.	95¾	95¾	95¾	95¾
1,000	Am. Tel. 4s	89½	89½	89½	89½
700	Am. Tel. 4½s	103½	103½	103¼	103¼
12,500	A.G.& W.I. 5s.	75¼	75¼	74	74
23,000	N. E. Cotton Yarn 5s.	75	75	74⅛	74⅛
2,000	Swift 5s	97	97	97	97
3,000	Uni. Fruit 4½s.	97½	97¼	97½	97⅜
1,000	West. Elec. 5s.	101½	101½	101½	101½

BOSTON CURB.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Alvarado	.80	1.00	La Rose	.40	.50
B. St. Gas	.20	.23	Majestic	.65	.70
Bingham	7⅛	8	Mck.-D.	.27	.32
Bo.cmia	2⅛	2⅜	Mex. Mets.	.21	.23
Begole	.50	1.00	M. of Am.	2⅜	2⅝
Bost. Ely	.20	.24	N. Baltic	2⅜	3¼
Butte & L.	.32	.33	N. Cornelia	8½	8¾
Calaveras	1⅜	1⅞	Nev. Doug.	.70	.70
Chief Con.	.93	.98	O. D. rcts.	.50	.75
Con Ariz.	1¼	1⅜	Ohio Cop.	.13	.14
Con Cop.	1⅜	1⅝	Oneco	1	1¼
Cortez	.50	.70	Onondaga	1¼	1⅞
Crown Res.	.35	.45	S'west M.	.50	1.00
Cal. Cob.	.02	.06	Stew't M.	.65	.70
Davis-D.	1⅞	2	Verde	5½	6
Eagle B. B.	1⅛	1⅜	Utah Mets.	9½	9⅝
First N. C.	4½	5	Ton. Bel.	3½	4
Goldfield	1¼	1⅜	Ton. Min.	5⅝	5⅞
Houghton	2⅜	3¼	Yukon	2⅜	2½
Iron Bloss.	.70	.80

BID AND ASKED QUOTATIONS.

Closing quotations for United States Government bonds:

	Bid.	Asked.
2s, r, 1930	97½	..
2s, c, 1930	97½	..
3s, r, 1918	101	..
3s, c, 1918	101	..
4s, r, 1925	109	..
4s, c, 1925	109⅝	..
Pan 2s, r, 1936	96½	..

Closing quotations for stocks in which there were no transactions:

	Bid.	Asked.
Adams Ex.	100	105
Am Ag Ch pf.	97	99
Am B Sug pf.	92½	98¾
Am Coal	22	..
Am Cot Oil pf.	99¾	100½
Am Lo pf	98	98½
A S pf. B.	82	82½
A S & R pf.	100	103½
Am Snuff	150	155
Do pf	107	108½
A T & C	62	65
Am Wr Pa pf.	8½	10
A M 1st pf.	52	55
A. T. & S F pf.	101	101½
Bald L pf.	107½	110
Brown Sh.	37½	42
Prims Ter.	6⅞	8¼
B. R & P.	75	95
Burns Bros pf.	100	110
Butt's Co.	30½	31⅞
Canada So.	54⅜	..
C R R of N J	270	370
C & S A Tel	134¾	135
Chi & Alt.	8	14½
Do pf	17	30
C & N W pf.	170	190
Chi. St P, M & Om.	116	120
Do pf	128	140
Pan 2s, r, 1938	96½	..
Pan 3s, r, 1961	100½	..
Pan 3s, c, 1961	100¾	..
C, C, C & St L	50	50½
Cleve & P.	77	..
Cluett-P pf	100	111
Col & So.	33¼	34
Do 1st pf	53¾	54½
Do 2d pf.	41	45
Cont C pf.	104	106½
Cres Carp.	40	60
C-Am Sug.	118	120
Do pf	96½	100
D P & L.	30	50
D, L & W.	210	212½
D & R G.	8	10½
D M & Ft D	6	..
Dot U R.	64	70
D. S S & A	6	7
East Kod.	300	..
F M & S.	28	40
Fed Sug pf	42	50
Gen Ch.	340	350
Do pf	112	114¾
Helmo (G W) Co	160	..
Do pf	100	..
Homestake	120	..
Ill Cent	107	107½
I H, N J pf.	117	1 ..
Int H Cor.	66	69
Do pf	..	116
Int N pf.	106	108
Iowa Cent.	10	14
Do pf	10	20
K C, Ft S & M pf.	62	..
Kayser (J) & Co 1st pf.	106	112
K & D M.	1⅜	..
Do pf	30	..
K'gs Co El L & P	127½	129½
Kresge(SS) Co.	226	248
Do pf	109¾	110½
L & W pf.	27	31
L & M pf.	117	119
L-W B 2d pf.	64⅞	67
Lorill'd Co pf.	113	115½
M'kay Cos.	78½	80
Man El'ch.	3	34
Man Elev.	127	129
Man Shirt.	54½	65
Do pf	103½	105
M Dep Sts pf.	98	100
Mich Cent.	110	..
M & St L pf.	27	31
Mt. St P & S S M pf.	125	128
Do 1	71	77
Mor & Es.	81	..
M & S pf.	60	75
N C & St L	135	140
N C & S.	82	83½
Nat En pf	90	92
Nat L pf.	110¼	112
Nat Rys of M 1st pf.	20	23
N Y, C & St L	40	41½
Do 1st pf	80	85½
Do 2d pf.	60	65
N Y, L & W pf.	112¼	117
N & W pf.	82	92
N W Tel.	51	..
Ont Min.	3	3¾
Pabst B pf	..	86
Pac T & T pf.	92	95
Peo & E.	9	12
Petit-Mull.	75	85
P, C, C & St L	78	83
Do pf	93	99
P, Ft W & C pf.	54½	..
Pitts S pf	93¾	99
P S, N J.	110	111
Quicksilver	2⅜	3
Do pf	3½	4
Reece B.	42	45
Rock Isl'd.	¼	⅜
Rumely(M) Co cfts	3⅜	5
Do pf	7¼	9
Do cfts	..	9½
St L & S F 2d pf.	7	7½
St L S W	13½	17½
Sears-R pf.	124½	..
S-S S & I pf.	90	94
So P R S	105	110
So R, M & C cfts	60	75
Tex Co, f paid	161	175
T P L Tr.	106½	..
T, St L & West	4¼	5½
T C R T	96	99
Und T pf.	105	110
Un Cig M pf.	105	109
Un Dry G.	23	50
Do pf	68	74
U S Exp.	68	68½
U S R & I	28	32
U S R & St L	2	3¾
Do pf	3¼	4
U S Rt 1st pf.	106	107
Va-Car Ch pf.	106	109
W F Exp.	118	120
West A B.	140	145
W E & M 1st pf.	80	85
Weym-Bru.	233	..
Do pf	112	..

Tennessee Copper "Rights"

BOUGHT & SOLD

HARTSHORNE AND PICABIA
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange
7 Wall St. Tel. Rector 4590.

Many Investors Are Unaware of the Large Dividends
paid by various oil companies. Unlike other branches of industry, the Petroleum business, when fully developed, is a 24-hour-a-day pursuit, producing, transporting and refining being virtually a continuous process.

Central Petroleum Preferred

is of a producing company, the entire output of which is taken at prevailing market prices by The Texas (Oil) Co., which guarantees the dividend of 8% on Central Petroleum preferred. At present the market is 80c. per barrel with the near outlook of $1.00 per barrel. The par value of the stock is $100.

We offer a small amount subject to sale and advance in price.

Price $42 per share yielding 12%
Special Circular T-189 on request

Douglas Fenwick & Co.
Investment Securities
34 Wall St. Tel. 4220 John

Hopkins & Allen Arms
Common & Preferred
Bought—Sold—Quoted

GWYNNE BROS.
25 Broad St., N.Y. Phone 3232 Broad

We wish to buy

Western New York & Penn. 4s & 5s
Oregon Short Line Refunding 4s
Penn. Co. Tr. Ctfs. 3½s, 1937, 1941-2
Burlington, Cedar Rap. & Nor. 5s
Washington Terminal 4s
New York & Erie 4½s and 5s
Duluth St. Railway 1st 5s
Erie-Penna. Collateral 4s
Pacific of Mo. First 4s
Wabash 2d 5s

John H. Davis & Co.
Tel. 345 Rector. 10 Wall Street.

We Will Sell

Chatham & Phenix National Surety Nat'l B'k of Com'ce

Gilbert Eliott & Co
27 Pine St., N. Y. Tel. John 6210

We Are Specialists in United Cigar Stores Co. of America. $10 Par Value Stock

Now Listed on the
New York Stock Exchange

We are preparing a booklet regarding this Company. A copy will be mailed to you on request.

Listed Securities bought and sold for investment or margin account.
Correspondence Invited.

B. H. & F. W. PELZER
Members N.Y. Stock Exchange
Phone Broad 6037. 12 BROADWAY, N.Y.

WANTED

Du Pont Powder Com.
(Old and New)

Atlas Powder Pfd. & Com.

Du Pont Powder 6% Deb. Stock

WHEATLEY, MATCHETT & CO
INVESTMENT SECURITIES
Phone 9710 Rector. 120 Broadway.

Utah Securities Corp.
STOCK & NOTES

CHANDLER BROS. & Co
MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
34 Pine St., N. Y. Tel. John 3680

A. A. Housman & Co.
Members { New York Stock Exchange, New York Cotton Exchange, New York Coffee Exchange
20 Broad Street New York
BRANCHES
25 West 33rd St. Grand Cent. Term.
Amsterdam Berlin

UNLISTED SECURITIES QUOTATIONS.

The Open Security Market, in The Annalist, contains many unlisted stocks and bonds, sale or purchase of which may be made at prices quoted. Every Monday, 10 cents; $4.00 a year. Times Square, New York.—Advt.

$25,000,000

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT

6% ONE YEAR CONVERTIBLE GOLD BONDS

EXEMPT FROM ALL ITALIAN TAXES

Dated October 15, 1915 Due October 15, 1916

Interest payable April 15 and October 15

Coupon notes in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100, registerable as to principal only

Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin at the offices of Lee, Higginson & Co., Boston, New York and Chicago

CONVERTIBLE PRIVILEGES

Convertible, at the option of the holder, at maturity into one-year 6% Gold Notes of the Italian Government, par for par, which in turn will at maturity be convertible, at the holder's option, into 10-year 5½% Gold Bonds of said Government, par for par.

We regard the credit of the Italian Government as excellent and these notes as unusually attractive. The total annual interest charges on the national debt amount to only about $3.28 per capita. The two conversion privileges give important rights of which the purchaser can avail himself later if he desires.

Italy, with a population of about 36,000,000, has to-day a national debt of about $3,247,400,000, or about $90 per capita.

The Government owns about 76% of the railroad mileage of the country. It also owns all telegraph and substantially all telephone lines. These public utilities represent an investment of about $1,396,000,000. If this portion of the debt, represented by productive assets, be deducted, the net national debt would be $1,851,300,000, or $51 per capita.

Italy's record for the last fifty years has been one of notable achievement. It has shown continuous increases in population, wealth and education, extraordinary gains in commerce and industry and a strong and steadily improving national credit. The year before the war its 3½% consols sold as high as 98, placing its credit among the highest of European nations.

Savings deposits in Italian banks show constant gains:

Deposits, December 31,	1883	$222,096,000 or $7.02 per capita
	1913	1,163,230,000 or 32.68 " "

The 10-year 5½% bonds, issuable under the convertible privilege, will be payable in lire as well as in dollars, which will give the opportunity to Italians to purchase them to send home and in our opinion will make them attractive to investors in Italy at the close of the war.

The proceeds of these notes will be expended for merchandise and commodities purchased by the Italian Government in this country

Temporary negotiable receipts will be delivered pending preparation of the definitive notes.

We shall be glad to receive applications for these notes through any bank or trust company in the United States

PRICE 100 AND INTEREST YIELDING 6%

LEE, HIGGINSON & CO.
NATIONAL CITY BANK
FARMERS LOAN & TRUST CO.
KEAN, TAYLOR & CO.
KISSEL, KINNICUTT & CO.

GUARANTY TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK
MECHANICS & METALS NATIONAL BANK
POTTER, CHOATE & PRENTICE
J. & W. SELIGMAN & CO.

The above statements, while not guaranteed, are based upon government statistics and other information which we believe to be accurate and reliable.

Secured Debts Tax Law

Expires by Limitation on October 31st

The above statute, under which certain bonds may be made exempt from personal property taxation in New York State for a period of five years on payment of ¾ of 1% of the face value, i.e., $7.50 for each $1,000 of the principal, expires by limitation on October 31st and it will no longer be possible for investors to avail themselves of this privilege after that date

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co. Will Buy

100 Aeolian Weber P. & P. Com.
25 Aetna Explosives Com.
100 Albany Southern Pfd.
100 Associated Merchants 1st Pfd.
25 Bucyrus Co. Pfd.
50 Babcock & Wilcox
50 Childs Rest. Com.
25 Crocker Wheeler Com.
25 Conn. Rys. & Ltg. Com.
50 Dixon Crucible
50 Empire Steel & Iron Pfd.
10 Eastman Kodak Com.
50 General Development
100 Great Northern Paper
500 Hocking Valley Products
100 Ingersoll Rand Com.
50 Mechanics Bank of Brooklyn
100 Manhattan Rubber
100 N. Y. Shipbuilding
50 New Jersey Zinc
25 North River Insurance
200 National Bank of Cuba
25 N. Y. State Railways Pfd.
100 New York Dock Com. & Pfd.
25 Phelps Dodge & Co.
100 Remington Typewriter Com.
50 Rubber Goods Mfg. Pfd.
25 Singer Manufacturing
25 Scovill Manufacturing
25 Thompson Starrett Com.
200 Ward Baking Com.
25 Westchester Insurance

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co. Will Sell

25 American Brass
200 Aeolian Weber P. & P. Com.
25 Amer. Water Wks. & Elec. 1st Pfd.
100 Amer. District Tel. of N. J.
50 Bush Terminal Com.
50 Babcock & Wilcox
100 Computing-Tab.-Recording
15 Childs Rest. Pfd.
200 Cranford Trust
50 Empire Steel & Iron, Com. & Pfd.
100 Eastern Penn. Rys. Com.
15 Eastern Steel 1st Pfd.
27 E. W. Bliss Com.
25 Fidelity-Phenix Insurance
15 Franklin Insurance
10 Harriman National Bank
3 Hall Switch & Signal 6s
50 James Butler Com.
100 Milliken Bros. Com. & Pfd.
25 Midvale Steel (Old)
200 N. Y. Shipbuilding
200 New Jersey Zinc
25 National Park Bank
50 Niles-Bement-Pond Com.
50 Remington Type. 1st & 2nd Pfd.
25 Royal Baking Powder Pfd.
50 Singer Manufacturing
25 Scovill Manufacturing
50 Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
25 Victor Talking Machine
6 Winchester Repeating Arms
25 Yale & Towne Mfg.

J.K.Rice,Jr.&Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y

We Specialize In

American Brass
Jos. Dixon Crucible
Niles-Bement-Pond
Standard Screw
Scovill Mfg.

GWYNNE BROS.
25 Broad St., N. Y. Phone 3232 Broad.

Babcock & Wilcox
Central Aguirre Sugar
Cities Service
Crocker-Wheeler
Fajardo Sugar
Gulf States Steel
Hale & Kilburn
Niles-Bement-Pond

ERNEST SMITH
25 Broad St., N. Y. Tel. 974 Broad.

Bought—Sold—Quoted

AMER. BRASS STOCK

GWYNNE BROS.
25 Broad St., N. Y. Phone 3232 Broad

Canadian Car and Foundry

Our new CIRCULAR C. F.-1 contains late important information about this Corporation and the market possibilities of its securities.

Sent on Request.

E. BUNGE & CO.
44 Broad St. New York
*Phones Broad 6051—2—3—4—5—6.

WANTED
Amer. Brass
Childs Co. Com.
Conn. Ry. & Lt. Pfd.
Geo. W. Helme Com. & Pf.
Adirondack Elec. Com. & Pf.

HOTCHKIN & CO.
Incorporated.
44 Pine St., N. Y. 53 State St., Boston.
Phone 4161 John. Private Phone to Boston.

Adirondack Elec. Power Com. & Pfd.
American Power & Light Com. & Pfd.
Amer. Water Works & Elec. (all issues)
Central States Elec. Com. & Pfd.
Tennessee R'way Light & Pow. Com. & Pfd.
Western Power Common & Preferred

FREDERIC H. HATCH & CO.
Phone Broad 5140. 30 Broad St., New York.
Private telephone to Boston and Philadelphia.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Further Sharp Decline in Prices of Curb Stocks on Moderate Trading.

Transactions in the outside security market yesterday amounted to 443,680 shares of stock and $200,000 of bonds.

The sales of stock were divided as follows: Industrials, 179,552; oil, 7,535, and mining, 256,595. The range of prices of all issues in which transactions were recorded was:

INDUSTRIALS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
1,900	Am. Br. M. Co.	35	38	27	38
1,490	Am. Zinc	68¼	68¼	67	67½
355	†Can. C. & F.	107	107	103	103
3,000	†Car. L. & P.	9¼	9¼	8¾	9
100	†Cent. Fdy.	15	15	15	15
177	†Chev. M. Car Co., w. i.	126	126	123	124
80	Chalm. Mot.	156	156	154	154
700	†Cramp Sh.	83	83	79	80
585	Driggs-Seab.	138	142	135	140
1,100	Eastern Steel.	38	39¾	31	37
325	Emer. Phon.	9	*10	9	10
260	Guan. Sugar.	66	66	*63	*63
250	†Hall Signal.	32	32	27	27
310	†Hall Sig. pf.	49	49	47	47
800	†Hendee Mfg.	33	34	31	33
320	†Hop. & Al. A.	52	54	50	51
40	900 †Int. Mer. M.	13	13	11¾	12¾
25,300	†Int. M. M. pf.	44	44½	42	43
3,175	I.M.M. C.T.cts.	43½	44	41½	43
2,000	†Int. Mot.	41@42	42	*39	40
75	†Int. Mot. pf.	67	67	65	65
110	Kath. Br. pf.	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
150	Kelly Spr. T.	300	300	300	300
70	Kelly Spr. Tire new 1st pf.	93	93	93	93
6,000	†Kelly Spr'fld Tire w. i.	77½	77¾	77¼	77¼
120	†Keystone Ord.	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾
1,000	†Lake Torpedo Boat	16	16½	15½	16
500	†Lake Tor. Bt. 1st pf.	16	16½	16	16
1,500	Mar. of Am.	4¾	4¾	4¼	4¼
50,000	†Mid. Steel.	89½	89½	86	88¾
1,500	Car. of R. & H.	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾
100	†M. R'm'y w.i.	22	22	22	22
2,000	†Stand. Motors	12	12½	11¼	11¾
5,000	†St. Jo. Lead.	13¾	14	13¾	13¾
1,500	Stud. Rights.	4¼	4½	4¼	4¼
5,000	Sub. Boat.	42	42	40¾	40¾
1,000	†Tob. Prod.	38½	38½	37¼	38
3,000	Tri. Film ctf.	6¾	6¾	6¼	6¾
5,000	Un. Prof. Sh.	2½	2½	2½	2¾
7,000	†U. S. Light & Heat Cor.	5¾	5¾	5	5¼
5,500	†U. S. Light & Ht. Corp. pf.	5¾	6	5¾	5¾
1,200	Way. Oil & G.	4¼	4½	4¼	4¼
1,000	†World Film.	4	4	4	4

OIL ISSUES.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.	Net Ch'ge.
775	†Houston Oil.	19½	18⅞	19	— ⅛
60	Illinois P. L.	154	154	154	— 1
1,000	†Int. Petrol'm.	10	9¾	9¾	— ⅛
150	Midwest Ref.	41	40	40	— 1
85	Ohio Oil.	157	156½	156½	— ⅜
10	Prairie O. & G.	419	419	419	+ 1
120	Prairie P. L.	215	212	212	— 2
20	S. O. of Cal.	319	315	315	— 4
20	S. O. of N. J.	490	490	490	+ 1
90	S. O. of N. Y.	200	199	200	..
3	Union Tank L.	84	84	84	+ 1
700	Ventura Con.	11¾	11¾	11¾	+ ⅛
4,500	†Victoria Oil.	1¾	1½	1⅝	..

MINING STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
2,500	††A.-C. M. Co.	18	19	18	19
3,000	††Am. Comm.	8	8	8	8
1,000	††Atlanta	25	25	24½	24½
350	Big L. Dev. Co	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
22,200	Braden Copper.	11¾	11¾	10½	11¼
100	Buffalo Mines.	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
2,700	Butte C. & Z.	4¼	4¼	4	4
445	Butte & N. Y.	2⅞	2⅞	2⅝	2½
3,000	†Caledonia.	95	95	95	95
11,000	†Canada Copper.	1½	1½	1⅜	1½
12,000	†Cashboy	8	8¼	7	7
28,100	†Chile Copper.	24¾	25	24	24¾
15,000	†Comstock T.	13	15	11	14
10,000	Con. A. Smelt.	1¾	1¾	1⅜	1¾
2,600	††Emma Cop.	25	27	25	27
1,200	First Nat. C.	4¼	4¼	4¾	4⅞
100	Goldfield Cons.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
600	Hecla Mining.	8¼	8¼	8⅛	8⅛
100	Howe Sound.	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
10,000	Jumbo Ext.	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
20,000	Kennecott Cop	53	58¾	50	51½
18,000	†Kewanas	31	32	31	32
300	Magma Cop.	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¾
700	†McKin.-Dar.	30	30	29	30
1,000	††Marsh Min.	31	31	31	31
9,000	††Mother Lode	33	35	33	34
1,200	††Nat. Z. & L.	85	92	85	90
500	†Nevada Hills.	20	20	20	20
500	New Utah B.	2⅜	2⅞	2½	2⅞
2,200	Nip. Mines Co.	6⅞	6⅞	6⅜	6⅜
5,000	†Uro	6½	6½	6½	6½
4,500	Ray Her. W. i.	4¼	4¼	3¾	4
6,500	††Rex Con. M.	45	45	45	45
20,000	††Sand. Ken.	10	10	9	9
2,000	†Santa Fe Min.	4¾	4¾	4¼	4¼
2,200	Stand. Sil.-L.	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
1,000	Stewart	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼
11,500	†xi Suc. Min.	68	67	64	66
6,900	†Sup. Min. Co.	24	27	24	24
1,100	Tom. Exten.	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
100	Tono. Bel.	3½	3½	3½	3½
18,000	Tri-Bullion	⅛	¼	⅛	⅛
8,500	†West E. Con.	73	73	68	70
250	†Wh. K. C. pf.	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞

BONDS.

$24,000	Bra. Cop. 7.	210	220	210	210
150,000	Bra. Cop. 6s.	210	222	210	218
65,000	Ken. Cop. 6s.	172	172	166	166

†Sell cents per share. xEx div. *Odd lot. ‡Unlisted.

Bid and asked quotations of issues not traded in compared with those of previous week:

INDUSTRIALS.

	Oct. 28. Bid.	Asked.	Oct. 27. Bid.	Asked.
Am.-Brit. Mfg. pf.	70	90	75	100
Brit.-Am. Tob., ord.	14	15	14	15
Brit.-Am. Tob., ord. bearer	14	15	14	15
Can. Car & F'dry pf.	118	120	119	121
Can. Gen. Electric	124	127	124	127
Carbon Steel	125	135	125	135
Carbon Steel 1st pf.	76	82	76	82
Carbon Steel 2d pf.	85	95	85	95
Carriage Fact., Can.	48	52	45	52
Central Foundry pf.	31	32½	31	32½
Dominion Steel	46¼	47½	47	48
Flak Tire	122	125	122	125
Franco-Spanish Petroleum, (a prospect)	1	1¼	1	1¼
Mar. High Power Mar.	95	105	95	105
Mutual Profit Shar.	9	9¼	9	9¼
N. Y. Transportation	15	17	15	17
Pacific Gas & Elec.	53	55	53	55
Pyrene Mfg. Co.	16	16½	16	16½
Sherman Carbide	7¾	8¼	7¾	8¼
Sherman Carbide, pf.	9	15	9	15
Steel Co. of Can.	34½	35½	35	36
Sterling Gum	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
Ventura Cons. Oil	11¾	12	11¾	12

OIL ISSUES.

Anglo-American	16½	17	16	16½
Pierce Oil	13½	14	13½	14
Ventura Cons.	11¾	12	11¾	12

MINING STOCKS.

Arizona Duquesne	37	40	37	40
Big Cottonwood	3	4	3	4
Butte Copper & Zinc clfs	4¼	4¾	4¼	4¾
Cerro de Pasco Copper Corp.	47	48	47	48
Diamond Black Butte	5	6	5	6
First National Cop.	4¾	5	4¾	5
Goldfield Merger	18	19	17	19
La Rose Cons.	⅞	¾	⅞	¾
Majestic Mines	60	65	60	64
Marsh Mining	31	32	31	32
Silver Pick	8	9	8	9
Tonopah Merger	40	44	40	43
Tonopah Mining	5½	5¾	5½	5¾
Tuolumne Copper	⅝	⅞	⅝	⅞
Wilde Knob Cop. pf.	1⅜	1⅞	1⅜	1⅞

BONDS.

Anglo-French 5s	97¾	98	97¾	98
Con. Arizona 5s	25	30	25	30
Inter. Mer. M. n. 5s	85	90	85	90
Pierce Oil 6s	80	82	80	82
Western Pac. 5s	33	34½	33	34½

MUNITIONS STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Wednesday. Bid.	Asked.
Aetna Explosives	150	156	150	160
Aetna Explosives pf.	83	86	83	86
Atlas Powder	258	265	267	270
Atlas Powder pf.	95	99	95	99
Babcock & Wilcox	145	148	147	150
Bliss (E. W.)	405	425	410	430
Bliss (E. W.) pf.	72	80	72	80
Canadian Explosives	390	415	390	415
Can. Explosives, pf.	100	110	100	110
Colt's Arms	905	925	900	925
Du Pont Pow., new	435	436	436	445
Du Pont Powder, pf.	100	102	100	102
Hercules Powder	424	432	434	440
Hercules Powder, pf.	114	118	114	118
Midvale Steel & Ord.	92	93½	93	94
Niles-Bement-Pond	194	200	196	201
Niles-Bement-P., pf.	101	105	101	105
Savage Arms	380	390	395	405
Scovill Mfg. Co.	430	435	430	435
Winchester R. A.	2775	2900	2900	3000

THE TREASURY STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Receipts and expenditures:

	This Month.	Fiscal Year.
Customs	$15,306,867	$80,998,681
Ordinary int. revenue	29,874,822	118,805,821
Income tax	826,297	11,871,369
Miscellaneous	2,530,154	13,482,337
Total receipts	48,540,132	205,158,289
Excess of ord. disburse. over ord. receipts	5,056,651	38,452,508
Excess of total disburse. over total receipts	*6,801,540	37,792,041
Expenditures	53,596,783	243,610,808

Prices Firm on Paris Bourse.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Prices were rather firm on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes, 65f. 90c. for cash. Exchange on London, 27f. 59c.

LONDON MARKET UNCERTAIN

Resignation of the French Cabinet Causes Restriction of Trading.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Money and discount rates were steady today. Treasury bills sold well at the Bank of England.

The stock market was rather uncertain. The resignation of the French Cabinet and the fact that the war loan is now paid up restricted dealings except in specialties. Diamond shares and Kaffirs were firm and Grand Trunk issues were in good demand, but Mexican rails were reactionary.

American securities were quiet. Canadian Pacific and United States Steel received the most attention. The latter eased off, but the rest of the list closed quiet and steady.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Sales on the Consolidated Stock Exchange were the heaviest since July 30, 1914, the day before the Wall Street Exchanges closed because of the European war. There were four distinct movements in prices during the day. At first the market broke, announcement of the collapse of the French Cabinet as an outgrowth of the Balkan situation inciting general selling. Then there was a sharp rally, which was followed by another break in the market in the early afternoon. The final movement, however, was upward once more, with many stocks then attaining their best levels for the day.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
40	Alaska Gold.	32⅞	32⅞	32¼	32½
2,170	Allis-Chal.	42	42	40	41⅜
180	Am. Beet Sug.	64¼	65	64	64⅞
3,510	Am. Can	61½	61⅝	59⅜	60⅜
1,470	Am. Car & F.	86	86¾	83	84⅜
10	Am. Hide & L.	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾
30	Am. Ice Sec.	23½	24½	23⅝	24½
50	Am. Linseed.	26½	26½	26¼	26⅛
3,650	Am. Loco.	65⅞	70⅜	66	68⅝
140	Am. Malt	11¼	11¾	11¼	11⅜
870	Am. Smelting.	92¼	92⅝	90¾	91¼
10	Am. Woolen.	54½	54½	54½	54½
15,130	Anac. Cop.	79¼	79⅞	78⅛	79⅜
150	At., T. & S. F.	106¾	107¼	106¾	107¼
1,880	Baldwin Loco.	130	132	124⅜	127¼
80	Balt. & Ohio.	92⅝	93¼	92⅜	8-¼
150	B'klyn R. T.	90¼	90½	86	90¼
20	Can. Pacific.	176½	176½	176¼	176⅝
270	Cent. Leather.	57¼	57½	56½	57
160	Ches. & Ohio.	57⅜	58⅝	57¼	58⅜
20	C., M. & St. P.	91¾	91¾	91⅜	91⅜
1,870	C., R. I. & P.	17¼	19	17¼	18
860	Chino Cop.	51¾	51¾	50	50⅝
3,780	Col. F. & I.	57⅜	57¾	55	56⅛
150	Con. Gas	144¼	144¼	138	138
250	Corn Prod.	19⅜	19⅜	19	19¼
2,290	Cruc. Steel	85⅝	86	81¼	84⅜
780	Dist. Sec.	46⅝	46⅞	44	45¼
6,690	Erie	39⅝	43	39	43
140	Erie 1st pf.	53¾	57	53¾	57
1,180	Goodrich Co.	77¼	77¾	74½	75⅜
790	Gt. Nor. Ore.	49⅝	49⅝	48½	49½
10	Gt. Nor. pf.	121½	121½	121½	121½
20	Gug. Exp.	68	68	68	68
620	Insp. Cop.	45½	45¾	44¼	44⅜
190	Interboro Con.	22½	22¾	22	22½
740	Kan. City So.	29⅝	31⅞	29½	31⅝
10	Lacka. Steel.	77¾	77¾	77¾	77¾
640	Lehigh Val.	77⅝	80⅝	77⅜	79⅜
1,310	Max. Mot.	50	50¼	74¼	75⅜
30	Maxwell 2d pf.	57	58½	57	58⅜
420	Mexican Pet.	88¾	88½	87	68
780	Miami Copper.	35¼	35¾	34½	34½
50	Mo. Pacific.	4½	4¾	4½	4¾
80	Nat. Enam. & S.	32	35	31	32
20	Nevada Cons.	15	15	15	15
20	N. Y. Air Br.	144¾	145	144¾	145
30	N. Y. Central.	100¾	100¾	100¼	100½
380	N.Y., N.H. & H.	87¼	92¼	80¾	85¾
120	Pennsylvania.	59	59¾	59	59¾
40	Pitts. Coal	36⅞	38⅞	36¾	36⅞
260	Pr. Steel Car.	73½	73½	70¾	71
100	Ray Copper	25⅞	25⅞	25¾	25⅝
12,900	Reading	82⅜	82	78⅜	82
470	Rep. I. & S.	52¾	53	51½	52½
470	Southern Pac.	98¼	98⅞	97¾	98⅞
580	Southern Ry.	24¾	24⅞	23¾	24½
410	Studebaker	176½	176¾	159½	161½
340	Tenn. Copper.	63	63	61½	62½
70	Third Avenue.	61	61	61	61
1,830	Union Pacific.	135½	136	134⅜	135¼
800	U. S. Rubber.	58	58¾	54½	55¼
39,180	U. S. Steel.	84½	85¾	83⅜	85⅛
660	Utah Copper.	71⅝	71⅝	70¾	71
80	Va.-Car. Chem.	49½	49½	48¼	48¼
80	Wabash pf. A.	47½	47¾	47½	47
30	Wabash pf. B.	29⅜	29⅜	29⅜	29¼
7,130	Westingh. El.	72¾	72¾	69¾	71⅛
118,510

MINING STOCKS.

500	Atlanta	.25½	.25½	.25½	.25
2,400	Blue Bell	.07½	.07¾	.07½	.07
2,800	Comstock	.12	.12½	.12	.12
300	Con. Va.	.30	.30	.30	.30
300	Goldf'd Con.	1.25	1.25	1.25	1.25
400	Goldf'd Mer.	.19	.19	.19	.19
800	Isabella	.16½	.18	.16	.16
500	Jumbo Ext.	1.25	1.25	1.25	1.25
1,500	Mizpah	.25	.29	.25	.29
400	Montana	.31	.31	.31	.31
200	Tono. Mining.	5.40	5.40	5.40	5.40
200	Tono. Merger.	5.40	5.40	5.40	5.40
500	Tono. Ext.	2.80	2.80	2.80	2.80
1,000	West End	.72	.72	.72	.72
11,800

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Government Issues.

Security.	Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Ask.	Yield
Anglo-French	5	Oct., 1920	97½	98	5.45
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1915	100¼	100⅜	1.50
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1916	101	100⅝	4.60
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1917	100⅜	101⅛	5.33
Argen. Gov't.	6	May, 1920	99	99⅜	6.20
City of Mont.	5	Dec., 1917	99	99⅜	5.11
City of Q'b'c.	5	Apr., 1920	98¾	99¾	5.20
Dom. of Can.	5	Aug., 1916	100⅛	100⅜	4.00
Dom. of Can.	5	Oct., 1917	100	100⅛	4.80
French Gov't.	5	Apr., 1916	99½	99⅝	6.50
German Gov't.	5	Jan., 1916	99¾	100	5.00
Italian Gov't.	6	Oct., 1916	99½	100	6.00
Norway Gov't.	6	Oct., 1916	99⅝	100⅛	5.45
Norway Gov't.	6	Oct., 1917	99⅝	100½	5.10
Swedish Gov't.	6	Dec., 1916	99	100	6.00
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1916	99¾	100	5.00
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1918	96¼	97	6.15
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1920	95¾	96¼	6.15

Company Issues.

Ala. Power.	6	Feb., 1918	100	101	5.60
Am. Cot. Oil.	5	Nov., 1917	100⅝	101	4.45
Am. Loco. Co.	5	July, 1916	100¾	101¼	3.00
A. T. & T. sub.	5	Apr., 1916	100⅜	101⅛	2.75
Ana. Cop.	5	Mar., 1917	100⅞	101⅛	4.10
Balt. & Ohio.	4½	June, 1917	100¾	100⅞	4.35
Balt. & Ohio.	4½	June, 1918	100	100¼	4.45
B. R. T.	5	July, 1918	100¼	100¾	4.90
Can. North'n.	5	Sept., 1917	98	98¼	5.75
Can. Pacific.	6	Mar. 2, '24	102⅜	103	5.60
Ches. & Ohio.	5	June, 1919	96	96¼	6.30
Chi. & W. I.	5	Sep., 1917	99¼	99⅝	5.30
Con. Gas, Balt.	5	May, 1917	99	100	6.00
Con. Pow. Co.	6	May 1, '17	99	100	6.0
C. P. R. & L.	6	June, 1916	100	101	5.60
Chi. El. Rys.	5	July, 1916	92	94	18.65
Erie R. R.	5	Apr., 1916	100½	100⅝	3.20
Erie R. R.	5½	Apr., 1917	100⅝	101¼	4.70
E. Pr. & Lt.	5	1918	93	96½	6.—
Gen. Rubber.	5	Dec., 1918	100	100¼	4.90
Gr. Rap. Ed.	5	May, 1916	100	100⅜	3.78
Gr. Rap. Ry.	5	June, 1916	100	100⅜	3.88
Hav. El. Ry.	6	Sept., 1916	99½	100	6.0
Hock. Val.	5	Nov., 1917	100¼	100⅜	4.80
Int. Harv.	5	Feb. 15, '18	101	101¼	4.5.
Lack. Steel.	6	Mar., 1917	100⅜	101	5.35
L. S. & M. S.	5	Sep., 1915	100	100¼	2.00
Louis. G. & E.	6	Apr., 1918	99	100	6.0.
Mich. Ry.	6	June, 1916	100	100⅜	5.85
Minn. Gen. E.	6	June, 1917	100½	101	5.50
Mont. T. & P.	6	Apr., 1917	95	97½	7.95
N. E. Nav.	6	May, 1917	97¼	97¾	6.90
N.Y., N.H. & H.	5	Mar., 1916	100	100	3.50
North. S. P.	6	June, 1917	99¾	100⅜	6.00
Penn. Co.	4½	Jan. 15, '21	100	100¼	4.45
P. S. C., N. J.	5	Mar., 1916	100⅜	100⅝	2.65
Sea. Air Line.	5	Mar., 1916	100⅜	100⅝	2.65
Southern Ry.	5	Feb., 1916	100½	100⅝	3.30
Southern Ry.	5	Mar., 1917	99¾	100⅛	4.95
Suls. & Sons.	6	June, 1916	100¾	101¼	4.40
U. S. Smelt.	5	June, 1918	98½	99½	6.25
U. S. P. S. Co.	6	Apr., 1918	97½	98¼	6.1
Union Typew.	5	Jan. 15, '16	94	97	19.50
United Fruit.	6	May, 1917	101¼	101¾	4.75
United Fruit.	5	May, 1918	99¾	100	5.00
Utah Copper.	6	Apr., 1917	100	100⅜	5.55
West. E. & M.	5	Oct., 1917	101	101¼	4.35
W. Penn. Tr.	6	Mar., 1917	97	100	6.00
W. S. G. & E.	6	Oct., 1917	98¼	99¼	6.35
W. Pr. Co.	6	Mar., 1917	99½	100¼	5.40
W. V. T. & E.	6	June, 1917	96	98	7½

PUBLIC UTILITY SECURITIES.

	Bid.	Asked
American Gas Co.	116	120
American Light & Traction	1340	†345
American Light & Traction pf.	107	†109
Adirondack Electric Power	14	16
Adirondack Electric Power pf.	53	56
*American Gas & Electric	103	106
*American Gas & Electric pf.	48	60
American Power & Light	59	62
American Power & Light pf.	78½	80
American Public Utilities	30	35
American Public Utilities pf.	64	67
American Waterworks & Electric	5½	7¼
Am. W. W. & E. participating pf.	13	16
American W. W. & E. 1st pf.	50	56
Atlantic P. & Lt. 7 p. c. cum. pf.	92	95
Cities Service	61	63
Cities Service	63	66
Colorado Power	24	25½
Colorado Power pf.	95	97
Commonwealth P. R. & L.	55	57
Commonwealth P. R. & L. pf.	61½	63½
Consumers Power Co. 5s, 1929	90¾	91¾
Consumers Power (Me.) pf.	90	94
Denver Gas & Electric gen. 5s	92	95
Electric Bond Deposit pf.	75	80
Electric Bond & Share pf.	98½	100
Empire District Electric 5s	76	80
Empire District Electric pf.	65	72
Federal Light & Traction	12	14
Federal Light & Traction pf.	50	70
Gas & Electric Securities	50	70
Gas & Electric Securities pf.	60	75
Great Western Power Co. 5s, 1946	81½	83
Lincoln Gas & Electric	10	20
Northern Ontario Light & Power	10	15

JAPANESE QUICK TO USE TSING-TAO

Model City That the Germans Built with So Much Skill Is a Real War Prize.

RUSH FROM JAPAN OVERDONE

Many of the New Shops Had to Close—Future of the City and Concession in Doubt.

TSING-TAO, Sept. 6, (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Few traces remain of the long siege which robbed the Germans of this model city and turned it into Japanese hands. By means of aeroplane scouts, the Japanese were able to direct the fire of their big guns against the forts of the heights surrounding Tsing-tao so accurately that little damage was done to anything but the military strongholds. A few stray shells landed in the city: Pieces of shell did slight damage to the American Consulate. The Brazilian Consulate was wrecked. A corner was knocked off the Prinz Heinrich Hotel, a pretentious building on the water front. But all damaged walls have been repaired and the beautiful city which the Germans carved out of the granite hills facing Kiao-Chau Bay is moving along peacefully, little changed except that Japanese have replaced Germans.

Instead of 3,500 Europeans who lived in Tsing-tao previous to the siege, 12,500 Japanese have settled here. Many of these have opened up shops and taken over business which the Germans conducted. The Japanese Government discouraged this rush to Tsing-tao, which was overdone to the extent that many of the new shops have had to close.

"Military necessity" has enabled Japanese officials to take over many private institutions as well as the public buildings. Lieut. Col. Yoshimura, the Military Governor, occupies the handsome stone structure formerly used by Colonel Waldeck, the German Governor of the concession, who is now a prisoner in Japan. This imposing building surmounts a high knoll in the heart of the European section of the city, and the great white flag with the red moon on it which floats from the lofty tower is the first thing which meets the eye of a visitor entering Tsing-tao on the railway manned by Japanese.

Japanese Garrison and Police.

A Japanese garrison of one battalion occupies the barracks on the heights overlooking the city. Japanese soldiers police the city, and two regiments of Japanese are scattered along the 246 miles of railway built by the Germans to connect their seaport with the railway system which touches Peking, Tientsin and Shanghai, and connects those centres with the Yang-tse-Kiang and other great rivers penetrating the interior of China.

General Ohtani commands the Japanese forces in Tsing-tao and along the Shantung Railway. Baron Funakoshi, who was attached to the Japanese Embassy at Berlin before the war, but left that city previous to Japan's declaration of hostilities, is in charge of what the Japanese call a "diplomatic bureau," an organization designed to look after claims and international questions growing out of the war conditions. The American Consul, M. R. Peck, returned to Tsing-tao immediately after the siege and is looking after the interests of Americans and belligerents in a semi-official way. He has no official standing and in much the same position as American Consuls in Belgium. To apply for official recognition from the Japanese would imply admission by the United States of Japan's sovereignty in Tsingtao and the entire Kiao-Chau concession held by Germany. This comprises an area of many square miles along Kiao-Chau Bay in addition to the city of Tsing-tao proper, but does not include the town of Kiao-Chau, which is frequently confused with the concession bearing the same name.

Rumors are in circulation in Tsingtao that the Japanese will soon establish a civil government in the concession, but no official announcement has been made. Japan has turned the customs over to China, under Japanese supervision, retaining 20 per cent. of the receipts for operating purposes. Broadly speaking, Japan now stands just where Germany did before the war in relation to the concession. Japan has substituted its name for Germany throughout the treaty agreement between China and Germany, which granted to the Germans the ninety-nine-year lease on the seaport territory and the right to build railways in Shantung Province.

In preparation for the attack of Tsingtao the Japanese effected a landing in Lao-Shan-Wan Bay, forty-five miles northwest of Tsing-tao, and constructed a temporary railway upon which they moved their 24-centimeter guns and supplies for sieges behind the hills surrounding the city. Germans and Chinese believed the Japanese would hold this right of way and build a permanent line, but the Japanese have already taken up the rails and abandoned the route.

German Signs Remain.

Little change has been made in the general appearance of the city by the Japanese. "Rollschubahn" is the sign which still stands high above the roller skating rink. The name "Schantung Eisenbahn Gesellschaft" has not been painted out on the rolling stock of the railway, and German signs are still in place above all the stations. "Kaiser Wilhelm Ufer" flouts itself proudly on the street signs along the beautiful marine drive. In all directions the typically German names of firms stand forth on the quaint gables and towers of business houses which suggest Heidelberg or Vienna.

Japanese soldiers ride on all the trains between Tsing-tao and Tsi-nan. It requires twelve hours to make the trip of 246 miles on the single passenger train running each way daily, and the service is very poor. "War times, you know," a Japanese officer remarked when the fact was mentioned that the Germans made the run in nine hours or less. The tracks were damaged somewhat by the high water this Spring. Only necessary repairs are being made by the Japanese, who say they do not want to spend any money until the ownership of the line is determined. Under German management the line made from 6 to 8 per cent. annual profit. It has two short spurs into rich coal fields and had a heavy coal haul. The Japanese say the line is not profitable. It is now carrying many cattle and large quantities of hides and lard, which are sent to Vladivostok for the Russian Army.

The concurrence of the Japanese in England's refusal to carry enemy freight has greatly curtailed both railway and steamer freight at Tsing-tao. Many Germans from Tsing-tao went to Tsi-nan and other Chinese towns to continue their business. Until the Japanese shipping lines put up the bars, the Germans were able to get considerable shipping space through co-operation with neutrals. Germans operated a great brewery in Tsing-tao, which is now run as a British corporation by English stockholders.

The German Monolith.

The most conspicuous monument in Tsing-tao is a great granite monolith which the Germans erected on the waterfront at the point where Germans first landed in 1898 to take over the concession granted to them by China. On each of the four sides of the monument there was formerly a great bronze tablet commemorating the acquisition of this commercial gateway to China. Three of these tablets have been pried off. Only one, bearing the bust of Captain Jaeschke, the first Governor General of the colony, remains. Japanese officers say Chinese coolies stole the tablets for the metal. But the marvelous modern city, which the Germans created in sixteen years, stands as an enduring monument to their constructive genius. Bare granite hills were leveled, graded, and planted with such skill that pines now cover the once barren peaks, and beautiful acacias and maples thrive everywhere in parks and along avenues lined with dignified modern buildings of granite and brick. A magnificent marine drive was created, which winds all about the concession and stands out in startling contrast to the Chinese roads, which have existed for thousands of years, but are scarcely passable for a loaded donkey.

The Germans hoped to make Tsingtao a German Hongkong. It was to be a naval base commanding the entrance to Central and Northern China's trade. Just as Hongkong is the stronghold controlling the commerce of South China. But Germany lacked the navy to defend her remote outpost in the Far East, and Japan's overwhelming military strength was too much for the garrison of 2,500 regulars and 5,000 reservists which stood out against a force of 18,000 Japanese.

Although the Tsing-tao Railway was not opened until 1904, in ten years the German port grew to 40,000 inhabitants, outstripped Che-Foo to the south of it, and was threatening the supremacy of Tsi-nan to the north. It served a province with 40,000,000 inhabitants and promised to become supreme in North China. But the war checked its progress. Its ownership and future develonments are now shrouded in uncertainty. Europeans in China never except to see Germany regain the concession. Although Japan has promised to restore Tsing-tao and the entire concession to China, neither the Chinese nor Europeans resident in China ever expect to see Japan surrender the prize absolutely.

AUCTION SALES.

MERCHANDISE.

An Exceptional, Staple and Most Up-to-Date Stock of consisting of very select Silver Fox, Natural Blue, Beaver, Skunk, Cross Fox, Black and Pointed Fox, Fisher, and Raccoon; Nutria, European dyed; Kid Foxes, Moles, Dyed Kolinsky, and Mole Clumps.

FURS

SKINS

ALSO A STOCK OF

MANUFACTURED FURS,

consisting of Genuine Fisher, Red Cross, Black, White, Clika, and Pointed Foxes, Mink, Hudson Seal, Persian Lamb, Skunk, Fitch, Chinchilla Squirrel, Caracul, Natural Blue, Mole and Moline, and various other skins made up into

SCARFS, MUFFS, SETS AND COATS, made in the latest models for the coming season, and will be sold strictly without reserve by

D. HARTMANN, Auctioneer,

will sell Today, Friday, Oct. 29, '15, commencing at 10:30 A. M., at salesroom, 16-18 MERCER ST., near Canal St., N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICE—I beg to call the attention of the trade to the exceptional fine class of Natural Blue, Cross and Silver Fox, Beaver and Fisher SKINS, which, owing to the high prices realized at the St. Louis Auction Sale for this particular fur, should prove an advantageous chance for prospective buyers.

For further information telephone 4299 Spring.

JOS. SHONGOOD'S SONS

Julius Shongood, Auctioneer

Salesroom, 94 Bowery

Will Sell at Auction

Today, Friday, Oct. 29

At 10 A. M.

The season's largest and finest collection of

HIGH-GRADE

FURS

By order of

The Provident Loan Society of New York
Max Bernstein, 273 W. 125th St., Manhattan
H. S. Isaacs, 240 W. 125th Ave., Manhattan

COMPRISING

RUSSIAN SABLES, SEALSKINS, FUR SETS, LADIES' FUR COATS, MEN'S FUR-LINED OVERCOATS, FUR MOTOR COATS, FUR NECKPIECES AND RAW SKINS. A very fine and varied assortment.

DEALERS ESPECIALLY INVITED.

Bankrupt Stock

By Order of U. S. District Court.
Entire Stock and Fixtures of
SCHWARTZ SKIRT HOUSE,
12 West 18th St., Top Floor,
This Day, Friday, Oct. 29th, at 2 P. M. consisting of 200 up-to-date

SKIRTS

400 Yds. SILKS

and WOOLENS, TRIMMINGS, Etc.

Also Sewing Machines,

Motors, Cutting Tables, Desks, Partitions, Chairs, Typewriter, Safe, etc., etc., for immediate removal.

A. SCHARF & SONS, Auction Dept., Office 394 Broadway. Phone Franklin 42.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Auto

TRUCK TIRES.

75 New Overman Tires,

RIMS AND PARTS

CHARLES SHONGOOD, Auctioneer,

Sells To-day, 10:30 A. M.,

34 WEST 66TH STREET

IN LOTS TO DEALERS.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

CHARLES SHONGOOD, Auctioneer, will sell today, October 29th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 539 Broadway,

MACHINES & FIXTURES

of the BELMONT WAIST & DRESS CO.,

Consisting of

50-LEAF POWER TABLES, MACHINE PARTS, SPECIAL MACHINES, MACHINE HEADS, MOTORS, CUTTING TABLES, MACHINE STANDS, ARMCHAIRS, DESKS, RAILINGS, SAFE, COAT TREES, TABLES, ETC.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.

CHARLES SHONGOOD, Auctioneer, will sell this day, Friday, Oct. 29th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 539 Broadway, stock consisting of about

1,000 Yards of

CARACAL CLOTH.

MOSES COHEN, Trustee.

ROSENBERG, LEVIS & BALL, Attorneys for Trustee, 74 Broadway, New York.

TO ABOLISH ANCIENT FAIR.

Brentford Also Regards 600-Year-Old Market as a Nuisance.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—One by one England is losing many of its old institutions. The market and fair at Brentford have been famous for centuries. Indeed, the charter for both was given by Edward I., who died in 1307.

The Brentford District Council is now seeking powers to abolish them. The charter is held by the Middlesex County Council, and the reason for the proposed abolition is that the market and fair have fallen into desuetude and have become a nuisance.

The fair was, in past years, one of the most famous in the west of London, rivaling that at Barnet; and Butler, in "Hudibras," records many incidents connected with it. It was held in the ancient market place of the town.

Fine Wools Hold Firm.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A mixed assortment of 8,400 bales was offered at the wool auction sales today. Fine grades were firm, and Americans bought suitable parcels. Lower grades were easy, and they were frequently withdrawn.

BUSINESS WORLD

Buyer's Wants

50 Cents per agate line each insertion. Count six words agate to a line.

MANUFACTURERS, ATTENTION!—Wanted, by Kutner Goldstein Co. of Fresno, Cal., samples of muslin skirts, gowns, and combinations, to cost from $6 to $7.50 dozen; not more than one dozen of any one price accepted; express prepaid once; these samples wanted to select Spring order from.

WILL BUY JOBS almost any kind merchandise or dry goods; also out-of-style goods for export. Lehmer & Disbrow, 189 Broadway, Room 601.

WILL PAY CASH for American or Wyandotte cheviot and zibeline; colors green and brown. William H. Simendinger, 24 West 25th St. Phone Farragut 9305.

OPEN FOR quantity wide-wale corduroy, navy, cardinal, brown, and green. Lustgarten & Bloch, 24 West 25th St.

OPEN FOR quantity of gray chinchilla and cheap mixtures. Ritter Bros., 3 West 17th St.

DRESS FASTENERS wanted; all sizes. Telephone 5893 Franklin.

WANTED, 1,000 fur-trimmed plush coats for cash. L 103 Times.

OPEN FOR JOBS shoes and Oxfords. Lehmer & Disbrow, 189 Broadway, Room 601.

CONTRACTORS for evening and party dresses; must have their own samples. 108 Greene St., 8th floor.

CONTRACTORS wanted on evening and wedding dresses with samples; will place orders. L 108 Times.

JOB 100 dresses, assorted; charmeuse, velvet, combination taffeta and serge dresses, cheap. National Costume Company, 148 West 24th St.

HAVE 200 COATS to close out; also very desirable Piece Goods in coatings. 13th floor, 20 West 22d.

JOB OF SERGE, silk, and velvet dresses to close out. Graber and Wechsler, 154 West 28th St.

ON HAND 1,000 cloth coats, fur trimmed; close out at $4.75. Hirsch & Bro., 153 W. 27th St.

5,000 COATS for immediate delivery; fur trimmed and plain; large variety of mixtures; Zibeline and other popular cloths; junior, misses', and ladies' sizes; from $2.50 up. 815 Lyon, Gorschen & Everett, 22-28 West 21st St.

On hand, COATS, FUR TRIMMED; cloths, pile fabrics, $4.50 to $12.50; immediate delivery. Hirsch & Brother, 153 West 27th St.

36-INCH STRIPED messalines and various patterns; also plain taffetas, messalines, crepe de chines, and other silks. Sohland, 10 Madison Av.

FUR-TRIMMED COATS.
In plushes, corduroy, velours, mixtures; 1,000 for immediate delivery. Kaplan Bros., 150 West 22d St.; Chelsea 2198-8618.

FOR SALE.—Five hundred corduroy and plush coats, ready to ship; corduroy, $4.50 up; plush, $10.75 up. I. Movick, 40 West 28th St.

PLUSH and CORDUROY coats, fur trimmed; immediate delivery. J. P. Slater, 114 West 20th St.

HAVE ABOUT 3,000 FUR-TRIMMED PLUSH COATS on hand for immediate delivery. Morris Jaffe, 40-46 W. 25th St.

HAVE 5,000 plush coats on hand, ready for immediate delivery, at reasonable prices. Rudinsky Bros., 27 West 24th.

VELVETEEN SUITS, fur trimmed, for immediate delivery. M. L. & G. Cloak and Suit Co., 20 West 17th St.

500 PARTY DRESSES for immediate delivery from $5 up. Nilret Manufacturing Co., 6 West 20th St.

DRESS FASTENERS, for all sizes; immediate delivery. A. Abramson, 138 West 22d. Chelsea 3973.

FUR SETS; 400 coney sets for sale cheap. Beaber, 25 Bond St.

WILL SELL narrow-wale corduroy for cash. Chauncey 5064.

JOBS desired for cash in highest-grade Ladies' and Children's Dresses and Suits. Plush and Winter Coats, Skirts, Waists, Petticoats, Furs, Sweaters. Sumner, 8 Lispenard St. Franklin 4243.

DESIRE at once jobs ladies' suits, dresses, skirts and waists; will pay cash. Eastern Merchandise Co., 456 Broadway. Spring 358.

SHOW ROOM, complete, for sale; any reasonable offer acceptable. 119 West 24th St., 11th floor.

CASH PAID for job lots of women's apparel. Frank Jacobovitz, 10 Lispenard St Fn. 1950.

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday...3 63/4 per cent. for the best names
Wednesday...3 63/4

The quotations are for six months' paper.

War Order Activity.

Rumors of peace in Europe are not taken very seriously in the piece goods market among those who have been active in taking war contracts for the belligerents. The large order placed with the leading factor in the market is regarded merely as a renewal of the demand that sprang up last Fall. Other contracts are bound to follow, and, in fact, several of the warring nations will be in the market shortly for additional supplies of uniform cloths and blankets.

A Drawn-Out Season.

Dress goods selling agents are not particularly satisfied with the results achieved this season, although in the aggregate the business placed compares favorably with that of a year ago. The season has been a long drawn-out one, with some undesirable features. The demand, for instance, has centred on a few fabrics, and all the mills have been selling the same goods. This has naturally brought about much delay through the buyers comparing prices. The large mills, not so hampered by the dyestuff stringency, were the first choice of the buyers, and other cloth makers were unable to decide whether it would be profitable or not to buy supplies of coloring stuffs at the prevailing high prices.

Cutters Are Doing Well.

That branch of the cutting-up trade which specializes on the manufacture of coats and suits for women is still doing a nice business for Fall. The Russian idea remains strongly dominant in many of the models that are being offered, but in the newer lines there is a strong tendency toward the Directoire effects which were shown on the other side recently. This type of garment shows several changes from those in style earlier in the season, which fact is expected to stimulate the demand when the mode becomes more fully introduced. One of the points of the new style is the length of the suit coat, which is many cases drops to the knee, and in some cases below it. The collar also shows a change, for while it is upstanding and high in the back, like the collars now in vogue, it is open at the front. There is no apparent diminution of the use of fur trimmings, in spite of the sharp advances in price.

Name Spring Carpet Prices.

The Hartford-Bigelow Carpet Company, 25 Madison Avenue, has named prices for Spring. The following advances have been instituted: Wilverton, 50 cents; Bangor Wilton, $1.50; Piece Goods, Three-Star, 2 cents; Two Star, 2½ cents; 10 Wire One, 1 cent; Khedive Velvet, 3½ cents; Sultan, 2½ cents; Wilton Velvet and Berlin Wilton, 5 cents; Bussorah Axminster and Plaza Axminster, 2½ cents; Ritz Wilton, 7½ cents; Saxony Axminster, 15 cents; Lowell Axminster and Bigelow Axminster, 2½ cents, and Bigelow Brussels, 2½ cents. W. & J. Sloane have made the following price increases: Khorassan, 9x12 size, 55 cents; Candahar, 9x12 size, 45 cents, and Liberty, 45 cents. The prices are now, 9x12 size, $16.50 for Khorassan; $15.15 for Candahar, and $13.70 for the Liberty.

Rugs and Carpets Go Well.

Yesterday's auction of rugs and carpets at the salesrooms of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company totaled 604 lots, with receipts from sales for the four days aggregating $2,500,000. The attendance continued at a high level with crisk bidding throughout the day. The sale began with Axminster runner rugs and included several classes of the larger Smith floor coverings, besides several hundred rolls of carpet, including velvet and wilton velvet. Prices obtained on some of the Axminster rugs fell off somewhat from regular list rates. It was said at the Smith offices that from present indications the company will be sold up for the 1916 regular Spring season by Nov. 1. Other carpet and rug concerns also reported heavy orders for Spring lines.

Skirt Demand Is Fair.

Excepting for the business they are getting on garments designed for skating and other sports wear, reports from manufacturers of separate skirts say that trade is a bit quiet at the moment. Re-orders on the "dressier" models, such as draped effects, &c., are coming in slowly from all accounts, they apparently not having the appeal to the consumer it was thought they would have. Many of the popular models are made with pockets and belts and are trimmed fairly liberally with fur. The most favored fabrics are velvets, velveteen, and corduroy; in the season's leading dark colorings, plaids, checks, serges, broadcloths, &c.

Ostrich Feather Demand Better.

According to Consul E. A. Wakefield, who is stationed at Port Elizabeth, South Africa, there has been an improved demand in that market of late for ostrich feathers, and prices have advanced materially. Mr. Wakefield says that from inquiries made there it appears that the increased demand is caused by London purchases or inquiries, the demand seemingly having been created by American purchases. With existing advantages for purchasing direct through representatives on the Port Elizabeth market, Mr. Wakefield says that it is difficult to explain why American buyers should continue to pay the additional commission and expenses incidental to purchases made through London dealers.

Raw Silk Prices Rising.

The Yokohama raw silk market moved up 50 yen per picul in the last week, the rise apparently being caused by an active demand for American account, in which high-grade filatures, which are scarce, figured largely. At last reports the market had quieted down somewhat, but it is not thought that prices will sustain any serious setback. Stocks are estimated, according to cables to H. L. Gwalter & Co. of this city, at 11,000 bales. Sales for the week there amounted to 7,000 bales. The Canton market was reported excited at the beginning of the week, with few offers obtainable. The seventh crop is now estimated at 2,000 to 3,000 bales. Shanghai has advanced 30 to 50 taels per picul for steam filatures, which are in demand as a result of the price position of Japanese silks. Tsatlees, rereels and tussahs have also moved up sharply. Advices from Milan report the Italian market very strong. Local business has been good at higher prices.

Linen Business Continues Good.

Buyers of linens continue to keep up the pace they set some weeks ago, and as a result the stocks of these goods now available in this country are rapidly approaching the zero point. Not a little business is being done on unions and cotton substitutes as a result of the shortage. Most of the present business is on household goods, but colored and brown dress linens are also being moved where they can be had. Some of the brown linens are being dyed by the holders, while other importers are selling them in the brown state and letting the buyers bear the expense of the dyeing. Reports regarding the placing of import orders for Spring differ, some saying that a fairly large amount of this business is being placed, while others state that if these orders are taken the goods will be delivered this Spring from merchandise already in stock here.

The Gray Goods Situation.

While reports from certain quarters of the gray goods market yesterday told of a pretty good sheeting business with the converting trade at full prices, it was quite generally acknowledged that, as a whole, there was not a great deal doing on staple goods. There were also indications of an easing off in first-hand prices, sales of 39-inch 68-72s being reported for immediate delivery at 5¼ cents, 56-44s at 3 15-16 cents, 38½-inch 60-52s at 4¼ cents, and 60-48s at 4½ cents. It was also said that some selling houses now show a disposition to let goods out at these prices up to the end of the year. In some quarters, however, prices are still firmly held at recent levels, and doubt is expressed concerning the reports of sales by other first-hands at prices regarded as under the market. Fancies continue to sell freely for deliveries into April next, and prices are being advanced still further. Spot quotations on staple printcloths, which are largely nominal, follow:

39-inch, 80-80s	6¾c	38½-inch, 64-56s	4¼c
39-inch, 72-76s	5¾c	38½-inch, 60-52s	4¼c
39-inch, 68-72s	5¼c	38½-inch, 60-48s	4¼c
39-inch, 56-44s	4c	27-inch, 64-60s	3¼c
38½-inch, 64-60s	4¾c	27-inch, 56-52s	3c

HOW TO FIX PRICES.

Those of Makers, Not Jobbers, Count for Duty Purposes.

That jobbers' prices cannot legally be taken as foreign market value for the purpose of assessing duty on importations was the conclusion reached yesterday by Judge Brown, acting as a reappraisement official of the Board of General Appraisers. This interpretation of the tariff's administrative law resulted from a protest by the New York representatives of Briggs, Neumann & Co., Bradford, involving the values of woolen dress goods shipped from Bradford in April and June last.

When the merchandise arrived here it was sent to the Appraiser's Stores, where an examination showed the goods to be 54-inch fancy suitings and 54-inch fancy mantling, both classes of goods being described as quality 204. The suitings were entered as having a market value in Bradford at the date of shipment of 3s. 1d. per yard, while the mantling had an entered value of 3s. a yard.

Appraiser Sague's examiners, however, were not satisfied with these values, and, acting on information supplied by Treasury agents at Bradford, advanced values over the prices entered. Collector Malone approved the Appraiser's action and exacted duty on the higher levels. An appeal by the importers then followed for a reappraisement. It was brought out at the hearing that the higher prices put on the goods by the Custom House authorities were so-called jobbers' prices. Judge Brown, reversing the advances, held that in appraising merchandise for dutiable purposes, manufacturers' prices, and not those of jobbers in foreign markets, must be taken.

P. R. R. PLACES RAIL ORDERS.

Divides Contracts for 175,000 Tons —Also Buys 75 Engines.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Orders for 175,000 tons of steel rails for its lines east and west of Pittsburgh were placed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company today. These rails cover the 1916 requirements of the Pennsylvania system.

The orders were divided among the Cambria, Pennsylvania, Lackawanna, Bethlehem, and United States Steel Companies.

In addition an order was placed with the Baldwin Locomotive Works for the construction of seventy-five heavy freight locomotives for immediate delivery. These locomotives are for the lines east of Pittsburgh.

Cotton Mills Double Dividend.

Special to The New York Times.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 28.—The Merchants' Manufacturing Company has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent. and an extra dividend of the same amount. The annual financial report shows gross assets amounting to $1,100,196.66. A net surplus of $193,797.01 is shown, against $155,088.40 a year ago. Dividends during the year were $48,000, 4 per cent. on the capital of $1,200,000. There was expended for new machinery $22,006.52. The Merchants' cotton mills are equipped with 121,496 spindles and 3,351 looms.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

A Question as to the Artistic Value of Carved Ivory.

The mere etching of the words "Board of Education" on scissors does not insure their entry free of duty, according to a decision made yesterday by the Board of General Appraisers. A. Kastor & Brother imported the scissors under contract with the New York City Board of Education, the articles being marked at the factory abroad. The Collector took duty under the Tariff act of 1909, at both specific and ad valorem rates according to value of the goods. Free entry was claimed as "scientific apparatus." Judge Hay did not discuss in his decision whether or not scissors fall under the designation alleged by the importers, but overruled the protest on the ground that regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury governing importations made by, or at the order of, educational institutions or bodies, had not been complied with.

Considerable difference of opinion developed at a hearing of the protest cases of the S. & G. Gump Company, San Francisco, regarding the classification of pieces of carved ivory. The merchandise, which was from Japan, was invoiced as ivory ware, and included such subjects as dog trains, plowmen, children playing in sand bins, &c. The Collector classified the articles as manufactures of ivory and took duty at 35 per cent. ad valorem. The importers claimed that free entry should be granted as original works of art.

Judge Waite said that the testimony in the main showed the articles to be works of art wrought by the hand from ivory, and artistic to a more or less degree. The witnesses for the importers testified that the goods were original works of art within the meaning of the present tariff. One of those testifying stated that he bought the articles in stores in Japan. This led the board to believe that the goods were taken from stock, while the decision questioned the ability of the importers to know whether the articles were originals; or even first or second replicas. The Government's witnesses on the other hand stated that they had seen reproductions or copies of the goods and that they were well known as stock articles. Judge Waite said that the board was inclined to the belief that the goods were properly dutiable at 15 per cent. as replicas or reproductions, but as that claim was not made in the protests, the Collector's classification was allowed to stand without affirming its correctness.

Woven fabrics with loops on one edge imported by G. W. Sheldon & Co., Chicago, were held properly dutiable at 25 per cent. ad valorem under the provision in the tariff for "bindings, bandings, or fabrics with fast edges not exceeding 12 inches in width." The Collector was reversed in taking duty at 60 per cent. ad valorem as "trimmings."

In overruling a protest by Marshall Field & Co. the board held that cotton dusters or dust cloths cannot be considered as "similar" to polishing cloths, mop cloths, and other articles of household use provided for with a duty rate of 20 per cent. Judge Cooper said that if Congress had intended that dust cloths should be classified under the provision claimed by the importers it would have named them along with the other articles enumerated in the paragraph. The Collector was affirmed in taking duty at 30 per cent. as "manufactures of cotton."

It was decided in the case of the Alden Mills, New Orleans, that the provision in the tariff for coal tar colors or dyes controls over the provisions for "color" in Paragraph 68. The Collector was accordingly affirmed in taking duty at 30 per cent. ad valorem under the coal tar paragraph.

BUSINESS TROUBLES

In Town.

HOUSTON RESTAURANT CO.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the Houston Restaurant Co. of 285 East Houston Street, which conducted the "Little Hungary" restaurant, by Yankauer & Davidson, attorneys for Julius Strassman, A. H. Meyer Co., and McDermott Dairy Co., who are alleged that a receiver had been appointed in the Supreme Court in proceedings to dissolve the company. Judge Cohalan of the Supreme Court on Sept. 25 appointed Santiago P. Cahill receiver on application of Moritz Mesrowitz, a stockholder, on account of a disagreement among the stockholders. The company was incorporated in 1914 with a capital stock of $12,000. In the bankruptcy petition the liabilities are stated to be $12,000, and assets $5,000, but others say the liabilities are about $25,000.

JOSEPH ROTH MANUFACTURING CO., manufacturer of stuffed animals, dolls and toys, at 54 to 62 West Twenty-first Street, has made an assignment to Nathan Friedman and Henry J. Block. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against it by the City Central Paper Box Co., Carolina Box & Lumber Co., and Louis Levin. Liabilities are $19,000 and assets $15,000.

BARNET L. ABRAMS.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Barnet L. Abrams, dealer in window glass at 268 Division Street, by N. Hutkoff & Co., estate of Jacob H. Worbelovsky, and Lafayette Mirror Co. He made an assignment on Oct. 5.

JOSEPH SCHUSS & CO.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Joseph Schuss & Co., skirt manufacturers at 15 East Sixteenth Street, by F. R. A. Stiefel, M. V. Scanlon, and H. Abrams. Liabilities are $12,000 and assets $6,000. They made an assignment on Oct. 21.

HARRY D. BURGESS of 239 West Thirty-ninth Street has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities $5,840, and no assets. The largest creditor is the International Typesetting Machine Company, $4,000.

CHARLES MEYER of 2,268 Seventh Avenue has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities $5,220, and assets $1,900.

WILLIAM KLEINES, grocer of 1,432 Commonwealth Avenue, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities $1,395, and no assets.

ADOLPH SUESSKIND, proprietor of Terrace Garden, on Fifty-eighth Street near Third Avenue, has filed a bankruptcy schedules showing liabilities $181,619, of which $57,000 is secured and assets $86,212, consisting of real estate $50,000; stock of wines and liquors $12,000; furniture, fixtures, glassware, &c., $13,000; accounts of lodges, societies, clubs, and individuals, $10,937; cash $275. The real estate is at 1,101 Westchester Avenue. Among the creditors are the German Savings Bank, $40,000, secured by mortgage; Frederick Hallender, $17,000, secured; Schaefer Company, $24,976; F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Company, $4,908; Mumm Champagne & Importation Company, $3,892; Heineman Brothers, $7,301; Dujaney, Full & Spitzer, $3,984; Charles H. Ludwig & Co., $8,736; S. Strauss, $6,089, and E. C. Koenig, $3,087. Among the debtors on outstanding accounts are Ogden L. Mills, $85; Irish Volunteers, $31; Irish-American Athletic Club, $117; Board of Elections, $170, and American Truth Society $25.

BARTHOLMEW J. GALLIGAN, dealer in millinery at 6-8 West Thirty-third Street, has filed bankruptcy schedules showing liabilities $62,560 and assets $20,388, consisting of stock, $8,683; accounts, $15,147; fixtures, $200; cash in bank, $841, and real estate, $700; two lots at Yonkers. Large creditors are Mrs. S. Galligan, $7,601, and Mrs. H. Goodman, $5,200, secured.

LOUIS BRENNER, boarding stable of 329 East 121st Street, has filed bankruptcy schedules, showing liabilities, $23,379, and assets, $14,944; consisting of lease of 329-335 East 121st Street and 330 East 122d Street, $12,000; stock, $2,000; accounts, $444, and a claim, $500.

THEODORE HEYSE, grocer at 992 Third Avenue, has filed assignment schedules showing liabilities, $7,020, nominal assets, $3,300, and actual assets, $2,120.

A. BERRENT, INC., jeweler, 122 Lenox Avenue, has filed assignment schedules showing liabilities, $4,590, and assets, $880.

CONSTANTINE CASSANOS, manufacturer of confectionery at 36 Cherry Street, has filed assignment schedules showing liabilities, $2,657; nominal assets, $2,577, and actual assets, $825.

THOMAS F. BALDWIN.—Judge A. N. Hand has dismissed the petition in bankruptcy filed on April 25, 1914, by Thomas F. Baldwin of 847 Second Avenue, formerly a liquor dealer. He stated that he was ill at the time he filed the petition, did not understand the nature of the papers, and did not intend or desire to go through bankruptcy. He has since paid his creditors in full.

SALLO RAINS & CO., Inc., manufacturer of hand bags at 480 Broome Street, has made an assignment to Henry H. Silver.

DAVID ISRAEL, sheet metal worker of 787 Eighth Avenue, has made an assignment to Howard H. Williams.

Out of Town.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 28.—The Hornell Suit and Cloak House, Incorporated, of this city filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy today. Liabilities $13,016; assets $7,953.22. Morris Kimmel is Secretary of the company.

Special to The New York Times.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Bolton-Myers Truck Company of Troy filed petition in bankruptcy here today. Liabilities, $17,030; assets, $3,183.

JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

In New York County

Alexis Witte Cutlery Co.—Geneva Cutlery Co., costs $329.47
Auto Exchange and Equipment Co.—M. Herman 231.77
Andrews Building Co.—M. Deputat 200.00
Ahrweiler, Julius—Lenox Wall Paper Co 120.05
Ahrich & Hall, Inc.—Youngstown Iron and Steel Co 464.66
Bloch, Alexander—E. Wilson et al 261.82
Brinckerhoof, Daniel D.—A. Brinckerhoof 425.41
Briggs, James R., and Geo. L. Campbell—L. B. Weisl 235.07
Bailey Apartment Corp.—G. M. Roden & Son, Inc 257.01
Balsch, Louis L.—S. Meyers 112.43
Bair, Alice L.—H. K. Bender 1,287.98
Brenner, Morris, and Sam Lebowitz—A. Reich 135.50
Bludworth, Timothy F., and John B. Vaccarezzo—H. H. Kelly 419.65
Brener, Samuel—American Baptist H. M. Soc 15,229.70
Googan, James J. Jr.—Fox & Ellison 105.59
Captoin Besley Motion Picture Co., Inc.—H. G. Genneris 870.53
Cleaver, Montague H.—T. G. Patten et al 1,896.70
Colabello, Nicholas and Frank—C. Barret 387.75
Cohen, Israel—N. Rosenberg 286.50
City of N. Y.—Hanover Contracting Co 2,500.00
Condon, Martin J.—H. G. K. Heath 2,007.02
Davis, Albert J.—Whitaker & Co 185.96
Dugan, Michael, Fiss't—R. Grail 111.90
Dempsey, Arthur J.—A. H. Taylor 200.00
De Giers, Francis J.—L. Schuldenfrei 1,443.08
Davis, David L.—A. Nelken et al 214.91
Douglas, John L., and Geo. H. Atkinson—First Nat'l Bank of Dunellen 295.61
Esposito, Alfonso—D. Lanzetta 125.01
Empire Shoe Co.—Sharpe Building Co 258.22
Farquhar, Norman—T. F. Farquhar 3,634.19
F. A. Mills, Inc.—L. Wolf 907.65
Freund, Emanuel—Meillior Const. Co., costs 208.48
French, Percy W., and Mitchell Samuels—J. Warner 516.32
Fristensky, Louis and Anna—B. Renton 137.41
Feldman, George, and Samuel Kirsch—C. Reich 522.91
Fiske, Alexander M. and Jennie L.—Oriental Bldg. and Loan Ass'n 1,418.29
Fulda, Arthur—E. H. Mayne 113.30
Gordon, Otto—F. W. Geiler, Inc 207.25
Herzog, Alexander and Mendel—S. Storch 568.53
Horsfoot, Charles—W. Kleine 1,853.03
Herbst, Charles M.—A. Rusch et al 201.08
Hayes, James F.—Sebastian Wagon Co 111.91
Hurwitz, Kate, or Hyams—S. I. Ferguson 122.41
Hartzman, Samuel M.—T. Michel et al 220.91
Herman, Theodore—L. B. Allen 283.72
Hauxhurst, William W.—Aeolian Co 280.39
Junker, John—Rome Brass and Cop. Co 167.05
Jewett, Robert—E. F. Simpson 405.36
Jaccard, Jules—Flora Perfume Co., Inc.—Publicity Leasing Co., Inc 253.24
Kelchner, John W.—H. S. Schendel 227.17
Kosberg, Alvin, and Globe Indemnity Co.—People, &c 1,000.00
Ketcham, Leonard D.—J. F. McIntyre 190.21
Linch, Geo. W., receiver—M. Fitzgibbon, costs 102.00
Lubchansky, Rubin, Louis Lubchansky, and Benjamin Cherkasky—S. Salomon et al, costs 286.29
McCoy, Thomas F. L.—E. Mallia 590.78
M

FARRAGUT FLAGSHIP TO BE SOLD AS JUNK

Famous Old Franklin, on Which First Admiral's Flag Was Raised, Condemned.

BROUGHT BOSS TWEED BACK

Carried Civil War Veteran to Receive Honors in Europe—Second Ship of Her Name.

Admiral Farragut's old flagship Franklin, in which he made his memorable voyage to Europe immediately after the civil war, has just closed her long and interesting career in the United States Navy. She was put out of commission at the Norfolk Navy Yard last week, and she soon will be sold and broken up. She was one of the few remaining old type wooden war vessels still kept on the Navy list, and for many years had been used as a receiving ship in the Norfolk yard.

The Franklin had the distinction of being the first ship from which was hoisted the four-starred flag of an Admiral of the United States Navy. The rank of Admiral was created for Farragut by Congress in July, 1866, making him the first full Admiral of the Navy, just as, about two years before he had been elevated to the rank of Vice Admiral, which rank had never before been held by a United States naval officer. In the Summer of 1867 Farragut was assigned to command the European station, and the Admiral's blue pennant with its four stars was hoisted on the Franklin on June 17 of that year in New York Harbor.

The Franklin, several years later, acquired additional fame as the ship which brought William M. Tweed back to this country after his sensational escape from this city and his flight to Spain. The Franklin was in Mediterranean waters at the time and upon receipt of news of Tweed's detention by the Spanish authorities at the seaport of Vigo, the State Department at Washington notified the commander of the Franklin to bring the fugitive back to this country. On his arrival here on Nov. 23, 1876, Tweed was again locked up in Ludlow Street Jail.

The Franklin was built at the Kittery (Me.) Navy Yard. She was the second ship of the name in the United States Navy, the first having been built in 1815. For some reason construction on the new Franklin proceeded slowly, and it was nearly ten years later before her hull was ready for the engine equipment, so that she did not go into commission until just before Farragut was assigned to her. When she at once took her place as the flagship of the American Navy.

In appearance she was a stately full-rigged ship of the old frigate style, equipped with auxiliary steam power, carrying, in time of peace thirty-nine guns and a crew of 750 men, but her war service her armament could be increased to about sixty guns. Her length was 315 feet and her beam about 50 feet.

For one week after Farragut unfurled his Admiral's flag from the Franklin as she lay in New York Harbor that historic week of Governors Island, the ship was visited by thousands of persons, and the reception which the Admiral gave on board on June 21 was one of the finest naval entertainments that had ever been seen in New York. President Johnson and Secretary Seward were among the guests as well as the former War Governor, Edwin D. Morgan, Mayor Hoffman, and General Butterfield. The festivities were heightened by two French ships in the harbor, which fired salutes in honor of the President and the Admiral.

On June 28 Farragut left for Europe, where he spent a year and a half, returning to this country on Nov. 10, 1868. By special permission of the President Mrs. Farragut was allowed to accompany her husband, and, that she might have a woman companion, Mrs. Pennoce, the wife of the commanding officer of the Franklin, also made the voyage.

Farragut's European trip resembled in many respects a triumphal journey. Receptions and entertainments were given in every port in which the Franklin anchored. Every one, from the sovereigns to the common people, was eager to see the hero of so many naval battles in the recent civil war. The first stop was at Cherbourg, and an invitation was extended to the Admiral to dine with Emperor Napoleon III. in Paris. The Empress Eugenie visited Cherbourg and was entertained in magnificent style on the American flagship.

Farragut then cruised north, stopping next at the Russian port of Cronstadt, and by special invitation of the Russian officers he inspected the Russian fleet. After stopping at many of the Baltic ports he spent several days at Portsmouth and Plymouth, and then went through the Mediterranean, stopping at Lisbon, Nice, Naples, Genoa, Constantinople, and Athens. One of the greatest tributes paid to him was at Malta, where the British Mediterranean fleet deferred its departure for the Levant several days so that the ships might salute the Franklin and entertain the American Admiral. Returning, he made a longer stay in English ports. The Franklin was visited by members of the ruling family, including the Prince of Wales, afterward Edward VII., and Queen Victoria invited Farragut to dine with her. No ship of the American navy has ever visited so many European seaports and been greeted with such enthusiasm as the old frigate Franklin, whose career is now ended.

The Franklin did not again come prominently into public notice until September, 1876, when, under command of Captain Samuel R. Franklin, on his way home from a Mediterranean cruise, the United States Government sent orders to him at Gibraltar to bring Boss Tweed back to this country. Until detained in Spain nothing had been heard of the New York absconder after his escape in December, the preceding year. Tweed then went back to Ludlow Street Jail and died there, April 12, 1878.

28 YOUNG FARMERS COMING.

Prize Winners in California Will Look Over New York.

Twenty-eight scientific young farmers from the University of California at Berkeley, each of whom is a prize-winning agriculturist because he has shown the farmers of his community how modern methods of tillage and stock raising may increase profits far beyond anything dreamed of under the old system of agriculture, will come here tomorrow and spend two days in sightseeing. The expenses of the trip across the continent and back are paid by the university.

A profit of $104.30 by growing 197½ bushels of potatoes on a third of an acre was made by Vinal Hunt of Arcata, Cal. Albert Jackson of Whittier made a net profit of $65.03 by raising mixed vegetables on a quarter of an acre of land. George Joyce of Santa Rosa got a profit of $57.01 by raising 1,000 peach trees. Frank Nisson of Esparto got a profit of $51 by fattening one pig for market, and Morrill Van Slyke made a net profit of $22.25 by growing 1,035 pounds of popcorn on a half acre.

On their trip east the youths visited the sugar-beet farms of Utah, the alfalfa and hog farms of Nebraska, and the stock yards at Chicago. They inspected the leading educational institutions on their route, including Harvard University. They will see the dairy farms and market gardens in the vicinity of Boston, and will reach here on a Fall River boat tomorrow morning.

Next Monday they will go to Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington. Then they will view the steel industry at Pittsburgh, take a look at the Haggin stock farm at Lexington, Ky., and see the sugar mills and rice experiment stations in Louisiana.

CHILDREN ON ELLIS ISLAND.

Boy and Girl Held for Lack of Legal Guardianship.

Josefina Chinchilla, 15, and her brother Enrico, 7 years old, who arrived yesterday from Bogota, Colombia, on the United Fruit steamer Almirante, were sent to Ellis Island because they are under 16 and are not accompanied by their parents or legal guardians.

Mrs. Carmenedia Navarro, who had charge of the children from Bogota, said the father was dead, and as their mother was her cousin she had brought them to New York to be educated with her own children.

Agostino Castares, a brother of Mrs. Navarro, who says he is a merchant by occupation, and an Indian servant, Paolina Sarmiento, accompanied the party.

Mrs. Navarro had $4,000 with her in gold and appeared to carry the purse for the party, as none of the others had any money. They all went to Ellis Island and may be sent back to Colombia as being liable to become public charges, although only the two children were detained. The children were eating bananas and seemed very happy.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

Army.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—First Lt. O. C. Warner, C. A. C., from mine planter General Royal T. Frank, and from 133d Co., to unassigned list, effective about Dec. 1; then to mine planter General Edward O. C. Ord.

First Lt. E. P. Noyes, C. A. C., Ft. Monroe, Va., to 133d Co. and as Commanding Officer of mine planter General Royal T. Frank.

First Lt. C. E. Ide, C. A. C., Ft. Monroe, Va., to coast defenses of Chesapeake Bay for duty.

The following Captains of C. A. C., after relief from duty at Ft. Monroe, Va., are assigned to companies indicated, effective about Dec. 30; C. E. N. Howard, to 31st, and C. H. Alley, to 29th.

The following C. A. C. officers, upon relief from Ft. Monroe, Va., will report to Commanding Officer of coast defenses indicated for duty: Capt. J. K. Crain, Chesapeake Bay, and 1st Lts. E. B. Walker, Key West; H. A. McCune, Pensacola; C. T. Marsh, Savannah, and F. E. Kingman, Potomac.

Capt. C. L. Fenton, C. A. C., upon relief from regular course at Ft. Monroe (Va.) School, and after leave report to Commandant Coast Artillery School for duty as instructor, Dept. of Enlisted Specialists.

Orders of Oct. 19 relating to Lt. Col. W. L. Kenly, 6th F. A., revoked. He is detailed for recruiting service at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., about Dec. 27.

The following 1st Lts. of C. A. C., upon relief from Ft. Monroe (Va.) School, and after any leave, report to Commanding Officer of coast defenses indicated for assignment to a company: F. E. Williford, Chesapeake Bay; C. W. Bash, Southern New York; K. Wing, Jr., Southern New York; L. B. Chambers, Panama; A. H. Doig, Narragansett Bay; E. F. Barlow, Long Island Sound; M. J. Hickok, Pensacola; R. F. Maddux, Eastern New York; W. D. Frazer, San Francisco; G. P. Howell, Chesapeake Bay; R. R. Welshimer, Cape Fear; D. Hall, Charleston; J. P. McCaskey, Portland; J. K. Jemison, Mobile; C. A. Chapman, Long Island Sound, and A. G. Campbell, Galveston.

Capt. W. H. Clopton, Jr., 18th Cav., detailed in Q. M. C., effective Nov. 1, to Fort Rene Remount Depot, Okla., about Nov. 1, as assistant to depot Q. M. there.

Capt. A. B. Warfield, 2d F. A., detailed in Q. M. C., effective Nov. 24, to Philippine Dept. for duty.

Lt. Col. S. Reber, Sig. Corps, to San Francisco, as witness before General Court Martial there, and to his station when no longer required by the court.

Capt. A. H. Sunderland, C. A. C., detailed a member of Examining Board at Ft. Monroe, vice Capt. K. C. Masteller, C. A. C., relieved.

First Lt. J. M. Armstrong, M. R. C., to active duty for one day to conduct annual physical examination of certain officers, then stand relieved.

Capt. J. I. Mabee, M. C., to Ft. Ontario, N. Y., Nov. 1, for temporary duty, then to his station.

Major J. H. Ford, M. C., upon completion of present duties, to Ft. Hamilton, N. Y., for duty and by letter to Commanding General, Eastern Department.

Major J. Hornbrook, 6th Cav., to Ft. Leavenworth, Jan. 5, to take special course for field officers.

Orders of Oct. 4, relating to Col. C. A. Hunter, C. A. C., revoked. He is relieved as Fort Commander, Ft. Winfield Scott, Cal., and will assume command of coast defenses of San Francisco until about June 5, when he will proceed to Honolulu and assume command of the coast defenses of Oahu.

Col. S. M. Foote, C. A. C., from command of coast defenses of San Francisco to Charleston, S. C., and assume command of South Atlantic Coast Artillery District.

Col. T. Ruger, C. A. C., from command of coast defenses of Sandy Hook, and after present leave to Fort Warren, Mass., and assume command of coast defenses of Boston.

Lt. Col. D. Skerrett, Inspector General C. A. C., upon relief from detail in Inspector General's Department, Oct. 31, to Ft. Hancock, N. J., and assume command of coast defenses of Sandy Hook.

Lt. Col. W. G. Haan, C. A. C., from command of coast defenses of Boston to Ft. Totten, N. Y., and assume command of coast defenses of Eastern New York.

Leave: Second Lt. W. B. Harding, C. A. C., one month.

Navy.

Lieutenants A. T. Beauregard, aid on staff, Commander Fourth Division, Atlantic Fleet, to aid on staff, Third Fleet; staff of Commander in Chief, Pacific Fleet; W. A. Glassford, aid on staff, Fourth Division, Atlantic Fleet, to connection fitting out the Nevada and on board when commissioned; Wirt Robinson, the Burrows, to three months' sick leave.

Chief Machinist A. Peterson, the Cleveland, to the South Dakota.

Marine Corps.

First Lt. R. L. Denig, Olongapo, P. I., Barracks, to United States upon reporting of relief.

Second Lt. L. H. Miller, Norfolk Barracks, to Port Royal, S. C., recruit depot.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

ARRIVED—Balch at N. Y. Yard; Beale and Jarvis at Boston; Cushing at Newport; Iroquois at Honolulu; Kanawha at Norfolk; Kansas at Philadelphia; Marietta at Ceiba; New York and Rhode Island at Olongapo Roads; Prometheus at Cordova; Vulcan at Hingman, and the Whipple at Mare Island.

SAILED—Celtic, New York for Hampton Roads; Chattanooga, La Paz for San Diego; Ossett, Norfolk for Hampton Roads; Nereus, Olongapo for Shanghai; Osceola, Port au Prince for Cape Haitien; Prairie, Port Royal for Norfolk; San Diego, La Paz for Mazatlan, and the Winslow, Tompkinsville for Newport.

Coast Guard.

Captains H. B. West, the Tallapoosa, to temporary command of New York Division; H. G. Hamlet, the Onaiga, to depot, South Baltimore, Md.; B. H. Camden, to the Gresham; C. Satterlee, to the Miami; F. G. Dodge, to the Onaiga, and S. B. Winram, to the Manning.

First Lts. J. R. Searls, to the McCulloch, and C. F. Howell, the Mohawk, to the Manning.

EDUCATION NOTES.

From Nov. 6 to 13 the Alumni Association of Public School 62 and the Faculty of the school will join hands to celebrate its decennial. It was in November, 1905, that 62 first opened to receive the upper-grade pupils from the neighboring schools. Since then thousands of east side youths have been inspired by the successive leadership of Dr. John S. Roberts, Dr. I. E. Goldwasser, and Dr. Leon W. Goldrich. "Decennial Week" will be wound up by an informal dinner on Nov. 13 at 6 P. M. in Clinton Hall.

The sum of $1,899.25 has been appropriated to pay a bill of the State Prison Superintendent for furniture for P. S. 41, Queens.

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund have been requested to approve the leasing of 991-993 Southern Boulevard, the Bronx, as an annex to P. S. 20 until July 1, 1916, at a rental of $3,000.

In the Ninth Regiment Armory yesterday afternoon there was a Halloween party of the Julia Richman High School. Two hundred "Blue Birds" (the Julia Richman emblem,) witches, ghosts, and pumpkins marched and danced. Suffrage yellow predominated. The "ghost" of Anti-Suffrage was there in pink.

Agnes Daley, a teacher of cooking, has been assigned to assist the Director of Cooking during the latter's incapacitation.

Permission has been granted to Dr. I. O. Woodruff, Medical Inspector of open-air classes, and Nettie Miller, teacher of a tuberculosis class on the ferryboat Southfield, to attend the meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, to be held in Albany, N. Y., on Nov. 4 and 5. There will be no loss of pay, but their expenses will be paid by themselves.

The Interborough Association of Women Teachers will hold a special meeting at 4 P. M. today in the Metropolitan Life Building.

WILL FOR PROBATE.

ENO, AMOS F., (details elsewhere.)

THE WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A shallow barometric depression continues south of Florida, but the depression has not as yet assumed definite form, and it does not appear to be increasing in intensity. Thus far it has caused light rains in Florida, but unattended by strong winds. A pressure is also low along the northern boundary. Aside from scattered showers in Florida and on the North Pacific Coast the weather has been fair with seasonal temperatures.

Fair weather will continue Friday and Saturday in all parts of the country except over the Florida Peninsula and over Northern New England, where scattered rains are possible Friday.

It will be somewhat warmer Friday in Atlantic Coast districts and slightly cooler in the Ohio Valley. Elsewhere temperature changes will be unimportant.

The barometer continues low south of Florida, but as yet no definite depression can be located.

Winds for Friday and Saturday along the North and Middle Atlantic Coasts will be moderate south; South Atlantic Coast, moderate and variable.

FORECASTS: TODAY AND SATURDAY.

Eastern New York, New Jersey, and Eastern Pennsylvania.—Fair Friday and Saturday.

Southern New England.—Partly cloudy Friday and Saturday.

Western New York.—Partly cloudy and cooler Friday; Saturday, fair.

Northern New England.—Partly cloudy Friday, probably local rains; Saturday, fair.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1914.	1915.		1914.	1915.
8 A. M.	33	46	4 P. M.	50	58
6 A. M.	32	43	6 P. M.	48	55
9 A. M.	38	48	8 P. M.	45	53
12 M.	47	57	11 P. M.	43	53

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 51; for the corresponding date last year it was 46; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 51.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 46; at 8 P. M. it was 53; maximum temperature, 59 degrees at 1 P. M.; minimum, 43 degrees at 6:45 A. M. Humidity, 60 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 78 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 30.19 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 30.06 inches.

FIRE RECORD.

P. M.—Wed. Loss.
11:50—2,497 3d Av., not given.....Slight
A. M.—Thur.
2:46—2,106 8th Av., Littick.....Slight
6:25—311 Broadway, Baldwin.....Slight
7:35—478 W. 128th St., Bernheimer & Schwartz.....Not given
10:35—279 Pleasant Av., Joseph Esposito.....None
10:40—241 E. 103d St., D. Mator.....Slight
10:50—806 5th St., Morris Koesner.....Slight
11:40—112 W. 30th St., Schuiman & Rosenthal .....Not given
P.M.
12:30—359 W. 22d St., Cornelius Gaffney.....Slight
2:20—224 Delancey St., Mrs. Lieberman.....Slight
2:45—467 E. 158th St., not given.....Slight
5:45—147 Delancey St., Pappas & Co.....Slight
6:30—11 E. 31st St., Belmont Button Works.....$1,000
7:55—237 E. 63d St., C. L. Knoeller.....Not given
9:10—987 3 Av.; Joe's Restaurant.....$5
10:15—67 Warren St.; K. Kolenoritis.....Not given

ESTATES APPRAISED.

BANGS, Dr. LEMUEL B., (Oct. 4, 1914;) net estate, $126,613. Mrs. Isabel Hoyt Bangs, widow, received a dower interest, $3,596, in the realty; Mary E. Bangs, daughter, $43,630; Nesbitt H. Bangs, son, $41,401; Merwin B. Bangs and Edward D. Bangs, grandsons, each given $20,745. Assets: Premises west side of Grand Avenue, near 190 St., Bronx, appraised at $14,000; five lots at Babylon, L. I., $500; three lots at Pelham and Westchester County, $437; premises north side of Eldert St., Brooklyn, $4,500; two lots at Stony Brook, L. I., $350; dower was $3,596 and is deducted from the total value of realty; deposits, $16,824; notes, mortgages, personalty, and insurance, $80,475; stocks and bonds, $70,196.

BOYNTON, Mrs. SARAH L., (March 25, 1915;) net estate, $160,193. Sarah E. Boynton, daughter, given $83,339 and Lewis Boynton, son, $76,853. Assets: 211 W. 22 St., appraised at $12,000; 142 E. 16 St., $24,000; 303 West End Av., $32,000; 2,532 Atlantic Av., Brooklyn, $2,500; premises west side Schenectady Ave., 200 Herkimer St., Brooklyn, $5,000; 515-517-525 Classon Av. and 76 Putnam Av., $20,175; deposits, $8,312; notes, mortgages, and personalty, $35,313, and stocks and bonds, $23,792.

BROGAN, FANNIE, (May 11, 1914;) net estate, $17,062. Paul Brogan, cousin, given $3,000; Mary A. O'Connor and Elizabeth Forstner, cousins, each received $2,500; Little Sisters of the Assumption and the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, $1,000 each; residuary estate, $7,062, to R. C. Church of St. Ann. The assets: Deposits, $18,530, and personalty, $495.

HOWLAND, HENRY E., (Nov. 7, 1913;) net estate, $290,000. Mrs. Adana J. W. Howland, widow, given life interest in 14 W. 9 St., the present value of the interest being $2,854; Charles P. and John Howland, sons, and Frances L. Howland, daughter, each given $84,942, and Catherine Bellows Meier, $5,000. The assets were: Equity, $9,000, in 14 W. 9 St., appraised at $24,000; premises at Southampton, L. I., $28,000; deposits, $1,843; personalty, furniture and wearing apparel, $3,527; stocks and bonds, $242,896. Principal items of stocks: 351 shares General Electric Co., appraised at $19,491; 600 shares Lawyers Mortgage Co., $120,000; 300 shares Equitable Trust Co., $93,000; 300 shares Great Northern R'y, $25,638, and 200 shares Great Northern R'y, $25,638. Total of debts, $79,810, of which $76,557 was due to Equitable Trust Co. on a loan. Personalty exempt, $10 to Mrs. H. when appraised. Widow resides at 14 W. 9 St.

MITCHELL, CARRIE, (Nov. 8, 1913;) net estate, $9,541. Michael Mitchell, husband, and seven children beneficiaries. Assets: Equity, $3,985, in 218 W. 127 St., appraised at $12,000, equity, $10,980, in 58-58 West St., appraised at $34,000; deposits, $230; jewelry, $210; stocks, $4,381.

WALLACE, ALLEN, son of the late John Wallace, (June 23, 1914;) net estate $538,-896. The scheduled report shows beneficiaries to have been Mrs. Princes [illegible], widow, who was given $179,465, and Annie Marie Wallace, his daughter, given $358,-930. Under an agreement made in January, 1915, $100,000 was set aside in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Virginia Purdy Bacon by Mrs. Frances L. Wallace, as administratrix of the estate. This action followed contest of will of John Wallace, deceased, which was declared invalid. Mrs. Bacon was to have received $250,000. The present value of the fund of $100,000 comes out of the distributive shares of widow and daughter of decedent. Assets are enumerated as "cash on deposit with the Farmers Loan and Trust Company," $744,713, and a two-thirds interest in promissory notes, decedent's share being $2,057. Report shows that decedent was an incompetent and the Farmers Loan and Trust Company was the committee of the estate. The amount of which appears above, and the income from the fund was paid to the committee of the decedent during his lifetime. Decedent died at Bagnais, Italy, and expenses including cost of a monument, amounted to $3,016. Debts enumerated amounted to $182,420, and the largest items were: Mrs. Frances L. Wallace, amounts advanced to decedent during his life, $46,434; J. J. Taylor, commissions for acting as one of committee of the deceased during his lifetime, $10,483, and extra compensation for extraordinary services rendered to the deceased, $22,500. The present value of the trust fund for Mrs. Bacon is placed at $57,080 and appears in the schedules of debts. Many of other enumerated debts were small amounts due for household and personal expenses at decedent's place in Italy. Among debts were fixed by John Quinn, acting as referee, under an appointment from the Supreme Court and the report of the referee was filed Aug. 17, 1915.

WERNEKE, TERESA, (Dec. 31, 1914;) net estate, $119,837. Rosina Pfeiffer, Marie Therese Ilgen, niece, and Edward Werneberge, nephew, each received $39,845. Assets: Half interest in 105 West 28th St., appraised at $16,000; deposits, $10,625; personalty, $2,-976; stock and bonds, $195,063. Largest holding of stock was 120 shares Manhattan Railway Co., appraised at $14,520.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

City.

The following additional names have been certified from which to appoint a matron on Randall's Island at $840 a year: Selma Smith, 79.90; Sarah J. Cooney, 79.80; Janet D. Minor, 79.90; Bertha A. Furgang, 79.60; Mary C. Fitzpatrick, 79.60; Mary P. Scott, 79.60; Mary Moroney, 79.30.

The following is the preferred list for a watchman in the Willard Parker Hospital at $600 until Dec. 31: J. Malley, J. McKenna, W. Kelly, N. Abraham, T. Naddy, W. Eichholz, W. Dougherty, F. Y. Tierney, F. Briest, C. Smith, T. Ryan, and J. Smith.

United States.

The commission announces for Nov. 3 at the New York Custom House an examination for sub-inspector of ordnance, for men only, to fill four vacancies in the office of the Inspector of Ordnance, Brooklyn, N. Y., for duty at Arlington, N. J., at $4 each per diem; and vacancies as they may occur in positions requiring similar qualifications, at any United States navy yard or naval establishment. In filling vacancies in navy yards and other naval establishments certification will be made of the highest eligibles examined in the vicinity of the place at which the vacancy occurs, except that upon the request of the Navy Department certification will be made of the highest eligibles on the register the entire country who have expressed willingness to accept appointment where the vacancy exists. Competitors will be examined in practical questions in materials and manufacture of ordnance, training and experience; age, 21 or over on the date of the examination. Further information may be obtained from the commission, Washington, D. C.

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS

CASES WILL BE CALLED IN THE ORDER GIVEN BELOW.
(c) This character means certus or certum.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—H. B. Lee of Buffalo was admitted to practice.

46—A. Bouzanger v. State of Louisiana.—Dismissed, with costs.

85—L. Houck v. Little River Drainage District.—Argument continued.

37—Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company v. The Wolf Brothers & Co.—Argument commenced.

Adjourned until tomorrow.

Call for Oct. 29: Nos. 27, 33, 40, 41, (and 224, and 242,) 42, 43, 44, 45, 47, and 48.

Southern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Hazel, J.—Room 1, 12th floor, Woolworth Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Equity.

Case on—Universal Saving Corp'n<Morris Plan Co. of N. Y.
No day calendar.

DISTRICT COURT—Mayer, J.—Room 227, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.

Trumbenski<Erie RR. Co.
Dicherson<Penn R. R.
Meares<D, L & W R R.
Noot<Inter Mer Mar.

DISTRICT COURT—Lacombe, J.—Room 423, P. O. Bldg.—At 10:30 A. M.—Motion calendar.

Gibbons<Jarvis.
Brady<Reliance (2).
Maxwell<N Y, N H & H RR.
White<same.
Clan<Bank Line.
Re SS Oklahoma.
Church<Sweetland.
Dutrier<Jeffrey.
Planten<Gidney.
Fidunque<United Fruit Co.
Rodgers<Benedict.
Keystone<Goldstein.
N Y & Bermuda Co<Mowinckel.
Merritt & Chapman<Scow No 48.
Re Heaply.
Sanitary S & M Co<Studebaker.
de Felice<Kerbaugh.
Cerotlino<same.
Calone<same.
de Carlo<same.
Van Amringe<Cunard.
Heaney<Hofheimer.
Roulac<Korn.
Laser<Scharain.
Farmers' L & T Co<Anderson.
Guaranty Trust<same.
Central Trust<same.
Karpinski<L I RR Co.
Friedly, Voshardt<Reliance.
Hance N S Co.
Pres Suspender Co<Macwilliam.
Brady<Reliance.
Pattenstein<Yankaus.
Essanay<Broncho.
Behr<Inter M M Co.
Cook<Flagg.

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Veeder, J.—Room 312, P. O. Bldg.—At 10:30 A. M.—Common law calendar.

Glamze<Marresford.
Degusis<D,L & W RR
DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Room 323, P. O. Bldg.—At 10:30 A. M.—Criminal calendar.
US<Goldstein.

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Room 323 P. O. Building, Brooklyn, at 2 P. M.—Bankruptcy calendar.

Discharges:
Charles F Tucens,
Harry C Partridge
Ashman & Burkhardt,
Richard H Keller,
Gustave Scrieger,
Jacob B. Bletchroda,
Julius Harder.

Adj'd discharge:
Lucien Knapp.

Motions:
Henry F Vyse & Co.,
Abraham L Kass,

Smithkin Bros.
Leonardo Marotta,
Jacob W Goldberg,
Samuel Boshnack & ano.,
Aaron Lazarus,
James L Long,
Bay Dredging Co.
Jose Casesa,
Ladislaus W schwenk,
Samuel Feinstein.
Abraham L Kass,
Charles A Unseld.

DISTRICT COURT—Veader, J.—On Nov. 1—Room 312, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M.—Equity calendar.

Wadley<Elder Dp Co.
Spear,(trust)<Jennings
Lande<Sternberg.
Ambrosius<Ambrosius.
Crown & S Co<American C & S Co.
Same<same.
Same<Johnson.
Same<Manhattan B & S Co et al.
Gilbert, (trust)<Colby.
Messick<Miami Cycle & Mfg Co.
March, (trust)<Leesman.
Loeb & Schoenfeld<Atlas Emb Works.
O K Tool Holder Co<J. H Williams Co.
Hegeman<Weber.
Steuerwy<Huber.
Indiv Drink Cup Co<Public Serv Cup Co.

STATE.

Court of Appeals.

DAY CALENDAR.
Williams et al.<City of Utica.
Court will adjourn today until Nov. 15.

NEW YORK COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—First Department—Recess.

APPELLATE TERM—First Department—Recess.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—Philbin, J.—Litigated motions.

Gough<Gough.
Ten House Dept<100 W 161st St.
Re Met Realty Co, (William St.)
Kaufman<Reich.
Stubbe<Adamson.
Butcher<Thomas & Buckley H Co, (2.)
Cohn<Cohn.
Quashnofsky<Sanitary Wet Wash L'dry Co.
Tene House Dept<100 W 61st St.
Hochman<Keahon.
Foalin<Weiseman, (2.)
Johnson<Johnson.
Cameron<Cameron.
Kuechle<Sloane.
Re CNY,(Prospect Pl)
Mut Life Ins Co<Reid, (3.)
N Y Trust Co<Fagan.
Falkner<Sheridan.
Re CNY.
Abrams<Jalkoff.
Remington & Sherman Co<CNY.
Lewis<Healey.
Garetsky<Sobel.
Mandel<Regal Mtgs, &c, Co.
Nagy<Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co.
Morrinado<Dr. Dadirrian & Sons Co.
Felice<Lewis.
Mazzarelli<Mazzarelli.
Middleton<Parson.
Simms<Wilkens.
Hoisting Mach Co<Federal T C Co.
Daenzer<Horowitz.
Hopper<Co.
Amgott<Amgott.
Baldwin<Am Finance, &c, Co.
Thompson<Thompson.
Guaranty Trust Co<Tabor.
Vaughan<Truxton Dairy Co.
Rose<Sandy.
Marx<Fritz.
Robertson<Robertson.
Re Sternberg M T Co.
Schleansky<Schwartz, (2.)
Eichner<Ventimiglia.
Maxwell<Tim.
De Flis<De Flis.
Furzer<Co.
Re Castle Hill Av.
Wessels<Linch.
Manaras<Sarantides, (2.)
Trager<Trager.
Mayer<Gluck.
Re Grupe, (McKay.)
Payne<R T Co.
Nolan<Horn.
Wellington<Wellington.
Frawley<Persch.
Rabinowitz<Rabinowitz.
Cohn<Cohn.
Barnard<McIntyre.

PART II.—Erlanger, J.—At 10:30 A. M.—Ex parte business.

PART III.—Newburger, J.—At 10:15 A. M. Motions:
Michaels<ErieRR.(2.)
Re Riverside Drive.
Calhoun<Little, Brown & Co.
Rosenblum<Paige.
O'Farrell<So Pac Co.
Fischer<Fischer.
Re Public Serv Com, (2 42d St.)
Loiacono<Loiacono.
Wells<Wells.
Kondrik<Kondrik.
Nole<Abate.
Whitcomb<Whitcomb.
Prunier<Braun.
Josephson<Josephson.
Brocker<Brocker.
Inniss<McGowan.
Undecided divorces:
O'Connor,
Defined.
Bennett.
Kelly.
Poppleman,
Discount,
Zimber.
General calendar:
Tiedemann<Tiedemann
Marimbo<Marimbo.
Lewis<Sragow Realty.
Kilpatrick<De Ambri.
Kinstler<Kinstler.
Metchnikoff<Berlin Laboratory, Ltd.
Kirschenbaum<Kirschenbaum.
Flowers<Flowers.
Peerless Pattern Co<McClure Public't'ns.
Pitolsky<Polonsky.
Inter Ins Ex<CNY.
Overlander<Holbrook, C & R Co.
Adler<Stueber.

PART IV.—Greenbaum, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Clear.

PART V.—Giegerich, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

PART VI.—Hotchkiss, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Certiorari cases.

Case on—Refel<Purdy.
Bellas, Hess & Co<Purdy.
Case on.

PART VII.—Ford, J.—At 10:30 A. M. —Case on.

PART VIII.—Blanchard, J.—At 10:30 A. M. —Clear.

TRIAL TERMS—Part II.—Weeks, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Gabler<Bijur Bros.
Tooker<Gulf Mfg Co.
Colvin<Post Mfg Co.
Batkin<Weisberg.
Flora<Grossmith.
Pehlivan<Camp Imp.
Granville<Robson.
Appeal Pr Co<Couch.
United Dist Co<Hackett.
Same<Dougherty.
Jaffe<Sonntag.
Kress<Stevenson.
Case on.

PART III.—Dugro, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on—Weinerman<Verran (3).
No day calendar.

PART IV.—Delehanty, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Glasser<C I & B RR. Case on.

PART V.—Donnelly, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on—Fischer<Singerevitz.
No day calendar.

PART VI.—Davendorf, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on—Cinquimani<Taylor.
No day calendar.

PART VII.—Whittaker, J.—At 10:30 A. M. —No day calendar.

PART VIII.—Pendleton, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Inq—Cummins<NY Part, &c, Co.
Weinstein<Singer Sew Mach Co.
Cornelius<Rieser.
Laks<Keller.
Johnston<Wave Imp & Const Co.
Mualin<Fargo.

PART IX.—Platzek, J.—At 10:30 A. M. No day calendar.

PART X.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XI.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIV.—Finch, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Motions:
Gancero<Meyer (2.)
Gibbons<King.
General calendar:
Carlton Illustrators<Am Locomotive Co. Case on.

PART XV.—Cohalan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Lykens<Hopkins.
Ryan<Galley.
Schloss<Hoffman Co.
Muller<Cohen.
Freehoff<Mears.
Valentine<Martin.
Hall<Gelban & Co.
Rieser<CNY. Case on.

PART XVI.—Lehman, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
42 St, &c, Ry<US Wood Preserv Co.
John Kutsukian Co<Freyid-Wash Ins Co. Case on.

PART XVII.—Gavegan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Case on—Sutton<McBride.
No day calendar.

PART XVIII.—Goff, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Inq—Spraker<Pennock. Case on.
Blumner<Waters.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, Motion calendar:
Edward Rafter,
A W Van Winkle,
Hattie Schiff,
Christiane Zwinge,
Lena Rosenthal,
Antonia Seekamp,
Frances Levy,
Eliza T Norton,
Mary M Holmes,
Alice D W Chauncey,
Maria Gallo,
Isaac Lipschitz,
Casper Ascarpa,
Dominico Giardino,
Max Bloom,
Dunn infants,
Alonzy Spaczynski,
Sadie Dooley,
Agnes H McKnight,
Rich infants,
St Elmo T Pisa,
Margaret C Pisa,
Annie L Meng,
Winifred C Meng,
Charles Seebald,
Garrick L Mallery,
Ralph W Hoyt,
Tortorelli infants,
Francis E McGuire,
Maria T McGuire,
Stanley Silverman,
Francis Michael,
Leon P Michael,
Jos A Beckman, inf,
Agnes T Beckman,
Henry Yolas,
Jacob H Levine,
Calogero Agro,
Elisha G Eldridge,
William Davis,
Helen M Park,
Elizabeth Raab,
Robery H Mack,
James Rowland,
Carolina E Douran,
Christina Granulich,
William C. Lee, inf,
Walter Allison, inf,
Michael Palermo,
Sherrifield infants,
Hyman Goldfarb.
Constance Mayer,
Solomon Finkelstein,
John F Schuchman,
Robert B Reilly,
David Nugent,
Rosario Gamino,
Francis T Luqueer,
Benj Guggenheim,
Henry Batterman,
Frank Leslie,
James H Wood, Jr,
Elizabeth S Morris,
Sarah A O'Reilly,
Max Rechnitzer,
S.—At 10:30 A. M.—Max Rechnitzer,
Fannie M Lothrop,
John Dort,
George W Crossman,
Joe Fruchtman,
Eben H Barrett,
Justina Lens,
Rhoda E Hoyt,
Wm P Ockendon,
Lillie Kaufmann,
Patrick Keogh,
Helen C Taylor,
Luigi Chiappari,
William Payne,
Jessie A Wight,
Mathilde Rood,
George A Haines,
Louis Oliva,
Helen G Dougherty,
Edward W Sparrow,
Mary Ingham,
Catherine Stevens,
Patrick C Costello,
Arthur S Levy,
Nahum Hexter,
Robert Johnston,
Mayer Jonasson,
Mabel A Nichols,
Ellen Reilly,
Emma F Wyatt,
Lilla A Green,
Mary Dwyer,
Charles Hurlbert,
John T Brady,
Rose D Fisher,
Fannie Lathrop.
Estate of Veles, Issues of fact:
Valentino Mott,
Maria Del Pezzo,
Esther A. Phillipe,
Luc

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS.

Police Department.

These transfers and assignments are ordered, to take effect 4 P. M. today: Sergts. J. P. Cassidy, 35, to 33; M. F. Fay, 36, to 33. Patrol. H. S. Smith, 2, to 80; L. Owens, 80, to 2; P. J. Walsh, 152, to 11 I. D.; C. Fried, 156, to 11 I. D., from 8 A. M. Nov. 1; Cornelius E. O'Brien, 146, to 10 I. D., clerical duty, from 4 P. M. Oct. 27. Mutual, to take effect 8 A. M. Nov. 1: Patrol. L. L. Pendleton, 143, to 146; A. H. Quillan, 146, to 143.

Temporary assignments: Insp. T. H. Murphy, 10th I. D., to assume duties of Borough Inspector, Brooklyn and Queens, in addition to his own, 3 days, 6 A. M., Oct. 28; Capt. G. G. Walden, 27th, to command 12th I. D., 1 day, 12:01 A. M., Oct. 30; Patrol. C. E. Hoorr and T. F. Boland, M., to plain clothes, 30 days, 4 P. M., Nov. 1; S. Obraytys, 161, and Otto G. P. Eppler, 165, to 4th I. D., 10 days, 4 P. M., Oct. 28; E. G. Buchman, 194, to 17th I. D., 10 days, 4 P. M., Nov. 1; to 3d I. D. from precincts indicated, 10 days, 4 P. M., Oct. 28: William J. Cowden, 13; Daniel Van Dam, 15; George J. Braendly, 42; William H. Harrer, 277; Donald J. Slattery, 13; Edward H. Hormel, 28; Walter F. J. Sullivan, 42.

Assignment discontinued: Patrol. J. H. Kelly, 21, to 11th I. D., (temporary,) 4 P. M., Nov. 1.

Leaves of absence authorized, with full pay: Borough Insp. J. E. Dillon, Brooklyn and Queens, 3 days, 6 A. M., Oct. 28; Insp. T. J. Kelly, 12th I. D., 1 day, 12:01 A. M., Oct. 30, to be deducted from vacation; Patrol. H. Horn, 68, 1 day, 8 A. M., Oct. 28. Without pay: Patrol. J. J. Grote, 1, 1 day, 4 P. M., Oct. 30; J. J. Skelly, 2, 1 day, 4 P. M., Oct. 28; H. J. Yore, 4, 1 day, 4 P. M., Oct. 28; C. J. Sullivan, 6, 1 day, 4 P. M., Oct. 31; J. Patterson, 12, 1 day, 4 P. M., Oct. 30; T. Sayler, 31, 1 day, 4 P. M., Oct. 25; B. T. Wilson, 1 day, noon, Oct. 28; M. J. Joyce, 38, 1 day, 8 A. M., Oct. 31; J. A. Prinz, 42, 1 day, 12 P. M., Nov. 1.

Relieved from suspension and restored to duty: Patrol—J. E. Lorenz, 275, to take effect 12 P. M., Oct. 27.

Suspended from duty without pay: Patrol.—J. P. Conlon, 15, to take effect 3:40 P. M., Oct. 27; R. R. Byrnes, 28, to take effect 9:13 A. M., Oct. 28.

Bonfires on Election Day or night will not be tolerated. Each Commanding Officer will be held responsible for prevention within his jurisdiction of street fires, or fires in vacant lots, and for damage to pavements, or to billboards or other property caused by such fires, a list of which will be furnished to this Department by the Fire Commissioner after Election Day.

Every proper effort shall be made to prevent the collection or storage of combustible material which is actually or probably intended for use in bonfires. All persons starting bonfires, and all those helping to keep them burning, shall be arrested.

Special Order 250 provides that the entire force assigned to each command shall be held subject to duty on Election Day. No member of the force shall be excused who is able to perform duty. The order explains in great detail the duties of, and assignments for, the day.

Fire Department.

Richard W. Callaghan, retired Deputy Chief of Department, died at 5 A. M. on the 26th inst. The funeral will take place from 104 Morningside Avenue, at 9:45 A. M. today; thence to St. Joseph's Church, 125th Street and Morningside Avenue. Interment at St. Raymond's Cemetery. The funeral escort will consist of a battalion of two companies of twelve men each, commanded by Dep. Chief of Department John F. King, No. 1; companies to be commanded by Patrick J. Regan, 2d & L. Co. 36, and Lt. George Tritenbach, Eng. Co. 37. The Deputy Chiefs of the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, and 6th Divisions will detail three men each, and the Deputy Chief of the 7th Division, six men, to act as funeral escort. All officers and men above detailed will report in full uniform, white gloves, with crepe on left arm, at the quarters of H. & L. Co. 40, at 9:30 A. M.

For purposes specified in G. O. 72, dated Dec. 28, 1910, (Fire Colleges,) the following chief officers will report at the Fire College, 157-159 East 67th St., Manhattan, on date and at time specified. First, Second, and Third Sections, consisting of the following chief officers, to report at 10 A. M. on the following dates: First Section, Nov. 4—Deputy Chiefs J. Binns, 1st Div.; J. B. Martin, 3d Div.; T. J. Hayes, 5th Div.; J. O'Hara, 10th Div.; J. Crawley, Headquarters; Chief of Battalion W. Gorgin, 13th Batt.; G. J. Kuss, 1st Batt.; J. F. Hennesey, 13th Batt.; F. J. Gray, 20th Batt.; R. J. Marshall, 34th Batt.; J. W. Hefferman, 45th Batt.; G. O'Shea, 49th Batt.; J. C. Brogan, 22d Batt.; P. J. Graham, No. 1, 8th Batt.; T. F. Barrett, 18th Batt; J. Reilly, 32d Batt.; J. Langan, 40th Batt.; P. T. Lenihan, 51s; Batt.; C. H. Stone, 50th Batt.

Second Section, Nov. 5—Deputy Chiefs T. R. Llangford, 2d Div.; J. J. Burns, No. 1, 4th Div.; P. Sloan, 7th Div.; P. Maher, No. 1, 11th Div.; Chiefs of Battalion J. F. Devanny, 5th Batt.; C. L. Ross, 7th Batt; J. Davin, No. 1, 44th Batt.; M. Cummings, 53d Batt.; J. Cummings, 48th Batt.; J. J. Walsh, No. 1, 4th Batt.; O. McKernan, 9th Batt.; W. Clark, 11th Batt.; W. F. Williams, 14th Batt.; W. F. Carlock, 15th Batt.; J. Dooley, 33d Batt.; J. T. Farrell, 38th Batt.; J. W. Raab, 46th Batt.; T. F. Kane, 37th Batt.

Third Section, Nov. 6—Deputy Chiefs J. F. Kling, 6th Div.; F. W. Gooderson, 13th Div.; W. Beggin, 8th Div.; J. J. Burns, No. 2, 9th Div.; Chiefs of Battalion J. T. Geatons, 35th Batt.; H. Stickel, 36th Batt.; S. E. Poling, 17th Batt.; T. F. Skelly, 6th Batt.; E. F. McKenna, 42d Batt.; G. H. La Monte, 52d Batt.; C. R. Griffiths, 2d Batt.; H. B. Helm, 3d Batt.; G. E. Weber, 16th Div.; H. P. Kirk, 31st Batt.; P. McGuire, 39th Batt.; W. E. Lawrence, 47th Batt.; W. C. Rogers, 43d Batt.; W. Jones, No. 2, Belleville, Officer.

Lt. E. J. Brosnan, Eng. 280, Brooklyn, having performed duty therein continuously for more than twenty years, is, on his own application, retired and dismissed from all service in the department, and granted a pension of $1,050, effective 8 A. M. Nov. 1.

Reports of inspections as to requirements of Inspection Form No. 1, and also the number of unusual or dangerous conditions found to exist, will be forwarded by company officers; reports will be consolidated by Chiefs of Battalion and forwarded Nov. 1, 1915, and will cover a period of 30 days, ended 8 A. M. Oct. 25.

Chief of Battalion T. F. Dougherty is temporarily relieved from fire duty and placed in charge of squad organized for supervision of fire drills in factories, effective 8 A. M. today.

These members, having filed applications for examination for promotion to the position of Engineer of Steamer, will report to Chief of Battalion J. J. Henry, Supervising Engineer, at foot of Grand St., East River, on date and time specified, for practical test in operating steam fire engines: Oct. 29, 9 A. M.—W. Archambault, Eng. 16; E. F. Fanning, Eng. 33; V. Gardner, Eng. 66; E. F. Mullally, Eng. 18; J. A. Leonard, Eng. 215. 10 A. M.—J. H. Cosgrove, Eng. 21; O. E. Klein, Eng. 28; J. J. Fleming, Eng. 234; A. J. Kelly, H. & L. 147; W. F. Fitzgerald, H. & L. 102.

Revocation of detail, to take effect 8 A. M. today: Fire., 1st gr., G. McC. Myers, Eng. 94, to Chief of 14th Bat., as driver.

Special leaves of absence, without pay, granted: Fire., 1st gr., A. V. Buckman, Eng. 93, 36 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 30; Capt. J. E. O'Neill, Eng. 63, 36 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 29. Fire., 1st gr., W. E. Boyce, Eng. 238, 24 hours, 8 A. M., Oct. 29; Fire., 2d gr., W. Harmuth, Eng. 230, 48 hours 8 A. M., Oct. 24.

Members of the department are notified that Fire., 1st gr., W. Dowling, H. & L. Co. 41 left home on Oct. 3 to report at medical office for treatment. He failed to report and has been missing ever since. Should any member of the department see Mr. Downs, or obtain information regarding his whereabouts, he is directed to take charge of said fireman and communicate with main office immediately.

Wilsnack Lands Excise Job.

Theodore P. Wilsnack of Richmond Hill, Queens, was sworn in as Deputy Excise Commissioner for Queens by Supreme Court Justice James C. Van Siclen of Jamaica, yesterday. Mr. Wilsnack, who is a former Assemblyman, received his appointment from Governor Whitman. He organized the Richmond Hill Republican Club and was its President at one time.

The Nevada Off on Trial Trip.

The new superdreadnought Nevada left the Navy Yard yesterday for her preliminary trial run off the Maine coast. She went to the Brooklyn yard last Monday, fresh from the hands of her builders at Fore River, Mass., to be dry-docked.

MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

CANNON ST, 7 and 9; Candee, Smith & Howland Co. against Manhattan Pie Baking Co., owner; B. F. Fish Oven Co., contractor $201.73

70TH ST, 413 and 415 East; Sebastiano Marteccio against Jacob Israelson, owner and contractor; Bertha Mandel, owner..... $70.60

79TH ST, 203 West; Greenfield & Hecht Co. against Geo. C. Engel, owner; Sloane & Moller, Inc., contractor..... $122.40

111TH ST, 99 to 101 West; Douglas Robinson et al against Geo. B. Citron, owner; 114th St. and 7th Av. Construction Co., contractor $832.61

215TH ST, n s, 275 ft e of 10thAv, 75x100; Sam Minskoff et al against 204th St. Corp., owner and contractor..... $54

Bronx.

BROOK AV, 873; Berger Manufacturing Co. against L. Ropp Co., owners; Metal Shelter Co., contractors..... $128.30

CHESTON AV, 2,487 square; Fred Schneider, Inc., against Henry F. A. Wolf Co., owners; J. J. Slavin, contractor..... $256.50

DAVILAND AV, n s 101 ft e of Pugsley Av, 100x163; Charles Kausen, Inc., against Mick Construction Co., owners and contractors $385

SATISFIED MECHANICS' LIEN.

Manhattan.

44TH St, 123 to 134 West; Fredenberg & Lounsbury against The Lambs et al, Oct. 27, 1915 ..... $361.10

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD.

Forty-seventh Street Building Near Fifth Avenue Sells at Auction for Nearly $25,000 Under Assessed Value—Pearl Street Deal—Big Dyckman Sale—Brooklyn and Suburban Activity.

Of chief interest in the realty market yesterday was the offering at voluntary sale in the Vesey Street Salesroom of the old five-story residence at 5 East Forty-seventh Street, just beyond the Fifth Avenue residence of Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Miss Helen Gould. The interesting feature about the sale was that it was purchased for $24,800 under the city's assessed valuation, despite the fact that the immediate vicinity has experienced within recent years a complete transformation from a private home centre to that of high-class retail trade.

The buyer was Samuel H. Stone, who got the property for $95,200, the bidding being done for him by Harris & Vaughn, and title will be taken in the name of the Centre-White Company. The plot has a frontage of 25 feet. It was purchased two years ago by Henry C. Taylor for $117,000 from the Hayden estate. The assessed value last year, including the improvement, was $120,000. The adjoining building at No. 3 is owned by Robert W. Goelet. Samuel Marx was the auctioneer.

Investment on Pearl Street.

The property at 450 Pearl Street has been purchased by the Maurice O'Meara Company, paper dealers, which owns and occupies the adjoining building at 448. The purchase was made from E. De Forest Weekes through the brokerage firm of George R. Read & Co. The owners now control a frontage of 49.11 by 97.9 deep opposite William Street and just east of the new Court House and civic centre.

Deals in Harlem.

The two five-story single flats at 221 and 223 West 123d Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, 40 by 100, have been resold by the Empire City Mortgage and Holding Company (Samuel Barkin and Adolph White) to the Corporal Realty Company, (Lewis & Sinnott.)

John J. Clancy & Co. have sold for the Wells Holding Company to an investor 237 West 127th Street, a three-story and basement modern dwelling, on a plot 14 by 100. Porter & Co. represented the sellers.

Crosby Estate Sells Landmark.

George G. Hallock, Jr., Sons have sold to Jacob Rosen for the estate of Mary Crosby premises 27 East Broadway, a three-story building, on a lot 25 by 87.6. This property has been in the family for 200 years. Mary Crosby was the niece of Henry Rutgers, and granddaughter of Ebenezer Crosby, who was a surgeon on General Washington's staff.

Another Dyckman Corner Changes Ownership.

Martha Borchardt has purchased from Gustavus L. Lawrence the recently completed five-story apartment house at 145 Vermilyea Avenue. The structure occupies a plot 100 by 100 on the southwest corner of 207th Street. This property was held at $200,000, and was acquired subject to a mortgage of $145,000.

Buyers in $700,000 Bronx Deal.

The Bronx Industrial Estates, Inc., is the buyer of the seven new five-story flats on the southwest and northwest corners of Barretto Street in the Hunts Point section of the Bronx, sold Wednesday by the Baronet Realty Company

Bronx Sales.

L. Lustig sold to Dennis Collins 1,000 Grant Avenue, a three-family brick house, on a lot 25 by 101. In part payment the buyer gave a lot 25 by 86 on the south side of 181st Street, 139 feet west of Bryant Avenue.

The recently reported sale by Fred Oppenheimer and Cahn & Pittmann, as brokers, of 1,051 Prospect Avenue, north of 165th Street, on a lot 42.7 by 144, sold by Charles V. Paterno, was one of the parcels taken by the latter for the thirteen-story apartment house known as the Alameda, Eighty-fourth Street and Broadway, purchased by Colonel Jacob Ruppert a few weeks ago.

Bronx Apartments Leased.

O'Reilly & Dahn leased for a client the two five-story apartment houses at 748-752 East 179th Street for a term of years at an aggregate rental of $40,000.

Ehrich Bros. have leased for Lowenfeld & Prager, the two five-story buildings known as 2,338 to 2,344 Beaumont Avenue, Bronx, 100 by 100, for five years, at an aggregate rental of $45,000.

Brooklyn.

Sadie E. Hammitt has purchased from the Alco Building Company 1,900 Sixty-fifth Street, a one-family brick dwelling, in the Mapleton Park section.

David Meyer sold for Peter Bogart, to Thomas Williams, a plot 100 by 100 on the southwest corner of Seventh Avenue and Seventy-fourth Street. The buyer will improve at once with five two-family dwellings.

Henry P. Cain has sold the two-story brick dwelling at 432 Hart Street for the Estate Realty Company to a client for occupancy.

Long Island.

In the Fourth Ward, Borough of Queens, the New York Suburban Land Company has sold a plot, 20 by 100, on the Boulevard, to S. Giglio; and a plot 20 by 100, on Oxford Place, to R. Braeden.

New Jersey.

At Garwood the New York Suburban Land Company has sold a plot, 25 by 150, on Third Avenue, to A. Johnson; and a plot, 20 by 100, on Myrtle Avenue, to R. Kellerman.

S. S. Walstrum-Gordon & Forman have sold for William L. Platt, the residence 24 Claremont Road, Ridgewood, N. J., to R. F. Hayes of Ridgewood.

Developer Buys Thirty-two Acres on Staten Island.

C. M. Seguine, broker, has sold to D. G. Whitlock the farm property with the Barrett property, extending along Seaside Avenue, Eltingville, Staten Island, from the Whitlock residence to the shore front, comprising thirty-two acres. The water front property will be developed as a first-class bungalow colony.

Secure Plot for Theatre and Office Building in Newark.

Louis Kamm, Inc., has sold the three-story building at 195 Market Street, Newark, N. J., for Flood & Conklin, varnish manufacturers. The price was said to be approximately $125,000. The purchaser is the Market & Beaver Realty Company, which is controlled by Edward Spiegel, Max Spiegel, Mitchell H. Marx, and Henry Waterson of New York. These men are members of the corporation which operates the Strand Theatre in New York City. A few months ago the Market & Beaver Realty Company purchased the old Newark Theatre, and with this recent acquisition of Market Street holding makes a frontage of approximately forty feet that this corporation now controls on said street.

The property at 195 Market Street is now occupied by Murray's Café, and upon the expiration of the existing leasehold on the Newark Theatre property, now held by the Hyde & Behman Corporation, the Market & Beaver Realty Company intends to erect a large office building on its Market and Beaver Street holdings and a theatre, with a seating capacity of approximately 2,500, which will be conducted along the same lines as its Strand Theatre, on Broadway, in New York City. By acquiring the property at 195 Market Street and the old Newark Theatre property, this makes a total investment of approximately $375,000.

Commercial Leases.

The block front on the west side of Eleventh Avenue, 200 feet, between Twenty - fourth and Twenty - fifth Streets, with frontages there of 150 and 175 feet respectively, has been leased on a long term by the Adams Express Company from the McKeon Realty Company. The property is covered by a one-story garage recently damaged by fire, and when alterations are completed the new tenants will take possession. Leo Hess was the broker. The fee of the entire block is owned by the De Beixedon Estate.

Samuel H. Martin has leased the store at 733 Columbus Avenue to Mastallone Brothers.

Bernard Wurtenberg, in conjunction with Heil & Stern, leased for a term of years the store and basement in 6 and 8 West Thirty-second Street to Zadek Brothers, wholesale millinery.

The fifth floor of the Twenty-third Street Stern building, leased by M. & L. Hess on Oct. 21, will be occupied by Charles E. Graham & Co., successors to Graham & Matlock, publishers of toy books, and the rear portion of the floor on the Twenty-second Street side will be occupied by Mortimer Raskin, who will conduct a bindery in connection with Charles E. Graham & Co.

The Schulte Realty Company has leased in the shopping centre of Brooklyn, the building at 519 Fulton Street, northwest corner of Duffield Street, formerly occupied by the Horton Ice Cream Company.

George R. Read & Co. have leased a suite of offices in the Whitehall Building for the United States Realty and Improvement Company to A. H. Bull & Co.

Private Dwellings Leased.

Douglas L. Elliman & Co. have leased for the Estate of James C. Fargo, former head of the American Express Company, 56 Park Avenue, near Thirty-seventh Street, a five-story American basement dwelling on a lot 25 by 100, to Elliot C. Bacon, son of the late Ambassador to France.

Pease & Elliman have rented, furnished, for Mrs. Mary C. Knower, who was represented by Douglas L. Elliman & Co., to George V. Coe, the five-story and basement dwelling, 25 by 100 feet, at 4 East Seventy-seventh Street.

S. Osgood Pell & Co. has leased for J. Temple Gwathmey his country place fronting on the Sound in Grace Church Street, Rye, N. Y., to Robert C. Morris.

$62,000 Bronx Loan.

In connection with the recent purchase by Assad George Khouri and Daniel Mapes, Jr., of the two five-story and basement brick and stone apartments on the east side of Longfellow Avenue, 150 feet south of 172d Street, Borough of the Bronx, New York City, the New York Title Insurance Company has made a loan of $32,000 on the northerly house, and $30,000 on the southerly house.

Mortgage Conference Today.

The conference called by the Advisory Council of Real Estate Interests to consider the merits and disadvantages of a long-term mortgage to be amortized by annual payments, will be held in the library of the Chamber of Commerce today at 3 o'clock. Representatives from all of the life insurance companies, trust companies, savings banks, title and mortgage companies will be present. Owners and real estate brokers have also arranged to attend.

Bronx Factory at Auction.

The property in the Bronx formerly occupied by the Robert C. Fisher Company and the Manhattan Marble Company will be sold at auction today in the Bronx salesroom. The property extends from Locust Avenue 325 feet to the East River, on which it has 261 feet of waterfront with riparian rights. A spur of the New York Central Railroad runs into the premises, which are reached by the 138th Street trolley. There are several brick buildings.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.

AT 14 VESEY STREET.

By Joseph P. Day.

Bleecker St, 402 to 416; Bank St, 84 and 86; Hudson St, 582 to 590, and 11th St, 280 West, four five-story buildings; executor's sale; without warranty.

Harrison Av, s e corner of 181st St, 91.3x62.9x irregular, vacant; executor's sale, estate of John Bradley, deceased; to John S. Mathews for $4,000.

Chrystie St, 110, n, 100.5 ft s of Broome St, 25x100, five-story tenement and stores; Union Trust Co. against Louis Tanz et al.; Miller, K. L. & T., attorneys; A. C. Train, referee; due, $22,401.65; taxes, &c, $555.93; to the plaintiff for $15,000.

3d Av, 2,354, w s, 83.5 ft s of 128th St, 16.10x100, three-story tenement and store, two-story extension; Mutual Life Insurance Co. against Elise Tiedemann, individually and executrix, et al.; F. L. Allen, attorney; W. C. Van Slyke, referee; due, $15,068.72; taxes, &c., $3.50; to the plaintiff for $10,000.

Wooster St, 203 and 205, w s, 50 ft n of Bleecker St, 36.8x100x36.7x100, six-story loft and store building; Albany Savings Bank against A. Cushman Realty Corp. et al.; Tracey, C. & T., attorneys; C. L. Hoffman, referee; due, $67,858.21; taxes, &c., $525; to the plaintiff for $50,000.

119th St, 275 West, n s, 150 ft e of 8th Av, 25x100.11, five-story flat; L. L. Wolf against Rose Realty et al.; W. S. Marx, attorney; Thomas Gallaghan, referee; due, $2,705.88; to the plaintiff for $18,300.

By Samuel Marx.

47th St, 5 East, n s, 150 ft e of 5th Av, 25x100.5, four-story and basement building; voluntary sale; to Samuel H. Stone for $95,200.

91st St, 20 West, s s, 175 ft w of Central Park West, 19x100.8, four-story church; J. A. Stewart et al., trustees, against E. F. Sherman et al.; Seeman, M. & G., attorneys; A. M. Levy, referee; due, $18,926.63; taxes, &c., $478.19; to the plaintiff for $10,000.

By Herbert A. Sherman.

Houston St, 25 and 27 West, s s, 50 ft w of Mercer St, 50x100, six-story loft and store building; United States Trust Co. against F. H. Melu et al.; Stewart & S., attorneys; Macgrane Coxe, referee; due, $85,189.16; taxes, &c., $1,640.24; to the plaintiff for $80,000.

By Henry Brady.

123d St, 3 West, n s, 281 ft e of Lenox Av, 19x100.11, three-story dwelling; Catherine Blehn against B. W. R. Realties, Inc., et al.; Cary & C., attorneys; R. L. Luce, referee; due, $18,498.48; taxes, &c., $470.07; to the Lawyers Mortgage Co., a party in interest, for $12,000.

By James L. Wells Company.

119th St, 128 West, s s, 385 ft e of 7th Av, 20x100.11, three-story dwelling; J. J. Mandeville against L. L. Ball et al.; Blandy, M. & S., attorneys; M. M. Friend, referee; due, $20,894.86; taxes, &c., $372.70; to the defendant for $17,000.

TODAY'S AUCTION SALES.

AT 14 VESEY STREET.

By Joseph P. Day.

Duane St, 42, s w corner of Lafayette, 8, runs w 8x s 31.3 x e 19.2 x n 23.3 x n w 18.3, six-story brick loft and store building; Herminie L. Clark et al. to Madison Av Real Estate Co. et al.; Harrison Clark, Jr., attorney, 15 William St.; Lawrence H. Sanders, referee, due, $9,597.08; taxes, &c., $1,880.81; subject to mtg, $42,000.

Henry St, 220, s s, 141.4 ft e of Clinton St, 23.6x100, four-story brick tenement and stores; Pinkus Nathan to Morris Marans et al.; Otto A. Sarnucels, attorney, 99 Nassau St; Alexander L. Korn, referee; due, $23,178.54; taxes, &c., $465.10; mtg recorded Dec. 18, 1907.

29th St, 139 and 132 West, s s, 360 ft w of 6th Av, 40x98.9, twelve-story brick loft and store building; James A. Trowbridge to 139 West 29th St Co., Inc., et al.; Henry M. Bellinger, Jr., attorney, 185 Broadway; Walter W. Irwin, referee; due, $174,033.83; taxes, &c., $2,106.30.

63d St, 305 East, n s, 100 ft e of 2d Av, 20x100.5, five-story brick tenement; City Real Estate Co. to Richard Price et al.; Action 1; Harold Swain, attorney, 176 Broadway; Samuel H. Evins, referee; due, $14,960.14; taxes, &c., $264.05.

63d St, 307 East, n s, 138 ft e of 2d Av, 20x100.5, five-story brick tenement; same to same; Action 2; same attorney; same referee; due, $14,960.14; taxes, &c., $671.45.

63d St, 309 East, n s, 107 ft e of 2d Av, 20x100.5, five-story brick tenement; same to same; Action 3; same attorney; Middleton S. Isaacs, referee; due, $16,265.13; taxes, &c., $671.40; mtg recorded Oct. 15, 1909.

63d St, 311 East, n s, 196 ft e of 2d Av, 29x100.5, five-story brick tenement; same to same; Action 4; same attorney; Samuel H. Evins, referee; due, $16,230.19; taxes, &c., $673.45.

104th St, 8 West, s s, 149.6 ft w of Central Park West, 19.5x101x23.6x100.11, five-story brick tenement; George A. Muller et al. against Margaret C. Hughes et al.; Harold Swain, attorney, 176 Broadway; Joseph D. Kelly, referee; due, $14,920.02; taxes, &c., $890.65.

107th St, 60 East, s s, 175 ft e of Madison Av, 25x100.11, five-story brick tenement and stores; Harold Nathan against Mary Block et al.; Leventritt, Cook & Nathan, attorneys, 111 Broadway; Charles Putzel, referee; due, $2,986.76; taxes, &c., $145.60; subject to prior mortgage of $27,900.

Central Park West, 300, n w corner of 90th St, 41 and 3.1 8x100, eight-story brick tenement, Eldorado Ar, Nipp against Secured Holdings Corporation et al.; George B. Holbert, attorney, 154 Nassau St; Louis M. Ogden, referee; due, $29,770.40; taxes, &c., $4,435.90; subject to first mortgage of $400,000.

Central Park West, 301, s w corner of 91st St, (2,) 100.8x100, eight-story brick tenement, Eldorado Ar, Charles A. Lindsley against Secured Holdings Corporation et al.; George B. Holbert, attorney, 154 Nassau St; Herman Stiefel, referee; due, $61,873.20; taxes, &c., $4,075.90; subject to first mortgage of $400,000.

By Bryan L. Kennelly.

Lafayette St, 401, e s, 100 ft n of 4th St, 24.8x100, seven-story brick loft and store building; Charles Remsen, trustee, et al. against Eugene Morgenthau et al.; Joline, Larkin & Rathbone, attorneys, 54 Wall St.; Joseph I. Green, referee; due, $78,699.39; taxes, &c., $1,783.65.

120th St, 339 East, n s, 25 ft w of 1st Av, 16.8x180.10, three-story and basement stone dwelling; Free Home for Young Girls against Louis Lese et al.; Olney & Comstock, attorneys, 68 William St.; Harry A. Goidel, referee; due, $5,022.97; taxes, &c., $300.23.

At 3,208 THIRD AVENUE.

By James J. Donovan.

201st St, 201 East, n e corner of Grand Boulevard and Concourse, 10.5x100x15.10x100.2, two-story frame dwelling; Carrie Fisher against Elizabeth Scrymgeour; John C. Stein, attorney, 2,873 Webster Av; Morris Frank, referee; due, $1,680.90; taxes, &c., $351.89.

Ogden Av, e s, 450 ft n of 170th St, 50x112.3x50x111.11, vacant; Jacob Dohrman against Mervin Realty Co. et al.; Ehrs & Abberley, attorneys, 277 Broadway; Joseph I. Berry, referee; due, $4,410.92; taxes, &c., $375.88.

By Samuel Marx.

Claremont Parkway, 404, s s, 151.8 ft e of Washington Av, 25.3x169.7x25x173.3, four-story brick tenement and stores; Harry B. Rosen against Olga Balaban et al.; Louis Jersawitz, attorney, 220 Broadway; Maximer B. Benjamin, referee; due, $4,655.57; taxes, &c., $325.05.

By J. H. Mayers.

Grand Boulevard and Concourse, n e corner of 201st St, See 201st St, 201 East.

Locust Av, 290, s e, 255 ft n of 138th St, 260x325x210x364, one, two, and three story brick shop; Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York against Robert C. Fisher et al.; Frederick L. Allen, attorney, 55 Cedar St; Benjamin A. Hertelth, referee; due, $240,000; taxes, &c., $2,984.53.

By Charles A. Berrian.

Prospect Av, 701, w s, 27 ft s of 155th St, 21x90x21.2x94.10, four-story brick tenement; Italian Savings Bank of City of New York against Arthur Richardson et al.; Wayland & Bernard, attorneys, 165 Broadway; Abraham M. Schwartz, referee; due, $14,474.17; taxes, &c., $383.30.

By George Price.

Westchester Av, e s, 125.6 ft n of Havemeyer Av, runs e 148 x n 700 x w 154 x s and s e 100 x w 30.7 x n w 137.5 x w 25 x s e 100 x w 50 x n w 100 x s w 252 to be beginning; Harlem Savings Bank against Sarah D. Munn et al.; Edward S. Clinch, attorney, 41 Park Row; Bernard J. Isecke, referee; due, $19,437; taxes, &c., $17,114.07.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Park Av, s w corner of 58th St, for a thirteen-story apartment, 100.5x90.1; 900 Park Av. Co., Inc., 200 Madison Av, owner; Schwartz & Gross, 347 5th Av, architects; cost, $450,000.

Ely Av, w s, 150 ft n of Nelson Place, for a two-story and attic frame dwelling, 17x39; Home Investors' Building Corporation, Jacob M. Meyers, 740 Broadway, President, owner; Carl P. Johnson, 30 East 42d St, architect; cost, $3,500.

176th St, s s, 130 ft w of Park Av, for a one-story brick storage house, 50x107; William C. Bergen, 1,932 Arthur Av, owner; W. C. Martin, 1,932 Arthur Av, architect; cost, $2,500.

Grand Concourse s w corner of 177th St, for a five-story brick tenement; 181.7x33.7; Alexander Wilson, 162d St. and Grand Concourse, President, owner; Charles S. Schaefer, Jr., 401 Tremont Av, architect; cost, $60,000.

Alterations.

Items under $5,000 omitted.

Lexington Av, 242, n e, to a five-story dwelling; H. Hurwitz, premises, owner; H. H. Holly, 38 West 3d St, architect; cost, $5,500.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

THURSDAY, OCT. 28.

With name and address of purchaser and attorney. When attorney's name is omitted address party of the second part.

Manhattan.

FRONT ST, 241, s s, 63.3 ft e of Peck Slip, 22.4x89.4; Front St, s s, 90.5 ft e of Peck Slip, 25.6x61.9; Front St, 248, n s, third lot w of Dover St, 22.4x89; Front St, 256, n s, 22.4x72; John St. Pettit to Forsyth Wickes, at Tuxedo Park, N. Y., (mtg $29,000,) Oct. 27; attorneys, Crocker & Wickes, 5 Nassau St.

SPRING ST, 148, s s, 20x50; Newport Holding Co. to D. H. Jackson Co., 35 Nassau St, (mtg $20,000,) all liens, Oct. 27; attorneys, Goldsmith, R., B. & B., 35 Nassau St. $1

1ST AV, 233, w s, 43.3 ft s of 14th St, 20x80; Harris Lurrie to Jacob Lurrie and another, 340 East 15th St, (mtg $19,000,) Oct. 27; attorney, Lawyers Title Insurance and Trust Co., 160 Broadway $100

2D AV, 2,205, e s, 100 ft n of 125th St, 23.5x84.10; Russell H. Robbins, referee, to Jules J. Vail, 8 Rue Bassano, Paris, France. Oct. 28; attorney, C. Wood, 52 William St.$21,000

4TH ST, s e corner of Jane St, 22x35; Edward A. Helfer to Adelena M. Cramer, 376 Bleecker St, one-quarter part, all title, Dec. 24, 1913; attorney, Henry Albers, Jr., 24 Broadway $100

22ND ST, 220 East, s s, 270 ft w of 1st Av, 25x97.6; Albert Erdman to Rocksand Realty Co., 35 Nassau St, (mtg $11,000,) Nov. 23, 1911; attorney, A. Erdman, 35 Nassau St. $1

27TH ST, 132 to 142 West, s s, 380 ft w of 6th Av, 120x98.9; Winter Russell, referee, to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank, (foreclosure Oct. 27,) Oct. 28; attorneys, R. & E. J. O'Gorman, 51 Chambers St....$240,000

56TH ST, 346 East, s s, 124 ft w of 1st Av, 18x80, (foreclosure Oct. 21,) Arthur N. Giegerich, referee, to Lawyers Mortgage Co., 59 Liberty St. Oct. 26; attorneys, Cary & Carroll, 59 Wall St. $7,000

112TH ST, 327 East, n s, 306.9 ft e of 2d Av, 18.11x100.5, (foreclosure Oct. 21;) Phoenix Ingrahan, referee, to Lawyers Mortgage Co., 59 Liberty St. Oct. 26; attorneys, Cary & Carroll, 59 Wall St. $7,000

112TH ST, 37 West, s s, 350 ft e of Lenox Av, 25x100.11; Sarah Baehr to Herman Baehr, 5 East 96th St, b. and s., all liens, Oct. 27; attorney, Elek J. Ludvigh, 31 Nassau St. $1

114TH ST, 105 West, n s, 131.6 ft w of Lenox Av, 31x100.11; Martha Goldman and another to Emanuel and Samuel E. Neuman, 2,094 5th Av, Oct. 28, (mtg $21,500;) attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway..$100

123D ST, 541 West, s s, 225 ft e of Broadway, 37.6x100.11; Julius Igel to Amelia Dreyfus and another, 272 West 90th St, Oct. 28; attorney, S. Seligsberger, 1,381 Crotona Av. $100

Bronx.

ANTHONY AV, w s, 135.7 ft n of 174th St, 50.1x90; Brand & Silverstein Iron Works to Edith A. Gross, 1,744 Clay Av, Oct. 27; attorney, Lawyers Title and Trust Co., 160 Broadway $100

CEDAR AV, w s, 91.3 ft n of 179th St, 16.8x100.9; Edw. D. Dowling, (referee,) to Fred'k T. Hoffman, 261 East Kingsbridge Rd., Oct. 26; attorney, Ernest Hall, 62 William St. $4,000

CEDAR AV., w s, 107.11 ft n of 179th St, 16.8x100.9; same to same, Oct. 27; same attorney $4,000

CLAY AV, e s, 221.10 ft s of 171st St, 94.11x141.8; A. J. Schwarzler Co. to Eliz. Schwarzler, 1,882 Grand Boulevard and Concourse, (mtg. $51,000,) Oct. 26; attorney, E. J. Krug, Jr., 150 Nassau St. $100

DITMARS ST, n s, 300 ft w of Hunter St, 6?x100; Edith King, et al., to Frank J. Muhlfeld, 863 Cromona Park North, Oct. 25; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $100

GRAND AV, s w corner of 186th St, 55.4x 106 to e s of Croton Aqueduct; Anna M. Day to Grand Av. Real Estate Corporation, 220 Broadway, (mtg $7,000,) Oct. 21; attorney, A. S. McKegry, 2,486 Devoe Ter...$100

LONGFELLOW AV, e s, 200 ft s of 172d St, 50x100; Traf Building Co., Inc., to Danial Mapes, Jr., 1,000 East 176th St, (mtg $30,000,) Oct. 27; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Company, 176 Broadway $1

LONGFELLOW AV, e s, 150 ft s of 172d St, 50x100; Traf Building Co., Inc., to Assad G. Khouri, Patchogue, L. I., (mtg $32,000,) Oct. 29; attorney, New York Title Insurance Co., 135 Broadway $1

LOT 7, Block 29, Map of Morris Park; Emma Kelsch to Otto Sigloch, 1,348 Fulton Av, Oct. 26; attorney, Otto Sigloch, 1,348 Fulton Av. $1

MORRIS PARK AV, n e corner of Delancey Pl, 45.5x82.7; John B. Eustis, referee, to Charles D. Edmonston, 2,118 Beverley Rd., Brooklyn. Oct. 22; attorneys, Carrington & P., 200 Broadway $1

PROSPECT AV, 2,350, e s, 18.6x94.6; Peter L. Mullaly, referee, to Beatrice S. Ziegel, 8 West 50th St, Oct. 27; attorney, Edmund

City Property

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Real Estate.

Clifford B. Harmon & Co., Real Estate, Vanderbilt Avenue Bldg., opposite Grand Central.

JERE JOHNSON, JR., CO., AUCTIONEERS, 187 B'way, N. Y., 198 Montague St., B'klyn.

MARK RAITALSKY & CO., 80 West 45th Street. Tel. Bryant 7845.

J. CLARENCE DAVIES, Real Estate. 149th St. and 3d Ave.

Brooklyn—For Sale or To Let.

Chatsman Homes in the heart of Flatbush: only $4,250; send for booklet. Otto Singer, on premises, East 13th St. and Av. K, Brooklyn. Avenue J station, Brighton Beach "L."

Real Estate for Exchange.

Wanted—One-family house in New York City in good residential section in exchange for well-rented non-elevator apartment in Newark, N. J., yielding a large income. M. Beck, 16 Central Av., Newark, N. J.

City Houses to Let—Furnished.

For Rent—Handsomely furnished nine-room house, with Winter sleeping porch, steam heat, electric light, Oriental rugs, piano and victrola; $125 per month. Address H. J. Sweden, Verdia Av., Mount Vernon, N. Y., or 456 4th Av., New York City.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

Four-story-and-basement dwelling house, 20x100; 234 West 56th St., off a. w. cor. B'way, will sacrifice for $25,000; mortgage $32,000. W 67 Times.

125th, 106 W.—Handsome 3-story and basement dwelling; 2 baths; $900; near subway.

FORECLOSURE SALES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW York.—THE GERMANIA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, plaintiff, against HENRY BENNETT and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 21st day of October, 1915, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the Exchange Salesroom, No. 14-18 Vesey Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 12th day of November, 1915, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

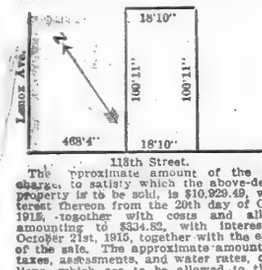
All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building thereon, situate, lying and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, distant easterly four hundred and sixty-eight feet and four inches from the northeasterly corner of One Hundred and Thirteenth Street and Lenox (formerly Sixth) Avenue; running thence northerly, parallel with Lenox Avenue, part of the way through a party wall, one hundred feet and eleven inches; thence easterly, parallel with One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, eighteen feet and ten inches; thence southerly, again parallel with Lenox Avenue, part of the way through another party wall, one hundred feet and eleven inches to the northerly side of One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, and thence westerly along the northerly side of One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, eighteen feet and ten inches to the point or place of beginning; said land lying in Section 6, Block 1697, on the Land Map of the City of New York.

Dated New York, October 21st, 1915.

POWELL CRICHTON, Referee.

DULON & ROE, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 41 Park Row, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 41 West 113th Street.



113th Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold, is $10,928.82, with interest thereon from the 20th day of October, 1915, together with costs and allowance amounting to $334.82, with interest from October 21st, 1915, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens, which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $241.40 and interest.

Dated New York, October 21st, 1915.

POWELL CRICHTON, Referee.

U. S. MARSHAL'S NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.

NOTICE.

On October 18, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against fifteen assorted packages of butter more or less, and seizure thereof, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Food and Drugs Act June 30, 1906, of the United States.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 8, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable; and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 18, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY, United States Marshal.

H. SNOWDEN MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.

NOTICE.

On October 20, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 5 cases of condensed milk, upon a seizure thereof, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Section 7, Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906, Sub-division 6 under "Food" of said Food and Drug Act of the United States.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming the said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 8th, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 20, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY, United States Marshal.

H. SNOWDEN MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.

NOTICE.

On Oct. 22nd, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 48 cases, each containing 12 cans of apples, upon a seizure thereof, thereafter made by the Collector of Customs for the Port of New York, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Food and Drugs Act June 30th, 1906, of the United States Revised Statutes.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 15, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 22nd, 1915.

THOS. D. McCARTHY, United States Marshal.

H. S. MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.

NOTICE.

On Oct. 22nd, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 94 cases, each containing 2 dozen cans of apples, upon a seizure thereof, theretofore made by the Collector of Customs for the Port of New York, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Food and Drugs Act June 30th, 1906, of the United States Revised Statutes.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 8, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 22nd, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY, United States Marshal.

H. S. MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

FISHER, CATHARINE JANE.—In pursuance of an order of Honorable Robert Ludlow Fowler, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Catharine Jane Fryer, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber at his place of transacting business, No. 119 Fulton Street, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the twenty-eighth day of February, 1916.

Dated, New York, the 19th day of August, 1915. CHARLES STEWART PHILLIPS, Executor.

Mortgage Loans

Forty-five cents an agate line.

ALBERT B. ASHFORTH, 14 WALL ST. MORTGAGE LOANS.

Money advanced on rents, first and second mortgage money. De Leeuw, 15 Broad St.

To Let For Business

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

MUSIC STUDIO.

Large, perfectly appointed music studio and reception room to sublet; best location in city Broadway and 57th St.; seen by appointment; telephone Circle 410. X 257 Times Annex.

FIFTH AVENUE Showroom, sublease. Ewing Bacon and Henry, 101 Park Av.

Accountant offers services in exchange for desk room. T 31 Times.

Space in gift shop; established clientele; 11 East 42d St. Phone 4013 Murray Hill.

Wanted for Business Purposes.

Ground floor, 10,000 square feet, lower east side; laundry. Zinker, 819 East 166th St.

Property Out of the City

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Westchester—For Sale or To Let.

For Rent, Westchester County—New 7 room and bath, Colonial house; decorated; all improvements; line of Putnam main line; 45 minutes to Wall St.; $35. Theo. R. Heinrichs, Getty Square, Yonkers.

Hudson River.

KENNETH IVES & CO., Westchester, T'E. 42.

Long Island—For Sale or To Let.

Very attractive cottage; 5 rooms and bath; electric, gas, and city water; open fireplace; beamed ceilings in living and dining rooms; large verandas; plot of lawn and garden; hedges and shrubbery; block from sandy bathing beach; fishing, etc.; 45 minutes from Manhattan; must have $150 down, then $18 monthly. C. Colt, 1,215 B'way, B'klyn.

NEW MODERN HOUSE.

Semi-bungalow type, 7 rooms and tile bath; sun parlor and large porch; electricity and gas, parquet floors, white enamel, 2d floor; 28 minutes out; 100 trains; restricted neighborhood; price $5,950; easy terms. J. Mead Briggs, 200 Broadway, N. Y. Phone 3876 Cortlandt.

PLOT ON JAMAICA BAY.

Need $150 cash at once, balance on your own terms; you can tie your boat to your rear porch; all improvements are there; 20 minutes from Flatbush Depot. Stanley, K 277 Times Downtown.

If you are looking for a little house and large plot of ground, near station and trolley, churches and stores, $675 for all; $50 down; $7 monthly; answer at once. C. Store, 5 Hanson Pl., B'klyn, opp. Flatbush Av. L, I. R. R. Depot.

$750 buys small farm, consisting of 8 acres of good soil; suitable for raising vegetables, poultry, &c.; near large town; $25 cash; balance $2.50 weekly; good title. C. Farm, 243 West 34th St., N. Y.

Firm owning large house, first-class condition, 20 minutes from Herald Square, will accept reliable family tenant and particularly low terms, subject to 2 months. L 98 Times.

My client, unable to keep up payments, will sell lots at sacrifice. James Rosthal, 115 Broadway, N. Y. Cortlandt 4746.

50x100; all improvements; good location; near station; 35 minutes out; $190; terms; wonderful bargain. B. F. McLain, 47 W. 34th St.

A 7-ACRE CHICKEN FARM, $1,700. Good soil; terms. Box 346, Northport, L. I.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS

In modern one-family houses and choice building lots at private sale, a large number from which to select.

THE BANKING DEPARTMENT, STATE OF NEW YORK, to quickly close the business of two corporations, offers these properties at about 50% of former prices. They are situated at Grantwood, Fairview, Monmouth and Leonia, New Jersey, (opposite Grant's Tomb), within twenty-five minutes of Manhattan.

An inspection of these properties will convince you that they are unusual bargains.

Liberal terms. Title Guarantee Policy Free.

For further details and terms address BENJ. D. HAIGHT, Special Deputy Supt. of Banks, care of Banking Department, 62 Broadway, New York City.

ONE ACRE, with modern 6-room cottage, steam heat, bath, electric light, hardwood floors, all improvements; 15 minutes' walk from station; $5,000; comfortable terms. Might rent.

S. S. WALSTROM-GORDON & FORMAN, Ridgewood, N. J. Fone 555.

Owner cannot occupy residence just completed; cost $3,900; will sacrifice; 7 rooms, open fireplace, steam heat; 34 minutes New York. Birdseye, Room 602, 160 Broadway.

$50 cash buys bungalow at Cranford, brick and stucco, all improvements; special monthly payments; sacrifice. T. Horace, 189 Broadway. Phone 7560 Cortlandt.

Builder forced to take eight-room house, all improvements, hot water heat, best section, will sell $4,250; value $5,500. Smith-Singer Co., Ridgewood, N. J.

Attractive 6-room furnished residence; 50 minutes from New York on Lackawanna Railroad; fine club; all Winter sports; rent moderate. W 147 Times.

FARMS, acre upward, hour out, for poultry, fruit, vegetables; $10 monthly. Write for pictures. Room 1,701, 141 Broadway.

Woodcliff-on-Hudson.—Homes, modern improvements; little cash. Thomson, 330 33d St.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Property My Specialty. Harvey R Linbarger, 197 North Av.

Real Estate for Exchange.

Want good farm; not rocks; have good income property and mortgages to exchange. Piquet, 354 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Wanted.

Most attractive seven rooms, until May; New York, Connecticut; $25-$40. W 160 Times.

Apartments to Let

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

East Side.

LUXURIOUS BACHELOR APARTMENT, TWO ROOMS, BATH, AND KITCHENETTE, VERY HANDSOMELY FURNISHED, ORIENTAL RUGS, SOLID MAHOGANY, &C., IN HIGH-CLASS BUILDING, OPPOSITE RITZ-CARLTON HOTEL; MAID AND VALET SERVICE; MEALS SERVED; JUST DECORATED; PERFECT CONDITION; RENT $180 PER MONTH TO JUNE 1; $125 PER MONTH TO OCT. 1. CARLTON CHAMBERS, 402 MADISON AV., AT 47TH STREET.

MADISON AV., 645.—Exceptional opportunity, handsomely furnished studio apartment for 3 or 4 months; elevator; meal and maid service; $150 monthly. Apply premises, Studio 62.

Apartments. — Hotel Oxford, 35 East 27th. Furnished, unfurnished; full hotel service; restaurant; cheapest rental in New York; 2 rooms, bath, $12 weekly and up.

West Side

THE WILSONIA,

225 West 69th St., near Broadway.

3 rooms, bath, and kitchenette, $50 up.

Apartments by the Month or Year. Also Unfurnished.

SPOTLESSLY FRESH AND CLEAN.

No questionable or objectionable tenants. Phone, elevator service; maid service optional. Near Subway, "L," 9th Av. bus, street cars. REFERENCES ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL.

We offer hotel conveniences at apartment house rates. You are invited to inspect our specially attractive apartments.

CATHEDRAL PLAZA,
100 CATHEDRAL PARKWAY,
110TH ST. AND COLUMBUS AV.

We have 1, 2, 3, 4 room apartments, $30, $40, $50, $60 UP MONTHLY.

Completely furnished, including dishes, silver, cooking utensils. Maid service optional. Every apartment has private bath and kitchenette. Concessions on lease and unfurnished. Near subway and "L." Must be seen to be appreciated. Phone Riverside 3070. 5th Av. bus line stops at our door.

98th St., 305-307 West.—Schuyler Arms Hotel, between Riverside and Broadway; strictly high-class house; beautifully furnished apartments; shower baths; 2, 3, 4, and 5 rooms, with or without kitchen, fully equipped for housekeeping; all night elevator; telephone; bellboy and maid service; restaurant in building. Phone 8964 River.

If you have a nicely furnished, high class apartment and want to rent it for 5 or 6 months send full particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Five to nine rooms, $100 to $350; private parties subleasing; completely furnished; west side, 70s to 100s. Wickliffe Gray, 289 West 73d. Columbus 3974.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED APARTments, long, short leases; east, west side; high class only. R. de Florez, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 8850.

47th, 16 West.—Very attractive, small kitchenette apartment; $40-$50; good service.

GRANT COURT.

113TH ST., 610 West, near Riverside Drive.—4, 5, 6 rooms; high class apartment. Fisher.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS.
Frederick L. Hurt,
30 East 42d.

We have furnished apartments for rent, 5 or 6 months or longer. Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Beautifully furnished apartment, 8 rooms, 3 baths. 448 Riverside Drive. Phone 6670 Morningside.

119th, 420 West.—Five beautiful rooms, bath; all outside; completely furnished; $55.

Apartments to Let

Unfurnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

MADISON AV., 1,186, COR. 87TH ST., 7 rooms, electricity, parquet floors; $100. 1,182 MADISON AVENUE. Eight rooms, unusual light, size; $75. 53-55 EAST 58TH STREET. Seven extra large rooms, $70-$75.

A.—331 East 17th St. (Stuyvesant Square.)—Parlor floor and basement apartments, 12 rooms, two baths; new parquet floors, or will rent separately; rents $55 and $35; three-family house. Firm L. J. Carpenter, 25 Liberty St.

31st St., 157 East, near Lexington.—Modern steam-heated apartment, 6 rooms, bath, $40.

FOR HIGH-CLASS APARTMENTS, A. L. Mordecai & Son, 30 East 42d St.

West Side

THE CHESTERSHIRE,
568-570 West 183d St.

1½ blocks from subway station; modern six-story elevator apartment, 6 and 7 rooms and bath; $45 to $65. Superintendent on premises.

9 ROOMS, 3 BATHS; THE WELLWYN, 5TH FLOOR, SOUTH, 290 WEST 72D; SUNSHINE IN ALL ROOMS. APPLY EARLE & CALHOUN, BROADWAY AND 72D ST.

$24—5 ROOMS, BATH.
105th, West. (near Central Park.)—Steam heat, hot water; location unexcelled; small families only; no dogs. Janitor.

155d, 445 West.—To sublet, 5 large, light rooms; high-class elevator apartment; Washington Heights; convenient elevated and subway; $50. Apt. 4-A.

St. Nicholas Av., 430, (facing St. Nicholas Park.)—Seven large, light rooms; steam heat; modern plumbing; location first class; $30. Janitor.

140th St., 503 West.—Seven rooms front, bath; electricity; convenient subway and "L"; refined house; owner on premises; $45; inducements to desirable tenants.

57th, 329 West.—Three beautiful, large, light rooms and bath; all improvements; rents, $50 to $60. Apply on premises.

SUBLET.
Three rooms and bath.
HOTEL WALTON, 104 West 70th St.

Sublet two-room, kitchenette apartment; overlooking park. 5-B, 65 Central Park West.

21ST ST., 210 WEST.—ELEVATOR APARTMENTS; 5 AND 6 ROOMS, ALL IMPROVEMENTS, $35 UP.

BROADWAY, 2,708, (103d.)—Three rooms, bath, kitchenette; owner's management; lease; $36-$40.

Grand Concourse Apartments.—See H. A. Douglas Co., 187th St. and Grand Concourse.

Apartments consisting of 2-10 rooms; best sections of city. Kempe, 87th, Broadway.

Carolyn Court, 414 West 121st St.—Choice 3-4-5 rooms and bath; $480-$720.

51st, 72 West.—Two rooms, bath; also single room; all improvements; $6-$9.

For apartments of from 3 to 10 rooms consult Paterno, 601 West 115th St.

136th, 601 West.—Elevator apartments, 4, 6, 7, 8 rooms; $38 to $100.

108th, 200 West.—Six beautiful corner rooms, bath; steam, &c.; $40.

34th, 144 East.—Large, light room kitchenette, bath; steam heat; electricity. Zobel.

Brooklyn.

Dean St., 1,803, near New York Av.—Two vacancies, 3 rooms, $30; 5 rooms, $45; kitchen, bathroom; steam heat, hot water, telephone, vacuum cleaner; select neighborhood.

Apartments Wanted

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

Furnished apartment wanted for five months; at least two bedrooms; east side preferred; rent, $120 per month. A. Myers, 45 William St.; 4745 John.

Completely furnished 3-room apartment with bath on the upper west side by young couple with five months' old baby; reasonable. K 259 Times Downtown.

Have clients wanting handsomely furnished apartments, east, west side; high-class only. R. de FLOREZ, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 8850.

Furnished studio apartment wanted for next six months; suitable for two; rental about $100. Address K 260 Times Downtown.

Unfurnished.

Gentleman and wife wish to rent entire unfurnished floor in private house of family taking no other boarders in accessible location in Westchester County; good table and refined surroundings essential, for which liberal price will be paid; references given. Address, with terms, "A. L.," P. O. Box 822, New York City

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47.—Unusual location; double, single room; steam heat; private bath.

13TH, 210 EAST, (Stuyvesant Park.)—Single, double rooms; home cooking; table guests.

21ST ST., 145 EAST.—(Gramercy Park privileges;) excellent table; private baths; ample closets; steam heat and electricity in every room; phone; references.

34TH, 117-119 EAST, (Near Park Av.)—Large and single rooms, with board.

45TH ST., 8 EAST: Table board; rooms; references.

61ST, 158 EAST.—Comfortable, convenient large and small rooms; excellent table.

62D, 38 EAST.—Second floor suite; other rooms; excellent table.

63D, 30 EAST.—Double and single rooms, all conveniences; excellent table; parlor dining.

MADISON AV., 213.—Rooms newly furnished, some with bath; table board; references.

West Side

5TH AV., 2,066, (127th.)—Large room, second floor; small room; excellent board.

7TH AV., 2,063, (123d.)—Connecting large rooms; steam heat; phone; substantial board; references.

16TH, 20-22 WEST.—Large, small rooms, well heated; unexcelled board; telephone.

43 WEST 47TH ST.

Attractively furnished rooms; first-class service; table unexcelled; every convenience; table guests

47TH, 47 WEST.—Large room, private bath; couple or two gentlemen; table exceptionally good.

54TH ST., 54 WEST.—Single and double rooms, suites; private baths; electricity.

56TH, 62 WEST. — Desirable large, small rooms, with board; suite, with bath; references.

57TH, 349 WEST.—One large room; southern exposure; private bath; board; references.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; excellent cooking and service; table guests.

68TH, 146 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large and small rooms; table guests; references.

64TH, 115 WEST.—Large, pleasant room; running water; suitable one, two; moderate.

70TH, 220 WEST.—Desirable large room; electricity; private residence; gentlemen only; references.

72D, 266 WEST.—Attractive location; large, small rooms; excellent meals; references; telephone; translients.

72D, 52 WEST.—Superior location and appointments; refined family desiring Winter home.

72D, 157 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; southern exposure; well-appointed house; references.

74TH, 102 WEST.—Desirable rooms; private baths; telephone; electricity; steam; table boarders.

74TH, 123 WEST.—Desirable medium rooms; electricity; table boarders; transients.

75TH, 105 WEST.—Large room, with dressing room; also small room; home cooking; private family; references. Mrs. W. A. Ryerson.

76TH, 103 WEST.—Comfortable rooms; homelike; parlor dining; superior table; references; reasonable.

76TH, 57 WEST.—Attractive rooms, adjoining bath; table guests. Tel. 9725 Schuyler.

78TH, 164 WEST.—Pleasant rooms; excellent table; parlor dining room; table guests.

79TH, 114 and 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tea room, and lounge; steam heat; private telephones; booklet on request.

79TH, 128 WEST.—Newly decorated, newly furnished; electric light; telephones; opened Oct. 1.

80TH, 121-123 WEST.—Well-furnished, newly decorated, large, small rooms; private baths; continuous hot water; parlor dining; exclusive.

80TH, 124 WEST.—Attractive large, small rooms; electricity; good table; parlor dining.

82D ST., 146 WEST.—THE BARRETT. Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D, 19 WEST. (Kenilworth.) — Desirable rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; table guests.

82D, 124 West, (Grayoourt.)—New and attractively decorated; modern; table guests; booklet.

82D, 27 WEST.—Rooms, with excellent table; parlor dining room; private; home cooking.

82D, 20 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; excellent home cooking.

82D, 55 WEST.—Second floor front, private bath; third floor rear; refined house.

83D, 17 WEST.—A stone's throw to Central Park; cozy room with homelike surroundings; quality board; references exchanged. Mrs. G. Safferson.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

84TH, 58 WEST.—Beautiful, large room, private bath, electricity; excellent table; Jewish.

85TH, 130 WEST.—NEWLY DECORATED ROOMS; GOOD TABLE; REASONABLE TO BUSINESS PEOPLE; TELEPHONE.

86TH ST., 114 WEST.—Owner's home, large and small rooms. "L" and subway.

87TH, 138 WEST.—Refined home; comfortable rooms; electricity, references required; table guests.

89TH, 806 WEST.—Refined Jewish home can accommodate few people; excellent cooking.

106TH, 314 WEST.—Unusual accommodations in private home for bachelor or family; two large rooms and bath; also single room; near Riverside.

107TH, 322 WEST.—Unusual opportunity for bachelor or family to live in luxurious economy; three large rooms and bath; also single room; between Riverside and Broadway.

120TH, 7 WEST.—Attractive large and small rooms, with strictly kosher board; table guests.

156TH, 552 WEST.—Large and small rooms; excellent table; steam heat.

IRVING PLACE, 71.—Rooms with private bath and board. Gramercy 1975.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE.—Widow, handsomely furnished house, rent large studio, with bedroom, private bath; other large rooms. 8926 Audubon.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 583.—Beautiful rooms; southern exposure; refined surroundings; exceptional board; references.

SINGLE and double rooms; refined private house; every convenience; modern. 140 West 94th.

Two beautiful rooms, with private bathroom; two couples or four gentlemen, seeking superior accommodations; Swiss service and cuisine; $60 weekly for four. Y 364 Times Annex.

WEST END AV., 344.—Select pension; new, handsomely furnished rooms; en suite, single; private baths; parlors; European cooking; electricity.

WEST END AV., 581. (86th St.)—SUPERIOR TABE BOARD. 8958 Schuyler.

Country Board

Thirty cents an agate line.

Westchester.

HIGHCLIFFE HALL HOTEL, Park Hill, Yonkers.—Winter engagements now unexcelled; home cooking; large porches; well-heated house; river view. W. E. Robinson. Phone 2161 Yonkers.

"The Colonial," 7 North Broadway, White Plains, N. Y., spacious rooms; excellent table; select all-year home; beautiful surroundings; easy commutation. Phone 687.

New Jersey.

THE MARLBOROUGH,
45 North Arlington Av.,
East Orange, N. J.

"30 Minutes from Broadway."

Compare this with what you are paying and what you are getting for it—A parlor, bedroom, and private bath, with delicious meals, for $25 per week for two persons; exclusive and homelike; social conditions very pleasant. Take Lackawanna at Hoboken, hotel one block from East Orange station. Write for booklet. W. T. Reade, Prop.

Convalescents' home; trained nurses' care; moderate prices. Schofield, 234 Avenue A, Bayonne.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

11TH, 28 EAST.—Large, medium front rooms, clean, quiet; telephone; select house; reasonable.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable, well furnished rooms; bathroom floor; reasonable.

18TH, 113 EAST.—Rooms in refined home, Gramercy section, at subway; references.

23D ST., 20 EAST, (Madison Square South.)—Suite, two rooms and bath.

30TH ST., 119 EAST.—Newly furnished room; modern conveniences; gentleman.

31ST, 47 EAST.—Large, front room, near subway; all conveniences.

45TH, 16 EAST.—Comfortable room, with bath; single room; breakfast optional; references.

53D, 32 EAST.—Two large rooms with or without bath, electricity; gentlemen.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Large, newly decorated rooms; electric lights; all conveniences; references.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Two large, light rooms; electric light; running water; references.

56TH, 53 EAST.—Large, elegant rooms, bath adjoining; steam, electricity, phone; second floor.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box-spring beds; tiled bathroom; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV, 586.—Elegant back parlor and one large room; references; telephone.

MADISON AV., 220.—Large, attractive studios for musical, meeting, dancing; studios subrented hourly, monthly; 3 rooms., furnished, unfurnished.

MADISON AV., 302, (near 42d.)—Studio, light, large rooms; all conveniences; telephone.

West Side

12TH ST., 48 WEST.—Very large room, private bath, $12; well-kept house.

23D, 258 WEST.—Large room, private bath, $7; single, $3.50; steam heat; gentlemen. Cavanagh.

23D, 258 WEST.—Large room, private bath, bath; also large room, southern exposure.

23D, 326 WEST.—Large front rooms, housekeeping, $5.00, $5.50; hallrooms, $2.50.

44TH, 12 WEST. (The Mansfield.)—Highest class bachelor apartments, furnished or unfurnished, with complete hotel service; refrigeration; open fireplaces; excellent location.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Floor 2 rooms, bath, single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

47TH, 31-41 WEST.—Large, small rooms; elegant apartment; private baths; electricity; steam; elevator.

51ST, 30 WEST.—Small rooms, with running water, in doctor's house.

52D, 55 WEST.—Large room; private bath; electricity; telephone; reasonable; gentleman only; references.

53D, 62 WEST.—Desirable double and single rooms, or en suite; private bath.

58TH, 128 WEST.—Handsome room, with alcove, bath adjoining; select location; electricity; telephone.

58TH, 49 WEST.—Large, elegant room; gas, electricity, bath, telephone; reasonable.

68TH, 71 WEST.—Beautiful, sunny, large rooms; perfectly private house; moderate; references.

118 WEST 69TH ST.
West Hall.

Large room with southern exposure; saloon dressing room and private bath; suitable for two; also smaller room.

69TH, 111 WEST.—Desirable large room; steam, hot water, electricity, telephone; references.

70TH, (2,030 Broadway.)—Sublet four beautifully furnished rooms and bath; suitable business gentlemen; also single rooms; references. Tel. 6314 Columbus. Ormonde, Apt. 5 East.

71ST, 120 WEST.—Single, double rooms, newly furnished; private baths; Hebrew social surroundings.

70TH, 307 WEST.—Large, bright room, private house; all conveniences; suitable two gentlemen.

71ST, 163 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large room; southern exposure; all conveniences; telphone.

71ST, 57 WEST.—Large, sunny room; southern exposure; continuous hot water; references.

72D SUBWAY.—Single room, immaculately clean, next bath; high-class apartment; gentleman; references. Phone Col. 694. Apt. 1C.

72D, 248 WEST.—The Graystone, phone Columbus 1894; furnished room; excellent table.

73D, 103 WEST.—Nicely decorated rooms; running water; large closets; gentlemen; moderate.

73D, 258 WEST.—Furnished rooms, with private baths; references.

73D, 255 WEST.—Large rooms, with and without private bath; reference.

74TH, 149 WEST. — ATTRACTIVE ROOMS, SINGLE, DOUBLE, WITH AND WITHOUT PRIVATE BATHS; CONTINUOUS HOT WATER; REASONABLE.

74TH, 5 WEST.—Large, attractive front room; southern exposure; second floor; reasonable.

74TH, 165 WEST. — Connecting rooms, elegantly furnished; separately or suite; bath; gentlemen.

75TH, 124 WEST.—Large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms; telephone; references.

75TH, 159 WEST.—Newly furnished, high class, parquet floors, electric lights, private baths.

75TH, 144 WEST.—Attractive, large front suite; small rooms; subway, L; phone.

76TH, 148 WEST.—Large, sunny, pleasant room; bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH, 171 WEST.—Homelike, sunny rooms, continuous hot water, private baths, electricity.

76TH, 135 WEST. — Sunny front rooms; handsome back parlor, with private bath.

77TH ST., 103 WEST.
Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home com-

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

77TH, 158 WEST.—Attractive room, private bath, all conveniences; private house; references.

78TH, 112 WEST.—Attractive, large front room, adjoining bath; telephone; references.

81ST, 3 WEST.—Large back parlor, kitchenette; home comforts; electricity, steam.

82D ST., 146 WEST. THE BARRETT. Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D, 30 WEST.—Exceptionally desirable front room, single, $3.50; bath adjoining. Anderson.

85TH, 207 WEST.—Large room, immaculate; running water; elevator; breakfasts; $6. Sharpies.

87TH, 153 WEST.—Will rent second floor in private residence; one or two gentlemen; all conveniences; references required. Apply between 6 and 7.

87TH, 117 WEST.—Double rooms; strictly private family; moderate prices.

88TH, 335 WEST, (Dreocam Hall.)—Exclusive bachelor dwellings; rooms, $5 to $12; subway.

90TH, 53 WEST.—Attractive rooms, running water, southern exposure; private house; reference. Barry.

91ST., 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large rooms; southern exposure; select house; references.

91ST, 38 WEST.—Newly furnished residence, sunny rooms, private baths; electricity; $10, $15.

91ST, 66 WEST—Large alcove room; also medium sized and skylight rooms.

94TH, 18 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private bath; table boarders; excellent meals; reference.

94TH, 55 WEST.—Large, well furnished rooms; modern conveniences; select neighborhood.

94TH, 20 WEST.—Newly renovated, large rooms, southern exposure; private bath; first and second floors; references.

94TH, 163 WEST.—Entire floor, sitting room, bedroom, bath; owner; references.

94TH, 161 WEST.—Rooms, private house; all conveniences; subway and L express.

96TH, 316 WEST.—Private family; single room; large closet; gentlemen; apt. 41.

96TH, 231 WEST.—Beautifully appointed guest room, facing Broadway; gentleman; exclusive. Apt. 3D.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Medium, well-furnished room; closets, water, heat; board. Apt. 6-A.

97TH ST., 305 WEST.—Desirable, attractive room; modern; reasonable. Apt. 4.

97TH, 316 WEST.—A sunny room; refined family; river view; next Drive.

97TH, 145 WEST.—Private house; unusually attractive, well furnished room, bath; gentleman.

100TH, 253 WEST.—Attractive, newly furnished rooms, with bath; breakfasts; American family.

101st, 16 West.—Attractive rooms, suites; telephone, electricity; housekeeping; $3 to $7. McNamara.

101ST, 230, (corner Broadway.)—Front room, all conveniences; elevator; gentleman; references. Reilly.

105TH ST., 248 WEST. (Broadway.)—Choice room; running water; private family; elevator apartment. Phillips.

112TH, 504 WEST.—Scrupulously clean, large light front room; 6th floor west.

114TH, 540 WEST.—Small, sunny south room; terms reasonable.

116TH ST., (Opposite Columbia.)—Large, sunny front room, for one or two; two closets. Miss Ward, 15 Claremont Av.

118TH ST., 401 WEST.—Connecting rooms; toilet; hot, cold water; two business men; moderate; large, light room; board optional. Apt. 4.

121ST, 501 WEST.—Large room adjoining bath; shower, electricity, elevator; Jewish family. Apartment 54.

122D, 500 WEST.—Double, single, outside rooms, en suite, separately; large closets; kitchen; elevator. Whyte.

127TH, 13 WEST.—Nicely furnished, large and small rooms; all conveniences; moderate terms.

138TH, 608 WEST.—Two exceptionally well-furnished, large rooms, bath adjoining, meals, in a strictly private family.

148TH, (3,604 Broadway.)—Large, modern room; no other roomers; gentleman; references. Mayer.

162D, WEST, (16 Jumel Terrace.)—Two, single, en suite; bath; running water; large closets; spotless; telephone; $4, $5.

ALLERTON HOUSE FOR BACHELORS,
302 WEST 22D ST.

The comfort of home, the genial atmosphere and spirit of a well-appointed club for men of refinement; new fireproof building; roof garden; private showers; billiard room, library, and lounge; no tipping; running water every room; single, $4 to $6 weekly; rooms for two, $3 to $3.50 weekly each.

BROADWAY, 2,880, (112th.)—Two fine and unusually large rooms, adjoining bath; high-class apartment. Vosburgh. Telephone 3903 Morningside.

CENTRAL PARK WEST, (66th St.)—Couple having charming apartment, rent delightful outside room, private lavatory; excellent transportation. 7915 Columbus.

LARGE, small rooms; running water; kitchen, laundry, verandas; on Hudson. Aud. 1487.

MOST DESIRABLE FRONT ROOM, overlooking Central Park; exclusive elevator apartment; exceptionally reasonable. Columbus 5277.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 440, (corner 116th.)—Beautiful large front room, handsomely furnished; dressing room, running water, southern exposure, elevator; private home; breakfast; exceptional; $12. Apartment 101.

70

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES.

EMPIRE Broadway & 40th St. Evs. at 8. Mats. Tom'w & Tues. (Elec. Day) 2
WM. GILLETTE
NOV. 6th FINAL PERFORMANCE OF His Great Success, SHERLOCK HOLMES
NOV. 8th, "SECRET SERVICE."

LYCEUM West 45th Street. Evs. at 8:20. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Thurs.
ETHEL BARRYMORE
IN HER GREAT COMEDY SUCCESS,
OUR MRS. McCHESNEY

NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE, W. 42d St.
MONDAY NIGHT, NOV. 1ST, SEATS NOW.
KLAW & ERLANGER WILL PRESENT
AROUND THE MAP
A Musical Globe Trot by C. M. S. McLELLAN. Music by HERMAN FINCK.
After the Play Visit DANSE DE FOLLIES. ZIEGFELD MID-NIGHT FROLIC "Meeting Place of the World" Atop New Amsterdam Theatre

GAIETY B'way, 46th St. Evs. 8:20. Matinees Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed. 2:20.
YOUNG AMERICA

GEO. COHAN'S B'way, 43d St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed.
ELSIE JANIS in "MISS INFORMATION"

HUDSON West 44th St. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed.
"THE SHENANDOAH" OF 1915."—Times.
Under Fire
With WM. COURTENAY.

HARRIS West 42d Street. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed. 2:15
ROLLING STONES

FULTON 46th St., nr. Broadway. Evs. 8:30. NEXT MATINEE SAT. 2:30.
SHERMAN WAS RIGHT
A NEW FARCE BY FRANK MANDEL.

BIRTH OF A NATION AT THE LIBERTY W. 42d St. 2:15 & 8:15.
TWICE Daily, Incluc. Sunday. Ev. & Sat. Mat. 25-50-75-$1-$1.50
Other Mats.....25c, 50c & $1
D. W. GRIFFITH'S
GIGANTIC SPECTACLE. Symphony Orchestra of Forty.

CANDLER W. 42d St. Bryant 6344. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed.
THE HOUSE OF GLASS
with Mary Ryan and the Great All-American Cast. Orch., $2, $1.50. 500 Seats 1st Balc., 50c, 75c, $1.

ELTINGE Opening Tues., Nov. 2d
West 42d St. (Election Night). SEATS NOW.
"FAIR AND WARMER"
A farce for Laugh-Lovers by Avery Hopwood.

REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed.
COMMON CLAY
SEATS SELLING 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.

BELASCO West 44th Street. Evenings 8:30. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Thurs.
THE BOOMERANG

ASTOR B'way, 45th St. Evs. 8:20. Bryant 287. Mats. Tom'w, Elec. Day & Wed. 2:20
Geo. M. COHAN'S Great American Farce,
HIT-THE-TRAIL-HOLLIDAY
With FRED NIBLO as "BILLY HOLLIDAY."

GLOBE EVERY NIGHT AND MATINEES Tomorrow, Election Day & Wed. 2:15
MONTGOMERY & STONE CHIN CHIN

Motor Racing and Aviation
Sheepshead Bay Speedway
Election Day, Tues., Nov. 2
100-Mile Championship
Winning drivers of 1915, Resta, Burman, Aitken, Rickenbacher, Mulford.
Also spectacular exhibitions by famous airmen. Flying upside-down, loop-the-loop, and passenger-carrying flights.
EVENTS START 2 P. M.
Admission $1, including seat in open stand. Grand Stand, including admission, $2; Boxes (6 seats), $15 to $30, including admission. Parking space within oval, reserved, $10; unreserved $5, not including admission. Seats on sale at R. H. Macy & Company, the McBride Offices, the Tyson Office, Bascom Ticket Office, at Hotel Biltmore, Alexander's Ticket Office, Aero Club of America, Brooklyn Eagle, Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn, all automobile clubs in this and surrounding vicinity, and at Sheepshead Bay Speedway Corporation, 1696 Broadway, between 53rd and 54th Streets. Telephone Circle 1915.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE RALLY
CARGNEGIE HALL.
To-night, Friday, Oct. 29, 8 o'Clock.
Speakers: Congressman Edward F. Keating, John W. Keller, Raymond Robins, Mrs. Philip Snowden, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Chairman.
Music by 7th Regiment Band.
ADMISSION FREE.

PARK 59th St., Columbus Circle. Only Authentic Motion Pictures and Lecture on Twilight Sleep
Tonight 9:15 SPECIAL PERFORMANCE Men Only
FOR WOMEN ONLY AT 2:30, 4 & 8:15 P. M.

Triangle Plays This Week: Ford Sterling in "His Father's Footsteps," "Martyrs of the Alamo," "Fickle Fatty's Fall." Julia Dean in "Matrimony."
Evenings at 8. Matinees at 2. Matinees, 25c and 50c. Evenings, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1, and $2.
Knickerbocker Theatre, B'way & 38th St.

DO YOU WANT TO LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR ARMY, NAVY AND COAST DEFENSE-LESSNESS? SEE THE BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

CENTURY 62 St., nr. B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tues., Thurs. & Sat. at 2:15.
Ned Wayburn's Town Topics
SUNDAY CONCERT—SYLVESTER SCHAEFFER.
JAS. J. CORBETT, Balalaika Orchestra, 15 others.

Ever see a submarine in action, submerging, rising, discharging a torpedo? See the BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

GLOBE THEATRE. Special Mat. Today & Every Day when Chin-Chin is not playing. 25-50. 75-1.00
MR. & MRS. VERNON CASTLE in "THE WHIRL OF LIFE." A Thrilling Photo Drama in 6 Parts.
Note: MONTGOMERY & STONE in CHIN-CHIN Every Night and Wed. and Sat. Matinees.

Mothers who love your sons and daughters — See THE BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

VITAGRAPH, B'WAY, 44 ST. THE BATTLE
TWICE TO-DAY, 2:30, 8:30. CRY of PEACE
Evs. & Sat. Mat. 25, 50c, $1 & $2. Other Mats. 25, 50c, $1.
School Children's Mat. Sat., 11 A. M., 25c, 50c.

GARRICK 35th St., nr. B'way. BURLESQUE
"Blue Ribbon Belles"
Mat. Today. 25, 25, 50c.

Death and destruction showered on Wall Street, Park Row, Times Square, Fifth Avenue. See the BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

STRAND B'way & 47th St. Noon to 11:30. 10c to 50c. BLANCHE RING "The Yankee Girl" Strand Orch. & Soloists
Next Week Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen"

COLUMBIA B'way Burlesque & 47th. Matinee Today.
Geo. STONE—Etta PILLARD and The Social Maids.

YORKVILLE 86th St., at 3d Av. Burlesque FROLICS OF 1915 Mat. Today 15c to 50c. Smoking Permitted.

Loew's American Roof 42d St. & 8th Av. Every Eve. at 8:15
JULIA NASH & CO., Bob Hall, Max's Circus, 10 others
ALL SEATS RESERVED 25c, 35c, 50c.
Enclosed, Heated, Comfortable.

New York shelled from sea and sky! Panic! Terror! The Exodus! Armageddon—See the BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

IRVING PLACE THEATRE Every Eve. at 8:15.
Ein Idealer Gatte. Sat. Mat., Lehmanns Kinder. Election Day Mat. 2:15. Der Weibsteufel.

OPERA TICKETS Phone 4189 Greeley — Subscriptions bought, sold and exchanged. Jacobs Theatre Ticket Office, Normandie Hotel, Broadway and 38th St.

Bandbox, 57 & 3d Av. Plaza 812. Mats. Sat. & Elec. Washington Square Players Evs. 8:15.

RITZ CARLTON HOTEL
Bazar de Charite
and Fashion Revue
TONIGHT AT NINE O'CLOCK.
To Aid
French Wounded Emergency Fund
Tickets $5.00, Including Supper.
Boxes, holding six, $30.00.
DANCING
Tables Reserved for Supper Parties.
Tickets Can Be Had at the Ritz Carlton, or Vacation War Relief Committee, 38 WEST 39TH ST.
PROGRAM GIVEN BY
ELSIE JANIS — MAURICE FARKOA
GRACE FIELD — MELVILLE ELLIS
DOLLY SISTERS — BETTY LEE
Fashion Revue Directed by J. M. Gidding.

METROPOLITAN OPERA STARS
And Other Renowned Artists in Concert, followed by
VERDI'S REQUIEM MASS
BENEFIT FOR
ITALIAN WAR SUFFERERS
Chorus of 300, Orchestra 80 Musicians
At
CARNEGIE HALL
MONDAY EVE., NOV. 1ST
Tickets at Box Office and International Music and Drama
Long Acre Building, Broadway and 42d St.

The Biltmore
MORNING MUSICALES
Management of Mr. R. E. JOHNSTON.
Grand Ballroom, Hotel Biltmore, at 11.
Nov. 5, 19, Dec. 3, 17, Jan. 14, 28, Feb. 11, 25.
ARTISTS ENGAGED:

Frances Alda	Fritz Kreisler
Lucrezia Bori	Giovanni Martinelli
Clarence Bird	Mme. Melba
Enrico Caruso	Rosa Olitzka
Camille Decreus	Lucile Orrell
Mischa Elman	Ignace Paderewski
Geraldine Farrar	Marie Rappold
Anna Fitziu	Antonio Scotti
Rosina Galli	Louis Siegel
Mabel Garrison	Andreas de Segurola
Leopold Godowsky	Albert Spalding
Frieda Hempel	Theodore Spiering
Josef Hofmann	Andre Tourret
Beatrice de Holthoir	Aline Van Barentzen
Louise Homer	Mary Warfel

Subscription Price, Res. Seats, $30 for 8 concerts; single seats, $5; subscription price for boxes, $200 for eight concerts; single box, $30. Now on sale at E. Johnston's office, 1451 Broadway. Knabe Piano.

CARNEGIE HALL, Tomorrow Aft. at 2:30
VIOLIN RECITAL— MISCHA
ELMAN
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.

CARNEGIE HALL, TUES. AFT., NOV. 2d, 2:30.
SCHUMANN-HEINK
ONLY SONG RECITAL THIS SEASON
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.

Hippodrome
Management Charles Dillingham.
Mat. TODAY and Every Day.
WORLD'S BIGGEST SHOW AT LOWEST PRICES
HIP HIP HOORAY with 100 Wonders. SOUSA and BAND Sensational ICE BALLET.
Staged by R. H. Burnside.
Evs. & Sat. Mat. $1.50 | BEST SEATS | Daily Matinees, Exc. Sat., $1.00.
1500 RESERVED SEATS AT 50c.
SUNDAY NIGHT SOUSA RAGTIME CONCERT PROGRAM
Orville Harrold, Belle Storey, Nat Wills, ENTIRE ICE BALLET, Charlotte, HIPPODROME CHORUS OF 300.

CORT W. 48 St. Phone Bryant 46. Evs. 8:10. Mat. Wed., Sat. & Elec. Day 2:15.
THE PRINCESS PAT Elsner Painter
"BEST COMIC OPERA IN YEARS."
—Chas. Darnton, Evening World.

LEXINGTON 51st St. & Lex. Evs. 25c to $1.
"The Natural Law"
Mat. Sat. 25 & 50c.
Next Week—"BRINGING UP FATHER."

STANDARD B'way & 90th St. Eve. 25c to $1.
"THE SHOW SHOP"
Mat. Sat. 25c to 75c.
Next Week—"EXPERIENCE."

Sun. Eve. at 8:30 Symphony Concert N. Y. Orchestral Soc'y.

LONGACRE W. 48th St. Bryant 23. Evs. 8:20
Pop. Mats. Sat., Tues. & Wed.
THE GIRL WHO SMILES
Musical Hit by authors of "Alma," "Adele," &c.

PHILHARMONIC
SOCIETY OF NEW YORK
JOSEF STRANSKY, CONDUCTOR.
This Afternoon at 2:30, Carnegie Hall.
MacDowell, Symphonic Poem, "Lancelot and Elaine"; Reger, Variations and Fugue for Orchestra on a Theme by Mozart; Berlios, Scherzo "Queen Mab"; Tchaikovsky, 4th Symphony. Prices 50 cents to $2.00. Tickets at Box Office. Felix F. Leifels, Mgr.

Carnegie Hall, Sunday Aft., Oct. 31, at 3.
Mme. MELBA
Assisted by BEATRICE HARRISON...'Cello; ROBERT PARKER....Baritone; FRANK ST. LEGER....Piano
Tickets, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50. Boxes, $15, $18, now on sale at Box Office.
Direction C. A. Ellis, Mason & Hamlin Piano.

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'WAY, 47 ST. Daily Mat. 25c to $1 — ANNA HELD, Harry FOX & Yansci, DOLLY, Harry Green, David Sapirstein, Arnaut Bros., Ernest Ball, oths.
COLONIAL Mats. Daily 25c. — LUBOWSKA, WHITING & BURT, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry, others.
ALHAMBRA Mat. Daily 25c. — EVELYN NESBIT & JACK CLIFFORD, McKay & Ardine, oths.

MANHATTAN OPERA HOUSE
BOSTON GRAND OPERA CO. with PAVLOWA BALLET RUSSE TONIGHT AT 8
"OTELLO," with Zenatello, Villani, Baklanoff, Leveroni, Ananian, Ferrared, Giaccone. Cond., Moranzoni.

CARNEGIE HALL, Sun. Aft., Nov. 7, at 3.
CONCERT BY JOHN McCormack
TICKETS NOW AT BOX OFFICE.

AEOLIAN HALL, Tues. Aft., Nov. 2, at 3.
First of Six Historical Recitals by OSSIP Gabrilowitsch
Mgt. of Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

AEOLIAN HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 3.
Piano Recital by HAROLD BAUER
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

AEOLIAN HALL, This Afternoon at 3.
Song Recital by Mme. GADSKI
50c to $2. Management Loudon Charlton.

AEOLIAN HALL, TONIGHT AT 8:15.
VIOLIN RECITAL
RODERICK WHITE
Tickets $2, 1.50, 1.00, 75 & 50c. Now at Box Office.

GODOWSKY
CHOPIN PROGRAM
CARNEGIE HALL, SAT. AFT., NOV. 13.
Popular Prices, 50 cts. to $1.50, on sale at Box Office. Management R. E. Johnston. Knabe Piano.

Aeolian Hall Wed. Aft., Nov. 3, at 3. VIOLIN RECITAL ARKADY BOURSTIN
Tickets 75 cts. to $2. Mgmt. Haensel & Jones.

Hotels, Restaurants, Dancing on Page 15

GIRL IS ACCUSED OF SWINDLING STORE

Mary M. Faxon Said to Have Charged Goods to Account of Another Woman.

LAST BILL WAS FOR $31

Prisoner a Dressmaker and Had Purchased Silks and Velvets—Held for Trial.

Miss Mary M. Faxon, 19 years old, a dressmaker, living with her brother, Francis Faxon, a Columbia student, at 529 West 111th Street, was arrested yesterday by Detective Jeremiah Baker of the Second Branch Detective Bureau on a charge of petit larceny preferred against her by John F. Larkin, a store detective in a Thirty-fourth Street department store.

In the Women's Night Court Larkin said Miss Faxon had obtained since Oct. 15 goods from the store to the approximate value of $131 and had them charged to the account of Mrs. Glynn Wills of 44 Wildwood Terrace, Glen Ridge, N. J. When Mrs. Wills was presented with the bills she protested that she knew nothing of the transactions. The detective watched for Miss Faxon to appear again yesterday. She was arrested after she had purchased silks and velvets amounting to $31.

Miss Faxon said that on Oct. 13 she went into the store to make some purchases and saw Mrs. Mills drop some receipts. Picking them up she learned Mrs. Mills had a charge account at the store, and on Oct. 15, 17, 19, 23, and 28, she made purchases, charging them all to Mrs. Mills's account. She said she was the daughter of Mrs. Mary Mason Faxon, who some time ago was married to Dr. James Herbert Shaw of Huntington, L. I. Two months ago, she said, she left home to live with her brother.

Magistrate Marsh, on her plea of guilty, held her in $300 bail for Special Sessions. Mrs. J. Halsey Downer of 36 Central Park South, her sister, appeared in court and later went out to get bail.

FELIX M. WARBURG HONORED

Jacob H. Schiff and Others Speak at Y. M. H. A. Dinner.

The Directors of the Young Men's Hebrew Association gave a dinner last night at the Ritz-Carlton to Felix M. Warburg, President of the association, in honor of the beginning of his eighth year of service in that office. Henry M. Toch presided.

Jacob H. Schiff, in answering a toast in which Stephen B. Rosenthal referred to him as "the leading American Jew of his generation," sounded a note of warning to all Jewish people not to hold themselves aloof as a group from other American citizens. His voice rang through the room when he said:

"Young men, I say to you, it's a parting of the ways. We Jews have to choose whether we want to be Jewish-Americans or American Jews; and God forbid that we permit a hyphen to be placed between Jew and America. God forbid that it be said that the Jews form a group by themselves. We want to be united as Jews, but by our religion only."

Mr. Schiff protested against a recent criticism of many of the older Jewish leaders by "one of the latest Jewish-American leaders," who said that "our leaders are not representative."

After the speeches, Mr. Toch presented to Mr. Warburg a book containing the signatures of those at the dinner.

"If President Menken, of whom we heard this evening as being the one who laid the foundation, was the George Washington of our institution, then you are its Lincoln," he said. "You have made us happy, thankful, and hopeful."

Mr. Warburg expressed his appreciation of the good will which had been shown him and denied credit for the praise of his work which had been given in short addresses by Herbert N. Straus, Simon Gottschell, Louis I. Haber, Dr. S. Schulman, Professor M. Kaplan, Jerome J. Hanauer, Benjamin Holzman, Stephen B. Rosenthal, and I. Edwin Goldwasser.

FIGHTS BIG BUCK DEER.

Jersey Huntsman Uses Trees as Shelter, but Bags Animal.

Special to The New York Times.

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Oct. 28.—Philip Bessor, of the South Chelsea National Bank, and well known Morris Guardsman, had a thrilling encounter with a seven-prong buck on a game preserve near Estelleville yesterday, and was compelled to defend himself against the wounded animal.

On the first drive in the morning one deer was brought down, on the second two, and on the final drive Bessor got the big buck. On his first shot he wounded the deer in the shoulder. It had jumped just as he pulled the trigger, and the shot had missed the vital organs. Wild with rage, the buck charged upon Bessor. He fired the other barrel of his gun, but the animal came on. With both barrels empty, Bessor was forced to sidestep and seek shelter until he could reload. The animal got so close several times that Bessor had to dodge around trees. Finally he got his gun loaded, and on the next rush the buck met two loads of shot that killed him instantly.

Browning, King & Company

Before you consult your pride consult your purse. If $15 or $20 is your limit for Suit or Overcoat you'll find here the best values to be had at those figures. If $40 or $50 is your price we've the best made.

We'll always buy back What you don't like.

B&K Broadway at 32d St. Cooper Square at 8th St. Manhattan. Fulton St. at De Kalb Av. Brooklyn.

ENGINEER FALLS OFF TRAIN.

Loses Both Legs and "Blind Baggage" Runs Away.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 28.—Unknown to the fireman, a "blind baggage" train of the Ontario & Western Railroad ran wild for two miles over the West Shore tracks this morning between Ridgefield Park and Bogota, near here, the engineer, C. H. Cutler, having been hurled from the running board on the left side of the locomotive while leaning over to throw a bucket of water on a hot box.

The fireman became curious when the whistle was not blown for the Bogota crossing, and the next moment he discovered the engineer's cab was empty. He himself stopped the train.

Meanwhile Police Sergeant Frederick Larson, who was passing the station at Ridgefield Park, heard a man calling for help, and he found Cutler on the ground near the rails, both legs mangled. Dr. C. A. Knox applied first-aid remedies and sent Cutler to the Hackensack Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate both legs below the knee.

The engineer, who never lost consciousness, said the first post of a fence that separates the West Shore tracks at Ridgefield Park's former "Death Crossing" swept him from his locomotive as he leaned over. Cutler is 39 years old, and has a wife and two children at Middletown, N. Y. The attending physicians think he will recover.

$463,926 FOR PRINCETON.

Mrs. Russell Sage's $250,000 Included in University's Gifts.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—The Board of Trustees of Princeton University today announced the receipt of gifts of cash amounting to $463,926 to the university. They also made the announcement that beginning with the September term the school year would be shortened by two weeks, making the school year identical with that of Harvard and Yale. The students will enter the university on Sept. 26, one week later than heretofore, and the term will end one week sooner in June than has been customary at the university.

Two years ago Mrs. Russell Sage subscribed $250,000, to be used in the erection of a new dining hall, with the provision that the university raise a similar amount. The Trustees announced today that this sum had been obtained, which means that the university will have a dining hall costing $500,000.

The Trustees also announced the gift of $125,000 by Mrs. William Church Osborn of New York for the endowment of the Dodge Professorship in Mediaeval History. The balance of the money announced today has been raised by the graduate council. Dr. Alfred Goldsborough Mayer has been appointed Lecturer on Biology.

The entrance examination for Princeton this year will be the same as that at Yale and Harvard, but the papers will be examined here as usual.

SHOOTS BRIDE IN STREET.

Joseph Dobas of Paterson Waylays Wife with Strange Man.

Special to The New York Times.

PASSAIC, N. J., Oct. 28.—Jealous of his bride of two weeks, Joseph Dobas of 154 Second Street attempted to kill her at noon today. As she walked along Dayton Avenue, near Hobart Street, Dobas whipped out a revolver and shot her. The bullet entered her left lung, but she may recover.

Dobas, who was overpowered by a throng of mill hands and arrested, admitted the crime. He said he had seen his wife with another man during the last few days. He left his work at the Forstmann & Huffmann mill today and watched for his wife. He said he saw her at 12 o'clock with a strange man at Dayton Avenue and Hobart Street.

According to spectators, Dobas shot his wife without a word of warning. Had not the police arrived in time it is likely he would have been badly battered by an infuriated crowd of men. Mrs. Dobas, who is 20 years old, was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, where the bullet was removed. Dobas is locked in a cell at Police Headquarters awaiting arraignment tomorrow morning.

Dobas said he and his wife, formerly Miss Margaret Kisp of this city, were married two weeks ago today. They furnished a home at 154 Second Street.

MILK BLAMED FOR EPIDEMIC.

Scarlet Fever in Bergen County Claims a Victim.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 28.—An epidemic of scarlet fever in several Bergen County towns, said to be due to infected milk from a West Town, N. Y., dairy, has resulted in one death, the victime being Henry Peeck, 22 years old, a son of Conrad Peeck, a dairyman of Leonia, whose supply comes from this same dairy.

Six new cases have been reported in the last two weeks, one at Hasbrouck Heights, four at Homestead, and one at Union Hill, all traced to the same milk supply, it is said.

There are said to be thirteen cases in Hackensack, ten in Leonia, ten in Paterson, and three in Englewood.

The milk from the creamery at West Town, where the infection is alleged to prevail, is now sent to Jersey City every morning to be pasteurized before being given to local distributers.

Special—Satin Stripe and Madras Pajamas
$1.35
Usually $2.50 and $3
Friday and Saturday only.
Woven madras—satin stripes. Embossed woven cord effects in striped madras. Jacquard figured patterns. Silk frogs and ocean pearl buttons.
This is one of the best values we have ever offered in our famous Week End Specials.
Wallach Bros.
Broadway, Cor. 29th St. Broadway, below Chambers St.
Third Ave., Cor. 132d St. 846-848 West 125th St. 647 Eighth Ave. Open Evenings.
Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

THINKS SHEPARD HEIR WAS BORN IN JERSEY

Chief of Police of Washington N. J., Writes Detective Boy May Have Lived There.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 28.—A boy born in Washington, N. J., five years ago this month may prove to be the waif just adopted by the former Helen Gould and her husband, Finley J. Shepard.

Such is the belief of Police Chief John J. Cleary communicated today to Hampton G. Silcox, a detective employed by the Shepards in their country-wide search for the parents of the youngster.

Trenton was one of the cities in which the investigation was made, Chief Cleary detailing Detective Sergeant John Heher to the case. After running down many leads, Heher visited the State House and began looking over the records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. Upon reaching the month of October, 1910, Heher found notation of the birth in Washington of Newman McCleary, the parents' names being given as Henry McCleary and Belle Beldeman.

The Shepards' adopted son is just about five years of age. When he was found a year ago on the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, he declared his name was Austin McCleary.

Special to The New York Times.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 28.—"Sonny" Shepard has returned to Lyndhurst, and in all probability he will assist Mrs. Shepard in receiving Saturday afternoon when she gives a reception to the mothers of the children in her sewing school. It will mark the end of the school year when children will graduate and diplomas will be awarded. There are 500 children in the school, and nearly 300 mothers are expected to attend. It was said today that when "Sonny" gets old enough he will be sent to the Irvington public school. Mr. Shepard is a member of the Board of Education and it is probable the boy will start there next year.

CORONER SEIZES DAUGHTER.

Wife, from Whom He Is Separated, Has Another Woman Arrested.

Coroner William Schlemm of Hudson County, who lives at 426 Spring Street, West Hoboken, N. J., has been separated from his wife, whom he is suing for divorce, for the last four months. She has been living at 472 Park Avenue, Weehawken, and with her their seven-year-old daughter, Dorothy. The child was playing on the sidewalk late yesterday afternoon when her father came along in an automobile, swept her into the car, and made off at full speed.

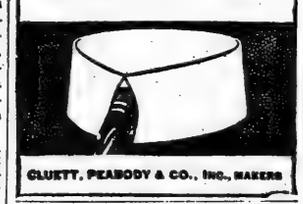
Mrs. Schlemm saw the departure of her daughter from a window, rushed screaming into the street and caused the arrest of Mrs. Marie Farrell of 510 Blum Place, Union Hill, who was hurrying along the street. Mrs. Schlemm said she was sure Mrs. Farrell had assisted in the kidnapping of her child. Mrs. Farrell said she hadn't and gave $100 bail for examination today in the Recorder's Court.

WOMAN DIES IN PRISON.

Daughters Arrive Too Late to See Mrs. Skalla Alive.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Sophia Skalla, 46 years old, of Washington, N. J., sentenced on Nov. 17, 1914, to serve from two to seven years for arson, died in the prison hospital today. She had been in poor health since her commitment.

Mrs. Skalla was convicted of burning a pavilion in a pleasure park she owned at Washington. Mrs. Skalla's husband, Frank, and their son, Frank, arrived here a half hour before her death. An hour later her daughters, Mrs. Norman Shweekton, of Easton, Penn., and the Misses Emma, Marie, and Madeline Skalla, the youngest a child 8 years old, arrived at the prison.

GOTHIC THE NEW ARROW
2 for 25c COLLAR
IT FITS THE CRAVAT


CLUETT, PEABODY & CO., INC., MAKERS

I have spent twenty-five years learning how to give my
$2.00 SHIRTS
(FOUR FOR $7.50)
all the ear-marks of two-fifty.
You will find the ear-marks without a guide—in the fabrics, tailoring, and in the little things.
Wm. G. White
HIMSELF PRESIDENT
WHITE & WHITE
335 Broadway Cor. Worth St.
25 Cortland St near Church St.

Here it is the LILY cup a charming little paper glass clean and crisp white and translucent round, rigid and pleasantly proportioned yet quite inexpensive you should use it in your office the LILY CUP co., equitable bldg., n. y.

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

Style with dignity
You'll see it in this overcoat
IT has elegance of detail and plenty of spirit. Not too "conservative"; we believe you like style as much as ever, or more. You get it in this overcoat, with dignity.
Be sure our label is in the coat; don't buy unless it is.
Hart Schaffner & Marx
Good Clothes Makers
You'll see the style you want—among the great stocks of Hart Schaffner & Marx Overcoats in our stores
Wallach Bros.
Broadway, cor. 29th St. Broadway, Below Chambers St.
Third Av., cor. 132d St. 846-848 West 125th St. Open Evenings.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair, slightly cooler today; Sunday fair; moderate southwest and west winds.
For full weather report see Page 13.

VOL. LXV...NO. 21,098. ... NEW YORK, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1915.—TWENTY-TWO PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City and Newark. { Elsewhere TWO CENTS.

MORGAN RALLIES AFTER OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

Taken Ill Thursday and Called Dr. Markoe, but Pain Was Not Acute Until Yesterday.

SUDDEN ACTION REQUIRED

Denied That Patient Suffers from Septic Poison Due to Erich Muenter's Bullet.

FAMILY CALLED TO BEDSIDE

Detectives Guard the Banker's Home at Glen Cove, L. I., and Turn Away Intruders.

THREE SURGEONS OPERATE

Bulletins of Physicians Say Financier's Condition Is as Nearly Normal as Could Be Expected.

J. P. Morgan was operated on yesterday at his home on East Island in Glen Cove, L. I. The operation was for appendicitis, according to a statement issued from the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in denial of a rumor which had already reached Wall Street, that unexpected developments from one of the bullet wounds inflicted on Mr. Morgan on July 3 by Erich Muenter, the warmad assassin, had forced his surgeons to employ the knife.

At 8 o'clock last night this bulletin was issued from the Morgan home and simultaneously from the office here:

An operation for acute appendicitis was successfully performed at noon today. His recovery from the anaesthetic was prompt, and his condition is fully as normal as is to be expected.

J. W. MARKOE, M. D.
H. H. M. LYLE, M. D.

Other than this no statement as to Mr. Morgan's condition could be obtained from his physicians or from his son, Junius Spencer Morgan, although the young man was informed of the gossip in Glen Cove that his father was seriously ill; that the surgeons had sent for oxygen tanks, and that the operation had been performed suddenly and before the arrival of members of Mr. Morgan's family, who had been summoned in the morning. It was suggested to him that refusal to state his father was in good condition would not allay the grave concern that was felt. His reply was:

"I cannot help that. I cannot comment at all on my father's condition. All that must come from the doctors."

Young Mr. Morgan admitted, however, that the operation had been undertaken suddenly. Over the telephone at 7 o'clock last night he said:

Mother Is Sent For.

"I was not present when my father was operated on and did not know he had undergone an operation until I reached here this afternoon about 4 o'clock."

"Then the operation must have been suddenly decided on?" was suggested.

"Yes, it was sudden," he replied. He added that members of Mr. Morgan's family had arrived at the house in the afternoon but declined to specify who was there. It is known, however, that Mr. Morgan's mother was summoned from her home in Highland Falls, N. Y. His sister, Miss Anne Morgan, and his son and the latter's wife were called.

Mrs. Morgan and the four Morgan children other than Junius were in the house. Mrs. J. S. Morgan and another woman arrived in an automobile shortly after 4 o'clock, and some time after Junius Morgan had reached the house. Throughout the day automobiles passed between the railroad station and the Morgan home, carrying members of the family, and many others brought friends to the house.

None but those were allowed to enter even the grounds, however. The Morgan home is reached by a causeway built over a stretch of water 100 yards across which separtes East Island from the mainland at Glen Cove. Ever since Mr. Morgan was shot detectives have been on duty at his estate, and yesterday they redoubled their vigilance.

Septic Poisoning Denied.

Several stood at the massivxe iron gates on the island end of the causeway, and they halted every car that essayed the passage from the mainland to the island. As night came on they equipped themselves with electric flashlights, the rays of which they directed into the faces of all persons who crossed the causeway on foot or in carriage or motor. Only intimate friends or members of the family were permitted within the gates, the guards declining even to allow a motor car to enter for the purpose of turning around, though the causeway was so narrow the turning of a car was dangerous.

News of Mr. Morgan's condition and the incidents that led up to the operation got into Glen Cove village from other sources. Constable Frank McCahill, who arrested Muenter after he had shot Mr. Morgan, paid a visit to the Morgan home and was received. He hurried back to the village and set at rest a rumor that septic poisoning had set in, and that Mr. Morgan's condition was critical. The doctors had denied this to him, he said.

It was learned that Mr. Morgan began to feel ill on Thursday morning. The day before he had appeared as a witness before the Thompson Legislative Investigating Committee, which is studying the Public Service Commission and the transit situation here. It was remarked then by acquaintances of the banker that he looked exceptionally well and was in excellent spirits.

He had returned only the night before from a visit to Uncas Lodge, his estate in the Adirondacks, especially to testify before the committee, and the benefits of his vacation were so apparent that the

Continued on Page 5.

PEACE TALK GROWS AMONG THE GERMANS

Berlin Tageblatt Insists the Reichstag Must Be Consulted on the Final Terms.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Cold weather, bringing the first snowfall, has given a salutary chill to the premature hopes of excessively optimistic Germans who have been talking about peace by Christmas, or saying that war could not last through another Winter.

There is a very strong feeling, however, not only among people in general, but also in well-informed circles, that the turning point of the war has been passed, and that the Balkan campaign is bringing the peace goal appreciably nearer.

The Tageblatt in an editorial says that the Reichstag must have a say in framing the conditions of peace. It comments:

"The German people still seem far away from peace. Still less is it possible to see today in what form peace will come. For this and other reasons, therefore, in discussing the question of what responsible factors will have to work together in the re-establishment of the peace of the nations, everything must be left out that concerns the possible terms of the coming peace.

"Nevertheless, against the influences that seek to sidetrack the Reichstag one must maintain the ground with utmost emphasis that among the factors that will figure in the peace negotiations the Reichstag must not be passed over, nor even reduced to second place. Just as it would be impossible to shove to one side the right of the Kaiser and his responsible advisers is it necessary in this particular case to make no decision that would mean the relegation of the federated States into the background.

"Moreover, the German people, who have had to bear the immense burdens of this war, have more than a merely written right to throw the whole weight of their will into the scales through their chosen representatives on the occasion of making peace."

The chief editor of the Leipziger Zeitung publishes an interview with Hakki Pasha, the Turkish Ambassador to Germany. To the question as to what would become of Albania the envoy replied:

"That is a difficult problem, all the more difficult because in regard to southern Albania the Greek wishes will have to be taken into account. Northern Albania is a problem all by itself. The best plan would be, perhaps, to make it an independent State, with strong protection at its back."

As to the future of Serbia the Ambassador said:

"The best thing would be if the devil would take the Serbians, but even he won't have them."

The editor asked: "Shall we march to Egypt?"

"That depends on how long the war lasts," answered the Ambassador.

AIR RAIDS ON VENICE STIR POPE TO PROTEST

Rome Newspaper Says He Has Made Representations to the Austrian Government.

ROME, Oct. 29, (via Paris.)—The Corriere d'Italia says Pope Benedict has made representations to the Austrian Government as a result of the recent air raids over Venice.

The newspaper adds that the Pontiff, after the first Austrian bombardment of Italian coast towns, expressed a strong desire to Emperor Francis Joseph that undefended cities, rich in treasures of art, should be exempted from such attacks.

HOSTILITY TO ALLIES DENIED BY GREECE

Sir Edward Grey Calls Her Espousal of Cause of Central Powers an Impossibility.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Rumor continues to ascribe to the Greek Government intentions hostile to the Entente powers, even going so far as to say Greece has an understanding with Bulgaria and at the psychological moment will fall upon the allied troops which landed at Saloniki.

Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, said today that Greece's espousal of the cause of the central powers was an impossibility.

The Greek Legation also issued the following statement:

"Lately there have appeared in the press various items of news derived from German, Austrian, and Bulgarian journals and news agencies, and bearing upon the attitude and intentions of Greece, such as a mythical mission of M. Sophoulis (former Governor of Macedonia) to King Ferdinand; a refusal of King Constantine to receive Ministers of the Entente powers; an intention by Greece to menace the security of the allied troops at Saloniki, &c.

"The Greek Minister has received telegraphic instructions from Premier Zaimis to contradict in the most categorical manner these rumors, which, in spite of repeated denials, were propagated even in Athens, and the malevolent object of which is only too evident in the endeavor to prejudice public opinion and sow suspicion and hostility between the Entente powers and Greece."

CANADA WILL SEND 100,000 MORE MEN

Government Authorizes the Increase of the Dominion's Over-Sea's Army to 250,000.

Special to The New York Times.

OTTAWA Oct. 29.—In response to the appeal of King George for "more men, and still more men," the Dominion Government today formally authorized the increase of Canada's overseas army from 150,000 to 250,000 men.

Although the authorization until today has been for only 150,000, there have actually been enlisted some 175,000 men, and this force is growing from day to day in ever faster recruiting numbers. The authorization for the 150,000 men was given on July 6, and the number has long since been exceeded. An official statement made by the Government today is that 101,500 troops have already crossed the Atlantic, while 71,500 men are training at various points throughout the Dominion.

Of the troops that have left Canada, one battalion has gone to Bermuda and about half a battalion to St. Lucia. It is anticipated that the extra troops authorized will be recruited shortly, and it is believed that in the course of a few months a further authorization will be issued.

A quarter of a million men is one in every thirty-two of the total population of Canada.

THINK 'LIEUT. FAY,' BOMB PLOT HEAD, IS H. A. KEARLING

Initials on Baggage Agree with Name on Rotterdam's Passenger List.

NO OTHER "H. A. K." ABOARD

Washington Sends an Assistant Attorney General to Take Hold of Case Here.

SEEK CENTRAL AUTHORITY

Secret Service Men Now Operating Under Orders of the State Department.

NEW STATE WARRANTS OUT

Friend of Chief Conspirator Declares Him to be a Victim of "Trench Madness."

THE TIMES has learned from an authoritative source of another name—which is believed to be the real name—of "Lieutenant" Robert Fay, who with four others is under arrest on the charge of conspiracy to destroy munitions ships sailing from American ports.

H. A. Kearling is the name under which it is thought he came to the United States, and it is as H. A. Kearling, it is believed, that he was known to high officials in Germany.

"Fay," as he will continue to be known to the Government for the present, left Rotterdam on the steamer Rotterdam of the Holland-America Line on April 14, it is said, and landed in New York on April 23. The initials on his baggage were H. A. K., and it was through his baggage that he was traced. The name Fay or Frey or Frehe does not appear on the passenger list.

There was no one with the initials H. A. K. on the original passenger list of the Rotterdam, but in the supplementary list appears the name of H. A. Kearling as a passenger in the first cabin. That Kearling and Fay are the same man is said not to be doubted by the authorities.

Look for Central Authority.

Assistant Attorney General Charles Warren arrived in New York last night and will confer today with United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall on the conclusions to be drawn from the evidence in possession of the Federal authorities.

Mr. Warren is the official who has been entrusted by the Department of Justice with collecting information on all the outrages that have taken place on ships leaving American ports. He is also conversant with recent explosions in ammunition factories, and his presence in New York is taken to indicate that the authorities are convinced that the Fay case has a connection which may lead up to some central authority.

So far, according to reports from Washington, the Department of Justice has held that there is no ground on which to prosecute the alleged conspirators in the Federal Courts, and that the case is for New York and New Jersey courts. Copies of statements made by Fay and others to Chief William J. Flynn were received yesterday in Washington, and the fact that Mr. Warren is now here for a personal look over the ground is regarded as indicating that the case is taken more seriously.

District Attorney Marshall is working in silence and no official was willing yesterday to give any hint of how far the affair may go.

Information reaching THE TIMES indicates that there is a central authority regulating the activities of German agents of all kinds in this country. What that authority is, whether it rests in one man or in a group of men, has not been revealed, but it is asserted as a fact that the money which they spend comes to them from Germany.

How much the Federal authorities know about this central body they do not reveal, but in the Fay case they have, it is believed, crossed the trail of persons of more importance.

That the Secret Service is now working under the direction of the State Department became known yesterday. This, it is understood, does not necessarily mean that suspicion has fallen on any diplomatic or consular representative, but that the State Department is most directly interested in the preservation of neutrality.

State Warrants Issued.

Following a visit on Thursday to County Prosecutor Robert Hudspeth in Jersey City by Assistant United States District Attorney John C. Knox, warrants were drawn in New Jersey yesterday charging Fay, Scholz, and Daeche, the three men arrested in that State, with having in their possession explosives with a view to the destruction of property. These were signed by Detective Michael Lyons of Weehawken, who took part in the arrests. The warrants were then given over to the Federal authorities to be filed in the United States Court of the Southern District of New York. The effect of this is to add a State offense, with a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment, to the Federal charge under which the defendants are now awaiting a hearing.

The Federal District Attorney's office is collecting evidence to be presented to the November Grand Jury next Wednesday, and attorneys for the defense have expressed fear that the hear-

Continued on Page 5.

TWELFTH ANNUAL BUSINESS SHOW, 1 to 10:30 P. M. All This Week.—Advt.

German Press Asking for Whitlock's Recall Because of His Report on the Cavell Case

From a Staff Correspondent.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Under the headline, "The False Reports of the American Minister in Brussels," the Vossische Zeitung broadly hints that Brand Whitlock must go.

"It is to be hoped," it says, "that the German Government will seize the occasion afforded by the incident to put an end to the activities of the American Minister in Brussels. According to his credentials, this gentleman belongs in Havre, the present seat of the Belgian Government, to which he is accredited. Should America desire to be further represented in Brussels, it must choose for the purpose a personage acceptable to the German Government. We cannot believe that the author of the colored reports about the Cavell case will be regarded any longer as such a person."

The Berlin press gives prominence to the London report of Lord Robert Cecil's declaration in the House of Commons regarding the Cavell case, and makes bitter comments on the phrase, "the grewsome murder of a noble woman." The Tageszeitung says:

"This hypocrisy exceeds all bounds. It is unusual, even for the English."

The Lokalanzeiger, under the caption, "Hopeless Hypocrites," says:

"That Miss Cavell was legally condemned and executed the German official statements have not left the slightest doubt. If the English conscience in the case of the murder of the whole crew of a German submarine was as good and clean as the German conscience in the case of this 'noble woman,' then we might discuss the matter further with Lord Robert Cecil. Meanwhile we will calmly await what the English will do in order to procure 'satisfaction' for the verdict of the Brussels war court spoken in the Kaiser's name."

The Berlin Gazette says:

"Asquith's threat that he would demand satisfaction for the execution of this spy is more foolish than shameless."

STEFANSSON STARTS INTO THE NORTH

Explorer Leaves Cape Kellett Carrying Supplies Sufficient for Two Years.

CALLS OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Hopes to Return Next Year, but Says Delay Need Cause No Worry.

By VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON.
Copyright, 1915, by The New York Times Company.
(Also Copyrighted in Canada.)

Special to The New York Times.

CAPE KELLETT, Banks Island, Sept. 3, (via Circle, Alaska, Oct. 27.)—The North Star sailed on Aug. 4 under command of Wilkins of Adelaide, Australia, the only Britisher besides myself now in the northern section of this expedition.

The destination of the North Star is Prince Patrick or Melville Island, by way of Cape Alfred. Four men are under the command of Wilkins.

The Polar Bear sails today under my command, with ten white men and nine Eskimos, bound north.

This expedition now has a hundred dogs, against twenty-odd last year, and equipment and prospects better than any time since the Karluk drifted off. With luck no worse than in the previous season we should finish the exploration of Stefansson's New Expedition.

The above map shows the region which Stefansson has set out to explore. He has started from his base at Cape Kellett, and hopes to reach a point indicated by A. The new land, the discovery of which Stefansson reported recently, is indicated by B.

the ice west to the 145th meridian and to 82 north latitude.

I expect to return south next year, but have supplies to last two years, and even after that no worry need be felt on score of starvation, although other accidents naturally are possible.

V. STEFANSSON.

In the above dispatch Stefansson, who is the commander of the Canadian arctic expedition, announces his plans for continuing his explorations in the far north. From Herschel Island, under date of Aug. 22 last, he made the announcement of his discovery of new land to the north of Prince Patrick Island. With his companions on June 19 last he reached this land and journeyed along its shore for three days. He took one sextant observation, which gave 77 degrees 43 minutes north and 115 degrees 43 minutes west. The land he found was of considerable size. As Summer was coming on Stefansson said that he thought best to return to his "home" quarters at Cape Kellett. Stefansson on his new journey into the north may visit this land again, and it is believed will undertake to find its western and northern boundaries. Its area thus far is undetermined.

The announcement of the discovery was the first word that had been received from Stefansson since April 7, 1914, when his supporting party, which had accompanied him from Martin Point, turned back and left him and his companions to continue their journey over the ice.

Great anxiety had been felt for the explorer, and in some quarters he had been given up for lost.

Stefansson, in telling the world of his discovery, made light of the hardships he had been through. "We had no hardships at any time," he said, "and were never in imminent danger, so far as I know." At the same time he announced his intention to continue his explorations.

The Polar Bear, in which Stefansson will continue his explorations, is a vessel which Stefansson acquired this Summer. It is a power schooner, and is the vessel which found Stefansson at Cape Kellett and took him to Herschel Island to get supplies with which to continue his work. Stefansson, on reaching Herschel Island, purchased the Polar Bear for $20,000. The North Star for some time has belonged to the fleet of the Canadian arctic expedition.

SEATAG OYSTERS are here waiting for you on the half-shell at the better hotels, clubs, and markets. The blue tag on every shell certifies freshness, purity, and natural deep-sea flavor. Order some today! —Advt.

KING GEORGE HURT BY HORSE'S FALL

Severely Bruised While Reviewing Troops in France—Cheers Startled His Mount.

ATTENDED BY FIVE DOCTORS

Bulletin Says His General Condition Is Good and There Are No Complications.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 28, (via London, Oct. 29, Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—A most unfortunate accident brought King George's inspections to an abrupt conclusion this morning.

His Majesty's work for the day lay with the troops of the First Army, and he thus made acquaintance with a country much more variegated in contour than any he had yet visited on the British front. A representative force drawn from one of the corps of the First Army had been disposed to great advantage on the brown slope of a hill, and his Majesty, having mounted a horse at some little distance from the parade ground, received a royal salute and afterward rode along the lines, showing the greatest interest in the various battalions which have taken such an honorable part in the recent fighting, the scene of which was at no great distance.

When the inspection was over three cheers were called for and given with most tremendous heartiness, the men waving caps on bayonets and adding a cheer "on their own" to mark their keen appreciation of the King's presence among them.

The parade was on a recently plowed field, the furrows still with the streak of the plow upon them and slimy with rain, which had been falling since dawn; but, though more than one horse had shown signs of finding the going somewhat uncertain, the King's charger had not slipped, nor had he shown more than natural exhilaration at the rounds of cheering, though they must have been audible miles away.

The King then regained the road, which ran along the front of the field in which the troops were drawn up, and followed it over the crest of a hill to a spot where representatives of another army corps were waiting for his arrival. Again a royal salute was given, the lines were inspected, and cheers were called for, but this time, unfortunately, the King's charger took fright at the noise and, rearing, lost his balance on the slippery ground and fell, severely bruising his rider.

His Majesty was at once assisted to his car, which was on the spot, as he was to proceed by it to inspect the clearing hospital, but it was evident from the injuries he had received that any further carrying out of the day's program would have to be abandoned.

It had been arranged that as his Majesty drove past the troops he had already inspected the men should give him a parting cheer, and the brigades, still in mass, had advanced in review order to the edge of the road along which the King was now proceeding, all unconscious of the mournful change which had fallen on the scene. Before the news could be brought to and distributed among them the car with the royal standard above it could be seen approaching, and as it swept downhill the men once again made the hill echoes ring, unaware of what prevented the King, very white, but smiling, though evidently in pain, from acknowledging their acclamations.

The Official Bulletins.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The following official announcement has been made under yesterday's date:

While the King this morning (Thursday) was inspecting his army in the field his horse, excited by the cheers of the troops, reared up and fell. The King was bruised severely, and will be confined to bed for the present.

ARTHUR SLOGGETT,
ANTHONY BOWLBY,
BERTRAND DAWSON,
WILMOT HERRINGHAM,
CUTHBERT WALLACE.

A later bulletin, under today's date, says:

The King has had a fair night, with some sleep. The temperature is now 99.2 and pulse 75. His Majesty's general condition has improved, and no complications have arisen.

ANTHONY BOWLBY,
BERTRAND DAWSON.

Wales Returns From France.

The Prince of Wales arrived at Buckingham Palace this afternoon, on leave from France. The Prince was in close attendance on his father during the King's inspection of his troops at the front. It is believed that the Prince returned for the purpose of reassuring Queen Mary as to the King's condition. His presence here is taken as confirmation of the statement that the accident was not serious.

A Reuter dispatch from British headquarters, describing the accident to the King, says that when the cheers from the troops, who threw their caps in the air, caused his horse to rear, the King managed to regain control of the animal, which, however, reared again and

Continued on Page 2.

SEE THE HUDSON IN AUTUMN GLORY. Day Line trips to and fro. Election Day.—Advt.

RUMANIA EXPECTED TO JOIN THE ALLIES; STRUMITZA REPORTED IN FRENCH HANDS, BUT BULGAR ARMY HAS RETAKEN VELES

Joffre Meets British War Chiefs in London; Series of Conferences Make a Stir in Capital

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—London had an unexpected visitor today in General Joffre, the Commander in Chief of the French Army. It was the first time he had visited England since the outbreak of the war. No hint of his coming had been made public, and the news that he was here in conference with Lord Kitchener, Premier Asquith, and other leaders, created keen interest.

General Joffre visited the War Office during the morning and left in a motor car soon after 1:30 o'clock with Lord Kitchener. Both Generals received an ovation from the crowd, who promptly recognized the French leader. As their departure took place during the luncheon time of officials in the various public offices, the crowd was much larger than it would have been at any other time in the day, and it was reinforced by a large number of persons who had been inspecting the captured German guns on view in the Horse Guards' parade.

General Joffre, who wore a field uniform, seemed to be immensely pleased with the warmth of his reception.

General Joffre, with Lord Kitchener and Sir Edward Grey, had luncheon with the French Ambassador at the embassy, and in the afternoon there was a conference at 10 Downing Street, those present including Premier Asquith, Lord Kitchener, General Joffre, Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, and David Lloyd George, Minister of Munitions. After this conference General Joffre had a further talk with Lloyd George.

Tonight Lord Kitchener gave a dinner for General Joffre.

BRIAND ANNOUNCES HIS NEW CABINET

Coalition Ministry Has Representatives of Every Party in France.

PREMIER IN FOREIGN OFFICE

Jules Cambon to be His General Secretary—Viviani to Serve as Minister of Justice.

"Peace by Victory" is Briand's Motto

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 29, (Dispatch to The London Times.)—I am authorized to make the following statement in the name of Premier Briand:

"I desire to declare emphatically to our allies, as well as to our enemies, that the change of Ministry in France is in no way a sign of any change of policy. The policy of France is summed up in the word 'Victory,' and to give to this word the definition of my Cabinet I cannot do better than quote the words uttered by my predecessor and colleague Viviani, speaking in the Chamber of Deputies on Aug. 26, when he said:

"'We shall lay down our arms only after having insured the triumph of right; after having banished the possibility of a renewal of such crimes; after having restored heroic Belgium to her political and economic independence; after having recaptured our Alsace and our Lorraine.'

"La Paix par la Victoire! Such is and must be the motto of any French Ministry. By peace I mean the restoration of the right of every country to lead its own life and cultivate its own civilization without infringement of its neighbors' rights; by victory I mean the crushing of German militarism."

PARIS, Oct. 29.—A new French Cabinet, headed by Aristide Briand as Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs, came into existence tonight.

It is constituted as follows:

Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs—ARISTIDE BRIAND.
General Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs—JULES CAMBON.
Vice President of the Cabinet and Minister of State—CHARLES DE FREYCINET.
Minister of War—General J. S. GALLIENI.
Minister of Justice—RENE VIVIANI.
Minister of the Interior—LOUIS J. MALVY.
Minister of Marine—Rear Admiral LACAZE.
Minister of Finance—ALEXANDRE RIBOT.
Minister of Public Instruction and Inventions Concerning National Defense—Professor PAUL PAINLEVE.
Minister of Public Works—MARCEL SEMBAT.
Minister of Commerce—ETIENNE CLEMENTEL.
Minister of Colonies—GASTON DOUMERGUE.
Minister of Agriculture—JULES MELINE.
Minister of Labor—ALBERT METIN.
Ministers without portfolio—EMILE COMBES, LEON BOURGEOIS, DENYS COCHIN, and JULES GUESDE.
Under Secretary of State, War, and Munitions—ALBERT THOMAS.
Under Secretary of State for Subsistence—JOSEPH THIERRY.
Under Secretary of State for Sanitary Service—JUSTIN GODART.
Under Secretary of State for Aviation—RENE BESNARD.
Under Secretary of State for Marine—LOUIS NAIL.
Under Secretary of State for Fine Arts—ALBERT DALIMIER.

The appointments for the Under Secretaryships of the Interior and Foreign Affairs were not made public.

This is the first time in the history of the French Republic that there is a coalition Ministry of all the opposing parties and factions. It follows closely on the recent innovation of forming a British coalition Cabinet of Conservatives and Liberals.

The action taken today in forming the Cabinet was the culmination of deep popular sentiment that at the supreme crisis of the war party division should give way to united action by all the parties in common support of the Government. As the result of the Cabinet of René Viviani being representative of only a few political groups, the Ministers presented their collective resigna-

Continued on Page 2.

BULGAR MAIN ARMY NEAR TEUTON LINE

Both Expected to Advance Together on Broad Front in a Few Days.

TRAFFIC OPENS TO SOFIA

Bulgar Officer Whose Patrol Met Germans Returns as Courier in Automobile.

By WILHELM CONRAD GOMOLL.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
[The Cologne Gazette Dispatches.]

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF FIELD MARSHAL VON MACKENSEN IN SERBIA, Oct. 28.—In view of our steady daily advance one can predict with confidence the great offensive movement of the allied armies of the Central Powers in Northern Serbia, for while the invading troops are apparently blocked for a time, our forces are holding strong supporting positions along the wide front.

In addition to the three landing places first chosen by the German-Austro-Hungarian troops, there are three at Shabats and Orsova. From these points the allied armies are advancing with widely extended flanks pushed forward toward each other until their wings joined and all army groups were finally united in one broad front. The occupied territory stretches from Matchswa to the Kaniwarsk Mountains, a distance of over 200 kilometres, and its average width is fifty to sixty kilometres.

It can only be a question of a few days before the main forces of both armies come together, as the Bulgarians are moving in force toward the north and our troops are advancing energetically toward Brza Palanka to form a firm union with our allies and fight with them shoulder to shoulder.

In their advance over the plateaus and ridges of the Dobroda mountains our troops, especially the artillery, had to overcome enormous difficulties. The army leaders, however, proved equal to the situation. While the heavy guns were being laboriously dragged through the mountains the light mountain artillery dashed forward, accompanied by machine guns. Here again our experiences in the Carpathians proved of value, our troops surmounting the difficulties in the situation as quickly as they did in effecting the crossing of the Danube.

The Balkan army is a new one with an unprecedently fine equipment. It was organized in every detail, from the kit of the individual man to the equipment of the wagon trains, with a view to the Serbian campaign.

'We must count upon future severe battles as inevitable, and heavy fighting may already be in progress about Kragujevatz and the district south of the Morava, as the enemy is showing astonishing powers of resistance.

The way in which the entire operations are carried through is significant proof of the superiority of the Teuton Allies. In all probability the strong offensive movement no wthreatening the Sérbians from Bosnia will have a similar success despite the mountainous character of the country. The armies from the West and North have succeeded in effecting a union, pushing forward to the Kolubara. The attack of the Bulgarians from the East fits in with this movement as part of the great offensive plan.

First Junction of the Forces.

Cavalry Lieutenant N. P. Gadjieff, leader of the Bulgarian patrol through which contact was first established between the German and Bulgarian forces, remained yesterday evening at the headquarters of the German-Austro-Hungarian troops in the northeastern mountains of Serbia at the invitation of Duke Adolf of Mecklenburg and the commanding General. This morning at 6 o'clock the young cavalryman started for Sofia as a courier in an automobile which had been especially placed at his disposition.

After his entrance into the Serbian fortress of Kladovo yesterday there was an exchange of telegrams between him

Continued on Page 2.

BOSCA SEC—Light, Rich, Soft. A Favorite Among the Ladies.—Advt.

500,000 RUSSIANS READY

Bessarabia Offered to Bucharest to Let Army Through to Bulgaria.

PEOPLE EAGER FOR WAR

Rome Hears the Government Must Join Entente Allies or Face a Revolution.

TEUTONS PRESS SERBS HARD

Continue Steady Advance from North, Driving King Peter's Forces Through Mountains.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—From German sources it is reported that Rumania is about to throw in her lot with the Entente Allies and will allow the passage of a half million Russian troops through her territory to attack Bulgaria from the north.

The Germans are reported to have sent a part of General von Linsingen's army from the region of Galicia to the Rumanian frontier to guard against a Rumanian attack on Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces in Serbia. Emperor Nicholas and his son are now visiting General Ivanoff at the Russian southern front and important events are looked for along the Styr and in Galicia.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATHENS, Oct. 29, (dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—According to an excellent diplomatic source, the Entente powers have made fresh proposals to Rumania regarding participation in the war on their side. These proposals satisfy practically all Rumania's ambitions, including even Bessarabia.

Although the Rumanian Government has reserved its answer to these proposals, yet there is a disposition to accept them. A decision will be taken without delay, so that the Russian force which is concentrated on the Rumanian borders may pass through Rumanian territory hastening to the aid of Serbia.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 29.—Events in Rumania are watched very closely here, as according to reports received by the Rumanian colony and also through official sources it appears that the agitation both in Bucharest and the country districts is growing so alarmingly that the Government either must decide to intervene in the war on the side of the Entente or face a revolution.

It is even asserted that the larger portion of the Rumanian Army will refuse to march if the Government intends to join the central empires.

People here, however, are becoming skeptical about Balkan news. They fear that even if Rumania does not go so far as Bulgaria did she may duplicate the attitude of Greece.

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 29, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—I learn from Berlin that Germany is making a bid for Rumania as an ally by offering her a loan on condition of her marching against Bessarabia, and guaranteeing her this Russian province if she succeeds in conquering it.

BULGARS RETAKE VELES; FRENCH IN STRUMITZA?

Teutons and Bulgars Closing in on Serb Army—Montenegrins Defeat Austrians.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—The French in Bulgaria have captured the stronghold of Strumitza, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Athens, which reads:

"It is learned from a good source that the French, after a three days' fight, have occupied Strumitza and advanced thirty-two kilometers (about twenty miles) into Bulgarian territory. The Bulgarians lost heavily."

On the other hand, the Bulgarians, according to the Athens correspondent of The Times, have recaptured Veles, from which town on the Nish Railroad they were driven a few days ago by Serbian and French forces.

Indications that the fall of Strumitza was imminent were contained in dispatches received yesterday morning, which announced that the French had occupied the heights at Valandovo, Rabrava, and Tatar Lisofre, dominating Strumitza.

Dispatches received from Serbia by Athens newspapers say that the Bulgarians operating in the valley of the lower Timok, between Grahovo and Strumitza, have been cut off and annihilated.

Big Battle Near at Ishtip.

A big battle is expected in the neighborhood of Ishtip toward which the Franco-Serbian army is marching. The Bulgarians are intrenching themselves on the heights around the town, which is fifteen miles east of Veles on the Brigalnitza River.

The Germans with their Austrian and Bulgarian allies are still making an attempt to cut off the retreat of the main Serbian Army which is offering such spirited resistance to the invaders. While Field Marshal von Mackensen's force advances slowly from the north, having penetrated for an extreme distance of about forty-five miles, the Austrians have crossed the western border of Serbia south of Vishegrad and are moving eastward and the Bulgarians are marching westward on a wide front from Pirot, which lies southeast of Nish, to Zaiecar, to the northeast of Nish.

It is, however, a long way across, and the country is a difficult one to traverse. The Serbians are bound to defend it as long as possible, as their great arsenal at Kraguyevats is situated in this area, and they will doubtless hold on with the hope of making an eventual retirement in the mountains along the Montenegrin frontier and in that country.

To forestall this the Austrians also are attacking in Montenegro, but have made little progress, as the Montenegrins under their veteran fighting King have had a long time to prepare for just such an emergency, and thus far have beaten off all attempts to throw them back. In fact, the Montenegrins hold some strong positions in Austrian territory out of which they will have to be driven before their own country is invaded.

A dispatch to the Tribuna of Rome from Scutari, Albania, says:

"Near Vishegrad, (Bosnia,) the Montenegrins have stormed the enemy's position near Susagora, which commands the whole region, and established themselves firmly. They inflicted heavy loss on the enemy and took many prisoners."

Official Reports of the Fighting.

The following official communication from Sofia, dated Oct. 27, has been received:

"After four days of obstinate fighting our troops have defeated on the entire front the Serbian army operating in the Timok Valley and before Pirot.

"The Serbians are now engaged in a general retreat in a western direction. We are energetically pursuing them.

"We already are in possession of Nogotin, Brza Palanka, Zajecar, Knjajevats, and numerous villages in the Timok Valley. On this front we have captured sixteen guns and a great quantity of ammunition and provisions.

"In the Nisohava Valley our troops stormed the southern fortifications of the fortress of Pirot and with their guns searched the town, but night interrupted the operations. [Pirot is now reported taken.] The enemy is being pursued along the entire front.

"The inhabitants of Negotin, Brsa Palanka, and Knjajevats received our victorious armies with enthusiastic demonstrations.

"On the Plain of Kossovo our troops have reached the district north of Matjanic and on the Upper Morava east of Gilmi.

"The French troops who advanced from Valandovo against Tjepeli Balkan yesterday were repulsed with heavy losses by the Bulgarians.

"A Russian Black Sea fleet, at least twenty units strong, appeared off Varna, which was bombarded for two hours. At the same time three waterplanes dropped bombs on the town. One enemy airman was hit. Nine inhabitants were killed, among them three women. Nine others were wounded."

Following is the latest German official report of the general operations issued by the War Office at Berlin yesterday:

Near Drinsko, south of Vishegrad, the enemy has been driven back. East of that place he has been thrown across the frontier.

West of the Morava the general line of Sgarko-Vica-Rudnik-Cumic-Batocina has been reached.

Southeast of Svilajnac enemy positions on both sides of the Resava were stormed. More than 1,500 prisoners fell into our hands.

On the front of General Boyadjieff's army, the enemy is weakening. This army is in pursuit.

Vienna issued the following headquarters report:

Montenegrin battalions operating southeast of Vishegrad were beaten near Prinska and on the Suhagora the German divisions of General von Koevess's army advanced to the region of Rudnik.

The Austro-Hungarian forces of this army, while attacking, crossed the lowland on the upper Paca, which is nearly impracticable owing to rains. In bitter fighting they threw the enemy from Cumisko Height and stormed the village of Cumic.

The army of General von Gallwitz in the region of Lapovo crossed the Lepenica and made further progress.

The Bulgarian First Army captured Pirot. The enemy began a retreat along the whole front.

Deny French Report of Victory.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—From a source close to the highest leadership I learn the following additional details to those given in the official reports. Field Marshal von Mackensen has reached a point eighty kilometers south of the Danube. The advance against the Serbians is making satisfactory progress on all fronts, including the Bulgarian.

The facts of the big Bulgarian reverse reported by the French, according to this authority, are that four Bulgarian battalions attempted an advance on the main question at the Vardar bridge, but were repulsed.

SENSATION IN BERLIN CAUSED BY LANSDOWNE

His Speech Regarded as a Confession That England Cannot Save Serbia.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Lord Lansdowne's speech on the Balkan situation caused a sensation here and the intensest satisfaction to all Germans, who see in it a confession of England's impotence to save Serbia and a belated realization that the war is lost if England is unable to block Germany's victorious road to Constantinople. The Vossische Zeitung says:

"Lord Lansdowne's statement is most far reaching. Serbia's fate is of no matter. England's interest lies merely in barring the German road to Constantinople.

"One must admit that the speech is an agreeable variant from the usual hypocritical declarations. At last England openly confesses that her own life interests are at stake in the Balkan war."

Major Moraht, the Tageblatt's expert, arguing that Serbia will soon find herself forced to fight on four fronts, says:

"Two announcements during the last few days give us a clear insight into Serbia's situation—Premier Pasitch's cry for help to The Times and Lord Lansdowne's utterances.

"England has realized that she would merely sacrifice troops uselessly in a new expedition on Serb soil, but plans to prevent the passage of central powers through Bulgaria, and has intrusted the leader of the Dardanelles expedition, Sir Charles Monro, with devising a new war plan, thereby indicating that the English higher leadership, with Kitchener at its head, is still on the slipshod road of improvisation from which since the defense of Antwerp till today it has never departed.

"In the direction toward which the Serb retreat might go new difficulties are arising, forming a fourth front. The Mohammedans of Albania will not remain idle in this war."

CIVILIANS KILLED AT VARNA.

Sofia Reports the Russian Fleet Shelled the City, Not Forts.

SOFIA, Oct. 26, (via London, Saturday, Oct. 30.)—Although the bombardment of Varna by the Russian fleet lasted only ten minutes the bodies of twenty-two civilians have already been found, while over a hundred persons were injured, many of them severely, according to reports received here.

The Russian fleet was sighted at 8 o'clock in the morning rapidly approaching the city, and opened fire while still at a great distance. It approached to within a little over three miles, but withdrew before the Bulgarian batteries could make their fire effective.

According to officials here, the Russians never searched out the Bulgarian batteries, but merely shelled the city, especially the harbor sections, where Greeks form the majority of the population. The people are greatly excited over the bombardments of Bulgarian cities on the Aegean and Black Seas.

The damage done by the bombardment of Aegean towns by the allied fleet was greater than at first reported. One-fourth of the City of Dedeaghatch was razed by the shells of the warships.

RUSSIANS FIND FOE NOW LACKS SHELLS

Failure of Germans to Force Dvina Attributed to a Serious Shortage of Ammunition.

RUSSIAN SUPPLY LARGE

Heavy German Losses Reported on Island Near Riga—No Change in the Whole Battle Line.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The failure of the Germans to take Dvinsk and Riga is attributed in Petrograd, according to a Reuter dispatch from that city, not only to the difficult nature of the heavily wooded country, which prohibits mass movements of troopers, but to "a German shortage of ammunition, which is said to be becoming critical."

During the last week the Germans have poured a perfect rain of shells on the Russian positions along a front of 150 miles from the mouth of the Dvina to the south of Dvinsk, but although the Russians have fallen back a little in the north they have generally held firm and returned shot for shot, which is taken here to indicate that their supply of ammunition is now satisfactory.

"Accounts have reached her," says another Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, "of a spectacular fight on the island of Dalen, in the Dvina River, a few miles south of Riga, whither the Russians lured the Germans, allowing them time to install themselves before beginning a bombardment from both sides.

"Spectators from Riga who witnessed the cannonade from a bride across the Dvina saw the river choked with German corpses floating down stream, and stated that the German forces had been almost entirely wiped out."

On the Russian front, all the way from Riga to the Rumanian border, there is no change in the situation, according to official statements issued today at Petrograd, Berlin, and Vienna.

The official communication issued by the Russian War Office tonight says:

Over the entire western front (Russia) there is no change in the situation.

On the left bank of the Styr, to the west of Rafalovka, the enemy assumed an offensive, which was repulsed near the village of Kostiushovka.

There have been some stubborn engagements to the west of Czartorysk, near the villages of Guta Lisovskia and Rudnik, at some points the bayonet being used. These combats, however, have not caused any modification of the situation.

Berlin and Vienna have nothing to say of the Russian theatre today. The Berlin communication refers to it thus: "The positions anywhere are unchanged." The official statement of the Austrian War Office tonight says: "Russian Theatre—There is nothing to report."

1,000,000 LEFT HOMES AS RUSSIANS RETIRED

Lithuanian Priest Describes Heavy Trials of Great Army of Refugees.

A movement to help the hundreds of thousands of Lithuanians, Letts, Poles, and Jews who were swept along with the retiring Russian armies will be undertaken here by the Rev. Dr. Anthony Maliauskis, a Lithuanian priest, who reached here on Wednesday on the Norwegian steamer Frederik VIII. Before he left Russia he went from Vilna to Petrograd and obtained first-hand information regarding the condition of these refugees, estimated at more than 1,000,000 men, women, and children. According to the best estimates accessible, these refugees include some 500,000 Lithuanians and 200,000 Jews. More than 160,000 families are involved in this exodus caused by the eastern war.

"A Russian General Staff officer told me," said Dr. Maliauskis, "that as these great crowds of refugees were swept onward by the retiring movements of the troops many of them fell exhausted and died of hunger by the roadside. Others tried to ward off starvation by eating every green thing to be found in the fields and forests. Even the grass and shrubs by the roadside were devoured. In the stress and confusion of the time it was impossible for the military to afford any aid whatsoever, as the latter could not provide for its own needs.

"Some of the few Russian refugees found friends or relatives, it is said. But the other homeless ones, many of whom were swept forward to points as distant as Moscow and even further, found that no provision could be made to shelter so vast a number or to feed them. A majority of them were from the Russian-Lithuanian provinces of Kovno, Suwalki, and Vilna.

"I was told that thousands of women and children were living in fields and forests without food, many of them ill from privation and exposure on the long and weary flight. All are helpless, for everything they own has been wiped out. With conditions as they are at present, and the vast number of persons to be cared for, it is extremely doubtful if they can expect any aid from Russian charity in the immediate future.

"The plight of these refugees from the eastern battle front appears to be far worse than anything of the kind that afflicted the people of Belgium. I have come over here to make an appeal direct to the Lithuanians to aid them. There are about 500,000 Lithuanians in America, and 10 per cent. of them are in New York. Any aid that can be forwarded will be distributed through the Lithuanian Society for the Relief of War Sufferers at the points nearest to the bodies of the refugees, Russian representatives have promised to do their share of this work.

"But we hope to give aid to all the refugees, providing our appeal brings us resources to do so. Tonight I shall present the case first to the congregation of the Church of the Annunciation, in North Eighth Street, Brooklyn. On Sunday afternoon I will speak at the Church of the Transfiguration, at Maspeth, L. I., where I am a guest of the rector. Sunday night I will continue the work at Newark, and thereafter at other places.

"The condition of many of the people in the Lithuanian provinces of Russia, who have been buffeted back and forth between the two great forces in two invasions and many battles, is not a great deal better than that of the refugees. In many cases their homes and property are lost, and they are without resources of any kind except the bare land. It is hoped that influential people may see their way to advance money on these lands as loans until such time as the distressed people may be able to produce crops or revive other industries. This is a subject, however, which will not be taken up actively until something is done to relieve the distress of the suffering refugees."

OCEAN TRIPS FOR WOUNDED.

Russian Officers to be Carried Free Between Archangel and New York.

The agents of the Russian-American Line at 37 Broadway received a letter yesterday from the head office in Petrograd saying that M. Benislavski, the Managing Director of the company, had written to General Alexeieff, General A. D. C. to the Emperor offering to take five convalescent Russian officers from Archangel to New York and back on each of their passenger steamers free of charge. It was suggested that the sea air would build up their health and they could stay on board while the steamer was in New York Harbor.

In reply to the letter of the Managing Director General Alexeieff sent the following telegram from the headquarters of the Russian Army:

In accordance with a report made by me to his Imperial Majesty offering five free tickets, first class, including board on the steamers of the Russian-American Line to New York and return, for sick and wounded officers whose health may through such a voyage receive the necessary benefit, his Imperial Majesty accepts the above-mentioned offer and begs to express to your line his heartiest thanks.

The particulars for the fulfillment of this offer have been referred to the different staffs for immediate report by them to the General Staff.

M. ALEXEIEFF.

RUSSIAN-AMERICAN DINNER.

Leaders of Society for Friendly Relations Meet in Petrograd.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 29, (via London, Oct. 30.)—Ten leading members of the Society for Promoting Mutual Friendly Relations Between Russia and America gave a dinner tonight to an equal number of prominent Americans resident in Petrograd. The first public lecture of the society will be held next week.

The object of the society is co-operation with Americans in sympathy with its aims in spreading in the United States and Russia more accurate information concerning economic, social and political conditions in the respective countries. The leaders in the movement are Baron Rosen, former Ambassador to the United States; Professor Maxim Kovalevsky, a member of the Imperial Council and a world famous sociologist; Nicholas Bordin, Councilor of State, who is President of the society, and Professor Paul N. Milukoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats.

Besides a series of lectures in Russia it is purposed, if the society receives encouragement, to send lecturers to the United States.

WOMEN RIOT IN BULGARIA.

Anti-War Outbreaks Suppressed—Entente Subjects Attacked.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Advices from Sofia say that a meeting of military parties, called to protest against the bombardment of Dedeaghatch and Porto Lagos, ended in disturbances, during which subjects of the Entente Powers were severely handled.

At Burgas and Stara Zagora, there was a demonstration by Bulgarian women against the war, the women crying, "Give us back our men. We want bread." Police who interfered were received with showers of stones, and troops had to be summoned before order was restored.

DIMMER RELIGIOUS LIGHT.

Tallow Scarcity in Germany Stopping Use of Church Candles.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 29, (Dispatch to The London Daily Mail.)—In view of the scarcity of tallow and oil the Bishops of Bavaria and the Archbishop of Strassburg advised that candles should not be lit in the churches and that one oil lamp only should be burned in front of the high altar.

BRUNO LANGER KILLED.

Famous German Aviator Shot Down While Flying on Eastern Front.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen says a report has been received there from Berlin that the German aviator Bruno Langer, who had several world's records to his credit, had been shot down while flying over the eastern frontier and killed.

TURKS' ARTILLERY ACTIVE.

Blowing Up of Allied Ammunition Store is Reported.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 29, (via London, Oct. 30.)—The following official statement was issued by the Turkish War Office tonight:

"Near Anafarta our artillery exploded an enemy ammunition store. Near Ari Burnu and Sedd-ul-Bahr has been artillery and hand grenade fighting."

BRIAND ANNOUNCES HIS NEW CABINET

Continued from Page 1.

tions, and President Poincaré immediately charged M. Briand with the formation of a new organization combining all elements.

The resulting coalition is remarkable in personnel, including such venerable figures as Charles de Freycinet, who was one of Gambetta's aids in the upheaval of 1870; Jules Meline, a former Premier, who instituted the protective system of France, and Léon Bourgeois, who is known as the "Grand Old Man of the Radical Party," which has the largest membership in Parliament.

The modern element is represented by conspicuous leaders of all the political groups of the country. Thus the new coalition brings together France's elder and younger statesmen, and in personnel represents all the history of modern France since the fall of Napoleon III. The new body is also notable in having the popular military leader, General Galleni, as the head of the War Office, and Rear Admiral Lacaze as head of the Ministry of Marine, both of them replacing civilians.

How the Parties Are Represented.

The extent of the coalition is shown by the following representations from the various parties:

The Radical Party is represented by M. Bourgeois, a former Premier; M. Combes, a former Premier, and René Renoult, one of the foremost Parliamentary leaders of the Radicals.

The Republican Socialists have as members M. Briand, M. Viviani and Professor Painlevé.

The Socialist group is represented by Jules Guesde, who has been the Socialist head since the death of Jean Léon Jaurès, and by Marcel Sembat and Albert Thomas, prominent Socialist leaders.

The Democratic Left has as members Gabriel Guist'hau and Joseph Thierry, while the Radical Left has Etienne Clementel as its representative.

The Royalist and Clerical element is represented by Denys Cochin.

This embraces all the parties and groups in Parliament which for years have been arrayed against one another. MM. Frevcinet, Méline and Ribot belong to the old school of moderate tendencies, and are not identified with any of the Parliamentary groups.

The designation of Jules Cambon, former Ambassador at Washington, Madrid and Berlin, as Secretary-General to the Minister of Foreign Affairs is another innovation in the new Cabinet, as it places an Ambassador of wide experience for the first time in responsible direction of foreign questions.

The organization of the new Cabinet was rapidly consummated during the day. The old Cabinet resigned at 11 o'clock this morning, and within half an hour M. Briand was holding a conference with the men who were to form the new Government. They assembled again late this afternoon and finally assigned men to several of the lesser positions.

The Cabinet will proceed in a body to the Elysée Palace tomorrow for its first conference with President Poincaré, and later will formulate a Ministerial declaration of policy.

Resigned to Secure Unanimity.

M. Viviani's letter of resignation reviews the difficulties which he has encountered since an important group in Parliament insisted upon secret sessions of the Chamber of Deputies, which he disapproved. The letter also points out that more than 150 members of the Chamber declined to vote on his recent request for a vote of confidence.

Under the circumstances, M. Viviani said, he and his colleagues were united in the belief that there should be constructed a Cabinet which would secure unanimity and consolidate all elements around the Government.

"I think that another person could better accomplish this purpose of unification," M. Viviani concluded, "and for that reason I submit my resignation and that of all my colleagues."

The Senate and Chamber of Deputies met as usual today, but adjourned until tomorrow pending the definite formation of the new Ministry.

The only member of the new Cabinet not well known to the public is the Minister of Marine, Rear Admiral Marie Jean Lucien Lacaze, commander of the naval forces at Marseilles. He is 55 years old and has a brilliant career. His first important appointment was as Chief of Staff to the late Admiral Germinet, commander of the Mediterranean fleet. In this post he showed great executive ability and attracted the attention of his superiors. He was next appointed as Naval Attaché at Rome, whence he was summoned in 1912 by Théophile Delcassé, then Minister of Marine, to be the latter's principal Naval Secretary. As Naval Secretary he bore a large part in initiating and carrying out reforms in the scheme for a radical reorganization of the fleet which was undertaken by M. Delcassé and Rear Admiral Lacaze, who reached his present rank in October, 1911, is credited with being responsible in great measure for the present high state of efficiency of the naval forces of France.

New Cabinet Pleases Italians.

ROME, Oct. 29, (Via Paris, Saturday, Oct. 30, 12:35 A. M.)—General satisfaction is expressed here over the solution of the French Cabinet crisis. The Tribuna says:

"After the mistakes made, the Quadruple Entente needs above all determined men with clear heads, like M. Briand."

The Giornale d'Italia says in an editorial:

"M. Briand finds the nation perfectly organized and all parties in concord, which is a good omen for the day in which a victorious peace will be concluded."

PAINLEVE A NOTED SCIENTIST.

Supported Peary Against Cook in the Polar Controversy.

Professor Paul Painlevé, who takes the portfolio of Education in the Briand Cabinet, with the newly created one of Inventions, although famous as a savant in France, was first widely known in this country six years ago through his support of Peary against Dr. Cook as the discoverer of the north pole.

Professor Painlevé was a comparatively new comer among the Deputies, having been elected for the first time in May, 1914, when, on account of his eminence as a speaker and a scientist, he was asked to be one of the Presidents of the Army and Navy Committee. In the event of any military operations abroad this committee always consults with the Foreign Affairs Committee. This happened before French troops were landed at Gallipoli last April and before they were landed at the beginning of the present month at Saloniki. In the case of both expeditions the committees interested were in perfect accord. Professor Painlevé said as much when he expressed his surprise at the resignation of M. Delcassé, the Foreign Minister, on Oct. 13, and demanded the reading of the letter of resignation which the late Minister had sent Premier Viviani. He also entered upon a spirited address urging the prosecution of the campaign in Gallipoli and the Balkans, until called to order by the President of the Chamber.

He is a Parisian by birth and residence. He was born in 1863, and fitted himself for an academic career. He was graduated from the Superior Normal School in 1883. Soon his degree as doctor of science and mathematics in 1887, and was laureate of the Institute of France for the years 1890, 1894, and 1896.

His studies have been principally in the field of higher mathematics and their application to mechanics. He has written a score of books on these subjects and also on philosophy. He has been sent on scientific missions to Germany and Sweden, and is a member of several foreign scientific bodies—the Academies of Science of Stockholm, Upsala, and Rome. He has the reputation of being one of the most lucid and eloquent professors at the Polytechnic School and one of the most important members of the administrative council of the Conservatory of Arts and Trades. Aside from being Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, he is officer of the Public Instruction, member of the Institute, and professor of the Faculty of Sciences. A few years ago, just after the Peary-Cook controversy, the King of Sweden made him a Knight of the Polar Star.

OLD GUARD'S VALOR VAIN AGAINST TURKS

Ashmead-Bartlett Tells of Gallant Deeds of the 29th Division in Hopeless Gallipoli Struggle.

WON HILL 70, THEN LOST IT

Losses So Heavy That Three Times the Original Strength Has Passed Through the Division's Ranks.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—In The Daily News this morning Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, who was the British press representative at the Dardanelles, chronicles in simple but telling phrases the gallant deeds of one of the commands which played a conspicuous part in the Gallipoli fighting. In part he says:

"The purpose of this article is to do belated justice to the rôle played by the Twenty-ninth Division in the heroic struggle in the Dardanelles. The renown of this division is world-wide, and their number will ever in the future be surrounded by that mixed halo of romance and glory which attached to Caesar's Tenth Legion and Napoleon's Old Guard. In fact, the Twenty-ninth earned for themselves the title of 'The Old Guard' of the army.

"Unfortunately but few of the original veterans, who landed at Sedd-ul-Bahr are left, for nearly all are dead or invalided home. Some, in fact, have been wounded many times.

"As the division has played a most prominent rôle in almost every engagement that has been fought on the Peninsula during the last six months, I do not know how many times it consumed itself in furious attacks on the enemy's works, but already, I believe, at least three times the number of its original strength has passed through the ranks.

"The Twenty-ninth Division landed under the command of Major General Hunter Weston and has since been commanded by Major General de Lisle. All four countries, England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales, have the honor to be represented in its ranks.

"On Aug. 6 the division was holding its old position on the left of our line at Helles, across the Gully ravine, and on that day the Eighty-eighth Brigade delivered a most gallant assault on a section of the enemy's line over ground devoid of cover.

"While the landing at Sulva Bay and the great advance from Anzac were taking place, the Twenty-ninth held its ground and successfully repulsed attacks from the Turks.

"When the attempts of the new divisions to take the Anafarta Hills definitely failed by Aug. 10, it was decided to make a final effort to cut the enemy's lines of communication by employing the Old Guard. Secretly at night three brigades were brought up in trawlers from Helles to Suvla and landed without the Turks being aware of the movement.

"In my accounts which have appeared in the press of the events of this memorable Aug. 21, chief credit is being given the newly arrived yeomanry, because they were the only corps which the censor allowed to be mentioned, but in reality the second mounted division of the yeomanry were held in reserve behind Lala Baba until late in the afternoon, and they only came into action after the repeated efforts of the Eighty-sixth and Eighty-seventh Brigades of the Twenty-ninth mounted division failed to shake the enemy's defense.

"The yeomanry deserve every credit for the magnificent manner in which they behaved when in action for the first time. They advanced two miles under a hail of shrapnel over ground which afforded not so much as a blade of grass as cover before they reached the dead ground at the foot of the enemy's works.

"It was the Second Brigade, under the Earl of Longford, consisting of Bucks, Berks, and Dorsets, which made the final glorious charge in conjunction with the Eighty-seventh Brigade, and obtained temporary possession of Hill 70, which had subsequently to be abandoned in the night. The losses of this brigade were very heavy, the Bucks regiments losing almost all their officers and men.

"The arrival of the Twenty-ninth Division on the battlefield stimulated the whole army and showed how seriously our leaders regarded the task ahead. The division was ranged along a line stretching from Hill 70 to Hill 112. The Eighty-seventh Brigade was ordered to attack Hill 71, and the Eighty-sixth Hill 112. The South Wales Borderers acted as a connecting link between the two. The Eighty-eighth Brigade, which had suffered very heavy losses at Helles on Aug. 6, was held in reserve.

"The men of the Twenty-ninth rested quietly in their trenches during the morning. They realized that the eyes of the whole army were watching them and that a signal, if dangerous, honor had been conferred on them. Throughout the afternoon the Eighty-sixth Brigade made repeated efforts to advance on Hill 112, suffering heavy losses, but could make no progress in the face of the enemy's determined resistance.

"When the final effort was made to capture Hill 70, late in the afternoon, the South Wales Borderers, who had been held in reserve, were brought up. This regiment advanced against the south face, and dug themselves in beneath the crest before the Second Yeomanry Brigade, under Lord Longford, came up from behind Lala Baba. Here they remained until it was almost dark, taking part in the final charge which gained possession of the crest.

"It will thus be seen from this brief summary that the brunt of fighting on Aug. 21 again fell to the Twenty-ninth Division, but even the efforts of these heroic troops, ably seconded by the Yeomanry, failed to achieve success against an enemy equally brave and equally determined, who enjoyed the incalculable advantage of fighting behind intrenchments on commanding hills. But the Twenty-ninth Division has only added to its fame by this failure."

TURKS OPPOSING GERMANS.

Hostile Movement at Constantinople Reported to be Growing.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—News from Constantinople, said to be authoritative, says that the anti-German movement is growing daily, and that Ahmed Riza, leader of the Young Turk Party, who wished to interpellate the Government regarding Turkey's reasons for entering the war, was not permitted to do so. The Government has forbidden Senators and Deputies to discuss Turkish foreign policy.

Fresh Armenian massacres are reported in the region of Ourfa.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—A Reuter dispatch from Athens says it is reported that Turkey is about to rescind the decree for the confiscation of the property of belligerents owing to a threat by the Entente powers to confiscate German property in belligerent countries.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 29.—Hakki Pasha, Turkish Ambassador to Germany, declared in an interview published by a Berlin newspaper that the "fiasco" of the Entente powers at Saloniki showed the folly of attempting an important military operation with 50,000 or 100,000 men. If the battlefield was to be extended to Syria, he added, Turkey was ready to send adequate forces, especially now that ammunition was going to Constantinople freely by the Danube.

FRENCH PRIEST ON TRIAL.

Court-Martialed for Preaching an Objectionable Sermon.

GRENOBLE, France, (via Paris,) Oct. 29.—The Abbé Charvet, a parish priest at Montalieu in the Department of Isére, has been put on trial by court martial, charged with preaching a sermon likely to have a bad effect upon public opinion and with excommunicating persons who gave evidence when his case was before an examining magistrate.

The Bishop of Grenoble formally denies having authorized Charvet to commit the acts for which he was arrested.

BULGAR MAIN ARMY NEAR TEUTON LINE

Continued from Page 1.

and the commander of the allied Balkan armies, Field Marshal von Mackensen. The journey he begins today, following upon the gratifying fact that union has been established between the allied armies, is a demonstration to the world that the road to Sofia and thus also to Constantinople is open.

I had the opportunity of a long conversation with Lieutenant Gadjieff last evening, and learned a number of interesting incidents regarding his daring ride. He dwelt upon the heartiness of the welcome extended to him and his men, and spoke with enthusiasm of his reception by the commanding General and the Duke of Mecklenburg, who immediately conferred on him and Lieutenant Janakieff the iron cross, while the troops sang the different national hymns of the allied nations one after the other.

He is a slender, sympathetic young officer, who received part of his military training at the Military Academy of Petrograd, and makes a splendid impression. He spoke excellent, fluent French. He frankly expressed the gratification which he and the entire Bulgarian Army feel at being able to fight by the side of the central powers. Bulgaria, he said, was proud to be Germany's ally. Every man knows what he is fighting for in this war.

The rapid advance of the Bulgarian Army in East Serbia he explained as due to its exact knowledge of the country and the fighting methods of the enemy. That he had been able to execute the commission intrusted to him plainly gratified him, but if he had fallen into the hands of the Serbians his position would have been precarious.

The fortress of Kladovo, captured by our troops against strong earthworks intrenchments, will remain a lasting memory with Gadjieff. What he and his wonderful band of stalwart cavalrymen accomplished, however, will become history.

GREETED BULGARS WITH IRON CROSSES

Teutons Wild With Joy When Patrol's Arrival Linked the Armies Up.

By WILHELM HEGELER.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

[The Berliner Tageblatt Dispatches.]

WITH FIELD MARSHAL VON MACKENSEN'S ARMY IN SERBIA, Oct. 28.—I have just had the rare luck to be present at the inspiring overture to that world historical event, the union of the Bulgarian Army with the Austro-Germans.

At dawn I had myself ferried over to recently captured Tekija, on the Serbian shore of the Danube, then went by wretched roads through undestroyed but totally deserted Serbian villages, meeting only a few Rumanian peasant women wading barefooted through the mud. On the other hand, immense herds of cattle, sheep, goats, and hogs which the Serbians in their rapid flight had abandoned roamed about the roads.

I could hear the distant thunder of cannon and pressed on to the Serbian town of Kladovo, where a Bulgarian patrol was said to have arrived. I had hardly entered Kladovo, which is surrounded by fortress walls and trenches, when I noticed the Bulgarian uniform on the tall form of a mounted noncommissioned officer. Hungarian and Austrian soldiers thronged around him.

He could not understand either my German or my French, nor I his answers, but presently the slim figure of a young Bulgarian officer appeared, Lieutenant of Uhlans Gadjieff. His name deserves to live, for he was the first to burst the enemy's wall and bring us Germans greetings from the East. About to ride with the Duke of Mecklenburg toward Orsova, he spared me a few moments and gave me the following information:

"Till the outbreak of the war he was military attaché in Paris. His regiment gave him orders to make a dash with another Uhlan Lieutenant, Janakieff, from Negotin to the Austro-German allies. There were twenty-five in the patrol. They divided into two parties. Gadjieff, with twelve Uhlans, had a clash with Serb patrols at Stubik, and put them to flight. Near Palanka the two patrols united again.

"In the afternoon they discerned the first Hungarian hussar patrols. Thinking they had to do with Serbians, they exchanged a few shots with them before they recognized them as friends. In the evening they reached Kladovo. The two daring officers were at once decorated with the Iron Cross."

On my arrival a few moments later I saw the little patrol that executed the daring ride. They were tall, magnificent fellows, with earnestness stamped on their faces. The indescribable jubilation with which their appearance was greeted by the Austrian, Hungarian, and German soldiers was best expressed by an old Colonel of Honved Hussars:

"I was sitting in my office when suddenly I heard a roar outside that shook the window panes. I looked out and saw what I took for a Russian except that I had never seen such a good-looking Russian before. On a second look I recognized a Bulgarian officer. I rushed outdoors. He leaped from his horse, calling out 'Eljen! Eljen!'

"I could not speak for joy. I embraced him. We kissed each other and wept for joy, while the soldiers roared cheers. Then they lined up on the shore of the Danube and sang the Austro-Hungarian and Bulgarian national anthems in a chorus that was heard on the Rumanian shore. The rejoicing lasted all night. Telegrams were exchanged with Field Marshal von Mackensen."

CLYSMIC
THE KING OF TABLE WATERS

FIVE-DAY COMBAT WON BY THE FRENCH

Joffre's Soldiers Carry German Trenches on a 500-Foot Front in Champagne.

VANQUISHED LOSE 600 MEN

Foes in Violent Bomb Duels on the Aisne—Germans Shell the Lorraine Front.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—German trenches on a front of nearly 500 feet have been carried by the French troops in the Champagne district after nearly continuous combats for five days.

The ground won is in the La Courtine area southeast of Tahure, where a strong German salient was stormed by Joffre's soldiers on Monday, part of the gain being lost very speedily as the result of very violent German counter-attacks.

There have been some lively encounters with bombs and grenades along the Aisne River, and the Germans are bombarding the Lorraine front of the French lines with great vigor.

The night bulletin of the French War Office says:

"In the course of the continuous combats that are going on in Champagne for the possession of those portions of "La Courtine" works, which are still occupied by the Germans, we realized today very perceptible progress by taking from the enemy, on a front of about 150 meters, several trenches which the Germans defended up to the last moment with the greatest tenacity. We have taken 200 unwounded prisoners, including a company commander and two other officers, the Germans having besides lost nearly 400 men, killed or wounded.

On the Lorraine front a German bombardment especially violent is reported between the Forest of Parroy and La Vezouse River. Our artillery replied by shelling effectively the batteries and works of the enemy. Our artillery hit a military train in the station of Bourthecourt.

The afternoon report says:

Yesterday evening there was fighting of particular violence, with bombs and hand grenades, to the north of the River Aisne, in the sectors of Pulsaline and Chevreux.

In the Champagne district the bombardment, in which both sides took part, previously reported, continued during the night in the same locality, namely, near Tahure, as well as in the vicinity of the works called "La Courtine."

A Belgian official statement says:

Some short bombardments occurred on the front of Pykennock, Pervyse, the Maison de Bourg, St. Jacques Cappelle, and the Ferrman's House.

The German Headquarters Staff issued this statement:

At some points along the front there has been lively artillery activity. There also has been mine and hand grenade fighting. Otherwise nothing important has occurred.

LILLE DAMAGE, $360,000,000.

War Taxes Imposed on Captured French Cities Are Also Heavy.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 29, (via London.)—The damage caused by the bombardment of Lille is estimated, the Telegraf says, at 1,800,000,000 francs ($360,000,000.)

War taxes imposed by the Germans upon the French manufacturing cities of Lille, Roubaix, and Tourcoing, according to the same authority, already reach several million francs.

Meat is no longer obtainable in those towns.

ETHER CURES APHASIA.

But One War-Shocked Britisher Regains Speech Through Intoxication.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Cases of loss of speech following shell shock are being cured by the use of anaesthetics, according to a report in The Lancet, made by Dr. A. P. Procter of the Canadian Red Cross Hospital at Taplow.

In two cases men were etherized in the ordinary way during the "excited stage." Just before becoming unconscious they were encouraged to speak, and on coming out from the ether they continued talking without difficulty.

The third man, who was not able to say a word for more than two months after being buried in a dugout by a high-explosive shell which rendered him unconscious for days, accomplished his own anaesthetisation by getting intoxicated while home on a visit. In this condition he found his voice and for two days talked and sang incessantly. As no relapse occurred when he became sober, he was discharged cured a fortnight later.

JAIL FOR FRENCH PERFUMER.

Five Years and a Heavy Fine for Selling Goods to Germans.

MONTPELLIER, France, Oct. 30.—Henri Racine, a millionaire perfume distiller of Mentone, has been sentenced by a court-martial here to five years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for having supplied essence of neroli to a firm of perfume manufacturers at Cologne. The court also ordered goods belonging to the perfumer to the value of 270,000 francs ($54,000) confiscated.

Racine was originally sentenced by a court-martial sitting at Marseilles to perpetual deportation. He obtained a reversal of judgment by an appeal to the court on technicalities and was sent here for trial by court-martial.

KING GEORGE HURT BY HORSE'S FALL

Continued from Page 1.

fell over backwards, throwing his Majesty to the ground.

The King's horses, of course, are well trained, and they are accustomed to music, firing, and the cheering of troops. The horse which he was riding yesterday, it is said, had been put through a special course of training for the reviews. The great outburst of cheering and the appearance of thousands of waving caps, however, were too much for the animal on this occasion. A heavy rain was falling, and the slippery condition of the road made it more difficult to control the horse, which apparently lost its footing when it reared the second time.

The five eminent medical men who signed the first bulletin in regard to King George's condition are:

Sir Arthur Thomas Sloggett, C. B., C. M. G., Surgeon General of the Army and Honorary Surgeon to the King.

Sir Anthony Alfred Bowlby, C. M. G., Surgeon in Ordinary to the King and a civilian member of the Army Medical Board.

Sir Bertrand Dawson, K. C. V. O., Physician Extraordinary to the King and one of the best-known pathologists in England.

Sir Wilmot Parker Herringham, Physician to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, and Vice Chancellor of the University of London.

Cuthbert Sidney Wallace, F. R. C. S., Surgeon to St. Thomas's Hospital, London, and Lecturer on Surgery at the same institution.

THE KING A FINE HORSEMAN.

And His Chargers Are Always Chosen for Their Good Behavior.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—The accident to the King is unaccountable, not only because his Majesty is an excellent horseman, with all a sailor's capacity for sticking on, but also because the chargers for his use are chosen for their perfect manners.

The King's favorite mount, which he generally rode on field days at Aldershot before the war, is Delhi, a big black horse, which was presented to him at the time of his Indian coronation visit. When field batteries were bombarding the long valley and the horses of the staff were curvetting and prancing, Delhi was the picture of complete placidity. During the midday halt the King never neglected to reward his horse with sugar, which he took from a groom and fed from his own palm.

CANADA CABLES SYMPATHY.

Connaught Sends a Message on Behalf of the Dominion.

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—The Duke of Connaught cabled today to King George a

JAPAN TELLS CHINA TO STAY A REPUBLIC

Advises Against a Return to Monarchical Form of Government at This Time.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA AGREE

American Minister Not Present at the Conference — Premier's Resignation Is Reported.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PEKING, Oct. 29.—Grave apprehension has been caused by a visit paid by the Japanese Chargé d'Affaires, M. Obata, yesterday to the Foreign Office, accompanied by the British and Russian Ministers, Sir John Jordan and M. Krupenski. A "note verbale" was presented stating that owing to the increased opposition to the monarchical movement and the consequent threatened danger to peace in the Orient, Japan advised the Chinese Government to suspend temporarily the contemplated change, at the same time disclaiming any intention of interfering with Chinese internal affairs.

As Count Okuma, in a speech on Oct. 20, remarked that reports from all quarters in China indicated that the change would be carried through with ease and celerity, this imputation of trouble is incomprehensible. Surprise is expressed at the British and Russian association in the warning and that the American Minister refrained from interference.

Foreign Minister Lu Cheng-Hsing thanked the Japanese representative for the advice, which, though couched in friendly terms, is calculated to cause disturbance, especially as only a week ago the civil and military Governors of all the provinces reported general quietude.

The Chinese reply has not yet been determined upon.

Says It's in People's Hands.

PEKING, Oct. 29.—On his visit yesterday to Foreign Minister Lu Cheng-Hsing at the Foreign Office concerning the possible results of China's change to a monarchical form of government, Chargé Obata of the Japanese Legation inquired whether President Yuan Shih-kai was confident that he could re-establish the monarchy without untoward results affecting the general peace in the Far East. He made a friendly suggestion on behalf of Japan that the change be delayed, for some time at least, suggesting that disturbances in Shanghai and along the Yang-tse Valley indicated opposition to the movement. He urged that, with Europe engaged in a deadly struggle, China's welfare, as well as that of the entire world, was dependent upon the prevention of further international disturbances.

M. Obata was the chief spokesman in the audience with the Foreign Minister, but Sir John Jordan took part in the discussion, and M. Krupenski expressed approval of the statements of his associates. The leading part taken by M. Obata in the conference is causing some comment, because both his associates outrank him in point of seniority.

Lu Cheng-Hsing told M. Obata and his colleagues that the future form of China's Government was absolutely in the hands of the people, who were now voting on the question. In consequence of this fact, the Foreign Minister added, he personally believed the Government was powerless to delay action, as it might receive a mandate at the polls. However, this opinion was unofficial, and the Government, he said, would probably make reply to the three powers in a few days.

Announcements of the election returns in various provinces show no votes against the re-establishment of a monarchy. Complete returns will be given officially on Nov. 20.

China Holding Up News.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—The Chinese censor here is under instructions to stop all telegrams regarding the monarchical agitation.

He refused to transmit the full text of Japan's communication to China over the land lines to the Yang-tse region.

TOKIO, Oct. 29.—Official announcement was made by the Foreign Office today that Japan has requested China to postpone the project for the restablishment of a monarchical form of government. The Foreign Office statement declares that no undercurrent of opposition to a monarchy exists among the Chinese, and that it is far stronger than has been imagined. In fact, the Foreign Office says, a feeling of unrest is spreading in all parts of China.

The Foreign Office praises the administration of President Yuan Shih-kai, but fears the sudden move to re-establish the monarchy is likely, in view of the widespread opposition, to cause disorders such as would endanger the future of China, and the interests of the powers, and even the peace of Asia.

Japan, therefore, informs China that she views the present situation with grave anxiety, and believes it would be advisable to postpone the change of government, so as to prevent disorders and consolidate the peace of the Orient.

The Foreign Office statement continues:

At a time when there is still little prospect of an early conclusion of the war in Europe, and when a sense of misgiving prevails, every possible effort should be made to avoid the creation of any situation in any part of the world which would be prejudicial to peace and tranquillity, and to prevent the outbreak of new complications.

The Foreign Office statement lays emphasis on the assertion that if Yuan Shih-kai maintains the status quo and continues progressive policies order will be completely restored, but expresses the fear that the move to form a monarchy will seriously endanger the interests of the powers, especially those of Japan, "who stands in special relations with China."

It is understood that Great Britain, France, and Russia have made similar representations.

According to information here, Japan's representations to China were made in the most friendly spirit, in co-operation with European powers. Japan does not undertake to interfere in internal questions concerning China, but desires merely to give advice in an amicable manner. The powers are particularly desirous of avoiding the possibility of strife in the Orient at a time when the Occident is plunged in war, and desire a guarantee that peace will not be menaced by acts of China.

YUAN QUOTES CONFUCIUS.

Teachings of China's Sage Used as an Argument for a Monarchy.

PEKING, Sept. 23. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Confucius looms large in the controversy which is being hotly waged in China over the monarchical plan. President Yuan Shih-kai and his supporters are constantly quoting the ancient sage. Advocates of the republic are also using Confucius freely, and arging that the change to a monarchy would be a violation of a Confucian oath and consequently would discredit the teachings of the great moral leader in the eyes of the world.

Plans are now in preparation by Government officials for the erection of a great bronze statue of Confucius in Peking. At present the ancient sage is represented in the various temples only by pictorial images or sacred tablets. These do not create the vivid impression of the great teacher which the Chinese officials desire, and a movement is under way to place bronze statues of him in Confucian temples throughout the republic.

Mandates have recently been issued by President Yuan Shih-kai strengthening the position of Confucius's teachings in Chinese schools, and the Society for the Preservation of Peace has constantly quoted the sayings of Confucius concerning loyalty to the Emperor in support of the restoration of the monarchy.

Public speeches concerning the monarchical movement, letters to the newspapers, and editorials in support of the restoration of the empire are filled with quotations concerning the five duties of universal obligation outlined by Confucius and the three moral qualities by which the sage said these duties must be carried out. The first of these duties are those between ruler and subject.

AMERICA NON-COMMITTAL.

But It Is Hoped That China Will Continue to be a Republic.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The United States has declined to express any opinion as to whether it approves of the proposed change in China from a republic to a monarchy.

It became known today that some of the interested powers in seeking to sound the Washington Government informally had learned that this country would take no step that might be construed as interference in the internal concerns of another sovereign State.

Interest in the Far Eastern situation, which has for months been overshadowed by the controversies of the European war, was revived in official quarters by a dispatch today announcing the resignation of the Chinese Premier, Hsu Shih-Chang. This development was regarded as significant, because a few weeks ago the Premier made a public statement saying that, as a former official of the Manchu Dynasty, he would not serve under another Emperor.

The Chinese Government itself has not asked for the views of the United States, and officially nothing has been said here on the subject. It is known, however, that privately the hope is entertained in Washington that the change will not be made. This is based not only on the natural inference that the republican form of Government, but because of the belief that the change might affect the political equilibrium of the Far East at this time. The fact that President Yuan Shih-kai was elected for a term of ten years and is in dominant control of the situation appears to those conversant with Far Eastern affairs to make any change at present unnecessary and ill-timed.

American Minister Reinsch has reported from Peking that the Japanese and British Governments seemed to be opposed to the change, and officials here were not surprised to learn through press dispatches of the call at the Chinese Foreign Office of the British, Russian, and Japanese Ministers and of the formal statement from Tokio of Japan's opposition. The American Minister having received no instructions from Washington, has not participated in any of the parleys on the subject in Peking.

Both the British and Japanese Embassies here are watching the situation closely, and the same views that were reported in Peking dispatches today and today expressed by the British and Japanese Ministers were reflected by the Ambassadors here. At the Chinese Legation comment on the situation was withheld.

Official notification of the appointment of Dr. Wellington Koo to be Chinese Minister here came to the State Department today. It is understood that Dr. Koo, who is a close friend of President Yuan Shih-kai, is in favor of a monarchy. He is now visiting England and France, it is believed, to sound those powers on the proposed change of Government. He is expected in Washington in a few weeks.

TALK OF CONSCRIPTION STIRS AUSTRALIANS

Deputation Visits Prime Minister and Is Assured It Will Not Be Undertaken.

Special Correspondence of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 30.—The conscription propagandists suffered a setback a few days ago when the Prime Minister, Andrew Fisher, told a deputation from the Trades Hall Council that it would not be introduced in Australia until the people had expressed their opinion upon it. Moreover, he said, the Government had no intention of offering a bill to deal with conscription. Mr. Fisher is going to London to replace Sir George Reid as High Commissioner.

The conscription movement, which embraces a handful of Labor Party leaders and members, is chiefly being fostered and spread by the Universal Service League. The League is going about its business with considerable energy. The leader of the deputation, C. J. Bennett, President of the Trades Hall Council, said that in addition to the opinion of the community was kicking up a tremendous noise in trying to make the people believe the question of conscription was a live one, the deputation wanted Mr. Fisher to make public pronouncement as to the attitude of the Government upon the question.

In the course of the hearing Mr. Fisher pointed out that under the Commonwealth Defense Act the Government could mobilize the male population of Australia if Australia was attacked.

"Supposing," ventured a member of the deputation, "some one said the Commonwealth was in danger"—

"Excuse me saying so," interrupted the Prime Minister, "but that is absolutely childish. We have conscription practically for our own defense. What you are against and what I am against is that men should be trained and thrust by vested interests against nations or parts of nations against their will."

When another of the deputation indicated that pressure was being brought to bear to influence public opinion in favor of conscription throughout the British Empire at the dictates of the reactionary allies of Britain, Mr. Fisher said:

"That is not correct. They are not meddling with it at all. To do them justice they do not take so much notice of us. Don't be too conceited. They do not know we are in existence."

"It may be possible," urged the same delegate, "that the Allies are pressing Britain to put a conscript army into the field."

"They would not be allowed any such impertinence," retorted the Prime Minister.

"In my opinion the only solution of such troubles as now exist is that the nations should be united into a congregation of units with a socialist organization and that civil courts should be established to determine in equity what are the rights of the nations. Those who would not abide by the decision of the court should be punished in exactly the same way as individuals."

Japan Guards Powder Magazines.

TOKIO, Oct. 30.—The visit of suspicious characters to the powder magazines at Tokio, Kyoto, and Ozaka has resulted in the military authorities doubling the guard about the magazines.

GERMANY REGULATES PRICES

Names Maximum for Potatoes, Fish, and Game.

BERLIN, Oct. 29. — The Federal Council has issued an order empowering the Imperial Chancellor to fix the maximum price for potatoes, fish and game. The Chancellor immediately set the retail price of potatoes at 435 pfennigs ($1.09) a metric hundredweight.

Producers are permitted to demand a maximum of 305 pfennigs.

Austria's Second Note Received.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The text of Austria's second note to the United States on munitions shipments to the Allies has been received at the State Department. It conforms to cabled summaries, and will not be given out for publication here. It is not probable that a reply will be sent, as officials consider the tenor of the communication indicates that Austria does not expect one.

ATTACK ON ORDUNA CHARGED TO ERROR

White Book Discloses Germany's Admission That a Torpedo Was Fired at the Liner.

IN VIOLATION OF ORDERS

Berlin Memorandum Also Tells of the American Bark Normandie Being Spared.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—A memorandum from the German Government, explaining the unsuccessful attempt of a submarine to torpedo the Cunard liner Orduna was made public here tonight for the first time. It reveals that as early as July 9 last, more than a month before the attack upon the Arabic, German commanders had instructions not to sink "large passenger steamers" without warning.

The document also contains the statement that the same submarine that attacked the Orduna halted the American bark Normandie, and, though finding her carrying contraband, allowed her to proceed unmolested because there was no guarantee that the crew would be rescued if left to their fate in small boats. This is regarded as significant in connection with the last note of the United States on the case of the William P. Frye, in which Germany was asked for assurances that if American vessels carrying contraband were sunk, pending arbitration of treaty rights, the crews would not be subjected to the risk of small boats in the open sea.

The Orduna memorandum, dated in Berlin, Sept. 9, was given out with certain other correspondence supplementary to the second installment of the so-called White Book issued yesterday by the State Department. Its text follows:

At about a quarter past 7 on the morning of July 9 last a German submarine sighted a steamer from three to five miles away and a sailing vessel about a mile away. The steamer was proceeding without any flag or neutral markings, and was taken for a small enemy steamer by the commander of the submarine on account of the difficulty of observation caused by the unfavorable weather. The commander first decided to attack the steamer, submerged, and fired a torpedo at the vessel; which missed its mark.

Hoping to catch the steamer above the water, the submarine rose and chased the steamer on the surface. The steamer did not stop when a shot of warning was fired, and therefore several shells were fired at her which did not strike her, as the submarine was pitching about and the distance was great. The submarine then proceeded to the sailing vessel, which was shown to be the American bark Normandie, bound from New York to Liverpool with a cargo of lumber. Although the cargo contained contraband the sailing vessel was permited to continue her voyage unhindered, as it was impossible to guarantee that the crew would be surely rescued in the small boats if the ship were sunk.

The first attack on the Orduna by a torpedo was not in accordance with the existing instructions, which provide that large passenger steamers are only to be torpedoed after previous warning and after the rescuing of passengers and crew. The failure to observe the instructions was based on an error which is at any rate comprehensible, and the repetition of which appears to be out of the question, in view of the more explicit instructions issued in the meantime. Moreover, the commanders of the submarines have been reminded that it is their duty to exercise greater care and to observe carefully the orders issued.

HEAR ECLIPSE WAS SUNK.

Virginia Girls Bring Rumor of Fate of Escaped Germans.

Special to The New York Times.

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 29.—If information given two Roanoke girls who were passengers aboard the liner Bermudian on the voyage from New York on Oct. 20 is true, six warrant officers of the interned German raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, who escaped in the power yacht Eclipse several weeks ago, were sent to the bottom of the Atlantic, along with their craft, by the Australian man-of-war Sydney on Oct. 19.

Misses Estelle and Clemmie White of Roanoke, who reached here today, said the Bermudian was stopped by the Sydney 125 miles out from New York, and that they had heard the cruiser reported the destruction of the Eclipse.

"A young New Englander," the young women said, "who holds property interests in Bermuda told us that an officer of the Bermudian had confided to him that the report of the destruction the day before of the Eclipse, with the loss of the Germans. We had every reason to give full credence to the information imparted to us. It was further said that the Sydney's officers asked the Bermudian's crew whether there were Germans aboard the liner and the officers of the liner were told of the fate of the Eclipse, so they would not be under the necessity of keeping a watch for her.

Captain Peter J. Fraser, the Marine Superintendent of the Quebec Steamship Company, said yesterday that it was untrue that officers of the Bermudian had communicated with a British cruiser regarding the capture of the six missing German officers in a yacht, as had been reported in certain New York newspapers.

The Captain also denied that the wireless operator on the Bermudian had been in communication with any of the British warships regarding the capture of the German officers.

FOR PROPERTY REPRISALS.

Daily Mail Says England Holds $625,000,000 of Foe's Wealth.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Daily Mail says:

"Reprisals of the kind the Germans fear against their property in the British Empire are easy. Whereas Germany plundered French, Belgian, and Russian property which came within her reach, German property in this country has not yet been forfeited to the Crown.

There are official figures as to the value of that property. The public trustee is custodian in England and Wales of money due to the enemy in dividends and interest and he is also the registrar of enemy property. The returns showed in June, 1915, £97,000,000, ($455,000,000,) of German property then in the hands of the English authorities.

"To this figure must further be added debits due, balances at banks, and various other items of property belonging to the enemy so that the total in Great Britain cannot be much less than £125,000,000, ($625,000,000,) and may be more.

"What part of this £125,000,000 is Austrian it is difficult to say, but probably not more than 15,000,000 or 20,000,000. As Austria has not treated British subjects with the barbarity displayed by the Germans and has not so far as is known seized British property, Austrian property would be exempted from reprisals.

"Probably £150,000,000 of German and Austrian property is to be found in great self-governing dominions and there may be another £20,000,000 in India, the Malay States, Crown colonies, and minor possessions. When the debts owed by the Germans are deducted there should be over £100,000,000 of German property that can be confiscated in the States of the Empire outside of Great Britain if the Governments of the British Empire think fit, in reprisals for the long list of German atrocities."

Nobel Prize to Dr. Barany.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 30, (Via London.)—It has been decided to award the Nobel Prize in Medicine for 1914 to Dr. Robert Barany of Vienna University for his work in the physiology and pathology of the ear. The prize for 1915 will be reserved until 1916.

"JOHNNY" POE KILLED FIGHTING IN FRANCE

Famous Princeton Football Player Died in British Advance on Sept. 25.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29.—John Prentiss Poe, Jr., soldier, adventurer, and once famous as a football player at Princeton, where he was popularly known as "Johnny" Poe, was killed on Sept. 25, while fighting as a private in the British Army in France. The Black Watch Regiment, of which he was a member, was practically annihilated during the Allies' offensive which started on Sept. 22, and it is believed Poe met his death in this encounter.

His last letter, dated Sept. 22 and written in the northern part of France, contained but little information as to his whereabouts. Only meagre facts concerning his death were received in this city today by his older brother, S. Johnson Poe. The message stated only the date on which he died.

The printed card from the London War Bureau bore this inscription:

"S. Johnson Poe, Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.: With regret we inform you that Private John P. Poe of Baltimore, Md., U. S. A., was killed in action on Sept. 25, 1915, at ——."

Poe belonged to the distinguished Maryland family of that name, nearly all the male members of which were prominent lawyers or jurists.

"Johnny" Poe was first known to the American public as a greater quarter back on the Princeton team of 1902. He was flunked out of the university, but returned next year to make a better football player than ever. He was again released in the second year by the university authorities for failing to come up to the scholarship standard. He and his brother, Edgar Allan Poe, who preceded him, left names to be spoken of with awe in football conversations on the Princeton campus.

Following his release from Princeton "Johnny" Poe went West ranching and mining, stayed a while in Mexico and then found his element in the wars of Central America. In 1907 he became a Captain in the Honduran Army in the war between Honduras and Nicaragua. He distinguished himself in the siege of Anapal, and was in charge of a gun in the engagement at Buenavista Fort. In the following year he joined General Mendez of Venezuela in a filibustering expedition against General Castro, then Dictator of Venezuela.

At the beginning of the war in Europe Poe went to Ireland, where, as a member of the old De La Poer family, in spite of the abbreviation of that name in the American branch, he succeeded in enlisting in the Royal Field Artillery, where his experience in warfare brought him to the attention of the officers of his regiment. News was received here later that he had been transferred to the Forty-second Highland Regiment, known for two hundred years as the Black Watch, and was placed with the battery of machine guns and quick-firing light field pieces attached to that regiment.

He was a son of John P. Poe, ex-Attorney General of Maryland, and belonged to the family of which Edgar Allan Poe, the poet, was a member.

JAPAN NOT TO MAKE A SEPARATE PEACE

Authorizes Ambassador at London to So Notify the Other Allies.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Japan has become a party to the agreement not to conclude a separate peace.

Announcement was made today that a note was addressed to the Japanese Government on Oct. 19 inviting it to give adherence to the declaration of Great Britain, France and Russia, signed on Sept. 5 of last year, that none of these nations would conclude a separate peace. On the same day that this request was made Count Inouye, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain, replied that he had been authorized by his Government to give "their full and complete adherence to the terms of this declaration."

Italy also is a party to this agreement, having given adhesion to it at the time she entered the war, last May.

Alleged Plan of von Buelow.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30. — Commenting on Japan's adherence to the mutual pledge of the Allies not to make a separate peace, The Chronicle says this morning:

"Amid the reawakened rumors of German efforts to secure an advantageous peace, this strengthening of the Allies' bond comes as a refreshing fact.

"An example of alleged German activities in the direction of a truce is given by the Genoa Tribune, which says that Prince von Bülow has arrived at Lucerne, Switzerland, with two others, and is charged to find, along with Mgr. Marchette, a definitive formula for the conclusion of peace, which the Pontiff will present as an intermediary to the Quadruple Entente."

SEES NEW GERMAN DESIGN.

Lord Sydenham Thinks They Would Blame Allies for Prolonging War.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—Although admitting that he had no information which would lead him to feel certain that the current reports regarding peace overtures were true, Lord Sydenham said in The Pall Mall Gazette yesterday that he thought there was basis for the rumors.

"I should say," he said in the interview, "that the overtures were mainly inspired by the now certain impossibility of German success in the west and the growing difficulties of the misconceived and dangerous advance into Russia. From first to last the Germans have not won a great military success, and although every effort has been made to maintain in the minds of the German people and of neutrals confidence in the ultimate result, there must be many who realise that the prospects of ultimate victory are growing dimmer.

"Without in the least wishing to underrate the tremendous difficulties that lie before us and the great efforts which are still essential on the part of the Allies, it does not seem unreasonable to suppose that the Germans may consider the time has come to fly kites indicating, at least apparently, their desire for immediate peace, although they may have another motive—by this I mean a desire to intimate to neutrals that they have arrived at a reasonable attitude of mind and that the whole responsibility for the further horrors of war must rest with the Allies."

KAISER'S MILLION A MYTH.

Official German Denial That He Has a Bank of England Credit.

AMSTERDAM, Saturday, Oct. 30, (via London.)—The North German Gazette, the official organ of the German Government, a copy of which has been received here, gives denial to a report that has been in circulation to the effect that Emperor William has a private credit of $1,000,000 in the Bank of England.

The newspaper also reiterates the denial of the report that thirty Belgians have been sentenced to death at Liege.

Russia Has Alcohol to Export.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 29, (via London.)—With the object of utilizing heavy stocks of alcohol now available, the Minister of Finances has recommended the export of 80,000,000 gallons.

ANNUITIES
reduced rates. $100,000,000 security. Best provision for old age income. THE JOHNSTON & COLLINS CO. 55 Liberty St.

BLOCKADE CLAIMS SHRINK BY MILLIONS

Value of American Goods at Rotterdam Less Than $15,000,000 Instead of $150,000,000.

ONLY 500 INVOICES FILED

Release Applications So Far Cover a Total of $7,500,000 — England Refuses Extensions.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The widely circulated report that the American-owned goods contracted for before last March to be delivered by German and Austrian firms, and tied up for months at Rotterdam and other neutral points, were valued at upward of $150,000,000 was exploded today.

The Foreign Trade Advisers of the State Department have learned that the value of the goods is not much more than $11,000,000, and certainly not greater than $15,000,000 at the outside. This estimate is based on actual claims presented by American importers, who have applied through the Foreign Trade Advisers to the British Embassy for permits to bring out the goods under the agreement of the British Government to allow them to come through on evidence that they actually were contracted for before March 1. Under this agreement American importers were asked to file their claims, with the required proof, with the Foreign Trade Advisers.

To date about 500 claims have been filed. The value of these goods is about $7,500,000. Many of the claims describe comparatively small amounts of goods. Most of them are for consignments worth about 1,000 francs. The British Government so far has acted favorably on about sixty of the claims, and these represented goods worth about $1,500,000. Only two of the 500 claims have been rejected by the British authorities, but a fourth of the total number have been returned by the British Embassy to the Trade Advisers for correction.

When the clamor for the movement of these goods was first raised it was asserted that $50,000,000 was involved. Then the figure went up to about $150,000,000. This figure was even regarded as reliable in official circles here. The applications thus far filed indicate either that American importers have been very backward about seeking special permits through Washington or that they have ignored Washington and have presented their claims through lawyers at London.

The State Department received a cablegram today from Ambassador Page at London, saying that the British Government had refused to grant the informal request of the United States for an extension, from March 1, 1915, to March 15, 1915, the time within which German-made goods must have been actually contracted for in order to be covered by the release agreement. The United States has been insisting that the British Order in Council, regardless of whether it is to be considered as binding in its entirety, should not be made retroactive, and that, therefore, it should not cover shipments of goods actually contracted for, and for which American importers were liable, before March 15, 1915. This was the date when the official notification of the Order in Council was brought to the attention of American importers officially. The first announcement that the British blockade was made in the British Parliament was finally on March 1, 1915, but approximately two weeks elapsed before the order was actually issued. The British Government's refusal to extend the time to March 15 is based on the argument that while American importers may not have had official notice of the Order in Council before that date, it is probable that they may have had an intimation that something of the kind was about to be done.

The result of this decision is that special permits will not be granted for the movement of goods contracted for by American importers, between March 1 and March 15, 1915.

The British Government also has declined to extend until Dec. 1, the time within which applications for release permits may be filed, but has adhered to its decision that such permits to be considered by the British Embassy, must be in the hands of Trade Advisers of the United States by Nov. 1. Applications bearing date of Nov. 1, will be regarded as being in the hands of the Foreign Trade Advisers by that time.

FOR WAR COUNCIL OF THREE

London Paper Suggests These May Be Asquith, Balfour, Kitchener.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—The Daily News's lobby correspondent says that the Cabinet meeting yesterday further considered the make-up of the war council.

"Although the matter is not yet definitely settled," he says, "the Ministerial view inclines at the moment to an inner council of three. In this case the three Ministers would probably be the Prime Minister, (Asquith) the First Lord of the Admiralty (Balfour) and the Secretary for War, (Kitchener.)

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30.—Simultaneously with the newspaper demands for a smaller Cabinet, which has apparently resulted in Premier Asquith adopting as a compromise the constitution of an inner war council, there has arisen in some quarters an advocacy of a creation of a general staff on the German plan.

The Weekly Nation says it believes the lack of such a body has been responsible for the graver errors of the war. It states that such a staff was suggested by Lord Haldane, former Minister of War, after conferences with the ablest heads in the army, but that "unfortunately on the outbreak of the war Earl Kitchener dissipated and destroyed it, and from that moment the Government relied on the single initiative of Kitchener."

TOY SALE TO AID WOUNDED.

Wonderful Collection Here the Work of French Soldiers.

Thousands of toys, all the work of maimed French soldiers, in the near future are to be placed on exhibition and offered for sale in this city. The exhibition, which will be held in the old Knickerbock Club, Thirty-second Street and Fifth Avenue, will be under the auspices of the Lafayette Committee and under the patronage of more than a hundred well-known New York men and women. Mrs. William Astor Chanler of the Lafayette Fund is the moving spirit in the movement.

Mme. Le Verrier of the Federation du Jouet of Paris, who will represent the French Committee, is at the Vanderbilt Hotel. There she exhibited yesterday afternoon a few of the thousands of dolls that are in the exhibition, among them some wonderful little fashion dolls, all garbed in the latest Parisian styles.

Multi-telegraphing by Photography.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CHRISTIANIA, Oct. 29, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—A Norwegian, Frederik Dahl, has lately patented in several countries a system, with the aid of which, he asserts, he will be able to transmit any number of words simultaneously by means of an automatic photographic electric apparatus. Experts are of the opinion that the invention will revolutionise the present methods of telegraphing.

BELL-ANS
Absolutely Relieves Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.
Contains no harmful or deleterious substance

ITALIANS ATTACK IN RENEWED FORCE

Vienna Reports Violent Assaults on Austrian Lines, But Says All Were Repulsed.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—New and violent attacks are being made by Italy's forces on the Austrian front, especially on the east before Gorizia. The Austrian official bulletin says:

Yesterday the Italian Second and Third Armies recommenced a general attack with all their strength. A battle is proceeding along the whole coastal front. Infantry attacks have been preceded by artillery preparation which in several sectors increased to an incessant fire. Especially against the Görizia Bridgehead it reached unprecedented violence. Neither this fire nor the following storms could affect our troops.

Our troops again sanguinarily repulsed the enemy on the whole front and maintained their positions which often were destroyed. Where the enemy penetrated trenches he was repulsed by immediate counter-attacks. The difficult day ended with a complete failure for the Italians. It was followed by a calm night.

In the Dolomites the hostile activity continues undiminished. Here the enemy directed most violent attacks against Col di Lana, where yesterday two attacks again collapsed. An Italian aviator bombarded the Castle of Miramar.

This official statement comes from the Italian Headquarters:

Our troops continue with unabated energy their tenacious and successful efforts against the obstacles of the enemy's positions, undiscouraged by the bad weather.

In the Valley of Lazarina we have conquered the last position remaining in the enemy's possession on the Mago Nori road, that is the Monte Glovo heights of Tierno Besagno Talpina.

On the Upper Cordevole our forward march on the right of the Torrent has progressed to the west of the steep hill of Sorarucs, which was conquered on the 18th. On the left we stormed more of the field forts with which the flanks of Colonel Di Lans are covered.

In the Monte Nero Zone gradual ascents of the summits of Vodil and Mrzli are being carried on at the cost of incessant attacks, which are overcoming one of the powerful obstacles of defense. Our Alpine troops again yesterday conquered several strong enemy trenches, taking 270 prisoners, eight of whom were officers.

Field forts and trenches also were stormed, first, on Santa Maria height in the Plava zone, twenty-four prisoners being taken; second, on the heights of Pevona Podgora, and, third, on Carso, where the total prisoners yesterday were 210, including three officers. We also took a machine gun.

Our aeroplanes made raids yesterday on Bainsizza and the Carso plateau, bombarding Valle Laca (Idria railroad and the Gorizia-Triste railroad) at several points and hitting enemy camps and columns on the march. Notwithstanding the violent fire of numerous anti-aerial guns our aeroplanes returned unscathed.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The Austrians expect a resumption of the Italian offensive on a large scale in the near future. General Nicioi di Robilant has been made the new commander of the Italian Fourth Army.

BRITISH CASUALTIES NOW OVER 550,000

Were 111,311 from Aug. 21 to Oct. 9; 74,297 in October.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—British casualties from the beginning of the war to Oct. 9 were 493,294. The losses were distributed as follows:

CASUALTIES IN WESTERN AREA.

	Killed.	Wounded.	Missing.
Officers	4,401	9,169	1,567
Other ranks	63,059	225,716	61,134

Total casualties in all operations:

	Killed.	Wounded.	Missing.
Officers	6,660	12,644	2,000
Other ranks	94,982	304,832	72,177

Total casualties among officers, 21,293; among other ranks, 472,001.

These figures were contained in a written statement sent by Premier Asquith to the House of Commons.

The total casualties in October, computed from the War Office lists which have been published daily during the month, were 3,110 officers and 71,187 non-commissioned officers and men, bringing the total for the war up to a figure probably in excess of 550,000.

A recruiting advertisement says that 30,000 men weekly are desired to fill up the ranks and meet new requirements.

British casualties up to Aug. 21, as given officially on Sept. 14, were 381,083. This shows a total between Aug. 21 and Oct. 9 of 111,311, or a daily average of 2,271. Losses between June 9 and Aug. 21 averaged about 1,500 daily. The marked increase in the toll over the Summer losses may be accounted for primarily by the heavy fighting on the western front at the time of the French and British offensive movement last month.

25,000 SYRIANS STARVING.

Mountaineers Take Refuge in a Persian Town—Americans Aid Them.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Foreign Office has received a dispatch from Mr. Shipley, the British Consul at Tabriz, Persia, which says that 25,000 Syrian mountaineers from the Tyari and adjacent districts have taken refuge in Salmas and that 10,000 more are expected there. All are destitute, and unless help is received many of them will inevitably perish, as Winter is close at hand.

Mr. Shipley adds that the American Relief Committee, under the Presidency of the United States Consul, is endeavoring to do all that is possible, but that its funds are entirely inadequate to meet the requirements of the situation, which justifies an urgent appeal to the charity of Great Britain. Mr. Shipley suggests that all funds be sent to him for distribution through the American Committee, which, he believes, is the best agency for giving effective relief.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 29. — The Indian Government announces the termination of the occupation of Bushire, Persia, the Persian Government having taken steps to insure order and the security of British interests.

$25 For A Big-Value Blue Cheviot Suit

This Suit is ¼ silk lined, with silk sleeves and silk-back waistcoat.

Among the big values we are giving, this Blue Cheviot is one of the biggest in every way—fabric, tailoring, style and PRICE.

JOHN DAVID
STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES
Broadway at 32nd Street

JULES IN EPAULETS WEARS A WAR MEDAL

Onetime Proprietor of the Sans Souci Now a French Officer and Alive and Well.

WON HONORS AT THE FRONT

Enlisted as a Private, but Gained a Lieutenancy and Croix de Guerre for Service in the Trenches.

One uncertainty that has prevailed in Times Square and among those who affect that locality when the lights are on may now be banished. Jules has been located. He is not dead, as word from the front has made it appear more than once since Jules rushed off soon after the breaking out of hostilities to fight for France. On the contrary, he is very much alive and well, and he wears the shoulder straps of a lieutenant and the Croix de Guerre, the French military medal which some have preferred to the decoration of the Legion of Honor.

A New York man, who is very well known about town, and who has just returned from a business tour of England, Italy, and France, brings the news of Jules, whom everybody has known who has known the night life of Times Square. When he was a clerk in the Carlton Hotel in London he had the name of Ansaldi. Some years ago, upon the advice of an American friend, Jules came to the United States and got a job in a Philadelphia hotel. He had not been here long when he found that the best way for a European to make money in the hotel business over here was to forget his family name and take up a tray. So M. Ansaldi boarded a train for New York and landed here as mere "Jules." In brief time he had blossomed out as one of the best known figures in the Broadway restaurant business, and when the magnificent gipsom of the big eating and dancing palace just below Forty-second Street, in Broadway, now no more, appeared in its final phase as the Café de Paris Jules became its head waiter. Then when the modern dance craze approached its zenith Jules went into partnership with the Castles and opened the Sans Souci, next door, and shared in the vast sum harvested Winter before last by that underground temple of tango and trot. It was said of Jules that he was one of the few restaurant managers who could ask a patron $7.50 for a bottle of ordinary champagne and get away with it.

First to the War.

Jules was one of the first of his countrymen over here to heed the call of France, and he sailed away on the very first French liner that left New York after the outbreak of hostilities. Since then word has come back several times as to his death and the manner of his taking-off. The news from Jules, the first authentic information of him that has come since he left for the front, has been brought by the New York traveler just returned.

"I was at the Café de Paris (in Paris) for luncheon one day not long ago," he said yesterday, "and found the place crowded with men in uniform. Englishmen, Belgians, and French officers on leave made up most of the patronage of the place that was not feminine. Most of them were in uniform. Something about the appearance of a man at the next table to mine attracted my attention. He was in a French uniform, and he sat with several other officers. I saw that he apparently recognized me, but for the life of me I could not place him. Finally he turned squarely around.

"'Why, Mr. Blank, don't you know me?' he asked. And then, upon my appearing puzzled, he said: 'Why, I am Jules—Jules of the old Café de Paris and the Sans Souci, in New York.'

"I don't think I should ever have recognized him, he had got so big, so tanned, and so fine looking. He wore the uniform of a Second Lieutenant in the Chasseurs à Cheval, and the numeral on his collar indicated that he belonged to the Eighteenth Regiment of that arm of the service. Upon the breast of this smart cavalryman was the War Medal.

"'This is the first leave of absence I have had in the year I have been over here,' he told me, 'and you are the very first of my old patrons I have seen since I left New York.'

Enlisted as a Private.

"'When the war began I was 41 and too old to be called, so I came back to France and volunteered by services. I enlisted as a private in my old cavalry regiment and saw service all through the early part of the war and the flanking movement that drove the Germans back from Paris. After our experiences in the neighborhood of Ostend, where it developed that cavalry was of no avail, our regiment was dismounted and we served in the trenches.'

"Jules was so excited over meeting me and hearing about New York that he couldn't eat. He said his furlough was for only seven days. He had just returned from visiting his mother in the south of France, and was on his way back to join his regiment, which was then in the Vosges. He invited me to come and spend a couple of days in the trenches with him, but the military authorities prevented me from acting upon his invitation.

"I asked Jules how he had won his war medal, but he blushed, and would not tell me. I gathered that it was for some important piece of reconnoitring he had done behind the German lines. He was full of praise for the magnificent spirit of the French soldiers. I asked him if he intended returning to the restaurant business after the war. He pondered for a time.

"'I am afraid not,' he finally replied."

GARRISON CONFERS WITH MILITIA CHIEFS

Gen. O'Ryan and Others Discuss Efficiency Plans and the New Pay Bill.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The relation of the National Guard organizations to the Garrison plan of army reorganization and development was considered in a conference today between Secretary Garrison and representatives of the organized militia of the country. The Secretary conferred mainly with members of the National Militia Board and members of the Executive Committee of the National Guard Association of the United States.

The National Militia Board was created under authority of the Dick Militia Law, and is chosen by the Secretary of War. It consists of five members, of whom the following four were in the conference: Major Gen. J. F. O'Ryan of New York, Brigadier Gen. Walter A. Harris of Georgia, Colonel Wilber S. Metcalf of Kansas, and Major Fred Llewellyn of Washington. The five members of the Executive Committee of the National Guard Association who likewise took part in the conference were General J. C. R. Foster of Florida, Chairman; General C. J. Martin of Kansas, General Henry D.

DE PINNA

FIFTH AVENUE
AT THIRTY-SIXTH ST.

Saturday For Girls and Boys

The shopping day for the young folks will be marked by special De Pinna showings of coats.

For the smaller girls, particularly, every coat requirement and every dress requirement will be adequately met today.

Here are the correct coats for girls, from the serviceable school coat up to the dressy coats for afternoon wear.

And girls' dresses, from plain serges to the English smocked models.

De Pinna Coats for Young Girls

Every correct coat, for girls from 4 to 14—a most complete assortment, from which satisfactory selection is readily made to meet the requirements of each individual girl.

Chinchillas, English mixtures, corduroys and velvets, and one exceptionally good navy blue coat, of soft warmth-without-weight material.

The smart black-and-white checks and plaids, in coats for girls of all ages.

New De Pinna Models in Girls' Dresses

Regulation serges, linens, English smocked dresses and smart new velvet dresses—everything for school or afternoon wear.

Unusual styles in white piques, white and colored linens, correct wash fabrics and silks.

Accepted as the representative assortment in this country,

Practical serge dresses with detachable guimpes, shown in several models.

Velvet dresses, suitable for the younger or the older girls, with the detachable guimpes, assuring freshness at all times.

Imported English Smocked Dresses

In white or colored crepe de chine or mullcords—smocked in all white or in colors.

Different in quality from the smocked dresses usually offered.

Children's Hats

The becoming hat for every child—a De Pinna hat for every costume—all the newer shapes in velvets, cloth, fur and velour.

De Pinna Coats for Boys

Appropriate and serviceable coats for the younger boy, from 3 to 8 years, as well as for the school boys, from 8 to 16 years.

De Pinna chinchilla reefers in navy, brown or tan.

Small boys' loose-backed coats in mixtures and warmth-without-weight materials, in a variety of colorings, at $12.

Sensible School Coats for Larger Boys

Manly looking, loose-back coats, cut on English lines, in materials specially selected.

Prices, $18 and $22.

A particularly attractive coat of navy blue in a soft, dressy material, $28.

Boys' mackinaws, made of the genuine mackinaw materials—windproof, dustproof and rainproof, suitable for skating, tobogganing and winter sports—specially priced at $9; sizes, 8 to 18 years.

Also, correct hats and shoes for boys of all ages.

DE PINNA

Exclusive Outfitters for Young People

Fifth Ave. at Thirty-sixth St.

SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN IS AT HIGH PRESSURE

Autos Carry Daytime Speakers Everywhere—Rally in Madison Square Tonight.

LAP-BOARDS IN THE SUBWAY

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont Says Federal Amendment Is Next Point of Attack if New York Votes "No."

The busiest place in all New York yesterday was the headquarters of the Woman Suffrage Party, 48 East Thirty-fourth Street, from which a great deal of the local work of the city starts. All day long there were automobiles and carts and other vehicles used for campaigning driving up to the door and away. Inside the building, which is a large, old-fashioned residence, there was a whir of affairs as great as in any political headquarters of men. Typewriters were clacking, telephones ringing, and men and women were coming and going all day long.

Six sandwich girls who announced last night's Carnegie Hall meeting started from the headquarters in the afternoon in three large autos. They stopped at street corners all over the city where speakers announced the meeting, and two sandwich girls in each auto stood on the seats that the message of their boards might be seen. There were buglers to announce each meeting. Miss Rose Bower, Miss Elsie Benedict, Miss Mary Newcomb, Miss Helen Morriam, Miss Esther Lee, and Miss Mathilda Spence were the sandwich girls.

Toys For the Children.

The suffrage Baby Truck, filled with toys, started from the headquarters later in the day decorated with kewpies and suffrage balloons and carrying little brooms, balloons, and trumpets to be given to the children who came to the mothers' meetings of which the truck was yesterday a feature. There were three autos of mothers, including two grandmothers. Addresses were made to other mothers in the Forty-fourth Street and Forty-second Street and Fifth Avenue; at Fifty-ninth Street and Fifth Avenue, and at Forty-second Street and Third Avenue. Among the mothers speaking were Mrs. Katherine B. Withrow, Mrs. Harvey Wiley Corbet, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, Mrs. Frederic Gillette, Mrs. M. B. Morgan, and Mrs. W. C. Demorest.

On the big platform for the orchestra at the Madison Square out-door rally tonight the 100-piece Beethoven Symphony Orchestra will have the assistance of trumpeters garbed as angels, one on each corner of the stand. Two great searchlights will fill the east side of Madison Square with light. Gas balloons will be released and there will be fireworks. Robert Maitland of the London Opera Company, a member of the Men's Suffrage League of London; Charles B. Bowes, Miss Caroline Ortman, dressed as a Columbia, will sing. Bernhardt, the communal singer, will come on from Buffalo to lead the chorus singing. R. C. Beadle and James Lees Laidlaw of the Men's League have written suffrage words to be sung to the airs of "Rally 'Round the Flag," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Borough President Marks, J. Stitt Wilson, Raymond Robins, and Commissioner Katharine B. Davis will speak. Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw will preside.

Lap-Board Ladies Today.

There are to be large numbers of "Lap-Board Ladies," the title adopted by the women who are to ride up and down in the subway trains today and Monday holding in their laps placards which will refute anti-suffrage statements which are in the advertising space in the subway stations. There will be fifty teachers under Miss Katherine B. Blake. Mrs. John Blair, who originated the name, will lead fifty others in the demonstration, including Miss Leila Wittier, Miss Bessie Brainard, Miss Theodora Bean, Miss Ethel Lloyd Patterson, Mrs. Rose O'Neill, Miss Alista O'Neill, Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse and Mrs. Henry Wise Miller. This party will be at the Seventy-second Street subway station at 2 o'clock today.

A flying squadron of fifty autos will visit the thirty-five Assembly districts in Manhattan and the Bronx on Monday, starting from the Battery after a meeting there at 10 o'clock in the morning. Many of the prominent speakers of the Woman Suffrage Party will take part in this last appeal for votes, answering last arguments of the antis.

The League for Political Education, a neutral organization, will hold one of its meetings in Carnegie Hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock and there will be six-minute addresses for and against on the subject, "Ought Woman Suffrage to Win?" For woman suffrage will be Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn, Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, and Mrs. William Vanamee, and against will be Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, Lucy J. Price, and Minnie Bronson.

The New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage will wind up its activities at a mass meeting this evening in Carnegie Hall. George W. Wickersham will preside. James M. Beck, Colonel John F. Irish of California, John A. Matthews of Newark, and Miss Minnie Bronson, General Secretary of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, will speak. Three boxes will be occupied by New Jersey anti-suffragists. All the boxes have been taken. A large number of prominent men have allowed their names to be used as Vice Presidents. Among them are the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, Fritz Achelis, the Rev. Dr. Anson F. Atterbury, R. Fulton Cutting, Dr. Charles L. Dana, Bishop David H. Greer, the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, Elihu Root, Talcott Williams, and George Zabriskie.

Preparing for this meeting the Women's Political Union has had printed on a leaflet an extract from the speech of Mr. Wickersham made at the annual banquet of the New York Southern Society on Dec. 9, 1914. Mr. Wickersham was speaking upon the relation of the black and the white races, and a part of the extract which the union has had printed in italics reads:

"I believe that no people can thrive and advance in the ways of freedom and right living if side by side there are working with them ten millions of people, disfranchised from all voice in the affairs of Government."

Mr. Wickersham said also that "a man, black or yellow, red or white" has "a right under the law to be heard in the making of the laws that govern him and in the selection of those who administer them."

Following the quotation the union asks: "How about woman's 'right to be heard,' Mr. Wickersham?"

Stanton Luncheon Today.

At the Elizabeth Cady Stanton Centennial luncheon in the Hotel Astor today Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch will make an appeal to some of the society women who will be present to form in squads and distribute these leaflets among the visitors to the anti-suffrage meeting at Carnegie Hall in the evening. The luncheon is to be a very large affair, with many prominent people speaking.

There will be an anti-suffrage meeting at the Masonic Temple in Brooklyn, Clermont and Lafayette Avenues, tonight and Everett P. Wheeler and Colonel John P. Irish will tell why they think the women should not vote.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, President of the Political Equality Association gave out an interview yesterday in which she said she saw a wonderful change in the attitude of the general public to the suffrage question.

"Not long ago it was almost impossible to get a man to consider the subject," she said, "and now I find that they come into our headquarters and buy literature because they want to understand the question. Miss Florence Harmon, who does most of the speaking for the Association is often kept out with her mother, until 1 o'clock in the morning answering questions. The men are so interested they buy literature of her on the street and give generously to the contributions for the work. As suffrage is only a question of reason and justice, as soon as people begin to consider it they will favor it."

Newport Women's Attitude.

Asked about the stand of people in society, Mrs. Belmont said:

"Last Summer was the third year that I have had headquarters at Newport, and the change in feeling there was remarkable. A great many of the younger women have now begun to take an interest in suffrage. Some of the younger men have, too, but there are not so many men at Newport. The older women are decidedly opposed, and they will not change. They are the women property holders of Newport. Most of the estates in Newport are owned by women, and there are many widows. They have everything they want, and they do not care about anything else. All the large business men and corporations are opposed to woman suffrage. Many of the women in Newport have their money in trust, and they take the advice of their trustees or business managers, and they oppose woman suffrage.

"After the election, whether the women win in New York State or not, there will be a general turn toward the Federal Amendment. If the women do not win here, they will go on with the campaign in the State, but there will not be much to do, and they may as well torment the members of the Federal Government. I expect to spend a great deal of my own time in Washington this Winter."

Mrs. Belmont will hear the election returns on Long Island. The Woman Suffrage Party, 48 East Thirty-fourth Street, will keep open house all evening of Election Day. The Empire State Campaign Committee, which is on the twentieth floor of 303 Fifth Avenue, in a big business building, will close its offices and some of them will hear returns in East Thirty-fourth Street. The National Headquarters at 505 Fifth Avenue may be open, with the National President, Dr. Shaw, there to hear the returns. The Women's Political Union will keep open house at the Suffrage Shop, 663 Fifth Avenue, with special election night wires.

ALL READY FOR TUESDAY.

Suffrage Campaigners Expect to Reap Reward of Hard Work.

All is ready in New York for the big drive at the ballot box by the forces of woman suffrage next Tuesday, and the suffragist leaders are predicting sure victory as the result of their campaign.

The rally at Carnegie Hall last night, the hundreds of speeches made from automobiles throughout the city by day and by electric light, the distribution of literature by hundreds of eager-faced advocates of "Votes for Women" were surface indications of the activities at the principal suffrage centres.

As far as actual work is concerned, however, the leaders of the suffrage cause are finished. Their plans for the mobilization of next Tuesday morning are complete, and their final estimates, based partly on house-to-house canvasses and partly on womanly intuition, have been made. Never before had the suffragists carried their ideas of political organization to such lengths as during the last few weeks.

Machine Based On Former Petitions.

The basis of the machine was formed by the petitions gathered seven years ago. From these the nucleus of the banks of card indexes with which the armies of suffrage have been operating were developed. The headquarters of the Empire State Campaign Committee, at 303 Fifth Avenue, has been crowded with the scouts of the "cause," and from the city headquarters, the house of the Woman Suffrage Party at 48 East Thirty-fourth Street, hundreds of canvassers have been sent out.

With sections of the polling lists in hand, the canvassers, going in twos, have hailed practically every voter and asked him to declare himself. The stacks of cards bearing the names of the masters of the franchise are all marked in red ink. "S" before a name means "For Suffrage," "I" denotes "Indifference," and "U" means "Unconverted." At first the instructions were to use the letter "O" for "Opposed," but the order was given to refer only to "Conversion." The feminine idea of masculine mental processes, it is stated, is that once a man is set down as opposed to anything he is likely to stay in that state to the end of the chapter.

The system, which has reached its highest development in the closing days of the campaign, is based on that of the old line political organizations of the men. It resembles the Republican organization somewhat, but it is more like Tammany Hall. It has the elaborate detail, the closeness of contact, and the general adaptability of the Democratic organization. Throughout it are seen strange examples of womanly insight and of womanly economies.

To Get Best Results for the Money.

The object is to get the largest display out of the least amount of money. There have been big sums raised not only by the women of the city and the State, but by those in the commonwealths where suffrage obtains. The sinews of war are not lacking. All the same, every costume, every property used in the parades and spectacles is carefully preserved and checked up. The wagons used for the parades are so arranged that the lettering on them is interchangeable. One wagon may do duty in many districts in twenty-four hours and yet always be lettered and numbered as though it were made especially for that part of the city.

Here is a political organization which in the last week has got beyond the plans of its creators and is running under a terrific pressure. The power is too much for the machine.

"System," said one of the suffragist leaders yesterday—"we had one when we started, but the bubbling enthusiasm of the last few days has got beyond it. We work as hard as we can to make it keep up, and that is the best we can do about it. We are going to win, and reorganize afterwards."

There were held yesterday 250 open-air meetings for the cause of suffrage in the five boroughs. The orators for them were provided from the Speakers Bureau at the quarters of the Woman's Suffrage Party. Miss Mary C. Francis, who spends her time with three telephones, is in charge of the bureau. She is a veteran campaigner, for in 1912 she was in charge of the Women's Publicity Bureau of the Republican National Committee. Ten automobiles carry the relays of speakers about the city, and four of them are actually owned by the party. Such a thing as twenty-six hour meetings are unknown in man-made politics, but the suffragists have had many of them, and from their headquarters have kept scores of speakers speeding in automobiles to the fore. In the Thirty-fourth Street headquarters scores of them can be seen resting these days, waiting to hurry out to address the people.

Arrangements have been made for 2,500 women watchers and pickets to be at the polls on Election Day in the Borough of Manhattan alone. According to the law, although the suffragists do not constitute a political party in the strictest sense, they are permitted to have a watcher at each polling place. They will also have a picket at each side of every poll at the proper distance to give instructions as to the method of voting and to show sample ballots. Each volunteer for these services receives copies of instructions and is schooled in her duties.

When the polls open next Tuesday, if their plans work out as the suffragists expect, there will be thousands of women on duty.

At the offices of the Empire State Campaign Committee yesterday it was confidently asserted, in view of the work that had been done in the last few weeks, that victory would certainly perch on the yellow banner.

Exact figures are not given. The advocates of suffrage say that such a procedure is all very foolish, but they know for several reasons that they are going to win. In the first place, the registration was large, and the increase they consider as favorable to the cause. The arguments have been well received, according to the view of the campaigners, and the various parades and spectacles have attracted and held public attention.

The Empire State Campaign Committee is willing to accept the figures of its opponents, that is, that the cause of suffrage will come down to the Harlem with a majority of 40,000 votes. The committee is confident also of carrying New York City. It regards Manhattan Borough as won by a comfortable majority, but not a large one, and claims Brooklyn, Richmond, and the Bronx. About Queens it is in doubt.

Miss Mary Garrett Hay, the City Campaign Manager, was able to spare a few minutes to discuss the outcome. She declares that suffrage will win a victory, not a sweeping one, perhaps, but all the same it will surely win.

Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, who is managing the activities in the Borough of Manhattan, said that the women of the State had before them a task that ought to have been attended to long ago, but that on Nov. 2 they were going to do it. She saw an overwhelming victory for suffrage.

Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, the leader of the Woman's Political Union, estimates that the suffragist amendment will be adopted in this State by a majority of less than 10,000. She does not think that the cause will carry in the city on account of the opposition which has developed in certain of the foreign quarters.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, President of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, declares that suffrage will win in New York State.

Navy Advisers for Suffrage.

The National College Equal Suffrage League, of which Dr. M. Carey Thomas, the President of Bryn Mawr College, is at the head, announced that it had made a poll of the Naval Consulting Board, and had found ten friends. They are Thomas A. Edison, Chairman; Hudson Maxim, W. L. Saunders, Arthur Goron Webster, Dr. L. H. Baekeland, Henry A. Wise Wood, Dr. W. H. Whitney, Lawrence Addicks, Matthew B. Sellers, and Professor Joseph W. Richards. The only negative opinion from the twenty-three members was that of Thomas Robins of Stamford, Conn.

The announcement was made also that Jacob H. Schiff had informed the Empire State Committee that he would vote for the Woman Suffrage Amendment, because he believed that women need the right to vote.

There will be addresses in the churches tomorrow, and on Monday a flying squadron of fifty high-powered automobiles will speed through the city, bearing speakers who will give that last word.

URGE SUFFRAGE ON EAST SIDE.

Speakers Applauded by Crowd in Tompkins Square Park.

The Suffrage Club of the Henry Street Settlement met last night at Tompkins Square Park, and several thousand persons were present.

The meeting was arranged by Miss Edith Borg, a director of the Settlement, and addresses were made by Florence Kelley, Mary Dreier, I. Epstein of the United Hebrew Trades; William Weiss, an executive member of the Republican Club of the Sixth Assembly District; Jerome Buck of the Thirteenth Assembly District Tammany organization, and Miss Lillian Wald.

The announcement that Jacob H. Schiff had declared he would vote for suffrage evoked prolonged applause, which was equaled only by that given Miss Dora Da Vera of the Boston Opera Company, who sang selections in French, German, and Italian. For encores she responded with the battle hymns of suffrage and the National Anthem.

A band played and the meeting dispersed with the singing of "Rally 'Round the Flag."

MRS. SAGE GIVES $2,500.

Increases Her Contribution for Suffrage Cause to $7,500.

Mrs. Russell Sage has given a check of $2,500 to Mrs. J. Hedges Crowell to be used for expenses of the woman suffrage campaign, the amount bringing Mrs. Sage's contributions for the purpose up to $7,500. She said, in making the last contribution:

"I have been on the woman's rights question since 1848 and now, with taxes and no representation, do more than ever say, 'Give woman a voting power.'"

In previous woman suffrage campaigns, when Mrs. Sage had a home in Fifth Avenue near Forty-second Street, she opened her house for suffrage meetings, which many of her friends attended.

Vare Opposes Suffrage.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Orders were issued to the Republican ward leaders by the City Committee today to support the proposed constitutional amendments with the exception of the one granting suffrage to women. Congressman William S. Vare issued the order at a meeting of the committee called to make final preparations for the election.

FIND OUTLOOK POOR FOR SUFFRAGE VOTE

Central and Western Massachusetts Disappoint Leaders of Equal Franchise Fight.

ANTIS FORCE THE FIGHT

Report a Swing from Suffrage in Springfield — Suffragists Say Liquor Interests Oppose Them.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 29.—Information obtained today in Central and Western Massachusetts concerning the political situation served to confirm the belief of most political leaders that the woman suffrage amendment will be defeated on Tuesday. Investigations in some of the larger cities, such as Worcester, Springfield, and Pittsfield, and the districts adjacent to them, show that even the suffrage leaders are not overconfident. The antis said that they believed the amendment was doomed to defeat. There were suffragists who said that "things didn't look very well."

One of the most active campaigns by the suffragists outside of Boston is being conducted in Springfield, which will cast about 15,000 votes. The suffragists there are not boasting loudly of a large majority for the amendment. The antis, headed by Miss Annie Stebbins, make no predictions in figures, as they say it is difficult to get an accurate line on the vote, but they are going about their work in a most confident manner. That also is about the situation in Pittsfield.

The suffragists in Western Massachusetts have conducted a vigorous campaign. They have held parades and many meetings, and have flooded the State with literature. That they have made great headway there can be no doubt, but as one of them expressed it: "I don't know what the result will be, but I am sorry that the test had to come so soon. If we are defeated it may do much harm and tend to tear down some of our constructive work which would probably have swung the vote a few years from now.

The Springfield Republican is advocating suffrage in its editorial columns, but the reports it has received from almost all the districts are decidedly gloomy from the suffrage point of view. A published summary of the situation outside the city is headed, "Small Towns Not Favorable." Here is a paragraph quoted from one of the dispatches:

The suffrage amendment will lose in Pittsfield, 5 to 3, according to the present outlook and according to the reasoning of some of the city's residents who have followed the matter closely and come in contact with hundreds of voters. Recognizing the fact that woman suffrage is bound to come some time, the majority of Pittsfield men seem to feel that it is just as well to delay it as long as possible.

Another dispatch is headed: "Lenox Strongly Anti," and still another contains this passage: "It is difficult to find a man who believes that suffrage will be carried in Northampton or in the State." The Amherst correspondent reports that "a lack of enthusiasm seems to pervade the ranks of the suffrage leaders," and that "the general sentiment seems to be against suffrage this year."

In some of the small western towns the indications are for a close vote and in one or two instances victory is predicted for suffrage. North Adams is reported as against the amendment.

Those suffragists who have been predicting victory in Springfield put the majority at about 2,000. The antis say that they will easily defeat the amendment, quoting 1,500 as a very conservative estimate for the majority against it, but offering this more as a guess than anything else.

The antis have been working quietly for some time, but did not have public headquarters in Springfield until ten days ago. Then they came to the conclusion that it was foolish to let the suffragists have it all their own way, and rented a store, in front of which they swung a banner. Miss Stebbins said that the number of men who came after literature was really a surprise to her. She thought a steady swing away from suffrage had started in the last week and that the antis were gaining strength in the closing days of the campaign. There are 400 women affiliated now with the organization in Springfield.

It was as difficult to learn the views of the Democratic and Republican organizations in Worcester, Springfield, and Pittsfield as to the suffrage amendment as it was in Boston. The political leaders declined to talk for publication. The impression, however, was gained that in the central and western parts of the State, as in Boston, the Republican Party, if anything, opposes the adoption of the amendment, while the Democrats, if not neutral, lean just a trifle in favor of it.

In Central and Western Massachusetts, as in Boston and the eastern cities and towns, the city is raised by the suffragists that the liquor interests are working against them in a most determined manner. The Springfield Republican, which says that "political observers predict that this city will turn its strength against the amendment," prints this paragraph:

The most active opposition against the amendment so far has been that of the liquor interests of the city. They have an organized campaign, which is being directed by skillful politicians. They began work several weeks ago, and were quite active in registering new voters. They are conducting a quiet campaign, and, from all accounts, are reaching the voters. The influence of this campaign cannot be discounted, for it is generally believed that it will prove a big factor in determining the outcome of the contest.

Miss Stebbins, the anti-suffrage leader, when questioned on this line, said: "Now, can you believe, or can anybody believe, that any of us here are working hand and glove with the liquor interests? We hear that, but we know nothing about it. If the liquor dealers are against the amendment and are spending a lot of money we know nothing about it, and have had none of the money here. In fact, we haven't much money to spend from any source. We are simply working by ourselves in a cause in which we fully believe—the defeat of the suffrage proposition."

The part that the liquor interests have played in the campaign in Boston was, it was said, responsible indirectly for the organization of the Massachusetts Men Voters Equal Suffrage Campaign Committee, a sort of insurgent body formed by five former members of the Massachusetts Men's League for Woman Suffrage. John Crowley led this bolt, and one of his followers was Roger Sherman Hoar, once an Assistant Attorney General. The real cause of the trouble was Dennis Reardon, who now has a café in Washington Street.

Mr. Reardon, so the story goes, had aroused the anger of certain members of the original men's suffrage organization by his opposition to suffrage in the Nineteenth District at the primaries on Sept. 21. Mr. Hoar and some others urged efforts to beat him on the suffrage issue. Other members of the suffrage organization said that it "wouldn't be a dignified thing to do," and clung to that position.

So Messrs. Crowley, Hoar and others deserted, formed the Campaign Committee, and went after Mr. Reardon. That there was something to the assertion that it was "undignified" Mr. Hoar admitted, for he was hit with a lump of mud at the first street meeting. But he beat Reardon at the primaries, and the new Suffrage Campaign Committee became a permanent organization.

How the Progressive members will vote is a question, especially in the western part of the State, where the Progressives are strong. Nelson B. Clark, Progressive candidate for Governor, says they will fall in line for suffrage, and most of the suffragettes believe that statement to be true. The antis, however, have quietly made polls and hold a somewhat different view. They admit that many Progressives will vote for suffrage, but not a large majority by any means.

The suffragists had a big rally here tonight. Senator Borah and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw were the speakers. The suffrage campaign will close tomorrow evening with a demonstration on the Common.

CARNEGIE HALL CROWDED.

Great Enthusiasm at Last Big Indoor Suffrage Rally.

Every seat in Carnegie Hall was filled last evening, and many persons stood throughout the last big indoor campaign rally of the Woman Suffrage Party.

The platform, at the back of which were massed big American flags, was as crowded as the house, the platform guests including many of the city officials.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the Empire State Campaign Committee, presided, and the speakers were Representative Edward F. Keating of Colorado, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and Mrs. Philip Snowden of England. John W. Keller, Chairman of Tammany Hall Speakers' Club, and former President of the National Democratic Club, was to have been one of the speakers, but at the last moment sent word that for political reasons he would not be able to be present. Mrs. Catt said that an explanation was due the audience, and as an excuse for Mr. Keller. She said that Mr. Keller had assured her that he hoped the women would win and that he would vote with them, and she felt that his absence from the meeting was another assurance that Tammany Hall would keep its promise to be neutral on the woman's question.

"When I hear that the women are to be 'knifed' by Tammany Hall," said Mrs. Catt, "I usually find that the rumor has been started by some Republican, and when I hear the Republicans are going to make a dead set against the women I find that rumor has been started by a Democrat. There are individual Democrats and Republicans who are bitter against us, but I think both machines are going to treat us fairly and squarely."

Representative Keating protested against the statements of the anti-suffragists that there was opposition to woman suffrage in the West or exception taken to its operation.

"There is not a man whose name will command respect who will say that he is against it," said Mr. Keating. "I ride in the subways here in New York and I read the anti-suffrage signs and learn many things about the West that I never knew before."

Rabbi Wise's talk was so enthusiastically applauded that he spoke to the audience again, and told them he felt like voting twice for the women on Tuesday. Rabbi Wise spoke of the war as emphasizing the fact that women should be allowed a voice in the government. There will never be a beginning of the end of war," he said, "until women have such a voice."

Mrs. Snowden said that she had spoken for suffrage in New York State all through October, and found the situation encouraging.

When the collection was taken Mrs. Catt asked for $1,000 for the "last collection ever to be taken in Carnegie Hall for Woman Suffrage." She invited the audience to a big meeting in Cooper Union on Nov. 4.

"We wish you men in particular to come," she said, "to teach us how to celebrate a victory, or if it is a victory postponed how to go on with the campaign for we can tell every conservative that we shall keep right on."

On the platform were George McAneny, President of the Board of Aldermen; Mr. and Mrs. Marcus M. Marks, City Chamberlain and Mrs. Henry M. Bruere, Robert Underwood Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Untermyer, Owen R. Lovejoy, Mr. and Mrs. David Mannes, Tenement House Commissioner John F. Murphy, City Controller William A. Prendergast, Commissioner of Charities Kingsbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis C. Demorest, with Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, and other suffrage leaders.

WOMEN LOSE HOPE IN ONONDAGA COUNTY

Syracuse Suffragists Admit They Are Engaged in a Losing Fight There.

GIVE UP JEFFERSON, TOO

Battle Closer in Madison, Cayuga, and Oswego—Business Hostile to the "Cause."

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The suffragists here admit that Onondaga County, the banner district of Central New York, will return a majority against the woman suffrage amendment next Tuesday. They express the hope that the rural counties in this vicinity in which the suffrage forces of Onondaga are operating will make up in some measure by their vote for the defeat in Onondaga.

As in every locality which THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent has visited, where the suffrage fight is conducted under the auspices of the Empire State Campaign Committee, the suffragists there have a splendid organization. Nevertheless, the leaders in the movement admit that there are large bodies of voters whom they cannot reach. The big labor vote in Syracuse, they fear, will go heavily against them, and they have found it necessary to conduct a special campaign to reach the German voters, of whom there are some 8,000 in Syracuse alone.

The territory included in the fifth campaign district, the headquarters of which is located here, includes the Counties of Onondaga, Jefferson, Madison, Cayuga, and Oswego. The woman suffrage leaders have abandoned hope of carrying Onondaga and Jefferson, which in the aggregate have about four times as many voters as the three other counties together. They still hope that Cayuga, Madison, and Oswego will return a majority for their amendment.

Oswego County Close.

The claim of the suffragists that they will carry the three counties is disputed by the political leaders in those localities, who, however, speak with some degree of reservation and admit that there is considerable sentiment in favor of woman suffrage in all three. The women believe Cayuga the safest for the amendment. The politicians are more in doubt that Oswego, which has a much larger vote than Cayuga, may vote for the amendment. This county is the home of Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, who is suspected of having leanings toward woman suffrage. Mrs. Luther W. Mott, who is the wife of Congressman Mott, Republican leader in the Congressional district of which Jefferson, Oswego, and Madison are part, is the active leader for the Empire State Campaign Committee in her home county.

In Onondaga the suffragists have had to contend with the opposition of two well oiled and smoothly running machines—the Republican organization, of which Francis Hendricks is the head, and the Democratic, under William H. Kelly, one of the State Committeemen from Onondaga. The big business men of Syracuse, too, have shown marked hostility to the suffrage cause, as they have in all other large business centres which THE TIMES correspondent has visited.

One notable exception here is Frederick R. Hazard, head of the Solvay Company which contests with the Crucible Steel Company the distinction of being the largest industrial concern in Central New York. Mr. Hazard was a progressive, as was Horace Wilkinson, President of the Crucible Steel. Mr. Hazard is active in the suffrage fight. Mr. Wilkinson is not. Mrs. Hazard, a woman of wealth and social position, is President of the Syracuse branch of the Woman's Political Union, an ally of the Empire State Campaign Committee in the suffrage fight.

According to Miss Harriet May Mills, Chairman of the Fifth District Campaign Committee, there are from five to ten thousand women enrolled in the suffrage movement in Syracuse and some thirty thousand in the district.

Leading Women in Fight.

The leadership of such women as Mrs. Hazard and Mrs. William Hutton Blauvelt in the suffrage fight has brought many of the most prominent women in Syracuse into that movement. In Onondaga, unlike other localities, it may be said that most of the prominent women are enlisted with the suffragists. Mrs. John B. Moore, the mother of Major John Stanley Moore, who is the military aide of Governor Whitman, is President of the local branch of the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. Mrs. Charles Andrews and Mrs. Irving G. Vann, both wives of former Court of Appeals Judges, are active in the anti movement and are probably the most prominent women identified with it here.

Chancellor James R. Day of Syracuse University is an active worker in the suffrage movement. He presided at one of the large meetings held here. Numerous members of the faculty have openly embraced the suffrage creed and are helping in the movement. Professor Horace A. Eaton, Professor Edgar A. Morris of the English Department, Frederick Roman, Professor of Economics; Professor Parsons of the Department of Philosophy; Professor H. Fritz, Professor A. C. Flick, Professor C. W. Caben, Professor William P. Graham of Engineering and F. Frank Moon of Forestry have all followed the lead of Chancellor Day and have come out for suffrage.

"If we shall not be able to exult over numbers on Wednesday morning we surely shall have reason to feel proud over the character of the men who have supported us at the polls," said Miss Mills. "We have the best people in Syracuse on our side."

"Some Pumpkins."

The Empire State Campaign Committee maintains an elaborate and well equipped headquarters in a busy section of South Salina Street. It is a store with big show windows. In one of these there is a typical harvest-tide display, with the inevitable pumpkin as the dominant feature of the decorative scheme. On one huge pumpkin appears the following legend: "We sure must be some pumpkins since President Wilson is with us."

"If we win in this State, as I hope we will," said Miss Mills, "we shall take all the window display out and convert this headquarters into a school of civics, where women may learn to vote right. If we lose we shall get here bright and early on Wednesday morning and start the fight all over again. If we lose, this amendment will come before the voters again three years from now. There will be no let up in our fight until woman has won political equality with man in this State."

The antis have not made much of a fight in Syracuse or anywhere in central New York. Both suffragists and antis have dropped in at the men's political rallies, where they have been allowed to make half-hour addresses. Despite this mode of campaigning, the suffrage propaganda seems to have made little impression on the rank and file of the voters in Syracuse. The vote in this city, both Republican and Democratic, will go heavily against it.

Willard A. Rill, Chairman of the Republican County Committee, said that, in his opinion, woman suffrage would be decisively beaten in Syracuse.

"It would be impossible to gauge the vote for or against it," he said. "We have not treated woman suffrage as a political issue in the campaign, and I personally have not paid any attention to it. It is the women's fight, not ours."

The city administration here is in the hands of the Progressives, who endorsed woman suffrage in their platform. Louis Will, Mayor of Syracuse, has come out for suffrage. So has the Democratic Progressive candidate for the office, Ben Wilcox. Many of the city officials are also outspoken advocates of votes for women. But the Bull Moose administration of Syracuse is looked upon more or less as a relic of a passing political order which, in all likelihood, will be supplanted by a Republican administration at the end of the year. The bulk of the Bull Moose following is backing the Hendricks camp. Those Progressives who either would not or could not come back into the Republican fold have joined hands with the Democrats, where their identity and their influence have been lost.

SUFFRAGE LOST BY 56,273.

Complete Election Returns in New Jersey Are Filed.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 29.—Suffrage for women in New Jersey was defeated by a majority of 56,273, according to complete returns from the twenty-one counties filed with the Secretary of State today. The total number of votes cast, not including rejected ballots, was 317,675. The vote for the amendment to the Constitution was 128,201 and against 184,474. The figures are only semi-official, since the Secretary of State prepares a tabulation of the vote cast in each of the 1,891 voting districts of the State.

The complete returns on woman suffrage, filed by the County Boards of Elections are as follows:

Counties.	For.	Against.
Atlantic	3,091	6,977
Bergen	8,760	9,958
Burlington	4,490	6,197
Camden	7,817	12,389
Cape May	1,430	1,783
Cumberland	2,956	3,673
Essex	24,122	38,403
Gloucester	2,690	3,287
Hudson	25,977	31,941
Hunterdon	2,112	2,614
Mercer	6,096	10,307
Middlesex	5,425	7,696
Monmouth	5,564	6,031
Morris	4,244	5,566
Ocean	1,450	1,293
Passaic	11,154	13,153
Salem	1,231	1,626
Somerset	1,970	3,378
Sussex	1,138	2,051
Union	8,202	11,520
Warren	2,235	2,658
Totals	128,201	184,474

The State Board of Canvassers will meet in Trenton on Nov. 5 to go over the returns.

CHARGE PURCHASES MADE BETWEEN NOW AND NOV. 1st BILLED DEC. 1st

J. M. Gidding & Co.
464-466 and 468 Fifth Avenue 46th and 47th Sts.

Fashionable Apparel for the Junior-Senior Smart Set

SMART SKATING SUITS—
DISTINCTIVE FUR-TRIMMED SUITS—
HANDSOME FUR-TRIMMED COATS—
CHARMING STREET DRESSES—MATINEE GOWNS
DANCING FROCKS—YOUTHFUL MILLINERY and FASHIONABLE FURS

Designed for the Miss who demands the cachet and authenticity of Paris, delightfully tempered with a distinctive touch of Youthfulness.

75th ANNIVERSARY
Broadway Tabernacle Church
Broadway and 56th Street

TO-NIGHT at 8 o'clock CIVIC MEETING, addressed by Chancellor Elmer E. Brown, New York University; Rev. Jonathan C. Day, D.D., Labor Temple, New York; Mr. Wm. Jay Schieffelin, President Citizens Union.

EVERYBODY INVITED.

B. Altman & Co.

Men's Hat Department

An important showing of recent importations of

MEN'S DERBIES

in the correct shapes of this season

at . . . . . $5.00 & 6.00

AMERICAN-MADE STYLES

Representing the product of the best manufacturers is the assortment of Men's American-made Derbies at the following prices: $3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00 and 8.00.

SELF-CONFORMING DERBIES

(light weight) is a special feature of the Department . . . . at $4.00 & 5.00

Men's Shoes

in leathers and lasts demanded by the man of fashion, are in stock ranging in price from . . . . . $7.00 upward

Fifth Avenue - Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

INSTRUCTION.

THE BROWN SCHOOL OF TUTORING
Boys' School & Office, 241 West 75th Street. Girls' School, 239 West 75th Street. Phone Col. 8894.
Founded 1906. Positively only one at a time with a teacher enables brilliant, handicapped, and average to do at least 2 years' work in one. All advantages, and more, of class schools, but none of the disadvantages. Pupils taught how to study. Study supervision. "A School With an Atmosphere of Work."

2,000 NEW CITIZENS LEARN VOTER'S DUTY

Must Be "Unhyphenated and Unhesitating Americans," Says Mayor Mitchel.

GREET 5,000 AT STADIUM

Patriotism and Its Meaning the Only Topic of Speech, Song, and Picture.

The keynote of all of the proceedings attending the reception to first voters at the Adolph Lewisohn Stadium at City College last night was patriotism. Love of this country, of its flag and Government, and history was urged in speeches, songs, and moving pictures. An especial appeal was made to the newly naturalized citizens who will vote for the first time next Tuesday. It was estimated that of the 5,000 persons present 2,000 of them were of that class.

A feature of the reception was the gift to each person present of a little green book, compiled by C. O'C. Cowley, the Chief Naturalization Examiner, and printed at the expense of County Clerk Schneider.

Mr. Cowley said he had filled his book full of patriotism by teaching those seeking citizenship that the best way to earn it was by learning something of the country. He said that if he could cause in aliens interest in the country's history they would soon learn to love it and would naturally become as patriotic as those who have always lived here. His book tells the new citizen that his allegiance cannot be divided, and that he must in the fullest sense become an unqualified American "ready to sacrifice everything in the discharge of the duty demanded by an uncompromising loyalty."

Mayor Mitchel made the first address. He said that those who took the oath to serve this country as citizens should be "unhyphenated and unhesitating Americans." He said also that if they wanted the privileges and advantages of this country to endure they must be always ready and willing to give themselves and everything they have to preserve it.

"During the last year and a half," he said, "we have seen the need of an adequate national defense, and every man should fit himself to help defend the privileges and opportunities that this nation offers to all. This city has never had occasion to be ashamed of the foreigners who have become citizens. It is fitting that this reception should be held here because it is here that we receive each year from 600,000 to 800,000 immigrants and first teach them how to weld themselves into the national life. We cordially welcome you, and we feel that you will remain always loyal to your new country."

There were many cheers during the Mayor's speech, and shouts of approval.

Cleveland H. Dodge read a letter from President Wilson which expressed regret that he could not be present and contained a welcome to the new citizens. The letter also said of the new citizens:

"They will be expected not only to exemplify the true spirit of American citizenship but to infuse into it an enthusiasm for the things that make for right and for liberty, which will assist to quicken the patriotism of every other man who thus voluntarily assumes the obligations of citizenship in this country which we love and serve."

Those who spoke besides the Mayor were Mr. Lewisohn, President Mezes, of the college; and Assistant Commissioner of Labor, Louis F. Post. There were two bands, one made up of policemen and the other of letter carriers. The police band played "Columbia," written by Sergeant Schossberger, and a march composed by Patrolman Herman Escher.

Six hundred boy scouts kept order and looked after the comfort of the visitors.

Frederic C. Howe, United States Commissioner of Immigration, presided.

CANDIDATE UNDER ARREST.

Thomas M. Farley, Aldermanic Aspirant, Charged with Extortion.

Thomas M. Farley of 321 East Sixty-fifth Street, who is a Democratic candidate for Alderman, was arrested last evening at Lexington Avenue and Seventy-first Street by Detectives Roddy and Murray of Brooklyn Headquarters, who had a warrant issued yesterday by Magistrate Walsh in Brooklyn, charging Farley with attempted extortion.

According to Acting Captain Coughlin of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau Farley was one of nine men who accompanied Andrew Eagan to a building at 11 Bond Street, Brooklyn, and demanded first $1,000 and then $500 from W. S. Shaw, who was in charge of the work, o the threat of calling strikes of his men.

Eagan was arrested in Shaw's office Wednesday after the detectives had heard over a dictograph the conversation preceding Shaw's payment of $500.

Order of Counting Ballots.

According to information received yesterday by Edward F. Boyle, President of the Board of Elections, the ballot containing the woman's suffrage amendment will be the first of the Constitutional amendment ballots to be counted on Election Day. The ballot containing the list of candidates will be counted first. The State debt amendment and the proposition for the Barge Canal will be canvassed after the woman's suffrage ballot, and the question relating to the revised Constitution will be canvassed last. President Boyle received this information from Francis M. Hugo, Secretary of State.

HILLES CALLS COMMITTEE.

Republicans Will Choose Convention City in Washington Dec. 14.

Charles D. Hilles, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, announced yesterday that the committee would meet in Washington on Dec. 14 to select a convention city and lay its plans for the Presidential campaign of 1916. The principal lines along which the campaign will be waged by the Republican Party, Mr. Hilles said, were the following:

1. An attack upon the Democratic tariff.
2. Criticism of the Wilson Administration's handling of foreign affairs, both in Mexico and in Europe.
3. Charges that Democracy has failed to keep its promise of an economical administration, and has failed to keep other 1912 platform pledges, including the declaration in favor of a single term for the President.
14. Attacks on the Administration's Government ship bill and other Administration measures.

Chairman Hilles said there would be no dearth of Republican Presidential timber, as many States had favorite sons, and that by the time the National Committee assembled the Presidential campaigns of the many candidates would be well under way.

"Out of a group of Presidential possibilities at this time there is no one man, or two or three men, who stand out as leaders in the race throughout the entire country," said Mr. Hilles. "Whether that situation will obtain until the actual opening of the next Republican Convention or whether there will be a simmering down of candidates I cannot say."

"Do you think it would be possible for Colonel Roosevelt to capture the Republican nomination?" Mr. Hilles was asked.

"That is a possibility I wouldn't care to discuss," was the reply.

He said he was positive ex-President Taft would not consider being a candidate in 1916. Mr. Taft, he said, is thoroughly enjoying himself since his departure from public life, and would not resume the burden of public office under any circumstances.

When Mr. Hilles was asked if there was any chance of the Republicans breaking into the Democratic South because of ill-feeling of cotton growers over the Administration's foreign policies, he said, with a laugh:

"The South doesn't vote the Republican ticket. The opposition of the cotton men will make itself felt in another form."

MANY GREET JUDGE SWANN.

Lawyers and ex-Jurors Attend Reception at Headquarters.

Judge Swann, Democratic candidate for District Attorney, was received last night by the Edward Swann Business and Professional Men's Committee at the committee's headquarters, Broadway and Forty-third Street. George Gordon Battle headed a lawyers' delegation, and John J. Freschi brought with him several members of the Italian National Club. A committee of jurors and grand jurors who had worked with Judge Swann during the last eight years was introduced by its Chairman, J. N. Barnett.

In the receiving line with Judge Swann were Thomas M. Mulry, B. F. Wollman, and Alfred J. Talley, officers of the Business and Professional Men's Committee. William Harmon Black brought with him representatives of the Democratic County Committee, of which he is Chairman. Others with delegations were Frank Shelly of the Young Men's Democratic League; Richard C. Patterson, Jr., of the New York Young Democratic Club, and Joseph L. Egan and J. M. Joyce of the College Men's League for Swann.

PERKINS TO TALK TONIGHT.

Will End Campaign with Meeting in Durland's Riding Academy.

At six meetings on the lower east side last night District Attorney Perkins attacked Judge Edward Swann, his Democratic rival for District Attorney. Citing the case of ex-Senator Stephen J. Stilwell, now serving a term for bribery in Sing Sing, as one in which it would be difficult to obtain a conviction under a Tammany District Attorney, Mr. Perkins said:

"Do you think a Tammany District Attorney in New York County would have dared to defy the voice of the wigwam and pros cute one of its main props in the highest legislative body of the State? If you are going to have a Tammany District Attorney beginning Jan. 1, why not go a logical step further and abolish the penal law altogether?"

The Perkins campaign will practically end tonight with a citizens' mass meeting at Durland's Riding Academy, Sixty-sixth Street and Central Park West. Besides Mr. Perkins the speakers will be Job E. Hedges, W. M. K. Olcott, Ogden L. Mills, William Rand, Jr., Walter M. Chandler, Amos Pinchot, Senator William M. Bennett, and Frank K. Bowers, Republican candidate for Sheriff.

Reaffirms Perkins Indorsement.

The Jeffersonian Alliance at a meeting at the Reform Club, 9 South William Street, yesterday reaffirmed its indorsement of Charles A. Perkins for District Attorney. The organization indorsed Mr. Perkins on Oct. 7. Several members who were not present and who, it was said, are for Judge Swann, requested that another meeting be held. The committee yesterday by an overwhelming vote declined to reconsider its earlier action.

Democratic Committee Dec. 7.

William F. McCombs, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, announced last night at the Manhattan Club that a meeting of the committee had been called to be held at the New Willard Hotel in Washington on Dec. 7 next to decide on the time and place of the national convention.

$500,000 BUILDING AS CATHOLIC CENTRE

Committee of 100 to Raise Money with Cardinal Farley's Indorsement.

NEED FELT FOR 20 YEARS

Knights of Columbus Contribute Their Building Fund of $58,000 —Campaign for Subscriptions.

Cardinal Farley and many prominent laymen of the Roman Catholic Church at a meeting last night in the Cathedral College at Fifty-first Street and Madison Avenue started a movement to raise $500,000 for the erection of a central Catholic building as a headquarters for educational, charitable, and social work throughout the city, modeled in part on the lines of the Y. M. C. A.

"The need of such a building for the varied activities of Catholic work has been felt for twenty years," said the Cardinal, announcing his support of the project. "I have felt that the Catholics of New York ought to have a symbolizing central meeting place like this to embrace a wider circle than can be reached through the Catholic Club. For instance, each of our charitable organizations needs a room in such a place. Other organizations have their charity building, and the Hebrews have a charity building, and although our members exceed them, we have nothing but hired halls for a large part of our lay work. The building should be worthy of you and should also provide liberally for educational and social work."

Justice Vincent J. Dowling, Chairman of a Finance Committee of 100, announced that a campaign for subscriptions would continue until October, 1916, when it was expected that the work of construction would be begun. William P. Myhan of the Knights of Columbus notified the committee that a building fund amounting to $58,000, which had been raised for a clubhouse for that organization, would be given to the Catholic building fund. Eight members of the committee subscribed $8,000 last night.

It was suggested by W. Bourke Cockran that the new building plans provide for a large hall for mass meetings.

Cardinal Farley has requested the pastors of the diocese to co-operate with the general committee to carry the project to success. Announcements to this effect will be made in the churches tomorrow. Joseph M. Adrian, 64 Wall Street, is Treasurer of the Finance Committee.

WILL FORBIDS HIS MARRIAGE

Mrs. T. S. Gillespie Left Trun Fund for Husband on That Condition.

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 29.—The will of Mrs. Lillian Stokes Gillespie of Tuxedo and Stamford was filed here today. It disposes of an estate estimated to be worth several million dollars, and makes a bequest of $250,000 to the husband, who is a New York lawyer, on condition that none of it goes to his relatives. Another bequest of $200,000 is put in trust for Mr. Gillespie so long as he does not remarry.

Another bequest of $200,000 in trust is made to a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Cossitt, who is now living in Paris, on condition that she does not marry one Edmond Terrien of Paris. Among other bequests is one of $100,000 to Father Thomas Stokes of the Hotel Ansonia, New York, on condition that he give a written release of certain claims against her estate.

SHERIFF GAVE UP $100,000.

Grifenhagen Says "Some One in Fourteenth Sereet" Got It.

Speaking last night in behalf of Frank K. Bowers, Republican candidato for Sheriff, at Pacific Hall, 209 East Broadway, Sheriff Max S. Grifenhagen said:

"Information has come to me today which leads me to believe that an investigation of the legislative files will disclose legislation which was either enacted or defeated in furtherance of an interest with which a prominent member of the Citizens' Union is connected. I wonder whether that had anything to do with the indorsement of 'Al' Smith by the Citizens' Union?

"I know of my own knowledge that a former Tammany Hall Sheriff of this county, elected by the people to receive the salary and fees of that office, received but a percentage of the salary and no part of the fees, and that the rest of the money, over $100,000, went to Fourteenth Street. Am I not, therefore, justified in asking Mr. Smith whether he has any such arrangement with the insiders of Tammany Hall?"

Sheriff Grifenhagen made public a copy of the letter Henry L. Stoddard had written William Jay Schieffelin, Chairman of the Citizens' Union, in which Mr. Stoddard said he would refuse to contribute to the Union's campaign fund because of its action in indorsing Mr. Smith.

F. D. ROOSEVELT TALKS WAR.

Must Be Prepared to Defend Homes, He Says in Political Speech.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, traveled from Washington to Greenwich Village to deliver an address at Public School 41 last night, indorsing the election of John G. Milburn, Jr., to the Assembly from the Twenty-fifth District. Mr. Roosevelt first started law practice in an office where Milburn was employed in the capacity of "something more than an office boy but not very much more."

Both Mr. Milburn and Edward G. Murray, Democratic candidate for Alderman, received enthusiastic praise from Mr. Roosevelt. Incidentally Mr. Roosevelt made a plea for preparedness.

"It is necessary," he said, "that we should take immediate steps to improve the defensive condition of this country. And we are doing so in a truly American way. We are preparing for defense and not offense. We are getting ready to defend our homes if war should be forced on us. The time has passed when a shotgun arms a man to fight, overnight, as it did in '76. We must now deal with the matter of ammunitions and preparation on a large and complicated scale."

BURNS ACCUSES PENROSE.

Says Senator Was In Plot to Buy Roosevelt Delegates in 1912.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—George D. Porter, independent nominee for Mayor of Philadelphia, today made public the second installment of Detective William J. Burns's report on his nineteen months' investigation of the Republican organization, for which he was paid $50,000 from a fund contributed by a committee of citizens.

Today's section of the exposure charges that Mercantile Appraiser James Carey, the Penrose McNichol leader of the Fifth Ward, and until recently a magistrate, engineered a plan to buy up Roosevelt delegates in the 1912 campaign and that Carey and United States Senator Penrose and State Senator James P. McNichol, leader of the local organization, were "trailed" to Harrisburg where the matter was discussed and where two Roosevelt men were to be bought and delivered. The plan fell through at Harrisburg, however, according to Burns, because Penrose saw the futility of risking money in face of the insurmountable majority of antagonistic delegates.

MORGAN RALLIES AFTER OPERATION

Continued from Page 1.

news of his sudden illness came with a great shock to his associates in Wall Street.

This statement was issued from his office when the rumor that the old bullet wound was troubling him made some statement imperative:

Mr. Morgan was at his office on Wednesday, but yesterday was indisposed and remained at his home in Glen Cove. His physician discovered that he was suffering from a mild attack of appendicitis.

In order to guard against any recurrence they decided to remove the appendix. The operation was performed at noon today by Drs. Markoe, Lyle, and Smith, who report that it was successful in every way and that Mr. Morgan is now resting comfortably. Mr. Morgan's general condition is so excellent that his prompt recovery is looked for.

Action Taken Suddenly.

Though his partners had no reason to suspect that Mr. Morgan was about to be stricken by a serious illness and although he probably had no thought other than a continuance of his interrupted vacation, Mr. Morgan told his partners on Wednesday afternoon that unless something special came up to demand his attention he should remain at his home in Glen Cove until after Election Day.

When news of the operation came one of the partners said there seemed no reason to believe the shooting of last July had had anything to do with Mr. Morgan's illness, since both bullets fired by Muenter had been accounted for. It was recalled, however, that while one passed through Mr. Morgan's thigh, issuing from the back of his leg, the other entered the right quadrant of the abdomen, according to the report of his physicians at that time, and rested near the spine. It was extracted, but the wound it made must have lain close to the spot on which the knife was used yesterday.

Whatever his motive in arranging in advance for a stay of several days at his home, Mr. Morgan summoned Dr. Markoe to him on Thursday afternoon. The surgeon made an examination then which disclosed the trouble with the appendix, but in the evening Mr. Morgan felt improved and for some time walked about the grounds of his home. Yesterday morning this improvement had given way to an increase of pain and Dr. Markoe and Dr. Lyle arrived at the Morgan home at 10 o'clock. With Dr. Smith they determined then on an operation and messages were sent at once to the members of Mr. Morgan's family who were not at the house.

Apparently it was the intention then to postpone the operation until the arrival of those who had been summoned, but at noon Mr. Morgan's condition was such that an immediate operation seemed necessary. Both Dr. Markoe and Dr. Lyle remained with Mr. Morgan after the operation.

COME TO SEEK FUNDS FOR FRENCH ORPHANS

Miss Schofield and Miss Fell Will Appeal for the Orphelinat des Armees.

ACT FOR DEAN OF SORBONNE

He Is Head of the Orphelinat, Which Seeks to Provide for Children of Soldiers Killed in War.

Miss Florence M. Schofield, owner of the Hotel d'Iéna, in Paris, and Miss Ellinor Fell, a member of a well-known English family and a sister of Brig. Gen. Fell, have arrived in New York, representing Alfred Croiset, Dean of the Sorbonne, who is the active head of the "Orphelinat des Armées," an organization whose purpose it is to take care of the orphans of French soldiers who have given their lives for their country. Miss Schofield hopes to interest Americans in the aims of the Orphelinat.

Miss Schofield though she has lived in Paris all her life, is an Englishwoman, whose father went to Paris with Richard Cobden in the time of Napoleon III. She is one of the two women members of the British Chamber of Commerce in Paris. Since the outbreak of the war she has turned over one wing of her big hotel to be used as a hospital, another is the headquarters of the British Red Cross in France, and the office of The Signal, an organization which searches for the missing in the war, is also in the building. Miss Fell, who volunteered to come over with Miss Schofield as secretary, has been interested for some years in social work.

"The Orphelinat des Armées" is under the patronage of the President of the French Republic and all the Government officials," said Miss Schofield yesterday at the Vanderbilt. "It has been under way for only three or four months, but it has been able to do some good work, although, owing to conditions in France, such funds as it has been possible to raise have had to be used as fast as they could be collected.

"The Government is making some allowance to the widows and orphans of fallen soldiers, but this is unsufficient to give the children more than the most elementary upbringing. The object of the Orphelinat is to make it possible to bring up these children so that they may become efficient citizens.

"To achievc this object the Orphelinat proposes to arrange that the children remain in their mothers' care, that they shall grow up in the places where their fathers lived, that the development of each child shall be watched, a suitable career chosen for it according to the direction in which its talents tend, and that every facility be afforded for a suitable training.

"A central committee exists in Paris, which first makes it an aim to investigate the condition of children left orphans. In the payment of the present allowance, the burden on the Government is tremendous, although the allowance made to soldiers' families is only 25 cents a day for the widow and 10 cents for each child.

"It is estimated that already there were more than 100,000 of these little orphans in France before the great drive of three weeks ago."

"The situation in France," said Miss Fell, taking up the subject, "is different from what it is in England. While the list of patrons of the Orphelinat comprise almost every distinguished intellectual in France, these are not, for the most part, people of means, and while they have contributed liberally, the total sum given is not large. We have felt that if an appeal were made over here Americans who are sympathetic toward France would give financial aid.

"We have records of many pitiful cases of destitution. Certainly the children have suffered in this war. My brother, a Commissioner of Ashanti, who has been with an ambulance at the front, tells me of peasants, often with their women and children, working in the fields at the sides of the cannon and living in houses with no roofs. He has employed as many of the children as possible. We have numerous cases on our books in Paris in which a widow has been left with four or five children, and of old women left to support grandchildren. None of these wants to give up her little ones to be brought up in orphanages."

REDFIELD IN NO CLASH.

Officials Deny That He Is at Odds with the President.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Officials of the Administration were anxious today to have denials made of reports that President Wilson and Secretary Redfield were at odds over the proposal that the Clayton anti-trust law be amended to prevent the "dumping" of foreign products here after the war. Yesterday it was said at the White House that President Wilson had not indorsed any such proposal, but was keeping his mind open on the subject.

Today officials said Mr. Redfield's statement with regard to his plans had been misunderstood and that the White House denial was based on the misunderstanding. The statement that the President looked favorably on a proposal to prevent dumping by providing for prosecutions under the anti-trust laws grew out of a conference on Wednesday between the President, Secretary Redfield and Joseph E. Davies, Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission. Mr. Redfield and Mr. Davis had gone to the White House to discuss the various subjects.

It was explained today that so far as there was an agreement it was decided that a certain step which Mr. Davies and Mr. Redfield suggested should be taken. This step was not a phrasing of a policy, or course of action or a method, but it was said to be a step that all three regarded as essential before any further conclusion should be made in regard to the manner in which the menace of "dumping" should be dealt with. It was asserted today that there was entire unanimity as to the course that should be pursued.

CITIZEN BY COURT ORDER.

Judge Grants Petition of Man Who Voted in Dakota Territory.

Archibald Charles Heaphy of 308 West 103d Street became an American citizen yesterday in an unusual way.

Born in England, he came with his parents to this country in 1880 and settled as a farmer at Sioux Falls, in the then Territory of Dakota. In 1886 he took out his first citizenship papers, and under the territorial law, when he came of age, voted.

In November, 1889, South Dakota was set up as a State, and Heaphy in his petition to the Federal District Court here asserted that as he had been a voter under the territorial law, he was a full citizen of the new State. He quoted the decision of Chief Justice Fuller in the case of Boyd versus Nebraska, and Judge Lacombe, following that precedent, ordered Captain Charles Weiser of the Naturalization Bureau to issue to Heaphy his final papers. The Government did not oppose the application.

PSYCHOLOGY SQUAD LATEST POLICE AID

Sleuths to be Taught How to Differentiate Mental Defectives from Crooks.

FIRST LECTURE TODAY

Professors Bisch and Thorndyke of Columbia Will Help Commissioner Woods in Work.

Police Commissioner Woods announced yesterday the establishment of a Psychology Squad as the latest adjunct to the Department. The program of instruction will start this afternoon with a lecture at Police Headquarters by Dr. Louis E. Bisch, associate Professor of Psychology at Columbia University, who will talk on the subject of "Mental and Moral Defectives."

The Commissioner figures that it is going to save his men a great deal of work if they can stand on a corner and by psychological tests tell what passerby is the thief of yesterday for whom they are seeking, or spot the one whose guilty conscience betrays the presence of decks of cocaine in his pocket. If the policeman is uncertain he may march his suspect up an alley and apply the Binet test.

Mr. Woods announced that Professor Bisch and Professor Ashley H. Thorndyke, also of Columbia, would hereafter be present at the morning line-up in Police Headquarters to show policemen how to tell who should and who should not be there, and also for the formation of reports to be submitted to the Magistrates before whom the prisoners were to arraigned.

"One must recognize," observed the Commissioner, "the humanitarian trend that would be self-evident in the speedy examination by psychologists of persons arrested and evincing mental idiosyncracies."

The policemen are not to be expected to become trained psycnologists all at once, but the Commissioner thinks they will learn. It has been arranged that whenever there is any doubt as to the mental condition of a prisoner Dr. Bisch or Dr. Thorndyke may be summoned at once. In this way prisoners who may be weak-minded will have the benefit of classification and a report by the psychologists, who will later lay another report before the Magistrate in order to direct the prisoner at the bar toward the hospital or the prison, according to his just deserts. The psychologists' report, the Commissioner said, may be considered or disregarded, as the court sees fit.

"In any event," Commissioner Woods said, "many persons who ought to receive special attention, would get a careful examination and instead of being sent to a penal institution would be committed to a hospital or sanitarium."

The Commissioner said that Professor Bisch and Professor Thorndyke were volunteering their services in order that the Police Department might have the benefit of scientific training in the elemental psychological field and that there might be a skilled supervision of prisoners with erratic tendencies and mental defects.

Special calls have been issued for the lecture today. Inspectors, Captains and other officers as well as men in the ranks, and Commissioner Woods and his deputies are to be present.

"A mental standard of recognition will be inculcated," the Commissioner concluded, "so that officers on duty may be immediately aware of a mental or moral defective when confronted by one."

SEIZED IN AUTO BY WOMAN

But Astoria Man Is Rescued by Police and Assailant Jailed.

Charles Roos of 109 Woolsey Street, Astoria, L. I., was sitting in his automobile with his wife, Matilda, in front of Carnegie Hall last night when Mrs. Janet Barrett, 30 years old, of 468 Seventy-ninth Street, Brooklyn, rushed up, Roos said, and seized him by the coat.

Patrolman Alexis Kleinmeyer of the West Forty-seventh Street Station took them all to the station in the Roos automobile, where explanations were made to Lieutenant Burns. Mrs. Barrett said, according to the police, that Roos was her common-law husband, but Roos denied it vigorously. When both Roos and his wife insisted that Mrs. Barrett be locked up, a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct was placed against her.

THINK 'LIEUT. FAY' IS H. A. KEARLING

Continued from Page 1.

ings set for Thursday may be adjourned so that their clients will be indicted without preliminary examination.

As to Fay's friends and backers, if he has any, they have not come forward. The man who is said to have spent $30,000 in the interests of his bomb plot has not yet been bailed. Neither has Scholz nor Daeche. Kienzle and Breitung are out on bail provided by surety companies, but they are members of wealthy families.

Thinks Fay Wrong Mentally.

Meanwhile, Arthur Devries of 42 Hampton Place, Nutley, N. J., who claims a considerable acquaintance with Fay, says that, in his opinion, the prisoner is not normal mentally. It had already been suggested that Fay had what is known as "trench madness," and Mr. Devries relates that Fay told of capturing a French trench single-handed, and boasted of other exploits.

Mr. Devries said that his wife and Mrs. Walter Scholz, Fay's sister, were girlhood friends in Muelheim-am-Rhein, near Cologne, and that Mrs. Scholz and Fay had visited at the Devries home in Nutley.

"Fay's mother is mentally unbalanced," said Mr. Devries, "and he has a sister who is peculiar in many ways. Scholz, for that matter, is himself a big child, incapable of the intricate mental activities of a conspirator.

"I am confident that Fay is not connected officially with the German Government—indeed, his making confessions that were absolutely unnecessary seems to indicate that. I do not think he is an army officer; he was only a private in the reserve when the war began, though he may have been promoted since then. He told me he was discharged as unfit for service after being wounded in the foot.

"He was much given to boasting, and told his stories in a spectacular manner, punctuating them with playing the piano, at which he was expert, and singing. I once asked him what he thought of the planting of explosives in factories and on steamers, and he said he thought it the work of cranks who could not possibly accomplish any results."

Broadway and 33d Street

GIMBELS

Open All Election Day

Men's Fall and Winter Suits and Overcoats in a Special Sale Today at $19.50

Just the Models, Fabrics and Patterns That Well-Dressed New Yorkers Most Desire.

CLOTHES of distinction—garments of dignity and individuality. GIMBEL stocks of Men's Clothing offer at moderate prices all that discriminating men can possibly require.

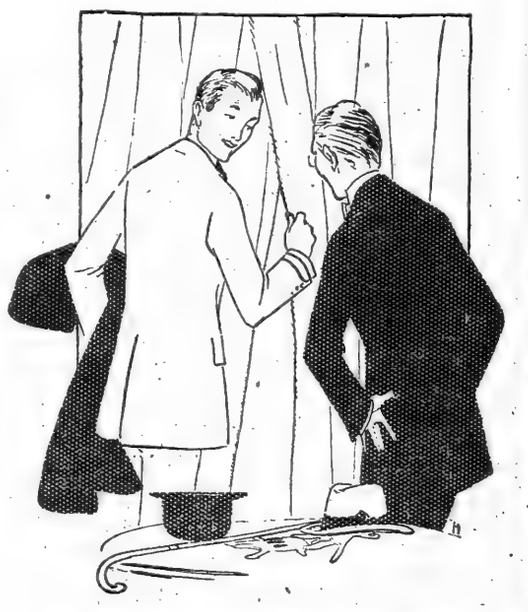
The Suits

FIFTEEN different models and seventy-five different patterns, weaves, and colors. Plain blues, blacks, Oxford greys (some with bound edge), stripe effects, dark browns, silk mixtures—in fact EVERYTHING accepted as correct by the well-dressed New Yorker of today, in all sizes from 33 to 50, for men of all proportions and any stature.

The Overcoats

THE newest models in Chesterfield, "Slip-on," imported Raglan and other styles. Most are fully lined with Skinner's guaranteed silk. The range of fabrics and colors covers the entire field, and the latest ideas in cuffs, lapels, gussets, belts, collars, etc., are featured in endless variety.

Fourth Floor



Founded 1827 Arnold Constable & Co. Founded 1827

FINAL 5-DAY REMOVAL SALE

Last Saturday in present Store

November 8th, Removal to 5th Avenue & 40th Street

575 Waists and Blouses Reduced about ⅓

Dimities and Organdies in various dainty models; also Black Silk Blouses. Value $3.95 — 2.15

Georgette Crepe Models, also Crepe de Chine and Pussy Willow, in black and navy. Value $5.50 — 3.95

Crepe de Chine, Georgette, Fancy Silks and Satins in Tailleur models. Value $7.50 — 5.50

Striped Silk Tailleur Models and Black Crepe de Chine Mourning Blouses. Value $8.50 — 6.50

Silk Petticoats

A special collection in a variety of the latest full flare models in Chiffon Taffeta; both smart plain colors and changeable effects. Values $3.50 to $4.75 — 2.95

Women's Knit Underwear

Vests—Glove silk, white or pink. Regularly $1.25 — 95c. 3 for 2.80; 6 for 5.50.

Union Suits—Light Winter weight; fine ribbed cotton, knee length; regular and extra sizes. Regularly 75c — 50c. 3 for 1.45; 6 for 2.85.

Union Suits—Light weight, perfect fitting, no seam at side, silk trimmed. Regular and extra sizes. Regularly 85c — 55c. 3 for 1.60; 6 for 3.15.

Umbrellas

Men's and Women's All Silk Umbrellas—Good quality and well made; fine natural and carved handles; 8 rib paragon frames. Value $3.00 — 1.95

Sterling Trimmed Silk Umbrellas—Novelty handles with silver inlaid and fancy trimmings. Unusually fine qualities and perfectly made. Value $4.00, $4.50 — 2.95

500 Men's Shirts ⅓ to ½ Price

New Fall Pleated Shirts—Made from the finest Imported and Domestic woven madras. All full pleated bodies; laundered cuffs. Regularly $3.00 — 1.95

Soft Cuff Negligee Shirts—Entire stock of all kinds. Fine quality fabrics and choicest patterns. Well made and perfect fitting. Reg. $1.50 and $2.00 — 95c

Pajamas

Silk Mixed—All our very finest grades and the colorings are unusually good; silk finished throughout. Regularly $4.50 — 2.95

Fine Quality Pajamas, plain white and all the best plain shades of self patterned mercerized fabrics. Liberal sized models that are silk trimmed. Regularly $1.50 — 95c

100 Men's Utility Coats

Heather Mixed Cravenette Raincoats—A distinctive and totally different raincoat fabric—imported and specially woven for this purpose. Value $25.00 — 18.50

Plain Tan Gabardine Raincoats—Always a reliable coat for storm use. Well made and perfect fitting models. Value $16.50 — 12.75

Men's Underwear

Fine Merino in natural color, consisting of shirts and drawers in regular and stout sizes. Regularly $1.25 — 85c Each

Men's Ties

A special collection of handsome plain and novelty Silks in the latest Fall colorings. Value $1.00 — 45c

Women's Fall Gloves

Chamois Lisle—16-button and two-clasp, washable, well-fitting and smart in appearance; white, gray and light cream. Not all sizes in each shade. Value $1.00 pair — 85c

Our exclusive "Regis" Glace Kid, two-clasp, perfect in fit and of superior finish; black, white and a variety of the most fashionable Autumn shades. Value $1.50 pair — 1.25

Handkerchiefs

Men's Hemstitched—Superior grade of Pure Irish Linen, with ¼ and ½ inch hem. Regularly $3.00 per doz. — 1.95

Women's Hand Embroidered—Dainty designs on pure linen. Regularly $6.00 per doz. — 3.00

$10,000 Stock — A BOX SALE — 28,000 Pairs

Women's and Men's Hosiery

NOTICE—Owing to extraordinary reductions in price afforded by the last transfer of stock from the liquidation of our Wholesale Hosiery Departments, we cannot sell except by boxes of 3, 6 or one dozen pairs.

Women's Hosiery

Black Lisle Thread of medium weight; mercerized. 6 prs. 1.45; 1 doz. prs. 2.85. — Box 3 Prs. Reg. $1.00. Sale Price 75c

Silk Lisle, medium weight; highly lustrous; black or tan. 6 prs. 1.85; 1 doz. prs. 3.60. — Box 3 Prs. Reg. $1.50. Sale Price 95c

Fibre Silk in black only; light weight and very brilliant. 6 prs. 1.85; 1 doz. prs. 3.60. — Box 3 Prs. Reg. $1.50. Sale Price 95c

Men's Hosiery

Clocked Silk Half Hose—The balance of these popular socks to close. Mostly white with white and black clockings. 6 prs. 3.15; 1 doz. prs. 6.00. — Box 3 Prs. Reg. $2.55. Sale Price 1.85

Plain Silk Half Hose—The popular taupe and gray shades. A few other colors in some sizes. 6 prs. 2.00; 1 doz. prs. 3.75. — Box 3 Prs. Reg. $1.50. Sale Price 1.15

Art Silk Half Hose—Sizes 9½ and 10 only. Plain shades of these fine appearing and serviceable socks. 6 prs. 85c; 1 doz. prs. 1.50. — Box 3 Prs. Reg. 75c. Sale Price 50c

French Lingerie

Of fine Nainsook, in the season's prevailing styles, hand made and hand embroidered.

NOTICE—Owing to the scarcity of merchandise from abroad, and the extraordinary reductions offered in this sale, this opportunity should not be overlooked. We cannot guarantee a complete assortment from day to day.

Night Gowns—Reg. $7.50 to $13.50. 3.85 to 9.00

Princess Slips—Reg. $3.25 to $27.50. 1.50 to 18.50

Drawer Combinations—Reg. $2.25 to $3.50. 1.65 to 2.45

Petticoats—Reg. $1.45 to $27.75. 65c to 17.75

Corset Covers—Reg. $1.25 to $1.75. 90c to 1.15

Drawers—Reg. $3.50 to $4.25. 1.95

Kimonos, Robes

Hand Embroidered Japanese Crepe Kimonos—In all popular pastel shades. Regularly $1.95 — 1.45

Hand Embroidered Silk Boudoir Robes from Japan, in a charming variety of colors; silk lined and lightly interlined. Value $8.75 — 6.75

Broadway & 19th Street

A cure for shut-in lives

Santa Fe

the joy of journeying

Don't scold the cold; get on board a Santa Fe train to summery California and run away from winter.

On the way—

Quaintly garbed Indians, petrified forests, painted deserts, and that supreme wonder the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

At the end—

Hedges of roses, gold of orange orchards, sunny skies, golf, autoing, and the romance of old Spanish days.

You may go in luxury on the California Limited or travel economically in a tourist sleeper.

Four daily transcontinental trains and the weekly Santa Fe de-Luxe.

Fred Harvey meals.
Ask for booklets.

Geo. C. Dillard, Gen. Eastern Pass. Agt., 377 and 1232 Broadway, New York City. Phone, Franklin 3310 and 3801.

Be Wise!

DRINK and Be SOBER

By VANCE THOMPSON
AUTHOR OF "EAT AND GROW THIN"

AT ALL BOOK STORES
Price Net
MOFFAT YARD & COMPANY
NEW YORK

THE GRAY DAWN

A Great Novel of the Vigilante Days in California, by STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Vivid and colorful, athrill with romance and adventure, charged with the keenness of big events and history in the making.

Illus. Net, $1.35
Just Out—All Bookstores
Doubleday, Page & Co.

EVE DORRE

By Emily Viele Strother

A charming idyllic little tale, clean and sweet as the breath from a rose garden, but told with such simplicity and truth that it is entirely free from sentimentality.—New York Times.

Net, $1.35. At Any Bookstore.

E. P. DUTTON & CO.,
681 5th Av., N. Y.

Thrills!

The Yellow Dove

By GEORGE GIBBS

A nerve-tingling romance of the international secret service in wartime.

ALL BOOKSTORES.
Illustrated. $1.25 net.
D. Appleton & Company
Publishers-New York

MRS. DEAN, HOSTESS.

THÉS DANSANTS

Four to six daily,
ART ROOM
CAFE des BEAUX-ARTS
Fortieth Street at 6th Avenue.
Dancing under direction of
SAMYA and ALBERT
Also Nightly at Supper.

CHARITIES.

This Hospital gives the LAST CHANCE to hundreds of men, women, and children. In the stifling tenement in Summer, the consumptive grows hourly weaker, the terrible cough stronger. One writes that he was "heartened" by the promise from THE HOSPITAL AND HOUSE OF REST FOR CONSUMPTIVES, at Inwood-on-Hudson, New York City, that his name would be placed on the waiting list for the first possible vacancy.

Applications do not lessen in number; the grim fight with disease in its worst form goes on. This hospital holds out every hope for the incipient by giving him the weapons needed in his battle for health. You can aid in providing.

Do Not Forget These Sufferers While Absent From the City.

William M. Cruikshank, Treas., 59 East 59th St., New York City.

Woodbury G. Langdon, Pres.; Andrew C. Zabriskie, Vice-Pres.; Howard Townsend, Secy.

MELLEN DISOWNS ACTS OF HIS CHIEF

Amazed by Revelations in Letters of President Hall of the New Haven Road.

J. P. MORGAN 'USED AS TOOL'

Methods of Throttling Competitors by the Use of Lobbies and by Oppression Are Laid Bare.

Some of the documents produced by the Government in its prosecution in the Federal District Court before Judge Hunt of William Rockefeller, Charles M. Pratt, and nine other ex-Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company under the Sherman law, appeared yesterday to Charles S. Mellen, the prosecution's principal witness, as too dangerous to be pleasant. As the prosecution excused him for a brief period, he told the court the letters had come upon him "like a burst of thunder" and he would have been "paralyzed" if he had known while he was President that he was sitting within reach of them.

The papers of which he spoke were the letters which his predecessor, John M. Hall, had written with amazing candor to invite the action of others in opposing legislative proceedings in which the New Haven itself did not care to appear. Some of them were put in evidence yesterday, and the jury now has before it official documents stating in black and white that the railroad company would be glad to have this or that competitor blocked, but did not wish to appear itself in the matter. It even heard how Mr. Hall deplored the faithlessness of a Mr. Seely, who had forgotten his pre-election promises, and how easily he could have been defeated if Mr. Hall had not "relied on his honor."

From the steamboat situation Frank M. Swacker of counsel for the Government went on to the steamboats and showed how the New Haven Steamboat Company was first embarrassed and then absorbed, and he was at work on the Hartford and New York Transportation Company when the adjournment over Election Day came.

During the morning session Henry W. Taft appeared on the bench and had a talk with Judge Hunt. It has been rumored that ex-President Taft may be called by the Government in the course of the trial, but counsel for the prosecution would not confirm the statement yesterday.

Mellen Thunder Struck.

With Mr. Mellen still on the stand, the Government resumed its wearisome reading of documents, out of which, after rejecting a mass of technical detail, it expected the jury to pick the few significent sentences which showed that the defendants had been in a conspiracy to violate the Sherman law.

Mr. Mellen himself was not too well pleased with the testimony drawn out during his stay on the stand. He had been testifying concerning the period when he was only second Vice President of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, and was not fully in the confidence of the management. Yet he had to stand sponsor to a number of letters written by Vice President John M. Hall, in which there were blunt allusions to legislative activity on the part of the company. He sought permission yesterday to make a formal statement concerning these documents.

"Your Honor," he said, "there apparently has been introduced under the heading of testimony of Charles S. Mellen a lot of matter that comes from the identification of signatures. Particularly I refer to the letters of Judge Hall, the President who preceded me, that were introduced yesterday.

"I had no knowledge or information concerning them. They came upon me like a burst of thunder. Under no circumstances can I rest easy without telling even the uninitiated that there is not anything that had been disclosed to me directly or indirectly in this case. I had no knowledge that anything of the kind was in existence, and I am paralyzed to find that for ten years I sat within reaching distance of this case holding these letter books and was not blown up."

Hall's Letters Introduced.

"So far as you know," asked Mr. Lindabury, "during the ten years you were President were these letters known to any of the other Directors?"

"I never had occasion to refer to them," said Mr. Mellen, "and I know of no Director or officer that ever did refer to them."

The defence, according to the arrangement earlier in the trial, had the opportunity to cross-examine Mr. Mellen at once on the testimony he had already given of his first years of connection with the New Haven. However, it preferred to leave that until Mr. Mellen had been recalled to give the history of the years when he was President, so that his evidence might be treated as one whole.

Mr. Mellen explained that he had no intention of absenting himself for any considerable period from the trial. He said he did hope to be able to have his Sundays at home in Stockbridge, but he would attend the sessions during the taking of testimony, and would be in court again on Wednesday afternoon. As a matter of fact he sat yesterday in the courtroom during the entire session listening to the evidence which followed his own.

The first important matter which the Government brought up yesterday was a letter from John M. Hall, while he was still Vice President of the New Haven, to Charles P. Clark, the President, referring to a newspaper rumor that the Massachussetts Legislature was about to favor the Hartford & Conecticut Western Railroad Company. Of this Mr. Hall wrote:

> If it could be knocked out quietly, I should say it would be a good thing; but perhaps you will think the game too small for your interference.

New Haven's Hand Concealed.

Mr. Hall a few days later wrote a letter marked "confidential" to Judge William F. Henney at Hartford, in which he asked him to get some Hartford people to appear in opposition to the bonding of the Connecticut Western. He wrote:

> For certain reasons we have not desired to show our hand as a corporation in this matter openly. I think you will have no difficulty in securing assistance there, and wish you would see Robbins at once and concoct the best scheme possible, and secure all the witnesses you can to appear before the committee in opposition to this proposed bill.

A fortnight later Mr. Hall was able to write to Mr. Robbins to tell him to have "no fear as to Hotchkiss, as I am in communication with him and know from inside sources that everything will be O. K. as to that resolution."

In December, 1898, the question arose of the construction of a branch by the Connecticut Western line across the New Haven Branch at Tariffville. Mr. Hall thought dilatory tactics would be sufficient, and in a long letter to Henry C. Robinson at Hartford he bade him take an appeal from the Railroad Commissioners, without bothering whether there had been any precedents for such action, on the ground that all the company wanted was to delay the building of the new line.

Referring to a statement by Mr. Robinson that Mr. Robbins had appeared for the New Haven to oppose the condemnation proceedings started by the Connecticut Western, Mr. Hall wrote:

> Mr. Robbins has not been authorized to appear in our name in any proceedings whatever, the newspapers to the contrary notwithstanding. He appears for a private individual in some other State. It was not thought wise or prudent that a Director of the New Haven road should appear in this matter.

One Legislator Balks.

One man seems to have failed Mr. Hall in connection with the Connecticut Western, for, writing to William D. Bishop on March 20, 1901, he said that he had heard that Mr. Seely, then in the Legislature, was against the New Haven. He wrote:

> Before his election he told me that we need have no fears of him on any of these matters, and we should find that he would do nothing against the interests of the New Haven. If I had supposed he would, another party could have been maintained easily, and he would not have been in the position he is now. But I relied on his honor, and hope I was not mistaken in doing so.

It was then conceded by the defense that the Philadelphia, Reading & New England purchased the Central New England, which was the lessee of the Connecticut Western, and Mr. Swacker proceeded to show how in its turn the Central New England was gobbled up by the New Haven. The negotiations were closed in February, 1904, and New Haven officers were appointed to the Central New England.

The Government then took up the question of steamboats and began with the New Haven Steamboat Company. It showed that in June, 1899, Mr. Hall called the operations of the company to the attention of the standing committee of the New Haven board. In the following November Chester W. Chapin, the President of the steamboat company, suggested that the railroad might purchase it, and Mr. Hall said he was half inclined to think that that might be the best way out of the difficulty.

Steamboat Line Opposed.

The steamboat company, which had already, as Mr. Hall said in one of his letters, taken thousands of dollars away from the New Haven, had just put on a new line of steamers between Providence and New York, and the New Haven was considering how to oppose it. He thought, Mr. Hall said, that the New Haven could embarrass the steamboat people, because it owned the pier they used at New Haven, and it would hold it for its own boats.

Mr. Lindabury objected to this line of evidence on the ground that it referred merely to the natural competition between two transportation systems, which was quite legitimate. The Government persisted that it could show more than that, and proceeded to put in a letter from Mr. Hall to Henry C. Robinson.

Mr. Hall complained that the steamboat people did not run their boats at such a time as to make it possible for the New Haven to make railroad connections with them at New Haven, and that they were neglecting their freight business. Moreover, they were paying the New Haven only $4,000 a year for the use of the dock, which was not nearly enough, and he said he could only suppose that the railroad had continued such slipshod arrangements with the steamboat concern, because the Chapins, who ran the latter, had been originally connected with the old New Haven & Springfield Line and the connection was an inheritance.

In February, 1900, the New Haven notified the steamboat company that it must vacate the Belle Dock at New Haven, which gave the steamboat company its only connection with the railroad. In the following April the New Haven Railroad bought the stock of the New Haven Steamboat Company at $140 a share, or took it in exchange for New Haven stock at $212.50 a share.

Lobbying in Legislature.

All the property of the steamboat company was thus absorbed, and from Mr. Chapin, the President, the Lonsdale Wharf at Providence was also acquired. As a result of this consolidation in the October following the New Haven ordered the sale or breaking up of three steamboats, the Providence, the Continental, and the Narragansett.

Turning to a new subject, Mr. Swacker introduced a letter written in 1899 by Mr. Hall to Henry C. Robinson asking him to appear before the Legislature to oppose on behalf of the New Haven the extension from New Haven to Wallingford of the Fair Haven & Westville Railroad on the ground that it would be paralleling with an electric railway the existing steam railroad.

This brought forth strong protests from the defense. Counsel argued that there was nothing in this letter, which was not legitimate, and the Court seemed to agree. In the course of the discussion Mr. Nicoll objected to the use of the word "conspirator" by Mr. Swacker with reference to Mr. Robinson.

"I knew Mr. Robinson very well," he said, "and entertained a very high regard for him. I should like Mr. Swacker to speak of him as the alleged conspirator, and not as the conspirator, if he speaks of him at all."

The name of the Fair Haven & Westville was changed to the Ridgefield & New York, and on Aug. 29, 1894, Mr. Clark, President of the New Haven, wrote to J. P. Morgan suggesting that he might lend $25,000 to a Mr. Higgins, who owned the majority of the stock of the company. Apparently Mr. Morgan did so, for on March 24, 1898, Mr. Clark had to take back all he had said in favor of the road. Writing to Mr. Morgan, he said:

Uses J. P. Morgan as Tool.

> I find on my arrival at New Haven this afternoon that the Mr. Higgins, who has a loan with you secured by a majority of the Ridgefield road stock is intending to put in an electric road instead of a standard steam road, and in competition with charters which we control, but do not expect to use at present.
>
> As you seemed to think this loan was made for the benefit of this company in some way, I think it proper to say that in my judgment the interests of the company would be as well served by your calling the loan and getting your money on April 1 from Mr. Higgins instead of the interest only as you directed our Mr. Horne. Of course there is no objection to your continuing the loan as a transaction entirely independent of this company, if you conclude to do so.

This ended for a time the reading of the wearisome letters and minutes, and the jury sighed with relief as a new witness was put on the stand in the person of Charles C. Goodrich, manager of the Hartford & New York Trappsportation Company. Mr. Goodrich was deaf and had a very mild speaking voice. No small part of the late afternoon was consumed by counsel in asking what he had said and suggesting how he might stand in order to be heard.

The Hartford & New York, the witness said, was started in 1880 and was then in competition with the New Haven Railroad, the New Haven steamers, and the Connecticut River Valley Railroad, which was afterward taken over by the New Haven. Originally the Hartford & New York made its own freight and passenger rates, independent of the New Haven, but after a time for the Winter service it used the same rates as the New Haven Railroad on a division of the through bill of lading.

Competitor Bought Out.

Then the Interstate Commerce Act was passed, which made such an arrangement illegal. An agreement was drawn up between the New Haven and the transportation company in 1901 which, however, the New Haven officials never executed. This document covered the rates which either company was to demand and bound the transportation company not to work with any other steam, electric, or other connecting line in competition with the New Haven. The transportation company also agreed to curtail its season if in any year its freight earnings exceeded a certain figure.

It came out that about 1905 the witness was approached twice by a man named Dunbar to ask if he would sell his steamboat line. He thought that this man represented the New Haven and refused.

"Then," the witness went on, "one or two months after that time there came by telephone from New Haven a message to ask if a sale could be considered. It was thought that Mr. Morse was buying up the various lines all along the shore here, and I should judge it came to us from the New Haven law department."

Accountants examined the books of the company, and in 1905 the company was sold to the New Haven on the basis of an exchange of five shares of Hartford & New York Transportation Company against two shares of New Haven.

The trial was then adjourned until Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

APPROVE MORTGAGE PLAN.

Bankers and Investors Favor Amortization System.

At a conference held yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, under the auspices of the Executive Committee of the Advisory Council of Real Estate Interests, attended by representatives of practically all of the large money lending institutions of this city, together with many prominent real estate investors and mortgage brokers, the adoption of a form of long term mortgages, amortized by semi-annual payments on principal, was approved. Of the seventy men present, only three objected to the proposal.

The conference also adopted a resolution authorizing the Chairman, C. C. Miller, to appoint a committee to hear recommendations and suggestions regarding the formulation of such a plan and to report the committee's conclusions at a meeting to be called at a later date.

Those who spoke in favor of the plan were: Clarence H. Kelsey, President of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company; Willard V. King, Richard M. Hurd, Adolph Block, Samuel P. Goldman, and Louis V. Bright. Those who spoke against the plan were: John N. Golding, Alexander W. McLaughlin, and William Felsinger, President of the New York Savings Bank.

KILLED WHILE DRINKING.

Two Men Shoot a Tailor in Saloon and Disappear.

Michael Fialo, 30 years old, a tailor who lived alone in the rear of his shop at 30 Rivington Street, was standing at the bar of a saloon at 13 First Street about 7:45 o'clock last night talking to Luigi Trangini, the proprietor, about the war, and sipping a glass of Marsala wine.

Suddenly the swinging doors in the rear of the saloon were thrown open and two men came in with revolvers. Without a word, one of the men fired two shots at Fialo, one striking him in the back and the other going past his head and flattening itself on the wall. As the wounded tailor fell on the floor, the men escaped by the way they came and disappeared.

Detectives Miele and McWilliams of the Fifth Street Station, who heard the shots, went to the saloon and took Trangini to the police station. He said the assailants were dark, stout men about 30 years old, and thought the man who fired the shot was known as Bill or Phil in the neighborhood. Fialo was taken to Bellevue Hospital in an ambulance, where he died at 9 o'clock.

FIND SLAIN MAN'S BODY.

May Have Been Killed by an Auto and Hidden at Roadside.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, Oct. 29.—What appears to have been a murder was discovered this evening near Ophir Farm, the country estate of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, when a workman went into the brush to look for apples. The dead man's face was badly battered, one tooth had been knocked out, and one tooth was loosened. He had lain in the brush for several days and his clothing was rain soaked. He was a laborer, to judge from his dress and the condition of his hands. There was nothing in his clothing to identify him, but on his left forearm were tatooed the initials "J. D."

Coroner Dunn removed the body to Lyon & Harnett's morgue.

It has been suggested that the man may have been hit by a speeding automobile, whose occupants had hidden him at the roadside rather than be charged with running him down.

Chilean Cabinet Resigns.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 29.—The Chilean Cabinet resigned today.

Men's Fall BOOTS

Style as Illustrated

Tan or Black

6.00

SOROSIS · SHOES FOR MEN

The first footwear choice of men of affairs—worn by men who choose footwear with the same good taste they express in their clothes.

James McCreery & Co.

34th Street 5th Avenue

BANDITS DISPERSED BY CARRANZA FORCE

Fifteen Outlaws Reported Killed on Mexican Side—American Patrol Again Attacked.

VILLA SOON TO GIVE BATTLE

His Forces Now Marching Toward Arizona Border and Fighting May Begin Tomorrow.

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 29.—A new attack by Mexican bandits on a patrol camp of United States soldiers and the reported killing of fifteen bandits in a battle with Carranza soldiers were developments today in the border situation.

Details of the reported fight on Mexican soil, which was said to have occurred fifty-five miles west of Matamoros, still were lacking tonight; but it was known that 250 soldiers were sent up the Rio Grande by General Eugenio Lopez, Commander of the garrison at Matamoros, to aid in prosecuting the search for outlaws who have been raiding the Texas border counties.

First reports of the fight between the bandits and the Mexican soldiers came from Reynosa, which repeatedly has been a source of reliable news concerning bandit activities. After seeing fifteen of their number killed, the report said, the outlaws fled, pursued by the Government troops. There was no official confirmation.

The Mexican bandits who attacked a patrol of twenty United States infantrymen at Capote Ranch early today, charged the camp from three directions, evidently believing the soldiers were in their tents. Instead the soldiers were in trenches out from the camp and opened fire on the Mexicans at fifty yards. The firing continued for perhaps ten minutes, when the Mexicans retreated.

The infantrymen were parts of Companies E and H, Twenty-eighth Regiment, in command of Lieutenant M. R. Wainer. It is not known how many Mexicans were in the band, but it is believed there were more than fifteen. It was impossible to determine whether any Mexicans were wounded. If so they were carried away by other members of the band.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 29.—The troops of General Francisco Villa were reported tonight to be finally in motion toward the international border for their impending attack upon Agua Prieta, Sonora, opposite here, where Carranza soldiers, commanded by General P. Elias Calles, are strongly entrenched.

Indications here tonight were that a battle would be in progress between the two factions by Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Officials here are watching the situation at Agua Prieta closely. Reinforcements for the Carranza garrison, it is expected, will arrive in time to meet the Villa attack and possibly take the offensive southward, preventing a battle near the international line. Official dispatches today told of the embarkation of a large Carranza force from Manzanillo for Guaymas to assist General Dieguez, in command of the Carranza columns proceeding northward through the Yaqui Valley to attack General Villa from the rear.

JUAREZ GREATLY EXCITED.

Passage of Carranza Troops Through El Paso Stirs Villa Garrison.

Special to The New York Times.

EL PASO, Oct. 29.—The presence of detachments of Villa troops in the vicinity of Guadalupe, opposite Fabens, Texas, this evening caused United States troops to be rushed to Fabens to guard the railroad line and prevent any efforts being made to wreck the trains carrying Carranza troops to Agua Prieta.

This troop movement caused much excitement in Juarez, and it was reported there that the Carranza troops, aided by the United States troops, were to invade Mexico at Guadalupe and march on Juarez. The Villa infantry is patroling the Mexican side of the river tonight, and cannons have been planted covering the approaches to the town from the east and south.

The execution of elaborate night manoeuvres by the United States infantry regiments on the border increased the excitement in Juarez. The infantry fired blank cartridges, and it was thought the expected attack was being made.

The Carranza troops are expected to arrive here in five trains late tonight, and every possible precaution is being taken to prevent any effort to wreck them by Villa sympathizers.

EXPECT CARRANZA AT BORDER

Officials Deny Reports of Mishap to the First Chief.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Oct. 29.—General Venustiano Carranza, head of the de facto Government in Mexico, is approaching the American border, according to advices reaching here tonight. The First Chief spent today at Monclova, 125 miles south of here, the reports said. Officials at Piedras Negras, across the border from here, said Carranza probably would reach them tomorrow.

Sensational rumors that some mishap had befallen Carranza were denied by the Piedras Negras officials, who said that they had been in direct communication with the First Chief.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Juan N. Amador, the confidential agent at Washington of the Carranza de facto Government of Mexico, today gave out a denial of reports published this morning in dispatches from San Antonio which stated that General Carranza had engaged in a bitter quarrel with General Alvaro Obregon over the distribution of funds for military uses, and that Carranza had been placed under arrest by Obregon.

HEAR GEN. AGRAMONTE HAS BEEN EXECUTED

Mexicans Say Prominent American Resident Was Put to Death in Mexico City.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29.—Advices to Mexicans here today said General C. H. M. Agramonte, a prominent member of the American colony in Mexico City, and once President of the American Society, had been executed by Carranza officials in the capital about ten days ago.

For years General Agramonte was publisher of The Anglo-American in Mexico City, and was said to have been a Major in the United States Army. He was about 84 years old.

Other private advices, received today from Vera Cruz, state that General Ignacio Riveroll and General Montana, both former officers in the Mexican Federal Army, were held in jail in that city on charges connected with the assassinations of Francisco Madero and Pina Suarez. Riveroll and Montana left New Orleans for Vera Cruz about two weeks ago.

The Carranza Consul here stated today he had no official information by which he could either confirm or deny the reports concerning the execution of General Agramonte or the arrests of the two former Diaz officers.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The execution in Mexico City of General C. H. M. Agramonte, if confirmed, will be regarded very seriously in Washington. Agramonte is an American citizen who has been living in the Mexican capital for many years. He is a veteran of the United States civil war, and has been Commander of the G. A. R. post in Mexico City.

Men in Washington who know General Agramonte expressed surprise that he should have been executed, saying that he was not known to have taken part in the revolution or in Mexican factional quarrels.

At the State Department tonight it was said that no confirmation of the reported execution of General Agramonte had been received.

TO INVADE ZAPATA STATE.

Gonzales Expects to Direct the Carranza Campaign.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29.—General Pablo Gonzales is expected to undertake personally a campaign in Morelos against Zapatistas.

No difficulty in taking Cuernavaca, the State capital, and the other chief towns is looked for.

Special to The New York Times.

TORREON, Oct. 28, (Delayed.)—On his return to Mexico City General Carranza will open factories for the manufacture of arms, ammunition, and machinery. Plans have been made to establish factories for dynamite, giving the mining companies an opportunity to purchase supplies here.

Mexico City will assume the aspect of a manufacturing town, using electric power supplied by the plant at Necaxa and several small falls near Mexico City. The Government plans the establishment of many small industries under Government supervision

ANSWER TO VILLA THREAT.

Washington Expected to Insist on Faction Leaders' Responsibility.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The State Department received today a protest from Acting Gov. Randall of the Villa Government in Sonora against the transportation of Carranza troops through American territory, en route to Agua Prieta. There will be no response to Randall, but as the communication is understood to have conveyed the information that General Villa, as a consequence of the movement of troops through American territory, would not hold himself responsible for the protection of Americans, the Consul at Nogales probably will be instructed to inform Villa officials that the recognition of the de facto Government will not relieve them of personal responsibility for injury to citizens of the United States.

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 29.—A translated copy of the protest of Acting Governor Randall as distributed contains the statement "that should the permission granted Carranza not be revoked there will be no future guaranty of any nature for American citizens residing in Sonora, much less for their properties."

Further on the the protest states "if the permit is not revoked we will be obliged to lament the grave consequences of the dangerous position in which your citizens are placed, since it is impossible to control the public and the military, already indignant at the American Government for partiality toward one of the contending factions in Mexico."

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 29.—Seven Americans are in the hands of Villa troops, according to information available tonight. James Carr, Sr., James Carr, Jr., Lawrence Carr, and William Doran are held at Esquede and three linemen employed on the El Tigre power line, Archie McDonald and two others named Nelson and Greene, are prisoners at Fronteras, according to reports.

It was at first believed that these men were kept from coming to the border to prevent information leaking out of the movement of Villa troops, but friends showed much anxiety after learning of the Randall protest.

CARDINAL GIBBONS'S VIEWS.

Is Not Satisfied That Carranza Will Carry Out His Promises.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29.—Cardinal Gibbons views the situation in Mexico with great apprehension and is not ready to believe that the problem is settled in the most satisfactory manner. For the first time since the recognition of Carranza by the Administration at Washington the Cardinal in an interview this afternoon gave his estimate of the man who is to control the destinies of the republic.

"Poor Mexico," said the Cardinal. "Things are in bad shape there. I have read much in the papers about the final solution of the Mexican problem. I heard all kinds of promises. But how are we to believe that the problem is solved? Can we place any faith in these promises?"

There was a pause, and then Cardinal Gibbons gave his estimate of Carranza. "A man of promises," he said. "That is Carranza. He can promise many things, but where are the assurances that these promises will be fulfilled? I am hoping and trusting that the troubles in Mexico are at an end, but I am not sure that Carranza is the man who will bring about the desired conditions."

Time alone, he added, would show the true nature of Carranza, but for his part he did not consider the outlook very propitious.

SEIZED IN $250,000 THEFTS.

Four Brothers Arrested in Hunt for Band of Freight Looters.

In the indictment yesterday by the Federal Grand Jury of Meyer Ettman, a junkman and second-hand automobile dealer, of 95 Park Avenue and 310 Newark Street, Hoboken, and his brothers Charles, Morris, and Barney, the Government officials believe that they have got hold of a band which has been looting freight sent here from Germany, France, and Belgium. Howard S. Esterbrook, special Treasury agent, and Customs Inspectors Lewis, Collins, and Hopkinson have recovered a collection of scissors, gloves, surgical instruments and combs worth more than $25,000. They believe the band has made away with ten times as much booty.

Their plan, it is alleged, was to break into cases of goods consigned to distant points in the country and to take part of the contents, which according to the Government often were disposed of at ridiculously low prices through the Harlem Jobbing Company, a paper concern.

Meyer Ettman was arrested last August and released in $5,000 bail, and yesterday Charles and Morris Ettman were arrested at 93 Hudson Street, Hoboken. Commissioner Carpenter committed them in $5,000 bail each to the Hudson County Jail to await removal to New York. As they were being taken to jail and were passing Hoboken Police Headquarters, Morris Ettman broke away and rushed in, calling to Chief Hayes that he was being kidnapped. Sergeant McFeely pacified him and he went on quietly to jail.

Barney Ettman was arrested yesterday in this city and was released by Judge Mayer in $5,000 bond.

JURY DOOMS ONNIE TALLAS.

First Degree Murder Verdict Against Mrs. Nichols's Servant.

Onnie Tallas, a house boy, 21 years old, tried for complicity in the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Nichols, wealthy widow of James Nichols, on the night of Sept. 8 last, was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury before Judge Malone in General Sessions last night. The jury returned its verdict at 11 o'clock, having spent more than five hours in deciding whether Tallas was guilty, or whether the confession made by him to the police after his arrest had been extorted from him, as he said on the witness stand, by violent third degree methods.

That the jurymen were loathe to send the boy to the electric chair because he was a party to a crime actually committed by three other men who are still at large became evident at 9 P. M., when they asked Judge Malone for additional instructions. The foreman asked Judge Malone if they could not return a verdict for a lesser degree of murder than charged in the indictment. Judge Malone, however, declared that he felt constrained to repeat his original charge that Tallas was to be acquitted or found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Summing up for the defendant, former Assistant District Attorney Le Barbier insisted that the boy was a "sacrifice to police inefficiency," because the three men who were really guilty—Arthur Waltonen, a former butler in the Nichols home, "Eddie" Lehto, and an unknown Italian—had not been caught. He urged the jury to acquit the prisoner, maintaining that a boy of Onnie's inert and stupid disposition would never have had the courage or intelligence to enter into a plot against the life and property of his mistress.

Tallas received the verdict without a stir. He appeared stupified, and Mr. Le Barbier had to repeat the verdict in his ears several times before he showed a sign of comprehension. His pedigree was drawn from him with great difficulty, after which he was led back to the Tombs, where he will remain until next Friday, when Judge Malone will sentence him to the electric chair.

BUYS A FAMOUS REYNOLDS.

Mrs. Kimball of Chicago Purchases the Portrait of Lady Bunbury.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Mrs. W. W. Kimball, widow of a millionaire piano manufacturer of this city, whose collection of paintings is regarded as among the most notable in the Middle West, today added to her collection a portrait by Sir Joshua Reynolds of Lady Bunbury.

In art circles the price paid by Mrs. Kimball was reported as $100,000, but neither Henry Reinhardt, the art dealer of Michigan Boulevard through whom the painting was purchased, nor Mrs. Kimball would announce the sum. Mrs. Kimball, however, did say that the price was less than $100,000.

"A few years ago the home of Mrs. Harold McCormick was burglarized and much valuable property was taken," said Mrs. Kimball tonight. "They caught the burglar finally and asked him how he happened to single out that home. He said he had read in the newspapers of the purchase of a fine painting by Mrs. McCormick. I will not discuss the matter further."

The painting mentioned in the foregoing is probably Sir Joshua Reynolds's well-known portrait of Lady Sarah Bunbury, which was painted in 1765 and was formerly in the collection of C. J. Wertheimer of London.

Sir Joshua executed portraits of a number of members of the Bunbury family. His portrait of Mrs. Henry Bunbury is in the collection of William Waldorf Astor.

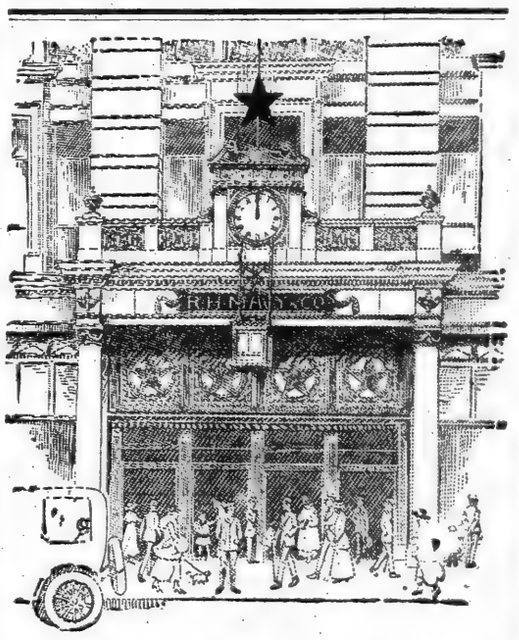
Gov. Whitman a Knight of Pythias.

ALBANY, Oct. 29.—Governor Whitman tonight became a member of the Knights of Pythias, taking his first degree in Peabody Lodge No. 32. Three local lodges assisted in the initiation.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices

Macy's

Herald Square Broadway, 34th to 35th St.



"Watch the Star for Standard Time"

At the precise moment of noon daily, as determined by the Naval Observatory at Washington, a signal flashed over the Western Union wires entering Macy's Building causes the new RED STAR above the main Broadway entrance to drop down and disappear.

In the Macy Time-Star New York will have the counterpart of the world-famed Time-Ball of the Greenwich Observatory in England, which sets the clocks for a continent.

As accurately as human means and science can measure time, the daily falling of this Star will mark the hour of noon in New York.

It will set the standard of time in the City as Macy's sets the standard of value. It will save time for busy men and women as Macy's saves them money.

Its punctuality will be a symbol of Macy delivery service—its exactness, of Macy advertising—its reliability, of the quality of Macy merchandise.

Set Your Watch by the Macy Star.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices

Macy's

Herald Square Broadway, 34th to 35th St.

Books on New Thought, Occultism, Psychology and Kindred Subjects

THE following list of books includes many volumes of interest and information concerning psychological deductions which may or may not bear upon a specific belief or religion. Ignorance of any subject precludes intelligent criticism. These books contain information of present day interest.

Life Understood	F. L. Rawson	$2.59
Your Forces and How to Use Them	C. D. Larson	$1.12
Mind Power and Privileges	A. B. Olston	$1.34
From Poverty to Power	James Allen	.72
Ideal Made Real	C. D. Larson	.89
Concentration	Julia Seton	.44
History and Power of Mind	R. Ingalese	$1.79
Psychology of Salesmanship	W. W. Atkinson	.72
Direct Healing	Paul Ellsworth	.72
Law of the Rhythmic Breath	E. A. Fletcher	.89
Personal Power	Keith Thomas	$1.58
Practical Mysticism	E. Underhill	.89
Life of the Soul	W. W. Kenilworth	.89
Edinburgh Lectures on Mental Science	T. Troward	$1.12
Secrets of Mental Supremacy	H. R. C. Latson	.89
Prosperity Through Thought Force	B. McClelland	.72
Your Mind and How to Use It	W. W. Atkinson	.72
Psychotherapy: Its Doctrine and Practice	E. Severn	$1.12
Paths to Power	F. B. Wilson	.72
A New Philosophy of Life	J. Herman Randall	$1.34

Macy's—Book Dept., Main Floor Rear, 35th St.

In making this solemn appeal to the voters of the State of New York the undersigned Citizens' Committee is actuated by one single purpose. This purpose is to prevent the passage of the proposed fundamental law which in our opinion would be an assault on honest, effective government, a blow to democracy, and a calamity to the public.

1.

We oppose the proposed Constitution on both general and particular grounds. We oppose it on the ground that the effect of the whole instrument is to reduce to the lowest possible terms the control of the people of the State over their own affairs, and to concentrate this control in the hands of the Executive without at the same time providing the checks and balances necessary to safeguard the public interest.

2.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because the effect of its passage into law would be to intrench boss government more strongly than ever before. Boss government, not popular government, as the framers of the proposed Constitution would have us believe, has been the curse of the State. Today the only check the public has upon the boss is through independent legislators who refuse to do the boss's bidding. In order to control the State the boss must now control the whole Legislature, or a large part of it. But by exalting the Executive and weakening the Legislature, which with all its faults is the people's only responsible representative, the proposed Constitution brings about a situation where a boss, or a great corporate interest, need only control the Governor in order to dominate the Government of the State. If the Governor is a weak man he will be clay in the boss's hands. If he is a strong man he will be the boss himself.

3.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it promises home rule and gives little. It takes the function of assessing personal taxes from the hands of local boards and places it in an Albany commission appointed by the Governor. It gives the cities as little, and in some cases less, self-government than they have today.

4.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it plays into the hands of the corporate exploiters of our citizens. It gives Constitutional protection to unscrupulous public service corporations by providing for the permanence of the present Public Service Commissions, which have been notorious for their incompetence and neglect of the public interest.

5.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because by placing control of the expenditure of the public moneys in the Governor's hands, without providing such appropriate safeguards as everywhere accompany the grant to the Executive of similar powers, the new Constitution defies the principles of modern scientific government and opens the way to the destruction of useful departments and public servants, as well as to the building up of a tyrannous and arrogant political machine.

6.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it repeals Section 7 of Article III. of the old Constitution, which wisely forbade the Governor to appoint sitting members of the Legislature to lucrative office. This offers to the Governor a means by which he can reward legislators who support his policies.

7.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it reverses the settled theory of American government by taking from the Legislature broad law-making powers and giving them to the Executive and by transferring the veto power from the Executive to the Legislature.

8.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because the judiciary provisions would entail a huge additional expense upon the City of New York. The proposed Constitution confers upon the Appellate Division, up to now unusually free from politics, the power to appoint unlimited Supreme Court commissioners and to fix their salaries. The Governor appoints the Appellate Division, the Appellate Division appoints the commissioners, and the result would be the injection of partisan patronage into a hitherto clean situation.

9.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because after a decade of effort the State approved, in 1913, an amendment authorizing condemnation proceedings before the Supreme Court without a jury, thus doing away with extravagance and delay. The proposed Constitution, providing for condemnation proceedings before commissioners, will, in effect, negative this important reform.

10.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because the conservation section provides for an unpaid commission of nine men appointed from each judicial district. This puts politics into conservation and exposes the natural resources of the State to the control of special interests while pretending to protect them. The larger part of the Adirondack and Catskill forests are left open to destruction because there is no provision for regulating cutting on private lands. Under the proposed conservation provision there is nothing to prevent the most valuable asset of the people outside of the forest preserve, namely, the undeveloped water power of the State, from being given away forever and for nothing.

11.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because through its length and breadth it bears the impress of the minds of men whose interests are not now, and never have been, coincident with those of the public. The new Constitution is eloquent of contempt for the public's aspirations toward a more representative, responsive and righteous government.

12.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it is replete with a disregard for the rights and liberties of the wage-earner and the common citizen.

13.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it is obscurely drawn, uncertain in its meaning, and impossible for the lay citizen to vote upon with knowledge. Years would pass and immense sums of money would be expended before the meaning of the proposed Constitution could be established by the courts. Not even the delegates themselves can hazard more than a guess at the probable effect of some of its most important sections.

14.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because it is submitted in such a manner that, with the exception of the articles on taxation and apportionment, the voter must cast his ballot for all of it as a whole or against all of it as a whole. As not one voter in a thousand will know what the major part of the Constitution contains, this provision will force him to vote blindly and, for all he knows, against his own interests.

15.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because we believe that, on the whole, it is inferior to the present Constitution, for every substantial gain which it offers is offset by a still more substantial loss.

16.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because the electorate of this State had a right to look forward to the submission of a brief, straightforward, intelligible instrument which would represent the will of the public and the purposes of democracy. Instead of that we are offered a huge, mysterious document, upholding privilege, deifying the Governor, debasing the Legislature, and substituting an alleged efficient system of bookkeeping for democracy.

17.

We are opposed to the proposed Constitution because, if we reject it, we can either change the present Constitution through ordinary process of amendment or at the next general election vote for another Constitutional Convention. The adoption of new fundamental law is a solemn function of citizenship which should not be consummated without full consideration and adequate public knowledge. The questions which Chairman Root and the advocates of the proposed Constitution urge the public to answer in the affirmative after thirty days of confused controversy are so important, and many of them so complicated, that they should only be acted upon after months of public discussion.

We earnestly advise the voters of New York State to vote against the proposed Constitution on the above grounds.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE TO OPPOSE THE PROPOSED CONSTITUTION,

60 Broadway, New York City.

JOHN J. HOPPER, Chairman.

STEPHEN S. WISE, Vice Chairman. JOHN J. MURPHY, Vice Chairman.
FREDERIC C. HOWE, Vice Chairman AMOS PINCHOT, Vice Chairman.

The following opinion of the budget section of the proposed Constitution is interesting, because it comes from a man who is probably America's highest authority on State Constitutions, and who is above all suspicion of partiality. From the start, Dr. Charles McCarthy, Chief of the Department of Legislative Reference of the University of Wisconsin, has followed the framing of the proposed fundamental law of New York State. He has also had his staff of experts work upon it. And the conclusions which he embodies in a letter to a member of the above committee are the result of careful and painstaking analysis.

Dr. McCarthy holds a unique position of authority on constitutional questions. He belongs to no political party. Yet, at national and State conventions of all parties Dr. McCarthy is welcomed as an adviser, and often invited to sit as an unofficial member of the resolutions committee. To his thorough knowledge and wide experience in the practical working of constitutional provisions is due much that is best in the State constitutions and national platforms of the United States.

New York, October 22, 1915.

My Dear Mr. Pinchot:

In answer to your inquiry as to my opinion of the budget section of the new Constitution, I beg to write you as follows:

This is not a budget. It is not a governmental budget; nor is it a business budget, either, such as the Pennsylvania Railroad has. A governmental budget must be subject to the will of the people before action can be taken on it. If the people disagree in England to a budget, the budget will be thrown out by the action of the legislature, and the body that proposed the budget will be subject to another election.

Thus this is not a budget. If an official of the Pennsylvania Railroad puts in a budget, he does so subject to the confirmation of the officers and directors of the road. If he tried to say to the officials of the road, "I have cut out these items—you cannot put them back for two years," how long would he stay there? He would be discharged at once, if his budget did not suit the majority of the officials. Thus this is not a business budget, either. It has no parallel in business.

In a real budget the master always controls. He may have his servant, the cabinet or executive make out the financial plan for him and submit it, but nevertheless he controls. But what do we say of a servant who can make out the plan of appropriation, cut out what he chooses, juggle as he pleases; and you cannot touch him for two years—until he has done all the damage that he sees fit, protected by the Constitution? Is such an executive a responsible executive? No! For he is not responsible to the master, the people. He is responsible only to himself for two years.

Such a device is unknown in any advanced constitutional government today. No country in the world, possessing liberal government, would tolerate such a thing. No reactionary in the House of Lords in England would dare propose such a thing. It is a sad comment on our political education, on our political wisdom, these so-called learned leaders of the bar, forgetting their respect for the fundamentals of representative government, forgetting democracy, forgetting the lessons and the struggles of our democratic government.

The liberties of a people are based fundamentally on the control of the purse. I care not what is in the rest of the Constitution. This budget section alone is enough to condemn it and put it in line with the worst State Constitutions that this country has ever been cursed with.

They say that public opinion can act upon the Governor. Public opinion can act, yes,—two years from now, after the horse is stolen from the barn; not before the horse is stolen. The man who steals the horse can go away and be gone for two years before public opinion can touch him. A hundred issues can come up in the meantime, so cleverly arranged, that the people can form no public opinion upon any one of them; so fixed that the people cannot say yes or no to the whole mass of them. This is what, by the way, is happening now, by the submission of this whole Constitution at once, containing so many varied items. At least, the Constitution should have been submitted so that separate votes could have been taken up on separate subjects. As this was not done, the only recourse for the voter is to defeat the whole thing upon this vicious budget section.

Under the new Constitution the shrewd Governor knows how to say to A: "You be good and I'll do this or that for you. You help me to fix B and keep him quiet." He can balance a printing contract here with public works there, or an insane asylum somewhere else; he can keep campaign pledges based upon large contributions by cutting the salaries or appropriations for vigilant and vigorous officials who may have offended powerful interests. He can absolutely wipe out civil service, and the Legislature cannot put it back. He can absolutely destroy any good administrative department, and the Legislature cannot touch it. If he does not want to destroy, he can cow, browbeat and threaten into submission any strong, independent official. The budget section in the proposed Constitution is the best device I have ever heard of for settling a private or political grudge; you can cut the man out, or cut his salary, as you may see fit, and the Legislature can do nothing about it, and the public can cry out as much as it wants to, but its hands are tied for two years.

Give Huerta two years of this kind of power, let him hold the purse-strings of the army as he pleases, let him destroy civil service, and cow his administration by control of office, and see if he will or will not fix himself in an impregnable position. Charles I. would have been delighted if, when John Hampden refused to pay his Tonnage and Poundage tax, he had had this beautiful device which has been discovered by so-called reformers in New York in the Twentieth Century.

A careful consideration of the proposed draft of the fundamental law for New York State shows that it is directly in opposition to the fundamental principles of political science, against history's experience, and subversive of government as understood by the fathers of the Republic and authorities of the Federalist.

Moreover, the remedy for extravagance and log-rolling is already in the New York Constitution. Any Governor can make out his budget, submit it to the Legislature and say, "If you do not pass legislation providing for the budget I have submitted to you I'll go to the people on the issue and veto your budget bills." He can compel the submission of proper bills, if he is a right-minded and vigorous Executive. That is already in the Constitution of New York, and it does not need this extraordinary amendment of the budget clause. In order to have a budget, New York does not need an Executive budget bill.

Very truly yours,

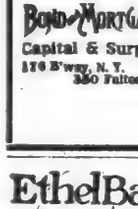
(Signed) CHARLES McCARTHY.

GREATER THAN THE ANGLO-FRENCH LOAN

Our guaranteed mortgages, in an amount greater than the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan have been sold by us to our clients during twenty years past, and no investor ever has lost a dollar of his principal or waited for his interest.

BOND & MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO
Capital & Surplus, $10,000,000
176 B'way, N. Y. 175 Remsen St., B'klyn
350 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Ethel Barrymore is talking



(in her latest comedy success)

"Our Mrs. McChesney"

by EDNA FERBER now playing at the Lyceum Theatre)

"It's graceful, bouffant, practical and serviceable and at the same time elegant. Made in all the fashionable shades."

Thus of HEATHERBLOOM, the petticoat idea of this charming comedy, inspired by the graceful and practical qualities of the world-famous

HEATHERBLOOM
TRADE MARK

The PETTICOAT that made the play possible.

On sale at all good stores

BURRILL'S TOOTH PASTE

is an ideal tooth preparation, put up in pure tin tubes. Pure, pleasant in flavor, and without grit—its regular daily use insures clean teeth—and good health depends largely on clean, healthy teeth. Brush your teeth every night and morning with Burrill's Tooth Paste—the paste of good taste.

Insist on Getting
BURRILL'S TOOTH PASTE
(or Powder)
25 cents, in either form.

Do not take a substitute; there are plenty of dealers who will gladly sell Burrill's Tooth Paste or Powder without attempting to substitute.

New England Laboratory Co.
LYNN, MASS.

There's a better way of buying toilet paper than at so much a roll or so many rolls for a quarter.

"It's the Counted Sheets that Count"

Scottissue Toilet Paper

has 1000 sheets to the roll—printed on the label. That means definite measure value. ScotTissue is soft, white, absorbent. 10c a roll.

Sani-Tissue, treated with Canadian balsam. Healing 2500 sheets in carton of 3 rolls, 25c.

SCOTT PAPER CO.
30 Church Street, New York — Makers of absorbent ScotTissue Towels

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

ONLY 10 PER CENT. OF NEW YORK WOMEN WANT THE VOTE.

The claim made by the suffragists that 1,000,000 women in New York State wish to vote is ludicrous.

It is concededly based upon the postal card canvass made by The New York World in March, 1915. Of the thousands of women to whom postal card inquiries were sent only about 15 per cent. answered. Of that 15 per cent. about 70 per cent. expressed themselves in favor of the extension of the franchise to women. It is obvious that 85 per cent. who did not reply at all were either opposed to the extension of the suffrage or were indifferent.

Assuming, as the suffragists do, that the women of voting age in this State number 2,500,000. it is evident that no more than 283,500, or 70 per cent. of 15 per cent., or approximately 10 per cent. of the whole, are in favor of the extension of the suffrage to women.

The obvious error of the suffragists is in applying the percentage of favorable replies received from the 15 per cent. to the whole body of women, including the 85 per cent. who did not reply at all.

We have said about 10 per cent. of the women of the State wish the suffrage. The poll accepted by the suffragists proves it.

NEW YORK STATE ASSOCIATION OPPOSED TO WOMAN SUFFRAGE.
MISS ALICE HILL CHITTENDEN, Pres't.
MRS. ARTHUR M. DODGE, Vice-President.

ADVERTISEMENT.

This Habit Stops Stomach Disorders

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer from indigestion, fermentation, acidity, gases or distress every time you commit the least indiscretion of diet? If you will form the agreeable habit of sipping a glass or two of Man-a-cea Water with each meal, you will soon find your digestion so strengthened that you can face a rich, satisfying meal without a qualm.

Man-a-cea is most effective in stomach and intestinal disorders, but so free from any medicinal taste that it makes a superb table water. Served at clubs, hotels and restaurants. Sold by all druggists and the first-class grocers. Get a booklet at your dealer's.

DOZEN DELECTABLES IN THE DOTARD CLUB

"Wonderful Constitution" Gives Every Member an Office and Makes Him a Governor.

ALL FAMOUS AND BORN IN '48

Not Fewer Than Two Shall Be in Quorum, So That No Member May Be His Own Boswell.

Twelve noted men in this city have formed the Delectable Society of the Dotards of 1848, and yesterday their constitution was put upon the shelves of the New York Public Library.

Most of them are millionaires, all are connected with prominent clubs, and every one has achieved distinction either in commerce, finance or a profession.

Their President is William E. Iselin; the Vice President, Samuel A. Walsh; and the Secretary, Lucius K. Wilmerding. Every man is a governor, every one has an office, and there is never likely to be trouble, for what the governors say on all subjects is final.

The other members of the dozen are: Edward. Bement, Edward J. Berwind, John McLean Nash, Henry Walters, George E. de Forest, Albert V. de Goicouria, Allen W. Evarts, Thomas B. Clarke, and the Rev. Dr. William N. Webbe.

One of these days, and it will be soon, the Dotards, as they so cheerfully call themselves, will give a dinner in which they will glorify the really great year in which they first saw the light. The great seal of the order represents an infant boy gazing at the comet of 1848 through a glass of claret of the vintage of 1848. In this same memorable period there was also a revolution in Germany, which the parents of the country were then gravely discussing. Hence the twin quatrains which adorn the maroon-bound guide of the club:

Their Splendid Constitution.

Oh, for a Poet Laureate's pen
To fittingly celebrate these men,
Selected from the Good and Great
Dotards of Eighteen forty-eight!

Why are these Merry Dotards Bold,
Immune from fear of growing old
Of Comet, Wine and Revolution?
It is their splendid Constitution.

There is not a better constitution in all New York, but in it is set forth that the management of the society is "confided" to the members, and there are no by-laws, no initiation fees, and no dues. A quorum shall consist of not fewer than two members. It might have been put lower, but it was thought that any member when he meets ought at least to have a Boswell at hand to set down what recollections or resolutions he may have on his mind. One of the quorum must therefore always be the Secretary, who is suspected of not only being responsible for the constitution but the poetry.

"There shall be twelve members," to quote from the document, "each of whom shall have been born in the year 1848, and be of good moral and financial character."

Article VII. defines the duties of all officers in an intensive manner. It must be read with the assistance of the table of seniority, for there were New Year's babies and Christmas ones in the great year of 1848. Every member of the new order is as strong as he ever was, as right as a trivet, and takes more or less interest in athletics. Whenever the Dotards meet they throw their shoulders well back, look each other squarely in the eyes, and give the sign of the order.

Great Variety of Dotards.

Their friends say that in all this metropolis there cannot be seen a younger looking group of men for their ages, and some of them have been passing for 60 or even 50. The frank revelation of their 67 years of successful existence made in the constitution holds surprises, it is to be noted also that they represent a wonderful versatility in their achievements.

Dropping again into poetry with the Secretary near the preamble:

If you search through all New York society,
You can say with the greatest propriety
That the town doesn't hold,
Though not so very old,
Dotards of a more pleasing variety.

Here then is the roster given, to which are added certain items of information culled from other sources:

William E. Iselin, born Jan. 11, President, merchant, and capitalist, member of the Union, the Metropolitan, Knickerbocker, Brook, and other clubs, graduate of Columbia University and much interested in public affairs. All the members are connected with the best known clubs in the city, and there is a large proportion of them who are members of the Century Association.

Samuel A. Walsh, born Feb. 14, Vice President, banker, and well known as sportsman. He, like some of his associates, is connected with the South Side Club, where there are to be found many devotees of rod and gun.

Lucius K. Wilmerding, born March 19, retired importer. Secretary, and candidate for Poet Laureate of the organization.

Edward Bement, born May 30, a well-known New Yorker who for some years was often a resident of Paris. He is the Ambassador of the society and under the constitution he is to represent it "at the various European courts and South American republics at which he shall be present.

Berwind, the Dotard Miner.

Edward J. Berwind, born June 17, holds office as the club "miner." He is the President of the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company, and is a Director in many enterprises connected with the black diamond industry. Mr. Berwind was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1889, and is much interested in national affairs. Besides helping to keep the hearth warm for his fellow members he must discharge the trust placed in him by the constitution which gives him "entire charge of the coal mines belonging to the society."

John McLean Nash, born Aug. 6, is counsel. Mr. Nash is a graduate of Columbia University, and is Treasurer of his alma mater. He is a lawyer, with offices in Wall Street, and as a special privilege he is empowered by the constitution to "attend to all legal matters connected with the society without fee or emolument."

Henry Walters, born Sept. 26, holds office as "navigator." He is widely known as a financier, and as a patron of art. He built in Baltimore a famous private art museum, which is a mecca for connoisseurs. "The navigator," ordains the constitution, "shall command all yachts owned by him."

George B. de Forest, born Oct. 15, is the librarian. Mr. de Forest is a man of wealth who divides his time between New York and Newport. He has a large private library. Although the dues do not apparently admit of large expenditures, Mr. de Forest is directed to "take charge of all books and pamphlets belonging to the society and to see that they are handsomely bound."

"General" of the Society.

Albert V. de Goicouria, born Oct. 22, is well known in financial circles in this city and is a member of many clubs. He is the father of Mrs. August Belmont, Jr. Having had wide experience traveling in Latin America Mr. Goicouria was named as "General." The constitution directs that as such he shall "be the custodian of all arms and ammunition purchased by the society."

Allen W. Evarts, born Dec. 10, Treasurer, is a member of the law firm of Evarts, Choate & Sherman. He is a son of the late Senator William M. Evarts.

Thomas B. Clarke, born Dec. 11, is named "Collector." Mr. Clarke is a noted patron of American art and is also widely known as an amateur on account of his interest in porcelains and rare Oriental textiles. The constitution intrusts him with the charge of "the valuable furniture, rugs, pictures, &c., which may be acquired by the society."

The Rev. Dr. William N. Webbe, born Dec. 17, Chaplain, is rector of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church at Great River, L. I., and has a wide acquaintance among the members of New York society. The Chaplain may hold religious services "at such times and places as he may deem proper." He may also exercise a most important humanitarian function, for on the last page of the constitution appears a blank form of bequest whereby a member may give to the Dotards of 1848 "sums of money to be expended for such charitable and philanthropic purposes as the Chaplain may direct."

A limited edition of the constitution has been prepared for distribution among friends of the Dotards, and it is understood that the copies for the members themselves appear in elaborately embellished covers.

W. A. CHANLER LOSES A LEG.

Amputated at the Knee as the Result of an Accident Two Years Ago.

William Astor Chanler, according to private advices received here yesterday from Paris, was obliged to have a leg amputated at the knee a month ago and is now recovering from the operation.

Mr. Chanler two years ago received a serious injury, supposedly from an automobile accident. There have been several accounts of the mishap, one that he was wounded by a bullet in a duel, another that he was injured while wrestling. The version that he was hurt while getting out of an automobile is the one generally accepted. Mr. Chanler in December of 1913, according to dispatches to THE NEW YORK TIMES, was in the American Hospital at Neuilly, and an operation at that time was necessary. There was a fracture of some kind which would not mend. According to the advices now received Mr. Chanler has been ill for the last six months in a Swiss sanitarium, where he hoped so to build up his constitution that he could overcome the effects of the injury. There were several operations, one for the removal of a clot, and finally the more serious one now reported from Paris.

It was said at the home of Mr. Chanler, 141 East Nineteenth Street, yesterday that he was slowly gaining in strength after the amputation, and that he was expected in this country before Christmas.

Mr. Chanler has always led an active outdoor life, and is known as an explorer and a hunter of big game. His explorations of the jungles of Africa drew much attention to his prowess, and he wrote a book on his exciting experiences. He is the son of John Winthrop Chanler, and was born in 1867. His great-grandfather was John Jacob Astor. Mr. Chanler was graduated from Harvard University in 1887. He took an active interest in politics and was elected a member of the Fifty-seventh Congress from the Fourteenth New York District. He is a member of the Union and of other clubs of this city. In 1903 he married Miss Minnie Ashley, the acress, who in recent years has taken up sculpture.

RENDERS HATMAKING SAFE.

Museum of Safety Opens Exhibit Dealing with Dangers.

The Hatting Exhibit at the American Museum of Safety, 18 West Twenty-fourth Street, which was opened yesterday, showed the results of investigations made by Lillian Erskine, who represents the Museum under the Harriman Fund.

The manufacture of soft hats and derbies is illustrated fully and the methods of assuring proper conditions for the workers in the hat factories and for lessening their risks are shown. The records of the good work done in this "Safety First" campaign also are set forth. It is shown that the dust from the powdered fur in the "pouncing rooms" gave tuberculosis to from 70 to 85 per cent. of the workers, and that these rooms can be made safe and free from dust. By substituting electricity for gas and by the control of heat and humidity much of the unnecessary risks of the industry have been eliminated.

"Of all our extra-hazardous trades," Miss Erskine says, "that of felt hatting has claimed the most unquestioning martyrdom on the part of its workers, who have been sacrificed to conditions which the majority of manufacturers felt helpless to alter, or at best to mend rather than partly alleviate. In this exhibit practical reforms for the control of dust, fume steam, and excessive heat have been standardized. Perhaps the most satisfactory feature is that every change for the better is based on a sound business argument."

IN NEW JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.—Men out of employment will have the preference in the selection of petit jurors for the Hudson County Courts, Jury Commissioner Dowly announced yesterday. The jurors get $2.50 a day, and when they live at a distance mileage.

HACKENSACK.—Owing to the demand for a reduced fare on the Fort Lee ferry between Edgewater and 130th Street, New York, the Public Service Corporation yesterday offered a fifty-trip ticket for $2, good until used. The company formerly insisted the ticket be used only in the month for which it was issued.

HACKENSACK.—James A. Van Valen of Hackensack and St. John Clarke of Bogota, Trustees, yesterday announced they had authorized Jackson, Rosencrans & Waterbury, architects, of New York, to prepare plans for a memorial church to Judge Peter Bogert of Bogota. It is to cost about $35,000.

NEWARK.—Thieves robbed the Synagogue Adas Israel and Mischnaies at 32 Prince Street early yesterday of silver and vestments valued at $700.

NEWARK.—David Lang, a stonecutter of 78 Hawthorne Avenue, fell from the seventh floor of the new Public Service Terminal Building yesterday afternoon and was killed.

PASSAIC.—Mrs. Joseph Sarado of 64 Second Street awoke yesterday to find a note in her husband's handwriting asking a local undertaker to get a coffin for her and prepare to bury her today. He had been acting peculiarly, and Mrs. Sarado had him held for thirty days for observation as to his sanity.

PASSAIC.—Hyman Einhorn of 236 Second Street, New York, and Miss Lena Pasternack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pasternack of 235 Harrison Street, decided to marry on Sunday. Pasternack, according to the Jewish custom, said he would give Hyman $2,000 after the wedding. Hyman, he said, was not satisfied, but borrowed $50 and later $200. When Hyman refused to return the $250 Pasternack caused his arrest. In the City Court yesterday the suitor was held in $900 bail for the Grand Jury.

MONTCLAIR.—The Montclair Public Library yesterday adopted the following rules for subscribers: "First, do not cough or sneeze into the book; always use a handkerchief. Second, do not moisten the fingers in turning the pages; the hand should always be clean and dry. Third, always keep the book closed when it is not being read." As an additional precaution against germs the library books are sterilized.

SOMERVILLE.—The Rev. James A. Lumley was installed as pastor of the Third Reformed Church on Thursday night, succeeding the Rev. J. J. Hoffman, who resigned.

SUMMIT.—Demanding more pay, 225 silk weavers of the Summit Silk Company struck yesterday.

PLAINFIELD.—The Philadelphia branch of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Congregational Church elected these officers here yesterday: President, Mrs. Emma L. Bridges, Westfield; Vice President, Mrs. William G. Frost, Montclair; Associate Presidents, Mrs. L. W. H. Giese, Philadelphia, and Miss Alice M. Clark, Washington, D. C.; Recording Secretary, Mrs. David E. Brown, East Orange; Home Secretary, Mrs. F. D. Green, Upper Montclair; Foreign Secretary, Mrs. I. R. Demarest, Closter; Secretary for Young People's Work, W. R. Westerfield, Upper Montclair; Treasurer, Miss Martha M. Hooper, Washington, D. C.

TRENTON.—A strikebreaker leaving the plant of the Essex Rubber Company last night was set upon by a mob and suffered a broken nose and cuts about the face. He was removed to the Mercer Hospital. Three detectives escorting officials of the plant were arrested, charged with carrying blackjacks. Justice of the Peace Kelsey held them in $300 bail each for the Grand Jury.

RUDYARD KIPLING'S
War Impressions
"France at War"
ARE JUST OUT
The Volume Includes
FRANCE
Mr. Kipling's famous poem now first published in book form.
All Bookstores. Net. 50c.
Doubleday, Page & Co.

J. H. BROWNING LEFT A $1,000,000 ESTATE

Widow of Clothing Manufacturer Receives Bulk of the Property.

INCOME OF $300,000 TO SON

Realty in New York State Amounts to $233,373 and in New Jersey to $153,522.

John Hull Browning, once senior member of the clothing house of Browning, King & Co., and also ex-President of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey, left a net estate of $1,050,999, according to the appraisal of his estate filed in the office of the State Controller yesterday by Transfer Tax Appraiser Kopp.

John Hull Browning, Jr., a son, receives a life income from $300,000; several nieces and nephews have a contingent interest in $50,000, and the widow, Mrs. Eva B. Browning of Tenafly, N. J., receives the residuary estate.

The report shows that the entire personal property of all kinds and wherever situated, amounts to $664,104, net; while realty in New York State amounts to $233,373, and the New Jersey realty is given at $153,522. The contents of the Hotel Grenoble at Seventh Avenue and Fifty-sixth Street, are appraised at $9,821.

Mr. Browning's other interests in the Grenoble is an equity, which is appraised at $168,491, although the entire property is valued at $544,000. He held an appraised equity of $59,244 in 189 Reade Street, which is given a total valuation of $40,000. His equity in 73 Warren Street is given at $19,438, although the property is valued at $60,000. A parcel of land at Nyack is appraised at $6,200.

There is a valuation of $167,127 placed upon corporate bonds held in New Jersey, where Mr. Browning had his residence, and a valuation of $337,610 placed upon corporate stock held in the same State.

BRUGUIERE ESTATE IN COURT.

Son of Arabic Victim Offers Copy of Lost Will to Surrogate.

Announcing that it was an exact copy, but not the original will of his mother, Mrs. Josephine F. Bruguiere, who was lost on the torpedoed Arabic on Aug. 19, Louis S. Bruguiere yesterday filed a petition for temporary letters of administration on Mrs. Bruguiere's estate. He annexed the document to the petition.

The original instrument, drawn on March 4, 1907, has been lost, Mr. Bruguiere recites, the time and place not being given.

The document offered in court bequeaths to the son Louis his mother's Newport home, Castlewood, and "its lands, outbuildings, fixtures, furnishings, &c." The sons Peder S. and Francis J. receive the property at the northeast corner of Sacramento and Franklin Streets, San Francisco, while another son, Emile A., receives Bruguiere cottage at Monterey, Cal. The residuary estate, the amount of which is not given, goes in equal shares to the four sons—Louis S., Peder S., Francis J., and Emile A. Bruguiere.

Referring to her grandson, Peder S. Bruguiere, Jr., Mrs. Bruguiere says that she has made no special provision for him, only because she feels confident that his relatives will care well for him and see that he is properly educated.

The additional statement is included in the petition that since Mrs. Bruguiere's death there has come into the jurisdiction of the New York courts two trunks of linen and a box containing several dresses, some furs, and laces.

MRS. BARNES' ESTATE $1,702,811

Widow of Naval Officer Divided Property Among Five Children.

Mrs. Susan Bainbridge Barnes, widow of Captain John Sanford Barnes, U. S. N., who died on May 1 of this year, left a net estate of at least $1,702,811, according to the appraisal filed yesterday in the office of the State Controller by Transfer Tax Appraiser George Brokaw Compton. There is no valuation placed upon the Lenox (Mass.) property held by the estate.

The property goes in equal shares of $340,562 each to the five children: James, J. Sanford, and Charlotte Barnes of 10 East Seventy-ninth Street, Mrs. Edith B. Sturgis of Croton, Mass., and Mrs. Cornelia B. Rogers of 115 East Fifty-third Street.

The assets include stocks and bonds aggregating $1,332,400; the residence at 10 East Seventy-ninth Street, $225,000; mortgages, $101,912; deposits in banks, $56,427; jewelry, $13,702, and rugs, paintings, &c., $11,670.

Among the jewelry are a diamond necklace, appraised at $7,025; a diamond sunburst, $1,040; a diamond solitaire ring, $1,125, and a diamond crown, $800. The most valuable paintings are "Horseshoeing," by Veyrasat, $900, and "Cavalry on the Road," by Jazet, $600.

The most important items of securities include 2,500 shares of Tidewater Oil Company stock, $312,500; 813 shares of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad preferred stock, $80,905; 213 shares of Guaranty Trust Company stock, $119,280, and 539 shares of Union Carbide Company stock, $80,850.

DOOMS WIDOW TO ONE ROOM.

Solomon Bicks in Will Puts Odd Penalty Upon $10 a Week Gift.

The will of Solomon Bicks, filed for probate yesterday, disposing of an estate in excess of $5,000, contains the unusual provision that his widow, Mrs. Chana Dora Bicks of 173 Stanton Street, is to receive an income of $10 a week for life "provided she lives in a room alone." Further on, there is a modification which permits the widow to have a daughter live with her.

The rest of the property is directed to be divided equally among the children, Max, Mollie, Lena, and Sala.

The testator died at his home on June 24. The instrument was filed by Attorney A. S. Wellfisch of 229 Broadway.

BIG FUND FOR LAFAYETTE.

Rockefeller Foundation Gives $200,000 as Nucleus for Endowment.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Oct. 29.—It was announced at Lafayette College today that $200,000 has been granted to Lafayette by the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation as a nucleus of a million dollar endowment fund for the college.

Lafayette has other sums available to add to this amount, and a campaign will be organized to raise the balance of the million dollars. The announcement is particularly significant, as it comes one week after the inauguration of Dr. John Henry MacCracken to the Presidency of Lafayette.

MOURN LOSS OF FIRE VICTIMS

One Service to be Held for Eighteen of Children Who Died in School.

PEABODY, Mass., Oct. 29.—The bodies of the twenty-one children who lost their lives in the fire which yesterday destroyed the St. John's Parochial School, will be buried tomorrow. One funeral service will be held for eighteen of the victims at St. John's Roman Catholic Church.

Father Nicholas J. Murphy, pastor of the church, who has been nearly prostrated since the disaster, said today that he would celebrate the mass himself, if his condition permitted. "I am in doubt," he added, "whether I shall be able to say anything from the altar without breaking down."

The funerals of three of the children will be held separately and privately, in accordance with the wish of their parents. All the interments will be at St. Mary's Cemetery, Salem.

Acting Chief Neal, who concluded his investigations today, announced that no one had been found criminally responsible for the fire. He said that while the building was badly constructed, it complied with the essential requirements of the law.

In the opinion of the State authorities the fire started in a small closet under a stairway in the middle of the building. This closet contained school supplies, a small box of sweepings, and the gas meter. One of the many theories advanced as to the origin of the fire is that the box of sweepings contained a few matchheads which were ignited in some way.

"The law requires," said Chief Neal, "that the State and local Building inspectors shall consult and determine the proper means of egress from all buildings, and if they are not sufficient, to order fire escapes installed on the outside of the building. The St. John's Parochial School building was carefully examined and by computing the width of the exits it was found that they were sufficient to take care of the 680 children. Within the past few days the entire school, in a regular fire drill, was emptied in ninety seconds.

"The real fault in the building was the fact that all the stairs led toward the centre of the building, and not toward the exits."

FOUR SLAIN BY ESKIMOS.

Guide Also Tells Captain Lockhart How Explorer Street Was Killed.

THE PAS, Manitoba, Oct. 29.—Two Catholic priests and two prospectors are reported to have been murdered by Eskimos north of Chesterfield Inlet, Hudson Bay, according to Captain Lockhart of the Royal Northwest police boat Village Bell, which arrived here today from northern waters.

Captain Lockhart said he believed the four men were murdered by the same inland tribe of Eskimos that attacked Radford and Street, the explorers. Peaceful shore Eskimos told him that the inland tribe had heard the constables were looking for the men who attacked the explorers, and therefore were suspicious of all strangers.

A Tepaluc guide, who was with Radford and Street, told Captain Lockhart that Street put up a great struggle for his life, and, with his body full of spear holes, he lived from noon till sundown, when an Eskimo squaw cut his throat and pushed his body over a cliff.

The Tepaluc saved his life by marrying one of the women of the tribe, and eventually made his escape to the bay coast. He positively refused to serve as guide for Inspector Bates, who wished to visit the scene.

$837,800 Added to Tax Roll.

Tax Commissioners in Manhattan yesterday made 345 personal tax assessment examinations on a total of $37,004,500. Of this number 72 were held for a final assessment of $837,800. Twenty-eight were exempted, owing to non-residence. To date 5,504 persons have been examined on a total tentative assessment of $470,512,200, of whom 931 have been held for $7,097,741.

Stern Brothers
42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue

SPECIAL FOR TO-DAY, SATURDAY

Men's Sack Suits At $15.00
Value $20.00

Fashionable materials in the latest models and desirable colorings; also blues and blacks. All sizes from 34 to 42 chest measure are represented, but not in every model.

A CLEARANCE OF

Fall Overcoats at $15.00

In Oxfords and Fancy Mixtures; skeleton or quarter silk lined; values $20.00 and 22.50

High Class Overcoats, - - - at $22.50

Full silk and quarter silk lined; values up to $30.00

Unusually large assortments of new model

Winter Overcoats for Men and Young Men at $15.00 to 40.00

RICH NEW YORK DATA IN THE ENO BEQUEST

Public Library Becomes Possessor of Many Rare Views of the Old City.

A VALUABLE COLLECTION

History of Municipality During More Than a Century Shown by Maps and Engravings.

Through the bequest of Amos F. Eno to the New York Public Library of his New York prints, engravings, and books, that institution becomes the possessor of one of the finest collections of old New York material in the country. With the single exception of the New York Historical Society, the Public Library will now have the largest collection of rare New York views extant.

Collectors of old New York views discussed the gift yesterday with keen interest, and the unanimous impression was that if offered for sale at auction it would readily bring several thousand dollars.

Mr. Eno, who died at his home at 32 Fifth Avenue on Oct. 21, in his eighty-first year, had made a hobby of old New York for the greater part of his life. He had opportunities in his early years of picking up some of the most coveted rarities of old and interesting New York scenes at prices which would seem ridiculous today.

"It was one of the few really great collections," said Robert Fridenberg, a print dealer, who has made a specialty of New York views, yesterday. "Besides containing many of the eminently rare pieces, Mr. Eno collected from a genuine love of the city, and in his portfolios were several hundred scenes of old-time days and landmarks which have long since passed away, but which present an admirable illustrated history of the changing conditions in New York life for more than a century."

In addition to the views, Mr. Eno's collection contains many rare and early maps, which are of inestimable value in locating ancient boundary lines, and showing the extent of the city at different years of its progress.

One of the earliest views is the rare Visscher print of New Amsterdam, inserted at the foot of the large Visscher map of 1655, showing the peaked roof of the little church within the fort. This is the second engraved view of the city. Then there are the very rare Doesbergh and the Allard-Mayer views, both about 1673. One of the finest of the English period is the large Carwitham view of the Battery, showing the fort, then called Fort George, which has sold, in its colored state, as high as $625. Of about the same period are the fine Howdell-Canot views of the city from the southwest and the southeast. They were painted by Captain Howdell of the British Army about 1761, and in the Holden sale a few years ago brought $360 and $245, respectively.

The St. Memin view of the city looking toward Long Island, with the old Rutgers mansion on the East River in the distance, is another of the scare prints. Mr. Eno had a fine copy of the Birch-Seymour view of the city in 1803, known to collectors as the picnic party print, and he also had the two choice Wall-Hill colored views of the city from Brooklyn and "Weehawk," and the magnificent Havell panaromic views from the East and the North Rivers, worth $200 or more each. Other choice pieces in the collection include the Bornet panorama of Manhattan Island in 1854, the Chapman-Bennett view of the Bay in 1836, the Hornor-Neale view from Brooklyn, showing the old-fashioned ferryboats, and which has sold for $410; the beautifully colored Kollner-Deroy series, Martel's rare print of Central Park, the Jukes view of 1849, the rare Fleetwood view of the Athenaeum Hotel on lower Broadway, the two Klinckowstrom aqua tints of the city and Broadway in 1816, the rare Currier lithograph of the Astor Place riot in 1849, the large print of the burning of the Crystal Palace in Bryant Park in 1858, the colored Calyo-Bennett views of the great fire of 1835, showing the ruins in Wall Street; all of the handsome Milbert views, many of them being India proofs; the interesting scene of the Seventh Regiment on review at Washington Square in 1835, the two rare views of the interior of the old Post Office, formerly the Middle Dutch Church, on Nassau Street, and a splendid print of the tomb erected in St. Paul's churchyard to the memory of the English actor, George Frederick Cooke, issued the year after the monument was put up in 1821 by Edmund Kean.

Among the rare maps are the plan of the attack of the Provincial armies on Long Island, the Ratzer map of 1767, the Faddin map of 1776, and the Eddy map of 1812, showing an area thirty miles around New York.

KENDRICK GIVES UP FLIGHT.

Will Return Here Today Because of Trouble with His Engine.

OCEAN CITY, Md., Oct. 29.—Beryl H. Kendrick, the aviator, who started from Albany, N. Y., yesterday in an attempt to fly to Cape Hatteras, N. C., in a hydro-aeroplane but was obliged to land here last evening owing to darkness, left at 1:25 this afternoon, but owing to engine trouble he returned three hours later.

Kendrick announced later in the day that he would start for New York tomorrow.

DR. HILLIS'S ORDER VACATED

Ferguson Need Not Undergo Examination Before Complaint Is Filed.

In the legal proceedings brought against him by the Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, Frank L. Ferguson, former financial agent of the minister, won a preliminary success yesterday when Justice Kelly in the Supreme Court vacated an order requiring Mr. Ferguson to be examined before a referee prior to the filing of a complaint by Dr. Hillis.

Mr. Ferguson characterized the order for his examination as a move for a "fishing excursion," and asked that it be set aside. Justice Kelly held that the plaintiff's affidavit contains all the necessary facts to enable him to frame a complaint against the defendant and that the application is premature.

"The plaintiff," the Justice ruled, "seeks not additional facts of which he is ignorant, but evidence in support of facts known to him and which are sufficient to enable him to frame his pleading."

NAMES 5 AND 10C. RECEIVER.

Judge Hand Appoints J. S. Sheppard, Jr., to Handle Store.

John S. Sheppard, Jr., an attorney, of 27 Cedar Street, was appointed yesterday by Judge Augustus N. Hand in the Federal District Court, receiver for the American Five and Ten Cent Stores. This concern, in which President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia was said to be interested, had a capital of $1,000,000 and offices at 315 Fifth Avenue, with a chain of stores throughout the country.

An equity suit was started against the company last Summer, and the receiver was appointed on the motion of Irving L. Ernst and Harry Zalkin of 170 Broadway, as attorneys for George Bergfeldt and other creditors. The liabilities are said to be about $218,000, and a petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company in August.

MRS. CRAM AIDS PRISONER.

Saves Woman in Garment Workers' Strike from Jail.

When Mrs. Theresa Arico, a dressmaker, of 709 E. 181st Street, the Bronx, was before Magistrate Barlow in Yorkville Court for sentence yesterday for calling a man a "scab" and striking his arm, Mrs. J. Sergeant Cram saved her from a workhouse sentence.

After Mrs. Cram had told of the garment workers' troubles that had led to Mrs. Arico's arrest in front of a dressmaking establishment in West Thirtieth Street on Wednesday, Magistrate Barlow let the defendant off with a fine of $10.

Mrs. Cram said that on Tuesday, girls employed in the dressmaking establishment met in the Cram home to discuss the condition of working girls. Mrs. Arico was there and took a leading part in the meeting.

SAFETY FIRST!

This Tells You What A-A-A-A-A-A Means to You

ÆTNA
ACME
ACCUMULATED
ACCIDENT
ASSURANCE

ÆTNA

FOR ALL TRUTH SEEKERS

The Hundredth Wave
A NOVEL
By GRANTLY STANDERSON

Written to accomplish two strongly interlinked purposes, this extraordinary novel will appeal to every one who is honestly seeking a faith which is in accord with the truths revealed by science.

Will the Religion of Progress supersede Christianity and become the future "World Religion"?
In this novel the Society of Progress answers "Yes," and tells why it must be so.

Are You in Spiritual Slavery?
Read This Book and Then Answer
AT ALL BOOK STORES
Mailing Weight, 26 ounces. Cloth, $1.35 net.
CHARLES H. KERR & CO., Chicago, Ill.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

CITIZENS:

Protect Your Home!

Keep Tammany Out
OF THE
DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE.

Monster Mass Meeting

DURLAND'S RIDING ACADEMY,
66th Street and Central Park West,
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 7 P. M.

SPEAKERS:

WALTER M. CHANDLER
JOB E. HEDGES
WILLIAM M. K. OLCOTT
JULIUS HENRY COHEN
OGDEN L. MILLS
WILLIAM RAND, JR.
AMOS PINCHOT

CHARLES A. PERKINS.

United We Stand, Divided We Fall!

Progressives, Independent Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, Labor Men—every man who wants honest administration of the law in New York County—

VOTE FOR

X | CHARLES A. PERKINS

HARPER'S BOOKS

The Money Master

By Sir Gilbert Parker

A Story of Modern Canada

"He has travelled far and wide by sea and land, he has written novels placed in Egypt, South Africa, and other scenes he has visited, but to none of them has he been able to give the truth that appears in all his stories of his home land. Like Thomas Hardy and many another writer, his skill comes from and his reputation stands by the tales he has told of his own country."—Boston Transcript. "'The Money Master' is big in its analysis of human nature and reveals new depths in Sir Gilbert's power of creation, his imagination and his sympathies with the distressed. He has filled the novel with splendid touches that show men and women clear to their souls and their bones."—Philadelphia Record.

Plashers Mead

By Compton Mackenzie

An idyllic romance—rare in its beauty—set by the foremost of England's younger novelists—in a perfect frame. Mr. Mackenzie is best known in this country by his novel "Carnival." The London Punch says of him: "I am prepared to wager that Mr. Mackenzie's future is bound up with what is most considerable in English fiction."

Over Paradise Ridge

By Maria Thompson Daviess

A love story of to-day, full of the emotional quality of this author's best work, and of the buoyancy and enthusiasm of youth. Not since "The Melting of Molly" has Miss Daviess given to the public a book so full of charm and drama.

H. R.

By Edwin Lefevre

Here is a book which will compel attention by its brilliancy, audacity, and satire. H. R.—nominally a bank clerk, actually a genius—upsets the conventions of the bank, expresses his love at first sight for the President's daughter, and goes forth to conquer New York. He advertises his intentions to marry her by the sandwich-men. But in spite of his methods a real love story and a vein of romance run throughout.

Heart of The Sunset

By Rex Beach

"Wonderfully timely is the 'Heart of the Sunset,' a thrilling and fascinating romance by Rex Beach. . . . It is a smashing fine story, filled with humor, thrilling situations, and a great and tender love."—Boston Globe. "In this wildly thrilling story of recent times on the Mexican border Mr. Beach seems himself again. In dealing with primitive passions and raw emotions he has few equals. He has taken many incidents and characters boldly from the present and newly past disturbances, with scarcely a change of name, and wrought a story of intense interest."—Lexington (Ky.) Herald.

Our Holiday Catalogue will be sent free on receipt of a postal.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE
The Most Interesting Magazine in the World

CITY WOMEN'S CLUBS FOR TRADING STAMPS

Indorse Miss Helen Boswell's Resolution After an Exciting Discussion.

TABLE ARMENIAN PROTEST

Delegates Refuse to Take Action on Turkish Atrocities — Convention Divided on Suffrage.

Trading stamps formed the storm centre at the thirty-eighth convention of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday at the Hotel Astor.

The storm was not severe, but at one time half a dozen women were on their feet at the same time, and it took the united efforts of Mrs. Eugene J. Grant, President of the Federation, and several women who ran about waving cards upon which was printed "SILENCE" to bring the convention to order.

The flurry came when Miss Helen V. Boswell, as representative of the Woman's Forum, introduced a resolution asking that the Federation indorse the use of trading stamps and take action to prevent a discontinuance of them, as some dealers had threatened. Miss Boswell, in defense of her resolution, said that the stamps and coupons were legitimate means of profit sharing by which the very poor benefited.

In an instant Mrs. Frank L. Stretton was on her feet. She charged that the Forum had refused to hear the other side of the question. "I asked at the Forum that no action be taken until the question had been discussed and decided upon, but the President overruled me and passed the resolution," she said.

"It's an advertising scheme," shouted one woman.

"To the poor woman the trading stamp book is the only bankbook she will ever have," declared Mrs. A. M. Palmer, whose appeal to indorse the resolution was aided by Mrs. Simon Baruch. Mrs. Edward W. Hooke also spoke in favor of the measure.

"The Federation had better be careful that it is not commercialized," warned Miss Mary Garrett Hay. "I think the resolution should be rewritten so as to be more specific. It is the commercial idea I object to."

There were more cries of commercialism, but Miss Boswell explained that it was the spirit and purpose of the resolution that the Forum wished indorsed. In the end it was adopted, but not before Miss Sadie American of the Jewish Women's organizations protested that the resolution should be opposed, as it had not been discussed in all its details.

Federation Remains Neutral.

The second flurry came when Miss Amy Fay, as representing the Women's Philharmonic Society, put before the Federation a resolution protesting against the atrocities of the Turks upon the Armenians and pledging the organization to do all in its power to bring about intervention by the Government of the United States.

There were cries of "We're neutral!" when the resolution was read, and several women got up and shouted that the whole proceeding was out of order. The opposition developed strength and in the end a motion to table the resolution was carried.

There were some 1,800 women present when Mrs. Eugene J. Grant called the convention to order. By the time the convention got down to work the room was filled and in the confusion at the door many struggled to get in. The convention put into practice the new were 381 delegates and 186 alternates, reptesenting 245 clubs. Seventeen new clubs were admitted to the Federation, the largest being the National Opera Club of America, of which Mme. Katherine Evans von Klenner is President, and which has 800 members.

The Scholarship Committee reported and $500 was raised for the Scholarship Fund. Of this amount $219 came from a teacher in the public schools and was a gift of the amount paid by the fund for this teacher's expenses during the two years she was a student in the Normal School.

Mrs. William Grant Brown, of the Biennial Board, announced that the National Federation of Women's Clubs would meet in the Seventh Regiment Armory in May next.

An appeal for the City Federation Hotel, a home for working girls at 462 West Twenty-second Street, was made by Mrs. Emile Glogau.

The convention went on record as favoring the Consumer's League appeal for early Christmas shopping. It also called upon its members to stop the practice of ordering goods sent home C. O. D. and then not accepting them.

The convention adopted a resolution asking Congress to establish a national Iprosarium.

At the request of the Brooklyn Women's Single Tax Club, there was adopted after much discussion a resolution disapproving Article X., of the proposed Constitution.

There was a tense moment when the Council of Jewish Women of Brooklyn presented a resolution asking that the Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions be instructed to report the progress made, if any, toward putting into effect the different resolutions adopted at the preceeding meeting.

Says Resolutions End at Conventions.

"The end of resolutions is this hall in the Hotel Astor," cried one of the delegates. There was a pause and then several were on their feet explaining what was really done to make effective resolutions adopted by the convention.

After speeches by Mrs. Everett Menzies Raynor, State Regent of the Daughters of the Revolution; the Rev. Charles T. Baylis, and Henry E. Jenkins, Supervisor of Evening Schools, the convention adjourned for luncheon.

There was much applause, when, in the afternoon, Miss Anna Moscowitz, in making an appeal for the co-operation of women in Night Court work, said that, for the first time in the history of the State, a Magistrate had convicted a man of being a vagrant.

In making the report of the Committee on Drama, Mrs. August Dreyer discussed the power and appeal over the spoken drama to the moving picture. The attention with which the audience listened to Mme. Labadie's recital of "The Florentine Tragedy," by Oscar Wilde, might have been taken as proof of this power of the spoken word.

Those who looked for trouble when the suffrage and anti-suffrage committees reported were disappointed. Mrs. William G. Wilcox, the Chairman of the Suffrage Committee, told her experiences on Staten Island and in New Jersey.

The report of the Anti-Suffrage Committee was presented by Mrs. William Force Scott, and the subject was taken up by Mrs. John Jerome Rooney. She received applause enough to show that the opinion of the convention was not unanimous upon the subject.

The report of the Art Committee was read by Mrs. Harriett Bishop Waters. "Art in Relation to Women's Work" was the subject of a talk by Dr. James Parton Haney, and Albert Shaw, editor of The American Review of Reviews, discussed "Literature of Today—Its Influence."

Among those present were Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, the Rev. F. de Sola Mendes, William Todd Helmuth, Mrs. Charles W. Stockton, Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Miss Florence Guernsey, Mrs. William Cumming Story, Mrs. William Grant Brown, Mrs. Marcus Marks, Mrs. Horatio F. Davidson, and Miss Anne Rhodes.

WOUNDED ROBBER IS HELD.

$7,500 Bail for Gunman Caught In Bowery Holdup.

Otto Kruger, who was the chief figure in the sensational Bowery holdup and shooting on Thursday night, was held by Magistrate Cobb in the Tombs Court yesterday in $7,500 bail on three charges—violation of the Sullivan Law, robbery and felonious assault. He pleaded not guilty to all of them and was committed to the Tombs, where he will await trial and nurse a wound in his leg inflicted by Policeman Jack Benner of the Mulberry Street Station.

Another man arrested with Kruger and at first believed to have been an accomplice in the robbery of the United Cigar Store at Houston Street and the oBwery was taken before Magistrate Cobb. He said he was Shepard Ryder, a clerk of 98 Bowery. No evidence was found to connect him with the robbery and Magistrate Cobb ordered he be discharged.

HIS ATTEMPT TO DIE MADE HIM RESCUER

Johnson Turned On the Gas, but Neighbors Broke In and Lighted a Match.

EXPLOSION AS THE SEQUEL

Despondent Man Saved His Burning Sister — Then Arrested for Trying to Kill Himself.

Otto Johnson, a painter, 51 years old, living at 356 Twenty-second Street, Brooklyn, became discouraged with life yesterday evening and, going into his bedroom, turned on the gas and lay down to die as quietly and neatly as possible. At the Fifth Avenue Police Station later it was said that melancholia caused him to seek death, but Johnson asserted that his boon companion, Hard Luck, led him into trouble.

While Johnson ecstatically breathed the deadly fumes in his bedroom his sister, Mrs. Mary Snyder, in the apartment above, was cooking supper. On smelling gas she became very worried, for she knew her brother's wife and children were out, and she had not heard him as he crept about in his preparations for his final exit from this vale of tears.

Screaming for help, she ran downstairs and soon collected a crowd of neighbors, among them Mortimer McGrath, who lived on the ground floor. Hurriedly they ascended the stairs to the second floor, where Johnson lived, and burst open the door.

Inside, all was dark and the invaders were nearly stifled by the fumes of gas which rushed forth in their very faces. Upon the bed was Johnson, whom they could not see, but who watched their every move with an angry eye. He could not speak, for every time he breathed the gas choked him, and he only had remained conscious by keeping very still and holding his breath.

The crowd tried to pierce the darkness. Mrs. Snyder started to go in, but she was held back by her friends. Then somebody in the crowd had an inspiration:

"Why didn't we think of this before?" he exclaimed, happily, as he struck a match to light up the gloom so they could ascertain the exact whereabouts of that gas leak. There was an explosion that shook the building and a sheet of flame poured out of the room, illuminating the startled faces of the rescuers and revealing the disgusted countenance of Johnson as he leaped from his intended death couch and rushed to the door.

Mrs. Snyder's clothes were on fire now, and Johnson had to spend all his time berating the neighbors and beating out the flames. Policeman Deevy, of the Fifth Avenue Station, sent a hurry call for an ambulance from the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, and the man who had conceived the idea of lighting the match turned in a fire alarm.

When it was all over, and Mrs. Snyder had been taken away in the ambulance to recover from sundry burns and also from the shock, Johnson sat in the corner thinking of his scorched hands and what he would like to do to the man who had struck the match.

Deevy interrupted his meditations.

"The fire's out," he said.

"Only about $200 worth of damage. But, old man you'll have to take a walk with me to the station on a charge of attempted suicide."

"Hard luck," said Johnson wearily as he arose.

N. Y. U. FRESHMEN DUCKED.

New Students Get Usual Dip in Fountain of Knowledge.

Two hundred and fifty freshmen of the New York University lined up in white pajamas in front of Gould Hall on University Heights at 7 o'clock last night, and were marched, according to a ceremony nineteen years old, to be ducked in the Fountain of Knowleage on the University grounds.

The white band of the ignorant were first led by sophomores to the residence of Chancellor Brown, who predicted far-reaching benefits from the night's observance, and then caused several hundred rounds of coffee and dough-nuts to be set out for the students.

Shortly before 8 o'clock several thousand persons had gathered, and the boys in pajamas were brought up by twos and orally examined by W. K. Doggett, President of the student body. The waters are said to overcome a freshman's repugnance to knowledge and the examiner's duty was to discover how many ducks were necessary in each case to destroy the natural defenses of the first year intellect.

Two duckings of the head were the treatment for the majority. Some of the dense ones, however, had to go under a number of times before good results were obtained, and a few particularly stubborn cases were ducked a dozen times.

In half a dozen instances, where the catechisinb revealed a mental state of shallowness coupled with presumption, the only remedy was to throw the freshman bodily into the fountain.

CALL HORSE "ACT" CRUEL.

Six Movie Men to be Tried for Making Animal Jump 45 Feet.

Because they made a horse jump forty-five feet down the Au Sable Chasm in the Adirondacks near Keysville, Essex County, six employes of the William Fox Film Company were arraigned yesterday before Magistrate House in the West Fifty-fourth Street Court, charged with engaging in an act which tended to produce cruelty to the animal. The warrant were obtained by Thomas S. Freel Superintendent of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, from Justice of the Peace, J. D. Cort of Essex County.

The horse made the drop with a rider on his back, Art Jarvis of Brooklyn, and Jarvis now is in the Flower Hospital, with a broken leg The horse, according to the film people, escaped uninjured.

The Fox Company officials asserte that the horse was trained to dive and the fact that he came out of it unhurt was sufficient proof of this The maximum penalty is $50.

The following men were arrested: Arthur Jarvis, the rider; Clifford Saum, representing the company Martin J. Potter, the veterinarian; Marcel H. Morhange, and Jack Brent actors, and Carl Harbaugh, author of the scenario They were held in $100 bail each, whihc was furnished. Trial was set for Nov. 6 in Keyesville.

GAVE HIM NEW SHINBONES.

Patient Exhibited Before the Clinical Congress in Boston.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—The Clinical Congress of Surgeons concluded its session today after departing from demonstrations, symposiums, and meetings long enough to hear an address at the Massachusetts General Hospital by Dr. J. Collins Warren on "Reminiscences of the Discovery of Ether." After the address the visitors went to the dome of the original hospital building, where the anaesthetic was first administered, in 1846.

Another digression from the program was made through the acceptance of the invitation of the Forsyth Dental infirmary to visit its operating hall and theatre.

Despite these diversions, there were many surgeons in attendance at the operations and demonstrations which went on, as on previous days of the congress, at the large hospitals of Boston, and today's operators included Drs. C. L. Scudder, C. A. Porter, F. B. Lund, J. B. Blake, R. W. Lovett, W. E. Ladd, C. G. Mixter, Florence W. Duckering, Letitia D. Adams, Harvey Cushing, David Cheever, and John Homans.

At the Huntingdon Hospital this afternoon Drs. Greenough and Duane demonstrated the treatment of cancer by radium, and at the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Richard P. Strong, recently returned from Serbia, spoke upon "The Progress in Combating Epidemics of Infectious Diseases."

The demons.ration of a case in which a new pair of shin bones were grafted from a sister to a brother by Dr. Robert Soutet, at the House of the Good Samaritan, was a feature of the congress yesterday. The patient was born without shin bones, and was unable to walk before the operation. Since that time he has gained the use of his legs, and in a few months it is expected that he will be able to take part in the games of his schoolmates.

At the Boston City Hospital Dr. Edgar Holmes demonstrated the use of the nasopharyngoscope, by means of which the surgeon is able to extract from the nose and throat the small objects which a child is likely to inhale or swallow.

SCHOOL SUPPER TO WALSH.

Industrial Relations Head to be Guest at the Washington Irving.

The Washington Irving High School will be opened on the evening of Nov. 6 for a dollar supper to Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, former Chairman of the Industrial Relations Commission.

This is said to be the first time that a public school building has been used for this purpose. There will be 2,000 invitations to the supper, which will be given by the Labor Centres Committee. Mr. Walsh is coming here to attend the Labor Forum on Nov. 7.

"Sonny" Shepard Clue Fails.

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Oct. 29.—The theory that "Sonny" Shepard, the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, was Newman McCleary was disproved today by the discovery that Newman McCleary is with his parents at Toms River, having moved here from Washington. According to the police in New York, Sonny, when found on the cathedral steps, wore a coat with the name of "McCleary" sewed inside. At the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Trenton it had been learned that Newman Henry McCleary was born in Washington, Oct. 22, 1910.

PUBLISHED TO-DAY — The Doran Books

America Today

NATIONAL FLOODMARKS

Observations on American Life from Collier's

American tendencies in business and politics, poetry and patent medicine, chess and the art of cheerfulness, seen at their best in these famous editorials, the most permanent from Collier's. Net $1.50

America Yesterday

VAGRANT MEMORIES

By William Winter

For lovers of the theatre, for lovers of the mellow days when the greenroom echoed to genuine wit, this book by the famous poet, with its recollections of the greatest actors. Richly illustrated. Net $3.00

DEMOCRACY & THE NATIONS

By Dr. James A. Macdonald

A message of the friendship between Canada and the United States, and all it means for the world, by the editor of the Toronto Globe—Canada's greatest spokesman. Net $1.35

THEISM AND HUMANISM

By Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour

The first big philosophical book for years, by one of the few really great philosophers; a revolutionary treatment of the naturalistic interpretation of life. Net $1.75

LOT & COMPANY — Will Levington Comfort

Mr. Comfort is back in the moving, adventurous style of "Routledge Rides Alone," with a story of a youngster who rebelled against a dusty office, shipped off on an old sailing vessel, and in the tropic world of vast stars and seas found life and love. Color jacket. An American Story for Americans Net $1.35

THE THIRTY-NINE STEPS By John Buchan

No novel of the year is quite so full of excitement and action, and none has a mystery so hard to solve. Net $1.25

TEN DEGREES BACKWARD

By Ellen Thorneycroft Fowler

A love story of gentleness and peace, old-fashioned gardens, kindly wit. Net $1.25

At all booksellers. Handsome holiday catalogue free on request

GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY 33 W. 32nd St. New York
Publishers in America for HODDER & STOUGHTON

Putnam's Oct. New Publications 30th.

Memories and Anecdotes
By Kate Sanborn
8°. Illustrated $1.75.
A gossipy, informing, waggish, and altogether delightful volume,—the retrospect of a woman who is interesting in herself and who attracted other interesting people. Among those who appear in the lively pages of the volume are—to mention only a few—President Barnard, Henry Ward Beecher, Mrs. Anne C. L. Botts, William Cullen Bryant, Hezekiah Butterworth, Mark Twain, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Edward Everett, James T. Fields, Horace Greeley, John Hay, Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Wendell Phillips, and Vereschagin.

Historic Sketch of the Jews in Russia and Poland
By Prof. Israel Friedlaender
12°. $1.25.
A popular account of the Polish and Russian Jews whose Pale of Settlement is the battleground of Teuton and Slav. It elucidates the problem of Russian Jewry which, at the termination of the world struggle, will claim alike the attention of statesman and humanitarian. It interprets the complex psychology of the Russian Jew, who is becoming an important factor in the life of America.

A Sketch of English Legal History
Frederic W. Maitland, LL.D., and Francis C. Montague, M. A.
8°. $1.50.
As a primer of English history, adapted to the needs of intending law students and of general readers, the brilliant sketches of Maitland and Montague, arranged in sequence and continuity, will prove of great service. Edited with notes and appendices by James F. Colby, Professor of Law at Dartmouth.

Imperial Japanese Poems of the Meiji Era
Translated from the Japanese by Frank A. Lombard, Professor of English Literature and Education, Doshisha University; Lecturer Imperial University, Kyoto, Japan.
12°. In Slip Box. Decorative Binding. $1.75.
A selection of poems, translated into English verse, of the Emperor Meiji, father of the present Mikado. The success of the translator's achievement may be gauged by those familiar with Japanese through a comparison with the original text, which is printed in each case on the page opposite the translation.

All Prices Net. All Booksellers.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS
New York London

Ethel Barrymore SAYS:
"I wish all women, myself included, were half as human and half as witty as Emma McChesney."
See Miss Barrymore in the play. Buy the book at any bookstore.
EMMA McCHESNEY & CO.
By Edna Ferber
Published by STOKES

INTERIOR DECORATION
Its Principles and Practice
By FRANK ALVAH PARSONS
President of The New York School of Fine and Applied Arts.
¶ A book of interior decoration that is based not upon what is vogue at the moment, but what is right by the true principles of art and practice. From it the reader will learn how to go about securing artistic results in furnishing under any conditions—whether it be for the home, public hall or hotel.
Illustrated. Net, $3.00
DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY

GERMANY IN DEFEAT
By Count Charles DeSouza and Major Haldane Macfall
A short, but close, investigation from the strictly strategical point of view . . . designed to show that at the Marne Germany was defeated and that she has been a defeated people ever since.
$2.00 net. At any Bookstore.
E. P. DUTTON & CO.
681 Fifth Ave., New York

Mystery!
The Yellow Dove
By GEORGE GIBBS
Was Cyril Hammersley a British or a German spy? What was the Yellow Dove?
ALL BOOKSTORES.
Illustrated $1.25 net
D. Appleton & Company Publishers New York

SPANISH IN A WEEK
By T. S. ROMERO
Is the best text-book to the great language. To study, with or without teacher. Every word phonetically pronounced. Send this advertisement with your name and 50 cents in stamps; we will do the rest—subject to return if unsatisfactory. Spanish lessons at school or pupil's residence. ROMERO'S Spanish School. 293 W. 126th

A Striking Plot— A Manly Hero—
A Charming Heroine—
MAKING MONEY
This Battle of Hearts and Dollars is the most popular novel of that vigorous author.
OWEN JOHNSON
Author of "Stover at Yale," "The Salamander," etc.
Published by STOKES

CASH FOR BOOKS
Highest prices paid for large or small collections of BOOKS, AUTOGRAPHS, PRINTS, or other literary properties. Cash down, and prompt removal. Executors, administrators, etc., should immediately get in touch with us.
Specially Wanted—11th Edition Britannica
Malkan's
NEW YORK'S LARGEST BOOKSTORE
42 BROADWAY Phone 3900 BROAD

CUPID'S CAPERS
A book for him or her. Jolly Cupid verses by Lillian Gardener, pictures in color by Dick Hartley.
Price 50c net
E. P. Dutton & Co., 681 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

Once you taste the delicious flavor of baked Deerfoot Farm sausage, that settles it.
It spoils you for the other kind ever after.
Have some for breakfast, say tomorrow—or next day.
DEERFOOT FARM: New York Office
172 Chambers St. Phone, Cortland 3982

HAIR and Its Preservation by Dr. Richard W. Muller. Prof. Illus. 2d edition. $1.50 postpaid.
LOSS OF HAIR Seborrhoea premature gray hair and its Treatment by the Quartzlamp. Dr. F. Nagelschmidt. Translated and edited by Dr. Richard W. Muller. 87 Illustrations. Price $1.50. W. H. Jenkins Co., Pub., Sixth Ave. and 48th St., New York.

This is the place for every record listed—and hundreds more besides. Of course, we will be glad to play them for you.
F. G. SMITH,
Bradbury Piano Warerooms
Phone Murray Hill 7535.
335 Fifth Avenue, Opp. Waldorf-Astoria.

Come in—they're here
The newest Columbia records listed—and more than you could hear in a week's sitting. We are at your service.
Columbia Graphophone Co.
83 Chambers Street

Yes, we have them
—every Columbia record listed—and hundreds that are not. It's part of our day's work to play them for you.
THE GRAFONOLA SHOP
143 West 125th Street.
Phone Morningside 2722

Last night at the Opera

THOUSANDS of delighted listeners were held in thrall by the brilliant artists of the Boston Opera Company
(—one way of hearing them.)
Their greatest successes have been recorded with rare fidelity and realism upon
Columbia Double-Disc Records
(—the only other way of hearing them.)
For practically all are exclusive Columbia artists. It is now your privilege to command their superb art.
Any Columbia dealer will gladly play for you any of the Columbia Records by these artists, any time.

Olive Fremstad, whose soprano voice is at once powerful, sweet, clear and brilliant, sings the famous aria from Tannhaeuser—"Oh, Hall of Song and Joy!" In this Columbia Record No. A5281 at $8.00, and in her other records, which she makes solely for the Columbia Graphophone Company, you will mark how the perfected Columbia process reflects the personality of the singer.

Giovanni Zenatello, the great Italian tenor, an exclusive Columbia artist. We have only space to mention one of his Columbia Records here. Ask to hear, first of all, his Columbia Record A1142—a beautiful coupling of Il Trovatore and Cavalleria Rusticana, with full orchestra. 10-inch, double-disc, $2.00. Then ask for more.

Maggie Teyte, the favorite English soprano, with the most charming voice among the new stars of opera; an exclusive Columbia artist. You will be delighted with her Columbia Record A1585—a coupling of the famous Ballad "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "Down in the Forest"—two selections that make an ideal record—10 inch, double-disc, $2.00. Then hear her other Columbia Records.

Felice Lyne, a coloratura soprano with wonderful recording qualities in her voice. An exclusive Columbia artist. Her Columbia Record A5695—coupling "Spring's Awakening" and "A Dream Fancy"—is an exceptional example of perfect Columbia recording. 12 inch, double-disc, $1.50.

Maria Gay, the notable Spanish contralto, distinguished for her impersonation of Carmen, an exclusive Columbia artist. Her Columbia Record A5279—containing two selections from Carmen—displays her rich, round contralto voice to fine advantage. Hear this record by all means. 12 inch, double-disc, $3.00.

George Baklanoff, Russia's greatest baritone, an exclusive Columbia artist. The remarkable smoothness and richness, the immense volume of his virile voice are preserved with wonderful fidelity in his exclusive Columbia Records. Hear his Columbia Record A5270—containing two selections from Verdi's Otello—a musical achievement wonderfully recorded. Ask for A5270—12 inch, double-disc, $3.00.

Jose Mardones, the great Spanish basso, with his voice of wondrous sonority and volume, has made a list of remarkable Columbia Records. To mention just one, ask to hear A5192—a coupling of two great selections from Mefistofele and Les Huguenots. 12 inch, double-disc, $3.00.

Go to your Columbia dealer today. Ask him to play any of these records, or any others that you wish to hear from the big Columbia Record catalogue. He will be glad to do it—it is all a part of his day's work.
Yes, they will play on your machine.
Columbia Grafonolas Columbia Double-Disc Records
Columbia Records in all Foreign Languages. This Advertisement Dictated to the Dictaphone

THESE are three of the 113 orphans appearing in "Dear Enemy", by the author of "Daddy-Long-Legs", which has captured the country twice—first as a novel, then as a play. This new novel is also located in an orphan asylum—this time one that is itself orphaned until Sallie McBride comes to take charge. After that the "inmates" (including a young Scotch surgeon) have a glorious time and are all much improved. Illustrated by the author. If you liked "Daddy-Long-Legs", don't miss
DEAR ENEMY
By JEAN WEBSTER
At all Bookstores. Price $1.30 net, postage 10 cents
Published by THE CENTURY CO., New York City

TODAY'S SCRIBNER'S BOOKS

Heart of Europe, BY Ralph Adams Cram
Nothing could be a more valuable contribution to the knowledge of what the great war means than this description of the art and beauty of such cities as Liege, Louvain, Soissons, Laon, Malines, Rheims—a description eloquent beyond the mere marshalling of facts and pictures, with Mr. Cram's profound sense of loss. Profusely illustrated. $2.50 net.

The Fighting Cheyennes, BY George Bird Grinnell
It would be hard to find a book so full of action, adventure, and stratagem, of heroism and self sacrifice. It represents almost the life work of the author, one of the first living authorities on the American Indian. $3.50 net. (With maps.)

The Fountains of Fapal Rome
By Mrs. Charles MacVeagh
The story of Papal Rome might almost be said to be summarized by the monumental fountains here described with such sense of their historical association as well as keen artistic sympathy. Illustrations drawn and engraved on wood by Rudolph Ruzicka.

French Memories of Eighteenth Century America
By Charles H. Sherrill
An extremely lively, vivid, and instructive presentation of the period of our history between 1775-1800, based on the memoirs, etc., of the French men and women who visited this country, many of them to assist in our revolution. Illustrated, $2.00 net.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, PUBLISHERS, BOOKSELLERS,
FIFTH AVENUE AT 48TH STREET, NEW YORK

Combining Cluband Home This Fall and Winter haunt of the elite is unique in its completeness. Season guests of the know no dull hours, what with bowling, riding, driving, golf, etc. A most tempting cuisine — Table d'Hote or a la Carte. Indoor swimming tank and many other special features.

GedneyFarmHotel

Private Motor Bus Service Without Charge.

OPEN ALL YEAR.

GEDNEY FARM HOTEL
White Plains, N. Y.
EDWARD H. CRANDALL.

Magnitude

Each edition of the Butterick magazines weighs 850 tons. The cost of postage each month amounts to more than $13,000.

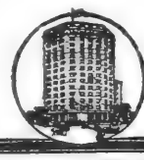
One month's edition of these magazines piled one copy on another would make a stack 14,410 feet high, equal to the altitude of Mt. Rainier.

The total amount of paper used in a year by the Butterick Company is equal to seven times the area of Manhattan Island. It is twice the size of the District of Columbia. It is equal to the combined areas of St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore.

Reel this paper out in a strip one foot wide and it would encircle the world thirty times—or three times the distance from the earth to the moon.

A single copy of a Butterick publication can not possibly indicate the size and scope of the Butterick business, because the human mind can not grasp such a multiplication of units. It is probable that even experienced advertisers do not realize the mighty force which is working for them.

BUTTERICK



ADVERTISEMENT.

It's Wonderful How Resinol Stops Itching

To those who have endured for years the itching torments of skin eruptions, the relief that the first use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap gives is perfectly incredible. After all the suffering they have endured and all the useless treatments they have spent good money for, they cannot believe anything so simple, mild and inexpensive can stop the itching and burning so promptly. And they find it still more wonderful that the improvement is permanent and that Resinol really drives away the eruption completely in a very short time. Perhaps there is a pleasant surprise like this in store for you. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all druggists. Trial free; write to Dept. 2-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

HEMPFIELD

An American Novel by DAVID GRAYSON

"This newest 'ad-enture' will take its place among the group of novels that are really American, through and through. Amity is one of the realest and most lovable heroines of contemporary American fiction."
—New York Times.

Net, $1.35. Just Out
All Bookstores
Doubleday, Page & Co.

CASH PAID FOR BOOKS

Highest prices and cash down paid for large and small collections of BOOKS and other LITERARY PROPERTY. We pack and remove books promptly. We deal largely with executors of estates.

Particularly Wanted—11th Edition Britannica

THOMS & ERON
(Incorporated)
56 John St., N.Y. Phone 4825-4826 John

7-20-4
R.G. SULLIVAN'S

Factory has been increased in size by 10,000 additional feet of floor space.

Largest selling brand of 10c Cigars in the world.

FACTORY, MANCHESTER, N. H.

DEFEAT FOR MAYOR ON BUDGET LIKELY

Majority of Board of Estimate Reported Against His Plan to Reduce Salaries.

MUST TAKE ACTION TODAY

Mitchel Hopes to Save $1,000,000 by Abolishing Many Jobs and Cutting the Pay of Others.

A serious split among the members of the Board of Estimate is expected to develop tonight when the Board meets to pass the 1916 budget. Under the law it must be passed before midnight of Oct. 31, and it is expected the session will continue well into Sunday morning. It will be one of the most important budget meetings held in years, owing to the Administration's plan to standardize salaries.

The majority of the members of the Board of Estimate are against salary reductions this year, and the Mayor's entire plan of standardization may be defeated. If the Mayor attempts to carry out the recommendations of the Bureau of Standards it is probable that he and Controller Prendergast, with six votes, will stand alone. President George McAneny of the Board of Aldermen, and the five Borough Presidents, with the remaining ten votes, it is expected will vote against the plan unless it is materially altered.

By the strictest economy the Mayor hopes to keep the 1916 appropriations for city departments within the 1915 figure. Nearly $14,000,000 must be added to the 1916 budget as the city's share of the direct State tax, however, so that the final budget will probably be around $212,000,000. The Mayor hopes to save about $1,000,000 in salary reductions and the abolition of jobs. Probably $4,000,600 will be included in the budget to write off the books that amount in uncollected taxes. Substantial cuts have been made in the twenty-eight departments directly under the jurisdiction of the Mayor. The tax rate for next year will probably be 2.12, as against 1.87 this year.

The Board of Estimate continued its public hearings on the budget yesterday. The first schedule taken up was that of the Board of Aldermen and the City Clerk, J. P. Scully, who is the clerk of the board. Mr. Scully's salary was reduced from $8,000 to $7,000, the salary of the assistant to the President of the board from $5,000 to $3,600, the Secretary to the President from $3,500 to $3,000, the Legislative Secretary from $3,000 to $2,400, and the Sergeant-at-Arms from $2,000 to $1,440. The salaries of the eight Assistant Sergeants-at-Arms remain at $1,200 each.

It was recommended that the salary of Frank Martin, who has been ordinance clerk of the board for twenty years, be reduced from $3,000 to $2,780, but it was kept at the former figure. The total of the board's appropriation is $283,277.

The budget of the Board of Education shows a departmental total of $40,-116,059, an increase of $275,710 over last year. The general school fund, to be raised by a 3 mill tax, amounts to $25,382,447, and an additional amount of $8,173,193 was added, making a total of $33,555,641. Last year the 3 mill tax amounted to $25,170,468, and the additional amount allowed was $7,439,-225, a total of $32,609,695.

The schedules of the public library and the Board of Education were taken up at the afternoon session. Ex-Justice Morgan J. O'Brien appeared for the public library and said that while the work had increased this year the appropriation had been reduced $5,000 for the coming year.

"Of course," he said, "we know that this board is up against a cry of retrenchment, but this is a great public work and we do not think the appropriation should be reduced."

The Mayor promised to take up the matter in executive session.

Dr. Berg, representing the United Real Estate Owners' Association, appeared in opposition to the Board of Education schedules. He said the amount asked by the Board very properly had been reduced, and he could show how it could be still further reduced without making the school children suffer. The Mayor said it had been thought proper to allow the Board of Education to work out the readjustment of its teaching force in its own way.

"If it was necessary to trim this year," said Dr. Berg, "the trimming should have been done on the fads and fancies, and not in the night schools."

Stewart Browne thought that pupils in the high schools sould be made to pay for their tuition. President Churchill said that in spite of the reduction in immigration many children were coming into the country. The Shepards, he said, were not the ones who found children on the Cathedral steps.

"We, too, are shepherds," he said, "and we have to look out for the children."

President Churchill read a letter from Superintendent Maxwell advocating an increased appropriation for 1916. Mr. Churchill said he believed the Board of Education should be separated from a body that was always figuring on taxes and how much money was to be raised to meet the expenses of the city.

"We have skinned ourselves to the bone," he slad, "and we've cut our appropriation. We've cut out everything we could and you have cut it still further. It doesn't matter whether we have it in bulk or not; it doesn't matter whether we can use it as we please or not. It is not enough. I just want to utter the warning that we may have to go to the end of our tether and close the schools, but we won't go over our appropriation. We need all the money we have asked for, and you cannot be too generous, if you have to mortgage Central Park."

The Mayor told President Churchill that he believed the schools could be run on the amount of money appropriated. Later the board went into secret session, and it will meet again today.

SUCCOR DESTITUTE FAMILY.

School Teachers Make Up Purse for Mother and Six Children.

The principal and faculty of Newtown High School at Elmhurst, L. I., made up a purse yesterday and with it prevented the family of one of the girl students from starving and from being evicted. The family is that of Charles Stillwagon, who is serving a term in Sing Sing for sending letters to the White Star Steamship line, threatening to blow up its ships. His conviction left his wife and six children without support.

At that time the family lived at Winfield, but to avoid notoriety Mrs. Stillwagon moved to Corona. She went out to do washing and other work that she could find. The oldest child, a girl 13 years old, is a student at the Newtown High School.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Stillwagon was taken ill, and since then had not worked. The family was without food and other necessities of life. The girl, Virginia, kept on at school until her ill-nourished condition attracted attention, and steps were taken to get relief for the family. The Charities Department was notified, but nothing substantial was done, it is said, and the faculty of the school finally acted to tide the family over the crisis.

NEW ATTACK ON CATHOLICS.

Anonymous Plea for Political Protestantism from Brooklyn.

An organization calling itself "The Great Secret Order," whose membership is anonymous and whose only address is Post Office Box 11, Brooklyn, has begun a violent onslaught upon the Roman Catholic Church.

It said that it is of the same class as "The Stone Men's Clubs" and the "Federation of Patriotic Societies," which have headquarters in Philadelphia. These bodies had a parade of 150,000 men in that city on Oct. 23.

The literature issued by The Great Secret Order consists of a booklet entitled "What's the Matter with Mexico?" cards bearing the caption "Treason, The Roman Catholic Church in Politics," an appeal to "The Patriotic Citizen," signed "Yours for God and Country" and a broadside "To Americans Who Think and Care," ending with the admonition, "Protestants! Vote for Protestants."

JOHN CONSIDINE IN COURT.

Theatrical Man Says He Owes $800,000 and Can't Raise Funds.

SEATTLE, Oct. 29.—John Considine, member of the theatrical firm of Sullivan & Considine, who a few years ago was reputed to be a millionaire, testified in the Superior Court here today that he was entirely without means and that he owed $800,000.

He was being examined in supplemental proceedings as to his ability to satisfy a judgment for $2,500, obtained against him Sept. 10 by George Rubison. Considine said he had sold his diamonds and parted with everything that would bring money, but he was unable to raise sufficient fundse. He was discharged.

MOVE TO BAR THE HYPHEN.

Chicago Judges Tighten Procedure in Naturalization Cases.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Federal and county judges of Chicago have tightened procedure in naturalization cases for the purpose of elliminating the hyphen. In practically all cases applicants are asked if they would bear arms for the United States against their native country, and whether they expect to be known as Americans or European-Americans.

Despite this, it is said that aliens are becoming naturalized here in increasing numbers. In the last twenty-eight days 1,325 allens have been naturalized here. The total since Jan. 1, is 8,049.

New Flock Welcomes Dr. Carter.

Several hundred persons attended a reception given by the Throop Avenue Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, to the new pastor, Dr. William Carter, Thursday evening. Dr. Carter, who is President of the Church and Social Service Bureau of New York, was formerly pastor of the Madison Avenue Reformed Church. The church was decorated. Mrs. Elsie Staiger Stein sang. The Boys Brigade, under the command of Colonel Robert N. Hunter, acted as ushers.

Mail from England Delayed.

The Saturday mails from England of Oct. 23 will arrive here from Liverpool next Thursday on the Anchor liner Cameronia. Owing to some trouble with the engines the Cameronia was detained in the Mersey just after leaving Liverpool and did not get away again until Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 26. The American liner New York, which arrives tomorrow morning from Liverpool, has thirty-five bags of mail, which were all specially addressed by that ship.

MAYOR WILL HELP SAVE NIGHT SCHOOLS

President Churchill Says He Is Satisfied They Will Remain Open.

FUND NOW HAS $137,000

Miss Strachan Tells Interborough Teachers That Extra Hours Are Planned for Them.

Night schools are to be kept open until the close of the present term at least if the Mayor's attitude is backed up by the other members of the Board of Estimate. The board authorized the transfer of $67,000 for night schools from the janitor and general funds yesterday. With the $20,000 which the Board of Education may use for such schools without the concurrence of the Board of Estimate and the $50,000 set aside last week, the total night school fund is now $137,000.

President Churchill said at the board's meeting yesterday he would need $150,-000 more to keep the schools open until Dec. 16, when the night school term would ordinarily end. He said it must be understood by the general public that the amount found available yesterday had been transferred by the Board of Estimate and that it was not a find by the examiners.

"We knew we had this money and would have asked for its transfer, only we understood this board would not allow the transfer," he said. "We have saved part of this money from janitors' salaries in recreation centres as the centres had been restricted. The other part of the money comes from a fund we were to use for making structural changes in school houses in the Bronx, and the Superintendent of Buildings informs me there now remains only $70 a building for repairs for the remainder of the year.

"We will now be able to go on," continued Mr. Churchill, "if we receive the $150,000 in special revenue bonds passed by the Aldermen last Tuesday."

"Now, Mr. Churchill," said the Mayor, "I think you had better keep the schools open. We have found some places where economies could be effected this week, and we did it by simply transferring from one pocket to another."

"If you continue you will wear out the pockets," said President Churchill.

"Well," returned the Mayor, "as I have said, I will vote for the bonds if necessity demands it."

"Thank you," said Mr. Churchill, "I will go away satisfied."

"Before you go," spoke up the Controller, "I want to say that I understand that $137,000 is to keep night schools open for the remainder of the year and the hoped-for $150,000 is for day elementary schools. I don't want you to leave here, Mr. Churchill, with the idea that you will get the bonds. I have not yet made up my mind to vote for them, if other economies can be found."

"Why, Mr. Controller," retorted President Churchill, "we are just as anxious for economy as any one else in New York and your office has gone over our office with a fine tooth comb and you haven't shown where we have failed in economy. The transfer today shows we are poverty-stricken."

"Poverty-stricken at $40,000 a year is not so bad," commented the Controller.

"That sort of argument is the thing that killed the donkey when they got him down to the last straw," said President Churchill as he left the room.

The board approved the request of District Attorney Perkins for $10,000 in special revenue bonds to meet a deficit in the contingent expenses of his office. The board also granted the request of the Board of Inebriety for $4,541 in special revenue bonds to meet deficits in the 1915 budget accounts.

Miss Grace C. Strachan told the Interborough Association of Women Teachers yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the Metropolitan Life Building that the Board of Estimate was planning to continue the evening school sessions by making the day school teachers work without extra pay.

"I have here," she said, "a private report on the attempt to change the educational system of this city. The Board of Estimate is helpless in the matter of reducing teachers' salaries. We have had State protection of salaries since 1914. If the proposed Constitution is passed we are not safe until after there have been court decisions, anyway. I agree with Mr. Root that education is a State function, but it is my belief that the Constitution gives the local authorities control.

"The Board of Estimate is planning to add one hour to the school hours of every teacher. Furthermore, they are planning to make it 220 school days a year, or eleven months' work and one month's vacation. Their intention is to have all the night school work done by day school teachers without extra compensation.

"The children should be first considered, of course. The parents of these children are going to wake up, I think. The pay, perhaps, is to let these things happen, and, of course, there will be a change back again.

"The teachers are not getting their refunds for absence for sickness. They have been forced back to the schools again, even those who are scarcely able to see across the room, or to hear across the room. They are not appointing teachers in New York any more—they haven't got the money."

After the meeting the teachers remained to discuss work which they might do at the polls on Tuesday to help woman suffrage.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Realizing the importance of the question presented in the Woman Suffrage Amendment, we bespeak your attention.

Suffrage is not a right, but a privilege, which should not be granted for sentimental reasons, but only if it benefits the State. No change so radical and irrevocable as the admission of women to the suffrage should be adopted unless its advantages are clear.

The adoption of woman suffrage will add over two and a half million voters to the electorate of New York State. The addition of a large number of voters inexperienced in business, and unused to judge of those problems on which they are called upon to vote, must tend toward inefficiency of government.

There is no convincing evidence that woman suffrage has proven beneficial in those States in which it has been tried, and the experiment is much more hazardous in a State whose population is composed of such divergent elements as New York.

The number of women enrolled in suffrage organizations indicates that only a small minority of women wish the vote, and if the suffrage is forced upon an unwilling or indifferent majority, the governing capacity of the electorate will deteriorate.

Unless you are convinced of the desirability of woman suffrage, it is highly important for you to vote against it.

GEORGE W. WICKERSHAM	JAMES R. SHEFFIELD
FRANCIS LYNDE STETSON	PAUL TUCKERMAN
FREDERIC R. COUDERT	GEORGE L. RIVES
DE LANCEY NICOLL	JOHN B. PINE
JOHN G. MILBURN	FREDERIC DE PEYSTER FOSTER
JOHN M. BOWERS	LYMAN ABBOTT
HENRY W. TAFT	HENRY SELIGMAN
FRANCIS M. SCOTT	WILLIAM D. GUTHRIE
HENRY L. STIMSON	EZRA P. PRENTICE
SETH LOW	JAMES M. BECK
B. AYMAR SANDS

You do not vote on Women Suffrage when you vote on the Constitution.
The Women Suffrage Amendment is on the "Questions Submitted Ballot."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT. POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

Justice Seabury on the Proposed Constitution

The world's big news events so crowded the newspapers this week that it was impossible for them to publish in full the splendid letter of Court of Appeals Justice Samuel Seabury, giving his opinion of the proposed Constitution. I am in such full accord with the views so ably expressed by Justice Seabury that I take the liberty of publishing his letter in full without his knowledge or consent.

Rabbi Wise is as much opposed to the adoption of the Constitution as is Justice Seabury. Between the facts brought out in my letter to Mr. Root and the facts presented by Justice Seabury, can any voter longer doubt the wisdom of defeating the proposed Constitution next Tuesday?

GEO. W. PERKINS

New York, Oct. 30, 1915.

State of New York,
COURT OF APPEALS,
Judges' Chambers.

51 Chambers Street,
New York City,
October 26, 1915.

My Dear Doctor Wise:

In response to your inquiry as to how I shall vote upon the proposed Constitution, I desire to state that I shall vote against it and against the Apportionment and Taxation amendments. I shall vote in favor of the Woman Suffrage amendment.

The source from which this proposed Constitution emanates does not inspire confidence. While this alone would not justify one in voting against it if the Constitution itself was meritorious, it overcomes any presumption that might otherwise be indulged in its favor. The Convention was controlled by a small coterie of corporation lawyers from both the great political parties. They did their work under the leadership of Mr. Elihu Root.

The ability of the gentlemen who controlled its action is unquestioned, but personally I feel that they represent reaction rather than progress. The belated championship by Mr. Root of progressive measures, while a humorous feature of an otherwise dull and uninteresting gathering, will not be taken seriously by those who are familiar with his distinguished career.

A Meeting of Corporation Lawyers.

The Convention showed no appreciation of the needs of the State; no statesmanlike grasp of the great problems demanding solution. It resembled a meeting of a committee of a bar association where a few corporation lawyers, garbed in the livery of special privilege, gather together in mutual admiration of one another's ability and discuss matters of a purely professional nature affecting the interests of their prosperous and monopolistic clients.

In its reactionary activities the Convention was non-partisan. Republican and Democratic corporation lawyers were admitted to the council of its dominant coterie. All others seemed to be excluded from positions of influence. The liberal and progressive element of the State who entertained independent political convictions and who believed we should have a Constitution which would show a real advance in our method of government were unrepresented, or if represented their representatives were without influence.

The beneficial changes made in the proposed Constitution are so few as to make the work of the Convention as a whole not worth while. It has caused a large and unnecessary expense to the already overburdened taxpayer. The Convention was prematurely called. The initial blunder in calling it has been aggravated by the work it has produced.

The apportionment article is grossly partisan and unfair to the City of New York. Moreover it was intended to be unfair. Its effect is to unjustly discriminate against the voters of the City of New York. This discrimination was made pursuant to the purpose which has long prevailed of enabling the Legislature to treat the City of New York as a subject province, whose chief function it is to bear the burden of State taxation, rather than as a component part of the State. The proposed taxation amendment is so ambiguously worded that its true meaning can only be subsequently developed by judicial interpretation. Taxation and legal experts differ as to the interpretation that will be placed upon it. It should not, therefore, in this form be approved by the People.

Distrusts the People.

In several important respects the proposed Constitution shows distrust of the people and is an attempt to vest the control of its important affairs in the hands of a political oligarchy. This spirit is revealed in those of its provisions which suspend the power of the Legislature to legislate upon subjects which should at all times be under its control. In suspending the power to legislate upon certain specified subjects, popular influence in regard to these subjects is destroyed or weakened.

Two Vicious Provisions.

As an illustration of the tendency to which I refer, I call attention to the conservation article. This article has to do with the control of the great natural resources of this State over which at present the people, through the Legislature, exercise control. The proposed Constitution takes away the power of the Legislature to initiate legislation upon this subject and vests it in a commission of nine men to be appointed by the Governor. This innovation is wholly vicious.

A similar restriction upon the power of the Legislature is imposed as to the right to legislate upon matters affecting legal procedure. This power is vested primarily in the judges, and the Legislature is permitted to enact only those measures on this subject which the judiciary recommend.

Sham Home Rule.

The home rule provision of the Constitution is a sham. Powers which are vital to the welfare of a city are withheld. I shall mention only one illustration. The cities of the State are not given the power to operate their own public utilities. In failing to confer this power upon the municipalities all existing private monopolies are protected. I refrain from discussing this subject further lest I should be led into a discussion of the things which should have been put into the Constitution which have been omitted.

Impairing the Jury System.

There are other provisions of the Constitution which have a suspicious aspect. Thus one is led to wonder what the real reason was for providing that persons charged with the commission of a felony punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years should be permitted to waive a jury trial and be tried by a single judge.

The reason assigned for this provision is that it would facilitate the administration of justice. It is a fair subject for inquiry whether it was not inserted so as to permit influential and powerful persons who might be charged with a crime to dispense with a jury trial and be tried by a single judge.

I do not pretend to know the real purpose that actuated those who inserted this provision in the proposed Constitution. I do know that it is an exceedingly dangerous provision and may seriously impair the efficacy of trial by jury. Trial by jury is a protection and safeguard not only to the rights of the accused, but also to the general public.

Bearing in mind some of the important criminal cases that have been tried in this State in the last few years where juries have convicted powerful and influential criminals, I appreciate that the result in these cases might have been different if the accused had been permitted to dispense with a jury trial and elect to have his case tried by a single judge. I regard this provision of the proposed Constitution as one of the most sinister and dangerous attacks that has ever been made upon the right of trial by jury.

More Justice, Not More Appeals, Needed.

The Judiciary Article in which the little coterie of corporation lawyers which dominated the Convention have shown such an acute and lively interest is inadequate to correct the evils of the present system. This subject has been approached from the wrong end. What is needed is to increase the power and dignity of the courts of first instance, and to see to it that decisions of the trial judges and verdicts of the juries, when in accord with justice, should be permitted to stand in a greater number of cases than at present.

The public interest demands that we should have fewer appeals and more justice in courts of original jurisdiction. There are some who desire less justice and more appeals.

By greatly increasing the number of judges assigned to the appellate courts the Trial and Special Terms of the Supreme Court will be weakened and the few additional judges of the Supreme Court provided for will not be enough to make up for the large number of judges to be assigned to the appellate court work. At present about one third of the judges of the State are engaged in reviewing the acts of the others. The proposed Constitution aggravates this evil. In substance it provides that the judiciary of the State shall be more top-heavy than it is at present.

A Mere Pretense.

The claim that the proposed Constitution establishes an efficient and responsible government is a mere pretense which is utterly unwarranted. Instead of devising a system of government where the responsibility is direct it has devised a complicated system under which responsibility is divided between the Governor, Legislature and numerous commissions. The action of these bodies must necessarily result in an irresponsible government which affords and invites ample opportunity for invisible interests to accomplish their purpose.

I concede that there are some improvements in the proposed Constitution that are not in the existing Constitution, but the advantages seem to me to be greatly outweighed by the disadvantages.

Defeat Will Help the People.

I have only attempted to specify a few reasons that have occurred to me in answer to your inquiry. There is, however, one great advantage that will accrue to the State by the defeat of the proposed Constitution. Under our existing Constitution the question whether there shall be a Constitutional Convention will be submitted to the people in 1916. If the proposed Constitution is defeated because of its reactionary character the next Constitutional Convention will be much more progressive. The delegates to that Convention will do their work with knowledge of the fact that this proposed Constitution now submitted to the people was defeated because it was reactionary.

I have already said that I shall vote in favor of the Woman Suffrage amendment. That amendment will be submitted to the people by virtue of the action of the Legislature and not by virtue of the action of the Constitutional Convention.

As I have long been a firm believer in the extension of the suffrage to women, I shall be glad to avail myself of the opportunity which will this year be presented of voting in favor of woman suffrage.

Not in Popular Accord.

The Constitutional Convention that has just adjourned was entirely out of touch with the present needs of our great State and out of sympathy with the liberal spirit that actuates the independent voter of to-day. In this respect it resembled the Constitutional Convention of 1867, whose work was overwhelmingly repudiated by the people.

Because I regard the dominating influence in the Constitutional Convention of 1915 and the proposed Constitution itself, which is the result of its labor, as unworthy of public confidence and support I shall vote against its adoption.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) SAMUEL SEABURY.

Reverend STEPHEN S. WISE, D. D.,
23 West 90th Street,
New York City.

Ethel Barrymore

SAYS:

"Emma McChesney proved herself a perfect model for fine womanhood when she said 'Any work is a woman's work that a woman can do well.'"

See Miss Barrymore in the play. Buy the book at any bookstore.

EMMA McCHESNEY & CO. By Edna Ferber

Published by STOKES

Look under this Lamp Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday!

BOOKS SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

HEART OF EUROPE

By Ralph Adams Cram

Mr. Cram, an architect of international reputation, here gives a description of the art and beauty of the cities fallen in the war; of Louvain, Rheims, Amiens, Malines, Bruges, Ypres; a description eloquent, far beyond the mere marshalling of facts and pictures, with Mr. Cram's great sense of loss.

Profusely illustrated. $2.50 net

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

Be Wise!

DRINK and be SOBER

By VANCE THOMPSON

AUTHOR OF "EAT AND GROW THIN"

AT ALL BOOK STORES

$1.00 Net

HOFFAT YARD & COMPANY NEW YORK

Adventure!

The Yellow Dove

By GEORGE GIBBS

The romance of an American girl and a British spy—or was he a German spy?

ALL BOOKSTORES. Illustrated. $1.25 net.

D Appleton & Company Publishers-New York

THE DUAL ALLIANCE

Introducing "Bub" Garratry

A Second "Bambi"

A new kind of love story packed with fun and familiar surprises, by

MARJORIE BENTON COOKE

Illustrated and decorated by the artist for "Bambi"

Net, $1.00. Just Out

All Bookstores

Doubleday Page

BELGIAN COOK BOOK

Edited by MRS. BRIAN LUCK

Issued under the patronage of the Queen of England and the Princess of Belgium

At Any Bookstore. $1.00 Net.

E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Av., N. Y.

AUTOGRAPH EXHIBITION AND SALE OF

ORIGINAL LETTERS, MANUSCRIPTS, RARE BOOKS AND DRAWINGS AT REDUCED PRICES.

WASHINGTON, BEETHOVEN, LINCOLN, FRANKLIN, POE, NAPOLEON, DICKENS, THACKERAY, SCOTT, STEVENSON, GEORGE ELIOT, MARK TWAIN, EUGENE FIELD, REMINGTON, PYLE, AND OTHER NOTABLES.

P. F. MADIGAN,

561 Fifth Ave. New York

Bargains in Interesting Books

Send for new catalogue No. 17 (60 pages) describing recent additions to our constantly changing stock of purchases from private libraries.

We buy at fair prices books that are likely to be salable.

Putnams 2 W. 45th St., N.Y. Just West of 5th Av.

EAT AND GROW THIN

By VANCE THOMPSON

It can be done and without danger or discomfort.

Net, $1.00, at Any Bookstore.

E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 Fifth Av., N.Y.

NEW SING SING BANK TO FINANCE STATE

Aluminium Money Promises to Cut Prison Appropriation, Says Warden Osborne.

ENDS WASTE OF RATIONS

Inmates Now Conserve Their Food and Tobacco and Put the Savings Out at Interest.

That the new system at Sing Sing, where each convict pays aluminium "money" for everything he receives at the prison, including even his board and lodging, would save the State at least $1,000 a year, was the statement made yesterday by Warden Osborne to a TIMES reporter.

"You see," said Mr. Osborne, "the State allows each man a certain amount of tobacco each day. Under former conditions this was allowed to the men whether they used it or not, and you may be sure that all of them were present to receive it. Those who smoked used theirs, but those who did not either gave it away or threw it away.

"Now they have to pay a nominal sum in token money for it, and no man wastes his. The non-smokers do not buy it, for even the most generous man does not want to squander his money when the possession of it brings creature comforts to him that hath.

"There is still another way that the system makes for economy in prison administration. The State allowed each inmate groceries to supplement the ration. Formerly every man attended every meal, whether he had eaten his fill of the groceries or not, in the expectation that there would be a dish that he liked especially. And so a man's meal was often wasted. But at present when they must pay for everything they eat, those who are not hungry economize on food.

"An incident to show how self-government here may give a man an opportunity to make good outside happened the other day," continued the Warden. "A representative of a motor company on Long Island came up to deliver the automobile which his company had given to our automobile class, of which class, by the way, there are more than 200 applicants.

"We took him to a session of the Mutual Welfare League's court, where he heard the men argue their cases. One inmate made a stirring appeal in one case, and after he had finished, the automobile man told him that when his term ended he would try to get him a place as a salesman, where such oratory would not be wasted.

"I see the papers have taken up Issy Blum's week-end here. Issy was head of the knitting class, and you never saw a man more anxious to succeed in his work. He offered to stay awhile longer if we needed him, which is remarkable, considering that several years ago Issy escaped and had to be brought back by force. I was glad to have him come back, this time of his own accord, as it seems to me to be much better to have them feel that they can live here until they are settled and have a job than for them to be drifting around in their old haunts with nothing to do."

According to the Warden and every man employed about the prison there is little cause to criticise conditions there. The earnings of the industries at Sing Sing for the past year were higher, everything considered, than ever before in the history of the institution. In 1911, the previous banner year, the receipts totaled $90,000, but of this, $20,000 came from the cart and wagon shop. In 1914 the cart and wagon shop was burned down, so that only $1,000 was received from that industry this year. Nevertheless, the 1915 budget showed a revenue of $82,000, a clear balance of $11,000 in its favor.

The Warden declined to comment on the recent attack by Dr. Rudolph Diedling, the Saugerties member of the Prison Commission, who issued a statement recently that "prison discipline in the State was being subverted by having unofficial Paul Prys dog the steps of the Prison Commission," and that "conditions in the prisons of the State were growing worse instead of better."

FIRE HOLDS UP MUNITIONS.

Bunker Coal on the Harrovian of French Line Found Smouldering.

The British freighter Harrovian, which was to have sailed yesterday for Havre with 8,000 tons of war munitions under charter to the French Line, is still at her pier, foot of West Forty-fourth Street, on account of fire smouldering in her bunkers. According to Captain Jones, the difficulty in putting out the fire lies in the fact that it started at the bottom of he side bunker and the longshoremen will have to remove 400 tons of coal to get at the burning fuel underneath. This will be a long and tedious task, the captain said and he does not expect the Harrovian to sail before Monday night.

The engineers of the steamer think the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion which is not infrequent in soft coal tightly stowed in bunkers.

Captain Jones said the cargo would not have to be touched. There are 75 big armored motor trucks waiting on the pier to be swung aboard and lashed to the deck after the hatches have been put on.

HOTEL $10,000 SHORT; WOMAN CLERK HELD

Mrs. Louise B. Decker, ex-Cashier of Marbury Hall, Arrested While Sick in Bed.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE TWICE

She Is Accused of Using Receipts from the Guests to Lead a Gay Life Along Broadway.

Charged with the theft of more than $10,000 from the hotel where she had been employed for six years as a desk clerk, Mrs. Louise B. Decker, 35 years old, was arrested yesterday in her apartment at the Albermarle Hotel. When Detective E. S. Boyle of the Fourth Branch Detective Bureau, who made the arrest, entered her rooms, Mrs. Decker looked up at him from a sick bed. She had been poisoned by a tablet which she said she had taken last Sunday with the intention of putting an end to her life.

"I want to die, I want to die," she murmured to Detective Boyle. "I've been good to a lot of people. Now they have gone back on me. They are a lot of pikers, that's what they are."

After her arrest, Mrs. Decker was taken first to the Polyclinic Hospital and then to Bellevue, where, according to Detective Boyle, she confessed to the shortage which appeared in her accounts as cashier at Marbury Hall, an apartment hotel at 146 West Seventy-fourth Street. She told Detective Boyle, however, that the moneys for which she had not properly accounted, had really been expended by her in payment of bills for the hotel. Her fault, she insisted, lay not in stealing any money, but in failing to have these bills properly recorded. In the same breath, Detective Boyle says, she admitted she had entertained friends lavishly along the "great white way," which she could not have done on a salary of $35 a month in addition to her board.

"I could give up some of my friends if I wanted to," she declared to Detective Boyle, "but I'm not going to."

Evidence that there had been some collusion is now in the possession of the police, and there is likely to be at least one more arrest.

Very little is known of Mrs. Decker's past excepting that she was divorced from her first husband, by whom she has a daughter, Effie McMillan, 16 years old, and that she is living apart from her present husband, who is believed to be a resident of Monticello.

According to Mrs. Catherine E. Sefton, proprietor of Marbury Hall, Mrs. Decker for the first three years of her employment lived at Marbury Hall. After that she established herself in private quarters and only took some of her meals at the hotel where she worked. Mrs. Sefton knew she had many friends, and in some way found enough money to indulge in the luxuries of expensive dinners and theatre parties.

It was not until last August that suspicion was aroused as to the possible source of Mrs. Decker's income. About that time Mrs. Sefton thought the receipts from guests at the hotel ought to be greater than the books seemed to indicate. She engaged an accountant, William A. Flemming of 30 East Forty-second Street, who made a report showing that Mrs. Decker's books were in a very confused condition. Mrs. Sefton thereupon discharged the woman, not suspecting the enormity of her losses.

After Mrs. Decker had been discharged, a further examination of her books showed a large number of entries of moneys and checks received for the account of the hotel which she had failed to deposit in the bank account of the hotel. More than $10,000, it is alleged, was found to have been unaccounted for by Mrs. Decker within a period of about two years. Magistrate House was asked to issue a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Decker, which he did, but the detectives took no immediate steps to arrest her, believing they could get a line on an accomplice by allowing her to remain at liberty for a time.

Mrs. Decker learned that she had been suspected of theft, so she told Detective Boyle yesterday. The fact weighed on her mind so heavily that she began to brood and worry. She could not eat, she could not sleep. She tried to forget her troubles in entertainments, in cabarets, in theatres, in the big Broadway restaurants—Sherry's, the Waldorf, and Rector's.

Deputy Assistant District Attorney R. R. Leoning studied the evidence and came to the conclusion that she had better be locked up before she made any move to disappear. Mrs. Decker through some secret source, learned that her day of grace was about to expire, and tried to take her life. According to Detective Boyle, she said she had made two attempts, one more than two weeks ago, and a second attempt last Sunday.

The specific charge on which Mrs. Decker will be arraigned alleges that on April 2 last she received from Frederick K. Zittell, a guest at Marbury Hall, the sum of $61.16 in payment of his bill. This amount she entered up in the book kept by her for that purpose, but instead of depositing the money in the account kept by Mrs. Sefton at the Hudson River Branch of the Corn Exchange Bank, as she was instructed to do, it is alleged she appropriated it to her own use.

HUSBAND WAS CRUEL, SAYS MRS. ROOSEVELT

Bases Suit for Separation on Allegations of Physical Violence.

DEFENDANT TO FIGHT CASE

Annoyed Because Auto Trip Was Spoiled — Declares New Notions Are Spoiling Women.

The complaint of Mrs. Edith Hamersley Biscoe Roosevelt in her suit for a separation from her husband, John Ellis Roosevelt, first cousin of Theodore Roosevelt, was submitted to public scrutiny yesterday in the office of County Clerk Schneider. When it was filed it was sealed under a rule giving the County Clerk the right of concealing any paper whose contents might be of such a character as to be detrimental to the public morals.

The complaint of Mrs. Roosevelt is barren of anything that this rule was meant to cover. It charges, as set forth in THE TIMES yesterday, "cruel and inhuman treatment," and specifies three separate occasions, when, the plaintiff alleges, she was the victim of violence at the hands of her husband. On one occasion in Naples, on or about March 1, 1914, which was less than two months after their marriage, she said the latter, without cause, struck her several violent blows in the face, "grabbed her around the neck, attempted to throttle her, made her black and blue, and made marks and bruises upon her arms and shoulders, at the same time using toward plaintiff violent and insulting language."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she was subjected to similar treatment in the Savoy Hotel, London, on April 10, 1914, and that on Oct. 3, 1915, in the presence of his brother and his wife, defendant called her insulting, disgusting, and abusive names."

In a preamble to these specific incidents Mrs. Roosevelt said she was married to the defendant in Washington on Jan. 6, 1914, and that there are no children.

Mrs. Roosevelt asks provision for her separate maintenance.

Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday at his home, 518 Madison Avenue, that he would contest the action. He laughed at the charge of cruel and inhuman treatment, but said that the subpoena had been served on him at a very inopportune time, inasmuch as he had just finished preparations to take a long automobile trip with his daughter Jean.

Mr. Roosevelt said his household had been broken up because it had two heads and because his wife refused to accept his ideas in regard to the place where they should reside.

"The trouble," he said, "with the women of today is that they have too many strange theories which make for domestic unhappiness. We are having too much feminism. There should be but one head for a household. Two heads are bound to cause trouble. That is true in this case. For instance, Mrs. Roosevelt would want to live in one place, and I, for business and other reasons, would want to live at another. Perhaps that is where I was cruel and inhuman.

"Mrs. Roosevelt and myself spent the Summer at our Sayville place, but two weeks ago she took her departure. She deserted me, and I cannot see where she has any ground of action against me.

"I guess it is the result of the modern tendency of women. When the women get the vote, it will be all over with us."

Mr. Bennett Was Allowed to Speak.

In an account in THE NEW YORK TIMES on Thursday of the meeting of the congregation of the First Baptist Church of Tarrytown, it was said by mistake that permission to speak had been refused to E. L. Bennett on the ground that he did not contribute to the church by check. Permission to speak was not refused to Mr. Bennett, but to E. Griffin

"A PLEA AS BROAD AS IT IS TENDER."

KATRINA TRASK'S new book

THE MIGHTY AND THE LOWLY

By the author of "In the Vanguard," etc.

Wherever it has been read "The Mighty and the Lowly" has awakened respect and admiration:—

"The echo of divinity," if not divinity itself. A cry for peace, a cry for spiritual satisfaction; a deep, rich yearning for religious understanding—a fervent, reverent adoration of the great Biblical legend—a plea as broad as it is tender—all these are in the little book. . . . A text of rich spiritual significance and brings the personality, the balm, the glory of Jesus into the life of the meanest."—New York Sun.

"A spirituality combined with practical ideas that is particularly refreshing in these times."—The Al any Argus.

"Interprets the message of Jesus for the modern world."—Cleveland Leader.

"A moving plea for the application of the Christ philosphy to the social and industrial stress and turmoil of today."—Chicago Herald.

"Warrants a careful reading and is well worth while."—Charleston News.

"Mrs. Trask has done more in this book than add to her reputation as a writer; she has given to the world a picture of Jesus of Nazareth so compelling that it is impossible to dispute her accuracy or deny His spiritual triumph over all the evils of the world. . . . Such a study cannot but be illuminating. In the hands of a woman already established as a thinker and analyzer of trends it brings out facts which to the minds of many may seem revolutionary, but to the careful student of spiritual truth unquestioned."—The Record, Troy.

"Makes an eloquent plea for the absolute non-partisanship of Jesus."—Knickerbocker Press.

"An impassioned sermon on the message of Jesus, written with brilliance and power."—New York Times.

"Rich in spiritual charm and deep earnestness."—Portland Express.

"Beautifully written. . . . Mrs. Trask's method of dealing with the Gospels is best. It is an interpretation of doctrine, not a resetting of the mighty dream."—Reedy's Mirror.

"Few modern writers have written so nobly or so truly about the Savior of Mankind."—Rochester Post Express.

"Will find an instant response in the hearts of hundreds of readers."—Buffalo News.

"An argument and a strong, inspiring one, seeking to prove that the humanity of Jesus still provides a remedy for the present social ills. In this work, Mrs. Trask has interpreted the message of Jesus in a manner that should, widely disseminated, aid in the seeking after truth of the widely separated religionists of all creeds and sects. . . . 'The Mighty and the Lowly' is written with all the literary charm Mrs. Trask is capable of."—Denver Times.

"Mrs. Trask in this book interprets the message of Jesus for the modern world. . . . The work is rich in spiritual significance and is written with all the charm of the author of 'In the Vanguard'."—Buffalo Commercial.

"We can commend this study of the life and words of Jesus to every truth-seeker who is willing to come to his task with no pre-conceived notion. In it he can find the message the modern world needs."—The Advertiser, Trenton.

THE MIGHTY AND THE LOWLY

By KATRINA TRASK

"A cry for peace, a cry for spiritual satisfaction."

$1.00

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY, Publishers, New York

Third Large Edition Ready.

SCHOOLS OF TO-MORROW

By Prof. John Dewey of Columbia and Evelyn Dewey

EDUCATION is stirring not only the minds, but the hearts of the great American people. At no time in the history of our country have thinking men and women been so deeply stirred on the questionable value of our great National Institution, the PUBLIC SCHOOL. Prof. Dewey and his gifted daughter have in a simple and straightforward way lifted the veil of mystery and invited the interested public to decide for themselves what the "Schools of To-morrow" are to be. $1.50 Net. At All Bookstores.

E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

PUBLISHED OCTOBER 30TH

THE ORIGIN OF THE WAR

By Karl Federn

A lucid presentation of the underlying causes of the European conflict and its meaning to the nations involved. By documents and other recently discovered evidence, Mr. Federn makes out his brief—that England, scenting danger to her own prosperity in the development of German science and inventive genius, sought by the aid of alliances with France and Russia to crowd Germany out of the markets of the world. The result of this policy, furthered by ambitious politicians, resulted in this war, disastrous to this isolation program. Written dispassionately, this book aims to disseminate a correct idea of the origin of this titanic struggle.

12mo. Cloth. $1.00 Net.

THE TRAGEDY OF BELGIUM

By Richard Grasshoff

A clear statement of facts concerning the alleged atrocities of German soldiers in Belgium, giving for the first time in popular form reports and documents refuting absolutely the charges spread through the press of the world by British and Belgian interests. Deceived by the government, the controlled Belgian press inflamed the ignorant populace to franctireur barbarities which compelled the German Army to take stern measures to protect its line of march. The creation of the Belgian Investigation Commission, within three days after hostilities began, set a premium upon the discovery and reporting of such activities, and the skilful coloring and publication of such instigated reports became a formidable instrument in the war policy of England. This compact narrative of what actually occurred constitutes one of the most astounding revelations of the hour, and is bound to work tremendous changes in the world's judgment of the events immediately following the outbreak of the war.

12mo. Cloth. With Appendix and Illustrations. $1.00 Net.

WARLIKE ENGLAND AS SEEN BY HERSELF

By Ferdinand Tönnies

Professor at the University of Kiel; Advising Editor of the American Journal of Sociology, etc.

A scholarly and comprehensive indictment of England's overweening lust for world-conquest. Out of the mouths of her own statesmen and historians she is convicted of the appalling crimes of piracy, murder and arson in the establishment of her vast colonial empire for the benefit of her so-called upper classes. The horrors of her once vaunted slave trade, the conquest of India, the outbreaks in Afghanistan, the conquest of Egypt and the outrages of the Boer war have become a lasting shame. Her struggle to preserve the balance of power among nations for her own selfish advantages is set forth in this volume as the active determining factor in the world's greatest war. Cloth. $1.00 Net.

AT ALL BOOKSELLERS

G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY, Publishers,

425-435 EAST 24TH STREET, NEW YORK

"COULD NOT HELP LIKING IT."—New York Sun.

Ruth Hollworthy was an intensely modern young person at the end of a long line of highly conventional New England ancestors. Being modern, and young, and clever, she revolted against the traditions of her grandmothers and so shocked her various maiden aunts that they sent her away to save the family reputation. Sent her to Paris, where she had many thrilling experiences—including several love affairs.

THE CROWN OF LIFE

A NOVEL BY GORDON ARTHUR SMITH

Don't miss this book. It is vividly contemporary, immediately interesting. Ruth is simply full of all the radical ideas that young things are so subject to. Her awakening is delicious. This book is being talked about—now is the time to read it.

At your bookseller or from us. $1.35 net.

CHARLES · SCRIBNER'S · SONS

BY F. HOPKINSON SMITH

FELIX O'DAY

A DICKENS NOVEL OF NEW YORK

"An American classic in fiction."
Philadelphia North American

"It will rank with the best from this author's pen."—New York Times.

"Treats New York as Dickens used to treat London."—Chicago Evening Post.

"Never did Mr. Smith write so vigorously."
New York Sun

"All the characteristics that endeared the late F. Hopkinson Smith to a multitude of writers"
Boston Transcript

"Has the overflowing kindness of 'The Christmas Carol.'"—Outlook.

"Will undoubtedly be classed as his greatest literary masterpiece."—Boston Globe.

"The reader is reminded of Dickens."
St. Louis Post Dispatch

FELIX O'DAY

BY F. HOPKINSON SMITH

$1.35 net

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

Less Than Two Cents a Day for All the New Books

MERCANTILE Library has 244,000 books of all kinds. Its specialty is new books.

New novels | New travels
New biographies | New dramas
New books upon all topics of the day.

By joining the Mercantile Library any of these new books can be yours to read and enjoy at a cost of less than two cents a day. If desired books will be delivered to members' residences twice a week or mailed out of town by parcel post.

Bulletin with full particulars mailed upon request.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY

Branch, Singer Building, 149 Broadway.

Main Building, Astor Place, near Wanamaker's.

ARTZIBASHEF

You cannot know the Russian novel without reading all his books—the fiction sensation of Europe.

BREAKING-POINT

has just appeared. $1.40 net

SANINE

sells better every day. $1.35 net

THE MILLIONAIRE

is almost as popular as "Sanine." $1.25 net

These books are "best sellers" now; they will remain steady sellers indefinitely. Telephone your order to your bookseller.

B. W. HUEBSCH, Publisher, 225 Fifth avenue, New York

PRZYBYSZEWSKI

The Great Polish Novelist's Sensational Love Story

HOMO SAPIENS

FIRST TIME IN ENGLISH

Published by ALFRED A. KNOPF

At All Booksellers $1.50

THE NEW BOOKS

THE HOUSE THAT WAS

And Other Poems

By BENJAMIN R. C. LOW, Author of "A Wand and Strings," "The Sailor Who Has Sailed," etc. $1.25 net.

Mr. Low's new book of verse is sure to interest all who are in sympathy with a poetic philosophy of life, which is clean, noble and healthful.

IS THERE A SHAKESPEARE PROBLEM?

By G. G. GREENWOOD, M. P. Author of "The Shakespeare Problem Restated," etc. 8vo. $2.50 net.

Mr. Greenwood is a lawyer and a scholar; he has mastered his brief thoroughly and marshalled his evidence cleverly. The book will be found a useful contribution to the discussion of a most fascinating literary problem.

DON'T MISS THESE

BROKEN SHACKLES

By JOHN OXENHAM, Author of "Red Wrath," "Maid of the Mist," etc. $1.25 net.

The romance of an officer of birth and position, aide-de-camp to Napoleon III during and after Bourbaki's final disastrous effort against the Prussians in the Jura.

THE "GENIUS"

The Story of the Soul's Struggle Seen Through the Eyes of Genius

By THEODORE DREISER, Author of "Sister Carrie," "The Titan," etc. Cloth, $1.50 net.

"If America can boast of a novelist now living of greater power, insight, imaginative sweep, let him step forward and claim the laurel wreath. He seems to me our greatest novelist now writing, and destined in the wise judgment of posterity to be given a place among the noteworthy writers of this age."—EDGAR LEE MASTERS, Author of "The Spoon River Anthology," in the Chicago Evening Post.

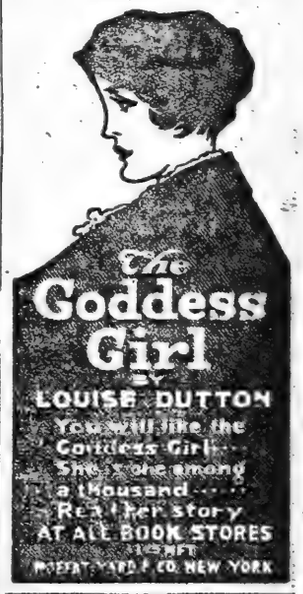
MOONBEAMS FROM THE LARGER LUNACY

By STEPHEN LEACOCK, Author of "Nonsense Novels," "Literary Lapses," "Behind the Beyond," etc. Cloth, $1.25 net.

As all good writers should, Stephen Leacock follows up his last book with a better one. "Moonbeams from the Larger Lunacy" is by far the best work he has done. While the humor is as droll as that of the "Nonsense Novels" or "Behind the Beyond," it is more subtle and satisfying.

AT ALL BOOKSTORES

JOHN LANE CO., New York



A story of love and money that will bring thrills to all who know ambition and romance.

MAKING MONEY

By OWEN JOHNSON

Author of "The Salamander," "Stover at Yale," etc.

Published by STOKES

TWO GREAT BOOKS

Great because they go right to source of the power to achieve that is in every man or woman.

By JULIA SETON, M. D.

Concentration— The Secret of Success 50 cents net

The Science of Success A Philosophy of Life $1.00 net

Thousands of successful men and women are reading and rereading these books for they reveal new and undreamed of potencies, stimulate imagination, spur on to ever greater accomplishment, and spell out the secret of happiness, in a word, books that will make you think, and for it is only the man who thinks that ever finds the trail to success.

Sold wherever books are sold

Send for circular describing the complete works of Dr. Seton.

EDWARD J. CLODE, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
B. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address: THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...43d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....7 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....268 West 125th Street
Bronx.....2,980 Third Avenue
Brooklyn....Room 605, 287 Fulton Street
Staten Island...92 Stuyv. Pl., N. Brighton
Queens...317 Fulton Street, Jamaica, L. I.
Jersey City.....538 Jersey Avenue
Hoboken.....61 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....50 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Riggs Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,202 Tribune Building
BOSTON.....7 Water Street, Room 319
ST. LOUIS.....409 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....620 Ford Building
SAN FRANCISCO.....742 Market Street
LONDON.....Marconi House, Strand, W. C.
PARIS.....52 Rue Louis le Grand
ONE CENT New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai. 1 Yr. 1 Mo.

DAILY AND SUNDAY.....$8.60 $0.75
DAILY, without Sunday.....6.00 .50
SUNDAY, with Picture and Magazine Sections and Review of Books.....2.50 .25
Binder for Picture Section, $1.75. Binder for Magazine Section and Review of Books, $1.25.
Canada, Sunday only.....1.50 .15
Other countries, postpaid:
Daily and Sunday.....24.00 2.00
Daily, without Sunday.....15.60 1.30
Sunday only.....3.40 .70

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per year, $4; Canada, $4.50; other countries, $5. Binder for 26 issues, (one vol.,) $1.25.
THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, (Weekly,) per year, $1; Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.
THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL, (Thursdays,) three months, $1.25; six months, ($2.50); one year, $5. Canada, $6; other countries, $6.50. Binder for 52 issues, $1.25. Bound volumes, ten numbers, Cloth, $1.
THE NEW YORK TIMES CURRENT HISTORY, Illustrated Monthly Magazine, three months, 75c. six months, $1.50; one year, $3. Per copy, 25c. Bound volumes, six monthly issues, Cloth, $2.
THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per copy, $2; per year, $8.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, OCT. 30, 1915.

OUR NEW FINANCIAL ERA.

The American statesman who proudly asked what we had to do with abroad was abreast of his times, but sadly behind the future of which he had such faint comprehension, yet which was so near. Already we are lending abroad by hundreds of millions and collecting by scores. Italy is now asking for a trifle of $25,000,000, and France paid the other day $10,000,000. Altogether within the brief period of the war a round dozen of foreign countries have borrowed $842,000,000, have repaid $35,000,000. The process has only begun. The borrowers of nineteen billions, according to THE ANNALIST'S compilation, cannot finance themselves. Food and all sundries of peaceful trade are as necessary for fighting as powder. The European war could not continue without our resources, nominally in money, really in supplies, whose financing is as necessary for our peaceful prosperity as for foreign warfare. We must sell impartially to all, and are doing so. Nobody with the price for anything is turned away.

While our lendings are on a billion-dollar scale—for the second billion will shortly be entered—our takings are not less phenomenal. We are paying our foreign debts by the hundred million. That is the meaning of the sales to this market of "Americans" held abroad. They represent the reverse of the process of lending which is so unfamiliar to us. When "abroad" invested here we owed on the paper we exported in deferred payment for the goods we took, or for the development of domestic industries accomplished with the foreign capital. We are repaying in the time of Europe's need. Europe's position then is our position now. We must lend for our own sake as well as for the sake of the borrowers, who otherwise would not be buyers here of what we must sell. Individuals may have preferences regarding the borrower to whom they will lend for reasons of politics or sentiment. There is nothing like that in the money market. Any man may do what he likes with his cash, and may lend on such security as he fancies or to the borrower whom he prefers. The money market is as neutral as the Administration. Any borrower not favored here must look to himself for the reason.

These are present considerations regarding the largest financial topic ever before Americans, but it is prudent to look ahead somewhat further than the Ohio Senator whose phrase has immortalized him. The significance of present occurrences in respect to future commercial relations of the United States is that they will assimilate themselves to those of other international lenders. If bad debts are incurred they must be written off, as many lenders have written off bad American State debts. On the whole foreign credit is at least as good as the American credit when we ran into debt by billions. Just as we bought where we borrowed, so foreign borrowers will buy here, not only now, but hereafter. The interest debit will be spent here as well as the principal. Not only will the borrowers buy here. Their former customers will be diverted to this market in proportion as their former source of credit fails them. That they cannot borrow as they have been accustomed is a demonstration. Borrowers of billions are not lenders of capital. Until "abroad" has paid its debt to us its ability to accommodate others will be reduced to that extent. Moreover, we are armed for defense in future crises as never before. Hitherto, whenever we were embarrassed we had no resource but to export gold or to take back evidences of indebtedness. Hereafter that weapon will be ours also. We now have something which we can substitute for gold when we owe and must pay, and Europe must take back its paper at our option or suffer the same disturbance of its money market as that to which we have submitted. In other words, we probably now are witnessing the last international movement of gold on a great scale. We see that it is harmful alike to those who receive it or part with it in excess. Balances are best settled in goods, or in securities of the most stable department of the money market. There now will be an international market on both sides of the ocean for national securities, with which this market will be well supplied. Exchanges of these national obligations across the seas in either direction will supplant the movement of bullion as high finance has long sought to arrange, hitherto in vain. That signifies a great change in the functions of gold. The "demonetization" of gold is, in fact, a recurrence to barter by processes impossible in earlier finance. Gold remains the standard of value, but is displaced as a medium of exchange. Better and cheaper processes are possible under the system of banking with which at last we have provided ourselves, and which alone makes us capable of meeting the present opportunity to comport ourselves with credit and profit in the international emergency.

THE HIGH COST OF STATE GOVERNMENT.

"The high price of foodstuffs to the "people of our city is an increasingly "serious problem," says Mr. GEORGE W. PERKINS.

The high price of government in this State is an increasingly serious problem to its people. In 1885 the cost of running the State was some $7,000,000. In 1914 it was more than $42,000,000. In that period the population increased 82 per cent.; the cost of government increased 500 per cent. Increased, increasing taxation is the result of the blind and reckless methods of making appropriations at Albany, errors in the sinking fund system, the payment by the State of local favors, the loose, unrelated distribution of administrative functions. One part of the high cost of living, administrative and legislative extravagance, can be checked. The new Constitution provides checks for that extravagance. Mr. PERKINS opposes the new Constitution. He would reduce the high cost of living by maintaining the high cost of State Government.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Since the consolidation of the city into what we used to call Greater New York the Board of Aldermen has been transformed. Under the city charter its duties have been made more important, and there has been a progressive and marked improvement in the quality of its membership. Men of ability and standing, young men ambitious to enter politics and do good public service, college graduates, men who in the old days when the board was not held in such respect as at present would have deemed the Aldermanic office no honor, are now glad to serve. Recognition of the new and higher standing of the board is pertinent to the situation at this moment, when an election is to be held which will determine whether the control of the board shall pass into the hands of Tammany. There is now a Fusion majority.

The matter is of unusual importance, for the new board will elect a successor to President MCANENY, who retires soon after the first of January. The office of President of the board is important, not only in relation to the work of that body, but because it carries with it membership in the Board of Estimate. It is in a very high degree desirable that the new President to be chosen by the Aldermen shall as a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be able to work in harmony with the Mayor and the Controller, that he shall be a man who is in sympathy with the purposes of the present Administration and disposed to help in carrying them out.

It is a fact worthy the notice of those who have not taken account of the growth of the board in quality and importance that no fewer than twenty-seven members of the present board have by their faithful service and devotion to the public interest won the warm commendation of the Citizens Union. For instance, in the report prepared recently by that organization, Alderman CARROLL, who is the Republican and Fusion candidate in the Thirtieth Manhattan District, is commended as a "new "member of ability and promise. "Rendered valuable assistance in "codification of ordinances and other "legislative work. Good record of "votes." Alderman CURRAN of the Twenty-sixth Manhattan District is spoken of as an "intelligent and "capable Fusion leader. To his un"tiring labor credit for the recognized "excellent work of this board is large"ly due." Alderman BARTSCHERER of the Sixtieth Brooklyn District is mentioned as having made an "ex"cellent record of attendance and "votes." Mr. BEDELL, the present Republican and Progressive candidate in the Seventeenth Manhattan District, "did valuable work as Chair"man of the Public Thoroughfares "Committee" and made a good record in other respects. Alderman BOSSE, Republican and Progressive candidate in the Fifty-seventh Brooklyn District, "made an excellent rec"ord of votes and rendered useful "service." Alderman BRUSH of the Nineteenth Manhattan took an important part in the legislative work of the board, showed himself to be "intelligent and capable." Alderman COLNE, the Fusion candidate in the Fifty-second Brooklyn District, did good service and "made an excellent record of attendance and votes." Other Aldermen who received the commendation of the Citizens Union and are now candidates for re-election are DOSTAL, Republican, Tenth Manhattan District; DUGGAN, Republican, Thirty-second Manhattan District; FERRARO, Republican, Fifty-first Brooklyn District; HOGAN, Republican, Forty-second Brooklyn District; LEVY, Republican, Sixty-second Brooklyn District; MOORE, Republican, Fifty-fourth Brooklyn District; PENDRY, Republican, Sixty-first Brooklyn District; POUKER, Republican, Thirty-first Manhattan District; ROSENBLOOM, Republican, Sixty-fifth Brooklyn District; STEVENSON, Republican, Fifty-third Brooklyn District, and TRAU, Republican, Twenty-ninth Manhattan District.

The voters of the city who put the present Fusion Administration in power, and who certainly have abundant reason to be glad that they did put it in power, ought by their votes next Tuesday to assure the Mayor and his associates of the co-operation and support of a President of the Board of Aldermen and a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in sympathy with their views and policies. The Aldermen whose names we have mentioned have received certificates of fitness from the non-partisan and public-spirited Citizens Union, which has attentively studied the records they have made. They are worthy of confidence, of support, they should be re-elected, and with them enough more Republican Fusion Aldermen to keep the control of the board out of the hands of Tammany.

AMENDMENT NO. 2.

In addition to the "Revised Constitution Ballot" there will be handed to each voter, next Tuesday, a "Questions Submitted Ballot." This, like the Revised Constitution Ballot, will contain three questions, marked Amendment No. 1, Amendment No. 2, and Proposition No. 1. The first two are amendments to the Constitution not covered by the work of the Constitutional Convention. They were submitted to the people by the Legislature, to be voted upon at this election, and if approved will become a part of the new Constitution, if that instrument is adopted, or of the old Constitution if the new one is defeated.

Amendment No. 1 is the woman suffrage amendment. In our judgment the vote on that should be "No." Amendment No. 2 is presented in this form: "Shall the proposed amendment "to Section 4 of Article VII. of the "Constitution, permitting the Legis"lature to alter the rate of interest "upon debts incurred for some spe"cific work or object authorized by "act of the Legislature and ratified "by the people, be approved?"

Sometimes men vote against an amendment because they do not know what it means and are suspicious. It would be a pity if this amendment should be defeated in any such way, for it simply proposes to correct an error in computation which, if allowed to stand, would create a tangled situation. The old Constitution provided for a sinking fund for canal and highway bonds. It provided that when these bonds were issued and the rate of interest fixed as necessary to amortize or retire the bonds that rate could not be changed.

But when the computation came to be made an error crept in. The sinking fund was erroneously figured as for the entire amount of bonds as issued at first, instead of as being issued as they were needed in the work. In other words, instead of providing a sinking fund on the first ten millions issued, it was provided on the whole hundred millions authorized.

If this error remains uncorrected, the result will be that at the end of thirty-seven years there will be enough money raised to retire the bonds. They are fifty-year bonds, and this will leave thirteen years before the bonds fall due. To sum it up, the error will bring about the raising of the money thirteen years too soon. Amendment No. 2 proposes to correct the error, and the vote on it should be "Yes."

IMPERIAL PSYCHOLOGY.

The Imperial German Department of War Psychology may have blundered often in its prognosis of outside sentiment, but it perfectly knows the reactions of its own people. The German mind is no more to be neglected than the German stomach. It requires to be nourished. The dramatic interest in war must be sustained. The eye of popular imagination must not be allowed to roll at will about the horizon, as it does in England. Hope must be focused. War, as a moving picture, must preoccupy the mind outwardly and save it from falling in upon itself. When the drama takes a wrong turn, or when it ceases altogether, another film must be snapped on in the place of the one that has turned out to be disappointing.

Thus, the mass imagination of Germany has been officially fixed, now upon this picture and then upon that. The first film was the capture of Paris, unfinished. The next was the crushing of the Slav, unfinished. Another was the mastery of the sea by submarines, unfinished. The picture now running is the union of Europe and Asia through a Turko-German corridor. The enthusiasm of the people for it is in proportion to their previous disappointments. It is extravagant. That is what an Imperial Department of War Psychology is for. The failure on the west, the failure on the east, the failure under sea—these are all put out of mind by the glamour of success in this new direction. "The present main theatre of war in Serbia," writes MAJOR MORAHT in the Berliner Tageblatt, "is witnessing a chain of successes "which our armies, with Austria-"Hungary's and Bulgaria's, are win"ning daily without a single reverse." Our armies, with Austria-Hungary's and Bulgaria's, against Serbia alone! But in glamour there is no perspective. "The meeting of the Teutonic and Bulgarian forces," says WILHELM CONRAD GOMOLL in the Cologne Gazette, "was a moment of world his"torical significance. We had reaped "the fruits of long, hard work. The "victory of our own and the Bul"garian offensives against Serbia had "been achieved." Is that a victory to boast of?

If the German imagination were not preoccupied with pictures and phrases the truth might be perceived that although Germany might lose the whole war in this Balkan adventure she cannot win it there. In Russia she has lost momentum and has a dangerous line to defend. On Aug. 2, the German armies took Mitau, twenty-five miles from the important Baltic port of Riga, the fall of which then seemed foregone and imminent. It has not fallen yet. Five weeks ago the Russian Army eluded the triangular trap prepared for it at Vilna, and fell back upon Dvinsk. That was, perhaps, to Germany the most terrible disappointment of the war so far. Her armies proceeded then to take Dvinsk, which commands the railroads to both Riga and Petrograd, and they are taking it still. That is on the east. On the west, what was gained by the September drive of the Anglo-French forces has not been recovered. In the meantime, control of the Baltic sea appears to have been lost. English submarines now occupy it and are destroying the only commerce that survived between Germany and the world, namely, that with the Scandinavian countries.

Those are pictures to brood upon. The German mind must be saved from that. The Balkan campaign is a wonderful distraction. It is a high piece of strategy also. The Allies, to resist it, have to put forth an amount of energy vastly greater than the Germans put into their offensive. To transport an army around Europe by sea, land it on the Balkan peninsula, move it many miles through difficult territory and by single railway lines, to meet an enemy that has only to cross the Danube River into Serbia—that demands more than man for man and involves great risks on the part of the Allies. Therefore the Germans were tactically very shrewd to open a theatre in which their advantages were so great. But those are not the tactics of the Germany that began the war. It is the strategy of a fighter who spars for time, after having failed in three main attempts to destroy his enemy. The Allies could lose the Balkans without losing the war. This only the Imperial Government knows in Germany. Proof that it knows is that it talks obliquely of peace.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Difficult Problem In Veracity.

Whether or not to accept as authentic the diary presented by The London Times as that of a German Landsturm soldier on the Russian front and reproduced in this paper yesterday, is a question that will be easily and promptly answered by two classes of people—those who are determined to believe anything derogatory to Germans and those who will not believe anything of the sort. Regardless of evidence, the members of the one class will be sure that the document is what it pretends to be, and the members of the other will scornfully reject it as "impossible."

There is still a third class, however, and they, while waiting for such corroboration as The London Times may have to offer for its assertion that the diary was written by a man, presumably now dead, who before the war was a Professor of Latin in the Gymnasium of Bonn, will give it careful study and try to found fairly a provisional judgment on its intrinsic qualities and peculiarities.

They will note, first, that its descriptions of war conditions are about those to be expected from a man well along in middle age, whose training for years past has been calculated to make him sensitive to the sufferings and crudities inevitable to every hard campaign. His established habit, too, of exercising authority over others would make him particularly resentful of the severity—to name it charitably—known to characterise the non-commissioned officers in the Kaiser's army. He would be exactly the sort of man to see of war little else than its horrors, and to feel, as we read, "a passionate desire for peace amounting to physical pain."

So far all is plausible, and the appearance in the translation of a bit of distinctly British slang like "fed up" can be passed over as a good enough equivalent for, perhaps, the German "satt." But when Private BECKER, not content with calling his officers brutal and selfish, accuses them of persistent cowardice, then, indeed, credulity falters, even in minds tending to be strongly anti-German. No doubt there are some cowardly Germans, as cowards exist in every nation, but certainly lack of courage does not make a German of any rank typical. This one feature of the diary goes some distance toward compelling its rejection. It might go the whole distance were it not for the possibility—it is little more—that Professor BECKER did not know that it is often the modern officer's duty, not to lead charges, but to direct them from comparative safety in the rear.

An Accident Almost "Unavoidable."

After such a happening as the schoolhouse fire in Peabody, there is an almost irresistible impulse, founded on lamentable memories only too numerous, to assume that this slaughter of the innocents was the result of criminal negligence or of ignorance and stupidity hardly less open to denunciation. Some commentators who yielded to that impulse and expressed themselves accordingly had the further excuse that the first accounts of the fire ascribed the fatalities to inward-opening doors against which the frightened children crushed themselves in a doomed and helpless mass.

It seems, however, that the doors of the building opened outward, as they should, and it is asserted that they had nothing to do with the failure of all to be saved. The children, too, had been regularly and efficiently trained to make a quick and orderly departure from the building in case of need, and only a few days before in a test drill it had taken only two minutes to get them all out. That fire escapes, which should have been in place, were lacking is a charge that as yet remains undenied, but their absence does not appear to have been of serious consequence, for until too late there was no obvious need of resort to that means of exit, and, in the circumstances, they probably would not have done any good. All reports agree that the conduct of the teachers after the alarm had been given was intelligent as well as heroic. Whatever could be done they seemingly did, and all would have been well if some child had not chanced to fall and so create a fatal confusion in the till then orderly march toward the doors.

Everything considered, the disaster, with an unusual measure of truth, can be called "an unavoidable accident," and what responsibility for it there is lies, so far as present information reveals, in the fact that the building was not fireproof or even slow burning. That, however, is a charge that can be made against such a vast majority, not only of all the schoolhouses in the country, but of all the buildings of every kind in it, that an indictment of this particular building's owners on that ground cannot be very vigorously maintained. For us all, hardly less than for them, the horror is a lesson and a warning.

Inviting More Trouble.

As if the Kaiser didn't have already animosities enough to demand his attention he has risked some more by announcing that he will be godfather to every seventh, eighth, and ninth son arriving in the family of one of his subjects.

Hitherto this high honor has been accorded by the great War Lord only when the aggregating of soldiers-to-be was uninterrupted by the appearance of daughters, but now the need for men with whom to fill the depleted regiments is so great that the parents of girl babies are to be forgiven if they earn pardon by also completing the required number of males.

The change might be considered a concession to current claims as to the importance of women—claims not unheard even in Germany, though not so loud there as in most other countries—if it were not for the fact that the Kaiser emphasizes, by repeating, his implied refusal of any imperial recognition to the parents of daughters, as such. This isn't far from being a definite declaration that women are inconsequential in his view, and these are not days in which anything like that can be safely said, no matter how high the position of the speaker.

The Kaiser is sure to hear from this latest proclamation of his, and the hearing will be—well, it will be a good deal like a lot of other things he has heard lately.

JUDGE SEABURY'S SNEER.

Mr. Wickersham Resents It on Behalf of Constitution Makers.

New York, Oct. 29, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Of all the published comments on the proposed new Constitution the one which strikes me as the most unworthy is that which is quoted as coming from the Hon. Samuel Seabury, one of the Judges of the Court of Appeals. Mr. Seabury is quoted as saying:

> The convention was controlled by a small coterie of corporation lawyers from both great political parties. * * * It resembled a meeting of a committee of a bar association where a few corporation lawyers, garbed in the livery of special privilege, gather together in mutual admiration of one another's ability and discuss matters of a purely professional nature affecting the interests of their prosperous and monopolistic clients.

If Judge Seabury, instead of indulging in unworthy rhetoric of this description, had paid some attention to the actual work of the convention, even his predetermined opposition to its work could not have found expression in this form. Among the most serious problems before the convention were those which affected the administration of justice in the State of New York. They involved questions of procedure and questions of judicial organization. They required a study of methods of removing just complaints of delays—undue delays, and unnecessary expense in the administration of justice. Judge Seabury has been a Judge of the City Court of New York and of the Supreme Court, and he is now a member of the Court of Appeals. It was shown to the committee that in the ordinary course of events a period of two years is required after appeal is taken to that court before it can be heard. It appeared that there is an increasing accumulation of cases on the calendar of that court, amounting to about 650 cases, and that the court had made up no new calendar since May, 1914. Judge Seabury did not attempt by spoken or written word to aid the convention or its Judiciary Committee to frame amendments to meet this situation, although he was in and out of the Capitol Building in attendance upon his court almost daily during the first two months of the convention's sessions, and although he, in common with other Judges of the Court of Appeals, was cordially invited to give the committee the benefit of any suggestions he might have. Other members of the court did attend and did give the committee valuable aid in its labors, and many of the provisions reported to and adopted by the convention were made by members of his own court and members of the court from which he was but recently promoted as embodying the results of their experience in those tribunals. It comes with ill-grace from a Judge, under these circumstances, to simply sneer at the work of a body of earnest men engaged in a sincere and practical effort to remove any well-founded complaints against the administration of justice. The convention was not controlled by any coterie of lawyers, large or small. It adopted the amendments it has recommended to the people after open debate, without caucus, and in the light of the best evidence as to existing conditions and remedies for them which were available to them. Among the lawyers who were active and earnest in their efforts to secure the best reforms attainable were men who have given many more years of service to the people than Judge Seabury. The Judiciary Article, for example, received 135 affirmative and only 3 negative votes. Among the former were those of lawyers of every class, many of whom must be much surprised to find themselves classed as "corporation lawyers" by a Judge of the Court of Appeals. It is this sort of uninformed, indefinite, insinuating, sneering comment from a man who obviously has not taken pains to inform himself of the facts which characterizes the greater part of the vociferous opposition which has been made to the Constitution. It is to be earnestly hoped by the friends of true democracy that the coming election will affirmatively demonstrate that the great body of the electorate cannot be misled by this species of demagogy.

GEO. W. WICKERSHAM.

For What Is There.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is a great mistake to vote against the new Constitution because of what is not in it.

J. DE L. VERPLANCK.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28, 1915.

IN THE GERMAN ASPECT.

A Calm Discussion of the Shooting of Women in War.

New York, Oct. 29, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The problems raised by the death of Miss Cavell may probably best be looked at from three points of view: the general human, the American, and the German. Such a division might, of course, only be made as a matter of convenience, not because there should be any essential difference between those points of view.

Looking at it under the aspect of common humanity, some words of Dr. Johnson, written in 1771, come to mind which he uttered in connection with his deprecation of war:

> Those that hear of it at a distance * * * consider it as little more than a splendid game, a battle, and a triumph. Some, indeed, must perish in the successful field; but they die upon the bed of honor, and, filled with England's glory, smile in death. War has means of destruction more formidable than the cannon and the sword. Ten thousands perished in our late contests, a very small part ever felt the stroke of an enemy; the rest languished in tents and ship, amidst damps and putrefaction, pale, torpid, spiritless and helpless; gasping and groaning, unpitied among men, made obdurate by long continuance of hopeless misery, and were at last whelmed in pits, or heaved into the ocean, without notice and without remembrance.

What men or women, when reading this, would not rather give their sympathies to the poor soldiers, now perishing at the Dardanelles, than to Edith Cavell?

Looking at it from the German point of view, the idea suggests itself that a Judge the more he might be distinguished by high mental and sentimental qualities the more he would be inclined to extend mercy to a person without influence, without special training, without a clear consciousness of the meaning of any particular act, rather than to one of the high breeding, of the careful education, and of the excellent connections Edith Cavell indeed enjoyed. And is it not a sign of true democracy to allow justice to reign without regard to the social position of the accused?

From the American point of view the recent article in November Scribner's written by E. Alexander Powell, who is with the French armies, seems important as showing the identical action of the various belligerents in connection with women foes. Mr. Powell writes of the executions inflicted in Alsace by the French upon German women threatening harm to the French armies:

> They are no cowards * * * They know perfectly well what it means if they are detected—sunrise, a wall, and a firing party. They shot a woman for espionage when I was in Alsace. An officer who was present at her execution told me about it. She was young and very beautiful, it seems, and came from an excellent family. It was shown at her trial that she was at the head of a remarkably efficient and extensive system of espionage. "It was a horrible business shooting a woman," said the officer, "but it had to be done, for she was endangering the safety of the whole army. She behaved splendidly, too. I wish to God that I could forget about it."

Considering this identity of action by the foreign armies against all women foes, the inference seems fair, that Sir Edward Grey has seized, as a political expedient, upon the execution of an English woman who was permitted by the Germans to remain at liberty in their midst, instead of being sent to concentration camps, as has happened to nearly all German women in enemy countries, and who took advantage of this permission and of her privileged position as a nurse to plot against the Germans. Things had not gone right at the western front, the eastern front, the Dardanelles, and the Balkans. American opinion was particularly valuable at the moment, as England could only replenish her strength by drawing upon the resources of the United States. There was danger in these developments of an adverse influence on the willingness of the Americans to help. "Americans are a sentimental people," Sir Edward said, "I must give them something to occupy their imagination." Edith Cavell was made the lightning-rod of British diplomacy.

O. J. MERKEL,
Executive Secretary German University League.

Terrible Infants.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The recent letters concerning roller-skating have interested me greatly. Skaters are not only a nuisance in our streets, but a menace to life and limb. Recently, on Fifth Avenue, I saw a crutch knocked from under the arm of a lame man by one of the so-called "kiddies" who must be allowed to play in our streets. The policeman whose attention was called to it merely shrugged his shoulders and did nothing. To the letter headed "Why Not Abolish Children?" one would reply that there is dire need, in this age where the lack of home training is most apparent, to ask when are children to be taught any regard for their elders, any idea of the meaning of the word obey? The absolute lawlessness of the day is lamentable.

New York, Oct. 27, 1915. L. E. A.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I wish to say that I heartily agree with A. T. F. that sidewalks should not be used for roller skating. I speak from bitter experience, for a year or so ago I was run into by a boy on roller skates with the force of a catapult and actually thrown into the roadway. I was laid up for two months and my doctor's bill was $40. ALMA D. V. Z.

New York, Oct. 28, 1915.

Registration in Schools.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It may be a fine thing to have polling places in public schools, but in so doing why is the law violated? I understand that the election law provides that the public copy of the register shall be left in a prominent position in the place of registration from the first day of registration until election day, and that the janitor or some other person in charge of the building shall have the custody of and be responsible for it, and, furthermore, that a notice shall be kept publicly posted stating how inspection may be obtained. I went to a polling place in a public school on an afternoon at about 5:45 o'clock, found the building locked and couldn't get in. After knocking on the door for about ten minutes a woman cleaner let me in. She didn't know where the public copy was, and, in fact, had never heard of such a thing. Finally, at about 6:15, she located the assistant janitor, and, after a hunt, he found the public copy behind a screen on a desk in an out-of-the-way place. It seems to me that the election law is made a farce of if citizens have to put up with such a system as this. A friend of mine had almost the same experience as this at another school polling place, only he wandered around the school building for half an hour, and, not finding any one in charge, went away.

PHILIP J. SCHMIDT.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 28, 1915.

For More West Side Docks.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Now that prosperity is ahead of us for years to come, why does not our City Government get busy and extend the dock facilities on the west side, as planned, to West Fifty-sixth Street? Give our trade the dock facilities as soon as possible. This whole west side water front is lying waste.

E. F. RANDOLPH.

New York, Oct. 26, 1915.

SECRET WOES OF VASSAL INDIA.

The Terrible Cost of Political and Economical Progress to an Unarmed, Exploited People Held in Bondage.

By SRINIVAS R. WAGEL,
Indian, Economist, Formerly Financial Editor North China Herald.

New York, Oct. 28, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I read with great interest Mr. Dulles's article on Indian conditions in the Magazine Section of THE TIMES. I must admit that Mr. Dulles has attempted to be fair, and that his summing up of the situation is partly correct. Unfortunately, however, he has missed altogether the real issues. It is really absurd to state that the great aim of the educated Indian is to be considered the social equal of the Englishman in India. The educated Indian has to attend to affairs far more vital, and has neither the time nor the money to think of social intercourse with the Englishman. If the Englishman thinks he is exclusively gifted the Indian has far more reason to be complacent, especially as regards his ancestry. A few Indians, who have returned from Oxford and Cambridge, have certainly reason to feel bitterly about it; but the social superiority assumed by the Englishman in India becomes ludicrous, especially as his betters in his own home, and those who would not think of having any intercourse with him, treat the Indian as he deserves to be treated.

It is again wrong to say that the loyalty of the lower classes of Indians has been alienated purely on account of the immigration policy of the British colonies, although the latter has helped to make the people bitter against British rule. The causes of unrest lie much deeper and are certainly more fundamental. It is unfortunate that throughout the world the nature of the British connection with India has been misrepresented; and well-meaning neutrals have been made to believe that Indians are guilty of unpardonable ingratitude in even thinking ill of Great Britain, which has done "so much" for India. It is this false idea that obscures the whole situation; and appearances have been also in favor of the belief that the people of India are grateful to British rule.

At the same time there is no denying, even on the authority of British witnesses, that there is serious unrest in the country. The causes of the unrest are more fundamental than Mr. Dulles believes they are, and are more economic and political than social. It is no use forgetting the fact that the British are in India, and are going to remain there as long as they are strong enough to maintain their authority. It is also plain that the British hold the country primarily for their own benefit and prestige, and it is but natural that such should be the case. Knowing full well the nature of international morals Indians are not so devoid of sense as to whine and complain when they are aware of the fact that only strength on their part, or want of strength on the part of the British, alone could give them the kind of freedom necessary for their getting on in the world.

But the British are pursuing a very immoral course when they assume, or pretend to have, a moral sanction to their position in India, and blackguard the people of India to justify their rule and its continuance. It is very often stated that the people of India are not fitted for self-government and will not be fit for hundreds of years to come. History teaches that no nation was ever fitted for self-government before it obtained it. A nation fits itself for self-government by various and arduous steps, under the kindly guidance of the men in authority. Education is made free and all steps are taken to make the common people as enlightened as possible.

In India the Government is alien. Out of a total imperial revenue of £85,000,000 the princely sum of £3,500,000 is spent on educating the people—a large portion of even this sum being devoted to the payment of exorbitant salaries of Englishmen. There is no scientific laboratory in India worth the name. The only research institute in the country is due to the beneficence of an Indian, the only commercial college was endowed by an Indian, and the only big agricultural institute in the country owes its birth to the generosity of an American. Physical culture is taboo, and gymnastic clubs are systematically broken up. The educational institutions in the country are intended to furnish clerks and men suitable for subordinate services. The system of education is such that it only produces cowards or rebels.

There is no freedom of discussion, except when one wants to laud the British. Anybody who takes part in political meetings or discussions is suspect. The freedom of the press, so far as the Indian press is concerned, is a misnomer. Summary suspension of papers, which have to furnish cash security, and confiscation of such security, is a very common incident. The press has to resort to innuendoes or temper criticism with praise of the Government, whenever it wants to complain.

The courts of justice are all right so long as the dispute is between Indian and Indian. When it is a political case, or when it is a dispute between an Indian and an Englishman, there is no justice at all in nine cases out of ten.

Although recently the number of Indians in the higher branches of the services has been increasing, Englishmen are in an overwhelming majority. They control policies, and their selection of the Indian candidates is neither wholesome nor made with a view to benefit the people as a whole. It is but natural that when a foreigner has control he should choose such men alone as would be a source of strength to him. Fortunately, however, the British are not having the same success in this respect today as in the past.

Another old slogan to justify British rule is that, if they left India today, some other nation would conquer the country immediately. This is possibly true; but who is responsible for the people being unable to defend themselves? Englishmen have been adopting the same course in India for a hundred years that the Germans are adopting in Belgium today. To own or possess any kind of arms is a crime in an Indian. Animosities among different classes are sedulously fostered by favoritism and such other immoral methods. According to this logic, the British could remain in India forever, for they will never permit the people to become strong. It may be argued that there are the Indian troops. Up to the start of the war there were only 140,000, and the whole of this army was sent to France to avoid trouble; and further recruiting has been made only among the frontier tribes.

The recent reforms, inaugurated under the Minto-Morley régime, certainly improved the position, but not to a great extent. The object of these reforms, in the words of Lord Morley, was to "rally the moderates" against the extremists "when the Indian sky was threatening."

The control of trade and railways is in the hands of Englishmen, who viciously discriminate against Indians. The late Mr. Tata had to bring in Japanese companies to fight the British shipping companies, who would have killed the Indian yarn trade with China. The Indian mills made commendable advance in cotton manufactures and competed with Manchester; and the result was an excise duty on cotton manufactures in India, which still continues to oppress the trade. In the railways, an Indian export merchant has not a ghost of a chance of getting his cargo to the port in time and competing with the English merchant.

In spite of all handicaps the Indian has made commendable advance, both politically and economically. The cost is terrible, the effort strenuous, and the failures many; and this last item is put by Britishers to the debit of the Indian, who is called inefficient. Infant industries are killed in every part of the country, because the Government, besides not protecting them, actually hinders their progress.

I do not wish to continue my tale of woe. I have said enough to show that the causes of disloyalty are more fundamental than Mr. Dulles makes them out to be. The most galling thing to any self-respecting Indian is to be asked to show gratitude for the "benignant" rule. That the British rule has done some good to India no one can deny without laying himself open to the charge of being untruthful; but it has also worked evil, and the balance is very much in favor of the latter. We have had peace, but the peace of the opium smoker, deadening every noble fibre in man. India is too remote to interest America, and information about India is very carefully ladled out by the British; and many foreigners who have visited India, not excepting Americans, have noted the benefits of British rule in India with the same spectacles through which Professor McClellan saw German rule in Belgium.

SRINIVAS R. WAGEL.

MR. PALANDECH AND SERBIA.

His Connection with That Country Not What Others Think It Is.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Honor and duty compel me to take notice of Professor Pupin's statement under the heading, "How Serbia Makes War," in one of your recent issues. From all indications I have been unfortunately misquoted in the press. While I praised the women of Serbia and defended them against the many slurs heaped upon them in certain American publications, I said that they would aid the men in defending their homes and their freedom; that their bravery equals that of the men in Serbia. I did not say that I had information that 250,000 were enlisting in the army, nor have I ever claimed the title of a Serbian leader in America. That, however, is repeatedly annexed to my name by the Serbian public and by the American press.

I wish to state that I am an unhyphenated American citizen, and I have always worked to the best of my ability for America first. I am proud of the fact that I can trace my ancestry of Serbian blood for generations back—people who have fought for Serbian freedom, although they have never enjoyed the fruits of Serbian liberty, because, unfortunately, their home was in Austria. I have stated publicly, as Professor Pupin knows, that my signature to the appeal in question was given by mistake, and that I did not agree with it as a sympathiser of Serbia and the Allies, and that I had withdrawn my signature at the time when the appeal was published. These statements are characteristic of Professor Pupin, who became a Serbian only a few years ago when Serbians began to take such an important part in the making of a new history for the civilized world. Up to that time the files of New York newspapers will bear me out he was known as a Hungarian.

In view of the fact that Professor Pupin is a representative of the Serbian Government, I have respected him and honored his title. Whatever he may say will not deteriorate my sympathy for Serbia, whose cause I believe to be also that of humanity and civilization. JOHN R. PALANDECH.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 26, 1915.

Walking Sticks for the Wounded.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The British Red Cross Society, 66 Pall Mall, London, S. W., is asking for walking sticks for the wounded soldiers arriving daily from the front. Many thousands have been sent, but the demand still exceeds the supply. Gifts of money to buy sticks and gifts of sticks can be sent to Henry Dann, 60 Pall Mall, London, S. W., England. Remittances and gifts will be acknowledged and all expenditures accounted for to the society.

EMILY KINSMAN.

New York, Oct. 28, 1915.

Registration in Schools.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It may be a fine thing to have polling places in public schools, but in so doing why is the law violated? I understand that the election law provides that the public copy of the register shall be left in a prominent position in the place of registration from the first day of registration until election day, and that the janitor or some other person in charge of the building shall have the custody of and be responsible for it, and, furthermore, that a notice shall be kept publicly posted stating how inspection may be obtained. I went to a polling place in a public school on an afternoon at about 5:45 o'clock, found the building locked and couldn't get in. After knocking on the

DEBUTANTES BOW AT TUXEDO BALL

Greeted by Society Throng in Club Ballroom Decorated with Autumn Foliage.

ALL THE COLONISTS HOSTS

Buds Include the Misses Dinsmore, De Veau, Sedgwick, Conkling, Parsons, and De Gersdorff.

Special to The New York Times.

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Perfect weather favored the Tuxedo colonists for their annual Autumn ball. It was one of the largest dances ever held at the Tuxedo Club, and the feature was the large attendance of débutantes. Nearly all of the colonists are entertaining at house parties, and their guests will remain over Sunday.

The pretty circular ballroom adjoining the club was decorated with Autumn foliage. In the centre of the room was a group of cedar trees banked with Autumn leaves and chrysanthemums in pots, and ropings of holly were extended from the centre of the room to the pillars on the edge, and in a specially constructed arbor hidden from view the orchestra was stationed.

In addition to the many dinners at the club the cottagers also entertained before the dance. Among those entertaining at the club were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, who had a party of sixty. The table was decorated with Halloween articles. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tuckerman entertained a party of twenty-eight. Others who had parties were Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Monell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Leo Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Keech, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Greene, Mrs. Charles W. Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Rogers, Mrs. George Isham Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hancy, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walter Cooper, and Colonel and Mrs. Thomas Denny.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Foster Carey are entertaining at a house party for their débutante daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harris also have a week-end house party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Astor Bristed arrived today and entertained for their débutante daughters, Miss Symphorosa Bristed and Miss C. E. Grace Bristed. Among other débutantes presented tonight were Miss Marion Dinsmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dinsmore; Miss Anstiss De Veau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. De Veau; Misses Adelaide E. and Aileen Sedgwick, daughters of Mrs. Harry Sedgwick; Miss Muriel Conkling, daughter of Mr. Alfred Donalds Conkling; Miss Katharine de Berkeley Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. de Berkeley Parsons; Miss Alma De Gersdorff, and Miss Helen MacGregor Byrne.

The Ball Committee of Arrangements were Lucius Wilmerding, Forsyth Wickes, Lewis Spencer Morris, Pierre Lorillard, Jr., and Joseph E. Stevens. At midnight supper was served in the large dining room, after which dancing was resumed. Among those present were Edmund W. Peaslee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris, Miss Muriel Conkling, Aiden Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Weld, the Rev. and Mrs. George William Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Richards, Mrs. Henry Pearce, George Isham Scott, Miss Mimi Scott, Miss Gwendolyn King, Johnson L. Redmond, Robert C. Wylie, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Renshaw, Miss Florence Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic DeP. Foster, Mr. and Mrs Ralph Monell, J. Murray Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Hunt Talmadge, Miss Lillian Talmadge, Miss Priscilla Bartell, Berkley Duer, Albert M. Ely, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Grant Mason, Miss Rita Norrie, George Norton Miller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mortimer, Henry Forster, Den Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Crafton Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rutherford, Miss M. LaFarge, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Noel, Mrs. Charles W. Clinton, George Sargent Mason, Miss Margery O. Rand, Miss Eugenie R. Rand, W. E. Shepherd, Jr., Mr and Mrs. E. Fulton Cutting, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tiffany Richardson, Mrs. Edward Van Ingen, Dr. John Queland, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Ruperti, Miss Lilly Ruperti, Miss Dorothy Carey, Geoffrey Brokaw, Robert G. Brown, Hans Jochein, Robert Carriere, Mr. and Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton, Miss Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Junius S. Morgan, Jr., Miss Alexandra Emery, Mrs. Charles Marshall, Louis Curtis, Umberto Coletti, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, Mr. and Mrs. H. de Berkeley Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hancy, Dr. James O. Green, Miss Eleanor Margaret Green, Miss Emily Stevens, Miss Viola Fisher, Edward Spindler Mitchell, James Lenox Banks, Dudley Carlton, Corvin Hewitt Green, Dr. Guy Carleton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Leo Everett, Mr. and Mrs. James Byrne, Miss Byrne, Miss Katherine Crosby, Miss Nathaniel Wood, Miss Dorothy Green, Miss S. Price Collier, Miss Katharine Collier, Miss Helen Pierce, Anderson Dana, Reginald Pyne, Maurice Roche, Frances Roche, Addison Cammack, John Munroe, Colonel Munroe, Harold Henderson Monroe, Douglas Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Seton, Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Scull, Mr. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, Mr. and Mrs. Allan S. Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Rogers, Carl Boker, Benjamin Moore, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rossetter Betts, Mr. and Mrs. William Dinsmore, Colonel and Mrs. Thomas Denny, Miss E. L. Denny, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hunter Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Leroy Enmeth, Mrs. William H. Young, Dr. McCall Anderson, Walter Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop McKim, Lieutenant Theodore Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Munroe, Reginald B. Rivcs, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. De Veau, George P. De Veau, Reginald Whitman, Frank Burton.

Also Mrs. Ernest R. Adee, Miss G. F. Adee, Miss Eleanor Cuyler, Miss Ursula Harrison, Vail Stebbins, Francis Henderson, Joseph Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. White Wright Watson, Ralph Isham, M. Maurice Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan G. Barnwell, Miss Lincoln, Clermont L. Barnwell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tuckerman, Newton Rae, Thornton R. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. George Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Freilinghuysen, Miss E. A. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown Keech, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Williams, Frank Brown Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Frederic A. Juilliard, W. MacNeill Rodewald, Miss Marie Louise Rodewald, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Duncan, Ogden Rogers, and Benson Rose.

WM. B. VAN INGEN TO WED.

Mural Painter and Miss B. E. Sequard, Professor, Get a License.

William Brantley Van Ingen, the artist, who lives at 58 West Fifty-seventh Street, and Miss Berthe Ernestine Sequard of the same address, took out a marriage license yesterday at the City Hall. Miss Sequard stated that she was a professor, that she was born in Paris, the daughter of Claude and Margarat Tassey Sequard.

Mr. Van Ingen was born in Philadelphia, fifty-seven years ago, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Van Ingen, his mother having been a Miss Fairchild. The license also stated that Justice Charles L. Guy of the Supreme Court was to perform the ceremony.

Mr. Van Ingen is a well-known mural painter. His work may be seen in the panels of the Congressional Library, the State Capitol of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg, the Capitol at Trenton, N. J., and in other public buildings. The late Charles Yerkes commissioned him to build a Japanesse room in his New York house, and Mr. Van Ingen went to Japan and studied its art. Last year he gave an exhibition at the Lotos Club of paintings of the Panama Canal.

SON TO MRS. H. CLEWS, JR.

Mother of Baby Born in Paris Was Formerly Mrs. Robert Goelet.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clews received a cable yesterday announcing the birth of a son on Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clews, Jr., in Paris. The youngster is to be called Henry Clews, 4th.

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Clews on Dec. 26, last, came as a surprise to society. Mrs. Clews, who was Elsie Whelen Goelet, received her final decree of divorce from Robert Goelet a few months before and there had not been a hint as to a second romance. The marriage took place quietly at the home of the bride, 8 Washington Square North, a few hours after the license had been obtained, in the presence of the immediate families. Mr. Clews had arrived from Europe scarcely a week before.

Mrs. Clews has two sons by her former marriage, which took place in June, 1904. When her divorce was granted she obtained the custody of her son Peter, and the joint custody of her elder son, Ogden, was awarded to her. Mr. Clews also has a son, Henry Clews, 3d, by a former marriage to Louise Hollingsworth Gebhard, who obtained a divorce from him in 1910, but has never remarried.

Following the wedding the couple lived at Mr. Clews's studio at 145 East Nineteenth Street and later sailed for Europe, where they have since resided in Paris. Mr. Clews has gained considerable prominence in art circles for his paintings and under his direction Mrs. Clews has attained skill as a painter of marine pictures. She studied with him here and in Newport before their marriage.

Charity Fashion Fete Ends.

The ballroom at the Ritz-Carlton was filled last night at the second and last evening of the Charity Fashion Fête. There was an exhibition of additional gowns and fancy articles were sold by young society girls. The Dolly sisters and Miss Grace Field assisted with the musical program. Later in the evening there was an auction of the donations, with Lawrence Grant acting as auctioneer. The proceeds will be sent to aid the wounded French soldiers. Dancing and supper followed the fête.

Glen Arden Hunt Meets.

Special to The New York Times.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The Glen Arden Hunt, of which Miss Carol A. Harriman and John R. Townsend are masters, and F. J. Meehan, huntsman, have announced the following program for the drag hounds for next month: Saturday, Nov. 6, Chester; Nov. 13, Goshen Inn; Nov. 20, Florida; Nov. 27, Glenmere. The meets will be at 2 P. M. The fox hounds will meet at Kennels on Mondays and Fridays at 8 A. M., and on Wednesdays at Girard Station at 8:30 A. M.

Miss Anna L. Sturgis Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Sturgis of 232 West Seventy-fourth Street gave a dinner last night at which they announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna L. Sturgis, to Edward N. Wright. Miss Sturgis is a débutante of last season. Mr. Wright is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wright of Germantown, Penn. He is a graduate of Harvard, class of '11. No date has been set for the wedding.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tighe McGusty are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter yesterday at the home of Mrs. McGusty's mother, Mrs. Edwin H. Weatherbee of 240 Madison Avenue. Mrs. McGusty was Miss Henrietta C. Weatherbee. The wedding of the couple took place last October in Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Mme. de Riano, wife of the Spanish Ambassador, arrived here yesterday from Washington, and is at the Ritz-Carlton.

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bartlett of 257 West Eighty-sixth Street, and Carter Phelps, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Phelps, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in All Angels' Church.

Miss May Powell and Edward Thomas Bromfield will be married today at the home of the bride's parents, 326 West Seventy-second Street. In the New Church, in Thirty-fifth Street, between Park and Lexington Avenues, Miss Josephine Grose, sister of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Grose, will become the bride of Richard B. Wilson of Youngstown, Ohio. A reception will follow at 34 Gramercy Park.

Mrs. John J. Wysong, who has been at the Plaza since her return from Newport, will open her town house, 1 East Seventy-sixth Street, on Monday.

Mrs. William L. Strong, widow of former Mayor Strong, is at the Hotel Gotham, and will leave shortly for a visit in Atlantic City.

A Halloween dinner will be served at the Sleepy Hollow Club this evening, following the final events in the golf tournaments. After dinner there will be dancing.

OLD AND RARE BOOKS

First Editions. Books with Colored Plates. Sporting Books. Extra Illustrated Memoirs and Biographies. Fine Bindings. Autographed Copies.

BRENTANO'S

5th Ave. and 27th St. New York.

THEATRE FRANCAIS

19 WEST 44th STREET

OPENING NOVEMBER 15th

Under the Patronage of the French Government.

For reservations, subscriptions, etc., address

LUCIEN L. BONHEUR, Director, 114 East 50th Street, New York.

Dutton's

Personal Greeting Cards —individual—artistic. Orders should be placed at once.

The Complete Book Store

681 Fifth Avenue

HORLICK'S

The Original

MALTED MILK

Unless you say "HORLICK'S" you may get a Substitute.

LINCOLN TRUST Company

SURELY, a cordial and friendly spirit in the transaction of business in no way curtails its benefits. At least that's the way we feel about it.

204 Fifth Avenue

(Opposite Madison Square)

BROADWAY AT LEONARD STREET

BROADWAY AT 72ND STREET

Thoms & Eron, Inc.

BOOKSELLERS

announce that they have purchased a large library of de luxe and choice editions of Standard authors in fine bindings.

For a short time these will be sold at prices much below their market value.

50 John St., New York.

'OTELLO' IS GIVEN BY BOSTON COMPANY

A Meritorious Performance of Verdi's Work at the Manhattan Opera House.

ZENATELLO IN TITLE ROLE

George Baklanoff Impersonates Iago with Unusual Force—Miss Luisa Villani as Desdemona.

Desdemona	Luisa Villani
Emilia	Elvira Leveroni
Otello	Giovanni Zenatello
Iago	George Baklanoff
Cassio	Ernesto Giaccone
Roderigo	Federico Ferraresi
Ludovico	Alfred Kaufman
Montano	Paolo Ananian

Conductor—Roberto Moranzoni.

The Boston Opera Company risked a venturesome undertaking last evening at the Manhattan Opera House, when it produced Verdi's "Otello," an undertaking even more venturesome, but for very different reasons, than putting forward Auber's "Masaniello" at its opening. "Otello" offers many kinds of difficulty and many problems to its conductor and those who take part in the performance. And furthermore, "Otello," even when presented with all the skill and all the dramatic resources at the command of the greatest opera houses, has not yet found its way deeply into the popular heart, and does not attract the general opera-going public. And, again, "Otello" offers no opportunity for the introduction of dancing or pantomiming, and hence makes no call for the appearance of Mlle. Pavlowa herself, who has so far proved herself to be, with the section of the company that directly co-operates with her, one of the most popular features the Boston Opera Company has to offer.

Nevertheless, there was one of the most numerous audiences of the week at the performance last evening. It would be too much to say that it heard a performance that completely represented the strength and beauty of Verdi's work, which still remains one of his two supreme achievements in transforming Shakespeare into lyric drama. Its companion piece, "Falstaff," is the other. Yet the representation was not, on the whole, an incompetent one, and there were certain features in it of striking excellence. Mr. Moranzoni, the conductor, achieved a performance of the orchestral score that had many merits in dramatic power, in vigor and color; though a high finish could not be called one of them. The impersonation of Mr. George Baklanoff as Iago, was one of unusual force and characteristic expression; the impersonation of a diabolic villain of ample resource and finished style. His rich and vibrant baritone voice, his fluent and significant declamation, his action full of dramatic detail were sufficient to give him a dominating place. His delivery of the "Credo" in the second act was an excellent piece of work in the performance.

Mr. Zenatello is no stranger to New York in the part of Otello, and in other years he has presented that part several times on the stage of the Manhattan Opera House. It is a zealous and carefully studied performance; but though it is well conceived and conscientiously executed, it has not on the whole an overmastering power; and such it must have to represent the essential quality of the Moor. Mr. Zenatello sang with great vigor.

Miss Luisa Villani's Desdemona was not one of the most satisfactory contributions to the representation; it was insufficient in charm and grace, in appealing ingenuousness; in her singing as well as in her action. And Mr. Ernesto Giaccone's Cassio failed to give plausible reason for Desdemona's favor or Otello's jealousy.

There was enthusiasm on the part of the audience; it was especially aroused by the more obvious and strenuous passages in Mr. Zenatello's vehement climaxes.

WATCH TICKET AGENCIES.

Theatre Managers to Try to Detect Violations of Agreement.

The theatre managers met yesterday afternoon in their rooms in the New York Theatre Building to discuss the selling of tickets. The principal difficulty the managers have had to contend with since they put into effect the reforms intended to abolish the selling of tickets at cut rates or above certain prices has been preventing the agencies from charging more than the fifty-cent premium the managers agreed they might charge.

There have been complaints that certain agencies were charging more than this premium, and it was decided yesterday to begin an investigation to determine whether these complaints have any foundation in fact. The agencies will be watched, and if any of them are discovered violating the agreement, the Tyson Company, which is the central distributing agency, will be ordered to refuse to issue them any more tickets. In the Empire and Lyceum Theatre programs Alf Hayman has printed the offer of a reward of $25 for evidence convicting any agency of charging more than the 50-cent premium.

Roderick White, Violinist, Plays.

Roderick White, the young American violinist who was heard here for the first time last season, gave a recital last night at Aeolian Hall at which he added to the favorable impression his first appearance had made. His program consisted of Max Bruch's Concerto in D minor, and three groups of smaller pieces, among whose composers the name of Dvorak appeared most frequently, many of them being arrangements by Fritz Kreisler.

Mr. White has developed since his first hearing, principally in the direction of acquiring more finish of technique and more finesse of style. He has still some of the subtleties of his art to master, but is even now an interesting player. The element that seems to promise most for his future is his apparent seeking after virility and breadth of line. His accompaniments were capably played last night by Maurice Eisner.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Miss Noysa McMein of 138 West Sixty-fifth Street won the prize of $25 offered by the Times Producing Corporation for the best black and white drawing of a smiling girl to be used as a trademark for the musical play, "The Girl Who Smiles." Ninety-two heads were submitted from artists in eleven States.

C. Haddon Chambers, the English playwright, gave a box party at the Hippodrome last night. His guests were Mme. Nellie Melba, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, and Mrs. C. B. Dillingham. Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs also gave a party at the big playhouse.

The chorus of Ned Wayburn's "Town Topics" took part in a motion picture scene that was photographed yesterday in the Plaza Theatre. The picture was "The Labyrinth," produced by the Equitable Company, with Gail Kane as the star. An audience that filled the playhouse watched the proceedings on the stage and was included in the picture.

W. H. Post will stage the musical play, "A Bare Idea," being written by Everett Shinn, Wallace Irwin, and Silvio Hein for E. A. Weil. Clarence West has been engaged as musical director. The piece will go into rehearsal Monday.

J. Stuart Blackton went to Boston last night to be present at the first showing of "The Battle Cry of Peace" in the Majestic Theatre Monday night.

The Catholic Actors' Guild will hold its next regular meeting next Friday afternoon in the Hotel Astor. The recent retreat held by the guild will be discussed and arrangements will be made for the first benefit, which will be given Nov. 29. The members of the guild have been invited by Cohan & Harris to attend a performance of "Hit the Trail Holliday."

B. F. Keith's Royal Theatre will return to the policy of two performances daily of high-class vaudeville on Monday, Nov. 8. Junior vaudeville at popular prices has been the policy for some time, and with the change the novelty of big time variety at popular prices will be tried. The opening program will include Eddie Leonard and Barnes and Crawford, two headline acts.

RIVALS' SPITE MADE TENOR'S LIFE UNHAPPY

How de Primo Escaped a Sandbag and Tasted a Salted Orange Told in Basso's Summons.

A peek behind the operatic scenes that should discourage budding Carusos was given yesterday in the Yorkville Police Court when John Escalono appeared before Magistrate Barlow in answer to a summons alleging that he and Zanco de Primo, a tenor of the Boston Opera Company, appearing at the Manhattan Opera House, had assaulted Paulo Anannin, a basso of the company. According to Anannin he was attacked by the tenor and Escalono, the latter's secretary, Wednesday afternoon, when the three met in the offices of the company.

Escalono said de Primo was so upset by the affair that he would be unable to appear for at least a day. He bore a doctor's certificate to this effect, and the hearing was adjourned to next Thursday.

Before the adjournment was taken, however, the Secretary gave some glimpses of the workings of the artistic temperament. He said the success of de Primo had incurred for him the envy and spite of other members of the company.

In Detroit a sandbag dropped from the flies suspiciously near where de Primo was standing; in Toronto some scenery suddenly toppled over and narrowly missed the tenor's head. But the cruelest attack was the sprinkling of salt on an orange de Primo had intended to suck just before he tackled an aria. In spite of all these injustices Escalono said his charge's temper had remained unruffled.

As for the alleged attack—Anannin had called de Primo a Russian pig, Escalono said, and when Anannin grabbed the tenor by the arm de Primo struck him with his cane. Escalono acted the rôle of peacemaker, he said, and when Anannin attempted to strike him he beat him to it.

MRS. GRENNELL WINS RACE.

Rides Cupid to Victory in Mile Straightaway at Fassifern Club.

Special to The New York Times.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 29.—A dozen luncheon parties at Fassifern Farm today were entertained for an hour after luncheon by some flat races and a jumping contest on the turf track of the Fassifern Hunt Club near by.

Colonel Robert M. Thompson of Washington, who got here this morning, joining Mrs. Thompson and Miss Hilda Sykes, who have been here for a week, rode over and exhibited three horses, his bay horse, Dr. Fitz, winning second prize in the jumping contest, while the first went to McKee Dunn of Richmond on Savage. The trophies were cups presented by Mrs. Robert M. Thompson and Robert E. Tod of New York.

Mrs. Francis Grennell of Charlestown, Mass., won the women's mile straightaway race on Cupid, while Miss Mary D. Brooks of New York was second on Virginia Girl. Tate Sterritt, Whirlwind, was the winner of the one-mile race for men, and the half-mile race was won by J. W. Hamilton's Bobby Keene.

Colonel Thompson gave a large luncheon party at the Farm House, and Robert E. Tod was host at another, having among his guests Mr. and Mrs. William A. Barstow of Sixth Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Drummond, Miss Ruth Tod, and McKee Dunn. Miss Gladys Ingalls drove over, and others there for luncheon and tea were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McClintock, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grennell, Mrs. Llewellyn, Charles Holden of Washington, Mrs. Jeanne Wilde and Miss Margaret Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Charlton, C. A. Potter, Jr., and Mrs. A. Kelly Evans.

Governor R. Livingston Beeckman of Rhode Island and Mrs. Beeckman arrived this morning on a private car and are at the Homestead for a short stay.

Other arrivals included Mr. and Mrs. S. Musgrave Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Conter Lawrence, and Mrs. James Davis of New York, Mrs. S. D. Parker, Mrs. F. L. Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Crosley of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pels of Hoboken, and Mr. and Mrs. George McFadden of Philadelphia.

HALLOWEEN AT ARDSLEY.

Club Gives a Costume Dance Amid Cornstalks and Pumpkins.

There was a Halloween costume dance last evening at the Ardsley Club. The first floor was decorated with Autumn leaves, cornstalks, fruit, pumpkins, and other farm products, and there was a grand march at 10:30 of those in costume. Miss Dorothy Black took the prize as Titania, and J. Wood Rutter carried off the man's prize in Mexican costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Flower Robinson led the march, and others who took part were Mrs. Frank Phillips as Mistress Mary Quite Contrary, Miss Phyllis Brown as Liberty, and Miss Dorothy Fuller and Ellen Rowan were Halloween witches. Dorothy Gifford was the Spirit of Halloween and Mrs. J. Wood Rutter was a Mexican woman.

Among those present were Dr. Albert Shaw and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kittredge, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Andrews, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hare Powel, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mairs.

DEATH PARTS AGED COUPLE.

Mrs. A. W. Webber Succumbs on Eve of Golden Wedding Party.

Arrangements for the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Albert W. Webber and Mary M. Webber next Tuesday were turned into preparations for a funeral yesterday when Mrs. Webber died at her home, 244 Quincy Street, Brooklyn. Some of her relatives who live in all parts of the country arrived at her home only to be told of her death.

The Webbers and their four daughters had sent out more than 150 invitations. It is believed that the excitement over the celebration was the cause of Mrs. Webber's falling ill a few days ago. Her family physician found that pneumonia set in on Tuesday night.

Mrs. Webber was 71 years old. She was born in Nashville, Tenn. Her husband was so deeply affected by her death that he collapsed yesterday and was under the care of a physician. Her daughters were obliged to recall the invitations to the wedding anniversary.

OCEAN VOYAGERS.

Some of Those Sailing for Liverpool Today—The Arrivals.

Some of those booked to leave today for Liverpool on the St. Paul are:

George Acheson, J. G. Anderson, J. Beck, J. C. Brooks, W. Bunting, B. K. Burbeck, Mrs. D. Cameron, H. S. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Coverly, Miss E. M. B. Crum, W. M. Cumming, W. D. Dash, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Albert De Courville, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Delamain, Mrs. E. C. Dunn, the Earl of Orkney, H. Elliott, A. R. Everest, R. H. Findlater, Miss Archibald Freeman, Miss H. Gale, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gavin, J. B. Gray, Paul Hainsford, Mrs. C. Harrison, A. C. Hatfield, Harold Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Jardine, W. R. Johnston, B. S. Lathrop, Mrs. W. B. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Morgan, Mrs. G. F. Palmer, Mrs. R. R. Patterson, G. Pearson, C. E. Potts, Mrs. C. W. Rathay, Miss Rathay, J. A. Robertson, F. H. Sawyer, Miss W. Smithus, W. P. Stanton, Mrs. J. F. Templeton, Mrs. M. B. Van Amringe, E. W. Walker, Captain W. Wilson, and A. E. Woolsey.

Among the passengers arriving yesterday on the Kristianiafjord from Bergen were:

Mrs. M. Cramm, Ray Harris, C. Lagergreen, Charles Preston, Miss Marie Thoresen, Donald Friede, Miss Helen Smith, Paul Tiede, Mrs. Martha H. Young, James Black, Mrs. E. Black, J. H. Coony, Mrs. G. Hall, and Ernest Hart.

RECITAL BY GADSKI FILLS AEOLIAN HALL

Favorite Soprano Heard in a Program Made Up of German Lieder.

ONE SUNG IN ENGLISH

Overwhelmed with Flowers as She Finishes Her First Concert of the Season.

Mme. Johanna Gadski was enthusiastically greeted by a large audience in Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon when she gave the song recital that regularly follows her return to New York in the Autumn. Her specialty in song singing in the German Lied, and her program yesterday was made up entirely of German Lieder, except for Donna Elvira's air from the last act of "Don Giovanni," with which she began it, "by request," Mme. Gadski's voice, except at the very beginning, seemed to be much as it has been in recent years as regards quality, power, and expressiveness. Probably none of her admirers would maintain that the artistic statute of limitations is suspended in her case any more than in the case of other well-beloved singers, and that her voice is now what it was in other years. Whatever it still possesses in quality, power, and expressiveness, there is enough, evidently, to give pleasure to a large houseful of people. Her admirers are also fain to vote that her phrasing is sometimes shortened and interrupted and that her command of breath is not always sufficient to complete and round out the melodic line to the best and most musical effect. And these admirers were made more uneasy in yesterday's recital by the fact that Mme. Gadski was not infrequently at variance with the pitch. This was especially the case in the air from "Don Giovanni"; and even later in the program, when she had gained surer command of her powers than she had at the outset, many of her higher tones, when not taken in fullest voice, were still at variance with the pitch.

Mme. Gadski, in exercising her preference for the songs of the romantic and modern German song composers, deals with material in which an artist can produce the profoundest, most intimately searching, and most varied effects. Mme. Gadski is unquestionably more at home in them and sings them better than she does the songs of any other school. She naturally exerts her dramatic power to advantage in such songs as Schumann's "Waldesgespräch," Franz's "Im Hirbst," Wagner's "Schmerzen"; nor was it to be wondered at that when she was receiving her first group, she gave Schubert's "Erlkönig," to the evident gratification of her listeners. But it is a question whether Mme. Gadski is not heard to better advantage in songs that are sung in half voice and less, as Franz's "Aute Nacht" and "Ueber allen Wipfeln," Liszt's "Ueber allen Wipfeln," and Wolf's "Verborgenheit." In these her tone was at its smoothest and of its best quality.

Mme. Gadski sang Brahms's spirited song, "Der Schmied," in English. In her last group were songs by Eugen Haile of New York and Prof. Paul Elsler, who played her accompaniments, but not quite so sympathetically as they have been played in the past. And, of course, Mme. Gadski was overwhelmed with flowers as she finished each group of her songs.

Steps to Enjoin 'Eternal Magdalene.'

Arch Selwyn of Selwyn & Co. was served with an order issued by Comstock & Gest yesterday to show cause why an injunction should not be issued to restrain his firm from producing "The Eternal Magdalene." The play is scheduled for production in the Forty-eighth Street Theatre Monday night, and the order is not returnable till Wednesday. Comstock & Gest base their claim to the play on the fact that it was written by Robert McLaughlin and produced by him at the Colonial Theatre, Cleveland, when he was associated with them in the management of a stock company there.

'The Angel in the House' for Fulton.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the production of Eden Phillpotts and B. MacDonald Hastings's play, "The Angel in the House," in the Fulton Theatre Monday night, Nov. 8. The brief engagement of Frank Mandel's farce, "Sherman Was Right," will end tonight. Arnold Daly will produce the English comedy and play the principal rôle. His company will include Hilda Spong, George Giddens, Eugene O'Brien, Alma Tell, Effingham Pinto, Lorraine Frost, and Percival Moore.

WHITE SULPHUR CLIMBERS.

A Balmy Day Lures Visitors Up Catamount Mountain.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 29.—The warm, balmy atmosphere today lured many into the hills, and a party of young people from the Greenbrier climbed Catamount Mountain. Bates Mountain is a favorite afternoon drive, where one plans to reach the terminus of the carriage road at the sunset hour for the incomparable view of Sunset Gap.

Mrs. Howard Homans, Miss Marion Homans, and Miss Dewitt were out all day on a long motor trip over the Allegheny Hills.

Mrs James Brown Potter was out for a long constitutional today. She expects soon to be joined here by Mr. Potter, who is looking after his mining interests in Mexico, and who will remain to take the cure. Mr. and Mrs. George Cornwallis-West took a long tramp, and Mrs. Joseph E. Widener and Mrs. Lily Munnikhuysen Lee went around Lovers Leap.

Entertaining at tea this afternoon were Mrs. Roger Watts, Mrs. J. N. Field, Mrs. William Wheatley, Mrs. Ridley Watts and Mrs. William F. Hitt. Richard Elkins, who has been here with Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, has returned to Washington. Mrs. Preston Gibson's children are leaving to join her in Washington tomorrow.

Mrs. R. Jay Flick, who occupied a cottage here during the Summer, has returned from Wilkes-Barre and is accompanied by Mrs. Edward T. Stuart, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Other arrivals today were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dexter of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Skillings of Chicago, and Mrs. George McConnell of Philadelphia. Arriving here from Baltimore by automobile were Mrs. George T. Watson and Mme. Watson, who will be joined tomorrow by Mr. Watson and his brother. Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop Brown of New York are expected to arrive shortly, and Lispenard Stuart, who has been at Carlton House since the close of the Newport season, will arrive with a party of friends on his semi-annual visit.

BERKSHIRES HUSKING PARTY

Francis L. Leland's Guests Receive Prizes for Red Ears of Corn.

Special to The New York Times.

LENOX, Mass., Oct. 29.—Francis L. Leland of New York gave a husking party at Bowider Farm in Becket tonight. The guests went in fancy dress. Prizes were given for red ears of corn and a farmer's supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Whistler returned to New York after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ross W. Whistler.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard C. Hoppin are guests of Mrs. John E. Alexandre at Spring Lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Choate gave a dinner party for twelve guests tonight, entertaining for Mr. and Mrs. George B. De Gersdorff.

Mr. and Mrs. Giraud Foster were hosts at dinner at Bellefontaine.

Mrs. Charles Carroll Jackson returned to New York after the season in Stockbridge. John W. Kohlsaat and the Misses Amy and Edith Kohlsaat closed their Stockbridge cottage and went to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Karrick Riggs and Miss Pauline Riggs of New York, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Parker and Mrs. Horatio Hathaway of Boston arrived at the Red Lion Inn, Stockbridge. Also arriving at the inn were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, who are touring with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Revell of Chicago.

CONGRESS LIBRARY BUYS.

Pays $25 for "The Royal Ape" at Lincoln Sale.

The sale of the Lincoln material from the library of John E. Burton of Milwaukee was ended at the Anderson Galleries yesterday. The total for the day was $1,267.40. The grand total is $8,236.45.

George D. Smith paid $131 for the "Life of Abraham Lincoln," thirty-two pages, octavo, by John Locke Scripps, printed by The Chicago Press and Tribune in 1860. It is the author's own copy and contains his signature. It is the earliest life of Lincoln by whom the proof was read and approved before publication. This edition is very rare, only a few copies being known to exist.

"The Royal Ape. A dramatic poem," published at Richmond in 1863, was bought by the Library of Congress for $25. "Our Home and Foreign Policy," a scarce Confederate pamphlet, published at Mobile, Ala., in 1863, brought $15. It denounces "Yankee Cowardice" and "The Buffoon at the White House." The New York Tribune Tract, No. 6, "The Life of Abraham Lincoln," went to Mr. Smith for $16.

Thomas Bell paid $20 for The Detroit Daily Advertiser Extra, Sept. 4, 1860, containing the rare speech of Governor Seward on Abraham Lincoln. He also gave $16.50 for the Lincoln and Johnson Union Campaign Songster, containing "On the Chicago Surrender," by Bayard Taylor, "Abraham, Our Abraham," "Ye Men of '60," &c.

The rare pamphlet "Testimony for Prosecution and Defense in the Case of Edward Spangler, Tried for Conspiracy to Murder the President," &c., was knocked down to Mr. Smith for $77.50. The scarce "Discourse on the Occasion of the Death of Lincoln," by Morris C. Sutphen, a presentation copy to President Johnson, was bought by Mr. Bell for $15.50. Mr. Smith paid $26 for a translation into Greek of W. M. Thayer's "Character and Public Services of Abraham Lincoln." It is a presentation copy from the translator.

Frederick W. Morris gave $17.50 for "Proceedings at the Dinner of the Early Members of the Union League Club of New York, May 20, 1880." He also paid $24 for the Union Republican Ballot of Darrington District for the National Convention. It consists of four tickets on one sheet as they came from the press, prior to being cut up into separate ballots. The whole is printed in red. Mr. Bell obtained for $36 the seven volumes of "Vanity Fair," N York, 1859-63. It is a complete set of this comic periodical. He also paid $86 for "Abraham Lincoln: A Drama," by A. H. Wood, and $116 for the original printed proof of Walt Whitman's "Lecture on Abraham Lincoln," with corrections and additions in Whitman's autograph.

TO MAKE BETTER CITIZENS.

Many Schools Are Helping Bureau of Naturalization in Campaign.

The campaign being conducted by the Bureau of Naturalization for better citizens of the United States is making constant headway, according to a report just issued by the Department of Labor. Several schools throughout the country have signified their willingness to undertake the work of instructing candidates for citizenship, and several of them have opened special night classes for this work.

The Labor Department in its report says that among the 14,000,000 foreign born residents in the United States in 1910, 1,650,361 foreign born whites were classed as illiterate. The report states that a number of these foreigners have been admitted to citizenship despite their unfitness, because the courts have been reluctant to refuse citizenship where proper educational facilities have not been provided.

"In many places," says the Labor Department's report, "the public schools have, under the inspiration of the Bureau of Naturalization, now opened their doors to the foreigner so that he may be instructed in the duties of American citizenship, and in these localities the courts have readily responded to the

TRINITY COLLEGE STANDS BY ATHLETE BRICKLEY—YALE WILL NOT REINSTATE DEBARRED 'PROS'

TRINITY WILL NOT WITHDRAW BRICKLEY

Athletic Advisory Committee Says He Is Eligible to Compete on Team.

Special to The New York Times.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 29.—In a 1,200-word statement issued tonight after a copy had been dispatched to Professor T. F. Jones of New York University, which has protested against George Brickley being permitted to play full back on the Trinity College team in the game next Tuesday because he has formerly been with professional baseball teams, the Athletic Advisory Committee of Trinity set forth its position and defined Brickley's status to the effect that he was eligible to compete on the Trinity team.

In declining to comply with New York University's request to withdraw Brickley because of a rule of the Intercollegiate Association the committee says there is objection to the rule because it discriminates between methods of student support and because it is sure to be evaded.

"Of all which assertions," says the statement, "the very history of the rule furnishes ample proof; if we fail to cite specific instances, it is not because of lack of facts so much as because of embarrassment in choosing among them. Moreover, we see no advantage, but the contrary, in embarking upon the turbid sea of futile recrimination. Mr. Brickley, whom you mention by name, is a youth who has complied with conditions, his business before reporting for admission has been treated as his business. Mr. Brickley is almost sure to be on our list of players next week, though he may prefer not to play. And of one thing you may be sure—every man on that list will be a genuine student and fit in our judgment to stand unabashed in the company of his forebears and later to stand by the side of any young American of any college, in work or play.

"We join with you in hoping that our relations with you and others may remain undisturbed and uninterrupted, but concede to you, of course, the right to decline to play with us, if your interpretation of your duty under your rules seems to require that course. In the latter event you will find it in your power, we trust, to wire our manager so that the team may be saved a needless journey."

The statement is signed by the nine members of the committee of which Colonel William E. A. Bulkeley is Chairman.

YALE WILL NOT LIFT BAN.

No Hope of Reinstating Athletes Under Present Summer Ball Rule.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29.—Yale will make no attempt to use at present in athletics its five players who were recently disqualified, according to a statement published by the University Athletic Association, but will work with Harvard and Princeton to amend the present rules of the three colleges making a more satisfactory governing code. Included in tonight's statement was the letter from Dean McClenahan of Princeton urging Yale to reinstate the athletes, and a letter from Professor Corwin of Yale to Dean Briggs of Harvard, setting forth Yale's views.

The Yale Athletic Association statement follows:

"Yale's position in the matter is, as will be seen, that as long as Yale's own rule stands in its present form the five players cannot represent the university on its intercollegiate teams. Whether or not the Yale rule in regard to Summer baseball is fair or reasonable is another question, which is hoped will be discussed in the near future by Harvard, Princeton, and Yale. Pending such discussion and pending possible future action, the Yale University Athletic Association must live up to the spirit and the letter of its present rules. This is fully expressed in the following letter from Professor Corwin to Dean Briggs of Harvard, Yale's attitude as therein set forth having also been communicated to Princeton:

I write to thank you for your letter informing me of the unanimous request of the Harvard Athletic Association that the five Yale undergraduates who recently withdrew from competition in intercollegiate athletics be allowed to continue as members of the Yale teams. Dean McClenahan of Princeton has written me that the undergraduates there have informally expressed to him a similar desire. The wish that these men may be permitted to compete again for Yale is gratifying evidence of the friendly feeling between the universities, the encouragement of which is to many of us the chief reason for intercollegiate contests.

In not complying with Harvard's request that the men who have withdrawn rejoin their teams, I trust that we shall not appear to you ungracious or unappreciative of your letter and the spirit which prompted it. I wish that it were possible for us to accede to Harvard's request, but I do not see how this can be done without serious harm to the cause for which both Harvard and Yale men are working.

Union Has a Crippled Team.

Special to The New York Times.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Union College's final practice tilt afternoon for the Rhode Island State game tomorrow consisted in running down punts for the ends and formation plays for the line and back field. In three days' hard scrimmage the 'Varsity has been unable to score on the second team until yesterday afternoon, when two touchdowns were registered. Wally Girling sustained a severe blow in the ribs in practice last Monday, which may keep him out of the game tomorrow. The back field is in rather bad shape. Phil Mallen broke a cheekbone in practice yesterday, Tubby Rosecrans had a damaged nose, and Stoller is out of the game with a bruised bone in his elbow. This leaves the main part of the work tomorrow to fall upon Anderson, Roof, and Delapiante or Travis. Rosecrans will undoubtedly get in the game, and there is a strong probability that Girling's rib will be sufficiently strong to allow him to play two quarters at least. The line seems stronger than it has in the past.

Lehigh Expects Hard Contest.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Oct. 29.—With a brisk speeding up signal practice Lehigh finished work for the Gettysburg game tomorrow. Methods calculated to guard against any tendency to over-confidence on the part of the players were adopted today. Lehigh expects perhaps the hardest game of the season, except the late Yale struggle, and the Brown and White looks on the contest with the "soldiers" as a good basis to determine the strength of Pennsylvania State. Coach Keady has decided not to use half back Jim Keady and full back Halsted tomorrow and this necessitates a readjustment of the backfield, Maginnes going to full back. A new pair of half backs will be sent in, Heuer, the Northeast High School lad, and Boland. Heuer's presence will strengthen the team in the punting department. Today in practice some of his kicks went fifty-five yards. Grumbach will take Pons's place at right guard.

Penn State Expects Victory.

STATE COLLEGE, Penn., Oct. 28.—Penn State students joined in a big demonstration when the football team departed for Boston to play Harvard. State has been preparing for the struggle with the Crimson for seven weeks, and the coaches are sending into the battle every first-string man in perfect condition. The Harvard game ranks as the biggest event on Penn State's calendar. The team and its followers are enthusiastic over the prospects of a victory over Harvard. The coaches, however, are reticent. They believe State has an even chance of winning.

EVERYTHING FOR Billiards Bowling
Prices and Terms to Suit.
REPAIRS BY EXPERT MECHANICS.
The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co.
19 to 35 West 22d St. Near Broadway.

Football Games Today.

Yale vs. Colgate at New Haven.
Harvard vs. Penn. State at Cambridge.
Princeton vs. Williams at Princeton.
Cornell vs. Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Ithaca.
Amherst vs. Dartmouth at Amherst.
Brown vs. Vermont at Providence.
Bucknell vs. Muhlenberg at Lewisburg.
Haverford vs. Dickinson at Haverford.
Johns Hopkins vs. Swarthmore at Baltimore.
Lehigh vs. Gettysburg at South Bethlehem.
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute vs. Middlebury at Troy.
St. Lawrence vs. Hamilton at Canton.
Union vs. Rhode Island State at Schenectady.
Army vs. Villanova at West Point.
Navy vs. North Carolina Aggies at Annapolis.
Michigan vs. Syracuse at Ann Arbor.
Pennsylvania vs. Lafayette at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh vs. Allegheny at Pittsburgh.
Rutgers vs. Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Newark.
Rochester vs. St. Stephen's at Rochester.
Virginia vs. Virginia Military Institute at Charlottesville.
Vanderbilt vs. Tennessee at Nashville.
Washington and Jefferson vs. Muskingum at Washington, Penn.
Wesleyan vs. Worcester Polytechnic Institute at Middletown, Conn.
West Virginia Wesleyan vs. Carlisle Indians at Wheeling.

SCHOOL GAMES.

Bay Ridge H. S. vs. Adelphi at Brooklyn.
De Witt Clinton H. S. vs. Stuyvesant at New York.
Flushing H. S. vs. St. Francis Prep. at Flushing.
Kingsley School vs. Horace Mann H. S. at Essex Field.
New Rochelle H. S. vs. Hamilton Institute at New Rochelle.
New York Military Academy vs. Yonkers H. S. at Cornwall.
Poly Prep. vs. Stone School at Brooklyn.

HARVARD IN FORM NOW.

Rushline Greatly Strengthened and Team Is Better All Around.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 29.—The Harvard football team which will be sent into tomorrow's Penn State game is expected by the coaches to show far better football than that which the 'Varsity played against Cornell a week ago. The shift on the rushline, which has placed Taylor at guard instead of Cowen, and the fact that Enwright finally has returned to the field will make Harvard strong where it was weak last Saturday. The work of the past few days has also brought about a very general improvement not only in the individual play, but in the team as a whole, and the outfit should look much better than against the Ithacans.

The line as it will play tomorrow will be without the service of the regular left tackle, Hillman, Bigelow being in his place. With Bigelow's 197 pounds the average weight of the line will be brought up to 185 pounds, and the eleven as a whole will average 178 pounds, this being considered unusual weight for the revised game. The team has had a lot of work on attack this week, and the rushline for the past two days has shown a lot of speed and a concerted lift. Enwright has braced up the power of the backfield to no small degree. The eleven will line-up against Penn State as follows:

Soucy, left end; Bigelow, left tackle; Taylor, left guard; Wallace, centre; Dadmun, right guard; Pearson, right tackle; Harte, right end; Willcox, quarter back; King, left half back; Enwright, right half back; Mahan, full back. Quarter back Watson, with Gilman, will go to Princeton tomorrow to get a line on the Tigers.

"Nothing doing," was the management's answer to the report that the Harvard men would be numbered in next week's Princeton game.

The Penn State team reached Boston this morning, then went out to Auburndale, where it practiced this afternoon. The team, which beat Pennsylvania 13 to 3, is confident that it can gain a lot of ground against Harvard and will have the power to score tomorrow, but has not the greatest confidence in its defensive strength. The team is heavy and comprises many men who were participants in last year's match, which resulted in a 15 to 13 score, Harvard getting its final point in the last moment of play.

Fordham Easily Beats Scrubs.

That Fordham takes no chances on not being well prepared for the Georgetown game next Tuesday is evident from the fact that another practice game was held at Fordham Field yesterday. It was the third stirring practice contest held during the past three days, and each one saw the Maroon warriors up against a different style of attack. Yesterday the reorganized scrub eleven were sent against the 'Varsity. As the regulars had all their men in position, except Jack Conklin at left end, there was never any real danger of a scrub victory. However, the scrubs put up the strongest defense of the season, smashing up play after play. McGuire was the only substitute in the line-up, taking Conklin's place on the flank, but his speed and dexterity on forward pass combinations has brightened the situation at the left wing. Most of the new plays were built around Golden and Cantwell, the fastest men in the backfield. Kane was back at left guard for the first time in two weeks, but he dropped out in favor of Benson soon after scrimmaging was started. In the last half of the game the scrubs tried out several plays used by Georgetown at West Point last week, but most of them went awry. The final score resulted in a 26 to 0 victory for the 'Varsity. Butler, McGuire, Dunn, and Yule each making a score.

How Army Will Line-Up Today.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The early football session of the Army team today was featured by a long kicking scrimmage, with Ford doing nearly all of the punting. An extended dummy scrimmage was really a rough session, and there was also a fast signal drill for the 'Varsity. Oliphant will not start against Villanova tomorrow. He has a weak knee. Britton seems to have the call over Redfield at the doubtful end and is slated to begin tomorrow's game at that point. Parker has given way to Jones at tackle. The latter will start against the Pennsylvanians. O'Hare has beaten out Holmes and earned the right to get back at his old place at guard tomorrow. Walker will be in Oliphant's place behind the line. Ford will do all the Army's punting. The coaches are none too optimistic over the outlook for a victory. The coaches gave the following as the Army's line-up for the start of the game tomorrow: Neyland and Britton, ends; Captain Weyand and Jones, tackles; Mecham and O'Hare, guards; McEwan, centre; Murrill, quarter back; Walker and Hoge, half backs, and Ford, full back.

Lafayette Rehearses Its Plays.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 29.—Lafayette worked until darkness called a halt in the last practice for the Pennsylvania game tomorrow. There was no scrimmage. The whole time was devoted to signals and all the plays that will be used against the Red and Blue tomorrow. The plays were practiced individually and in series, and under all sorts of imaginary conditions, to force the players to use their heads. All of the kickers had ample opportunity to work on their particular sort of kick. Maxfield, who reported this afternoon in condition good enough to warrant his getting into the game, practiced goal kicking. The team will line up tomorrow as follows: Left end, Blackburn; left tackle, Maxfield; left guard, Gulick; centre, Luhr; right guard, Livezay; right tackle, Lowe; right end, Hartman; quarter back, Taylor; half backs, Lake and Weldon; full back, Scott.

Tome Plays Hill School Eleven.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., Oct. 29.—The Tome School football team goes to Pottstown tomorrow for the annual game with Hill School. Both teams are ready for the game, and Hill is determined to wipe out the stain of the defeat administered last year by Tome. On the other hand, Tome is anxious to make it two in a row over her rival. Each team has been defeated but once this season, Hill losing a close game to the Princeton Freshmen and Tome's only setback being the 13-0 defeat by Lawrenceville.

The World's Greatest Tonic and Appetizer.
DUBONNET
SUPERIOR TO THE BEST COCKTAIL
In Every Club, Hotel, Restaurant & Cafe.
IMPORTANT
WHEN ORDERING "DUBONNET"
LOOK FOR CAT ON THE LABEL.
Refuse Others with Contempt as SPURIOUS IMITATIONS.

REAL TESTS FOR BIG TEAMS TODAY

Hardest Battles Will Be at Yale, Harvard, and Princeton.

The football elevens of Yale and Harvard, both of which have been defeated this Fall, face the hardest test today in the week-end games of the Eastern gridiron schedule. Yale will play the unconquered and unscored-on Colgate team, while the Crimson plays Pennsylvania State College, victors over the University of Pennsylvania and other combinations of lesser calibre.

The other football leaders of the section are more fortunate and are not likely to be so hard pressed as was the case in the games of a week ago. Princeton will tackle Williams, Cornell will have Virginia Poly as its opponent at Ithaca, Lafayette will invade Philadelphia to play Pennsylvania, Dartmouth lines up against Amherst, Villanova faces the Army, and the North Carolina Aggies will try to scuttle the Navy.

Unless Yale shows a remarkable improvement in form Colgate is likely to make the meeting between the two teams at New Haven as interesting for the Blue as Washington and Jefferson did last Saturday. The Hamilton eleven has proved a powerful scoring machine this season, and in the four games to date has rolled up 208 points to their opponents' nothing. The Army was the only combination to hold the Colgate players in check to any extent, being defeated after a hard struggle, 13 to 0.

Yale will find the visitors a well-trained and well-conditioned team, strong on both offense and defense. With the Princeton contest but two weeks away, Yale must begin to develop the full extent of its power immediately, and it may be that the Elis will rise to the occasion today. From the records of the two teams this Fall, Colgate is a logical favorite, but the Blue has plenty of power and material for a strong combination if the team can find itself.

Harvard succeeded in holding Penn State to a tie game last season, but will face a harder problem this afternoon, since the Crimson squad is not as strong as in 1914, while Penn State has given plenty of evidence of its power this Autumn by defeating Pennsylvania and scoring one-sided victories over its other opponents. Cornell exposed the weak points in the Cambridge combination last Saturday, and the defeat at the hands of the Ithaca players has proved ably beneficial to the Crimson. Players and coaches alike may be expected to be on edge in this contest, and it is not unlikely that Harvard will come back strong against Penn State, making the outcome of the game problematical.

Princeton should have little difficulty in defeating Williams, since the New England team has won but one of the five games played to date. Cornell, which won from Williams 40 to 0 two weeks ago, will meet a strong opponent in Virginia Poly, but there is nothing in the record of the Southern combination to lead to the belief that it will be able to check the victorious march of the Ithacans. The game between Lafayette and Pennsylvania should be a close contest, for although both have been defeated they have developed rapidly during the past ten days and should play fast, consistent football throughout the entire four periods.

The Army will play Villanova while the Navy is tackling the North Carolina Aggies. Both service teams have faced more powerful elevens this season and should come through to victory, although the scores are not likely to be large, especially in the case of the game at Annapolis. Dartmouth will line up against Amherst and the latter team is expected to give the Hanover combination a royal battle with the result depending to a great extent upon physical condition. Syracuse invades the West to play Michigan, and this intersectional gridiron battle is likely to prove one of the feature contests of the day.

The leading games in the East today, with the scores of the 1914 contests, where the same institutions played, are as follows:

Yale	49	Colgate	7
Harvard	13	Penn. State	13
Princeton	7	Williams	7
Pennsylvania	0	Lafayette	0
West Point	41	Villanova	0
Annapolis	13	North Carolina	14
Dartmouth	32	Amherst	0
Brown	12	Vermont	9
Wesleyan	14	Worcester Poly.	0

Secretary Daniels to See Navy Game

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 29.—The lineup of the Naval Academy team, subject to change tomorrow, against the eleven of the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College, will be: left end, Kenworthy; left tackle, Ward; left guard, Kercher; centre, Bartholdi or Goldstein; right guard, Smith; right tackle, Gilman; right end, Jackson; quarter back, Bates; left half back, Martin; right half back, Westphal; full back, Von Heimburg. The two teams played a close game last year, the Midshipmen winning, and interest in tomorrow's game is particularly strong. The Navy coaches have given the team a great drilling in forward pass plays during the week, and it is hoped that these will be effective tomorrow. Secretary of the Navy Daniels will witness the game.

Brown Taking No Chances.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 29.—Brown expects an easy victory over Vermont tomorrow, but knowing that the Green Mountain boys have a habit of playing a hard game on their annual visit to Providence, the strongest possible Brown line-up will start the game. Injuries have been very slight this season. Brace is the only 'Varsity man who will be out of the game. Practice behind locked gates has been unusually strenuous this week. With the annual Yale and Harvard games coming next on the schedule, the coaches are optimistic. Brown is decidedly stronger than she was a year ago. Development has been slow, and the eleven is just now beginning to find itself. Next Saturday at New Haven, Brown will show a team far superior to what the early season games might lead one to expect.

Rutgers Plays In Newark.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The Rutgers football team will play the fast Springfield Y. M. C. A. College eleven tomorrow at the Federal League Park in Newark. The men are confident of defeating the Springfield eleven. "Togo" Miller, the centre who was injured just before the Princeton game, will probably play, and Mason, who has been filling the centre position, will move to left guard. The regular backfield, consisting of Talman, Wittpen, Bracher and Scarr, will probably start the game. The line-up will be Rockefeller, left end; Nash, left tackle; Mason, left guard; Miller, centre; Garrett, right guard; Rendall, right tackle; Austin, right end; Scarr, quarter back; Wittpenn, left half back; Bracher, right half back; Talman, full back.

TIGERS TO WATCH HARVARD.

Few of Best Regulars Will Play Against Williams College Today.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 29.—With the Harvard game scheduled for next week, "Speedy" Rush will take no chances with his first string players tomorrow against Williams College, and in consequence the greater part of the eleven will be made up of substitutes. Five members of the Tiger team left last night for Boston where they will look over the general style of play which the Crimson team is utilizing this year. Several more members of the squad who were a little banged up in the Dartmouth game will also be held out of the lineup, unless the coaches find the game going against them, in which contingency they will rush these players into the fray.

The two first string ends of the 'Varsity, Charlie Highly and Brown, will be out of town tomorrow and Lamberton and Wilson will appear in their places at the extremities of the line. Lamberton, during the first part of the season, was used as utility man in the back field, but the temporary dearth of first-class end material caused his shift to end again. Frank Glick will be at Cambridge to view Harvard's game. Snake Ames will appear in his place and Blake, the freshman quarter back last year, will also get an opportunity to show his ability at directing the eleven. "Bus" Law will start at full back with Eddie Driggs at left half back and Shea at right half back. Thbott is one of the players who will probably have to be content with watching the game from the side lines. Thomas, Charles, and Dickerman will also get a chance to play behind the line. Gennert will start at the centre of the line and will give way to Butterworth some time during the first half. Nourse and Hogg, the regular guards, will be at their regular positions, while Halsey and Parisette will form the tackle combination.

Practice this afternoon was of the lightest order and a brief signal drill coupled with light work on various formations constituted the entire work-out. Few of the regulars were on the field and none did any strenuous work.

Cornell Has Michigan in View.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The Cornell football team let down this afternoon in anticipation of the game with Virginia Polytechnic Institute tomorrow, and all that the big fellows did was to run through a signal drill in the baseball cage. The Ithacans will send into the game tomorrow the best combination of the 'Varsity squad, but men who are in better shape today than they have been at any time this season. Head Coach Sharpe left here tonight to look over the Michigan team in the game with Syracuse tomorrow, and Dan Reed will have charge of the Ithacans. He plans to send the entire Cornell team in the line-up, and Captain Barrett will play quarter back. The practice today was devoted to the Michigan game, the men running through a number of formations which it is hoped will be used next Saturday. In addition to the offensive work of the last few days the eleven has spent a great deal of time in defensive formations against the forward pass. Both Michigan and Penn scored often against Cornell a year ago with this play, but judging from the work of the Cornell half backs and ends in defending this play, neither of these teams will do much with it against Cornell this season.

Amherst Light, but Fast.

Special to The New York Times.

AMHERST, Mass., Oct. 29.—A snappy signal drill, together with work on defensive formations and punt and drop kicking, completed Amherst's preparations for the Dartmouth game here tomorrow. Tow, with substitute quarter backs G. Washburn and Perkins, ran the team through the signals in the best form shown this season. In drop kicking against the second eleven Tow scored on three out of five attempts at field goals from the 35-yard line, and made all three trials 5 yards further in. Ashley and Witney punted for good distances. Despite the Dartmouth defeat last week, no confidence symptoms are expressed on the field as to the outcome tomorrow. Dartmouth has defeated Amherst in eleven out of the last twelve games by sheer weight and strength of substitutes. This year's team here, however, although extremely light, is considered one of the fastest in years, and hopes are entertained that Dartmouth will at least be held to a low score. Few, if any, changes will be made in the line-up for tomorrow. Possibly Marks or Matthews will relieve one of the regular half backs, Goodrich and Taber, during part of the game, while Witney may play right end.

Whitman May See Columbia Play.

Governor Whitman is expected to attend the Columbia-Stevens football game on South Field on Election Day, Tuesday. When it was learned that he would be in New York City on that day the Blue and White management sent an invitation to the Executive, and, according to his secretary, William Orr, Mr. Whitman will see the game unless urgent business interferes. A special box will be arranged for him on the side lines.

Although the Columbia team will not send its strongest forces into the game Tuesday, because Calder, left end, and Mansbach, right half back, will probably not play on account of injuries, it was announced yesterday that Cochrane would rejoin the squad. He has been away from practice for nearly three weeks on account of ineligibility, but yesterday he was told that his studies had shown such an improvement that he could play the remainder of the season. Cochrane is a former oarsman and has a good build for the back field.

St. Nicholas Rink Opens.

The ice skating season in New York opened last night when the St. Nicholas Ice Rink threw open its doors for a season that will continue until the end of March. Hundreds of skaters took advantage of the first chance in many months to get on the steel blades. Every indication points to a big skating season at the local rink. Speed and fancy skaters and all who enjoy the fascinating Winter sport will have plenty of opportunity to get on the ice for five months, no matter what the weather conditions are.

The hockey season will not open until near the holidays, but the players of the Canadian game will soon begin to practise for the many contests scheduled.

COLGATE OVERRATED THEY SAY AT YALE

Elis in Much Better Form Now and Don't Expect Defeat by Up-Staters.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29.—Yale will tomorrow make another attempt to set its football scoring machine into motion. It has failed to operate with satisfaction against Virginia, Washington and Jefferson, and Lehigh, but the coaches were confident tonight that the team which will face Colgate will prove much stronger than that which bowed to Washington and Jefferson last Saturday. Five heavy new players, including a pair of tackles, a guard, and a brace of half backs, have been placed into the line-up, and the average weight of the eleven has been increased several pounds, the addition of Dick Kent at left guard bringing a 220-pound player into the game.

Behind the line White and Higginbotham have been selected ahead of Kirk Smith and Joe Neville, who will be used in the second half.

Waite will do the punting and in Higginbotham a heavy line plunger has been secured to alternate with Scovil, who will play, despite the fact that he broke his nose last Saturday.

The coaches planned to start Conroy, the former guard, at tackle, but an abscess of the knee will keep him on the bench a week. It was decided today to start Howard Baldridge at tackle. He has been absent since his ankle was turned in the Lehigh game. The experiment of using "Pie" Way at tackle will be worked out. He was originally a tackle, being moved to centre.

Captain Alec Wilson is not likely to play the entire game. He has not fully recovered from the strain of last week's match, and Savage and Ames may be used at quarter back during the second half. Conroy will probably succeed Baldridge in the second half, and Black suppliant Jim Sheldon at right guard. Charley Taft has been used as substitute end rush this season, but is not likely to get into tomorrow's game. Church and Allen may get in as reserve ends.

Today's practice was held in the Bowl and was entirely devoted to signals, punting and passing. Frank Butterworth was the only visiting coach.

Professor Robert Corwin has gone to Cambridge, where it is understood a conference of Dean Briggs of Harvard, Dean McClenahan of Princeton and Corwin, will discuss the general subject of athletic eligibility. It is not likely that the cases of the five Yale disqualified athletes will be discussed.

Yale regards Colgate as rather overrated, and, although that eleven has not been scored upon this season, the Yale coaches believe that their team should accumulate a couple of touchdowns against it. Yale has been working up a defense for the forward pass this week and those close to the team believe that it is likely to hold Colgate scoreless. No opposing eleven has gained much through the Yale line this Fall, and, if Colgate's forward passes can be solved, this team is not felt to be very dangerous. Yale's line-up will be:

Left end, Moseley; left tackle, Baldridge; left guard, Kent; centre, White; right guard, Jim Sheldon; right tackle, Way; right end, Wiedeman; quarter back, Captain Wilson; left half back, Waite; right half back, Higginbotham; full back, Scovil.

The officials will be: Referee, Michael J. Thompson, Georgetown; umpire, Carl Marshall, Harvard; linesman, Ed. Thorp, Columbia; field judge, Frank Bergin, Princeton.

Morristown Third Team Wins.

Morristown School's third football team defeated the Cartaret Academy juniors in an interesting game yesterday afternoon at Orange, N. J., by the score of 6 to 0.

PASS BOTHERS N. Y. U.

Columbia Works It In Practice on Ohio Field—Violet Team Weak.

For the second time this season the Columbia 'Varsity football team matched its strength with that displayed by the New York University eleven yesterday in a practice scrimmage on the University Heights gridiron.

For both the New York and Columbia players, yesterday's workout was the last hard practice before the Election Day games, as neither team has a game on its schedule for today. The Violet players were on the field early, and occupied the time before the workout against the Columbia contingent by a punting drill and in running back kicks.

The forward passing game proved a serious obstacle to the Violet players, who experienced great difficulty in preventing their opponents from making gains through this method of attack. One nicely executed pass from Donohue to Miller completely fooled the Violet defense, and gave the Morningside Heights eleven a gain of fifteen yards, while another to Buermeyer advanced the position of the visitors a similar distance.

The Violet team was handicapped to some extent through the fact that neither Bernstein nor Erwig was in the line-up, while Zimmerle, the regular left guard was also out of the practice. This left a decided hole in the back field, and probably accounted for the rather weak showing that the N. Y. U. eleven made when compared with the decided aggressive prowess that was evinced against the Blue and White players last week. Cann made the largest gains for the Violet, and showed up well in dodging the opposing defensive players.

An improvement was also demonstrated in the Violet team's ability to use the forward pass. On one occasion Cann tossed the leather to Waldman, the Violet's left end, for a gain of ten yards, while another to Egan, the opposite end, netted an advantage of fifteen yards. Captain Somers succeeded in making one of the largest advances which the Violet made in the scrimmage, and took the ball for a gain of fifteen yards before he was finally downed. The Violet proved its ability to make headway against its opponents quite as easily as the latter had done when it had the ball, but its defensive playing did not look as promising, in yesterday's practice, as was the case in the former conflict between the two teams.

The Columbia aggregation had all of the regular men in the line-up, including Captain Simmonds, who returned to his position at left half back for the first scrimmage since his illness.

Following the scrimmaging, both elevens were put through a brief signal drill to finish the afternoon's work, while the Violet second eleven completed its workout against the De Witt Clinton team.

Kiviat and Smith Hearing Nov. 9.

The Board of Managers of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. will meet in the theatre of the Seventy-first Regiment Armory on Nov. 9 to consider the appeal of Abel R. Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., and Harry J. Smith, Bronx Church House, from the decision of the Registration Committee adjudging them professionals for demanding excessive expense money to compete in games at Troy recently. President Frederick W. Rubien of the Metropolitan Association yesterday sent notice of the meeting to every member of the Board of Managers. He will supply a copy of the proceedings at the Registration Committee hearings to John T. Dooling, counsel for Smith and Kiviat, within the week.

Anglers to Cast at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—The National Association of Scientific Angling Clubs has selected this city as the place for holding the annual fly-casting tournament next year. The event was obtained through the efforts of the Newark Bait and Fly Casting Club as one of the features of the 250th anniversary celebration of the founding of Newark. The tournament will be held on Wesquahic Park Lake from the new casting platform of the local club, which is said to be the finest in the country. There will be a number of special events in addition to fourteen stated.

MARSTON REACHES GOLF SEMI-FINALS

Wootten, Steiner, and Parrish Also Double Victors at Atlantic City.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 29.—Most of the favorites came through the first and second rounds in the open golf tournament resumed on the links of the Country Club of Atlantic City today. The survivors in the chief division are T. B. Wootten, of the home club; Harold A. Steiner, of Inwood; Maxwell R. Marston, of Baltusrol and James C. Parrish, Jr., of Shinnecock, and they will meet as named in the semi-finals tomorrow.

The keenest match of the day resulted in the contest between Steiner and Risley this afternoon. By making a long putt for a 2 at the sixteenth green Risley became dormie 2 and he should have won on the next green, but took 3 putts. Steiner squared accounts with a four at the home hole. They halved the nineteenth in 4, but the Inwood golfer won at the twentieth though he had to jump Risley's ball, for the Atlantic City man laid him a dead stymie. Both men made the round in 74.

In winning his match this afternoon Marston made a 74 at the expense of T. P. Endicott, one of the local players. Marston went out in 36 and turned for home 2 up. He won the match at the fourteenth.

Wooten went out in 36 against Reginald M. Lewis, of Wykagyl. That placed the school boy 3 down at the turn, though he might easily have been all even had he been able to putt with any degree of steadiness. Parrish's hardest match was in the first round when he was carried to the home green by P. S. P. Randolph, Jr., of Lakewood. The summary:

First Sixteen.—First Round—T. B. Wootten, Atlantic City, beat Pierre A. Proal, Deal, 3 and 1; Reginald Lewis, Wykagyl, beat Hugh Willoughby, Philadelphia, Country, 2 up; Harold A. Steiner, Inwood, beat F. H. McCall, Atlantic City, 2 up; Maurice Risley, Atlantic City, beat H. L. Grinnell, Princeton, 1 up; Maxwell R. Marston, Baltusrol, beat R. C. Maxwell, Trenton, 5 and 3; T. P. Endicott, Atlantic City, beat Maurice Jones, Frankford, 3 and 2; James C. Parrish, Jr., Shinnecock, beat P. S. P. Randolph, Jr., Lakewood, 1 up; H. W. Wood, Old York Road, beat Horace Smedley, Merion, 2 up.

Second Round—Wootten beat Lewis, 4 and 3; Steiner beat Risley, 1 up, (20 holes;) Marston beat Endicott, 4 and 3; Parrish beat Wood, 5 and 3.

Beaten Eight, First Sixteen.—First Round—Willoughby beat Proal, 3 and 2; McCall beat Grinnell, 1 up, (20 holes;) Maxwell beat Jones, 3 and 2; Randolph beat Smedley, 4 and 3.

Second Sixteen.—First Round—E. E. Jones, Wyoming Valley, beat F. W. Bennett, Atlantic City, 4 and 3; Theodore Senseman, Atlantic City, beat George J. Youell, Frankford, by default; W. J. McFarland, Atlantic City, beat A. F. Huston, St. Davids, 7 and 6; A. W. Brand, St. Andrew's, beat Samuel Allison, Midland, 3 and 1; H. B. Newton, Frankford, beat E. S. Davis, Frankford, 5 and 4; W. P. Wood, Virginia C. C., beat F. J. Biggins, Stenton, 4 and 3; Harold Palmer, Bonair, beat A. W. Westney, Atlantic City, 1 up; F. S. Bicking, Aronimink, beat W. J. Craig, Atlantic City, 4 and 2.

Second Round—Senseman beat E. E. Jones, 4 and 3; Brand beat McFarland, 6 and 4; Newton beat W. P. Wood, 3 and 1; Bicking beat Palmer, 8 and 7.

Winners with the Cue.

A handicap of three points caused the defeat of H. Silverstein in his game with B. Cohn last night in the amateur handicap three-cushion-carrom billiard tournament at the Morningside Academy, 125th Street and Lenox Avenue, by the score of 14 to 11. Silverstein, receiving four seventeen points, and his highest effort was two points.

Dr. H. Stern scored an easy victory over W. Miller last night in the amateur handicap three-cushion-carrom tournament at the Audubon Academy, by the score of 33 to [illegible] Miller attempting to score forty-two points before his opponent could tally thirty-three.

MRS. STOCKTON DEFEATED.

Lakewood Golf Now Between Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Fraser.

Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of the Merion Cricket Club of Philadelphia and Mrs. C. J. S. Fraser of Baltusrol will fight it out for the chief cup in the invitation golf tournament for women on the links of the Country Club of Lakewood today.

Mrs. Barlow had little difficulty in advancing to the final stage, first brushing aside Mrs. J. S. Irving of Scarsdale by an 8 and 6 margin and then defeating Mrs. Frederick A. Potts of the home club by 5 and 4.

The surprise of the day was the elimination of Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton of Plainfield by Mrs. Fraser. The match was carried to the twenty-first hole. Mrs. Stockton played a fine uphill game. She was 4 down starting for the seventh hole and winning the ninth she reduced the margin to 3.

Winning three of the next four holes, Mrs. Stockton drew level, and the contest was nip and tuck to the eighteenth. Mrs. Stockton had a chance to win the match on the twentieth, for she had a stroke on her opponent up to the green, but she failed to lay the ball dead and a half resulted. Tables were turned on the twenty-first green and Mrs. Stockton lost her chance to continue the match further by once more faltering on her approach. Mrs. Fraser afterward defeated Miss M. I. Randall of Fox Hills by 5 and 4. The summary:

First Eight.—First Round—Mrs. Roland H. Barlow, Merion, beat Mrs. J. S. Irving, Scarsdale, 8 and 6; Mrs. Frederick A. Potts, Lakewood, beat Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, Jr., Plainfield, 3 and 2; Miss Madelaide L. Randall, Fox Hills, beat Miss Gertrude Pickhardt, Englewood, 6 and 4; Mrs. C. J. S. Fraser, Baltusrol, beat Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, Plainfield, 1 up, (21 holes.)

Second Round.—Mrs. Barlow beat Mrs. Potts, 5 and 4; Mrs. Fraser beat Mrs. Randall, 5 and 4.

Second Eight.—First Round—Mrs. W. I. Seaman, Richmond County, beat Miss Grace Farrelly, Englewood, 4 and 3; Mrs. G. Julius Mager, Essex County, beat Mrs. Florian Kruk, Shawnee, 3 and 2; Mrs. George D. Boschen, Spring Lake, beat Miss Isabel Ferris, Lakewood, 1 up, (19 holes;) Miss Elsa Pickhardt, Englewood, beat Mrs. Leo F. C. Wanner, Essex County, 7 and 6.

Second Round—Mrs. Seaman beat Mrs. Mager, 4 and 3; Miss Elsa Pickhardt beat Mrs. Boschen, 2 and 1.

Third Eight.—First Round—Miss Mabel Guilford, Dunwoodie, drew a bye; Mrs. Glessner R. Childs, Scarsdale, drew a bye; Mrs. Albert M. McDonald, Plainfield, beat Mrs. R. W. Swan, Tatnuck, 9 and 8; Mrs. C. M. Brett, Brae Burn, drew a bye.

Second Round.—Miss Guilford beat Mrs. Childs, 7 and 6; Mrs. McDonald beat Mrs. Brett by default.

Hunter Foxy Foot Dies of Injury.

GLADSTONE, N. J., Oct. 29.—Foxy Foot, Mrs. James C. Brady's famous middleweight hunter, which was entered in the coming Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, fell in a drag hunt of the Essex County Hounds a few days ago, and received an injury of the spine which has resulted in his death. He was the favorite hunter of Mrs. Brady, who is a daughter of the Earl of Limerick.

Foxy Foot has been

AUTOMOBILE ECLIPSES RECORD

SUNBEAM SPEEDS AT 116 MILES AN HOUR

De Palma Drives British Car—World's Fastest Lap at Speedway Made by Auto on a Track.

The promise of the Sheepshead Bay Speedway representatives that the new two-mile track would show the greatest speed ever attained by a racing automobile was fulfilled yesterday when Ralph de Palma drove an English Sunbeam car one lap in 1 minute 2 4-10 seconds, an average of about 116 miles an hour. This is the fastest speed ever made on a track, and not only beats the car's own record of 107 miles an hour when driven by the famous French racing pilot Chassagne over the Brookland's track near London, England, but eclipses the best American record average of 111 miles, made by Barney Oldfield in a Christie racer at Chicago. Dario Resta, the head of the Peugeot racing crew, drove the record-breaking Sunbeam in Europe to five victories.

That the Sunbeam will not be credited with this remarkable performance on the books of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association is due to the fact that no official timer designated by that organization was on hand when the trial was made. The timing was done by J. E. Vincent, Vice President and Chief Engineer of the Packard Car Company, who used a stop watch. Several other auto racing enthusiasts time the trial, and all agreed that it was the fastest lap recorded. The Sunbeam is a twelve-cylinder racing car, which holds the world's hour record; and the design of the machine will be followed closely in the construction of an American automobile. The Sunbeam developed 124 horse power.

Ralph de Palma was invited to compete for the 100-mile Harkness gold trophy, which will go to the winner of the long-distance race at the Speedway on Election Day. He failed to get his Mercedes into shape, and was compelled to decline the offer. He accepted the offer to drive the Sunbeam in an exhibition trial against the world's record, and believes that he will equal the figures he made yesterday when he makes his official trial on Tuesday next.

Before sending his car on its speedy two-mile journey de Palma drove it around the track several times to make certain that the engine was running smoothly. When assured of this he signaled Mr. Vincent to "catch" him on his next lap. As he shot past the big stand it was seen that he was making unusual time. He took the upper parts of the turns and came thundering down the stretches in record-breaking time. His engines ran smoothly and the parts worked frictionless.

When de Palma pulled into the pits he was enthusiastic when told of his wonderful drive. He said he would not start in the Harkness Gold Cup race, as his Mercedes was in no condition for a hundred-mile race. He expects to make an official trial in the Sunbeam on Tuesday when he expressed ability to duplicate the performance with the same weather conditions. He will insist, however, that the American Automobile Association be officially represented.

While the Sunbeam performance was the outstanding feature of yesterday's practice spins, Dario Resta and Jonnny Aitken in their Peugeots, and Eddie RicRenbacker, in a Maxwell, put in some fast work in preparation for the big Election Day race. Aitken's fastest lap was timed in 1 minute 6 seconds, an average of 109 miles an hour. Resta and Rickenbacker made their fastest laps in the same time, 1 minute 9 4-10 seconds, which averages about 104 miles.

Porporato was out with Finlay R. Porter's racer, F. R. P. He made a number of fast laps, but did not attempt any record-breaking time. The F. R. P. will race against the Blitzen Bens, to be driven by Bob Burman, when attempts will be made to reduce the present world's speed figures. Burman was expected to tune up his car yesterday, but he will not finish overhauling it until tonight, and he will probably take a few practice spins over the Speedway tomorrow, and make a trial against time on Monday.

Offer Panama for Training Camp.

A new Spring training camp was offered to both the Giants and the Yankees recently. R. T. Martin, formerly of this city and now Vice President of the Panama Canal Baseball League, came here with the proposal that the two clubs train at Panama next year. He stated that the teams would work under perfect weather conditions. Neither of the clubs, however, would consider the offer owing to the long trip involved. It takes seven days to reach the Canal Zone by boat from this city. Other conditions too would preclude the possibility of training at Panama, the parks there having no accommodations for the players. Martin considered that the trip of the two clubs would do much to add interest to the sport at Panama. In talking of the situation down there he said that there was now an eight club league, the players being those employed in the Canal Zone, men from the Army and civilians.

Royce to Rejoin Giants.

Steve Royce, the Hamilton College pitcher, who signed with the Giants a couple of seasons ago after he had pitched several games in which he struck out many of the batsmen who faced him, has changed his mind about abandoning the game and will go South with Manager McGraw next Spring. In one game two seasons ago Royce fanned twenty-one batsmen. He sat for a time on the Giants' bench and got tired of the inactivity. He quit the Giants and began to study law. He was sorry afterward, because the Giants' would have been glad to use him this season when they were in the ruck. He has been in communication with Manage McGraw again, and the Giant manager has assured him that he will get a fair trial early in the next season. So next Spring Steve will lay aside his Blackstone and try for a regular place on the pitching staff.

Weeghman Denies Peace Talk.

In discussing the peace rumors that have been so prevalent recently James A. Gilmore, President of the Federal League, said yesterday that there was no foundation for the stories. He said he had talked with Charles Weeghman, owner of the Chicago Federal League club, over the long distance wire, and that Weeghman denied having given out any of the interviews which quoted him as saying that peace was in sight in the baseball war.

Ball Players Hunting Big Game.

Tris Speaker of the Red Sox and Leslie Nuhamaker of the Yankees, following the example of many of the ball players, are hunting big game. At present these two are in the wilds of New Brunswick.

All-Nationals Score a Victory.

GREELEY, Col., Oct. 29.—The winning streak of the All-American baseball team was interrupted by the All-Nationals here this afternoon, who won by the score of 11 to 10.

New Wrestlers for Tournament.

S. Rachmahn, who is arranging the big international wrestling tournament to be held at the Manhattan Opera House, beginning Nov. 8, received a telegram from Charles Cutler yesterday accepting the conditions under which he was invited to participate in the tournament. Also Cutler, who has a right to the world's championship at Madison Square Garden, a few nights ago, was among the first to enter the tournament, and the giant Russian promises to furnish an interesting session for all who care to take him on. Still another entry of unusual interest is Anthony Jirsa, the champion wrestler of Austria-Hungary.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, SO. Dist. N. Y.—No. 22,381.—In Bankruptcy.—CHARLES MEYER, Bankrupt.

Creditors of said Charles Meyer are hereby given notice that on October 28th, 1915, he was duly adjudicated bankrupt. The first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 68 William Street, New York City, November 11th, 1915, at 11 A. M. Creditors may prove claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting. PETER B. OLNEY, Referee in Bankruptcy.

FAIRFAX LADY LOVE WINS.

Pomeranian Takes First Honors in McAlpin Toy Dog Show.

A snug-looking little Pomeranian, Fairfax Lady Love, carried off the honors at the Toy Dog Clubs' show at the Hotel McAlpin yesterday afternoon. The winner is owned by Mrs. Frank T. Clarke and showed well in strong competition against toy pets of many breeds. Lady Love has a stylish orange sable coat, and, led by Mrs. Clarke, walked about the ring among the many winners of the other classes as proud as a peacock.

The winners class was judged by Miss Ellen Laflin, who chose the Pom from a field of Japanese, Toy Spaniels, Boston terriers, Griffons, Chihuahuas, black and tans, Pekingese, French bulls and others. With the blue ribbon for the best dog in the show, Lady Love also won the silver trophy offered by Miss Laflin. It was Miss Laflin's first appearance as a judge and her decision was a popular one.

More than 100 dogs were shown and all the pets received flattering attention from the big gathering of dog fanciers. The blue ribbon for the best of the opposite sex to Lady Love was won by Miss Lena Schilling's Black Prince V. Another popular victory was won among the Pekinese by Mrs. Harris A. Baxter's Tchak of Arcady, while the winner for the opposite sex was the Crestwood Kennels' Moonstone of Arcady.

The tiniest entry in the show was Miss Marie Empress's toy black and tan, Empress Baby, which isn't more than five inches long. Baby received the blue ribbon in this class. Among the Chihuahuas, Mrs. C. D. Atwood's Benito Juarez won the blue, with Mrs. De Witt's Rosemary the winner in the bitches class. There was a fine exhibit of French bulldogs and the winner was Mrs. Frank McCormick's Some Class. Miss Marie De Becker's Freddy won the blue ribbon for the best Belgian Griffon.

The silver trophy offered for the best Boston terrier was won by Mrs. M. J. Organ's Derbyette, with Mrs. T. J. O. Rhinelander's Yellow Jasper, the best of the opposite sex. Mrs. P. Mengel's Daisy was the winner among the Yorkshires, while the honors for the best English toy spaniel was taken by Mrs. F. J. Hall's Teko, with Mrs. L. H. West's Rosemary Dorothy the winner of the blue for the best of the opposite sex.

Mrs. R. G. Harrison's Little O'Me was the best of the numerous Japanese spaniels, with Dr. T. R. Harrison's Princess Mo Mo the winer of the bitches class. The blue in the class for Maltese terriers went to Miss K. Stinzinge's Champion Yankee White Cloud. Numerous trophies were offered which must be won at three different shows of the club. The next show will be held on Friday, Nov. 12.

The judges included Miss Ellen Laflin, Miss Clarise Lithaur, Mrs. Leslie W. Hall, A. B. Webb, and J. N. Goodman.

EQUALS WORLD'S RECORD.

Frank Stephenson Runs 60 Yards in Armory in 6 2-5 Seconds.

Frank Stephenson, the Trinity Club sprinter, marked the opening of the indoor athletic season last night by equaling the world's record for sixty yards and decisively defeating Roy Morse, the junior national 100-yard champion and 220-yard senior title holder, in a special dash which featured the first games of the United Civic League and the Salem-Crescent A. C. at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. The Brooklyn boy triumphed over a field of six in 6 2-5 seconds, equaling a mark held by more than half a dozen sprinters of note, and which was first made in 1882 by Lon Myers. Morse was not even placed, finishing fourth, back of Charley Clarke, unattached, and Dave Politzer, who is also without club affiliation.

The colored champion received a bad break, slipping just as the starter's gun cracked. This set him back fully two yards, and it was about that distance which separated him from the victor. Stephenson displayed great form for so early in the season.

Representatives of the Brooklyn Church House carried off the team trophy with fifteen points, winning the half-mile relay with a team composed of Sheffold, Buhler, Behnken, and Berquist, while Edward Haupt proved best in the half-mile handicap run. Harry Buhler scored in the 60-yard open dash.

Pat Flynn of the Irish-American A. C. captured the two-mile run from scratch. He was compelled to run an extra lap, and his time of 10:23 is no indication of the good performance he recorded. His actual time for two miles was 9:50 2-5.

Sidney Leslie of the Long Island A. C. finished third from the back mark in the half-mile exhibition, but he ran in his old form and would have won easily in a smaller field. He covered the distance in 2:01 4-5, only a fifth of a second slower than the winner. The summary:

60-Yard Dash. Special.—Won by Frank L. Stephenson, Trinity Club; Charley Clarke, unattached, second; Dave Politzer, unattached, third. Time—0:06 2-5.

60-Yard Dash, Handicap.—Won by Harry L. Buhler, Bronx Church House, (4 yards;) J. Calhoun, Prudential Life A. A., (10 yards,) second; E. L. Berquist, Bronx Church House, (10 yards,) third. Time—0:06 2-5.

Half-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by Edward A. Haupt, Bronx Church House, (12 yards;) E. Haufer, Knights of St. Anthony, (4 yards,) second; Sidney Leslie, Long Island A. C., (scratch,) third. Time—2:01 3-5.

220-Yard Run, Handicap.—Won by H. Uhl, Central Congregational A. A., (2½ yards;) C. Vester, Salem-Crescent A. C., (7½ yards,) second; A. C. Gorham, Salem-Crescent A. C., (3 yards,) third. Time—0:25.

Two-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by Pat Flynn, Irish-American A. C., (scratch;) J. Georgio, Paulist A. C., (120 yards,) second; A. Fuher, Hungarian-American A. C., (70 yards,) third. Time—10:23.

Moran Wants $10,000 to Box Coffey

Frank Moran will leave New York for Pittsburgh today to fill part of a four weeks' vaudeville engagement in that city. Last night he had a long talk with Manager Billy Gibson regarding a return match with Jim Coffey. Moran expressed a willingness to take on the Roscommon motorman again, but wants a guarantee of $10,000 for another bout. He bases his demand on the gate receipts of their previous battle at Madison Square Garden, which amounted to more than $25,000. Coffey has agreed to box again, believing he can reverse the previous decision. If the Show Corporation can see its way clear to pay Moran $10,000 or the latter will consent to modify his demand, the bout will be held at the Garden the latter part of December or early in January.

Notter Fouls Maloney.

The scheduled ten-round bout between Frankie Notter and Tommy Maloney, welterweights, which was the feature attraction at the Vanderbilt Athletic Club in Brooklyn, ended in the eighth round when Notter was disqualified for striking a foul blow. Notter had been warned on the referee several times before the disqualification about his foul tactics. Up to the time the contest was stopped by the referee, Maloney appeared to have a comfortable advantage over his opponent.

In the other ten-round contest Mel Coogan earned the honors over Harry Smith. They were lightweights.

McPartland to Referee at Garden.

Kid McPartland has been appointed by the State Athletic Commission to act as referee at Madison Square Garden on Monday night, when the chief bout will be between Jack Dillon and Charlie Weinert. A meeting of the commission will be held Monday afternoon. Johnny Dundee has been instructed to appear at the meeting and explain why he delayed the main bout, at Madison Square Garden, half an hour Tuesday night.

Herman to Box Williams.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29.—Local fight promoters today announced they have signed Kid Williams of Baltimore, bantam weight champion, to box Kid Herman of New Orleans in a twenty-round bout for the world's bantam weight title, in this city, Nov. 20. The weight will be 116 pounds, ringside.

Dundee to Box Rivers.

Johnny Dundee, the local lightweight, who recently held Willie Ritchie to a draw, has signed for a ten-round bout with Joe Rivers, the Mexican lightweight, at Milwaukee on Nov. 8, and, according to the articles of agreement, both boxers are to weigh in at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the bout.

AMATEURS BOX FOR FREE TRIP TO FAIR

Preliminary Contests Held at New York and Crescent Athletic Clubs.

The preliminaries of the Eastern try-outs for the International Amateur Boxing Tournament which will be held at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco Nov. 11 and 12, were held simultaneously last night at the New York Athletic Club and the Crescent Athletic Club in Brooklyn. The final rounds will be contested tonight, the winners of the preliminaries at the New York A. C. going to Brooklyn and those who competed last night over there coming to the New York A. C. The money received for tickets during the two nights will go to the fund which is being raised for the memorial to James E. Sullivan.

There was much to interest one in the New York Athletic Club bouts, but it was not so much from the viewpoint of boxing skill displayed as that there was ever present the element of the ludicrous. Two boxers came in the ring in bathing suits, and another wore golf stockings.

The best bout, and that was nothing to boast of, as far as skill was concerned, was between George Weisler of this city and John Scudellari of the Seventy-first Regiment A. A. Weisler had scored one knockout in the heavyweight class when he won from Nels C. Danielson of the Neptune A. C. in the first round, and he was expected to have little difficulty with the much smaller fellow who opposed him in the next bout. Scudellari, however, went at his opponent fiercely, and the two stood and matched blow for blow for the first part of the opening round. Then Weisler was caught with a hard right to the jaw, followed by a left, and he appeared to be almost out. Scudellari, however, did not follow up his advantage soon enough. The round passed with both men unsteady on their feet. In the next round the men battered each other fiercely, and eventually Weisler drove his opponent to the ropes and the referee stopped the bout.

The first knockout of the evening came in the 145-pound class, when Philip Ryan of the Morningside A. C. of this city put Herbert W. Clock away on the program as from Freeport, L. I., but was announced as from Oxford University. That didn't help him a bit. He had the first round easily and was going well in the second when Ryan swung a vicious right to the jaw and Clock keeled over.

Fifteen preliminary bouts were held at the Crescent Athletic Club. Contests were held in three classes, the 115, 135, and the 158 pounds. The featherweights drew the largest entry, and in this division there were a number of fast bouts. Matty Herbert, who graduated from the 108-pound class with championship honors, made his début in the 115-pound division. He had as his opponent William Morris of the East Side House. It was a victory for Herbert, although not a popular one. In the same class William Prior of Cleveland easily defeated Benjamin Valger of New York.

Robert H. Gleason, the New York State champion, drew a bye in the 135-pound class, and did not appear until the second trial, when he boxed G. Marks of Brooklyn, who had previously defeated William McLean, Trinity Club. Marks made a good showing, but he was outpointed by his more scientific opponent.

There were three hurricane bouts in the 158-pound division. Alfred Nelson, formerly of San Francisco, easily defeated Thomas J. Charles of Brooklyn, and John J. Walton, Scranton, Penn., stopped Jack Bauman of New York in the second round. The summaries:

Bouts at New York A. C.

108-Pound Class.—Pat Owens, Boston, defeated Charles Rosenhaus, New York, in three rounds; judges' decision.

125-Pound Class.—Henry Godale, Cleveland A. C., defeated Joseph Flynn, unattached, New York A. C.; stopped in second round by referee. Walter Kressler, East Side House, New York, defeated Joe Sotnikow, Brooklyn; stopped in third round by referee. John Sullivan, Boston, defeated Larry Rice, New York; stopped by referee in third round. W. McCaffrey, New York, defeated J. Nicademo, Wyanoke Club, New York, in three rounds; judges' decision. Charles Lenard, New York, defeated Bert Van Vorst, Malta A. C., Newark; stopped by referee in first round. M. Green Brooklyn, defeated W. Leddy, Park View A. C., in three rounds; judges' decision. E. Yatland, Boston, defeated W. Jones, East Side House, New York, in three rounds; judges' decision. Henry Godale, Cleveland A. C., defeated James Gorgos, Greek-American A. C., New York; stopped by referee in first round.

Heavyweight Class.—George Weisler, New York, knocked out Nels C. Danielson, Neptune A. C., Hoboken, in one round; Arthur Sheridan, Trinity Club, defeated James McDonald, Boston, in three rounds—judges' decision; George Weisler, New York, defeated John Scudeelan, 71st Regiment A. A. Stopped by referee in third round.

145-Pound Class.—John Nocher, Glenmore A. C., New York, defeated Mark P. McCarthy, Jr., Syracuse, in three rounds—judges' decision; John Karpinski, Cleveland A. C., defeated Thomas J. Sharkey of Worcester, Mass., in three rounds—judges' decision; H. Christiansen, Norwegian T. and A. C., New York, defeated William Reams Union Settlement, New York—stopped by referee in second round; M. Tauber, Union Settlement, New York, defeated F. O'Neil, Philadelphia, stopped by referee in second round; Frank McDonnell, New West Side A. C., New York, defeated John Ruff, Central Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn, in three rounds—referee's decision: Joe Morningiello, Hungarian A. C., knocked out Herbert W. Clark, Freeport, L. I., in the second round.

Bouts at Crescent A. C.

115-Pound Class, Preliminary.—Fabius Zellner, Trinity Club, defeated Joseph Levy, Brooklyn, three rounds, judges' decision. William Prior, Cleveland, defeated Benjamin Volger, Educational Alliance, three rounds, judges' decision; Matty Herbert, Union Settlement, defeated William Morris, East Side House, three rounds, judges' decision; Wilbur Johnstone, Pittsburgh, defeated Charles Beacher, Educational Alliance, three rounds, referee's decision; F. Zellner defeated Abe Chandler, New York City, Jr. H. & L. 26; W. F. Rave, H. & L. 43. 8 A. M., Nov. 3—M. J. O'Keeffe. Eng. 91.

Special leaves, without pay: Fire. 1st gr. W. F. McManus, Eng. 2, 12 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 31; Fire. 2d Gr. J. Delaney, Eng. 56, 12 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 30; Capt. J. Hughes, No. 1, H. & L. 40, 12 hours, 8 A. M., Oct. 31; Capt. J. Hughes, No. 1, H. & L. 40, 12 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 29.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

Army.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Following Q. M. C. officers from Philippines, Feb. 1, next, to U. S. and to Comm. General, Western Dept. for orders: Maj. K. Johnson and Capt. F. L. Buck.

1st Lt. J. J. Collins, Cav., is assigned to 11th Cav.

Chaplain S. M. Luts, 13th Cav., now at Ft. Riley, report to Comdg. Officer there for duty for 30 days, then revert to status of absence with leave.

Orders Oct. 13, amended to direct 1st. Lt. W. W. Ellis, M. R. C., to remain on duty at Ft. Dupont, Del., until return of Capt. J. S. Coulter M. C., about Dec. 4, when Lt. Ellis will stand relieved.

Capt. W. K. Bartlett, M. C., from Ft. Ethan Allen, to Ft. Totten, N. Y., for duty and by letter to Comdg. Gen. Eastern Dept.

1st. Lt. B. V. Kenne, M. R. C., to active duty for one day to conduct examination of certain officers then stand relieved.

Maj. R. D. Noble, M. C., is detailed as a member of the Board of Medical Corps, appointed July 12.

2d. Lt. G. H. Brett, 2d. Cav., to Aviation Sec., Sig. Corps at San Diego, Cal., for duty.

Leaves—Capt. C. C. Benna, 14th F. A., 15 days; Col. J. C. F. Tillson, Inf., 1 month and 15 days; Capt. L. H. Hanson, M. C., 18 days.

Navy.

Jr. Grade Lts.—R. A. Lavender, the Birmingham, to Staff, Commander Torpedo Flotilla, Atlantic Fleet; and F. A. L. Vossler, Navy Recrg. Sta., San Fran., in connection fitting out the Nevada, and on board when commissioned.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

Arrived—E-2, MacDonough and Worden at New York Yard; Jouett and Sterett at Norfolk; Montana and Winslow at Newport; Prairie at Hampton Roads; Proteus at Cavite and the Saturn at La Paz.

Sailed—Celtic, Hampton Roads for Port Au Prince; Panning, Whitestone for Norfolk; Glacier, La Paz for San Diego; Justin, Mazatlan for Salina Cruz; McDougal, Newport for New York; San Diego, Mazatlan for San Blaz, and the Whipple, Mare Island for San Pedro.

THE WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Pressure is low from the lower Lake region eastward and in the Middle Atlantic States, and there were light scattered rains over this area. Rains also continued in Florida, but elsewhere the weather was generally clear.

Notwithstanding a considerable fall in the lower Lake region and the far Northwest, temperatures are still generally above the seasonal average throughout the country, especially in the Middle Atlantic States, the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and the Plains States. Except for scattered rains Saturday in northeast New England, fair weather will prevail during the next forty-eight hours east of the Mississippi River and in the Southwest, with somewhat lower temperatures Saturday in New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

Winds for Saturday and Sunday along the North and Middle Atlantic Coasts will be moderate southwest and west; South Atlantic Coast gentle to moderate, mostly southwest, except northeast off the Florida Coast.

FORECASTS: TODAY AND SUNDAY.

Eastern New York—Fair Saturday; cooler east portion. Sunday fair.

Southern New England, New Jersey, and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair, slightly cooler Saturday. Sunday fair.

Western New York—Fair Saturday and Sunday.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

1914.	1915.		1914.	1915.
8 A. M.	42	49	4 P. M.	55	66
6 A. M.	42	51	6 P. M.	53	66
8 A. M.	54	59	8 P. M.	53	61
12 M.	53	58	11 P. M.	50	57

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 57; for the corresponding date last year it was 49; average for the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 50.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 52; at 8 P. M. it was 64. Maximum temperature 66 degrees, at 2 P. M.; minimum, 48 degrees, at 6 A. M. Humidity, 89 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 59 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 29.92 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 29.71 inches.

FIRE RECORD.

A. M.		Loss.
6:15—63 Beaver St.; Polygraph Printing Co.		Slight
10:15—1,575 8 Av.; Andrew Civini		Slight
11:55—428 W. 54 St.; Carry Hodapp		Slight
P. M.
5:15—414 E. 82 St.; Chas. Kader		Slight
5:15—71 E. 100 St.; Morris Yorowicz		Slight
5:25—185 Rivington St.; C. Weingarten		Slight
5:25—St. Nicholas Av. & 187 St.; not given		Slight
6:55—210 E. 127 St.; Tony Jamine		Slight
7:45—3 E. 28 St.; not given		None
8:10—350 E. 8 St.; Morris Greenberg		Slight
8:00—120 W. 227 St.; (garage,) John N. Brown		$2,000
8:22—171-173 Lafayette St.; John Eckhardt		$1,000
8:50—B'way and 174 St.; (auto,) Oscar Kerrsmadt		Slight
8:55—855 10 Av. 28 St.; Michael Fayden		Slight
11:05—419 Lexington Av.; not given		$300

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS.

Police Department.

Retired, 12 P. M. Oct. 28: Patrol. M. Sheehan, (on his own application,) at $700 a year. App. July 24, 1878.

Transfers and assignments: Patrol., to take effect 12:01 A. M. Nov. 1—J. J. Gallagher, 22, to 172. 8 A. M. Oct. 29—H. Horn, 63, to 13, clerical duty. 8 A. M. Nov. 1—J. H. Fallon, 149, as sta. house attdt.

Temporary assignments: Patrol. J. F. Allen Eugh, 1, duty in plain clothes, 30 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 30; J. M. P. Heney, 28, and F. R. Browne, 32, to 4 I. D., 10 days 4 P. M. Oct. 31; H. F. Hetterick, 33, to D. B., 5 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 27; A. M. Mulligan, 63, to D. B. Squad, duty in Special Squad 1, 16 days, 8 A. M. Nov. 3; W. J. Ferrick, 63, to D. B., 5 days, 9 A. M. Oct. 27; H. J. Etherington, 143, to B. B. H. Squad, duty in Special Squad 1, 16 days, 8 A. M. Nov. 3; W. Terson, 143, to B. B. H. Squad, duty in Special Squad 1, 16 days, 8 A. M. Nov. 3; S. J. Brady, 156, to B. B. H. Squad, duty in Special Squad 1, 15 days, 8 A. M. Nov. 4. Matron Edith G. Du Bois, to 57, 15 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 28.

Assignments discontinued: Patrol. as station house attendants, precincts indicated, 8 A. M. Nov. 1: F. Sauter, 40; J. J. Tynan, 51; W. J. Doyle, 65; C. R. Glynn, 66; T. Troy, 149.

Leaves of absence without pay: Lieut. L. P. Powers, 79, 1 day, 12:01 A. M. Oct. 30. Patrol. T. Donohue, 281, 4 days, 4 P. M. Nov. 1.

Will pay while on sick report: Sergt. D. Shine, 29, 2:20 P. M., Oct. 10, to noon, Oct. 16; Patrol. W. Bedell, 7, 6:30 P. M., Sept. 4, to 12 P. M., Oct. 1; O. T. Bruns, 12, 2:10 P. M., Oct. 13, to 12 P. M., Oct. 15; P. S. Nealon, 12, 8:30 A. M., Oct. 10, to 12 P. M., Oct. 18; E. J. Conroy, 19, 2:45 A. M., Sept. 30, to noon, Oct. 15; T. F. Rockett, 16, 8:30 P. M., Oct. 10, to noon, Oct. 14; W. P. Schaefer, 22, 9:30 P. M., Sept. 16, to noon, Sept. 28; E. R. Ferguson, 26, 12:20 P. M., Oct. 3, 12 P. M., Oct. 9; J. Frogel, 26, 10 P. M., Oct. 22, to noon, Oct. 25; W. C. Morris, 28, 1:50 A. M., May 10, Oct. 5; J. Myers, 33, 4:25 P. M., Oct. 24, during disability; C. B. Clerke, 38, 5:50 A. M., Oct. 1, to noon, Oct. 3; B. F. Klein, 62, from 8:30 A. M., Oct. 19, during disability; J. Malone, 68, 7:30 P. M., Oct. 6, 12 M., Oct. 9; W. J. Baechle, 63, 6:55 A. M., Oct. 19, during disability; G. Bruckner, 66, 6:45 P. M., Oct. 16, during disability; J. O'Brien, 69, 6:30 P. M., Sept. 30, to noon, Oct. 11; T. J. Cashman, 15, 1:03 P. M., Sept. 15, to 12 P. M., Oct. 15; J. F. Dunn, 167, 7:15 A. M., Oct. 20, during disability; W. H. Thompson, 167, 6:10 P. M., Oct. 22, during disability; B. L. O'Donnell, 1915, 8 P. M., Sept. 21, to 12:01 A. M., Sept. 30; G. Zeiss, 172, 7:55 P. M., Sept. 6, during disability; W. J. Wiegand, 276, 11:45 A. M., Oct. 4, during disability.

Restored to duty: Patrol. T. J. Murphy, Comm's Office, 11:30 A. M., Oct. 27.

Suspended without pay: Patrol. T. J. Murphy, Comm's Office, 11:30 A. M., Oct. 27.

Fire Department.

The following, having filed applications for examination to fit them for promotion to the position of engineer of steamer, will report to Chief of Batt. J. J. Henry, Supervising Engineer, at the foot of Grand St., East River, on date and time specified, for practical test in operating steam fire engines: Nov. 1 at 9 A. M.—H. Gallagher, Engine 221; R. J. Blake, Engine 26; J. L. Curry, Engine 251; H. W. Schill, Engine 282; J. Hasselt, Hook & Ladder 3; at 10 A. M.—P. J. Powers, Engine 30; J. F. Collins, Engine 53; F. J. McCosker, Engine 249; J. F. Scanlon, Engine 245; C. J. Lazzaro, Engine 32; 22 practical test 10 noon.—C. J. Valenti, Engine 13; T. O'Leary, Engine 33; P. J. Conlon, Engine 215; H. Meyer, H. & L. 34; E. J. Darnley, H. & L. 123; at 2 P. M.—L. A. Abbott, Engine 3; J. F. Dowd, Engine 81; G. Kell, H. & L. 47; J. M. Wagner, H. & L. 147; J. P. Murphy, Engine 287, (1st Sec.)

Charges dismissed: Fire. 1st gr. D. P. Brennan, H. & L. 21, (detailed to Eng. 63,) (reckless driving;) Fire. 1st gr. W. E. Scapelhorn, Eng. 231, (disobedience of orders;) Fire. 1st gr. E. A. O'Brien, Eng. 288, (neglect of duty;) Fire. 3d gr. E. A. Shevlin, H. & L. 131, (reckless driving.)

Penalties imposed: Capt. G. H. Smyth, Eng. 262, (loaning public property,) reprimand; Fire. 1st Gr. W. E. Scaplehorn, Eng. 231, (absence without leave,) reprimand; Ununiformed Fire. W. Pousson, Eng. 235, (absence without leave,) reprimand.

The following ununiformed firemen, having served their probationary period of three months satisfactorily, are appointed as fourth grade firemen, with compensation each at the rate of $900 a year: 8 A. M., Nov. 1—C. L. Walter, Eng. 15; D. Paff, Eng. 17; W. C. Butts, Eng. 35; W. G. Stanton, Eng. 86; J. J. Smith, Eng. 47; R. L. Dawson, Eng. 155; F. W. Koster, Eng. 76; E. Braum, Eng. 202; F. F. Vought, Eng. 224; F. C. Schneider, Eng. 89; T. L. Dowling, H. & L. 9; F. P. Stewart, H. & L. 11; R. E. Balcom, H. & L. 14; L. R. Dallier, H. & L. 15; J. Walsh, H. & L. 20; J. A. Sullivan, Jr., H. & L. 26; W. F. Rave, H. & L. 43. 8 A. M., Nov. 3—M. J. O'Keeffe. Eng. 91.

Special leaves, without pay: Fire. 1st Gr. W. F. McManus, Eng. 2, 12 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 31; Fire. 2d Gr. J. Delaney, Eng. 56, 12 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 30; Capt. J. Hughes, No. 1, H. & L. 40, 12 hours, 8 A. M., Oct. 31; Capt. J. Hughes, No. 1, H. & L. 40, 12 hours, 8 P. M., Oct. 29.

CHURCH SERVICES TOMORROW

Associated Bible Students.
NEW YORK CITY TEMPLE, West 63d St., near Broadway.
10:30 A. M.—"The Natural Man and the Spiritual Man."
8 P. M.—"Full Assurance of Faith."

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE, 16-17 Hicks St., near Brooklyn Bridge. 8 P. M., Discourse. 7:30 P. M., Bible Study. SEATS FREE. NO COLLECTION.

Baptist.
CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, 123 West 57th St.
Rev. JOSEPH W. KEMP, Pastor.
Preaches 11 A. M.—8 P. M.
CALVARY CHORUS CHOIR.
Strangers Welcome and Promptly Seated.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH, during the erection of their new building, worshipping in the Swedish Methodist Church, 59th St., between Amsterdam and Columbus Aves. The Pastor, Frank M. Goodchild, D. D., will preach, 11—"Is Religion a Burden?" 8—"The Vital Issue in This Campaign: Woman Suffrage."

FIFTH AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, 5 to 8 West 46th Street.
Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, D. D. } Ministers.
Rev. E. Herbert Dutton, }
Dr. WOELFKIN will preach 11 and 8.
Sunday School, 9:30. Bible Classes, 9:40.
Tuesday, 8 P. M., Young People's Society.
Friday, Prayer Meeting, 8 P. M.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, Broadway and 79th Street.
PASTOR, I. M. HALDEMAN, D. D.
11 A. M.—"OUR LORD'S ONE DIFFERENCE TO THE LIFE THAT NOW IS! THE FOLLY OF THE CHRISTIAN WHO DOES NOT CAPITALIZE THE FUTURE."
8 P. M.—"THE STONE CUT OUT OF THE MOUNTAIN WITHOUT HANDS, AND THE SMASHING OF THE FEET OF CLAY; OR, THE KINGDOM OF CHRIST TO BE SET UP, NOT BY THE PREACHING OF THE GOSPEL, BUT THE COMING OF CHRIST HIMSELF."
Friday night, Nov. 5th, Dr. Haldeman will answer the following questions: "Is Paradise Under the Earth or in Heaven?" "Do Christians at Death Go to Hades or Direct to Heaven?"

JUDSON MEMORIAL, Washington Square. Rev. John Humpstone, D. D., 11 o'clock. Rev. A. Ray Petty, 8 o'clock.

MADISON AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, MADISON AV., COR. 31ST ST.
C. A. ELLIOTT, D. D., Pastor.
11 A. M.—"Salvation by Sacrifice."
8 P. M.—"What Is a Christian?"
Union Bible Class, 9:45. Rev. C. F. Hall, Ldr.

MT. MORRIS BAPTIST CHURCH, Fifth Avenue, near 127th Street.
JOHN HERMAN RANDALL.
10 A. M.—Lecture by Mme. R. B. Schwimmer.
11 A. M.—"The Romance of Religion."
8 P. M.—"A Picture of Unemployment."

WASHINGTON HEIGHTS BAPTIST CHURCH, 145th St. and Convent Av.
Rev. HAROLD PATTISON, D. D.
11 A. M.—"Prophet of Fire."
8 P. M.—"Home Relationships."

Christian Science.
Services are held in the following CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES, Sundays, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.; Wednesdays, 8 P. M.:
First Church, Central Park West & 96th St.
Second Church, Central Park West & 68th St.
Third Church, 125th St. & Madison Av.
Fourth Church, Ft. Washington Av. & 176th St.
Fifth Church, Aeolian Concert Hall, 84 West 43d St.
Sixth Church, 1,931 Washington Av., Bronx.

Church of the New Jerusalem.
NEW CHURCH, (Swedenborgian,) 35th St., bet. Park and Lexington Aves.
The Rev. JULIA K. SMITH, Pastor.
The Pastor will preach, subject:
"The Filled Up Wells of Religion."
Sunday School, 10 A. M.

Congregational.
BROADWAY TABERNACLE, Broadway and 56th St.—Seventy-fifth anniversary; tonight, 5 o'clock, civic meeting; addresses by Chancellor Elmer E. Brown, New York University; Rev. Jonathan C. Day, D. D., Labor Temple, New York City; Mr. William Jay Schieffelin, President Citizens' Union. Sunday, 11 A. M., anniversary sermon by the pastor, Dr. CHRISTIESON; special music. 8 P. M., addresses by Rev. J. L. Barton, D. D., and Rev. Arthur J. Brown, D. D.

MANHATTAN, Broadway, 76th St.
REV. H. A. STIMSON, D. D., preaches 11 A. M.

Disciples of Christ—Christian.
CENTRAL CHURCH, 142 W. 81ST ST.
Rev. JAMES M. PHILPUTT, D. D., Pastor.
11 A. M.—" Religion for the Modern Man."

Jewish.
FREE SYNAGOGUE
CARNEGIE HALL:

INGRAHAM SEES END OF THE LAW'S DELAY

Greatest Suggestions for Court Reform Incorporated in New Constitution.

LAUDS JUDICIARY ARTICLE

Presiding Justice Says Citizens with Best Interests of State at Heart Will Vote for It.

Presiding Justice George L. Ingraham of the Appellate Division of the First Department told the members of the Alumni Association of the Law Department of Columbia University at the Columbia University Club last night that the greatest suggestions for court reform made in the last half century were incorporated in the judiciary article of the proposed Constitution.

He criticized the Legislature for tampering with the code of civil procedure until no one undeerstood it; praised the provision in the Constitution delegating to the Court of Appeals the power to provide court rules, declared that the new system would relieve him and his colleagues of "the nonsense" which lawyers imposed upon them, and said that the enlargement of the Court of Appeals provided a remedy for the present congested condition of its calendar.

"The program of a case until it reaches the Court of Appeals is a scandal in its duration," the Justice said. "The last Court of Appeals calendar was made up eighteen months ago with 695 cases on it; there are still 216 cases on it. It will probably be next Summer before another calendar can be made up, and a year before any case on it can be reached under the present system. That means three years for a case to reach that court.

Interest in Law's Delay.

"This situation has led to the abuse of men securing involuntary loans of great sums for these three years. I heard a case not long ago in which a man was being sued for $50,000. He had no case at all, and later when I met the lawyer I asked him how he had the impudence to make the appeal. He said he had been ordered to do it because the money involved was worth more to his client in those three years than the 6 per cent. he would have to pay if he lost the case. I then reminded him that his client was liable to a fine of 10 per cent. by the Court of Appeals.

"'Oh,' he replied, 'we'll pay up about the time the Court of Appeals reaches the case.' That sort of thing will be stopped by the proposed Constitution. Increasing the Court of Appeals to ten, with the new regulations, will enable it to catch up with its calendar.

"I can say from the standpoint of the Judge that the judiciary article is a great advance, benefiting both the public and the profession.

"I didn't exactly think that my department needed the three more Justices they gave us, but as long as the golf links are near by I suppose they find something to do.

"But the one thing this Constitution does that makes it worthy of adoption is that it allows the Court of Appeals to fix the rules of procedure. The present code is a monstrosity, and is amended year by year by the Legislature until no one knows what is in it. I think that the authors of some of the amendments lived in a lunatic asylum. Three-fourths of the motions we have to listen to under it don't affect the ultimate result of cases under any conditions. Nothing has so stood in the way of speedy justice as this nonsense. But under this Constitution, the Court of Appeals can formulate rules and the Legislature must keep its hands off for five years."

Constitution Aids Justice.

Justice Ingraham arraigned the present system of referees in civil suits and condemnation proceedings, saying he did not believe that litigants should pay the Judges sitting upon their case. The proposed Constitution throws this work upon the Supreme Court.

"This Constitution will do more for the administration of justice than anything done in my time," he said. "I think that every citizen who has the best interests of the State at heart will vote for it."

Francis Lynde Stetson, President of the Association, spoke in favor of the Constitution, praising the judiciary article, and said the provision that the Court of Appeals could establish the requirements for admission to the bar was the greatest reform lawyers could ask.

"It is one of the disgraces of the State that we here practice at a bar regulated by political consideration," he said. "It is notorious that bills have passed the Legislature for the sole purpose of admitting to practice some man who couldn't get admitted any other way. This article takes the administration of the bar out of politics and puts it where it belongs.

"In the opinion of nine-tenths of the lawyers this Constitution is a good thing and I have yet to hear of one responsible body which gave it serious consideration that did not go on record for it.

"Judge Cullen and others are opposed to the Constitution because it hasn't got in it something they wanted there. But that is no good reason for opposing it. I had suggestions left out, but I know that some good ones are in—a great many of them. This Constitution was drafted by men of ability unsurpassed in any Constitutional Convention and is a progressive document worthy of all good citizens' support."

Ex-Attorney General George W. Wickersham, Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary of the Convention, reviewed the steps by which the convention had perfected the judiciary article out of the mass of suggestions which poured in from all over the State.

The association elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Francis Lynde Stetson; First Vice President, George C. Holt; Second Vice President, John B. Pine; Third Vice President, Harlan F. Stone; Treasurer, Stephen P. Nash, and Secretary, Jarvis P. Carter.

Justice Francis M. Scott said it would be better to take the new Constitution with such defects as it has than take a chance with another Constitutional Convention. He did not feel as hopeful of the plan of appointing Commissioners instead of referees, he declared. The right kind of lawyers could not be expected to give up their practices to become Commissioners without considerable compensation, he said. And he expressed doubt as to whether the Board of Estimate and Apportionment would be willing to pay enough to get good men.

CONSTITUTION'S GOOD POINTS.

Digest of New Organic Law in Questions 1, 2, and 3.

Herewith are presented the salient features of the proposed Constitution in the order in which they will appear on Ballot 3 at Tuesday's election.

Question 1.

ARTICLE I.—BILL OF RIGHTS.

A defendant charged with a crime punishable by not more than five years' imprisonment is permitted to waive indictment and jury trial.

Every defendant in a criminal case is guaranteed one appeal as a Constitutional right.

Equal protection of the laws is given as a Constitutional right.

In condemnation proceedings to take real estate it is provided that the damages shall be fixed by a Supreme Court Justice without a jury, or by one or more Supreme Court Commissioners, or, in non-metropolitan districts, by three commissioners.

Power is given to the Legislature to provide for compensation to workingmen for death or injury from occupational diseases.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATURE.

(Sections 1 and 2, relating to reapportionment, are submitted separately.)

The Legislature is forbidden to grant the right to prove any special claim against the State, to any civil division thereof.

The Legislature is forbidden to appropriate moneys for buildings, highways, &c., unless the Superintendent of Public Works shall certify that the improvement is needed.

Records of debates in the Legislature are required to be promptly published.

Power is given to the Legislature to regulate or prohibit manufacturing in tenement houses.

ARTICLE IV.—EXECUTIVE.

The salary of the Governor is raised to $20,000 a year.

ARTICLE V.—BUDGET.

The heads of departments must submit to the Governor by Nov. 15, every year, their estimates for the ensuing year.

After public hearings, the Governor has the power to revise them. Estimates of the expenditures of the judicial and executive branches of the government are then added to the administrative expenses. The Governor will also include a statement of estimated revenues for the ensuing year and the corresponding figures for the preceding two years. This budget must be submitted to the Legislature by Feb. 1.

The Governor and his heads of departments have the right to appear before the Legislature and defend the budget. The Legislature has the right to call them and question them.

The Legislature has the power to cut down or eliminate items in the budget, but it cannot increase items except for the judiciary and Legislature. After the budget is passed, it goes into effect without further action by the Governor.

Not until this budget has passed can the Legislature exercise its limited power of special appropriations, subject to the Governor's veto.

ARTICLE VI.—SHORT BALLOT.

The State administrative departments are reorganized, being reduced from 152 to 17.

The Attorney General and Controller are to be elected with the Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

The heads of other departments are to be appointed by the Governor. Appointments to the Labor Department, the Public Service Commissions, the Civil Service Commission, and the Conservation Commission are subject to confirmation by the Senate. Appointments of the head of the Department of Education are also subject to confirmation.

ARTICLE VII.—CONSERVATION.

Conservation of the State forests, waters, fish, game, &c., is placed under an unpaid commission of nine, one member of which goes out of office each year.

Provision is made for reforestation. The provision that the forest preserve shall be kept as wild forest lands is retained.

ARTICLE VIII.—JUDICIARY.

The three Supreme Court Justices now sitting in the Court of Appeals are made permanent Judges of the Court of Appeals. Provision is made for the temporary assignment of Supreme Court Justices to the Court of Appeals when necessary to bring the calendar up to date. The Appellate Division of New York City is divided into two parts.

The Legislature is directed to adopt a simple practice act and to leave the details of procedure to be adopted by the court.

It is also provided that there shall be an appellate term in New York for the hearing of appeals from the lower courts.

The jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals is made more flexible.

Children's Courts and Domestic Relations Courts are especially provided for.

ARTICLE IX.—SINKING FUND PROVISIONS.

The present system of sinking funds is abolished, and bonds issued by the State are required to be in serial form. The Legislature is authorized to refund present sinking fund bonds with serial bonds.

ARTICLE XV.—HOME RULE.

Every city is granted exclusive power to manage and regulate and control its property, affairs, and municipal government subject to the power of the Legislature to enact general laws applicable alike to all cities.

Cities are empowered to fix the number, powers, and pay of all employes of counties situated within a city, except in the District Attorney's office and in courts of record.

Cities are empowered to amend or adopt new charters, subject to the power of the Legislature to reject any charter amendment which changes the framework of the city government or makes restrictions as to contracting debts.

No laws may be passed by the Legislature applying to any one city, except when those laws, deemed peculiar to one or more cities, have been submitted to the vote of the cities affected.

Additional powers may be granted to cities by the Legislature.

Question 2.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATURE.

Apportionment of Assembly districts in New York City is made separately for each county by the members of the Board of Aldermen elected from that county.

Future reapportionment shall be made on the basis of the Federal census, when available.

Question 3.

ARTICLE X.—TAXATION.

The surrendering or contracting away of the power of taxation and the exemption of any property from taxation except by general laws passed by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each house are prohibited.

The Legislature is directed to provide for the supervision, review and equalization of assessments. Real estate assessors are to be chosen locally, but the Legislature may provide for the assessment by State authorities of all the property of designated classes of public service corporations. As to other property, the Legislature is given full power.

The county is made the unit tax district.

ROOT'S REPLY TO PERKINS.

"Many People Talk Too Much and Then Generally Regret It."

Special to The New York Times.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 29.—Intimating that he would not formally reply to the open letter of George W. Perkins regarding the new Constitution, "because it might not be important enough," former Senator Elihu Root, who is taking a vacation here, declined to make any extended statement today.

"It has been my experience in public life," Mr. Root said, "that many people talk too much and then generally regret it afterward."

SPORTSMEN ARE DIVIDED.

Director of Forest League Disagrees with President Lawyer.

Matthew H. Hoover, Chief of Publication State Department of Conservation, and Director of the New York State Fish, Game, and Forest League, announced yesterday that he was strongly in favor of the conservation provision in the new Constitution. He severely criticised George A. Lawyer, President of the league, who issued a circular letter in September, attacking the proposed conservation article. His letter, addressed to his "brother sportsmen," reads in part:

"Like yourself, I have received my orders from Watertown, the arbitrarily selected 'headquarters' of the Villa of the league, to 'vote against the proposed Constitution.' We are commanded to be 'on guard.' Dictator Lawyer tells us to fire into the bushes of suspicion, which his own designing mind has thrown around the subject, and kill the only real opportunity we have had to get what the sportsmen and nature-lovers have worked for these many years."

FOR STATE SCHOOL CONTROL.

Churchill Against Constitution Because of an Omission.

Thomas W. Churchill, President of the Board of Education, yesterday wrote a letter to John H. Finley, State Commissioner of Education, in which he said:

"I have read your correspondence with Elihu Root in reference to the home rule provision of the new Constitution and noted Mr. Root's statement that he entirely agrees with your understanding that the provisions of that instrument make no change in the control of the schools. In reading Mr. Root's letter to you I am strogly impressed by the fact that he makes no reference to the provisions of Section 3 of Article 5.

"Just here is the gist of the matter. The question is, if the Board of Education of the City of New York is a department of the City Government, if it is it is clearly included when the power to organize and manage all departments, bureaus, and other divisions of the municipal Government is vested in the city. How this question would be decided by the courts no one can foresee.

"It is my firm belief that the Board of Education is a part of the State educational establishment and is not a department of the City Government. If the proposed amendment, providing that the Board of Education or other like body of each and every city should be an integral part of the State public school system had been adopted by the convention, no ddubt on this point could exist. Most unfortunately, as I think, the Constitutional Convention made no change in the article relating to education.

"It will be a most grievous thing if the control of the school policies is put in the hands of the financial authorities through their control of educational funds, for those authorities are far more concerned with taxes than with efficiency in the schools. We have been restricted and hampered in the performance of our duties by the exclusion of things which the Board of Education deemed of the utmost importance through the assumed authority of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to make or withold appropriations according to their own notions of what is good or bad educationally.

"I have submitted the question of scope and meaning of the home rule provisions to lawyers of high standing, some of them members of the Constitutional Convention, and in view of the difference of opinion which exists, I feel sure that the best interests of the Department of Education of this city will be put at risk if the new Constitution is adopted."

CITY CLUB INDORSES LAW.

Trustees Urge Adoption of All but Apportionment Article.

At the City Club the following notice was posted yesterday:

To the members of the City Club:

The new State Constitution to be submitted to the voters on Election Day has received extended and very careful consideration by a special committee of the club, and the report of the committee has been indorsed by the Board of Trustees. The Trustees and the committee are united in approval of the Constitution as a whole—to be submitted in Question No. 1 and 2, and in approval of the taxation article, to be submitted in Question No. 3. No recommendation is made as to the apportionment article—Question No. 2.

It is believed that the important changes which the new Constitution proposes are changes for the better, and that while differences of opinion may exist as to the wisdom of some of the matters, either included or omitted, the Constitution as a whole represents substantial progress in the methods of both State and municipal Government. The members of the club are urged to give the new Constitution their active support.

The notice was signed by Nelson S. Spencer, President.

PRICE COMMENTS ON PERKINS.

Says Advertisements Do Not Represent His Party's Views.

Joseph M. Price, Chairman of the Citizens' Nonpartisan Committee for the Adoption of the Constitution, said last night that the publicity given by George W. Perkins to his opposition to the proposed Constitution was responsible for a false impression that Mr. Perkins voiced the sentiments of the Progressive Party. Mr. Price said this was not the case at all.

"Mr. Perkins is doing personally what the Progressive State Committee did not do when the question of opposing the Constitution came before it," Mr. Price said in a formal statement. He thought Mr. Perkins's advertisements in this city and in newspapers up State would cost him $25,000. eH continued:

"I would like to call attention to the Progressives on the State Committee for the Adoption of the Constitution who are in favor of the Constitution, such as William Hamlin Childs, leader of the Progressive Party in Brooklyn, and the following leaders in the Progressive Party in Manhattan: William M. Chadbourne, William H. Hotchkiss, Judge William L. Ransom, Leonard M. Wallstein, and Richard S. Childs.

"I would also call attention to an extraordinary proceeding taken by the United Real Estate Owners' Association to prevent this Constitution from being even voted upon. They are so afraid of the judgment of the people that they do not even want them to vote upon this proposed constitution. I would like to point out that there are more people living in houses and apartments in this city than there are owners of them. Don't they want their tenants to vote? What are they afraid of—democratic institutions? It seems so, or they wouldn't want to prevent the people from voting."

Mr. Price also gave out letters from Lee Kohns, senior member of the firm of L. Straus & Sons, a Trustee of the College of the City of New York and a Democrat, and Charles L. Bernheimer, Chairman of the Committee on Arbitration of the Chamber of Commerce and a Republican.

"I am satisfied that, while it is not an ideal instrument, it is a step forward and in the right direction which should be commended if favorably to the people," wrote Mr. Kohns.

"All business men should vote 'yes' on the question of the adoption of the Constitution," wrote Mr. Bernheimer. "It is the first effort made to systematize our State affairs and centre responsibility where it should belong."

The committee made public a statement by Elihu Root, Chairman of the Constitutional Convention, in which he said:

"I have no question whatever that you are entirely right in your view that the new revised Constitution leaves the right of policemen in the City of New York to have a court review of the decisions of Police Commissioners disciplining them exactly where it is now. That right is neither abolished nor diminished nor extended. The right is given by the existing statute passed by the Legislature of the State. That statute is neither repealed nor affected by the new revision. The revision does transfer the right to pass further special and local laws on this subject from the State Legislature to the city legislature, subject always to the right of the State Legislature still to control the matter by general laws."

GOLDWATER QUITS MONDAY.

Dr. H. Emerson Will Succeed Him as Health Commissioner.

The resignation of Commissioner Sigismund S. Goldwater of the Department of Health, turned in to Mayor Mitchel on July 1, has been accepted and the Commissioner will retire from office next Monday. Dr. Haven Emerson, Sanitary Superintended of the Department of Health, will be appointed acting commissioner for the time being, and later permanent Commissioner.

Dr. Emerson is a civil service employe and the Corporation Counsel's office has been asked to look up the law to see if it is possible for Dr. Emerson to obtain a leave of absence in order to be made Commissioner of Health and then, at the end of the present Administration, return to his office as head of the Sanitary Bureau. It is not known who Dr. Emerson's successor will be. His position pays $6,000 a year.

When Dr. Goldwater accepted the office of Commissioner it was understood that he did not bind himself to serve out the entire term, but would feel free to retire at any time the Mayor felt he was in a position to name a satisfactory successor.

CHILD IS HELD FOR BOARD.

Legal Aid Society Aids Mother with Writ of Habeas Corpus.

The holding of Mary Nell, a 6 year old child, for an unpaid board bill caused the Legal Aid Society to go before Justice John J. Brady of the Supreme Court Thursday and obtain a writ of habeas corpus to be served on Mrs. Annie Yeager of 1 Gouveneur Place, Bronx.

Two years ago Mrs. Mary Nell was deserted by her husband. She left her daughter Mary with the wife of John Yeager, the janitor of the apartment where she formerly lived. The board of the child was to be $9 a month. The mother was to provide clothing and pay for any extra expenses.

Mrs. Nell found employment as a servant and from time to time made payments to Mrs. Yeager. Last Summer Mrs. Nell worked in a private family at Salisbury, Conn., but when she returned, she says, Mrs. Yeager refused to surrender the child because of unpaid board.

Mrs. Nell is now living with Mrs. A. O. Kurth at 254 West Fifty-first Street. Mrs. Kurth says she is not charging Mrs. Nell for board, and that she has found employment for her learning to prepare feathers for hats, for which she now earns $4 a week. Mrs. Nell has offered to pay the $9 which she says is due on her daughter's board, but Mrs. Yeager says she owes about $60.

WIFE SUES CHAMPION DIVER.

Mrs. Alfred E. Downes Demands a Separation and Alimony.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Justice Martin J. Keogh in chambers in the Supreme Court at New Rochelle on Nov. 27 will hear a motion for separation and $100 a month alimony in a suit brought by Mrs. Adelaine Downes, wife of Alfred E. Downes, who won the national high diving championship at the San Francisco Exposition.

A copy of the summons and complaint was served on Downes at Rye Beach this afternoon. Mrs. Henry Clay Beck, a Summer colonist of Rye Beach, is mentioned as co-respondent, and the alleged acts are set forth as having occurred in New York this month.

Downes was one of the New York Athletic Club team who made the trip to the Panama Exposition last Summer. He and his wife occupied a cottage at Rye Beach during the Summer. The Downes and Beck families were inseparable, according to other resuents of the beach. They motored, bathed, and danced together, and were on the friendliest of terms.

The Downeses were married in 1903 in New York and have no children. Mrs. Downes asks for $100 a month alimony. She has retained Judge Thomas F. J. Connolly of this place as counsel, and Downes's case will be taken care of by Benjamin Irving Taylor, also of this place.

EIGHTY AUTOISTS IN COURT.

Most of Them Plead Guilty and Are Fined from $5 to $30.

Eighty automobile operators were arraigned in the West Side Court yesterday afternoon before Magistrate House on charges of violating the speed ordinances and other highway laws. All were summoned in a campaign against violators Wednesday afternoon and evening, conducted by Lieutenant Johnson and twenty-four motor cycle policemen.

Most of the defendants pleaded guilty and were fined from $5 to $30. Among those fined was David Holzman of the Devon Hotel, chauffeur for William Thaw. He pleaded guilty to running his machine within eight feet of a surface car which was discharging passengers. He paid $30.

MAKE PAPER OUT OF GRASS.

Department of Agriculture Experimenting with Substitute for Poplar.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—As a means of conservation in forestry, the Department of Agriculture is experimenting with wire grass as a source of supply for pulp for making paper instead of poplar or liriodendron. Wire grass, as it is commonly known in the West, grows on the Pacific slope and in Western Mexico. It forms a dense mat of roots and yields in fertile soils, sometimes as high as three tons of grass. It is fibrous and tough and can be reduced by the soda process. The use of the "hog" by which wood is reduced to pulp, is entirely done away with.

The paper manufactured from the stock has proved as satisfactory, in physical tests, as a first-grade, machine-finished printing paper. It has, moreover, a very satisfactory appearance and feeling. For bleaching, however, the experiments showed that more bleaching powder was required than with poplar stock.

It has been estimated that the growth of wood in the United States is being removed at the rate of thirty-six cubic feet per acre each year, while the natural increase is at the rate of twelve cubic feet per acre. In other words, wood is being used three times as fast as it grows. The consequence is, of course, a continual increase in the price of raw material and the desirability of finding some substitute is obvious.

BANKRUPT IS ARRESTED.

Metal Goods Maker Accused of Having Concealed Assets.

Daniel Green of 850 Longwood Avenue, the Bronx, who was a metal goods maker at 24 Wooster Street until he went bankrupt on Oct. 18, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Hunt in the Federal District Court on the charge of having concealed assets from the Trustee in Bankruptcy. He was held on a $5,000 bond to wait the result of an examination before Commissioner Houghton.

Green, according to Frederick R. A. Stiefel of the Credit Men's Association, on the strength of a report that he had received a $500,000 contract from the British Government, ordered motors from the General Electric and Bell Motors Companies, spark plugs from the Stanley & Patterson Electric Supply Company, and diamonds from a downtown dealer, which in value amounted to $50,000. Then he made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, and two days later became a bankrupt.

Last Thursday, it is alleged, John P. Quinn, armed with a writ of replevin, went to Green's home on behalf of the Stanley & Patterson Electric Supply Company to look for the spark plugs, but Green was not to be found. He was arrested yesterday in a restaurant in Maiden Lane.

THROWS $1,300 OVERBOARD.

Packet from Woman Held on Ship Picked Up by Man in Motor Boat.

About an hour after the Norwegian-American liner Kristianiafjord arrived at her pier at the foot of Forty-fifth Street, South Brooklyn, yesterday morning from Bergen, an excited-looking woman, who was being detained by the Immigration Inspector for further examination, rushed on deck and threw a packet of papers into the water.

Walter Lillie, the ship's baggage master who saw the act, said that a few minutes before he had been watching a motor boat with green painted hull and a gray top that had been hanging round the stern of the liner for some time in a suspicious manner. It was close by when the woman threw the package overboard, and before he could take any action in the matter, Lillie said, one of the men from the motor boat picked it up, and then the little craft started toward the Manhattan shore.

Lillie reported the matter to the Captain of the Kristianiafjord, who notified Brooklyn Police Headquarters, and two detectives from the Sixth Brooklyn Detective Bureau are trying to identify the owner of the motor boat. All the woman would say about the package was that it contained 5,000 kroner in Norwegian paper money, which is worth about $1,300 in United States money.

"DEAD" AUTO INJURES FOUR.

Comes to Life at Policeman's Touch and Charges Crowd.

Four persons were injured in Fifth Avenue at Thirty-first Street last evening, when the automobile of Frederick N. Jersey, builder, of 598 East Fourth Street, Brooklyn, ran into a crowd. The automobile had run out of gasoline and Jersey requested Patrolman Gustave Suhr to assist him in pushing the car into Thirty-first Street.

As the two gave the automobile a push the engine started and the car shot east, knocking down three pedestrians and throwing Suhr to the pavement. It stopped when it struck a truck.

Mrs. Frederick Thomas of 2,011 Morris Avenue, the Bronx, sustained injuries to the left knee; Stanton H. Groves of Woodside, L. I., sustained abrasions of the left knee. Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of 3,244 Third Avenue, the Bronx, received a broken arm. Dr. McChesney removed her to New York Hospital. Patrolman Suhr received severe injuries of his right foot and reported sick after being attended by a surgeon. Jersey was arrested by Patrolman Park charged with felonious assault, and was locked up in the West Thirtieth Street Station.

TRAINING YOUNG ARMOUR.

Future Head of Packing House Promoted from Cattle to Hog Pens.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Philip D. Armour, III, today began his work in the hog pens at the Stock Yards, where his family's fortune was founded. He received no favors and had to work like any other employee of the packing plant. He is learning the business from the ground up, and some day will be head of the great industry, according to the plans of his uncle, J. Ogden Armour.

P. D. Armour, founder of the firm, established the custom of making the future head of the business find out all about it from the inside. Accordingly, a few months ago, "Young P. D." started in the cattle pens. He has found out a good deal about cattle, and now is ready to take a graduate course on pigs.

"MRS. FLAGLER" TO AUBURN.

Woman Swindler Will Appeal, Her Lawyer Says.

Mrs. Zora Emma Johnson, the white-haired woman who fleeced Frank Mahoney, a telephone operator, 19 years old, out of nearly $4,000 by pretending to be the widow of Henry M. Flagler, the Standard Oil man, was sentenced to the State Prison for Women, at Auburn for an indeterminate term of not less than three years and not more than nine years and six months, by Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions yesterday. Mrs. Johnson insisted to the last that she was Mr. Flagler's widow, and her lawyer, Abe Levy, declared that he would in all probability appeal from the conviction.

Time Ball to Drop at Macy's.

At noon today, as determined by the Naval Observatory at Washington, a signal flashed over the Western Union wires and entering the Macy Building at Thirty-fourth Street will cause the Red Star above the main Broadway entrance to drop down and disappear. For many years there was a time ball on top of 135 Broadway, the old Western Union Building, now being torn down, which used to drop by signal from Washington exactly at noon. The most famous time ball is on top of the Greenwich Observatory, England.

REOPEN HAMMOND WILL CASE

Surrogate Ordered to Hear Evidence as to a Later Testament.

The relatives of the late James B. Hammond, the typewriter manufacturer, through the petition brought by Mrs. Mary Elisabeth Hardy of Dallas, Tex., received permission yesterday from Justice Chase of the Court of Appeals, to prove, if possible, the existence of a will of later date than the one probated on Aug. 30, 1912, in which he left his entire estate of more than $2,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Under Justice Chase's order, the Surrogate here is directed to reopen the case and hear evidence as to the existence of the later will, which is alleged to have been withheld by Arthur Lopez, an employe of the Hammond Typewriter works and former private secretary to the testator.

Mr. Hammond died at St. Augustine, Fla., on Jan. 27, 1913, and when his will was admitted to probate it made no mention of the widow, Mrs. Jeanette Maxwell Hammond, nor were any bequests made to his brothers and sisters. The widow received between $30,000 and $40,000 in settlement of her dower claim and it was not until this settlement had been made that the relatives heard of the existence of the other will.

BUILD BERTH FOR TALL MAN.

British Artist, 6 Feet 10, Going to War, Too Long for Ship Beds.

Among passengers to sail early today for Liverpool on the Anchor liner Tuscania will be William Barham-Jemmett, an English artist, who is six feet ten inches tall in his stocking feet. He is on his way to join the army. As there was not a berth in the cabin that would accommodate him, Purser W. S. F. Young sent for the carpenter and had him build one seven feet long so that the tall passenger will be comfortable on the voyage.

John Humphreys, another passenger, who is a Lieutenant in the British Army, said that Mr. Barham-Jemmett was too tall for trench work, and as the cavalry is not being used much in this war his only chance would be to get into the artillery.

The Tuscania was two days late arriving in New York and was delayed by cargo, so that she will not leave until 6 o'clock this morning. She had 20 first, 151 second, and 330 third class passengers, many of whom were Englishmen going home from Canada to enlist.

RULES ON LANGUAGE TEST.

Secretary Redfield Instructs Collectors as to Seamen's Law.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Secretary Redfield today sent instructions to all Collectors of Customs in regard to the language test required by the terms of the Seamen's act. The ability of members of a crew to speak and understand the language necessary for performing the duties incident to the navigation of the vessel is to be taken on the word of the Master or Captain. The Secretary's instructions follow:

"No examination under the language test is required by Section 13 of the Seamen's act or by the Department regulations. If the Collector of Customs is satisfied, upon the statement of the Master or otherwise, that his crew fulfill the requirements of Section 13, it is sufficient. If the Collector thinks a muster is necessary, or is required to have one made on complaint, then Department Circular 263 must be followed, it being specially noted that obedience to orders given by their officers in the usual line of duty is the test required."

Crescent A. C. Basket Ball Dates.

According to a promise made to the Amateur Athletic Union, the Crescent Athletic Club will not play semi-professional basketball teams this season. Only college teams appear on the New Moon schedule which was issued yesterday, and which lists games with Princeton, Yale, Dartmouth, Lehigh, Toronto University, and Pennsylvania. All the games will be played on the courts of the Second Signal Corps, on Dean Street, Brooklyn. The season will open on Dec. 1 and close on Feb. 26. The call for first practice on Nov. 3 has been issued. Last year's players, Captain Butler, Lee, Dingee, Calder, Heath, Ryan, Steinbugler, Halstead, Tuttle and Nicklas, are again available. There are three new stars in the squad in Ruddle, formerly of Yale, and Davidson and Eaton, former Wesleyan captains. The schedule:

Dec. 1, Polytechnic; Dec. 4, Seton Hall; Dec. 8, Company F, Elizabeth; Dec. 11, Princeton; Dec. 17, Yale; Dec. 22 Georgetown; Dec. 28, Lehigh; Dec. 30, Dartmouth; Jan. 3, Toronto University; Jan. 6, Dartmouth; Jan. 15, Union; Jan. 18, St. Lawrence; Jan. 21, Clarkson Tech; Jan. 29, Rensselaer Poly; Feb. 2, Franklin and Marshall; Feb. 5, Pennsylvania; Feb. 12, Rutgers; Feb. 15, Manhattan; Feb. 19, Delaware; Feb. 22, Gallaudet; Feb. 26, Drexel.

SHIPPING AND MAILS.

Miniature Almanac for Today.

Sun rises..6:26|Sun sets..5:00|Moon rises..10:54

THE TIDES.

	High Water. A.M.	P.M.	Low Water. A.M.	P.M.
Sandy Hook	12:10	12:16	6:05	7:06
Governors Island	12:48	12:45	7:10	8:03
Hell Gate	2:38	2:35	8:50	9:43

Arrived—Friday, Oct. 29.

SS Kristianiafjord, Bergen, Oct. 20.
SS Dwinsk, Archangel, Oct. 13.
SS Kansas City, Bristol, Oct. 15.
SS Maroni, Bordeaux, Oct. 11.
SS Lord Erne, Havre, Oct. 12.
SS Den of Ogil, Liverpool, Oct. 16.
SS City of Macon, Spezia, Oct. 13.
SS City of Durham, Liverpool, Oct. 16.
SS Castle Bruce, Gibraltar, Oct. 18.
SS Trinidad, Cardiff, Oct. 16.
SS Nestos, Barcelona, Oct. 10.
SS City of St. Louis, Savannah, Oct. 26.
SS Montebello, Hull, Oct. 19.
SS Athanasion, Norfolk, Oct. 27.
SS Herm, Seville, Oct. 13.

Incoming Steamships.

DUE TODAY.

San Giorgio	Naples	Oct. 14
Westerdyk	Rotterdam	Oct. 17
Baron Blantyre	Oran	Oct. 7
Evandale	Gibraltar	Oct. 14
Mesaba	London	Oct. 18
Ardgarrock	London	Oct. 14
Jemtland	Gothenburg	Oct. 15
Francisco	Hull	Oct. 15
King Bleddyn	St. Nazaire	Oct. 15
Apache	Jacksonville	Oct. 27

DUE TOMORROW.

New York	Liverpool	Oct. 23
Rotterdam	Rotterdam	Oct. 19
Vitalia	Rotterdam	Oct. 15
Dominion	Liverpool	Oct. 17
Messina	London	Oct. 17
Denis	Pará	Oct. 19
El Valle	Galveston	Oct. 25
El Paso	Galveston	Oct. 25
Manhattan	London	Oct. 10
City of Savannah	Savannah	Oct. 28

DUE MONDAY.

San Guglielmo	Almeria	Oct. 22
Malmanger	Ardrossan	Oct. 16
Duca d'Genova	Naples	Oct. 20
Rance	Bilbao	Oct. 18
Turrialba	Huelva	Oct. 16
Tivives	Jamaica	Oct. 26
Pastores	Cristobal	Oct. 28
Conoil	Cette	Oct. 14
Elbergen	New Orleans	Oct. 27
Carolina	San Juan	Oct. 27
Grayson	Ponce	Oct. 27
Comus	New Orleans	Oct. 27
Nueces	Galveston	Oct. 26

DUE TUESDAY.

Rochambeau	Bordeaux	Oct. 24
Minnehaha	London	Oct. 23
Den of Airlie	London	Oct. 20
Dalecrest	Gibraltar	Oct. 19
Guyane	St. Nazaire	Oct. 19
Hermine	Bordeaux	Oct. 18
Kangaroo	Madeira	Oct. 18
Petroleine	Dartmouth	Oct. 20
Petrolite	Copenhagen	Oct. 19
Saratoga	Havana	Oct. 30
Roselands	Genoa	Oct. 16
Teesbridge	Lisbon	Oct. 16
Waverly	Oran	Oct. 16
Wagama	St. Lucia	Oct. 20
City of Montgomery	Savannah	Oct. 30

Outgoing Steamships.

SAIL TODAY.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
St. Paul, Liverpool	8:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Havana, Havana	8:00 A.M.	11:00 A.M.
Brazos, San Juan	8:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Bermudian, Bermuda	9:00 A.M.	11:00 A.M.
Metapan, Havana	9:00 A.M.	12:00 M.
Santurce, Turks Island	8:30 A.M.	11:00 A.M.
Mandeville, Jamaica	9:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Voltaire, Argentina	10:00 A.M.	1:30 P.M.
Oranje Nassau, Haiti	10:30 A.M.	2:00 P.M.
Cretic, Naples	———	10:00 A.M.
Medina, Galveston	———	1:00 P.M.
Proteus, New Orleans	———	12:00 M.
Huron, Jacksonville	———	1:00 P.M.
El Dia, Galveston	———	12:00 M.
Sabine, Tampa	———	1:00 P.M.
City of St. Louis, Savannah	———	3:00 P.M.

SAIL MONDAY.

Caserta, Naples	8:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Kenmon, Liberia	11:00 A.M.	1:00 P.M.
Melderskin, Argentina	3:00 P.M.	5:00 P.M.
Terence, Argentina	5:30 A.M.	7:00 A.M.

SAIL TUESDAY.

Frederik VIII., Christiansand	10:00 A.M.	2:00 P.M.
Apache, Jacksonville	———	1:00 P.M.
City of Savannah, Savannah	———	3:00 P.M.

Pacific Mails.

Postmaster Morgan announces that mails of the following dates—Hongkong, Sept. 25; Manila, Sept. 30; Yokohama, Oct. 9, and Honolulu, Oct. 20—which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Nippon Maru, were dispatched east on Oct. 26, and are due in New York today.

Postmaster Morgan announces that mails of the following dates—Manila, Oct. 3; Hongkong, Oct. 6; (Chinese) Shanghai, Oct. 9, and Yokohama, Oct. 14—which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Mongolia, were dispatched East on Oct. 27, and are due in New York on the morning of Sunday, Oct. 31.

Transpacific Mails.

These mails close at 6:30 P. M.

Guam and Philippine Islands (via San Francisco)—U. S. Transport....Oct. 31
Hawaii, Japan, Korea, China, and Philippine Islands (via San Francisco)—Nippon Maru.....Nov. 1
Hawaii (via San Francisco)—Lurline.Nov. 4
Japan, Korea, China, and Philippine Islands (via Seattle)—Union.....Nov. 5
Tahiti, Cook Islands, New Zealand, and Australia (specially addressed) (via San Francisco)—Maitai.....Nov. 6

Foreign Ports.

Arrived.

SS Helig Olav, at Copenhagen, Oct. 29.
SS Earl of Elgin, at Vladivostok, Oct. 27.
SS Magdala, at Rotterdam, Oct. 27.
SS Georgic, at Liverpool, Oct. 28.
SS Lucilina, at Havre, Oct. 27.

Sailed.

SS Moreni, from Oporto, Oct. 22.
SS Jeiling, from Shields, Oct. 29.
SS Montserat, from Corunna, Oct. 21.
SS Lord Sefton, from Liverpool, Oct. 29.
SS St. Bede, from Hongkong, Oct. 27.
SS Crewe Hall, from Santos, Oct. 28.
SS Rappahannock, from London, Oct. 28.

Passed.

SS Saxon Monarch, New York for London, passed Beachy Head.
SS Nebraskan, New York for London, passed Lizard.

By Marconi Wireless.

SANDY

GERMANS OPPOSE PEACE WITHOUT GAIN

National Liberal Party Demands Extension of the Empire's Borders on East and West.

COMBATS PREMIER'S VIEWS

Central Committee, in Resolution, Chides Him for Advocating "Too Weak a Policy."

Late German newspapers received here make the sudden yielding of Germany in the complete surrender to the American demands appear the greater surprise in view of the successful propaganda that has been waged against the German Chancellor by the leaders of his own party, the National Liberal Party, which has been critidising him as adopting too weak a policy, and has no swung the entire party organization into line, demanding outspokenly territorial annexation by Germany on the east and on the west and overseas as the sole condition of peace.

The text of the resolution to this effect, passed by the Central Committee of the National Liberal Party, and indorsing the Imperial Chancellor's chief opponent in his own party, Herr Bassermann, the leader of the National Liberals, is published in German papers of Aug. 16 just received here. It reads:

The Central Committee of the National Liberal Party declares in harmony with the transactions of the Business Committee and the District Chairman of May 16 that the result of the present war can be only a peace which, by means of extensions of our borders on the east and west and overseas, safeguards us against renewed attack in military, political, and economical respects, and repays the enormous sacrifices which the German people have made heretofore and are determined to make until the victorious end.

The Central Committee thanks its Chairman, Delegate Bassermann, unanimously and cordially for his activity, supported by the confidence of the entire party for the carrying out of these national war goals.

The Central Committee will stand solidly with the entire party against any Government that pursues these goals with rigid firmness.

While some of the German newspapers express doubts as to the wisdom of this announcement and fear that it would inevitably lead to similar expressions of divergent views by other political parties, thus shattering the Burgfrieden or political truce, the manifesto is hailed with delight and heartily indorsed by papers representing large and powerful agrarian and other big business interests.

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt says that the acceptance of this resolution with only two dissenting votes shows that it expresses the sentiments of the entire party and that, more important still, "the wish and firm will of the entire German people is expressed in these words."

Discussing the peace terms which Germany must insist upon in connection with this pronouncement of the Government party, the paper says:

"In the first place, the attitude of the Imperial Chancellor toward these war goals is a matter for gratitude—solicitude that the highest imperial official in this vital question of the German people does not find himself in agreement with the members of the overwhelming majority of the nation. This solicitude has not been done away with since then, not even by the officially announced answer of the Imperial Chancellor to the United States in which he asserted that Germany was fighting for 'a peace that would insure for it and its allies that firm safety which Germany needs for a lasting peace and for its national future.' For under those words one may have in mind very different things, and in the last analysis the ideas of what is necessary for our national future differ widely.

"Delegate Bassermann has turned against the Chancellor because he thinks the latter holds different ideas on this subject than does he himself or the National Liberal Party, and we may trust Herr Bassermann not to express these views without the most definite reasons on which to base his fears. If the Central Committee of the National Liberal Party emphasizes the fact that Delegate Bassermann has been active for these goals, it thereby states that these have not been the goals of the Imperial Chancellor, and thereby gives special significance to the concluding sentence of the National Liberal resolution, 'The Central Committee will with the entire party and solidly behind any Government that pursues these goals with rigid firmness.'

"In the first place, we would state as a certainty that the formulation of the war goals by the National Liberal Party may be sure of the approval of the overwhelming majority of the German people. 'Extensions of the frontiers on the east and on the west and overseas,' that is what we also hope for out of the immeasurable bloody sacrifices that the German Army has made and is willing still to make. Here at last the indefinite conception of the 'firm safeguards' are reduced to a quite definite formula. And we would further express the desire that a stand may be taken by leading quarters as to this formula.

"But we would like to express also in a general way the opinion that a timid evasion of a sharper formulation of the war goals is today no longer necessary nor any longer useful. For in the course of the year we have shown amply a military and economic strength that has set a world in amazement; we hold almost all of Belgium and ten of the French departments firmly in our hands, in spite of all opposition; we have conquered Courland and the greater part of Russian Poland, and are driving the Russian Army into a catastrophe. We are today no longer conquerable, can no longer force our arms be driven out of what we have conquered. Today we may, without going into details, express in all calmness the fact that we are striving for an extension of our borders, without such claim being capable of interpretation as boastful mockery.

"But cautious restraint, too, would no longer be useful. We must not only have aims but must also show them. Only a Germany that strives for an extension of power, [Machterweiterung,] that would make itself strong and its opponents weak, may count upon the confidence of its allies and of neutral States. Can we expect to find confidence among the populace of Russian Poland if we leave them in doubt as to whether they may not after the war relapse into the power of the Russian knout? May we hope some day to find the Balkan States ready to side with us if by our restraint we nourish the fear that after the war no stronger, more unassailable Germany will be their firm prop, but that the States of the Quadruple Alliance, and particularly Russia, will emerge unweakened out of the grapple of peace?

"The fact that in this war which was forced upon us for our existence we find so few friends in the world is the result, among other things, of the fact at least that we never showed firm goals for our politics; that everywhere, out of love of peace as a principle, we declared ourselves disinterested, while other States won political respect for themselves because they dared to show aims. Our waiving of extension of our power has nowhere, as we have to our pain been compelled to discover, shielded us from suspicion.

"The firm will for extension of power will therefore be the surest way to win friends for us!

"We have no doubt that the national war goals that are today formulated by the National Liberal Central Committee will meet also outside of the National Liberal Party with undivided approval. On the other side stands only Herr Liebknecht, who demands that the Government should waive all annexation. May he soon get a short and decisive answer."

The Hamburger Nachrichten, another agrarian paper, with Bismarckian antecedents, in commenting on the resolution of the National Liberal Central Committee, says:

"That is a good and cleansing resolution. Nothing of intrigues, nothing of strife between a party leader—and a statesman. One people, one will, one goal! For that our brave men out there in the field are fighting, shedding their blood, and suffering and dying; for that the rest of the people, whose efficient élite they are, is working behind the front. It is true that some spectacled theorizers who till now have remained quite untouched by the entire gigantic struggle of our fighters and its superhuman demands, are carying on their mournful and harmful game of spreading dismal sentiments and peace fancies calculated to bless peoples, without bearing in mind that other peoples are desirous of nothing less than to bless us, and without being prevented by the otherwise so strict authorities from public and unhampered discussions of their despicable 'peace goals.'"

DRY GOODS SALES INCREASE

Merchants Continue to Flock Into Market Despite Unseasonable Weather.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the dry goods trade say:

"Current wholesale distribution of dry goods shows a healthy increase over the corresponding period of a year ago, in spite of the warm weather which has tended to restrict demands upon the retailer.

"Road sales for both immediate and Spring delivery are running ahead of the past two years and merchants continue to come to the market in much larger numbers. Conditions are well ahead of a year ago."

FIXING A MARKET PRICE.

That Stated in the Invoice Does Not Necessarily Govern.

Pathe Freres, of Paris and New York, shipped to this city from Paris projecting lenses, cameras, &c. The lenses were invoiced as having a value of 135 francs each. Appraiser Sague advanced their value to 145 francs. The cameras had an invoice value of 1,300 francs, less 10 per cent., or 1,170 francs. The Appraiser added 117 francs to make market value. At the hearing before the Board of General Appraisers it was claimed by the firm that the lenses in question were of a special kind made exclusively for the United States and for the importers.

It was further set forth that Pathe Freres have a contract to that effect by which the price is stated to be 135 francs for trade advance. Assistant Attorney General Hanson for the Government, however, showed that Pathe Freres advanced their general line of this class of merchandise since the war 10 per cent.; that they did in two instances invoice the lenses to the importer at the trade advance, and, upon his calling attention to the contract existing, the importers were given a credit of 10 francs for each lens. This led Judge Sullivan to remark that action of this kind would not tend to establish the market price to be 135 francs.

"It is foreordended," said Judge Sullivan, "that there being no market for the projecting lenses in France, the invoice price should govern. This is not correct. It devolved upon the importers to show that the contract price was the market price, and if there was no market in France the cost of production or American selling price would assist in establishing their contention.

"It being shown by the special report and the documentary evidence that there was an advance of 10 per cent. on the line of this class of merchandise, we hold it would apply to the merchandise in question. As to the cameras, they are listed in the catalogue 1,300 francs and are very similar to the camera shown in the catalogue. The importers admitted they did not know whether there was a market for these cameras in France but probably there was. All the facts sustain the action of the Appraiser. The facts justify the appraised value."

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Thirty-nine companies, with aggregate capital stocks of $2,678,500, were incorporated today. They include:

Pacific and Eastern Steamship Co., navigation, forwarding, $2,000,000; Yung Kwai, Washington; Ralph W. Thomas, Charles Blandy, New York.

Steger-Garden Co., brokerage, merchandise, live stock, realty, $100,000; S. E. Hall, W. R. Sainsbury, W. H. Kellogg, 24 Broad St.

General Fibre Co. of New York, cotton products, $100,000; C. W. Breniser, W. E. Boise, D. W. Losee, 25 East 26th St.

Empire Cloak and Suit Co., women's and children's apparel, $75,000; M., J. and H. Silberman, 125 East 95th St.

The A. G. F. Operating Corporation, real estate, $50,000; W. W. Russell, J. W. Neil, W. A. Perry, 794 East 160th St.

A. E. Spencer Co., Buffalo, household specialties, $50,000; B. S. Linetty, E. L. Stutt, C. Schneider, 88 Genesee St., Buffalo.

National Foundry Co. of New York, Brooklyn, plumbers' supplies, construction, storage, warehousing, realty, $50,000; M. Nebenzahl, V. S. Loomis, L. Frendenberg, 453 5th Av., Brooklyn.

Allegany County Electric Light, Heat and Power Co., Wellsville, $25,000; J. Berger, B. Graham, C. H. C. Beakes, 206 East 12th St., Manhattan.

Kent Avenue Factory Corporation, realty, $25,000; S. Schneider, L. D. and G. F. Simpson, 173 Montclair Av., Montclair, N. J.

The Continental Realty Corporation, realty, contracting, construction, $45,000; A. H. Berghorn, D. and J. C. Fayen, 1,026 Falls St., Bronx.

The Holding and Developing Corporation, realty, $10,000; W. W. Russell, J. W. Neil, W. A. Perry, 794 East 160th St.

Naples Distilling Co., alcoholic beverages, groceries, $10,000; T. Casti, F. and A. Nappo, 106 Mulberry St.

Arthur G. Deatly & Co., stationery, printers, realty, contracting, $10,000; J. L. Bissell, E. B. and A. G. Deatly, 24 Gold St.

William Herod, Inc., Brooklyn, realty, construction, insurance, brokerage, $7,000; D. H. M. Weynberg, W. W. and W. Herod, 1,209 Sterling Place, Brooklyn.

Red Star Building Corp'n, Brooklyn, realty, $5,000; H. Rayner, C. A. Candor, H. Sinnoff, 1,299 Franklin Av., Brooklyn.

Delanson and Quaker St. Electric Light and Power Co., Duanesburg, $5,000; C. E. Washburn, E. V. Tompkins, F. W. Wilber, Quaker St.

Jameco Construction Co., Jamaica, contracting, construction, $15,000; R. C. Lipman, W. J. Spalekhaver, R. E. McLerr, 115 Broadway.

Apalachicola Northern Land Co., realty brokerage, construction, $10,000; E. M. Wills, E. Kilbourn, M. Miller, 406 Dill Place, Brooklyn.

The Simplexite Co., electricity, $10,000; R. and W. E. Nash, H. Goldstein, 48 West 117th St.

Kendis Music Publishing Co., music publishers, $7,000; C. D. Isaacson, M. Samuels, J. Kendis, 492 West 136th St.

Ideal Vending Corp'n, slot vending machines, $15,000; F. B. Hoag, E. Depuy Tracy, W. Reid Augsbury, B'way and 87th St.

American Air Purifier Corp'n, to take over stock of corporation of same name, $15,000; R. C. Hull, F. H. Lee, F. I. Quick, 259 West 130th St.

The Relief Laboratory, Newburg, drugs, chemicals, proprietary medicines, $7,000; J. Cathcart, F. and C. J. Brown, 141 Robinson Av., Newburg.

Scaredale Shirt Mfg. Co., $5,000; P. Holtzman, G. H. Epstein, A. L. Kalman, 99 Nassau St.

Theband Land Co., Buffalo, brokerage, realty, $5,000; M. E. Bechtel, C. K. and E. D. Theband, 194 Main St., Buffalo.

Authorized Empire Industrial Products Corp'n, Wilmington, Del., $500,000; representative, H. L. Brittain, 60 B'way, Manhattan.

The Havalite Corp'n, Dover, Del., metallic compounds, smokers' articles, $1,500,000; representative, Leslie S. Richards, 80 B'way, Manhattan.

Henry Grah Hershfield, Inc., Pompton Lakes, N. J., insurance brokers, $10,000; representative, A. T. Riedel, 1 Liberty St., Manhattan.

Schwarz Lace and Embroidery Co., Guttenberg, N. J., laces, fabrics, $24,000; representative, Irving M. Schwarz, 114 Fifth Av., New York.

Capital increases: National Surety Co., New York, $2,000,000 to $3,000,000; Davis-Bournonville Co., Brooklyn, $120,000 to $170,000.

Voluntary dissolutions: The Edisonia Co., Buffalo; American Miracle Co., Manhattan.

Delaware Charters.

Special to The New York Times.

DOVER, Del., Oct. 29.—Charters filed here:

Riverside Eastern Oil Co., $3,000,000, to mine and produce oil, petroleum, minerals of all kinds; incorporators, local Wilmington, Del., parties, Herbert E. Latter, Norman P. Coffin, Clement M. Egner.

National Utilities Co., $2,500,000, to prospect for, mine and deal in and with gas, petroleum, oils, &c., operate pipe lines, refineries, &c.; incorporators, local Wilmington, Del., parties, W. M. Pyle, Geo. G. Steigler, M. E. Grubb.

International India Rubber Co., South Bend, Ind., $1,000,000, to manufacture, sell and deal in and with automobiles, buy, sell and deal in casings, rubber goods of all kinds; incorporators, Geo. W. Odell, John R. Noble, all of South Bend, Ind.

The Graves Film Corporation, New York, $500,000, to manufacture, sell and deal in and with motion picture films, lantern slides, &c.; incorporators, Jas. T. McLean, Wm. H. Thatcher, Annie Segal, all of New York City.

Crossbreds in Active Demand.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to 8,400 bales. A better selection of crossbreds was in active demand and firm, Americans paying 2s for sliped lambs. Russia was a keen buyer of scoured merinos. Included in the sales of the latter were New South Wales at 2s 5d, and Queensland at 2s 3d.

COMMODITIES MARKETS

WHEAT.

An apparent shortage of cash wheat with which to make delivery in the Winnipeg market, notwithstanding the tremendous movement there during the past month, and heavy exports from America caused a sharp upward movement in the wheat market, and final prices were 1¾@2¾c net higher. In the local cash market, No. 1 durum wheat was quoted at 1.13¼, free on board, New York; No. 1 Northern Duluth, 1.07¼, and No. 1 Northern Manitoba, 1.06½, cost, insurance and freight, Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December..	..	..	1.10¼	1.07½	..

CHICAGO PRICES.

December..	1.03½	1.00¾	1.02¾	1.00¼	1.16
May	1.04¾	1.02¾	1.04½	1.02¼	1.21⅞

CORN.

The corn market was firm, although at the close of the day the October position showed a decline of ⅝c under liquidation, while the later months were ¼@⅝c higher. Export sales for the day were estimated at 200,000 bushels. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at 75½o prompt shipment.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
Oct.	63	62	62	62¾	..
Dec.	58⅝	57¾	58	57⅝	68¾
May	60	59⅝	59⅝	59¼	71¾

OATS.

The oats market was firm, closing with net gains of ⅛@¼c. Receipts were fairly liberal at interior points, but this was offset by export sales of about 750,000 bushels. The local cash market was firm; No. 3 white quoted at 41¼@42c; No. 4 white, 40½@41c; ordinary to fancy clipped, 40½@44½c, all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
Dec.	39¼	38¼	38⅝	38⅝	46¾
May	39⅞	39½	39½	39⅝	53⅞

COFFEE.

Commercial conditions in the coffee market continued strong, but longs, who had bought before the recent advance took place, were disposed to take profits during yesterday's operations and, consequently, the market for futures developed a heavier tone and at the close of the day values were 8@11 points net lower. The local spot market was firm, with Rio 7s quoted at 7½c and Santos 4s at 9¼@9½c.

Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	..	..	..	6.82
November	..	..	6.70@6.75	6.81
December	6.82	6.78	6.73@6.75	6.81
January	..	..	6.72@6.73	6.81
February	..	..	6.72@6.73	6.81
March	6.83	6.72	6.72@6.73	6.82
April	..	..	6.77@6.78	6.87
May	6.92	6.82	6.82@6.83	6.92
June	..	..	6.87@6.88	6.97
July	7.02	6.97	6.92@6.93	7.02
August	..	..	6.97@6.98	7.06
September	7.12	7.06	7.02@7.03	7.11

COTTONSEED OIL.

A very steady undertone prevailed in the market for cottonseed oil and at the close of the day values were 3 to 7 points net higher. Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	..	..	7.75@7.85	7.70
November	..	..	7.75@7.82	7.73
December	7.78	7.75	7.74@7.76	7.70
January	7.78	7.75	7.75@7.77	7.71
February	7.87	7.85	7.81@7.86	7.79
March	7.95	7.91	7.91@7.92	7.84
April	8.03	8.00	7.98@8.01	7.92
May	8.13	8.06	8.04@8.06	8.01

PROVISIONS.

The provision trade has become somewhat alarmed over the appearance of hog cholera in the country and prices yesterday were again strong with good buying by both commission houses and packers. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 12,000, estimated for Saturday, 7,000; Kansas City received 5,000, and Omaha, 2,000.

CHICAGO PRICES.

Lard—	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
Jan.	9.10	9.05	9.10	9.05	10.75
May	9.35	9.30	9.35	9.30	9.92
Ribs—
Dec.	..	..	..	..	10.20
Jan.	9.12	9.02	9.12	9.02	9.87
Pork—
Dec.	14.62	14.20	14.60	14.12	18.95
Jan.	16.75	16.45	16.75	16.45	19.15

SUGAR.

After opening dull and inactive, 4 points lower to 2 points higher, with no sales on the call, futures advanced sharply on reports of higher refined quotations and the firmness shown in the spot market. The market closed firm, 2@12 points net higher, with total sales for the day 2,400 tons. Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
November	3.35	3.35	3.31@3.35	3.25
December	3.25	3.22	3.26@3.27	3.14
January	3.10	3.10	3.10@3.11	3.06
February	..	..	2.99@3.01	2.95
March	..	..	3.02@3.04	2.99
April	..	..	3.08@3.09	3.04
May	3.16	3.16	3.13@3.15	3.10
June	..	..	3.16@3.18	3.14
July	..	..	3.20@3.23	3.18
August	..	..	3.22@3.25	3.20
September	..	..	3.24@3.27	3.22

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts yesterday, 7,884 packages. No material change in the situation. Choice and fancy grades of creamery are fairly sustained, though some houses have a little surplus stock which they seem anxious to dispose of. Rather more of the medium qualities offering and some concessions are being made. Renovated, ladles and packing stock unchanged, but there is some firmness in packing stock due to short supplies. Creamery, extras, (92 score,) 29¾@29¾c; higher scoring, 29½@30c; firsts, 27@28½c; seconds, 24½@26½c; thirds, 23@24c; State dairy, finest, 28½; good to prime, 26@28c, common to fair, 22@25½c; process, extras, 24½@25c; firsts, 23½@24c; lower grades, 22@23c, imitation creamery, firsts, 23@24c; ladles, current make, firsts, 22@22½c; seconds, 21@21½c; lower grades, 19½@20½c; packing stock, June make, fine, 21c; current make, fine, 20¼@21c; No. 2, 20c; lower grades, 18@19½c.

EGGS.—Receipts yesterday, 7,973 cases. Market generally quiet and unchanged. Very high qualities of fresh gathered continue scarce, and are held firmly. Buyers at the higher range of prices are very critical as to quality. Medium and low grades moving rather slowly, and while recent accumulations have been somewhat reduced, there are still liberal offerings which are not easily sold at prices that meet owners' views of value. Storage eggs have had a little more trading, but there is no real life to the market, and offerings are more than ample, at unchanged prices. Near-by white eggs are very scarce; fancy new-laid qualities command extreme prices; mixed and irregular lots show a wide range of value. Fresh gathered, extra fine, per dozen, 37@38c; extra firsts, 35@36c; firsts, 30@34c; seconds, 27@29c; thirds and poorer, 23@26c; dirties, No. 1 22½@23c; No. 2 and poorer, 19@20c; checks, good to choice, dry, 21@21½c; culls and inferior, 18@20½c; refrigerator, special marks, fancy, 26c; firsts, 24½@25½c; seconds, 23@24c; thirds or poorer, 20@22½c; dirties, 18@21c; State, Pennsylvania, and near-by hennery whites, fine to fancy, 55@60c; ordinary to good, 38@53c; gathered whites, ordinary to fine, 38@50c; Western gathered whites, 39@45c; State, Pennsylvania, and near-by hennery browns, 40@43c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 39@43c; near-by refrigerator whites, 37@40c.

BUSINESS WORLD

Buyer's Wants

50 Cents per agate line each insertion. Count six words agate to a line.

WILL PAY CASH for quantity of messaline, white, light blue, and pink; must be cheap. Schwartz & Jungman, 143 West 29th St.

DRESS FASTENERS wanted; all sizes. Telephone 5893 Franklin.

WANTED, 1,000 fur-trimmed plush coats for cash. L 108 Times.

BUYING cheviots, zibelines, broadcloth; also corduroys. 5th Floor, 12 West 31st St.

JOBBER looking at dresses and waists, Lederman, 647 Broadway.

FUR-TRIMMED COATS.
In plushes, corduroy, velours, mixtures; 1,000 for immediate delivery. Kaplan Bros., 150 West 22d St.; Chelsea 2198-8618.

1,000 PLUSH and corduroy fur-trimmed coats; also plushes and corduroy fabrics wanted. N. Hurwits & Son, 11 W. 25th St.

HAVE ABOUT 3,000 FUR-TRIMMED PLUSH COATS on hand for immediate delivery. Morris Jaffe, 40-46 W. 25th St.

DRESS FASTENERS for sale; immediate delivery. Abramson, 138 West 22d. Chel. 8975.

JOBS desired for cash in highest-grade Ladies' and Children's Dresses and Suits, Plush and Winter Coats, Skirts, Waists, Petticoats, Furs, Sweaters. Sumner, 8 Lispenard St. Franklin 4343.

DESIRE at once jobs ladies' suits, dresses, skirts and waists; will pay cash. Eastern Merchandise Co., 456 Broadway. Spring 358.

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday...3@3½ per cent. for the best names
Thursday...3@3½
The quotations are for six months' paper.

Offers a Novelty Veiling.

The popularity of veilings, particularly bordered goods, has become so great that one of the local houses has introduced floral-bordered chiffon veils with a satin edge. These veils, which are 72 inches long, are priced at $8 a dozen and are offered in these colors: Black, white, brown, tan, navy, emerald, prunelle, sky, pink, lavender, champagne, gray, Copenhagen, beige, and rose.

Ribbons for Spring.

While the immediate demand for ribbons has slackened up a bit, the manufacturers are taking very fair orders for Spring. One of the styles that has been particularly well favored by buyers is a two-toned glace moire in evening shades. Glace effects are also being well received by the millinery trade in 60 ligne widths. The latest novelty brought over from Paris consists of a narrow tinsel ribbon with brocaded flowers. Warp prints have not been so well favored, the trade leaning toward striped satins in hairbow effects.

Well Booked Ahead on Shirts.

The orders which the retailers are placing for shirts for next Spring show a varied demand. Full covered and half covered grounds, stripes, and figures are all selling well. The leading factor in the shirt trade reports that the business booked so far is equal to that which was taken for the Spring season up to last April. Later on in the season the demand for white goods is expected to show exceptional strength. Stiff cuffs are selling a little better than they did last year. In the kindred line, collars, manufacturers are doing a nice business. The initial cutting of one of the latest styles amounted to 225,000 dozen, and the design has proved so popular that production has been at the rate of 40,000 dozen a week.

The Cotton Exports Situation.

There has been no great feature to export business in cotton goods in this market in the last week. Business, on the whole, has not been large, which fact can be attributed, in part at least, to the higher prices that are now being asked on almost all lines of goods that enter into the export trade. The demand for cotton duck, while not so heavy as it has been, is good enough to give sellers the whip hand, this being true in the case both of army and commercial duck. From all accounts the demand for these goods still exceeds the supply. About the best business of the week, proportionately, has come from the West Indies and the Philippines, though the demand from Latin America has not been unattractive. China, India, the Antipodes, and the Red Sea district have not been very heavy buyers.

Shoe Business Continues Good.

Now that the shoe styles for Spring are beginning to take more definite form, the business received from shoe salesmen now on the road is even better than it has been. Not only is the buying of staple and semi-staple goods as active as it was earlier in the season, but many buyers, particularly for the larger stores, are committing themselves on novelties more than has been the case. From all accounts, this is one of the best seasons the wholesalers have seen in some time, notwithstanding the increased cost of hides and leather and other raw materials. Fall business continues good in the metropolitan territory, dark tans for both men and women selling freely. Slippers having four or five straps or cut-out vamps are being bought for evening wear. Men's slippers of the Cavalier type, with turned-over cuffs, are also in demand.

Heavy Buying at Rug Auction.

Continued heavy buying characterized the fifth day of the rug and carpet auction of Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company yesterday. The lines offered were confined to rugs, and included axminsters of different classes, as well as the various velvet floor coverings of the firm. While it was evident that many out-of-town buyers had filled their requirements, yesterday's bidding was brisk, although prices obtained ranged from regular card rates in some classes. The receipts so far were estimated at close to $3,000,000. The wind-up of the auction will come today, when the 282 lots remaining are expected to be cleaned up shortly after the lunch hour. The sale opens with lot 2,241, covering 12-4 Carlton axminsters.

Colored Cottons are Stronger.

The feature of the colored goods end of the local cottons market has been the further advancing of prices on several lines of Southern and Eastern staple ginghams from a quarter to a half cent a yard. These advances are attributed to the rising cost of cotton, the rapid depletion of supplies of color stuffs, and the consequent increase in the cost of producing colored yarns. An advance in a leading line of Canadian was also put through in the course of the week, also due to the increasing scarcity of dyes. In some cases a substitute for indigo has been used on these goods, but the substitute is reported almost as scarce now as the synthetic article. The colored napped goods situation is also stronger, and it is reported that offers to pay substantial premiums for certain of these fabrics were unavailing so far as getting the goods out was concerned.

Buying at High Prices.

Commenting on modern merchandising methods, a manufacturer said yesterday that the buyers connected with stores nowadays have much in common with the man who ventures in Wall Street for the first time. "The principle upon which many buyers seem to operate now," he said, "is to buy when the market is high and make no purchases at all when there is a temporary let up in the demand and prices have come down to a reasonable basis. Whatever may be said of the merchandising methods employed in the past, it is certain that the rule to buy low and sell high brought prosperity to many of the retail houses that are trying to find out now why their profits are not as large as they should be. The abrupt changes in style cannot give a satisfactory answer to the question, 'What is wrong with modern merchandising methods?' The answer, I think, is that there are very few merchants, in the true sense of the word, today."

Grain Arrives in Bad Shape.

A cablegram received by the Department of Commerce from the Consul General at Genoa, Italy, calls attention to the unsatisfactory condition in which certain shipments of American grain have reached that port. He reports: "Four steamer cargoes of wheat and one of oats arrived from Newport News. All in very bad condition, heated, musty. Have taken samples. In the interest of American commerce shippers should use the greatest care in the storage of grain, being certain that it will stand shipment without heating." In transmitting this message Secretary of State Lansing suggested that it is possible that some method may be found which will discourage the conditions shown by the cable, in spite of the present lack of control over outward-bound cargoes.

Gray Goods Demand Better.

The demand for gray goods in this market was reported better yesterday than for the past several days. Not only was a pretty good business done on printcloths, but quite a few orders for sheetings, most of which came from the converting trade, were booked during the day. Among the constructions that moved were 36-inch, 5.50s at 4¾ cents, and four-yard, 64-60s at 5⅞ and 6 cents, the latter price being paid for special goods. A fair business on drills was also reported, including some 4.20s at 5¼ cents. On 39-inch 68-72s some good business from first hands was told off at 5½ cents, while several other constructions moved during the day at prices which showed shadings of a sixteenth to an eighth of a cent from the prices listed below. Not all houses agreed as to prices, but more or less nominally they were:

39-inch, 80-90s....6⅝@ 8½-inch, 64-56s..4¼c
39-inch, 72-76s....5⅝@ 8½-inch, 60-52s..4⅜c
39-inch, 68-72s....5¼c 39½-inch, 60-48s..4¼c
39-inch, 64-44s....4c 27-inch, 64-60s....5¼c
38½-inch, 64-60s..4⅝@ 27-inch, 56-52s....3c

IMPORTS WERE LESS.

Those Entered at This Port Last Week Were Valued at $13,029,158.

After making a fair showing in the week before, general imports dropped in the week ended Oct. 23, according to the Custom House report issued yesterday, and amounted to only $13,029,158. In the preceding week the entries were $18,267,066, and in the week before that $14,982,040. Dry goods imports showed a slight gain over the week before.

Aniline color imports were higher than for several weeks, their value being $45,065, while indigo, mostly synthetic, was appraised at $18,895. Dyewood imports had a value of $20,413 and dyewood extract $4,729. Imports of fustic were down to $45. Argols were entered to a value of $30,606.

Imports of watches, jewelry, and precious stones amounted to $841,975, while furs brought in totaled $172,554. Hides, leather, and findings amounted to $1,507,579, while india rubber manufactures and waste were set down at $1,115,541. Sugar imports were returned at $1,431,003, wool at $223,614, coffee at $1,651,689, and raw cocoa at $565,099.

Dry goods entered for consumption were valued at $1,434,296, silk entries being returned at $533,532. In the week before dry goods entered for consumption were returned at $1,418,251, silk entries being $482,129. Withdrawals from bonded warehouses last week aggregated $615,993, while warehoused goods had a value of $948,429. In the corresponding week last year the entries were, respectively, $561,525 and $1,113,122.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

In Town.

AMERICAN 5 AND 10 CENT STORES.—Judge Hand yesterday appointed John S. Shepherd, Jr., receiver for the American 5 and 10 Cent Stores, a corporation with offices at 315 Fifth Avenue. Liabilities about $218 000.

KNICKERBOCKER COUCH AND CHAIR COMPANY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the Knickerbocker Couch and Chair Company, manufacturers of chairs at 893 East Fourth Street, by New York Couch Frame Company, Manhattan Dining Room Chair Manufacturing Company, and Samuel Usherenko.

MURPHY DOOR BED COMPANY OF NEW YORK.—Judge A. N. Hand has appointed Percival Wilds receiver for the Murphy Door Bed Company of New York of 1,476 Broadway. The company owes $25,500, and the only tangible assets are five license agreements to sell patented beds, for which licenses Eugene C. Huber has made a bid of $1,000 cash, which has been approved by five-sixths of the creditors.

PRESSED ASBESTOS PRODUCTS COMPANY.—Judge Hand has appointed John L. Lyttle receiver of the Pressed Asbestos Products Company of 451 West Nineteenth Street.

SARAH WERDENSCHLAG, market, of 879 Amsterdam Avenue, filed petitions showing liabilities, $5,780, and assets $2,968.

J. E. MANIX COMPANY.—There was a hearing yesterday before Judge A. N. Hand on bids for the purchase of all the assets of the J. E. Manix Company of 320 Church Street. Joseph A. Arnold submitted an offer of William A. Aikman to pay the creditors 65 per cent. cash and the administration expenses. Leo Oppenheimer submitted an offer of 66 2-3 per cent. on behalf of Joseph Frankel, which was afterward raised to 68½ per cent. This offer was accepted by the Judge. John J. Morris, the receiver, reported that the liabilities were about $290,000 and the net assets $227,040, which included $120,000 cash on hand.

RUSH-LOWE ENGINEERING COMPANY, millwright, at 80 Warren Street, has made an assignment to John F. Forrester.

Out of Town.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 29.—William G. French, a physician. Liabilities $12,023, assets $748.

Weekly Failure Report.

Bradstreets reports 328 business failures in the United States during the week, against 225 for the previous week and 259, 277, 267, and 200 for the corresponding weeks of 1914 to 1911. The Middle States had 80; New England, 43; Southern, 75; Western, 66; Northwestern, 29 and Far Western, 33. Canada had 47, against 34 for the preceding week. About 88 per cent. of the number of concerns failing had less than $5,000 capital and 9 per cent. had from $5,000 to $20,000 capital.

JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

In New York County.

Archard, Louis—A. Atti et al.....$1,278.72
Amabile, John or Giuseppe—D. Blaustein 150.00
American Artificial Silk Mfg. Co.—C. W. Wegener 29,672.42
Batcheller, Henry C.—H. Herman & Co..101.31
Biener, Antoinette J.—Adam Buchsbaum Co..... 439.87
Blum, Richard—M. N. Rosenthal 712.11
Bernstein, Harry—Sonneborn Bros..... 150.03
Burnett, Agnes T.—U. Thorley..... 114.29
Ball, John—M. E. Baldwin..... 546.18
Brooklyn Dress and Form Co., Inc.—Topton Foundry Co..... 113.77
Buffalo Electric Vehicle Co.—A. M. Austin 1,353.50
Caiser, Nathan—M. G. Palliser..... 171.56
Cantwell, Margaret T.—Princess Anne Co. 124.41
City of New York—H. Sawcett..... 2,778.50
Cogut, Charles—A. Berliner et al..... 275.31
Corene, Tony and Frank—Knickerbocker Distilling Co., Inc. 144.69
Cea, Rocco and Mariano—Cea Bros..... 250.00
Criterio Hat Co., Inc.—Adams Mfg. Co..116.78
Cammann, Herman H., Edward C. Cammann, Charles H. Voorhes, and William Floyd—D. Keaus 1,989.99
Cuba, Isidore—M. Gitnik et al..... 627.72
E. B. Halsey Co., Inc.—C. A. Halpin..777.11
Elias, Hannah—S. C. Aus..... 208.51
Ehrenreich, Solomon, Abraham & Wolf—C. Lang 252.15
Friedman, Louis—Land Feed Co. of New York, Inc..... 150.73
Finkelstein, Isidore, and Minnie Zacon—ick—S. Tauber 241.04
Fowler & Wells Co.—W. Stewart..... 509.10
Farley, Robert E., as't—E. M. Granger 18,400.10
Fisher, Abe—J. Weil et al..... 6,902.84
G. H. Masten Realty Co.—Efficiency Society, Inc., costs..... 117.70
Goldfard, Isaac—National Fisheries Co., Inc. 167.56
German-American Importing Co.—C. Hubbe 293.69
Hooker, Elon H.—G. H. Curtis..... 2,661.61
Hacker, Jacob—J. Friedman..... 584.92
Hunt Novelty Co.—Feldman Bros..... 127.05
Harford, Harry C.—J. M. Cibson..... 220.07
Howell, George, or Co., H. Wolff, and Will Wortman—L. L. Grey..... 117.07
L. Rosner & Son—J. Slutzky..... 157.99
Kalish, Louis A.—I. A. Watts et al..

Exempt from Federal Income Tax

City of Omaha
(Formerly South Omaha)
5½% Bonds

Due April 1st, 1935—Optional 1925.

Legal investment for Savings Banks in New England

Acceptable as security for Postal Savings Deposits

Price to yield 4½%

Particulars of these and other issues of Municipal Bonds yielding up to 6% on request for Circular B-103.

Spitzer, Rorick & Co
Successors to
SPITZER & CO
Established 1871
5 Nassau Street, New York
Toledo Chicago

For Sale

100 Hopkins & Allen Arms
25 E. W. Bliss
25 Savage Arms

Inquiries Invited

Gilbert Eliott & Co.
Specialists
27 Pine St., N. Y. Tel. John 6210

New Secured Debts Tax Law

The text of the New York law and a summary of the essential details of the tax and tax exemption statutes, which directly affect bonds and similar securities owned by residents of New York State, will be furnished on request.
Send for Booklet 60

Harris, Forbes & Co
Pine Street, Corner William
NEW YORK

J.K.Rice, Jr. & Co. Buy & Sell

Aetna Explosives Com.
Babcock & Wilcox
Computing-Tabulating-Recording
Empire Steel & Iron
E. W. Bliss
Niles-Bement-Pond
New York Shipbuilding
Remington Typewriter
Singer Manufacturing
Scovill Manufacturing
Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
Winchester Repeating Arms

J.K.Rice, Jr. & Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

We wish to buy

Penn. Co. Tr. Ctfs. 3½s, 1937, 1941-2
Burlington, Cedar Rap. & Nor. 5s
Washington Terminal 4s
New York & Erie 4½s and 5s
Duluth St. Railway 1st 5s
Pacific of Mo. First 4s & Second 5s
Wabash 2d 5s
C., B. & Q. Joint 4s

John H. Davis & Co.
Tel. 345 Rector. 10 Wall Street.

Henry Clews & Co.
11, 13, 15, 17 and 19 BROAD ST.
MEMBERS N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE
Stocks and Bonds bought and sold on commission. Also carried on conservative terms. Deposit Accounts received subject to check at sight. Interest paid on daily balances.
INVESTMENT SECURITIES
TRAVELERS' LETTERS OF CREDIT
DRAFTS ON LONDON AND PARIS
BRANCH OFFICES
500 Fifth Ave. 953 Third Ave.
3122 Broadway 96 Warren St.
50 Union Square 16 Court St., B'klyn

Du Pont Powder
Hercules Powder
Atlas Powder

Josephthal, Louchheim & Co.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange
Phone 9300 Rector. 61 Broadway, N. Y.

THE MANILA RAILROAD CO.
(Southern Lines)
First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds

Coupons due November 1, 1915, of the above Bonds will be paid on presentation at our office on and after that date.

SPEYER & CO.
New York, October 29, 1915.

E. C. Randolph
Members New York Stock Exchange.
111 Broadway, New York.
Bond and Open Market Securities Department,
T. F. SHIELDS, Mgr.
Dealers in Investment and Other Securities of the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

Wm. A. Read & Co.
New York
Chicago Philadelphia Boston London

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Upturn as Violent as Decline Carries Prices Back—Rails Are Very Strong.

The rumor of peace negotiations having served its purpose with those speculators who wished to see the stock market react, it was cast aside as unimportant, and the quick rally engineered in the last few minutes of Thursday's session was continued at the opening of yesterday's market. It was a rare combination of bullish news that greeted traders as they looked through their morning newspapers, for with the categorical denial of any disposition on the part of the Allies to talk peace under the existing condition there was printed Judge Gary's statement that "at present the demand for pig iron and various lines of steel is in excess of the producing capacity of the United States, with nothing to indicate that there will be a decrease in the demand for any of these products for some time," and news of the arrangement of additional credits for the Allies.

The opening was very strong, the first sale of steel showing an overnight recovery of ⅝, and many of the war order stocks gains of 2½ points. So wide was the gap between Thursday's last figures and the opening prices yesterday that a slight reaction at once set in, but the market soon took its tone from the rails and stiffened all around. It was regarded as a good sign that the activity increased with the recovery, making the day's sales the largest during the week. The industrials were again popular, but there was an even greater demand for the rails. Southern Pacific touched par for the first time in more than a year; Erie made a new high at 44¼ for the common, and Canadian Pacific sold one time at 185½, closing at 183⅞, with a net advance of 7⅜ points.

The industrials, which had been so roughly handled on Wednesday and Thursday, were quick to respond to the better feeling and the advances which took place in some of the much maligned war specialties not only extinguished the loss recorded in Thursday's break, but left a net gain. Baldwin Locomotive ranged from 128¼ to 137, and closed with a gain of 8½ points, while Studebaker swung from 158½ to 172½, closing with a net gain of 10. Maxwell common recovered 5½ points of its loss, and Crucible 2⅜. The effects of the scare received two days earlier appeared to have worn completely off by the end of the session, and traders were in many cases more bullish than they had been for days.

If the market had not been in good position it is likely that the news of an operation upon J. P. Morgan would have affected it. News of his attack came as a bolt from the blue sky, even to his closest associates, but the Street at once accepted the bulletin's statement that there seemed no occasion for alarm.

One reason for the better tone enjoyed by the security markets is undoubtedly to be found in the improvement in the foreign exchange situation. There is no assurance in the recovery that rates will not go to new low levels, but the quick response made to the news of arrangements for the use of upwards of $70,000,000 of the funds provided through the Anglo-French loan showed that the amount of bills pressing for sale is less than has been supposed. Demand sterling grew much stronger Thursday afternoon with the announcement that a call for 15 per cent. of the loan proceeds had been made, and it made a further slight advance yesterday, closing at $4.64⅞.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

RESERVE BANKS DISCOUNT RATES.

	Days. 10 or Less.	Over 10 up to 30.	Over 30 up to 60.	Over 60 up to 90.	Over 90.
Boston	3	4	4	4	5
New York	3	4	4	4	5
Phila.	3	4	4	4	5
Cleveland	3½	4	4	4½	5
Richmond	4	4	4	4	5
Atlanta	4	4	4	4	5
Chicago	4	4	4	4½	5
St. Louis	3	4	4	4	5
Minneap.	4	4	4	4½	5
Kan. City	4	4	4	4	5
Dallas	4	4	4	4½	5
San Fran.	5	3½	4	4½	5

*Notes maturing in not more than 90 days secured by cotton or other staples, warehoused and insured, or in course of shipment, are discountable at the special rate of 3 per cent.

BANK ACCEPTANCES.

Sixty days	2¼@2¼
Ninety days	2¼@2¼

COLLATERAL LOANS.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Renewal Rate.
On call	2	1¾	1¾	1¾

ON TIME.

60 days	2¼	5 months	2¾@3
90 days	2¼@2¾	6 months	2¾@3
4 months	2¾@3

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Best Known Names.

4 months	2¾@3	6 months	3 @3¼
60 to 90 days			3

Other Names.

4 months	3¼@3½	6 months	3½@4

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.

Range of Sterling.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Chge.
Demand	$4.65⅝	$4.64⅜	$4.64⅞	+ .00⅜
Cables	4.66⅜	4.65⅛	4.65⅝	+ .00⅝

Closing Rates.

Demand; (or check.) Cable.

London	$4.64⅞	$4.65⅝
Paris	5.20⅜	5.18
Switzerland	5.33	5.32
Scandinavia	26.20	26.30
Berlin	.81½	.81⅝
China—
Hongkong	49.35	49.50
Shanghai	56.00	..
Singapore	37.50	..
Greece	5.17	5.18
Holland	.41⅞	.41⅜
India—
Bombay	38.00	..
Calcutta	38.75	..
Italy	6.42⅜	6.41⅜
Japan—
Kobe	49.37	49.45
Yokohama	49.12½	..
Philippine Islands—
Manila	49.62	49.75
South America—
Buenos Aires	.41⅞	.41⅜
Rio	.23⅛	.23⅞
Spain	..	19.00
Austria	14.68	14.78
Russia	..	34.12

TIME BILLS ON LONDON.

Bankers. 60 Days.	Bankers. 90 Days.	Commercial. 60 Days.	Commercial. 90 Days.
$4.61¾	$4.59⅝	$4.60	$4.58

Clearing House Figures.

New York Clearing House exchanges, $463,508,267; balance, $23,532,681; Sub-Treasury credit balance, $570,273.

The local banks have gained $9,233,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations this week.

Domestic Exchange.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, 15c discount; St. Louis, par; San Francisco, 35c premium; Montreal, 15⅝c premium.

Bar Silver.

London, 24 1-16d, up 1-16d; New York, 49⅜c, up ⅛c.

THE TREASURY STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Receipts and expenditures:

	This Month.	Fiscal Year.
Customs	$15,099,236	$41,089,039
Ord. int. rev.	31,300,735	120,231,754
Income tax	867,844	11,912,945
Miscellaneous	2,575,487	13,527,670
Total receipts	$50,743,303	$207,361,410
Excess of ord. disburse. over ord. rec.	4,090,883	37,486,800
Excess of total disburse. over total rec.	5,413,214	36,843,715
Expenditures	54,834,186	244,848,211

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Foreign Selling of Rails.

Foreign holders of American railroad stocks have taken advantage of the improved market here to sell large amounts of their holdings this week. Certain international banking houses are understood to have sold for European account more than $1,000,000 each of railway securities since Monday, the bulk of which was stock. The fact that the market absorbed the offerings with ease is displayed in the persistently firm to strong tone of prices that has prevailed. Kansas City Southern, Erie, and others of the lower-priced issues are reported to be those in which foreign liquidation was particularly noticeable, and these shares have stood among the leaders in point of strength.

***

Exchange Rates Rise Sharply.

The buying of exchange to make remittances to London and Paris for securities sold in New York was said by brokers to be a leading factor in yesterday's upturn of rates. In contrast with a quotation of $4.61½ established Tuesday, demand sterling sold up to $4.65¾. A dollar brought yesterday 5.92¾ francs in checks on Paris, against 5.97½ at Tuesday's low point. A stimulating influence also was the call for payment of 15 per cent. of the Anglo-French loan subscriptions, and the day was different from preceding ones of the week in that the demand for exchange generally was better.

***

Trust Company Shares Advance.

The bid price for Guaranty Trust Company stock stood at $740 a share yesterday, a gain of $40 over the last quotation recorded in a sale the day before. At the close of last week the bid was below $650. From the rapid upturn two rumors had their origin, one that the capital shortly would be increased from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, and the other that the stock would be put on a 32 per cent. annual dividend basis next quarter. The trust company has paid 24 per cent. a year for some time, and last quarter the rate stood at 32 per cent. through the distribution of an extra payment of 2 per cent. Neither report received confirmation from the management.

***

The Rails.

There were no tips in circulation yesterday on particular rail stocks. The wave which swept through the financial district covered the whole field of railroad stocks. Out of twenty-nine railroad stocks on the New York Stock Exchange list of fairly active stocks only three failed to show gains. They were Chicago & Alton, Rock Island, and Erie first preferred. The biggest rises were in Canadian Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern, Illinois Central, Minneapolis & St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, Wisconsin Central, Reading, and the new Wabash stocks The movement had started on Thursday, when the war stocks broke heavily. It was thought then that big traders were only switching accounts from the war stocks to safer issues. It appeared yesterday, however, that the general public had a hand in the game.

***

Canadian Pacific.

Canadian Pacific's net rise of 7⅜ points did not come as a general surprise. In some quarters the stock was called a war stock. The largest railroad repair shops on the American continent, owned by the Canadian Pacific and situated near Montreal, it was said, were supplying war materials to England's armies. In addition, it was contended, recent earnings on the land lines and the big earnings from the Canadian Pacific's fleets justified the rise. Last December, when the Exchange opened, Canadian Pacific sold between 154 and 160. The highest price reached last year was in January, when it touched 219. In August, 1912, the stock sold at its record high price of 283, or about 100 points above yesterday's close.

***

Southern Pacific.

Although not figuring among the railroad stocks which made the largest gains of the day, Southern Pacific crossed par, excelling previous records for 1915 and 1914. This is the highest point reached by this stock since April, 1913, when it sold at 103. Since that time the Pennsylvania Railroad sold $17,000,000 of its Southern Pacific stock, and if this stock is on the market today the floating supply may be larger than usual. The highest price reached in 1913 was 110. The Southern Pacific weathered three bad years in succession, but came out of the test in good condition and able to handle the present increasing business.

***

12,000 Steel at 87 1-2.

A sale of 12,000 United States Steel common on one order took the stock to 87½ yesterday, late in the afternoon. It was learned that 10,000 shares of this 12,000 shares was purchased by one broker. Traders said yesterday that this represented the largest single order executed in Steel since the reopening of the Exchange. The previous record for the year was made last week, when 5,000 shares were purchased in a lump. Continued buying took Steel to 87⅝, the high point for the day.

***

Encouragement.

Shortly after the Wabash reorganization plan was declared operative there were reports that some of the stockholders were complaining that they had not assented to the plan and paid the assessment. Less than 2 per cent. of the old stock paid the assessment, the bondholders providing all the rest of the money needed. If those who held out were disappointed two weeks ago their remorse must be greater today, for all of the new Wabash stock issues, the common, the preferred A, and preferred B have shown substantial advances. The stocks also appear to have a good following. This must be encouraging for the bankers who thought well enough of the reorganization plan to underwrite it. That the holders of the old Wabash bonds realized their opportunities, however, is evidenced by the fact that the underwriters were called upon to subscribe only a very small amount of the assessment.

RAILWAY EQUIPMENT BONDS.

The following are quoted on a percentage basis:

Name.	Maturity.	Rate.	Bid.	Ask.
Atl. Coast Line	1916-'23	4 @4½	4.40	4.35
Balt. & Ohio	1916-'25	4½	4.45	4.35
Buff., Roch. & P.	1916-'30	4½@5	4.53	4.38
Canadian Pacific	1916-'28	4½	4.75	4.65
Car., Clinch. & O.	1916-'24	5	5.12	4.75
Ches. & Ohio	1916-'24	4½	4.75	4.50
Chi. & Northwest.	1916-'23	4½	4.50	4.30
Chi., Ind. & Louis.	1916-'23	4½	5.00	4.75
C., St. L. & N. O.	1916-'24	5	4.80	4.40
C., C., C. & St. L.	1916-'29	6	4.95	4.75
Del. & Hudson	1922	4½	4.45	4.35
Erie Railroad	1916-'23	4½@5	4.85	4.65
Hocking Valley	1916-'23	4 @6	4.75	4.50
Illinois Central	1916-'23	4½@5	4.60	4.38
Louis. & Nash.	1916-'23	5	4.45	4.25
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	1916-'23	5	6.20	5.25
Missouri Pacific	1916-'22	5	7.00	5.50
N. Y. Central L.	1916-'23	4½@5	4.80	4.60
Norfolk & West.	1916-'24	4½	4.50	4.25
N. Y., N. H. & H.	1916-'28	6	4.75	4.50
Penn. Gen. Freight	1916-'23	4 @4½	4.35	4.15
St. L., I. M. & S.	1916-'24	5	6.00	5.00
Seaboard Air Line	1916-'23	5	4.90	4.60
Southern Ry	1916-'24	4½@5	4.85	4.55
Southern Pacific	1916-'23	4½	4.50	4.35
Virginian Railway	1916-'19	5	4.75	4.45

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

FRIDAY, OCT. 29, 1915.

	Stocks, (Shares.)
Total sales	1,352,551
Same day last year	Exch. closed
Year to date	141,438,822
Same period last year	45,989,158
Average price and change 50 stocks	92.83 +1.21
Same day last year	*Exch. closed

	High.	Low.
Year's range to date	94.13 Oct. 22	58.99 Feb. 24
Range year 1914	73.30 Jan. 31	57.41 July 30
Range year 1913	79.10 Jan. 9	63.09 June 10

*Closing average July 30, 57.77.

Closing. Bid.	Ask.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Chge.
32¼	32⅝	19,100	Alaska Gold Mines	31⅞	32⅜	31	32⅛	+ ⅜
12¼	12⅜	7,000	Alaska Juneau	12⅜	12⅞	12	12⅜	− ⅛
42⅞	43	4,300	Allis-Chalmers Mfg	41¾	43	41	43	+1½
74	74¼	1,800	Allis-Chal. Mfg. pf	73¼	74½	73½	74½	+2
71⅜	71⅝	3,100	Am. Agricul. Chem	71	72	70⅝	71⅝	+ ½
65½	66	1,700	Am. Beet Sugar	65½	67⅜	65¼	65⅜	+ ¾
92⅜	93¼	50	Am. Beet Sugar pf	92	92	92	93	− ⅛
101½	101	200	Am. B. S. & F. t. r	101	101	101	101	− ⅛
206	210	800	Am. B. S. & F. pf. t. r.	208	211	206	209	+1
62¾	63	5,100	Am. Can	61	63⅜	60⅜	63	+2
106¾	107	300	Am. Can pf	106⅜	106⅞	106⅜	107⅛	+ ⅜
87	87⅜	9,100	Am. Car & Fdry	86	87¾	84½	87¼	+2⅜
140	150	200	Am. Coal Prod. x d	150	150	150	150	..
60½	62	300	Am. Cotton Oil	62½	62½	32	62	+1½
12¼	12½	500	Am. H. & Leather	12¼	12⅝	12½	12⅝	− ⅛
57	58	1,400	Am. H. & Leath. pf	56½	57½	56½	57¼	+1⅛
24⅜	25	1,200	Am. Ice Securities	23	25⅜	24⅜	25	+ ⅜
28¾	29	13,900	Am. Linseed	27	29⅜	26	29	+2⅜
47½	48	5,300	Am. Linseed pf	46	48¾	45½	47¾	+1⅝
70	70½	5,000	Am. Locomotive	68¾	70½	68	70¼	+1⅝
98	98⅜	400	Am. Locomotive pf	98⅜	99⅛	98⅜	99⅛	+ ⅜
113	113½	3,050	Am. Malt	12½	12½	11¼	11⅜	− ⅝
35	35¼	500	Am. Malt pf	37	37	35½	35¼	+1¼
93¾	94	6,000	Am. Smelt. & Ref	93	93⅞	92¾	93⅜	+ ⅜
104⅜	104½	15	Am. Smelt. & R. pf	103½	103½	103½	103½	..
98	97	100	Am. Smelt. S. pf. a	86½	86½	86½	86½	− ¼
83½	84⅛	200	Am. Smelt. S. pf B	82¾	82½	82¼	82¼	− ⅛
68⅜	68¾	1,600	Am. Steel F'dries	68⅜	68¾	67½	68⅜	+ ⅜
111½	112⅛	500	Am. Sugar Ref	111¾	112	111⅜	112	+ ⅛
124½	124¾	1,700	Am. Teleph. & Tel	124½	125¾	124½	124¾	+ ⅜
108	110½	100	Am. Tobacco pf	110	110	110	110	+ 1½
54½	55	3,500	Am. Woolen	55	55	54	55	+ ½
54¼	54½	800	Am. Woolen pf. t. r.	54	54	53¾	53½	+ ⅛
97½	97¾	300	Am. Woolen pf.	97½	97¾	97½	97¾	+ ½
96½	96⅝	100	Am. Woolen pf. t. r.	97	97	97	97	− ⅛
9	10	100	Am. Writing P. pf	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼	− ¼
83	85¼	62,000	Anaconda Copper	80	85	79⅝	83	+3½
9	10	400	Assets Realization	10	10	10	10	..
108	108¾	11,100	Atch., Top. & S. F.	107⅞	108⅞	107½	108⅛	+ ⅝
101	101¼	700	Atch., T. & S. F. pf.	101⅛	101⅛	100⅞	101⅛	..
113	114	700	Atlantic Coast Line	113	115	112	115	+1
136⅜	137	36,600	Baldwin Loco	130¼	137	128¼	136½	+8½
19¼	19⅛	15,400	Baltimore & Ohio	131⅞	131	131	131⅜	+ ⅜
18¾	18⅝	5,800	Chi., Rock Isl. & P.	19¼	19⅝	18½	18⅜	− ⅜
119	120	100	Chi., St. P., M. & O.	119⅜	119¾	119¾	119¾	− ⅜
52⅛	52¼	13,700	Chino Copper	51½	52⅝	51	52¼	+1½
69	69⅜	600	Cluett, Peabody Co	69	69	69	69	..
58⅛	58⅝	9,800	Col. Fuel & Iron	57	58½	56½	58¼	+1½
35	35½	1,000	Col. & Southern	34½	35⅞	34½	35½	+ ¾
55	56	400	Col. & South. 1st pf	54¾	56	54¾	56	+2⅜
44	50	200	Col. & South. 2d pf	45	45	45	45	+4
141¾	142	2,900	Consolidated Gas	141¼	141¾	140	141¾	+2
98½	99	1,000	Continental Can	99	99	97¼	99	+3
20½	20⅝	8,100	Corn Products Ref	19¾	20⅝	19¾	20½	+1
80¾	80	200	Corn Pro. Ref. pf	80⅜	80	80⅜	80	+1
86¼	86⅝	11,700	Crucible Steel	86½	87¾	84½	86⅞	+2⅜
106⅞	107	300	Crucible Steel pf	106½	107	106½	107	+1
117	119	100	Cuban-Am. Sugar	119	119	119	119	+1
95½	97	100	Deere & Co. pf	95½	95½	95½	95½	+ ½
149	152	800	Delaware & Hud	148¾	150⅝	148¾	150⅞	+2⅝
210	212½	100	Del., Lack. & West	212¼	212½	212¼	212½	..
10	10¼	200	Den. & Rio Grande	9⅝	10	9⅝	10	+1⅛
16½	18	100	Den. & Rio Gr. pf	18	18	18	18	− ⅝
132½	135	80	Detroit Edison Co	133¾	133½	133½	133½	..
64	72	40	Detroit United Ry	67	67	61	67	..
100	103	22	Diamond Match	100	100	100	100	..
46¾	47	12,225	Distillers' Secur	46¾	47¾	45¼	47	+ ⅜
25½	26	5,700	Dome Mines	25¼	26⅜	25¼	25⅞	+ ½
7½	8	600	Duluth, S. S. & A.	6⅞	7⅛	6⅞	7⅛	+⅛
12¾	13	2,100	Dul., S. S. & A. pf	10½	13	10½	12⅝	+2⅜
72	73	1,300	Elec. Storage Bat	73¼	73½	72½	73	+ ⅛
43¼	43¾	66,800	Erie	43	44¾	42¾	45¾	+ ⅞
57½	57⅝	17,000	Erie 1st pf	58¼	58⅞	57½	57½	− ¼
48¾	49	4,700	Erie 2d pf	48⅝	50	48⅝	49	+ ⅜
28	30	100	Federal Min. & S.	28½	28½	28½	28½	+1½
342½	350	100	General Chemical	345	345	345	345	+5
178	179	2,000	General Electric	178	179½	177	179	+3
565	570	100	General Motors	353½	355½	353½	355½	+ ½
113	114	300	General Motors pf	113	113	113	113	..
76¾	77	6,900	Goodrich (B. F.) Co	76⅞	77	75¼	77	+1⅝
124	124¼	3,800	Great Northern pf	123½	124⅜	123⅜	124	+ ⅜
51¾	51⅜	12,800	G. N. certs. ore prop	50¾	52⅛	50	51⅜	+1⅝
38⅜	39	300	Greene-Cananea	39	39	38½	38½	+ ⅛
71¼	71½	23,300	Guggenheim Explor	68	71¼	68	71¼	+3½
119½	120	200	Homestake Mining	120	120	120	120	+ ½
103	106½	800	Illinois Central	107½	108⅝	107½	108⅜	+1⅝
45¾	⅞	25,900	Inspiration Copper	45½	45⅞	45⅛	45⅞	+1
22½	22⅝	4,400	Interboro Consol	22	22⅝	22	22⅝	+ ⅛
78¼	78⅞	1,100	Interboro Con. pf	78¾	78⅞	78½	78½	..
26	26½	2,100	Int. Agricultural	26	26½	26	26	+⅛
62	63	7,500	Int. Agricultural pf	54½	62⅜	54½	62⅜	+8¾
109¾	110⅞	4,400	Int. Harvester, N. J.	109⅞	111	109⅜	111	+2⅝
106	106	1,900	Int. Nickel v. tr. ctfs	104⅝	106	104	106¼	+3¼
11	11¼	900	Int. Paper	11	11¼	11	11	+ ¼
42	42½	500	Int. Paper pf	42¼	42½	42	42	..
32⅞	33	17,400	Kansas City South	33	33¼	32½	32⅞	+ ⅞
63⅜	63¾	2,400	Kan. City South. pf	63⅜	64½	63½	63½	+ ⅜
82½	83	5,500	Lackawanna Steel	81	83¼	80½	83	+1⅞
12	12⅛	1,600	Lake Erie & West	11¾	12¾	11¾	12¾	+1⅛
2	2¼	200	Lake Erie & W. pf	2	3¼	2	3¼	+ ¼
80½	81	53,200	Lehigh Valley	80	81⅞	79½	80⅝	− ⅛
117	119	100	Liggett & Myers pf	118	118	118	118	− ½
24½	26	700	Long Island	27	27	23½	23½	− ½
27	27¾	100	Loose-Wiles Biscuit	27	27	27	27	..
180	182¾	100	Lorillard (P.) Co	182¼	182½	182¼	182½	+1½
114	116	25	Loril., (P.) Co. pf	114	114	114	114	..
127½	128⅜	2,600	Louis. & Nash.	128¼	130¼	128	129⅝	+1⅞
64½	66	100	Mackay Cos. pf	65	65	65	65	+ ¼
127	130	20	Manhattan Elev	128½	128½	128½	128½	..
83	83½	8,800	Maxwell Motors	79	83	77½	80	+1½
99⅜	100¼	800	Maxwell Motors 1st pf	100¾	100¾	99¾	100	..
62½	63	3,700	Max. Motors 2d pf	61	63	60¾	63	+3¼
104¼	104⅜	3,100	Mexican Petroleum	98½	101¼	98½	99¾	+2½
35	35¼	8,400	Miami Copper	35	35¼	34⅞	35⅛	+ ⅞
15⅜	16	4,320	Minn. & St. Louis	14	16¼	14	15⅞	+1⅞
32	33	600	Minn. & St. L. pf	31	32⅞	31	32½	+3½
32	33	15	do., odd lot	30½	30½	30½	30½	..
124¼	124½	2,900	M., St. P. & S. S. M.	121	124¼	120¾	124¼	+3
130	..	100	M., St. P. & S. S. M. pf	128½	128½	128½	128½	+1⅝
130	..	100	do., s 20 f	127⅝	127⅝	127⅝	127⅝	..
5⅜	5⅞	100	Mo., Kan. & Texas	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞	+ ⅜
13¼	15¼	300	Mo., Kan. & T. pf	14	14½	14	14½	+1⅝
5	5¼	12,200	Missouri Pacific	4½	5⅛	4⅜	5⅛	+ ⅞
107½	..	200	Montana Power pf	107⅝	107⅝	107⅝	107⅝	+ ½
..	..	30	Nat. Biscuit Co	128	128	128	128	..
81	82½	100	Nat. Cloak & Suit	82	82	82	82	−1
..	..	65	Nat. City Bank	450	450	450	450	..
33⅜	34	5,200	Nat. En. & St. Co	32¾	34	32½	33¾	+1¾
91	92	100	Nat. E. & S. Co. pf	91	91	91	91	−1
66½	67	1,500	Nat. Lead Co	66½	67	65¼	67	+1
110½	112	100	Nat. Lead Co. pf	111¼	111¾	111½	111½	+1
15⅝	15½	900	Nevada Con. Copp	15⅝	15⅝	15⅜	15⅜	+ ⅛
145	147	400	N. Y. Air Brake	147	147	147	147	+3
102⅝	102⅞	20,200	N. Y. Central	101½	103¼	101½	102½	+1
41½	44	100	N. Y., Chi. & St. L.	41	41	41	41	+1
60	65	2	N.Y., C. & St.L. 2d pf	58	58	58	58	..
82¼	82⅝	8,500	N. Y., N. H. & H.	82½	83	82¼	82⅜	+ ⅛
31½	31⅝	4,000	N. Y. Ont. & West	31½	31⅝	31½	31⅝	+ ⅛
117¾	117⅞	11,600	Norfolk & Western	117	118	116⅝	117⅝	+1⅝
114⅜	114⅝	9,000	Northern Pacific	113½	114⅝	113½	114½	+ ¾
31	31⅞	100	Pacific Mail	30¾	31⅝	30¼	31⅝	+1½
42	44	100	Pacific Tel. & Tel	43	43	43	43	+1
59⅜	59⅞	19,850	Penn. R. R.	59⅜	60½	59⅜	59⅜	+ ⅛
119½	120	100	People's Gas Chi.	119½	119½	119½	119½	+2
11	12	100	Peoria & Eastern	11	11	11	11	..
45¾	46½	100	Philadelphia Co	46	46	46	46	+ ½
38⅜	39	13,700	Pittsburgh Coal	37	39	36⅜	38	+2¼
108	109	1,200	Pittsburgh Coal pf	104	106¼	103¾	108¼	+3
72⅜	73	3,600	Pressed Steel Car	72⅜	73⅝	71¼	72⅝	+ ⅝

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Sharp Advance in Prices in Practically All the Curb Stocks —Bonds Higher.

Transactions in the outside security market yesterday amounted to 492,025 shares of stock and $125,000 of bonds.

The sales of stock were divided as follows: Industrials, 171,401; oil, 8,904, and mining, 311,720. The range of prices of all issues in which transactions were recorded was:

INDUSTRIALS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
3,400	Am.-Br. Mfg..	35	52	38	42
2,755	Am. Zinc.....	97½	98½	97½	98½
400	†Can. Car & F.106	107	106	106
580	†C. C. & F. pf..118	120	118	120
2,800	†Car. L. & P.. 9	9	9¾	8¾
230	Carbon Steel...105	103	98	105
100	†Cent. F'dry.. 15	15	15	15
100	†Cent. Fy. pf. 30	30	30	30
1,700	†Chev. Mo. Car w. i.....126	132	126	130
500	†Cramp Ship.. 91	96	91	95½
25	†Crock. Wheel.103	103	103	103
175	†Dom. Steel... 49	50	49	50
580	Driggs-Seab'y..142	143	139	143
965	Emar. Phono.... 11½	11½	11½	11½
400	Guan. Sugar... 98	95	95	95
600	†Hall Signal... 32½	32½	31½	32
200	†Hall Sig. pf.. 53	53	50	50
800	†Hendee Mfg... 34¼	34½	32½	33
550	†H. & A. Arms 59	64	58	58
40,000	†Int. Mer. Ma.. 12½	15	12¾	14¾
35,800	†In. M. M.pf.44½-45	49¾	44½	48¾
4,501	Int. Mer. Ma. Can.Tr.ctfs.. 44¼	48¼	44¼	48¼
1,100	†Int. Motors... 41	41	40	40
50	†Int. Mot. pf. 65	67½	65	66
700	Katho. Br. pf. 4¾	4½	4¼	4½
400	Kelly Sp. Tire.300	303	299	301
3,400	†Kel. S. T. w.i. 77¾	77¾	77¼	77¾
320	†Keystone Ord. 10¾	11	10¾	11
800	†Lake Tor. R. 18½	18½	16	18
500	†L. T. B. 1st pf 16½	16½	16	16
1,350	Manhat. Tr.... ¾	¾	¾	¾
1,100	Mar. of Am.. 4½	4¾	4½	4¾
22,200	Mid. Steel... 89½	92¼	89½	92¼
2,500	Corp. of R.&H. 5¾	6	5¾	5¾
525	Stand. Motors..11½	11½	11½	11¾
7,600	†St. Jo. Lead. 14	14	13¾	13¾
1,500	Stude. Rights.. 4	4¼	3¾	4¼
900	Submis. Boat.. 41	42	40½	42
1,500	†To. Pr., com.*40	40	39	39
1,000	Tri. F., ctfs... 6¾	6¾	6¼	6¾
3,000	Uni. Prof. Sh.. 2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
4,200	†U. S. L. & H. Corp., pf..... 5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾
1,800	†U. S. L. & H. Corp., pf..... 5¾	6¼	5¾	6¼
1,100	Way. O. & G. 4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
8,625	†World Film.. 4	4¼	4	4¼

OIL ISSUES.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.	Net Ch'ge.
100	†Cosden & Co.. 7	7	7	+ ⅛
10	Galena-S. Oil..159	159	159	— 1
470	†Houston Oil... 19¾	19	19¼	+ ¼
85	Illinois Pipe Li.156	154	156	+ 2
800	†Int. Petrol'm. 10	9¾	10	+ ⅛
1,060	†Midwest Ref.. 44	40	44	+ 4
1,150	Pierce Oil 14½	13¼	14¾	+ 1
35	Prairie O. & G.421	418	421	+ 2
165	Prairie Pipe Li.418	412	413	+ 1
220	South. Penn. O.346	340	346	+ 6
100	S. O. of Cal...823	318	323	+ 8
120	S. O. of N. J..482	490	490	..
14	S. O. of N. Y..200	200	200	..
85	Vacuum Oil 220	215	220	+ 2
900	Ventura Con....12¾	11½	12¾	+ ¾
3,700	†Victoria Oil.. 1⅝	1½	1⅝	..

MINING STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
1,100	††A.-C. M. Co.	18	19	18	19
1,000	††Am. Comm..	8	8	8
5,000	††Atlanta	24	24	23½	23½
1,000	Big L.Dev.Co.	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
500	††Booth	34	34	34	34
18,000	Braden Cop.(11¾-11¾)	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾
700	B. C. & Z. ctfs	4¾	4¾	4½	4½
300	Butte & N. Y..	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
800	††Caledonia..	96	97	96
37,200	†Can Copper...	1¼	2¼	1¼	2¼
10,000	†Cashboy	7	7½	7	7½
3,000	C. de P. C.w.i.	42½	42½	42	42½
14,100	††Chile Copper..	24½	25½	24½	25½
5,000	††Com. Tunnel	14	14	13	14
7,000	Con. Ari. Sm...	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
80,000	Con. Nev. U....	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
1,800	††Emma Cop...	25	28	25	28
20,000	First N. Cop..	5	6⅝	5	6
100	Goldfield Con..	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
340	Hecla Mining..	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
50	Howe Sound....	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
3,000	Jumbo Ext..	1¼	1½	1¼	1¼
10,000	Kennecott Cop.	52½	53	51½	52
15,000	††Kewanas	32	33	31½	32
800	Magma Cop..	14¾	14¾	13¾	14¾
1,000	†McKinley-Da.	30	30	30	30
2,000	††Mam. Mine..	31	31	31	31
11,500	††Mother Load.	35	35	34	34
1,800	††Nat. Z. & L..	91	96	91	95
200	New U. Bing..	3	3	3	3
2,000	Nipis'g M. Co.	6⅞	6⅞	6⅝	6⅝
3,000	††Oro	6	6½	6	6
4,300	Ray Her. w. i.	3⅞	4¼	3⅞	4¼
3,600	††Rex C. Min.	45	45	44	45
4,600	†Santa Fe Min.	4¼	4¼	4¼	4⅜
2,900	†San Tor	23	21	20	20
6,000	Stand. Sil.-Ld..	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
3,000	Stewart	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
12,000	††Success Min.	68	67	65	66
4,500	Super'n M..	26	27	26	27
200	Tonopah Bel..	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
250	Tonopah Ext...	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
200	†Tonopah Mer.	42	42	42	42
1,000	†Tonopah Tr..	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾
3,000	Tri-Bullion ..	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
20	Trinity Cop....	10	10	10	10
2,150	United Verdi..	5⅞	5⅞	5⅝	5⅝
3,000	†W. E. Con...	72	72	69	69

BONDS.

$75,000	Braden C. 6s..222	230	222	230
$6,000	Kenn't C. 5s..167	172	167	171

*Odd lots. †Unlisted. ††Sells cents per share.

***

Bid and asked quotations of issues not traded in compared with those of previous week:

INDUSTRIALS.

	Oct. 29. Bid.	Asked.	Oct. 28. Bid.	Asked.
Am.-Brit. Mfg. pf....	70	90	70	90
Brit.-Am. Tob., ord..	14	15	14	15
Brit.-Am. Tob., ord., bearer	14	15	14	15
Can. Gen. Electric..	124	127	124	127
Carbon Steel 1st pf..	80	90	78	82
Carbon Steel 2d pf..	65	75	85	95
Eastern Steel.....	87	89	87	89
Fisk Tire	122	125	122	125
Franco-Spanish Petroleum, (a prospect)..	1	1¼	1	1¼
Kelly Spr'field Tire, new 1st pf.....	92	94	92	94
Man. High Power Mar.	95	105	95	105
Mutual Profit Shar...	9	9¾	9	9¾
New York Transp....	15½	18	15	17
Pacific Gas & Elec...	53	55	53	55
Pyrene Mfg. Co....	16	18½	16	16½
M. Rumely, w. i....	21	23	21	23
Sherman Carbide	7¾	8¼	7¾	8¼
Sherman Carbide, pf.	8	15	8	15
Standard Motors....	11½	12	11½	12
Steel Co. of Canada..	35	36	34½	35½
Sterling Gum.....	2¼	2¾	2½	2¾

MINING STOCKS.

Arizona Duquesne....	37	40	37	40
Big Cottonwood.....	3	4	3	4
Goldfield Merger....	18	18½	18	19
Howe Sound.....	4	4¼	4	4¼
Majestic Mines.....	60	65	60	65
Nevada Hills.....	19	21	19	22
Sanderson Kendall..	8	9	8	10
Silver Pick.....	8	9	8	9
Tuolumne Copper....	⅝	⅞	⅝	⅞
White Knob Cop pf..	1¾	2	1½	1⅞

BONDS.

Con. Arizona 5s.....	23	30	25	30
In. Mer. Mar. new 5s	85	90	85	90
Western Pacific 5s...	33	34½	33	34½
Pierce Oil 6s.....	83	85	80	82

***

MUNITIONS STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Thursday. Bid.	Asked.
Astna Explosives....	155	159	156	159
Astna Explosives pf.	85	87	83	86
Atlas Powder.....	260	270	258	265
Atlas Powder pf.....	95	99	95	99
Bliss (E. W.).....	390	420	405	425
Bliss (E. W.) pf.....	72	80	72	80
Canadian Explosives.	400	415	390	415
Cam. Explosives pf.	100	110	100	110
Colt's Arms.....	905	925	905	925
Du Pont Pow. (new).	423	430	432	438
Du Pont Powder pf..	100	102	100	102
Hercules Powder....	422	430	424	432
Hercules Powder pf..	114	118	114	118
Midvale Steel & Ord.	89	91	92	93½
Niles-Bem.-Pond	194	200	194	200
Niles-Bement-P. pf..	100	105	101	105
Savage Arms.....	370	385	380	390
Scovill Mfg. Co.....	420	435	420	435
Winchester R. A....	2750	2900	2775	2900
Babcock & Wilcox....	142	146	145	148

STANDARD OIL STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Thursday. Bid.	Asked.
Anglo-American.....	16	16½	16¼	16¾
Atlantic Refining....	630	640	630	640
Borne-Scrymser.....	265	275	265	275
Buckeye Pipe Line...	109	112	109	112
Chesebrough Mfg Co.	710	730	710	730
Colonial Oil	150	160	150	160
Continental Oil.....	250	260	250	255
Crescent Pipe Line....	44	47	44	47
Cumberland P. L....	80	85	80	85
Eureka Pipe Line....	245	255	245	255
Galena S. Oil pf.....	135	140	135	140
Galena S. Oil.....	157	160	156	159
Illinois Pipe Line....	156	157	156	157
Indiana Pipe Line....	100	112	106	112
Int. Pet. Co., Ltd....	9¾	10¼	9¾	10¼
National Transit	31	33	31	33
N. Y. Transit.....	220	225	220	225
Northern Pipe Line..	104	108	104	108
Ohio Oil	156	158	156	158
Penn.-Mex. Fuel Co..	58	60	58	60
Prairie Oil and Gas..	420	423	415	420
Prairie Pipe Line....	418	421	418	421
Solar Refining	290	295	293	295
Southern Pipe Line...	230	235	230	235
South. Penn. Oil.....	345	350	337	342
South. West. Penn....	125	130	125	130
Standard Oil of Cal...	320	325	318	323
Standard Oil of Ind..	450	460	445	455
Standard Oil of Kan.	430	440	430	440
Standard Oil of Ky..	320	330	325	330
Standard Oil of Neb.	340	350	345	350
Standard Oil of N. J.	490	492	488	492
Standard Oil of N. Y.	190	200	191	198
Standard Oil of Ohio.	500	510	500	510
Swan & Finch.....	125	135	125	135
Union Tank	83	85	83	85
Vacuum Oil	218	225	215	220
Washington Oil	43	48	42	46

LONDON MARKET IS FIRM.

Rise in American Exchange—Money in Shorter Supply.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Money was in shorter supply today owing to month-end requirements. Discount rates were firmer and there was a good demand for Treasury bills. American exchange rose sharply 2 points, to 4.65⅝, on the announcement that some of the proceeds of the Anglo-French loan will be available in New York shortly, and the expectation of an early official announcement of steps to be taken to assist the exchange problem.

The stock market was quietly firm with the specialties leading. Japanese bonds, Canadian issues, and diamond shares were also prominent, while the strength was maintained in South Americans.

American securities opened higher in sympathy with Wall Street, and, despite the rise in exchange, closed firm.

BID AND ASKED QUOTATIONS.

Closing quotations for United States Government bonds:

	Bid.	Asked.
2s, r, 1930.	97½	..
2s, c, 1930.	97½	..
2s, r, 1918.	101	..
5s, c, 1918.	101	..
4s, r, 1925	108	..
4s, c, 1925.	106¾	..
Pan. 2s, r, 1936	96½	..

Closing quotations for stocks in which there were no transactions:

	Bid.	Asked.
Adams Ex.100	105
Am Ag Ch pf.....	98	99
Am. C & F pf.....116½	117
Am Ccal.. 22	..
Am Coal P pf.....110	116
Am Cot. O pf..... 98¼	101
Am Exp..106	111
Am Snuff.150	160
Do pf....107	108½
Am Sug R pf..... 115	116
A T & C.. 63	65
Am Tob..228	230
Do pf.... 92	95
Bald L pf.100	111
Booth Fish ..	40
Do pf.....	79
Beth S pf.163	188
B Un Gas.132	135
Brun Ter. 7½	8½
B. R & P. 75	95
Burns Bros 85	89¾
Do pf....100	110
Case (J I) pf.....	80	84
C R I & P pf. ex d. 81	91
North Am. 72	73
N W Tel.. 51	..
Ont Min... 3	3⅛
Pett-Mull.. 75	80
Do 1st pf 95	100
P. C. C & St. L.....	83
Do pf.... 95	99
P. Pr. W & C pf.....154½	..
Pitts S pf. 93¾	99
Rg 1st pf. 41¾	45
Rumely(M) Cl ctfs.... 3¾	5
Do pf.... 8	9
Do ctfs....	9
Sav. F & W 2d pf.....	42
St. L. & S. F 1st pf. 10¼	11
Sears-R pf.124½	..
S-S S & I pf.....	91
Sc P R S.125	130
Do pf....105	110
So R. M & C otfs... 60	75
Std Mill.. 77½	80
Std Oil Sub.. 51½	..
T P L Tr.106½	..
T. St L & West 4¾	5
Do pf.. 10	12
Und Fr.pf.105	110
U B & P pf..... 25	27
U C S pf.. 11¾	12
Un Cig M pf..... 105	109
Un Dry G. 23	50
Un Ry & I pf..... 65	75
U S Exp. ex div..... 42	45
U S R & I 30	34
Va-Car Ch pf..... 106	109
Va R & P. 30	45
West A B.140	142½
W-Ov pf..109	109¾
W'wth (F W) pf...120½	122½

Closing quotations for stocks in which there were transactions:

	Bid.	Asked.
Kresge(SS) Co pf....109¾	110¾
Laci Gas..102½	103½
Ligg & M.242	246
L-W B 1st pf..... 94	97
M'kay Cos 78½	80
Man B'ch. 2	8
Man Shirt. 54½	65
Do pf....103¼	115
M Dep Sts. 50	53
Do pf.... 99	100
Mex P pf.. 80	86
M. St P & S S M 1 71	76
Mon Pow.. 58½	59
M & R pf. 60	75
N. C & St. L..... 129	135
N C & S pf..... 108	110
Nat Ry s of M 1st pf. 20	23
Do 2d pf. 5¾	9
N Y. C & St. L 1st pf..... 80	83½
Do pf.... 85	88
Norf So.... 18	21
Nort & W pf. ex d. 81	91
North Am. 72	73
N W Tel.. 51	..
Ont Min... 3	3⅛
Pett-Mull.. 75	80
Do 1st pf 95	100
P. C. C & St. L..... 83
Do pf.... 95	99
P. Pr. W & C pf.....154½	..
Pitts S pf. 93¾	99
Rg 1st pf. 41¾	45
Rumely(M) Cl ctfs.... 3¾	5
Do pf.... 8	9
Do ctfs....	9
Sav. F & W 2d pf.....	42
St. L. & S. F 1st pf. 10¼	11
Sears-R pf.124½	..
S-S S & I pf.....	91
Sc P R S.125	130
Do pf....105	110
So R. M & C otfs... 60	75
Std Mill.. 77½	80
Std Oil Sub.. 51½	..
T P L Tr.106½	..
T. St L & West 4¾	5
Do pf.. 10	12
Und Fr.pf.105	110
U B & P pf..... 25	27
U C S pf.. 11¾	12
Un Cig M pf..... 105	109
Un Dry G. 23	50
Un Ry & I pf..... 65	75
U S Exp. ex div..... 42	45
U S R & I 30	34
Va-Car Ch pf..... 106	109
Va R & P. 30	45
West A B.140	142½
W-Ov pf..109	109¾
W'wth (F W) pf...120½	122½

OUT-OF-TOWN MARKETS

BOSTON.

MINING.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
30	Adventure	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
31	Ahmeek	90	94	90	94½
7,743	Alaska Gold..	31¾	32¾	31¼	32¾
60	Algomah	2	2	2	2
25	Allouez	55	65	55	65
11,555	American Zinc.	67¾	69¾	67¾	69¾
1,251	Anaconda	79½	82¾	79½	82¾
50	Arizona Com..	8	8	8	8
7,610	Butte & Sup..	65¼	67¾	64¾	67¼
123	Calu. & Ariz..	64¾	65½	64¾	65½
86	Calu. & Hecla.	548	550	443	550
980	Chino	51	52¼	51	52¼
566	Copper Range.	57¾	58	57¼	57¾
10	Daly West	2½	2½	2½	2½
375	East Butte	13½	13½	13½	13½
110	Franklin	9	9	9	9
1,345	Granby	85	88¾	85	88¼
150	Greene Canan.	39½	39½	39	39
50	Hedley	28	28	28	28
165	Inspiration ..	45½	45½	45¾	45¾
150	Island Cr. pf..	87	87	86	86
150	Isle Royale ..	29¼	29¼	29	29
50	Kerr Lake	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
210	Lake	13¾	13¾	13¼	13¼
155	La Salle	5¾	6	5¾	6
298	Mass. Cons....	11	11⅛	11	11⅛
25	Mayflower	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
80	Miami	35½	35¾	35	35
20	Michigan	2¼	2½	2¼	2½
725	Mohawk	81	81¾	80¾	81¾
15	Nevada Cons..	15¼	15¼	15¼	15¼
800	N. Arcadian...	10¾	11¾	10¾	10¾
1,195	New Idria	9¾	11	9¾	11
260	Nipissing	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾
2,262	North Butte..	30¼	32¾	30¼	32¾
80	North Lake...	1½	1½	1½	1½
150	Old Colony ..	3¾	3¾	3¼	3¼
145	Old Dominion.	54	55	54	55
10	Osceola	85	85	83	85
80	Pond Creek ..	16½	16½	16	16
25	Quincy	84	84	84	84
405	Ray Cons.	25¾	26	25¾	26
1,170	Santa Fe	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
151	Shattuck	29¾	30	28¾	29¾
5	South Lake ..	5½	5½	5½	5½
700	South Utah ..	30c	30c	27c	27c
30	St. Mary's ..	56	56	56	56
50	Superior & B.	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
375	Superior Cop..	27¼	27¾	27	27¾
15	Tamarack	51½	51½	51¼	51¼
2,450	Trinity	9¾	12	9¾	12
900	Tuolumne	46c	46c	38c	40c
410	U. S. Smelting	42¼	43¼	42¼	42¾
757	do pf	47½	47½	47	47
425	Utah Apex....	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
288	Utah Cons.	12¼	12¼	12¼	12¼
605	Utah Copper..	71¾	71¾	71¾	71¾
121	Wolverine	59½	59½	59	59

RAILROADS.

10	Atch. T.&S. F.108	106	108	108
70	Bost. & M.....	33½	34	33	33
6	Bos. & Wor. pf	46	46	46	46
10	Maine Central.100	100	100	100
10	Mass. Elec. pf..	40¾	40¾	40¾	40¾
317	N. Y., N. H. & H.	92¾	93¼	92¾	93¼
110	Union Pac....	137½	137¾	137¼	137¾
5	W. E. St. Ry..	64	64	64	64
29	do pf	83	83	83	83

MISCELLANEOUS.

50	Am. Ag. Ch...	71	71	71	71
225	do pf	98	98¾	98	98
46	Amoskeag	64	64	64	64
835	Am. Pneu. Srv.	2¾	3	2¾	3
40	do pf	16	17	16	17
160	Am. Sugar	111¾	112	111½	112
12	do pf	115¾	115¾	115¼	115¾
530	Am. Tel. & Tel.	124¾	124¾	124¼	124¼
130	Am. Woolen....	55	55	54½	55
130	do pf	79¾	79¾	79¾	79¾
4,330	A. G. & W. I.	23	24½	23	23½
1,330	do pf	93¼	93¼	92¾	93¼
17	Edison	238	238	238	238
17	Gen. Elec.	178¾	178¾	178¼	178¾
20	Mass. Gas	88¾	88¾	88¾	88¾
66	N. E. Tel.	131½	132	130	132
10	Pullman	165	165	165	165
50	Swift & Co....	118¾	119	118¾	119
127	Tor'ton	35	35¾	35	35
20	do pf	28¾	28¾	28¼	28¾
269	United Fruit.	130	133	132½	133
128	United Shoe ..	49¼	49¼	49	49
25	do pf	28¾	28¾	28¾	28¾
2,890	U. S. Steel ..	85¾	87¼	85¾	87¼
3,235	Ventura Oil...	11¾	12¾	11½	12¼
4	West. Un.	80¾	80¾	80	80¾

BONDS.

$2,000	Am. Ag. Ch. 5s	95½	95½	95¾	95¾
4,000	Am. T. & T. 4s	90	90	90	90
14,000	A.G.&W.I. 5s..	74¾	74¾	74½	74½
5,000	C. B. Q. jt. 4s	97¾	97¾	97¼	97¼
1,000	Mass. Gas 4½s	92	92	92	92
1,000	N. E. Tel. 5s.	74	74	74	74
8,000	Swift 5s	97	97	97	97
4,000	Un. Fruit 4½s	97¼	97¼	97¼	97¼
4,000	Un. Frt. 4½s..	25	96¾	96¾	96¾
5,000	West. Tel 5s..	98¾	98¾	98¾	98¾

BOSTON CURB.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Alvarado..	.80	1	La Rose....	.40	.50
Bay S Gas	.22	.23	Majestic..	.65	.70
Bingham...	7	8	McK-Dar..	.27	.32
Bohemia...	2	2¼	Mex Met..	.23	.25
Begole	.50	1	Mines of A.	2¾	3¾
Boston Ely	.20	.24	New Baltic	2¾	3¼
Butte & L.	.32	.33	N Cornelia.	8	8¼
Calaveras.	1¾	2	Nev-Doug..	.70	.80
Chief Con.	.85	.92	Old Dom r.	.50	.75
Con Ariz..	1¼	1⅞	Ohio Cop..	.12	.15
Con Cop..	1⅛	1⅜	Oneco	1	1¼
Cortez	.50	.70	Onondaga..	1¾	1¾
Crown Res.	.37	.45	S W Miami	.50	1.00
Davis-Daly	1⅞	1¾	Stew'rt M..	.65	.70
Eagle & B	1¼	1⅜	Verde Ext.	3¾	6
1st Nat C..	6	6¼	Utah Met..	9¾	9¾
Goldf Con..	1¼	1¾	Ton Belm..	3½	4
Houghton..	2¾	3¾	Tono Min..	5¾	6¼
Iron Blos..	.70	.80	Yuk'n Gold	2¾	2¾

PHILADELPHIA.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
50	Am. Gas.....	117	117	117	117
530	Am. Rys.....	32¾	36	31¾	36
4	Am. Rys. pf.	97	97	97	97
134	Buf. & S. pf.	22	22	21¾	22
170	Buf. & S. pf.	52	54	52	54
220	Brill	62	62¼	61½	62¼
113	Cambria Iron.	43	43	43	43
3,405	Cambria Steel	67½	67½	66¾	66¾
20	Con. Tra.N.J.	72	72	72	72
1,141	El. St. Ry. 2.	17¾	17¾	17¼	17¾
300	Gen. Asphalt.	34	35	34	35
120	Gen. Asph.pf.	72	72	72	72
30	Ins.Co.of N.A.	23¼	23¼	23¼	23¼
1,470	Lake S. Corp.	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾
796	Lehigh Nav..	79	81	79½	80
1,037	Lehigh Val..	80	81¼	80½	81
210	Leh. Val. Tr.	17¼	17¾	17	17¼
85	Leh. Val. pf.	38	38	38¾	38
1	Minehill	57	57	57	57
2,763	Penn. R.R

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

DECISIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—47—J. Colburn v. C. T. Wilder.—Passed temporarily.

48—Phoenix Railway Co. of Arizona v. W. P. Geary.—Submitted.

37—Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. v. The Wolf Bros. & Co.—Argument continued.

38—The Glenwood Light and Water Co. v. Mutual Light, Heat and Power Co.—Submitted.

—National Bank of Athens v. F. C. Shankelford.—Argument commenced.

41—J. W. Rase v. Van Deman & Lewis Co. 234—W. V. Tanner v. J. T. Little; and 242—F. S. Pitney v. State of Washington.—Five hours allowed for argument.

Adjourned until Monday next.

Call for Nov. 1.—Nos. 41, (and 224 and 242,) 42, 43, 44, 280, (and 332,) 49, 50, (and 516,) 52, 53, and 54.

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Admiralty calendar.—Room 323, F. O. Building, at 10:30 A. M.

Youker<McCalden Bros Co.
Huntley<Ziegler.
Murphy<Sievers.
Carroll<Seeley.
O'Connell<Moran.
Brown<City O Co, et al
Robins D/D & R Co<Pierce Bros.
Petersen<CNY& Royal Dittmar<D Starr Con Co, et al.
Re Arow, (Limit.)
N Y Cent RR Co<Front Montclair.
Kennedy<Clinton Pt 16
McWilliams-Tracy<Siff.
Amundsen<Baltimore.
Aldrich<Kings Overbrook et al.
Re J. Roy, (Limit.)
Wilson & RR 15.
Orvig Dampskibsels-kap Aktieselskabet<NY & Bermudez Co et al.
Actieselskabet Neptune<same.
Thurlew<Lawrence M Sullivan.
Siemund<Netherlands and Downer.
O'Brien<Somerset.
Barnes<E G Murray.
NY Dock Co<Redmond J.
T Crane Sons Co<Charm.
E B Walls<Apex Equip Co.
Hill Lighterage Co<St'tug NY Cent 18.
Gleason<St'tug Salutation.
Lehigh V Transp Co<St'tug Transfer 20 et al.
Hatfield<St'tug Black Diamond et al.
Sparks<Yacht Queen Bess.
Edward Moore<St'tug Irene.
Eclipse Light & Trans<St'tug Arrow.
Morrell et al<St'tug Black Diamond et al.
Williams<St'tug G H Rellus et al.
Bolkholm<St'tug H R Wheeler.
Santa Cecilli Sugar Co<SS Madawaska.
Re C A Fox, (Limit.)
Union Wharf Co<SS Erettia.
C F Fox<St'tug Stamford.
C F R of N J<North America & Interstate Actieselskabet Rondald<NY Transatl SS.
Murray Lighterage Co<L M Sullivan.
NY & Cuba Mail SS<Const Transit Co<CN Y.
Austin, Nichols & Co<SS Crias.
Philip Woods<St'tug Edwin Terry.
Brown Dock Co<Barge L W Francis.
Same<J H Neville.
Philip Woods<Wm E Cleary.
Smith & Sons Co<Dredge 9.
Crane's Sons<same.
Youker<same.
Degenhardt<same.

STATE.

Court of Appeals.

Special to The New York Times.

DECISIONS.

Moffett v. Staples, applt.; Mulvany, substituted, &c., applt., v. Nesi et al., impld.—Motions to dismiss appeals granted, and appeals dismissed, with costs, and $10 costs of motion.

Lawrence, applt., v. Littlefield, admr., et al., impld.—Motion to amend remittur denied on the ground that the relief asked is unnecessary, this court having affirmed the interlocutory judgment rendered at Special Term, whereby leave was granted to the defendants to withdraw their demurrer and answer (Cassidy et al. v. Sauer et al., 188, N. Y., 170).

Stiebel et al., applts., v. Lissberger.—Motion denied, without costs.

Town of Easton v. Canal Board et al., applts.—Motion to add cause to calender granted and appeal set down for argument on Nov. 22, 1915.

Galley, applt., v. Brennan; Borckman, applt., v. Terry Construction Co.—Judgment reversed and case remitted to the Appellate Div. to enable it to pass upon the question of fact, presented by the appeal from the order denying the defendant's motion for a new trial, with costs to the appellant in this court.

Re Hardy, applt., for an order, &c., will of Hammond.—Order of Appellate Div. and the Surogate's Court reversed, and proceeding remitted to the Surrogate's Court for a further hearing and determination upon the merits, with costs in the Appellate Div. and this court to the appellant.

Re application of Commissioners of Palisades Interstate Park for condemnation of land, &c.—Order affirmed, with costs, and question certified answered in the negative.

Re application of Hunt v. Village of Otego, applt.—Order affirmed, with costs.

Re application of Goodrich v. same.—Order reversed, with costs to abide the final award of costs, and proceeding remitted to the Special Term for a new appraisal by new Commissioners.

Meighan, applt., v. Rohe et al., defts., the people, respts.—Judgment of Appellate Div. modified so as to remit to the Special Term for rehearing of the question of title to the Bergen Ave. property, and as so modified the order and judgment of the Appellate Div. are affirmed, without costs to either party in this court.

People, respt., v. Flack, applt.; People v. Ponton, applt.—Judgment of conviction affirmed.

Coon, applt., v. Miller, Jr., Mallouk, applt., v. American Exchange Natl. Bank, impld.; Focarty, applt., v. Fogarty.—Judgments affirmed, with costs.

Oscar S. Haight, applt., v. J. J. Brown, as Pres. of Village of White Plains et al., respts.; Charles Hecht, applt., v. George E. Cox, Town Clerk of Town of White Plains et al.—Per Curiam. Orders affirmed, without costs.

NEW YORK COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—First Department—Ingraham, P. J.; McLaughlin, Laughlin, Scott, Dowling, JJ.

DECISIONS.

J. Ward, respt., v. Whitney Co., Inc., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

P. S. Mayo, applt., v. Mayo, et al., and N. Y. Telephone Co., respts.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

P. Coyle, respt., v. Herbert Dongan Const. Co., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

I. Ginsberg, respt., v. Triangle Waist Co., impld., &c., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

H. Finsberg, an inf., &c., respt., v. same—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

B. Buehler, respt., v. J. Kerr, applt.; F. Buehler v. same—Determinations of Appellate Term and judgments of Municipal Court reversed, with costs, and complaints dismissed, with costs. Opinion per curiam. Settle orders on notice.

J. A. Krus, Jr., respt., v. N. Y. Telephone Co., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

A. Witte, applt., v. Geneva Cutlery Co., respt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

A. M. Abrams, applt., v. A. Abrams, respt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

E. Bernstein, respt., v. I. Friend, applt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs, with leave to defendant to withdraw demurrer and to answer, on payment of costs in this court and in the court below. No opinion. Order filed.

M. Suckno, applt., v. Public Bank of New York City, respt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

G. Murphy, an inf., &c., respt., v. Jagels & Bellis, Inc., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

M. C. Fay, an inf., &c., respt., v. American Surety Co. of N. Y., and Empire Carting Co., applts.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

J. M. Weinberg, respt., v. H. Bauman et al., applts.—Order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

T. Lamkin, applt., v. H. T. Lamkin, deft. (M. D. McKay, respt.)—Judgment affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

N. Fay, respt., v. Hudson Navigation Co., applt.—Judgment and order reversed and new trial ordered, with costs to appellant to abide event, and finding that the defendant was guilty of negligence reversed. Opinion per curiam. Order filed.

By McLaughlin, Laughlin, Scott, Dowling, JJ.

M. L. Landon, respt., v. L. C. Mott et al., respts., &c.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. No opinion. Order filed.

S. Ingraham, P. J.; McLaughlin, Laughlin, Scott, Dowling, JJ.

W. Parker, as State Commr. of Excise, respt., v. H. F. Petersen, impld., &c., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs, on opinion of Delahanty, J., in the court below. Order filed.

By Ingraham, P. J.; Laughlin, Clarke, Scott, Dowling, JJ.

S. Gursky, respt., v. D. E. Waters et al., as recers., &c., impld., &c., applts.—Orders affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements on the authority of Jacobs v. Blair, 157 App. Div. 601. (Ingraham, P. J., dissenting on the dissenting opinion in Jacobs v. Blair.) The court will certify these cases to the Court of Appeals on presentation of a proper order, which will be settled on notice.

H. Silverstein, an inf., &c., respt., v. Arons Boat Works and Marine Equip. Co., Inc., et al., applts.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements and motion granted, with $10 costs. No opinion. Order filed.

H. Silverstein, respt., v. Same, applts.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted, with $10 costs. No opinion. Order filed.

Re A. W. Varian, &c.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

F. S. Male, as Trustee, &c., applt., v. Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Co., impld., &c., respt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion denied, with $10 costs. No opinion. Order filed.

S. E. Willett, respt., v. G. N. Miller, Jr., applt.—Order affirmed with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. (Laughlin and Scott, JJ., dissenting.) Order filed.

L. Fribourg, applt., v. Emigrant Ind. Savings Bank, impld. with E. Robitscher, as execr., respt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

By Ingraham, P. J., Laughlin, Clarke and Scott, JJ.:

Re Standard Computing Scale Co., applt., v. J. Hartigan, as commr., &c., respt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion for alternative writ of mandamus granted. No opinion. Settle order on notice.

S. E. Rosenblum, respt., v. F. L. Paige et al., applts.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

The F. B. Stearns Co. of New York, respt., v. M. M. Hart, applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

L. M. Heymann, respt., v. L. Kaplan, impld., with 2,824 Broadway Corpn., applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

Re Bart Dunn as exr., &c.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

R. Leggiardo, applt., v. Warden of the House of Detention for Witnesses, respt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

Maximilian Steinam Co., respt., v. Madison Ave. Real Estate Co., impld., &c., applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

Same v. same.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

The James McCreary Realty Corpn., respt., v. Associated Merchants Co., et al., applts.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

Same v. same.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. (Ingraham, P. J., dissenting.) Order filed.

Same v. same.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. (Ingraham, P. J., dissenting.) Order filed.

D. H. Morgan, applt., v. Richmond Cedar Works, respt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion denied, with $10 costs. No opinion. Order filed.

John Baldwin Hand, respt., v. Ida Von Claussen, applt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion denied, with $10 costs. No opinion. Order filed.

E. T. Ford, respt., v. J. W. Heaney et al., applts.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

T. Mancini, respt., v. Claremont Iron Works, applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion. Order filed.

Chartered Co. of Lower Cal., applt., v. T. M. Rowlett, respt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements and motion granted with $10 costs. No opinion. Order filed.

P. Siegel v. L. Lese.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs. Order filed.

M. Blumberg v. J. Corday.—Motion to dismiss appeal denied, without costs. Order filed.

First Nat. Bank of Brownsville, Texas, v. L. M. Fleitmann, as admx., &c.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs, unless appellant comply with terms stated in order. Order filed.

G. F. Root Co. v. J. E. Landeen, impld., &c.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs. Order filed.

J. M. Elliott, Jr., v. M. S. Paine.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs. Order filed.

S. Belluardo v. Southern Pacific Co., imp'd., &c.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs. Order filed.

Toltec Mexican Oil Co. v. East Coast Oil Co. S. A.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs. Order filed.

W. L. Mallett v. J. P. Mitchel et al., &c.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with $10 costs. Order filed.

Re W. Fessenden, an atty.—Referred to Hon. Henry A. Gildersleeve, official referee. Settle order on notice.

By Ingraham, P. J., McLaughlin, Laughlin, Clarke, Scott, JJ.:

J. D. Dailey et al. v. CNY et al.—Motion granted and proceedings under the injunction stayed until the hearing of the appeal from the judgment. Settle order on notice.

The People, &c., v. T. De Vilbiss.—Appellant allowed to argue the appeal on typewritten copies of the record and briefs. Case placed on the calendar for Nov. 9, 1915, on filing the original record and appellant's brief. Order on notice.

Re Albert Duckworth, an atty.—Referred to Hon. Henry A. Gildersleeve, official referee.

Re I. M. Eisenberg, an atty.—Referred to Hon. John J. Freedman, official referee. Settle order on notice.

Re T. J. O'Neill, an atty.—Reference ordered, the referee to be designated on settlement of order. Settle order on notice.

Re J. M. Williams, an atty.—Referred to Hon. Henry A. Gildersleeve, official referee.

Re William G. Mulligan, an atty.—Referred to Hon. John J. Freedman, official referee. Settle order on notice.

A. Woolcott v. Lee Shubert et al.—Motion denied, with $10 costs. Order filed.

APPELLATE DIVISION—First Department.—Recess.

SPECIAL TERM—Part. II.—Erlanger, J.—Ex parte business.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, S.—No day calendar.

City Court.

SPECIAL TERM—Part II.—O'Dwyer, C.J.—Ex parte business.

Referees Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Erlanger, J.—Klein, Beekman—Henry A. Gildersleeve, Slocum, Smith—Benno Lewinson, Whalen, Burgess Co.—John H. Rogan.

SUPREME COURT—Pendleton, J.—Shaw, 5th Av. Coach Co.—Hon. John Freedman.

SUPREME COURT—Ford, J.—J. Greenberg Const. Co., Trigg—J. Franklin Taunch.

SUPREME COURT—Philbin, J.—Re Davidson, (Westminster Abbey,) Loyal Leale.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Erlanger, J.—Chas. B. Ross, Herman Michel—Edward H. Davis, Eleanor Le Roy, John H. O'Connell—Edward J. Flynn, American Mtg Co.—Frank Garofalo—Abraham Oberstein. David Rosing<Nathan Harrison Realties—John V. Coggey.

BRONX COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

CHAMBERS—Brady, J.—At 10 A. M.—Ex parte business.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Schulz, S.—Ex parte business.

County Court.

CHAMBERS—Gibbs, J.—Ex parte business.

Referee Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Brady, J.—Eagle Sav. Waldron, Jr.—James A. Sullivan.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Brady, J.—Matilda Muendel, Thomas D. Malcolm—Leo F. McDermott, Sylvester Pope, Richard C. Daniel—Leo F. McDermott, Sylvester Pope, Willard U. Taylor—Leo F. McDermott, John V. Irwin, Inland Holding Co.—John Gerhardt.

SATISFIED MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

BROADWAY, s e corner of 38th St; Diamond Door Hanger Co., Inc., against Kalmein Co. et al., Sept. 30, 1915, (by bond) $234

BROADWAY, n e corner of 38th St.; Sun Fire Proof Sash and Door Co. against Kalamein Co., et al, Sept. 30, 1915, (by bond) $756

SUFFOLK ST, 11; David Levin against Morris L. Lowenstein et al., Oct. 18, 1915..$90

SAME PROPERTY; same against same, Oct. 13, 1915 ..... $85

3D ST, 48 East; Samuel J. Gottlieb against Rubin Herold, Sept. 11, 1914, (canceled)..$500

SAME PROPERTY; same against Rubin Harrold, Sept. 11, 1914, (canceled)..$466

7TH AV, s e corner of 21st St; Silberman Schampain Co. against Morris Weinstein et al., June 15, 1914 ..... $600

LUD ST, s s, 300 ft e of Broadway; H. P. Wright & Co. against Edythe C. Hanckel et al., March 22, 1915, (canceled)....$12,426

SAME PROPERTY; Isaac Moritz against same, March 23, 1915 (canceled)..... $721

SAME PROPERTY; same against Rubin Herold, Inc., against same, March 24, 1915 (canceled) $723

SAME PROPERTY; Benjamin B. Hoffman against same, March 24, 1915, (canceled) $212

SAME PROPERTY; Safety Fire Door Co. against same, March 24, 1915, (canceled) $380

SAME PROPERTY; Raisler Heating Co. against same, March 25, 1915, (canceled) $815

SAME PROPERTY; Knickerbocker Fire Proofing Co., Inc., against same, March 26, 1915, (canceled) $000

SAME PROPERTY; Richard Tretler against same, March 29, 1915, (canceled) $375

SAME PROPERTY; Wayne Oil Tank and Pump Co. against same, April 5, 1915, (canceled) $158

SAME PROPERTY; Wayne Oil Tank and Pump Co. against same, April 7, 1915, (canceled) $138

BUILDING LOAN CONTRACT.

25TH ST, s s, 200 ft w of 4th Av. 50x98.9; Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. loans Ritz Realty Corporation, to erect a twelve-story apartment $200,000

Anthrax Victim's Will Filed.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Oct. 29.—The will of George F. Stackpole, whose fight against anthrax in Bellevue Hospital, New York, attracted wide attention, was admitted to probate here today. The will disposes of an estate estimated to be in excess of $5,000 real and $5,000 personal property. To the widow, Mrs. Mary A. Stackpole, $1,000, with the explanation that she previously had received a large part of the estate. To the son, Philip W., is given $4,000, as an offset to the amount spent on the education of his sister, Syrena H. Stackpole, in fitting her for the bar. The residue is divided equally between the two children.

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD.

William Lustgarten Increases Apartment House Site on Sickles Corner by Buying 27 Fifth Avenue—$150,000 Residence Sale in Sixty-seventh Street—Builders Buying in Brooklyn.

The Fifth Avenue section was the centre of activity in the Manhattan realty market yesterday. In the upper residential district a fine dwelling was sold in Sixty-seventh Street, just east of the avenue, while in the lower section William Lustgarten & Co. increased their holdings at the northeast corner of Ninth Street by buying the old residence at 27 Fifth Avenue from Pauline Riggs and William Outhout. The house is on a lot 20.4 by 100. Folsom Brothers were the brokers. The property adjoins the former General Daniel B. Sickles houses on a large corner plot which Mr. Lustgarten bought about two weeks ago. With his recent acquisition he now controls a plot 105.4 on the avenue by 100 on the street, on which, when the existing lease on the Sickles buildings expires next year, he is planning to erect a twelve-story apartment house.

Residence Sale in Upper Fifth Avenue Centre.

The four-story brown stone residence at 12 East Sixty-seventh Street, on plot 27 by 100, has been sold by Pease & Elliman for Mrs. Edward P. Hoyt of Stamford, Conn. It has been held at $150,000, and has been purchased by a New Yorker for occupancy after alterations involving a change in the style of the house to the American basement type. It is within a short distance of Judge Gary's new house on the south corner of Fifth Avenue, George Gould's house being on the opposite corner, and the new Ryan art gallery adjoining on the north side of the street.

Columbia Leasehold Sale.

Frank B. Taylor has sold for the estate of Charlotte D. Ferry the four-story brown stone dwelling at 65 West Fiftieth Street, on lot 22 by 100.5, Columbia College leasehold.

Bronx Sales.

Kurz & Uren have sold for the Benenson Realty Company a vacant plot of land 50 by 100 on the north side of 160th Street, 300 feet west of Elton Avenue, to the S & B Company, Samuel B. Chase President. The buyers will immediately begin the erection of a new law modern apartment house with five families on a floor, for which a building loan has been procured by the same firm.

Daniel Mapes, Jr., has purchased from the Traf Building Company 1,496 Longfellow Avenue, a five-story flat, on a plot 50 by 100. In part payment the buyer gave the plot 132 by 145, on the west side of Clinton Avenue, 132 feet north of 181st Street; a plot, 33 by 140, on the south side of 181st Street, 99 feet west of Crotona Avenue, and a plot, 22 by 140, on the south side of 181st Street, 85 feet east of Belmont Avenue. George J. McCaffrey, Jr., negotiated the trade.

Nicholas Lopard has sold for M. Menken the three-family brick house at 1,491 Bryant Avenue to Mrs. Lydia Verity, and for T. Hahn, trustee, the three-family frame house at 1,160 Hoe Avenue to M. Kroog.

Paul A. McGolrick has purchased from Eugene A. Hammond the two three-family houses at 827 and 829 Freeman Street, on plot 30.5 by 34.9.

Builders Buy at Bensonhurst.

An important deal in the Bensonhurst section of Brooklyn has been made by the Wolffe Improvement Company, A. S. Wolffe President, which has purchased from the Bensonhurst Improvement Company a plot, 128 by 132, on the southeast corner of Twenty-first and Cropsey Avenues. The property will be improved with four-story apartments. It will be the first development in the restricted area known as Gravesend Bay Park.

Brooklyn.

Norman Denzer has sold for Levy & Baird the five three-story flats and stores at 3,501 to 3,511 Church Avenue, corner of Thirty-fifth Street. Mr. Denzer has also sold for L. B. Scheuer to the Alto Holding Company for improvement the block front on the north side of Church Avenue, between Raleigh Place and New York Avenue, 200 by 100. The Delack-Levey Company sold for the Denyse estate the block front on the north side of Seventy-seventh Street, from Sixth to Seventh Avenues, comprising thirty-four lots, to a builder for improvement.

The McInerney Klinck Realty Company sold the two-family brick dwelling on the south side of Lefferts Avenue, 207 feet west of Rogers Avenue, on a plot 20 by 100, for Pauline Healnbockel to a client for investment.

L. F. Brauns sold for Simon Abels the building on the west side of Fifth Avenue, 42 feet 10 inches north of Seventy-seventh Street, to a client for speculation.

E. T. Newman has sold the three-story and basement brownstone dwelling 225 Garfield Place, near Eighth Avenue, Brooklyn, for Mary E. Egan to an investor.

Long Island.

The Rickert-Finlay Realty Company sold to Victor A. Kitchen a plot on the north side of Arleigh Road, 300 feet east of Park Road in Kensington, Great Neck, on which the purchaser will immediately erect for his own occupancy a colonial house, costing about $20,000, from plans by Patterson & Dula, architects.

The Everett Realty and Construction Company, Samuel Knopf Treasurer, has sold on Middleton Street, Jamaica, two blocks from the Long Island Station, houses to Sarah Ann Quarmby, Clarence Cooper, Fuller E. Jarbeau, E. A. Perkins, and Henry H. Morrow.

The T. E. Ackerson Company has sold at Pine-Aire, L. I., three lots on Pine Grove Boulevard to Mrs. Lena Van Bussam of Brooklyn, three lots on Pine Grove Boulevard to E. C. Pettie of Brooklyn, three lots on Central Boulevard to P. J. Tolan of Brightwaters, L. I.; three lots on Pine Grove Boulevard to Mrs. Eliz. C. Mersereau of Manhattan, three lots on Central Boulevard to Mrs. L. Lawrence of Manhattan, and six lots on Central Boulevard to Mrs. Florence Butlar of Brooklyn.

Staten Island.

Moffatt & Schwab have sold for Mayer Rosenholz to L. D. Lyon of Tompkinsville a plot of land 85 by 100, part of the large parcel of land recently acquired by Mr. Rosenholz on Richmond Turnpike, near Cebra Avenue, Tompkinsville. Mr. Lyon expects to improve the property by the erection of three two-family houses. The same firm has also sold for C. A. Nagaell to Charles F. Wallace two lots of land on Bay View Place, Bay View Park.

The Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, trustee of the Ward Estate, has sold to John E. Gannon a plot of land in the rear of their new building on the corner of Richmond Turnpike and Fiedler Avenue, Tompkinsville.

Downtown Lace Firm Leases Uptown Quarters.

The Cross & Brown Company has leased for Frederick Ayer of Boston the second floor of the new sixteen-story building now being erected at the northeast corner of Broadway and Twenty-sixth Street, to G. & H. Fuld, lace and embroidery importers, now at 447 Broadway. The floor contains an area of about 8,000 square feet.

The lease practically marks the removal of the last of the downtown importers in the lace trade, as the recent removal of Campbell, Metzger & Jacobson, who will occupy the old Brooks Bros.' Building at Broadway and Twenty-second Street, was considered to be the culmination of the long line of removals from the old district to the new.

Madison Avenue Business Lease.

Douglas L. Elliman & Co. have leased the four-story building at 602 Madison Avenue, on a lot 25 by 70, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Streets, for Mrs. Kate G. Finkler to Thomas A. Weatherley. It will be altered for business, with apartments on the upper floors.

Apartment Building Loans.

A building loan of $425,000 from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has been obtained by the Northcote Realty Company for the new twelve-story apartment to be erected at the southwest corner of Park Avenue and Eighty-first Street, a plot 102.2 by 80.

The same company has also loaned for a twelve-story apartment $300,000 to the Ritz Realty Company on the plot, 50 by 98.9, on the south side of Twenty-fifth Street, 200 feet west of Fourth Avenue.

Mortgage Loans Placed.

The following mortgage loans have been placed by John Finch: $250,000, covering 38-44 East Thirtieth Street, a twelve-story newly constructed loft building, for the 40 East Thirtieth Street Company; $10,000, covering 774-78 Washington Street, for the Reversionary Estates Company; $15,000, covering 324 West 101st Street, for I. M. French; $5,500, for Meyer Goldberg, covering 330 East Twenty-eighth Street; $4,000, for Meyer Goldberg, covering 600 East Fourteenth Street; $13,000, for J. Richman, covering 66 Eldridge Street; $18,000, for Max Wetzstein, covering 767 Ninth Avenue; $36,000, for E. R. Maloney, covering West End Avenue, northwest corner Sixty-ninth Street; $12,000, for M. J. Murphy, covering 249 East Fifty-second Street; $18,000, for Moritz Kutnow, covering 816 Lexington Avenue, and $28,000, for Maria Wise, covering the southwest corner of Third Avenue and Forty-third Street.

$250,000 Brooklyn Improvement.

Plans are being prepared for the erection of fifty one-family brick dwellings by the Pinover Construction Company on a plot between Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Street, just off Seventh Avenue, in the Bay Ridge section. The cost of the improvement is estimated at $250,000.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.

AT 14 VESEY STREET.

By Joseph P. Day.

Duane St, 42, s w corner of Lafayette, 18.3x 23.3x irregular, six-story loft building; adjourned to Nov. 8.

Henry St, 220, s s, 141.4 ft e of Clinton St, 23.6x100, four-story tenement and stores; Pinkus Nathan against Morris Marans et al.; O. A. Samuels, attorney; A. I. Rorke, referee; due, $23,178.84; taxes, &c., $465.10; to the plaintiff for $15,000.

29th St, 130 and 132 West, s s, 360 ft w of 6th Av, 40x98.9, twelve-story loft and store building; J. A. Trowbridge against 130 West 29th St Co. et al.; H. M. Bellinger, Jr., attorney; W. H. Irwin, referee; due, $174,083.83; taxes, &c., $2,106.36; to Benjamin C. Levy, a party in interest, for $175,000.

Central Park West, 300, n w corner of 90th St, 100.8x100, eight-story Eldorado; Abraham Kipp against Adeline Construction Co. et al.; G. B. Holbert, attorney; L. M. Ogden, referee; due, $29,770.40; taxes, &c., $4,435.80; subject to first mortgage, $400,000; to the plaintiff for $30,000 over prior liens.

104th St, 8 West, s s, 149.6 ft w of Central Park West, 19.5x101x irregular, five-story flat; G. A. Muller et al. against Margaret E. Hughes et al.; Harold Swain, attorney; J. D. Kelly, referee; due, $14,920.02; taxes, &c., $890.65; to the plaintiff for $15,000.

107th St, 60 East, s s, 175 ft e of Madison Av, 22x100.11, five-story tenement and stores; Harold Nathan against Mary Block et al.; Leventritt, Ger & Mc, attorneys; Charles Putzel, referee; due, $2,898.78; taxes, &c., $145.60; subject to prior mortgage, $21,800; to the plaintiff for $25,636.

63d St, 305 East, n s, 109 ft e of 2d Av, 29x100.5, five-story flat; Central Real Estate Co. against Richard Price et al.; Action Co. Harold Swain, attorney; S. E. Evins, referee; due, $14,969.14; taxes, &c., $264.05; to the plaintiff for $14,000.

63d St, 307 East, n s, 138 ft e of 2d Av, 29x100.5, five-story flat; same against same; Action 2; same attorney and referee; due, $16,237.15; taxes, &c., $673.45; to the plaintiff for $16,000.

63d St, 309 East, n s, 167 ft e of 2d Av, 29x100.5, five-story flat; same against same; Action 3; same attorney; M. S. Borland, referee; due, $16,265.13; taxes, &c., $673.40; to the plaintiff for $16,000.

63d St, 311 East, n s, 196 ft e of 2d Av, 29x100.5, five-story flat; same against same; Action 4; same attorney; S. E. Evins, referee; due, $16,250.19; taxes, &c., $673.45; to the plaintiff for $16,000.

By Bryan L. Kennelly.

Lafayette St, 401, e s, 100 ft n of 4th St, 24.8x100, seven-story loft and store building; Charles Reimen, et al., against Eugene Morgenthau et al.; Joline, L. & R., attorneys; J. I. Green, referee; due, $78,699.39; taxes, &c., $1,783.65; to the plaintiff for $70,000.

By J. H. Mayers.

120th St, 339 East, n s, 225 ft w of 1st Av, 16.8x180.10, three-story dwelling; adjourned to Nov. 12.

AT 3,208 THIRD AVENUE.

By J. H. Mayers.

Locust Av, 280, e s, 235 ft n of 138th St, 260x 325x261x364 ..... $1

By James J. Donovan.

Ogden Av, e s, 450 ft n of 170th St, 50x112.3x 50x111.11, vacant; Jacob Dohrmann against Mervin Realty Co. et al.; Ellern & Glasser, attorneys; J. I. Berry, referee; due, $4,410.92; taxes, &c., $375.88; to the plaintiff for $2,000.

201st St, 201 East, n e corner Concourse, 19.5x 100x15.10x100.2, two-story dwelling; Carrie Fiser against Schryngeour; J. C. Stein, attorney; Morris Frank, referee; due, $1,680.90; taxes, &c., $381.80; subject to prior mortgage, $3,500; to the plaintiff for $700.

By George Price.

Westchester Av, e s, 125.6 ft n of Havemeyer Av, 252x148x700x irregular; adjourned to Nov. 12.

By Samuel Marx.

Claremont Parkway, 494, s s, 151.6 ft e of Washington Av, 25.1x169.7x225x173.3, four-story flat and stores; H. B. Rosen against Olga Bialaban et al.; Louis Fersawitz, attorney; M. Bernstein, referee; due, $4,655.87; taxes, &c., $325.05; subject to first mortgage $18,500; to the plaintiff for $20,500.

By Charles A. Berrian.

Prospect Av, 761, w s, 27 ft s of 155th St, 21x95x21.2x94.10, four-story flat; Italian Savings Bank against Arthur Richardson et al.; Wayland & B., attorneys; A. M. Schwartz, referee; due, $14,474.17; taxes, &c., $363.30; to the plaintiff for $13,000.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Amsterdam Av, n w corner of 214th St, for a five-story tenement and store, 37.6x90; Adnine Construction Co., 23 West 120th St, owner; C. B. Meyers, 1 Union Square West, architect; cost, $35,000.

181st St, n s, 100 ft w of Grand Av, for a one-story brick garage, 20x20; Philomena Spadaccini, 61 West 181st St, owner; Herman Goldberg, 2,968 Briggs Av, architect; cost, $300.

Newman Av, w s, 200 ft n of O'Brien Av, for a one-story frame dwelling, 18x30; Annie Gick, Newman Av, owner; Anton Pirner, 2,069 Westchester Av, architect; cost, $1,000.

Alterations.

Items under $5,000 omitted.

Broadway, s e corner of Howard St, to a six-story brick store and factory; Mulvey Estate, 431 West 14th St, owner; J. S. Maher, 431 West 14th St, architect; cost, $25,000.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

FRIDAY, OCT. 29.

With name and address of purchaser and attorney. When attorney's name is omitted address party of the second part.

Manhattan.

AVENUE B, 201 and 203, e s, 80 ft n of 12th St, 39x93, (foreclosure Sept. 29;) Edward Goodwin, referee, to William Prager, 125 East 84th St, individually as executor, and Isaac Lowenfeld, 108 East 64th St, and Alexander Pfeiffer, 50 East 96th St, executors of Pincus Lowenfeld, (mtg $42,000,) Sept. 29; attorneys, Lind & Pfeiffer, 46 Cedar St $54,000

SAME PROPERTY; Isaac Lowenfeld et al., executors of Pincus Lowenfeld, to Theresa Lemmon, 107 West 114th St, (mtg $42,000,) ½ part, Oct. 28 ..... $1

SAME PROPERTY; William Prager as same, ¼ part, (mtg $42,000,) Oct. 28 ..... $1

SAME PROPERTY; Theresa Lemmon to William Prager et al., executors of Pincus Lowenfeld, Oct. 28, (mtg $42,000,) attorneys, Lind & Pfeiffer, 46 Cedar St $1

BROOME ST, 506 and 510, n s, 80.4 ft e of Thompson St, 41.10x49.6x irregular; Trustees of the Peabody Education Fund to the Trustees of the John F. Slater Fund, Oct. 29; attorneys, Carter, L. & M., 54 Wall St $1

BROOME ST, s s, 79.9 ft e of Columbia St, 40.5x100; Pauline Berkowitz to Abraham Berkowitz, 42 Broome St, Oct. 28; attorney, B. F. Burkwith, 119 Nassau St $100

CANNON ST, 102, e s, 25x100; L. Max Low Realty Corporation to Charles Becker, 1,421 Madison Av, (mtg $7,000,) Oct. 29; attorneys, Kowalkowitz & S., 299 B'way $1

COMMERCE ST, 9, n s, 123 ft w of Bleecker St, 21x40, except part for 7th Av; Sarah M. Sandford, Belleville, N. J., to Gramont Construction Co., Inc., 98 William St, all liens, Oct 7; attorney, Thomas J. Meehan, 115 Broadway $100

LEWIS ST, 225, w s, 73.8 ft n of 7th St, 24x88.2x24.4x91.4, (foreclosure Oct. 13;) Maurice Delchen, referee, to Edwin A. Archer, 261 Park Place, Brooklyn, Oct. 29; attorneys, Hurry & Dutton, 80 Maiden Lane $15,000

NEW CHAMBERS ST, 82, s s, 125.3 ft w from n s of Cherry St, runs w 40.10x s 75.2x e 20.4x n 43.8x e 10x n —x to beginning; Sarah M. Sandford, Belleville, N. J., to Gramont Construction Co., 93 William St, (mtg $13,000,) quitclaim, Oct. 6; attorney, Thomas J. Meehan, 115 Broadway $1

18TH ST, 56 East, n s, 230 ft w of 1st Av, 20.8x100.4x25.3x100; Sarah Steiger to Anna Steiger, 184 New Jersey Av, Brooklyn, (mtg. $30,200,) Oct. 28 ..... $1

8TH ST, NICHOLAS AV, 1,332 and 1,334, s s, 30.5 ft s of 178th St, 39x100, Max Grauer and annexation to Emmay Realty Co., 802 West 181st St, Oct. 26; attorneys, Alexander & A., 92 William St $1

2D ST, w s, 75 ft n of 12th St, 24.11x180; Robert J. Serrano to Rose Serrano, 28 Roosevelt St., Oct. 27, ½ part; attorneys, Simmons & H., 198 B'way $100

SAME PROPERTY; And

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

City.

The receipt of applications for male inspector, Bureau of Fire Prevention, has been reopened from Nov. 1 to 16.

The physical test for female milk inspector will be held on Nov. 8

The physical test for female resident physician will take place the same day.

Applications for accountant, fifth grade, will be received from Nov. 1 to 16.

An examination has been ordered for Chinese interpreter.

The physical test for automobile engineman will be held on Nov. 4. There are 489 candidates.

United States.

The commission announces for Nov. 3, at the New York Custom House, an examination for marine draftsman, for men only, to fill a vacancy in the Bureau of Lighthouses, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., at $1,440 a year. The duties will require a man thoroughly versed in the design of marine engines and boilers, and particularly qualified in the design and laying out of piping systems, together with a general knowledge of ship construction as allied with the above subjects. Competitors will be examined in mathematics, practical questions, education, training, and experience Age, 32 years or over on the date of this examination. Further information may be obtained from the commission, Washington, D. C.

EDUCATION NOTES.

Licenses as teacher-in-training to teach in high schools the subjects respectively indicated have been granted, under date of Oct. 1, to the following:

Commercial branches—Samuel .Kraft; Spanish—Paul J. Salvatore; stenography and typewriting—John F. Kelly.

Permission has been granted to the Principal of P. S. 170, Brooklyn, to receive voluntary contributions from his pupils for the purpose of buying additional records for the school's Victrola.

Permission has been granted to the Principal of P. S. 77, Queens, to hold a peanut sale during the first week of November to raise funds to supply shoes, gloves, sweaters, eyeglasses, food, &c., to needy pupils in the school during the Winter.

The Sinking Fund Commission has been requested to grant permission for the use of three floors in the building, 49 Lafayette Street, for the purpose of conducting classes for the unemployed.

President Churchill of the Board of Education has written to State Commissioner of Education Finley pointing out provisions in the proposed new constitution which are said to endanger the educational system.

Retired teachers will receive their pension money for September next week.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, SOUTHern District of New York.—Citation.

Whereas a petition was filed in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, on the 20th day of October, 1915, by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, praying for a limitation of its liability as owner of the barge P. R. R. No. 267, concerning the loss, damage, injury and destruction occasioned by the barge P. R. R. No. 267 coming in contact with the barge P. R. R. No. 434 on September 14th, 1914; and

Whereas the petitioner filed with the Clerk of this Court on October 20th, 1915, an ad interim stipulation in the sum of $15,500, with the Standard Surety Co. as surety, which was approved, undertaking to pay into Court within ten days after the entry of an order confirming the report of the Commissioner to be appointed to appraise the amount or value of the petitioner's interest in said barge P. R. R. No. 267 and her pending freight, if any, the amount or value of such interest as thus ascertained, or to file in this proceeding a bond or stipulation for value in the usual form, with surety in said amount.

Now, therefore, pursuant to the monition issued out of said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby cite all persons claiming damages for any and all losses, damages and injuries caused by or resulting from the contact of the barge P. R. R. No. 267 with the barge P. R. R. No. 434 on September 14, 1914, to appear and make due proof of their respective claims before H. W. Goodrich, Esq., Commissioner, at his office, 49 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 24th day of January, 1916, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, and also to appear before said Court, at the Court Rooms thereof on the 24th day of January, 1916, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day and answer the petition herein; otherwise they will be defaulted and barred from participation in said stipulation.

Dated, New York, October 20, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY,
United States Marshal for the Southern District of N. Y.

U. S. MARSHAL'S NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.
NOTICE.

On October 13, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against fifteen assorted packages of butter upon a seizure thereof, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Section 7, Food and Drugs Act June 30, 1906, of the United States.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 8, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 18, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY,
United States Marshal.

H. SNOWDEN MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.
NOTICE.

On October 20, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 5 cases of condensed milk upon a seizure thereof, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Section 7, Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906, and Sub-division 6 under "Form" of said Food and Drug Act of the United States.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 8th, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 20, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY,
United States Marshal.

H. SNOWDEN MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.
NOTICE.

On Oct. 22nd, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 12 cans of apples, each containing 12 cans of apples, upon a seizure thereof, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Section 7, Food and Drugs Act June 30th, 1906, and of the United States Revised Statutes.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on Nov. 8th, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

Dated, New York, October 20, 1915.

THOMAS D. McCARTHY,
United States Marshal for the Southern District of N. Y.

Mortgage Loans

Forty-five cents an agate line.

Money advanced on rents, first and second mortgage money. De Leeuw, 15 Broad St.

City Property

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Real Estate.

Clifford B. Harmon & Co., Real Estate, Vanderbilt Avenue Bldg., opposite Grand Central.

MARK RATALSKY & CO.,
56 West 45th Street. Tel. Bryant 7848.

J. CLARENCE DAVIES,
Real Estate. 149th St. and 3d Ave.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, AUCTIONEER,
156 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Manhattan—For Sale or To Let.

Private garage, 178 East 75th St.
W. F. Fuerst, 87 Nassau St.

Stable or garage, 242 West 69th St.
W. F. Fuerst, 87 Nassau St.

Brooklyn—For Sale or To Let.

Craftsman Homes in the heart of Flatbush; only $4,250; send for booklet. Otto Singer, on premises, East 13th St. and Av. K., Brooklyn. Avenue J station, Brighton Beach "L."

Real Estate for Exchange.

Wanted—One-family house in New York City in good residential section in exchange for well-rented non-elevator apartment in Newark, N. J., yielding a large income. M. Bock, 16 Central Av., Newark, N. J.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

Four-story-and-basement dwelling house, 20x100; 234 West 56th St., off s. w. cor. B'way, will sacrifice for $25,000; mortgage $32,000. W 67 Times.

To Let For Business

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

MUSIC STUDIO.
Large, perfectly appointed music studio and reception room to sublet; best location, in city Broadway and 57th St.; seen by appointment; telephone Circle 419. K 357 Times Annex.

BROADWAY AND 42D STREET
Furnished Private Office or Desk Room
801-6 Longacre Building.

Office sublet six months, 18x12 feet, three windows on street; $15.00 month. Jarrett & Co., 123 Liberty St.

FIFTH AVENUE Showroom, sublease. Ewing Bacon and Henry, 101 Park Av.

Property Out of the City

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Westchester—For Sale or To Let.

107 North Broadway and 148 and 152 Robert Lane, Yonkers, two-story eight and nine room dwellings, just completed; very attractive; newest improvements, handsome decorations; high-class location; attractive prices. River View Building Co., on premises, and 713 North Broadway, Yonkers.

For Rent, Westchester County—New 7 room and bath, Colonial house; decorated; all improvements; line of Putnam main line; 45 minutes to Wall St.; $35. Theo. R. Heinrichs, Getty Square, Yonkers.

HOMES AND ESTATES
FOR SALE OR RENT.
ANGELL & CO., SCARSDALE, N. Y.

Long Island—For Sale or To Let.

PLOT ON JAMAICA BAY.
Need $150 cash as deposit, balance on your own terms; you can tie your boat to your rear porch; all improvements are there; 20 minutes from Flatbush Depot. Stanley, K 277 Times Downtown.

$750 buys small farm, consisting of 3 acres of good soil; suitable for raising vegetables, poultry, &c.; near large town; $25 cash; balance $2.50 weekly; good title. C. Farm, 243 West 34th St., N. Y.

My client, unable to keep up payments, will sell lots at sacrifice. James Rosthal, 115 Broadway, N. Y. City.

50x100; all improvements; good location; near station; 35 minutes out; $190; terms; wonderful bargain. B. F. McLain, 47 W. 34th St.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS
In modern one-family houses and choice building lots at private sale, a large number from which to select.
THE BANKING DEPARTMENT, STATE OF NEW YORK, to quickly close the business of two corporations, offers these properties at about 50% of former prices. They are located at Grantwood, Palisade, Moresmere and Leonia, New Jersey, (opposite Grant's Tomb); within twenty-five minutes of Manhattan.
An inspection of these properties will convince you that they are unusual bargains. Liberal terms. Title Guarantee Policy Free. For further details and terms address BENJ. D. HAIGHT, Special Deputy Supt. of Banks, care of Banking Department, 61 Broadway, New York City.

ONE ACRE, with modern 6-room cottage, steam heat, bath, electric light, hardwood floors, all improvements; 15 minutes' walk from station; $5,000; comfortable terms. Might rent.
S. S. WALSTROM-GORDON & FORMAN,
Ridgewood, N. J. Fone 655.

$50 cash buys bungalow at Cranford, brick and stucco, all improvements; special monthly payments; sacrifice. T. Horace, 189 Broadway. Phone 7550 Cortlandt.

Builder forced to take eight-room house, all improvements, hot water heat, best section, will sell $4,250; value $5,500. Smith-Singer Co., Ridgewood, N. J.

"NUTLEY IN A NUTSHELL."
All about the "Ideal Home Town."
SECRETARY, Box 814, Nutley, N. J.

FARMS, acre upward, hour out, for poultry, fruit, vegetables; $10 monthly. Write for pictures. Room 1,701, 141 Broadway.

For Sale.—A good Morris County farm, about 200 acres. Address A. H. Bartley, Morristown, N. J.

Woodcliff-on-Hudson.—Homes, modern improvements; little cash. Thomson, 330 33d St.

Dwellings and farms, large and small, for sale. Edward J. Cahill, Boonton, N. J.

MONTCLAIR.—Real Estate—Sale or rent. Apply to Simpson Merritt Co.

Massachusetts—For Sale or To Let.

QUALITY ORCHARD FARM.—Mass. Agricultural College demonstration orchard for sale; attractive house, good barn, poultry houses; 100 acres land, 100 fine bearing apple trees, 600 trees, 2-3 apple, choice varieties, set two years. L. T. Hadley, 616 State Mutual, Worcester, Mass.

Real Estate for Exchange.

Want good farm; not rocks; have good income property and mortgages to exchange. Piquet, 354 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Apartments to Let

Furnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

LUXURIOUS BACHELOR APARTMENT, TWO ROOMS,
bath and kitchenette, very handsomely furnished, Oriental rugs, solid mahogany, &c., in high-class building, opposite Ritz-Carlton Hotel; maid and valet service; meals served; just decorated; perfect condition; rent $150 per month to June 1; $125 per month to Oct. 1.
CARLTON CHAMBERS,
402 Madison Av., at 47th Street.

Apartments.—Hotel Oxford, 35 East 27th. Furnished, unfurnished; full hotel service; restaurant; cheapest rental in New York; 2 rooms, bath, $12 weekly and up.

West Side.

Five to nine rooms, $100 to $350; private parties subleasing; completely furnished; west side, 70s to 100s. Wickliffe Gray, 289 West 73d. Columbus 5974.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED APARTments, long, short leases; east, west side; high class only. R. de Flórez, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 3850.

7-Room furnished apartment to sub-lease; Manhasset Apartment, 300 West 109th, cor. Broadway. Apply Superintendent.

Exceptionally spacious, airy ground floor apartment, 6 rooms; modern conveniences; best neighborhood. Tel. 7712 Riverside. L 113 Times.

114th, 419 West.—Four-room modern apartment, furnished completely; housekeeping. Inquire elevator.

GRANT COURT.
113TH ST., 610 West, near Riverside Drive.—4, 5, 6 rooms; high class apartment. Fisher.

Bachelor Apartment, 59th St., Overlooking Central Park.—Large living room, 2 bedrooms and bath; maid service. L 92 Times.

Central Park West, 302. Apt. 22.—Charming five-room apartment to sublet, furnished or unfurnished, balance of lease.

Broadway, (243 98th,) 6 B.—Attractive, sunny seven rooms; elevator; completely furnished; piano; $155.

We have furnished apartments for rent, 5 or 6 months or longer. Slawson & Hobbs, 102 West 72d St.

Beautifully furnished apartment, 8 rooms, 3 baths. 448 Riverside Drive. Phone 6570 Morningside.

Apartments to Let

Furnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

THE WILSONIA,
225 West 69th St., near Broadway.
3 rooms, bath, and kitchenette, $50 up.
Apartments by the Month or Year.
Also Unfurnished.
SPOTLESSLY FRESH AND CLEAN.

No questionable or objectionable tenants. Phone, elevator service; maid service optional. Near Subway, "L," 5th Av. bus; street cars. REFERENCES ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL.

We offer hotel conveniences at apartment house rates. You are invited to inspect our specially attractive apartments.
CATHEDRAL PLAZA,
100 CATHEDRAL PARKWAY,
110TH ST. AND COLUMBUS AV.
We have 1, 2, 3, 4 room apartments, $30, $40, $50, $60 UP MONTHLY.
Completely furnished, including dishes, silver, cooking utensils. Maid service optional. Every apartment has private bath and kitchenette. Concessions on lease and unfurnished. Near subway and "L." Must be seen to be appreciated. Phone Riverside 3970. 5th Av. bus line stops at our door.

98th St., 305-307 West.—Schuyler Arms Hotel, between Riverside and Broadway; strictly high-class house; beautifully furnished apartments; shower baths; 2, 3, 4, and 5 rooms, with or without kitchen, fully equipped for housekeeping; all night elevator; telephone; bellboy and maid service; restaurant in building. Phone 3964 River.

If you have a nicely furnished, high class apartment and want to rent it for 5 or 6 months send full particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 102 West 72d St.

1,649 Washington Heights, 142d.—Corner apartment; 6 extra large rooms, completely furnished; electricity, elevator; $70. 978 Audubon. Baker.

11½ WEST 37TH ST.
Adjoining 5th Av.; 2 rooms, bath; living room 25x25, open fireplace; furnished or unfurnished; unusually desirable.
FURNISHED APARTMENTS.
Frederick L. Hurt,
30 East 42d.

Apartments to Let

Unfurnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

MADISON AV., 1,186, COR. 87TH ST.
7 rooms, electricity, parquet floors; $100.
1,182 MADISON AVENUE.
Eight rooms, unusual light, size; $75.
33-35 E. 87TH STREET.
Seven extra large rooms, $70-$75.

31st St., 157 East, near Lexington.—Modern steam-heated apartment, 6 rooms, bath, $40.

West Side

140th St., 503 West.—Seven rooms front, bath; electricity; convenient subway and "L"; refined house; owner on premises; $45; inducements to desirable tenants.

57th, 329 West.—Three beautiful, large, light rooms and bath; all improvements; rents, $50 to $60. Apply on premises.

804 West 180th.—Corner Pinehurst Av.; select 4-room elevator apartment; improvements.

SUBLET.
Three rooms and bath.
HOTEL WALTON, 104 West 70th St.

BROADWAY, 2,708, (103d.)—Three rooms, bath, kitchenette; owner's management; lease; $36-$40.

Grand Concourse Apartments.—See H. A. Douglas Co., 187th St. and Grand Concourse.

Apartments consisting of 2-10 rooms; best sections of city. Kempe, 67th, Broadway.

156th, 601 West.—Elevator apartments, 4, 6, 7, 8 rooms; $38 to $100.

9-5 rooms, $40-$27; improvements; Broadway subway station. 3496 Fort Independence.

Bronx.

5 and 6 room elevator apartment; all rooms facing street; including all modern improvements. Tremont Court, 1,950 Washington Av., Bronx.

Apartments Wanted

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

Have clients wanting handsomely furnished apartments, east, west side; high-class only. R. de FLOREZ, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 3850.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47.—Unusual location; double, single room; steam heat; private bath.

13TH, 210 EAST. (Stuyvesant Park.)—Single, double rooms; home cooking; table guests.

21ST ST., 145 EAST.—(Gramercy Park privileges;) excellent table; private baths; ample closets; steam heat and electricity in every room; phone; references.

34TH, 117-119 EAST. (Near Park Av.)—Large and single rooms, with board. 4, 5, 6 rooms; references.

45TH ST., 8 EAST.
Table board; rooms; references.

62D, 38 EAST.—Second floor suite; other rooms; excellent table.

63D, 30 EAST.—Double and single rooms, all conveniences; excellent table; parlor dining.

IRVING PLACE, 71.—Rooms with private bath and board. Gramercy 1978.

MADISON AV., 213.—Rooms newly furnished, some with bath; table board; references.

West Side

57TH AV., 2,066, (127th.)—Large room, second floor; small room; excellent board.

16TH, 20-22 WEST.—Large, small rooms, well heated; unexcelled board; telephone.

43 WEST 47TH ST.
Attractively furnished rooms; first-class service; table unexcelled; every convenience; table guests

53D, 57 WEST.—Choice double room, private bath; refined appointments; service; references.

54TH ST., 54 WEST.—Single and double rooms, suites; private baths; electricity.

58TH, 62 WEST. — Desirable large, small rooms, with board; suite, with bath; references.

67TH, 349 WEST.—One large room; southern exposure; private bath; board; references.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; excellent cooking and service; table guests.

68TH, 148 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large and small rooms; table guests; references.

64TH, 115 WEST.—Large, pleasant room; running water; suitable one, two; moderate.

70TH, 127 WEST.—Attractive, newly furnished, redecorated rooms, with and without bath; exceptional table and service; table guests.

71ST, 30 WEST.—Newly furnished room and bath; southern exposure; electricity; excellent cuisine.

72D, 266 WEST.—Attractive location; large, small rooms; excellent meals; references; telephone; transients.

72D, 52 WEST.—Superior location and appointments; refined family desiring Winter home.

72D, 157 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; southern exposure; well-appointed house; references.

73D, 12 EAST.—Double and single rooms; excellent table; references exchanged.

74TH, 102 WEST.—Desirable rooms; private baths; telephone; electricity; steam; table boarders.

76TH, EAST.—Beautiful room, with board; ladies; modern apartment for Winter; chaperonage if desired; students' residence. Lenox 6837.

76TH, 105 WEST.—Comfortable rooms; homelike; parlor dining; superior table; references; reasonable.

76TH, 249 WEST.—Desirable rooms, parlor dining; table guests; references.

76TH, 57 WEST.—Attractive rooms, adjoining bath; table guests. Tel. 9725 Schuyler.

78TH, 121 WEST.—Elegant large, small rooms; electric light, bath; gentleman; private family.

79TH, 114 and 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tea room, and lounge; steam heat; private telephones; booklet on request.

80TH, 121-123 WEST.—Well-furnished, newly decorated, large, small rooms; private baths; continuous hot water; parlor dining; exclusive.

80TH, 124 WEST.—Attractive large, small rooms; electricity; good table; parlor dining.

82D ST., 146 WEST.—THE BARRETT.
Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D, 19 WEST, (Kenilworth.) — Desirable rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; table guests.

82D, 124 West, (Graycourt.)—New and attractively decorated; modern; table guests; booklet.

82D, 27 WEST.—Rooms, with excellent table; parlor dining room; private; home cooking.

82D, 29 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; excellent home cooking.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side.

85TH, 130 WEST.—NEWLY DECORATED ROOMS; GOOD TABLE; REASONABLE TO BUSINESS PEOPLE; TELEPHONE.

86TH ST., 114 WEST.—Owner's home, large and small rooms. "L" and subway.

87TH, 138 WEST.—Refined home; comfortable rooms; electricity; references required; table guests.

88TH, 344 WEST. (Riverside Drive.)—Large, small rooms; unusual table board; Southern family; references exchanged. Telephone Schuyler 6051.

89TH, 306 WEST.—Refined Jewish home can accommodate few people; excellent cooking.

91ST, 25 WEST.—Beautiful large room, second floor, front; excellent cuisine; parlor dining.

97TH, 239 WEST.—Those desiring refined, comfortable home, reasonable, please investigate. Chaurant.

101ST, 215 WEST, (Corner Broadway.)—Private bath; table boarders; home cooking.

105TH, 73 WEST.—Beautiful rooms, exceptionally good table; refined associates; reasonable; Southerners.

106TH, 314 WEST.—Unusual accommodations in private home for bachelor or family; two large rooms and bath; also single room; near Riverside.

107TH, 322 WEST.—Unusual opportunity for bachelor or family to live in luxurious economy; three large rooms and bath; also single room; between Riverside and Broadway.

113TH, 536 WEST.—Nicely furnished double, single room for couple, single person; excellent table; private family; conveniences. Apt. 74.

114TH, 419 WEST.—Sitting, bedroom; two, four adults; excellent table; subway. Apt. 2-B.

120TH, 7 WEST.—Attractive large and small room, with strictly kosher board; table guests.

126TH, 174 WEST, (the Norwood, Corner 7th Av.)—Select family hotel; steam heat, baths, telephone; convenient all cars; reasonable rates.

149TH, 544 WEST, (Broadway Subway nearby.)—Bright rooms, good board, $8 up, single; $14 up, two; every comfort; social surroundings. Telephone 2757 Audubon.

152D, 545 WEST.—Private Christian family have exceptional accommodations for refined business gentleman.

156TH, 553 WEST.—Large and small rooms; excellent table; steam heat.

157TH, (944 St. Nicholas Av.)—Large, sunny room, bath adjoining; excellent table; moderate.

BACHELORS.
Group of congenial gentlemen have space for two more accustomed to living well; extra large rooms; good cooking; fine residence near Riverside Drive. 321 West 89th St.

IF LOOKING for a pleasant home for the Winter, with genial surroundings, food properly selected and served, with cheerful rooms, call at 61 West 71st St.

LARGE, elegant room, meals for two or one; exclusive apartment, private home. Riverside Drive, near 83d. Schuyler 4320.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE.—Widow, handsomely furnished house, rent; large studio, with bedroom, private bath; other large rooms. 8926 Audubon.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 583.—Beautiful rooms; southern exposure; refined surroundings; exceptional board; references.

SINGLE and double rooms; refined private house; every convenience; modern. 140 West 84th.

THE EVELYN LODGE.
Charming family Hotel of high standard; Grand location; 20 min. Broadway, 5c. fare; Lovely furnished rooms; suites; all comforts; Excellent chef and service; separate tables; Delightful atmosphere; worth investigation. Weekly, $10-$14 per adult, with meals. 71 CENTRAL AV., ST. GEORGE, S. I.

THE FLORENCE, 888 St. Nicholas Av.(155th St.)—A regular place for regular people.

Two beautiful rooms, with private bathroom; two couples or four gentlemen, seeking superior accommodations; Swiss service and cuisine; $00 weekly for four. Y 304 Times Annex.

WEST END AV., 324.—Two sunny connecting rooms with complete bathroom, electricity; also well-heated large single room; exceptionally good table; references.

WEST END AV., 344.—Select pension; new, handsomely furnished rooms; en suite, single; private baths; parlors; European cooking; electricity.

WEST END AV., 279, (Corner 73d.)—Large room, also single; handsome private home.

Brooklyn.

78TH ST., 857, Brooklyn.—Nurse takes invalid, infirm, in her attractive cottage.

Board Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

Wanted.—Two bedrooms, bath, and board by couple with 1½-year-old son; must be reasonable and near some park or playground. W 152 Times.

Country Board

Thirty cents an agate line.

Westchester.

HIGHCLIFFE HALL HOTEL, Park Hill, Yonkers.—Winter engagements low; unexcelled home cooking; large porches; well-heated house; river view. W. E. Robinson. Phone 2161 Yonkers.

"The Colonial," 7 North Broadway, White Plains, N. Y., spacious rooms; excellent table; select all-year home; beautiful surroundings; easy commutation. Phone 687.

Long Island.

A lady has two rooms, (meals included,) private house; ideal location; suitable for gentlemen or couple; 36 minutes Pennsylvania Station; exceptional opportunity to secure well-managed, refined home; references required. Address P. O. Box 390, Far Rockaway, L. I.

New Jersey.

DELIGHTFUL room, excellent table; D., L. & W.; residential section. 73 Lenox Av., East Orange.

Convalescents' home; trained nurses' care; moderate prices. Schofield, 254 Avenue A, Bayonne.

Pennsylvania.

Trained nurse will give home and care to tubercular patient; fine accommodations; $25 per week. Z 359 Times Annex.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

11TH, 28 EAST.—Large, medium front rooms, clean, quiet; telephone; select house; reasonable.

11TH, 10 East, (near 5th Av.—Pleasant large and small steam-heated rooms.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable, well furnished rooms; bathroom floor; reasonable.

18TH, 113 EAST.—Rooms in refined home, Gramercy section, at subway; references.

22D, 144 EAST.—Business woman's apartment; separate sitting room, connecting bedroom; kitchen privileges; references.

23D ST., 20 EAST, (Madison Square South.) —Suite, two rooms and bath.

26TH, 107 EAST, (near 5th Av.)—Large, small rooms; steam; all conveniences.

31ST, 149 EAST.—Comfortable, clean room; private family; steam heat and bath; references. A. Bordizbanian.

34TH, 46 EAST.—Elegant room, bath, electricity, $6.50; another $4; telephone.

43D, 16 EAST.—Fastidious gentlemen may find suitable accommodations, large and small rooms; private bath; references.

45TH, 18 EAST.—Comfortable room, with bath; single room; breakfast optional; references.

53D, 58 EAST.—Two large rooms; southern exposure; electricity; references; gentlemen.

53D, 32 EAST.—Two large rooms with or without bath, electricity; gentlemen.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Large, newly decorated rooms; electric lights; all conveniences; references.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Two large, light rooms; electric light; running water; references.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box spring beds; tiled bathroom; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV, 586.—Elegant back parlor and one large room; references; telephone.

LEXINGTON AV., 1,273.—With Jewish couple, heated front sleeping room; board. Moers.

MADISON AV., 220.—Large, attractive studios for musical, meeting, dancing; studios subrented hourly, monthly; 8 rooms, furnished, unfurnished.

West Side

22D, 485 WEST.—To let, single and double rooms; references; telephone; shower.

23D, 258 WEST.—Large room, private bath, $7; single, $3.50; steam heat; gentlemen. Cavanagh.

44TH, 12 WEST, (The Mansfield.)—Highest class bachelor apartments, furnished or unfurnished, with complete hotel service; refrigeration; open fireplaces; excellent location.

46TH, 66 WEST.—Floor 2 rooms, bath, single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

47TH, 31-41 WEST.—Large, small rooms; elegant apartment; private baths; electricity; steam; elevator.

49TH, 66 WEST.—Large, sunny room, refined surroundings.

51ST, 30 WEST.—Small rooms, with running water, in doctor's house.

52D, 55 WEST.—Large room; private bath; electricity; telephone; reasonable; gentleman only; references.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side.

53D, 62 WEST.—Desirable double and single rooms, or en suite; private bath.

58TH, 122 WEST.—Bachelors; perfectly appointed, splendidly kept house; rooms $10-$11.

58TH, 128 WEST.—Handsome room, with alcove, bath adjoining; select location; electricity; telephone.

58TH ST., 23 WEST.—Large back parlor; private bath; electricity; telephone; $10.

58TH, 49 WEST.—Large, elegant room; gas, electricity, bath, telephone; reasonable.

58TH, 120 WEST.—Large, small, light, airy rooms; $10, $7, $5.

68TH, 71 WEST.—Beautiful, sunny, large rooms; perfectly kept house; moderate; references.

68TH, 70 WEST.—Large rooms, with, without bath; other rooms; all conveniences.

113 WEST 69TH ST.
West Half.
Large room with southern exposure; saloon dressing room and private bath; suitable for two; also smaller room.

70TH, (2,030 Broadway.)—Sublet four beautifully furnished rooms and bath; suitable business gentlemen; also single rooms; references. Tel. 6314 Columbus. Ormonde, Apt. 5 East.

70TH, 145 WEST.—Newly, elegantly furnished room; running water, electricity; conveniences; private house.

70TH, 286 WEST.—Light, sunny room, with private washroom, bath, electric light. Lea, 8843 Columbus.

70TH, 134 WEST.—Beautiful large, sunny rooms; private bath; private house; reference.

70TH, 307 WEST.—Large, bright room, private house; all conveniences; suitable two gentlemen.

70TH, 262 WEST.—Medium-sized room; southern exposure.

71ST, 147 WEST.—Large, comfortable room with running water and bath; breakfast; conveniences.

71ST, 120 WEST.—Single, double rooms, newly furnished; private baths; Hebrew social surroundings.

71ST, 57 WEST.—Large, sunny room; southern exposure; continuous hot water; references.

71ST, 251 WEST.—Room, adjoining bath; suitable two; gentlemen or business women.

72D, 22 WEST.—Very desirable large room, handsomely furnished, inlaid floor; private bath; all conveniences. Telephone 9729 Col.

72D, 248 WEST.—The Greystone, phone Columbus 1394; furnished room; excellent table.

72D, 121 WEST.—Large, newly furnished, sunny front room; also medium; breakfast.

73D, 103 WEST.—Nicely decorated rooms; running water; large closets; gentlemen; moderate.

73D, 258 WEST.—Furnished rooms, with private baths; references.

73D, 255 WEST.—Large rooms, with and without private bath; reference.

74TH, 149 WEST.—ATTRACTIVE ROOMS, SINGLE, DOUBLE, WITH AND WITHOUT PRIVATE BATHS; CONTINUOUS HOT WATER; REASONABLE.

74TH, 104 WEST.—Comfortable, large, well-heated rooms, bath; continuous hot water; telephone; breakfast privilege; homelike; private residence.

74TH, 165 WEST. — Connecting rooms, elegantly furnished; separately or suite; bath; gentlemen.

74TH, 5 WEST.—Sunny rooms, near Park; large, with, without bath; reasonable.

75TH, 124 WEST.—Large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms; telephone; references.

75TH, 159 WEST.—Newly furnished, high class, parquet floors, electric lights, private baths.

75TH, 144 WEST.—Attractive, large front suite; small rooms; subway, L; phone.

75TH, 170 WEST.—Large, small, light rooms; steam heated. homelike; reasonable. Euselie.

76TH, 56 WEST.—Floor in private residence; single room. Schuyler 10175.

76TH, 18 WEST.—Large, sunny, pleasant room; bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH, 171 WEST.—Homelike, sunny rooms, continuous hot water, private baths, electricity.

76TH, 125 WEST. — Sunny front rooms; handsome back parlor, with private bath.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.
Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

77TH, 158 WEST.—Attractive room, private bath, all conveniences; private house; references.

77TH, 125 WEST.—Desirable, homelike rooms; quiet private house; references; telephone.

78TH, 112 WEST.—Attractive, large front room, adjoining bath; telephone; references.

80TH, 104 WEST.—Attractive large rooms; private bath; steam heat, electricity; telephone; reference.

81ST, 8 WEST.—Large back parlor, kitchenette; home comforts; electricity, steam.

82D ST., 146 WEST. THE BARRETT.
Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D, 56 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room; private bath; electric light; references.

82D, 80 WEST.—Exceptionally desirable front room, single, $3.50; bath adjoining. Anderson.

85TH, 134 WEST.—Hall room; connecting suite; bath adjoining; kitchenette; room; private bath.

85TH, 207 WEST.—Large room, immaculate; running water; elevator; breakfasts; $6. Sharples.

86TH, 200 WEST.—Large outside room, running water; high-class elevator apartment; references. Apartment 64.

87TH, 319 WEST.—Elegant large; also small room; gentlemen; private family; references.

87TH, 117 WEST.—Double rooms; strictly private family; moderate prices.

88TH, 151 WEST.—Very comfortable room in select house; all conveniences; breakfast.

88TH, 335 WEST, (Droccam Hall.)—Exclusive bachelor dwellings; rooms, $5 to $12; subway

90TH, 58 WEST.—Attractive rooms, running water, southern exposure; private house; reference. Barry.

91ST, 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large rooms; southern exposure; select house; references.

91ST, 38 WEST.—Newly furnished residence, sunny rooms, private baths; electricity; $10, $12.

91ST, 66 WEST.—Large alcove room; also medium sized and skylight rooms.

91ST, 251 WEST.—Large and small sunny rooms; gentlemen. Phone Riverside 4832.

93D, 126 WEST.—Home refinement; large, small rooms; lavatories, closets, bath; references.

94TH, 18 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private bath; table boarders; excellent meals; reference.

94TH, 24 WEST.—Large, desirable front room; quiet, refined surroundings; owner; reference.

94TH, 55 WEST.—Large, well furnished rooms; modern conveniences; select neighborhood.

94TH, 20 WEST.—Newly renovated, large rooms, southern exposure; private bath; first and second floors; references.

94TH, 153 WEST.—Beautifully furnished double rooms; running water; private house; bachelors.

94TH, 163 WEST.—Entire floor, sitting room, bedroom, bath; owner; references.

94TH, 161 WEST.—Rooms, private house; all conveniences; subway and L express.

96TH, 231 WEST.—Beautifully appointed guest room, facing Broadway; gentleman; exclusive. Apt. 3D.

96TH, 86 WEST.—Bachelor's apartment; private bath; gas logs; American house; references.

97TH, 141 WEST.—Single, double rooms; comfortable home; excellent table; convenient; phone.

97TH, 64 WEST.—Large, small newly furnished rooms; quiet, well-kept house; conveniences; telephone.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Medium, well-furnished room; closets, water, heat; board. Apt. 6-A.

97TH, 145 WEST.—Private house; unusually attractive, well furnished room, bath; gentleman.

101st, 16 West.—Attractive rooms, suites; telephone, electricity; housekeeping; $5 to $7. McNamara.

102D, (Between West End-Riverside.)—One, two rooms, bath; owner's private residence; Christian family. Telephone 2007 Riverside.

102D, 302 WEST.—Private house, Riverside Drive; nicely furnished room; bath; telephone.

106TH, 7 WEST.—Newly furnished room, adjoining bath; elevator apartment. Riverside 7010. Clinton.

111TH, 515 WEST.—Large outside room, elevator, phone; gentlemen, couple.

112TH, 316 WEST.—Desirable single, outside rooms; running water, telephone, modern; homelike apartment; very reasonable; references. Ebeling.

112TH, 504 WEST.—Scrupulously clean, large light front room; 6th floor west.

113TH ST., 517 WEST.—Large room for business woman; modern; references. Apt. 54.

114TH, 417 WEST.—Communicating bed and sitting room; business woman; terms moderate. 7100 Morning., or call after 5 P. M.

114TH, 514 WEST.—Large room, convenient location; opposite Columbia; moderate. Apartment 1.

Automobile Exchange

*Thirty-five cents an

ICE SKATING

ST. NICHOLAS ICE SKATING RINK
69 WEST 66TH ST., NEAR COLUMBUS AV. TEL. 2165 COL.

Ice skating will be the fad in New York this Winter. If you don't know how—learn.

OPENS TO-DAY Season 1915-1916 Oct. 30 to April 1

YOU CAN DO WHAT YOU SEE AT THE HIPPODROME. WE WILL TEACH YOU.

DAILY 10 to 12.30 A. M., 2.30 to 5.30 P. M. and 8.30 to 11 P. M.
SUNDAYS 2.30 to 5.30 P. M. and 8.30 to 11 P. M.

ADMISSION 50c.—MUSIC—SKATES FREE
Beginners Taught. Expert Instructors in Dancing and Fancy Skating.

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES.

EMPIRE Broadway & 40th St. Evs. at 8. Mats. Today & Tues. (Elec. Day) 2
WM. GILLETTE
NOV. 8th FINAL PERFORMANCE OF His Great Success, SHERLOCK HOLMES
NOV. 8th, "SECRET SERVICE."

LYCEUM West 45th Street. Evgs. at 8:20. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Thurs.
ETHEL BARRYMORE
IN HER GREAT COMEDY SUCCESS,
OUR MRS. McCHESNEY

NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE W. 42d St.
MONDAY NIGHT, NOV. 1ST, SEATS NOW.
KLAW & ERLANGER WILL PRESENT
AROUND THE MAP
A Musical Globe Trot by C. M. S. McLELLAN.
Music by HERMAN FINCK.
After the Play Visit DANSE DE FOLLIES.
ZIEGFELD MID-NIGHT FROLIC "Meeting Place of the World"
Atop New Amsterdam Theatre
A Weird Halloween Merrymaking Tonight.

GAIETY B'way, 46th St. Evs. 8:20. Matinees Today, Elec. Day & Wed. 2:20.
YOUNG AMERICA
GEO. COHAN'S M. B'way, 43d St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Wed.
ELSIE JANIS in "MISS INFORMATION"

HUDSON West 44th St. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Wed.
"THE SHENANDOAH" OF 1915."—Times.
Under Fire
With WM. COURTENAY.

HARRIS West 42d Street. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Wed. 2:15
ROLLING STONES

FULTON 46th St., nr. Broadway. Evs. 8:30. MATINEE TODAY AT 2:30.
SHERMAN WAS RIGHT
A NEW FARCE BY FRANK MANDEL.

AT THE LIBERTY W. 42d St. 2:15 & 8:15.
TWICE Daily. Includ. Sundays. Ev. & Sat. Mat. 25-50-75-$1-$2. Other Mats.. 25c, 50c & $1.
D. W. GRIFFITH'S
BIRTH OF A NATION
GIGANTIC SPECTACLE.
Symphony Orchestra of Forty.

CANDLER W. 42d St. Bryant 6344. Evs. 8:15. Mats.-Today, Elec. Day & Wed.
THE HOUSE OF GLASS
with Mary Ryan and the Great All-American Cast. Orch., $2; $1.50. 500 Seats 1st Balc., 50c, 75c, $1.

ELTINGE West 42d St. Opening Tues., Nov. 2d (Election Night). SEATS NOW.
"FAIR AND WARMER"
A farce for Laugh-Lovers by Avery Hopwood.

REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Wed.
COMMON CLAY
SEATS SELLING 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.

BELASCO West 44th Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Thurs.
THE BOOMERANG

ASTOR B'way, 45th St. Evs. 8:20. Bryant 287. Mats. Today, Elec. Day & Wed. 2:20
Geo. M. COHAN'S Great American Farce,
HIT-THE-TRAIL-HOLLIDAY
With FRED NIBLO as "BILLY HOLLIDAY."

GLOBE EVERY NIGHT AND MATINEES Today, Election Day & Wed. 2:15.
MONTGOMERY & STONE CHIN CHIN

PUNCH & JUDY THEATRE
CHARLES HOPKINS, DIRECTOR
SECOND SEASON OPENS
THURSDAY, NOV. 11
ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON'S
TREASURE ISLAND
Dramatized by JULES ECKERT GOODMAN.
SEATS NOW ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE. PHONE CIRCLE 1366.
FIRST MATS. Friday & Saturday, Nov. 12-13 and Every Friday and Saturday Thereafter.

Hippodrome
Management Charles Dillingham.
Mat. TODAY and Every Day.
WORLD'S BIGGEST SHOW AT LOWEST PRICES
HIP HIP HOORAY with 100 Vaudeo. SOUSA and BAND Sensational ICE BALLET
Staged by R. H. Burnside.
Eve & Sat. Mat. $1.50 BEST SEATS
Daily Matinees, Exc. Sat., $1.00.
1500 RESERVED SEATS AT 50c.
SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERT SOUSA RAGTIME PROGRAM
HIP HIP HOORAY FEATURES | Belle Storey, Nat M. Wills, Sidonia Spero, Charlotte and entire ice ballet. "Hip" Chorus of 300.

LONGACRE WEST 48TH ST. Bryant 23. Evenings 8:20. Matinees 2:20.
POPULAR MATINEES TODAY & TUESDAY (Election Day.) ALL SEATS 50c TO $1.50.
THE BRILLIANT MUSICAL HIT,
The Girl Who Smiles
by the Authors of "ALMA." "ADELE."

Triangle Plays This Week: Ford Sterling in "His Father's Footsteps." "Martyrs of the Alamo." "Fickle Fatty's Fall." Julia Dean in "Matrimony."
Evenings at 8. Matinees at 2. Matinees, 25c and 50c. Evenings, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1, and $2.
Knickerbocker Theatre, B'way & 38th St.

PARK 59th St., Columbus Circle. Only Authentic Motion Pictures and Lecture on Twilight Sleep
Tonight 9:15 SPECIAL PERFORMANCE Men Only
FOR WOMEN ONLY AT 2:30, 4 & 8 P. M.

CENTURY 62d St., nr. B'way. Evs. 8:15. MAT. TODAY, 25c to $1.50, 2:15
Ned Wayburn's Town Topics
SUNDAY CONCERT—SYLVESTER SCHAEFFER.
JAS J. CORBETT, Balalaika Orchestra, 15 others.

SEATS FOR ALL THEATRES, JONAS, Woolworth Building.
Phone 7781-7782 Barclay.

VITAGRAPH, B'WAY, 44 ST. THE BATTLE
TWICE TO-DAY, 2:30, 8:30.
Evgs. & Sat. Mat. 25, 50c, $1 CRY of PEACE & $2. Other Mats. 25, 50c, $1.
School Children's Mat. Today, 11 A. M., 25c, 50c.

STRAND B'way & 47th St. Noon to 11:30. 10c to 50c. BLANCHE RING "The Yankee Girl" Strand Orch. & Soloists
Next Week Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen"

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'WAY, 47 ST. Daily Mat. 25c to $1 ANNA HELD Harry FOX & Yansci DOLLY, Harry Green, David Sapirstein, Arnaut Bros., Ernest Ball, others.

COLUMBIA B'way & 47th. Burlesque Matinee Today.
Geo. STONE—Etta PILLARD and The Social Maids.

YORKVILLE 86th St. at 3d Av. Burlesque Mat. Today 15c to 50c. Smoking Permitted
FROLICS OF 1915

GARRICK 35th St., nr. B'way. BURLESQUE "Blue Ribbon Belles" Mat. Today. 15, 25, 50c.

EDEN WORLD IN WAX European War Heroes. Nine Attractions. MUSEE
OPEN EVERY DAY FROM 10:30 TO 10:30.

Motor Racing and Aviation
Sheepshead Bay Speedway
Election Day, Tues., Nov. 2
100-Mile Championship
Winning drivers of 1915, Resta, Burman, Aitken, Rickenbacher, Mulford.
Also spectacular exhibitions by famous airmen. Flying upside-down, loop-the-loop, and passenger-carrying flights.
EVENTS START 2 P. M.
Admission $1, including seat in open stand. Grand Stand, including admission, $2; Boxes (6 seats), $18 to $30, including admission. Parking space within oval, reserved, $10; unreserved $5, not including admission.
Seats on sale at R. H. Macy & Company, the McBride Offices, the Tyson Office, Bascom Ticket Office, at Hotel Biltmore, Alexander's Ticket Office, Aero Club of America, Brooklyn Eagle, Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn, all automobile clubs in this and surrounding vicinity, and at Sheepshead Bay Speedway Corporation, 1696 Broadway, between 53rd and 54th Streets. Telephone Circle 1915.

The Biltmore
MORNING MUSICALES
Management of Mr. R. E. JOHNSTON.
Grand Ballroom, Hotel Biltmore, at 11.
Nov. 5, 19, Dec. 3, 17, Jan. 14, 28, Feb. 11, 25.
ARTISTS ENGAGED:

Frances Alda	Fritz Kreisler
Lucrezia Bori	Giovanni Martinelli
Clarence Bird	Mme. Melba
Enrico Caruso	Rosa Olitzka
Camille Decreus	Lucile Orrell
Mischa Elman	Ignace Paderewski
Geraldine Farrar	Marie Rappold
Anna Fitziu	Antonio Scotti
Rosina Galli	Louis Siegel
Mabel Garrison	Andreas de Segurola
Leopold Godowsky	Albert Spalding
Friedа Hempel	Theodore Spiering
Josef Hofmann	Andre Tourret
Beatrice de Holthelr	Aline Van Barentzen
Louise Homer	Mary Warfel

Subscription Price, Res. Seats, $30 for 8 concerts; single seats, $5; subscription price for boxes, $200 for eight concerts; single box, $30. Now on sale at R. E. Johnston's office, 1451 Broadway. Knabe Piano.

METROPOLITAN OPERA STARS
And Other Renowned Artists in Concert, followed by
VERDI'S REQUIEM MASS
BENEFIT FOR
ITALIAN WAR SUFFERERS
Chorus of 300, Orchestra 80 Musicians
At
CARNEGIE HALL
MONDAY EVE., NOV. 1ST
Tickets $3.00-$2.00-$1.50, at Box Office and International Music and Drama Long Acre Building, Broadway and 42d St.

Polish Victims' Relief Fund Benefit
Organized by THE ELINOR COMSTOCK MUSIC SCHOOL
In Honor of
MR. AND MRS. PADEREWSKI
Bazaar—Entertainment—Tea and Reception to meet Mr. and Mrs. Paderewski. Sale of Mme. Paderewski's Celebrated Polish Refugee Dolls.

Biltmore Hotel
3 to 7 P. M., November 5th, 1915
Admission Tickets—$2.00, on sale at Polish Victims' Relief Fund, Aeolian Hall, and Elinor Comstock Music School, 41 E. 80th St.

CARNEGIE HALL, This Afternoon at 2:30
VIOLIN RECITAL— MISCHA
ELMAN
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
CARNEGIE HALL, TUES. AFT., NOV. 24, 2:30.
SCHUMANN-HEINK ONLY SONG RECITAL THIS SEASON
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
Carnegie Hall, To-morrow (Sun.) Aft. at 3.
Mme. MELBA
(Only appearance in New York this winter.)
Assisted by BEATRICE HARRISON...'Cello ROBERT PARKER....Baritone FRANK ST. LEGER....Piano
Tickets on Sale at Box Office.
Direction C. A. Ellis. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

SYMPHONY
Society of New York
WALTER DAMROSCH, Conductor.
TO-MORROW (SUNDAY) AFT. at 3
GRAINGER
TSCHAIKOWSKY PROGRAM.
Seats at Box Office, Aeolian Hall.

MANHATTAN OPERA HOUSE
BOSTON GRAND OPERA CO. with
PAVLOWA BALLET RUSSE | MAT. TODAY AT 2
"Madama Butterfly," with Tamaki Miura, Martin, Chalmers, Leveroni, Cond. Jacchia; and "Snowflakes," with Pavlowa, Volinine, Ballet & Chorus. To-night at 8, "The Dumb Girl of Portici," with Pavlowa, Zenatello, Lyne, Chalmers. Cond. Jacchia.

Aeolian Hall, 2nd Recital Mon. Eve., Nov. 1, 8:15
CLARA AND DAVID
MANNES
Schumann and Beethoven
Sonatas and Chausson Concerto with the assistance of the Saslavsky Quartet.
Tickets at Box Office and Haensel & Jones. Aeolian Hall. Tel. Bryant 6427. Steinway Piano.

GODOWSKY
All Chopin Program, Carnegie Hall, Sat. Aft., Nov. 13
Popular Prices, 50 cts. to $1.50, on sale at Box Office. Management R. E. Johnston. Knabe Piano.

Aeolian Hall Wed. Aft., Nov. 3, at 3. VIOLIN RECITAL
ARKADY BOURSTIN
Tickets 75 cts. to $2. Mgmt. Haensel & Jones.

AEOLIAN HALL, Tues. Aft., Nov. 2, at 3.
First of Six Historical Recitals by ONSIP
Gabrilowitsch
Mgt. of Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

AEOLIAN HALL, This Afternoon at 3.
Piano Recital by HAROLD
BAUER
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano

TO RENT—Grand Tier Box, Metropolitan Opera House, best location, left horseshoe, for Monday evenings. Apply to C. E. PINE, 88 East 23rd Street, N. Y.

OPERA TICKETS Phone 4139 Greeley | Subscriptions bought, sold and exchanged. Jacobs Theatre Ticket Office, Normandie Hotel, Broadway and 38th St.

Bandbox, 57 & 3d Av. Plaza 812. Ev. 8:45 Mats. Today & Elec.
Washington Square Players
Loew's American Roof 42d St. & 6th Av. Every Eve. at 8:15
JULIA NASH & CO., 10 others | ALL SEATS RESERVED 25c, 35c, 50c.
Bob Hall, Max's Circus, 10 others | Enclosed, Heated, Comfortable.

CORT W. 48 St. Phone Bryant 46. Evs. 8:10. Mat. Today, Tues. & Wed. 2:15.
THE PRINCESS PAT Eleanor Painter
"BEST COMIC OPERA IN YEARS."
—Chas. Darnton, Evening World.

LEXINGTON 51st St. & Lex. Evs. 25c to $1. Mat. Today 25 & 50c.
Next Week—"The Natural Law"
"BRINGING UP FATHER."

STANDARD B'way & 90th St. Evs. 25c to $1. Mat. Today 25 to 75c.
Next Week—"EXPERIENCE."
Sun. Eve. Symphony Concert at 8:30 N. Y. Orchestral Soc'y.

HOMEBUILDERS' EXPOSITION
Model Houses, Decorated Rooms, Fireplaces, Pergolas, Garden Furniture, Arts & Crafts. No admission fee. 9 to 5. Craftsman Bldg., 6 E. 39th St., near 5th Av.

PARK COLUMBUS CIRCLE, 59th St. Cont. Mon., Nov. 1, 2 P. M. to 12 Daily.
With the Fighting Forces of Europe
Motion Pictures in Natural Colors. Prices 10c to 25c

IRVING PL. THEATRE Today Matinee at 2:15.
Lehmanns Kinder. Tonight, Ein Idealer Gatte.

JETWOOD
A SMART COLLAR WITH A COMFORTABLE LOW FRONT

E&W
RED-MAN 2 for 25c
TROY'S BEST PRODUCT

AWARD 60 MEDALS FOR HEROIC ACTS

Carnegie Fund Commission Pensions Dependents of Six Who Gave Up Lives.

ALSO MAKES MONEY GRANTS

Gives Funds for Education and for Home Building — Whole Country Represented In Awards.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Oct. 29.—Sixty acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in the awards that were announced at the Fall meeting of the commission here today. In eight cases silver medals were awarded; and in fifty-two cases bronze medals.

Nine of the heroes lost their lives, and to the dependents of six of these pensions aggregating $2,520 a year were granted; to the dependents of others who lost their lives sums totaling $2,165, to be applied, subject to the direction of the commission, in various ways, were granted. In addition to these money grants, in six cases sums aggregating $11,000 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved; and in forty cases awards aggregating $28,500 were made, to be applied toward the purchase of homes and other worthy purposes. Payments in these cases will not be made until the beneficiary's plans for the use of the award have been approved by the commission.

Two members of the Hero Fund Commission resigned at the meeting today. Alvah C. Dinkey, former President of the Carnegie Steel Company, and now at the head of the Midvale Steel Corporation, submitted his resignation as did William L. Abbott. Removal from the city was the reason given by both. A resolution on the death of William N. Frew, member of the commission, who died here last night, was adopted.

The awards were as follows:

Bronze Medals.

C. DOANE GREENE, New London, Conn.; aged 18, for attempting to save Cyrus W. Brown, Jr., a fellow-student, from drowning in a skating accident at New London, Jan. 1, 1914.

WILFRIED H. GROSS, Y. M., C. A., Louisville, Ky., aged 29, for the rescue of Josephine E. Drew, Anna Dickson, George Jones, and two children in a runaway accident at Louisville, April 30, 1913.

J. CHARLES WHITMAN, Bridgeport, Penn., aged 28, for the rescue of Mary E. Hetrick, a nine-year-old girl, from dashing in front of a train in a runaway accident at Bridgeport, Nov. 21, 1911.

HORACE D. BECK, Jenkintown, Penn., aged 29, for saving William M. Hillegas, a physician, from drowning at Beach Haven, N. J., Oct. 20, 1913, when a launch burned.

C. ELSWORTH CARLSON, Everett, Wash., aged 19, for saving Gail E. Bartholomew from drowning when she fell overboard from a launch at Coupeville, Wash., May 31, 1915.

CARL L. SULLIVAN, Canton, N. Y., aged 13, for attempting to save Elizabeth C. Short from drowning while wading near a dam in De Grasse River at Canton, May 24, 1913. Another man saved both the girl and Sullivan.

DORRIS D. GILES, Houston, Texas, aged 14, for saving J. Ralph Landgrebe from electric shock from a trolley wire in Houston, July 1, 1913.

G. ELLIOTT CONOVER, Asbury Park, N. J., aged 18, for saving Ruth K. Decker from drowning while bathing in the ocean at Manasquan, N. J., June 21, 1914.

JACOB C. FRIST, Meridian, Miss., aged 52, for saving Emma P. Wood and A. Harlan Scogin from being run over by a train at Meridian, Feb. 3, 1914.

BERT M. KEIRSEY, Greenville, Texas, aged 43, for saving an unidentified man from being run over by a train at Greenville, Nov. 4, 1914.

CLYDE R. MEREDITH, Monongahela, Penn., aged 43 for saving Edith McClellan from being run over by a train at Fredericktown, Penn., Aug. 21, 1914.

JOHN R. SADDLER, Laurel Ridge, Ky., aged 39, for saving Timothy Cundiff from suffocation in a well at Solway, Ky., July 31, 1911.

THOMAS L. GRAHAM, Braddock, Penn., aged 18, for saving E. Pearl Adams and Edward E. Adams from being killed by a train at Braddock Jan. 2, 1912.

G. STANLEY STRANTZ, Canton, Ill., aged 60, for saving Charles Yocum, a fellow-farmer, from suffocation in a well at Breeds, Ill., May 4, 1912.

GEORGE W. COWGUR, Whitesboro, Texas, aged 43, for saving Samuel D. Downey, a fellow-farmer, from suffocation in a well at Theodore, Texas., Aug. 4, 1914.

HAROLD WILSON, 7,635 Carpenter Street, Chicago, aged 22, for saving J. Emory Cole from suffocation in a tank at Mount Washington, Md., July 10, 1912.

WILLIAM E. MOORE, Waco, Texas, aged 23, for saving William R. Parshall and an unidentified woman from drowning in Bosque River at Waco, Texas, April 5, 1908.

EMIL C. TEWS, Waukegan, Ill., aged 43, for saving Wallace R. Sunderlin from drowning when the latter's boat was capsized on Lake Michigan Nov. 9, 1913.

WALTER E. PICKETT, Waltham, Mass., aged 19, for saving Roswell W. Snow from drowning at Rye Beach, N. H., Aug. 10, 1913.

CHARLES H. BRUSH, Chicago, aged 57, for saving two boys from drowning Aug. 10, 1914.

CHARLES A. PERKINS, Sr., Amarillo, Texas, aged 29, for saving Bernard A. Starker, a baby, from being run over by a train at Royal, Texas, April 29, 1914.

HUNTER M. GAINES, Detroit, aged 32, for rescuing Lewis A. Lemke and party of four other persons from a runaway accident at Clinton, Iowa, Aug. 7, 1910.

EDGAR A. NELSON, Guthrie, Okla., aged 24, for saving DeWitt Warden from drowning at Guthrie May 16, 1913.

ALBERT D. WILCOX, Morrison, Ill., aged 35, for attempting to save Michael Sellers from burning in a cell at the county jail in Morrison, April 15, 1913.

EDWARD R. DILLON, Troy, N. Y., aged 19, for saving three boys from drowning at Troy in a skating accident, Dec. 26, 1911.

JAMES W. BRICE, Sr., Culloden, Ga., aged 48, for attempting to save James Jones from suffocation in a well at Culloden, Oct. 20, 1914.

ABNER SULLIVAN, Culloden, Ga., aged 37, for saving James Jones in case cited above.

WALTER ROBINSON, Waco, Texas, aged 48, for rescuing Charles Betros and Mary Betros from a runaway at Waco, Oct. 9, 1914.

LEOPOLD C. COLEMAN, Savannah, Ga., aged 28, for saving Rose Geahen from drowning in a motor boat accident at Montgomery, Ga., March 19, 1911.

JOHN W. PANGBURN, Elizabeth, Penn., aged 31, for saving an unidentified woman and child from being run over by a train, Oct. 26, 1913.

WILLIAM H. CAREY, Lowell, Mass. aged 19, for attempting to save Nicholas McNulty and Patrick H. McHugh from drowning in Concord River, Jan. 22, 1911.

J. LEO PRIMEAU, Victoria, B. C., aged 32, for saving E. Edgar Ware from drowning at Lindsey, Ontario, Dec. 25, 1911.

JOHN E. RUFUS, Morris, Ill., aged 36, for saving William L. Crull and three women from drowning at Morris, July 4, 1913.

SYLVESTER A. MAHAN, Philadelphia, Penn., aged 17, for saving Cecilia Zacnewski, a baby, from being run over by a train at Philadelphia, July 23, 1912.

LEON I. HORNER, Riverside, N. J., aged 20, for saving Luetta Bayne from being run over by a train at Florence, N. J., July 22, 1912.

JAMES W. HALLMARK, Corinth, Miss., aged 22, for saving W. Lee Flannagian from drowning at Iuka, Miss., July 23, 1911.

HENRY L. HALLIDAY, Humble, Tex., aged 29, for saving Charles M. Herron from a runaway accident at Denison, Tex., June 20, 1913.

CHARLES H. LAWRENCE, Callapell, Mont., aged 33, for saving F. Clyde Cobb from drowning, June 8, 1913.

WILLIAM R. CREIGHTON, Elgin, Ill., aged 12, saved James Depew from being run over by a train at Elgin, May 28, 1913.

HERBERT E. VARNEY, Wells Beach Me., aged 22, for saving Jerry A. Low from drowning at Wells Beach, Sept. 1, 1913.

NATHANIEL SHEPPARD, Indian Islands, Fogo, Newfoundland, aged 60, for helping to save Nicholas and Thomas Keefe from drowning, June 28, 1912.

MARK SHEPPARD, same address and same case as above.

SAMUEL F. HARGETT, West Point, Ga., aged 22, for saving J. Holstun Darden in a well, June 25, 1913.

JOHN HARRIS, Cuba, Ala., aged 30, for saving James F. Robinson from being run over by a train, July 4, 1912.

ELIJAH J. CLAIBORNE, Holdenville, Okla., aged 35, for attempting to save William J. T. Smith from suffocation in a well at Allen, Okla., Aug. 25, 1913.

QUINCY H. WYLIE, deceased; medal to father, 402 Queen Street, Dubuque, Iowa, for the son's attempt to save Edwin R. Wilkinson from drowning, Jan. 13, 1914, in which Wylie lost his life.

TERESA F. DOLAN, deceased; medal to father, 13 A Street, Pasco, Wash., for the young girl's attempt to save Gladys Robinson from drowning at Ontonagom, Mich., May 17, 1911; both girls were drowned.

IRWIN H. ZIEGLER, deceased; medal to widow, 403 Bryan Street, Allentown, Penn., with pension for support of herself and children, for attempting to save Harry Fatzinger from suffocation in a well at Allentown, June 7, 1915. Ziegler lost his life, but the other man was saved.

JOSEPH NEMETH, Allentown, Penn., for attempting to save Ziegler and Fatzinger in case mentioned above.

WILLIAM H. BASS, deceased; medal to mother, Chapman, Ala., together with pension, for attempt to save Howard Carleton from suffocation in a well, July 21, 1914.

I. RAY WATSON, deceased; medal to widow at Lovejoy, Mont., together with pension for support of herself and children. Watson died attempting to save Luther M. Sepheers from suffocation in a well at Malta, Mont., March 31, 1915.

LUCY G. BRANHAM, St. Petersburg, Fla.; aged 23; for helping to save Dema T. Nelson from drowning, Jan. 30, 1915.

Silver Medals.

IRENE H. REED, Beaumont, Texas, aged 21, for saving Henrietta A. Hamilton from drowning at Sulphur, La., April 6, 1912.

RUTH E. McNEELEY, St. Petersburg, Fla., aged 19, for helping to save Izola Arlin and Dema T. Nelson from drowning, Jan. 30, 1915.

ERNEST W. HENDERSON, deceased; medal to widow, St. Petersburg, Fla., together with pension for self and children. Henderson died attempting to save Dema T. Nelson from drowning in same accident as cited above.

ROY G. ALLEN, Brentwood, Tenn., aged 27, for saving Alice T. Hall, a baby, from being run over by a train at Tampa, Fla., Nov. 18, 1913.

JOHN G. WHITMER, Jr., New Orleans, La., aged 23, for saving Margaret R. Locantro, a baby, from being run over by a street car, Sept. 15, 1911.

ELI J. HARDEN, deceased; medal to widow, Galton, Ga., together with pension for self and children. Harden died in attempting to save James H. Seay from suffocation in a well, Aug. 13, 1913.

GIDDEON W. LINDROTH, deceased; medal to father, 1,340 Fourth Avenue, Rockwood, Ill. Lindroth died saving Roy H. Hanson from drowning at New Milford, Ill., Feb. 19, 1915.

GIUSEPPE TORDIO, Chicago, deceased; medal to father, together with pension. Tordio died attempting to save Albert Arrigo from drowning, April 29, 1915.

KEENER TO PAY $8 A WEEK.

Son of Late Justice Under $1,000 Bond to Support Family.

Having pleaded guilty to abandoning his wife and six-year-old child, Ashley N. Keener, a civil engineer, 33 years old, was put under $1,000 bond by Judge Crain in General Sessions yesterday to pay $8 a week to the support of his family. Keener is the son of the late William A. Keener, dean of the Columbia University Law School and subsequently appointed by Governor Odell to fill out an unexpired term on the Supreme Court bench.

The abandonment charge was made by the wife of the civil engineer, who before her marriage to him in 1908 was Adele Hertrais, a musical comedy actress.

Villa Agent Pleads Not Guilty.

Felix A. Sommerfeld, an agent of General Villa, sent to this country to purchase ammunitions, was arraigned before Judge Crain in General Sessions yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. He pleaded not guilty, and his bail of $1,000 was continued. Sommerfeld was arrested in the Hotel Astor on Wednesday night after being identified by Hans Zimmerman of 150 East Twenty-seventh Street as the man who had robbed him of $275. The indictment against Sommerfeld is seventeen years old.

Hurled to Death from Auto.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 29.—George Lott of Old Bridge was killed yesterday, when an automobile in which he was riding struck a telegraph pole, demolishing the machine and slightly injuring William Quackenbush, who was driving. The two men had been at a political meeting and were returning home at a lively clip, when they struck a patch of heavy sand. The car skidded, and was hurled against the telegraph pole. Both men were thrown out.

JERSEY AFTER P. R. R. PIERS.

City Official Says Road Has Violated Agreement with State.

George F. Brensinger, Director of Revenue and Finance, announced at a meeting of the Jersey City Chamber of Commerce last night that he intended to bring suit to obtain control for Jersey City over the piers of the Pennsylvania Railroad at York, Grand, and Sussex Streets in that city.

Mr. Brensinger said that the act of the Legislature of New Jersey in 1804, which had placed this section of waterfront in the hands of the original holders, provided that the piers built there should be kept open for the use of the public on equal terms. The Pennsylvania Railroad had violated this provision, he said, by renting piers exclusively to certain companies and by keeping others exclusively for its own use.

The meeting of the Jersey City Chamber of Commerce last night was called to begin a campaign, which will be carried before the Interstate Commerce Commission, against the ruling which makes the rate the same for freight moved out of New York City by railroad as for the freight so moved out of Jersey City.

FALLING POLE KILLS WOMAN.

Occupants of Automobile and Ash-cart Driver Also Injured.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 29.—One person was killed instantly and four injured severely today when an electric light pole, which had rotted at the bottom, toppled over at Eighth and Sycamore Streets.

Mrs. William Baumgardner, aged 50 years, of West Berlin, was riding in an automobile with her husband, Mrs. Julia Boddiss, her sister, age 40 years, and a niece, Anna Neville, age 4 years. As the car was opposite it, the pole fell and killed Mrs. Baumgardner. Her husband received internal injuries and Mrs. Boddiss had her nose fractured. The child received bruises.

The pole also struck a city ash cart driven by Martin Lewis, age 30. He was pinned under the pole and three ribs were broken.

CANDIDATE CHARGES LIBEL.

Called Atheist, J. H. B. Adamson Will Sue Paterson Brewer.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 29.—Colonel John H. B. Adamson, a contractor at 59 Ann Street, New York, has instructed lawyers to institute a civil action for libel against Joseph Hinchcliffe, a wealthy brewer of Paterson, whom he alleges to be the author of a letter appearing in The Paterson Morning Call, in which Mr. Adamson is called an atheist.

The letter was used for political purposes in opposition to Mr. Adamson's candidacy for the Assembly on the local option ticket. Mr. Adamson says he is a Presbyterian, and a regular attendant at church. He lives at 10 Hadley Street, Clifton, N. J.

Three Escape from Convict Camp.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 29.—Three prisoners, Howard Robinson of Burlington County, Lewis Sprague of Camden County, and David Dashera of Morris County, slipped out of their cots and escaped from the convict road camp at Branchville, Sussex County, early today. Robinson's minimum term would have been up next May. The others still had several years remaining of their minimum sentences.

Of Interest To You Today

Come in any time today and see for yourself what splendid style and sturdy value you can get in our

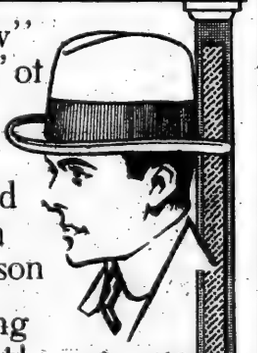
Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits at $18.

They have the same trim smartness of design that is characteristic of the higher priced Varsity Fifty Five models.

Suits—$18 to $50
Overcoats—$15 to $60

Wallach Bros.
Broadway, Cor. 29th St.
Broadway, below Chambers St.
Third Ave., Cor. 129d St. 246-248 West 125th St. Open Evenings.

IRVING $1.50 HATS



Here's the "How" and "Wherefore" of our low price

Made in our Factories and sold through our own stores is the Reason

Come to an Irving Store. Buy direct!

Our Styles Are Great, All $1.50

IRVING HAT STORES 25 NEW YORK BRANCHES.

Young's Hats
NONE BETTER MADE

The Day of the Derby is here: Your soft hat is not sufficiently dressy for all occasions—the hat you require NOW is a Derby. YOUNG Derbies are exclusively modeled and exceptionally modish.

$3 and $4

WESTPORT
2 1/4 IN.
THE CORRECT CUT-A-WAY SHAPE.
Lion Collars
OLDEST BRAND IN AMERICA
UNITED SHIRT & COLLAR CO., TROY, N. Y.

VINCENT says:

Do you know what it means to you to buy your clothing direct from the maker? It means on the finer qualities, a saving of $7.00 on a suit or overcoat, and on the medium grades, $5.

Suits and Overcoats, $12.50 to $30.

G. N. Vincent of Herald Square 524-526 6th Ave. at 31st St.

DINE AT THE HOLLAND HOUSE
Fifth Avenue at 30th St.
(J. Charlton Rivers, Prop.)
TABLE D'HOTE DINNER $1.50
FINE ORCHESTRA MUSIC
UNEXCELLED SERVICE

HALLOWE'EN FESTIVITIES
Will Be Celebrated at the Pell Tree Inn
PELHAM BAY PARK
ELECTION EVE., Mon., Nov. 1st
Special Attractions
DANCING and SINGING
Open All Year
TONJES AND TOPPIN, Proprietors

Hotel Bretton Hall
BROADWAY 85TH TO 86TH ST.
Offers All the Advantages of the Best New York City Hotels at Much Lower Prices.
EXCEPTIONAL APARTMENTS OF ALL SIZES,
FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED, FOR LONG OR SHORT PERIODS.
Transient Rates, $2.50 per Day Up
No Extra Charge When Rooms Are Occupied by Two Persons.

MAXIMUM HOTEL EFFICIENCY AT A REASONABLE CHARGE
THIS HOTEL IS ENDORSED BY THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS MAGAZINE SPRINGFIELD, O.
GUARANTEED WHERE THIS SIGN IS DISPLAYED

CASTLES IN THE AIR AND ICE PALACE
ATOP 46TH ST. THEA.
After the Theatre Adm. $1.
Nightly 10:30 (Ex. Sun.) SUPPER AND DANCING.
Tea 4 to 6, Wed. & Sat. World Champion Ice Skaters
Adm. free to table d'hote dinner, $1.50, and a la carte, 6 to 9. Skating at Tea, Dinner and Supper.
Table reservations Dinner, Supper. Tel. 5935 Bryant

Luchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Ave.
Strand Roof Garden B'way & 47th Tonight Exhibition Dancing
Cafeteria Lunch 11:30 A.M. to 2 P.M.
Afternoon Tea 4:30 to 6:30.
Evenings 8 P. M. to 12 P. M.

23 Years at This Address Means Something.
MODERN DANCES
ONE FULL HOUR'S PRIVATE LESSON..... $1
NINE LESSONS..... $5
Open daily from 10 A. M. until 10 P. M. Expert lady and gentleman teachers.
All Ball Room Dances guaranteed for $5: 4 class lessons, $1.
3½ Hours' Dancing, 25c.
Afternoon and Evenings
The Remey SCHOOL FOR DANCING.
917 8th Av., (at 54th St.) Tel. 4557 Col.
Send for FREE illustrated booklet.

The "EXCEPTIONAL SCHOOL"
Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson, M. B.,
American Authority on Modern Dancing,
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK
Thorley Bldg., N. W. Cor. 46th St.
Telephone Bryant 6321.
All the Season's Newest Dances.
Our tuition does not merely teach steps. It develops Dancing Ability & Individuality
Terms Most Reasonable.
Send for "The Dance," our beautifully illustrated booklet, in colors.
Write for information
Teachers' Normal Course.

TEMPORARILY LOST.
The New York Times is the favorite newspaper for advertising lost property. Thousands of articles restored yearly. Telephone 1000 Bryant.—Advt.

SLIGHTLY USED AUTOMOBILES.
Consult the Automobile Exchange in The New York Times for good second-hand cars. Many bargains daily. Telephone 1000 Bryant.—Advt.

A New Flexible Derby
You can't tell a Kaufman from a high priced hat.
$5 Style $3 Quality $1.50
Kaufman
Manhattan's Man Hatter

Hallowe'en
Share in the light-hearted spirit of this picturesque old fete by joining your friends at Shanley's.
The cabaret of twenty acts—always a noted success—seven to one.
A seven course luncheon, excellently prepared and served - - - 75c. (Music)
SHANLEY'S
Broadway 43rd to 44th St.

Little Hungary
255-263 EAST HOUSTON ST., IN THE HEART OF THE GHETTO
Once more Max Schwartz's Little Hungary, the same old rendezvous, the same place, 255-263 East Houston Street, and the same genial host; a combination that has made Little Hungary justly famous for 20 years.
The spirit of Bohemianism and good fellowship reign supreme here.
We do NOT move uptown. We are HERE TO STAY. No other restaurant has been authorized by us to use the name "Little Hungary." Beware of imitations.
Special Hallowe'en dinner tonight in wine cellar, commencing at 6:30 P. M. Gypsy Band, cabaret and dancing.
Telephone table reservations Orchard 2960.

REISENWEBER'S
58th Street

Picture Section.
Rotogravure: Part 1

The New York Times

Sunday.
October 31, 1915

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGE PARADE, IN WHICH 25,000 PERSONS MARCHED, PASSING THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY AND THE OFFICIAL REVIEWING STAND, FIFTH AVENUE, FORTIETH TO FORTY-SECOND STREETS.
The Westchester Division, Consisting of the White Plains, Tarrytown, Bronxville, and Yonkers Contingents, Can be Seen in the Foreground. (Photo by Pictorial News Co.)

Mayor John Purroy Mitchel, with Mrs. Mitchel and President George McAneny of the Board of Aldermen, in the Reviewing Stand.
(Photo © by American Press Assn.)

MRS. HERBERT CARPENTER, Leader of the New York State Woman Suffrage Association, Returning the Salute of a Fellow-Leader.
(Photo © by Underwood & Underwood.)

MRS. CHARLES C. BAUER AND MRS. MALCOLM DUNCAN, BANNER BEARERS, FIGHTING THE TREACHEROUS FLATIRON WINDS.
Additional photographs of the Suffrage Parade are reproduced on Pages 6 and 7 of this Section.

MRS. PHILIP BOILEAU, WIFE OF THE ARTIST, IMPERSONATING VICTORY.
(Photos © by Henry Bteffen.)

MRS. FELIX D. DOUBLEDAY, FORMERLY MISS RHODA VAN BIBBER TANNER, AND HER WEDDING ATTENDANTS.
In the group, left to right, are Miss Agnes Claflin; the bride; Miss Mary Stewart Claflin, and Mrs. Abbott A. Low, Matron of Honor. (Photo by Mr. & Mrs. Braden.)

MISS MARY FRANCKE,
Who Is to be Presented This Season.
(Photo by the Misses Selby.)

MISS MEADOWS, Winner of the Whippany Challenge Cup at Peapack, N. J., Over the Jumps, with Shelton Martin, Her Owner, Up.
(Photo by Edwin Levick.)

MISS JULIA ZABRISKIE,
The Debutante Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Zabriskie.
(Photo by Aime Dupont.)

FINLEY J. SHEPARD, JR.,
The Little Waif, Known to the Courts as John Doe, No. 104, Who Has Been Adopted as the Son of Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, Formerly Miss Helen Gould. (Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

MRS. J. SKIDDY VON STADE, FORMERLY MISS KATHRYN STEELE, DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. CHARLES STEELE.
From a recent portrait by Harrington Mann now on exhibition at the Scott and Fowles Galleries. (Photo by Hopson.)

© Pach Bros.

The Cupid Grand

The Sohmer Cupid Grand possesses all the desirable features of the Concert Grand in "pocket size." Its volume is not too great for the average drawing room nor too slight for the concert stage.

Sohmer

Fifth Ave. at 32d St.
NEW YORK

Length, 5 ft. 4 in.
Width, 4 ft. 5 in.
Price $675

Pianos taken in exchange.
Terms arranged.

OPPENHEIM, COLLINS & CO

34th Street—New York

America's Foremost Specialists

Fashionable Footwear

For Women and Misses

Exclusive Oppenheim, Collins & Co.'s models in plain and combination effects of all the desirable leathers and fabrics; demonstrating the highest achievements in the production of fine shoes.

410—"Bonnycastle" boot of patent leather or black kidskin, turned soles	8.00
411—"Bonita" laced boots in pearl gray, blue or battleship gray kidskin, tip and shoe, stitched in white silk, welted soles	8.00
412—"Elton" laced boot in bronze, white, brown or battleship gray kidskin, turned soles	6.00
413—"Fontenay" laced boot of all black glace kidskin, turned soles	5.00
414—"Alberta" Satin mule in pink, blue or black	3.90
415—"Belford" Dress pump of patent leather, glace kidskin or white calfskin, turned soles	6.00
416—"Mira" Button boot with black and white vesting top, patent leather vamps, stitched in white silk, white pearl buttons, turned soles	6.00
Same model in all black kidskin	6.00
Same model in kid or cloth tops and patent leather vamps	6.00
417—"Jessica" Button boot in bronze, blue or black kidskin, white pearl buttons, turned soles	5.50
418—"Euclid" Button boot with dark gray buckskin top with patent leather vamps, welted soles	8.00
419—"Briarcliff" Beaded pump of bronze kidskin, turned soles	6.00
Same model in black satin	5.00
Same model in dull kid	5.00
420—"Diva" Dress slipper in black, white, pink, blue, flesh, gold or corn colored satin, also in black velvet, turned soles	3.50
421—"Daytona" Laced boot with glace kidskin top, patent leather vamp, welted soles	5.00

Illustrating 12 of the 200 models now on display

410 BONNYCASTLE

412 ELTON

414 ALBERTA

416 MIRA

418 EUCLID

419 BRIARCLIFF

420 DIVA

411 BONITA

413 FONTENAY

415 BELFORD

417 JESSICA

421 DAYTONA

Does Fatigue Poisoning show on your face?

Are you just beginning to see its effects?

Look about you tonight on your way home. Study the faces of people near you. You will find at least a dozen men and women who look too tired to move. Their systems have been poisoned by fatigue.

As one well known writer says: "In the morning, they come to work with a spring of fresh energy within them. Little by little they empty that spring. When it is day, they draw from sources which should remain untouched. Then begins the formation of fatigue poisons. And before long these fatigue-poisoned people are easy to point out."

If you feel tired at night, it is time you began to remove the unnecessary causes of fatigue.

One way of conserving your energy

One of the greatest causes of fatigue today is the constant pounding and jolting on hard leather heels. It is just as if you ran an automobile without tires or shock absorbers. If you weigh 150 pounds, one average day's walking will jolt your spine with a total weight of over 600 tons!

Begin today to wear O'Sullivan's Heels of New, Live Rubber. They absorb the jars and jolts. See how much better you feel during the day, and how much fresher you are at night.

Any shoe dealer or shoemaker will put them on—black, tan or white; for men, women and children; 50c attached.

Copyright, O'S. R. Co.

Peg o' My Heart Perfume

A wonderful new delight in store for you in a complete assortment of Toilet Preparations of uncommon quality. Just to give you a hint of their charm we make this

Special Introductory offer. Three Trial Packages. 25 cents

Miniature packages of Toilet Water, Cold Cream and Face Powder—the three in week-end box—for a limited time only, 25c. Get them today at your merchant's and use this exquisite fragrance while it is new.

After this offer expires Peg o' My Heart can be had only at regular prices.

D'ORMO, 857 Broadway
NEW YORK CITY

AN EXCELLENT TONIC FOR LADIES' AND GENTLEMEN'S HAIR

BALDPATE HAIR TONIC

Registered in U. S. and Canada

NEVER FAILS

Nourishes and strengthens the follicles and thus promotes the growth of the hair. Relieves the scalp of unhealthy accumulations and secretions. Gives a rich gloss, is highly perfumed and free from oil, makes the hair light and fluffy. Send 10c for trial size.

BALDPATE CO., (Dept. E)
467 W. 34th St., New York
Sold by all druggists, or send $1.00.

If you wear a 16, 18, 36 or 38 YOU CAN SAVE FROM $5 TO $10 ON EVERY GARMENT.

Inspect our values before buying elsewhere. No charge for alterations.

BLUM'S
Sample Shop
Suits, Coats & Dresses
Retail at Wholesale Prices
Monolith Building, 45 West 34th St. | Room 1207

Pearl White in a "Hamilton Coat"

THE Coat illustrated will be worn in her next motion picture series.

LIKE Pearl White, a great many critical New York women have found that by buying direct from us they could save from $10 to $15 on a suit or coat.

We Sell
RETAIL AT WHOLESALE PRICES

COATS	$7.50 to $30
DRESSES	5.00 to 20
SUITS	10.50 to 35

All in the season's newest modes and materials.

TO the woman who pays $25.00 or $35.00 for a suit at retail, we offer a wide variety of styles of equal value, both in material and workmanship for at least $10.00 less.

Be Curious! Visit Our Showrooms.

To order by mail send your measure and enclose postal money order for the amount—shipment at once. If not satisfactory, we refund your money.

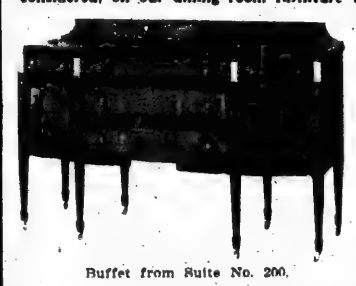
The HAMILTON GARMENT CO.
Address Dept. E 11 for free Catalog.
307 FIFTH AVE., Near 31st St., N. Y.

No. 124—All Wool Velour, $25.50.

STROBEL FURNITURE

WE appreciate that you need some inducement to come to see us located, as we are, out of the easy-to-reach, high-rent district.

We make you this inducement in the shape of low prices, quality considered, on our dining room furniture which is of the highest grade and authoritative style. A visit will prove this. Yet we are only 15 minutes from 42d Street.



Buffet from Suite No. 200.

Philip Strobel & Sons, Inc., New York

Show Rooms 53-55 Elizabeth St. Take Third Avenue "L" or Subway to Canal St.

Pebeco Tooth Paste Will Help You Keep Your Teeth for Life

Pebeco Tooth Paste is first aid to beautiful teeth. Its daily use is Wisdom's choice—for Pebeco counteracts "Acid-Mouth," which is said to be the cause of 95% of all tooth decay.

Send for Free Ten-Day Trial Tube and Acid Test Papers.

The trial tube will show you how a real dentifrice tastes and acts. Pebeco Tooth Paste is sold everywhere in extra-large size tubes. Only ⅓ of a brushful is used at a time.

John & Fink New York

The HARDMAN Five-Foot Grand

Occupies no more space than an upright.

Caruso says, "Its tone is wonderful."

$650

Easy Terms if desired

HARDMAN, PECK & COMPANY—Founded 1842
Hardman House: 433 Fifth Avenue, (between 38th and 39th Sts.)
Brooklyn Store: 524 Fulton Street, (near Hanover Place)

C/B La Spirite Corsets
The Standard Everywhere for the Woman of Fashion

BONWIT TELLER & CO.

The Specialty Shop of Originations

FIFTH AVENUE, at 38th St., NEW YORK

Charmion

"Charmion" Beaver Set

High choker collar with large "Pierrot" buttons 16.50
Newest form barrel muff with satin pendant.. 37.50
Other Beaver Scarfs....16.50 to 35.00
Other Beaver Muffs.....37.50 to 45.00

Eflare

Renard

"Renard" Red Fox Set

Wholeskin Animal Scarf with large brush and head..... 19.50
Barrel Muff with large brush and head... 19.50
Other Red Fox Scarfs up to 55.00
Other Red Fox Muffs up to 55.00

Parna

Fidele

Hudson Seal Coats

FOR WOMEN & MISSES

"Fidele"—Hudson Seal Coat (select dyed muskrat), full flare model 45 inches long, convertible chin collar..... 95.00

"Parna"—Hudson Seal Coat (select dyed muskrat), full flare model. Collar, cuffs and border of natural Skunk..... 125.00

"Eflare" — Hudson Seal Coat (select dyed muskrat). Full loose back, flare model. Natural Skunk border, collar and cuffs..... 245.00

Mail Orders Filled
Telephone 7300 Murray Hill

Fields

GOWNS, WRAPS, BLOUSES, SUITS.

New York Paris

Directing your attention to our splendid exhibition of fashions which show the dominating style features of the imported costumes, priced so unusually interesting that they irresistibly appeal to every woman.

Custom Department.
A slight advance over regular prices for goods made to order.

17 West 45th Street
West of Fifth Avenue
New York

Franklin Simon & Co.

Fifth Avenue, 37th and 38th Sts., New York

Women's Fashionable Furs

At Special Prices

Hudson Seal Fur Coat

Dyed Skunk Fur Trimmed

Flare model, 48 inches long, chin collar, cuffs and border of Dyed Skunk Fur.

Special 115.00

Real Fox Fur Set

Dyed Battleship Grey

Large Round Muff with head, tail and paws and large Animal Scarf.

Special 59.50

38 40

Goldie Gotham at the game

"To win the game there must be team work. That's true of almost anything, isn't it? It's true, I know, of Gotham Gold Stripe Silk Stockings.

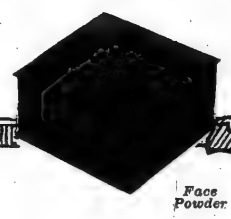
"The beauty of the silk, the shimmering lustre and the wealth of color—they are all supported by the team-work of the weave, the double strength of purest silk, and the patented Gold Stripe that stops all 'garter runs.' To wear Gold Stripe Stockings is to know stocking comfort and practical economy—simply because they wear so long."—G. G.

Good Stockings for $1—and up to $20.

GOTHAM GOLD STRIPE REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Gotham Hosiery Shops
504 Fifth Ave., near 42d St.
27 West 34th St., near Fifth Ave.

The "Spirit of the Lilac Bloom"



Face Powder

has been captured by Rigaud and imprisoned in an exquisite bottle for your own personal use.

Lilas de Rigaud

Is the latest creation of

Rigaud (pronounced Ree-go) the creator of Mary Garden Perfume

Remember, the World knows many Perfumers—Paris claims Rigaud as the Master of them all. The Spirit of the Lilac Bloom is embodied in a complete series of perfected Toilet articles.

Lilas de Rigaud Perfume in an artistic cut-glass bottle characteristic of its Parisian origin. 3 sizes: $1.25, $2.50, $3.50.

Lilas de Rigaud Toilet Water..$3.50	Lilas de Rigaud Talcum Powder.$ .50
Lilas de Rigaud Cold Cream.. .50	Lilas de Rigaud Face Powder.. 1.00
Lilas de Rigaud Sachet..... 1.50	Lilas de Rigaud Soap 1.00

RIGAUD,
16 Rue de la Paix, Paris.

All Department Stores and Druggists.

Bust Reducer, $5.00. Made from my famous reducing rubber with Coutil back.

You may reduce your flesh where required.

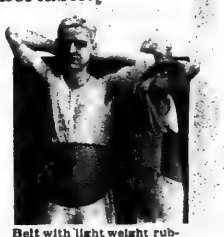
BOTH men and women should keep their figures. There is no necessity for being too fat, when by simply wearing one of my famous medicated rubber garments a few hours each day or at night you can remove accumulations of fat from any part of the body.

For Women		For Men
Frown Eradicator	$2.00	Belt, rubber and Coutil back, with buttons or lacing	$6.00
Chin Reducer	2.00	Belt of all rubber with lacing	12.00
Neck and Chin Reducer	3.00	Athletic Pants, ready made	11.00
Bust Reducer	5.00	Athletic Coats without sleeves	11.00
Abdominal Reducer	6.00	Athletic Coats with sleeves	12.00
Other Garments up to	35.00	Other Garments up to	45.00

These garments reduce by perspiration, making you feel cool and comfortable.

They are endorsed by leading physicians.

Write for my book describing and illustrating reducing garments for Men and Women.

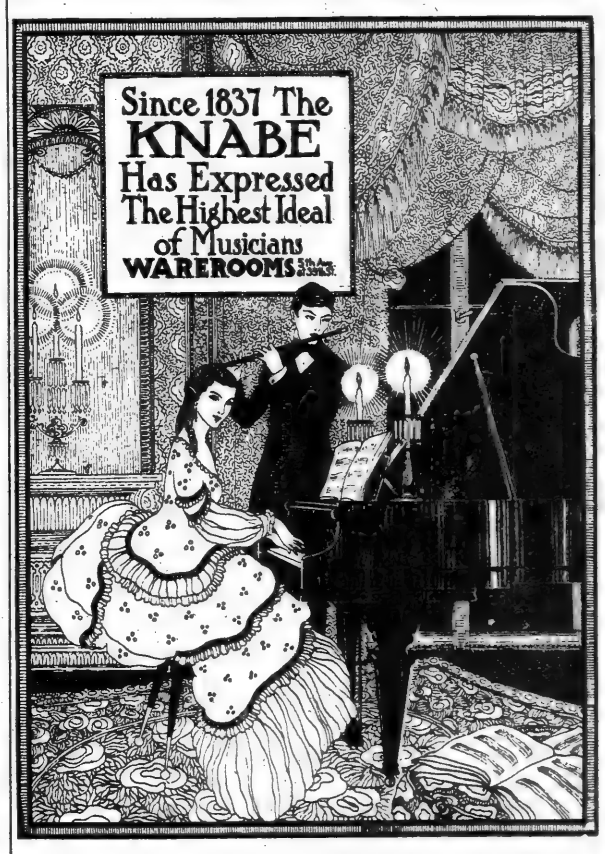


Belt with light weight rubber and Coutil back with buttons or lacing, $6.00.

DR. JEANNE A. B. WALTER
Inventor and Patentee
353 Fifth Ave., Cor. 34th St.
Third Door East, New York

Since 1837 The KNABE Has Expressed The Highest Ideal of Musicians

WAREROOMS 5th Ave. at 39th St.



Furniture of Distinction.

DISTINCTIVE FURNITURE FOR THE LIVING ROOM.

This week you will find special price reductions throughout our entire stock of Living-Room Furniture.

The above sofa (from a 3-piece suite) is exceptionally artistic. It may be had with either silk or velour covering. Woodwork and cane are in a rich antique mahogany finish—or in other finishes to suit you. Three loose cushions for back rests. Length of sofa 6½ feet.

For this week price of sofa, $135.

49-51 W. 23d St. Geiger & Braverman FURNITURE CO. Bet. 5th & 6th Ave.

Our Folder on Request.

The genuine Italian Silk Underwear has the name "Kayser" in every garment.

A complete selection at all the best stores.

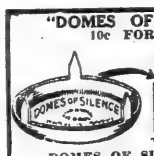
For your protection this little ticket is on every yard of

VAN RAALTE Veils

Made in U.S.A.

At all good shops

"DOMES OF SILENCE"
10c FOR FOUR



Make your furniture glide. Save rugs, carpets, floors and furniture. Name inside caster. At all dealers or direct from us.

DOMES OF SILENCE CO.
17 State St., New York

AVOID THAT BREAKDOWN

Take Wincarnis Regularly

Wincarnis, the famous English Tonic, recommended by over 10,000 physicians.

Pleasant. Palatable. Easily Digested.

Rebuilder of Gowns

All your last season's frocks can be successfully rebuilt after the fashions of to-day.

REBUILDING OF GOWNS as carried out by me means a creation from something you may have thought worthless. Prices reasonable.

HOMER

113½ W. 37th St., N. Y. Tel. 8365 Greeley.

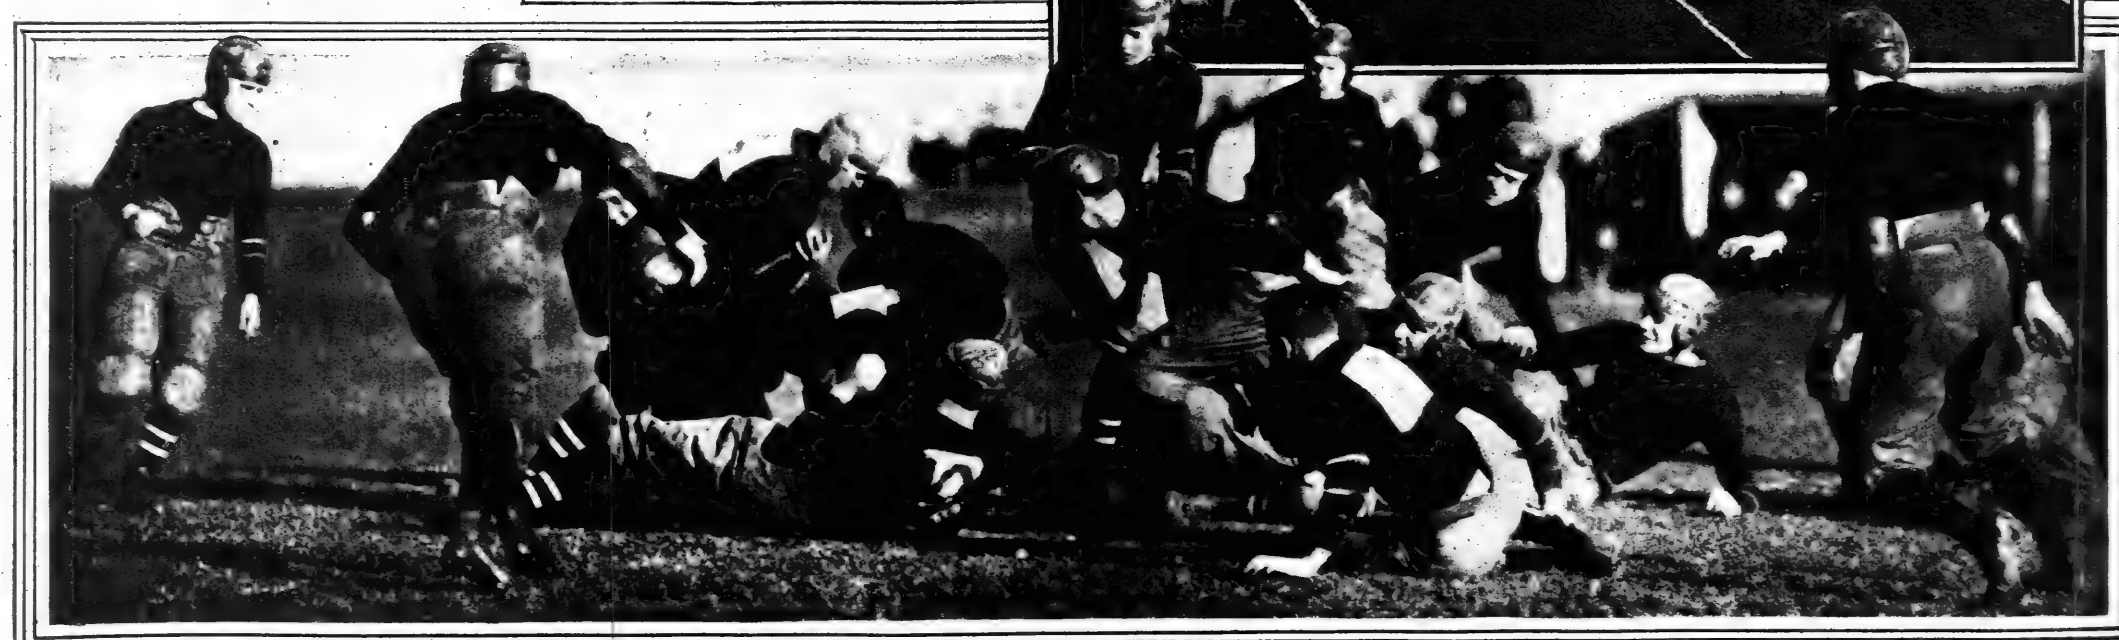
The New York Times

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH OF AN ITALIAN SENTINEL ON SOLITARY GUARD DUTY AT A BOUNDARY POST ON THE AUSTRIAN FRONTIER
(Photo © by Paul Thompson.)

President Nicholas Murray Butler and Daughter, Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, See Columbia Defeat St. Lawrence.
(Photo © by Underwood & Underwood.)

General Venustiano Carranza, Recognized by the United States and the South American Republics as the Chief Executive of Mexico, and His Staff of Government Secretaries.

Glick (No. 22), Princeton's Quarterback and Captain, Plunging Through Dartsmouth's Left Guard, Making a Substantial Gain, in Princeton's Defeat of Dartmouth on Oct. 23 by a Score of 30 to 7.



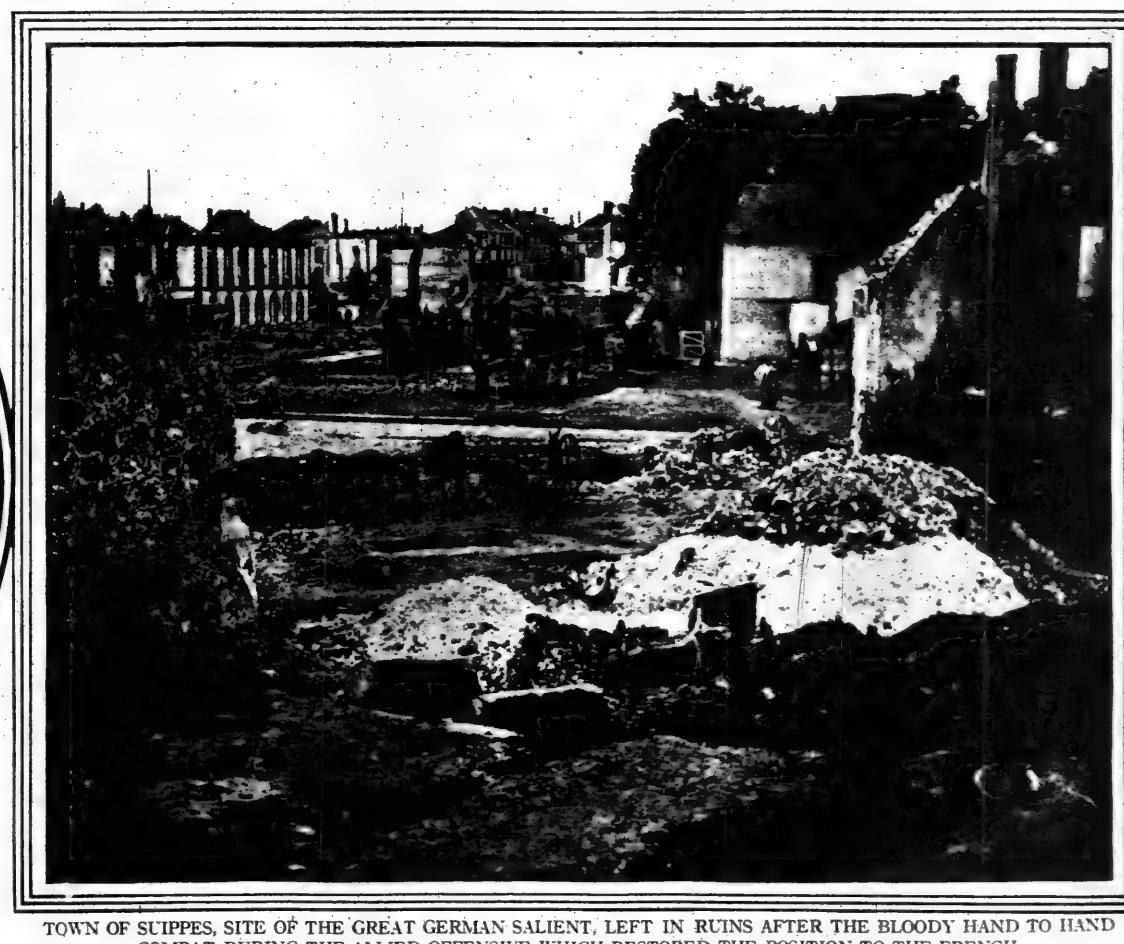
COLLINS OF CORNELL MAKING A DRIVE THROUGH HARVARD'S LINE FOR A GAIN OF SEVERAL YARDS IN THE GAME OF OCTOBER 23, WHEN CORNELL DEFEATED HARVARD FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THEIR FOOTBALL HISTORY.
(Photos by Underwood & Underwood.)

GERMAN PRISONERS, CAPTURED IN THE RECENT BRITISH OFFENSIVE IN FRANCE, REACH SOUTHAMPTON.
(Photo from Janet M. Cummings.)

THOUSANDS OF GERMAN PRISONERS, CAPTURED IN THE CHAMPAGNE COUNTRY, MARCHING UNDER FRENCH GUARD TOWARD PARIS.
(Photos from Médem Photo Service.)

FRENCH GIRL, THE FIANCEE OF A SOLDIER BEFORE THE WAR, ABOUT TO WED HIM ON HIS RETURN BLINDED FOR LIFE IN BATTLE.
(Photo by Press Illustrating Co.)

GERMAN TRENCHES RUNNING THROUGH THE CHAMPAGNE TOWN OF CARENCY PULVERIZED AND SWEPT CLEAR OF MEN BY FRENCH ARTILLERY.



TOWN OF SUIPPES, SITE OF THE GREAT GERMAN SALIENT, LEFT IN RUINS AFTER THE BLOODY HAND TO HAND COMBAT DURING THE ALLIED OFFENSIVE WHICH RESTORED THE POSITION TO THE FRENCH.

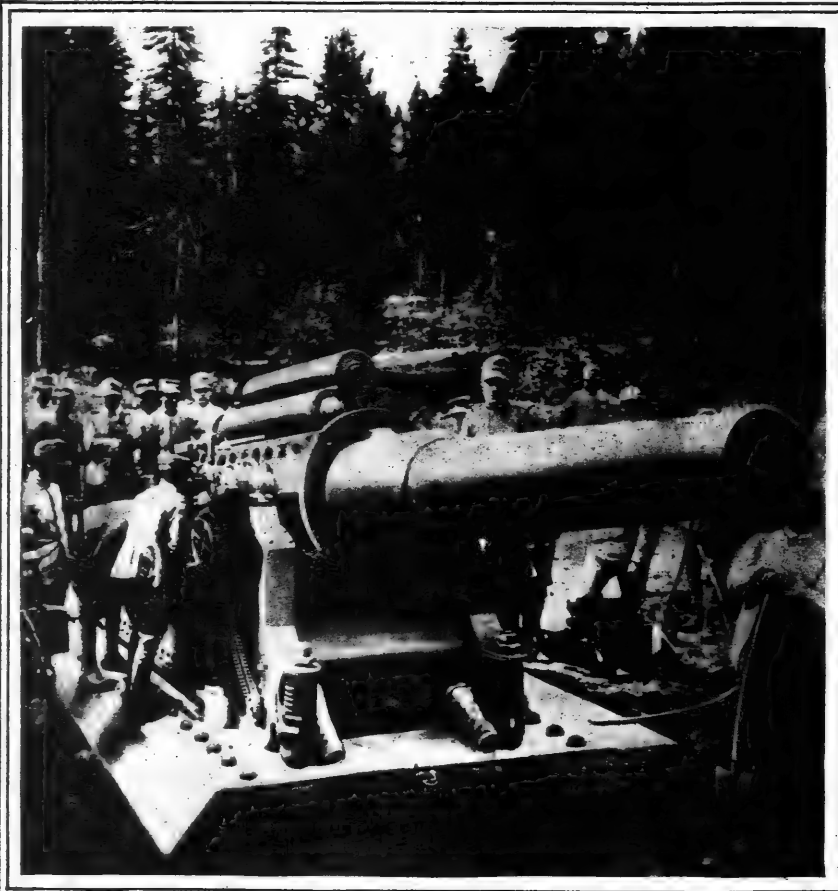
GERMAN REINFORCEMENTS MAKING A RAPID ADVANCE THROUGH RUSSIAN POLAND OVER A PLANK ROAD LAID ESPECIALLY FOR THEM.
(Photo by R. Sennecke.)

Slightly Disabled British Soldiers Resting Beside the Dardanelles Near an Advanced Dressing Station. Quite a Number Have Hand Wounds.

(Photo © American Press Assn.)

The Noted German Aeronaut, Lieut. Commander von Abercron, Who Has Won Every Order Given in the Present War. He Is Shown Wearing Some of Them.

(Photo by Franz Otto Koch.)



THE ITALIAN 30.5 CM. GUN, CORRESPONDING TO THE HEAVY ARTILLERY OF THE GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS, Turned Against the Latter in the Trentino Fighting.
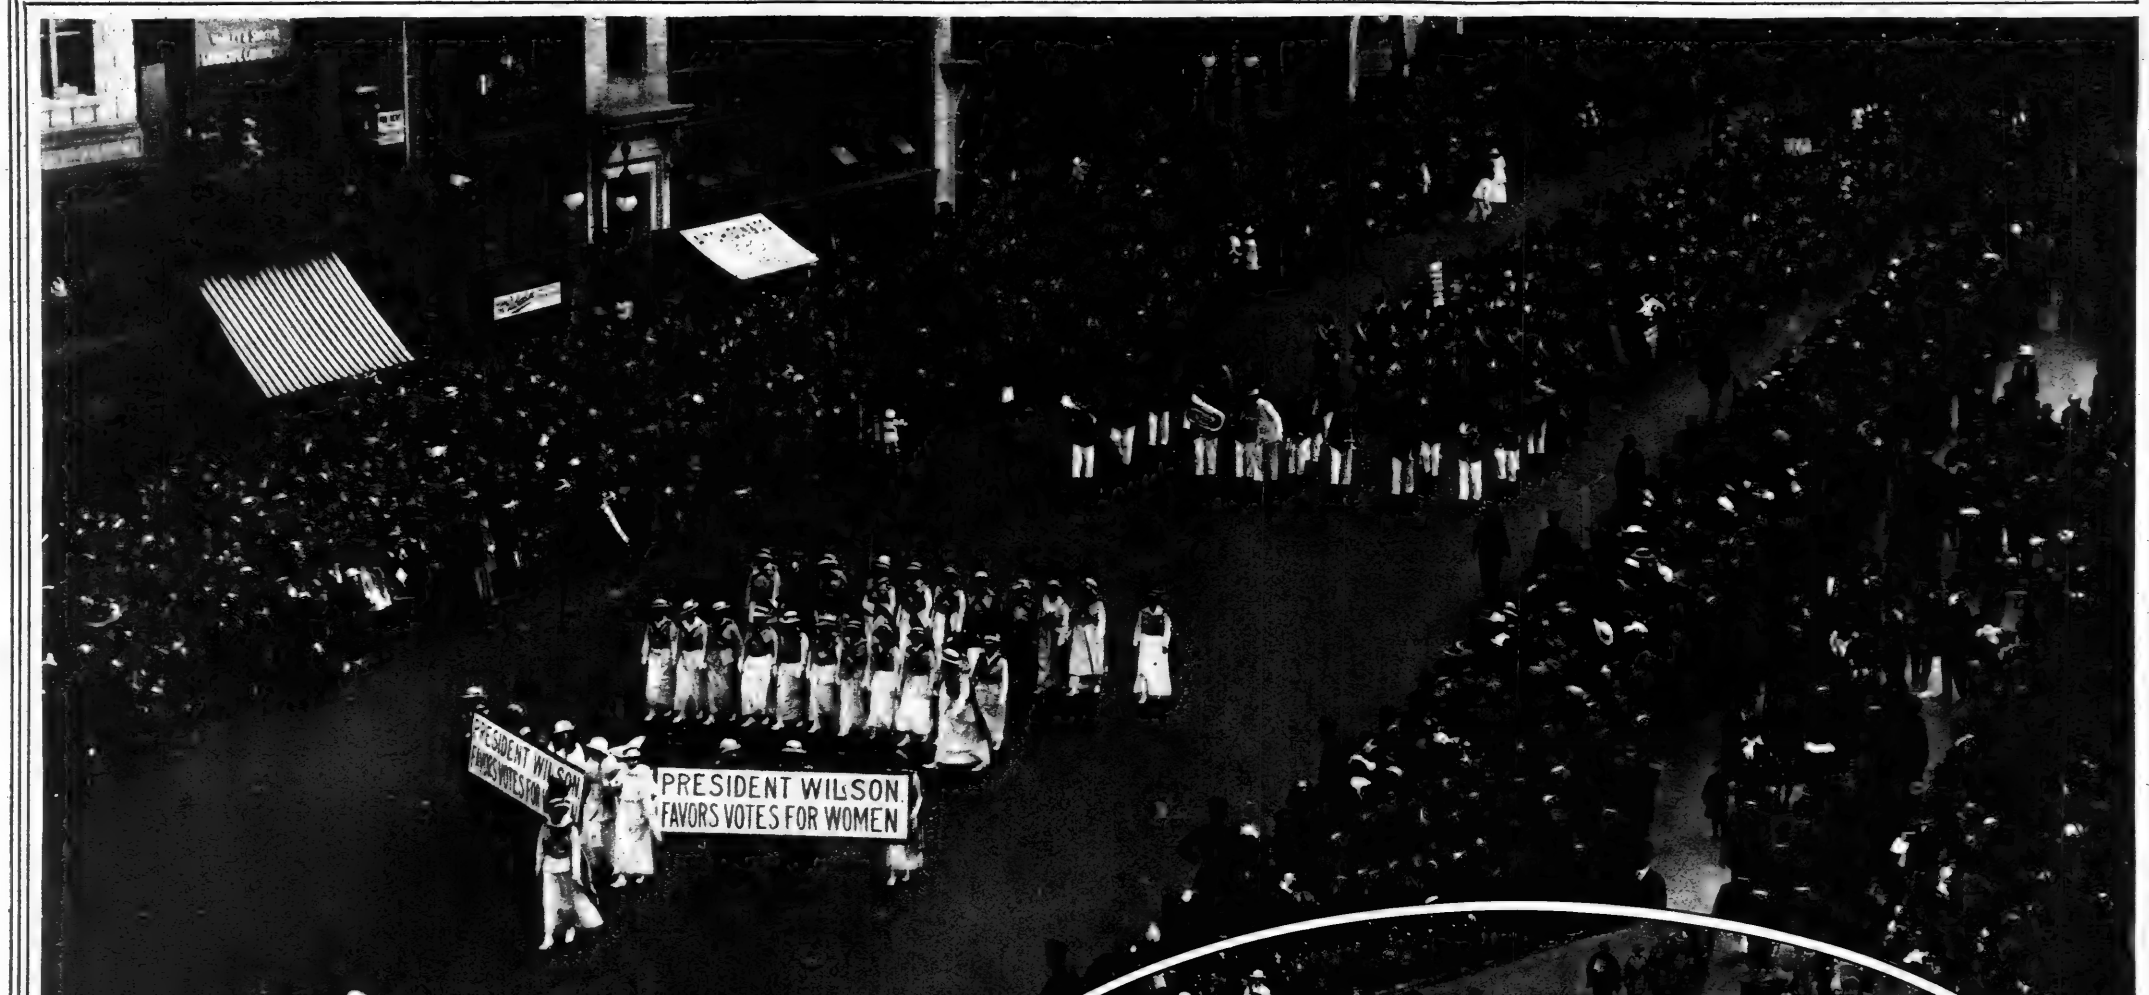
(Photo by Paul Thompson.)

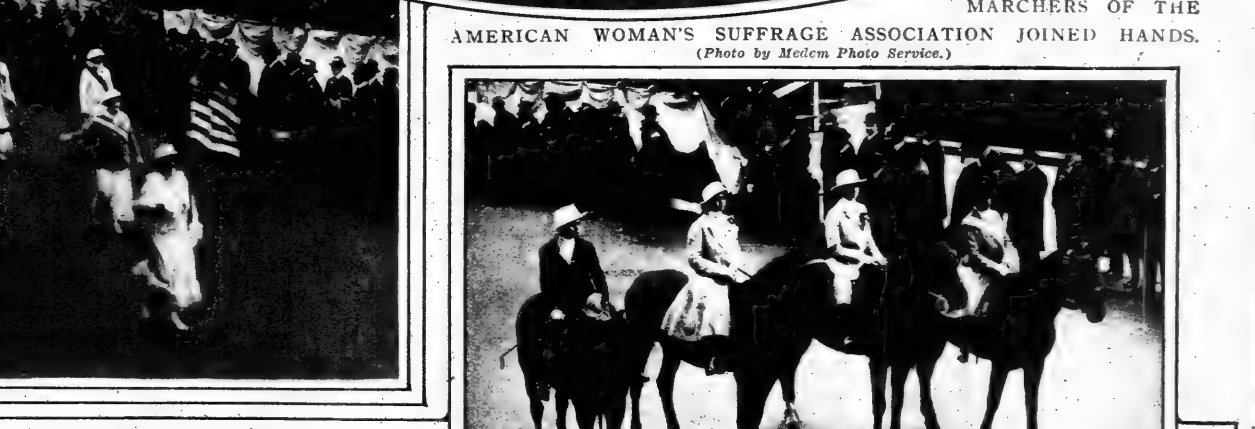
GERHART HAUPTMANN, THE NOTED GERMAN POET AND DRAMATIST, WHO WON THE NOBEL PRIZE FOR LITERATURE IN 1912, With His Three Soldier Sons, Lieutenants Klaus and Eckart Hauptmann, and Ivo Hauptmann, a Volunteer. The Lieutenants Are Wearing the Ribbons of the Iron Cross.
(Photo from Press Illustrating Co.)

The New York Times

WOMEN OF MANY ORGANIZATIONS MARCH



NEW JERSEY DIVISION IN THE WOMAN SUFFRAGE PARADE PASSING THE MAYOR'S REVIEWING STAND.
(Photo by Pictorial News Co.)



STRIKING EFFECT WHEN MARCHERS OF THE AMERICAN WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION JOINED HANDS.
(Photo by Medem Photo Service.)

MRS. HERBERT CARPENTER LEADING THE NEW YORK WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION.
(Photo by Pictorial News.)

HEAD OF THE CAVALRY DIVISION.
The Riders Are: Miss Jane Powers, Miss Sarah Tompkins, Miss Eleanor Collins and Miss T. M. Kerrigan.

MRS. FLORENCE FLEMING NOYES AS COLUMBIA, AND HER DANCING PUPILS, BEARING THE UNITED STATES FLAG AT THE HEAD OF THE MANHATTAN DELEGATION.
(Photo by Edwin Levick.)

THE INTERNATIONAL SUFFRAGE ALLIANCE SECTION OF THE PARADE, REPRESENTING SUFFRAGE ORGANIZATIONS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.
(Photo © by International Film Service, Inc.)

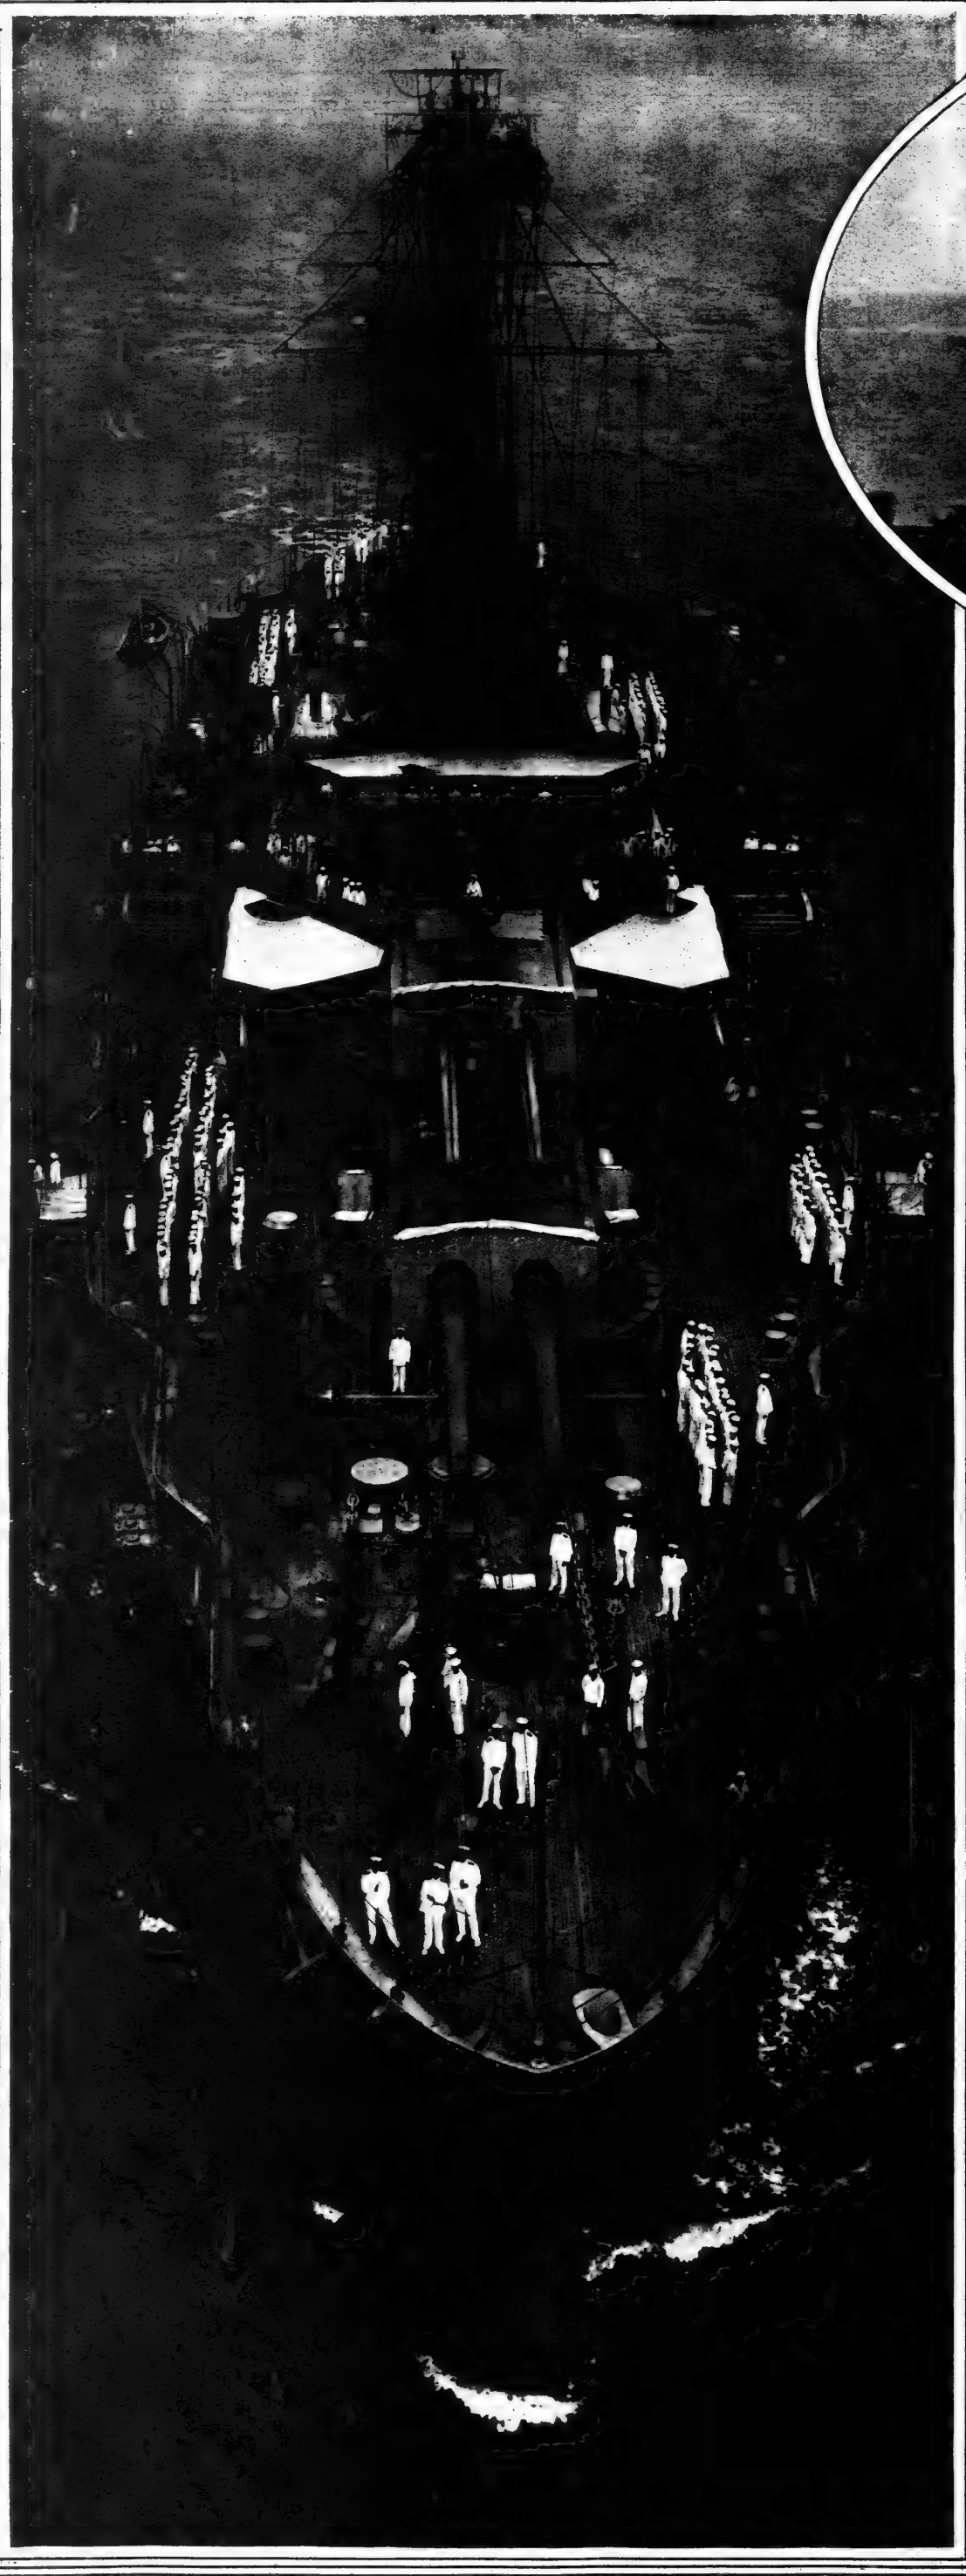
MARCHERS REPRESENTING THE TWELVE STATES WHICH HAVE ENFRANCHISED WOMEN, FOLLOWED BY EDITH WYNNE MATTHISON, REPRESENTING NEW YORK.
(Photo by J. Hal Steffen.)

(Photo © Underwood & Underwood.)

YOUTHFUL MARCHERS FOR SUFFRAGE.
They Are, Left to Right: Grace Mc-Williams, Elizabeth Williams and Shirley Williams.

MRS. LECNARD THOMAS CARRYING THE BANNER OF THE INTERNATIONAL WOMAN SUFFRAGE ALLIANCE.
(Photo © by American Press Assn.)

Paraders of Litchfield County, Conn., Nearly Surrendered Their Banners to the Breeze on Approaching Twenty-third Street.
(Photo by Paul Thompson.)



BATTLESHIP NEW YORK RETURNING TO THIS CITY A WEEK AGO FROM THE SOUTHERN DRILL GROUNDS.
From one of the most remarkable photographs ever taken of a warship in the open sea, showing every foot of her deck.
(Photo © by E. Muller, Jr.)

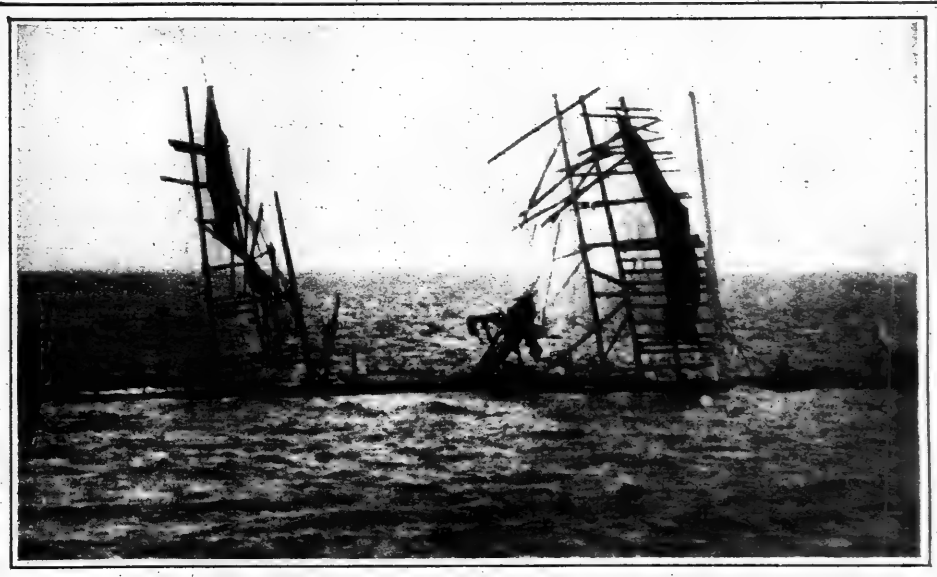
BATTLESHIP SOUTH CAROLINA, AT A DISTANCE OF NINE MILES, FIRING ON A TARGET, SEEN BETWEEN THE TOWERS OF WATER, DURING THE NAVAL GAMES IN CHESAPEAKE BAY, JUST CONCLUDED.
The Observers on a Sister Ship in the Foreground Are Only a Few Hundred Yards Away.



THE TARGET WHEN THE SOUTH CAROLINA HAD FINISHED FIRING.
(Photos © by R. Muller, Jr.)

Lady de Bathe, the Famous Lily Langtry and "Jersey Lilly" of the Stage, Who Arrived Here Approximately on Her Sixty-third Birthday, Feeling, She Said, "Like a Schoolgirl." (© Int. F. S.)

RAE SELWYN
IN "ROLLING STONES"
At the Harris Theatre.
(Photo © by Ira L. Hill.)

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOOK FOR THIS LABEL → ENGLANDER WIT-EDGE BED SPRING Patented

The Only Bed Spring That Keeps the Mattress and Bed Clothes in Place and Shape

Cannot Sag.
Absolutely Sanitary.

Sold by All Leading Department and Furniture Stores—Under the Englander Guarantee.

If your dealer does not sell the Englander Wit-Edge Spring, write for booklet and names of nearest dealers.

Englander Couch Beds, Wit-Edge Divans.

Englander Spring Bed Co

BROOKLYN CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO

Englander Foldaway Beds, Englander Foldaway Cots.

Lower Rents Make Our Prices Less

for Good FURNITURE go to Worth GOLDBURG'S Class

WASHINGTON HEIGHTS
HEART OF THE BRONX AND YONKERS

The Only Charge Account Furniture House in Greater New York Specializing in Cash Store Quality

Buying Power of Three Great Stores

Prices Plainly Marked on all Goods

Splendid 10-Piece Jacobean Suit, $149.

A modern adaptation of the most favored Early English (300 years old) style. Like a precious heirloom it brings with it all the historical romance of the past. Made of the finest quality quarter-sawed oak, toned a deep brown hue. The set includes six first grade leather seat chairs, one with arms and piece illustrated.

OPEN EVERY BUSINESS DAY EVENING.

AMSTERDAM AV. COR. 148TH ST. — THIRD AVE. COR. 163D ST. — YONKERS 16-18 WARBURTON AV.

No Extra Charge Made for Credit

The Foot Ease

the children enjoy in Blyn Plan Shoes incites the natural activity that results in perfect bodily health.

In Blyn Plan Shoes the toes are not squeezed or bent—the shoes fit snugly at the spots where protection is needed. As low priced as ordinary shoes.

Blyn-Plan Nature Shoe

Patent Colt and Gun Metal — For Children

Sizes
5 to 8.....1.75
8½ to 11...2.00
11½ to 2...2.50

Tan Russia Calf

Sizes
5 to 11.....2.00
11½ to 2...2.50

10c. extra by mail anywhere in the United States.

We have moved to our new Fulton Street (Brooklyn) Store, 442-444 Fulton Street (Old Milkman Building) opp. Bridge, near Hoyt Street. Across the street from our old store.

Newark Store { 689 Broad Street, Opposite Military Park

J. Blym & Sons GUARANTEE SHOE CO. — Mail Order Dept. 2240 3d Av.

West Side Stores:	East Side Stores:
222-224 W. 125th St.	3d Av. & 122d St.
6th Av. & 27th St.	3d Av., near 86th St.
8th Av., nr. 39th St.	3d Av., 150 & 151 Sts.
Brooklyn Stores: Broadway, bet. Park & Ellery Sts. 442-444 Fulton St., opp. Bridge St. Broadway, near Greene Ave.	2 Bowery, nr. Broome.

Factors: 511-519 East 72d St.

Smart Apparel for

Stout Figures

Our entire main floor is devoted to a comprehensive display of every edict of fashion and favored style feature of the season, with lines and trimmings cleverly manipulated to give long, slender, graceful lines and poise that proclaim the well dressed woman — sizes: 35½ to 58 bust.

Dresses .....11.75 to 127.50
Suits .....24.50 to 143.75
Skirts .....5.00 to 24.75
Coats .....18.75 to 145.00
Waists .....1.45 to 19.75
Negligees .....1.95 to 29.75
Corsets and Underwear

to fit you from stock, no matter what your figure or bust measure—a service no other house can render, and only possible through Lane Bryant's original and exclusive methods.

SPECIAL

As illustrated, fur trimmed suit of finest wool poplin, especially designed for figures up to 56 bust. Black or navy. Special..... 24.75

"Smart Apparel for Stout Figures"—the only fashion book of its kind published, sent free. Write Dept. L-14.

'Phone 6416 Greeley — Lane Bryant — 25 W. 38th St., New York

---

EASYMADE PERMANENT PORTABLE

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS SCREW THE BOLTS

An artistic adornment to any garden—includes garden seat on each side and trellises. A practical Garage, made with particular regard for warmth. Accommodates large touring car. Painted outside, stained inside. Complete.. $160 up

Send for Catalogue.

EASYMADE COMPANY
Dept. T. 527 Fifth Av., New York.

HAIR BEAUTY

May be easily attained by using

Empress Hair Tonic

A pure, harmless preventive for dry or oily ITCHING SCALP and FALLING HAIR—and to stimulate the growth of NEW HAIR. 50c.

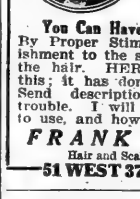
Empress Dandruff Remedy

To remove moist or scaly dandruff and to keep the scalp clean and healthy. 50c. at R. H. Macy & Co., John Wanamaker, James McCreery & Co., Gimbel Bros.

Empress Mfg. Co., 46 W. 20th St., N.Y.C.

PARKER'S METHOD OF HAIR TREATMENT

is insurance against thin and impoverished hair. Itching, oily and scaly conditions cause falling hair; incipient grayness and baldness successfully treated. Results simply phenomenal.



Send today for free booklet "T," "Healthy Hair—How to Get and Keep It."

JANE COWL says Dear Mr. Parker:—Let me thank you for the most beneficial treatments my hair has ever had. All good wishes to you.

You Can Have Luxuriant Hair!

By Proper Stimulation and Nourishment to the scalp and especially the hair. HERBEX accomplishes this; it has done it for 39 years. Send description of your hair trouble. I will advise what tonic to use, and how.

FRANK PARKER
Hair and Scalp SPECIALIST.
51 WEST 37TH ST., N.Y.

GLASSBERG SHORT VAMP SHOES

Style No. 681x — $5.00

We Show Only the Latest Styles

Here's a shoe that makes your foot look smaller. You can wear it and be sure it's the latest style. Send for Catalog T.

511 6th Ave., near 31st St.
225 West 42d St., nr. Times Sq.
58 3d Ave., near 10th St.
Mail Orders Carefully Filled.

A CATHEDRAL BELL SETH THOMAS CLOCK

Bought at a concession and offered at a very low figure to make new friends for a house that has been established seventy years.

Inlaid Mahogany, $10

DESCRIPTION: solid mahogany, "English Cabinet" case; Marquetrie inlaid; 12 inches tall; highest grade Porcelain Dial and convex beveled glass. Fine 8 day movement; hour and half hour strike; mellow Cathedral Bell; perfect timekeeper. Formerly sold at $15.00 elsewhere.

Order this clock today, the supply is limited. Catalogue 10 of 350 reliable clocks sent on request.

Wm. H. Enhaus & Son,
Jewelers since 1847
31 John Street, New York City.

You'll See It at Dale's

If you've been shopping all over town for a lighting fixture of unique design you are almost certain to find just what you want in our large stock—and at prices 20 to 35 per cent. lower than retail. Lighting advice FREE.

Ornate new chain drop.

Write for Booklet, "Lighting the Home," or, better still, call at our showrooms.

Dale Lighting Fixture Co.,
111 West 13th St., New York.

TROUT JEWELRY SHOP

Japanese Rose Gold, 3 Diamonds, 10K Solid Gold, $15.25; 14K Solid Gold, $19.00. Call, write or phone for free catalogue, the BLUE BOOK of jewelry, diamonds, silverware, watches, cut glass, ivory, novelties. You save one-third AT WHOLESALE PRICES.

Thousands of splendid jewelry gifts for Birthdays, Prizes, Graduations, Holidays..... $1 to $10

CHAS. L. TROUT CO.
170 B'way, Cor. Maiden Lane, N. Y.
2nd floor. 'Phone Cortlandt 3586.
Open to 6 P. M., Saturdays included.

Your Children's Feet

Flat Foot Specialist

looked after now will SAVE EXPENSE AND SUFFERING later in life.

Let Dr. Rosenberg examine your children's feet and advise you about their care.

Dr. L. B. Rosenberg, Chiropodist,
Tel. Bryant 1760. 121 West 42d St.

The "EXCEPTIONAL SCHOOL"

Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson M.B.

American Authority on Modern Dancing

The one distinctly expert school that has been selected by New York's fashionable and well-to-do people.

More than 18,000 private pupils have received instruction from Mr. Wilson.

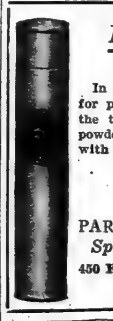
Terms Most Reasonable.

Send for "The Dance," our beautifully illustrated booklet in colors.

© 1914

FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK
Thorley Building—N. W. Cor. 46th St.
Telephone Bryant 8321.

Write for Information Teachers' Normal Course



Nail Brilliant

RIVIERA

In small French Ivory tubes for pocket or handbag. Turn the top, shake a tiny bit of powder on palm, moisten nails with lips, and rub one second.

25c. each.

PARFUMERIE RIVIERA
Spécialités de Beauté
450 Fifth Av. & 11 E. 30th St.
Catalog on request.

FOR FASHION and Relief From Foot Troubles

Jack's Improved Pedic Arch Shoes

Our Only Store 495 6th Ave., Bet. 29 & 30 Sts.

Estab. 1880.

JACK'S

The Mending Shop

Trade Mark

The original mending and remodeling Shop

Gowns, Suits and Dresses REMODELED. Shop Waists and Gowns Refitted. Suits cleaned, pressed and made into latest styles. First-class dry cleaning.

MISS H. REDDING COUGHLIN.
NEW ADDRESS: 17 East 48th St.
Phone: Murray Hill 5062.
(formerly 20 W. 31st St.)
We Have No Branches.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

"Just Because

I never took the trouble to investigate

'ACOUSTICON'

I suffered the hardships of the DEAF

FREE TRIAL— NO DEPOSIT.. JUST SEND POSTAL

"Just think, only three weeks ago I sent that postal—three weeks ago you would have had to shout to make me hear you across the library table—Now I can hear your lowest whisper distinctly.

"Down at the office I actually heard Miss Brown's low voiced murmur for the first time in years.

"And last night I enjoyed every word of that play! Three weeks ago I would have been bored stiff at the theatre—couldn't have heard a single word. But all that's over—now I hear perfectly."

This advertisement was written by users of the "ACOUSTICON"—the words are theirs, not ours. If you are hard of hearing we will gladly send you an instrument for ten days' free trial.

Could anything be fairer? or show more strongly our confidence in the "ACOUSTICON"?

If you are hard of hearing—write us to-day—let us send you "Evidence"—a postal card will do.

"ACOUSTICON," Candler Building, 220 W. 42d St., New York City

---

This Bed in Any Color

This enamel bed is here illustrated in French Gray. It can also be furnished in Old Ivory or in any color to suit a particular room or scheme of decoration. It incorporates the Whitcomb Welded Corner, and is handsome, strong—made to give years and years of service.

Single size in special colorings, $19
In White Enamel, $17
The Whitcomb Metallic Bedstead Co.
34th and Madison Avenue
Factory, Shelton, Conn.
Philadelphia 1710 Chestnut St. Boston 90 Washington St.

This fine garage constructed in a few hours with Bossert Redibilt units.

Bossert Redibilt Garages

"Not Even a Nail to Buy"

Easily Heated

Before you buy a garage, make sure that it can be easily heated.

Bossert Redibilt Units have lined air chambers—making a complete insulation. No danger of your water system freezing, even with the minimum of heat.

All units ready painted in two colors—two coats. Any one can lock them in place with a monkey wrench. Order yours today.

Prices range from $179 up, according to size.

Send for illustrated catalog, which also contains description of complete line of Bossert Redibilt Homes.

LOUIS BOSSERT & SONS
Builders of Bungalows for 25 years.
1319 Grand Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Tom Wells Inc.

GOLF SCHOOL

Broadway at 81st St.

8 Large Courts and Putting Green

The New Pendulum Putter. $3.50 & $4.00

A marked improvement in your Putting at once.

Instruction by well-known Professionals. The Tom Wells Method follows the best traditions of the game as exemplified by the famous English and Scotch Golfers.

Harry Vardon Drivers and Brassies, $3.50. The St. Andrews Golf Bag for Tops and Clubs with travelling Hood, $13.50.

Everything for the Game in Golf Shop. Open 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. Sundays Forenoon.
Visitors Welcome.
Telephone Schuyler 3633.

Why Have Gray or Faded Hair?

HENNA D'ORÉAL

New French Discovery

which is composed of pulverized Henna and Herbs, provides a natural coloring. Not affected by previous dye. Will not stain scalp or rub off. All shades, easy to apply.

Price, Postpaid, $1.10.

Blond Henna for lightening hair which has grown dark. Sold and applied by

B. PAUL, Hair Coloring Specialist.
38 W. 38th St., N. Y. Phone Greeley 790.

IMPROVE YOUR APPEARANCE By Covering Your Bald Spot With a Wig or Toupee. Protect yourself against Catarrh and Neuralgia; fit and match guaranteed perfect. Send for Booklet.

A. WALTER SOLOMON.

Without Toupee. 729-31 6 Av., N.Y. Wearing Toupee.

Novelties in Needlework.

Unique and exclusive Embroideries, French Gobelins, Crewels and Tapestry Yarns, Wools of all kinds. All the necessary materials for Art Embroidery Work. Fancy Canvases of every description, D. M. C. Cottons, Decorative Art Linens, etc. This Season's newest European productions. Worsted Knit Goods.

The Specialty House of HENRY HESSE, 399 Sixth Av., 24-25 Sts., N. Y.

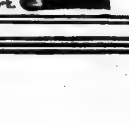
Preserve Your Baby's First Shoes

Cast them in KATHODION BRONZE

Our process makes them indestructible and imperishable. We cast them in either genuine silver, plate, Etruscan gold finish or statuary bronze for $5.00 The Pair

Send for illustrated leaflet T.

Address Baby Shoe Dept.
Kathodion Bronze Works.
501 Fifth Av., New York.



ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

Housecleaning Season Sale of

VACUUM CLEANERS

Our Housecleaning Season Sale has made such a big "hit" that we have decided to continue the

BIG REDUCTIONS

FOR A LIMITED TIME

PRICES SACRIFICED—NOTHING RESERVED

HAND-POWER CLEANERS

P. & W. Hand-Power Long Tube Style Suction Cleaners; guaranteed for 2 years. Former price, $6.00. Sale price..... $2.75

Duntley Combination Pneumatic Vacuum Cleaner and Carpet Sweepers; very popular. Former price, $8.00. Sale price..... $3.95

Keystone Combination Vacuum Cleaner and Carpet Sweeper. Former price, $10.00. Sale price... $6.90

Bissell Combination Vacuum Cleaner and Carpet Sweeper. Former price, $9.00. Sale price... $6.90

Brand Cleaner, regular price, $7.00; sale price..... $5.85

Doty Cleaner, regular price, $6.50; sale price..... $4.85

Rex Cleaners, $4.85. Everybody's Cleaners, $3.90.

All Other Kinds of Hand-Power Cleaners at Big Reductions.

Send for complete price list. See coupon below.

ELECTRIC CLEANERS

Eureka Electric Cleaner, winner of the Grand Prize (highest award) at Panama Exposition, has many exclusive features. Former price, $40.00. Sale price.. $29.50

Vacuna Jr. (with Blower), winner Second Prize Panama Exposition. Former price, $95.00. Sale price $79.00

Magic Electric, winner of Third Prize at Panama Exposition. Former price, $38.00. Sale price $29.50

Frantz Premier Electric, winner of Fourth Prize at Panama Exposition. Sale price..... $22.75

Liberty (also known as Columbia) was $25, now $19.75.
Ohio was $30, now $25.50.
Royal was $30, now $24.50.
Cadillac was $30, now $24.75.
Baby Hoover, with motor-driven brush, was $40, now $32.75.
Western Electric was $32.50, now $26.75.
Monarch was $75.00, now $59.00.
Duntley was $85.00, now $69.00.

This is only partial list. Send for complete list. See coupon below.

The cleaners advertised above are, of course, all brand-new goods.

Don't Miss This Opportunity!

Call and see the largest assortment of Vacuum Cleaners in the world under one roof, or fill out and mail the coupon below today.

MAIL ORDERS

Our mail order department makes it just as convenient to buy from us by mail as by personal call. We will gladly answer any question or give you any information you may desire. We ship cleaners all over the United States. We pay express charges anywhere.

In connection with above sale of new cleaners we are having a sale on agents' samples, shop-worn and used cleaners. These goods cannot be sold by mail. Prices as follows:

Arnold Electric was $35, now $7.
Richmond Electric was $35, now $10.
Eureka Electric was $35, now $11.
Frantz Premier Electric was $25, now $15.
Magic Electric was $35, now $13.
Monarch Electric was $75, now $29.
Duntley Electric was $75, now $35.
And many others, all fully guaranteed.

We rent, repair and exchange all makes of cleaners

Muenzen Specialty Co.

131 West 42d St., 1 Flight Up, Between Broadway and 6th Ave., Over French-Shriner's Shoe Store. Phone 6310-6311 Bryant.

Downtown Branch. Booth 53, Hudson Terminal Concourse, 30 Church St.

FREE COUPON NO. 13.
Muenzen Specialty Co., New York:

Without obligation to me, send me pamphlet entitled "How to Select a Vacuum Cleaner" and your complete price list of sale prices on Vacuum Cleaners, to be operated by..... power

Name .....

Address .....

NOTICE:

"Arrow" indicates space to be filled by the word "Hand" or "Electric," as the case may be.

P. S.—Tear out coupon NOW lest you forget.

Cluzell Bros. Hair Merchants — Ladies' Hairdressers

Innovation Coiffure

This attractive coiffure is arranged and completed with the aid of our Featherweight Transformation and our wavy torvade, with ends curled.

Our Featherweight Transformations supply the needed hair to lengthen the years of your youth. They are skillfully made, on a fine net, of Superior, Soft and Wavy French Hair, and can be dressed in any fashion.

Illustrated Booklet "T" on request.

Massaging Hairdressing Hair Dyeing Manicuring Scalp Treatment

Write, phone or call for appointments
12-14 West 37th Street, New York
Telephone Greeley 4191-4192.

Cammeyer—NEW YORK
381 Fifth Avenue

Exclusive Footwear For Men, Women and Children

Catalogue on Request.

YUBAN — The Private Coffee of the Greatest Coffee Merchants

FATIMA — THE TURKISH BLEND CIGARETTE — "Distinctively Individual" — 20 for 15¢

Print Your Own Cards, circulars, book, paper. Press $5. Larger $18. Rotary $60. Save money. Print for others, big profit. All easy, rules sent. Write factory for catalog of presses, TYPE, cards, samples.

THE PRESS CO., Meriden, Conn.

Artistic and Serviceable Mahogany Novelties

Retailed at Manufacturer's Prices

The Mahogany Furniture Novelties offered at this establishment are perfectly constructed and beautifully finished.

They enable you to secure at a reasonable price a single piece to furnish the library, dining-room or bedroom.

Our catalogue "T" illustrating many other attractive and useful pieces sent on request.

NO. 200. GATE-LEG TEA TABLE. Size: Open. 31" x31"x29" high; Closed. 4" x31"x29" high; Half Open, 17½"x31"x29" high — $15.75

LOUIS HESSLER
Quality Furniture Novelties
630 Columbus Ave. New York
Between 90th & 91st Streets
Telephone Riverside 312

Eager Colon Cleanser

The Eager Internal Bath Appliance is the one altogether safe. You want the best. We have it. We challenge comparison. Its use cleans the system of all offensive odors, purifies the blood stream and cleans the complexion. Complete outfit, $5. Our combination, $3.50, fits all standard water bags. Send 2-cent stamp to Dept. T for free booklet. Eager Colon Cleanser Co., 737 Washington Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Tel. Prospect 6109.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

HOW to make your skin fine in texture

If the delicate pores of your skin have become enlarged and coarsened, it is because of cleansing methods unsuited to your skin. As a result, the pores have lost their power to contract and expand as they should.

You can restore them to their normal healthy condition and rebuild a smooth-textured skin by persistent use of the following Woodbury treatment:

Dip your washcloth in very warm water and hold it to your face. Now take the cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap, dip it in water and rub the cake itself over your skin. Leave the slight coating of soap on for a few minutes until the skin feels drawn and dry. Then dampen the skin and rub the soap in gently with an upward and outward motion.

Rinse the face thoroughly, first in tepid water, then in cold. Whenever possible, rub the face with a piece of ice. Always dry carefully.

Use this treatment persistently for ten days and your skin will show a marked improvement—a promise of that greater smoothness and finer texture that the steady use of Woodbury's always brings.

Do this today! A 25c cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap is sufficient for a month or six weeks of this treatment. Go to your druggist or toilet counter today and get a cake. Begin at once to get the benefits of this treatment for your skin.

Woodbury's Facial Soap is for sale by every dealer and druggist in greater New York and, in fact, by dealers everywhere throughout the United States and Canada. Made by The Andrew Jergens Co., New York and Cincinnati.

PLEXO CREAMS

INCOMPARABLE

"For the Woman Who Cares"

Greaseless Cream | 25c and 50c | Cleansing Cream

Protects your skin from chap and wind burn; will impart to your complexion the velvety bloom of youth.

Incomparable for ridding the pores of all impurities; will give the pure, clear complexion of perfect beauty.

These two essential creams are scientifically prepared to be used in conjunction with each other, and will produce results obtainable in no other way.

PLEXO EVENING WHITE

Imparts that soft, pearly white tone to arms, throat and shoulders. Unsurpassed for the evening toilette and dansant.

Does Not Rub Off

Easily applied with a damp sponge. An absolutely harmless cream.

35c Per Tube

DRUG AND DEPARTMENT STORES

Can You Wear a 16, 36 or 38 Size?

We are wholesalers and have no further use for our samples from which we sold stock to big stores. We are selling sample coats and suits at one-half retail prices. Call while there is a good range of styles.

COATS $7.50 to $29.75

Swagger mixtures, corduroys, lustrous plushes and rich velours—many fur trimmed. Out-of-the-ordinary values, at $10.75, $14.75, $19.75

Suits $9.75 to $29.75

In poplins, broadcloths and velvets, mostly fur trimmed. Some exceptional choices at $14.75, $16.50, $19.75

SAMPLE SUIT & CLOAK CO.

1204 BROADWAY

(Near 29th St.)

TRANSFORMATION SIMPLEX

A revelation to women with straight or thin hair. Transformation Simplex is light and airy, with a perpetual loose wave and cannot be detected. It provides a charming coiffure that is never disarranged or stringy.

I have the most artistic staff of Parisian hair dressers in America. Come and let our work prove it to you with the latest coiffures and the most becoming manner of arrangement.

CLÉMENT'S HENNA GLORÉAL

My new discovery for coloring gray hair with powdered herbs, made in all shades. Price $1.00.

B. CLÉMENT, French Hair Shop,

17 East 35th Street, N. Y.

Opposite Altman's. Phone 959 Murray Hill

What Is Home Without a Child and a CUCKOO CLOCK?

The British Government granted a permit for importation of all our goods from Europe. We will be the only importers in this line of receiving large stock and will be able to sell at the old reasonable prices.

CUCKOO CLOCKS

from $2.75 up.

Largest assortment in Cuckoo, Quail, Music, Chime, Miniature Clocks.

WEATHER-HOUSES. or Hydrometers.

Swiss Wood Hand Carvings. Beersteins. Angel chimes.

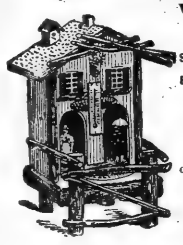
Largest variety, Finest in Market.

REPAIRS of Cuckoo Clocks done promptly and reasonable.

SWISS CLOCK COMPANY,

85 Barclay St.,

New York City.



THE SHEFFIELD SILVER SHOP

SHEFFIELD PLATE IN EXCLUSIVE PERIOD DESIGNS FOR BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARIES AND WEDDING GIFTS.

ROBERT FITCH,

295 Fifth Avenue,

Bet. 30th & 31st Sts.,

NEW YORK.

GUERNSEY JUG...$3.50

Beautiful Davenport. Soft upholstery, back and arms resting on soft Pillow Springs. 7 feet extreme measurement. Special, $75.00. In any color Denim.

NATHAN GREENBERG, Inc.,

2236 Broadway. Schuyler 4736-8841.

L. M. HIRSCH Sample Shoe Co.

Tan or Black Calf Riding Boots, $9.50

Black Velvet Boot, Patent Leather Trimmings and ball strap, Lace or Button, $4.98

Send for Booklet T, with illustrations of new Fall and Winter Models.

404-406 Sixth Ave., N. Y. Bet. 24th & 25th Sts.

Period Furniture

At Popular Prices

10 PIECE DINING ROOM SUITE

Jacobean Period

In Genuine Quartered Oak, Jacobean finish, consisting of Buffet 50 in. wide, China Closet 40 in. wide, Serving Table 38 in. wide, Dining Table 48 in. wide, 8 ft. extension, 1 Arm Chair & 5 Side Chairs, with slip seats of genuine Leather. Complete Suite of 10 pieces, as illustrated, at $123.50

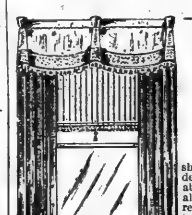
Charge Accounts Opened.

J. MORRIS

267 West 125th St.

Near 8th Ave. Open Saturday Evenings



Curtains, Draperies and Portieres

Perfect workmanship and exclusive designs at reasonable prices. We also undertake the remodeling and alteration of your old furniture and curtains.

Phone or write for Expert Estimator.

SANFORD SHOPS, INC.

Phone Bryant 4565.

Dept. T, 49 West 45th St., N. Y.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

VAN ORDEN

VAN ORDEN BELT CORSET

has a circular Belt which gives support where support is most needed. It is a positive and permanent reducer. Gives a correct buoyant poise with youthful, graceful, modish lines. Stands alone in the corset world as the favorite for stout figures. Belt Model, $8.50 up. Other models, $5.00 to $25.00.

VAN ORDEN CORSET SHOP

379 Fifth Av., near 35th St.

Period Furniture

GRAND RAPIDS FURNITURE Direct from Factory.

Chippendale Highboy

SOLID MAHOGANY

A very massive and artistic piece of period furniture which adds greatly to the charm of any room in which it is placed.

Special at REGULARLY $200 $98

DISCONTINUED PATTERNS at 50% of Regular Prices

Sheraton, Tudor, Adam, Heppelwhite, Colonial, etc., Dining Room Suites, 10 pieces, $100 up; regularly $200 up. Queen Anne, Louis XV., Louis XVI., Sheraton, etc., Bedroom Suites, Mahogany and Walnut, $75 up; regularly $150 up.

Set of Photographic Reproductions FREE

ODD PERIOD PIECES in wide variety Chairs, Desks, Tables, Etc. $4 up

Manufacturers, MANGES BROS. Established 1852.

Main Entrance 115 & 117 WEST 23D ST. and 108 & 110 WEST 24TH ST., N. Y.

Exclusiveness in Hosiery

To meet the demand for something different, we are constantly producing new designs which are exclusive to the shops of Peck & Peck. Our Fall showings of fancy hosiery for evening and street wear are especially comprehensive and attractive.

The style illustrated is of fine French Silk, sheer and beautiful, with new, neat open-work design. In black, white or in any color to match gown or slipper. $3.50 a pair.

With references, we will be glad to open charge accounts, or send on approval, selections of plain or fancy hosiery for women, or socks and neckwear for gentlemen.

Illustrated booklet sent on request.

PECK & PECK

EXCLUSIVE HOSIERY

448 Fifth Avenue, at 39th Street

586 Fifth Avenue, at 47th Street

NEW YORK CITY

INTERNAL BATHS

Are Best Given by the "J.B.L.Cascade"

which is the scientific invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., the eminent specialist of New York City. Dr. Tyrrell has specialized on Internal Bathing for 25 years, and the Cascade is the perfected result of his research and experience. It permanently relieves Constipation, and absolutely prevents Auto-Intoxication. Cut this out while you think of it, and call or write for free book, "The What, The Why, The Way, of Internal Bathing." Dept. 175.

Headquarters of The "J. B. L. Cascade."

CHAS. A. TYRRELL, M. D.

134 West 65th St., NEW YORK CITY.

ARTISTIC DENTISTRY

In all its perfected details; porcelain work a specialty. Restoration of shade, shape and general appearance of natural tooth accomplished. Modern scientific methods used.

DRS. M. & H. SCHLESINGER,

1208 Times Bldg., 42nd St. & B'way.

'Phone—Bryant 572.

TECLA PEARLS

are wonderful scientific creations possessing the unique texture, limpid lustre and exquisite orient of the natural gems.

Assembled into necklaces, or mounted with genuine diamonds in platinum and gold settings of exquisite design, the beautiful Tecla pearls are indistinguishable from the finest natural specimens.

A superb collection of necklaces, pendants, rings and other fashionable jewelry is now on exhibition.

Tecla

398 Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK

Sole Agencies:

Maxwell & Berlet, Inc., Walnut St. & 16th, Philadelphia; Berry & Whitmore Co., F and 11th Sts., N.W., Washington; Radke & Co., 219 Post Street, San Francisco.

Your Fiancee— the ring and a photograph by

PIRIE MacDONALD Photographer-of-Men.

576 FIFTH AV. COR. 47TH ST.

Forest Hills Inn

Forest Hills, L. I.

15 Minutes from Herald Square.

75 Electric Trains Daily.

Rates, $15 Per Week Up

References required.

Town Office—Room 716, 47 West 34th St.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

$14.50 $11.50

Both Are Decidedly Out of the Ordinary

The remarkable feature of this Gate-Leg Table is its extreme compactness when folded. Though it measures 28 by 30 inches when open—just the right size for most purposes—it folds to a width of only 6¼ inches. Furthermore, it is of most excellent construction in every detail, of solid mahogany throughout.

The Telephone Set, also of Solid Mahogany, differs from the usual in that it has a chair instead of a stool. This fits under the Stand. There is a convenient shelf for the telephone book. In both instances the prices are notably low.

W. A. Hathaway Company

62 West 45th Street, New York

"Furniture of the Better Kind"

A Garden Full of Tulips for $1.00

75 Tulip Bulbs, all first size, taken from 25 named varieties, for $1.00.

PLANT NOW

These Tulips have been selected from 25 of the most beautiful varieties, embracing all the colors that are to be found in this splendid class of Spring blooming bulbs.

Plant near your home—in your garden or back yard. The beautiful blossoms in a multitude of brilliant colors and shades will make April a Spring month worth while.

75 Tulip Bulbs, Finest Mixed, $1.00.

Present this advertisement at our store or mail with Dollar bill, Stamps or Money Order and secure this splendid collection of Tulip Bulbs, for only $1.00, prepaid to your home, anywhere in the United States, with our 1915 Fall Catalogue, containing a list of the best bulbs for Fall planting.

Stumpp & Walter Co 30-32 Barclay Street New York

NEW YORK CLEVELAND

You Would Have to Pay $30 for Either of These garments at most stores. Manufacturers' affiliations—elimination of expense—enable us to sell at about wholesale prices.

$17.75

Dainty Dance Frock Chiffon Taffeta. Latest Pannier effect. Festooned with Jeweled Buckle. Chiffon Waist with Deep Girdle and Flower Corsage. All colors.

$19.75

Copy of Jenny Model in Wool Velour. Latest Yoke effect with wide Belt, Full Flare Skirt, Military Pockets and Choker Collar. Fully lined. All colors.

Freneau Sweeny

379 Fifth Avenue—Opp Best's

1120 Euclid Ave., Suite 401-403, Cleveland.

At WRIGHT'S Permanent Furniture Exhibition

The large variety makes it easy to choose between different styles and periods. But it is the price which is most important. All furniture at Wright's is so moderately priced that it is not necessary to shop around to keep your expenditures down.

Bed Room and Dining Room Suites in All Periods

are my specialty. Whether you wish to purchase just now or not it will be worth your while to stop in and look around at the beautiful suites according to Adam Brothers, William and Mary, etc.

If you cannot call send for booklet.

"Wright Furniture, At Right Prices."

224 West 42d St., N. Y. Next Amsterdam Theatre.

Margaretta May

SAMPLE SUITS, COATS & DRESSES.

Can you wear Size 16, 18, 36 or 38?

We sell samples from our wholesale factory for cash. One of a kind.

Special for This Week:

High-grade Fur Trimmed Suits Regularly $25.00 ..... $15.00

Stylish Apparel For Stout Women to Size 50.

Take elevator and save $10.00.

47 West 34th St., at B'way.

Rooms 403-409. Marbridge Bldg. Opp. Hotel McAlpin.

EXQUISITE NAILS

GRAF'S "HYGLO"

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NAIL POLISH

GIVES your nails a brilliant, transparent, lasting polish, delicately perfumed, daintily tinted, and absolutely waterproof. Write us a postal for your generous FREE sample of HYGLO. Graf's HYGLO is on sale everywhere. Retails at 25c.

GRAF BROTHERS,

Dept. E, 815 Broadway, New York.

Sole Agents Leichner's Toilet Articles.

LOUIS H. CHALIF

Graduate Russian Imperial Ballet School,

Personally Teaches Interpretive, Simplified Classic, Racial and Ballroom

DANCING

Amateurs' private classes. Nine courses for teachers. Brochure on request.

7 West 42d St., N. Y.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair Sunday; Monday fair and warmer; strong northwest winds, diminishing by Sunday night.
For full weather report see Page 18.

VOL. LXV...NO. 21,099. NEW YORK, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1915.—100 PAGES, In Seven Parts, Including Picture and Rotogravure Section and Review of Books. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE SWEEP PREDICTED

Amendment Doomed in All Three States Voting on It, Forecasts Indicate.

WHAT PARTY LEADERS SAY

Up-State Strongly Against Votes for Women — Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Also Anti.

CONSTITUTION ESTIMATES

Success Predicted by Republican County Chairman, as a Rule; Defeat by Democratic.

The voters in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts will deny votes to women, according to forecasts of the elections next Tuesday made for THE NEW YORK TIMES by Republican and Democratic committeemen in the three States.

The up-State vote against suffrage in New York, these forecasts indicate, will be heavy enough to defeat the amendment by an ample margin, regardless of the vote in the five counties composing New York City. The vote in this city is hard to calculate, and probably will be close, according to political leaders of both parties.

Massachusetts will give a larger majority against suffrage than New Jersey did, according to the predictions of Democratic and Republican leaders, whose figures differ in detail, but place the result about the same. Richard F. Andrews of Roxbury, Mass., a Republican State Committeeman, wired THE TIMES that the vote probably would be 260,000 against and 180,000 for suffrage. Estimates for Boston say that that city will give a majority against suffrage of between 20,000 and 40,000.

Philadelphia's vote will be 50,000 for suffrage and 75,000 against, according to B. Gordon Bromley, Chairman of the Democratic City Committee. Almost every county in Pennsylvania will vote against suffrage, according to the leaders of both parties. It is predicted that only in a few sections of the State will the vote be close, and two to one or an even greater proportion will be the vote against suffrage in most of the counties.

Up-State Voters Apathetic.

In New York State, outside of New York City, regarding which the party leaders refuse to make estimates, the Democratic County Chairman who have furnished forecasts say that the suffragists will carry only one county, Montgomery.

The Republican County Chairmen of Chemung, Dutchess, and Yates say that a majority will vote in their counties to give women the ballot. Twenty other counties will vote against suffrage, according to County Chairmen. Many of the telegrams stated that the voters in upstate Districts were apathetic, and that the vote would probably be light.

The trouble with making predictions in New York City, according to the politicians, is that the strength of the suffragists is visible, while that of the anti-suffragists is invisible. The campaign carried on by the suffragists has been far more vigorous here than elsewhere, and the big meetings and parades of the suffragists have made it appear on the surface that the vote in favor of giving the women the ballot might be very large. The upstate political observers have not had the same difficulty in the way of making forecasts.

THE TIMES received reports from twenty-five Republican County Chairmen in Pennsylvania. Twenty-three of them predicted that their counties would beat suffrage. Only Lawrence and Potter Counties favor suffrage, according to the local Republican leaders. The Democratic County Chairmen, eighteen of whom made forecasts for THE TIMES, report twelve of their counties against suffrage and six in favor. Those who held that their counties would vote for suffrage usually specified that it would be by a narrow margin.

There are no county chairmen in Massachusetts, but the members of the Republican and Democratic State Committees, each of whom is the leader of a district, indicated by their replies that the suffragists might fail in every county and would be overwhelmed in Suffolk, where Boston is, and probably in several other counties. One large county which may vote in favor of suffrage, according to some of these replies, is Middlesex. The majority of the committeemen in this county, however, say that suffrage will be beaten there.

Estimates as to Constitution.

The replies received by THE TIMES upon the probable vote by counties in New York on the proposed Constitution indicate that the predictions are colored by the political thought of the forecasters. The Republican Chairmen in all but three counties say the Constitution will carry their counties, and the Democratic Chairmen in all but five counties say that it will be beaten. The up-State Republican Chairmen stand nine to three in predicting that the Constitution will carry their counties. Eight Democratic Chairmen say it will be beaten in their counties, and five say it will carry theirs.

Leaders of both parties agree that the Constitution will carry in Fulton, Livingston, and Schuyler Counties, and that it will be defeated in Jefferson. The Republicans concede that it will be beaten in Jefferson, Otsego, and Schoharie, and the Democrats concede that it will carry Fulton, Livingston, Oswego, Schuyler, and Wayne.

Republican leaders in the counties composing New York City would not be quoted, but they insisted that they were confident that the constitution would

Continued on Page 3.

REPORTS VON TIRPITZ IS NOW IN DISGRACE

Author of the Submarine Campaign Said to Have Lost Favor With the Kaiser.

AMSTERDAM, Sunday, Oct. 31, (via London.)—The Rotterdam newspaper Maasbode says that Admiral von Tirpitz, German Minister of Marine, has fallen into disgrace with Emperor William.

Admiral von Tirpitz is the accredited author of the submarine blockade of the British Isles. There has been much speculation since the German Government disavowed the attack on the Arabic, on which Americans were killed, and the further evidence that von Tirpitz's program has virtually failed, as to how this would leave von Tirpitz in the favor of the Emperor.

GERMANS RUSH WORK ON NEW ZEPPELINS

Building Aircraft for More London Raids and to Protect Their Coasts.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROTTERDAM, Oct. 30, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—I learn from a neutral traveler, with the very best reasons for believing his statements, that activity at the various Zeppelin centres is now greater than at any previous period of the war.

At Berlin new sheds were being erected, while at Friedrichshaven, Hamburg, and Wilhelmhaven all work is being pushed forward with feverish haste. The chief aim is, of course, to get at England, but the Germans claim that both in the North Sea and in the Baltic the scouting work of the airships has been invaluable. They believe that in anything like decent weather it is impossible for enemy craft, either battleships or submarines, to approach Germany without due warning, and they claim they have sunk Russian submarines and have harried enemy merchant shipping.

The Germans are convinced they did more damage in London than has been admitted, and they say their experience has been such that they hope to do a great deal more. At any rate, they are building new airships with great speed, especially for work over England, which they think has no means of countering their moves in the air.

NO OFFICIAL GERMAN COMPLAINT OF WHITLOCK

Washington Ignores Press Criticism of Cavell Reports—Doesn't Class Him as Minister.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—It is not the purpose of Secretary Lansing to take cognizance of newspaper statements based on cable dispatches from Berlin which quote The Vossische Zeitung, The Lokalanzeiger and other leading German newspapers as asking for the recall of Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, because of his reports on the Cavell case to Ambassador Page. The statement was made in an authoritative fashion at the State Department this afternoon that the American Government had no official knowledge whatever of the execution of Miss Cavell. The German Government has not complained to the American Government of any reports from or action by Mr. Whitlock concerning the Cavell case. Minister Whitlock, it was stated today at the Department, had not reported to his Government on the Cavell case, nor had Ambassador Page brought the matter to Secretary Lansing's notice.

Apropos of the reported demand of the German journals for the recall of Mr. Whitlock, it was explained today that, while Mr. Whitlock was still accredited as Minister to Belgium, he was in Brussels by suffcrance of the German Government, and that he was serving in the capacity of a "special diplomatic agent of the State Department," rather than as Minister. The question of his status in Brussels has not been raised by the German Government; but it soon became manifest to the State Department that Mr. Whitlock could not be regarded as exercising his ordinary functions during the German occupation of that city.

JOFFRE AGAIN CONFERS WITH LORD KITCHENER

London Believes Some Plan for Concerted Military Action Is Under Discussion.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—General Joffre, the French Commander in Chief, who came to London yesterday, held another conference today with the War Secretary, Field Marshal Kitchener.

No official information has been given out concerning the object of the French commander's visit. The theory which is generally accepted, however, is that some scheme for central military control is being promoted. The chief purpose presumably would be to make possible quicker decisions and co-ordinated action than heretofore.

General Joffre also visited Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra. He then left town to inspect a military encampment.

20 GERMAN SHIPS SUNK IN 12 DAYS

38,000 Tons of Shipping Destroyed by Submarines Between Oct. 11 and 23.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Liverpool Post publishes a list of twenty German ships, aggregating more than 38,000 tonnage, sunk by British submarines in the Baltic Sea between Oct. 11 and 23, as follows:

Lulea, Germania, Director Reppenhagen, Nicomedia, Walter Leonhardt, Svania (or Svanen,) Gertrude, Pyrgos, Emgard, Babylon, Pernambuco, Soderhamn, Jonannes Russ, Dalarfven, John Wulf, Electra, Rendsburg, Glaveh, and two named Hernosand.

THE AUGUSTA SPECIAL.
Aiken and Augusta, via SOUTHERN RAILWAY. lv. New York daily 1:08 P. M. Quickest way to winter resorts of South Carolina and Georgia. Descriptive literature. Apply N. Y. Office, 264 Fifth Avenue.—Advt.

NINE MORE KILLED AS BELGIAN SPIES

Germans Sentence Ten Others, Including Three Women, to Penal Servitude.

CASES IN NORTHERN FRANCE

Spies in Conquered Territory Said to be Directed by a French Officer's Wife.

DYNAMITE PLOTS CHARGED

Prisoners Are Reported to Have Planned to Blow Up Railways—21 Arrests in Belgium.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Nine persons who were convicted on Oct. 26 of espionage in Belgium were executed yesterday, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company, who says this information was received in an official telegram from Berlin. Ten other people, including three women, were sentenced to penal servitude, it is reported. The correspondent's dispatch follows:

"An official telegram from Berlin states that in the last few days two additional important espionage cases have been detected in Belgium and Northern France. In Belgium twenty-one persons have been arrested. It is alleged that after having confined their energies for some months to obtaining news by espionage and sending it to France, by way of Holland, they became bolder in September, planning to dynamite railways and buildings, besides assisting persons of military age to escape from Belgium to France. Among those arrested are four women, the principal charge against them being that they were endangering the safety of the German army.

"The espionage system reported to have been discovered in France is alleged to have been managed by the wife of a French officer. It is charged that she received her instructions direct from the French military authorities. Two other women are also under arrest, and, according to Berlin, the extent to which the system of espionage is organized is indicated by the fact that the arrested persons figure prominently in the French Secret Service list. The guilt of the accused, it is added, already has been established.

"Nine persons, the message adds, were tried for espionage in Belgium on Oct. 26. All were found guilty and were sentenced to death. The sentence was executed yesterday. Ten others, including three women, were sentenced to penal servitude."

TELL OF BELGIAN REIGN OF TERROR

Letters Received by Latest Mails Charge Many Cruelties—Famous Library Destroyed.

Despite the fact that the German censorship in Belgium is so rigid and so elaborately organized, more news concerning conditions in that country arrived in the mails from Europe yesterday than had been the case in many months. Much of the information came out of Holland, where the news was smuggled from Belgium. There was also some information direct from Belgium. In addition to letters there came copies of newspapers printed by Belgians in Holland. The information was all of the same kind, and seemed to verify the vague reports cabled from Europe recently that the Germans have instituted a reign of terror in Belgium.

A well-known Belgian, whose activities on behalf of his unfortunate countrymen are known from one end to the other of the United States, was the recipient of a batch of this mail from Belgium and Holland. To a TIMES reporter he showed some of the letters and newspaper articles.

"This information all goes to prove," he said, "that the German commanders in Belgium and their subordinates are finding a thousand different ways to terrorize the people. One of these, which is disclosed in today's mail, is to post a city or town with proclamations and statements supposedly signed by prominent Belgian citizens or priests, in which the signers tell the people that King Albert and his Government have deserted them and that, after all, their German conquerors are their best friends.

"Only two weeks ago there was posted in several of the Belgian towns a big poster signed 'Belgian philanthropist,' in which the people were told their King was against and not for them, and which urged willing subjection to the German invaders. An investigation traced the authorship of the poster straight to the German military headquarters.

"Another letter tells of the arrest and imprisonment of the old sexton of the Cathedral of St. Gudule in Brussels. A German officer entered the Cathedral. He had his dog with him, and when the sexton politely informed him that dogs were not allowed in the Cathedral, the officer had him arrested for disrespect and he was sent to jail.

"Here is a bit of information that goes a long way toward showing how far the German authorities will go to make life as miserable as possible for the unhappy Belgians. A short time ago the German commandant at Namur sent a circular letter to all the priests in that vicinity ordering them to notify him in writing of the time when the bells of all churches were to ring. No bell was to be rung without previous notification to the German commander, and the ringing had to be on the minute of the hour named. As a result of this order several priests were fined 1,000 marks. ($250.) each and sent to jail for three months for permitting the bells to be rung at unauthorized times.

"Another message just received out of Belgium tells of the terrible plight of the people of Malines, the home of Cardinal Mercier. According to a mem-

Continued on Page 2.

FLORIDA, CUBA, SOUTH—Best Service. Atlantic Coast Line R. R. Office removed to 1,198 B'way, Cor. 29th St.—Advt.

Navy Experts Say Torpedo Sank the Hesperian; Fragment of Metal on Her Deck Not from Mine

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—It was announced at the State Department today that the navy experts who had examined the piece of metal picked up on the deck of the Allan Liner Hesperian and sent here by the American Embassy in London was part of a torpedo. From this fact it is unofficially concluded that the Hesperian was destroyed by a German submarine and not by a mine, as was contended in Berlin soon after the Hesperian was sunk.

Although the report of the naval officers bears out the impression which was strong in Washington after an examination of the original reports from Ambassador Page and American Consul Frost of Queenstown that the Hesperian was the victim of a German submarine, there is no proof in the possession of the American Government that the piece of metal was found on the deck of the Hesperian. The American Embassy in London received the fragment from the British Admiralty with a statement that it was found on the deck of the vessel. The statement was not in the form of an affidavit nor in a form that could be regarded as judicial proof.

The fragment of metal was received in Washington more than a month ago. Secretary Lansing turned it over to Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department, but in the reference of the matter, through inadvertence, the Navy Department was not asked for a report. When this fact became known to Secretary Lansing he asked Secretary Daniels for a report. The fragment was then turned over to Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, where it was carefully examined by torpedo and mine experts. The result of their examination was communicated to Secretary Daniels today. The fragment was of polished steel and about 9 inches long.

The Hesperian left Liverpool at 7 P. M. on Friday, Sept. 3, and by 8:30 P. M. on Sept. 4, had reached latitude 50 north; longitude 10 west, about eighty miles southwest of Fastnet. When dusk was closing in an explosion occurred against the starboard bow. The vessel sank about ten feet within four hours and while endeavoring to make Queenstown plunged to the bottom. Official Washington received the news of the disaster with unconcealed surprise, because only a few days before Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, had delivered a communication to Secretary Lansing, in which he said he had been instructed by his Government to say that "liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of noncombatants provided the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance."

The Hesperian neither tried to escape nor offered resistance, but did carry a 6-inch gun mounted on the stern. This gun was painted a service gray, but the officers of the Hesperian set forth in a joint affidavit that this gun could not have been seen through the periscope of a submarine. They also said that no warning was given. On board the Hesperian were forty Canadian soldiers, including officers, all either invalided or in attendance upon those invalided. These men were not organized or traveling as a unit.

There were 350 passengers on the Hesperian and a crew of 300. There were no American citizens on board as passengers. One cabin steward, N. J. Dallas, was an American citizen. He was saved. The reports received here indicated that one American probably was lost, a man named Wolff of Newark, N. J. He was a member of the crew.

The German Government has never flatly disclaimed that the Hesperian was attacked by a German submarine. Its disclaimer was qualified and was based on the statement that no submarines reported having hit the Hesperian or having been in the vicinity of the attack at the time the Hesperian was lost. On Sept. 14, in a note delivered to Ambassador Gerard, the Berlin Foreign Office asserted that on the face of the evidence then at hand the Government was satisfied that the Hesperian was not sunk by a German submarine.

The decision of the American naval officers will be referred to the Berlin Government for its information. It has not been decided whether the reference will be made through Count von Bernstorff or through Ambassador Gerard.

The finding of the naval experts, it was said in State Department circles today, raised no new issue. It was admitted, however, that the Hesperian case did not now have the important status that it would have possessed if the submarine controversy had not reached its present stage as a result of the assurances given by the German Government regarding the adoption of the principles of humanity and international law contended for by President Wilson and Secretary Lansing in their various notes.

RUINED IN STOCKS, BROKER ENDS LIFE

Richard H. Reid of Consolidated Exchange Inhales Gas in His House in Brooklyn.

SPOKE OF SUICIDE TO WIFE

Reputed to be Worth $500,000, He Is Supposed to Have Become Involved by Mining Share Deals.

Richard H. Reid, 49 years old, a member of the Consolidated Stock Exchange with offices at 52 Broadway, was found asphyxiated by gas at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in his town house, 204 Keap Street, Williamsburg. He had inhaled the gas through a rubber tube attached to a jet in the pantry and had been dead about six hours, Coroner Wagner said. Heavy losses on mining and other stocks during the last month are believed by Mr. Reid's business friends to have been the cause of his suicide.

Mr. Reid did not go to business on Friday, and told his wife at their Summer home in Port Washington that he was a ruined man. He said he had lost everything he possessed and he felt like committing suicide.

She told him it was no use to take the loss so much to heart; they could face the world together and try to recoup their fortunes. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Reid appeared to have recovered some of his spirits, and told his wife he would go into Brooklyn and consult his physician, Dr. Alfred Smylie of 890 Park Place.

He did not call at the doctor's, and apparently did not go to bed all night. As she had not heard from him by 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Reid became anxious and went into his room, where she found a note lying on the desk informing her that he had gone to Brooklyn to commit suicide.

Mrs. Reid called up Thomas Baffa of 217 Havemeyer Street, a real estate broker who was a close friend of her husband, and he said that Mr. Reid had telephoned at 9 o'clock that morning requesting that the keys of 204 Keap Street might be left with a neighbor, where he could call for them, which was done.

After getting Mrs. Reid's message over the telephone from Port Washington, Mr. Baffa became alarmed and, finding that Mr. Reid had not called for the keys, he notified the police of the Clymer Street Station, and Captain Buchanan sent Detective Joseph Cosgrove to find the missing man.

Inquiries were made in Manhattan at his office at 52 Broadway and at a branch office in Havemeyer Street, and at the Consolidated Exchange, but no one had seen him. Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a neighbor informed the police that he had seen Mr. Reid enter his home at 204 Keap Street about 9 o'clock that morning and had not seen him leave the building.

When Mr. Baffa and Detective Cosgrove opened the door they found the house full of gas and had to wait for a few minutes to let it escape before entering. On a table in the sitting room they found Mr. Reid's hat, and he was lying on a table in the pantry adjoining with a new rubber tube in his mouth and had evidently been dead for some time.

The ruined stockbroker had taken off his coat and after folding it neatly had placed it in a pillow case obtained from a bedroom on the second floor to make a pillow for his head before turning on the gas. He left no papers of any kind in the room. Dr Smylie was summoned by Mr. Baffa with Coroner Wagner and after an examination of the body he said Mr. Reid had been dead five or six hours.

Mrs. Reid was notified by telephone that an accident had happened to her husband, and, fearing the worst, she came from Port Washington in her automobile, with her ten-year-old son and two daughters. When she learned the truth Mrs. Reid collapsed, and had to be attended by Dr. Smylie. Another son out West was notified by telegram of his father's death.

Barely a month ago Mr. Reid was reputed to be worth nearly $500,000.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 30.—Charles W. Roth, manager of the branch office here of R. H. Reid, learned of his employer's failure and death at 11 o'clock this morning, when another broker telephoned him to ask for news. Mr. Roth, after confirming the news from the New York office, announced that many residents of this city would suffer by Mr. Reid's failure. He declined to estimate the amount of money involved.

MORGAN DOING WELL ALL REPORTS AGREE

Doctors Deny Rumors of Complications Arising from the Family's Reticence.

SON AT DESK IN THE BANK

Danger Period from Operation Will Not Be Past Till To-morrow, Physicians Say.

J. P. Morgan, who was operated on for appendicitis on Friday morning, was resting easy yesterday, according to statements made at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. and the official announcements given out by his physicians, J. W. Markoe and H. H. M. Lyle.

Despite these optimistic statements there was a secretiveness about the Morgan home on East Island which gave rise to rumors that the patient's condition was not all that might be desired.

The serious danger period, according to physicians, in a case of appendicitis extends over three days after the operation. If no symptoms of septic poisoning or other complications have developed by Monday night it may be considered that Mr. Morgan is out of danger.

Late last night Dr. Markoe assured THE TIMES that no complications had set in and that Mr. Morgan's condition was entirely satisfactory.

Martin Egan, representing J. P. Morgan & Co., at 9 o'clock last night issued the following bulletin on Mr. Morgan's condition:

"Mr. Morgan has had a comfortable day and his condition is satisfactory.
"Dr. J. W. MARKOE.
"Dr. H. H. M. LYLE."

At the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. the following bulletin was given out at 10 o'clock yesterday morning:

"Mr. Morgan had a comfortable night. His condition this morning is in every way satisfactory."
"J. W. MARKOE, M. D.
"H. H. M. LYLE, M. D."

While there was no mention of Mr. Morgan's temperature or pulse in the bulletins, it was learned unofficially that there was nothing in either to disturb the physicians.

No official reports were given out at the residence yesterday. Mr. Morgan was examined by his physicians yesterday morning, and his condition was so good that his son, Junius Spencer Morgan, boarded the yacht Mermaid a little later and came to New York to his desk in the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. While at the office he was smiling, apparently in the best of humor, and chatted so freely with his associates that it was evident that he had little fear for his father.

Early in the afternoon he returned to East Island on the Mermaid and later drove with his wife to the drug store in the Village of Glen Cove. While there he said his father's condition was favorable, but when pressed for more detailed information he said he could not discuss any phase of the case, and that any news beyond his bare statement must be obtained from the bulletins to be issued at the Wall Street office.

Mrs J. S. Morgan, too, seemed in good spirits, and as far as the appearance of the young couple indicated there was no alarm.

The unfavorable rumors current about the village of Glen Cove had their origin chiefly in the strengthening of the guard at the heavy iron gates spanning the island end of the 100-yard causeway that links East Island with the mainland. Detectives have been on duty there since Mr. Morgan was shot on July 3 by Erich Muenter, and they refused to allow any one to pass except intimate friends or relatives of the family.

Yesterday this guard was redoubled, a large squad of detectives was on duty at the island end of the causeway and it was impossible to get any information from any employe of the Morgan estate. An indication of this increased

Continued on Page 12.

DAY LINE AUTUMN TRIPS
To and including Election Day. See Advs. —Advt.

RUSSIANS MOVE ON BULGARIA BY SEA; LONDON NOW COUNTS ON RUMANIA'S AID; GREECE WAVERS, MAY YET JOIN ALLIES

Russian and Turkish Warships in Black Sea Fight; Goeben and Breslau Again Reported in Action

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company sends the following:

A private message received in Berlin from Bucharest says the Turkish warships Breslau, Goeben, and Hamidieh attacked in the Black Sea a Russian squadron of three battleships and several cruisers and destroyers. The result of the battle is not known.

The Breslau and Goeben, which were formerly German cruisers, have been renamed the Midullu and Sultan Selim, respectively.

SAYS ALLIES WIN IF RUMANIA JOINS

Her Accession Will Settle Everything in Their Favor, Asserts Garvin—Greece Will Follow.

BALKAN OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

London Editor Predicts That a Strong Counterstroke Will Be Dealt to Balk Teutons' Plans.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sunday, Oct. 31.—Writing in The Observer this morning of the week's events in the war, J. L. Garvin says:

"Time has been lost, but, thanks mainly to the vigor and insight of France, the Allies are committed to measures which will go far to thwart the enemy's hopes in the East, and may yet reverse the whole tableau, pictured by Pan-German expectation. How and where the weight of the coming counterstroke will be felt cannot yet be said, nor can we say exactly when the main development will occur. It is enough to know that strong exertions are being made.

"Some of the certainties are unquestionably good, and the prospect is full of the possibilities of a decisive drama. There is at last a thorough grasp of the real bearing of the Near Eastern factors upon the whole European situation, and the clearing up of past misunderstandings on this point between Paris and London is one of the most satisfactory steps yet taken toward a solid co-ordination of the Allies' efforts.

"To adopt a famous phrase, the grand alliance has been a long time in labor, but at length it has brought forth a plan."

After laying stress on the necessity of strong military action by the Allies in Serbia itself, Mr. Garvin continues:

"A strong section of military opinion in France holds emphatically that the Bulgars can be driven out of both Koprulu (Veles) and Uskub, and that the Allies, by bold action, can take King Ferdinand's troops between two fires and establish a firm contact with the Serbian army in retreat. This would fetter to the western Balkans a mass of hostile forces, and would threaten and might yet thwart the whole German-Bulgar plan for the mastery of a through route to Constantinople and the conquest of Macedonia.

"To win Rumania would settle everything in favor of the Allies. It is said, though not officially confirmed, that bold steps are at last being taken at Bucharest. Rumania's claims would be satisfied to the fullest extent. She would get back Bessarabia, Bukowina, the whole of Transylvania, and enough of Banat to make her future frontier march for a long distance with that of Greater Serbia. With these extensions and the economic facilities, which the Allies would also insure, Greater Rumania would become a kingdom of nearly 14,000,000 people, and would stand at the very head of the secondary powers in Europe.

"We assume as a matter of course that every diplomatic inducement is being used to secure from Bucharest either definite intention or favorable facilities, but diplomacy will not be enough. Rumania must be made practically certain of the military issue. She must know with what force and in what manner the Allies intend to act in the Balkans. If Bucharest could be satisfied on that point, the intervention of Rumania would also determine the action of Greece."

MILNER ASSAILS POLICY OF SECRECY

Ashamed of Balkan Blunders, He Urges Sterner Effort if England Would Win.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Speaking at Canterbury tonight, Viscount Milner, who recently caused a stir in the House of Lords by suggesting the withdrawal of the troops from Gallipoli, denounced vigorously "the policy of secrecy," which, he asserted, had characterized the conduct of the war up to the present.

"If," he said, "such grave faults and blunders as delay in providing shells, a barefaced attempt to conceal it, blunders in the Dardanelles, and a phenomenal failure of our policy in the Balkans—if things like these are allowed to be glossed over, we must not expect and we should never deserve to see our affairs more wisely conducted in the future.

"I cannot understand how anybody can contemplate our failure to support Serbia adequately after what we promised, or our belated attempt to buy help from Greece by offering her a part of our possessions, without a sense of deep humiliation.

"In order to win the war we have to be prepared for an effort far greater and sterner than we foresaw when the war began."

THRU KEY WEST (HAVANA) SLEEPER
FLORIDA EAST COAST RESORTS
on Seaboard Air Line's "FLAMINGO," 9:15 A. M. —Winter Resort Bureau, 1,184 B'way. —Advt.

REPORTS TEUTONS LEAVING VOLHYNIA

Petrograd Says South Russian Province Is Being Evacuated by the Invaders.

GREAT LOSS OF SUPPLIES

Germans Fall Back at Riga Under Heavy Russian Attacks and Recross the Missa.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Petrograd reports tonight that the Austro-Germans are evacuating Volhynia, leaving a vast quantity of ammunition and supplies.

Any measurable retreat of the Teutonic forces from the Russian Government of Volhynia, due either to the lack of munitions or because large bodies of troops have been withdrawn to guard the Rumanian frontier will, it is believed, have a sympathetic effect on their line to the north. If the cause of the retreat be munitions the effect is likely to be felt all along, and invite a Russian offensive before Dvinsk and Riga.

The line affected directly, from Novo Alexinetz, on the Galician border, north and a little east to the junction of the Styr and the Pripet, has its left resting on the edge of the great Pripet swamps, which have proved an obstacle to its further advance.

Volhynia is not a territory from which troops could be withdrawn with impunity. Only on the northwest, in the direction of Russian Poland, are there any elevations which could be used for defensive purposes. The rest is undulating and flat. It is drained by the many affluents of the Pripet and the Tetesev, which in turn are affluents of the Dnieper. Volhynia has an area of 27,743 square miles. Galicia is on the southwest and Russian Poland on the west.

By the second week in September the Russian armies which had retreated from the Warsaw salient were considered safe, and the Teutonic advance came to a pause on the line Dvinsk-Rovno. South of the Rovno triangle of fortresses the Austro-German armies became deeply involved, with the Russians taking the offensive particularly between Styr and the Niemen. Further south, in Eastern Galicia, they also took the offensive, probably with the intention of influencing the political situation in the Balkans. Reports from Berlin began to betray uneasiness in regard to the armies between the Niemen and the Pripet, where their lines ran through Lipsk, Sokolka, Suchopol, and Kobrin.

But the first weakening of the Teutonic line was observed in Galicia to the east and southeast of Tarnopol. It gave considerable ground and lost 25,000 men in prisoners, between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15, while still holding firm from the Galician frontier northward through Volhynia.

The new Russian offensive in Volhynia appears to be a continuation of the offensive south in Galicia—the promised movement to help the Serbs.

The opportunity came when General Mackensen was discovered to have been drawing heavily on the men in the region of the Pripet swamps for the Serbian campaign.

It has recently been observed by French military critics that if troops had been taken from the Volhynia it meant that still larger forces had been removed from the more easily defended territory further north. Other critics have said the Germans are contemplating a retreat to their captured fortresses along the first Russian line of a year ago in Galicia and south Russian Poland. Such a withdrawal at this time, even for purposes of resting on strong positions for the offensive Winter campaign, would obviously threaten with destruction the Teutonic armies in Galicia, or force their rapid retreat westward, thus again, whether with or without Rumanian aid, opening a way to a reconquest of Bukovina and a contingent invasion of Transylvania.

GERMANS RETIRE AT RIGA.

Berlin Admits Loss of Ground—Claims Success in the South.

BERLIN, Oct. 30, (via London.)—To-day's German official statement is as follows:

Northeast of Mitau our forces which advanced on the northern bank of the Miass, near Plekanen, repulsed two strong night attacks, and then withdrew, in the face of another attack, into the main position on the southern bank.

Army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: There is nothing to report.

Army of General von Linsingen: West of Czartorysk a Russian position near Komorov and the town itself were taken. A Russian counterattack by night was unsuccessful. Ka-

Continued on Page 2.

New Train-Improved Service, Asheville, N.C. Lv. New York daily 1:08 P. M., via SOUTHERN RAILWAY. Dining and sleeping cars. N. Y. Office, 264 Fifth Avenue.—Advt.

CZAR SEES HIS ARMY SAIL

Guarded by Fleet, Troops Depart from Black Sea Ports.

ATHENS WATCHES RUMANIA

Inclination of Bucharest to Accept the Allies' Offers Is Affecting Greek Sentiment.

ALLIES STIFFEN SERB LINE

And More Troops Are Nearing Saloniki—Teutons Push Slowly Forward.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sunday, Oct. 31.—The last few day has witnessed a remarkable change of opinion in regard to the Balkan situation. Whereas at the beginning of the week the prevalent view was that the Allies were practically forced to leave Serbia to her fate, since such measures as they could take were foredoomed to failure because of their inadequacy, there now exists almost a confident belief that the Teutonic plans to open a way to Constantinople will be checkmated. The German progress from the north has been slow; the Austrian advance from Vishegrad has been even slower, and the strategic value of the Bulgar-German junction in the northeastern corner of Serbia is held here to be less than the Germans assert.

The Serbian line nowhere has been broken, and though the outer works of Pirot have been taken by the Bulgarians, the town itself is still held by the Serbians, as also is Nish, the capital.

While there is no disposition here to deny that the situation in that part of the Balkan theatre is critical, it is felt here that it is by no means hopeless.

The reports from Germany of the Russian preparations to throw an army of 250,000 men into Bulgaria are taken as the first evidence of the execution of the general plan of compaign arranged by the Allies to make good their promises to Serbia.

The fact that Premier Asquith has selected next Tuesday as the day on which he will make a comprehensive statement regarding the war is thought to indicate that by that day the allied operations will have so matured that secrecy is no longer essential to their success.

The reports which are current as to Rumania's coming in on the side of the Allies contribute to the general hopefulness in the British capital.

RUSSIAN ARMY SAILS.

Transports Bound for Bulgaria Convoyed by a Strong Fleet.

LONDON, Sunday, Oct. 31.—Following the Russian bombardment of Bulgarian ports, troops of the Czar are reported to be crossing the Black Sea with the purpose of attempting a landing on the Bulgarian coast. At the same time rumors increase that Rumania is about to throw in her lot with the Allies.

The rumored movement of Russian troops to aid Serbia is generally credited here, and it takes the most conspicuous place in the newspapers.

The report comes from German sources, a Copenhagen dispatch quoting a Bucharest correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt as stating that the Russian troops had sailed from Odessa and Sebastopol on transports which were being convoyed by a strong squadron. The recent attack by Russian warships on Varna, this account expressly stated, was made in preparation for this attempt to attack Bulgaria on her Black Sea eastern coast.

What may have been a guarded reference to this important undertaking is made in a Petrograd dispatch which refers to the Russian Emperor "journeying south to give a send-off to large forces of all arms."

Still another interesting report, which comes from Bucharest by way of Berlin, is that a big naval engagement is in progress, in the Black Sea between a Russian squadron and Turkish war craft, headed by the former German cruisers, the Goeben and the Breslau.

Greeks' Eyes on Rumania.

In respect to Rumania's possible action, no definite reports are forthcoming. According to an Athens dispatch, however, the favorable attitude which Rumania is reported to have adopted toward the Entente Powers is engaging the close attention of the Greek Government and the General Staff. A definite outcome of the negotiations of the Entente Allies at Bucharest is awaited anxiously by the Greek authorities.

Reports from Bucharest that reach Paris say that the demonstration there last Sunday in favor of the Entente Allies, which resulted in collisions between the police and the manifestants, is to be followed by a similar affair today. A Bucharest dispatch to the Corriere della Sera of Milan, as forwarded to the Journal des Debats of Paris, says that the demonstration, which has been arranged for today by the Nationalists, "will be the last constitutional effort to induce the Government to take part in the war."

The Bucharest police are taking extraordinary measures to preserve order. It is said in political circles at Bucharest, according to the dispatch, that if disturbances take place the Rumanian Government will proclaim martial law.

Except for the French contingent, and possibly some British troops, which are stiffening the line in the region of Strumitza, the allied reinforcements have not yet reached the hard-pressed armies in large numbers.

Allied Troops Relieve Pressure.

A Reuter dispatch from Saloniki says, however:

"The concentration of the troops of the Entente Allies at various points with the object of relieving the pressure on the Serbians is proceeding.

"More transports are expected soon, and since the recent torpedoing of the British transport Marquette in the Gulf of Saloniki the precautions against submarines have been increased. * * * (Deletion by Censor). Shipping has been safeguarded in the port of Saloniki, which represents an animated appearance."

The Saloniki correspondent of The Weekly Dispatch, under date of Thursday, says:

"The French yesterday (Wednesday) occupied the town of Strumitza. The battle began at 5 o'clock the previous evening and lasted until 9 o'clock in the morning. The French drove the Bulgarians six miles beyond Strumitza. Thus, they are more than twelve miles from the railway."

Serbian circles in London are still making urgent appeals to the Allies to rush troops to their country's support, but the very fact that the Serbians have been able to hold out up to the present time has created a certain amount of optimism here as to the ability of the Allies to reach the critical war area in time.

The British troops which were landed at Saloniki, says a Havas dispatch to Paris from that place, received orders to leave part for the Serbian front, and the correspondent says that a junction with Serbian troops has already been effected.

The same Havas correspondent wires from Saloniki under date of Thursday: "According to official news, neither Serbians nor Bulgarians are at Uskub, where a civil guard is reported to be maintaining order.

"Skirmishes took place east of Tirtilli, according to a telegram from General Bailloud of the French forces. A Bulgarian company was attacked near Krivelac (on the railroad line south of Istip) and disappeared immediately."

A Havas dispatch filed Friday at Saloniki says that Bulgarians who advanced from Istip on Thursday morning and attacked Veles were repulsed with serious losses. Several skirmishes occurred in the French sector at Rabrovo, nine miles south of Strumitza.

Another dispatch from Saloniki, dated Friday, reports the retaking of Veles by the Bulgar forces.

"Veles has been recaptured by a strong Bulgarian attacking force after the fiercest of battles, in which the Bulgars, at heavy cost, crossed the Vardar River at the end of twenty hours' struggle. The Serbians are retreating to the Karadshitza Mountains, and the Bulgarians are seeking to form a juncture with the force, holding Uskub and occupying the railway between Veles and Vramya."

The same dispatch sends a report that an Italian expedition is ready to land at Aviona, Albania, to assist the Serbs by establishing a line to Monastir, but adds: "Since there are no roads between Aviona and Monastir, it is not believed that the expedition will greatly affect the present situation of the Serbians."

Serbia's tiny neighbor and ally, Montenegro, is being hammered meantime by the Austrians, who are exerting renewed pressure along the Drina near Vishegrad, in a movement coordinating with the general Teutonic offensive in the Balkans.

Berlin sends reports of further gains by the Teutonic-Bulgar forces, but gives few details. The official headquarters bulletin says:

The armies of Generals von Koevess and von Gallwitz have stormed enemy positions. They have taken 1,000 Serbians prisoner and three cannon and one machine gun.

The army of General Boyadjieff (Bulgarian) is continuing the pursuit, [illegible] Northeastern Serbia.

The Austrian official bulletin says:

The clearing of the region of Visheg is proceeding successfully.

General von Koevess's army repelled the enemy on both sides of Rudnik toward Grn Milanovac.

On the Gumic Plateau, a day's march northwest of Kragujevatz, the enemy is still offering a most tenacious resistance. Our troops there are engaged in bitter fighting. Southwest of Lapovo German battalions are attacking Strazenika Height.

In Northeastern Serbia the enemy everywhere is in retreat and the Bulgarians are in pursuit from the Timok. Southwest of Karjazevac they penetrated Serbian positions on the Tresibaba-Planina front.

To carry out the plan to transport German troops to Constantinople, special trains have been prepared on the Bulgarian Railway, according to advices reaching Rome. A quantity of arms and ammunition has been dispatched already, it is said.

GREEK SENTIMENT CHANGING.

Serb Defense Stirs People and Allies' Activity Impresses Cabinet.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sunday, Oct. 31.—The Observer's correspondent at Athens telegraphs:

"The Pro-German party here have during the past few days played their last trump. They feel the ground slipping away from them as the news arrives from all sides announcing victories by the Allies. Their press has turned violently upon high officials of the Foreign Ministry here, accusing them of pro-Entente sympathies, and consequently of following the policy of Venizelos.

"On the other hand, the public listens with skepticism to the communications of the Wolff Bureau, which seeks to minimize the heroic defense put up by the Serbs. This defense has deeply moved the Greeks, who manifest the utmost sympathy with the nation allied to them, and it irritates the Germanophile press.

"Moreover, reinforcements of the Allies, which are continually arriving in Macedonia, are a pressure that Greece must finally take a decisive part, and this certainly will not be favorable to the German cause.

"In a few days the situation will be cleared up. Already the Patris announces that Premier Zaimis is awaiting a favorable moment in order to pursue the policy of Venizelos, that is, when the allied forces in Macedonia are sufficient. For this reason the Western press should follow with more calm the evolution of Greek policy and avoid attacks at delicate moments.

"Already developments are in progress. Parliamentary circles, in spite of all statements to the contrary, are confident that a reversal of Greek policy is not far off, and may come sooner than is expected. Venizelos is ready to act, and only awaits a favorable oppertunity.

"Certain journals think that a dissolution of the Chamber will be brought about as a result of a defeat of the Ministry on a vote of confidence, but well-informed circles are convinced that dissolution is impossible, as the King would by no means allow the country to be thrown into an electoral struggle in such a critical time.

"Such is the situation. It should be added that Greece is disquieted by the attitude of Italy, whose participation in Balkan affairs bodes no good to Greece. All this foreshadows action on the part of the Zaimis Government, whose contact with representatives of the powers has been very close during the past few days.

HEARS ALLIES QUIT SALONIKI.

Report Reaches Berlin, Also a Statement That Greek King Is There.

BERLIN, Oct. 30, (by Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—The Overseas News Agency tonight gave out the following:

"A dispatch from Athens reports that the Entente troops have begun to retire from Saloniki. General Hamilton, (General A. B. Hamilton, commander of the British forces at Saloniki,) communicated the fact to Prince Nicholas of Greece, who ordered the Greek authorities to help the Anglo-French staff in the task of retirement."

A little later the same agency gave out this item, contained in a dispatch from Athens:

"King Constantine of Greece has arrived at Saloniki. He was received by Prince George and the authorities. The General Staff of the Entente troops was not present, in accordance with the King's desire."

A dispatch from Paris on Wednesday stated that according to information received there King Constantine had given up the plan of going to Saloniki. It was said that the King had made all preparations for the trip, but concluded that it might lead to an embarrassing situation, owing to the presence at Saloniki of the allied commanders, an exchange of official calls with whom might be misconstrued.

BULGARS WON HEIGHTS, CLIMBING ON ALL FOURS

Storming of Zaiecar Puts Serbian Army in Peril, Says Sofia.

SOFIA, Wednesday, Oct. 27, (Delayed.)—The fall of Pirot this morning was a severe blow to the Serbian Army, since the reduction of this strong position leaves open the road to Nish and invites a strong Bulgarian advance toward the centre of Old Serbia.

The capture of Pirot followed three days of desperate fighting, ending at nightfall on Oct. 26. During the night the Serbs evacuated the city, sacrificing all their heavy baggage and, leaving huge stores of ammunition and war material in the hands of the Bulgars. It is asserted here that the Serbian losses were extremely heavy.

The fall of Pirot and Zaiecar, together with the junction of the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces north of Negotin, have rendered the position of the Serbians, it is thought here, extremely critical. Serbian forces near Mitrovitza and Prishtina are retreating north in the direction of Novibazar with the evident purpose of joining the main groups of their army in the interior, where it is said a state of siege is rapidly approaching, since the Serbs are on the verge of being completely cut off.

The capture of Zaiecar was of distinct benefit to the Bulgarians, as it was of importance to the Serbians, both as a frontier fortress and as a railway junction. Zaiecar was defended by a Serbian first line division, supported by about 10,000 men of the Third Reserve. The Bulgarian forces numbered about two brigades.

The most thorough preparations for defense had been made by the Serbians, whose resistance was determined. Every mountain crest surrounding the fortress was covered with barbed wire entanglements and other obstacles. From these positions the Serbians poured a terrific fire into the Bulgarian lines.

Three outlying positions were taken more than a week ago, but the inner line and the southern, eastern, and northern works held out until Monday. The Bulgarians, however, succeeded in taking heavy artillery to the top of the mountain, whence they were able to direct their fire at the Serbian defenses.

The Serbians were subjected to a preliminary bombardment on Monday and early yesterday. This was followed by a Bulgarian infantry attack of a desperate character. The Bulgarians were often obliged to climb on all fours up steep slopes to the Serbian positions. Now and then the attacking parties were shot down or thrown back, but they returned to the assault and just before noon carried all the Serbian defenses.

The Bulgarian artillery did effective work. Its fire was said by Serbian prisoners to have been the worst they had experienced. The guns were exploded unerringly at a height of fifty feet above the Serbian positions. This, together with the impetuous rushes of the Bulgarian infantry, compelling the remaining Serbians to surrender.

Most of the prisoners wear citizens' clothing, with military overcoats and caps. Others are wearing thin Summer uniforms, with three or four shirts. Few of them have good shoes. There was no lack, however, of the best French and British war materials. The Serbians are still hoping that reinforcements will reach them.

All accounts agree as to the valor of the Bulgarians. Extraordinary exertions were required to scale the heights at Zaiecar. The Bulgarian infantrymen removed their shoes to obtain a better footing on the slippery rocks. Like untameable beings they rushed up the slopes. Gaps in their line were filled up from following reserves.

Reaching the summit, the infantry did such effective work with the bayonet that the Serbians who were still inclined to fight quickly held up their hands. It is asserted that the Bulgarian losses were slight, in view of the magnitude of the action.

MONTENEGRINS IN BATTLE.

Were Attacking Austrians Near Vishegrad on Thursday.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The Montenegrin Legation today received this official dispatch:

"A great battle between Montenegrin and Austrian troops began south of Vishegrad (Bosnia) on Oct. 28 (Thursday.) The result is not yet known.

"The Montenegrins attacked the Austrians energetically at Gora, inflicting large losses and making a certain number of prisoners.

"There is violent artillery fighting along the Drina and at Grahovo."

NINE MORE KILLED AS BELGIAN SPIES

Continued from Page 1.

ber of the City Council, 26,000 persons in Malines are absolutely destitute. The number given shows that one-half the total population is in want.

"Arthur Verhaegen has long been one of the most-highly respected men in Belgium. For years he was a member of the Parliament and a leader of the Democratic faction. He is more than 70 years old. A short time ago Verhaegen protested when the Germans ordered certain men of Ghent to go to work making munitions of war to be used against their countrymen. Verhaegen protested that it was a violation of The Hague treaty to compel the people of an occupied territory to work against their own people. For protesting he was sentenced to two years penal servitude in a German penitentiary, and he is now serving that sentence.

"Another prominent Belgian who has felt the wrath of the Germans is Count Limburg-Stirum, a member of the Belgian Parliament and the owner of one of the finest châteaus in Belgium. The château is near Roulers. A short time ago the Count was visited by a German officer, Baron von Huber, who is attached to the German military station at Roulers. The German told the Count he had decided to take over the château and would make it his home until further notice.

"The German baron thereupon called in workingmen and ordered that the chapel in the château be turned into a bathroom, after which he sent men through the house tearing down the arms of the Limburg-Stirum family and substituting for them the arms of his own family. The changes he made in the château cost about $10,000, and he sent the bill to Count Limburg-Stirum. When the Count protested against paying it he informed him that he would not only have to pay it, but that he would also be punished for his reluctance to meet it. The first part of the punishment was that the Germans took every book and every document out of the library. The library is, or was, one of the most famous in Belgium, and was stocked with rare and priceless volumes. The German officer ordered that every book be thrown into a near-by pond. I have not heard what form the next step in the punishment of the Count took.

"Other letters and papers tell of wholesale deportations, of executions, and of other terrible measures taken by the Germans to cow the people of Belgium."

DENIES LIEGE SENTENCES.

Berlin Tells Gerard None Has Been Imposed Recnetly.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has transmitted to the State Department a report he has received from the German Foreign Office, which states that no Belgians have been condemned to death recently at Liége, and that the Belgian Government was in error in its report to that effect.

The Ambassador's inquiry was made at the instance of the Belgian Minister here, and he was instructed to use his good offices in behalf of about thirty Belgians reported to be under sentence of death at Liége. The matter came up some days ago, after the execution in Belgium of Miss Edith Cavell.

The executions reported tonight in advices from Amsterdam, it was believed, had no connection with the report as to the thirty sentences imposed at Liége.

ANNUITIES
Reduced rates. $100,000,000 security. Best provision for old age income.
THE JOHNSTON & COLLINS CO.
55 Liberty St.

HIGHEST CASH PRICE PAID FOR Diamonds
H. S. KENNEDY
15 MAIDEN LANE.

EXPECT MORE VIGOR IN FRENCH POLICY

People Look to the New Cabinet for Greater Energy and Strength in War Plans.

EXPERTS AT THE HELM.

Millerand's Cautious Tactics To Be Changed—Navy to Have More Work in the Mediterranean.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—"A Ministry of action," is the heading of the Journal des Débats's leading editorial, devoted to the new Cabinet. This phrase expresses all that France wants or expects from the successors of Viviani. Briand's career indicates exceptional skill in handling Parliamentary cabals—the rock on which Viviani was wrecked—together with the resolution needed in a crisis, irrespective of personal or political ties, as was shown by his crushing the railway strike a few years ago, although it was fostered by the extreme action of his own Socialist party.

Cambon Strongly Anti-German.

Possible alarm lest Delcassé's strong German policy at the Foreign Office might be discontinued is dispelled by the selection practically as Foreign Minister of Jules Cambon, one of the country's longest-sighted diplomats, who, as Ambassador at Berlin, sent continuous warnings of Germany's intention to attack France at the earliest opportunity.

Next to Briand's firmness, the inclusion of General Gallieni as War Minister is the best guarantee that the war will be vigorously prosecuted. It is an open secret that the Parliamentary commissions—owing to the censorship, the only outlet for criticism of military operations—have been dissatisfied with the progress of the war in France, asserting that energetic efforts would produce results which the somewhat cautious tactics hitherto adopted were unlikely to obtain.

Millerand obstinately refused to listen to such advice, which was one of the chief reasons for the Parliamentary opposition to him, but it is expected that Gallieni, who is paramountly a man of action, will insist on more active policy, which is also likely to be the case with the navy, which France feels has occupied a position in the Adriatic and at the Dardanelles unworthy of its strength and traditions. This arrival of military and naval experts at the War and Marine Offices is one of the most hopeful features of the new Cabinet for the energetic prosecution of the war.

It is known to be a favorite theory of Briand, who even in time of peace chose General Percin as the War Office and Admiral Lapeyrère for the Marine Office in one of his first Cabinets. That experiment repeated in wartime justifies hopes of a strong and united policy at home and abroad.

Why Viviani's Ministry Fell.

Apart from Parliamentary opposition Viviani fell owing to three reasons: First, dissatisfaction with the military operations in France; second, the feeling that the Navy was insufficiently utilized; third, disgust at the diplomatic failure in the Balkans—three handles which his opponents immediately seized to attack him. It seems as if the Briand Cabinet will be adequate to deal with all three.

Apart from his personal command of Parliament, M. Briand has disarmed possible critics by the inclusion of "a Council of elders," Combes, Freycinet, Bourgeois, and Cochin, who, as former Premiers or leaders, still have enormous prestige and control important parties. It has been objected that the traditional old man's caution may cause these to be a check on the active measures which are exactly what France expects from Briand, but his personal magnetism—"the hypnotizer," his baffled opponents have called him—may be confidently expected to triumph over the possible opposition in the Cabinet itself.

"Our watchword is victory," says Briand in the only statement yet made. If for "Victory" one substitutes "to govern," one has in a phrase all France wants from Briand. The Viviani Cabinet fell through indecision, failure to act, and through a policy of "wait and see." Unless every indication is erroneous the Briand Cabinet will show what France needs in the present circumstances—energy, action, and authority.

BRIAND PRAISES VIVIANI.

Pays Tribute to His Predecessor in Presenting Cabinet to Poincare.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Premier Briand presented the members of the new Cabinet to President Poincaré at the Elysée Palace this morning. Immediately thereafter the first formal meeting of the Cabinet was held, for an exchange of views on the diplomatic and military situation.

A meeting will be held on Monday to decide upon the terms of the Ministerial declaration to Parliament, which will be submitted to President Poincaré at a meeting with the Cabinet on Tuesday.

In presenting his colleagues to the President today, M. Briand paid a tribute to the abnegation of former Premier Viviani, whose co-operation, he said, would be of the highest value in assuring the success of the new Ministry.

M. Poincaré also expressed appreciation of M. Viviani's attitude.

It was agreed that Charles de Freycinet, Vice President of the Cabinet, should have the place of honor at the right hand of President Poincaré at the Cabinet table. Emil Combes will sit at the President's left hand. The Premier will have the place opposite the President.

Persons who inquired today for Alexandre Millerand, who was Minister of War in the Viviani Cabinet, did not find him at the War Office, but in the Palace of Justice, where, dressed in cap and gown, he has resumed the practice of law. M. Millerand called upon Henri Roberts, the head of the French bar. He was received cordially by his colleagues.

WRECK TURKISH TRENCHES.

Allied Shells Effective in an Attack at the Dardanelles.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 29, (via London, Oct. 30.)—The Turkish War Office tonight announced that a terrific bombardment by the Allies on the Gallipoli Peninsula had damaged certain trenches on the Turkish left wing. The official statement says that a heavy bombardment by the enemy at other points, assisted by two monitors, accomplished no results. The statement follows:

Near Anafarta our projectiles hit one of the enemy's ammunition storehouses, which exploded, the detonations lasting fifteen minutes. Our artillery disposed of hostile troops who were digging intrenchments.

Near Ari Burnu the enemy's fire proved ineffective. Throughout Thursday night the enemy persistently bombarded our trenches on the right wing, and the following day their artillery made an unsuccessful attack upon several points in our lines.

Near Sedd-el-Bahr there has been fighting with artillery, bombs, and tpedoes.

The enemy fired a thousand shells against our left wing, causing the collapse of some trenches.

Near Ari Burnu and Sedd-el-Bahr two of the enemy's monitors took part in a bombardment, but were driven off by our artillery.

155 DIE IN SEA COLLISION.

British Mine Sweeper and Warship Crash Off Gallipoli.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—One hundred and fifty-five men are missing as a result of a collision between the British auxiliary sweeper Hythe and another British warship off the Gallipoli Peninsula, in which the Hythe was sunk.

The announcement was made today in an official statement by the British Admiralty as follows:

"During the night of Oct. 28-29, H. M. S. Hythe, an auxiliary sweeper, Lieut. Commander Arthur Bird, was sunk after being in collision with another of His Majesty's ships off the Gallipoli Peninsula.

"At the time of the collision she had on board about 250 men, in addition to her crew. One hundred are reported missing."

A total of 155 men is given as missing in a supplementary statement by the Admiralty, which read:

"Later information received concerning the foundering of the Hythe gives the following number of missing: One warrant officer and nine men; military, two officers and 148 men."

BROKE LAW TO ENLIST.

Curious Cases in the Report of the English Prison Commission.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The report of the Prison Commission shows that in 1914 sentences were imposed on 114,283 persons in the United Kingdom, a decrease from the previous year of more than 37,000. The change is ascribed mainly to enlistments, with the restriction of the sale of liquor and the great demand for labor as contributory causes.

The report chronicles two curious incidents in connection with enlistment. One man, who had offended against the law procured by a cash payment a substitute who said he had committed the crime, enabling the real culprit to enlist. Another man made off with a bicycle in order to ride to a recruiting station twenty miles away.

BOTHA WINS SLANDER CASE.

Defendant Had Accused Him of Not Accounting for Kruger's Gold.

JOHANNESBURG, Oct. 30.—The jury in the case brought by Premier Botha against a Nationalist candidate for Parliament in the recent election, named Mannik, today rendered a verdict against the defendant.

Mannik was charged with having slandered the Premier during the campaign by asking what he had done with gold bars valued at $3,750,000 left in the possession of Botha and two other persons on the departure of Paul Kruger, President of the Boer Republic, from South Africa. Mannik asserted that the gold never had been accounted for. He was sentenced to imprisonment for three months or to pay a fine of $250.

The case will be appealed.

German Sailor Interned.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—A German member of the crew of the American schooner Henry J. Smith, which put into Queenstown because of a leak, has been arrested and will be interned.

The Henry J. Smith sailed from New Mills, N. B., on Sept. 30 for England.

REPORTS TEUTONS LEAVING VOLHYNIA

Continued from Page 1.

mieniucha, Huta, Lisowska, and Bielgov were stormed. We took 18 officers and 929 men prisoners and captured two machine guns.

A Russian battle aeroplane was shot down near Kukie.

PETROGRAD, Sunday, Oct. 31, (via London.)—The following official statement was given out by the Russian War Office tonight:

There is nothing important to report on the whole front from the Gulf of Riga to the Pripet.

There were some operations by our light and heavy artillery in the districts of Jacobstadt and Dvinsk, and against the village of Nurvlantzy, west of Lake Obole.

An attempt by the Germans to advance on the left bank of the Dvina, northeast of Jacobstadt, was easily repulsed. The Germans are stripping the population of clothing and boots, which they are sending to Vilna.

In an action north of the village of Lulbtcha, on the Upper Niemen, a German detachment was annihilated by a small Russian force, which captured a few prisoners, horses and carts, and lost only two killed and one wounded.

South of Baronovichi, in the District of Gorodichtche, our artillery brought down a German aeroplane, which fell in our lines. The pilot and observer were captured.

The desperate fight for the village of Hondl, on the left bank of the Styr, west of Czartorysk, continues. Up to the present we have taken eight officers and more than 300 men prisoners.

VIENNA, Oct. 30, (via London, Oct. 31.)—The following official statement was given out by the Austrian War Office tonight:

West of Czartorysk the Austro-Hungarian troops, continuing their attacks, captured a series of tenaciously defended places. Eighteen Russian officers, 929 men and two machine guns were captured, and a Russian aeroplane was shot down. Otherwise on the northeast front there is nothing important to report.

FIGHT FOR VILNA CHURCHES.

Citizens Attack Germans Who Are Sent to Strip Them of Metals.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"When in a zealous search for metals which had been commandeered by the authorities the Germans began to strip Orthodox and Roman Catholic churches in Vilna, they were opposed by an enormous crowd of citizens armed with bombs and grenades. The fierce struggle between the inhabitants and the Germans, in which many soldiers and civilians were killed, lasted two days."

RUSSIAN PROGRESSIVES WIN.

Partial Elections Give Them Majority in Council of Empire.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Petrograd says:

"The recent partial elections give the Progressives a majority in the council of the empire."

FIERCE FIGHTING IN ARTOIS TRENCHES

French Gain in Bois en Hache, Lose Northeast of Neuville-St. Vaast.

CHAMPAGNE FIRE INTENSE

German Cannonade Answered by Violent French Shelling—Belgian Posts Bombarded.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Fierce fighting in the Artois district last night and today resulted in alternate small losses and gains for the French. Last night they carried a section of the German trenches in the Bois en Hache and made further progress, using grenades, today. Today, northeast of Neuville-St. Vaast, the Germans reoccupied parts of trenches in which the French had established themselves. An intense bombardment by the Germans in Champagne was answered by the French guns in the region of Tahure.

This is the official communication issued by the French War Office tonight:

Violent engagements took place in the course of the day at several points on the Artois front.

In the Bois en Hache we made further progress in the course of a struggle, foot by foot, with grenades.

To the northeast of Neuville-St. Vaast the enemy succeeded in reoccupying by a surprise attack several parts of the trenches which he recently lost and in which we had established our advanced line. His progress was immediately arrested by the fire of our supporting trenches.

To the east of the Labyrinthe the Germans exploded a mine in close proximity to one of our barricades. The enemy contingents who attempted to occupy the excavation were driven back to their trenches by our rifle fire.

In Champagne the enemy directed on our positions at the Butte de Tahure, and in the region to the southeast a bombardment of extremely intense character, to which our artillery responded by counterfire and a storm of shells (tirs en rafale) on the trenches and fortified works of the enemy.

The text of the French afternoon communication follows:

In the Artois district last night we made progress at Bois en Hache and occupied a section of the enemy's trenches.

To the southeast of Souches the Germans this morning undertook an attack in the vicinity of Hill 140. They were repulsed by a curtain of fire from the French machine guns.

In the Champagne district the fighting is still going on in the vicinity of the position known as "La Courtine," with the greatest ferocity. On four different occasions the enemy has endeavored to recapture from us the trenches of which we took possession yesterday. These four counterattacks all completely failed before the energetic resistance of our troops, who were successful everywhere in retaining the advances made.

There has been no other important action on the remainder of the front.

The Belgian official communication reads:

Calm prevailed during the night of Oct. 29-30. The enemy artillery today displayed considerable activity, bombarding our advanced posts at Ramscapelle, in the region of Pervyse, Roodepoort, Oudecapelle, Reninghe, and Noordschoote.

The official German report says:

Western theatre of war: No events of special importance have occurred.

SPY WARNINGS IN FRANCE.

"The Enemy Is Listening!" Street Car Placards Tell the Public.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The Minister of War has sent to the Military Governors of Paris and Lyons and the generals commanding the military districts of France large placards reading as follows:

"KEEP SILENT! BE CAREFUL! THE ENEMY IS LISTENING!"

It is ordered that these placards be placed in railway trains and street cars and other public places.

GERMANS LIMIT USE OF MEAT

Full Supply Allowed Only Two Two Days a Week.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—German newspapers publish the schedule prepared by the German Federal Council in pursuance of the decision to restrict the consumption of meat. This schedule, as forwarded by Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent, is as follows:

Mondays and Thursdays—Restaurants shall offer no meat, fish, fowl, or dishes cooked in lard, bacon, or drippings.

Tuesdays and Fridays—Butchers shall sell no raw or cooked meats.

Saturdays—Pork shall not be sold.

Thus far the Federal Council has placed no restrictions on cooking of meats in homes.

ITALIANS FIND ENEMY HAS LESS RESISTANCE

Rome Reports Further Success in the Dolomites, Where Vienna Admits Loss.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The following official statement from Italian General Headquarters was issued tonight:

The enemy's resistance on the Col di Lana of Cordevole Heights is in process of weakening owing to the repeated blows of our offensive.

On the morning of Oct. 28 our troops attacked on the summit of Salesel (2,200 meters) a pivot of the enemy's defense consisting of a redoubt and several rows of trenches. The enemy's lines of defense having been destroyed by our artillery, our infantry threw themselves forward with bayonets, capturing the defenses and taking 277 prisoners from the Imperial Chasseurs, of whom nine were officers. Our troops also captured nine machine guns and a large quantity of war material.

In the Monte Nero zone the enemy on the night of Oct. 28 renewed his attack on our lines on the Vodil and succeeded after a hard struggle in taking a part of them by assault. On the following morning our Alpine troops by a violent counterattack retook the lost trenches and made fifty-seven prisoners, one of whom was an officer.

In the Zagora section the enemy in trying to drive us back was mowed down by the accurate fire of our artillery. Progress of our troops in the Heights of Pogora continues, although the enemy offers fierce resistance through the concentration of his big guns and the liberal use of asphyxiating bombs.

On the Carso we have taken by assault another trinceae (grand trench) in Monte San Michele zone, taking seventy-six prisoners, of whom two were officers. In the centre we have occupied small trenches and maintained progress in spite of numerous enemy counterattacks.

The official bulletin issued tonight at Vienna had this to say of operations in the Italian theatre:

Yesterday on the Isonzo front in the sector north of the Gorizia bridgehead, the day was much more quiet. Strong attacks were delivered only against the Tolmino bridgehead. On the front of Gorizia the enemy's artillery fire continued with the greatest violence until evening.

An Italian attempt on our positions west of Plevna and Monte Sabatino was repulsed. On Podgora Height all our trenches, after fierce hand-to-hand fighting, remained in the possession of our men.

A portion of the reserves of the Italian Third Army are now fighting against Col Doberdo Plateau, but this cannot alter the situation. Where the enemy's attacks have not been foiled by artillery fire they have broken against the solid wall of our infantry.

On the Dolomite front the enemy, with ten times superior forces, took our advanced position on Col di Lana. The enemy's attacks in the Tonale region were sanguinarily repulsed.

MME. PADEREWSKI TO AID.

Will Sell Dolls at Biltmore for Polish Relief Fund.

Mme. Ignace Paderewski, wife of the pianist, will assist in selling the Polish dolls made by her country people in Paris at the reception for the benefit of the Polish Victims' Relief Fund at the Hotel Biltmore on Friday. Paderewski has contributed an autograph letter of Richard Wagner to be sold, and there will be other interesting souvenirs of famous artists.

The benefit will consist of a tea and reception to meet M. and Mme. Paderewski, with a bazaar from 3 to 7, and there will be dancing. There will be Polish music arranged by M. Stojowski; Arnold Volpe and his orchestra, and A. Wronski of the Boston Opera. Admission is $2, and tickets may be obtained from Miss Comstock, 41 East Eightieth Street, or at the Polish Victims' Relief Fund, Room 1507, Aeolian Building.

KING GEORGE IS BETTER.

Pain Diminishes and Temperature and Pulse Are Normal.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—King George, who was injured on Thursday by being thrown from his horse while reviewing troops in the field in France, continues to improve. An official statement issued today says:

The King's condition shows further improvement. There has been some sleep, and the pain is diminishing. Temperature and pulse are normal.

ANTHONY BOWLBY,
BERTRAND DAWSON.

FOR ENGLISH NON-SHIRKERS

Brassards to Distinguish Men Who Served or Tried to Serve.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A unique and picturesque plan for labeling by means of khaki brassards bearing the Royal Crown those fit and unfit for military service is announced by the War Office tonight. Armlets which are now being prepared will soon be distributed to the following:

First, to the men who enlist and are placed in groups waiting the call to join the Colors.

Second, to men who offer themselves for enlistment, and are found physically unfit.

Third, to those who are invalided out of the service as unlikely, for medical reasons, to become efficient again.

The armlets of each class will have a distinctive mark.

PUBLIC SALES
at the Anderson Galleries
"Where the Hoe Library Was Sold"

English Autographs

Part VI of the remarkable Collection of Autographs made by the late John Boyd Thacher, of Albany. Letters by Statesmen, Jurists, Authors, Composers, Artists, Soldiers, and European Celebrities. Among the famous names are Jeffreys, Fielding, Goldsmith, Johnson, Keats, Lamb, Kipling, Handel, Haydn, Mozart, Kitchener, Duke of Marlborough, Sir John Moore, Archbishop Laud, and John Law. Autograph material of the highest class. To be Sold on the Afternoons of November 3 and 4.

Coins and Books

Part II of the John E. Burton Library. Gold and silver and copper coins. An unusually fine collection. To be Sold on the Afternoon of Friday, November 5.

Part III of the Burton Library, embracing fine sets, first editions, and rare Americana. Of importance to Collectors and buyers of useful books. To be Sold in Five Sessions, Monday and Tuesday Afternoons and Evenings and Wednesday Afternoon, November 8, 9, and 10.

Many Other Sales Preparing

Unequalled facilities for the Exhibition and Public Sale of important Art and Literary Collections. Catalogues and expert advice free of charge. Sales at 2:30 and 8:15 o'clock. Correspondence Invited.

The Anderson Galleries
Incorporated.
MADISON AVE. AT FORTIETH ST., NEW YORK.
Sales Conducted by Mr. Frederick A. Chapman.

HIDDEN FRIENDS GET NEW LAWYER TO FAY

Secret Interests Arrange for Habeas Corpus Plea Before Day Set for Hearing.

MORE CHARGES ARE READY

Government Feels Sure of Convicting All Five Prisoners—Search for "Kearling's" Past.

The "moneyed interests," or some other interests which have been supposed to be behind "Lieutenant" Robert Fay, or H. A. Kearling, who with four others is under arrest on the charge of conspiring to blow up munition ships leaving American ports, came to the front yesterday. This was indicated by a change of lawyers.

Fay, when arraigned on Tuesday last before United States Commissioner Clarence S. Houghton, with his reputed brother-in-law, Walter E. Scholz, who was arrested with him in Grantwood, N. J., on Sunday afternoon, said he had no money to employ counsel, although something like $500 was found in his possession when he was arrested, and according to the Secret Service he had spent more than $30,000 in the six months since his arrival in this country.

In consequence Commissioner Houghton appointed Louis Jersawitz of 220 Broadway to be counsel for Fay, and Abraham Snydecker of the same firm counsel for Scholz. Mr. Jersawitz said from the first that he did not believe he had Fay's confidence. The frequent statements made by Fay to the police and to reporters about his activities and plots did not carry conviction, and Mr. Jersawitz could get nothing further out of him.

Yesterday Mr. Jersawitz was superseded by Patrick J. McDonald of 38 Park Row. Mr. Snydecker was still attorney for Scholz, but was expecting to be superseded. Mr. McDonald said he had been employed by Fay himself, but did not explain when it was pointed out that Fay had not communicated with him from his cell in the Tombs. Mr. McDonald said he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus not later than Wednesday next, the day the Federal Grand Jury meets, and a day before the date to which the hearing was adjourned by Commissioner Houghton.

But the impression was general that Mr. McDonald was only acting as the representative of other lawyers still in the background who would come forward for Fay at the proper time. The statement was made in quarters close to the defendants that the much-talked-of "men higher up," who were plentifully provided with money, had come to Fay's assistance, and that from now on he would have the ablest lawyers in New York.

Assistant United States District Attorney John C. Knox said yesterday that he had no doubt that all five of the defendants could be sent to the Federal penitentiary for long terms. He said the Government had an excellent case and that in addition to the complaint on which they are held, there were four or five other sections of the Criminal Code which Fay and the others had violated. Mr. Knox also scouted the notion that Fay was "trench-mad" or otherwise deranged.

Assistant Attorney General Charles Warren, who came from Washington on Friday night to confer with Mr. Marshall, went on to Boston yesterday. Neither Mr. Marshall nor Mr. Warren would give any indication of what was discussed or what conclusions were reached, except Mr. Warren said that he would leave the prosecution entirely in the hands of the local officials.

August Ziegener of Jersey City, attorney for Paul Daeche, had a conference yesterday with Assistant District Attorney Knox, as a result of which the report got abroad that Daeche was going to testify for the Government. This was vigorously denied by Mr. Ziegener. "My client has made no confession," he said, "nor will he. We are going to come to the hearing on next Wednesday prepared to meet any charges the Government may bring. I cannot give any indication at this time as to the subjects discussed by Mr. Knox and myself."

Various statements made by Fay at various times were quoted yesterday to show that the real purpose of his bombs was to blow up the British cruisers which have been lying off the Hook to intercept any German ship which might try to slip out, and that his plans involved the destruction of the patrol boats used by the New York police, which had interfered with his nocturnal explorations of New York Harbor and adjacent waters. But it was pointed out that the difficulties of attaching one of Fay's mines to a warship in the open sea would be great, quite aside from the fact that British cruisers keep a guard on the lookout all the time.

Secret Service officials were busy yesterday trying to find out how long Fay had used the name of H. A. Kearling, under which he is believed to have crossed on the liner Rotterdam of the Holland-America Line arriving here April 23. The records at Ellis Island show that a Robert Fay landed there from the Rotterdam, but there was no Robert Fay on the passenger list. The inquiries are at present directed toward ascertaining what names Fay or Kearling used in Germany before crossing, and when and for what reasons he shifted from one to the other.

SAYS FAY LIVED IN LONDON.

Known There as Anti-British and a Frank, Likable Person.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Evening News says it has obtained an intimate record of the life in London of Robert Fay from July to September of 1913, at the conclusion of which period, The News says, he went to America. During that time Fay apparently was a harmless character. He was engaged in the sale of medicinal salts. He never disguised the fact that he was anti-British, and accepted every opportunity of proclaiming his German nationality.

According to this account Fay created everywhere the impression of being a frank and likable person who was particularly outspoken in regard to his own affairs, which apparently went badly. He had an office, but seldom appeared there, finding only a light demand for the brand of salts he gave up his business and sailed for America to join his brother-in-law, Scholz.

FAY NOT IN GERMAN ARMY.

Official List for 1914 Does Not Bear Kearling's Name Either.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Official Washington was keenly interested today, but noncommital as to the information obtained by THE NEW YORK TIMES that "Lieutenant" Robert Fay had gone under the name of H. A. Kearling and was an officer of the German Army. There was no one at the German Embassy to confirm the report, but examination of the official German Army list for carry New York City. The Democratic County leaders in the city predicted its defeat by a large margin.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE SWEEP PREDICTED

Continued from Page 1.

NEW YORK SUFFRAGE DEFEAT IS FORECAST

Estimates by County Chairmen of Both Parties Show Overwhelming Trend Against Amendment.

THE NEW YORK TIMES asked the County Chairmen of the Republican and Democratic Parties throughout New York State for an estimate in each case of the vote for and against woman suffrage next Tuesday. These replies, showing an overwhelming trend against the amendment, have been received:

Albany.

ALBANY, Oct. 30. — Impossible to make accurate forecast of suffrage vote. It looks as if it would be decisively defeated in Albany County.
H. W. BLANCHARD,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Broome.

BINGHAMTON, Oct. 30. — For suffrage, 3,500; against suffrage, 6,500.
W. H. RILEY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Chemung.

ELMIRA, Oct. 30.—Chemung will give woman suffrage a fair majority, about 500.
SEYMOUR LOWMAN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Chenango.

NORWICH, Oct. 30.—Suffrage amendment in Chenango County will be doubtless beaten by 1,500.
J. S. FLANAGAN,
Chairman Republican Committee.
NORWICH, Oct. 30.—Estimate two to one against woman suffrage in Chenango County. STEPHEN RYAN,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Columbia.

HILLSDALE, Oct. 30.—I believe suffrage will be defeated in Columbia County.
W. A. MALLERY, Jr.,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Dutchess.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Oct. 30.—In my judgment the vote for suffrage in Dutchess County will not exceed 5,000, and I expect that the vote in favor will be in the majority.
W. E. HOYSRADT,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Fulton.

GLOVERSVILLE, Oct. 30.—Indications are that the equal suffrage amendment will be lost in this county by 300.
J. WILLIAM TITCOMB,
Chairman Republican Committee.
NORTHVILLE, Oct. 30.—In my opinion this county will go against suffrage.
SCOTT PARTRIDGE,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Herkimer.

HERKIMER, Oct. 30.—I think the majority against woman suffrage in Herkimer County will be 800.
FREDERICK A. RAY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Jefferson.

WATERTOWN, Oct. 30.—I estimate the vote on suffrage in Jefferson County at about 11,100 against and 3,800 for. Antis are active in this county, and the Republican County Chairman is working openly against the amendment.
GEO. R. VAN NAMEE,
Chairman Democratic Committee.
WATERTOWN, Oct. 30.—Assuming 16,000 votes cast in Jefferson, 12,000 will be against suffrage. Strong women's anti-suffrage organization here.
A. C. RYDER,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Livingston.

GENESEO, Oct. 30.—I estimate the majority against woman suffrage in Livingston County at 1,500.
GEORGE B. ADAMS,
Chairman Republican Committee.
LEICESTER, Oct. 30.—Present indications forecast defeat of suffrage in this county. JAMES W. BROPHEL,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Monroe.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 30.—Anti-suffrage will be successful, three to two.
JAMES L. HOTCHKISS,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Montgomery.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 30.—I believe woman suffrage will carry Montgomery County by 300. GEORGE B. DEAL,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Orleans.

MEDINA, Oct. 30.—Orleans County will vote against suffrage by a small majority. M. J. WHEDON,
Chairman Republican Committee.
ALBION, Oct. 30.—Estimated majority against suffrage, 500 in county.
W. B. DYE,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Oswego.

PARISH, Oct. 30.—Oswego County, five hundred majority against suffrage.
JAMES GRAY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Otsego.

ONEONTA, Oct. 30—Estimate suffrage amendment will be defeated by two thousand in Otsego County.
W. L. MORRIS,
Chairman Republican Committee.

St. Lawrence.

OGDENSBURG, Oct. 30.—In this large county, in my judgment, eight thousand or nine thousand votes will be polled, and woman suffrage will be beaten by two thousand or three thousand.
JAMES E. KELLY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Schuyler.

WATKINS, Oct. 30.—Estimate vote in favor of suffrage at twelve hundred, against 1,250.
H. H. GRAHAM,
Chairman Republican Committee.
MONTOUR FALLS, Oct. 30.—Estimated vote for woman suffrage in Schuyler County: One thousand against, eight hundred for.
J. M. QUIRK,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Seneca.

SENECA FALLS, Oct. 30.—I think woman suffrage will be beaten by 500 in Seneca County. N. J. GOULD,
Chairman Republican Committee.
SENECA FALLS, Oct. 30.—Think woman suffrage probably will get about 40 per cent. of a vote of 6,500.
SYLVESTER WOODS,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Steuben.

BATH, Oct. 30.—There will be a light vote on the suffrage amendment in Steuben County. I think it will be defeated by about 600.
HENRY W. BOWES,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Tioga.

OWEGO, Oct. 30.—Believe suffrage will be beaten in Tioga County by a narrow margin.
ROBERT V. R. BASSETT,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Tompkins.

ITHACA, Oct. 30.—Hard to get a line on suffrage amendment, but think it will run close in this county.
B. F. LENT,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Warren.

GLENS FALLS, Oct. 30.—Expect suffrage amendment will be beaten by small vote in Warren County.
H. E. H. BRERETON,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Wayne.

ONTARIO, Oct. 30.—Believe suffrage will lose this county by 1,000 votes.
J. S. BRADNT,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Yates.

PENN YAN, Oct. 30.—In Yates County suffrage will carry. M. McEVOY,
Chairman Republican Committee.

How the Ballot on the Revised Constitution Has Been Divided.

1. TO VOTE "YES" ON ANY QUESTION MAKE A CROSS × MARK IN THE SQUARE OPPOSITE THE WORD "YES."
2. TO VOTE "NO," MAKE A CROSS × MARK IN THE SQUARE OPPOSITE THE WORD "NO."
3. MARK ONLY WITH A PENCIL HAVING BLACK LEAD.
4. ANY OTHER MARK, ERASURE OR TEAR ON THE BALLOT RENDERS IT VOID.
5. IF YOU TEAR, OR DEFACE, OR WRONGLY MARK THIS BALLOT, RETURN IT AND OBTAIN ANOTHER.

YES ☐ NO ☐

QUESTION NO. 1
REVISED CONSTITUTION
Shall all of the Revised Constitution submitted by the Constitutional Convention not included in Questions 2 and 3 be approved?

YES ☐ NO ☐

QUESTION NO. 2
LEGISLATIVE APPORTIONMENT
Shall the Proposed Amendments submitted by the Constitutional Convention to Sections 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Article III relating to legislative apportionment be approved?

YES ☐ NO ☐

QUESTION NO. 3
TAXATION
Shall the new Article X submitted by the Constitutional Convention relating to taxation be approved?

Ballot on Woman Suffrage, Interest Rate and Canal Bonds.

YES ☐ NO ☐

AMENDMENT NO. 1
Shall the proposed amendment to section one of article two of the Constitution, conferring equal suffrage upon women, be approved?

YES ☐ NO ☐

AMENDMENT NO. 2
Shall the proposed amendment to section four of article seven of the Constitution, permitting the Legislature to alter the rate of interest upon debts incurred for some specific work or object authorized by act of the legislature and ratified by the people be approved?

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSITION NO. 1
Shall chapter five hundred and seventy of the laws of nineteen hundred and fifteen, entitled "An act making provision for issuing bonds to the amount of not to exceed twenty-seven million dollars in addition to bonds heretofore authorized by the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and three, for the improvement of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal and the Champlain canal, and providing for a submission of the same to the people to be voted upon at the general election to be held in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen," be approved?

When the voter enters the polling place on election day the ballot clerk will hand him three separate ballots. One ballot will contain the names of all candidates, another will contain two amendments to the Constitution and one proposition as submitted by the Legislature, and the third will contain three questions submitted by the Constitutional Convention relating to the proposed Constitution, viz.: Amendment 1, relating to woman suffrage; Amendment 2, permitting the Legislature to alter the rate of interest on debts incurred for some specific work or object, and Proposition 1, on the same ballot, relating to the issuing of $27,000,000 in State bonds to complete the Erie Canal.

The three questions on a separate ballot relate to the proposed new Constitution. Voters wishing to indorse the work of the recent convention in its entirety should put a cross mark (X) in each one of the three squares opposite the word "Yes." If they do not agree with all three propositions a "No" can be registered against any of the questions without affecting the "Yes" votes for the others. If the voter approves the revised Constitution as submitted by the Convention, except the legislative apportionment and taxation articles, he should vote "Yes" on Question 1 and "No" on Questions 2 and 3.

If a voter lives in a district where voting machines are used he still must use one of the paper ballots. This will be the ballot on which the questions submitted by the Constitutional Convention are printed. The voting machine must be used, however, in choosing candidates for office, and in signifying the voter's approval or disapproval of the $27,000,000 canal-bond proposition, the woman suffrage amendment, and the amendment to allow an alteration of the interest rate, all of which were submitted by the Legislature of 1916.

SUFFRAGE SEEMS LOST IN MASSACHUSETTS

Defeat in Most Counties Indicated by Estimates Made by Party Committemen.

Democratic and Republican district committeemen in Massachusetts were asked by THE NEW YORK TIMES each for an estimate of the vote for and against suffrage in his county next Tuesday. The replies received follow. While the estimates in some cases are conflicting, the defeat of the amendment seems to be indicated:

Berkshire.

NORTH ADAMS, Oct. 30.—In Berkshire County the indications are that suffrage will be beaten two to one.
JOHN H. WATERHOUSE,
Republican Committeeman.
HOUSATONIC, Oct. 30.—It is expected Berkshire County will vote against suffrage. T. ELLIS RAMSDELL, Republican Committeeman.

Bristol.

ATTLEBORO, Oct. 30.—Bristol County looks like two to one against suffrage.
J. V. CURRAN,
Republican Committeeman.

Essex.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 30.—Essex County seems favorable to suffrage. Lynn and Lawrence will probably give the best vote in the county for the amendment. Haverhill is not so encouraging. Generally the outlook is good.
J. P. S. MAHONEY,
Democratic Committeeman.
SALEM, Oct. 30.—Estimate vote in Essex County for suffrage at 20,000; anti, 30,000. W. S. FELTON, Republican Committeeman.

Franklin.

GREENFIELD, Oct. 30.—My forecast of vote on woman suffrage in Franklin County is that it will be defeated two to one. FRANK J. LAWLER,
Democratic Committeeman.

Hampden.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 30.—Suffrage will be beaten by 5,000 votes in Hampden County in a probable total vote of 30,000.
CHARLES J. DOWNEY,
Democratic Committeeman.
SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 30.—We have no approximation from which to estimate the suffrage vote. Hampden County, however, is certain to defeat it by a large majority.
GEORGE A. BACON,
Republican Committeeman.
HOLYOKE, Oct. 30.—I believe Hampden County will go for equal suffrage by 2,000 votes. The granges and labor unions appear to be very strong for the amendment. The equal suffrage people have made an excellent campaign.
FREDERICK CHILDS,
Republican Committeeman.

Middlesex.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Suffrage will win in Middlesex County.
THOMAS P. RILEY,
Democratic Committeeman.
NEWTON, Oct. 30.—Personally I am going to vote for suffrage, but I believe the men of Massachusetts are unwilling to grant this privilege. It will be defeated by 40,000.
DANIEL O'CONNELL,
Democratic Committeeman.
WALTHAM, Oct. 30.—Sentiment for suffrage has grown very rapidly in my district. Most of the organized labor men favor it. The pro-suffrage people also have been the most active. I believe that the Fifth Middlesex District will cast a heavy vote in favor.
BERNARD A. STANLEY,
Democratic Committeeman.
CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 30.—Three to one against suffrage.
EDWIN D. EDWARDS,
Democratic Committeeman.
LOWELL, Oct. 30.—The vote will be two to one against suffrage, due to indifference on the part of voters.
T. J. FITZGERALD,
Democratic Committeeman.
SOMERVILLE, Oct. 30.—Total vote on suffrage in Middlesex County, 70,000—28,000 for, 42,000 against.
CHARLES LEO SHEA,
Democratic Committeeman.
LOWELL, Oct. 30.—Best information I can gather is that this county will go two to one against suffrage.
HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN,
Democratic Committeeman.
LOWELL, Oct. 30. — From sentiment in Middlesex County, would say suffrage will be beaten by 7,000, and the State will beat same by 6,000.
CHARLES NICHOLS,
Republican Committeeman.
EVERETT, Oct. 30.—The campaign for and against equal suffrage has been carried on vigorously in Middlesex County. My estimate of the result is that anti-suffrage will carry the county by 8,000 to 10,000.
CHARLES BRUCE,
Republican Committeeman.

Norfolk.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—I predict that Norfolk County will give anti-suffrage 17,000 votes, suffrage about 7,000.
LEON R. EIGES,
Democratic Committeeman.

Plymouth.

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 30.—I guess 50-50.
WILLIAM T. WAY,
Democratic Committeeman.

Suffolk.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—I think Suffolk County will be anti by 20,000.
WILLIAM J. BURNS,
Democratic Committeeman.
BOSTON, Oct. 30.—County unit not practical for forecast. Appearances indicate defeat for suffrage by from 50,000 to 75,000.
WILLIAM F. GARCELON,
Republican Committeeman.
BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Suffolk County will vote against suffrage, 2½ to 1.
MICHAEL BROPHY,
Democratic Committeeman.

Worcester.

WORCESTER, Oct. 30.—The total vote cast in Worcester County last year for Governor was about 60,000. The suffrage question is the last one on the ballot this year, and the estimated total vote on that will be about 48,000. The antis will carry the county, according to the most reliable information obtainable, by a vote of 29,000 for anti-suffrage to 19,000 for suffrage.
MARK N. SMERRETT,
Democratic Committeeman.
WORCESTER, Oct. 30. — Worcester County is against suffrage by at least 10,000 votes.
CHAS. F. CAMPBELL,
Democratic Committeeman.
WORCESTER, Oct. 30.—No systematic canvass of the suffrage question in Massachusetts has been made. Each side claims victory. Probabilities are that amendment will be defeated.
FRANK B. HALL,
Republican Committeeman.
WORCESTER, Oct. 30. — I estimate 174,000 in favor of woman suffrage in Massachusetts and 298,000 against.
CHARLES T. TATMAN,
Republican Committeeman.

SUFFRAGE DOOMED IN PENNSYLVANIA

County Chairmen Throughout the State Generally Forecast Its Defeat.

County Chairmen of both parties in Pennsylvania generally predict the defeat of the woman suffrage amendment at next Tuesday's election. Of the forecasts sent to THE TIMES very few indicate a majority for suffrage.
The forecasts by counties follow:

Armstrong.

KITTANNING, Oct. 30.—Suffrage will be defeated in Armstrong County 500 to 800 majority. W. P. PARKER,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Berks.

TOPTON, Oct. 30. — The majority against suffrage in Berks County will be at least 1,000.
C. D. FARLEY, M. D.,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Butler.

BUTLER, Oct. 30.—There is very little talk here on the equal suffrage question, and the result is very doubtful.
HARRY L. KELLY,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Bedford.

BEDFORD, Oct. 30.—I forecast the vote to be 3 to 1 against suffrage.
VICTOR E. P. BARKMAN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Bradford.

ATHENS, Oct. 30.—Bradford County will poll about 7,000 votes on Tuesday next, but not over 50 per cent. will vote on the suffrage amendment, which will carry the county by about 700.
N. F. WALKER,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Bucks.

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 30.—Reports received from different sections of Bucks County indicate the defeat of the woman suffrage amendment by a large majority. Out of an estimated vote on the amendment of upward of 10,000, the suffrage vote will probably not exceed 3,500.
HIRAM H. KELLER,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Cameron.

DRIFTWOOD, Oct. 30.—From best available information suffrage will be defeated in Cameron County by about 200. JOSEPH S. JOHNSTON,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Carbon.

LANSFORD, Oct. 30.—Three thousand for woman suffrage, 3,500 against woman suffrage. ROBERT BROWN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Columbia.

BLOOMSBURG, Oct. 30.—Columbia County will give a majority of more than 2,000 against suffrage.
PERCY BREWINGTON,
Chairman Republican Committee.
BERWICK, Oct. 30.—Columbia will give for suffrage 1,500; against, 3,500.
J. H. CATTERALL,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Cumberland.

CARLISLE, Oct. 30. — Cumberland County will go 2 to 1 against woman suffrage. The rural districts are very strong against it. J. W. KLINE,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Erie.

ERIE, Oct. 30.—I believe Erie County will vote against woman suffrage.
A. O. CHAPIN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Franklin.

GREEN CASTLE, Oct. 30.—There will be about 10,000 votes cast in Franklin County, 75 per cent. against suffrage.
EMERY D. SMALL,
Chairman Democratic Committee.
CHAMBERSBURG, Oct. 30.—For suffrage 4,500; against suffrage 6,500; forecast of vote in Franklin County.
JOSEPH P. MACLAY,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Forest.

MARIENVILLE, Oct. 30.—All indications point to a sweeping victory for woman suffrage in Forest County. It will carry by over 1,000 votes.
LEO KEATING,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Huntingdon.

HUNTINGDON, Oct. 30.—Woman suffrage will be defeated in Huntingdon County two to one.
J. G. LESHER,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Juniata.

MIFFLINTOWN, Oct. 30.—In my estimation the vote will be two to one against suffrage.
A. J. SAUSMAN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Lancaster.

LANCASTER, Oct. 30.—No data; vote light for suffrage. The estimate is 4,000 to 5,000. B. F. DAVIS,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Lawrence.

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 30.—I believe woman suffrage will carry from 55 to 60 per cent. in Lawrence County.
J. H. BOYD,
Chairman Democratic Committee.
NEW CASTLE, Oct. 30.—That Lawrence County will probably give a majority in favor of the woman suffrage amendment next Tuesday is the opinion of those favoring that proposition. However, for many weeks a very active campaign has been carried on locally for the amendment, and few express themselves against it. However, the vote cast either for or against it will not be large. W. L. AIKEN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Lebanon.

LEBANON, Oct. 30.—The fight is strenuous and reports from districts indicate a majority against suffrage in Lebanon County.
WILLIAM J. NOLL,
Chairman Republican Committee.
LEBANON, Oct. 30.—I expect the vote on suffrage in this county to be a victory for the antis by a substantial majority. A. I. HARTMAN,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Lehigh.

ALLENTOWN, Oct. 30. — Lehigh County will vote women suffrage 2 to 1.
HORACE W. SCHANTZ,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Luzerne.

WILKES-BARRE, Oct. 30.—The indications are that woman suffrage will lose in this county by 3,000 votes.
JOHN R. HALSEY, Chairman, Republican Committee.

McKean.

BRADFORD, Penn., Oct. 30.—The indications are that woman suffrage will be carried in McKean County.
FELIX QUINLAN, Chairman Democratic Committee.
BRADFORD, Penn., Oct. 30.—I believe this county will vote no on the first amendment by a small majority.
E. J. JONES, Chairman, Republican Committee.

Mifflin.

LEWISTOWN, Penn., Oct. 30.—The county will defeat woman suffrage by 500. ANDREWS WAGNER,
Chairman, Republican Committee.

Monroe.

STROUDSBURG, Penn., Oct. 30.—Woman suffrage will be defeated in Monroe County by a proportionate vote of 95 to 5.
PHILIP S. DREHER,
Chairman Republican Committee.
STROUDSBURG, Penn., Oct. 30.—The prospects are good that the county will give a large vote. C. V. LEVERING,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Montour.

DANVILLE, Penn., Oct. 30.—Montour County will vote from 450 to 500 against suffrage. JOHN R. M. CURRY,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Northumberland.

SHAMOKIN, Penn., Oct. 30.—The vote in our county will be possibly 2 to 1 against woman suffrage.
C. S. SHIPE,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Potter.

COUDERSPORT, Penn., Oct. 30.—The best guess I can make is 2,400 for and 1,600 against suffrage.
M. J. COLCORD,
Chairman, Republican Committee.

Pike.

MATAMORAS, Penn., Oct. 30.—Pike County will cast 700 votes on suffrage, 450 against, 250 for.
ALFRED MARVIN,
Chairman, Republican Committee.
MATAMORAS, Penn., Oct. 30.—Woman suffrage will lose by a small majority in Pike County.
JOSEPH A. SCHROEDER,
Chairman, Democratic Committee.

Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Oct. 30.—The possible vote in this county on suffrage is 125,000, of which 75,000 will be against and 50,000 for.
B. GORDON BROMLEY,
Chairman, Democratic Committee.

Schuylkill.

POTTSVILLE, Penn., Oct. 30.—This county will give a majority of 9,000 or 10,000 against the suffrage amendment.
T. L. O'DONNELL,
Chairman Democratic Committee.
POTTSVILLE, Penn., Oct. 30.—Impossible to give the vote on the woman suffrage amendment, but it will be defeated here by possibly 10,000.
WILLIAM S. LEIB,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Somerset.

SOMERSET, Penn., Oct. 30.—Somerset County will go 2 to 1 against suffrage. C. W. WALKER,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Susquehanna.

KINGSLEY, Penn., Oct. 30.—I think women suffrage will be defeated.
ELMER J. WHITNEY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Tioga.

TIOGA VILLAGE, Penn., Oct. 30.—Woman suffrage in this county will not carry. The interest manifested is light.
C. W. SHELDON,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Union.

LEWISBURG, Penn., Oct. 30.—The suffrage amendment will be defeated in Union county by a large majority.
J. H. WINGERT,
Chairman Democratic Committee.
LEWISBURG, Penn., Oct. 30.—The suffrage amendment will be defeated two or three to one in Union County.
THOMAS C. THURNTON,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Warren.

WARREN, Penn., Oct. 30.—I think Warren County will give a small majority on woman's suffrage.
FRANK MORRISON,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Westmoreland.

GREENSBURG, Penn., Oct. 30.—Suffrage will probably be defeated in Westmoreland County by small margin. Many voters will neglect to vote on the amendment on account of interest in other contests. H. E. MARKER,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Wyoming.

TUNKHANNOCK, Penn., Oct. 30.—My forecast of the vote on the suffrage is two to one against. J. C. STARK,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

UP-STATE FORECASTS ON THE CONSTITUTION

Chairmen of County Committees Give Their Views on the Probable Result.

Estimates and forecasts of the vote on the Constitution sent to THE TIMES by the Chairmen of committees in the up-State counties leave the result much in doubt. The Republican forecasts generally give the measure small majorities, while the Democratic Chairmen either leave the result in doubt or predict its defeat.
The reports follow:

Broome.

BINGHAMTON, Oct. 30.—For the Constitution, 3,000; against the Constitution, 5,500.
W. H. RILEY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Chemung.

ELMIRA, Oct. 30.—The Constitution will have 300 majority in Chemung County. The separate questions except votes for women will be defeated.
SEYMOUR LOWMAN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Chenango.

NORWICH, Oct. 30.—I believe that Chenango County will vote for the Constitution by a fair majority.
J. S. FLANAGAN,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Columbia.

HILLSDALE, Oct. 30.—The Constitution will be defeated from two to five hundred in Columbia County.
W. A. MALLERY, JR.,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Dutchess.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Oct. 30.—The indications are that the vote on the main body of the Constitution will be in favor of it. The vote on the separate questions will probably be unfavorable. I estimate that the vote on Question No. 1 will be in the neighborhood of 7,000. W. E. HOYSRADT,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Fulton.

NORTHVILLE, Oct. 30.—My opinion is that the constitutional amendments will carry this county by a substantial majority. SCOTT PARTRIDGE,
Chairman Democratic Committee.
GLOVERSVILLE, Oct. 30.—I believe the Constitution will be carried in the county by a small majority.
J. WILLIAM WHITCOMB,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Herkimer.

HERKIMER, Oct. 30.—I think the Constitution proposition in Herkimer County will be defeated.
FREDERICK A. RAY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Jefferson.

WATERTOWN, Oct. 30.—There probably will be at least 15,000 votes cast in Jefferson County on the Constitution, out of which 10,000 will be against it.
A. C. RYDER,
Chairman Republican Committee.
WATERTOWN, Oct. 30.—I estimate the vote on the Constitution in Jefferson County at about 9,000 against and 5,800 for. Definite information is difficult to obtain, but the trend seems to be against its adoption. The figures make allowance for the electors who will neglect to vote on the Constitution.
GEORGE R. VAN NAMEE,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Livingston.

GENESEO, Oct. 30.—I estimate the plurality in Livingston county in favor of question No. 1 on the revised Constitution at 1,000.
GEORGE B. ADAMS,
Chairman Republican Committee.
LEICESTER, Oct. 30.—It is the general opinion that the constitutional amendment will carry by a substantial majority in this county.
JAMES W. BROPHEL,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Montgomery.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 30.—It looks as if a substantial majority would be given in opposition to the Constitution. I estimate the same at 500.
GEORGE B. DEAL,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Orleans.

ALBION, Oct. 30.—The vote in this county on the Constitution is in doubt.
W. B. DYE,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Oswego.

PARISH, Oct. 30.—Four hundred majority for the Constituion.
JAMES GRAY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

St. Lawrence.

OGDENSBURG, Oct. 30.—The election on the constitutional amendment is likely to break about even.
JAMES E. KELLY,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Monroe.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 30.—Constitution will be adopted in this county by a small majority.
JAMES L. HOTCHKISS,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Orleans.

MEDINA, Oct. 30.—Orleans County will vote for the Constitution by 1,200 majority. M. J. WHEDON,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Otsego.

ONEONTA, Oct. 30.—Estimate Constitution amendments will be defeated by 2,500 in Otsego County.
W. L. MORRIS,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Schoharie.

COBLESKILLE, Oct. 30.—The new Constitution, unpopular with farmers, will be defeated in this county by 1,000 majority at least. C. A. WIETING,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Schuyler.

WATKINS, Oct. 30.—Estimate vote in favor of Constitution at 1,000, against 900. Think only about half of the voters will vote on the question.
H. H. GRAHAM,
Chairman Republican Committee.
MONTOUR FALLS, Oct. 30.—Estimated votes on Constitution in Schuyler County, 700 for, 600 against.
J. M. QUIRK,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Seneca.

SENECA FALLS, Oct. 30.—Think vote on constitutional amendments will be close and taxation amendment probably will be beaten in Seneca County.
N. J. GOULD,
Chairman Republican Committee.
SENECA FALLS, Oct. 30.—Think constitutional amendment will get about 50 per cent. of a vote of 6,500.
SYLVESTER WOODS,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Steuben.

BATH, Oct. 30.—Not much interest in the constitutional amendments here. Think they will be defeated by a small majority, probably 400 to 600.
HENRY W. BOWES,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Tioga.

OWEGO, Oct. 30.—Believe Questions 1 and 2 will be beaten in Tioga County by a narrow margin and Question 3 overwhelmingly.
ROBERT V. R. BASSETT,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

Tompkins.

ITHACA, Oct. 30.—The constitutional amendment is not much discussed, but think there will be a small majority against in this county. B. F. LENT.

Wayne.

ONTARIO, Oct. 30.—I believe Wayne County will carry for the Constitution by a large majority. J. S. BRANDT.

Warren.

GLENS FALLS, Oct. 30.—I believe Constitution will carry by small vote in Warren County. Total vote too uncertain to warrant detailed forecast.
H. E. H. BRERETON,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Yates.

PENN YAN, Oct. 30.—Yates County vote on Constitution will be close.
M. McEVOY,
Chairman Republican Committee.

Unparalleled in Reputation Unequalled in Popularity

World-famed as New York's most notable restaurant, Churchill's enjoys a degree of popularity unprecedented in the past, unequalled in the present.

To enjoy Dinner or Supper here, in an atmosphere noted for its distinctive combination of gaiety and refinement, is to derive so much greater pleasure than possible elsewhere, Churchill's is nightly thronged with delighted guests.

Aside from its atmosphere, Churchill's owes its popularity for Dinner to its famed cuisine in a la carte service—to its unequalled Special Dinner for $1.25—to its exceptional entertainment—Cabaret Unique.

Supper at Churchill's equally yields the utmost in enjoyment. Dancing on main floor from nine o'clock.

Churchill's is also held in high favor for its Special Luncheon at 75c, served in Ballroom with Dancing, and for its Afternoon Tea Dances.

CHURCHILL'S

More than a Restaurant — A Broadway Institution

Broadway at Forty Ninth Street

SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN CLOSES AT MIDNIGHT

All Day and Night Open-Air Meetings Feature of End of Battle for the Vote.

SPEAKERS FULL OF HOPE

Women Fighters for the "Cause" Tired, but Confident of Victory on Tuesday.

Woman suffragists of New York at midnight ended their great Saturday drive for votes and now await the issue of next Tuesday at the polls.

The Captains, worn out by continuous argument with the male electorate, were borne home early this morning in scores of automobiles over which floated the torn pennons of the cause. Orators, who in relays had talked in the streets in twenty-four and twenty-six hour meetings, went to bed tired but happy in the belief of certain victory. Thus there came practically to an end a three-months campaign.

Yesterday in the calendar of woman suffrage was the day of days. It represented the last one on which the leaders hoped to get the best attention of the men. Hence it was that last night when there were probably more voters with minds free from business than at any other time, the final effort was made to win as many as possible for the suffrage amendment.

The great concert in Madison Square, called the Yellow Rally by its promoters, brought thousands of citizens within range of the voice of persuasion. At Times Square and at Columbus Circle, proceeded the "round-the-clock" gatherings which revealed the boundless ardor of the suffragists and their unique three-months' campaign.

Columbus Sees 26-Hour Meeting.

An automobile drawn close to the curb in that circular space where the discoverer of America looks down upon his tiny caravels, had for twenty-six hours been the rostrum from which the arguments for equal franchise had been flung. It was surrounded last midnight by a throng which listened with good intent and often with favorable comment to the addresses of the eager-faced speakers.

The theatres sent into the big concourses thousands who had all kinds of opinions about suffrage. A young woman who had been hanging back was brought up to the automobile by the youth with her and entirely against her will had to submit to being ticketed with the button of the cause.

The tactics of the firing line and the battlefront were those which the suffragists maintained in this meeting of continuous talk, which began at 10 o'clock Friday night and flowed along in an unceasing stream of argument which no man could stay. It had engaged the moving picture spectators of Friday night, and then quiet came to Columbus and his caravels for a time. A few stragglers from the restaurants and the cabarets, whose feet still seemed to feel the lilt of the fox trot and the one-step, lingered for a time and heard about the greatness of Colorado and how well governed the State of California was, and also gathered statistics showing that fully a million women in this city had declared they must have the ballot.

Fresh Speakers Every Two Hours.

Fresh relays of speakers came every two hours from the headquarters of the Woman Suffrage Party at 48 East Thirty-fourth Street. Each relay consisted of a Chairman, who also must be of sufficient dignity to be a chaperon, and two women speakers. Sometimes men came to present their side of the cause. Chaperons are a feature of these continuous open air meetings. The two hours for each relay were divided equally among the three. The women orators at 4 o'clock yesterday morning were sitting wrapped in rugs in the tonneau. Even in the dullness and the chill there was always a little fringe of auditors.

The streaks of dawn appeared athwart the sky. The gleam was yellow, a lucky omen, and then the milkmen came. They stopped their wagons and gathered in a little group upon the curb.

"These ballots," asked one, "how do we fold them to vote for what you women folks want?"

All kinds and conditions of men came and went through the Circle with the coming of the day. The business men stopped for a few minutes at 8 o'clock, bankers who were taking a morning constitutional down the Central Park walks tarried for a few minutes. The crowds going to and from the subway station showed interest.

The clock brought around the afternoon theatre crowd. There came to talk to them the Matinee Squad, headed by Miss Vida Sutton, who made the opening address. She was followed by Miss Mary Newcomb, Miss Portia Willis, Mrs. Nora Smitherman and others. Then came the Hikers Squad in command of "General" Rosalie Jones.

The Suffrage Pilgrim team was on duty when the time for the Saturday night theatres drew near, and last of all, to round out the twenty-six hours, the Midnight Martyrs, who waited for the hour of 12.

The 24-Hour Meeting in Times Square.

Miss Mildred Taylor at midnight finished the twenty-four-hour turn of the suffrage van in Times Square at Forty-seventh Street. The twenty-four-hour vigil for the Winner—the same being the name of the vehicle, not its pilot—began at midnight Friday. The first speaker was Grant Stone of Columbia University, who spoke to the assembled theatregoers and frequenters of the bright, warm supper places on the need of woman having the ballot with which to defend her traditions and her rights. He said that he had no sympathy with the anti-suffrage idea that the place of womankind is always in the home, a sentiment in which many of the group who gathered at the car of wisdom were in ready accord.

All through the day there were thousands who heard the suffrage arguments. The estimate of auditors was 19,500 in the twenty-four hours and most of these were men.

The pilot clad in her gown of gray, helmeted with a creation of white feathers blended into fluffy witchery was almost continuously on duty, seeing that nothing went amiss. At stated intervals, some high-powered silvery automobile would glide noiselessly up and add another relay of eloquence to the "Winner."

One of the anomalies of yesterday, as observed at many places where the suffragists were speaking from automobiles, was that the men were generally listening with serious attention, while the feminine auditors, unless they wore the insignia of the cause, seemed to take little interest in the speeches, and many were disposed to be even flippant. Everywhere there were indications that the electors were endeavoring to inform themselves and were disposed to consider the suffrage amendment in every light.

The wearied opponents of suffrage, as they left their posts this morning, were serenely confident. They were claiming the State at from 10,000 to 80,000 majority.

Suffrage Sacred Concert Tonight.

"It is wonderful the way things are coming on," said James Lees Laidlaw of the Men's League for Woman Suffrage yesterday.

The latest plan for a demonstration is one which will take place tonight in Madison Square, a sacred concert on the same ground where the big outdoor rally and meeting was held last night. The great platform occupied by the orchestra last night had to remain over until Monday with the piano and a man to stand guard. The suffragists decided to make the most of the opportunity. Bernhardt, the communal singer from Buffalo, who was to have led the singing last night, had no chance, because of the other big features, but he will have the place to himself tonight, and the people who attend will form one immense chorus.

Onward Christian Soldiers," "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," "How Firm a Foundation Ye Saints of the Lord," "Jerusalem the Golden," and patriotic airs will be sung, and many clergymen will speak on the "Moral and Religious Aspects of Woman Suffrage." The first minister on the list will be the Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw. Rabbi Wise and ministers of various denominations will take part.

There were citizens of women yesterday at W. S. P. Headquarters, as there have been for several days, coming in at the eleventh hour to make applications to act as watchers at the polls. All the 2,100 places in the city have had their watchers assigned and the women who came late were instructed to act as pickets 100 feet from the polls to give out sample ballots and act as substitutes.

Many of the W. S. P. Assembly District leaders will be watchers. Among them Mrs. James Gear, Mrs. Frances Abrahall, Mrs. Harvey Wiley Corbett, Miss Maud Haas, Mrs. J. W. Morton, and Miss Frances Peters. Among the pickets will be Mrs. Stephen S. Wise, wife of the Rabbi; Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, and Countess Castelvecchio. Teachers of the Washington Irving High School will serve as watchers and pickets. Inspectors will go from one polling place to another to carry literature to the pickets. Among these supply bearers will be Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Mrs. Frederick Nathan, and Katharine B. Davis. Children will take part in the work in the Thirteenth Assembly District, and will carry sandwiches to the women watchers. Master Willie Withrow, whose mother is one of the prominent workers, will be in the children's sandwich squad.

Began to School Watchers in April.

The women began last April to prepare their women watchers and had twelve school sessions during the Summer, three watchers' meetings a week from the 1st of October, and the last two weeks there have been two school sessions a day at the Woman Suffrage Party Headquarters. The women watchers range in age from 25 to 40.

"We are not having women watchers because we expect fraud at the polls, for we do not," said Miss Hay, Woman Suffrage Party head, yesterday. "All political parties of men have watchers. We are greatly interested in this election, and our interest is shown in this way."

All nationalities find their way to the Empire State Campaign Committee headquarters, and among those who have called upon Miss Rose Young in her capacity of press representative in the last few weeks have been Poles, Hungarians, Russians, Greeks, Croatians, Slovenians, and Italians. The Italians are the only ones who stand out as anti-suffragists, and even the newspapers of the other nationalities are supporting woman suffrage.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, a Chicago woman lawyer, did one of the suffrage stunts yesterday, being out at 6 A. M. speaking in different parts of the city to men on their way to work. "Have you any sporting blood in New York?" she asked the men. She told them that the women voting in Chicago gave that city a bigger number of voters than New York, which has previously always taken first place in a Presidential election. She urged them to give the women in New York State the vote, if they wished to keep the balance of power of a Presidential election in the East.

It has been announced that at Cornell University the anti-suffrage element prevailed, but yesterday the suffragists were congratulating themselves on the result of the poll undertaken by The Cornell Sun, which showed 512 suffragists in the university to 297 antis.

Leading New Yorkers Give Reasons.

A group of representative men of New York have encouraged the women by issuing a statement which begins with:

"At the approaching State election we who sign this statement intend to vote for the amendment to the State Constitution conferring the elective franchise upon women."

They then go on to explain their reasons for so doing.

"Women need the right to vote," the statement says. "We believe, moreover, that it is fundamentally opposed to the interests of the State and nation that half of their citizens are by the conditions of their lives deprived of that interest in the scope, the composition, and the administration of government which is the greatest stimulus to the cultivation of the activities that broaden the intelligence, increase human sympathy, and make in every direction for the improvement both of the State and of its individual citizens. Because, then, women are justly entitled to the suffrage; because they need it, because great numbers of them plead for it, because, as we are convinced, it is expedient in the interests of all men and women that they shall have it, the privilege should, in our judgment, be given ungrudgingly, and given now."

The signers of the statement are Elbert H. Gary, Jacob Gould Schurman, F. W. McCutcheon, Oscar S. Straus, William Jay Schieffelin, Pierre Jay, Winslow S. Pierce, Abraham Flexner, Evan M. Evans, F. R. Hazard, Clarence J. Shearn, Benjamin T. Tilton, Oswald Garrison Villard, Mark Sullivan, Nelson S. Spencer, Jacob H. Schiff, Learned Hand, James Byrne, Albert B. Boardman, Joseph P. Cotton, John Mitchell, Ogden Mills Reid, Herbert Parsons, Robert Grier Monroe, Charles E. Rushmore, Charles C. Burlingham, James Lees Laidlaw, Charles H. Strong, Walter Damrosch, Howard Mansfield, William M. Chadbourne, and J. Frederic Kernochan.

Staten Island Women Hopeful.

Richmond Borough, Mrs. William G. Willcox, leader for the Woman Suffrage Party, predicts, will poll a large vote for the women.

Of the local candidates for Borough President, Calvin D. MacMane and George S. Schofield are both in favor. Charles F. Marshall, Republican candidate for the Assembly, is in favor, while Stephen B. Stephens, Democratic candidate, is undecided. Of the other candidates for office, Horace B. Buel, for Sheriff; John J. O'Rourke, Michael Krauss, Charles P. Cole, and George Dubois, for Aldermen, have all expressed themselves in favor. Of the judiciary, Judge Lester W. Clark, Judge Thomas C. Brown, Judge Arnold J. B. Wedemeyer, Judge Joseph B. Handy, Judge Nathaniel Marsh, and Judge Morgan M. L. Ryan are in favor, and Albert Z. Fach, District Attorney, is also an advocate of votes for women. Four party leaders in favor are Joseph F. O'Grady, Democratic; George F. Schofield, Republican; William H. Jackson, Progressive, and Harlow McMillen, Prohibitionist.

There will be many general suffrage activities throughout today, largely in the churches. The headquarters of the Woman Suffrage Party, 48 East Thirty-fourth Street, will be kept open.

Senator Borah of Idaho will speak at the Grace Methodist Church in West 104th Street, between Amsterdam and Columbus Avenues, at 7:45 o'clock. This is Dr. C. Reisner's church. The Senator will then go to the Metropolitan Temple, at West Fourteenth Street and Seventh Avenue, and will speak at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Ida Vera Simonton will speak at a banquet of the Intercollegiate Cosmopolitan Club of the City of New York at 6 P. M. This is an international organization, of which Everett P. Wheeler, the anti-suffragist leader, is President.

In the Twelfth Assembly District the suffragists will march in a body to the Hedding Methodist Episcopal Church in Seventeenth Street, where the Rev. Mr. Faust will preach a suffrage sermon.

In the Bronx, Mrs. Mary D. Fiske, Chairman of Church Work will go around to all the parks in the afternoon in an automobile. With her will be J. Stitt Wilson former Socialist Mayor of Berkeley, California, who will make a suffrage speech in every park.

Fifty ministers in Manhattan will either preach suffrage sermons or make addresses to either men or women societies that meet in the church.

Under the direction of Miss Sarah McPike, President of St. Catherine's Welfare Association, Miss Frances Abrahall, and Miss Rosina Flanly, Chairman of Catholic Work for the Woman Suffrage Party, suffrage leaflets will be distributed to all Catholic congregations throughout the city. Under the direction of Mrs. William B. Benedict, Chairman of Protestant Church Work, all the Protestant congregations will receive suffrage literature from women stationed on the sidewalks near the churches. The Jewish synagogues will be covered in the same way.

Miss Annie Mathews of the Twenty-first Assembly District and her district workers will march in a body to the Colored Church of Seventh Day Adventists at 184 West 135th Street.

SEE PERIL TO NATION IN EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Big Audience in Carnegie Hall Applauds Warning by Beck and Wickersham.

WOMEN DISOBEY LEADERS

Many Suffragists in the Hall, Although They Had Been Told Not to Attend the Meeting.

Woman suffrage, called the "most disastrous and absolutely irreparable experiment in the history of our Government," was denounced with great vigor at a big mass meeting of the Anti-Suffrage League in Carnegie Hall last night.

The auditorium was well filled with men and women, with the latter predominating. And the women who were present even more than the men manifested their hostility to suffrage by their enthusiastic applause of the speeches delivered by George W. Wickersham, former Attorney General of the United States; James M. Beck, former Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and Colonel John P. Irish, the anti-suffrage fighter of California, who is now waging war on the suffragists in the Eastern States.

It was learned early in the meeting that women suffragists all over the city had been urged by the leaders of the movement to keep away from the "anti" demonstration at Carnegie Hall. But, despite this injunction, many suffragists appeared in the upper balconies and listened attentively, without any attempt at interruption, to the arguments presented against their cause.

Mr. Wickersham said woman suffrage was the most revolutionary measure ever submitted to the voters of the State, and prayed that it would be defeated at the polls next Tuesday by an overwhelming majority. If it must come, Mr. Wickersham said, woman suffrage ought to be put off until such time as the majority of women declared themselves willing and ready to accept the vote and perform the functions of citizenship connected therewith.

"To give women the vote at the present time," said Mr. Wickersham, "means to add to an already burdened and embarrassed electorate 2,000,000 women without any experience in government and utterly incompetent to participate in the work and practice of government. For women to vote would be against the best interests of the State. And the question should be decided by men without any regard for the legacy of chivalry which has been transmitted to them from the Middle Ages and which has heretofore made them too prone to gratify the wishes of women as a general principle.

"In fact, this sense of chivalry, more than anything else, is accountable for the acquiescent attitude of many men to the demand for woman suffrage. Women should not receive the vote, simply because they want it. Men who are to decide the question next Tuesday should, above all else, stop to consider whether or not woman suffrage would work injury to the State, as I firmly believe it will. And they must also bear in mind that only a very small percentage of the women really have any definite desire in the matter. The great majority of them actually resent the effort to burden them with a man's duty."

For Mr. Beck, woman suffrage was the "most disastrous and irreparable experiment in the history of our Government." If successful, he said, the movement would only increase the complexity which goes so far to injure the efficacy of government.

"If on Tuesday next," continued Mr. Beck, "New York should vote for suffrage, it will take a step from which there will be no recall, an irrevocable step that may make the Government of your State a failure, a step that may make the Government of your city a hopeless farce. And you will afford a dangerous example to other great States of the Union, who may follow in your wake. And once done it will be something you will never be able to undo. You may then write over the portal of your capital what Dante has written over the gate of his inferno: 'Abandon hope all ye who enter here.'"

Mr. Beck had but one good word to say for the woman suffrage movement in this country, namely, that it was not disgraced by the excesses which marked a similar agitation in England before the war. He also agreed with the suffragists that a woman's sphere should not be confined entirely to the home. He maintained that women were and should continue to be engaged in movements tending toward the moral development of human society.

Colonel Irish said it was his most earnest wish to carry back to California the message that "woman suffrage has been swept into the gutter in New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and New York." He said woman suffrage was conceived of for the political benefit of the Mormon States and he predicted that "woman suffrage would die on the ground where it was born."

"Before woman suffrage won out in California we were promised a new heaven and a new earth," said Colonel Irish. "But so far as any thoughtful man can see, woman suffrage has left us with the same old heaven, the same old earth, and the same old hell. Only 20 per cent. of the women in California have taken advantage of the ballot. The rest detest it. And even with only 20 per cent. of them devoting themselves to politics, it is safe to state that juvenile delinquency has been increased 300 per cent., simply because the human chicks are left to hawk while the hen is up on the fence trying to crow like the rooster."

Other speakers at the meeting were John A. Mathews, former member of the New Jersey Assembly, and Miss Minnie Bronson, General Secretary of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

STITT WILSON ATTACKS IRISH.

Lauds Influence Exercised by California Women at the Polls.

"Will you wriggle the ladder?" shouted J. Stitt Wilson, ex-Socialist Mayor of Berkeley, Cal., at an audience of 1,800 or more persons packed solidly in Madison Square in front of Dr. Parkhurst's Church last evening at a big final "Victory Campaign Rally" of the Woman Suffrage Party.

Mr. Wilson had just come from the big anti-suffrage meeting at Carnegie Hall and was attacking the arguments of Colonel John P. Irish, also of California, and telling how necessary he himself believed the vote was for women. He illustrated it with the ladder down which firemen carry those rescued from burning houses. He told the men they had not struggled to get the ballot but that their fathers had won it for them.

"You were carried down the ladder by the firemen," he shouted at the crowd, "and then, being safe yourselves, would you prevent the women from coming down?" And when he asked, "Would you wriggle the ladder?" an emphatic voice from the rear of the crowd shouted back, "No!"

It was a suffrage audience, for it applauded all the suffrage sentiments and shouted a glad assent to interrogation and promised its votes for the women. It stayed to the end, though the mercury was dropping fast and the wind was bitter. There were great numbers of men in the audience.

"I want you to give the lie to the statements made by Colonel Irish, who, standing under the American flag at Carnegie Hall tonight, spoke against democracy," said Mr. Wilson. "Col Irish brought down his anti-suffrage house by saying that the women did not want the vote, that 80 per cent. did not register and did not vote. He said that he had said that in the presence of a woman and she had called him a name—it was the name he deserved."

"It was liar," called a voice in the audience.

"In our cities of California we find that 75 per cent. of the women register and 75 per cent. vote. I was the Mayor of Berkeley, and you may be sure we looked into the matter, and we found more women than men voted. Colonel Irish said that the women of California had been roughened and vulgarized by their promiscuous association with men at the polls. What kind of men do you suppose we have in California? I have traveled more than Colonel Irish, and I have never seen a woman roughened by her visits to the polls, but I have seen the refining influence upon the men."

Katharine B. Davis, Commissioner of Corrections, was one of the speakers. Charles A. Arnett was another, but Borough President Marks, who was scheduled, did not appear.

The Beethoven Symphony Orchestra played, and Caroline Ortman, Robert Maitland, and Charles Bowes sang on the big lighted stand.

The meeting was opened by the trumpeting of four cold lady angels robed in white.

Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw presided. Everything went well, and the women "to a man" stayed at their posts, as if they enjoyed freezing.

BETTING AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

Schumm Offers $2,000 at Odds of 3 to 1 with No Takers.

Odds against suffrage lengthened yesterday when Fred E. Schumm, the betting commissioner, offered to bet $2,000 against the amendment at odds of three to one. There were no takers, and late last night the offer still stood. Schumm also offered to bet even money that the suffrage amendment would be defeated by at least 75,000 votes.

He said he had been able to place nearly $12,000 in bets on the issue and in no case were the odds less than two to one against suffrage.

STORE OPEN ALL DAY TUESDAY (ELECTION DAY).

Franklin Simon & Co.

Fifth Avenue, 37th and 38th Streets.

The Women's Coat Shop is now showing a selection of New Winter Models—New Wool Fabrics—New Colorings—New Fur Trimmings—of Wool Duvetyne, Wool Cashmere, Wool Bolivia, Wool Velour and Broadcloth. 29.50 to 95.00

Special Offerings Monday

Women's Fur Trimmed Coats

Velour Plush Coats—Beaver Trim'd

Copy of a new "Bernard" model, button to neck, reversible collar, trimmed with band of Beaver Fur, satin lined, warmly interlined. Special 35.00

Silk Velvet Coats—Opossum Trim'd

Copy of a new "Doucet" model of Black Silk Velvet, straight front, button to neck, with muffler collar of Alaska Opossum Fur; silk lined, interlined. Special 45.00

Velvet Velour Coats—Badger Trim'd

Copy of a new "Bernard" Cossack model of Black Velvet Velour, shirred at waist line, cord belt from sides, muffler collar and deep cuffs of Natural Badger Fur. Special 59.50

Velveteen Coats—Flying Squirrel Trim'd

Copy of a new "Paquin" shirred model in mahogany, sapphire, green or black, Empire waist line, flare skirt, muffler collar and cuffs of Sable Flying-Squirrel Fur, Tassel ornaments. Special 85.00

Franklin Simon & Co. will place on Special Sale Monday

remainder of the Women's Original Paris Model Suits and Gowns

from Callot, Jenny, Cheruit, Paquin, Drecoll, Georgette, Worth, Beer, Agnes, Brandt, Lanvin, Doeuillet, Maurice Mayer, Martial Armand and Lucienne. Heretofore $195.00 to $295.00 95.00

Women's Suits and Gowns

Fur Trimmed Tailored Suits

Wool Velour, Broadcloth, Gabardine or English Whipcord, trimmed with real Beaver, Hudson or French Seal, real Skunk, Skunk Raccoon or Opossum fur. Special 29.50

Copies of Paris Model Suits

Tailored or Dressy Suits, copies of Cheruit, Jenny, Paquin, Callot, Drecoll, Lanvin, Georgette or Bernard models, of imported cloths, rich fur trimming. Special 45.00

Georgette Crepe Afternoon Gowns

Dressy "Jenny" model of Georgette Crepe, made over silk, in Copen, rose, light gray, brown, blackberry, navy or black combined with crepe meteor to match, lace yoke and collar. Special 29.50

Fur Trimmed Evening Gowns

"Drecoll" model of Chiffon Velvet, in rose, turquoise, orange, emerald or black, silver lace upper corsage and jewelled shoulder straps, bodice and bottom of skirt edged with Blue Coney Fur. Special 49.50

Franklin Simon & Co. will place on Special Sale Monday

Women's Persian Stripe Georgette Crepe Waists

A new effect of Persian color stripe Georgette Crepe in plum, green, brown, black or Joffre blue, with white Georgette Crepe collar and vestee. Persian buttons. Special 6.75

Georgette Crepe Waists

New Models for Women and Misses

Hand Emb'd Georgette Waists

Black, green, brown, plum or navy, made over white chiffon; white Georgette crepe collar and vestee; hand embroidered. Special 9.75

Hand Emb'd Georgette Waists

Two copies of Paris models of superior quality Georgette crepe in white, flesh or bisque; hand embroidered, high or low neck models. Special 15.75

Two Color Georgette Waists

Bodice, yoke and sleeves of bisque color Georgette; lower part of waist of plum, black, brown or Burgundy color Georgette; collar, vestee and cuffs of lace; jewelled buttons. Special 18.50

Two Color Georgette Waists

Hand made waist of Georgette Crepe, bodice effect, in black, brown, purple, navy or green; upper part of waist and sleeves of bisque color; appliqued in colors to match. Special 24.50

Franklin Simon & Co. Direct attention to

The Riding Apparel Shop—Fourth Floor

Correct Ready-to-Wear Riding Apparel for Women, Misses and Girls—Riding Habits, Breeches, Shirts, Hats, Boots, Puttees, Vests, Vestees, Stocks, Spurs, Crops and all other accessories.

At Moderate Prices.

Under the supervision of expert Horsewomen.

Franklin Simon & Co. Direct attention to

The Infants' Apparel Shop—Third Floor

Apparel from Infancy to 6 years—French and Domestic Dresses, Coats, Hats, Bonnets, Underwear, Sweaters, Shoes and all other accessories.
Infants' Layettes, Nursery Furniture and Toys,

At Moderate Prices.

The salespeople are specialists.

Franklin Simon & Co.

Fifth Avenue, 37th and 38th Streets

Will Hold the Following

SPECIAL SALES MONDAY

Women's Hudson Seal Coats

With Natural Beaver or Real Skunk.

Real Hudson Seal (dyed muskrat,) collar and border of Natural Beaver or Real Skunk.

Special 100.00

Real Skunk Fur Sets

For Women and Misses.

The New Barrel Muff, 22.50
Double Fur Animal Scarf, 22.50

Silver or Gold Bodices

Evening Wear—For Women and Misses.

Decollete Bodice of superior quality Silver or Gold Cloth, shoulder straps of self material, flower trimmed.

Special 6.50

Coat Model Boudoir Gowns

For Women, of Changeable Taffeta Silk.

In peach, turquoise, Copenhagen, cerise, lavender, pink or maize; neck and sleeves with fringe pleated ruche; petal sleeves and deep petal flounce.

Special 13.50

Misses' Fur Trimmed Suits

Twelve Distinct Models.

Of Wool Velour or Broadcloth—New Model Coats, silk lined, warmly interlined and trimmed with various high class furs; latest model skirts; 14 to 20 years.

Special 29.50

Misses' Fur Trimmed Coats

Of Wool Velour—Raccoon Collar and Cuffs.

"Jenny" model in green, brown, rose, navy, field-mouse or black; large roll collar and cuffs of Natural Raccoon Fur; silk lined, warmly interlined; 14 to 20 years.

Special 29.50

Silk and Wool Combinations

For Women and Misses.

Of all Pure Wool and Silk mixtures, medium weight, low neck, no sleeves, knee or ankle length.

Special 1.45

Skating Scarfs and Caps

For Women and Misses.

Angora wool Set, long wide neck Scarf, in white and colors, with fringe edge, including Skating Cap to match.

Special 2.75

Pure Thread Silk Hosiery

For Women and Misses.

"Richelieu" ribbed, Paris clox, or plain Silk Hose. Black, white, gold, silver, bronze, navy and all colors.

Special .85 3 pair for 2.50

Exclusive Winter Boots

For Women and Misses.

Four new model high laced boots. Bronze kid with imported cloth tops. Tan Russia calf with champagne kid trimming. Also all blue or black soft kidskin.

Special 7.00

Children's Velveteen Coats

Beaver Fur Trimmed—2 to 6 years.

Of Imported Velveteen in brown, navy, delft, green or black, shirred waist line, full skirt model, collar trimmed with Beaver fur, silk lined, warmly interlined.

Special 9.75

FOES OF SUFFRAGE CONFIDENT IN UTICA

Both Sides Expect a Big Vote In Oneida County, but the Antis Look for Victory.

PUSH FIGHT IN THE WOODS

All Sides In Fifth District Hopeful of Gaining the Lumber and Farm Votes.

Special to The New York Times.

UTICA, Oct. 30.—Here the trenches of the opposing forces in the woman suffrage struggle are close together. Standing in the windows of their respective campaign headquarters, the suffragists and the antis can look daggers at each other across Genesee Street, Utica's busiest thoroughfare.

Until the antis got actively into the fight some four months ago Oneida County, of which this busy city is the political clearing house, was looked upon as doubtful territory in the suffrage fight. Today the antis claim the county by a substantial majority. Their prediction has the backing of the best judgment in both the Republican and the Democratic camp. The suffragists themselves do not forecast victory but express hope.

There is no doubt that Oneida will roll up a big suffrage vote, Oneida may prove a "close" county. The Progressive spirit is strong here and the leading men in the old Bull Moose organization, even though by this time they have returned to the Republican fold, are outspoken for woman suffrage, which was one of the cardinal articles in the Progressive faith.

Frederick M. Davenport, professor of political science at Hamilton College, and Bull Moose candidate for Governor in last year's campaign, is presiding at suffrage meetings in Oneida County even though he is back in the Republican organization here, which is not by any means pro-suffrage. John C. Davies of Camden, former Attorney General, and close friend of Colonel Roosevelt, is another outspoken pro-suffragist.

Here in Utica the men are very active on both sides of the suffrage fight. Merwin K. Hart, former Assemblyman, who was an active supporter of Governor Hghes, and in 1912 left the Republicans to follow the political fortunes of Colonel Roosevelt in the Bull Moose movement, is one of the prime factors in the Men's League for Mutual Suffrage. Ex-Judge Watson T. Dunmore, who was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention from this Senatorial district, is President of the Utica branch of the Men's Anti-Suffrage Association. On the membership roll of this organization are practically all leading men in the civic and financial life of this city. This city is the base of operations in the suffrage fight for the Twelfth District forces of the Empire State Campaign Committee.

Led by Wealthy Woman.

Miss Lucy Carlile Watson, a gentle, sweet-looking woman, whose hair is beginning to turn gray, is the generalissimo of the very aggressive host of suffragists here. She is regarded as probably the wealthiest woman in Utica, and is maintaining a splendidly equipped headquarters from which to conduct the votes for women fight.

"I think it would be very foolish on my part to make an unqualified prediction of victory for woman suffrage in Oneida County," said Miss Watson to THE TIMES correspondent. "All such predictions on either side of this struggle are seized on of the empty air, for no one can tell now this fight is going to end. We have made a good fight, and if all the men who have promised to support us keep their word we shall win."

Oneida is only part of the territory covered by Miss Watson and her votes-for-women warriors. The fifth campaign district besides Oneida takes in the Counties of Fulton, Hamilton, Lewis, and Herkimer. Much of this is in the Adirondacks, and the women who are battling for the ballot here have had some thrilling experiences carrying their doctrine into the lumber camps deep in the forest.

"We feel very much encouraged over our reports from the rural sections of the district," said Miss Watson. "We feel that we should get a majority of the votes for the amendment in Fulton, Hamilton, and in Herkimer counties. Our reports from Lewis County are not quite as favorable, but the workers there tell us that we should have no misgivings regarding the result."

Miss Watson said that in such industrial towns as Gloversville and Johnstown, in the Fulton-Hamilton district, the suffragists had had splendid meetings and felt that they would get a big vote.

"In Ilion we have both the wealthy population and the workers with us," said Miss Watson. "In Little Falls, which is in Herkimer County, too, we surely will get a vote that will carry the town."

Little Falls figured prominently in the newspapers a couple of years ago in connection with Socialist and I. W. W. disturbances.

Senator Cristman of Herkimer has made campaign speeches for woman suffrage. Abraham Zoller, one of the wealthiest citizens of Little Falls, and Republican candidate for Mayor of the city, is an advocate of woman suffrage.

"The interest so many prominent men take in our fight is one of the most encouraging features of the situation," said Miss Watson.

Mrs. Willis E. Ford, who is a niece of Horatio Seymour, is leading the womens' fight against suffrage here. The women who compose the local branch of the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, have themselves refrained from active speechmaking, but have done much quiet work in the distribution of literature and in house-to-house work.

Antis More Confident.

"Eighty per cent. of the women in Utica are opposed to woman suffrage, as we can show," said Miss Helen A. Ackroyd, Vice President of the anti organization. "I hate to prophesy, but I cannot help thinking that our very good friends across the street will receive a shock when the returns come in. I would be very much surprised if Utica and Oneida County failed to return a big majority against woman suffrage."

The political leaders, when they discuss suffrage majorities, agree with the antis that it will be against the constitutional amendment, but they leave the "big" out and frankly admit that they do not know how big the majority will be.

"I fail to find any real interest in woman suffrage among the men here," said one political leader, who asked that his name be kept out of the interview. "If the proportion of voters opposed to the amendment among those of my own party with whom I have talked since the campaign began holds good all through the suffragists would be very badly beaten. But it is, safe to assume that hundreds of voters who are opposed to giving votes to women do not care sufficiently to vote against it, while those who favor woman suffrage may be expected to vote. The vote on woman suffrage in this county, and I presume elsewhere, will run behind the rest of the vote for that reason, and the adverse majority consequently will be smaller than it would be with a full vote polled."

According to the political leaders here who are in a position to speak with some knowledge on the subject, there is even less sentiment for woman suffrage among the farmers from whom the busy suffrage workers expect so much on election day.

The Antis have had the advantage of very expert management in their campaign. Some weeks ago the Men's Anti-Suffrage Association obtained the services of F. C. R. Gordon, who has been campaigning against the amendment all over Oneida County. Mr. Gordon was manager of the two campaigns of the late Vice President Sherman, who was the leader of the Republican forces here. Mr. Gordon has had every section of the county—even the remote forest regions—placarded with anti-suffrage posters. Post Offices and country stores in the rural sections of Oneida at present are serving as depositories and distribution centres for literature directed against the suffrage cause.

There is a large "foreign" vote in Utica, and both the suffragists and the antis are looking on this with some degree of misgiving. There are 22,000 Italians, 12,000 Poles, and a great number of Germans. The antis have sent out scores of paid Italian and Polish agents to do missionary work and give voting instructions to the voters of these respective nationalities. The suffragists made a special effort to corral the German vote, but according to statements from leaders in the German colony here the attempt was not attended with very telling results.

Both the Republican and Democratic leaders here are opposed to woman suffrage. M. Jesse Brayton, who is the active Republican leader in Utica, is actively identified with the male anti-suffrage organization. John C. Davies, who is influential among the Republicans in the rural sections of the county, favors suffrage. The newspapers here are neutral.

STANTON LUNCHEON A RALLY.

1,000 Women Renew Pledge at Centenary of Suffrage Pioneer.

One thousand women yesterday pledged themselves anew to the suffrage cause as the finale of the Elizabeth Cady Stanton centennial luncheon at the Hotel Astor and hurried back to their posts in the campaign for the vote.

The celebration was more like a council of war, for many of the speakers came and went quickly in order that they might again board automobiles for distant rallies.

Amid the tributes to the memory of the woman who was one of the most noted pioneers of the movement came the quick, incisive orders of the campaign leaders. Watchers were notified where to go for instruction today, so that they might be well equipped for their work at the polls next Tuesday. A call came between two speeches for twenty volunteers to distribute literature to every person who last night might enter Carnegie Hall for the meeting of the anti-suffragists. A daughter of Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, head of the Woman's Political Union, gave details of the organization, as she presided, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Nora Blatch de Forest, reported on the progress of the campaign and pleaded for recruits.

"To Elizabeth Cady Stanton!"

One of the dramatic moments of the afternoon came when the entire assemblage rose to its feet as Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer uttered the words: "To Elizabeth Cady Stanton!"

The woman in whose memory the luncheon was given was born at Johnstown, N. Y., on Nov. 12, 1815, and although yesterday did not represent the exact centenary of her birth, it was considered the best date on which the lessons of her career could be impressed upon her followers. Mrs. Stanton died in 1902.

The grand ballroom was decorated with the purple, green, and white banners of the various Assembly district and county organizations of the Woman's Political Union, which blended with the warm golden browns of the walls.

At the principal table were Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, President of the National Woman's Suffrage Association; Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, President of the Equal Suffrage Association; Mme. Charles de Verrier, representing the Suffrage Association of France, and many other suffrage leaders. Among the speakers were several prominent men.

"Our race is nearly run," said Mrs. Blatch, who, in presiding, acted for the Chairman of the Centennial Committee, Mrs. Robert G. Ingersoll. "Now, as we are approaching Nov. 2 and victory, we may well look back for one hundred years and realize how, step by step, we have built up the organization of today. We have done this, too, of ourselves, for, unlike every other disfranchised class, we have not had one great group of men to fight our battles for us. With the exception of the aid of a few brilliant men, we have all these years been fighting our battle unaided."

Speaks for the Women of France.

Mme de Verrier, on behalf of the women of France, spoke of the inspiration which had come to her and her sisters through the life and work of one so illustrious as Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

The influence which Mrs. Stanton had had on the State organization was spoken of by Mrs. Henry Villard.

Samuel Untermyer spoke of the activities of Mrs. Stanton in trying to bring about a better divorce law in this State and in promoting the rights of women before the law.

Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott extolled Mrs. Stanton as one who had dared to think, as one who had dared to oppose the established order because she believed that she was in the right.

Dr. Josephine Baker, in charge of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the New York Health Department, praised the great services of Mrs. Stanton in helping women in the study of medicine at a time when it was not considered proper for women to be physicians.

Cleveland Moffett told of his early days as a journalist in Paris, where he had lived as one of the family of Mrs. Stanton.

"Of all the advocates of the rights of women," said Roger Foster, "none accomplishes more than Elizabeth Cady Stanton. None is entitled to so much honor as is she. Taken all in all, she was a woman on whose like we shall never look again."

Addresses were also made by Mrs. Havemeyer, Miss Helen Todd of California, and Mrs. Raymond Robins of the National Women's Trade Union League.

Dr. Shaw spoke eloquently of Mrs. Stanton as she had known her when the pioneer of the cause was a young woman and had stood before Legislatures fearlessly advocating the cause to which she had devoted her life.

The luncheon closed with the guests on their feet in memory of Mrs. Stanton and the admonition of Mrs. Blatch, to which all gave hearty approval that they consecrate themselves anew to the cause.

WOMEN DEBATE ON SUFFRAGE.

Spirited Argument Before Audience That Fills Carnegie Hall.

There was a spirited suffrage debate yesterday morning when the League for Political Education, a neutral organization which holds discussions of public questions, had three women on each side, suffragists and antis, discuss the subject, "Ought Woman Suffrage to Win?"

The league, knowing the general interest in the subject, for the first time in its history engaged Carnegie Hall, instead of the Hudson Theatre, where its meetings usually are held. The house was full and the audience showed keen interest which culminated in questions at the close.

Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn, President of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage Association; Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, and Mrs. William Vanamee spoke for the suffragists, and Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, President of the New York State Association Opposed to Women Suffrage; Miss Lucy J. Price, and Miss Minnie Bronson for the antis. The burden of answering questions fell to Mrs. Hepburn and to Miss Price, each query being responded to by both the suffragist and the anti. The suppressed feeling was so strong that the presiding officer, R. E. Ely, was moved to remark at the close of the meeting that there had been orderly behavior under difficult circumstances. One of the questions, "Why Is An Anti?" was received with particular interest.

"Why," said the woman who asked it, "if woman's place is the home, should there be an anti-suffrage organization?"

"We are only quoted as saying that women's place is the home," said Miss Price. "She cannot always be in it, but we wish to prepare things so that the future woman may stay at home."

"The reason there are anti-suffrage organizations," said Mrs. Hepburn quickly, "is because when there is any important public question these women wish to have something to say about it."

Miss Price decried the idea of woman in politics, saying that it would mean women political bosses. She told of a Chicago woman settlement worker who in an automobile took many Italian women to the polls on Election Day and "delivered 500 votes to Bath House John."

"If there are going to be women bosses, why do the men bosses object to women voting?" asked Mrs. Hepburn.

"I cannot tell you, because I do not know any political bosses," returned Miss Price.

"I am very glad to hear Miss Price say that she does not know any bosses," said Mrs. Hepburn, "because when she was working in Connecticut she was escorted everywhere by the most notorious political bosses, and at the Legislature, where she made a most ladylike speech, she was introduced by one of the bosses whose name you would all know."

"And that by way of personalities!" retorted Miss Price.

Speaking of the assertion of the anti-suffragists that there was dissatisfaction in the States among both men and women where the women vote, Mrs. Hepburn said:

"If the anti-suffragists think there is dissatisfaction, why don't they go West and get the women to disfranchise themselves?"

"Mrs. Hepburn is well informed," said Miss Chittenden, "but she evidently does not know that there is already a movement on foot in Colorado to disfranchise the women."

ROOSEVELT REAFFIRMS FAITH.

Gives Arguments for Suffrage in Letter to Brooklyn Leader.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has issued the following pre-election statement of his opinion on the question of giving the ballot to women in a letter to Mrs. H. Edward Dreier, leader of the Woman Suffrage Party in the Borough of Brooklyn:

My dear Mrs. Dreier: It gives me great pleasure to send through you this letter on behalf of the suffrage amendment in New York State; and, of course, what I write applies no less to Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, and to all the other States which vote this year on the proposition to give women the right to vote.

There has always been to me an element of great absurdity in the arguments advanced against woman suffrage when we consider the fact that from time immemorial in monarchies women have been deemed fit to hold the very highest place of governmental power, that is, the position of sovereign. For example, this continent was discovered by Columbus under the patronage of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella of Spain; and he owed more to the Queen than to the King. The oldest State in the Union, Virginia, derives its name from the fact that the first effort at colonization from England on our shores was in the reign of Queen Elizabeth; and during the last four centuries Queen Elizabeth was certainly the greatest sovereign who sat on the English throne. When Frederick the Great was King of Prussia the only two European sovereigns who in any shape or way compared with him were two women—Catherine of Russia and Maria Theresa of Austria.

I have thus mentioned four Queens who were great sovereigns, four Queens who would by all capable historians be given leading places among the sovereigns of their times. If a woman is deemed fit to be the head of a mighty monarchy, surely no adequate reason can be advanced against allowing her to exercise the rights of sovereignty in a democracy; that is, to be one of the free citizens who vote, so as to decide how their own intimate concerns shall be managed.

The opponents of woman suffrage say that this will take women away from the home. If this were so, I should certainly not favor it; just as if giving man the suffrage took him away from his business, I should not favor it; for making and keeping the home must always be the chief work for both man and woman. There is, however, in my opinion, nothing whatever in this objection. Undoubtedly some foolish women may believe that getting the vote will excuse them from the performance of home duties, just as in every democratic extension of the suffrage some foolish men have believed that getting the vote somehow entitled them to live without working. But it is no more possible to base action on an argument of this kind in one case than in the other. There are, of course, exceptional women who will do work outside of the home just as there are exceptional men who will do work outside of their business—and by business I mean not only what is commonly called business, but any of the professions and handicrafts—so that I am speaking of business man, professional man, farmer, skilled mechanic, clerk, laborer. The average man has to work hard at his business or profession or trade or occupation and does not do much work outside of this. In just the same way the average woman will find that her time is largely occupied in dealing with her household duties; but this is no more an argument against giving suffrage to the one than to the other. Moreover, where the woman does have the ability to work outside the home, it no more means that she will neglect the home than the fact that the man is an artist or a poet or a musician means that he will neglect the home. The other day I was pleased, as I am sure many of us were, to see the charming photograph of Mme. Homer and all her children in some of the Sunday papers. It is evident in her case that to be mistress of her profession has not interfered with her being a fine type of mother and mistress of her own house.

I emphatically do not believe that between men and women there ever can be identity of function, but this has nothing to do with giving them equality of right. This they are entitled to, and this they ought to have. Faithfully yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Colonel Roosevelt first came out for woman suffrage a few years ago when in the Metropolitan Opera House at a big suffrage meeting he made a speech in the interest of votes for women.

The letter from Colonel Roosevelt was read by Mrs. Dreier last night at the Academy of Music in Brooklyn, where she was Chairman of a mass meeting under the auspices of the Woman Suffrage Party, and evoked much cheering from the 3,500 men and women present.

The speakers included Mrs. Philip Snowden, Mrs. Raymond Robins of Chicago, Dr. Stephen S. Wise, Mrs. Dreier, and Representative Edward Keating of Colorado. In the audience were Supreme Court Justices Russell Benedict and Townsend Scudder.

SUFFRAGE WORK IN SUBWAY.

Silent Women Display Placards with Arguments for the Cause.

"Be a Post" was the slogan of the hundred or more "Lap Board" women who descended into the subway yesterday to refute anti-suffrage arguments with suffrage data printed on large cards. The women found many ready to study their data, but they found also that to get people to read the cards they must be impersonal themselves. If by any chance one of the card carriers caught the eyes of the readers the latter turned away, abashed to have been caught. When the card carriers' eyes were turned demurely in other directions, as if unconscious of their burdens, they were aware that every word on the cards were being read greedily. They immediately adopted the slogan "Be a Post" to indicate the impersonal attitude.

Women were coming and going at the Empire State Campaign Committee Headquarters all day yesterday volunteering to act as "Lap Board" women. The work will be carried on all day Monday.

The public received the demonstration with respect, and up to a late hour yesterday no one had heard of any unpleasantness that had come to any of the protestants. The official start was made from the Seventy-second Street station of the subway, where fifteen of the women gathered and, incidentally, had their pictures taken. Among them were Mrs. John Blair, Miss Fola Lafollett, Miss Theodora Bean, Mrs. Alice Duer Miller, Mrs. J. G. H. Hopkins, Mrs. Ethel Lloyd Patterson, Miss Madge Tyrone, and Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse. There was a band of fifty teachers among the workers.

The women each carried several of the placards, which were about a half a yard square and printed in plain type, black on yellow.

The Times Searchlight on Tower To Tell Results of the Election

After the closing of the polls on Tuesday, the counting of the vote will start immediately throughout the State. As soon as returns enough have been received to make the results of the complete count reasonably certain, the verdict of the voters will be communicated instantly to everybody for miles around through the use of the great searchlight on the tower of the Times Building, at Forty-second Street and Broadway. The signals will be as follows:

PERKINS ELECTED—White shaft of light pointing north.

SWANN ELECTED—White shaft of light pointing south.

SUFFRAGE WINS IN STATE—White shaft of light pointing west.

SUFFRAGE LOSES IN STATE—White shaft of light pointing east.

REPUBLICAN ASSEMBLY ELECTED—White shaft of light pointing north and swinging to east and west.

DEMOCRATIC ASSEMBLY ELECTED—White shaft of light pointing south and swinging to east and west.

NEW CONSTITUTION APPROVED—White shaft of light pointing east and swinging up and down.

NEW CONSTITUTION REJECTED—White shaft of light pointing west and swinging up and down.

BONWIT TELLER & CO.

The Specialty Shop of Originations

FIFTH AVENUE AT 38TH STREET

FOR MONDAY ONLY

The Following Special Sales:

Women's Pure Thread Silk Hose
In plain colors or novelty stripe effects. Re-enforced garter tops and soles. .85

Hand Embroidered Clox Silk Hose
In black, white and daytime shades with self or contrasting color clox. 1.25

Duplex "Reindeer" Gloves
In oyster white, natural inner lining, two pearl clasp, spear backs. 1.00

French Kid Gloves
Direct from Grenoble, France, two clasp, three row embroidery backs, white, black and tan, contrasting stitching 1.15

Washable Kid Gloves
In all shades to match costumes, black and white. Guaranteed to wash perfectly. 1.50

Silk Mesh Lace Veils
Silk mesh lace veils, one and one-half yards long; in all colors. .75

Shirred Veils
In octagon mesh with chenille borders in attractive design. Black and colors. .95

Long Initial Linen Handkerchiefs
Pure Linen handkershiefs with "Longfellow" initials done in colors. BOX OF SIX 1.35

Vachette Pocket Books
Highly polished leather, nickel or gilt clasp, inside frame and purse. 2.95

Chiffon Velvet Handbags
Soft finish; inside compartment with beveled mirror. 2.95

Mercerized Lisle Combinations
Fine rib lisle, French band finish with yoke of embroidered glove silk. Fully re-enforced. .95

Imported Gardenias
Made in Paris expressly for Bonwit Teller & Co. In white and pink. .68

Imported Violet Bouquets
French flowers in most natural form and shading, with tin foil and ribbon. .65

Hand Emb'd Georgette Crepe Vestees
High choker collar with dainty hand embroidery attached to vestee. 1.25

White Satin Stock and Bow
Extremely high wing collar with tie and bow of black velvet. 1.00

"Bontell" Nightgowns
Fine batiste trimmed with Valenciennes lace and embroidery at neck and sleeves. 1.65

Swansdown Trim'd Silk Negligees
Made of striped crepe de chine lined with albatross, trimmed with swansdown. 8.95

FOR MONDAY ONLY

Sale of Elastic Corsets

2.95 Regularly 4.75 — 4.95 Regularly 10.75

APPROVED SPORTS MODELS

BONWIT TELLER & CO. Direct Particular Attention to Their Advertisement of WOMEN'S EUR COATS and SMALL FURS in the ROTOGRAVURE SECTION of Today's New York Times.

BONWIT TELLER & CO.

The Specialty Shop of Originations

FIFTH AVENUE AT 38TH STREET

The Many Original Models Introduced by Bonwit Teller & Co. This Season in

Women's Tailleur Suits

Have Taken the Premier Place and Have Been Accepted by Well Dressed Women as

The Vogue in Suits

The intimate relations established with the leading Paris Couturiers and the best designing talent at our own command have enabled Bonwit Teller & Co.

To Introduce First—the "Russe" Modes of Callot, Cheruit, Jenny and Drecoll.

Satin Tailleur Suits
With new fur collar and cuff treatments, fastening with rare bits of filigree and Muscovite enameled amulets.

English Velvet and Chiffon Velvet Suits
With wide bandings, deep cuffs and high, enmuffling collars of fur.

Duvetyne and Velour Suits
Individualized types, emphasizing features that are unusual and exclusive to Bonwit Teller & Co. tailleurs.

These suits are priced at $350, $275, $225, $195 and range down to $125 for former types. Tailleur fur trimmed suits, $29.50, $39.50, $65.00.

Women's Frocks & Gowns

Simple trotteur frocks, afternoon, calling and restaurant gowns—authoritative types for every informal and formal function. Unusual decollete gowns in silver cloth, rare shades of tulle and chiffon, paillette and sequins, velvet, rich metallic brocades and emblazoned chiffons.

A Collection of New &

Charming "Danse" Frocks

59.50

Several models of taffeta with mani-flounced skirts, petal scallops, tulle drapes, accordeon chiffon panels. In the French colorings for evening.

Tailleur Blouses
Crepe de chine, radium silk and Georgette crepe, high or low neck, simple tailored or embroidered styles. 5.50

Dressy Blouses
Georgette crepe and crepe de chine, several smart styles trimmed with buttons and fluting. 7.50

French Handmade Blouses
Imported blouses of fine sheer batiste with tiny plaitings or dainty embroidery. 11.50

French Handmade Blouses
Imported blouses of crepe de chine and Georgette crepe with fine hand embroideries. 19.75

"Originations"

Brocaded in gold and silver thread there's an evening bag of satin. The mounting is sterling silver and the clasp a tiny snail studded with Marcosite.

* * *

The mounting is jet; the design is outlined with tiny beads of jet; there are pendant strands of jet; in fact, the satin striped bag is just a background for the effectiveness of jet.

* * *

In order that friends need not be separated even in photographs—this sterling miniature case with room for four photographs, 7.75

* * *

The charm of the bit of color and the soft throat-line contributed by the necklace need not be sacrificed to the most strenuous of sports. For these are Sports Necklets—made to withstand hard play—and in a design harmonious with Sports Toggery. 2.75

* * *

Quaintly puffed at the mounting—the corded velvet that fashions a new bag, priced, unusually, at 4.95

* * *

All the velvety charm of the Moss Rose has been preserved in these new corsage roses. There's even a realistic bit of moss combined with the foliage. As for coloring, the artist has broadened the scope of nature — and fashioned gray and purple roses as well as those of red and pink.

* * *

A gold-framed cameo brooch harmonizes attractively with the old-world charm of the new neckwear. 6.00

* * *

There's a becoming elusiveness about a new vestee of novelty lace in filet design. The high stock has a flare of lace and is banded in black moire ribbon at top and bottom.

* * *

Now the jabot is transposed to the back. It falls from the top of a high, fur-banded velvet stock in graceful lace cascades.

* * *

Exquisitely dainty, hand embroidered and trimmed with real lace—these French vestees.

* * *

Just one piece of chiffon velvet and a jeweled ball clasp gives a new simplicity to this roomy hand bag, 11.50

* * *

Yellow, white and pink pond lilies set in waxy leaves are effective corsage flowers. Importations. 1.25

* * *

Both flower and foliage are of velvet in these brown, yellow, pink and blue roses. 1.35

* * *

Rib striped silk hosiery, in white and black and white effects, has achieved a distinctive hosiery newness. 5.95

Cailleur Hats

A most unique department on the main floor is devoted exclusively to the display of tailored and sport hats. A specialty is the almost daily introduction of new types for semi-dress and sport wear.

Mourning Millinery

A specialized feature is the exact reproduction of imported French model hats in mourning millinery.

Mourning Apparel

A special department where, in privacy, selections may be made of complete mourning outfits. Tailleur suits, frocks, coats, blouses, neckwear, gloves, hosiery and accessories.

"Jeunes Filles"

Specialized types for School, College, Skating, Sport Wear, Formal Functions and the Debutante.

Misses' Fur Trimmed Suits
in velour de laine and broadcloth trimmed with beaver, skunk-dyed raccoon, Hudson seal and natural raccoon. In all the leading shades. Sizes 14 to 18. 29.50

Misses' Tailleur Suits
A collection of models in adaptations of Lanvin, Jenny and Cheruit, fashioned in broadcloth, velour de laine, velveteen, corduroy and chiffon velvet. 39.50 49.50 59.50

Misses' Frocks and Gowns
Simple little serge frocks for class wear and general utility. Charming afternoon gowns, debutante and evening gowns in chic bouffant and draped effects, in tulles, sequins, novelty silks, silver cloths and laces. 15.00 to 150.00

Misses' Fur Trimmed Evening Wraps
Specifically designed for the college miss and debutante, of broadcloth, velveteen, corded velvet and chiffon velvet. Charming modes trimmed with moufflon, skunk, fox and beaver. Sizes 14 to 18. 29.50 to 175.00

Day Time Coats and Evening Manteaux

Fashions that typify the very newest style motifs and movements, distinguished by unusual features.

Limousine Coats—
of velour de laine, duvetyn, Bolivia cloth and Dracord, with muff and funnel collars and deep borders of fur.

Velvet Afternoon Coats
New wine and blue shades, also black velvet coats that have "la ligne Parisienne."

Cardinal Evening Mantle
A distinguished model of velvet with cape and bottom bordered in fur and a high funnel collar.

Metallic Brocade Wraps
Wondrously wrought textiles in Russian types in varicolored, gold and silver brocades.

PREDICT BAY STATE WILL BURY SUFFRAGE

Politicians and Women Foes of Cause Put Massachusetts Majority Near 100,000.

CLAIM 25,000 IN BOSTON

Some Leaders Forecast a Landslide In Which the Amendment Will Be Beaten in Every County.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 30.—The political campaign in Massachusetts ended tonight with the anti-suffrage forces asserting that they would defeat the woman suffrage amendment on Tuesday by a majority of from 75,000 to 100,000. Some said the figure would be even higher and that reports from every section of the State showed that suffrage would not carry a single county. The majority, however, was content to settle on 75,000 as the best estimate.

The suffrage workers did not offer figures, but through Mrs. Gertrude Halladay Leonard, Chairman of the Executive Board of the State organization, announced that they were confident of victory, because of the thorough campaign they had made and the fact that "the great majority of men and women prominent in the life of the State" were with them. Mrs. Leonard said she thought the vote in Boston would be close, but that suffrage would carry the city. The antis claim Boston by at least 25,000, and in that their opinion is backed up by keen political observers.

It may be said, and the statement is a conservative one, that not half a dozen of the political leaders in the State really believe suffrage will win at this election and if the amendment should win it will be the biggest surprise in the political history of the State. THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent found that most of the politicians and not a few of the suffrage workers felt that the cause is much better chance to win in New York State than here. Several of those who feel that it cannot win here believe the result in New York may be favorable to "the cause."

Efforts to obtain from the suffrage leaders the total number of women enlisted in the fight, or who had signed cards signifying their desire for the ballot, were not entirely successful. An estimate founded on such facts as could be obtained put the number at approximately 100,000 or slightly under ten per cent. of the 1,074,000 women of voting age in the State. The antis have 36,000 women listed in their fight to defeat the amendment. They say that 100,000 is entirely too high for the number of their opponents, and that if such a figure is quoted by the suffragists it is founded on signatures obtained from women who really are not interested in having the vote and have simply signed slips to avoid annoyance.

Mrs. Leonard, who is in charge of suffrage headquarters, refused tonight to make an estimate. She said it would not be fair because the effort to obtain women as workers had been stopped several weeks ago in order to devote all efforts to the work among the men. Thousands of cards, from both men and women, she said, had been sent in during the past few weeks and had not been classified or listed, so that it was impossible for her to give accurate information.

The antis have ended their campaign with a strong drive which they say has added to the impetus of the movement against the suffrage cause. The antis here say they have the best organization in the country and there is plenty of evidence to bear out such statements. There can be no question that there is plenty of optimism at the anti-suffrage headquarters. Mrs. John Balch, President of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, said today that she had heard from her leaders in practically every city and county within the past two or three days, and that there could not be the slightest doubt how things were going. She said that suffrage would not carry a county and few if any of the more important cities. She named Quincy as one city where there might be doubt.

"The close of the anti-suffrage campaign," she said, "finds us full of hope and confidence that the majority of Massachusetts men will follow the wishes of the majority of the Massachusetts women, voting 'No' on the woman suffrage amendment. This will give us, we believe, a victory of at least 100,000. This forecast is not merely a guess, but is based upon the reports from our branches in every section of the State, reports from the organization of men, which at our request was formed to do the strictly political work of our campaign, and reports from newspaper editors and others who have conducted independent and impartial polls.

"Suffragist supporters privately admit they cannot win in Massachusetts, and any statement to the contrary can only be made for political effect. The great mass of women of this State are not asking for the franchise. The great mass of men, we believe, will not vote to impose burdens upon them without their consent.

"Although we believe our forecast of victory is conservative, we trust that it will not in the slightest degree lessen the activities of any of our friends. What we want is not merely a victory for the women of Massachusetts against the suffragists, but a victory so overwhelming as to be enduring."

At the headquarters of the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage Committee, the organization composed of men, and of which Robert N. Turner is in charge, a detailed estimate of the vote in most of the larger cities of the State was given to THE TIMES correspondent. The originals of such reports as were made in writing were shown to the correspondent at his request and the names attached were not infrequently those of men who had been known as keen political observers. In many cases in arranging the forecast Mr. Turner lopped off several votes from the majority predicted by his city and county leaders in order, he said, to be conservative. Here are the majorities for the anti-suffrage cause which is given to the larger cities, including in the western section of the State and working east:

Pittsfield, 1,500; Springfield, 3,500; Worcester, 4,000; Northampton, 1,000; Chicopee, 1,000; Fitchburg, 1,000; Marlboro, 900; Lowell, 6,000; Haverhill, 800; Newburyport, 800; Lawrence, 1,500; Gloucester, 1,000; Beverly, 900; Lynn, 3,000; Woburn, 500; Somerville, 2,500; Medford, 900; Cambridge, 1,000; Waltham, 1,500; Newton, 2,000; Brookline, 1,000; Quincy, 1,000; Brockton, 1,500; New Bedford, 2,500; Fall River, 2,500; Taunton, 1,500; Boston, 25,000.

According to this estimate, these cities will give the anti-suffrage workers a majority of 70,300, and Mr. Turner figures that the majority for the antis in the smaller towns and in country districts would bring the total majority well over the 100,000 mark. He estimated that the suffrage cause would get not more than one-quarter of the Democratic vote and one-third of the Republican vote. Others were of the opinion that the Republican vote would be as strongly against suffrage as the Democratic vote.

The total registration in this State this year is approximately 615,000. In the Gubernatorial election last year 458,203 votes were cast, and the experts are figuring on not more than 470,000 this year, despite the fact that the suffrage question is before the people as well as a Gubernatorial election.

The antis are willing to concede to the suffragists most of the Progressive, Socialist, and Prohibition Party votes, amounting to perhaps 47,000, but even with that start they hold that suffrage will not poll more than 150,000 to 170,000 votes in the State, and on that basis must lose by 100,000 to 120,000.

Both anti-suffrage organizations reported today that most encouraging reports were coming from the western part of the State, where the campaign was not put under a full head of steam until the last few weeks.

They were elated also over the reports from Lowell. There is a large French population there which is reported as solid against suffrage, and the reports from the labor element show, according to the leaders, strong anti-suffrage sentiment. The majority of 6,000 in the foregoing list is somewhat lower than that predicted by the Chairman of the Lowell anti-suffrage organization, who asserts that the suffragists will get the surprise of their lives there.

There is nothing in the reports which have come in to show that the big political organizations are working either for or against suffrage. But under the surface is it said many leaders are doing what they can, the majority of them, to defeat the cause of votes for women.

That is one side of the battle. Mrs. Leonard refused to go into detail for the suffragists. She had this to say:

"We are not desirous of giving figures or any other forecast than a statement to the effect that we are confident that the suffrage amendment will win by a substantial majority. This is not simply talk, but is founded upon a careful poll of the State and reports received from many sources.

"Practically all of the prominent men in the State are with us and are helping us to show the people that the women have the right to the ballot. It has simply been a task of education, and in this we feel that we have succeeded. The newspapers are all with us, and the majority of the thinking voters are with us. With this combination we do not see how the suffrage cause can fail."

Organizations on both sides of the question were working with almost feverish intensity today putting on the finishing touches. The men and women who are opposed to the amendment have an organization throughout the State which has taken years to develop, and which, under the leadership of Mrs. Balch and Mr. Turner, has let no chance go by. The suffragists have also put a tremendous amount of energy into their campaign. In the closing days the suffrage issue is looming up stronger as an important one, and in point of interest is now running a close second, if not on equal terms, with the fight over the Governorship.

It is probable that the anti-suffragists believe their best interests will be served by a large Democratic majority, but that does not mean that they are taking any part in an attempt to influence the vote.

Tonight the suffragists closed their campaign with a great demonstration on Boston Common, which attracted many thousand persons by its spectacular features. On Tuesday 8,000 of the women workers in Boston will be on duty near the polling places, carrying flags and wearing posters bearing the inscription, "Show Your Faith in the Women of Massachusetts by Voting Yes."

Specimen of Ballot for the Election of Candidates on Tuesday.

1. TO VOTE FOR A CANDIDATE ON THIS BALLOT MAKE A CROSS X MARK IN ONE OF THE SQUARES OR IN THE SPACE AT THE LEFT OF HIS NAME.
2. TO VOTE FOR A CANDIDATE NOT ON THIS BALLOT WRITE HIS NAME IN THE BLANK SPACE UNDER THE CANDIDATES FOR THAT OFFICE.
3. MARK ONLY WITH A PENCIL HAVING BLACK LEAD.
4. ANY OTHER MARK, ERASURE OR TEAR ON THE BALLOT RENDERS IT VOID.
5. IF YOU TEAR, OR DEFACE, OR WRONGLY MARK THIS BALLOT, RETURN IT AND OBTAIN ANOTHER.

1 JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT FOR THE FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT (Vote for six).

FRANCIS B. DELEHANTY	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
JOHN PROCTOR CLARKE	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
SAMUEL GREENBAUM	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
CLARENCE J. SHEARN	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
EDWARD R. FINCH	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
JOHN M. TIERNEY	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
DANIEL DANEHY	Prohibition
JOHN J. O'CONNELL	Progressive
HUGO WINTHER	Progressive
ADOLPH WARSHOW	Socialist
JACOB HILLQUIT	Socialist
LEON A. MALKIEL	Socialist
NICHOLAS ALEINIKOFF	Socialist
IRVING S. OTTENBERG	Socialist
JACOB HENNEFELD	Socialist
JAMES T. HUNTER	Social Labor
EDMUND SEIDEL	Social Labor
ARNOLD PETERSEN	Social Labor
ROBERT GLASER	Social Labor
JOSEPH P. JOHNSON	Social Labor

2 JUSTICE OF THE CITY COURT (Vote for one).

LORENZ ZELLER	Republican, Democratic, Ind. League
PHILIP C. SAMUELS	American, Progressive
CHARLES E. MANIERRE	Prohibition
ALEXANDER LEVINE	Socialist
SIGMUND MOSKOVITZ	Social Labor

3 SHERIFF (Vote for one).

FRANK K. BOWERS	Republican, American
ALFRED E. SMITH	Democratic, Ind. League
ALBERT T. HULL	Prohibition
WILLIAM HALPIN	Progressive
WILLIAM KOHN	Socialist
HERMAN ZAHLER	Social Labor

4 DISTRICT ATTORNEY (Vote for one).

CHARLES A. PERKINS	Republican
EDWARD SWANN	Democratic, Ind. League
FRANK MOSS	American, Progressive
GEORGE K. FINDS	Prohibition
S. JOHN BLOCK	Socialist
JACOB E. ALEXANDER	Social Labor

5 JUSTICE OF THE MUNICIPAL COURT, EIGHTH DISTRICT (Vote for one).

GEORGE E. MEDALIE	Republican, Ind. League, American, Prohibition
JOHN F. COWAN	Democratic, Prohibition
ABRAHAM RUBINSTEIN	Socialist
LOUIS A. CUVILLIER	Wigwam

6 MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY—Thirtieth Assembly District (Vote for one).

NICHOLAS MEYER	Republican, Ind. League, Progressive
TIMOTHY F. GOULD	Democratic
LOUIS PFEIFFER	Prohibition
WILHO HEDMAN	Socialist

7 ALDERMAN—Thirty-second Aldermanic District (Vote for one).

WILLIAM DUGGAN	Republican, Ind. League
CHARLES J. McGILLICK	Democratic, American
CALLAHAN McCARTHY	Progressive
FRANZ RADOVER	Socialist

The new blanket form of ballot will be used this year for the second time. All party emblems must be confined to the space to the left of the name of the candidate receiving the indorsement of such parties. To make still clearer to the voter just what these emblems signify, the names of the various parties indorsing the candidate occupy a short space to the right of the candidate's name.

PERKINS WINDS UP CAMPAIGN.

Predicts Victory and Calls Swann a Blind for Tammany.

Charles A. Perkins, Republican candidate for District Attorney, wound up his campaign last night at a mass meeting in Durland's Riding Academy, Sixty-sixth Street and Central Park West. Among other things, he said:

"I have had from the beginning practically no doubt of my election, being confident that if the people of this county realized what the real issue was they would meet it as they always have met it when it has been brought home to them before.

"From the beginning of my campaign I have met most enthusiastic and appreciative audiences, but particularly within the last week there has been evidence that the voters now realize that Judge Swann's candidacy for the District Attorneyship is simply a blind for Tammany's efforts to again intrench itself in that office as it succeeded in doing eighteen years ago.

"The candidacy of Mr. Moss, which at first threatened to disrupt the vote which I might normally expect, has proved to be but a 'flash in the pan,' and that the only possible result of his activities, if they are successful, would be the election of the Tammany candidate, is now so thoroughly understood that he is universally recognized for what he really is—Tammany's secret ally—in the fight it is making.

"I believe that this is the first time that any candidate has had two Tammany opponents in the field, and I believe that together they can poll only such a vote as would be cast in Tammany's favor for a single candidate. The hopelessness of Mr. Moss's candidacy being so universally recognized, and the nature of his campaign, with its vituperations, abuse, and misrepresentation of facts, and his appeal to the racial and religious prejudices and distortion of the real issue, has alienated from him the support of those who have admired the work that he has done in the past. We can view only with deepest regret the pathetic spectacle of his departing in his old age from the principle for which he fought during his youth and manhood.

"Judge Swann is a true product of the Tammany machine, and has received from that machine all political preferment which has ever come to him. He represents, just as Asa Bird Gardiner did years ago, the ideals and purposes of that machine, and he may be safely trusted to do what that machine desires him to do—if elected, to appoint his staff from a list submitted to him by Tammany Hall, and thereby to turn over his office to those who will use it for promoting Tammany's political fortune. Those active in his campaign have been making the customary Tammany appeal for Tammany support."

Among other speakers were Job E. Hedges, William M. Chandler, and Frank K. Bowers, Republican candidate for Sheriff.

ONE BIG PLUM IN JERSEY.

Politicians Fighting for Control of the State Treasury.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 30.—Control of the incoming Legislature, insuring the State Treasurership for the victorious party, is the big stake in next Tuesday's election in New Jersey. Six Senators and sixty Assemblymen are to be elected.

There will be one referendum on which all voters will be entitled to ballot. It is the proposition of the State issuing bonds for the purchase of the Wharton tract in South Jersey for use as a potable water supply for municipalities in that section. It is estimated the cost will be about $1,000,000.

In addition, there will be contests of various kinds in the several counties, besides numerous municipal elections. Some of the counties will have a referendum on the question of adopting the law for a small board of freeholders. Several cities, including Trenton, will vote on the two-platoon fire department system.

Both the Senate and the House of Assembly are now in control of the Republicans, and Newton A. K. Bugbee, the party's State Chairman, issued a statement today predicting that the Republican majority in each house would be considerably enlarged.

The three-year term of State Treasurer Edward E. Grosscup will expire March 1, and his successor will be elected by the Legislature in joint session. He will be retained if the Democrats can get control, but will be replaced if the Republicans maintain their present position. In the latter event there may be a lively fight for the berth. Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes is said to want the office given to Chairman Bugbee, while ex-Governor Franklin Murphy wants ex-State Treasurer Voorhees to have it again.

TAMMANY PREDICTS SWEEPING VICTORY

Expects to Elect Entire Wigwam Ticket and Get Control of Aldermen.

SUFFRAGE PROSPECTS DARK

Defeat by More Than 100,000 Votes Forecast—Prophets Divided on New Constitution.

One of the quietest political campaigns ever held in the city, so far as candidates are concerned, closed last night. Woman suffrage and the proposed new Constitution furnished the only excitement, except in certain districts where local campaigns were waged. The big fight has been on the candidates for District Attorney. Charles A. Perkins, the nominee for the Republicans; Judge Edward Swann, for the Democrats, and Frank Moss, for the Progressives and the American Party, have each made hard fights.

The contest for Sheriff also has stood out, principally because of the activity of Sheriff Grifenhagen, who has campaigned in the interest of the Republican nominee, Frank K. Bowers. The Democratic nominee, Assemblyman Alfred E. Smith, has made no campaign of his own, but has rested on the indorsement of organizations, not the least being the Citizens Union, a non-partisan body.

Mr. Perkins has made many speeches in various Republican Assembly districts and various lawyers have addressed meetings in his behalf. Judge Swann has made few speeches, but his campaign committee has sent out documents to the voters asking them to support the Tannany ticket.

The Republican district leaders think that Mr. Bowers has a fair chance of being elected, but the indications are that the Tammany candidate, Mr. Smith will win easily. It is conceded by the Democrats that Mr. Perkins, the present District Attorney, will poll a much larger vote than Mr. Bowers. Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, would make no estimate, but other Tammany leaders said that Judge Swann would be elected by about 25,000 majority, and that Mr. Smith would run ahead of him to the extent of about 10,000.

Expect Moss to Get 12,000

Mr. Moss has been making a vigorous campaign, but it is acknowledged that he will cut into the Republican rather than the Tammany vote, and that he will poll between 12,000 and 15,000. Several Republican leaders said they would not be surprised if Mr. Moss polled as many as 20,000 votes, but the consensus among the Republican and Democratic leaders is that he will get about 12,000.

Leaders of both parties agree that Mr. Moss will draw most of his strength from the Republicans, which will make it easier for Judge Swann to win. Several leaders of both parties, whose figures have been fairly accurate in the past, said last night that Mr. Moss might poll votes enough to beat out Mr. Perkins. Mr. Moss or his managers are not making any claims.

The indications, based on the figures of the various candidates, are that the entire Tammany ticket will be elected. Tammany itself feels sure of the result. It has spent little money and it has refrained from a vigorous campaign. The organization has based its expectation of victory on several factors, not the least being the present Mitchel Administration. The wholesale reduction in the salaries of city employes, as well as the enormously increased personal tax assessment, they say, is bound to work in favor of Democratic victory. The aftermath of a Fusion Administration, Tammany figures, is sure to help the organization.

While neither the Republican nor the Democratic county organization would make any predictions regarding the woman suffrage vote or the vote on the proposed Constitution, they admitted that these were the only large factors in the local campaign, and that they overshadowed the interest in candidates. Leaders of both parties are in accord on the vote for woman suffrage. They predict that it will be beaten in the State by between 100,000 and 200,000 votes. Neither organization has made known its attitude officially on the question, but the word has gone forth among the district leaders that it must be beaten. Some of the more optimistic leaders believe that the suffrage amendment possibly will be carried in New York City, but that the up-State vote will swamp it. It is conceded that in certain districts of the city woman suffrage will receive a surprisingly large vote.

Divided on Constitution.

As far as the proposed new Constitution is concerned, there is a diversity of opinion between the Republican and Democratic leaders. The Republicans admit it will have hard sledding in the city, but think it may win a big vote in the up-State counties. They predict that the proposed Constitution will be carried in the State, but they do not give any figures. The Democratic leaders are convinced that the Constitution will be beaten, not only in the city but in the State, but no figures are available.

In the city the big fight, so far as the organization leaders are concerned, is among the Assemblymen and the Aldermen. There are 101 Republican members of the Assembly, and the Democrats hope to reduce this number to eighty-five or ninety, thereby giving them control of the lower branch. The Republican leaders say they will hold their present number and gain more. In the Aldermanic Board the Republicans and Fusionists have a majority of nine. The Democrats are sure they will wipe out this majority and obtain control of the board. If they do, one of their number will sit in the Board of Estimate with three votes, consequent upon the resignation of President McAneny.

William Church Osborn, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, said last night:

"The salient feature of this election is the heavy registration in both rural and city districts. This puzzles the most experienced observers.

"Does it mean a protest against the $20,500,000 State tax?

"Does it mean interest in the suffrage or Constitutional amendments?

"I am no prophet, and have made no predictions, nor do I make any now.

"I have heard from many districts on the subject of woman suffrage, and have no advices to indicate that that amendment will receive treatment greatly different from that in New Jersey.

"My advices on the Constitution were unfavorable to its passage down to this week. I have recently received one or two indications of stronger support. Without a clearer understanding of the heavy registration, predictions are futile.

"Surprise" for Republicans.

"The Democratic legislative representation will show very substantial gains over last year. We have often carried the Assembly in recent years. I know that there is general disapproval of the extravagance which led to the direct State tax of over $20,500,000 this year. There may well be an unpleasant surprise for the Republican taxpayers in the Assembly results on Tuesday."

Frederic C. Tanner, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, said:

"A careful canvass of the Assembly districts of the State indicates the certain election of a Republican majority to the Assembly of 1916.

"Of the 150 districts our reports count 85 as surely Republican, 42 as surely Democratic, and 23 as doubtful. Of the districts classed as doubtful, making allowance for local conditions as far as it is possible to determine them, a fair estimate would give the Republicans at least half, which would make the Republican strength in the next Assembly 96 or 97, and this, I believe, will closely approximate the actual result of next Tuesday's vote.

"The Constitution will be adopted. It is impossible to make an exact estimate of a vote in which so many Democrats and Progressives are joining with Republicans for the common good. But the reports throughout the State give a safe majority both in number of counties and in population. The effort of Tammany Hall to defeat the work of the Constitutional Convention, so as possibly to control the next one, is winning votes for the Constitution every day."

Mr. Tanner would hazard no guess as to the suffrage vote.

Contests for Aldermen.

The fight to control the Board of Aldermen has kept leaders of both parties on the jump. The biggest fights are in the Sixth, Eighth, Eighteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-ninth Aldermanic Districts. In the Sixth the Republicans hope to re-elect Frank J. Dotzler. The Democratic candidate is E. I. Silberstein. The vote between the two will be close. In the Eighth District Morits Tolk has been put up against the present Republican candidate, Louis Jacobson, and it is said the conditions favor the Democrats.

In Brooklyn there is nothing to show that any great number of Democrats has been won to the Republican ticket, and disinterested observers are inclined to the belief that the Democracy will win. For the first time in many years there has been no fusion movement in Brooklyn this Fall. The Republicans, with apparent confidence, decided to cut loose from their former allies and go it alone.

"I believe that all the Republican county candidates will be successful," said Chairman Livingston yesterday. "I believe that Justice Callaghan, candidate for the Supreme Court, will carry Kings County and I believe we will elect at least fourteen Assemblymen and fifteen Aldermen. I am also confident that the work of the Constitutional Convention will be approved by the voters."

"The entire Democratic county ticket," said McCooey, "will be swept into office by majorities upward of 25,000. The indefensible record of the Republicans in State and city has attracted to our ticket thousands of independent voters. The electorate will not overlook the imposition of the $19,000,000 direct State tax by the Republican Legislature of 1915, nor will the increase in the city tax rate be forgotten on Election Day. We are confident of electing eighteen of the twenty-three Assemblymen and a like number of the twenty-four Aldermen.

"While I am in favor of some of the amendments submitted to the voters, I think that all but one will be beaten here. The one exception is the Barge Canal amendment. I think that there is a strong sentiment in favor of that in the borough."

ELECTION DAY
Tuesday, November 2nd

A Sale of Pianos & Player-Pianos

AT AEOLIAN HALL

Remarkable bargains in used pianos and player-pianos—all fine instruments; many in condition like new.

Pianos (Used) Prices from $75
Player-Pianos (Used) from $255

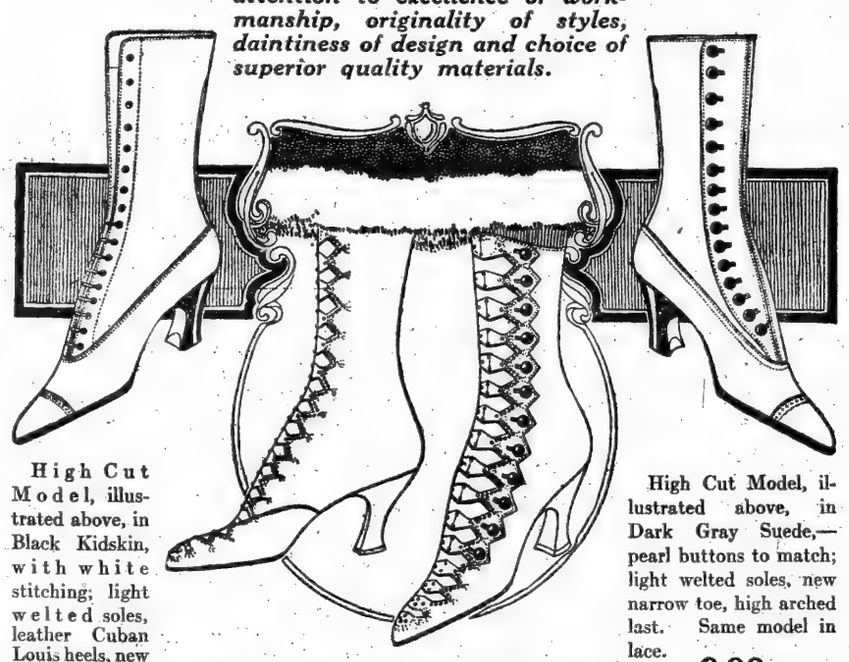
Most liberal charge terms—as low as $5 down, $4 monthly

The AEOLIAN Co.
AEOLIAN HALL, 29 West 42nd St.

THE AEOLIAN-VOCALION SALONS will remain open all day, Tuesday, for those who wish to take this occasion to hear the newest and greatest of Phonographs.

Sorosis Shoes

The Perfection of "Sorosis" Shoes has been attained only by constant attention to excellence of workmanship, originality of styles, daintiness of design and choice of superior quality materials.



High Cut Model, illustrated above, in Black Kidskin, with white stitching; light welted soles, leather Cuban Louis heels, new narrow toe, high arched last. Same model in button. 7.00

"Sorosis" Roman Sandal Boots, illustrated above, in Black Kidskin; slashed front showing hose; elaborately beaded; light turned soles, Louis XV. heels. 12.00
Same model in Bronze Kidskin..... 14.00

High Cut Model, illustrated above, in Dark Gray Suede,—pearl buttons to match; light welted soles, new narrow toe, high arched last. Same model in lace. 9.00
Same model in Bronze Kidskin,—button. 9.00

James McCreery & Co.

34th Street 5th Avenue

Stewart & Co.

Correct Apparel for Women & Misses
5TH AVENUE AT 37TH STREET

Incomparable Values in Fashionable Attire Featuring the New Modes

Wonderful Offerings for Monday & Tuesday

Fur-Trimmed Suits
of broadcloth, velour, gabardine and whipcord, allover fur-trimmed with skunk, opossum, French seal, nutria beaver, or natural opossum; coats are soft silk lined and warmly interlined.
Special 24.50

Fur-Trimmed Suits
of covert cloth, imported corduroy, broadcloth, whipcord, gabardine and velveteen, trimmed with skunk opossum, beaver and Hudson seal; in all the new colors.
Special 29.50

Silk Chiffon Velvet Suits (Fur-Trimmed)
Exquisite models, with chin collars, cuffs and buttons of luxurious furs; may be had in green, plush, black, navy and brown. 39.50
Other suits of silk chiffon velvet at 49.50, 69.50 and 89.50.

Danse Frocks & Eve'g Gowns
Of silk net over charmeuse, in self colors or various attractive color combinations, lace-trimmed.
Special 19.75

Evening Gowns
Of Radium Lansanne silk in all the delicate pastel shades; also a model of Georgette crepe, fur and lace trimmed.
Special 24.50

A Remarkable Sale in Every Particular of Exquisite Afternoon & Party Dresses of Georgette crepe, taffeta silk, charmeuse or chiffon, trimmed with silver lace, furs or hand embroidery.
7.50 to 24.50
Former Prices $19.75 to $79.50

Silk Chiffon Velvet Evening Wraps
Collar and cuffs of skunk opossum, flowered or plain silk lining, heavily interlined; colors are Concord, Jeffrey blue, Jack rose, turquoise blue, black or white.
Special 39.50

Mother of Pearl Velvet Evening Wraps
Collar and cuffs of Iceland fox; flowered silk lining and heavily interlined; colors are reseda green, sky blue, Jack rose, white or maize.
Special 29.50

Stylish Winter Coats at Specially Low Prices

Imported Silk & Wool Duvetyn Coats	Collar, cuffs and pockets are fur-trimmed	Special	29.50
Fur-Trimmed Wool Velour Coats	Flowered silk lined	Special	24.50
Fur Collar Broadcloth Coats	Soft silk lined	Special	19.75
Fur-Trimmed Corduroy Coats	Soft silk lined	Special	18.50
Fur Collar Mannish Mixture Coats	Belted model	Special	16.50
Fur-Trimmed Silk Velour Coats	Soft silk lined	Special	39.50

James McCreery & Co.

34th Street COMMENCING MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1ST. 5th Avenue

Unparalleled November Sale

WOMEN'S HIGH GRADE SUITS & COATS AT $33.00

An especially opportune event, offering at the height of the season High Class Suits and Coats at a remarkably low price.

We have succeeded in producing in these Suits and Coats a value so far above what would be expected at $33.00 that it affords an opportunity to make most advantageous purchases.

Dressy and Tailored Suits

For Skating, Sport, Street and Practical Wear.

The Styles embrace the smartest creations of the season.
Fur-trimmed Models
Russian Blouse Models
Smart Tailored Effects
Embroidered Models
Redingote Models
Jaunty Belted Effects
Military Models

The Materials include the newest and most wanted weaves.
Rich Velvets
Wool Velour
Satin Gabardine
Lustrous Broadcloth
Whipcord
Callot Check and
Novelty Fabrics.

The Colors include all the desirable shades and combinations.
African Brown
Navy Blue
Hague Blue
Russian Green
Blackberry
Prune or Purple
Black or White.

Smart, Dressy Street and Travel Coats

Dressy Coats of Excellent Quality Plush; smart models; attractively lined.

Afternoon Coats in pretty soft Materials,—fur collar; cuffs edged with fur; lined throughout with Persian silk.

Semi-Evening Coats of Soft Plush; prettily lined.

$33.00

Motor and Travel Coats in Smart Mixtures; some fur trimmed.

Street Coats of various materials; smart models; silk lined.

Also several models suitable for all occasions, taken from regular stock.

$33.00

Annual Sale

WOMEN'S SWEATERS, SCARFS & CAPS

Light-weight Shetland Weave Wool Sweaters in White, Rose, Corn and Copenhagen Blue. regularly 5.75, 4.65

Silk Fibre and Wool Sweaters,—attractive model. regularly 8.50, 6.90

Thread Silk Sweaters with sash. Rose, Gold, Copenhagen Blue and White. 17.90 regularly 24.75

Children's Worsted Sweaters in Gray, Navy Blue or Maroon. Size 28 to 34. regularly 2.25, 1.75

Angora Finish Wool Scarfs in various colors. 1.00, 1.50 and 2.00

Fibre Silk Scarfs,—attractive styles..... 1.50 and 2.50

Thread Silk Scarfs in a large variety..... 3.50, 4.50 and 5.50

Angora Finish Caps in various colors.... 1.25 and 2.00

Novelty Sweaters in Thread Silk,—fur trimmed; suitable for holiday gifts, at special prices.

Attractive Values—FASHIONABLE DRESS TRIMMINGS

Spangled or Beaded Bands..yd. 50c to 4.50 regularly 75c to 6.50

Spangled Flouncings.....yd. 1.50 to 9.50 regularly 2.25 to 12.50

Beaded or Spangled All-overs, yd. 3.50 to 9.75 regularly 4.50 to 12.50

Beaded Balls or Tassels.....yd. 25c to 1.50 regularly 35c to 2.00

Metal Fringe.....Special yd. 45c to 1.85

Metal Tassels.....Special each 15c to 60c

Metal Bands in Silver, Gold, Antique or Steel. yd. 15c to 2.85 regularly 20c to 3.75

Metal Cloth in Silver or Gold..... Special yd. 2.50 to 4.50

Binding Braids in all widths..... Special yd. 10c to 40c

Wide Braids for girdles or belts..... Special yd. 75c to 1.85

Buttons in Ivory, Crochet or Velvet, reasonably priced.

Remarkable Offerings

FUR COATS, MUFFS, & SCARFS.

An interesting stock of Fur Garments, Muffs and Neckpieces in all the new models, including conservative as well as more luxurious garments, at moderate prices.

Hudson Seal Coat, as illustrated; distinctive model, made from the finest seal dyed Muskrat pelts with muffler collar, deep cuffs and border of Natural Skunk or Beaver.
185.00 actual value 265.00

Hudson Seal Coats in extra large sizes ranging from 42 to 50 inch bust measure; made from selected skins, 42 inches long. Special 145.00

Hudson Seal Coats with collar, cuffs and border of Beaver or Real Skunk; richly lined; 45 inches long. Special 135.00

Persian Lamb Coats of choice lustrous skins with Skunk collar; 40 inches long. Special 145.00

	Muffs	Scarfs
Real Skunk	27.50	16.50
Beaver	24.50	15.00
Natural Lynx	32.50	27.50
Dyed Silver Fox	45.00	32.50

HAIR GOODS SALON

A special purchase of Hair Goods, just received, comprising Switches, Transformations, Pompadours, Waves and Parted Pieces, in a complete assortment of shades, including Gray. Many Parisian Novelty Hair Pieces.

Prices range 5.00 to 25.00

Annual Silk Sale

One of the Most Important Events

Over 100,000 Yards of "McCreery Silks"

At the Lowest Prices of the Year

The Season's Most Fashionable Weaves and Colors

Values are obtainable now which cannot be duplicated at any other time. Present low prices invite the thoughtful attention of those planning gifts for the approaching holiday season.

American Model Gowns made of "McCreery Silks" will be shown in the Silk Department during this sale.

The following Double Width Weaves are in complete assortments of Evening, Reception and Street shades; also White, Cream or Black.

Imported Crepe Chiffon de Soie....yd. 68c regularly 95c

Voile Marquisette.....yd. 95c regularly 1.50

Superior Quality Crepe de Chine...yd. 95c regularly 1.35

Crepe Meteor....regularly 1.85, yd. 1.25

Chiffon Dress Taffeta.....yd. 1.15 regularly 1.50

Faille Poplin....regularly 1.75, yd. 1.15

Imperial Dress Satin.....yd. 1.35 regularly 2.00

Satin Messaline...regularly 1.25, yd. 75c

Military Plaid and Stripe Taffetas and Satins, Pompadour and Oriental Printed Satins and Chiffons, in a wonderful variety of choice color combinations. yd. 95c regularly 1.50

Black Dress Silks and Satins of standard qualities and newest weaves..... yd. 85c to 1.50 regularly 1.25 to 2.50

Special Offerings—VELVET DEPARTMENT

Double Width Black Chiffon Velvet Faconne.....regularly 6.50, yd. 2.35

Double Width Black Chiffon Dress Velvet. regularly 4.50, yd. 2.85

Double Width Black Chiffon Dress Velvet. regularly 6.00, yd. 3.25

Double Width Black Chiffon Dress Velvet. regularly 7.50, yd. 4.50

Black Chiffon Velveteen,—27 inches wide. regularly 3.00, yd. 1.85

WOOL DRESS GOODS—Exceptional Values

Imported Black Broadcloth Suiting,—soft quality; satin finish. yd. 1.85

Superior quality Broadcloth Suiting,—brilliant finish; soft quality; full range of this season's best colors. yd. 1.75

54-inch Black all Wool Dress Serge, suitable for skirts and dresses. yd. 1.25

Imported All Wool Velour Suiting,—new Parisian colors; excellent quality. yd. 1.85

REAL LACES

25% to 50% Less Than Regular Prices

Real Rose Point Lace....yd. 1.95 to 55.00 regularly 2.95 to 85.00

Real Duchesse and Duchesse with Point Laces yd. 2.35 to 32.00 regularly 3.50 to 48.00

Real Point Applique Lace..... yd. 1.25 to 16.75 regularly 1.95 to 25.00

Real Limerick Lace.....yd. 2.25 to 19.50 regularly 4.50 to 38.00

Real Carrick-ma-cross Lace..... yd. 1.50 to 17.50 regularly 2.95 to 35.00

Real Point Venise Lace..yd. 1.25 to 22.50 regularly 2.50 to 45.00

Real Bruges Lace.....yd. 75c to 9.00 regularly 1.50 to 18.00

Real Cluny Lace.....yd. 3.95 to 13.00 regularly 5.95 to 17.50

Real Binche Lace.....yd. 38c to 4.35 regularly 75c to 8.75

Included is a complete line of Cluny, Irish, Venise and Filet Medallions at unusual price concessions.

Parisian Novelty Laces, comprising a variety of choice designs in the popular light weight Metal Laces in Gold, Silver and Steel on silk, cotton and filet nets. The desired trimming widths and demi-flouncings for afternoon frocks and evening gowns. yd. 75c to 4.95 regularly 1.50 to 7.95

Chiffon and Colored Net Lace Novelties with metal combinations.....yd. 25c to 3.95 regularly 50c to 5.95

$25,000.00 Worth of McCreery "MASTER-MADE" Furniture

At ½ Price

This Furniture has been selected from our regular stock, and in order to accommodate Holiday Merchandise it is necessary to dispose of same at these exceptionally low prices.

Table as illustrated $15.00 Regularly 30.00.

This and the items listed below comprise only a few of the excellent values offered in this sale.

	Regular Price.	Selling Price.
English Morocco Leather Chair	66.00,	33.00
English Morocco Leather Chair	64.75,	32.25
Mahogany Sofa,—Sheraton model	79.00,	39.50
Mahogany Sofa,—Sheraton model	70.00,	35.00
Upholstered Sofa	65.00,	37.50
Upholstered Chair,—loose cushion	40.50,	20.25
Mahogany Armchair,—velour seat and back	32.00,	16.00
Upholstered Wing Chair	35.00,	17.50
Upholstered Wing Chair	40.00,	20.00
Overstuffed Sofa	104.00,	52.00
Crotched Mahogany Curio Cabinet	140.00,	60.00
Mahogany Console Table	125.00,	62.50
Mahogany Frame Mirror to match	70.00,	35.00
Sheraton Model China Closet	60.00,	30.00
Hepplewhite Model China Closet	64.75,	32.25
Colonial Model China Closet	80.00,	40.00
Sheraton Model China Closet	94.50,	47.75
Mahogany Chiffonier,—Sheraton model	105.00,	52.50
Mahogany Chiffonier,—Colonial model	154.00,	77.00
Mahogany Chiffonier,—Sheraton model	84.00,	42.00
Mahogany Chiffonier,—Colonial model	187.00,	87.00
Circassian Walnut Bed,—single size	63.00,	31.50
Walnut Toilet Table	45.00,	22.50
Walnut Toilet Table	54.00,	27.00
Walnut Toilet Table	30.00,	15.00
Mahogany Twin Beds,—Adam model	56.00,	28.00
Mahogany Twin Beds,—Sheraton model	68.00,	34.00
Gray Enamel Dresser	95.00,	47.50
Gray Enamel Bed	61.00,	30.50

Extraordinary Sale

Seamless Royal Wilton Rugs

29.00 regularly 39.50

250 Rugs,—size 9x12 ft., purchased months ago at much below their actual value, are being offered in this sale at about wholesale price.

The collection includes exceptionally high-grade Rugs, woven in one piece, guaranteed to give entire satisfaction. Choice patterns and colors for parlor, living room and dining room.

NO C. O. D.'S NO CREDITS NO APPROVALS

DINNER SERVICES

Excellent Values

American Porcelain,—conventional border decoration with gold tracings and lines; 101 pieces; also Austrian China, dainty floral decorations; 100 pieces..... 15.00 regularly 20.00

Limoges China,—pretty floral decoration with coin gold handles; 100 pieces. Also American Porcelain,—conventional border design with coin gold edge and handles; 107 pieces. regularly 25.00, 20.00

English or American Porcelain with Persian or Blue Grecian border or coin gold band with coin gold handles; also black and white open stock pattern; 101 pieces..... 25.00 regularly 32.50

Limoges China,—pretty conventional border, with floral relief and coin gold handles; 101 pieces. regularly 50.00, 35.00

Theodore Haviland & Co. Limoges China,—dainty floral border design with solid coin gold handles; 101 pieces. 60.00 regularly 75.00

ELECTRIC LAMPS

Greatly Underpriced

Solid Mahogany Electric Boudoir Lamps with fancy silk shade, in any desired color; fitted with wire drawn Tungsten bulbs. 2.25 regularly 4.00

Carved Gold Wood Boudoir Lamps with fancy 10-inch silk shade; any color; fitted with wire drawn Tungsten bulbs. 3.50 regularly 5.00

Solid Mahogany Table Lamps,—hand-rubbed finish; 18-inch flat or straight silk Empire shade; silk lined, silk fringe; 26 inches high. regularly 10.00, 6.75

Hand-carved Solid Mahogany Table Lamps; two lights; 18-inch flat silk Empire shade with silk fringe; any color. regularly 15.00, 10.00

Metal Table Lamps,—two lights; 18-inch art glass shade; Verde green finish. 12.00 regularly 17.00

Floor Lamps of Solid Mahogany, Burnished Gold Wood or finished in Antique Ivory Enamel; square or fluted column; two lights; complete with 22 or 24-inch silk shade; 4-inch silk fringe. regularly 20.00, 12.50

BLANKETS, COMFORTABLES & BED SPREADS—Specially Priced

White Wool Blankets with pink or blue borders; double bed size.....pair 4.00, 5.50 and 8.75

Colored Wool Blankets in plaid patterns; three-quarter bed size.....pair 4.75

Comfortables,—Figured Silkoline; cotton filled.....each 1.75

Figured Mull; cotton filled.....each 2.75

Figured Nainsook; wool filled.....each 4.50

Bed Spreads,—Satin finish; hemmed; full size.....each 2.50

Satin finish; scalloped; full size.....each 3.95

BEDDING WEEK

Monday, November 1st to 8th, Inclusive

This sale includes Brass and Iron Beds, Springs, Mattresses, Pillows and Couch Beds at the lowest prices consistent with high grade Bedding.

The following items illustrate only a few of the remarkable offerings in this sale.

Ivory Enameled Iron Bed, as illustrated, with square tubing. All sizes.
10.00 regularly 14.00

Brass Beds with 2-inch Colonial posts and eleven filler rods. 25.00 regularly 35.00

Brass Beds with 2-inch Colonial posts; panel in head and foot. 17.50 regularly 30.00

McCreery "Hand-Laid" Mattresses. regularly 45.00, 35.00

Extra Heavy Woven Wire Springs. regularly 6.50, 5.00

Brass Bed, as illustrated, with 2-inch posts and 1½ inch square top rods. All sizes.
27.00 regularly 38.00

"McCreery Special" Black Curled Hair Mattresses with French roll edge. regularly 35.00, 25.00

No. I Black Curled Hair Mattresses. regularly 26.00, 19.50

Pure Layer Felt Mattresses. 15.00 regularly 20.00

French Upholstered Box Springs. regularly 20.00, 15.00

"McCREERY LINENS"

Pronounced Reductions

1,500 Irish Linen Damask Tablecloths,—2x2 yards.....each 2.95 regularly 5.00

Linen Damask Tablecloths; 2x2 yards.....regularly 2.75, 1.90

2x2½ yds....regularly 3.75, 2.65

2x3 yds....regularly 4.50, 3.25

Napkins to match:

22x22 in....regularly 3.75, doz. 2.65

24x24 in. regularly 4.50, doz. 3.25

1,200 Yards Heavy Linen Table Damask.....regularly 1.50, yd. 1.00

Hemstitched Linen Sheets,—

Single size..regularly 5.75, pr. 4.50

Double size..regularly 7.00, pr. 5.50

Hemstitched Linen Pillow Cases,—size 22½x36....pr. 90c, 1.25 and 1.75 regularly 1.25, 1.75 and 2.50

Hemstitched Linen Huck Towels.....doz. 2.95, 3.75 and 4.50 regularly 4.20, 4.50 and 6.00

Hemmed Huck Towels.....doz. 1.75, 2.25 and 2.75 regularly 2.25, 3.00 and 3.75

ELECTIONS TUESDAY IN EIGHT STATES.

Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky, and Mississippi Will Each Elect a Governor.

BAY STATE CONTEST CLOSE

Democratic Disaffection a Factor in Maryland—Kentucky Democrats Confident—Issues Elsewhere.

Eight States—New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, and Mississippi—will hold elections on Tuesday, Nov. 2. In four of these States—Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky, and Mississippi—Governors are to be elected; in six States—New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Kentucky, and Mississippi—the State Legislatures, in whole or in part, are to be elected, and in five States—New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Ohio—important constitutional issues are to be decided.

With a few local exceptions, in fact, these constitutional questions will be the dominant issues, including woman suffrage, municipal home rule, prohibition, State income taxes, referendum plans, and some lesser reforms.

The suffrage question will come up for decision in New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts, which States will furnish, in point of population, the greatest test the suffrage issue has ever had in the United States. New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts include more than 20,000,000 people—a fifth of the population of the entire United States and practically double the population of the States in which equal suffrage has been fully achieved.

Massachusetts Greatly in Doubt.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 30.—Betting is even on Tuesday's election. The partisans of Samuel W. McCall and Governor David I. Walsh, respectively the Republican and Democratic candidates, while making the customary pre-election claims, are all at sea, owing to the uncertainty which attends the minor candidacies, those of William Shaw, the candidate of the Prohibitionists, and Nelson B. Clark, the standard bearer of the Progressives who refused to follow Charles Sumner Bird into the Republican fold.

Clark's platform is of his own making, his party convention having ignored the issue upon which he is campaigning, opposition to the alleged ambitions of the Roman Catholic Church. The American Citizen, organ of what used to be called the American Protestant Association, in its issue this week, asserts that 70,000 voters will mark Clark's name on their ballots. This is believed to be an exaggerated estimate, but wiseacres figure that a vote of even 20,000 for Clark would mean the defeat of McCall and the election of Walsh.

The candidacy of Shaw, too, will draw from the Republican Party. Shaw is the General Secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, and it is expected that he will poll a considerable church vote. The normal Prohibition vote in this State barely exceeds 5,000, but there is evidence that this year these figures will be at least doubled, maybe quadrupled.

The outlook for McCall, it will be seen, is not of the brightest. Walsh defeated him last year by 11,000. This year Walsh, it is assumed, will poll the full strength of the Democratic Party, which is in excess of 200,000 votes, and many men not Democrats will give him their suffrage on the ground that it is customary to give a Governor three terms. The attacks that have been made upon his Administration apparently have failed to reach a vital spot, and his youth and agreeable personality are strong assets.

Democratic Disaffection in Maryland.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 30.—Maryland's United States Senators—John Walter Smith and Blair Lee—are expected by President Wilson and the Democratic National Executive Committee to carry the State next Tuesday not only as an indorsement of the Administration, but for the effect upon next year's Presidential contest. Secretary Tumulty and Secretary Tom Pence of the National Committee attended the final campaign rallies. The President has taken a deep interest in the campaign. He realizes, as do the Democratic State leaders, that there is an uncertainty about the 17,000 independent votes which generally control Maryland elections.

State issues overshadow National issues, and there is a strong feeling against the Democratic machine, which Senator Smith controls. For this reason, with others, the result is in doubt on the Governorship, and the vote will be close. The fight centres on the head of the ticket, and the indications are that the Democratic candidates for Controller and Attorney General will run far ahead of the candidate for Governor. The Democrats, it is believed, will elect a majority of both branches of the Legislature.

Emerson C. Harrington, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is the present Controller and an out-and-out machine politician. Ovington E. Weller, the Republican candidate for Governor, is chairman of the State Roads Commission, and not in any sense a machine man, although he has the State organization of his party with him.

Four years ago the Democrats were not united and they lost the governorship, though the Legislature remained Democratic. The trouble then was the bitterness between Senator Lee and State Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, whose aim has been to succeed his father as a political leader. This year the situation is similar. Senator Lee entered the primaries as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. Senator Smith, who is Lee's bitterest political enemy, then forced the nomination of Harrington by the power of the State machine. Thus the feeling between the two Senators may lose the Democrats the governorship.

Weller, the Republican candidate, has promised, if elected, to give the State a business administration. He has the support of all the Progressives, as well as of all the Republicans. If the latter can poll 85 per cent. of their registered vote Weller may win. Much, of course, will depend upon the extent of the Democratic defection. The Democrats are not sanguine; as a rule they offer odds in the betting, but this time they are offering only even money.

Straight Party Contest in Kentucky.

Special to The New York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 30.—Both Democratic and Republican party leaders anticipate heavy balloting next Tuesday, when a Governor, an entire State ticket, the full membership of the lower house, and half of the Senate are to be elected. In the last week the Republicans and Democrats have had special trains out in the State bearing speakers of note.

Although the Democrats are predicting 30,000 majority for A. O. Stanley, the Democratic Gubernatorial nominee, the sudden flare of Republican enthusiasm and the welding of the Progressive and Republican ties have alarmed some of the Democrats. Where the Republicans got the money to put special trains in the field and to carry on such an extensive program in the final week of the campaign has been the source of much speculation.

The prohibition question, which the Progressives have tried to inject into the campaign, has failed. That was fought out by the Republicans and Democrats in their platform conventions. The woman suffrage plank of the Progressives has elicited little enthusiasm. Only a few thousand votes for the Bull Moose ticket is anticipated by the leaders of the two rival dominant parties.

It is the first straightout party fight Kentucky has had for a long time, and as the State is normally Democratic the leaders of that party feel confident. The Republicans are centring their big guns on the record of the State administration, while the Democrats are calling on their following to vote the ticket and uphold the National Administration.

MAX FERTIG
LACES
REAL Madeira
Embroidered Linens

Before trouble on the high seas cut off deliveries from abroad we took the entire stock of these articles from an importer at a price far below the present market. We are now giving our customers the benefit of our early purchase, at prices almost unbelievably low.

Sale Begins 8:30 A. M. Monday

REAL MADEIRA LUNCHEON SET
(As illustrated)
18 pieces fine blind and eyelet work; hand embroidered and hand scalloped.
Reg. $7.00; set.....$4.50

MADEIRA CENTER PIECES
Hand embroidered and hand scalloped, on fine Irish linen.
Reg. $2.25; each.....$1.45
Reg. $4.25; each.....$2.95

MADEIRA PILLOW CASES
Baby or Boudoir size.
Reg. $3.00; each.....$1.90
Reg. $3.90; each.....$2.50

Madeira Luncheon Napkins
(As illustrated)
Hand embroidered and hand scalloped.
Reg. $6.50; per dozen....$4.25

30 East 34th St. (Opposite B. Altman)
Mail Orders Carefully Filled

"We combine made-to-measure satisfaction with ready-to-wear convenience." And, having workrooms on premises, we not only offer you low prices, but superior materials and workmanship.

Lane Bryant
25 West 38th Street

Announce for Monday and Tuesday

Important
Sale of Waists

All sizes (36 to 48 bust measure) but not every size in every style. The season's smartest models and newest materials and colorings. Don't miss these extraordinary values!

at 4.95 (Values to 15.00) Dressy Georgette crepe waists; smart models in pussy willow, crepe meteor or heavy crepe de chine—white, flesh, navy, Copenhagen or black. Odd lace waists.

at 3.45 (Values to 6.95) Elegant waists of black chiffon over white chiffon or white lace. Also 3 styles in heavy white crepe de chine; some flesh or black.

at 2.95 (Values to 4.95) An exceptionally dainty and becoming bolero model in fine cream shadow lace over white chiffon.

(Other Waists .95 to 25.00)

For Stout Figures

Every edict of fashion adapted by Lane Bryant to give figures (35½ to 56 bust) slender lines and poise.

Dresses	11.75 to 127.50
Suits	14.50 to 148.50
Skirts	5.00 to 24.75
Coats	18.75 to 145.00
Waists	1.45 to 25.00
Negligees	1.95 to 37.50

Corsets and Underwear to fit you from stock, no matter what your figure or bust measure—a service no other house can render.

Maternity Apparel

Differ in no way from prevailing modes. Not an "additional" expense—fit when figure is normal.

Dresses	8.50 to 74.50
Suits	24.85 to 148.75
Skirts	5.95 to 18.75
Coats	9.85 to 148.75
Waists	.85 to 16.75
Negligees	1.95 to 39.75

Corsets and Underwear create proper balance through changing proportions and allow for automatic expansion.

Phone 6416 Greeley — Lane Bryant — 25 West 38th Street

The Store will be closed all day Tuesday, November 2nd (Election Day)

B. Altman & Co.

Thirty-fourth Street — FIFTH AVENUE - MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK — Thirty-fifth Street

TELEPHONE 7000 MURRAY HILL

The Season for . . . . Wedding Gifts

lends an added interest to the rarely beautiful collection of Sterling Silver now exhibited in the Department on the First Floor. Of particular distinction are the examples of Hollow Ware, Flatware and Toilet Ware in the newest and choicest designs and patterns; also many articles of Hollow Ware in the SHEFFIELD REPRODUCTIONS.

Flatware in plated silver, in selected patterns, and of the very best quality obtainable is of unusual interest.

Marvex Gloves

New shipments of these celebrated gloves have recently been received from Trefousse et Cie. of Chaumont, France, who make these Gloves exclusively for B. Altman & Co.

The correct style and pre-eminent quality are universally recognized by a large and discriminating clientele.

In the Stationery Dep't

will be found the newest styles in papers for social usages. The exquisite finish and colors will appeal to refined tastes.

At this season special attention is directed to

CHRISTMAS CARDS

of attractive designs and appropriate for personal greetings.

Orders placed now may be held for future delivery.

Desk requisites are also a special feature of this Department.

The New Silhouette Underwear

in original styles, designed exclusively for B. Altman & Co., is presented in all the dainty garments of the modern lingerie wardrobe: Nightrobes, Chemises, Combinations and Bodices.

In the Modish Black Materials and Pure-dye Washable Satin, now quite generally adopted as a distinctive note in undergarments, individual models have been recently developed. The Department is replete with strikingly new modes.

FUR DEPARTMENT

An Exhibition and Sale of Magnificent

Natural Blue Fox Furs

from the United States Government Alaska Reservations will be held in the Fur Department (Third Floor)

Commencing to-morrow (Monday)

MATCHED PAIRS OR SINGLE PELTS

for individual selection will be offered at exceptionally attractive prices, considering the quality and the great demand for these Furs of elegance and refinement.

For the Opera, Theatre and the many interesting events that go to the making of a brilliant season in town and country

B. Altman & Co. have in readiness the most exclusive modes that it is possible to produce. . . . . .

THE CORRECTNESS OF THE STYLES IS ABSOLUTELY UNQUESTIONED.

Athletic events have been particularly considered in providing Coats and Suits especially designed for the forthcoming games and pastimes both indoors and out in the open.

The Lucerne Scarf-hat (registered)

B. Altman & Co. are introducing exclusively in Greater New York one of the most entrancing styles in this season of original modes, in the charming Scarf-hat, to be worn with skating costumes, or for motoring and other out-door pastimes. These are developed in black Panne Velvet with vivid contrasts in ribbon effects, or of Panne combined with Beaver, or of Angora Wool, Jersey Wool and Zibeline, or Jersey Silk, in a variety of colors.

(Shown in the Millinery Department on the First Floor, and in the Women's Sweater Department on the Second Floor)

Skating and Auto Hoods of Fur with Stole effects are also fascinating developments of this original mode. Some of these Hoods are so designed that they may be converted into Stoles, to which the combinations of fur lend a peculiar richness and beauty.

(Shown in the Fur Department)

Custom-made Corsets

Those who have been accustomed to having their corsets made abroad will find special facilities in the establishment for the making to order of corsets after the latest French patterns and designs.

Special attention is given to individual measurements for corsets made to order. Work-rooms on premises.

The Vogue of the Sweater Coat continues to be expressed in charmingly individual styles, including Women's and Misses' Silk Sweater Coats, touched with fur; Sweater Coats of Jersey Wool; also Sweaters of Shetland Wool and Spencers.

Golf Waistcoats of wool and Vests of quilted silk are shown in smart assortments, while the outdoor accessories of Scarfs, Caps and Tam o'Shanters, in silk or wool, foretell the correct garb for Sports wear.

Women's Ready-to-wear Department

For to-morrow (Monday)

An Extraordinary Sale of Tailor-made Suits

in a number of new styles:

Velour de laine, or Broadcloth, trimmed with real Skunk at $38.00

Fashionable Mourning Attire

is presented in many exclusive and tasteful modes, including Tailor-made Suits, Silk Gowns, Blouses, and the accessories of the correct mourning costume. The prices will be found most moderate.

A Special Offering for Monday will consist of

HANDSOME FUR-TRIMMED BLACK GOWNS

developed from B. Altman & Co.'s reliable silk fabrics, at the unusual price of $57.00

In the Lace Drapery Section

(Fourth Floor)

and also on the Main Floor a Sale for Monday will present a beautiful collection of hand-made comprising Table Covers, in round or square shapes, with complete Sets to match each style, and also Individual Pieces.

IMPORTED FILET LACE DECORATIVE PIECES

With the special view of affording an opportunity for the selection of rich and exquisite gifts the following unusually attractive values will be offered:

Hand-made Filet Lace Covers	at	$2.75, 3.25, 4.00 to 55.00
Hand-made Filet Lace Runners	at	6.00, 6.75, 7.00 to 15.00
Hand-made Filet Lace Pillow Covers	at	3.50, 4.50, 5.00 to 15.00
Hand-made Filet Lace Chair Backs,	at	2.85, 4.00, 5.50 to 10.50
Hand-made Filet Lace Arm Pieces,	at	1.25, 1.50, 1.75 to 2.75

Chickering Hall Musicales
November 2nd, 4th, 6th
Soloists
Virginia Root...Soprano
W. Paulding de Nike, 'Cellist.

Founded 1826 Greeley 1900

Lord & Taylor

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street

A Service for Home Dressmakers
Butterick Patterns
Correctly proportioned patterns that simplify the art of home clothes making.
Second Floor.

The Most Important SWEATER SALE This Season

A Special Purchase of Wool Sweaters
To Be Sold At Wholesale Prices

This purchase comprises the surplus stock of one of the best known American Knitting Mills, a Manufacturer who makes only the best grade of all worsted sweaters. By agreeing to purchase the entire lot of the excess run of the looms we secured such price concessions as enable us to offer

These Fine Sweaters at Our Usual Cost Prices

Fresh and new, this season's styles in fashions, approved knits and weaves. Every imaginable color and shade and truly as smart garments as any we have seen this season.

250 Sweaters for Women*—$4.95
Usual Prices $7.50 to $10.00

All worsted Angora finish in solid colors, fancy stripes and combination of colors and Byron and shawl collars, some V neck. Rope stitch weaves for skating purposes. All sizes and all the new shades. A few of these are fur trimmed.

Third Floor.

200 Men's Sweaters*—$4.95
Usual Prices $6.50 to $8.50

In shaker, sweater knit, rope stitch, Angora finish; in grays, blue, tans; a big assortment of styles and all of the finest worsteds. Sizes 38 to 44.

280 Misses' Sweaters*—$3.45
Usual Prices $5.00 to $7.50

In all shades in shaker and regular knit goods; Byron and shawl collars and V neck. Some combination two-tone effects. Sizes from 26 to 36.

For the Little Folks

400 Juvenile Combination Sets, consisting of Coat, Cap, Gloves and Leggins; the coats are Norfolk and plain models with military, Byron and shawl collars. All Angora finish in white, cardinal, Oxford, tan and castor.

250 sets, usually $5.00 to $6.50. Special $3.35

150 sets, usually $6.50 to $8.00. Special $4.85

These are fashioned goods of finest worsteds

No C. O. D.'s. No Approvals. No Returns except for size.

Fourth Floor.

RICH SILKS AND VELVETS

At the height of a season when these fabrics enjoy Fashion's supremest favor, values like these are indeed notable.

White Bridal Satins
Lustrous and exquisitely supple as the new modes demand; yard wide.
Usually $2.50 a yard.....$1.78

Black Satin Empress
One of the richest of dress silks and very serviceable. Width 40 inches.
Usually $2.50 a yard.....$1.85

Black Imperial Satins
Of marvellously beautiful texture. Width 54 inches. Seldom sold at less than $5.00 a yard. $2.95

Black Chiffon Dress Velvets
Imported from Lyons; width 41 to 42 inches.
Usually $6.00 a yard.
Very special.....$3.15

Ground Floor.

An Impressive Display of EVENING WRAPS

Never were garments more superb, more sumptuous!

The richness of fur with velvet
The gorgeous colorings
The loveliness of the silken linings

All these combine to make the evening wrap a marvel of elegance. The woman of fashion will be quick to recognize the distinction of the many magnificent garments which grace the Lord & Taylor collection. Such a wealth of models that but a hint can be given of their diversity and charm.

Featured for Monday's Selling

Chiffon Velvet Evening Wraps
Fur Trimmed $60.00

In models made especially for Lord & Taylor, copies of imported wraps. Huge muff collars and deep cuffs of fur add the final note of elegance to these luxurious garments of silk chiffon velvet in

Rose, Turquoise, Pink, Amethyst, Damson, Delft Blue, Plum, Maize, Taupe and Black

Silk lined and warmly interlined.

White Chiffon Velvet makes a stately wrap with an extremely high collar and deep cuffs of Hudson Seal; a shimmering rainbow satin its lining. $75.00

Rose Pink Chiffon Velvet
a decidedly picturesque garment, low waisted, full skirted and with a soft, becoming collar and deep cuffs of taupe wolf.....$85.00

Third Floor.

Silver and Gold Hand Embroidery joins the black and white chiffon velvet of which a regal evening wrap is fashioned; the wide collar and cuffs are of white fox. $150.00

Copied from a Callot Masterpiece
this model in chiffon velvet in royal purple, porcelain or sapphire blue, draped artfully in points at the sides and with wide revers. Silvered lynx fur makes the wide cuffs and the collar. $150.00

News of the Really NEWEST BLOUSES

Smart models in rich dark toned silks and laces that, worn with the tailored suit, transform it into a most effective costume. Dainty blouses of the laces, crepes and nets which women so adore, and a collection of Paris model blouses and their copies, which are of incomparable interest.

Featured for Monday Are

Tailored Silk Blouses
Of satin striped taffeta in navy, green, plum, brown, taupe and black; featuring an epaulet yoke, a military convertible collar. Special $3.95

Georgette Crepe Blouses
In white, navy, green and African brown, fashioned of alternating bands of crepe and radium silk, embroidered and with all finishing details hemstitched.....$5.00

Embroidered Radium Blouses
In white and flesh; an exceptionally dainty model with eyelet embroidered fronts and finely corded seams. The military collar is convertible $5.95

Crepe de Chine Blouses
In white and flesh; a clever duplex model that buttons at front and back, featuring a very high collar and novel waistcoat effect...$5.95

Lace and Georgette Crepe Blouses
In white or flesh pink; a lovely model; fine cluster tucking and Valenciennes lace insertion forming the entire blouse.....$8.75

Tinted Lace Blouses
In navy, green, brown, cream, plum and black, a most effective model to match the new Tailored Suits. Chantilly lace and Georgette crepe over chiffon.....$9.75

Third Floor.

Never Were Better Values in

WOMEN'S WINTER COATS

$25.00, $29.50, $35.00, $39.50, $50.00 to $95.00

A collection of distinctly smart models in street and afternoon coats of the finer sort. Garments fashioned of the season's favored fabrics—

Velour Cloth—Wool Plush—Sharkskin Velour—Broadcloth—Novelty Mixtures

with huge collars of fur.

The majority of the coats have been made especially for Lord & Taylor with due regard for the requirements of a critical clientele. Every garment is warmly interlined and lined.

Especial attention is directed to the Collection of Coats at $50.00

most comprehensive showing in the city at this popular price.

Third Floor.

Monday, The Last Day of

The Year's Greatest Linen Sale

In America's Largest Linen Section

The gratifying response to this annual event has amply repaid us for the large purchase of linens made before the present shortage of flax and the untoward conditions of the foreign linen market. Tomorrow you will find many new linen values added to speed farewell to this most successful Sale of Fine Linen.

Fine Irish Damask Table Cloths and Napkins

Table Cloths

2 x 2 yards	$2.00, 3.15, 4.95 and $5.95
2 x 2½ yards	$2.50, 3.95, 6.25 and $7.45
2 x 3 yards	$3.00, 4.75, 7.45 and $8.95
2½ x 2½ yards	$4.75, 6.35 and $7.45
2½ x 2½ yards	$5.50, 8.25 and $8.65

Napkins

A dozen.....$2.85, 5.25, 6.50 and $7.95

1000 Fine Damask Table Cloths
Usually $4.75 to $49.00.....$2.38 to $24.50

Pure Linen Sheets

Single Bed Size, a pair	$4.50 and $6.00
Double Bed Size, a pair	$5.50 and $7.50
Linen Pillow Cases, a pair	$1.00 and $2.00

Real Madeira Hand Embroidered Linens

Luncheon Sets, usually $7.50	$4.85
Tea Napkins, a dozen usually $7.50	$4.85

Just Received From Randalstown, Ireland, A Shipment of the Famous "Old Bleach" Huck Towels

Special Prices, a dozen.....$6.50 to $42.50

Second Floor

Exceptional Values These

WOMEN'S FUR TRIMMED SUITS

At $29.50

Few suits at $39.50 can compare with them in style and quality. Faultlessly tailored of the best quality chiffon broadcloth in navy, African, green, field mouse and black. The coat in latest model, collared and cuffed with skunk opossum, has a full flaring skirt, edged with fur. The skirt on the most correct new lines.

A Collection of Entirely New Models in High Class Suits

$35.00, 39.50, 50.00 to $65.00

Featuring the latest and smartest fabrics in every fashionable color, trimmed with the finer furs.

The coats of all Lord & Taylor suits are warmly interlined and lined.

Third Floor.

Rare and Exquisite

ORIENTAL RUGS

At Very Special Prices

Lovers of fine rugs, of rare designs, faultless weaves and soft rich harmonious colorings will find the Lord & Taylor collection unique in its completeness. Our orders were placed some time ago at the lower market prices; hence these remarkable values. Included are—

Persian Chinese Asia Minor Laristan Indo-Chinese Shamir Rugs

Large Room Size Carpets
In widths ranging from 12 to 19 feet and from 18 to 38 feet long.
$565.00 to $7500.00
Usually $750.00 to $15000.00

Popular Size Carpets
Excellent weaves and beautiful colorings; sizes 8x10 to 9x12 feet.
$165.00 to $225.00
Usually $285.00 to $395.00

Small Oriental Rugs
A collection of several thousand "throw-about" and hall strips. Many fine antiques.
$18.50 to $55.00
Usually $27.50 to $85.00

Hall Strips
2.3 to 3.9 wide—9.0 to 22.0 long.
$35.00 to $95.00
Usually $50.00 to $150.00

Fifth Floor.

The New Velvetta Boots

Initial Showing by Lord & Taylor

Something new in feminine footwear? Yes—emphatically. And although this is a season when the boot-maker's art is much in evidence, the Velvetta is his most distinctive achievement. "Boots must match the Costume," declared Madame Jenny in a recent interview. And in accordance with her decree, we present for the fashionable woman's approval Velvetta Shoes, modeled of the finest, softest Suede leathers in richly effective shades of

Green Blue Purple Brown Pink Fawn Gray Chamois

Very high cut, of course, on slender, graceful lines, with simulated tips. Fastened with the smartest of novelty buttons or laced through almost invisible eyelets. The Louis XVI heels are covered, the soles of medium weight.

$9.00 and $10.00

Colored Glace Kid Boots—fine and flexible, in similar styles, are shown in gray, brown, blue and black, plain or stitched with white. At the same prices.

Special for Monday and Tuesday

Black Glace Kid Boots

High cut laced or buttoned Boots, with Cuban Louis leather heels; modeled on the correct new lines and smartly stitched with white. One of the season's most favored styles. Usually $6.00 .....$4.65

Second Floor.

FURS OF FASHION

Their name is legion. Never were Furs more universally worn, more decidedly the mode. Milady envelops herself in the most voluminous of Fur Coats or adds the final touch of smart style to her Tailored Costumes with a Fur Scarf and a Muff.

Furs of Fashion, if selected from Lord & Taylor assortments, are Furs of Dependability as well. And prices, quality considered, are very moderate.

Fur Coats

Natural Muskrat Coats	$67.50
Persian Lamb Coats	$145.00
Seal dyed Muskrat Coats	$110-$165.00

Muffs—Scarfs

Black Fox		Red Fox		Beaver
Muffs	$24.50	Muffs	$28.50	Muffs	$27.50
Scarfs	$19.50	Scarfs	$21.50	Scarfs	$14.50

Fur trimmings in complete assortment.

Third Floor.

The Reign of Ribbons

Ribbons everywhere! Paris was first to acclaim them, and every great couturier has achieved the most wonderful effects with them. Jenny makes Dancing Frocks of them. Callot uses them lavishly in broad horizontal effects or to give the new silhouette. Paquin, Callot, Premet have with magical touch transformed them into girdles, cravats, sashes, entire bodices.

Lord & Taylor Announce a Very Special Purchase of Novelty Ribbons

Usually 39c to $1.50 a yard

Specially Priced 25c, 39c and 68c

Over 15,000 yards of them, including Wide Fancy Ribbons of taffeta and moire in flowered effects, Roman stripes, checks, plaids and plain colors.

Dresden and Moire Faille Ribbons in lovely light and dark colorings. Moire Brocade Ribbons. Tapestry and Heavy Moire Ribbons in beautiful color combinations and patterns.

Widths range from 5 to 10 inches.

To Demonstrate How Effectively Ribbons May be Used, We Have Arranged a Display That Includes

Sport Coats, Girdles, Sashes, Bags in scores of styles and other useful and ornamental novelties.

All are made of Ribbons which you will find in this sale.

Imported Novelty Ribbons, Metallic Brocaded Gauze, Velvet Brocaded and other rich effects for dress trimmings.....$2.50 to $13.50

Ground Floor.

LAWYERS CHAMPION NEW CONSTITUTION

George W. Wickersham Defends the Many Provisions for the Reform of the Courts.

O'BRIEN TELLS OF ECONOMY

Ex-Congressman Littleton Answers Some of the Objections Made by George W. Perkins.

George W. Wickersham, ex-United States Attorney General; ex-Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, and ex-Congressman Martin W. Littleton discussed the proposed State Constitution yesterday at a luncheon at the Lawyers' Club, 115 Broadway. Mr. Wickersham directed his argument to that part of the Constitution that concerned lawyers. Regarding the judicial system in the State he said:

"Two main considerations governed the Judiciary Committee in its report to the convention and the action of the convention, first, that there should be an adequate number of Judges provided to deal with the controversies arising between the citizens of the State and between the State or its civil divisions and citizens, and, secondly, a flexible organization of the courts, under which the business coming before them should be so distributed as to avoid delay and secure the maximum work from all of the Judges."

Many Court Reforms.

Concerning the organization of the courts, Mr. Wickersham said the amendments seek to carry out the principle of flexibility as fully as could be devised. Mr. Wickersham said that among other new miscellaneous provisions of value in the judiciary article are those relating to the Court of Impeachment and the manner of taking testimony in that court; the grant to the Legislature of power to establish children's courts and courts of domestic relations; the grant of power to provide for Commissioners of Jurors to be appointed by the Judges; the vesting the Court of Appeals with power to determine the qualifications and to prescribe the rules for the admission of attorneys and counselors at law; the provision that judicial salaries not only shall not be reduced but shall not be increased during judicial terms of office except, first, where the offices of County Judge and Surrogate are consolidated, or, second, to make the salaries of the Judges of the Court of Appeals at least equal to those paid to any other judicial officer in the State; the granting to the Legislature of power to prescribe the number, classification, and duties of Justices of the Peace, and to authorize the superisors of similar local bodies to fix the compensation for their services in criminal matters, and to enable the local authorities of cities or boroughs to determine the manner of choosing these officials.

O'Brien Dwells on Savings.

"Whatever may be thought of the details of this general plan," Mr. Wickersham said, "no candid person can maintain that it lacks either flexibility or effort to grapple courageously with a problem, the existence of which is recognized by every practitioner of law. The article was reported with substantial unanimity by the Judiciary Committee and was debated in the committee of the whole of the Convention during a period of four days. It finally received almost the largest vote cast for any provision. One hundred and three Republicans and two Democrats voted against it. Subsequently a third Democrat desired to have it recorded that had he been present when the vote was taken he would have voted against it.

"I believe as a whole the work has commended itself to the judgment of the profession, and that it would be a public misfortune if it should not receive the approval of the electorate."

Mr. O'Brien explained the benefits to be obtained from the adoption of the amended Constitution, and said it would operate to save money to the State, and that this would be accomplished in one way by the reduction of the 152 State Departments to 11. Officials of no fewer than nine different departments, he said, inspected New York hotels each year, and in many cases their orders were conflicting. George W. Perkins, he said, wanted to add another department to the State, that of a Department of Markets. In ten years, he said, the State expenditure had risen from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000. The city's share of the State tax for next year he predicted would be $20,000,000.

Littleton Answers Perkins.

"It is a most extraordinary thing," said Mr. O'Brien, "that those who were with me in the minority and in favor of the reforms that the new Constitution broaches have gradually faded away, and this is extraordinary in so much as most of the reforms provided were strongly urged by the Democratic minority. We were there under the pledge of a Democratic platform, which promised the reforms now contained in the new Constitution, and the Democratic platform spoke in no uncertain terms."

Mr. Littleton said that two kinds of objections were being made to the new Constitution, one by those who make haphazard, silly, and superficial criticism, and the other by those who make sinister attacks on the personality of those who drew it up. Mr. Littleton characterized George W. Perkins as "the chief opponent of the Constitution, and a tribune of the people taken from Wall Street to be a progressor of progressives." The former Congressman also criticised Mr. Perkins for saying that the proposed changes in the Constitution would put the judiciary into practical politics. The transfer of Judges, he said, would provide against that. Regarding the conservation article, which Mr. Perkins criticised, Mr. Littleton said:

"It is better to be a migratory fish than a stationary sucker."

WHY PEABODY WILL VOTE 'NO.'

Good in Constitution Too Little to Offset Lack of Discussion.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—George Foster Peabody, when asked today why he had decided to vote "No" on the new Constitution, said:

"I consider the general and intelligent discussion of the fundamental issues of Government the most important feature of Constitutional amendments. The apathy displayed by the voters in 1913, when the convention was ordered, was most discouraging, and during the sessions of the convention the public interest was but slight. I find now that the general interest is developing and, I believe, that even if the new Constitution offered more gains for the true interest of the people it would be a pity to have discussion end next week. I believe there is now a fair prospect that in a convention elected in 1917 a good representation of radical and progressive thinkers might be secured. The absence in the convention of this year of any representatives of so considerable and important a portion of our citizens is one of the reasons which justify a rejection of its work. Again, it is the hope of many, in which I share, that the vote will be given to women this year and it will be quite worth waiting to have that important half of the community take part in electing the convention members.

"Two years of full discussion of the 'invisible government' so brilliantly set forth by Dr. Root may disclose to all what some feel, namely, that the extraordinary effort made by the President of the convention to save its work from utter failure and general contempt gave the most convincing evidence of the fact that the finest and most subtle and most far-reaching work of the 'invisible government' was shown in its ability to keep out of membership in the convention any Republican or Democrat who had shown even moderate progressive tendencies and independence, much less any radical thinker. It would not surprise some, perhaps, if the final deductions should make it clear that, even though all unconsciously to many of the moving spirits, the very utmost refinement of this 'invisible government' was shown in the compulsion of the vote for the shorter ballot and kindred forward movements through the support given at the critical moment to the eloquent and deeply moving and unquestionably statesmanlike appeal of Mr. Root.

"I find no basis for support of the taxation or apportionment articles, and shall vote 'No' on both. I shall vote in favor of the article to permit proper dealing with sinking fund errors of the past."

PERKINS ANSWERS BINKERD.

Quotes Justice Ingraham on the Proposed State Constitution.

George W. Perkins sent a letter yesterday to Robert S. Binkerd of the City Club as a reply to Mr. Binkerd's attack on Mr. Perkins's letter to Elihu Root regarding the proposed Constitution. Mr. Perkins wrote in part:

"I have just been shown your attack on my letter to Mr. Root. I doubt if you get anywhere by indulging in abuse. My letter to Mr. Root was entirely impersonal and non-political, just a plain statement of facts. You people who are supporting the Constitution have, in my judgment, been dealing mostly in glittering generalities. It has been impossible to get you down to simple facts expressed in simple language that the average voter can understand. If the reasons I have given for defeating the Constitution are in any way inaccurate, it is up to you people to point them out. If there are better reasons for voting for it than I have given, then it is up to you people to produce them, and do it now.

"By the way, have you noticed Justice Ingraham's statement in this morning's paper wherein, referring to the judiciary, he says:

"'I do not exactly think that my department needed the three more Justices they gave us, but as long as the golf links are near by, I suppose they can find something to do.'

"It so happens that Justice Ingraham is the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, First Department. I am told that he is the Justice who would assign the three new Justices provided for in the new Constitution. As he himself says that the only use he can think of for these Justices is that of playing golf, it would hardly seem that we need them, especially as the total cost of maintaining them, including their respective salaries of $17,500 each, would amount to at least $107,000 a year. As nearly as I can recollect, Mr. Wickersham in none of his long articles in defense of the judiciary section of the Constitution has given us this important piece of information imparted by Justice Ingraham.

"Don't you think it might have been better to have established a market department and applied this $100,000 to its development than to spend it on new Judgeships which the Presiding Justice himself says are unnecessary?"

HUDSON GUILD FINDS JOBS.

Has Provided 4,466 Places During Last Year—Faces a Deficit.

The annual report of the Hudson Guild, 436 West Twenty-seventh Street, states that the institution has, in the last twelve months, provided 3,970 places by the day for women and 496 steady jobs by the week or month. Among the guild's activities are clubs for fathers, mothers and young girls, home workers' union, kindergartens, Summer outings and camps for working boys and girls.

Friends of the guild are building a model tenement house in West Twenty-eighth Street. The report says the society faces a deficit of $3,500, the expenditure having amounted to nearly $24,000. Charles J. Liebman is President and A. M. Bing Treasurer of the institution.

WAGE HOT CAMPAIGN OVER NEW JUSTICES

Foes Call for a Rebuke to the Republicans in the Ninth Judicial District.

APPEAL FOR "CLEAN" BENCH

C. P. Easton Says Westchester County Court Calendar Is Already Two Years Behind.

One of the liveliest fight of the campaign just closing is being waged in the Ninth Judicial District, which includes Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Rockland, and Orange Counties. The contest is over the election of two additional Justices to the Supreme Court as provided for in a bill which passed the Legislature and was signed by Governor Whitman.

A number of citizens of the district are opposed to the two extra Justiceships and say the bill was jammed through the Legislature by the Republicans, and the Republican candidates for the office should now be rebuked. A few days ago eighteen citizens issued an appeal for a "clean and independent judiciary," and asked the voters to defeat the Republican candidates, J. Addison Young and Judge Albert H. P. Seeger. The Democratic and Progressive candidates are Judge William P. Platt and Senator John C. R. Taylor.

Friends of the Republican candidates said that the eighteen citizens who signed the appeal were all residents of Westchester County, while not only did the Bar Associations of Westchester and Dutchess Counties advocate the bill, but several members of the Bar throughout the five counties, who were not members of the associations, gave hearty approval. Justice Mills, of the Appellate Division of the Second Department, has written as follows:

"I think that, in view of the recent assignment of one of the present Justices of that district, (myself,) to the Appellate Division, the need of the district for the proposed two additional Justices is manifest and indeed imperative."

Charles P. Easton, President of the Bar Association of Westchester County, said yesterday:

"Political capital has sought to be made out of what Justice Tompkins wrote in opposition to two additional Judges in the Ninth Judicial District before Justice Mills was elevated to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, Second Division. Justice Tompkins has later declared that he will vote for Mr. Young and Judge Seeger, the two Republican candidates. In a recent letter he said: 'Judge Seeger of Orange County and J. Addison Young of Westchester County have been regularly nominated by the enrolled Republicans in this district for these two positions. There is no question as to their fitness and qualifications; and as a lifelong Republican, of course, I shall vote for them. Two additional justices must be elected, and it will serve no good purpose to oppose any candidate or set of candidates because we were opposed to the enactment of the law creating the offices.'

"The Bar Associations of Westchester and Dutchess Counties approved the bill and showed the necessity for the additional Judges. Last year 222 jury cases were tried in Westchester County alone, with two Judges sitting eight months in that year. During that year 610 cases were added to the jury calendar. This is a matter of record, as the files in the County Clerk's office in Westchester County will show.

"The Westchester calendar is twenty-four months—two years—behind, and there are now on it 1,150 jury cases. The delay which now exists in Westchester County is equal to, or greater than, the delay in the hearing of appeals in the Court of Appeals. To prevent this delay in the Court of Appeals the proposed new Constitution would temporarily provide for four more Justices to bring the delay to a minimum. This delay is more critical to the poor litigant than the final decision of the Court of Appeals, to which the poor litigant may not be able or compelled to go.

"There is no question as to the necessity of more Judges. The Ninth Judicial District has a large and growing population. We are entitled to more Judges. If two Judges sitting constantly for eight months can try 222 cases, isn't it reasonable to believe that four Judges sitting constantly for the same length of time will try twice the number of cases tried by two Judges? While those two Judges were trying 222 cases 610 cases were making. Even with four Judges our calendar will remain at least one year behind instead of two years, as is the case now.

"No one can say one word against the fitness of Mr. Young or Judge Seeger. They were nominated by the people in the direct primaries by a vote three times as large as the vote given to their opponents. I have lived in Westchester County a great many years and I feel I am thoroughly qualified to speak of the necessity of our courts."

PHILADELPHIA IN DOUBT.

Both Sides Predict Victory After Close of Bitter Campaign.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Tonight saw the windup of one of the bitterest municipal campaigns ever fought in this city. The opposing political organizations are predicting success, but neither is assured of the outcome.

George D. Porter, Director of Public Safety in the administration of Mayor Blankenburg, is the Mayoralty nominee of the independent forces opposed to the Republican organization and combined under the party name of Franklin. Thomas E. Smith, former Postmaster, and for a very few days Public Service Commissioner under Governor Brumbaugh, is the candidate of the Penrose-McNichol-Vare leadership of the organization.

Despite the assurances of Senator Penrose that Smith will win by 100,000 majority, based on the expressed conviction that Pennsylvania is sick of "free trade" and wants to prepare for a national G. O. P. victory next year, there is much room for the belief that Philadelphia will once more register her disapproval of the organization, although by a small plurality.

Franken

Next to Riker's — 17 West 34th St. — Opposite Waldorf

On Sale Tomorrow and Election Day

Three Greatest Specials

Suits and Coats

$45.00 Broadcloth Suits 27.00

The long flare model, trimmed all around with natural Beaver.

$55.00 Broadcloth Suits 39.75

Full ripple fitted coat, four inch band of Sable Raccoon.

$27.50 Duvetyne Coats 19.75

The newest flare model long coat, Skinner's Satin throughout. Wide fur band all around.

No Connection With Any Other Establishment in the World.

WORTH

43 and 45 West 34th Street — Opposite McAlpin Hotel

Fur Trimmed Coats & Suits

Smart Flare Models (First Showing)

Coats
Specially Priced
Monday and Tuesday
22.50
30.00
35.00

Silk Velour
Seal Plush
Broadcloth
Vicuna
Duvetyn
Corduroy.
Lavishly
Fur Trimmed.
Peau de Cygne lined.
Interlined.

Suits
Specially Priced
Monday and Tuesday
25.00
Reduced from $30.00

Duvetyn Coat Opossum Trimmed; One of Our $22.50 Models

Wool Velour Coat Natural Raccoon Trimmed; One of Our $35.00 Models

Imp'd Velour Coat Opossum Trimmed; One of Our $30.00 Models

CHARITIES.

MOTHERS NEED HELP.

Mrs. C., widow, works in a factory to support four children, youngest a boy of 8. Mother needs an operation and 10-year-old girl has heart trouble. $42 needed to pay rent of $14 for 3 months.

Mrs. W., widow in delicate health, four small children. Has just found work, but pay is not enough for food and rent. Home conditions are excellent. $60 needed for monthly allowance.

Mrs. F., husband insane, two young children. Mother's wages insufficient to support family. $80 needed for weekly allowance of $3 to supplement income.

SMALL GIFTS ARE WELCOME.

Please mark case you wish to assist and mail check with clipping to Room 8.

BROOKLYN BUREAU OF CHARITIES, 69 Schermerhorn St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE SERVANTS OF RELIEF FOR INCURABLE CANCER

are trying to raise $30,000 to guarantee a conditional gift of the same amount, to be used in paying a burdensome mortgage on the Home. The Sisters implore the public for help.

There is no sorrow, no misery, not represented among our patients—of all nations and creeds—wounded, deprived of work, cut off from their own people, and avoided by the world. Think of them a little!

St. Rose's Home, 71 Jackson St., New York.

This establishment will be open all day Tuesday, Election Day

Stern Brothers

42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue

A Noteworthy Exposition of Women's Outer Apparel

In the Ready-to-Wear Sections on the Third Floor, will be found to comprise the smartest Autumn and Winter styles, developed by the foremost fashion exponents of Europe and America. Included are Gowns and Wraps for Dancing, Theatre, Opera, Horse Show and other social functions; Tailored Suits for Walking and Afternoon Calling; Coats and Wraps for Dress, Sport, Motoring and Traveling Wear, at reasonable prices.

A HIGHLY IMPORTANT OFFERING MONDAY, WILL INCLUDE

Corduroy Coats — With large fur collar; lined throughout and interlined, $19.50

Smart Tailored Suits — In the newest styles and materials, many effectively trimmed with rich furs, $24.50, 35.00, 45.00, 59.50

Smart Coats — Of duvetyn, broadcloth, plush, tweeds and mixtures, $29.50

Furs and Fur Garments

Our presentation of Imported and American Furs in the greatly enlarged department on the Third Floor, emphasizes the newest style notes favored this season in

Coats and Wraps for daytime and evening wear;
Scarfs and Muffs; also correct Motor Apparel

all of which are made from the most reliable and carefully matched skins and offer an unusually wide selection at prices that are sure to attract attention, as the following will indicate:

Raccoon Sets, - - -	from	$10.75 to	35.00
Fox Sets, - - -	"	$11.50 to	75.00
Hudson Seal Sets, - -	"	$35.00 to	55.00
Beaver Sets, - - -	"	$38.00 to	70.00
Fisher Sets, - - -	"	$65.00 to	325.00

Petticoats

Of especial interest in this section on the Second Floor is the attractive assortment of models for evening wear, including Crepe de Chines, Washable Satins, Soiree and Radium Taffetas, at moderate prices.

VERY SPECIAL FOR MONDAY:

Charming New Skirts
Of satin-striped pompadour taffetas; also messalines and jersey tops; all full flare models;
Special $5.00

Attractive Street Models
In taffetas, scalloped or ruffled effects, in plain or changeable colorings,
Special $3.50

Monday and Tuesday a Noteworthy Sale of Silks & Velvets

COMPRISING THE FOLLOWING WANTED IMPORTED AND AMERICAN WEAVES, IN BLACK AND RICH AUTUMN AND WINTER COLORINGS, AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES

Chiffon Taffetas, 40 inches wide, in a full line of evening and street shades, also white, ivory and black, $1.35 — Regular price $2.50 a yard

Imported Black Chiffon Velvets, 40 inches wide, soft finish, specially priced at $2.75 — Regular price $6.00 a yard

Satin Charmeuse, 40 inches wide, in a large assortment of light and dark shades, also white and black, $1.48 — Regular price $2.25 a yard

A Collection of High Cost Metal Brocades, at $6.85 and 9.75 yd.
satin and chiffon grounds, light and dark shades; silver, steel and gold effects; Values $15.00 to 27.50

The Vogue in Women's Blouses

Is charmingly depicted in our large assortments of distinctive models, embodying every desirable material, trimming and coloring. Of special interest is the exposition of Imported Models, the clever adaptations, and our own creations, made of Crepe de Chine, Georgette Crepe, Allover Laces, Nets, Taffetas, Satins and the new Glace Silks, at very moderate prices.

REMARKABLE VALUES FOR MONDAY

Women's Modish Blouses, - - at $5.00 of Georgette Crepe and Crepe de Chine; in smart models, with entirely new collar and jabot effects; in white and flesh.

Hair Goods

Patrons will find, on the Third Floor, unusually well chosen and high class assortments of Hair Accessories at very moderate prices.

AN INTERESTING INDUCEMENT PREPARED FOR TO-MORROW:

Wavy Hair Switches at $10
(24 to 30 inches in length)
made of finest quality selected hair, soft and lustrous in texture, in which the wave is guaranteed to be permanent.

Dress Fabrics and Coatings

Are assembled on the Second Floor in charming assortments of Autumn and Winter weaves and rich colorings for every occasion of dress, at reasonable prices.

EXCEPTIONAL VALUES FOR MONDAY
(Main Floor)

Imported Chiffon Broadcloth
52 inches wide; sponged and shrunk; light weight; in a full range of the fashionable colors and black,
at $1.78 a yard

Plain and Novelty Tailor Suitings
50 and 54 ins. wide; in All Wool Tweeds, Cheviots, Canvas Weaves, Velours, Novelty Stripes and Plaids, at 95c a yard

American Made Rugs

AT MOST ATTRACTIVE PRICE ADVANTAGES FOR MONDAY'S SELLING

High Grade Worsted Wilton Rugs

6x9ft., $19.50	8½x10½ft. $29.75	9x12ft., $32.50
Value $25.00	Value $35.00	Value $39.75

Seamless Axminster Rugs at $23.50
Size 9 x 12 ft.; in Chintz and Oriental effects; Value $30.00

Inlaid Linoleum, in wood and tile effects, cut from full rolls, . Usually $1.10 per sq. yd., at 85c

A full assortment of the latest effects in Plain and Figured Carpets, at very moderate prices.

The Upholstery Sections on the Fourth Floor

Invite special attention to their interesting lines of Interior Decorative Fabrics and Exclusive Novelties of unusual artistic value for the adornment of the home.

AN UNPRECEDENTED OFFERING, MONDAY AND TUESDAY, OF HIGH GRADE LACE CURTAINS, PANELS, STORES AND BED SETS, IN LIMITED QUANTITIES, POSITIVELY PRICED BELOW COST

Real Filet Lace Curtains, (2 to 5 pairs of a style) $18.50 to 115.00 pair

Real Filet Lace Panels & Stores (2 to 7 pieces of a style) $12.75 to 65.00 each

French Arabian & Marie Antoinette Curtains (2 to 9 pairs of a style) $9.75 to 27.50 pair

Real Filet Lace Bed Sets $35.00 to 95.00 set

French Lace Sash Curtains (3 to 12 pairs of a style) $2.75 to 8.75 pair

French Panels and Stores (4 to 10 pieces of a style; narrow sizes) $2.75 to 6.50 each

Also 150 Pairs Lace Curtains, miscellaneous styles (1 to 3 pairs of a style), pr. $1.50 to 7.50

JAPAN GLAD TO SEE THIS COUNTRY SAFE

Commissioner Yawakama Denies Preparedness Agitation Is Misconstrued There.

FRIENDSHIP FOR AMERICA

Official Says Jingoes Here Amaze His Countrymen—Sensational Book Called "Trash."

The Japanese people are glad to see this country preparing to increase its army and navy, according to Commissioner Haroki Yawakama, in charge of the Japanese exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, who is in New York to arrange for the exhibiting of parts of the Japanese exhibit at San Francisco in other cities after the exposition.

"The United States is a country with great public buildings and public works and private riches of all kinds," he said. "The wealth of the country in this respect has caused amazement throughout the world. But the neglect of the means of national defense on the part of the United States has been a matter of great surprise in Japan. Now that the United States is getting ready to increase its armament, the Japanese are far from being surprised, and consider that the United States is removing a serious error in its national policy. At least that is my own view of it, and it is also the view of the great majority of the Japanese who take an interest in international affairs. They want the friendship of the United States and want this country to be safe.

"Not a great deal of comment has been aroused in Japan by the agitation in this country for preparedness for war, and the general comment of the press has been that the war has awakened the United States to see the mistake of neglecting its army and navy. There has been no serious attempt in Japan to represent that the agitation here is any way hostile to us, and it is generally seen there in its true light.

"Is there any likelihood that the increase in the navy or army of this country will produce similar increases in the Japanese army and navy, as the opponents of preparedness in this country predict?" Commissioner Yawakama was asked.

Japan's Policy Unchanged.

"Not at all," he said. "There is no probability that the fact the United States adopts a navy and military policy strong enough to suit its recognized needs will be regarded as a cause for Japan to alter its own policy. The Japanese policy was laid down many years ago, and has been adhered to without much change, in spite of changes of ministry.

"There is no danger of any change in the good relations between this country and Japan, as far as I can see. All Japanese who know anything about the United States know it does not have any desire to lose the friendship of Japan and trouble with the United States is the last thing that Japan would want. The land and immigration problems seem to have been settled. There is no agitation over them now, and there is not likely to be another serious agitation over them. The two countries are getting to understand each other better and any further differences that may arise can probably be disposed of with less acrimony than those which have happened in the past.

"When Japan was invited by the United States to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition the Government at once appropriated $600,000 for the purpose as a token of its friendship for the United States. The gifts of provincial governments of Japan and of private merchants raised that sum to about $1,500,000 and I was sent over three years ago to select sites and prepare for Japan's great display. I have been treated in California with the greatest courtesy and with the hospitality for which the State is noted. The spirit of California as a whole toward the Japanese is kindly and friendly.

"I have just made arrangements on behalf of the Japanese Government with President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California for making a gift of one of our buildings at the exposition to the University of California to be used as a museum of Japanese art and industry in connection with Japanese studies at the university. On my trip to the East I am presenting to the Metropolitan Museum of Art and to various other museums and universities a three-volume illustrated catalogue of the national art treasures of Japan.

Desire for Friendship.

"I tell you of this to show the desire of Japan to be on the warmest terms of friendship with the United States. Japanese in this country and many Americans have been astonished at the attempt of a chain of yellow newspapers in this country to stir up bad feeling between the United States by publishing a translation of a jingoistic book printed in Japanese describing how Japan could invade and conquer the United States.

"The most amazing thing about this is the fact that the newspapers which printed it said it had the endorsement of the National Defense Society of Japan and named Count Okuma and other prominent Japanese as members. This was a complete falsehood. I have investigated and found out that there is no such body as the one described and that Count Okuma and others mentioned, far from approving the book, never knew that it existed until the inquiries of Japanese over here brought it to their attention.

"The work was by an obscure journalist. It was written in 1913 at the time of the agitation in California against Japanese land ownership. It is advertised here as having gone through numerous editions and it is said that more than 1,000,000 copies were circulated in Japan. Now a Japanese edition of a work usually consists of two or three hundred copies and a total of only a few thousand copies of the work have been printed in Japan. I had great difficulty in finding one copy in San Francisco and I understand that Japanese in New York who sought a copy found that none of their bookstores had ever heard of it.

"The book is so extremely crude and amateurish that no man of consequence would have anything to do with it, regardless of what it contained. It is written without system and rambles away from the subject of invading the United States to an attack on the institution of marriage.

"The work of General Homer Lea, warning America a number of years ago that the danger of an attack by Japan was imminent, was exploited in about the same manner by some sensational and unscrupulous papers in Japan. General Lea's book was a well-written and finished production, as far as its literary merit is concerned, and is not to be compared in any respect with this trash which is being used to stir up ill-feeling here.

Amazing to Japanese.

"It is amazing to Japanese that newspapers which indulge in such bad practices can maintain themselves in this country. We have plenty of jingoes and bad newspapers in Japan, but they spring up for an occasion and die shortly after it as a rule. In this country a large newspaper has to have a costly plant and a costly newsgathering service, but in Japan, where the idea of news has not been so thoroughly developed, daily papers which are nothing more than pamphlets put out at cheap cost, spring up on all sides at a time when the public is excited. It is easy to understand the irresponsibility and viciousness of journals of this type but hard to see how American papers of the same type can exist.

"Nevertheless, I believe that the publication of the translation of this foolish book has had little effect on American opinion because the work is ridiculous on the face of it and the methods used to advertise it are being very well exposed."

Specialists in Apparel for Men, Women and Children

Saks & Company

Broadway at 34th Street. 'Phone Greeley 2626.

We have just acquired under extremely favorable and quite unusual circumstances

79 Persian Lamb Coats

and have priced them so that they constitute a very exceptional opportunity

40-inch Persian Lamb Coats at $119.50
Some with fine skunk collar.

40-inch Persian Lamb Coats at $139.50
Exceptionally fine skins. Some have fine skunk collar and cuffs.

Both coats are made in the style of the moment, with wide skirts, and are finely lined with brocaded silk.

Tomorrow, the EVENT of the SEASON

Women's High-cut Glace Kid Lace Boots

at the very exceptional price of

$3.95

The demand for the extra high Boot is overwhelming in its insistence. Manufacturers are with great difficulty meeting the unprecedented call. We are fortunate in having received from one of the foremost makers 898 pairs of High Boots, measuring 10 inches from ground to top, in the most popular shades of kid skin—

TOBACCO BROWN PURPLE GRAY
MIDNIGHT BLUE ALL PATENT BLACK

Soles are light welted; leather Louis heels.

The price will not be available again this season.

November Sale of Petticoats

at unusual price concessions

"SOIE DE LUXE" PETTICOATS, of rich quality. Flounce trimmed with ruffles; finished with pleating. TAFFETA; full flounce, trimmed with two ruffles in petal effect. $4.98

Petticoats at $3.98

BLACK TAFFETA, 2 lace ruffles, net ruching and underlay.

RADIUM SILK in two ruffled models, or circular flounced with embroidery edging.

POMPADOUR PETTICOATS in richly beautiful color effect; deep flounce with two ruffles.

TAFFETA; full scalloped flounce, trimmed with six narrow gathered ruffles. Also deep circular flounce, trimmed with four rows of ruching.

Petticoats at $2.98

TAFFETA, deep flounce with Van Dyke ruffle; wide pleated under-ruffle. Also two models trimmed with ruching, one having circular flounce, another full flounce with ruffles and ruching. There are two models trimmed with either two or three ruffles.

SILK JERSEY, two models, either all-Jersey with circular flounce, or with ruffled flounce of taffeta.

MESSALINE; full flounce with two ruffles with ruching.

PETTICOATS with WOOL JERSEY TOP; accordeon pleated flounce of messaline, finished with ruching. $1.98

PETTICOATS of BLACK-AND-WHITE stripe cotton messaline; pleated or ruffled flounce. $1.50

Tomorrow, a remarkable Sale of

Women's Glove Silk Top Union Suits at 79c

Fine white lisle body; reinforced; perfect fitting. Sizes 36, 38 and 40.

Tomorrow, an exceptional Offering of

Umbrellas, Men's and Women's, at $2.95

Taffeta, twilled and Union silk covers of superior grade. Handles of sterling silver; etched or engraved, caps, bands. Cape horn, Malacca, mission handles, trimmed or plain.

Tomorrow, a Sale of 2,000 Pairs of Women's Silk Hosiery

at 95c

Several weights; black, white, and colors.

Silk-and-lisle tops and soles

Reinforced heel and toes. High-spliced heel.

Sale extraordinary of Women's Fur-trimmed Suits

Beginning tomorrow, Monday, November 1st

Values so exceptional as to make this an Event of Superlative Importance

MODEL I.
Reproduction of a "Jenny" Model
specially priced at $33.50

Chiffon broadcloth; plain or fancy lining. Trimmed with cub bear fur. The skirt belt is detachable.

MODEL II.
Reproduction of a "Georgette" Model
specially priced at $33.50

Chiffon broadcloth; elaborately trimmed with cub bear fur. Fancy silk lined. The skirt is shirred at top.

MODEL III.
Reproduction of a "Cheruit" Model
specially priced at $33.50

Chiffon broadcloth, fancy or plain silk lining. Trimmed with cub bear or skunk opossum.

MODEL IV.
Reproduction of a "Beer" Model
specially priced at
$25.00

Chiffon broadcloth; changeable peau de cygne lining. Cub bear collar. The skirt is yoke-top.

MODEL V.
Reproduction of a "Jean Lanvin" Model
specially priced at
$25.00

Imported whipcord; plain peau de cygne lining. Mole fur-trimmed. The skirt is the newest flare.

Tomorrow, in the Women's Dress Salon

125 Women's Dresses reduced to $25.00

have been $35.00, $39.50 and $45.00

Suitable for Afternoon, Calling or Matinee

Imported stripe taffeta and fine silk charmeuse. Sleeves and waist of Georgette crepe, embroidered or lace-trimmed.

Extremely full, wide skirt. Navy, black, brown, green or taupe. Only three or four of any one model; not every model in every color in each size, but a particularly fine assortment in sizes 40 and 42.

We claim to have reached the acme of possibilities in the production of high-grade, distinctive, Paris-inspired

Trimmed Millinery

at $10.00

As a matter of fact we have specialized so intently on Millinery at this price that we make the claim, unfearful of successful contradiction, that what we have produced is UNEQUALLED elsewhere in New York.

The two charming creations here illustrated are merely examples of more than 300 exquisite Trimmed Hats at $10.00

THE UPPER ILLUSTRATION is of a black hatters' plush Directoire Poke; hand-made. The silk ribbon streamer fastens under the chin with a snap. Silk La France rose. May be had in white if preferred.

THE LOWER ILLUSTRATION is of an extremely chic dancing Hat. Hand-made gold lace crown; silver if preferred; beaver around the brim, three silk velvet flowers with foliage and ribbon.

Tomorrow, in the MISSES' SALON—

A Sale of 200 Misses' Coats

at $10.00, $15.00 and $18.50

Finely tailored in the most desirable fabrics in black or colors and in the newest models, the majority being lined throughout with peau de cygne or guaranteed satin. Various lengths, including many full-length. Full-belted models with flare or ripple back. Sizes 14 to 18.

at $10.00 A WIDE ASSORTMENT of Coats in English mixtures of brown or gray tone; zibeline or pebble cheviot. Convertible collar of self fabric, plush or velvet.

at $15.00 FUR-TRIMMED COATS of fine quality zibeline, Kersey, or pebble cheviot. Very remarkable values are these up-to-the-moment Coats.

at $18.50 FUR-TRIMMED COATS of fine quality corduroys, wool velours, zibeline or broadcloth. Full collar of skunk opossum or natural raccoon.

Also a very exceptional Offering of

Misses' Dressy, Fur-trimmed Suits at $22.50

Imported broadcloth in Russian blouse or ripple effect, liberally trimmed with fine skunk opossum or natural raccoon. Splendidly tailored, full-lined and warmly interlined. Black and the newest Fall and Winter shades.

Girls' Full-length Coats at $9.75

Broad-belted models, with large, fancy patch pockets. Convertible collar of self fabric, edged with skunk opossum fur or seal plush. Zibeline, cheviot, corduroy or imported chinchilla. Lined throughout. Sizes 6 to 14.

Very specially offered, are these

Boys' Mackinaw Coats (Ages 6 to 18) at $4.50

Smart models with large patch pockets. All-wool plaid Mackinaw cloths in various handsome color combinations. Very warm and wear exceptionally long and well.

Tomorrow, the very Important

Annual Sale of Women's Coats

at prices unprecedented

COATS of mixtures and tweeds in belted or flare models. $10.00

COATS OF FANCY CHEVIOT—⅞ length. Collar and cuffs trimmed with edging of skunk opossum. $10.00

COATS OF "SALTS" ASTRATEX in either ¾ or ⅞ length; semi or full belted effect. Lined throughout. Choker collar of black coney or self-fabric. $13.75

COATS OF FANCY MIXTURES, some lined throughout with satin. In several models. $13.75

COATS OF "SALTS" ARABIAN LAMB. ⅞ length; semi-fitted flare model. Choker collar and cuffs of seal plush. $15.00

COATS OF "SALTS" MERITEX. ⅞ length; full belted model. Collar of skunk opossum. Lined throughout with peau de cygne and interlined. Brown and black. $19.50

COATS OF "SALTS" KURLTEX. ⅞ length; full ripple model. Patch pockets. Collar, cuffs and deep border at bottom of "Salts" Furtex. Lined throughout. $19.50

COATS OF "SALTS" FURTEX. ⅞ length; full belted model. Large collar, cuffs and belt of seal plush. Lined throughout and interlined. $19.50

COATS OF FANCY WOOL VELOUR. ⅞ length; belted model. Choker collars of seal, beaver or Alaska opossum. $22.50

COATS OF "SALTS" ESQUIMETTE PLUSH in two distinct models. Either full belted or flare effect. Large collars of natural raccoon or skunk opossum. Lined with satin. $25.00

COATS OF "SALTS" MERITEX. ⅞ length; full belted model. Choker collar edged with skunk opossum. Lined throughout with peau de cygne and interlined. $25.00

COATS OF SUEDE VELOUR in three models. Belted or full ripple effects. Chin-chin or choker collars of natural raccoon or skunk opossum. Set-in or Raglan sleeves. Black and colors. $29.50

COATS OF WOOL VELOUR in full ripple model. Collar and cuffs of natural raccoon. All colors. Lined throughout with peau de cygne and interlined. $29.50

COATS OF "SALTS" SEALETTE in two models, either ¾ or ⅞ length. Without belt. Set-in or Raglan sleeves. Collars of either natural or skunk opossum. Satin lined. $29.50

COATS OF "SALTS" SEALETTE in a loose ¾ length model. Same as shown in fur. Kimono sleeve. Collar of Ermine or natural opossum. Lined throughout. $35.00

COATS OF SILK PLUSH and Sealette in several distinctive models. Lined with either peau de cygne or Skinner satin. Trimmed with natural raccoon or skunk opossum. $39.50

EVENING WRAPS OF CHIFFON VELVET or Mother of Pearl Velvet. Collars and cuffs of white mouflon or Iceland Fox. $39.50

COATS OF "SALTS" ARCADIAN LAMB in a ⅞ length Russian model. Large chin-chin collar, deep cuffs and border at bottom of coat of natural raccoon. Lined with satin. $55.00

A particularly Interesting group of

Women's Blouses in newest Mode

Remarkable for their exclusive style-touches and equally so for the values presented

GEORGETTE CREPE BLOUSES, hand-embroidered, in white or flesh, with bands of satin; self-colored, and double rows of hemstitching. High choker collar with frill of fine net. Fancy, frill-finished cuffs. SPECIAL AT $6.95

GEORGETTE CREPE BLOUSES, heavy quality, in semi-tailored model. Front of fine eyelet hand-embroidery. Deep flare collar and cuffs of washable satin with inserts of hemstitched Georgette. Three large silk buttons. SPECIAL AT $5.95

CREAM SILK LACE combined with white Georgette crepe. Hemstitched vestee and inset shoulders. High, military collar, buttoning close to neck. Lace sleeves with deep cuffs of Georgette crepe. SPECIAL AT $5.00

SMART TAILORED SHIRTS of heavy quality washable silk. High or low collar. Long sleeves with close-fitting, tailored cuffs. White with satin stripes of black, navy, helio or green. SPECIAL AT $2.98

STRIPED TAFFETA BLOUSES, tailored model. Convertible collar. Long sleeves. Finished with loops and fancy jet buttons. Dark colors. For wear with tailored Suits. SPECIAL AT $2.00

SARANAC UNVEILS STEVENSON TABLET

Gutzon Borglum's Memorial Housed in the Novelist's Adirondack Home.

LLOYD OSBOURNE'S TRIBUTE

He Recalls Winter Evenings with the Invalid—Refutes Charges of Affectation in Dress.

Special to The New York Times.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Under low-hanging clouds and with a Scotch mist upon the hills, a bronze memorial tablet designed by Gutzon Borglum was unveiled this afternoon at the Baker Cottage in honor of Robert Louis Stevenson, who, during a brief sojourn here in the Winter of 1887-88, produced some of the best known works of his career, including "Pulvis et Umbra," "A Christmas Sermon," "The Lantern Bearers," and "The Master of Ballantrae."

Hundreds of Stevenson admirers from far and near gathered for the occasion and listened to speeches in which the history of the Saranac Lake Stevenson Chapter was detailed. Mrs. Andrew Baker, owner of the cottage, and Stevenson's old landlady unveiled the tablet. At her side was Andrew Baker, her husband, the old woodman who used to fall asleep by the wood-stove, lulled to slumber by the nightly tales told by the author of "A Lodging for the Night."

The bronze was veiled with the tapa mat which Chief Sitione of Samoa placed on the body of Chief Tusitala, when the latter lay dead at Vailima. On one side was the royal standard of Scotland; on the other the Stars and Stripes; and the Union Jack was draped above.

It was at first proposed that the tablet should be unveiled by Dr. E. L. Trudeau, who was Stevenson's physician when he lived here, in 1887-88; but the celebrated physician was too ill to attend. Mrs. Andrew Baker, who was escorted to the tablet by her husband—both of them advanced in years—was Stevenson's landlady, whose mantelpiece, bedroom furniture, and sheets Robert Louis burned full of holes with his cigarettes.

The tablet, a fine production of Gutzon Borglum, shows a bas relief of Stevenson as he appeared at Saranac Lake during one bitter Winter. He is shown walking on the veranda where the tablet is placed and where he says in his letters he gained inspiration for "Ballantrae" and the great Scribner essays. The figure, in fur cap and coat, a thin hand clutching the collar together in the face of the zero blast, breathes the spirit of the sick man out of doors, and the lift of the head as he says, "Come, let us make a tale!" reveals the rare spirit of the heroic in physical adversity. In the opinion of many, this Borglum conception is more of the real Stevenson than the sick-abed figure of the Saint-Gaudens memorial at Edinburgh. Old people who remember Stevenson say it exactly recalls the way he looked and dressed while he was here.

Among the speakers were Dr. Lawrason Brown, President of the Stevenson Memorial Committee; C. M. Palmer, the well-known newspaper broker; Robert Hobart Davis of the Frank A. Munsey Company, and Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor. An address by Lloyd Osbourne was read, in the latter's unavoidable absence, by Stephen Chalmers, Secretary of the committee.

Dr. Brown in his remarks said the committee, having accomplished its task, had resolved itself into the Stevenson Society, open to membership all over the United States, the purpose of the society being the collection and preservation of relics, first editions, &c., of Stevenson, and the proper housing of the same, probably in the Baker cottage, as the centre of American interest in Stevenson.

Lloyd Osbourne's address is reminiscent of the days when he wrote his first book at Saranac Lake—"The Wrong Box"—in collaboration with his famous stepfather. It is as follows:

How little could Stevenson have anticipated, as he walked up and down the veranda in the rare intervals of a very bleak sunshine, or (so much more often the case) as he huddled close to the fire with the logs hissing and the frosted windows streaming, that twenty-nine years later this spot would be hallowed to many through no other fact than his once having lived here. He would have been profoundly touched, and no doubt as profoundly dismayed. He had ever too much humor to take himself seriously. I can almost hear him cry out: "Good heavens! I hope nobody is going to take me as the model of anything!" Yet deep down, of course, he would have felt a very human thrill of pleasure. It is no small thing in this forgetful world for any one to be remembered years after his death; to have one's memory kept green and one's personal mementos treasured; to evoke from the hearts of the living, and those strangers, affection, and homage.

Once in this house Stevenson laid down the copy of "Don Quixote" he was reading and said, with a curious poignancy that lingers still in my ears: "That's what I am—just another Don Quixote!" I think this was the most illuminating thing he ever said about himself. It was the realization that his high-flown ideals, his supersensitive honor, his vehement resentment of wrong and injustice were perhaps hopelessly at discord with the world he lived in—the momentary faltering of a great altruist. It is surprising that in his essay on "Books That Have Influenced Me" I believe he made no mention of "Don Quixote," yet in conversation I can recall his referring to it often—that it was the "saddest book" he had ever read; that Don Quixote was "the greatest gentleman in fiction"; that "the Duke and Duchess were a pair of detestable cads to make sport of the old fellow—and he their guest!" Moreover, he had even stumbled through the original in his halting, laborious Spanish.

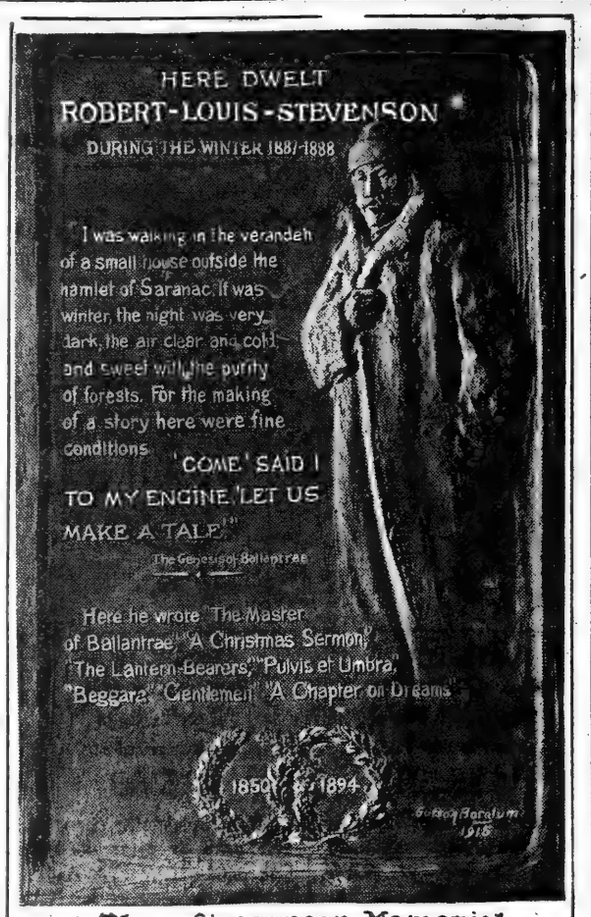
Stevenson had a wonderful reading voice; I have never heard any one who could equal him; in listening to him one was stirred by an indescribable sense of romance, of emotion—of the heartstrings being played upon. I imagine, from what I have heard, that Charles Dickens possessed the same magic quality of evolving so complete an illusion that the fictive characters seemed alive; that one seemed to see as well as hear them; that the scenes merged imperceptibly from description into poetic fact. In the long Winter evenings in Saranac Stevenson read aloud "Othello," "The Tempest," "Julius Caesar," and "Macbeth"—read them with mantling face and increasing enthusiasm, till the old room seemed to disappear in the glittering pageantry and matchless, swelling periods of Shakespeare.

It is one of the most regrettable things about Stevenson that his long hair and strange attire are always assumed to be an affectation. On the contrary, he was a man absolutely devoid of pose and hated it and derided it in others. But during his prolonged illnesses, when often for weeks at a time he would be condemned to lie in the same position lest a single movement might bring on a fresh hemorrhage of the lungs, his hair would grow excessively long; as cutting it afterwards often caused him to catch cold (and a cold to him meant a repetition of the frightful illness), it was left much as it was, save for a slight trimming. The shawls, cloaks, &c., so familiar and so fantastic in his photographs, were only too often seized up hastily and thrown over his nightgown to keep him from the fatigue of dressing.

The truth is, that until he went to Samoa, where he enjoyed a sufficiency of health that allowed him to dress and wear his hair in the ordinary manner, every day might have been his last. So far, indeed, from his long hair and singular clothing being a mark of affectation, they are a pathetic reminder of his sickroom, and show how rarely he emerged from it into the light of day.

It is not easy for those who loved him to forget such tales as his walking down Piccadilly—"very jauntily," as the book observes—in a lady's fur coat, pilfered from a party, and with a bunch of daffodils at his neck; and similar falsehoods, too often malicious in their origin. I would beg all admirers of Robert Louis Stevenson not to credit such idiocies, which some people, who knew him well, have not been ashamed to put into circulation. It is hard to conceive of a more successful form of disparagement, nor one better calculated to rouse dislike and scorn.

I wish I could write more, and that better, of this high-minded, high-hearted, generous, inspiring man, whose life was a tragedy of ill-health redeemed by an heroic courage. That he faltered at times—that he had his moments of despair, only serves to make his intrepid spirit shine the brighter, and aids us to emulate him in our lesser trials. I think those who honor his memory honor themselves, for it is the generous who appreciate generosity, and the courageous, courage, and the charitable, charity and kindness; and it is in fellow-feeling that this little party assembles here today to pay their beautiful tribute to the dead.



The Stevenson Memorial
(COPYRIGHT 1915, BY GUTZON BORGLUM)

AMERICANS DIG IN FOR BORDER BATTLE

Villa Twenty Miles Away and Is Expected to Attack Today or Tomorrow.

CARRANZA TROOPS ARRIVE

Rushed Across the Border to Hold Mexican Town — Americans Return Safely from Sonora.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 30.—Three thousand men of the Sixth United States Infantry brigade were placed in trenches today within a few feet of the Mexican boundary, ready to interfere if an attack on the Carranza garrison of Agua Prieta, Sonora, by the Villa army, expected Sunday or Monday, should result in shooting into American territory.

Brig. Gen. Thomas F. Davis, commander, said he would take every precaution to prevent any firing into Douglas.

"I do not propose to see an American town shot up," he said.

General Davis issued instructions to residents on the American side of the boundary to keep within doors, get behind adobe walls, and not to trust to wooden barriers to keep out bullets.

Villa's advance guard, under command of Colonel Tomas Franco, reached San Bernardino, twenty miles east, on the border today. Colonel Franco gave the first definite information that General Francisco Villa, himself was with the army. He said Villa would arrive at San Bernardino tomorrow, indicating that a battle, if battle there is to be, will occur Monday.

General P. Elias Calles, commanding Agua Prieta, also received reinforcements late today. The first of nine trains bearing troops and equipment from Laredo, Texas, arrived. It bore equipment consisting of field guns, ammunition, and vehicals of all sorts, from taxicabs to an old-time tilbury. Other trains were expected tonight and tomorrow.

Colonel Franco declared Villa felt friendly toward Americans and desired to avoid trouble.

Villa, Franco added, had 18,000 men and sixty 8.14-inch field guns. Previous reports cred ted Villa with 7,000 men and twenty-eight guns.

Further information concerning the Villa forces was given by Juan Mendoza, a 16-year-old boy wounded in the leg in a skirmish at Cabullona yesterday and brought to the Carranza hospital at Agua Prieta.

"We have had no beans or flour since we left Casas Grandes," the boy said. "Our food has been just plain corn."

The boy said the Villa men were tired and hungry. Nevertheless, he was certain Villa would take Agua Prieta.

"Villa will be here for me in three days," he asserted, smiling despite the pain from his shattered upper leg bone.

The movements of the American troops from the camp, two miles east of Douglas, to points along the border, began this afternoon.

The Twenty-second Infantry moved from camp to a station directly south, a few yards from the barbed wire fence separating Mexico from the United States. The Eighteenth took a position west of the Twenty-second, while the Eleventh Infantry was assigned to a position directly facing Agua Prieta. The Twentieth Infantry and part of the Seventh were ordered into reserve at camp. The entire forces began intrenching, and their work provided emplacements for about thirty machine guns if they should be needed.

As the Eleventh Infantry swung down the road running through the American town and into Agua Prieta, practically the entire garrison and population of the Mexican town crowded against the barbed wire barrier to watch as American picks and shovels went into action.

The American trenches begin at a point a few feet west of the United States Custom House and within less than twenty yards of the Carranza trenches and the rear of Agua Prieta. Mexican working in these trenches dropped their picks and shovels and joined the throngs of gesticulating Mexican men, women, and children watching the work of the American troops.

Twenty-two Americans from El Tigre, seventy miles southeast of here, for whose safety fears were expressed, crossed the border today at Naco, Ariz.

PLOT TO WRECK TRAINS.

Alleged Villa Spies Caught Placing Dynamite—Two Reported Killed.

Special to The New York Times.

EL PASO, Oct. 30.—Two Mexicans, supposed to be Villa spies, were shot by United States troops near Sierra Blanca, 100 miles east of here, late this afternoon, after 25 pounds of dynamite was found under a bridge on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad. The dynamite was discovered by the Seventeenth Infantry Guards on the first of two Carranza troop trains, which were coming to El Paso, en route to Agua Prieta.

A contact electric wire was discovered and five men were seen running away from the bridge. Two of these were shot, according to the trainmen and officers in charge of the leading train.

The two trains were ordered to remain here by General J. J. Pershing for fear they would be wrecked west of here by Villa men, as a well-defined plot was discovered at Columbus to dynamite the bridge there.

An artillery caisson overturned when the horses were frightened in Sunset Heights tonight and four artillerymen were seriously injured.

NEW RAILWAYS BOARDS.

Members Elected Both for New York and Mexico City.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—At the adjourned meeting this morning of the stockholders of the National Railways of Mexico, in which the Government holds a controlling interest, the following were elected members of the New York Board: Juan N. Amador, Dr. Alfredo Caturegli, William Edmund Curtis, Jerome J. Hanauauer, Roberto Y. Pesqueira, Walter T. Rosen, Charles H. Sabin, Richard Schuster, Henry H. Wehrhane. The Mexico City Board elected was: Jesus Acuña, Carlos Basave y del Castillo Negrete, Luis Cabrera, Elias S. A. de Lomas, José Diego, Fernandez Aquiles Elordui, Fernando Gonzales Roa, Gabriel Mancera, Rafael Nieto, Alberto J. Pani, Rafael Zubaran Capmany, and Joseph Simon.

Members of the Mexico Board prominent in public life are Acuña, Minister of the Interior; Cabrera, Minister of Finance, but now absent from Mexico, and Nieto, sub-Secretary of Finance. Joseph Simon is manager of the National Bank of Mexico, and Elias de Lomas is manager of the Mexican Bank of Commerce and Industry in which New York capital is interested.

The Mexico Board meets on Nov. 12 for organization. Carlos Basave y del Castillo Negrete is the present Chairman, and said at the same time some action would be taken to guarantee interest on the second preference bonds.

MEXICAN HERALD CLOSED.

Newspaper Charged with Upholding Huerta—Another Court-Martial.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Messages from Mexico City to the Carranza agency here said Lieutenant J. M. Ruiz, who is said to have been a member of the squad which arrested President Francisco I. Madero before his assassination, had been arrested, and would be court-martialed immediately.

The Mexican Herald, an American-owned daily English newspaper, was closed by the Carranza Government last night because it is alleged to have espoused the cause of General Huerta throughout the revolution.

TO ANSWER POWERS DIRECT.

Carranza Would End Communication Through American Officials.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Carranza has made it clear through the Foreign Office of his Government that he does not desire to deal with European governments through the United States, and officials of the State Department are in accord with his course.

Some of the European powers which have not yet recognized the de facto Government have been transmitting representations through American officials in Mexico. General Carranza now desires that foreign governments deal directly with him in the future.

ZAPATISTAS SURRENDER.

Chief Said to Have Retired to His Mountain Stronghold.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—Gilberto Magana, who was the Zapatista Governor for the Federal district, has made a treaty to surrender, with 3,000 followers.

It is reported that the Zapatistas are evacuating Cuernavaca and Zapata is seeking his old stronghold in Cerro del Jilguero.

MATINEE CROWD SEES FIRE

2,000 Quit Miner's Bronx Theatre —Blaze Next Door.

Two thousand patrons, many of them women and children, in Miner's Bronx Theatre, at Third Avenue and 156th Street, the Bronx, left the building in a quiet, orderly manner shortly before five o'clock yesterday afternoon while a brisk fire burned in the cellar of a five-story tenement adjoining the theatre, at 3,030 Third Avenue.

The performance was nearly concluded when the din of engine bells was heard and an odor of smoke pervaded the theatre. George H. Miner, the manager, investigated and from the exit alley on the northwest side of the theatre saw dense smoke issuing from the cellar a few feet away. He hurried back of the scenes and ordered the musicians and actors to hurry through the performance.

Many of the audience were anxious about the fire, but when the outer curtain was lowered and the orchestra struck up a tune the 2,000 persons put on their hats and coats and left the theatre. When they reached the street reserves from the Morrisania police station and several detectives from the Bronx Bureau, under Acting Captain Andrew Wines, marshaled them into side streets.

Although the blaze did not reach the upper floors it kept the firemen busy for more than a half hour. It is supposed to have started in a coal bin in the cellar. Sixteen families living in the tenement house were driven from their homes by the dense smoke, but after the fire was out were permitted to return.

Autoist Held Up and Robbed.

Two highwaymen jumped in front of an automobile driven by Alexander Kastilan of 78 East Eighteenth Street, Bayonne, early yesterday morning under the Central Railroad bridge and to avoid hitting them Kastilan stopped the car. The men jumped in, choked and beat the driver, robbed him of $82, and escaped.

Arnold Constable & Co.

Final 4 Day Removal Sale

GREAT SILK EVENT

No C. O. D.'s or Approvals

Removal Sales in Every Department All Day Tuesday, Election Day

Savings ¼ to ½ Our Stock to Close

NOTE.—100,000 yards, our own regular stock, reduced to effect a quick clearance prior to our removal, November 8th, to Fifth Avenue, at 40th Street. Every yard guaranteed dependable merchandise, the products of twenty of America's and Europe's largest and most famous manufacturers, making this sale the great Silk Event of 1915.

3500 Yards
Black and Colored Crepe de Chine
Regular Retail Price
$1.35 Yard

Black and colored Crepe de Chine, 40 inches wide and of very superior quality. Removal Sale Price 95c The assortment includes all the wanted shades for day and evening wear.

Black Faille Francaise—35 inches wide. $1.75 quality. 1.25

Brocaded Velvets—39 inch, Satin and chiffon grounds. $11.00 to $15.00 quality. 5.50

1500 Yards
Black Satin Messaline
Regular Retail Price
$1.10 Yard

Black Satin Messaline, of superior quality, 35 inches wide. Removal Sale Price 78c Suitable for handsome gowns, blouses and all dress purposes.

Tan Moire Pongee—27 inches wide. Regularly $3.50 Yard. 1.00

2800 Yards
Black & Colored Chiffon Taffeta
Regular Retail Price
$2.00 Yard

Lustrous Chiffon Taffeta, pure dye, Foreign Finish, made for fine dress wear. Removal Sale Price 1.35 Black, Ivory, new changeable effects and most fashionable street and evening shades.

Figured Chiffon Cloth—White grounds, with dainty colored figures, in various designs, 42-inch. $1.75 and $2.00 quality. 1.25

Changeable Chiffon Cloth—42 inches wide. $2.00 quality. 1.50

5000 Yards
Black Chiffon Taffeta
Regular Retail Price
$1.25 Yard.

Black Chiffon Taffeta, highly lustrous and of exquisitely soft finish. Removal Sale Price 85c In the grade most used for fine dress wear. 35 inches wide.

Figured Chiffon Cloth—Black grounds with colored figures. Regularly $3.00 Yard. 2.50

French Lingerie

Of fine Nainsook, in the season's prevailing styles, hand made and hand embroidered.

NOTICE—Owing to the scarcity of merchandise from abroad, and the extraordinary reductions offered in this sale, this opportunity should not be overlooked. We cannot guarantee a complete assortment from day to day.

Night Gowns—Reg. $7.50 to $13.50 3.85 to 9.00

Princess Slips—Reg. $3.25 to $27.50 1.50 to 18.50

Skirt Combinations—Reg. $2.75 1.85

Petticoats—Reg. $1.45 to $27.75 65c to 17.75

Corset Covers—Reg. $1.25 to $1.75 90c to 1.15

Women's Furnishings
⅓ to ½ Reductions

Silk Petticoats—A special collection in a variety of the latest full flare models in Chiffon Taffeta; both smart plain colors and changeable effects. Values $3.50 to $4.75. 2.95

Sweaters — Handsome Sweater Coats of pure wool, full fashioned and very warm. Colors include light Grey, Tete de Negre, White and Rose. Value $5.75. 4.75

Beacon Blanket Robes for bath or house wear; light weight, warm, beautifully made and trimmed with satin. Shades range from pastel to vivid Indian colorings. Regularly $2.95. 2.15

Japanese Crepe Kimonos in a variety of dainty colors, beautifully hand embroidered in white. Value $1.95. 1.45

Waists and Blouses

Final Clearance of all discontinued models, arranged in four groups

GROUP I. Georgettes, with embroidery; Crepe de Chine, not trimmed, mourning blouses, also chiffon blouses and fancy striped taffetas. Values $12.00 & $14.00 6.50

GROUP II. Crepe de Chines and Taffetas in black and colors; also Georgettes. Values $7.50 and $9.00 4.65

GROUP III. Crepe Voiles, hand embroidered; and Crepe de Chine models. Values $6.00 and $8.50 3.65

GROUP IV. Black Silk, white and colored Voile and Linens, Organdies and Crepe Voiles. Values $4.00 and $5.00 1.65

Great Hosiery and Underwear Sale

Various Sizes. Savings 33⅓%

3 Reasons
1. Removal to Fifth Avenue at Fortieth Street.
2. Discontinuance of certain lines.
3. Opportune purchases.

Every Item Equally Important

Women's Fall Hosiery

Mercerized Lisle Thread—Medium weight, strongly reinforced. Sizes 8½ to 10½. Black only. 3 prs. for 75c; 6 prs. for 1.40 Reg. Pair, 35c. Sale Price 26c

Silk Lisle, very lustrous, light or medium weight; strongly reinforced; double garter tops. Black or Tan. Sizes 8 to 10½. 3 prs. for 1.00; 6 prs. for 1.95 Reg. Pair, 50c. Sale Price 36c

Pure Thread Silk—Full weight; double silk soles and tops; very brilliant. Black or White. Sizes 8½ to 10. 3 prs. for 2.85; 6 prs. for 5.60 Reg. Pair, $1.50. Sale Price 98c

Women's Knit Underwear

Under Vests, glove silk, of very superior quality. White or Pink. Regularly $1.35. 3 for 2.80; 6 for 5.50 95c

Knickers, glove silk. White or Pink; reinforced. Regularly $1.90. 3 for 4.45; 6 for 8.80 1.50

Union Suits, glove silk. White or Pink. Superior quality. Regularly $2.75. 3 for 6.70; 6 for 13.25 2.25

Union Suits, extra fine mercerized gauze, seamless at side, perfect fitting. Silk trimmed, tailored or beaded top. Regularly $1.35. 3 for 2.75; 6 for 5.40 95c

Women's Suits, Coats and Dresses

Of all styles and models that we positively will not remove to our new store—about seventy-five pieces

Entire stock marked to close.

To be closed out at
10.00, 14.50 and 18.50
Formerly $22.50 to $67.00

Every article far below cost.

"Waterberry" Rain Coats
For Women and Misses

Cravenette Raincoats—From the celebrated Priestley rubberless silky fabric, in tan, navy and black. Two smart models. Sizes 14 years to 44 bust. Regularly $15.00. 9.50

Also Balance of Our Stock
Women's Wool Skirts

In various fabrics and discontinued styles.

To Close at 1.50 and 5.00
Formerly $6.00 to $19.50

Broadway & 19th Street

CHOATE TO GIVE LUNCHEON.

Will Entertain the New York Committee on National Defense.

The members of the New York State Committee on National Defense, appointed by Governor Whitman, have been invited to be the guests of Joseph H. Choate, Honorary President of the National Security League, at a luncheon to be given at the Bankers' Club, at one o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. At this meeting an organization of the State Committee will be effected and a program for arousing the people of New York State to a realizing sense of present adequate preparedness for national defense will be arranged.

The committee to whom an invitation has been sent are as follows: Charles S. Whitman, Governor; William M. Calder, Brooklyn; George H. Cobb, Watertown; George B. Cortelyou, Riverdale; James R. Day, Syracuse; John A. Dix, Albany; Hiram H. Edgerton, Rochester; Louis F. Fuhrmann, Buffalo; Martin H. Glynn, Albany; David Jayne Hill, Rochester; Benjamin B Odell, Newburg; Thomas R. Proctor, Utica; Edward Schoeneck, Syracuse; Jacob Gould Schurman, Ithaca; Joseph W. Stevens, Albany; Horace White, Syracuse; Ansley Wilcox, Buffalo; Horace S. Wilkinson, Syracuse, and Robert Bacon, Lewis S. Chanler, Bainbridge Colby, Elbert H. Gary, Simon Guggenheim, John Hays Hammond, William Hayward, Charles Bulkley Hubbell, Arthur Curtiss James, Seth Low, William Fellowes Morgan, Charles E. Lydecker, George W. Perkins, Elihu Root, Henry Seligman, and G. Creighton Webb of New York City.

ADVERTISEMENT.

MACHINERY.

Ice or Refrigerating.

One 100-ton De La Vergne, latest type Refrigerating or Ice Machine, complete.

Two 260 H. P. (each) Babcock & Wilcox and one 250 H. P. Heine water tube boilers—for sale cheap.

Ammonia pipe, pumps, engines, air compressors, electric generators, tanks, etc.

H. P. BREARLEY
90 West St., N. Y.
Tel.: Rector 9448-9

MRS. DEAN, HOSTESS.
THÉS DANSANTS
Four to six daily,
ART ROOM
CAFE des BEAUX-ARTS
Fortieth Street at 6th Avenue.
Dancing under direction of
SAMYA and ALBERT
Also Nightly at Supper.

MORGAN DOING WELL ALL REPORTS AGREE

Continued from Page 1.

stringency was found in the circumstance that Constable Frank McCahill, who arrested Muenter on July 8, after he had shot Mr. Morgan, and a frequent visitor to the estate since then, and who was admitted and allowed to learn details of Mr. Morgan's condition on Friday, was not admitted yesterday. When he went to the gates all information was refused to him.

Mrs. Pierpont Morgan, Mr. Morgan's mother, arrived at East Island yesterday, from her home at Highland Falls, where she was staying when Mr. Morgan became suddenly ill. Miss Anne Morgan, his sister, and his five children, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. S. Morgan, were all at the residence at the time of the operation.

Despite the rumors current about Glen Cove, it was understood that unless he took a decided turn for the worse, the family would attend service this morning at the Lattington Chapel at Locust Valley. This is a chapel supported principally by the members of the country house colony about Glen Cove, chief among its parishioners being Mr. Morgan, Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co., Paul D. Cravath, Mrs. C. L. Gates, and J. E. Aldred.

The Rev. Charles W. Hinton, rector of the chapel, was in Glen Cove yesterday, and said that reports from Mr. Morgan's residence were optimistic and that he was confident that the patient would recover quickly.

Dessau

BROADWAY AT 78th STREET

HAVE ARRANGED FOR MONDAY AND TUESDAY (ELECTION DAY) AN IMPORTANT SALE AT GREAT PRICE CONCESSIONS.

Tailleur Suits

Featuring 40 Distinct Models

A collection of rare beauty, in which is expressed every fashionable style in vogue this season, shown in all the accepted cloths—in every desirable color—trimmed with various furs, and the new style high collars—some of the models are strictly tailored.

Special Reduction of 25%

Serge and Silk Dresses

Serge Dresses in blue, black, tan, and brown, combined with silk; some with Georgette Crepe.

Afternoon Dresses of Satin Meteor, Crepe de Chine or Charmeuse, with Georgette Crepe combinations.

Special Reduction of 25%

MME. NAJLA MOGABGAB

MME. NAJLA MOGABGAB

Mme. Najla Mogabgab

SPECIAL SALE

of exclusive

DRESSES & SUITS

A little group of assorted MORNING AND AFTERNOON DRESSES, mostly copies of French models, in silks and satin-dines. These were $85 to $75. SALE PRICE $29

A choice selection of AFTERNOON GOWNS of Charmeuse and Georgette Crepe. All leading fashion models. Formerly $75 to $90. SALE PRICE.. $45

An attractive offering of about 20 VERY STYLISH SUITS, trimmed with fur and in plain or fancy affects. Former prices $45 to $60. SALE PRICE, $29

Another group of beautiful suits made of different materials now considered most stylish, exquisitely trimmed or severely plain. These were $75 to $90. SALE PRICE..... $45

These dresses and suits will be sold for cash only on account of their very low prices. No goods in this sale will be exchanged.

CITY'S BUDGET GOES $200,000 ABOVE 1915

Total Estimates for 1916 Will Almost Reach the Sum of $200,000,000.

TAX RATE FIGURED AT 2.12

Increase from 1.87 Due to Direct State Levy of $13,975,000 Upon New York.

With a Sergeant-at-Arms keeping the hands of the official clock from touching the hour of midnight the members of the Board of Estimate sat in their chamber in City Hall at an early hour this morning waiting to affix their signatures to the 1916 budget. They had worked all night preparing the final figures and, with Mayor Mitchel exerting all the pressure he could bring to bear to keep the total below that of last year, when the burget was $198,989,768, it was announced that the 1916 budget would exceed this figure by little, probably not more than $200,000.

The exact figures could not be obtained until the clerks in Controller Prendergast's office had worked them out—the task which kept the board sitting long after midnight. The law requires that the budget shall be signed before midnight of Oct. 31, and Oct. 31 falling on Sunday, there was some question as to the legality of signing the document on that day. Hence the holding back of the clock.

It was said, however, that the budget would certainly be below $200,000,000, and with the city's share of the direct State tax, amounting to $13,975,000, it was estimated that the city's expenses for 1916 would total between $212,000,000 and $213,000,000.

On this basis the tax rate for next year was figured at 2.12, as against a present tax rate of 1.87. It was admitted that 2.12 might prove a trifle inaccurate, but if anything the rate would be a little higher. It will not fall below the figure announced.

Not Many Salary Reductions.

The meeting of the board was more harmonious than had been expected, the fight over the reduction of salaries not materializing, as Mayor Mitchel and Controller Prendergast agreed to restore many of the contemplated reductions. To offset this increase in the budget the estimates for the Police, Charities, and Correction departments were materially lowered.

The main contest was over the request of the Board of Education for an appropriation of more than $41,000,000. This was cut to $40,116,000, only a little more than the allotment for 1915, and Borough President Marks of Manhattan led the fight against the reduction. He had most of the Borough Presidents on his side, but he was overruled. When he was satisfied that he could get no more for educational purposes Mr. Marks said:

"Under protest I sign this budget. I protest in the first place because I am convinced the allowance for education is insufficient. This budget appropriates for education a sum only a little in excess of that appropriated for 1915. I feel certain this will not suffice because of an increase in school attendance on account of the constantly growing and justifiable extension of educational facilities and finally on account of the obligation of $261,480 due to the promotion of teachers in the seventh and eighth grades, where more than 900 teachers are, by every law of justice and equity, entitled to the same pay as their fellow-teachers of the same grade.

"I recognize the fact that economy is necessary, and I commend all practical efforts in that direction, but there can be no economy in destroying the ambition and happiness of faithful and efficient workers."

Edward Doyle, representing the Real Estate Board at the public hearing on the budget, said his organization was in favor of having the Bureau of Franchises of the Board of Estimate combined with that of the Chief Engineer of the Board, so that water tax could be collected by the Controller's office. Controller Prendergast thought the idea was a good one. Mr. Doyle also said that the members of the Board of Estimate should impress upon the public the importance of supporting the city administration in its efforts to get legislation this Winter. The Mayor said he proposed to make a city campaign in the Legislature and hoped the Real Estate Board and all other civic organizations would assist him. Stewart Browne, President of the United Real Estate Owners' Association, said he hoped legislation would be introduced to make the office of Borough President appointive instead of elective.

"You'll have to lobby more than you did in the old days at Albany to get that through," said Borough President Pounds of Brooklyn.

"I'll be there," retorted Mr. Browne.

"So will I," said Mr. Pounds, "if that bill is introduced."

The appropriation for the Borough President of Brooklyn showed a reduction of $112,000, and no objection was made to it.

To Save $1,500,000, Says Mayor.

Alfred J. Talley, representing the city employes, again appeared before the board to protest against the reduction of salaries. The Mayor told him that the principal saving in the budget was effected by the elimination of useless positions.

"These positions," said the Mayor, "eliminated amounts, in the aggregate, of $2,250,000 and new positions have been created to the amount of $750,000. The net saving on the reorganizations of departments will be about $1,500,000. There were 2,000 increases in salaries amounting to $250,000 and 350 salaries have been reduced. This reduction totals $350,000, a saving of $100,000 in the standardization of salaries."

Mr. Talley said he understood the Bureau of Standards had cost the city between $300,000 and $[illegible]00. The Controller interrupted to say that the amount was nearer $220,000. Mr. Talley read an advertisement in a New York paper of two years ago in which the Controller stated that his idea of standardization was not to reduce salaries of men who had been in the service of the city for years, but to reduce salaries of grades only on the death, retirement, or resignation of men holding the positions.

"I admit every word of that advertisement," said the Controller, "but at that time I believed it could be done that way. Two years' experience has taught me that the policy could not be followed out, and I claim the right to change my mind when I know the interest of the city is at stake."

The Mayor told Mr. Talley that many old city employes had not been reduced as much as they would have been had it not been for their long length of service.

"If you can show any specific cases of injustice to us we will try and correct them," said the Mayor.

Charities and Corrections Up $468,632.

The tentative budget for the Department of Correction for the coming year is $1,463,989, an increase of $151,769. For the Department of Charities the amount is $4,325,752, an increase of $316,863.

Stewart Browne made a final plea to the board to keep salaries of city employes down. He said:

"The city employes are an army of over 100,000 men and women banded together to get the most money from the city for the least work. They believe they have a guaranteed position for their natural lifetime, irrespective of the work performed and salary received. They are an army of vampires, the most of them being civil service employes. Civil service spells laziness, indolence, and inefficiency."

When Mr. Browne made an attack upon the Aldermanic budget and referred to the proposed reduction in salary of Leo Arnstein, Secretary to the President of the Board, from $5,000 to $3,000, which was not allowed, President McAneny interrupted to say:

"As you know, I am to give up my position as Aldermanic President to resume newspaper work. When I go out Mr. Arnstein will do likewise. I made every effort to have the salary of Assistant to the President remain unchanged. However, it was thought by others that since there would be a vacancy Mr. Arnstein's successor should take the position at the minimum salary for the grade. As you can see, Mr. Arnstein's salary is not to be reduced."

Mr. Browne's Injunction Plea Fails.

Justice Philbin, in the Supreme Court, yesterday denied the three motions for injunctions brought by Mr. Browne to restrain the Board of Estimate from passing the budget.

After the Board of Estimate had taken an adjournment until later in the evening the Mayor sent a letter to Fire Commissioner Adamson in which he said:

"I am glad to say that the pay of none of the Captains, Lieutenants, and fourth-grade firemen in your department will be disturbed. The Budget Committee of the Board of Estimate has decided by unanimous vote to make no change in the compensation of those men.

"I was, and am, emphatically opposed to any reduction. The men are hard-working. They perform dangerous duty, and I do not think there is a citizen of New York who would say that they are overpaid.

"As a member of the Board of Estimate, I voted for the increase of pay of the fourth-grade firemen from $800 to $1,000, because the former sum was insufficient to cover their living expenses and cost of uniform; and certainly I now see no reason to change my mind."

McADOO TALKS FOR SHIPS.

Urges a Merchant Marine in S[illegible]ch to Wisconsin Students.

Special to The New York Times.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 30.—The establishment of a merchant marine to serve as an auxiliary to the navy and a means of developing American shipping was advocated by William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, at a meeting of 3,000 Wisconsin University students, professors and prominent citizens of the State here tonight. The address was a plea for President Wilson's plan for equipping the United States with an adequate navy and naval auxiliary and for building up an American shipping industry with the Orient.

He said the time had come for the United States to prepare for the preservation of peace by building up a navy and auxiliary merchant marine and to promote its industrial and commercial interests by establishing American shipping on an enduring basis. He said Congress should create a national shipping board and clothe it with authority to establish a merchant marine that would be available as an auxiliary to the navy in time of need and for developing American shipping with other countries at other times. Congress, he said, should make a large appropriation to buy ships.

All ships using American waters should be declared to be common carriers when in such waters, and be subject to control and regulation as to rates and service by the National Shipping Board, Mr. McAdoo said.

BLANCHE WALSH DYING.

Stricken While Playing in Vaudeville in Cleveland.

Blanche Walsh, the actress, who has been touring in vaudeville in "The Spoils of War," is dying in the Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio.

A dispatch was received here on Friday from William Travers, her husband, in which he said that though her illness seemed fatal, he was still hoping. Miss Walsh had been unconscious all Friday. She is said to be suffering from a general breakdown. Miss Walsh played in Cleveland during the week of Oct. 2, and the following week played in Youngstown, Ohio, where she became ill, and her company was disbanded. Miss Walsh is a daughter of Thomas P. Walsh, former Warden of the Tombs and a politician of the Sixth Ward, and she is 42 years old. Miss Walsh has starred in many plays, including "The Woman in the Case," and "The Resurrection."

'FRATS' AT BARNARD MISSED BY THE DEAN

Place They Filled in College Life Left Vacant Since Sororities Were Abolished.

NOW SEEK A SUBSTITUTE

Girls Demand Better Facilities for Gaining Professional Training.

After taking a prominent part in the suspension of sororities at Barnard College two years ago, Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve is now willing to acknowledge that the secret societies filled a place in the college life of the girls for which it is now very difficult to find a substitute.

Fewer opportunities for the girls to form wholesome and intimate friendships are found now that the sororities are gone, Miss Gildersleeve finds, and she is casting about for some form of social organization which will do away with the objectionable features of the secret society and yet retain its many good points.

This problem is set forth by Miss Gildersleeve in her annual report of the work at Barnard, which has just been made public. Two years ago sororities were suspended, after a crusade led by Miss Frieda Kirchwey, daughter of Professor George W. Kirchwey of the Columbia Law School, who has recently announced his intention of retiring from that Faculty. The secret societies were not abolished, but they were forbidden to take in any new members for a period of three years. Two years are now up, and the students who are working to get the sororities reinstated to full standing are finding solace in Miss Gildersleeve's report. Many predict that sororities at Barnard will again come into their own next year.

Faculty Problems.

Several interesting educational problems confronting the Faculty of a women's college are discussed by Dean Gildersleeve in her report. She refers to the growing demand of the girls for professional training and advocates that better facilities be given for them to study law and medicine. She even considers whether it would not be wise to offer the opportunity for the girls to combine a college and professional course in six years as is now done at Columbia in the law, medicine, graduate engineering, and other schools of the university. The report in part follows:

"The second year of the experimental three-year period during which the fraternity chapters are not allowed to elect new members has passed without any very definite development in our system of social organizations. Contrary to the expectation of the Faculty, no new organizations have grown up to take the place of the fraternities; nor has there been any notable increase of interest and activity in the departmental clubs and other existing organizations. The omission of fraternity elections has brought a welcome relief from the agitations of 'rushing' and 'pledge day' and from some undesirable forms of college gossip.

"On the other hand, the lack of some such social organization makes close acquaintance between students in the different classes far less frequent, and results in fewer opportunities for informal social intercourse and the formation of intimate and congenial friendships. An administrative officer notices also some lack of that beneficial influence of older students on younger ones and that aid in the development of a sound public opinion in the college which the fraternities sometimes felt the responsibility of contributing.

Must Be a Student Work.

"The problem of developing helpful social organizations must, of course, rest primarily in the hands of the students. Anything artificially fostered from without the student body is doomed to failure. It is to be hoped that within the next few years the undergraduates may develop some generally acceptable system of organization which will bring to the members of the college those beneficial and educative opportunities for social life that it is not altogether easy for a non-residential institution to give to its students.

"Beside the college curriculum we have been considering the problem of entrance requirements and examinations. One of the most unsatisfactory points in the education of girls today is the so-called 'articulation' between the college and the private school curriculum. According to the arrangement generally in use, a private school pupil is obliged to decide, at the age of 14 or 15, whether she is going to college or not. If she plans to go she is put into the college preparatory course of the school, as distinguished from the general course, and for several years receives special training in practically all her subjects, to fit her for the college entrance examinations. As it happens, many girls are totally unable to decide at such an early age for or against college. In New York City family prejudice very often prevents their planning definitely for a higher education. Frequently their parents are unwilling to tolerate even the slightest inconvenience of having them wait for the board examinations several weeks after the private schools have closed.

Regret Non-Preparation.

"The result is that many excellent and ambitious students at the end of their school course, or within a few years after graduation, suddenly desiring to go to college, bitterly regret that they are not prepared, but rarely have the courage to go back and undergo the special training necessary for passing the entrance examinations. It seems obvious that some attempt should be made to adjust the college entrance requirements and the private school curriculum so that any good student, on graduating from a first rate school, will automatically be prepared for college—at least, in the great majority of her subjects—and may enter if she desires, then or a year or two later, as she prefers. The making up of the few subjects which she may lack will not be difficult.

"To achieve this, it will be necessary to have practically all the good pupils take college entrance examinations at the end of the last two or three years of their school course, irrespective of whether they have planned to go to college or not. These tests should not, therefore, be such as to require peculiar 'cramming,' but should be, if possible, fair measures of good, general courses in the subjects in question, suitable for a 'non-college' as well as a 'college preparatory' pupil. How do the present entrance examinations meet this need? What adjustment, if any, would have to be made in the subject matter and the quality of our tests, as well as in the curricula of the private schools, to bring about this better articulation?"

The experiment was tried out in a private school. The report of the dean on this experiment is to this effect:

Every Pupil Ready for College.

"The experiment seems to show that it is practicable, in a good private school for girls, to have every pupil of high grade, before her graduation, secure credit in college entrance examinations for at least the great majority of subjects required for admission, and to have her do this without being registered in a special college preparatory course, or sacrificing the cultural subjects desirable for pupils who do not intend to go on with higher education. Should some such system of examination be adopted in all private schools for girls, it might aid in raising the general standard of work, and help, to some extent at least, to secure better articulation between school and college. The question of prescribed Latin will present difficulties in many schools, but even this is not insuperable.

"Another important question is being brought before the college by the increasing demand of our students for professional training in fields other than teaching, especially law and medicine, and for an arrangement like the 'combined course' in Columbia College, permitting them to begin their professional work during their last year of candidacy for the bachelor's degree. We have already, in a few special cases, granted to students permission to count the first year of the Cornell Medical School as their senior year at Barnard and Journalism degrees. Whether the college desires to adopt, as a general policy, the principle of the 'combined course,' is evidently a question which our faculty will have to consider with great care in the near future. Whether this policy be adopted or no, however, it is obviously desirable that we should seek to obtain for our students or graduates, as soon as it may be practicable, better opportunities for professional training, especially in law and medicine, than are now available for women in New York City."

MAY BE SING SING INQUIRY.

Grand Jury to Hear "Judge" Willet, Who Was Assaulted by Convict.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 30.—District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks had a long conference with William Willet, "Judge" of the Sing Sing Prison Mutual Welfare League, in his office at White Plains today, but it was not learned what Willet told him.

Willet was brought from Sing Sing to the White Plains Jail on Friday night on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Justice Morschauser of the Supreme Court. The writ was issued so that there would be no friction between Warden Osborne and the District Attorney regarding the right to lock the convict in the White Plains Jail as long as he desires to have him near his office.

It is said that Willet may be kept at White Plains until the November Grand Jury is sworn.

It is said that Willet brought records of the court proceedings he had charge of in the prison, describing assaults committed by convicts on each other. He will also tell of the lack of discipline when he was hit over the head with a stool, when a convict objected to a sentence he pronounced.

A.J.C.

Natural Silver Natural Cross and Natural Blue Fox

OUR collection of Natural Silver, Natural Cross and Natural Blue Fox Skins, from lowest to highest grades, is more complete than ever, and at prices to suit discriminating buyers.

Two Skins constitute a Set—and can be had from $75 up.

A. Jaeckel & Co
Furriers
384 Fifth Avenue,

Telephone, Greeley—2044. Bet. 35th and 36th Sts.

Leonard's

Extraordinary Sale

Our Entirely New Showing of Exclusive Women's Apparel will be offered at unusually moderate prices

Fine Velvet Dresses	$37.50 up
Georgette & Velvet Trimmed Dresses	$37.50 up
Evening Gowns	$28.50 up
Silk Dresses	$16.50 up

Also Coats, Suits and Other Apparel for Milady's Wardrobe in Great Variety.

Discriminating women will find here styles and prices to please them.

Visit our shop NOW—while the showing is most complete.

24 West 39th St. Off Fifth Ave.

"—that afternoon I sang "Annie Laurie"—not with my own voice, but with my own feeling!"

AEOLIAN-VOCALION MODEL K $300

THE AEOLIAN-VOCALION

"THE PHONOGRAPH OF RICHER TONE THAT YOU CAN PLAY"

Other beautiful cabinet models from $75 upwards.

Payments as low as $5 monthly.

Also a group of magnificent art cases in Classic Designs.

EXCLUSIVE FEATURES

That make the Aeolian-Vocalion musically and artistically pre-eminent.

The Sound Box, which embodies new scientific discoveries. It produces a richer, deeper tone than any other phonograph possesses.

The Symphonetic Horn—acoustically perfect in design and material. It eliminates all phonograph stridency and preserves the beautiful tonal characteristics of all instruments and voices.

The New Automatic Stop. With two simple movements it "sets" a record to stop where desired and also starts it playing.

The Revolutionary Graduola, which gives you the new phonograph privilege of expression control—lets you play the phonograph, in fact. This is a wonderful added feature to what other phonographs give, but you only need use it when you want to.

I HAD stopped for a moment in a beautiful music wareroom—and on my journey to the door I paused.

Some one was singing "Annie Laurie" behind me, so sweetly, so touchingly, that I turned. I was listening not to the human voice as I had thought, but to the Aeolian-Vocalion, the new and greater phonograph which I had never heard till then.

That was a wonderful moment for me! I was listening to a song whose depth of emotional appeal depends on the delivery of every tonal shade. And yet each tone was sounding so beautifully and with such a delicate significance, for all its richened quality, that the tears came to my eyes!

So I found myself sitting before this newest type of phonograph, and the salesman was asking me, "Would you not like to sing that song yourself?"

I merely stared, for how could I sing it—I who have no voice but merely a deep feeling and love for beautiful music? He smiled and passed me what he called the Graduola—a seemingly simple device operated by the fingers. He showed me how, with a graduated pressure upon it, I could fairly melt the tones away to an extremity of plaintive sweetness, or swell them forth so that they reflected every deep emotion this tender old song roused within me.

That afternoon I sang "Annie Laurie," not with my own voice but with my own feeling—through the Graduola device which has revolutionized the phonograph.

That musical experience I will never forget. I never had one like it, and though I never expected to buy a phonograph, yet I did buy the Vocalion—so infinitely more wonderful than any phonograph I have ever heard. For no phonograph but the Vocalion enables you to play the phonograph yourself, and so to become—far more than a mere listener—a sharer in music.

Of course, the Vocalion plays itself, exactly as do the older fashioned phonographs, though with far richer and fuller tones. Neither will it vary a record in any way, unless you wish it to. The self-expression device is simply an added privilege which, when you exercise it, adds immeasurably to the interest of the phonograph.

We invite you to hear this and other models of the Aeolian-Vocalion irrespective of any question of buying.

THE AEOLIAN COMPANY
AEOLIAN HALL, 29 WEST 42ND STREET, BETWEEN 5TH AND 6TH AVENUES
Makers of the famous Pianola—Largest Manufacturers of Musical Instruments in the World

Copyright, 1915, The Aeolian Company

MILITIA BACKS UP NEW ARMY PROGRAM

National Guard Boards, in Conference with Garrison, Indorse His Plans.

EXPECT TO GET HELP

Propose Legislation to Increase the Efficiency of the State Soldiery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Support of the National Guardsmen of the country for the Administration's defense plans, including the formation of a Continental Army, was assured today at the conclusion of a two-day conference between Secretary Garrison and members of the Executive Committee of the National Guard Association and the National Militia Board. Some opposition to the Continental Army scheme developed yesterday when the conference began, but Secretary Garrison was successful in convincing the guardsmen of the wisdom of the plan, and also that no steps would be spared to promote the interests of the National Guard because of the new program.

General Foster of the Florida National Guard, Chairman of the Executive Committee, issued the following statement:

"The meetings were held for the purpose of considering the attitude of the War Department with relation to measures which had been proposed for improving the efficiency of the militia. In the course of the consideration of these matters there naturally came up for discussion the larger and broader question of a general military policy for national defense, which has so recently been brought to public attention by announcements from the White House and War Department upon this subject. The features of the plan which the Secretary of War has approved were fully discussed and in practically every essential detail. The militia officers expressed great satisfaction that this plan does not minimize the importance of the organized militia, but recommends increased militia appropriations.

"The report of the Executive Committee, which has been prepared here and which will be submitted to the convention of the National Guard Association, which meets in San Francisco Nov. 9 to 11, will recite in detail the history of the suggested militia legislation, and will outline the general military policy which the Secretary of War now proposes. It concludes with a recommendation that the National Guard Association address its best efforts to securing the introduction in and passage by the next Congress of a bill to improve the efficiency of the militia and embodying the principle of Federal compensation for militia service, this having been agreed upon by all military authorities as necessary to enable this branch of the service to realize the standards which are now prescribed for it by law, and to perfect and improve a branch of the service the value of which as a national military asset is not disputed.

"The National Guard officers' meeting here felt that they could not, in their representative capacity, give expression with regard to all of the proposals embraced in the plan of the Secretary of War until after such plan has been fully considered by the organizations they represent, but from individual expressions it may safely be assumed that the sentiment of the National Guard will be favorable to the recommendations of the Secretary with regard to a necessary increase in the standing army and also to his proposal for the formation of a force of citizen soldiery which has been referred to as a Continental Army, and which it is proposed to organize under the Constitutional provision guaranteeing the Federal Government authority to raise and maintain armies."

SUIT OVER MISS FISH'S DOGS

Man Who Leased House to Her Says They Scratched Furniture.

Daniel H. Morgan, who owns much real estate in this city, leased his home at 132 East Seventy-first Street to Miss Janet Fish, daughter of Hamilton Fish and a niece of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish. The lease carried with it all the furniture and other fixtures, and was to run for five months, beginning the 1st of last December. Yesterday Mr. Morgan filed papers in the Supreme Court in a suit against Miss Fish for $3,037 for damage which he accuses her of having done to his property. Mr. Morgan said that Miss Fish had moved into his home several of her blooded dogs, and that these animals, being permitted to run at large from basement to attic, had wrought certain damage that Miss Fish had declined to pay for.

Mr. Morgan also complained that a clause in the lease forbidding dogs upon the premises had been willfully violated and that Miss Fish's pets had scratched and otherwise injured his house and furniture. Some of the scratches, Mr. Morgan said, were made on the face of an antique bureau, which Miss Fish tried to mend by an application of shellac. Mr. Morgan shuddered when he saw this. Incidentally Mr. Morgan complained about certain odors that had made dwelling in his home very objectionable to any one who did not love dogs.

N. Y. U. COUNCIL ELECTS.

James Boyd, Alumni Association's Head, Made Member.

The Council of New York University at its annual meeting last week, according to a statement made public yesterday, elected one new member, re-elected four members for the coming year, and confirmed forty-five academic degrees, as conferred Oct. 1. The single vacancy was filled by the election of James Boyd, President of the New York University Alumni Association, and the Council members chosen again were Dr. George Alexander, President of the Council; Dr. Willis Fletcher Johnson, Dr. Robert Mackenzie, William S. Opdyke, Thomas E. Greacen, Clarence H. Kelsey, William H. Porter, and Scott Foster.

Officers for the year were chosen as follows: Dr. Alexander, President; Eugene Stevenson, Vice President; George A. Strong, Secretary; William M. Kingsley, Treasurer.

The confirmation of the degrees follows: Master of Arts, J. W. Draper and A. K. Snyder; Master of Science, Miss O. M. Buch and A. E. Roberts; Doctor of Philosophy, Tsuneta Takehara; Doctor of Medicine, A. S. Gray, M. L. Janoff, and P. L. Minnin-Berg; Juris Doctor, T. J. Conroy, Jr., A. A. Friedlander, C. J. Herold, and E. A. B. Spencer; Bachelor of Laws, M. L. Blek, A. M. Bloch, Max Bolit, G. L. Cohen, S. E. Cornelius, N. B. Cornell, N. D. Di Sesa, Frank Dlouhy, Jr., Miss Margaret Douglas, L. J. Fine, A. A. Friedlander, A. F. Gibbons, Edward Gordon, H. B. Hurd, M. D. Jabloner, Adolph Kappus, Jr., F. M. J. McGoldrick, J. T. McNaler, S. W. Majewski, T. M. Mintz, Benjamin Nebenzahl, E. L. Orvis, J. D. Ouchterloney, Miss Eva Phillips, E. H. Reichman, W. C. B. Schlesinger, J. H. Schwartz, Morris Simon, T. J. McGuire, Joseph Petehesky, and S. E. Scher; Bachelor of Arts, Miss Gladys Crowell; Bachelor of Science, B. B. Goodinan, Miss Edith Toole, Miss Ella Schermerhorn, and Miss D. A. Wynne.

OVERFLOW AT UNIVERSITY.

New York Lacks Room to Provide for Its 6,000 Students.

New York University is contending with the problem of accommodating its 6,000 students who have enrolled this year. It was found necessary last week to shut down on the registration in the School of Commerce at Washington Square, where 2,736 students are enrolled, and where the classrooms are crowded to overflowing. Registration was closed three weeks earlier than the usual time.

The university has transfered some of the classes of the School of Commerce to the Judson Memorial Hall and to the Government House in Ninth Street, while a four-story building directly opposite the Washington Square building also has been leased for classroom and administrative purposes.

RICH MAN IN DERELICT ROLE.

Stephen B. Trask of Bowery Lodgings Sought In Court.

Justice Erlanger of the Supreme Court signed an order yesterday permitting the service of notice by publication on Stephen B. Trask that application was to be made for the appointment of a new Trustee for an estate in which Mr. Trask is interested. The application filed by Warren W. Foster told the story of an odd old man whose wealth may aggregate as much as $300,000 and whose ways of living resembled those of the derelicts found on the lower east side.

The petition set forth that Mr. Trask had not been seen by any of his old friends since May 5 when he called on Collins & Rowe, real estate dealers at 243 Elizabeth Street, for money due him from the Weeks estate, in which he has some interest. Mr. Trask led a strange life. He lived mainly at such places as the Puritan and Palmer lodging houses in the Bowery and had as his cronies men who lived in similar places from need and not from choice. On Oct. 24, 1911, he and his wife agreed to separate. He was to support his wife and their three children, Stephanie, Pauline, and Eleanor, out of the income of three estates in which he held an interest. Mrs. Trask led her life and Mr. Trask led his in vastly different manners.

Mr. Trask on Dec. 7, 1912, sold an interest in the estate of Stephen E. Burdette for $19,500. He made an agreement with his wife by which he was to share with her 40 per cent. of the income of this money and their three daughters were to each receive 20 per cent of it. The Trustee was Mr Trask's brother Nathaniel, who died last April, and it was decided to name Jacob Newman as a Trustee in his place. But this cannot be done without Mr. Trask's consent, and a search has been made for him.

JUDGE'S AUTO KILLS CHILD.

Seabury's Car Runs Down the Helpful Daughter of a Widow.

Bessie Douglass, 12 years old, of 402 East Thirty-second Street, was crossing First Avenue, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second Streets, last evening and was killed by a seven-passenger touring car owned by Judge Samuel Seabury of the Court of Appeals. Judge Seabury was not in the car at the time.

The automobile, on its way to the Judge's home at 8 West Tenth Street, hurled her several feet. The chauffeur, Sanford J. Clemans of 32 West Ninety-eighth Street, stopped his machine and, with the aid of Charles Edelmann of 421 East Eighty-first Street, lifted the unconscious child into the car. She had suffered lacerations of the scalp and a compound fracture of the skull. The chauffeur hurried with her to Bellevue Hospital, but upon their arrival Dr. Reid pronounced her dead.

ROUND UP GAMBLERS IN MIDNIGHT RAIDS

100 Detectives, Under Costigan, Invade Ten Houses and Arrest the Proprietors.

ONE A THIEVES' RESORT.

Establishment Maintained an Appraiser to Extend Credit on Loot Brought in by Crooks.

Simultaneous raids were made at 1 o'clock this morning by 100 detectives, separated into squads but all working under the direction of Lieutenant Dan Costigan, on ten places in widely separated parts of the city and said by the police to be gambling houses. Games were in progress in all the places, and in most of the houses the police caught men whom they accused of being the owners.

The raids were the result of more than six weeks of work by Costigan's men, and warrants had been issued for more than a score of prisoners. In practically every place the detectives had to break in the doors, and in every instance they caught the gamblers unprepared and by surprise.

One of the biggest places raided, to which twenty-five detectives were sent, was at 203 East Fifteenth Street, in the two floors above the street of a three-story building. In each floor, according to the detectives, a crap game was in progress, and there were more than 150 men in the place.

According to Sergeant Horton, the gambling house was unusual in that it was the resort of thieves and, after the raid the detectives, all of whom wore black masks, lined the inmates against the walls and went among them picking out pickpockets, thieves, and strong-arm men.

Detectives who had got the evidence against this place said that a man known as "Baldy" was in constant attendance and appraised any pieces of loot which the gambling thieves might have to offer when they had encountered a streak of poor luck and lost their cash. On the word from "Baldy," said the detectives, watches, rings or any kind of jewelry would be passed in to the banker and a check for their value handed to the player. Occasionally the players won, but more often they left their cash and their loot behind them.

According to the detectives, the place was practically the only gambling house they had ever entered where such practices were followed, and they said they expected to get evidence on the robbery against many men who played there.

"Boob" Walker, who came into notoriety through mention in the case arising from the murder of Herman Rosenthal by Lieutenant Charles Becker, was said to be one of the proprietors of this place, but he was not there last night and was not arrested elsewhere.

There was a panic among the players when the detectives broke in the doors, but there were policemen in the yard, on the roof and in front of the house. Every means of exit was guarded, and not a man escaped.

Other places raided were in West 113th Street, West Fifty-first Street, Spring Street, Lexington Avenue, and Fortieth Street, near Sixth Avenue. Lieutenant Costigan rushed from one to another in an automobile examining the prisoners and directing his men.

It was the first sensational raid of raids on gambling houses which has been made in this city since the days of Lieutenant Becker's activity, and because of the absence of police interference gambling had been resumed on a more open scale than had obtained before the shooting of Rosenthal. According to Lieutenant Costigan his men had no trouble in entering any of the places and played in them frequently before asking for the warrants on which the raids were made.

Early this morning Costigan and his men were still rounding up prisoners, and it was not expected that the raiders would get all their men to Police Headquarters much before breakfast time.

While Costigan's men were at work a squad under Sergeant Donnolly of Third Deputy Police Commissioner Dunham's staff raided a gambling house in the rear of a barber shop at 636 Sixth Avenue and took three prisoners from among thirty men.

Detective Reith and three others went to the Garden Restaurant at Fiftieth Street and Seventh Avenue, ordered everyone out and arrested George Wilson, the manager, charging him with maintaining a disorderly resort.

All Broadway and Seventh Avenue, from Forty-second Street to Columbus Circle, was excited by the raid on the restaurant, and crowds gathered to watch the throng driven from the Garden. The gamblers hurried away, however and it was said there were to be no other raids in the neighborhood.

Minister Einstein in Sofia.

SOFIA, Friday, Oct. 29.—Lewis Einstein, the first American Minister credited solely to Bulgaria, presented his credentials today.

WOULDN'T PROTEST TO CHINA

Japan Asked Us to Join in Representations Against Monarchy.

PEKING, Oct. 30.—The Japanese Government on Oct. 16 communicated to the Entente powers and the United States a request that they act with it in attempting to bring about postponement of a change in the form of the Chinese Government. The United States and France abstained from participation in the steps taken at Peking by Japan, Great Britain, and Russia.

This phase of the situation is causing much speculation among Chinese officials, some of whom express the belief that France and the United States are not willing to follow Japanese leadership in Oriental politics.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Secretary of State Lansing today declined to discuss the nature of Japan's request that the United States support a general representation to China advising against any change in her form of Government at this time.

It is known that the Japanese Ambassador here recently took up the situation informally with Mr. Lansing. The American Government, it is understood, took the position that it could not express any views on the subject, because to do so might be construed as an interference in the internal affairs of a sovereign State.

No notes on the subject, however, are understood to have been exchanged, and the attitude of the American Government will continue, to be one of an interested observer. So far as can be gathered, sentiment has not crystallized here on the question whether the change from a republic to a monarchy would be advisable, but the natural sympathy is in favor of the republican form. It is realized, however, that many advantages would accrue from a nationalization of the Chinese people through a parliamentary monarchy.

The problem, it is felt, is one that China should be left to work out for herself.

MEMORIAL TO R. C. OGDEN.

Ex-President Taft Signs a Circular Inviting Subscriptions.

Ex-President Taft has signed a circular inviting subscriptions to a fund to erect a memorial to Robert C. Ogden, founder of the Southern Education Board. Mr. Ogden was a trustee of the Hampton Institute, and was President of its board for twenty years. It is proposed to raise $100,000 for a memorial auditorium in that institution. In the circular signed by Mr. Taft inviting subscriptions he says:

"The Southern Education Board was constituted under his (Mr. Ogden's) leadership. Its work marked a new epoch of national progress. It brought together men and women of the North and South able to further greatly the improvement, development, and progress of Southern schools, white, as well as black, to the former in even a larger measure than the latter."

The officers of the committee in charge of the fund are W. H. Taft, President; Edwin A. Alderman, Ellen F. Mason, William Jay Schieffelin, Mrs. John Markoe, and George Foster Peabody. The Treasurer is Clarence H. Kelsey, Treasurer, and Sydney Dodd Frissell, at 330 Fifth Avenue, Secretary.

50,000 MEALS FOR $10,000.

Practical Philanthropy at St. George's Church Lunchroom.

The St. George's Church lunchroom for women at 73 Third Avenue last year disposed of 50,000 meals at a cost to patrons of $10,000, and after all payments the balance sheet shows a profit of about $600.

The lunchroom, which is not a charity, is an effort of practical philanthropy and much appreciated by women workers in the neighborhood. Patrons of the room help themselves to viands in cafeteria style, and a volunteer committee of the women of St. George's Church attends to clearing tables and working at the service tables and cashier's desk. The surroundings are attractive, and cards, flowers, and valentines are distributed to the girls when occasion offers. A clubroom where the patrons may receive men callers also is provided.

Although the price of all dishes, meat excepted, does not exceed 5 cents, the lunchroom is conducted on a business basis. The patrons spend on an average of 20 cents for their meals.

SCHWAB LOSES STEEL FIGHT

Cambria Steel Company Outbids Him for Pennsylvania Stock.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Henry Tatnall, Vice President in charge of finance of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, today confirmed the report that William H. Donner, President of the Cambria Steel Company, had exercised his option to purchase from the Pennsylvania Company one-half of its holdings of the common and preferred stock of the Pennsylvania Steel Company.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Donner has been seeking to obtain a controlling interest in the Pennsylvania Steel Company. Charles M. Schwab, President of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, has been after the Pennsylvania Steel property, but was outbid by the Donner interests.

An announcement that Mr. Donner will also obtain the Reading Iron Company's interest in Pennsylvania is expected soon. The Reading Iron Company is controlled by the Reading Company, the holding corporation of the various Reading Railway coal and iron properties.

NAGEL DEFENDS GERMAN-AMERICANS

Would Fight For United States Even Against Fatherland, ex-Secretary Declares.

FINDS NEUTRALITY BROKEN

Government Changed Loan, but Not Munitions Policy — Predicts Plain Talk in Congress.

Charles Nagel, of St. Louis, ex-Secretary of Commerce and Labor, speaking at the anniversary meeting of the German University League, in the Waldorf-Astoria last night, talked of the neutrality of the United States in the present European conflict. He did not hesitate to imply that the neutrality of the Government at Washington was one-sided, and he deplored an attempt which he said was being made in this country to test one's patriotism by one's attitude toward England; Mr. Nagel termed it "an avowed purpose." He warmly defended the German-American citizen and declared that if ever the United States went to war, even with Germany, the German-Americans would stand by the Government at Washington.

The meeting was held in the Astor Gallery, and was largely attended, nearly every man present being a graduate of some one of the great German universities. Professor W. R. Shepherd of the Historical Department of Columbia University, presided and made a speech—in each instance a strong pro-German one—before introducing each of the speakers, of whom there were three. Besides Mr. Nagel, the speakers were Professor Moritz G. Bonn of the University of Munich, who is the German Exchange Professor at Cornell University, and Professor E. F. Henderson, the historian, who has written two histories of Germany.

"When I think," said Professor Henderson, "of what our country could gain by a clear comprehension, by a frank and generous recognition of all that Germany has done for civilization, and by a fervent study of her methods, and an adaptation of them to our needs, instead of by a blind unreasoning hostility as bitter as that of the Jacobins to the aristocrats in the French revolution, I feel like going on my knees and praying to God, 'Father forgive them for they know not what they do!'"

Dr. Bonn said that peace was not far away, but he did not go into details, nor did he give any authority for the statement.

Mr. Nagel was the last speaker. He said that his attitude in the present world crisis had been not to stir up but to allay trouble. If the United States was not careful, he said, after peace was restored this country would live for the next quarter of a century on the edge of a discord that we ourselves had created. He referred to the statement often uttered that the time had come when those who were for America should say so. There was no sense or occasion for that remark, he said.

Speaking of hyphenation, Mr. Nagel said it was unsafe to have political organizations in this country based upon any distinction of nationality. Hyphenation, he said, meant nothing at all. If it be used as a descriptive term it is acceptable, he said, but if it is used to express dual allegiance it should be resented as untrue.

On the matter of ammunition sales to the Allies, the speaker said that he did not deny the right of the munition makers to make those sales. The Government, he said, had ruled that it would be unneutral to stop those sales during the period of this war. If it was unneutral to change the Governmental attitude with respect to arms and ammunition, he asked, why was it neutral to change the policy with reference to loans to belligerents and permit the huge huge loan to France and England?

"We are, in my opinion," said Mr. Nagel, "unneutral to one of the nations engaged in this war."

When Congress meets, he said, there will be Congressmen who will have opinions on the matters in issue and who will not hesitate to express them.

FEARS FOR 'SONNY' SHEPARD

Foster Mother Leaves Him at Home Lest Cranks Be Abroad.

Mrs. Finley J. Shepard gave a reception yesterday afternoon in a big tent at her home in Irvington to the mothers of the children's sewing school. She had intended to have Sonny with her and to introduce him to the mothers, but was persuaded not to do so by one of the teachers for fear of some crank.

About 400 parents and children were present at the reception. Mrs. Shepard presented fourteen graduates with diplomas, and afterward there were folk dances and refreshments.

SENTIMENT FOR ROOT STRONG IN MINNESOTA

Movement Already Started to Obtain State Delegation for ex-Senator's Candidacy.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Minnesota, the first State to hold a Presidential preference primary, has accepted the candidacy of Elihu Root for the Republican nomination seriously, so seriously, in fact, that a movement is already on foot to give him the Minnesota delegation. Root's name is being put forward as the one man with whom the Republicans have a chance to win.

Edward E. Smith of Minneapolis, formerly Lieutenant Governor and State Chairman, who is regarded as the strongest individual leader in the State, has openly declared himself in favor of Root. This means that the friends of ex-Governor Eberhart, now a candidate for the United States Senate, will, in all probability, be for the former New York Senator.

Opposed to this movement is the candidacy of Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, who is putting an organization into Minnesota. Senator Cummins has recently declared that he purposes resting his case on the result in Minnesota, stating that if he cannot win there he cannot win at all.

The State primary is to be held early in March. As it will be the first primary, its result is expected to have a national significance and explains why Senator Cummins places so much stress on the Minnesota result.

The Iowa Senator has been looking over the State for several weeks and has also been arranging for organizations in Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Washington, Oregon, and possibly in Montana. His friends believe the results in these States will depend very largely on the outcome of the Minnesota primary.

Minnesota in the past has been an enthusiastic Roosevelt State. While the Colonel carried the State in the last Presidential election, P. V. Collins, the Bull Moose candidate for Governor, received only a few thousand votes, indicating that the Roosevelt vote was personal to the candidate. Since then the Bull Moose organization has disintegrated, and men like Senator Moses E. Clapp will fight for re-election on the Republican ticket and Thomas D. Schall, he blind Congressman elected from Minnesota on the Bull Moose ticket, will do the same thing.

Unless Senator Root should stop the use of his name, the fight in Minnesota will be between Root and Cummins, barring still another possibility—namely, the entrance into the fight of Theodore Roosevelt.

WOMAN'S $1,456 RECOVERED

Owner Who Threw It Overboard Under Observation at Ellis Island.

The name of the woman passenger who threw a package of Norwegian money worth $1,456 into the water on Friday morning from the steamer Kristianfjord at the foot of Forty-fifth Street, South Brooklyn, on which she arrived from Bergen, according to the immigration authorities, is Mrs. Marie Andersen, 50 years old. She is now in the observation ward of the medical division in the hospital on Ellis Island, suffering from mental trouble.

Mrs. Andersen told the immigration officials that she had thrown the money overboard because she was going back to Norway and did not need it.

Detectives William Lohman and Thomas Hylands of the Sixth Branch Detective Bureau, who were assigned to the case, reported yesterday that the owner of the green motor boat who was seen to fish the package out of the water was Richard Gallagher, a junk dealer of 756 Third Avenue, Brooklyn. In restoring it to the detectives, Gallagher said that he had intended to carry it to Police Headquarters in Brooklyn that morning if it had not been called for by the officers. They believe him, as Gallagher has the reputation along the water front of being an honest junkman.

HARD TO GET TO FAR EAST.

Winter Tourist Travel Embarrassed by Pacific Mail's Withdrawal.

On account of the withdrawal of the five Pacific Mail steamships, Mongolia, Manchuria, Korea, Siberia, and China, from the service between San Francisco and the Far East, tourist agents in New York are experiencing great difficulty in getting accommodation for their clients who wish to go to the Far East for the Winter.

The four big Empress liners of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Line, in service from Vancouver to Japan and China, have been chartered by the British Admiralty and converted into auxiliary cruisers.

This leaves the passenger and mail service to Japan, China, and Manila entirely in the hands of the Japanese companies, of which the Toyo Kisen Kaisha is a leader. Three of the company's steamers, the Chiyo Maru, Tenyo Maru, and Shinyo Maru, are 22,000 gross tonnage and equipped with triple turbines, which give them a speed of twenty-two and a half knots.

All first cabin berths have been booked up until the sailing of the Chiyo Maru on Dec. 18, and it is expected that the Toyo Kisen Kaisha will raise the passenger rates to Japan, China, and Manila, as it has done with the freight rates since the competition of the Pacific Mail Company has been withdrawn.

$7,750,000 GOLD ARRIVES.

Canada Is Expected to Send $25,000,000 More This Week.

To the stream of gold which has been coming from the Bank of England to this city in payment for munitions manufactured in this country, $7,750,000 was added yesterday.

Five automobile vans of the American Express Company drove up in front of the Assay Office in Wall Street and unloaded 200 cases containing gold worth $5,000,000, sent from Halifax. Later in the afternoon 110 cases, containing about $2,750,000, were delivered at the Assay Office for the account of the Guaranty Trust Company.

It is expected that between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 more in gold will be received from Canada this week to be placed to the account of J. P. Morgan & Co.

"77"

Humphreys' Seventy-seven For Grip, Influenza,

COLDS

Exact Dosage.

Six pellets every half hour until relieved; then at intervals of an hour until the Cold is broken.

To get the best results, take "Seventy-seven" at the very beginning of a Cold.

If you wait until you begin to cough and sneeze, it may take longer.

A small vial of pleasant pellets, fits the vest pocket.

25c. and $1.00, at all druggists or mailed.

Humphreys' Homeo. Medicine Co., 156 William Street, New York.

FOR EXPORT

COKE
PIG IRON COAL

Debevoise-Anderson Company,
56 Liberty St., New York, N. Y.

PARK and TILFORD

The finest COFFEES At unequaled Prices

	per lb.
MARACAIBO Special selection	.19
PLAZA A superior blend of selected coffees	.22
FAVORITA Our famous blend. Superior in quality to coffees usually sold at 35c. per tin	.28
JAVA AND MOCHA Finest quality	.38

TEAS

of fragrance and fine flavor at most attractive prices

India and Ceylon, per lb. pkg.		.50	.60
	½ lb. pkg.	.28	.35
Orange Pekoe Ceylon,
	Per lb. Pkg.	.50	.60
	½ lb. Pkg.	.28	.35
English Breakfast,
	Per lb. Pkg.	.60	.75
	½ lb. Pkg.	.33	.40
Formosa Oolong,
	Per lb. Pkg.	.50	.75
	½ lb. Pkg.	.28	.40

FRUITS IN CANS	No. 2½ cans doz.	each
Vendome Brand;
Apricots	1.50	.13
Greengages	1.40	.12
Peaches, Yellow Cling	1.60	.14
Del Monte Brand;
Apricots	1.90	.16
Egg Plums	1.60	.14
Greengages	1.60	.14
Peaches, Yellow Cling	1.85	.16
Peaches, Sliced	2.00	.18
Pears, Bartlett	2.40	.21
	No. 3 cans
Golden Gate Packing Co.;	doz.	each
Apricots	2.60	.22
Cherries, White	3.65	.32
Egg Plums	2.30	.20
Greengages	2.30	.20
Peaches, Yellow Cling	2.85	.25
Pears	3.00	.26

PINEAPPLE, etc.	Extra
Sliced Pineapple, Paradise Island Brand No. 2½ cans	dos.	each 1.90 .16
Raspberries, Flag Brand, Extra Quality, No. 2 cans	2.50	.22
Strawberries, Flag Brand, Extra Quality, No. 2 cans	2.50	.22

JAMS	1 lb. Jars dos.	each
Keiller's Raspberry	3.60	.30
Keiller's Strawberry	3.60	.30
Chivers & Sons:—
Black Currant	2.75	.25
Raspberry	2.75	.25
Raspberry and Red Currant	2.75	.25
Strawberry	2.75	.25
Oneida Community Co.—
Blackberry, Spiced	2.90	.25
Black Currant	2.90	.25
Greengage	2.90	.25
Raspberry	2.90	.25
Strawberry	2.90	.25

ORANGE MARMALADE

Keiller's, 1 lb. Jars 2.50 .25

HONEY	dos.	each
Comb Honey, Glass Front Boxes		.20
Pure Clover Strained, Miss North's, 11 oz. bots.	3.75	.32
Pure Strained, Park's, 16 oz. bots.	3.50	.30

MAPLE SYRUP, Vermont	each
Pint bottles	.27
Quart bottles	.50
½ gal. cans	.70

FLOUR—Pancake	package
Aunt Jemima's	.08
"Flapjack" Mixture Old Homestead, 24 ozs.	.09

FRESH FRUITS
Oranges, California, per doz.	.60 &	.85
Grape Fruit, Porto Rico	.15 &	.18

Fancy Baskets of the Finest Fruits obtainable $2.75 and up; also all fresh fruit sold by the dozen or pound.

CHAMPAGNES	12 bottles case	bot.
Pommery, Sec.	38.40	3.30
Brut	39.00	3.45
Moet & Chandon White Seal
Very Dry	38.90	3.35
Imperial Crown Brut	43.90	3.75
Pol Roger, Dry Special,	38.40	3.30
Brut, 1904	39.90	3.45
Roederer, Grand Vin Sec.	37.65	3.25
Brut, 1906	39.65	3.40
Krug, Private Cuvee	37.40	3.25

½ bots., $2.00 per case additional.

CLARET WINES—Imported	12 bottles case	bot.
St. Laurent, P. & T.	5.25	.50
Medoc, P. & T.	6.00	.55
Floriac, B. & G.	6.75	.60
Pauillac, B. & G.	7.25	.65
St. Julien, B. & G.	7.75	.70
Pontet Canet, B. & G.	12.00	1.10

WHITE WINES—Imported	12 bottles case	bot.
Haut Sauternes, P. & T.	6.25	.60
Sauternes, B. & G.	7.75	.70
Barsac, B. & G.	8.75	.80
Vin de Graves, B. & G.	9.00	.80
Haut Sauternes, B. & G.	15.25	1.35

½ bots. $1.00 per case additional

War stamps included in above wine prices.

Deliveries by our own autos daily in Westchester as far as Tarrytown, White Plains and Portchester. On Long Island, deliveries twice weekly as far as Oyster Bay, Hempstead and Wheatley Hills.

STORES IN NEW YORK

Fifth Avenue and 26th Street
Madison Ave. and 58th Street
Madison Ave. and 76th Street
Broadway and 41st Street
Broadway and 87th Street
Broadway and 101st Street
Broadway and 112th Street
Broadway and 146th Street
Columbus Ave. 72nd Street
Lenox Ave. and 126th Street

Send for complete catalog to 529-549 West 42nd Street, New York

A Sale of Fine Willow Furniture

WITH a view to making new friends for our Willow Furniture — than which none better is made—we will place on special sale, tomorrow and following days, a number of excellent pieces at extremely low prices—

Willow Chairs at $5 to $12

Regularly $6.50 to $15.00

Prices include Cushions covered with an excellent quality of chintz—your own choice from a wide range of artistic patterns and colorings.

$3.50 Flower Baskets at $2.50

In addition to the above, we offer at very attractive prices a great variety of Willow Chairs, Settees, Tables, Tea Wagons, Bird Cages and other articles suitable for year-round use.

OPEN ALL DAY TUESDAY.

GUSTAV STICKLEY'S CRAFTSMAN SHOPS

Distinctive Furniture, Draperies and Rugs
Gifts ~ Practical and Useful

6 EAST 39TH STREET ~ ~ NEW YORK CITY

WORKSHOPS: EASTWOOD, N.Y.

"GET THE HABIT." GO TO BRILL BROTHERS. "GET THE HABIT."

Great Election Day Sale of Winter Overcoats

FOR MEN, YOUNG MEN AND YOUTHS—MONDAY AND TUESDAY

$15.00 & $18.00 Overcoats and Balmacaans At $10.45

Heavy, medium and lightweight Coats, lined and unlined, patch pockets or flap, and either form-fitting or loose back, in plain blacks, Oxfords, and hundreds of smart Scotch mixtures, brown overplaids, gray mixtures, brown mixtures, green plaids and green mixtures—in numerous lengths and models and both single and double-breasted. The greatest Overcoat Value we have ever offered at this low price—$10.45.

$14.45

For $20, $22.50 and $25 Coats

Nothing in New York can compare with them for downright goodness and worth. Fabrics and design ordinarily found at higher prices only. Heavy knit Fabrics, Chinchillas, Kerseys, Woolyheads, Scotch Mixtures, Cheviots, and Meltons, grays, browns, blues and tans—patch pocket and flap pocket Coats with silk or satin yokes and sleeve linings; plaid back Coats and Coats with velvet or self collars and in many models and lengths.

$19.45

For $25, $28 and $30 Coats

The very pick of the smartest Overcoats that this season offers; perfect fitting, splendidly made, finely finished and superbly styled, an actual saving of from $5.55 to $10.55 on any coat you select. Included are Fancy Double-breasted coats with velvet collars; Smart, fine-fitting single-breasted coats, Balmacaans with patch pockets and velvet collars, Chinchilla Coats, in blue and gray, black and Oxford Kerseys, Irish Friezes and Ulsters. Any one of them now $19.45.

Brill Brothers

279 Broadway, near Chambers Street
Union Square, 14th Street, near Broadway
47 Cortlandt Street, near Greenwich Street
125th Street, Corner Third Avenue—Open Evenings
And Our New Store in Brooklyn on Flatbush Avenue at Fulton Street

"GET THE HABIT." GO TO BRILL BROTHERS. "GET THE HABIT."

C. G. Gunther's Sons

Established 1820

Fur Sets

For Immediate Delivery

Blue Fox	Chinchilla
Silver Fox	Hudson Seal
White Fox	Ermine
Cross Fox	Moire Persian
Kitt Fox	Leopard
Black Fox	Baum Marten
Taupe Fox	Skunk
Natural Fisher	Fitch
Black Lynx	Mole
Raccoon	Russian Sable

In the newest Models

Also in many artistic combinations

C.G. GUNTHER'S SONS 391 FIFTH AVENUE, NY.

BERGDORF GOODMAN
616 FIFTH AVENUE

Announce they have a special group of stunning models ready for immediate delivery

Afternoon & Evening Gowns
Evening Wraps & Coats
Tailored Suits
Fur Coats

NEW HAVEN ATTACK TO CONTINUE 10 DAYS

Counsel for the Government Expect Their Side to be in by Middle of the Month.

JURY MAY GET CASE SOON

Charles S. Mellen to Return to Stand When Documentary Evidence Will Play Minor Part.

Counsel for the Government after going over the evidence already put in at the trial of the eleven Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company before Judge Hunt in the Federal District Court, on the charge of having violated the Sherman law, came to the conclusion yesterday that it ought not to take more than ten court days to introduce the remainder of their testimony. There will be only three sessions of the court this week. This means that the Government will probably rest about the middle of the month.

So far it has had practically but one witness on the stand, Charles S. Mellen, but as the period concerning which he testified was that when he was a subordinate official of the New Haven, he has not been able to speak of his own personal knowledge of the transactions on which the Government relied. Consequently it has been necessary to put in documentary evidence in great volume.

When Mr. Mellen returns to the stand he will be asked about the doings of the New Haven while he was President. Documents will be used merely to illustrate what he says. In the same way the other Government witnesses will also, it is hoped, be able to sum up quickly a number of steps, to prove which by documents would be tedious.

It is understood that the defense will not dispute the history that the Government has outlined, but will fight the complexion put upon it. It will argue that the mergers and combinations that the New Haven Directors made, if they were technically violations of the law, were for the advantage of the people of New England. To show this, it is understood the defense has got together large quantities of statistics, and these it intends to fire at the jury, already hard put to it to remember all the complications of the New Haven's story. It was thought likely yesterday that the case would be ready for the jury early in December.

Charles C. Goodrich, General Manager of the Hartford & New York Transportation Company, will continue his evidence when the trial is resumed on Wednesday. The story of how he lost control of the steamboat line, with which his family had been associated for years, fits in with the attempt of Charles W. Morse to monopolize the water traffic from New England ports.

The transportation company was started in the days of small things, when the New Haven itself was a little concern. It built up a comfortable business and seemed to fill a real economic need, and Mr. Goodrich became known throughout the Connecticut River Valley, which his company served.

Gradually, however, the New Haven began to expand and to go into the steamboat business itself. It acquired the Old Colony Steamboat Company, the Providence & Stonington Steamship Company, and the Norwich & New York Transportation Company, and it became clear to Mr. Goodrich that no longer could the railroad company be considered merely as railway. He realized that he was dependent on it for his connections by which he carried on his business, and he saw that he must make terms with it. So in 1901 he concluded the agreement by which he was permitted still to earn as much as he had been doing, but he was shut off from making more than in the past or from entering into any alliance with competitors of the New Haven.

This seemed to protect him, even if he had given up his independence, but a few years later, when Mr. Morse appeared on the scene and began to establish his control over the Atlantic coastwise shipping, as Mr. Goodrich admitted on the stand, he became apprehensive. There was a prospect of a fight between the New Haven and the Morse shipping interests, which in the end resulted in Mr. Morse making an offer to buy out all the railroad's steamboat lines for $20,000,000, and it looked as if the Hartford & New York Transportation Company might be crushed between the two great rivals. So when the New Haven suggested buying out Mr. Goodrich he assented and exchanged his steamboat stock for New Haven shares. He was continued as General Manager on salary, and for a time seemed to have made a good bargain, but today the New Haven shares are paying nothing, and all his capital is invested in them. He has lost the steamboat company he once owned, and has merely his general managership left.

FENCE FALLS ON PASSERSBY

Mother and Her Two Babies Are Victims of a Gust of Wind.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson of 222 East Sixty-fifth Street was wheeling a baby carriage, containing her two infant children, after a visit to friends in East Thirty-eighth Street last evening. When in front of 305 East Thirty-eighth Street a section of wooden fence 12 feet high and 25 feet long was blown over by the wind, pinning the three to the ground. She crawled out and obtained the assistance of several men, including Patrolman Carroll of the East Thirty-fifth Street Station, in raising the fence and extricating the children. The three were attended at a near-by drug store for bruises on heads and bodies. The carriage was demolished.

ADVERTISEMENT.

HORSES IN WAR TIME.

OUR DUMB FRIENDS LEAGUE

(A Society for the encouragement of kindness to Animals.)

President:
The Rt. Hon. the Earl of LONSDALE.

BLUE CROSS FUND

(The Original Fund for Helping Horses in War.)
President:
Lady SMITH-DORRIEN.
Chairman:
Sir ERNEST FLOWER.

AN APPEAL.

I'm only a cavalry charger,
And I'm dying as fast as I can
(For my body is riddled with bullets—
They've potted both me and my man);
And though I've no words to express it,
I'm trying this message to tell
To kind folks who work for the Red Cross—
Oh, please help the Blue ones as well!

My master was one in a thousand,
And I loved him with all this poor heart
(For horses are built just like humans,
Be kind to them—they'll do their part);
So please send out help for our wounded,
And give us a word in your prayers—
This isn't so strange as you'd fancy,
The Russians do it in theirs.

I'm only a cavalry charger,
And my eyes are becomin' quite dim
(I really don't mind, though I'm "done for,"
So long as I'm goink to Him);
But first I would plead for my comrades,
Who're dying and suffering, too—
Oh, please help the poor wounded horses;
I'm sure that you would—if you knew.
SCOTS GREYS.

HELP THE
BLUE CROSS HOSPITALS IN FRANCE.
THE BLUE CROSS HOSPITALS IN ITALY, AND TO SUPPLY HORSE COMFORTS for
HOME AND EXPEDITIONARY FORCES.

Donations to: ARTHUR J. COKE,
Secretary,
68, Victoria-street,
London, England.

LOST FIREMAN RETURNS.

Wandered to Boston While Suffering from Injury to His Head.

John M. Downs, 30 years old, of 719 Burke Street, Williamsbridge, a city fireman attached to Engine 41, in Van Nest, who disappeared last Saturday when on the way to Fire Headquarters in uniform, returned from Boston early yesterday morning, accompanied by a fireman from that city.

Downs was unable to tell anything regarding his wanderings. On Oct. 21, while attending a drill at the school of instruction, Downs fell heavily on his head. He was taken to Flower Hospital, where he remained for several hours and was then taken home. He reported for duty the following morning, although his wife protested that he was ill. On Saturday morning he left his company's house to go to Fire Headquarters, but did not report there or go home. His wife notified the police and a general alarm was sent out.

In Boston yesterday a man saw Downs wandering aimlessly and asked him if he was hungry. Downs replied that he was, and the man took him to a restaurant and then notified the police. When searched his fire shield was found and the Boston Fire Department communicated with the New York Department.

MAYOR FOR NIGHT SCHOOLS

In Letter to Pupil Says They Shall Be Kept Open.

Jack Abrams, a pupil in the Washington Heights Evening High School, wrote to Mayor Mitchel protesting against the proposed closing of the evening high schools. The Mayor in reply told him that the evening schools were not going to be closed. After detailing the efforts made to keep the schools open and the difficulty of finding sufficient money, the Mayor said:

"You must not believe all the lies that are told by those who wish to deceive the people about the attitude of the Mayor and members of the Board of Estimate in this matter. I am just as much interested in the schools as is the Board of Education. Whatever money is necessary to keep up the schools at an adequate standard of service will be given by the Board of Estimate. We do not intend, however, to let the people's money be squandered, not even by the Board of Education. We therefore expect that board to prove that it needs any money that it asks for. Whenever it proves that it really needs more money to keep up the schools it will get it."

LAMAR'S APPEAL DISMISSED

"Wolf of Wall Street" Pins Hope on the Supreme Court.

The appeal of David Lamar, the so-called "Wolf of Wall Street," to the Circuit Court of Appeals, from the penitentiary sentence passed upon him in the Federal District Court on the charge of having impersonated Government officials to defraud J. P. Morgan & Co. and the United States Steel Corporation, was dismissed yesterday.

Lamar appealed both to the United States Supreme Court and the Circuit Court of Appeals, and when the latter court heard of the appeal to Washington it gave the appellant ten days to decide with which he would elect to proceed. As Lamar took no action in the matter, the Circuit Court decided that the Supreme Court had the prior jurisdiction and dismissed the appeal to itself.

The ground of the appeal is that the Government could not contend that the Congressmen and Senators whom Lamar impersonated were Government employes or officers within the meaning of the statute. They are, it is contended, only representatives of the States or districts which have elected them. Lamar is now out on bail.

DRIVERS IGNORE SAFETY.

Long Island Railroad Reports Many Violations of Crossing Rule.

J. A. McCrea, general manager of the Long Island Railroad, made public yesterday a statement which shows that in the past month twenty-three persons, operating automobiles and other vehicles, violated the railroad's order to stop at grade crossings.

That only three people were injured in these twenty-three instances of careless and reckless driving, Mr. McCrea indicates, was due partly to the vigilance of motormen, engineers, and crossing watchmen, but he attributes immunity from serious or fatal accidents in most cases largely to good luck.

Twelve automobiles, five motor trucks, five wagons, and one motor cycle, make up the list of conveyances that were driven across the tracks without regard either for the safety of human lives or the preservation of property. Twelve of these vehicles, mostly automobiles, plunged wildly through lowered crossing gates, breaking eight of them. Four traffic signposts, on crossings, were also damaged and a number of lanterns or lamps were demolished.

MISSION FUND COMPLETED.

Episcopalians Give More Than $400,000 for Emergency Money.

The Episcopal Board of Missions announced yesterday that the $400,000 Emergency Fund was completed, and that an additional $28,000 had been received. This will allow the board to raise its reserve fund up to full strength, and also meet all current obligations.

The fund was obtained by the giving of "one day's income" by Episcopalians throughout the country, in addition to their usual missionary gifts. Pennsylvania led with more than $93,000 contributed. New York gave more than ,000, and the missionary districts of Japan and China nearly $3,000. The largest single gift, $50,000, came from Pennsylvania. The next largest was $25,000, and the amounts contributed ran as low as 1 per cent.

The Church gave for its regular annual budget, including legacies and all other sources, more than $1,740,000. The record in donations to its home and foreign mission work is the best that the Episcopal Church ever has made.

THE Du Barry SHOP

2nd Floor
2 Elevators
No Heavy Ground Floor Rentals—The Savings Go to YOU.

392 FIFTH AVE., COR. 36TH ST.

CLEARANCE SALE

MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY

EVERY (Sale Opens Monday, 6:30 A. M.)

TRIMMED HAT

IN THE HOUSE—WITHOUT RESERVE:

3.75 & 5.00

The Most EXTRAORDINARY Values EVER Offered

ASSERTS SISTER GOT A MURDER DISGUISE

Relative Has Mrs. Mary Walker Committed to Bellevue for Observation.

ACCUSED A NORWALK MAN

Prisoner Planned to Attend Party as Indian Squaw and Kill Him, It Is Alleged.

Dressed as an Indian squaw in doe skins, leather leggins, and a wig of straight black hair, Mrs. Mary Walker, a handsome woman of thirty-five years, had intended to steal quietly away from a Halloween masquerade party in Norwalk, Conn., last night, with a rifle concealed beneath her Indian robes, and end the life of William N. Craw, whom she believed to be responsible for all of her unhappiness. She was prevented from doing so by the watchfulness of her sister, Mrs. Tilley Simms, with whom she lives at 389 Edgecombe Avenue, and Mrs. Elizabeth Parker of Bridgeport, Conn., who aided to frustrate the plot. Mrs. Walker is now in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital under observation.

According to the story told by Mrs. Simms, Mrs Walker left her husband, Arthur Walker, three years ago. She held Mr. Craw, a Norwalk manufacturer 55 years old, responsible for the disagreement with her husband, asserting that he had circulated untrue tales about her. Last March she was arrested for threatening his life, but was discharged. Yet, according to her sister, she continued to nurse a grievance against and had been muttering threats against Mr. Craw.

An automatic revolver was received at the Simms house by express last week. A letter accompanied it, which Mrs. Simms read. The letter said that the revolver was shipped in accordance with instructions given by Mrs. Walker, who had bought it in New York and ordered it delivered to a friend in Pittsburgh to be sent back here. When Mrs. Simms demanded her sister to explain, Mrs. Walker broke down and confessed that she had meant to use it to shoot Mr. Craw.

"I am invited to a Halloween masquerade at Norwalk Saturday," she said, "and I am going to dress as an Indian squaw. I shall go to Norwalk Saturday at 3 o'clock. When I have dressed and gone to the hall in disguise I shall slip away and go to his home and shoot him before his wife and children and then shoot myself. I am too unhappy to live any longer, and he does not deserve to live after what he has said of me."

The revolver was confiscated by Mrs. Simms. But yesterday she discovered that Mrs. Walker had bought a rifle. Mrs. Simms at once notified her friend, Mrs. Parker, at Bridgeport, who, after warning Mr. Craw, came to New York on Friday afternoon, and with Mrs. Simms got a warrant from Magistrate Barlow in the Yorkville Court. Detective Donlin arrested Mrs. Walker in a millinery shop at 516 Fifth Avenue late Friday afternoon. When the police at the West Thirtieth Street station disregarded her plea that she meant only to frighten Mr. Craw, she became hysterical and was sent to Bellevue.

It was said at Norwalk last night that Mr. Craw had refused to pay her attention.

R. B. WARD'S WILL FILED.

Founder of Baking Company Believed to Have Left $3,000,000.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The will of Robert Boyd Ward, founder of the Ward Baking Company, who died at his country home on Quaker Ridge Road, New Rochelle, on Oct. 18, has been filed. The estate is believed to be worth between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000. The transfer tax affidavit simply says that the value of the real and personal property is "above $5,000."

The testator gives his widow, Mary C. Ward, one-half of the estate, and leaves three thirty-seconds of the remainder to her in trust for the "purpose of distributing the same as soon as it properly may be done in such proportions as she shall think proper among public, religious, benevolent, charitable, and educational institutions which she shall select." Mr. Ward had given freely to charity, and even maintained a home for poor children near his country estate.

The remainder of the estate is divided among four sons and five daughters, but he directs his executors to "divide the same in such manner that each of my daughters who shall be unmarried at the time of my death" shall receive double the amount given to my other children."

The executors named are the widow and the sons, Charles A., Howard B., and William B. Ward.

PATIENT TO WED HIS NURSE,

Benjamin Lenihan Finds a Romance in Appendicitis.

Benjamin Lenihan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lenihan of Alburtus Avenue and Sackett Street, Corona, Queens Borough, lost his appendix but won a bride at St. Catharine's Hospital in Brooklyn, which he has just left.

Stricken with acute appendicitis about three weeks ago, Lenihan, who is 24 years old, was hurried to the hospital, where the appendix was removed. Miss Irene Corrigan, a hospital nurse, whose home is in Hancock Street, Brooklyn, was assigned to his case. First admiring her professional skill, the patient later fell in love with her.

It is announced that the wedding will take place in the Christmas holidays. Miss Corrigan will leave the hospital.

MASKED IN SING SING SUIT.

Boy's Halloween Prank Takes Him Before Welfare League Court.

Special to The New York Times.

OSSINING, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Sing Sing was alarmed tonight when a telephone call notified Warden Thomas Mott Osborne that an inmate had escaped and had been seen about the village. The Warden called out the Welfare League guards, and within ten minutes Louis Minker, 18 years old, of Ossining, was found masquerading in a full prison uniform.

Minker was celebrating Halloween, and was taken to the prison, where the Warden met him. He tried to explain that he was only having fun, but the Warden told him that he was wearing State property, and asked him if he cared to stand trial before the Welfare League Court or take another penalty. With the vision of a prison cell before him, Minker chose to face the court, which was quickly convened.

He confessed that he had found the clothes, which were ragged and had been discarded, and admitted his guilt. The Chief Judge of the court consulted with his four assistants and announced that the prisoner was convicted. Minker again saw visions of a cell, but the Judge gave him a severe lecture and remanded him to the Warden's Court, which consists of Thomas Mott Osborne.

When the prisoner was brought before him the Warden gave him a mild talking to, explaining the seriousness of his offense, and when Minker pleaded for mercy freed him.

SCHOOLSHIP EXERCISES.

Newport Held by Panama Slide, Commencement Is Held Here.

On account of the New York Nautical School ship Newport being detained at Balboa by the slide in the Panama Canal the forty-three members of the graduating class were examined on the ship before they left for New York on the steamship Panama and the thirty-sixth commencement exercises and entertainment were held yesterday afternoon in the New York Maritime Exchange, 80 Broad Street.

Commodore J. W. Miller, Chairman of the Board of Governors, presided and presented the diplomas. About 250 persons attended the exercises, including Dr. J. H. Finley, Commissioner of Education; Captain Joseph W. Proctor, President of the New York Marine Society, who delivered a brief address to the graduates; President J. P. Morrell of the Maritime Association of New York; Frederick B. Dalzell, and many others.

The marine and engineering superintendents of all the principal American steamship lines attended the exercises and promised to give the forty-three graduates opportunities on their vessels when vacancies occurred.

No Change in Canal Rates.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Announcement was made by the War Department today that no change will be made from the $3 flat rate for freight transfer across the Isthmus of Panama by railroad on account of the closing of the canal. It had been proposed to discontinue the flat rate and charge class rates, but this is not now considered wise, and class rates will not be charged.

HAROLD BAUER'S RECITAL.

Artistic Pleasure Given by His Playing in Aeolian Hall.

An unusual and deep artistic pleasure was given by Harold Bauer's pianoforte recital yesterday afternoon in Aeolian Hall. The audience was large and of such knowledge and cultivation as to appreciate fully the beauty and rare quality of the performance offered by Mr. Bauer. It was a program and a performance for music lovers, by an artist wholly centred on the music, and it had none of the conventional features that are found convenient and profitable by virtuosos. Mr. Bauer began with Brahm's F minor sonata, of which he gave an extraordinary performance, one of great breadth and profound poetic insight, as splendid and sonorous in its larger proportions as it was delicately finished and expressive in detail. Mr. Bauer finds much in the work which many pianists have not found. One of the most notable features of this performance, and a notable feature of all his playing yesterday, was the extraordinary variety and beauty of the color and quality of his tone upon the instrument, and the subtle variations and differences of his dynamics. He obtained beautiful effects continually through such means, yet they seemed not to exist for their own sake, but were put at the service of a profound and deeply studied scheme of interpretation.

Several pianists of recent years have played publicly Schumann's "Scenes from Childhood," little pieces that are easy enough for well-taught children to play, and that yet seem rather about children than for them. The grace, delicacy, humor, and fancy of Mr. Bauer's playing transfigured them. So, too, did his playing of four of Bach's "Inventions," also easy pieces, and intended by their composer for the instruction of youth, not merely in performance upon the keyed instruments of the times, but also, as he quaintly propounds in his title page, in stimulating the musical fancy and taste. What their potentialities are in this direction Mr. Bauer set forth entrancingly.

His only Chopin number was the "Polonaise Fantaisie," a piece generally avoided by pianists, but offering large opportunities to one who will make himself master of its many moods and find, as he did, a true expression for them. César Franck's "Prelude, Aria and Finale" he played with great breadth and imaginative power, in a manner to sustain the listener's interest throughout the rather long development of the composer's ideas. The ideas are lofty, the treatment rich, imaginative, and singularly resourceful, and Mr. Bauer approached the piece with obvious enthusiasm and devotion. The three pieces by Debussy, with which he closed, he flooded with an iridescent and changing play of tonal color and marked them with a subtle and clearly outlined analysis of their complex rhythmic structure.

Big Profits for French Cable.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The great number of cable dispatches exchanged between France and the United States by reason of the war has increased by more than sevenfold the profits of the French Cable Company available for dividends on the stock. Figures for 1914 show that 2,855,420 francs ($571,084) remained for the stockholders after meeting other charges, compared with 399,562 francs in the preceding year. The dividend has been increased four francs a share.

PRESIDENT HERE THURSDAY

To Address Manhattan Club—Wedding Date Has Not Been Set.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Wilson will go to New York next Thursday to make an address before the Manhattan Club. Mrs. Galt and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Bolling, will go to New York on Monday and await the President's arrival.

The President, Mrs. Galt, Mrs. Bolling, Miss Margaret Wilson, and Colonel E. M. House are expected to make a motor trip to Long Branch on Friday for an inspection of Shadow Lawn, the estate recently taken as a Summer home for the President and his family next season.

At the White House tonight the statement was made that there was no foundation for the published statement to the effect that the wedding of the President and Mrs. Galt would take place Nov. 15. No date had been set for the wedding, according to the statement.

The President and Mrs. Galt, following their usual Saturday custom, made a long motor trip today with Annapolis as their objective point. They arrived at the Maryland capital in time for a 1 o'clock luncheon at Carvel Hall and later spent some time in visiting the Naval Academy. The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels and the Superintendent of the Academy and Mrs. W. E. Eberle were also of the party.

The President and his fiancée were attended as usual by the Secret Service men, who are now on duty constantly.

The gowns Mrs. Galt has ordered from a Connecticut Avenue importer, which already number more than a dozen, are, according to a close friend of the purchaser, to be supplemented by several more in New York, a sapphire velvet gown being one of the costumes particularly desired by the future mistress of the White House, and as yet not obtained.

Mrs. Galt is showing a marked partiality for velvet, both in street and evening gowns. A black velvet dinner gown and a mauve velvet demi-toilette were two Paris models sent from New York for her approval which have been accepted as satisfactory.

Mrs. Galt is inclined to the long, severe lines of the Worth models rather than the more ornate designs of latter-day favorites. She has in the past few days made a complete change in the color scheme of her street dress, having substituted dark-blue serge for the black, white, or gray tailored suits she has worn heretofore. She has also adopted colored millinery. A small black hat on new lines has for its chic trimming upstanding wings of real Autumn-leaf yellow.

Notwithstanding the reputed vogue of "Bolling green," Mrs. Galt has only one green costume in her entire trousseau. This is a semi-tailored suit of dark "hunter's green" broadcloth.

In the matter of evening wraps Mrs. Galt is allowing herself a great range of color, with two superb mantles of crimson velvet, one plain, one brocaded, and a gold and white brocaded velvet and satin are among those selected.

Suicide After Business Failure.

William Wittigs, a butcher, who had failed in business according to friends, and who lived at 330 East Ninetieth Street, jumped into the East River last evening from the Ferryboat Steinway on the way from Ninety-second Street to Astoria. A boat was lowered for him but Wittigs was not found.

$1,300 IN STAMPS STOLEN.

Collection Taken from a Dealer's Store in Nassau Street.

George R. Tuttle, a postage stamp dealer, who holds auctions for philatelists at 116 Nassau Street, announced to the assembled collectors just before his sale yesterday that more than 150 lots, including nearly all of United States stamps, had been stolen.

The lost stamps were valued, at standard catalogue prices, at more than $1,300, and they would have brought several hundred dollars at the sale. The stamps were in a little book which Mr. Tuttle prepared for the inspection of prospective bidders. A caller spent some time looking over the book a few days ago and after his departure Mr. Tuttle found that the book had also gone. He notified the dealers in the Nassau Street stamp district and a man was arrested last week while endeavoring to sell some of the stamps on the original pages to a dealer in John Street. He gave his name as William Demarest, living in East Fifty-second Street. He was held in bail for trial, but Mr. Tuttle said yesterday he had confessed and would come up for sentence this week. Some of the stamps were recovered, but more than 150 lots have not been recovered. Among the missing lots were some fine specimens of early United States issues, including rare department and revenue stamps.

In the foreign stamps of the sale the highest price obtained was $15.50 for a 6-cent British Columbia, 1865, with large margins, which is valued at $100 in the standard catalogue.

Benefit for Polish War Sufferers.

A benefit organized by the Elinor Comstock Music School in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paderewski, for the relief of the Polish war sufferers, will be held at the Hotel Biltmore on Friday afternoon. The bazaar will include the sale of Mme. Paderewski's celebrated Polish refugee dolls.

CALIFORNIA AVIATOR LEADS.

Oscar A. Brindley Flies 584 Miles for Curtiss Marine Trophy.

Oscar A. Brindley, the California aviator, leads in the contest for the Curtiss marine flying trophy and the $1,000 cash prize with a flight of 554 miles, made yesterday along the Pacific Coast. The previous high record was that of David H. McCulloch of Hammondsport, N. Y., who made 480 miles within the time limit of ten hours.

Brindley was until recently connected with the United States Army Flying Corps at San Diego, Cal., and did not decide to compete until two days ago. His record can only be beaten by an aviator flying the greater part of the ten hours without stops at the rate of a mile a minute, or by flying nine hours with a passenger, which would entitle him to a 5 per cent. allowance on his record.

The contest closes tonight at sunset, and the trophy will not be competed for again until next year.

SISTERHOOD WANTS HELP.

Appeal by Society of Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue.

The Sisterhood of the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue appeals for help to continue activities during the Winter. The neighborhood house is at 70 Orchard Street, at which are held religious services, Talmud Torah schools, advice and information bureau, clubs, classes, and lectures. Relief is given to the poor and probation work is done in connection with the courts.

Rescue and uplift of wayward girls and educating Oriental Jews are also among the activities of the society, of which Mrs. Mortimer M. Menken is President. Other officers include Mrs. H. Pereira Mendes, Mrs. Albert J. Elias, Mrs. L. Napoleon Levy, Mrs. Elias A. De Lima, Mrs. Sidney B. Dazdoz, and Mrs. Edward O. Belais, at 235 West Seventy-sixth Street, Secretary.

L. P. Hollander & Co.

Established 1848

Believe that the woman who is adding to her Winter wardrobe

A Ready-to-Wear Suit

will find in their collection a more careful selection of the latest Paris ideas, both in models and in materials than may be found elsewhere. The values are from

$75.00 to $250.00

They will keep their doors open all day Tuesday, November 2 (Election Day.)

FIFTH AVE., at 46th St.

Don't Shoot!
I'll Confess!

I'm the original "Old Seven, the Baffler."

I represent the 7th Point of excellence in Sterling Gum—the 7 Point Gum.

What? You haven't heard about Sterling Gum? Wait till I tell you!

Six points make Sterling Gum a better chewing gum. But that 7th Point—the point that makes Sterling the best chewing gum—can you tell what that is?

People are looking for it—everywhere. From Sandy Hook to Golden Gate, from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon, good friends are getting acquainted with Sterling Gum. And here's the best part of it all.

They're finding that 7th Sterling Point without knowing it! Right in Sterling Gum itself they're finding it—liking it—coming back for more!

So you, if you haven't chewed Sterling Gum yet—here's the glad word for you:

Study the six everyday Sterling points of superiority below. Then buy a package—either flavor—at any chewing gum dealer's.

Now! You'll enjoy looking for that 7th Point!

Sold by nearly every dealer who handles chewing gum.

Point 1. Crowded with flavor
Point 2. Velvety body—NO GRIT
Point 3. Crumble-proof
Point 4. Sterling purity
Point 5. From a daylight factory
Point 6. Untouched by hands
Point (7) What?

Suitable rewards for the discovery of the 7th Point will be offered later.

The 7-point chewing gum 5¢

Peppermint—In Red Wrapper. Cinnamon—In Blue Wrapper.

The STERLING GUM COMPANY, Inc., Long Island City, Greater New York

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
B. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address: THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...42d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....1 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....263 West 125th Street
Bronx.....2,900 Third Avenue
Brooklyn...Room 905, 367 Fulton Street
Staten Island..38 Stuyv. Pl., N. Brighton
Queens...317 Fulton Street, Jamaica, L. I.
Jersey City.....583 Jersey Avenue
Hoboken.....61 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....50 Broad Street
Washington.....Riggs Building
Philadelphia.....Public Ledger Building
Chicago.....1,202 Tribune Building
Boston.....Water Street, Room 316
St. Louis.....409 Globe-Democrat Building
Detroit.....826 Ford Building
San Francisco.....742 Market Street
London.....Marconi House, Strand, W. C.
Paris.....82 Rue Louis le Grand

ONE CENT New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

	1 Yr.	1 Mo.
DAILY AND SUNDAY	$8.30	$0.75
DAILY, without Sunday	6.00	.50
SUNDAY, with Picture and Magazine Sections and Review of Books	2.50	.25
Binder for Picture Section, $1.75.
Binder for Magazine Section and Review of Books, $1.25.
Canada, Sunday only	5.50	.45
Other countries, postpaid:
Daily and Sunday	24.00	2.00
Daily, without Sunday	15.60	1.30
Sunday only	8.40	.70

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per year, $4; Canada, $4.50; other countries, $5. Binder for 26 issues, (one vol.,) $1.25.

THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, (Weekly,) per year, $1; Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL, (Thursdays,) three months, $1.25; six months, 52.50; one year, $5. Canada, $6; other countries, $6.30. Binder for 52 issues, $1.25. Bound volumes, ten numbers, Cloth, $4.

THE NEW YORK TIMES CURRENT HISTORY, Illustrated Monthly Magazine, three months, 75c. six months, $1.30; one year, $3. Per copy, 25c. Bound volumes, six monthly issues, Cloth, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per copy, $2; per year, $8. Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, OCT. 31, 1915.

THE CONSTITUTION.

The vocal reaction of the electorate to the new Constitution confirms us in the belief that the revising work of the convention was well done, sound, wise, for the good of the State, and that the instrument should be accepted by the voters. "We love him for the enemies he has made," said General Bragg of Mr. Cleveland in his first campaign. We would imply by this citation no reproach upon the gentlemen who for one reason and another have publicly opposed ratification. But they are so various in affiliation and so many of them have become conspicuous chiefly for proposing what sound American common sense has repeatedly rejected, that their criticisms seem somehow to bear testimony to the merit of the revision. Some Progressives, some Single Taxers, some Tammany men, some Independence Leaguers, many Socialists, many office holders, and many unlabeled radicals have spoken against acceptance. We have yet to hear of opposition from that great body of citizens of the State, the immense majority, who are representative of its intelligence, its best judgment, its business interests, its distinction in the professions, its devotion to progress, and its earnest desire to establish and maintain an honest and efficient administration of public affairs. Almost without exception the outspoken opponents of ratification are men known as apostles of the new cults, of the untested theories, of the repudiated nostrums of our recent politics.

The quality of the objections raised ranges from the brazen mendacity of the assertion that the Constitution was made by and for the "interests" through a vista of petty faultfindings to attempts at destructive analyses in which traces of human reason may be discovered. One of the commonest and most catching of the objections is that concerning the provision for preparing the budget. We are told that it places "control of the expenditure of the public moneys in the Governor's hand without providing such appropriate safeguards as everywhere accompany the grant to the Executive of similar powers." That is demonstrably contrary to the fact. The method proposed is sane, rational, and businesslike. It follows the custom of the Federal Government. Instead of leaving the Legislature, without any systematic study of the needs of the various departments, to determine the annual appropriations, which the Governor then after adjournment can modify only by striking out items, it requires the heads of the departments in advance of the legislative session to prepare itemized estimates for each department, and the Governor then, after public hearing, prepares a complete budget of expenditures and estimated revenues. The Governor and the heads of the departments on request of the Legislature must appear before that body to explain their action. The Legislature may reduce or eliminate items, it may not increase any item. It is as plain as daylight that this method of budget making is based upon investigation and information, upon public discussion, for the public has a right to appear at hearings, and those who prepare the budget may be called on to appear and defend their action. It is impossible that this system should not be an improvement upon the present method, which is as unsystematic, as unscientific, and probably as bad as it could be.

The objections to the conservation section have been convincingly met by men who speak with the authority of knowledge and with the qualification of disinterested public spirit. The changes in the judiciary article will simplify and make more sure and prompt the processes of the courts. The amendments to that section alone are a sufficient answer to the charge that the Constitution "is replete with a disregard for the rights and liberties of the wage earner and the common citizen." The apportionment section offers no ground for opposition or even for argument, since it leaves the present constitutional method of apportionment unchanged.

The voters of this State know something about political reform, they have repeatedly shown that they cannot be fooled by the quacks and mountebanks of politics, they will not be fooled by the charge that "the effect of the whole instrument is to reduce to the lowest possible terms "the control of the people of the "State over their own affairs." It is difficult to believe that that objection is honestly made. The people's control over their affairs is made more certain and direct by the shortening of the ballot, enabling them better to acquaint themselves with the merit of the fewer candidates for whom they will vote. The abolition of a vast number of unnecessary bureaus, departments, and offices concentrates responsibility and will enable the people to keep a closer watch upon their servants. The increase in the compensation of members of the Legislature is commendable because it makes it possible to secure the acceptance of nominations by men of higher intelligence and capacity. Money is saved to the taxpayers by providing a remedy for the unconscionable waste of the sinking fund system and by requiring the issue of serial bonds payable in annual installments. A just and reasonable measure of home rule for cities is granted, giving to the cities of the State the exclusive power to manage, regulate, and control their own property and affairs, with such powers reserved to the Legislature as will redress just grievances. The new article relating to taxation provides for equal justice in assessment and collection. The Department of Labor and Industry is made one of the civil departments of the State Government, the workmen's compensation amendment is extended to embrace payment for injury or death resulting from occupational diseases, and power is conferred upon the Legislature to regulate or prohibit manufacturing in tenement houses, which has been an evil from which the wage-earner and the poor were the chief sufferers.

We can understand why the Constitution is opposed by the placemen now filling unnecessary offices—they fear that by the consolidation of departments and bureaus they will lose the salaries they have drawn from the public funds. We can understand why the radical agitators for the establishment of a statutory millennium oppose it—their hare-brained theories were not accepted by the convention. But there is no reason why the great, sane, sensible, intelligent majority of the citizens of the State should not vote "Yes" upon the question of adoption and we have seen no evidence whatever that from that patriotic and controlling body opposition will be forthcoming. It is a Constitution for all the people, it is a better Constitution than the existing instrument, it should be adopted.

PROPOSITION NO. 1.

The last of the three questions on the "Questions Submitted Ballot" which will be handed to the voter on Tuesday is labeled "Proposition No. 1" and reads as follows:

> Shall Chapter 570 of the Laws of 1915, entitled "An act making provision for issuing bonds to the amount "of not to exceed $27,000,000, in addition to bonds heretofore authorized "by the provisions of Chapter 147 of "the Laws of 1903, for the improvement of the Erie Canal, the Oswego "Canal, and the Champlain Canal, "and providing for a submission of "the same to the people, to be voted "upon at the general election to be "held in the year 1915," be approved?

The Barge Canal is nine-tenths finished, and $10,000,000 is needed to complete it. The other $17,000,000 is needed to pay awards for damages and to make good to the general fund money already spent for construction. Proposition No. 1 is that bonds shall be issued for the amount needed.

It is needless to point out what a shortsighted act it would be for the people to leave the canal, so nearly finished, in an incomplete state. There may be voters who would prefer to leave it unfinished rather than to have the State pay any more money. But the State will have to pay the $17,000,000 whether this bond issue is authorized or not. The difference is that if the economical voter defeats the bond issue on Tuesday he will have to pay his share of a direct tax to raise the money.

The $17,000,000 for damages must be paid. The only question is whether it shall be paid by a bond issue or by a direct tax. If the bond issue is defeated on Tuesday the Legislature will have to include the $17,000,000 in the tax levy. Those who want an unfinished canal and a tax of $17,000,000 will vote "No" on Proposition No. 1. Those who want to see the remaining one-tenth of the canal completed and who would rather have the awards paid by a bond issue than have a tax imposed to pay them will vote "Yes."

AMERICANS ALL.

We shall hear less in the future of the division and compartmenting of Americans by races. The hyphen has been brought into disrepute, every day it is being made more odious. The President sounded the high and clear note of Americanism, one and undivided, in his talk to the Daughters of the American Revolution the other day. To the "first voters," newly naturalized citizens who will vote for the first time on Tuesday, who were assembled at the Adolph Lewisohn Stadium on Friday evening, Mayor Mitchel said that those who took the oath of citizenship should become "up-"hyphenated and unhesitating Amer-"icans." Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, at the dinner given to Felix M. Warburg, President of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, on Thursday evening, laid down the sound and true principle:

> Young men, I say to you, it's a parting of the ways. We Jews have to choose whether we want to be Jewish-Americans or American Jews; and God forbid that we permit a hyphen to be placed between Jew and America. God forbid that it be said that the Jews form a group by themselves. We want to be united as Jews, but by our religion only.

In our politics, in all acts whose consequences have a bearing upon public affairs, there should be but one body of citizenship. Inevitably there will be division, but it should be only as to public policy, differences of conviction and principle, not according to difference of races. Organization by races in our politics is demonstrably unnecessary. There is not the remotest danger of any legislation adverse to the interests of Jews, of Germans, of Irishmen, of Frenchmen, of Scandinavians, as races, and they have no right to ask for legislation favoring them as races. This is the country of equal laws. When that principle is stated the hyphen loses its reason for existence. But political organization or propaganda by racial classes is an evil. By such practices, by thinking and acting as races, the primary obligation of citizenship fails of full observance, men become less American. The vice of a divided allegiance, fatal to patriotism, creeps in, and the loyalty to class almost inevitably is put above the loyalty to country. The President was right, the Mayor is right, Mr. Schiff is right—it is time to make an end of the hyphen.

WHAT NOW IS HAPPENING IN GERMANY?

Within the German Empire there are signs and portents that recall vividly the first mutterings of the storm that broke upon France as the Revolution. We are told that the supply of food in Germany is abundant, yet the Chancellor under authority given him has just fixed the price at which potatoes may be sold by the producer and by the marketman. There is enough to spare of everything, yet the prices of the commonest commodities are under Government control. Nobody goes hungry, but the people have been warned that they must not carry their clamor for butter and table supplies to the point of breaking the grocer's windows, and the severe penalties imposed upon rioters have been officially called to their attention. The last issue of Imperial bonds was so successful that there was general jubilation, but Imperial bonds are paid for in paper, since the people long ago surrendered practically all the gold in their possession to the Imperial Bank. By this process of bond issue the Government can be kept in paper funds indefinitely, but in spite of price regulation the discount upon the paper currency will increase. One measure of the discount was the very disquieting increase in prices of commodities.

But most significant of all is the outspoken declaration of the Berliner Tageblatt that the people through their representatives must have something to say about the terms of peace. We reprint the extract from the article published by the Tageblatt as presented in our special Berlin cable dispatches yesterday morning:

> The German people still seem far away from peace. Still less is it possible to see today in what form peace will come. For this and other reasons, therefore, in discussing the question of what responsible factors will have to work together in the re-establishment of the peace of the nations, everything must be left out that concerns the possible terms of the coming peace.
>
> Nevertheless, against the influences that seek to sidetrack the Reichstag one must maintain the ground with utmost emphasis that among the factors that will figure in the peace negotiations the Reichstag must not be passed over, nor even reduced to second place. Just as it would be impossible to shove to one side the right of the Kaiser and his responsible advisers is it necessary in this particular case to make no decision that would mean the relegation of the federated States into the background.
>
> Moreover, the German people, who have had to bear the immense burdens of this war, have more than a merely written right to throw the whole weight of their will into the scales through their chosen representatives on the occasion of making peace.
>
> This is a challenge to Imperial authority in its very seat. The Reichstag is not to be sidetracked any more than the Kaiser and his advisers are to be shoved aside. And Prussia is not to dominate the peace negotiations. The other States of the Imperial Federation will not be forced into the background. Is not this an uncommonly plain averment that Germany has other interests than the Hohenzollern interests?
>
> "The German people," says the Tageblatt, "have had to bear the immense burdens of this war." The French people under the Old Régime bore grievous burdens, the burden of distressing privation, of pitiful want, they were starving, they literally ate husks. But the people of one part of the kingdom did not know that the people in the other parts were suffering. The whole people were aroused to the consciousness of the general distress by the summoning of the States General. Then the Revolution was inevitable. There are intimations from Germany that the Germans do not actually know how the war is going. One great victory after another has been announced to them for fifteen months. Now we are told they are wondering why the Allies after so many crushing defeats are able to keep the field. They wonder why England, France, and Russia do not sue for peace. Utterances like that which the Tageblatt has the boldness to print must enlighten them. They will come to understand that in all its great military undertakings so far Germany has been baffled. They may be cheered by early successes in the Balkan campaign, but that is by no means decided. If Russia sends masses of troops to Bulgaria and if Rumania takes up arms with the Allies the iron band may again be welded about Germany. At no distant day the German people must certainly find out the truth.
>
> And all the time "the immense burdens of this war" grow heavier upon their shoulders. Every day actual privation comes nearer. The repeated rumors originating in Germany about peace proposals are significant, but most significant of all, because it brings into view possible fundamental changes in the Empire, is the Tageblatt's warning that the representatives of the people in the federated States must have voice and attention when the decision is taken about peace.

POETRY AND BUSINESS.

Suppose free silver were "the paramount issue" again. The sufferings of humanity crucified on a Cross of Gold, the oppression of the poor, the nefarious practices of the Money Power, all the sentimental bosh poured out by Mr. Bryan in 1896 is repeated. We know what danger there was in the tendency of too great a part of the electorate to treat a sober question of financial policy and political economy as a moral, emotional, and humanitarian question. Would this tendency, only too visible, not be increased by adding to the electorate numbers of women voters, habitually inclined to look at events and measures in a tender, poetical, sentimental way?

Take the Furuseth-La Follette seaman's law. Is it the gross injury to the American merchant marine or "the wrongs of the poor sailors" that would the more impress the ordinary feminine temperament? This kindness of heart, this gentleness of feeling, is most honorable to women. In legislation, in public life, there must be calm judgment, weighing of the facts, consideration of the major interests involved, not dwelling on the emotional facet of a specious minor, sentimental side issue. Will the public business, badly enough carried on as it is, be carried on better with the aid of unpracticed female voters, who have everything to learn, who have small inclination and at present perhaps small ability to master or comprehend the great practical questions, of trade, revenue, taxation, shipping, commerce, banking, finance, manufactures, that for some years must engage the deepest attention of Americans?

There is the instant, inescapable task of providing the United States with adequate military and naval defense. Of what help to perform it is a whole class exempt from army, navy, and posse comitatus, a class, in its natural and praiseworthy ardor for peace, prone to regard with suspicion increases of the army and navy, liable to be enticed by the spineless program of pacifists and peace-at-any-price advocates?

Parades and demonstrations and suffrage theatre parties and what not: there is no end of favor and of prettiness in the suffrage campaign. But not for favor and for prettiness, not because some or many women want to vote, not to relieve an "oppression" that is imaginary or serve a theoretical "equality," should or will the ballot be given to women now. Now, of all times, is the worst for their "emancipation." They do not, as a rule, understand business. They have had no training and are not known, as a class, to have any present fitness for public business. And the core and heart of the public business of the United States is now matters of business, hard, forbidding, difficult matters which women are not now, or soon likely to be, qualified to dispose of.

GROWTH OF THE MOVIES.

What of the movies? There has been a great deal of controversy about them lately from various points of view, artistic, moral, and commercial. A theatre manager has said that they will destroy the drama within ten years. Others have proclaimed that they blunt the artistic sense and retard aesthetic development, and there is a more reasonable complaint that some of the picture shows deal with violence and crime and have a debasing moral tendency. This last complaint, however, is restricted to a kind which is least likely to endure. We do not believe that the newly created movie public has an inherent liking for this kind. As for the complaint on behalf of the theatre, or, to speak more accurately, the drama, it has been made as ineffectually against the motor car and the game of golf. That in the drama which is fit to endure will not be injured by the competition of picture shows. They are not essentially dramatic. The element of suspense, of course, is not absent in a well-contrived movie, but you cannot interpret Sophocles or Shakespeare with the camera, and, after all, we doubt if the real stars of the movies are the actors of the dramatic stage who have been temporarily enticed into them by huge cash payments for their services and the use of their advertised names. The genuine movie actor seems to have been born to that particular calling. It is a new form of art, and let us admit freely that it is art as often as the stage play of this era is art.

But the movie needs no defense. While we are by no means sure that a large proportion of the millions who find so much of their entertainment in the movies and so much of their instruction, too—for the educational side of the pictures is not to be ignored—would go to the theatre if there were no movies, it is true that large numbers of people of good mental equipment derive real enjoyment from the clear, varied, and fascinating succession of pictures on the screen. The tendency to depict the ways of criminals and the perpetration of crimes of violence will pass away. It is characteristic of a habit of the hour, and it has been persisted in, probably, because of the pride the movie makers take in their knowledge that they can do such things so well. It is tolerably certain that the purely spectacular stage play has a strong and effective rival in the more lifelike and beautiful moving picture. That should be a wholesome influence in dramatic reform. What we look for in the drama is acting, not pictures. When the art of color photography is so far advanced that the movies may present scenes of life in all the colors of life the manufactured crime spectacle will not long survive.

No more stirring and powerful analysis of the Cavell case has been made than that by James M. Beck which appears in The Times Sunday Magazine today. But its chief value is that, despite the emphasis it lays on the phase of the case recognized everywhere as most important—the horror of killing a woman for an admitted offense which fell short of espionage or high treason—it searches keenly into phases hitherto not so well recognized. The secret trial, concerning which we have only the testimony of Miss Cavell's Judges, has left the world in ignorance of all they did not choose to tell us. This eminent lawyer examines what clues and shreds of evidence we have, holds the microscope over the contradictory and inadequate attempts of Germany at justification, and at the end there is a pale ray of light let into that blackness which leaves the reader with the feeling that the judicial murder of Edith Cavell was even a grimmer deed than the world yet knows.

In the list which The Times gave yesterday of Aldermen indorsed by the Citizens Union the name of Alderman William H. Chorosh of the Thirty-third Manhattan District was inadvertently omitted. The Citizens Union describes Mr. Chorosh as "one of the most able and energetic members," and says that he "rendered valuable assistance in codification of ordinances "and other important legislation," and has a "good record of votes." It has sent into his district an appeal for his re-election, saying that the public interest demands it.

ART NOTES.

American Art Association Sales—Brooklyn Museum's Exhibit.

The American Art Association makes announcement of its forthcoming sales for the early weeks of the season. The first will take place Nov. 15 and 16, and will consist of old and modern laces, antique fans, &c. On Nov. 17 the antique silver belonging to George Osborne Rudkin, and on the following three days the old English china in the collection of Dr. Pleasant Hunter of Newark, N. J. On Dec. 1 the art objects belonging to the late Senhor Salvador de Mendonca, and a collection of antique and modern furniture will follow. On Dec. 6 the private collection of Timothy F. Crowley, consisting of old Wedgwood, old English china, stoneware, pewter, &c., will be sold, and Charles E. Locke's collection of Chinese porcelains, rare Korean and Japanese porcelains, antique and early American glass will come next. The important picture collections are reserved for the later Winter.

A Brooklyn Exhibition.

The Brooklyn Museum announces a loan exhibition of prints and drawings by Alphonse Legros, Millet, and Fantin-Latour, opening today and continuing four weeks. A hundred and thirteen examples are included in the exhibition, of which Paul B. Haviland contributes twenty-six, Hamilton Laster Field sixty-five, and George W. Davison twenty-two. Legros is particularly well represented. There are several of his large compositions such as "Les Chantres Espagnols" and "Le Refectoire," a number of his portraits, "L'Incendie," with its dramatic light and classic line, the fine "Death of St. Francis," and a very rare unpublished etching showing Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Edwards at the piano, Legros standing at the left of the composition, and the etcher, Ridley, seated behind him. Fantin-Latour is characteristically represented by the Wagnerian lithographs, and among the Millets is a first state of the woman blowing across a spoonful of soup to cool it. In the remarque is seen a sketch of the lips blowing, which to the artist was the germ of his subject, no doubt.

Society of Portrait Painters.

The Society of Portrait Painters will open its show this year simultaneously with the New York Water Color Club. There are now thirty-seven members in the society and fifty-four pictures will be shown, just twice as many as last year. The newly elected members are J. Alden Weir, Douglas Volk, Joseph De Camp, W. T. Glackens, Helen M. Turner, and Leopold Seyffert. Two exhibitors were invited, John Sloan and Oliver Dennett Grover. A painting by John W. Alexander will have the place of honor, and there will be certain pictures already familiar to the New York public, such as William M. Chase's beautiful little boy stepping down stage, hat and cane in hand, and Jean McLane's "Virginia and Stanton." The larger number of the exhibits have been painted recently, however, and will be shown for the first time. None of them is more radiantly effective than the portrait of a man by George Bellows.

THE SIX QUESTIONS.

At this election each voter in this State will receive a ballot entitled "Revised Constitution Ballot" and containing three questions.

Question No. 1 asks the voter if the new Constitution shall be approved, saving out for a separate vote the apportionment and taxation articles. This Constitution is in many ways an improvement on the present one, and the chief argument against it is merely that it did not improve the present one still more. That is a trivial objection, and The Times believes that this question should be answered "Yes."

Question No. 2 asks him if he approves the apportionment article. This article makes no change in the present law except to substitute the Federal for the State census as a basis of apportionment, a measure of economy, and this question should be answered "Yes."

Question No. 3 asks if the taxation article should be approved. This makes it difficult, if not impossible, to rush exemptions through the Legislature, deprives the Legislature of the power to bargain away its power of taxation, and brings about a nearer approach to uniformity in the confused system of local taxation. This question should be answered "Yes."

In addition to the Revised Constitution Ballot, the voter will receive another, entitled "Questions Submitted Ballot," which will also contain three questions.

Amendment No. 1, the first question submitted on this ballot, gives the vote to women. For reasons repeatedly given, and unnecessary to repeat further, The Times believes that the answer to this question should be "No."

Amendment No. 2 permits the Legislature to alter the rate of interest on the canal bond issue. This merely corrects an error in computation, which if allowed to stand will result in the raising of a sinking fund equal to the entire amount of the bonds thirteen years before the bonds are due. The error should be corrected, and will be if, as The Times believes they should do, the voters answer "Yes."

Proposition No. 1, the third question on this ballot, asks if the voters approve a $27,000,000 bond issue to complete the Barge Canal. Most of this amount is to pay awards for damages, and if Proposition No. 1 is defeated this amount will be included in the tax levy, so that the only question is whether the voters favor raising it by a bond issue or by direct taxation. We prefer the bond issue and advise the voters to answer "Yes."

THE CULLEN BUGABOO.

Evidence That the Courts Have Always Upheld Civil Authority.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I call attention to the fact that if Judge Cullen, before complaining of the failure of the new Constitution to contain a provision that no military court should try a civilian when the civil courts were open, had examined the cases in his own State, he would have seen that such a provision was unnecessary in this State, inasmuch as our courts have uniformly upheld the civil as against the military. During both the War of 1812 and the civil war there were a number of cases where that issue was presented. The decisions in all of them emphasized the superiority of the civil over the military even in those times of excitement. They show that such is the law here under the provisions of our present Constitution, which are not changed in the new one. Any action to the contrary would be unconstitutional and subject those participating therein to the criminal law or suits for damages.

